Land to be acquired for industrial site

DCOS takes major step in economic development here

By Bill McClellan
SDN Managing Editor
Scurry County took a major step toward attracting industry Thursday with a decision by the Development Corporation of Snyder to purchase 312 acres of land for an industrial park site.

The unanimous decision was a clear one for DCOS board members, but not until they had put in more than three months of intensive study and a half-dozen or so meetings in executive session. "Prospects want to see specific sites. We're hampered and handicapped until we do this," said Roy Baze, in making the motion to approve the exercise of options on three tracts of land which make up the 312.786-acre site.

The purchase price is $364,387 and will be paid out over a three-year period.

The land is located north of U.S. Highway 180, and adjacent to the Rip Griffin's complex. The board had studied several possible sites, but settled on one Thursday.

"Location, highway frontage, the size and accessibility to utilities were the key considerations, and the price, for economic development, was in line," said board member Bill Seale.

Water and sewer lines to the Price Daniel Unit run through the tract, and that was a major factor in the decision-making process, board members said. Another was accessibility to the highway system.

Board members said competition for attracting an industry makes acquiring a site a must.

"We've learned from experience that in order to have an effective economic development project, it is necessary to have an industrial tract," said John Fagin, president of the board.

"Everyone wants a home run hit. If you don't have a ball park, you can't very well hit a home run," said Doug Hutchinson, DCOS executive director.

Thursday's action, contingent upon further approval by Snyder City Council, authorizes Hutchinson to prepare final contracts, title work and closing documents; survey the land; and perform an initial environmental study. The DCOS has secured three six-month options for purchase of the land.

Mayor Paul Zeck, who attended Thursday's meeting, said the city council will consider approval of the purchase in the near future.

Zeck and the board said that the industrial site tract will eventually be annexed into the city. Exactly how large of an area around it that will be annexed has not yet been considered.

The 312 acres is made up of the McCowen tract, 72.786 acres at $1,657.99 per acre; the Rainwater/Gordon tract, 150 acres at $1,100 per acre; and the McDonald tract, 90 acres at $874.53 per acre. In all cases the seller retains mineral rights.

In other business Thursday, the board approved $642 in expenses for DCOS secretary Laurie Graves to attend the 28th Annual Fall Economic Development Course March 26-31 at Texas A&M University. Graves was one of six people across the state who received scholarships to attend the class.

The board also approved submitting a pre-application for a Farmers Home Administration grant in the amount of $750,000.

Board members tabled consideration of a travel policy and a resolution in support of a Southwestern Bell Telecommunications

Guilty plea entered by Snyder man

LUBBOCK — A 43-year-old Snyder businessman pleaded guilty Thursday in U.S. District Court to receiving and selling stolen property.

Charles Weaver McClurg, owner of McClurg's Auto Parts, entered the guilty plea along with Lupe Munguia, owner of Lupe's Body Shop in Odessa.

U.S. District Judge Sam Cummings said sentencing for the two would be set at a later date.

Court records said the two defendants conspired in a multi-million dollar scheme involving the sale of stolen automobile parts.

The parts were stolen from a Ford Motor Co. plant in Lorain, Ohio during 1990 and 1991. Court records indicated the defendants were in contact with persons stealing the parts in Ohio. McClurg stored the stolen parts in Snyder and later sold and delivered them.

Most of the stolen property was sold to Gregory Todd Blair in Houston who was indicted last October at which time McClurg and Munguia were named as undicted co-conspirators.

McClurg allegedly sold $244,000 worth of parts to Blair between March and November of 1991. Prosecutors said the parts were valued at $3 million and included engines, transmissions, radios, steering gear boxes as well as other parts.

On Thursday, McClurg and Munguia specifically pleaded guilty to the receipt and sale of 1,152 gear boxes. Blair, who operates Big Leroy's Auto Parts in Houston, paid McClurg $77,325 for 970 steering gear boxes.

Court records said the money was split evenly between McClurg and Munguia after paying $54,000 to thieves in Ohio.

Blair was arrested in Houston following an undercover investigation in which the Houston shop owner made arrangements to sell the stolen gear boxes to a Dallas man for $99,750.

Blair, charged with one count of conspiracy and seven counts of receiving stolen property, will face trial on April 3. The individuals who stole the parts in Ohio have been arrested and some of them have already been convicted.

'Broadway Review' to debut

The public is invited to a taste of Broadway as the Ritz Community Theatre presents opening night of "Broadway Revue," to be held at Martha Ann Woman's Club.

It will be the first of six performances featuring numerous songs from familiar Broadway titles such as "A Funny Thing Happened On the Way to the Forum,"

The production is directed by Snyder High School choral director Melanie Smith and is choreographed by Judy Haines.

Haines is a newcomer to community stage and she will perform in the selection, "Let Me Dance for You" from "A Chorus Line."

Several others in the cast have performed previously on the local stage and they include Donnie Burk and his daughter Joanna, Rebekah Thornton, David and Tara Trevey, Mary Lou Crawford and Jimmy Hall.

Governor may name judge by next week

A press spokesman for Gov. George W. Bush said Thursday that the appointment of a new judge for the 132nd District Court may be made next week.

Nancy Sobek said the governor's appointments office said that the decision would not be made this week, but the selection process may be completed sometime next week.

The post became vacant last November when District Judge Gene Dulaney reached mandatory retirement age. Judge Dulaney has since been designated as a senior judge and has been hearing most cases in the district court which covers Scurry and Borden Counties.

Three local attorneys have expressed interest in the appointment and include District Attorney Ernie Armstrong, County Attorney Pete Green and Marvin Sentell who is in private practice of law. All are Democrats.

The appointment will be subject to confirmation by the Texas Senate.

Keeping tabs on our neighbors:

The Rotan Advance reported on a former Snyder resident.

Charles Thornton, retired Snyder postmaster and brother of WTC's Mike Thornton, has been named new auditor for Fisher County.

Thornton was tabbed for the county auditor's slot by District Judge Weldon Kirk of Sweetwater. Thornton served as postmaster in Snyder from April, 1988 until October, 1992 when he retired. He had also served as postmaster in Rotan, having joined the postal service in 1966.

For the past 14 months, Charles Thornton has been employed by the Texas Department of Criminal Justice's Daniel unit in Snyder.

O.G. Nieman, in the Hereford Brand, says the following really happened.

A county jail official grew tired of forwarding mail to inmates who had either finished serving their time or who had been transferred to state prisons.

The jailer decided to order a rubber stamp which was to read: "Inmate no Longer Here."

As a result of faulty communications, the stamp came in and read: "Him Ain't No Longer Here."

Wacil McNair, in the Gilmer Mirror, printed a list of "rules of practical courtesy."

"If you open it, close it; if you turn it on, turn it off. If you unlock it, relock it; if you break it, admit it.

If you can't fix it, call someone who can; if you borrow it, return it; if you value it, take care of it.

If you make a mess, clean it up; if you move it, put it back. If it belongs to someone else, get permission before you use it.

If you don't know how to operate it, leave it alone. If it is none of your business, don't ask questions."

Sen. Gramm sets single-event record at Dallas fund-raiser

DALLAS (AP) — A $1,000 a person dinner set a single-event record and has left Texas Sen. Phil Gramm in a strong financial shape to start his 1996 presidential race.

The Republican hopeful, who was scheduled to formally announce his White House bid today at Texas A&M University, said because of the success of a fund-raising dinner at the Dallas Convention Center on Thursday, he would start the campaign "in a stronger position than any candidate in American history."

In raising $4.1 million, Gramm broke his own record for an individual campaign fund-raising event. The previous record was the $2.1 million Gramm raised in December 1989 for his 1990 Senate reelection run.

Gramm thanked the audience for its support, saying "I have the most reliable friend you can have in politics, and that's ready money."

He also called running for president "an awesome undertaking" that he begins "with a humble but dedicated heart."

"We are one victory away from changing American history," he said.

Guests at the kickoff event dined in the company of Texas Gov. George W. Bush, actor Charlton Heston and a host of state and national politicians, including Texas Sen. Kay Bailey Hutchison and former Vietnam prisoner of war, Republican Sen. John McCain of Arizona.

Gramm was joined at the head table by his wife, Wendy Gramm; his two sons and more than 50 others. Behind them hung a larger-than-life emblem with an eagle and stars and the words "Phil Gramm for President."

Bush, jokingly referred to Gramm as "Mr. President," then told the senator he has the nerves of steel, discipline and vision needed to run for the White House.

"It takes looks and charisma, you don't have that," Bush said.

Heston, who has campaigned for numerous Republican candidates, introduced Gramm, saying, "The Promised Land is in sight and this is the man that's going to take us there."

But the Dallas County Democratic Party chairman, who is also a member of the state executive committee, derided the event, saying the luminaries at the head table do "not look like my concept of America."

School uses 'quiet room' to isolate some students

DALLAS (AP) — The autistic or mildly retarded children at Parkview Elementary School in Keller, 10 miles north of Fort Worth, know the "quiet room." Frustrated teachers and parents know it, too, and some of them are irate about it.

Sometimes it's the treatment of last resort for everyone. Keller School District officials say isolating the special-needs children in a 5-foot by 4-foot room helps to calm the child and allow disrupted students to get back to work.

Critics say sending uncontrollable children to the room is extreme.

The small room, about the size of a hall closet, is lined with dark blue carpeting, is well-lighted and has two-way mirrors for supervising. The door has no locks, but someone sits outside the room to monitor the child.

If the child tries to get out without having calmed down, a counselor or administrator holds the door closed. The children may spend up to an hour in isolation but may leave within 5 minutes if they calm themselves.

Special-needs experts say this type of isolation can backfire and the punishment may be harmful to some children.

"This scares me," said Stacey Disney, a family and children's coordinator for Tarrant County ARC, an advocacy and referral service formerly known as the Association for Retarded Citizens.

"I am not comfortable with that room and how it's being used," Disney told the Fort Worth Star-Telegram. "It's timeout in the extreme."

Children can only be sent to the room if a student's parents have signed a release allowing an administrator or counselor to place their child there, said Linda Martin, spokeswoman at the school district in Keller, 13 miles north of Fort Worth.

Martin said the parents of four students have signed releases.

By law, a plan must be formulated for each special-education student and must be followed by a team of school officials and the students' parents.

Joey Lozano, a spokesman for the Texas Education Agency, said the more than 6,000 campuses in Texas are not required to report the use of quiet rooms to the state.

Lozano said the success of the rooms is "hard to gauge." But he said there is "nothing that prohibits their use as a technique or discipline."

Martin said the room has been used for about a year.

Since school began in August, the converted storage room has been used about six times, Martin said Thursday. Health officials said they know it was used at least three times in the past month.

Christi Lawson, mother of a 10-year-old student at the school, said she found out about the room from a county mental health worker who picked up her son while she was in the hospital.

Tuesday, after Mrs. Lawson accompanied Disney to see Parkview's isolation room, the mother rescinded the release she signed in January.

Justice department to seek death penalty in teen slaying

DALLAS (AP) — The Justice Department has served notice it will use the kidnap-slaying of an Arlington girl as the first case nationally in which it will seek the death penalty authorized by the 1994 Crime Act.

U.S. Attorney Paul Coggins said a notice of intent to seek the death penalty against Orlando Cordia Hall, 23, of El Dorado, Ark., and Bruce Carneil Webster, 21, of Pine Bluff, Ark., was filed Thursday in Dallas in U.S. District Court.

Hall and Webster are awaiting trial in federal court in Fort Worth in connection with their indictment on Nov. 22 on kidnapping and murder charges in the death of Lisa Rene, 16.

President Clinton signed the Violent Crime Control and Law Enforcement Act on Sept. 13, 1994.

Eleven days later, Miss Rene was abducted from an apartment in Arlington where she lived with siblings. Her body was found eight days later in a shallow grave in Pine Bluff, Ark.

An FBI agent testified during an October court proceeding that the girl wasn't the intended victim. The FBI said four men broke into an apartment seeking revenge against Miss Rene's two brothers, whom they had paid $5,000 for marijuana that was never delivered. The brothers weren't there, but she was.

The girl, who recently had moved to Texas from the Virgin Islands, placed a 911 call and could be heard screaming before the phone went dead.

"The circumstances surrounding the kidnapping and death of Lisa Rene are such that, if convicted, a sentence of death is justified," Coggins said.

The act states that defendants convicted of kidnapping resulting in the death of the victim could face the death penalty. Attorney General Janet Reno personally reviewed and approved the request, Coggins said.

The trial of Hall and Webster is scheduled for July 17 in U.S. District Judge Terry Means' court.

Hall and his brother, Demetrius Hall, 19, also of El Dorado, and Steve Beckley 22, of Irving, were arrested in El Dorado. Webster was arrested outside a Pine Bluff motel where the girl had been held captive.

Officials said the girl was led into dense woods of a wildlife preserve at Pine Bluff, about 45 miles southeast of Little Rock, and shown the grave where she was to be buried, then was beaten with a shovel.

Her nude body was found Oct. 2. She was positively identified two days later.

The defendants face both state and federal charges.

Tarrant County District Attorney Tim Curry's telephone number is unlisted, and he could not be reached for comment Thursday night. But Richard Alpert, head of the district attorney's misdemeanor section and a spokesman for the office, said his understanding was the county will give way to the federal government.

Save partner from error

If a good player sees that his partner will have a problem during the defense of a contract, he will try to find a way to make the winning play clear.

One person who is good at spotting plays of this type is Englishman Julian Pottage. He gave today's deal in Bridge Magazine. (A 12-issue subscription to BM is available for $52.95 from The Bridge World, 39 West 94th Street, New York, NY 10025-7124.)

Against four hearts, West leads the spade two and, sitting East, you win with the jack. What should you do next?

You can see three defensive tricks: two spades and one club. You need to find partner with either the heart ace or club king, else declarer will draw trumps and run dummy's diamonds.

Correctly judging that West is more likely to have the king than the ace, perhaps you switched to the club two at trick two. However, after West wins with the king, he might return the spade queen, playing you for A-J-x of spades. If so, declarer will cover with dummy's king and make his contract.

You should cash the spade ace at trick two. Then lead the club two. If West is a good partner, he will realize you have underled your ace to receive a ruff. And as you have led the two, your lowest club, he will give you a diamond ruff. (If you had started with only two spades, you would have switched to a high club spot as a suit-preference signal for spades.)

Thoughtful defense is good defense.

Phillip Alder's new book, "Get Smarter at Bridge," is available, autographed upon request, for $14.95 from P.O. Box 169, Roslyn Hts., NY 11577-0169.

Tech retains SWC lead with win over Texas

LUBBOCK (AP) — The game touted as a Southwest Conference showdown lived up to its billing.

Texas Tech solidified its hold on first place by beating Texas 96-87 on Thursday night behind 32 points by Jason Sasser.

"We started off a little slow with a few turnovers, but we really got it going as the game went on," said Tech's Lance Hughes, who finished with 21.

Tech (16-7, 10-2 SWC) has won seven straight and broke a five-game winning streak by the Longhorns (17-6, 8-3), who could have taken over the SWC lead with a victory. Instead, they fell 11/2 games off the pace.

A capacity crowd of 8,174 watched as the Raiders went on a 14-3 run in the second half to turn a 77-75 deficit into an 89-80 lead.

The Longhorns tried to get back into the game, but Tech's accuracy at the free-throw line prevented a comeback.

The Raiders' final five points came on free throws.

The Red Raiders led at halftime, 51-50. The Longhorns opened the second half with six unanswered points, but lost the lead for good after a bucket by Hughes tied the game at 77-77 with 5:45 remaining.

Man-to-man defense limited Texas to just three points during the next five minutes while the Raiders built their nine-point lead.

"We just tried to play tough defense," said Red Raider Mark Davis. "We wanted them to shoot from the outside, and they missed more than they hit."

Reggie Freeman scored 26 points and Roderick Anderson added 25 for Texas. Davis finished with 18 points and a game-leading 11 rebounds for Tech. Hughes hit five 3-pointers.

"I thought we did a good job on (Hughes), but then he stepped outside and shot farther out," said Texas coach

Tom Penders. The Red Raiders took a 30-27 edge in the first half after Hughes hit two 3-pointers within 23 seconds.

Koy Smith stretched the lead to 32-27 with free throws after Texas' Carl Simpson elbowed Tony Battie in the face and was ejected. Battie suffered a mild concussion and left the game temporarily.

Texas chiseled back from a 45-38 deficit at 4:00 remaining thanks to 17 first-half points by Anderson and the early departure of Davis with three fouls.

Track teams open season

This weekend opens the track season for both the Snyder High School boys' and girls' teams.

The girls are scheduled to compete in the ABC Tiger Relays at Frenship High School in Wolforth, starting today at 2:30. Meanwhile, the boys are slated to compete in the Comanche Relays in Fort Stockton, also starting today at 2:30.

This year's event in Wolforth is the 10th annual. In the girls' division, 19 schools from Class 5A and 4A are scheduled to participate.

Among those schools are: (Class 5A) Lubbock Coronado, Lubbock High, Lubbock Monterey, Midland Lee, Midland High, Odessa High, Odessa Permian and Plainview; (Class 4A) Big Spring, Borger, Canyon, Dumas, Frenship, Lamesa, Levelland, Lubbock Estacado, Morton, Pampa, and Snyder.

Snyder girls coach Patty Grimmert says this meet is one of the best in Texas.

"This will be a good opportunity for our kids to see how they stack up to other kids in the area," she said. "The only problem is that we don't have many numbers, so I don't expect us to walk away with the team title."

Grimmert said this year's team is the smallest she has coached.

"This is the first year that the boys team has more athletes than we do," she said. "It will be extremely difficult for us to put up enough points to win team titles, but we have the talent to do well individually."

The Snyder girls track team consists of: (Seniors) Bianca Rocha, shot put and discus; Jamie Prather, distance; Gina Bark, distance; (Juniors) Kelly Clay, sprints; Jina Miller, high jump; (Sophomores) Devon Reed, sprints and long jump; Monie Pena, shot put and discus; Tiffany Garza, hurdles and high jump; Tyra Brooks, shot put and discus; Keri Kemp, hurdles; Melissa Horn, high jump; (Freshmen) Mandy Heaton, sprints; Mary Higby, distance; Tracie Eicke, hurdles; Jenny Featherston, sprints; Christy Tankersley, hurdles; and Melissa Castro, distance.

Coach Grimmert is assisted by Matt and Vanessa Gutierrez and managers Elyse Merritt and Cara Bynum.

While the girls team travels 90 miles north, the boys team will travel 200 miles south to Fort Stockton.

"We have, as a team, been going down to Fort Stockton for years," Snyder head coach Tommy Doyle said. "It's always a good meet to start with."

The boys track team, according to Coach Doyle, has more participants in recent memory and that alone should boost its competition level.

Team members competing in the Comanche Relays are: Ricky Post, high jump; Matthew Fambro, high jump and hurdles; Timmy Humphrey, discus; Chris Denson, discus; Stanley Peppers, long jump and sprints; Marcus Byram, long jump and sprints; Scott Squires, pole vault; L.S. McClain, sprints; Michael Taylor, sprints; Kevin Kerr, sprints; Jesus Esparza, sprints; Tywayne Rivers, sprints; Marlowe Riggins, sprints; Michael McQuerry, distance; Melchor Parra, distance.

ON THE RUN — Snyder's Melchor Parra, left, and Stanley Peppers, right, practice passing the baton, as they prepare for the first track meet of the season. The Snyder boys are scheduled to travel to Fort Stockton to compete in the Comanche Relays today, while the girls are slated to participate in the ABC Tiger Relays in Wolforth. Slaton destroys Abilene Wylie

It didn't take long for Slaton to display their playoff form Thursday night at the Scurry County Coliseum, as the Tigers transformed an early 9-0 lead into a 67-42 blowout of the Abilene Wylie Bulldogs.

Slaton (20-11) dominated every phase of the contest en route to its Class 3A bi-district playoff victory.

The Tigers were able to open up their offense with a 16-5 first quarter lead and a 39-17 halftime advantage. They were also able to display their smothering defense, as the Wylie hit just 13 field goals in the entire game.

The Bulldogs were outrebounded 50-28 in the contest, including 14 boards from Slaton's Bradley Clemons, and turned the ball over 17 times.

Stephon Williams led the Tigers with 14 points, nine of which came on three 3-pointers. Clemons scored 12.

Wylie (24-6) received 13 points from Clint Anderson.

Harper likes idea of playing in Arizona

TEMPE, Ariz. (AP) — The main cause of Alvin Harper's frustration in Dallas was having to play in the shadow of Michael Irvin, the first wide receiver in Cowboys history elected to four straight Pro Bowls.

Harper

Harper, 27, an unrestricted free agent, visited the Cardinals on Thursday and said he liked what he heard.

"I want to show everybody that I can get the job done, that I can be the go-to guy," said Harper, who led the NFL in yards per catch last season (24.9) and had eight touchdown catches — three fewer than the Cardinals as a team.

Offensive coordinator Dave Atkins said he would design a package of plays to feature Harper.

"He's not going to be a situation player like he was in Dallas," Atkins said. "I told Alvin, 'Hey, you're going to have a package in the system just geared around you and your ability,' and he kind of liked that."

First, though, the Cardinals have to offer Harper enough to get him away from Tampa Bay, a team he visited Tuesday, Kansas City and the Washington Redskins, coached by former Cowboys offensive coordinator Norv Turner.

Harper, who has 124 catches for 2,486 yards and 18 touchdowns in his four seasons, knew about Arizona's offensive downside — last in the NFL in touchdowns (23) and next-to-last in scoring (235 points).

"They've got an up-and-coming team," Harper said. "They've got a great defense, the best in the league right now. The only thing they need is some offense."

Roby-Highland meet tonight

The Roby Lions race off against the Highland Hornets in Class A bi-district action at the Scurry County Coliseum tonight.

Both teams come into tonight's game with 21-win seasons already under their collective belts.

The Lions (21-5) come into the matchup as the District 27-A runners-up, while the Hornets (21-4) are the District 28-A champions.

No indictment against Grammer in N.J. sex case

SOMERVILLE, N.J. (AP) — A grand jury decided not to charge "Frasier" star Kelsey Grammer after hearing a girl's allegation that he had sex with her in a New Jersey hotel when she was 15.

Somerset County Prosecutor Nicholas L. Bissell Jr. said today there will be no further proceedings on the matter in the county.

He said the grand jury which met Thursday considered all the evidence, which included tapes of telephone messages Grammer left on the girl's voice mail system at her home in Arizona.

Bissell said both parties were notified this morning. He said he talked to the girl's stepmother.

"It's fair to say she wasn't happy, she was disappointed," Bissell said.

Grammer did not appear before the grand jury. He had denied her claims, maintaining that the girl's family is after his money.

He could have faced 5 to 10 years in prison if convicted on a second-degree sexual assault charge.

Asked by reporters whether the girl's testimony was credible, Bissell would not give his opinion, but did say the grand jury was told that when the first sexual incident allegedly occurred in 1993 she did not come forward, and waited a year before telling her parents.

He also said there was no physical evidence that Grammer and the girl ever had sexual relations.

Bissell said the voice mail tapes would not be released to the media or the public.

The grand jury met for nearly eight hours Thursday. Bissell did not say whether anyone besides the girl testified. He said the evidence presented also included the girl's prior sexual history, but would not go into detail.

The girl's lawyer, John C. Esposito, said Thursday that the girl was not out for financial gain, but for justice.

The girl was baby-sitting for Grammer's 9-year-old daughter in a Somerset Hills Hotel suite when she claims the two first had sex. She claims they had sex again at an Arizona resort.

The girl initially gave Grammer's lawyer a statement saying the two never had sex, believing they were in love, Esposito said. After a year of therapy, he said, she changed her story.

How to treat pulmonary hypertension

By Peter H. Gott, M.D.

DEAR DR. GOTT: I'm a 61-year-old female with primary pulmonary hypertension. My BP is 160/80 during the day and rises to 200/100 in the evening. I'm on Vasotec, but my doctor has not explained my illness. What's my prognosis?

DEAR READER: Pulmonary hypertension is different from arterial hypertension, the high blood pressure that is diagnosed with the familiar device applied to the upper arm.

Pulmonary hypertension is increased pressure of the blood circulating through the lungs. It cannot be diagnosed by using any method available in a doctor's office. Rather, it requires special testing, such as cardiac catheterization, during which a thin tube is passed into the pulmonary circulation and the pressures measured.

Pulmonary hypertension has many causes, including blood clots in the lungs, lung surgery and emphysema. An uncommon form is of unknown cause.

As the pressure in the lungs increases, patients experience heart enlargement, difficulty breathing during exercise, angina, fainting, and other symptoms. Obviously, any cause of pulmonary hypertension must be identified and treated.

In addition, most patients require therapy for the hypertension itself: Vasotec, for example, lowers arterial resistance and thereby reduces pressure in the lungs. Because many authorities believe that "silent" (undiagnosed) blood clots in the lungs are such a common cause of pulmonary hypertension, anticoagulant drugs, such as Coumadin, are often prescribed.

You should follow your doctor's advice about treatment and suitable monitoring because your health problem is serious and will cause heart failure if the hypertension is not controlled. However, with therapy, your prognosis should be favorable. In my opinion, patients with primary pulmonary hypertension should be under the care of cardiologists or pulmonary specialists.

DEAR DR. GOTT: The women in my family tend to have problems with osteoporosis. My sister and I are in our early 40s and worry that we are predisposed to the "dowager's hump" that other family members have. We've started taking calcium tablets, and my sister insists that calcium must be taken just before bedtime because so many foods interfere with its absorption. Is there a preferable time for calcium intake?

DEAR READER: Calcium supplements are best taken between meals (or at bedtime) because they're better metabolized on an empty stomach and are less likely to interfere with iron absorption. Experts recommend about 1,500 milligrams of calcium daily for post-menopausal women — and women at high risk.

Although calcium may be a partial answer to the problem of osteoporosis, in your case the strong family history of calcium-deficient bones may require additional therapy, such as hormone replacement. Ask your doctor about this.

Remember, too, that weight-resistance exercise, such as walking (for hips and legs) and weight-training (for upper body conditioning) will also help retard osteoporosis.

To give you more information, I am sending you a free copy of my Health Report "Osteoporosis." Other readers who would like a copy should send $2 plus a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope to P.O. Box 2433, New York, NY 10163. Be sure to mention the title.

House subcommittees completing cuts in clean water projects

WASHINGTON (AP) — House subcommittees completed work today on a $17.5 billion package of cuts in housing, clean-water projects and other programs that Republicans say will begin to give Americans the leaner, more efficient government they want.

The finishing touch was made by the House Appropriations Committee's panel that oversees Congress' own operations, which approved $20.9 million worth of cuts in this year's budget. Those reductions come mostly from the General Accounting Office and other congressional agencies; no cuts were made in lawmakers' own offices.

The full Appropriations panel will consider the overall measure next Thursday. It is expected on the House floor later in March.

On Wednesday, Democrats complained that the historic reductions approved by GOP-dominated subcommittees would hit poor people especially hard, and let majority Republicans use much of the money to finance tax reductions for the well-to-do.

These programs have simply not worked," House Appropriations Committee Chairman Bob Livingston, R-La., said Thursday as four of his panel's subcommittees approved another $10.5 billion worth of reductions. "The American people want us to try something new. They want us to consolidate. They want us to pare down."

But a day after five other subcommittees had signed off on an initial $7 billion in reductions in education, health and nutrition initiatives, Democrats began trying to label their GOP rivals as overzealous.

"It's very difficult to find common ground with kamikazes and extremists," Rep. David Obey of Wisconsin, top Democrat on the Appropriations panel, said.

The cuts represent the GOP's effort to make good on their campaign-season "Contract With America," which promised to reduce the deficit and shrink the federal bureaucracy. They have reached considerable proportions, exceeding even the $15 billion President Reagan was able to pluck from the budget in his heady first weeks in office in 1981.

Thursday, one subcommittee approved $7.3 billion in reductions from public housing modernization, rent assistance for the poor and other housing programs — equivalent to one-quarter of the Department of Housing and Urban Development's 1995 budget. The panel also chopped $2.1 billion worth of clean-water projects, President Clinton's national service program, and veterans' hospitals and medical equipment.

The Clinton administration spoke out against the housing slashes. Housing Secretary Henry Cisneros said they would "extract a substantial human cost," pushing 32,000 families back into homelessness.

Republicans had no apologies.

Secretary recovering from ulcer

OTTAWA (AP) — Secretary of State Warren Christopher, recovering from emergency treatment for a previously undetected bleeding ulcer, will enter a Washington hospital for a day or two of observation and tests.

"He's doing well this morning," President Clinton told reporters. "I had a great talk with him. He feels good. He's going to go home with us."

Adding a flurry of excitement to President Clinton's state visit to Canada, Christopher was taken to the hospital late Thursday suffering from what doctors determined was "a very, very small ulcer, which was oozing a little bit of blood at the far end of the stomach."

The bleeding was stopped through medication, but the 69-year-old secretary was held overnight as a precaution.

Clinton called the secretary this morning to check on his health and wish him well.

Johnson said Christopher would return to Washington with Clinton on Air Force One. Christopher then will go to Georgetown University Hospital for a day or two of observation. Johnson said that was standard medical protocol for Christopher's condition.

"He's resting comfortably," presidential spokeswoman Mary Ellen Glynn said this morning.

Church supports Foster

GREENVILLE, S.C. (AP) — The National Baptist Convention, the nation's largest black denomination, has voted to support the nomination of Dr. Henry Foster Jr. to be surgeon general.

"I think he's committed to helping young people. And I think his record speaks loudly on programs that he has sponsored keeping young ladies from getting pregnant as well as teaching young men," said the Rev. S.C. Cureton, vice president at-large of the 8 million-member organization.

Cureton told The Greenville News on Thursday that the National Baptist Convention USA, Inc. voted to back Foster during a meeting in Nashville, Tenn.

The Rev. Henry Lyons, president of the organization of predominantly black Baptist churches, issued a statement calling Foster "one of America's most renowned physicians."

Peace officers make misdemeanor arrests

Officers arrested two people Thursday and one person early this morning on various misdemeanor charges.

A 43-year-old female was arrested at 1:24 p.m. on a theft warrant. She was later released from jail after posting bond.

Officers arrested a 27-year-old male at 5:12 p.m. from the 1800 block of 9th Street. He was arrested for outstanding DPS warrants for speeding and for no liability insurance.

A 55-year-old male was arrested from the 4000 block of Avenue U at 12:31 this morning and charged with public intoxication.

Officers are investigating a report of a burglary of a residence and the unauthorized use of a motor vehicle from 1911 Coleman. The vehicle was later found in Garza County being driven by a juvenile male. The report was made at 6:03 a.m. Thursday.

At 10:08 a.m. Thursday, a woman asked an officer come to her residence in the 2200 block of 41st Street in reference to vandalism.

At 1:23 p.m., a man made a report of a stolen suitcase from the back of a pickup while it was parked overnight at the Willow Park Inn.

A report of Class B criminal mischief was filed at 1:54 p.m. Thursday in reference to damages done to playground equipment at Central Elementary.

City officers checking buildings in town found several unsecured doors that were secured by the officers after notifying the owners or managers. These include doors at Ben Wilson Supply, Preferred Packers, Snyder Junior High Gym, the southeast gate at the high school football stadium, a storage building in the 1900 block of 25th Street and at West Texas Tae Kwon Do.

Inmate sues over magazines taken

A Price Daniel inmate has filed suit in 132nd District Court seeking damages because two magazines were confiscated last August.

Juan M. Cano has named the Texas Department of Criminal Justice, Wayne Scott, director of the institutional division; John Gilbert, regional director; and T.J. Medart, Price Daniel warden, as defendants in the suit.

Cano claims the two magazines were improperly confiscated and that he had exhausted all administrative remedies.

Teen's Sexual Curiosity Leads To Lingerin Grown-Up Guilt

by Abigail Van Buren

© 1995 Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: Please help me. I am one guilt-ridden woman.

Twenty-three years ago, when I was 13 years old, I fondled a 4-year-old boy while I was baby-sitting him. This memory has been haunting me ever since. I knew it was wrong, but I was curious, and I can't get this incident out of my mind. This guilt is unbearable. I am not sure if it adversely affected the boy or not. I haven't seen him since the incident. Nothing like this has happened before or since.

I am happily married and the mother of two children. I operate a thriving business, and am afraid of the embarrassment this may cause me and my family should anyone find out. Part of me wants to confront him, and tell him how awful I feel for what I did. I have asked God's forgiveness, but how can I expect God to forgive me if I can't forgive myself? Abby, please don't suggest counseling; I can't tell another person what I did.

Have any of your readers ever been taken advantage of by a baby sitter? I need to know how to right this wrong.

NO NAME, NO CITY

DEAR NO NAME: You are suffering needlessly. I urge you to stop beating yourself up over that childhood experience.

Because after 23 years you still feel guilty, my advice is to consult a therapist. You will not be the first person to seek professional help for a nagging problem such as this.

DEAR ABBY: In a recent column, you had a letter from a reader complaining that salespeople and others speak only to the companions of senior citizens — as though all seniors were incompetent.

Some years ago — I believe it was in Reader's Digest — I read a great response to that problem.

A daughter had accompanied her mother to the doctor's office, and the doctor kept addressing the daughter regarding her mother's condition and treatment, totally ignoring the mother. Finally, the mother had about all she could tolerate, so she said to the doctor:

"Doctor, do you work crossword puzzles?"

"Yes," he replied, trying to humor her.

"Do you do them with pencil or pen?" she asked.

"With a pencil," he replied.

"Well, I do them in ink. Now, talk to me!"

NATALIE IN ST. LOUIS

DEAR ABBY: The letter from "California Reader," about some salespeople who treat all older people as though they are incompetent, reminded me of a poem by Shel Silverstein:

THE LITTLE BOY AND THE OLD MAN

Said the little boy, "Sometimes I drop my spoon."

Said the little old man, "I do that, too."

The little boy whispered, "I wet my pants."

"I do that, too," laughed the little old man.

Said the little boy, "I often cry."

The old man nodded, "So do I."

"But worst of all," said the boy, "it seems grown-ups don't pay attention to me"

And he felt the warmth of a wrinkled old hand.

"I know what you mean," said the little old man.

How often we overlook those around us. All people, regardless of age, deserve respect, care and attention. Thanks for the reminder, Abby.

Farmer revives one frozen hen

HARPSWELL, Maine (AP) — Valerie the hen is one plucky clucker.

Farmer Janet Bonney thought the chicken was dead when she found it frozen under her porch.

"Legs up, just as though you had got her from the freezer at Shop 'n' Save," she said.

Turns out it was nothing a little hot water and mouth-to-beak resuscitation wouldn't fix.

At first, Bonney tried to put the bird's body in a shoebox for burial, but its frozen legs wouldn't bend. So she used a hot-water bottle to thaw the bird enough to make it fit.

Then Bonney felt a thump and heard a breath. Soon she was giving her frozen feathered friend CPR — three or four thumps on its chest and mouth-to-beak. For three hours she nursed the bird. Finally, she says, the chicken stood and clucked.

"She actually laid an egg last week," said Bonney, who named the hen Valerie for her valor.

Suspect in murder terrorized his kin

EL PASO (AP) — The mutilation slaying of a woman whose body parts were found scattered throughout the city might have been avoided had authorities heeded warnings about her husband's violent tendencies, the man's brother has said.

Michael Bradley, younger brother of the man accused in the dismemberment slaying, said he repeatedly tried to warn probation officials about James Patrick Bradley's behavior.

"There are signs and footprints that tell why this happened. Some professionals didn't read the signs, and they didn't listen to the people screaming at them to read the signs," Michael Bradley was quoted as saying in Thursday's El Paso Herald-Post.

James Patrick Bradley was arrested on a murder charge Tuesday in the slaying of his wife, Suzy Gae Hahn Bradley, whose body parts were found in five locations around the city. He is being held in the county jail in lieu of $1 million bond.

Court records show that James Bradley had numerous run-ins with the law before his arrest in the bizarre killing.

Powell signed by Ted Turner

ATLANTA (AP) — Ted Turner has signed a classic movie actress to promote his classic movie channel: Jane Powell.

Ms. Powell was the girl-next-door star of such movies as "Seven Brides for Seven Brothers" in the 1940s and '50s. She appeared in more than 20 films, mostly musicals.

She signed a deal Thursday to do on-air promotions and appear at trade shows in support of Turner Classic Movies, a 24-hour cable network that shows strictly old flicks.

"Good or bad, classic movies are always in style," said Ms. Powell. "It's a pleasure to be a part of something that's always been a part of me."

James Bradley served five years' probation for a felony theft in January 1988. In October 1988, he was placed on two years' probation for a misdemeanor charge of driving while intoxicated, records show.

His brother said the man was also a heavy drug and alcohol user who terrorized family members.

Five family violence complaints were filed against James Bradley, although records do not indicate if he was convicted in any of the cases.

Those complaints mostly involved alleged violations of protective orders granted to James Bradley's first wife, Cassandra, and to Michael Bradley.

Michael Bradley said officials often didn't respond to complaints against his brother, however, and that Bradley's probation officer never followed up on telephone complaints.

The probation officer has refused to respond to Bradley's comments, referring all questions to his superiors.

Hector Zamora, director of special programs for the Adult Probation Department, said there would be no comment on the case.

But he did verify that James Bradley's probation record included police reports filed by Michael Bradley and Cassandra Bradley.

Facts About The BIBLE BY JOHN LEHTI

SACKCLOTH AND ASHES
WHENEVER SACKCLOTH AND ASHES ARE MENTIONED IN THE BIBLE THE EVENT HAS TO DO WITH GREAT MOURNING AND REPENTANCE. THE FIRST MENTION IS IN GENESIS, CHAPTER 37, AN ACCOUNT OF JACOB'S GRIEF WHEN HE IS TOLD HIS SON JOSEPH HAS BEEN KILLED BY 'AN EVIL BEAST.' THE ACTUAL GARMENT WAS A COARSE CLOTH MADE OF CAMEL'S OR GOAT'S HAIR. IT WAS VERY ROUGH MATERIAL AND THEREFORE UNCOMFORTABLE TO WEAR. ONLY THE POOR WORE IT, HABITUALLY, AS AN EVERYDAY GARMENT, OR ROUGH HERDSMEN, OR RAGGED PROPHETS FROM THE WILDERNESS. IT PROBABLY BECAME A SYMBOL FOR SORROW AND MOURNING BECAUSE THESE ANCIENT PEOPLE MANIFESTED THEIR GRIEF BY BRINGING DISCOMFORT TO THE FLESH. TO HEIGHTEN THEIR ABSOLUTE DESPAIR THEY ALSO SPRINKLED ASHES UPON THEIR HEADS. WE ARE TOLD IN THE BOOK OF JONAH THAT THE PEOPLE OF THE GREAT CITY OF NINEVEH, FROM THE KING ON DOWN TO THE LEAST OF BEGGARS, DONNED SACKCLOTH AND POURED ASHES OVER THEIR REPENTANT HEADS.
