

UPT Class 74-05 wins wings today

Guest speaker at the graduation ceremony will be Dr. C.L. Kay, assistant president of Lubbock Christian College. Dr. Kay, who returns to Reese as a graduation guest speaker, has received over forty citations for his work in public affairs, one of which came from a President of the United States, Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower.

A Reese First

Capt. Brian C. Dugle is the first student pilot at Reese to score 100 per cent on all of his academic tests during the year. For this feat he easily earned the title of Academic Ace and will be awarded his class' Academic Award at the ceremony.

The Leadership Award will go to Capt. Dale F. Stephens, while the class Citizenship Award will be presented to 2nd Lt. Steven P. Roach.

Lubbock group welcomes new student pilot class at reception

Reese AFB's newest Undergraduate Pilot Training Class, 75-05, were welcomed to the Lubbock area Monday night at a "Buenos Amigos" Reception, sponsored by "Project Good Neighbor" and four local merchants.

According to Frank "Speedy" Gonzales, coordinator of "Project Good Neighbors," the reception, held at the Lubbock Club, is a new program intended to be "... a people-to-people effort to show these future pilots that our local citizens are truly concerned for their personal safety and well-being, and we want to assure them that we fully appreciate the role that they will be playing in protecting our freedom and democracy in the years to come."

Buddy Barron and Company, Realtors, Lubbock National Bank, Southwestern Public Service Company and Hemphill Wells Department Stores were the sponsors of this particular goodwill reception.

The "Project Good Neighbors"

group of Lubbock plans for every new UPT class at Reese to be "adopted" by area civic clubs and business firms upon their arrival. Each reception in the future will have new sponsors.

Special awards were presented by the group of some of the new students at the reception Monday.

The entire class plus its wives, girlfriends, instructors and commanders were honored.

Fuel consumption drops

Reese's total energy use during January was down an overall 24.5 per cent, compared with figures from January 1973.

According to figures released by 1st Lt. Steven T. Naumann, 64th Civil Engineering Squadron, Reese personnel used 21.4 percent less electricity this January than last.

The use of natural gas and propane dropped 25.6 per cent over last year's figures, while gasoline and deisel fuel consumption dropped 13.8 per cent.

Reese personnel can take pride in their conservation measures, as indicated by these percentages. However, it was noted that continued emphasis must be made to insure that no more fuel is used than is necessary for the accomplishment of the wing mission.

In these times of rapid change, when strikes, inflation, shortages, force reductions, etc. cloud our future and cause general unrest, we at Reese can count our blessings. Our mission remains unchanged—we simply must EFFICIENTLY TRAIN THE BEST PILOTS IN THE WORLD. That's the same thing the Reese Team has always done.

Let's get on with it!

Editorial cites another type of obscenity

By A1C James Godbold
Lackland AFB, Tex.

This editorial is about obscenity. Not the kind of obscenity some feel is present in X-rated porno films, but a kind which reaches even lower in the guts of a man.

This particular form of obscenity attacks the very essence of humanity—of what it means to be a man or woman—because it reduces a man or a woman to a thing.

It robs them of any individual identity and degradingly collectivizes all of the intricate physical and emotional properties that make up a man or woman with one word.

The word is spic . . . or kike, wop, nigger, honkie, gook, polack, wetback, retard, spastic, queer, fairy. Tragically, there are many more than have been listed here.

It would seem that a man with so little understanding of human beings, living in such a shallow and closed world, would be much better off remaining silent that calling another man a nigger or a spic. By using those terms, the poor fellow lets his secret out for all to see.

There are many words which offend people. The standard "four-letter" variety, though they may indicate about the user nothing more than a rather week vocabulary, still offends many people.

But words like spic, gook and others go beyond simply offending people. These words dehumanize and destroy below the surface, deep down inside, at the core of one's self image.

That such words exist is sad enough. The fact that they are used is the real tragedy.

The Air Force is not a machine. Though it should, ideally, be able to function with the precision and efficiency of a machine, the Air Force is essentially people—men and women charged with a vitally important mission.

Provocative speech and gestures are punishable under Article 117 of the Uniform Code of Military Justice. Punishable because there are no niggers in the Air Force. No spics, gooks, honkies or polacks—just people. (AFNS)

Secretary lists views of military space work

What are the military uses of space? Secretary of the Air Force John L. McLucas recently listed a number of military missions that can be performed in space. He said:

"The Department of Defense does not operate and experiment in space merely because space is there, nor are we developing space systems to threaten the security of other nations.

"In fact, under the Space Treaty the United States has agreed not to place weapons of mass destruction in outer space or in orbit around the Earth. Rather, we are using the medium of space to increase our alertness to danger and to assist in maintaining an effective deterrent posture.

"Our space activities are the result of continuing reviews of our national defense needs and the medium where they can best be satisfied, be it land, sea, air, or space.

"Of course, many missions can be accomplished in more than one medium, but space is often the best place, and sometimes the only place, to accomplish some defense jobs.

"Through the use of space systems we can give our defense forces improved communications, more accurate navigational assistance, better weather information, and more reliable, earlier warning of attack . . .

"In the case of early warning, we need to know where the missile attack originated, how many were involved, and what their trajectories and projected impact points are. Moreover, we would need this information under all weather conditions, on a global basis, and as rapidly as possible.

"For these reasons we have several systems devoted to the early warning mission, including different types of ground radars as well as space sensors.

"We have developed satellites which can detect and track intercontinental ballistic missiles and submarine-launched ballistic missiles almost from the moment they are fired.

"In addition, these warning satellites have the capability to detect nuclear explosions above the ground and ultimately will replace the current satellites which monitor the atmospheric nuclear test ban treaty.

"Reports from these early warning satellites are immediately transmitted to the ground where the data is rapidly processed and combined with preplanned data, and passed on in near real time to the North American Air Defense Command, the Strategic Air Command, the Joint Chiefs of Staff, and the President.

"Development of this satellite surveillance system has greatly improved our overall warning network." (AFNS)

First of four articles explains coming pay change in JUMPS

(Editor's Note: This is the first in a series of four articles by Capt. Wayne C. Brunton, deputy Accounting and Finance officer. They will serve as an introduction to the major change in the pay system that will take place at Reese in May.)

The Joint Uniform Military Pay System (JUMPS) will begin for Reese personnel May 1. It will replace the present system of the Accrued Military Pay System (AMPS).

These articles are just one part of an effort to make all personnel at Reese aware of the change. In these few months before the change becomes effective, you'll be informed through the Roundup, daily bulletin and by "Mr. JUMPS" (Captain Brunton) at Commander's Calls to answer questions.

Your first question is probably "why?"

AMPS Overview

Let's look briefly at AMPS. Under the present system, one accounting and finance office is required to maintain military pay records on each of its members and for members stationed at one or more other bases. For Reese, the office at Sheppard AFB, Tex., is the handling finance office.

When a change in pay status such as quarters allowance or basic allowance for subsistence occurs, the information must be submitted to the Reese office. Next, we must mail that to Sheppard where they must physically post it to your record in the form of a military pay order or other such documentation.

Centralized Pay

Under JUMPS, a central Master Military Pay Account for each Air Force member will be maintained on a central computer at the Air Force Accounting and Finance Center at Denver, Colo. When a change in pay status becomes necessary, the information will be recorded on a computer card and electronically transmitted to the center.

This all means a centralized, automated pay system designed for accurate, timely payments.

The task of changing over is a large one. We will need your understanding and cooperation for the time that this office is converting to the new system. In the weeks to come, I'll be offering some questions and answers about JUMPS.

Council seeks younger airmen

The Wing Human Relations Council met the last day in January to discuss council restructuring and other agenda items.

The need for restructuring was based on the present lack of first-term airmen as members. "In order to have an effective council," said Col. Walter H. Baxter III, wing commander, "we must have more of our younger men and women as members."

Colonel Baxter also emphasized that the Human Relations Council meetings are open to anyone on the base. Individuals need only contact council representatives if they wish to attend. Meetings are held the last Thursday of each month at 10 a.m. in the Wing Headquarters Conference Room.

Council Recommendations

An item was brought up by a member concerning a lack of effective communication between some supervisors and their subordinates. The problem was that conflicting instructions are sometimes given at two different supervisory levels.

The Council recommended that this specific problem would be investigated by SMSgt. Donald Lloyd, wing senior airman advisor. It was further suggested that all work units get together with the supervisors and noncommissioned officers in charge on a regular basis. It was brought out that in this way problems and new ideas could then be discussed on an informal basis. Such "rap sessions" are already in existence in several squadrons at Reese.

Chapel plans special seminar covering inspirational living

The Reese AFB Chapel has announced that it will sponsor a two-day seminar in "Inspirational Practical Living" tomorrow and Sunday, featuring Dr. W. Robert Smith as the course's guest lecturer.

Dr. Smith or "Dr. Bob," as he likes to be called, is a full-time college teacher who is in great demand as a guest lecturer. His speaking tours have taken him to Africa, India, South America, Southeast Asia, Europe, the Orient and the South Pacific. He is a noted conference speaker at military installations throughout the world.

He served as chairman of the Division of Philosophy and Religion at Dubuque University, prior to moving to Bethel College, St. Paul, Minn. where he presently serves as Professor of Philosophy.

The program will begin at 9:30 a.m. Saturday with a "get acquainted" donuts-and-coffee period. Dr. Bob will then lecture (with short break periods) until noon, when a "brown bag lunch" will be featured. Beverages during the lunch will be provided.

The seminar will resume at 1 p.m. with Dr. Bob lecturing until 2:50 p.m. A question-and-answer period will be held from 3 to 3:50 p.m.

The next activity of the day will be a dollar supper and fellowship, beginning at 6 p.m. and lasting until 7:30 p.m. Dr. Bob will speak informally after the fellowship period.

On Sunday an adult discussion class will last from 9:45 to 10:45 a.m. At 11 a.m. an hour preaching period will be held, and the evening service will last from 7 to 8 p.m.

Free nursery care will be provided during the seminar, and no admission will be charged.

T-birds to switch to T-38s

The U.S. Air Force Thunderbirds, official aerial demonstration team, will soon take on a very different look.

Falling victim to the energy crisis, the McDonnell-Douglas F-4 Phantoms will soon be replaced by Northrop T-38 Talons, according to Maj. Trusten A. McArtor, executive officer.

The move is presently being engineered by Thunderbirds representatives and Air Training Command officials. No comment was made by Major McArtor as to where the T-38s will come from or how many would be procured.

The switchover is expected to save almost 80 per cent of the amount of fuel presently being used by the F-4s. A substantial monetary savings is also expected.

Following necessary adjustments, painting and modifications, the pilots will begin their orientation into the new craft for the "Ambassadors in Blue." Shortly thereafter, the Thunderbird staff will release their new schedule.

The Department of Public Safety suspects a possibly hazardous food item that is available at the Reese Commissary. The item is Webster's Catsup in a 14-ounce bottle produced by the G.L. Webster Company of Cheriton, Va. Persons at Reese who have purchased this item at the commissary may return it at any time and exchange it for a different brand.

The annual Girl Scout Cookie sale will begin at Reese Feb. 22. The price of cookies remains unchanged from last year at $1, despite the rise in production costs. The sale will be conducted at the Reese Commissary, main exchange, Reesette and in Reese Village. The sale will continue until March 9.

The 1974 Federal Savings Bonds Campaign will be conducted May 1 through June 1. This year's objective is substantial increase in participation in the Federal Payroll Savings Plan by all employees.

The Harlem Thrillers, a team similar to the magicians of the court "Globetrotters," starring Sugarfoot Johnson, will be at the base gym at 7:30, Feb. 21 for a free show. The Mathis Recreation Center is sponsoring this event, which will host the Thrillers against the Reese base basketball team.

The 1974 Air Force Talent Contest has fallen victim to the energy crisis. It has been postponed at least until mid-year. As a result, revised talent rules, procedures and judging criteria will be forwarded to Air Training Command and Reese headquarters soon, according to Air Force Military Personnel Center officials.

The Extension Course Institute has added a new course, officer professional training. The course may be taken by active-duty, National Guard and reserve officers in the grades of second lieutenant, first lieutenant and captain of any branch of the service.

The weather outlook for February shows very dry weather with above average temperatures. Although January was not the driest on record, this has been one of the driest winters on the South Plains and no change can be foreseen. Daily temperatures this month should range in the area from 58 degrees during the day to 31 at night. Traditionally, precipitation in February shows an average of about one half-inch of rain and about four inches of snow. The winds should be greater than 10 miles per hour about half of February's days.

A group of Kelly AFB, Tex., people are starting their own commuter system to help in the fuel conservation effort.

This week's list of books from the base library is headed off with the suspense thriller, "The Lost Victim," by Waters, featuring two mysteries in one action-packed novel. "Band of Brothers," by Gann climaxes in a spectacular scene in the air and "Running Scared," by Burmeister is a novel of suspense and irony.

Three women nominated for 'Wife of Year'

By Capt. George H. Hobbs

The names of three Reese women have been forwarded to HQ ATC to compete in the 1974 Military Wife of the Year Program. Representing the base are Mary Lynn Stamps, Nancy Dorene Schulz and Frances Beall Whiteside.

Mrs. Stamps is the wife of Maj. Arthur E. Stamps, section commander for the 54th FTS. A native of Wabasha, Minn., she has been involved in various wives clubs in the United States and Great Britain.

American Red Cross volunteer work has taken a good deal of Mrs. Stamps' spare time. While at Reese she has been the ARC OB/GYN hospital chairwoman and coordinator for new volunteers.

Mrs. Mary Stamps

While at Leeming Royal Air Force Station, England, Mrs. Stamps was a volunteer worker in the Children's Hospital. For this she was awarded the station commander's Citation for Community Service.

Other Nominees

Mrs. Schulz is the mother of three boys and a girl. Her husband, MSgt. Fred L. Schulz, is presently assigned with the 399th Combat Support Group in Thailand. Mrs. Schulz is the president of the Reese NCO Wives Club, and has been since July 1969.

Mrs. Nancy Schulz

She is involved in the Reese Elementary PTA and has worked in Cub Scouting for several years. Mrs. Schulz regularly visits the Convalescent Home and Lubbock State School in nearby Lubbock. She has "adopted" an elderly couple in a Lubbock convalescent home, taking them gifts and sending cards on special occasions.

Third nominee from Reese Mrs. Whiteside, was born in Jack-sonville, Texas.

She is married to the director of Base Medical Services,

Mrs. Frances Whiteside

Lt. Col. (Dr.) Clarence K. Whiteside Jr. They are the parents of two sons and one daughter.

Mrs. Whiteside is a member of the Lubbock Theatre Center, Officers Wives Club and their singing group, the "Sky-larks." An active member of the Red Cross, she worked on an eye-screening project for children five years of age in the local Tri-County Medical Society.

Community conscious, she supports blood drives and ecology projects. She has also participated in medical wives groups of the Washington D.C. area. Mrs. Whiteside sings, plays the guitar, piano and organ. These talents have been used in church activities for many years.

In the past there was a top "Military Wife of the Year" selected. This year, each of the five services will have its own Wife of the Year. Mrs. William V. McBride, wife of the ATC commander-in-chief, will make the selection of the command's nominee to Air Force. Each service's Wife of the Year will be announced in April.

Members enjoy squadron party

By 1st Lt. "Pete" Peterson

Friday was filled with fun and good times as the squadron party was a tremendous success.

Lt. Col. Richard A. Ingram presented several awards at the function, in the name of J.L. "Gorilla." Capt. Mike McGuire was congratulated for his recent cross country jaunt to Williams AFB, Ariz. Mike was recognized along with the Williams Transient Maintenance troops, for exhibiting the unique ability of being able to turn a two-day cross country excursion into a PCS move.

Captains Dave Elston and "D" Hagle ("D" so as not to be confused with all of the other Hagles in the squadron) were also honored for exploits outside the local area. It seems Captain Elston lost his HSI enroute and had to return to Reese on Captain Hagle's wing. Some people will do anything to fly a little two ship!

I was cornered in the hall this week by one of the "larger" guys in the squadron who wanted to know why, after being the 54th for more than a year, he has yet to see his name in this article. Well, in an effort to keep everyone happy, here it is:

Capt. Richard Barnett (Sunpup)

Today we say goodbye to Class 74-05. We congratulate them for their achievements over the past year and wish them the best in their new careers as "professional military aviators." Godspeed.

Commander's CAKE Line

Sir: Almost everyday the boss in my division always has something to gripe about and when he is in the mood for joking around, he is in the mood, but once somebody else jokes around with him, he can't take the joke and becomes hostile. Then when someone comes in who is the same color race as he is, he lets them do whatever they want or he does it for them. But when the opposite race comes in, usually the answer is "no." He is pushing things a little bit too far. Sir, can you tell me what to do besides going to Social Actions about this? I don't want to make it a big issue, but something has to be done. Thank you, sir.

No Name

You might try talking directly to your boss—most people respond to personal contact better than anything else. He probably doesn't realize that he is giving anyone the impression he is giving you. If that doesn't work you and your boss should go see his supervisor together. When you do this be sure you have all your facts straight and can be specific—generalities will not be sufficient if you want to resolve the problem. If, after doing those things, you are still unhappy, tell me your name in order that I may get involved personally.

Sir: I was over at Finance for approximately 40 minutes standing to be waited on and they had approximately five or six people standing around doing this and that, smoking cigarettes and drinking coffee, but they failed to wait on me for about 40 minutes. I feel there is a lacking in Finance and I wish it would be corrected here in the near future.

No Name

When were you over at Finance! Who were the people who were "standing around?" What did you do to get their attention? Who did you report this to at the time? Why did you wait 40 minutes without bringing the matter to a supervisor's attention—even your own supervisor? Who are you?

Sir: My question is why they closed the NCO Club Stag Bar and yet the Officers' Club Stag Bar opens up at 3 p.m., plus they have the bartenders on 30-minute standby and anytime they have an aircraft shut down and won't fly, they have to open their club. Sometimes they open it up at 10 a.m., 11 a.m., noon and 1 p.m. Anytime they have to shut down flying they come to the Officers' Club and they have to open up the bar. I feel this is unjust for the officers to drink in the afternoon—I think the NCO Club should be open, too. Thank you.

No Name

Sir: I was just wondering if I could get an answer as to why Officers' Club Bar can be open at 3 p.m. during the week, Monday through Friday, and the Casual Bar over at the NCO Club cannot be opened until 4:45 p.m. I think this is a little strange. Thank you very much, sir.

Sergeant Spillan
Base Ops

Sergeant Spillan: You both simply did not get all the facts before you called. See this and last week's answers to these same types of questions. Don't get mixed up and think that I accept boozed-up officers on duty, either—I don't!

Sir: I just got it through rumor that the Casual Bar at the NCO Club is closed until 4 p.m. Monday through Friday. I would like to know the reason for this. This kind of puts a hardship on some guys working swings. We go to work at 4 p.m. and work until midnight. There is no place to relax and have a drink. I don't like beer. They say you can get beer, but I don't like it, so that does not help me at all.

Airman Wilkins
Security Police

Sir: I would like to complain about the Casual Bar being closed during normal du hours because there are many people like myself that are on shift work and it is really bad when we can't have a beer and shoot a game of pool when we get off in the afternoon and come in there. I do not think it is right at all and there should be some other solution to it. Thank you much.

No Name

Airman Wilkins:
The Casual Bar at the NCO Open Mess was closed temporarily because too many personnel on the day shift were "watering" during duty hours at the bar. This was absolutely unacceptable. I directed that a study be made of the situation to determine an equitable solution. On Jan. 30 I authorized the club to begin serving beer from the serving line to lunch patrons only during the period of time the serving line is open. The Casual Bar opens at 2:15 p.m. for all types of beverages. These actions will adequately serve the alcoholic beverage needs of Reese personnel.

Sir: I would like to know why nobody in Carpenter's Shop has cold weather or thermal underwear, plus we have no hard hats, which are required in 127-101 and is a ground safety violation, plus we are required to have them. Can you have me an answer, sir? Thank you.

Sgt. Donald R. Siegel
64th CE Squadron
Carpenter Shop

Sgt. Siegel: Your supervisors have the information you requested about cold weather gear and thermal underwear. I am advised that a hard hat has been made available for your use. In the future, I suggest you attempt to resolve logistical problems by using your organization's chain of command. Thank you.

Sir: Just one question—I would like to know why the building that the Girl Scouts hold their meeting in isn't heated and the one the Boy Scouts do, is.

No Name

The Girl Scout building is heated but the thermostat requires manual adjustment to maintain the desired temperature. Mr. Field from the Civil Engineering Heating Shop talked with Mrs. White of the Scout troop and showed her how to adjust the thermostat. In the interest of energy conservation, please be sure to turn it down when the building is vacant.

Commander's CARE Line

Sir: I would like to suggest a couple of ways we at Reese could help with the paper shortage. There could be a dumpster or wagon of some sort put in a central place on base, and if everyone on base would put in even just the Avalanche-Journal, in just one week I am sure there would be quite a bit of paper. By selling the paper to a recycling place, the cost of hauling it to this place should be taken care of. And another thing I would like to say is to ask the people at the Commissary to bring in two or three or even one reusable bag to sack their groceries

In even a week, if everyone brought in two bags, the savings in cost and bags should amount to quite a bit. Everyone is talking about this shortage—why not do what we can about it? Thank you.

No Name

You're right! Approximately seven tons of cardboard, four tons of newsprint and one ton of mixed paper could be collected at Reese PER WEEK. The Industrial Engineering Branch of Civil Engineering Squadron made a recycling feasibility study. The local buyer will not pick up the paper. He pays $10 per ton for flattened corrugated cardboard, delivered to him. It is difficult to find anyone who will load paper, haul it to Lubbock and unload it for that price. Other markets are available for bailed paper, sold by the boxcar. A minimum initial capital investment of $6000 will be required for dumpsters and a bailer. Labor to empty dumpsters, bail the paper, and haul it to a rail siding would present additional costs. The bailed paper would have to be stored until a boxcar load was collected. We are continuing to study recycling at Reese. If your attitude is shared by all personnel, it would insure a successful recycling program at Reese. In reference to your suggestion concerning "personal" grocery bags, the Commissary will post signs in conspicuous places, requesting customers to bring bags in which to sack their groceries. The cashiers and carry-out personnel have been briefed on these procedures. When bringing in your own bags, put them in your basket until you finish shopping, then put them on the conveyor belt before you put the groceries on it, and the sackers will use them to sack your groceries. The commissary also might become temporarily out of some purchase items in the future. This has resulted from a delivery policy adopted by all trucking companies, whereby because of the gasoline shortage they will only deliver when they have a full truckload.

Sir:

I am a flightline man on a new shift we have just started--5 to midnight--and it is my understanding that the last takeoffs during the week are as late as a quarter to 11 or 11:15, I don't know exactly, but I do know it is around 11 p.m. If that is going to be we are not going to be craft at the proper time and still be able to make the 5 to midnight schedule. Is the schedule wrong or will it be changed? Just curious. Thank you very much.

No Name

The schedule is not a rigid thing . . . it varies with different shops, duties, etc. If I knew your name and which shop you were in, I could help you. If you would talk to your supervisor, he could help you, or his supervisor could help you.

Sir:

I was wondering why the WAF female personnel in the military don't do the same work as the men in the military. I don't think there should be that much of a difference and we are supposed to have what you call equal rights of cleaning-up details and everything else. So, sir, would you please look into it? Thank you.

GI loan interest drops

WASHINGTON (AFNS) - A one-quarter per cent reduction in the maximum GI home loan interest rate became effective Jan. 22, according to a Veterans Administration (VA) announcement.

In ordering a drop from 8.5 to 8.25 per cent on VA loans, officials noted that the new lower rate has been established for Federal Housing Authority loans by the secretary for Housing and Urban Development (HUD).

Explaining that the lowered interest rate can save as much as $1,530 over the life of a 30-year mortgage on a $25,000 home, officials expressed the hope that the reduction would encourage many veterans and service people to reenter the home buying market.

Other than honorable out? Here's what you can expect

By Capt. Carl J. Kretsinger
 Staff Judge Advocate

(Editor's note: This is the first of a series of articles intended to inform the people of Reese of their legal rights and responsibilities. Information about the Uniform Code of Military Justice will get particular emphasis. Advice concerning Federal, State and local law will also be covered in the future.)

This week I would like to talk about the benefits that a member of the military would lose if he were to receive other than an honorable type discharge. I will talk about the Undesirable Discharge Certificate and the benefits in question. They derive from three areas. First, from the Air Force; secondly, from the Veterans Administration; and thirdly, from the remaining Federal agencies.

The Air Force Side

Let's first look at the Air Force side. If you receive an Undesirable Discharge, you will not be entitled to any payment for accrued leave, government transportation of household goods and dependent travel back to your home, wearing of the military uniform at any time, admission to the Soldier's Home, burial in a National Cemetery, or even a headstone marker.

Now, let's look at the Veterans Administration benefits that you would lose. I would first point out that each of the following benefits are subject to review by the VA. However, I have yet to hear of a case where the VA overturned a military ruling, so I think it can be pretty well concluded that the VA is not very willing to change entitlements.

Let's take a look at what you might lose: dependency and indemnity compensation, compensation for service-connected disability, pension for non-service connected disability or death, insurance, Medal of Honor roll pension, vocational rehabilitation, educational assistance, war orphans' educational assistance, home loans, hospitalization and home care, medical and dental service, prosthetic appliance (i.e.

an artificial limb), guide dogs and equipment for the blind, special housing, automobiles, funeral and burial expenses, and a burial flag.

Other Federal Benefits

For the third area, let's look at the benefits that you lose from any other Federal agencies: preference for farm loans, preference for farm and other rural housing loans, Civil Service preference, Civil Service retirement credit, reemployment rights, job counseling and employment placement, unemployment compensation for ex-servicemen, naturalization benefits, and old age and disability insurance (Social Security Benefits).

Another important point is that many labor unions will not accept for membership an individual who has an undesirable discharge. Also, there is a big question in many of the states as to whether a person with an Undesirable Discharge can be bonded; which means you can't pump gas at gas stations because you have to be bonded.

Great Life?

Sounds like a great life for that person who wants to wash dishes. Well, at least hand lotion has not been much affected by inflation. I guess that when you really stop to think about it, a day's work for a day's pay isn't asking too much, is it? Especially, when you consider all the "bennies."

Oh yes, an Undesirable Discharge can be had from getting too many Article 15s, failure to pay your just debts, drug involvement, sex perversion, fraudulent enlistment, being convicted downtown, and for failing to support your dependents.

Next week, I will talk about a Bad Conduct Discharge.

'Operation Kick It' offers testimonies of inmates

Three inmates of Huntsville State Penitentiary, Tex., will speak to interested Reese personnel in a two-session program called "Operation Kick It," to be held from 9 to 11 a.m. and from 1 to 3 p.m. at Simler Theater.

The trio will speak on drug abuse, giving attending personnel their personal experiences with drugs and the law. Between the two sessions they will lunch with the Christian Men's Fellowship at noon in the base chapel.

All personnel are encouraged to attend one of the briefings.

HRO gives housing opportunity guidance

By James R. Alexander
Housing Referral Office

Editors Note: This is the first in a series of articles from the Reese Housing Referral Office. Future articles will discuss Housing Referral Services, FHA and VA loan eligibility, DOD Open Housing Policy, and other items of interest for military tenants or home buyers.)

Title VIII of the Civil Rights Act of 1968 prohibits discrimination in the sale or rental of dwellings, discrimination in the financing of housing, "blockbusting" and discriminatory advertising and makes it unlawful to deny any person access to, or membership or participation in, any multiple listing service or real estate broker's organization for discriminatory reasons.

The law applies to all dwellings except those which are specifically exempt. The sale or rental of a single-family house by a private individual owner who does not own more than three such single-family houses at any one time is exempt from the application of Title VIII, but only if such property is sold or rented without the use of a broker and without discriminatory advertising.

This act also does not apply to rooms or units in dwellings containing living quarters occupied by no more than four families living independently of each other if the owner occupies one of such quarters as his residence.

Also exempt is the sale or rental of dwellings owned or operated by a religious organization, for other than a commercial purpose, to persons of the same religion unless membership in such religious organization is restricted on account of race, color, or national origin.

Neither does Title VIII prohibit a private club, not open to the public and providing lodging which it owns or operates for other than commercial purposes, from limiting rental or occupancy to its members.

Even though there are exceptions to Title VIII of the Civil Rights Act of 1968, the Supreme Court of the United States has a different viewpoint. On 17 June 1968, in the Jones v. Mayer case, the Supreme Court held that a provision of the Civil Rights Act enacted by Congress in 1866 "bars all racial discrimination, private as well as public, in the sale or rental of property." The Court found the 1866 statute to be a valid exercise of the power of Congress to enforce the Thirteenth Amendment.

Air Force directives state that military personnel who encounter any form of discrimination as a tenant or prospective tenant should immediately report it to the Housing Referral Office (HRO). Full and complete information will be obtained from each party concerned.

Preliminary investigation and, if possible, mediation of complaints will be made by the Housing Referral Officer. In addition to submitting complaints to the HRO, personnel have the right to use command assistance in forwarding complaints to the Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) or the Department of Justice in accordance with AFR 30-5.

Personnel may make their complaints directly to HUD, to the Department of Justice, or bring a private civil action in any appropriate local, state, or Federal court. HUD Forms 903, Housing Discrimination complaints, are available to military personnel at the Housing Referral Office.

Space adventure, martial arts, wild west adventure and a cop-turned-robber movie highlight the film fare at Simler Theater this week.

The base theater schedules features at 7 p.m. Tuesday through Sunday, unless otherwise noted. The special Saturday matinee begins at 2 p.m. Tickets may be purchased at the theater one half hour before showtime.

Tonight

Fred Williamson, a courier who gets robbed of one million dollars he is carrying from Hong Kong to Mexico City, stars as "That Man Bolt." Teresa Graves is an old girl friend, who is also a victim of the heist. Williamson backtracks to Hong Kong where he takes on the theft operation in a fury of flying fists and feet. Mayhem mania of the martial arts may offend some in this R-rated thriller.

Saturday Matinee and Evening

After the earth's vegetation is destroyed, an attempt to refoliate the dead planet is made in "Silent Running." Bruce Dern, Cliff Potts, and Ron Rifkin star as the spaceship officers in charge of trying to save the earth's experimental forests. Trouble comes when they are ordered to destroy the project and return to home base. This futuristic adventure is rated G, all ages admitted.

Sunday

"Sounder" is the story of a young black family in the South which must depend on the son to provide for the family after the father is arrested for stealing food for his hungry family. On the way to visit his father in prison, the son comes across a friendly black school teacher who convinces him that the best way to get out of the vicious poverty circle is to get away and go to school. He then has to decide whether to stay home and help his family or go to school. Cicely Tyson and Paul Winfield star in this great movie, rated G.

Tuesday and Wednesday

If a big robbery occurred during the middle of a ticker tape parade for the Apollo 11 astronauts in New York City, the last people that you would suspect as the criminals are the police. That's what Cliff Gorman and Joseph Bologna are counting on in "Cops and Robbers". Pulling a robbery in a New York brokerage house, the two cops destroy bonds and then try to sell the non-existent merchandise to a mob chieftan. This suspense comedy caper is rated PG.

Thursday

Clint Eastwood as the "High Plains Drifter" is hired to defend a town against three gunmen soon to be released from prison, who have vowed to return and destroy the town. The "man-with-no-name" is at his gun-fighting best as he drills the cowardly townspeople in the fundamentals of combat and killing. The explicit violence and profanity make this wild west killer-thriller offensive to some in this flick, rated R.

at Mathis

A couples' hearts tournament will kick off this week's entertainment at the Mathis Recreation Center tonight.

Tonight—Couples are especially invited to the hearts tournament, scheduled for 8 p.m.

Tomorrow—An eight-ball tournament for a trophy or merchandise certificate will get under way at 5:30 p.m.

Sunday—The weekly ping pong tourney begins at 2 p.m., followed by a Mathis putting contest at the golf course at 3 p.m.

Monday—Take Off Pounds Sensibly (TOPS) will meet at 6 p.m.

Tuesday—February Birthdays will be celebrated at 8 p.m. with cake and free gifts (bring your I.D. Card).

Wednesday—National New Idea Week will be observed with a Suggestion Night.

Thursday—A "Welcome Dance" for women personnel who have arrived at Reese will be held at 8 p.m. this Valentine's Day.

at Open Messes

The Beekeepers' Buffet will be featured at 6 p.m. at the Officers' Open Mess tonight, with all-you-can-eat for $3.95.

The mess Dinner Theater will present "Marriage-Go-Round" Wednesday at 8:30 p.m. The comedy, starring professional actors from the Kaleidoscope Players of New Mexico, will follow a 6 to 8 p.m. prime rib dinner. Reservations should be made early. Tickets are $6.50 per person.

The Officers Wives Club will hold their February Luncheon at 1 p.m. Thursday.

The NCO Open Mess will feature dancing to "The New Dawn" tonight, followed tomorrow night by music from "The Sage."

Sunday and Thursday nights will feature Discotheque with Nathaniel Stowe.

The mess dining room is open from 10:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. and from 5 until 9 p.m. Monday through Friday. Saturdays the dining room is open from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m., and is closed Sundays and holidays.

Pilots take pride in no shortages

By 1st Lt. Edward B. Hayden

In the trials and tribulations of today's shortages, we're proud at the 35th FTS to say there is some abundance left.

For instance, you may be relieved to hear there will definitely not be an insufficient supply of second lieutenants in the near future. Nor do we expect the current paper shortage to curb our ever-increasing amount of paperwork.

Experts

Experts in the weather field insure us that we may continue to enjoy, as in the past, the continued blessings of 10- to 50-knot air movements.

Speaking of experts, that is another commodity with which we are overflowing in the squadron. Whether you're seeking advice on tax computation, how to fly or women, the 35th offers a master in any or all fields.

Ravin' Roundballers

On the sports front, we're proud of our so-called roundballers for their remaining undefeated in the intramural basketball circuit. Let it also be known that our bowling team is striking and sparing their way along and are presently ninth in the base standings. Both teams are looking for your support, so check their schedules in the squadron and be there to cheer them along.

You can collect your cigars this week from 1st Lt. Tom Salmi of A Flight and 1st Lt. Phil McRee of C Flight. Both the lieutenants and their wives have been issued baby boys. Phil, in the sense of squadron tradition, named his future jock Charlie (after the flight, of course).

Week's Award

Our "Head-Up-And-Locked" Award this week goes to 2nd Lt. Tim Reeves of F Flight. When asked to fill-out his 1500 grade sheet (an auspicious duty usually reserved for IPs) following a stage ride, he earnestly plunged forth with reckless abandon. Instead of noting those items he accomplished, the lieutenant thought it best to reflect those he didn't.

The computer is definitely not ready for Lieutenant Reeves' style of programming.

35th remains undefeated as season nears finish

The 35th Flying Training Squadron continued its undefeated streak in intramural cage action by whomping the 64th Student Squadron #2 squad, 68-51 Jan. 28.

That moves the Tweet pilots to a remote 9-0 standing in their dominance of the American League. The National League completed its season this week with the 64th Field Maintenance Squadron holding first place with their 9-1 final tally.

The top three finishers in each league will enter into tournament competition Feb. 18 to determine a base intramural champ. The contenders for the National League besides FMS will be Class 74-05 and 64th Student Squadron #1.

In other American League

court action, 64th Civil Engineering Squadron dealt an unexpected power blow to defeat higher-ranked 64th Supply Squadron 82-57, Jan. 28. The week's action closed with the 54th Flying Training Squadron battling the 64th Organizational Maintenance Squadron to a close finish, both for the teams and for the National League. The pilots defeated the mechanics 35-30 to even their season finishing records at 4-6 each.

Second place in the American League is held by Special Services Division with their 6-2 record and third belongs to Supply with a 7-4 season tally thus far. The final teams will be selected this week for the championship tourney.

NEW WEIGHTS—Michael Redman of the base gym tries out some of the new York weights the facility has acquired. In addition to the bar weights, which may be combined for any type weightlifting program, the gym has received dumbbell type weights, ranging from 10 to 25 pounds each for specialized exercising. All Reese personnel are encouraged to make use of the weights and other facilities at the base gym. (U.S. Air Force Photo by Sgt. Terry Crooks)

Keglers see hot local competition

In Reese Intramural Mixed League Bowling action held Feb. 1 at Reese Lanes, Bill Register of 64th Student Squadron #2 rolled high game with a 236.

"Doc" Hancock from 64th Field Maintenance Squadron #1 was honored for bowling the high series for the evening with his 617 effort.

A bowling feat "of the impossible" was accomplished by Leslie Craig at the weekly competition. He knocked down the ever-elusive 7-4 6-10 split. He will receive a special recognition patch from the American Bowling Conference.
