

Early outs open for some Reese officers

The Consolidated Base Personnel Office received priority messages this week from the Air Force Military Personnel Center (AFMPC) pertaining to fiscal year 1975 (FY 75) officer early out programs.

These programs are effective immediately and may affect many officers at Reese. Two programs have been released, one for pilots and another for nonrated officers.

Air Force pilots who have an established date of separation or who will complete their active duty service commitment on or before June 30, 1976, may apply for early separation. Effective separation dates begin now and will close June 27, 1975. Applications for the program must be submitted before Oct. 31 of this year.

Policy Exceptions

There are eight exceptions to the early separation policy. These categories in which pilots are not eligible for the early separation program include aircraft commanders, flight examiners or instructor pilots in the Boeing KC-135 Stratotanker, B-52 Stratofortress and the C-5 Galaxy. Also ineligible are medical officers and officers selected for overseas movement from the United States who have a reporting date of Oct. 15 or earlier.

Others who may not apply are those whose separation is appropriate under other directives such as AFRs 35-6, 36-3 or AFM 35-4 or those men covered by paragraph 3A (1-11) or AFR 36-12. Also, those who have departed permanently are ineligible unless they are still eligible at their new duty station under other criteria and those officers assigned to the Air Force Institute of Technology (AFIT).

Service Academy officers who have not yet served five years prior to their desired dates of separation are also ineligible. Finally, officers who are being separated as a result of nonselection for promotion are not eligible under the early out program.

The other program was also announced by AFMPC pertaining to the nonrated program states that non-rated officers with a total active federal commissioned service date of June 30, 1973 or earlier may apply for separation. Dates pertaining to filing for separation and the actual separation dates themselves are the same as in the rated out program.

Those officers who are not rated but fall into categories of ineligibility listed above are the same under the nonrated program. Additionally, the following cases are also disqualifying for officers: those officers serving in the Staff Judge Advocate or those attending law school; officers with an active duty service commitment date (ADSC) of July 1, 1978 or later including officers in training now who will have an ADSC of later than July 1, 1978 and those with the following Air Force Specialty Codes: 16XXB, 282X00 and 30XX.

Also ineligible are officers serving in short tour areas with dates of separation between now and June 30, 1975 and those in long tour areas whose dates of separation have already passed and who have not yet served for 12 months in the long tour area.

Others not to be considered are those who have not yet served one day of active duty for each day of Air Force supported training received in a civilian institution.

Application Consideration

Officers applying under either of these early release programs must realize that any application may be disapproved and once an application for release is submitted, it may not be withdrawn.

Officers serving in AFSCs listed below will have their applications reviewed by a Resource Utilization Panel which will convene Sept. 11 and Nov. 13. Officers in these AFSCs should not apply for separation dates earlier than Sept. 23, according to the messages received. These AFSCs are: 17XX, 182X, 20XX, 35XX, 28XX, 282X, 40XX, 46XX, 62XX, 63XX, 64XX, 67XX, 70XX, 733X, 734X and 735X.

Officers applying for early separation under either of these programs will be counseled on the opportunities available in the Air Force Reserve and Air National Guard. Information and assistance may be obtained by calling 2nd Lt. Joe R. Harrison or MSgt. James Shomper at Ext. 2525.

Released PW to speak at traditional Dining In Capt. William J. Reich, a former prisoner of war, will be featured as the guest speaker at the 64th Student Squadron's semiannual Dining In 7:30 p.m. tomorrow at the Officers Open Mess.

Many Reese people may remember seeing Captain Reich on television early last year. When one of the Lockheed C-141s fresh from Gia Lam Airport in Hanoi, North Vietnam, landed and taxied onto the ramp at Clark Air Base in the Philippines and opened its doors, the 6' 7" frame of Captain Reich could be seen towering above the other deplaning freed PWs.

Captain Reich was a GIB (guy-in-back) on an McDonnell F-4 Phantom flying with the 555th Tactical Fighter Squadron in Udorn Royal Thai AFB, Thailand when he was shot down over North Vietnam on his 100th mission on May 11, 1972. He spent the next 10½ months in the enemy's custody.

Captain Reich was graduated from the Air Force Academy in Colorado Springs, Colo., and completed navigator training (after receiving a height waiver) at Mather AFB, Calif. in April of 1971. From there he was assigned to additional training in the F-4 and then went to Southeast Asia for duty with the famous "Triple Nickel" (555th TFS) Squadron.

The traditional Dining In is being sponsored by Undergraduate Pilot Training Classes 75-02, '03, '04 and '05. These are the four senior classes presently taking training at Reese.

Capt. William J. Reich

Reese slates Labor Day celebration

The Carnival is coming!

Reese will sponsor its own Labor Day Carnival beginning at noon Aug. 31 at the Reese Picnic Area (behind the commissary), an event that is sure to provide an interesting day for all South Plains residents.

A myriad of activities is slated to take place during the 10-hour celebration. Eight food booths and 12 game activities are slated. Three different bands will provide music throughout the day. Plenty of beer and soft drinks will be available. Children under 12 years of age and under will enjoy a merry-go-round, "chair-plane" and satellite rides.

A cartoon booth is also in the offing for the younger set. Curios and ceramic pieces will be sold in two booths and a country store will be set up.

The theme for the Labor Day event is "Jamaica," which means festival or carnival in Spanish.

The Carnival is open to all citizens of Reese and the entire South Plains area.

Come on out for the Saturday celebration.

WATCH YOURSELF (AND THEM) - Monday was the first day of classes for the Reese Elementary School students as well as pupils throughout the Lubbock area. The children are full of energy and don't always look both ways before crossing the street going to and from school, so drivers must "watch out for the little guy." Please drive cautiously all the time, and be especially careful around local schools. Let's give the kids a chance to grow up. (Drawing by Sgt. Buddy Lerch)

"Be a good neighbor. . . welcome folks the way you would like to be welcomed."

By Col. Schuyler Bissell
Wing Commander

Whether this is the newcomer's first base or whether he or she is an old hand, first impressions are long lasting. I want to make certain the first impression of Reese is the best.

One of the most effective ways of gaining such a response is through the sponsorship program. This is where you come in. As a potential sponsor, you must understand the importance of this program. . . it is important to the individual and to our Reese community.

Before a person gets here, the sponsor must send the individual as much information as possible about the base and the surrounding community. Your initial contact letter must be sincere and informative. Offer and be ready to assist the person in every way prior to arrival.

You and I are expected to make the newcomer feel welcome when he or she arrives. If travelling by public transportation, I want the sponsor to make every effort to meet the new arrival. If arriving by automobile, the newcomer should know how to contact you. It is your job to see that he or she gets billeting, and that in-processing is a painless procedure.

A good sponsor is a significant factor in whether or not a person gets off to a fast start on an enjoyable and productive tour at Reese. When you are selected as a sponsor, your approach must be thoughtful and dedicated.

Be a good neighbor. . . welcome folks the way you would like to be welcomed. See how fast you can make a newcomer into a productive team member on the best team in the Air Force — Reese.

General McBride offers thanks to all ATC people

By Lt. Gen. William V. McBride
Commander, Air Training Command

General McBride

Goodbyes are not always easy, even though farewells become fairly common in our lives over the course of a military career. I suppose that whenever we leave one job and move on to another, it is natural to reflect and reminisce a bit, measuring what we accomplished against what we had set as our goals and objectives.

As I look back over the past two years, the thing that strikes me most forcibly is what a tremendous learning experience this has been for me, personally. Most of the learning did not occur at my desk but happened instead while I was on the road visiting the people of this command — instructors, administrators, pilots, technicians, recruiters, clerks, students — people working hard at their jobs, and doing it with a sense of pride and an awareness of personal responsibility.

To my way of thinking, that is what "discipline" and "the mission" are all about. And that is what ATC is all about — and its people, true professionals to the core.

It has been two years marked with many problems and challenges as we have sought to keep pace with technological change and to meet increasingly complex training requirements in a time of austere budgets and reduced manning. It has not always been easy to adjust old habits and familiar techniques to the unique and new demands inherent in recruiting and training the all volunteer force.

But you have done it — and done it well. While all the problems are not solved — nor even are all the problems identified yet — you have built a solid foundation carved from hard work, imagination, and a sense of creative innovation and teamwork. It all adds up to what has been for me an assignment rich in the kind of enthusiasm, excitement, and challenge that I have always associated with a military career.

Air Training Command is where it all begins. It is at the heart of the Air Force's heritage, and at the same time it is the key to the Air Force's future. I am proud to have been your commander and I leave this assignment with a sense of deep personal satisfaction in having been associated with the men and women of ATC. I am also confident that you will continue to give the Air Force and your new commander the same strong support and cooperation and that I have come to expect of you and which I have come to value with great respect and gratitude.

AFMPC changes policy on base of preference

RANDOLPH AFB, Tex. (AFNS) - The minimum required time on station for first-term airmen applying for another assignment under the base of preference program (BOP) has been increased from six to 12 months.

The change in policy, according to Air Force Military Personnel Center officials here, refocuses the program on first termers and ties the program more closely to reenlistment.

Also, first termers must have an approved career job reservation under Project CAREERS prior to submitting BOP applications.

Under Same Rules

Second-term airmen, previously treated as a separate category and required to have 12 months on base, are now eligible under the same rules as career airmen who are required to have 48 months on station before moving.

Under the new structure, first termers receiving a BOP assignment will still be tied to reenlistment by regulation. Second-term minimum residency requirements will tie them, indirectly, more closely to reenlistment.

Center officials point out that the original purpose of the BOP program was to provide a specific reenlistment incentive, primarily for first-term airmen.

Value Eroded

However, the value of the program was being eroded because few first termers were taking advantage of the program at reenlistment time while second termers were able to obtain a BOP without reenlisting.

The modifications were made after major command views were solicited on whether the program should be eliminated, modified, or remain the same. The consensus was that it is a valuable career incentive but refinements were needed.

The review was prompted by Air Force's continuing close scrutiny of permanent change of station programs and their costs.

Apply Within Seven Months

First-term airmen may apply for a BOP at any time within seven months of their enlistment expiration date. They will be reassigned to meet valid vacancies, provided they reenlist on or before expiration of their current term of service.

Other rules designed to keep the BOP program fair to all have been retained. There is still no limit to the number of BOPs which can be granted during an individual's career, but back-to-back BOPs still won't be granted. Airmen may also apply to remain at their current base, rather than move.

Registration for pre-kindergarten classes will be held from 8:20 until 11:30 a.m., Sept. 3 in the kindergarten building, Bldg. 634.

Classes will begin Sept. 4. Three programs will be offered. Four-year olds will attend pre-kindergarten classes Monday through Friday for $27.50 per month. Three-year olds may attend under either of two programs. They may go Tuesdays and Thursdays for $20.50 per month or Monday, Wednesday and Friday for $24.50 per month.

Classes will be held in the kindergarten building from 8:20 until 11:30 a.m. each day. Parents are asked to insure that their children have all their pre-school shots.

Further information may be obtained by calling Mrs. Peggy Wennerlind at 885-2640.

DoD sets Sept. 24 as Voters' Day

WASHINGTON (AFNS) - Sept. 24 has been designated Armed Forces Voter's Day by Department of Defense Deputy Secretary W.P. Clements Jr. Following are his comments on the subject:

"On Nov. 5, approximately 140 million U.S. citizens will be eligible to cast their ballots in the general election to choose a variety of officials at federal, state and local levels. Among this electorate will be more than two million members of the Armed Forces — the majority of whom will be absent from their home voting districts.

"While active-duty service members generally have little chance to join their fellow citizens in person at the polls, they do have the right and opportunity to register and vote by the absentee process if and as they wish. A major purpose of the Federal Voting Assistance Program — implemented by the Department of Defense — is to ensure that this right and opportunity will be guaranteed to all eligible voters in uniform.

"Sept. 24 has been designated Armed Forces Voters' Day. This is a time for eligible service voters and their family members to focus attention on the general election and on prescribed procedures that will enable them to obtain absentee ballots if they wish to do so from a state, territory, or the District of Columbia. Military service voting officers and counselors are prepared to assist interested, eligible voters to exercise voluntarily this most important function of citizenship.

"I urge each member of the Armed Forces who wishes to vote to contact his or her voting officer or counselor to determine procedures to obtain an absentee ballot. By allowing sufficient time to apply for a ballot, vote it, and return it to election officials in advance of election deadlines, the individual will be assured that his or her vote will count in the general election."

DEPARTMENT OF DEFENSE HUMAN GOALS

Our nation was founded on the principle that the individual has infinite dignity and worth. The Department of Defense, which exists to keep the Nation secure and at peace, must always be guided by this principle. In all that we do, we must show respect for the serviceman, the servicewoman and the civilian employee, recognizing their individual needs, aspirations and capabilities.

The defense of the Nation requires a well-trained force, military and civilian, regular and reserve. To provide such a force we must increase the attractiveness of a career in Defense so that the service member and the civilian employee will feel the highest pride in themselves and their work, in the uniform and the military profession.

THE ATTAINMENT OF THESE GOALS REQUIRES THAT WE STRIVE ...

To attract to the defense service people with ability, dedication, and capacity for growth;

To provide opportunity for every one, military and civilian, to rise to as high a level of responsibility as possible, dependent only on individual talent and diligence;

To make military and civilian service in the Department of Defense a model of equal opportunity for all regardless of race, sex, creed or national origin, and to hold those who do business with the Department to full compliance with the policy of equal employment opportunity;

To help each service member in leaving the service to readjust to civilian life; and

To contribute to the improvement of our society, including its disadvantaged members, by greater utilization of our human and physical resources while maintaining full effectiveness in the performance of our primary mission.

Vice chief urges program support

WASHINGTON (AFNS) - Air Force Vice Chief of Staff Gen. Richard H. Ellis has asked commanders to focus their attention on the problems of drug and alcohol abuse.

In a letter to all commands, General Ellis said, "Command responsibility involves the health and welfare of our personnel. The use of drugs and over-indulgence in alcohol are detrimental to our people's health. Statistics show that our efforts to curb drug usage are producing substantive results. Commanders should now direct their increased attention toward the problems associated with the consumption of alcoholic beverages."

General Ellis directed commanders to assure that local procedures support the Air Force alcohol control objectives. The Air Force is actively seeking to deglamorize and discourage excessive drinking by encouraging moderation and ensuring that nonalcoholic beverages are more readily available at military clubs and social gatherings.

General Ellis emphasized, "The elimination of liquor sales during duty hours (other than package stores), reducing the consumption of alcohol at functions where food is not available and reducing the frequency and promotion of social functions that encourage heavy liquor intake."

He asked for the support of all commanders and solicited their ideas on how to solve this problem.

Instructor pilots learn meaning of 'splashdown'

By 1st Lt. Edward B. Hayden

Instructor pilots of Section One "cooled it" last weekend as they gathered for a pool party at a local apartment clubhouse.

While water nymphs provided the scenery, others participated in a friendly game of water polo. Captains Bob Chambers and Roger Pyle proved their prowess in the wet and are now due an assignment to the Navy Seabees.

"A" Flight recently put their glasses together in a farewell toast to Capt. "Bippity" Bob Holland. Bob leaves the Air Force after having served Reese AFB as an outstanding instructor pilot and wing safety officer. "Bippity" will be pursuing a career in the medical profession, where we all wish him success and a steady hand.

Check Section will also lose a longtime Cessna T-37 "Tweety Bird" pilot to civilian life. Capt. "Gentle Ben" Smithson will soon depart the squadron after training his share of students over the years.

1st Lt. Gary Wood will balance off Ben's departure by joining Check Section from "B" Flight.

"Follow that checklist" is a current resolution of two IPs in "F" Flight. After touchdown in the neon city of Las Vegas, our two unnamed gamblers couldn't find their ejection seat safety pins. But a quick search revealed they weren't far away. . . still inserted in the seats.

Foundation contest announces theme

Reese people have the opportunity to express their thoughts on "Human Goals: The Advancement of Human Dignity," and maybe even win an award of $1000.

The Freedoms Foundation at Valley Forge annually awards cash and other prizes to Armed Forces personnel who write exceptional letters on a specific topic. There is a different letter-writing contest topic each year.

Two $1000 Winners

Two top awards of $1000 will be presented for the two best letters sent in this year. In addition, an award of $500, second place awards of $100 each and third place awards of $50 each will be presented. The top awards will be presented to winners at Valley Forge, Pa. and top winners will be invited for luncheon in Washington, D.C.

All active duty officers and enlisted men and women, Reservists, National Guardsmen and members of ROTC and Junior ROTC are eligible to compete on equal footing in the contest. Two award categories have been set up. The first is restricted to competition between all active duty members of the Armed Forces. The other category is strictly for members of Reserve components, including Reservists, National Guardsmen and ROTC and Junior ROTC cadets.

What you have to do to enter is to write a letter of not less than 100 but not more than 500 words on this year's topic, "Human Goals: The Advancement of Human Dignity."

Literary excellence is not a major consideration in the judging of the letters. Important considerations are the writer's thoughts which enhance appreciation of America's heritage and promote awareness of the strengths that sustain our freedoms.

The entry rules:

- Print or type your full name, rank and Social Security number
- Give your full military address, service or Reserve component
- Give your complete home address

Mail your entry and all required information to Freedoms Foundation at Valley Forge, Valley Forge, Pa., ZIP Code 19481. Deadline for submitting entries is set at Nov. 1, 1974.

CALL FOR TIMES

"SUMMER of '42"

The features at Simler Theater this week will run the full gamut of film entertainment, from police, martial arts and western action to tales of bikers, love and slapstick swordplay.

The base theater schedules feature at 8 p.m. Tuesday through Sunday. The special Saturday matinee begins weekly at 2 p.m. The theater box office opens one half-hour before showtime.

Tonight

George Peppard stars as a tough instinctive detective in "Newman's Law." He and his partner make a routine narcotics pusher arrest, only to find they have stumbled onto much larger illicit drug traffic. Suspended from the force because police intelligence finds a cache of dope, which was planted in his apartment, he nevertheless goes deep into the operation, trying to clear himself and get the people responsible. The violent feature is rated PG, parental guidance suggested.

Matinee Tomorrow

Fess Parker, Diana Hyland and Katy Jurado star in "Smoky," a G-rated feature.

Tomorrow Evening

The finest swordman in Japan learns that his brother was responsible for the slaughter of 30 innocent men, women and children in a small fishing village in "The Steel Edge of Revenge." He decides to leave the clan and performs as a carnival sword exhibitionist for three years under an assumed name, until he is attacked by his former clansmen. He hears that his brother's clan is about to murder more villagers, and returns to battle his kin to the death. The martial arts film stars Tatsuya Nakadai and is rated PG. The Foreman-Norton heavyweight fight is also featured as a short before the show.

Sunday

James Coburn and Kris Kristofferson star as "Pat Garrett and Billy the Kid." Set in Fort Sumner in 1881, the story tells of two old friends and how one is duty-bound to bring the other in for justice. Billy escapes jail and Garrett is again assigned to track him down in a violent chase across the American southwest in the blood-drenched R-rated saga, directed by Sam Peckinpah.

Tuesday

"Run, Angel, Run!" is the trill-a-minute story of renegade bike riders and bloody vengeance. Angel, portrayed by William Smith, is on the run from his own gang after he betrays them for ten grand. He and his girl, played by Valerie Starrett, head for Frisco on the bike, chased by four of the gang's deadliest henchmen. The thrilling action is rated R.

Wednesday

In a sequel to the movie "Friends," Paul and Michelle, played by Sean Bury and Anicee Alvina, reunite three years later. Paul graduates from an English public school and sets out to find his sweetheart and their baby, finally succeeding in Nice, France. The lovers return to their first home and Paul enrolls in the University of Paris. Soon they find that the situation of going to school and trying to raise a family has its problems in this R-rated love story.

Thursday

"The Three Musketeers" ride again in an hilarious satirical version of Alexandre Dumas' classic novel. In a freewheeling mixture of comedy and adventure, the Musketeers show they are more interested in money, chicks and friendship than in undue respect to the king, and a great many rousing, swashbuckling duels and near-riots fill the screen. The funny film stars, among other greats, Richard Chamberlain, Raquel Welch and Faye Dunaway in a PG-rated comedy.

at Mathis

A fishing trip and other specials highlight this week's entertainment lineup at the Mathis Recreation Center.

Today - The horseshoe tournament continues at Mathis beginning at noon. A group will leave the center at 7 p.m. for skeet shooting. Those signing up as soon as possible may also be able to go. The airmen's wives group, the Sophisticates, will hold their weekly meeting at 8 p.m.

Tomorrow - The regular weekly pool tournament will begin at 5:30 p.m. Patrons may dance inside or under the stars to the music of "The Raiders" starting at 7 p.m.

Sunday - A group will leave Mathis at 7 a.m. for a fishing trip to Colorado City Lake. Persons going must have prearranged with recreation center personnel. The weekly table tennis competition will start at 2 p.m.

Monday - Horseshoe action continues at noon. The recreation center advisory council will meet at Mathis at 1 p.m.

No one is immune to Brown Bag Blues

By Dr. (Capt.) G.M. Stay
Chief, Veterinarian Services

The "Brown Bag Blues" is another term for food poisoning from bacteria, such as Salmonella or staphylococcus, caused by carelessness in preparing "brown bag" lunches.

You the consumer wouldn't know, without thorough medical tests, if you had food poisoning. But if you have severe headache, diarrhea, vomiting, abdominal cramps and fever a few hours after eating there's a pretty good chance the culprit might be food poisoning.

Because of the similarity of symptoms, "flu" or other stomach disorders and food poisoning are often mistaken for each other. If you feel symptoms of this disease, which is rarely fatal except to infants or elderly persons, ask your doctor about the possibility of food poisoning.

Food poisoning problems with brown bag lunches can be avoided. When preparing lunches have all utensils and counter tops scrupulously clean. They should be washed with soap and hot water after contact with raw food and before contact with cooked food.

Wash your hands the same way. Cook food thoroughly. Don't let the lunch stand at room temperature for long periods of time. Keep hot foods hot and cold foods cold, so whatever bacteria are present do not have a chance to grow and spread.

Remember, ignoring these simple food-care and personal hygiene precautions can pave the way for bacterial contamination of "brown bag" lunches.

'Automatic' medal not so

RANDOLPH AFB, Tex. (AFNS) - The policy of automatically awarding the National Defense Service Medal to anyone entering active duty ended Aug. 15.

Department of Defense Directive 1348.7 originally provided that persons who served any period of honorable active duty between June 27, 1950, and July 27, 1954; and between Jan. 1, 1961, and a date to be announced, were eligible for the medal. The date to be announced was set as Aug. 15.

Those who served during both periods for which the medal is authorized should wear a star in the center of the ribbon.

Commander's CARE Line

(Editor's Note: The Roundup will continue to publish Commander's CARE Line inquiries as long as they are of base-wide interest. All inquiries will be reviewed by Col. Schuyler Bissell, wing commander. All personnel are encouraged to first use their chain of command or the office primary responsibility to air their comments, if possible. If these methods do not work, call the CARE Line by dialing C-A-R-E. Personnel are urged to give their name, rank and unit when calling.)

Sir:

My husband and I spent six years in the Marine Corps and we've always enjoyed living on base and participating in all available activities. Now my husband has been discharged from the Marine Corps and has become a full time recruiter for the Army National Guard here in Lubbock. When he accepted his orders, we understood that we would be eligible for base housing as well as other base privileges. The housing officer says we can't be considered for housing unless you have excess housing. He wouldn't even put our name on the list. Is there any possibility of our ever being eligible for base housing?

Mrs. Michael Morgan

Mrs. Morgan:

As a full time recruiter for the Army National Guard, your husband is only eligible for base housing when there is "excess housing" as you said. Excess housing exists when the available inventory of adequate housing units exceeds the current or projected requirement of assigned or attached eligible personnel.

Sir: I'd like to bring to your attention the house at 105 George Street and the garbage area. The occupant uses everybody's garbage cans. He puts everything all over the garbage area. I'd like to see if something can be done.

Sgt. Bradshaw
Hospital Squadron

Sergeant Bradshaw:

The senior officer or NCO within the area is responsible for the cleanliness, policing and sanitary conditions of the area. In this case, he has been notified and corrective actions have been taken.

Sir: The first thing I want to mention, sir, was the fact that, to my knowledge, the base gas station doesn't stock expendable motorcycle items like oil and spark plugs. With the motorcycle concentration at Reese, it would seem reasonable that these items should be able to be found somewhere on base. The second matter consists of the fact that the BX stocks manual razors such as Gillette and Wilkinson, but it never seems to have replacement cartridges. Thank you.

A1C Mark S. Mulligan
Hospital Squadron

Airman Mulligan:

Motorcycle items are too numerous to stock in an operation the size of the BX service station. Motorcycle oil will be stocked. Your complaint concerning replacement cartridges for manual razors is a good one. Action has been taken to provide a wider stock of these cartridges.

Sir:

I'd like to have somebody take a look at the possibility of changing the one-way wign that's in the parking lot in front of the (2053rd Communications Squadron) message center. Since the street behind the center is closed, and we have to make two or three trips to the center each day, we have to go way around by the Finance Office and back to enter the parking area.

Mr. Gale

Defense Property Disposal

Mr. Gale:

You are right! The traffic flow in the lot will be reversed for the duration of the construction work east of the Comm Squadron facility. A job order is being processed for accomplishment of the work at the earliest possible opportunity.

Sir:

It was thought that it was base or flightline policy to award crew chiefs a six pack or case of beer if pilots or IPs left check lists and stuff like that in the aircraft. The pilot would tell us that they would get us a case of beer and in most occasions, we would never see it. It was thought that pilots were at least truthful if nothing else, so, sir, we would like for you to look into this.

"The Flightline Personnel"
"Flightline Personnel":

The Air Force tradition dates back to World War II. In those days, an aircraft was assigned to a crew chief, and that aircraft was "his." He was responsible for maintaining that aircraft in top shape, and if any work was done on the bird, he either did it himself or carefully supervised the job. Since this one man was the early, late and swing shift, pilots who caused the crew chief to put in extra time usually compensated him with liquid refreshment for his off-duty time. This was not done because it was policy, but in a spirit of teamwork to accomplish the mission. I feel that such traditions in the Air Force enhance our appreciation for our great heritage which, as we must remember, was built on teamwork. In that light, there will be no base policy on this matter. I will leave it up to the pilots to determine if their actions cause you an excessive workload.

The Reese Latin American Club announces it will hold an election meeting for new officers for the coming year. The meeting will be held at 5:30 p.m., today in the NCO Open Mess.

William P. Clements Jr., deputy secretary of Defense, has approved Air Force plans to proceed with initial production of the Fairchild A-10 close air support aircraft.

Special Services Division announces that its Supply section is moving to Bldg. 543 on the corner of 5th and Ave. C near the Commissary Sales store. The telephone number will remain the same at 2815.

The testbed for the Air Force airborne warning and control system has passed the 1,000 flight-hour mark. AWACS is being developed as a major step forward in airborne surveillance and command and control.

The Commissary Sales Store will be closed Sept. 3, to allow its employees a three-day holiday for the Labor Day weekend. Normal operations will resume at noon Sept. 4.

The base library has announced the arrival of three new books. Topping the list is "The Snare of the Hunter," by MacInnes. This new book is on the best seller list. It is the story of the daughter of a Nobel Prize nominee who becomes the bait in a trap to snare her father. "Malevil" by Merle is about an unexpected nuclear war that leaves a handful of people to start the world again. A book on the subject of effective writing has also arrived on the shelf. "The Art of Readable Writing" by Flesch is an updated version of the original popular book.

The Department of Defense led all federal agencies in energy reduction for the last quarter of fiscal year 1974 with a 31 per cent overall reduction rate. The Air Force bettered that mark to keep the average low by achieving an overall 33 per cent energy cut.

An organizational meeting for the Spaceblazers Bowling League will be held at 7 p.m., Tuesday at Imperial Lanes at 3632 50th Street in Lubbock. The league is open to all Reese military and civilian personnel and their dependents. More information may be obtained by calling Joan Watson at 792-6062 or Gabe Mautone at Ext. 2753 or 744-6658.

The executive board meeting of the Officers Wives' Club will be held at 9:30 a.m., Thursday in the Eagle Room of the Officers Open Mess.

Weekly jam sessions of folk music are held from 8 to 10 p.m., each Friday at the Life Sharing Center located at 4206 Ave. H in Lubbock. Individuals of all ages and talents are invited to participate.

Air Force is adopting a maintenance management information and control system which uses a computer to improve maintenance management through automated information handling, scheduling of resources and performance of routine management tasks.

The South Plains Fair will be held Sept. 21-28. It will feature four big shows, to be presented at 5:30 and 8:30 p.m. daily. Tickets for the Loretta Lynn, Mel Tillis show will be $3, $4, and $5. Tickets to see Charlie Pride will be $4, $5 and $6. Emmet Kelley Jr., and his one ring circus will be featured with ticket prices being $2 and $3. Mail order requests for show tickets are being accepted by the fair at P.O. Box 208, Lubbock 79408 or at the fair office located at 200 E. Broadway in Lubbock.

All parents who have children interested in playing on the Reese Chiefs football team should attend the meeting at the Youth Center at 7:30 p.m. Monday. Age limit for players is from 10 to 13 years. For further information, contact Carter Robinson at Ext. 2584.

The base is reminded that the Reese Women All Stars have challenged the "Base Brass" to a softball game to be held at 2 p.m. Sunday on the lighted softball field on War Highway, behind the USAF Hospital. All personnel are invited to come and cheer the team of their choice.

From civilian to colonel. . . just like that

"It's kind of like learning a new language, but the friendly, helpful people at Loring AFB, Maine, are making it very easy to do."

Those were the words of George L. Freark following his sudden transformation from civilian to Air Force full colonel 11 days ago. Until then, he was Doctor Freark with a successful medical practice in Corvallis, Ore. Today, he is Colonel Freark, and his place of business is Loring AFB as general practitioner and chief of hospital services for the USAF Hospital.

After 21 years in Corvallis, Doctor Freark decided it was time for a change and under a special Air Force program designed to attract experienced medical physicians, he became a member of the aerospace team. The instantaneous rank of colonel is based on his experience and medical background.

Several Enticing Factors

"Several factors possessed me to come into the Air Force," Doctor Freark stated. "I needed a change of pace, the freedom to travel a little and most important, the opportunity to learn and expand in the medical field, and the Air Force showed me how I could fulfill these desires," he continued.

As for being assigned to Loring, Doctor Freark said that he requested the New England area and, although Loring was designated by the Air Force, it's fine with him. "The area is quite beautiful and the people, from my first impressions, are fantastic," he added.

Under his present contract with the U.S. Air Force, the doctor will spend two years on active duty with the option to stay on until age 60. He's presently 51.

No 'Jeep'

Doctor Freark isn't entirely new to the military service. He spent 30 months with the old Army Air Corps from 1943-46, first as an aviation cadet and then as a private first class after medical disqualification from flying. During this time, he served with the 15th Air Force in Italy.

It was prior to that World War II service stint that he first entered the medical field, having taken his premed at the University of Alabama from 1941-43. After the war, he went back to Alabama for his bachelor of arts degree and then on to the University of Illinois for his doctor of medicine. Following graduation in 1951, he interned for two years at Cook County Hospital in Chicago. Then, he immediately started his private practice in Corvallis.

During his stay in Corvallis, he held the position as chief of staff for the Good Samaritan Hospital there and also as president of the Benton County, Ore., medical society.

Ready For Change

Like him, Mrs. Freark (Betty Ann) was ready for a change and looks forward to the Air Force with enthusiasm. She'll be joining him with their 14-year-old son, Mark, in a few weeks. They have two other children, daughter Mary Lou, 19, who is a student at the University of Oregon, and son, Richard, 18, who is attending Arizona State University.

Even though Colonel Freark is new to the Air Force and possibly unaware of certain military procedures, as far as Loring is concerned, "he's just what the doctor ordered." (An AFNS Feature)

Reese AFO cites leave policy change

The Reese Accounting and Finance Office (AFO) has announced some immediate changes in the system for members taking military leave.

Until Aug. 8, most Air Force bases were operating on the "Strawman" leave concept. Now all personnel must follow procedures prescribed in Air Force Manual 177-373, vol. III.

For Reese personnel this will mean three major changes.

First, orderly rooms will no longer furnish leave authorization numbers over the telephone. Now members will supply their respective orderly rooms with all copies of AF Form 988 (leave request / authorization). The orderly room will place the authorization number on the form.

Secondly, the orderly room will forward copy two (AFO request) of the 988 to the Finance Office. And third, all supervisors must assure that AF Form 152 (leave certification) is completed by each member taking leave. These certifications must be completed immediately upon return to duty of the member. These forms must then be given to the respective supervisor.

It is then the supervisor's responsibility that the duplicate copy of the leave certification reach the orderly room on the first duty day that the member is back on the job. He will return the original copy of the form to the member for his records.

The purpose of the change is that Reese and other AFO's must now send copies of the leave certification forms to the Air Force Accounting and Finance Center at Denver.

POOLING IT - Although car pooling is no longer mandatory, it is still the smartest and cheapest way to get to work. These four men of the 64th Civil Engineering Division know it and enjoy their daily jaunts to and from work. The car poolers are driver John B. Snedegar, MSgt. William Troedel (rider in front), Sam Kindrick (behind Snedegar) and Jerry Tooke. With all four saving gas by riding in the same car, they are effectively getting about 100 miles per gallon of gas. Scouts accomplish much on trip

Twenty-four Scouts and six Scout leaders from Reese Boy Scout Troop 548 recently spent a one-week camping trip in Camp Tres Ritas, N.M.

The Troop left at 6 a.m. July 28 for the campsite in full regalia. Col. Walter H. Baxter III, then wing commander, was on hand to send the Scouts and Scouters on their way.

The campers arrived at their destination at about 3:30 p.m. and began to set up camp, completing that arduous task by 6 p.m. Rain hindered them most of their stay, however the troop still accomplished requirements for 34 merit badges and 12 skill awards.

30-Mile Hike

Included in their activities during the week was a 30-mile hike July 30 and 31, which qualified several boys for their Hiking Merit Badge. Some of the campers went on wilderness survival for two days and several of these completed requirements for the new Wilderness Survival Merit Badge.

With all the merit badges earned during the trip, many Scouts advanced to the ranks of Tenderfoot, Second Class, First Class and Star. Jack Higginbotham accomplished a major feat, as he finished up the requirements for advancement to the rank of Eagle Scout, the highest rank in Scouting.

The Troop broke camp on the morning of Aug. 3 to start the trip home, getting under way at noon. They made a short stop at Cannon AFB, N.M., for chow, and arrived back at Reese at about 9:30 p.m., to be greeted by a good number of anxious parents (and wives).

"All in all," a Scout leader reported, "a really good time was had by both the boys and leaders."

The money to pay for the camping trip was raised by the Scouts themselves.

The troop conducted their quarterly Court of Honor in the base chapel Aug. 12, during which individual Scouts received the fruits of their hard work for the month of July, including their camping trip.

First Step

Two of the Scouts, David Carol and Ronald Rodriguez, were awarded the rank of Tenderfoot, the first rank on their climb to Eagle. Many other awards, including a total of 38 merit badges and three skill awards, were presented during the ceremony.

Several unusual merit badges were earned. Among them were Environmental Science, a Firemanship, Archery and the new addition, Wilderness Survival. 2nd Lt. Bob Johnson instructed the merit badges at Camp Tres Ritas. The Scouts had to stay in the forest for 24 hours with nothing but their ponchos and knowledge. They learned techniques for building shelters appropriate for various situations, which foods are available from nature's supermarket and discussed some of the psychological aspects of survival.

The Court of Honor itself is a ceremony during which the adult leaders of the troop publicly present awards to the individual Scouts. Responsibility for the planning and execution of the ceremony lies on the Troop Leaders Council, comprised of the individual patrol leaders and the senior patrol leader.

'Tops in Blue' to appear here

The Air Force entertainment showcase, "Tops in Blue '74," will be appearing for two shows Sept. 11 at Reese.

The shows will be presented at 7 and 9 p.m. in Simler Theater. There will be no admission charge. The 90-minute shows feature something for just about everyone's taste from folk to gospel to rock music and comedy with most of the acts coming from the recent 1974 Air Force worldwide Talent Contest. The theme of "Tops in Blue" originated some 21 years ago. The idea is to present top quality entertainment to bases off the regular professional entertainment circuit.

The "Tops in Blue" troops have travelled more than 85,000 miles just since 1972, appearing before nearly 200 audiences. Products of the group throughout its history include Jerry Van Dyke and Frank Gorshin.

Admission to either of the performances will be by ticket only. Children under 12 years old must be accompanied by an adult sponsor.

Tickets are available now at the Special Services office in Bldg. 832, Mathis Recreation Center in Bldg. 310, Arts and Crafts Center in Bldg. 340 and the Reese Golf Course Club House in Bldg. 2020.

NCO Wives Club honors July Member of Month

By Mary Sue Ecklund

Due to a mix-up last month, our July Member of the Month article was not printed in the NCO Open Mess booklet. We would like our lady to get full recognition for her hard work and ask her to accept our apologies.

Our Member of the Month for July was Trudy Vanderbrink.

Trudy is married to TSgt. William Vanderbrink and they have three children: Billy, 8, Kenny, 7 and a lovely daughter, Heidi Michele, who just celebrated her first birthday. They live at 100 George in Reese Village.

Bill is the NCOIC of Training Management and has been at Reese for 28 months. The Vanderbrinks moved here from Yakoda, Japan.

Trudy is from Koblenz, Germany and has been in the United States since December, 1964. Bill is from Patterson, N.J.

Trudy lists as her hobbies bowling, reading and cooking. She has been in the club for two years and is always willing to lend a hand in any of the club's activities. Trudy is one of our regulars when we have our monthly Convalescent Home visits. She's been our welfare chairlady and was on the Board of Governors.

Her dedication is even more obvious this last term. She won the $25 Savings Bond in the membership drive, during which she introduced five new members to the club.

Trudy, thanks for all your help and cooperation. Congratulations, we are proud to have you as our Member of the Month!

Summer leagues coming to close

By Sonny Serutan

The Summer of '74 is just about over; faces too long absent from the Lanes are starting to reappear and the summer bowlers are ending their leagues. All are looking forward to a good fall season.

Meanwhile, good scores are being rolled in the leagues. The Monday Reesette League's scores either were not reported or misplaced. Maybe we can double-up next week, girls.

The Men's Classic League Aug. 13 watched as Jim Wiseman bowled a 244 game and an 805 series. B.J. Cox had a 225 game opposite Jim's 244. When you lose with a 225 game, you know you have been in a game!

Pins Popped

On the morning of Aug. 15 the Class 75-05 wives popped the pins pretty well. Becky Bennet had a 172 game and a 423 series. Ruth Martin had a 144 game and a 405 series.

That evening the Ball and Chain League really bruised the pins.

Gerry Stelly rolled a 176 game. Nita Harvey had a 467 series. FOR THE MEN: Bill Anderson had a 235 game and Jessie Taylor bowled a 569 series.

Everybody bowled well in the Cotton Pickers League Aug. 16. For the men, Jay Wigg had a 210 game and 550 series; Harold Bigham had a 201 game and 519 series and Jim Cooper had a 201 game and a 500 series. For the ladies Von Wigg had a 170 game and 496 series.

The summer American Junior Bowling Congress (AJBC) program has ended. The new fall program will be announced soon - your help will be appreciated.

New Set

Tomorrow night Reese Lanes will introduce a fourth set, to be bowled after the regular two sets of Scotch Doubles and one set of "moonlight" bowling. The new set will consist of three games:

- Point bowling - the bowler must get a specified number of pins each frame to win points.

- Low ball - the bowler tries to get the lowest possible score; however, at least one pin must be hit with every throw of the ball. A penalty of five pins will be assessed each time no pins are hit.

- Nine-pin no tap - the third game will be bowled across eight lanes.

The fee for the three-game set is $3 per person.

Sony's Place is open to serve you. Pizzas and sandwiches taste good after you bowl and it gives you something to put in your mouth while those other are bragging about how well they bowled.

Entertainment Problems

Marty Harbison, our entertainment director, is still having problems with live entertainment. He had one act booked, though. It seems this guy stuck his right arm in this alligator's mouth and . . . well, the guy had an accident and won't be able to appear. I understand that after he recuperates, his new act will be called "Lefty and the Alligator."

Ironic that Matt Farren should find a wallet with $87 in it and return it to the Security Police one week after he lost his own wallet.

Sonny Says: "Not everyone can be a champion but everyone can act like one."

Gym gives standings as season ends

As the Intramural Softball regular season drew to a close, the USAF Hospital and 54th Flying Training Squadron teams led the league with equal 11-2 win-loss seasons.

The top slot in the fast pitch tournament, which began Tuesday, was chosen by a flip of a coin. The hospital won the toss. The same thing happened to 64th Supply and Student Squadrons. Supply won that toss.

The rest of the final results are:

Team	Wins-Losses
USAF Hospital	11 - 2
54th FTS	11 - 2
64th Supply Squadron	8 - 5
64th Student Squadron	8 - 5
64th Civil Engineering Squadron	9
35th FTS	4 - 9

The Intramural Slow Pitch Softball season is still underway, with the 54th still leading the way with a 12-2 season history as of Aug. 16. Those standings:

Team	Wins-Losses
54th FTS	12 - 2
64th Supply Squadron	10 - 2
2053rd Comm Squadron	10 - 2
Transportation Division	9 - 5
Admin. Division	7 - 5
64th Organizational Maintenance Squadron	7 - 6
64th Field Maintenance Squadron	10
Comptroller Division	3 - 8
Personnel Division	2 - 11

Gym open sauna, plans events for sportsmen

The base gym has announced that the sauna bath has opened and plans are already being made for the upcoming Varsity Flag Football team season, as well as the forming of a new club.

The sauna, closed in the height of the country's energy crisis, will now be open from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. Monday through Saturday.

Anyone interested in playing on the Reese Varsity Flag Football team should sign up now at the base gym. A coach for the team is also needed.

The gym has also started a Reese Jogger Club. Interested personnel should sign up now. For more information contact the gym, Ext. 2783.

Education program lists opportunities

By Bill Trafton
Education Officer

The accreditation of the Community College of the Air Force (CCAF) this spring opened up a completely new channel for Air Force enlisted personnel.

Technical school training forms approximately one-half (in most cases) of the required courses for the Career Education Certificate (CEC). The general education requirement can be met by taking certain courses taught by South Plains College (SPC) in nearby Levelland.

the Field Training Detachment 405 at Reese also gives courses which are accredited; therefore many of you can get some of each of your CEC requirements right here on Reese.

DANTES (Defense Activity for Nontraditional Education Support) has assumed the testing and transcript functions previously handles by United States Armed Forces Institute (USAFI). Transcripts of USAFI examinations taken before June 30, 1974, may now be obtained from DANTES through the Reese Education Office. These examinations can be used to meet the general education requirement.

College Level Exam Program (CLEP) general exams are also now available through the Education Office.

CCAF transcripts can be used to up-date your educational level on your official personnel record. Remember, SPC, Wayland Baptist College and Lubbock Christian College evaluate CCAF transcripts. All these facts and more can help you broaden your education level, so come into the Education Office, Bldg. 62, and order your CCAF transcript today.

New arrival boosts education

Charles R. "Chuck" Hefley has been recently assigned as base Management Trainer and Education Services counselor at the Reese Education Office.

Chuck transferred from the Veterans Administration Regional Office in Waco, Tex., where he was employed as an adjudicator. His knowledge of VA procedures and regulations has proven very useful already to many Reese personnel with questions concerning VA benefits.

A former Air Force command pilot, Chuck retired from active duty in 1968 as a lieutenant colonel. More than 10 years of his Air Force career was spent in Air Training Command technical training managerial positions, from Field Training Detachment commander to overall manager of the General Dynamics F-111 technical training program.

After retiring he studied psychology at Texas Lutheran College, graduating with honors in 1970. He also taught special education in the Arlington, Tex., school system before joining the VA. He shared this background with his first management class at Reese, which ended Aug. 2. The Education Office has present plans to offer one management (course 1) class each quarter.

Additional information about these courses can be had by calling the Education Office at Ext. 2634 or 2469.

Squadron announces AUTOVON Week

By 1st Lt. J.P. Mogilewicz

When you just can't seem to get that AUTOVON line to work properly, stop a second before you slam the phone down! Don't hang up. Place the handset down gently instead and then get on another phone and call the 2053rd Communications Squadron to tell them your troubles. They'll investigate and try to eliminate the trouble or report it to someone who can.

This is the procedure to follow during Global AUTOBON Trouble-Shooting Week, Aug. 26 through 30. During that week Air Force Communications Service (AFCS) and others throughout the Department of Defense will ask AUTOVON users to report any problems to their local communications unit for action.

Here are some of the specific irritants you are asked to report:

- a ring, but no answer.
- a line interruption, break-in, or cut-off other than a pre-emption.

- any circuit interference, such as static or excess noise.
- any echo or weak reception.

To notify the 2053rd Comm Squadron of your difficulties simply call the base switchboard by dialing "0" and state your problem. They will note your complaint and initiate corrective or investigative action. They will also be able to advise you when to hang up your phone, if you're still holding that bad connection.

One thing to remember, though. Don't call in a complaint when your trouble only involves getting access to a vacant AUTOVON line. Reese only has 13 such lines and they are very heavily used. Just wait a few minutes and try again or plan your calls for slack periods during the duty day.

Trouble-Shooting Week will increase the already heavy workload of base telephone exchanges and their staffs but the ultimate benefits should more than justify the extra effort.

The Reese golf championship will be held Sept. 7 and 8 at the Reese course.

The tournament will be medal play for the 36 holes. The action will determine a new base and club champion as well as a senior champion and lower flight champion.

No entry fee will be charged and trophies will be presented to the winner and first runner-up in each category.

The tournament will be open to all active duty, retired and civilian personnel connected with the base. The title of base champion will be awarded to the top finishing active duty golfer assigned to Reese. All other titles will be available for all participating linksters.

Entrants may sign up any time between now and Sept. 6 at the Reese Golf Course Clubhouse. Questions should also be directed to the clubhouse at Ext. 2819.

New B-1 vital for defense force

The B-1 intercontinental strategic bomber, scheduled to fly in late 1974, will serve as a vital element of America's deterrence posture for the 1980s and beyond.

The B-1 will become part of the strategic mixed force concept of defense known as the Triad. The manned bomber, along with land- and sea-launched missiles, comprise a force which could not be completely destroyed by a surprise attack.

Unique advantages of the new manned bomber will add to the diversity of U.S. nuclear deterrence. It could be launched and recalled without ever penetrating enemy airspace. It could be used as an airborne alert aircraft operating outside our continental limits and out of range of enemy defenses. As a strategic bomber, it could strike with a variety of weapons. It would also be reusable.

The advantages of the B-1 over the B-52 Stratofortress and the FB-111 can be seen by comparison. The B-1 will carry the same types of ordinance but in greater quantities.

On a long-range refueled conventional bombing mission, it could carry about twice the payload of the B-52 and five times the payload of the FB-111. Smaller and lighter than the B-52, the B-1 would be more survivable and have a better penetration capability.

The new bomber will have variable-sweep wings to optimize speed and altitude versatility. Planned dimensions are 34 feet in height, 143 feet in length, and a wing span of 137 feet forward and 78 feet swept.

It will be powered by four F-101 turbofan engines and will be capable of supersonic speeds. The B-1 is being developed under the fly-before-buy concept. (AFNS)

'Gorilla' goes up flagpole

By 1st Lt. Phil Baker

Hi, sports fans! It's been an interesting week.

It seems we have a flagpole out in front of our squadron and no flag to fly. Some unknown, enterprising individuals decided to rectify the situation by hoisting a picture of the infamous "gorilla" up the mast (word has it that the real "gorilla" is in the shop for repairs).

A couple of mornings later the "Dawgs," not to be outdone, were represented with their emblem hanging high above the squadron. That's the spirit, guys!

Word is from "A" Flight that Ken (newly promoted Maj.) "C.S." Yeckley and recently promoted 1st Lt. L.D. Patterson threw a promotion party the other night. They split the cost of a keg and, better than that, they didn't even tell anybody about it.

It seems that "Hawg" Flight IPs all went CRT to San Francisco last weekend. When asked how the trip was, all I got was funny little grins from everyone. . . apparently all involved had a good time.

CAUTION: All mobile observers beware - it seems Standardization /Evaluation has made a new observers test and on-the-spot checks of senior controllers. They have been giving the test to juniors. It's a tough one, too. A no-notice four-ship. You've got to be !#! me! What will those guys think of next?

Let's all support the blood drive next week and show the 35th why we're Number One.

"E" Flight is directing a squadron party tonight at the club. Everything and anything goes - should be a good time. See ya there! - P.B.

Dentistry program nears

The monthly preventive dentistry program will be held in the Reese Elementary School's cafeteria-auditorium promptly at 5:30 p.m. Thursday.

Appointments will be made at this time for children aged five and older whose sponsor's birthmonth is September.

The program consists of a presentation on the prevention of dental disease and completion of the necessary forms, as well as making the appointments. Attendance by at least one parent or guardian is mandatory. Attendance by the children themselves is strongly recommended by Dr. (Lt. Col.) Leonard J. Spencer, base dental surgeon, because "preventive dentistry must be a family program."

Questions about the program will be answered by the Dental Clinic, Ext. 2711.
