Eighteen officers representing 14 Air Training Command (ATC) bases came to Reese Tuesday for the ATC Commander's Conference. Conducting the one day conference was Lt. Gen. William V. McBride, ATC commander.

More than 25 agenda items covering a wide range of subjects were brought before the attending officers for discussion. Most items dealt with the operation and implementation of flying training programs, but many were of an administrative nature. The purpose of the meeting was to discuss new programs of mutual interest to all ATC installations and possibly discover some problem areas that were common to the operation of ATC bases.

Although these informative sessions are usually held at ATC Headquarters at Randolph AFB, Tex., General McBride explained why Reese had been chosen as the site for this conference.

"This year I decided to have it (the conference) at Reese for several reasons. One, I wanted the other commanders to see what Reese is doing," General McBride explained. "For example, when my Inspector General came down here for a trip a month or so ago, he told me that the briefings in the T-37 squadron here are the best in the command."

When asked if he planned to hold future commander's conferences at the various bases, rather than just at Randolph AFB, he commented, "I hope we can because I think it is useful to the commanders to go around to various bases."

After a full day in conference, all of the attending officers, including General McBride, departed Reese Tuesday evening to return to their respective bases.

Adams gains honor as Senior NCO of Quarter

MSgt. Calvin R. Adams, C Flight Chief in the Cessna T-37 "Tweety Bird" Flight Line Maintenance Section of the 64th Organizational Maintenance Squadron, has been named Wing Senior NCO of the Quarter for the first quarter of 1974.

An 18-year veteran of the Air Force, Sergeant Adams has, "because of his outstanding managerial ability, maintained a high operation-ready rate of aircraft assigned to his flight," said 64th OMS Commander Lt. Col. Richard J. Miles.

Minimum Time

"He has thoroughly trained his personnel," Colonel Miles continued, "in inspection and maintenance procedures in a minimum amount of time. Through the efforts of Sergeant Adams C Flight has greatly increased its efficiency. This is proven by the fact that C Flight has had the best Quality Control inspection reports in the T-37 Flight Line Branch."

Sergeant Adams strives to enhance his ability to work with people, and has taken off-duty courses in American History and psychology toward this end.

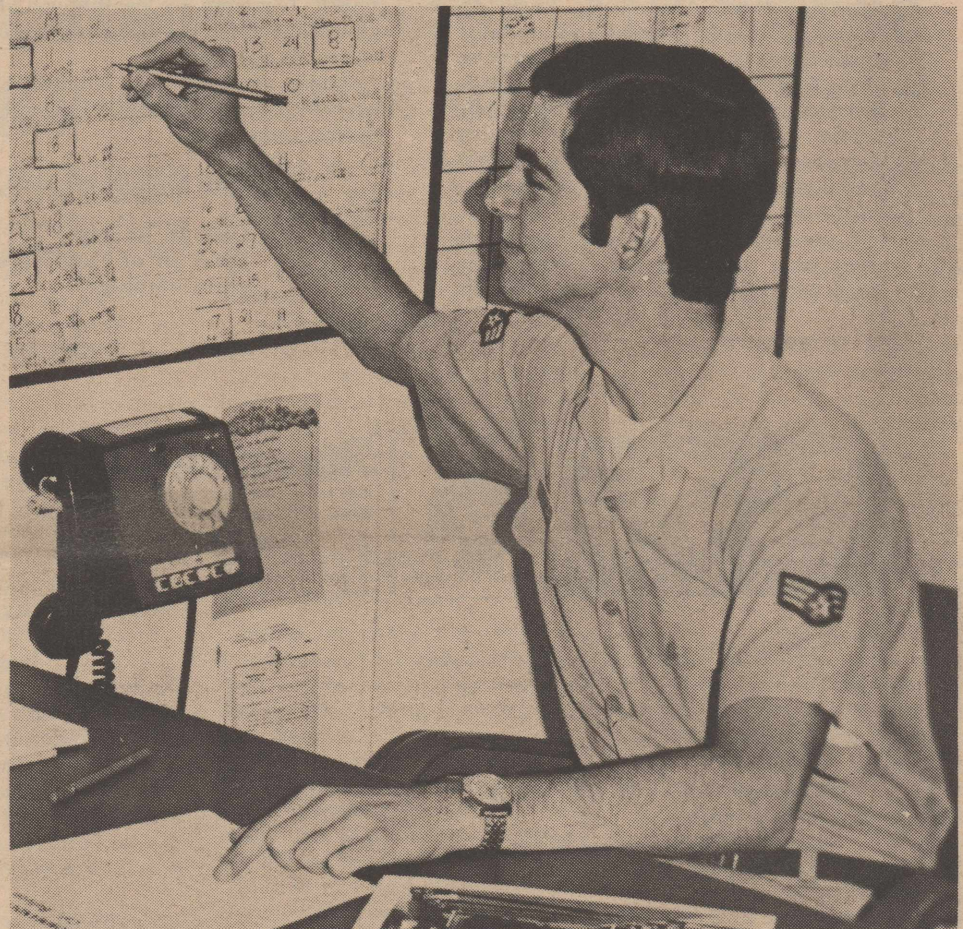

According to Colonel Miles, the flight chief has an excellent rapport with subordinates and superiors alike. He is also active in the Boy Scout movement. He was described by Colonel Miles as "an outstanding advocate of the United States Air Force who continually urges his personnel to consider reenlistment."

Under his leadership, C Flight received special recognition by the Wing Safety Office for having an exceptional safety program.

In closing, Colonel Miles noted, "He is totally loyal to his supervisors in the Air Force and he fully supports all Air Force policies. Due to his outstanding job performance and his ability to manage people, Sergeant Adams is most worthy for the honor of Outstanding NCO of the Quarter," the Colonel concluded.

Wing recognizes junior NCO as best for quarter

Sgt. Jeffrey W. King, NCOIC of the Wing Information Division, has been selected NCO of the Quarter for the first quarter of 1974.

The 20-year-old Information Specialist is presently filling a master sergeant's slot, although he has been an NCO for less than five months. As NCOIC, he must be knowledgeable in the areas of Internal and Public Information, Community Relations and the base Photographic Laboratory. He must also work closely with high-ranking members of the military and leading Lubbock citizens. According to Capt. George H. Hobbs, wing information officer, Sergeant King's "judgement and tactful approach in dealing with such important people is indicative of maturity far beyond his years."

Produces Show

Sergeant King single-handedly produces a five-minute radio show called "Reese Report," which is aired on seven local stations each weekend. He produces, narrates and distributes the taped program after normal duty hours.

He also serves as the equipment and supply custodian for the Information Division and the Command Section. He prepares the Fiscal Year Operating Budget for these units.

Varied Activities

On his off-duty time, the young NCO serves as Director of the Broadway Church of Christ for students of the Lubbock State School. He picks up students each Sunday and takes them to a special session of Sunday School. He also works with underprivileged minority group children through his church.

In addition, he attends college in his spare time, and has compiled 15 semester hours to date from South Plains Junior College.

In summing up Sergeant King's performance, Captain Hobbs said, "The dedication and accomplishments of Sergeant King would be unusual even for a senior NCO. But as an NCO for only five months, his performance is particularly noteworthy. In my opinion, no more deserving man could be selected as NCO of the Quarter."

By Chaplain (Col.) William W. Campbell
Senior Installation Chaplain

Dear Friends -

Rejoice with the Chaplains of the Air Force. On this date 25 years ago, on May 10, 1949, a separate and distinctive Chaplain Service was established for the United States Air Force by order of General Carl Spaatz.

It has been a busy quarter of a century. Clergymen have volunteered to go with the men of the Air Force into Berlin with the Air Lift, then to Korea, followed by Crises in Taiwan, Lebanon and Suez. Then it was Berlin again, the Cuban showdown, the Dominican uprising and the long war in Vietnam. During all these hardships, the Chaplains of the Air Force were there.

We look at our accomplishments with pride, but with deep humility. Who knows of the silent prayers of our chaplains, the service given to the troubled, the desperate and the bereaved. The answer we hope is, "God knows."

This year we "walk together." Thank you for the support of 25 years. Be with us as we rejoice in the past and promise love and prayers and service for the years ahead.

With highest regards,

Dale M. Byerly
Director of Field Services and Campaign

letters

Dear Colonel Baxter:

The volunteers and staff of the American Heart Association, Texas Affiliate, are deeply grateful and sincerely appreciative of your efforts as Chairman of the CFC Committee in Lubbock, Texas this year. Both you and your fellow committee members are to be highly commended for the dedication and effort which you are giving to this most worthy endeavor.

A good percentage of our total funds come from the Combined Federal Campaign each year and help provide research, community service and educational programs that would otherwise go unfunded. Therefore, we feel that you play a significant role in the lifesaving work that we are involved in.

Thanks again for your leadership and meritorious effort in the 1974 Combined Federal Campaign.

The G.I. and Unemployment

In recent months the newspapers, television and radio have been reminding us daily of the depressing economic situation in the United States, especially as it relates to everyday working men. Food prices continue to soar; gasoline costs are spiraling; and unemployment is on the rise.

The U.S. Department of Labor tells us that parts or all of 421 cities and 677 counties throughout the U.S. are victimized by concentrated unemployment or underemployment. There are also 734 areas classified as areas of substantial or persistent unemployment. Some noted economists have predicted that the situation will worsen and continue throughout 1974.

How does this affect you as a Serviceman? Well, chances are slim that you'll be laid off. Commissary and exchange savings are more meaningful now than ever. And, the rest of the benefits which a lot of Servicemen chuckle about, seem to take on a more serious note.

Considering the current economic slowdown, members of the Armed Forces will begin noticing career planning posters that highlight some of the contrasts between civilian life and a Service career. Benefits which carry added significance at this time are such things as regular pay and advancement, the opportunity to learn and use a specific skill, tax-free allowances, no-cost or low-cost medical care, 30 days annual "vacation," travel, retirement security, etc. The themes of these posters are not only timely, they are credible. They're based upon facts.

Before you make a decision about leaving the Service, check the facts. Analyze the facts. Analyze the benefits objectively. If you're still determined to leave, okay. Go with our best wishes, but don't go before you check out the Reserves.

If you have questions stop in and see your unit career planner. He's a Serviceman—just like you.

Dear Colonel Baxter,

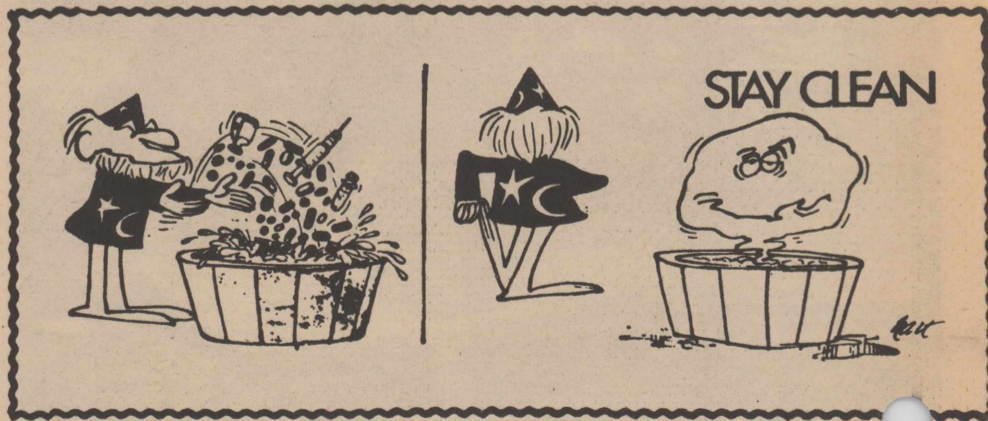

It was indeed a surprise and a pleasure to be so warmly greeted by your organization at Reese. On behalf of the members of the Thunderbirds, I would like to thank you for your support and cooperation during our brief stopover. The pastry and coffee was delicious, and we were only too happy to be able to meet and talk with members of the student pilot classes. They certainly are motivated young men and we hope we reinforced that motivation and desire.

I would especially like to thank and commend Colonel W. Earl Brown, your Deputy for Operations, and Colonel Alain G. Boughton, Logistics, for their outstanding efforts in repairing our aircraft. Base Operations and Transient Alert Maintenance personnel also deserve a note of credit for their exemplary service.

Again, Colonel Baxter, thank you for your outstanding support of the Thunderbirds. We look forward to returning to Reese in the future; both for airshows and stopovers.

Sincerely,

ROGER K. PARRISH, Lt Colonel, USAF

Bonds are attractive investment

By Sgt. Cal Anweiler

Each day, millions of children in the United States are receiving a better education through the use of more modern teaching devices, new books and up-to-date schools and classrooms.

Right now, one of your children may be benefitting from some form of the federal government's aid to education. Tonight, you will probably drive home on a modern interstate highway made possible by a grant sharing program between your state and the federal Department of Highways.

Government Aid

Every year, the federal government helps states, cities and small municipalities achieve a better standard of living for its citizens through environmental improvement projects ranging from clean water facilities to massive aid in the form of education grants. Although a great deal of this money comes from the taxes you pay, it could not begin to support the kinds of programs needed by our citizens.

Therefore, it is necessary to find an additional source of income that will support and perpetuate all of these diverse people programs.

One source of that income is through the sale of United States Savings Bonds.

Before you begin to feel like you are paying double for these government sponsored advantages, taxes and bonds, it might be well to stop for a minute and think about the advantages you receive from buying Bonds.

If you begin a regular Savings Bond program, either by payroll deduction or by buying a savings bond each payday, you are providing a financial cushion against some possible future emergency. Even if you are lucky enough not to encounter an emergency, you still have the savings that you might need to send your children to school, or to buy a home or even to supplement your retirement income.

A recent change in the interest rates of Savings Bonds has made them even more attractive to savers than ever before.

Series E Bonds are sold at 75 per cent of face value, maturing in five years and drawing six per cent interest when held to maturity. The Series E Bond will pay 4½ per cent interest the first year and thereafter the interest will increase on a graduated scale until the date of maturity.

The Series H Bonds are sold at face value and reach maturity in 10 years with interest paid in semiannual checks issued by the U.S. Treasury. Series H Bonds earn five per cent the first year, 5.8 per cent the next four years and 6½ per cent the second five years — raising the rate to an average of six per cent for the 10-year period.

Fully Guaranteed

Both the Series E and H Bonds are exempt from state and local income tax. They are subject to federal income tax, but that may be deferred until the bonds are cashed. In addition to these advantages, Savings Bonds are fully guaranteed, both on the principal and the interest, by the United States government. If Bonds are lost or stolen, they will be replaced without charge. If you invest in Savings Bonds you have guaranteed savings and interest earnings.

The best way to buy Bonds is through the Payroll Savings Plan. Each payday a certain amount of your check is deducted and used to buy your Savings Bond. By using the Payroll Savings Plan, you have instituted a method that will purchase your Bonds automatically, before you get to spend the money. Savings Bond allotments can be as low as $6.25 per payday. That is very little to sacrifice to build a solid financial future.

If you are interested in joining the nine million other Americans who are already saving through the payroll savings and military allotment plans, see your squadron Savings Bond representative this month during the annual Reese Savings Bond Campaign.

There will never be a better time to "Share a Common Bond."

ATC, Reese better Air Force energy savings expectations

For the first quarter of Calendar Year 1974, Air Training Command has registered total energy savings of more than 23 per cent, compared to the corresponding 1973 period. Headquarters, U.S. Air Force has ordered a 15 per cent reduction Air Force-wide for the first six months of this year.

Here at Reese, cumulative energy savings, excluding aviation fuel, was approximately 29 per cent, compared to the same period last year. Although the ATC Energy Conservation Office stated that many of the initial energy saving might be nonrecurring, neither ATC or Reese officials foresee any difficulty in continuing to meet, or better, the prescribed Air Force goal.

The Command set up an Energy Conservation Committee last November (supplanting a Petroleum Conservation Committee formed the previous June). Made up of the heads of all ATC Directorates, the committee was chaired by Col. Jack W. Waters, deputy chief of staff for Logistics.

"It became quickly apparent," he said, "that strict monitoring and coordination would be impossible without a central office charged with doing just that one specific job. So we picked five key people and put our Energy Conservation Office together.

"It certainly has paid off," he concluded.

The Energy Conservation Office operated under the immediate supervision of Col. A.E. Smith, assistant for Logistics Plans.

Commenting on the program's success, he observed, "While the largest part of the savings come from the air and ground fuels and utilities areas, we must not forget that conservation is also a 'people' program.

"It could never be completely successful without the thousands of individual self-disciplined actions, from carpooling to turning off barracks lights."

Wanted: outstanding men

Nominations for the 1975 Ten Outstanding Young Men of the Year Awards are due into the Personal Affairs Office, Bldg. T-815 no later than May 24.

The nationwide program is designed to focus public attention on the accomplishments of America's young men in a free society through the free enterprise system.

Men in any field of endeavor are eligible if they are at least 21 and not more than 35 years of age before Jan. 1, 1975 and are a native or naturalized citizen of the United States or have applied for U.S. citizenship.

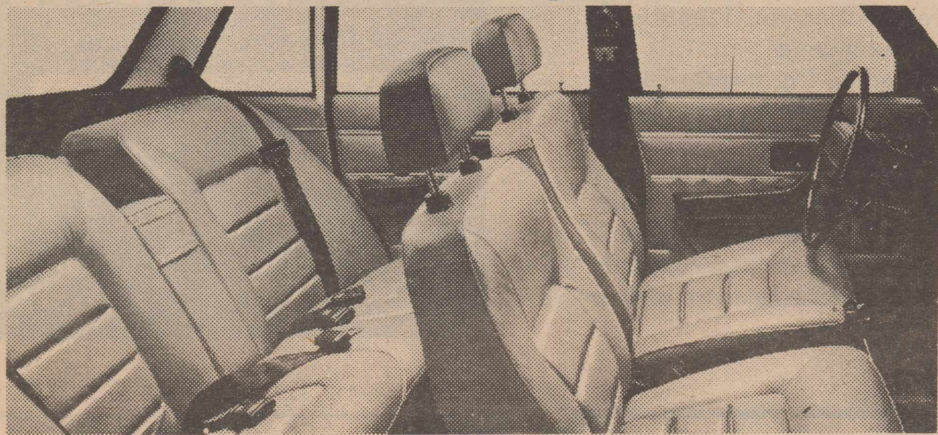

A nominee is selected because he has made an exceptional contribution or achievement of considerable importance to his chosen field or to his organization, community, state or the Nation. The date of the accomplishment doesn't matter. Posthumous nominations are also being accepted.

Nominations should be submitted in accordance with Air Force Regulation 900-29, Paragraph 5. All nominations must be accompanied by an 8" x 10" photograph and the signature of the nominee.

Application for the award may be picked up at the Personal Affairs Office. Questions about the program will be answered by 1st Lt. John H. Segar, chief of Personal Affairs, Ext. 2445.

The 35th Flying Training Squadron (FTS) has named 1st Lt. Jerry L. Kemp as the Instructor Pilot of the Month for April.

Lieutenant Kemp, a Lubbock native and graduate of Texas Tech, was nominated for the award by Lt. Col. John D. Herbert, 35th FTS commander. In nominating Lieutenant Kemp for the honor, Colonel Herbert said, "Lieutenant Kemp's performance and bearing in every respect qualify him for the label of 'outstanding.' His straightforward, honest and tactful manner of relating with others enables him to be extremely effective as an officer. He achieves excellent rapport with his students and through patience and understanding is able to inspire them to greater effort, resulting in a better undergraduate pilot training student."

Commissioned as a second lieutenant in 1971 after attending Officers Training School at Lackland AFB, Tex., he came to Reese for undergraduate pilot training and then returned here as an instructor after receiving his wings.

In continuing his praise of Lieutenant Kemp, Colonel Herbert stated, "Lieutenant Kemp actively seeks additional responsibility. He has performed all major functions in the flight in a superb manner. In recognition of Lieutenant Kemp's demonstrated excellence in all he undertakes, he was selected as flight Scheduling officer over more senior instructors. As Scheduling officer for UPT Class 75-03, he has allowed no syllabus deviations while at the same time demonstrating the flexibility to cope with numerous changes to the syllabus. Lieutenant Kemp's outstanding attitude and superb example speak most highly of his capabilities as an officer and instructor."

weather wise

Watch for tornados

By Capt. Bill Parker

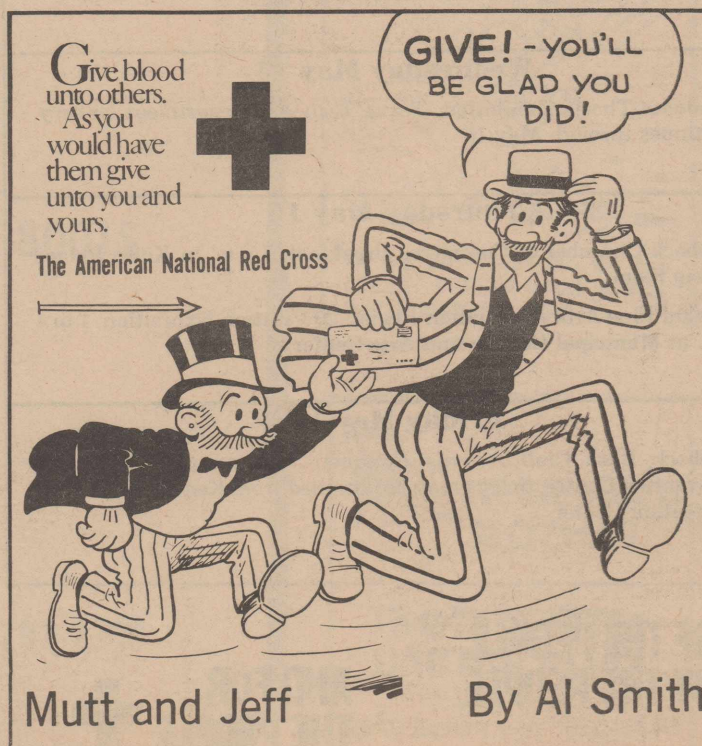

May weather shows signs of a few more windy days with some moisture in the forecast. We can also expect a number of thunderstorms.

I feel we will no longer have to tolerate the long dry spell we have been so accustomed to lately. With stormy weather in the forecast we should be on the lookout for signs of tornadoes and be aware of the precautions to be taken if the situation arises.

It seems that the trend will hold true for the month of May as has been for the past few months.

Once again you have the prediction before you—now let's sit back and see what develops. See everyone next month with better weather.

Students obtain entertainment and knowledge in one lesson

By 1st Lt. "Pete" Peterson

Capt. Wayne Griffith's "Circus and Able Aeronaut" Flight is continuing its policy of entertainment while learning.

The latest in their speaker series was Lt. Col. James Gibler, operations officer of the 54th Flying Training Squadron, former counterinsurgency instructor at Hurlburt Field, Fla. and Special Operations combatant in Southeast Asia.

Counterinsurgency

He spoke to the group of students and instructor pilots on counterinsurgent warfare, its breeding grounds, development and progression. The students of Undergraduate Pilot Training Class 75-02 were treated to a really professional presentation of counterinsurgency.

Colonel Gibler took some hypothetical situations and developed them in regards to local politics and United States engagement and disengagement. He presented the Air Force role vividly and also presented some interesting theories about the hearts and minds of men.

Speaker Series

The speaker series down in C Flight is developing into an interesting and dynamic learning situation. Many points of view have been issued from such experts within their fields as Colonels Walter H. Baxter and Frank B. McKenzie and Lieutenant Colonels Richard A. Ingram, William Finn and Gibler.

"I thing it's good," says Captain Griffith, "that the 'war stories' involved serve as motivators, yet the students react to the entire view point of the speaker and ask a broad spectrum of questions. They're really getting an education down there."

Coming and Going

Joining the 54th last week was Capt. Rich Jennings. Rich has been flying the C-130 Hercules at Pope AFB, N.C.

We also said goodbye to three fellow aviators: Captains Roy Westerfield and Tom Stewart and 1st Lt. Henry Vehige.

Roy is departing Reese for nearby Cannon AFB, N.M., to fly the "swing wing" F-111. Keep an eye out for Roy in the Muleshoe and Morton areas. Tom will be joining the Strategic Air Command force at Barksdale AFB, La., flying B-52s and Henry is heading for "Reese south"—Randolph AFB, Tex.

First Lt. Roger McFarland has moved down the hall as the squadron executive officer.

Reese graduates 46 new pilots

Forty-five members of Undergraduate Pilot Training Class 74-06 drew a year of intense physical and mental training to a close yesterday morning when they marched up to the front of the base chapel to receive the wings of the Air Force pilot.

The graduation ceremony, the second of 1974 at Reese, featured guest speaker Brig. Gen. Charles G. Cleveland, deputy chief of staff for Technical Training at Randolph AFB, Tex.

Four Iranian Graduates

During the ceremony, four Iranian pilots were graduated. They were 2nd Lieutenants Fazlollah Dehghani, Edrahim Hassani, Mohammad Mohammadi and Nematollah Akbari-Samani. All four will return to Iran to put their pilot training to use flying the McDonnell F-4 "Phantom."

Second Lt. Donald A. Campbell earned the Air Training Command

Commander's Cup for attaining the highest cumulative grade point average in all subjects during the year. He also received the Flying Training Award for scoring highest in that field and was named as one of the class' Outstanding Graduates.

The academic Achievement Award was presented to Capt. John E. Stovall for attaining the highest academic grades during the year in that class. He also received an Outstanding Graduate letter for completing training with the second highest ranking in combined grades.

The Leadership Award went to Capt. Richard G. Drown for displaying the most significant leadership characteristics during the year.

Citizenship Award

Second Lt. Edward J. Groening, a member of the class and project officer for the recent Boy Scout Campore here, was presented the Outstanding Citizenship Award on behalf of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce by Dr. John C. Key, a member of the Chamber's Armed Services Committee.

Second Lieutenants Alan K. Longley and Gary J. Bundy were also named Outstanding Graduates.

The actual class numbered 46 students. One student, 2nd Lt. Bruce M. Evans, was assigned to a Reserve unit at Tinker AFB, Okla. after graduating in an early private ceremony last week in the Wing Commander's Office. The Reserve unit had requested the early graduation of the lieutenant in order that he could commence supplementary training in the Republic F-105 "Thunderchief" at McConnell AFB, Kansas.

The F-4 was assigned to more of the class' students than any other assignment. Luke AFB, Ariz., will see Second Lieutenants Bundy, Harvey Cohen, Groening, Randall C. Harville, James B. Morgan and Johnnie C. Sorrells Jr. assigned there to fly the F-4.

Captain Stovall and Lieutenant Longley will go to fly that aircraft at Homestead AFB, Fla.

KC-135 Assignments

The Boeing KC-135 "Strato Tanker" has been assigned to Second Lieutenants Thomas J. Accamando and Turner R. Clark Jr. at Fairchild AFB, Wash. Other KC-135 assignments include 1st Lt. Kenneth M. Davis at Dyess AFB, Tex.; 2nd Lt. Keith W. Anderson, Robins AFB, Ga.; 2nd Lt. Neal Daugherty, K.I. Sawyer AFB, Mich.; 2nd Lt. Larry W. Seeley, Grand Forks AFB, N.D.; 2nd Lt. Gordon M. Stevenson, Seymour Johnson AFB, N.C. and 2nd Lt. Bradley P. Taylor, Altus AFB, Okla.

Four of the graduating pilots will return to Reese after Pilot Instructor Training. Scheduled to instruct in the Cessna T-37 "Tweety Bird" here are 2nd Lieutenants Ronnie A.

Cone, William W. Hodges, Sammy W. Jeter and James E. Root.

C-130 Assignments

Lockheed C-130 "Hercules" assignments include 2nd Lieutenants Craig H. Cosgray and Benjamin C. Horton Jr., Clark AB in the Philippines; Timothy J. Frederick, Langley AFB, Va. and Michael S. Petraszko, Pope AFB, N.C.

Captain Drown and 2nd Lieutenants William D. Burke and Daniel R. Stukas will fly the Northrop T-38 "Talon" at Williams AFB, Ariz.

Scheduled to fly the Boeing B-52 "Strato Fortress" are Capt. Mark C. Whitelaw at Blythville AFB, Ark. and 2nd Lieutenants Michael E. Allen, Loring AFB, Maine; Stephen M. Moore, Robins AFB, Ga.; Gary T. Rogers, Wurtsmith AFB, Mich. and Gerald J. Venteicher, Minot AFB, N.D.

Capt. John H. Hintz will fly the Lockheed C-141 "Starlifter" at Charleston AFB, S.C. Second Lieutenants Thomas R. Hendrick and Lawrence W. Jernigan Jr. will fly that aircraft at Norton AFB, Calif. and Travis AFB, Calif., respectively, while Richard L. Sutherland will pilot the aircraft at McGuire AFB, N.J.

'Delta Dart'

Second Lieutenants Jaroslaw Fedirko and James C. Kuzo will pilot the Convair F-106 "Delta Dart" for the Michigan Air National Guard and Langley AFB, Va., respectively.

The rest of the class assignments are 2nd Lieutenants Mike Anderson, who will fly the Convair C-131 at Eglin AFB, Fla.; Michael D. Carrigan will fly the Douglas C-118 "Liftmaster" at Andrews AFB, Md.; and Lieutenant Campbell will fly the McDonnell F-4 "Phantom II" at Udorn Royal Thai Air Force Base in Thailand.

Commander's CARE Line

(Editor's Note: The Roundup will continue to publish Commander's CARE Line inquiries as long as they are of base-wide interest. All inquiries will be reviewed by Col. Walter H. Baxter III, wing commander. All personnel are encouraged to first use their chain of command or the office of primary responsibility to air their comments, if possible. If these methods do not work, call the CARE Line by dialing C-A-R-E. Personnel are urged to give their name, rank and unit when calling.)

Sir:
This is the operator. I was wondering why CE, when they have a Commander's Call, have the whole squadron attend at once and leave no one to answer the phone. I believe there should be at least one person in each office to handle incoming calls to expedite any emergency or whatever comes up. Thank you.
SSgt. Gary Phillis

Sergeant Phillis:
At the April 24 CE Commander's Call I presented the 64th Civil Engineering Squadron the Quarterly Ground Safety Award. Because this trophy was earned by all in the squadron, maximum military and civilian personnel attendance was solicited. As a result, many of the office telephones were left unattended during the last hour of the workday and the base operator was not notified accordingly. I have been assured that in the future base operator coordination will be obtained and at least one person will remain in each office to take incoming calls.

Sir:
I was just wondering. I am on the night shift. There is never anything around like the "Running Chef" or snack shop that is open at the time the chow hall is open. People need to get cigarette and things like that but there is nowhere to get them on the night shift. I was wondering if we could get the Running Chef to run maybe two or three times a night so we can get sandwiches or something that will hit the flightline maintenance, supply and other people who have to work after hours. I don't know whether this has been tried or not but it seems like a good idea to me and also with all the guys I have talked to on the night shift. Thank you, sir, for taking your time out.

No Name

Unfortunately, it is not economically feasible to implement your suggestion. However, there is a full line vending bank in Bldg. 105 with hot soups, sandwiches, cigarettes and the like, which is open from 5:30 a.m. until 1 a.m. each flying day. Depending upon the hours you are talking about, some service might be available through the NCO Open Mess.

Sir:
I have a question about an order that came down from you about the off-duty wearing of the MA-1 flight jacket by SPs. I believe this was concerning anybody that wears a "duty only" uniform. As I understand it, sir, the word from you (and I paraphrase) said the flight jacket is for flying personnel and the SPs are not flying personnel, so the jacket will be worn only to work, on duty, back home and not to appointments or errands, even on base. Very often my appointments are before work. More than that, I am required to do some things in the line of appointments after duty. There are all sorts of problems with having to stop here and there—The Reesette and BX—after work. In the winter, then the chill factor is a 20-degree, sir, are you asking me to do the aforementioned duty in shirt sleeves or are you asking me to fold up a five-foot-long winter overcoat and keep it under the seat in my jeep? It would be a disgrace to the Air Force to wear it then, due to wrinkles. Other personnel wear their "duty only" uniforms to appointments, errands and a stop at the club on the way home for a beer. Maybe it is just tough luck that I don't fly and the Air Force doesn't give me something to keep me warm on and off duty because I wear a gun. Whatever, sir, I ask you to reconsider your directive in the name of convenience and health purposes. Thank you, sir.

A1C Michael D. Savage

Airman Savage:
As specified in Air Force Manual 35-10, "Dress and Personal Appearance for Air Force Personnel," wear of the MA-1 flight jacket by Security Police will be as directed by the installation commander. I have directed, therefore, that SPs will wear the flight jacket only when under arms. Outer garments authorized by AFM 35-10 will be worn at all other times, to include travel to and from work, errands and appointments. Adequate and secure storage areas for other jackets exist in Bldg. 411.

Sir:
I would like to ask a question. I went to the hospital today to order some wire frame glasses and he told me that they only order between 9:30 and 10:30 a.m., which is right in the middle of our launch period. I would like to know what is the difference in ordering wire frames and regular frame glasses. It seems to me that it would be the same. Thank you for your time, sir.

Sgt. Makin
64th OMS

Sergeant Makin:
Just as your organization has time periods for launching, the hospital also reserves time throughout the day for particular functions. The Optometry Section orders, repairs and dispenses glasses from 9:30 to 10:30 a.m. and from 2:30 to 3:30 p.m. Monday through Friday. You should contact Amn. Atkielski in the Optometry Section, Ext. 2338, in order to secure your particular type of glasses. As to your question concerning the difference in ordering wire frames versus regular glasses — there is none, except that you must submit a letter to the hospital, signed by your commander, stating that you meet the requirements of Air Force Regulation 167-3 to order the wire frame glasses.

Have a question?

AF asks for film ideas

WASHINGTON (AFNS) - Ideas are being solicited for fiscal year 1975 planning for the "Air Force Now" Commander's Call film series.

While the majority of "Air Force Now" story ideas are provided by major commands, many are received from individuals. Information officers serve as the focal point for local submissions. They evaluate suggested story lines and submit them to headquarters U.S. Air Force.

Officials said that topics for possible "Air Force Now" coverage should represent relevant aspects of Air Force life and should be of interest and concern to the entire Air Force.

The story idea should be able to be best told through film rather than any other medium.

Since adequate leadtime is needed to prepare treatment and film assignments, officials asked that story ideas be submitted as far in advance as possible of the actual event to facilitate proper planning.

Express ideas in woodcraft

By Joe Perron

The Reese Wood Hobby Shop offers a unique opportunity for recreation, self expression, creativity and substantial savings. At present, a unique project is a boat which is being built by retired Chaplain (Lt. Col.) Bill G. Chapman. Both the boat and the colonel are unique—the boat because it is built of structureless plywood and the colonel because of the fact that he is legally blind.

The boat is less than eight feet long over five feet wide at the stern and will weigh about 45 pounds. It has no framework and derives its strength from the tension created by bending quarter-inch plywood around severe radii. The total cost of the boat is approximately $75.

Chaplain Chapman was medically retired in 1969 after 14 years service. After retirement he went back to school and earned a doctorate in rehabilitation administration. He is also an authority in the use of residual sight through the use of optical and electronic aids for the partially sighted and legally blind.

Construction of such a project is a worthy challenge for a normally-sighted person, yet Chaplain Chapman has tackled the task with reasonable assurance that he will solve the many problems encountered in such a project. Most of his confidence stemmed from from 14 years of experience working in Air Force hobby shops. The Reese shop and its supervisory personnel provide all the necessary training in the use of facility's woodworking tools available to Chaplain Chapman and all hobby shop patrons.

The Wood Hobby Shop is located in Bldgs. 340 and its hours of operation are from 1:30 to 9:30 p.m. Tuesday through Friday and from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Saturday. The shop is closed on Sundays and Mondays.

Escape adventure, space exploration, western drama and gangland action highlight the film fare this week at the Simler Theater.

The base theater schedules features at 8 p.m. Tuesday through Sunday, unless otherwise noted. The special Saturday matinee begins at 2 p.m. Tickets may be obtained at the theater one half-hour before showtime.

Tonight and Saturday Evening
Steve McQueen and Dustin Hoffman star in "Papillon," the story about the unconquerable spirit and determination of a man to escape, even after he has been given a life sentence in the famous French prison on Devil's Island. This PG-rated movie was nominated for an Academy Award.

Saturday Matinee
"Moon Zero Two" depicts everyday life on the moon in the year 2021. By then, men have established a civilized community on the lunar surface and must begin to deal with the problems of their planet society. This space adventure is rated G.

Sunday
The steely-eyed gun fighter Clint Eastwood is back as "Joe Kidd," a man hired to bring in a revolutionary leader in Mexico. Fearing that Eastwood won't be able to handle the outlaw, Robert Duvall, the man who hired Eastwood, also sends out a crew of sharpshooters to follow his gunslinger and help him out. This just puts Eastwood in the middle of a bad situation. This action western is rated PG.

Tuesday
Supernatural assistance in a gangland vendetta sets the pace for the action in "Sugar Hill." Enlisting the aid of a voodoo practitioner, a young girl calls forth the Baron of the Zombies, Don Pedro Colley, to help kill the underworld gang who murdered her boyfriend. Violence may be too strong for preteens in this PG-rated movie.

Wednesday

In a sequel to the film "The Emigrants", Igmur Bergman starts this film where the last one left off. "The New Land" confronts the band of Swedish farmers who have chosen the wild frontier as their home and who must now contend with its adversities. California gold fever, Indian uprisings and the Civil War are but a few of the problems that have to be overcome. It is rated PG.

Thursday

Goldie Hawn stars with Ben Johnson in "The Sugarland Express." Just out of a Texas prison, Hawn and her husband (played by William Atherton) kidnap a Texas Highway Patrolman to use as a safe passage hostage until the couple reach Sugarland, where they plan to get back their two-year-old son, who is being cared for by foster parents. It is a funny, tense and touching drama that is rated PG.

at Mathis

Today—At 8 p.m. the Mathis Recreation Center will hold a Hootenanny with David Ruthstrom and some guest artists. Come on in and sing along.

Tomorrow—A talent rehearsal for the base-wide talent contest will begin at 2 p.m. followed by the weekly pool tournament at 5:30 p.m.

Sunday—A full slate of activities is scheduled for today beginning with an all-day tea and coffee table in honor of Mother's Day, starting at noon and running until 9 p.m. At 1 p.m. the weekly pinocle tournament will be held followed at 2 p.m. by a talent rehearsal for the base talent contest and the weekly table tennis tournament.

Monday—The Take Off Pounds Sensibly (TOPS) Club will hold their weekly meeting at 5 p.m. in the Center.

Tuesday—Recreational and entertainment films will be shown beginning at 7 p.m.

Wednesday—If you think you know it all, come in to the Mathis Rec Center at 7 p.m. tonight and see how well you do in the 20 questions contest. A prize will be given to the biggest "know-it-all."

Thursday—There will be a RAP session at 7:30 p.m. This will be a good chance to air your views and listen to the views of others.

at Open Messes

Tonight the NCO Open Mess will feature dancing to the music of "The Country Corporation."

Tomorrow, "The Nivicos" will be providing the entertainment at the club. On Sunday and Thursday evenings, Nathaniel Stowe and the "Discotheque" will be playing at 8 p.m.

The dining room is open from 10:30 a.m. until 1:30 p.m. and from 5 until 9 p.m., Monday through Friday. Tomorrow the dining room is open from 9 a.m. until 9 p.m. and is closed on Sundays and holidays.

The Officer's Open Mess will begin this week's activities with a New York strip dinner and a free glass of wine for $3.95 and dancing to the music of "The Raiders" beginning at 9 p.m. "The Raiders" will also be playing tomorrow night.

On Wednesday, the Officer's

Open Mess will host the graduation Dinner-Dance for the members and families of Class 74-06 and will feature the music of "The Raiders."

On Sunday, Mother's Day, the Officers' Open Mess Dinner Theater will present "Generation" starring the Kaleidoscope Players. Dinner will be served from 6 to 8:30 p.m. with the production beginning at 9 p.m.

Youth Center dancing class presents first public recital

The Modern Dance and Jazz Class of the Reese Youth Center will present its recital "Scenes" at 7:30 p.m. Monday in the base theater.

The class, which meets twice weekly, has been in session since November. Since their first meeting, the girls have learned basic warmup exercises, locomotor movements and techniques and various dancing techniques. After their initial introduction into dance movements, they were next introduced to movement exploration, improvisation, isolations and individual movements exercises.

The girls who will be involved in this recital are Christine Olenik, Teresa Filippo and Karen Benson, all intermediate students. Beginning students include Pam Parker, Julie Benson, Donna McRimmon, Janice Farrow, Valerie Williams, Debbie DeRosa and Judy Smith.

Recital numbers will include "Higher Ground", "Mother Nature", "Pink Panther" and "Funky Stuff". There will also be three numbers from the soundtrack of the movie "Shaft," including "Theme From Shaft," "Ellie's Love Theme" and "Walk From Regio's". Solo and duet performances will be "Harmonica Man," "A Time For Us," "Sweet And Innocent," "Funky Stuff" and "Tubular Bells". A special stick dance from Guam will also be included in the performance.

"A Time For Us" is choreographed by Janice Farrow; "Sweet and Innocent" by Karen Benson and Teresa Filippo; "Funky Stuff" by Donna Rimmon and "Tubular Bells" by Debbie DeRosa. "Higher Ground" will be choreographed by Lynne Swinney with the aid of Paula Kneer of the Texas Tech Department of Dance. All remaining numbers are being choreographed by Ms. Swinney and the students in the dance class.

The stage and prop director will be Jim Wade and the lights technician is Tony Pliveri.

There will be no admission charged for the performance and it will be open to the public.

Celebration set for Center

The Reese Family Services Center will celebrate its 17th Birthday from 10 a.m. to noon May 13 at the Center, Bldg. 6100.

The USAF Family Services program was designed to provide information, assistance and guidance to members of the Air Force family in solving problems beyond the scope of their own resources.

Family Services is run totally by volunteers who receive no compensation, with guidance provided by the base Personal Affairs Officer. In Reese's case, this man is 1st Lt. George M. Protos.

A significant Family Services function is to insure that Air Force wives are informed on matters affecting their security and welfare as members of the Air Force family. Toward this purpose, the Reese Family Services Center sponsors periodic orientations. The orientations are designed to acquaint wives with special rights, benefits and privileges available to them and their children.

In addition, the orientations serve to inform the Air Force wife about the mission of the base and command to which their sponsors are assigned.

Other services provided by Family Services include information about all Air Force bases, financial assistance, relocation and transportation.

Refreshments will be served at the observance and those attending may register for door prizes. A free nursery will be provided for children of parents attending. Reservations may be made at the Nursery, 885-2203.

Airmen, being widely travelled, naturally become the best judge of the authenticity of the good foods around the world. Come and judge us among all Chinese restaurants in this country.

AF seeks electronics experts

There is an immediate requirement to retrain highly-qualified personnel with conventional electronics systems experience into the integrated avionics systems.

To support this requirement, the Palace Eagle volunteer program was established to provide an opportunity for enlisted personnel in the continental United States (CONUS) who are currently working in certain electronics and avionics skills to voluntarily retrain into the more sophisticated integrated avionics skills.

The integrated system approach is the latest development in the rapidly-changing avionics area and is undoubtedly the avionics systems approach of the future, according to Air Force officials.

First-term airmen in the grades of sergeant and staff sergeant and all career personnel in the CONUS who possess one of the following qualifying control Air Force Specialty codes (AFSCs) are eligible and are encouraged to apply at the Reese Consolidated Base Personnel Office, Bldg. T-815:

AFSC 302X0, 302X1, 304X0, 304X4, 316X0F, 316X1F, 316X0Q, 316X0S, 316X0S, 316X1J, 316X1Q, 316X2O, 321X0L, 322X1F, 322X1N, 325X0 and 328X0 are eligible to apply.

Interested personnel in the AFSCs above should contact Sgt. Elmer J. Fox at Ext. 2420.

Church lauds Air Force

WASHINGTON (AFNS) - The 15th annual observance of Air Force Day will be held in the National Cathedral in Washington Sunday. For the past 15 years, the dean of the Washington National Cathedral has invited the Air Force chief of staff to support the annual service which honors the men and women of the Air Force.

The Protestant Cadet Choir of the Air Force Academy will provide music at a special concert in the cathedral.

Secretary of the Air Force John L. McLucas, Chief of Staff Gen. George S. Brown, Chief of Chaplains, Chaplain (Maj. Gen.) Roy M. Terry, and Chief Master Sergeant of the Air Force Thomas N. Barnes are among those invited to participate in the special service.

Loans cost less from your credit union.

You don't just belong to the credit union. The credit union belongs to you.

What's the difference between your credit union and other financial institutions? One major difference is this: in a credit union, the members are the owners. Its major purpose is to serve you, through a complete range of financial services.

With a credit union loan, for example, you can pay cash for major purchases such as appliances or furniture. Thus, you eliminate "service charges," "loan fees" and "revolving service charges" which can range as high as 24% per year!

But in addition to lending you money at the lowest rates, your credit union also serves as your financial advisor. And, since you are one of the owners, you can rest assured the advice you get will always be in your best interests. Next time you need a financial assist, look into your credit union. You'll discover your many needs will always be professionally serviced.

Just a few of the many advantages of joining your credit union:

- Interest rates are lower.
- You borrow from yourself.
- There's never a loan fee or service charge.
- Automatic payroll deductions are often available.
- You deal with fellow members.
- You can usually enjoy the convenience of on-the-spot service.

A Volvo is the answer. The body is welded into one solid piece. The roof pillars have supported over eight tons. Metal parts most prone to rust are made least prone to rust. They're galvanized.

Chicago concert is rated big disaster

By Lighthouse

Last week I went to the Municipal Coliseum to see “Chicago” in concert. Since I had already seen them once before, I was anxious to see a repeat of the fine performance Chicago gave the first time I’d seen them.

Unfortunately, if the Chicago performance were rated on a scale of the worst ten disasters in world history, it would have come in just behind the San Francisco earthquake.

Light Attendance

The Lubbock Municipal Coliseum can hold approximately 14,000 people and for this performance only 4,800 showed up. I can understand the light attendance since they were brought to town during finals week and not many people could take a break from their study time to go to the concert. The audience itself seemed anxious to see the group, except for the 20 per cent or so who were kids under the age of 13.

Now, I would like to be kind at this point, but it isn't easy. A concert audience should show a certain amount of respect for a group that's performing, even if it entails nothing more than polite clapping. Those kids in the audience, most of whom had no idea who or what Chicago was other than a vague knowledge that is a city somewhere in the United States, helped to totally ruin the concert and the group's performance. They ran in front of the stage, yelled and screamed during the numbers and at one point, set off a cherry bomb behind the stage.

Now I can see why after the last concert, Chicago swore they would never return to Lubbock. If this is typical of Lubbock crowd reactions, I can't blame them.

In order to be fair, I can't blame the audience for everything. The group lacked even a good imitation of the songs they do on their records. The equipment failed and the lead microphones were turned down so low that it was almost impossible to hear anything. Feedback from the sound systems completely ruined one song and the brass section acted like they had never rehearsed before.

Few and Far Between

It took the group over 25 minutes to get to a song that was even partly recognizable as one of their hits (“Twenty-five or Six to Four”) and another half-hour to get to another hit (“Beginning”).

When they came out for their first number of the night, they started with what appeared to be a good boogie number and had the crowd on their feet clapping time and dancing. All of a sudden, right in the middle of the number, they dropped their tempo to waltz time and the rather bewildered crowd sat down. That was the first and last time the group had them off their feet all night, except when people got up to walk out.

I said at the beginning of the column that the concert could be rated just behind the San Francisco earthquake as an unqualified disaster: I think that I was being too kind.

Junior Officer Council supports sports activities

More than 40 members of the Reese Junior Officers Council (JOC) met with Col. Walter H. Baxter III, wing commander, earlier this month. New business seemed to center around sports activities.

The JOC will again be selling tickets to the All-America Football Game this year. The game will take place June 22 at Jones Stadium in Lubbock. The 35-yard-line tickets will be sold for $5 each.

The Council is collecting funds to support a Little League Baseball team in Lubbock. This is a joint project with the Reese Latin American Club. Coaches are also needed. Any volunteers should contact Capt. John Stealey at Ext. 2143.

Colonel Baxter took the opportunity to thank all the junior officers who helped in the dedication of Graham Hall, and also in the recent Air Force Association membership drive.

Scouts visit Reese for Spring Camporee

Over 250 Boy Scouts and 60 adults called Reese their home for a three-day Spring Scout Camporee May 3, 4, and 5.

The scouts, members of the Longhorn District of the South Plains Council, pitched their tents, toured the base, attended a fire fighting demonstration and competed among themselves for awards in various scouting skills during the Camporee.

Although the second night of the camporee was hampered by winds and the threat of possible tornados, the scouts braved the afternoon winds and completed their scouting skills competitions.

On the last day of the camporee, the winners of the scouting skills competition were presented with their awards, especially make to fit on the individual flags of each troop. The scouts were so proficient in their skills that point values had to be computed to a thousandth of a point in some cases to determine the winners.

In one event, the first aid competition, even after the point values had been computed to one hundred thousandth of a point, there was no way to determine a winner. The judges then decided that all of the five troops in competition should share first place,

Reese Boy Scout Troop 548 made an excellent showing in the award ceremony when the Flying Tiger Patrol took second place honors for Best Patrol award and the Thunderbirds Patrol of Troop 548 took first place honors. Troop 548 was also honored as the Best Camporee Troop and they were given the Camporee buckskin which they will keep until next year when another troop may win it from them.

After the awards ceremony took place the Longhorn District of the South Plains Council presented Col. Walter H. Baxter III, wing commander, with a plaque which stated that the council appreciated all of the help that Reese personnel gave to the Camporee to make it a success. Reese is one of only three Air Force base in the country to host a Boy Scout Camporee this year.

Reese man donates gift of life

By Sgt. Cal Anweiler

Every 58 days, for the past 25 years, Stanley Greenberg plays an important part in the saving of someone's life. Yet, for all of his conscious effort, he never gets to see the people whose lives he helps to save.

Greenberg, Deputy Chief of Operations and Maintenance in the 64th Civil Engineering Squadron, has regularly traveled to downtown Lubbock to donate blood to the Blood Services of Lubbock blood bank. The only time that he has been even a little late in making his donation was when he was sick and even then he was only three days late.

15 Gallons

Recently the Blood Services of Lubbock blood bank gave Stanley Greenberg the Community Blood Donor Award "in recognition of continued participation in providing the gift of life." Since he started donating blood over 25 years ago, after he found out that his nephew had been born with leukemia, Greenberg has given almost 15 gallons of the precious life-giving fluid.

Asked why he makes the bi-monthly trip to undergo what usually makes people a little squeamish, he just smiles and says, "I just enjoy it."

The officials at the Blood Services of Lubbock blood bank aren't quite as modest as Greenberg.

'Dedicated Person'

"Ever since we went to the all voluntary donation program on March 1, we have been dependent on people to come in to donate blood for the 37 hospitals in the South Plains area that we serve," one official said, "and without the help of people like Mr. Greenberg, we wouldn't have been able to meet the increasing demand for blood so desperately needed in cases like open heart surgery." Not only has he been very conscientious about coming in on time to donate, but more often than not he brings in one or two other people to donate also. There is no doubt that Stanley Greenberg is a very unusual and dedicated person. We are more than grateful for his help and cooperation."

Although he has only been in Texas just over three years, Greenberg is already a member of the Blood Services Gallon Club and has been an active participant in their programs.

Follow His Example

Reese personnel will have an opportunity to follow Greenberg's lead when the Blood Services of Lubbock will be holding a blood drive on base from 1 to 5 p.m. on May 22 in the Mathis Recreation Center. Since the USAF Hospital at Reese uses the services of the blood bank, any donations could possibly come back to the base as an important life-giving source. To paraphrase a popular slogan, "Let's all give so that others may live."

Red Hots score big in tournament play

The Red Hots were just that Sunday when they took on the Blue Diamonds in Women's Softball League play, shutting out the Diamonds 23-0.

Sharon Kimball was the winning pitcher for the Red Hots. The win was attributed to good hitting and early scoring by the Red Hots, as well as costly errors by the Blue Diamonds. The winners racked up six runs in the second inning, followed by another nine-run rally in the third inning.

Mary Kissinger of the Red Hots was credited with a "great snag" on a fly ball during the game.

Chris Sheer and Tish Dunlap of the Blue Diamonds were also credited with good fielding plays during the game.

In other women's action, Betty Payne of the Better Half batted teammate Betty Pusser in during two-inning overtime to score the winning run against the Dusty Devils in a tight 9-8 victory.

Three pitchers were used from the Better Half bench during the game. They were Elaine Seebo, Katy Naples and Kathy Skakal. Good hits were noted by Karen Brock and Katy Naples of the Better Half and Sharon Disler and Hassie Tyson of the Dusty Devils. Valuable catches were made by Debbie McNary and Aggie Saldana of the Devils.

The Women's League plays games at 3 and 5 p.m. each Sunday at the field behind the Officers' Open Mess.

Speaker highlights Bass Club banquet

Don Butler of Tulsa, Okla., will be the featured guest speaker at the Lubbock Bass Club's first Annual Awards Banquet 7:30 p.m. May 17 at the KoKo Inn Convention Center.

Mr. Butler is well known to serious bass fishermen for his national reputation as a lure manufacturer and top tournament bass fisherman. Among his many tournament victories are several national events, including the 1972 Bass Masters Classic.

The awards banquet will include a film presentation for the Bass Club members and their families and guests. In addition to speaking at the banquet, Butler will hold an informal question and answer period from 3:30 until 5 p.m. for members wishing some expert advice, or just an opportunity to trade "fish stories."

Tickets for the banquet may be obtained from Ken Hyde at the Mathis Recreation Center. Reese personnel interested in joining the Lubbock Bass Club are encouraged to call Hyde at Ext. 2722 for more information concerning the club and future fishing activities.

Foundation holds contest

WASHINGTON (AFNS) - The Freedoms Foundation has announced that its 1974 Armed Forces letter-writing contest theme is "Human Goals—The Advancement of Human Dignity." The program has been endorsed by Gen. R.H. Ellis, Air Force vice chief of staff, who said, "I encourage active support for the Freedoms Foundations Awards Program at all levels of command." The 1974 theme directly supports the Department of Defense Human Goals Program.

The best letter writers in the active-duty Armed Forces competition and Reserve forces event will each receive $1,000 from the Freedoms Foundation at Valley Forge, Pa. Additionally, the top 10 active-duty and Reserve winners of the 1974 contest will be invited to Valley Forge to receive awards at the annual presentation ceremony. A separate letter essay award contest for Junior Air Force Reserve Officers Training Corps cadets will offer a Patriot Award of $500 and honor medal.

There also will be awards of $100 and $50 and George Washington Honor Medals and honor certificates. Last year, 149 Air Force active-duty and Reserve members won awards.

Entries also may be in essay or poetry form. The length should be between 100 to 500 words. Entrants should include full name, social security number, military address, service component, and complete permanent home address, including ZIP code.

In addition to the letters award category, there are some 17 other contest categories in the annual Freedoms Foundation Awards Program, some of which may suggest submissions by or on behalf of individual military members and organizations. These include public addresses, sermons, editorials, letters-to-the-editor, magazine and newspaper articles, radio and television programs, community projects, and governmental unit activities.

All entries must be sent before Oct. 31 to Freedoms Foundation, Valley Forge, Pa. 19481.

Base information offices will monitor the program and assist in encouraging maximum participation, Air Force officials said.

Copies of the Freedoms Foundation Awards Program booklet are being distributed to information offices and through publications distribution offices to all Air Force units.

Law provides new employee benefits

WASHINGTON (AFNS) - President Nixon has signed into law the Fair Labor Standards Amendments of 1974 which bring Federal employees as well as nonappropriated funds employees of the Armed Forces under the Fair Labor Standards Act for the first time.

The new law, which becomes effective May 1, provides that some Federal employees will be exempt from the minimum wage and overtime provisions of the act. Such exemptions will include certain employees in executive, administrative, and professional positions and all employees serving in foreign areas.

Minimum wages will be increased from $1.60 to $1.90 or $2.00 per hour, depending on the category of employee. Most Federal workers are already paid above the new minimums, but regulations will be issued to raise the pay of those who are not.

Overtime Requirement

The new law requires payment of overtime (work in excess of 40 hours a week) for all work which the employer suffers or permits to be done. Heretofore, Federal work must have been officially ordered or approved before overtime compensation could be paid. Under the concept of suffer or permit, any work performed by a nonexempt employee for the benefit of the agency, whether requested or not, is working time if the supervisor has reason to believe it is being performed.

The U.S. Civil Service Commission is in the process of advising Federal agencies that if management does not intend for overtime work to be performed, such as before a shift begins or during meal periods, it must ensure that employees work only during their scheduled hours of duty. present pay practices for such employees will be continued until that time.

The new law extends coverage of the Age Discrimination in Em-

The commission has been given authority to set a maximum age requirement for a Federal position when it finds that age is a bona fide occupational qualification.

With few exceptions, the Civil Service Commission will administer the act as it pertains to Federal employees. Regulations will be issued following consultation with Federal agencies and unions.

'74 season opens for youth teams

Despite the threat of rain, the Reese 1974 Little League season got under way April 29.

After brief opening ceremonies highlighted by Senior Installation Chaplain (Col.) William W. Campbell giving the invocation and the first ball of the season being thrown out by Col. Frank B. McKenzie, Air Base Group Commander, the Orioles defeated the Astros 9-5. Will Anderson was the winning pitcher.

On May 1 the Orioles again triumphed, this time against the Giants in an 11-4 victory.

May 4 saw the Giants defeat the Astros 13-3. Eugene Williams was the Giants' winning pitcher.

Gym Notes

The gym has announced that varsity fast pitch practice will be at 9 a.m. tomorrow at the gym.

Also noted was the last day for intramural golf sign-ups will be 4 p.m. May 17.

A reminder was issued that the gym now has a locker room for all women who wish to use the facility.

'ONEUPMANSHIP'

A DANGEROUS GAME TO PLAY WITH YOUR MONEY

One bank makes a "free" offer, another bank counters with another and pretty soon you get into the act by playing games with your money. "Something for nothing" is unrealistic in the world of good business and finance. That's why we just keep on giving such services to our regular customers as: no charge for cashiers checks, no charge for travelers checks and no activity charge for customers 65 or over. In other words, we keep on giving services that count. We're more interested in giving you total banking service than we are in playing the dangerous game of oneupmanship with your money.
