Frizzell's "Open House" is Christmas tradition

LUCILLE FRIZZELL STANDS IN FRONT OF HER CHRISTMAS FIREPLACE

Lockney Council starts fire truck fundraiser and considers opening landfill

During the regular Lockney City Council meeting on December 12, Mayor Roger Stapp announced the city would be transferring designated funds from the city's account to the Fire Department in the amount of $20,000.

These funds will be added to the $50,000 already raised by the Fire Department to help purchase a replacement for their 1974 unit. Fire Chief Aaron Wilson added, "Anyone wishing to donate may contact any of the Lockney firemen." The Fire Department's goal is $140,000.

Also on the agenda was the discussion of a three to four year long range plan to open a landfill. A motion was made by Tina Graves and seconded by Michael DeLeon to start the process of pursuing a Class 1 permit, (can accept most everything, and is covered daily) with the idea of operating it as a Class 4, (can only accept non-garbage items and is covered twice a month) in the beginning. It passed unanimously.

The landfill is only part of a plan being formulated by the council to clean up the city, with the intention that at some point it would become a profitable operation as well.

The purchase of a dump truck to replace the current one was approved unanimously on a motion by Junior Brotherton, and seconded by Ginger Mathis.

Discussion ensued on ways to amend city ordinance #221, (in regard to keeping junk cleaned up, both commercial and residential; and the removal of anything parked long term on a street so that the street sweeper-has to go around it, which allows dirt, weeds, and junk to pile up becoming an eye sore). A motion was made by Ginger Mathis to amend the ordinance to require a non-corrugated metal fence of no less than 7 feet in height to be erected around junk areas to bring them into compliance. It passed unanimously.

Another item for future consideration was making a truck available, for a dumping fee. Lockney citizens could request the truck be parked in their area to be cleaned up. The truck would be loaded by the citizen and driven off by the city.

Municipal Judge Michelle Araujo advised during her departmental report, that as of January 1, 2003, the municipal court would no longer accept personal checks.

Santa's North Pole workshop may be too far away and secretly hidden to the average visitor, but Lockney residents don't have to travel to the North Pole. In Lockney, the famous Christmas House is found at 619 W. Willow Street.

For "at least the past 30 years" Lucille Frizzell has created a Christmas fantasy land of gourd snowmen, Santas, and beautiful Christmas trees decorated with homemade ornaments.

At 84 years old, and widowed seven years ago, Lucille says she thought about not decorating this year—but she just couldn't bring herself to disappoint everyone who depended on her.

The three bedroom home is filled, corner to corner, and floor to ceiling, with the colors and themes of Christmas. Every room is an adventure and every artistic piece has a story and a memory.

Lucille moved to the Lone Star Community with her parents in 1935. In 1936 she married Jack Frizzell, who made his living on the farm. The couple moved to town in 1964.

Lucille says she doesn't remember when she began having her "Open Houses" for the community to tour the Frizzell's Christmas creations. "I've been doing it for as long as I can remember."

"I worked in the school library for 9 1/2 years and I would have all my decorations out in the Library during those years. It was then suggested that I move the decorations to my home and have people come there—so that is what I did."

She may have had to move her Christmas out of the school—but the school hasn't forgotten her. Every year, young school children are paraded through her home on "field trips" and Christmas carols are sung around one of her 14 Christmas trees.

"I love to watch their faces when they come through," said Lucille. "I know some of them may not have much Christmas at home."

Christmas decorating was always a joint effort of Jack and Lucille. "He loved Christmas just as much as I did," said Lucille. "When he got sick, he would just sit on the side of the bed and visit with people who came to the house."

Lucille says most of the Christmas decorations are made from gourds that Jack grew in his garden. "When the gourds would start to grow he would start shaping the stems to crook the way he wanted them."

"He would bring in the gourds and put on the basic coat of paint and then my daughter-in-law, Pat Frizzell, would paint the faces. Pat was a wonderful artist."

Pat Frizzell the wife of their son, David, lost her fight with cancer in March, 2000. The hand painted decorations now have even more sentimental value to Lucille—bringing back memories of both Jack and Pat.

The gourds were not the only things that Jack took an active part in. "Jack was the best cook and candy maker. He always made the best peanut brittle at Christmas."

Jack also helped his wife make quilts. "He did every bit of the cutting for me," said Lucille. "We would put them together as a team, but we didn't quilt them. We had made 183 quilts by the time he died. There are 20 Christmas quilts hanging on the walls in the house now. After Christmas they will come down and be replaced."

"I don't quilt anymore. It is no fun without Jack."

The holiday season may be depressing for some who have lost family members, but Lucille really doesn't have too much time to think about it. Neither her family, or the community, will let her. The Frizzell "Open House" party has become a favorite tradition to many families in the community.

"One little boy who came through the house couldn't believe all the decorations," said Lucille. "He asked me—'How long does it take you to do this?' I asked him—how long do you think. He said, 'at least 3 days'."

"I laughed—because it takes me at least 3 weeks."

Lucille says she has several young boys who come in and help her with the decorating. "Fourteen year old Amos Poole is always a very big help to me."

"We leave the decorations up until after New Years and then take them down and store them all over the house and in a backyard shed—until the next year."

The Frizzells had four children: a daughter, Jackie Lou Holt, of Lockney; David Frizzell, of Lockney; Mary Amber Tibbles, of Los Angeles; and Joy Camden, of Weatherford, Oklahoma. There are now 12 grandchildren and 7 great grandchildren. At Christmas the house is filled to capacity.

"It is tradition that everyone comes here for Christmas," said Lucille. Bedrolls are laid out and everyone spends the night. Last year there were 38 people spending the night—this year there will probably be 32. I don't ask anyone 'if they are coming', I just ask, 'when are you going to be here.' It is the same question she asks on the day of her Open House—and everyone is very glad she is still asking.

Floydada trades class will use grant money to build house

The Floydada High School Building Trades class was recently awarded a $3,000 grant from South Plains Tech Prep. The grant will be used to purchase materials and equipment to construct a Learning Center in the Building Trades shop.

Students enrolled in the Building Trades class will construct a 576 square foot house. The structure will be framed on a plywood floor. The frame will be screwed together and will be disassembled to be used again. The house will have working electricity and dry walled. The house will be constructed for a small kitchen and bathroom.

Students will be exposed to many aspects of the construction industry that will include design, purchasing and construction. The Learning Lab will also be used to teach home maintenance at the high school. South Plains Tech Prep provides funding for high school programs to prepare students for technical and vocational schools. South Plains Tech Prep is located at the Lubbock Reese Center.

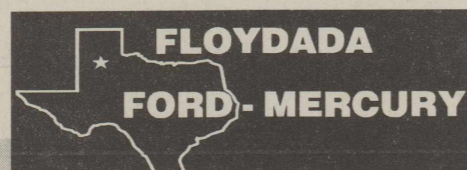

Santa Claus will be making a quick stop at City Auto, December 23rd, from 5:00 p.m. - 6:00 p.m. to have last minute talks with kids who may not have had a chance to visit with him yet.

Longhorns take 3rd Place at Lockney Classic Tournament Roosevelt "outmans" the Horns

By Coach Edwards

The Lockney Longhorns opened the week with very competitive Roosevelt Eagle crew on Tuesday.

Using their entire 13 team roster the Eagles finally ran down the Longhorns late in the game. Lockney had a one point lead early in the fourth quarter, but ran out of gas while Roosevelt platooned their bench to remain fresh. Roosevelt outscored the Longhorns 22-8 in the final period and secured the victory 65-52.

Todd Cotham lead the team with 16 points followed by Rance Schumacher with 13 points. Kirk Wilson added 10 points and Mark Ford with nine points.

"I was very pleased with our performance with Roosevelt," Coach Bubba Edwards said. "They are a very talented team with tons of talent. I was most excited about how our team as a whole played together."

The Longhorns finished the week hosting the Longhorn Classic Tournament. Lockney ran away from the Clarendon Broncos in the first round game 74-54. A 21-6 third quarter surged the Longhorns to the championship side of the bracket.

Kirk Wilson found a hot hand as he led the team with 25 points. Mark Ford poured in 12 points while Todd Cotham and Rance Schumacher chipped in 10 points each. Jordan Martinez came off the bench scoring five points but most importantly lead the team with 10 rebounds.

In the semi-final round, the Longhorns met up with the Claude Mustangs, who got the best of them in last week's tournament at Nazareth. The contest went back and forth with both teams playing intense defense. However, the Mustangs finished on top winning 43-34. Todd Cotham lead the team scoring 11 points followed by Jeran Butler with eight points and Rance Schumacher with seven points.

The third place game, between Lockney and the Petersburg Buffaloes, was decided in the last seconds of the game. After leading as much as 10 points, and heading into the final period, the Longhorns had to hit a few free throws. The victory was sealed with one second remaining.

Tied 50-50, Kirk Wilson was fouled as he attempted a shot to win the game. The shot was missed, but Wilson was fouled just beyond the top of the arc. Wilson hit all three attempts giving the Longhorns a 53-50 victory and capturing third place in the Longhorn Classic.

Wilson lead the team with 18 points while Todd Cotham and Rance Schumacher finished with eight points each.

"We are getting better and better each game," Coach Edwards said. "The team is still getting used to the new system, but they are making great strides in each game. Our defense is really keeping us in most games while we are still trying to find our rhythm with our shots."

The Longhorns run their record to 7-3 and will finish the week with Kress at home on Friday. Lockney will take part in the Wildcat Classic in Littlefield over the holidays and will face Whiteface in the first round on Thursday, December 26th at 3:30 p.m. in Littlefield.

Technology to the Rescue

As Texas legislators assemble at the Capitol in January, they will be confronted by a state economy that continues to sputter. Many economists agree an effective economic catalyst to recovery is investment in new technology.

SBC has been Texas' phone service provider for more than 100 years, but we also want to be a leader in the broadband (high-speed Internet access) market as well. Broadband service is a means to transform the American economy, and the U.S. Chamber of Commerce recognized this by recently adopting a broadband policy citing its potential for generating an economic impact of $500 billion annually.

Unfortunately, current rules and regulations are a potential dam to this economic waterfall. While competition flourishes in the local and long distance phone markets, choices are few for broadband. Current rules allow cable companies monopolies for their broadband service yet require SBC to lease its network to competitors at below-cost prices. This is an economic disincentive for new investment in broadband.

SBC is not asking to be treated any better than our competitors, we are proposing simple changes to be applied equally and provide certainty to all telecommunications providers to help spur the Texas economy through capital investment in technology.

When dramatic investments in telecommunications technology happens, Texas consumers will benefit from advanced services and the economy will benefit from business growth. We look forward to sharing that important economic solution with legislators.

FISD board hears from principals

By Darwin Robinson
The FISD Board of Trustees met Thursday, December 12, and heard Annual Performance Reports for each campus, the individual principal's goals and objectives for the rest of the school year, and the Annual Financial Audit report for 2001-2002.

FISD Superintendent Jerry Vaughn briefly reviewed the AEIS campus report cards from last month. They were "Recognition" for FHS and "Acceptable" for the other campuses.

Vaughn said, "We talk continuously about our one goal for all the campuses, and that is 'improvement.'"

Concerning violence and criminal activities on the campuses, Vaughn said, there were none on most campuses and only a couple of instances on one campus.

Vaughn said, "Our Annual Texas Academic Report for our seniors looks real good. The report showed 50 percent of the graduating class of 1999 were college bound and 23.6 percent of them were academically exempt from having to take the TAAS test."

FHS Principal Wayne Morren reported to the trustees, "Our goal is to have a 97 percent attendance from our students. We plan on calling each absentee daily and advise academic counseling."

"We plan on talking to each student who is failing each six weeks period and we want to be more active with the parents than we have been in the past," Morren concluded.

FJHS Principal Jim Bob Hobbs told the board members, "We plan on providing each student with a day planner so they can become more organized and we are planning more parent conferences."

"We have high expectations on our student discipline with a 'no nonsense' approach. We want to be firm, fair and consistent and we believe we have 98 percent support by the parents."

Hobbs continued, "We are planning more tutorial sessions either before or after school hours and we hope to put in a buddy system with the 7th and 8th grade students helping the 6th grade students."

R.C. Andrews Elementary Principal David Hutton told the trustees, "We want to be consistent with our students and provide tutoring before the student fails."

"A key issue for us is keeping our teachers in workshops to better prepare them. We want to combine all our subjects, math, writing and reading and have the students explain how they got the answer," Hutton concluded.

A.B. Duncan Elementary Principal Charles Tyer reported, "We are giving 'practice tests' up to the third grade. We are placing reading teachers with groups of five students and accelerating the top 80 percent."

"We have computers for Kindergarten and Pre-Kindergarten classes and programs to be taken home."

"We plan on starting an on campus newspaper and spotlighting every student with a campus committee input," Tyer concluded.

Caprock Counties Learning Coop Principal Brenda Parker told the trustees, "Attendance is our biggest problem and our truancy officer does a very good job of bringing many back."

"One of our goals is to improve our communications with our students and get them prepared to take the test for college entrance."

"We want to add more college curriculum material and encourage daily tutorials. Our main goal is to graduate our students with dignity and the respect they need," Parker concluded.

The Annual Performance Report was unanimously approved by the board.

In other matters, the board of trustees heard a good financial audit report for 2001-2002 from CPA Kenneth Robison of Robison Johnson & Patton of Lubbock.

Robison said, the FISD audit ending on August 31, 2002 is in accordance with a new financial reporting model as required by the Governmental Accounting Standards Board (GASB).

"There are no problems with your financial statements and there were very few adjustments. You have good communications between the schools and the administration office."

"You are doing a very good job on your purchase orders with proper approval and (them being) signed," Robison said.

Robison told the board to designate their money in reserves for different projects, such as, future construction and upkeep on their facilities. "If you don't handle your money well, then (the state) will take it back," Robison warned.

"Make sure students file properly when withdrawing (from school), or when leaving the district. Follow procedures. Give the reason why and document those reasons," Robison concluded.

The financial report showed the districts Combined Total Assets on August 31, 2002 were $6,818,154. The district's Expenses for the year were $1,008,444 less than the $9,656,965 generated in taxes and other revenues for governmental activities. The ending General Fund Balance for the year was $2,854,512.

The trustees unanimously approved the Annual Audit Report.

In other business, the board approved the $1200 yearly Renewal Agreement Resolution for 2003-2004 with West Texas Cooperative.

Following an explanation by Superintendent Vaughn concerning $2,500 needed to repair the 1980 diesel activities bus, the board voted to sell the bus by bids instead of repairing it. The vote was five in favor and one against. Board member Kerry Pratt voted against the motion.

Pratt voiced concerns about the need to replace the bus with a new one later. Superintendent Vaughn told the board a new one could run around $95,000 to $100,000.

FISD Business Manager Sharon Rainwater gave a tax report to the board. Rainwater said, "We have collected $1,194,375.44 taxes. That is 56.52 percent of the total taxes due as compared to 55.1 percent collected at this same time last year."

The board recognized four Students of the Month. They were: Valiere Reyes, Kindergarten; W.R. Daniel, 4th Grade - R.C. Andrews Elementary; Raldo Mercado, 6th Grade - FJHS; and Stacy Griggs, Freshman - FHS.

The board recognized three FISD employees. They were: Reba Moore, English Teacher at CCLC; Eubaldo Ochoa, Special Ed bus driver; and Robin Nixon, Tennis Coach of the Year in Class 2A at FHS.

Cotton industry weighs in on Chinese WTO situation

By Shawn Wade

National Cotton Council representatives are once again requesting additional action by the U.S. government to bring about the promised opening of Chinese markets to cotton fiber.

NCC representatives have voiced a steady stream of concern and had numerous meetings with USDA, USTR and Chinese government officials in an effort to bring the Chinese tariff rate quota system in line with WTO trading rules.

Under the terms of the bi-lateral agreement reached between the U.S. and the People's Republic of China cotton fiber markets in China would be opened through the adoption of Chinese import rules that conformed with international trading rules, specifically those rules that provide for the equal treatment of imported and domestic commodities.

Unfortunately, the TRQ rules China developed in 2001 and implemented in 2002 have failed to meet the requirements of the trade agreement they signed. While the Chinese marketplace has remained essentially out of reach in 2002, Chinese exports of cotton textile products to the U.S. are more than twice as large as they were in 2001.

The recent announcement by the Chinese that they would not change their TRQ rules for the 2003 year. The repeated refusal of the Chinese to modify their TRQ system to be in compliance with WTO obligations has prompted the U.S. cotton industry to ask that the USTR's office make one last effort to meet with the Chinese to work toward an agreement that would bring China in compliance with the requirements of their current trade agreement.

Should the request once again be refused the NCC has requested that the U.S. seek a settlement dispute panel to force the Chinese to comply and to also consider additional action under the authority of the Trade Act of 1974 upon China's failure to comply with the U.S.-China bilateral agreement on China's accession to the WTO.

Average price received by growers through Nov. 2002

By Shawn Wade

Another up tick in the average price received by growers is being projected for the month of November as the preliminary average price received is projected at 41.40 cents per pound, up from the October average price of 39.00 cents per pound.

The weighted average price received by growers for the 2002 crop marketing year (August, 2002 through July 2003) will be used to calculate the final counter-cyclical payment rate on the 2002 crop.

The upward movement of prices is a welcome sight to many growers and should have little, if any, effect on the final counter-cyclical payment rate.

Due to the nature of the cotton marketing year and the time frame that the majority of the crop is marketed it is unlikely that prices would rise fast enough to significantly increase the marketing year average.

The Day After Christmas By Lorilla Bradley

*T'was the day after Christmas
When all through the house
Every creature was stirring Including a mouse!*

*Excitement was running at a very high rate...
Because of the hours...many to late.
The papers, the ribbons, oh what a mess!
What Santa was doing, well you'd never guess.
The kids had already dissected each toy
And then they were looking for more to destroy.
Mama was cooking a big tasty turkey
But the kids were all yelling "we only want jerky".
No matter how hard ole Santa may try
He can't please the people, he says with a sigh!
So packing his sleigh he is off to the "pole"
With his fleeted reindeer, for some rest, poor soul!*

REFLECTIONS OF LOVE BASKETS GETTING READY TO BE DELIVERED-Hundreds of useful items were being divided last Thursday into "baskets of love" for those in need this Christmas season. The Christmas Gift

By Robert Wells
English III Student, FHS

The Christmas gift that I would most like to give is the gift of peace in the world. I am a young man that actually knows what it means to be in peace with someone or something. There are many reasons I would enjoy world peace for the holidays.

I would like to give world peace so that the men and women who are brave enough to fight in the name of the United States can come home to see their families for the holidays. A soldier can be miserable with out the tender care from his family during the holidays. Although we are in a war for reasons that are apparent we should stop and realize how the men and women of the services feel about not getting to come home for the holidays and not getting to see their loved ones.

If there were world peace then there would be no need for police officers, judges and other means of law enforcement because there would not be any criminals. If there were not any criminals there would not be any fear about being alone on a dark corner or being robbed. Not having any criminals would change your every day lives. Just think about it, would you lock your car doors at the store, or have an alarm system on your house?

World peace would stop the problem of the children in the third world countries dieing from starvation. Anyone who watches television should be aware that there are many children in the world who die from the things that we take for granted. Many children die every day, not even as old as most children in grade school these children die in a very painful way: starvation. The hunger that these children have accumulated would no longer be if for this Christmas we could be given the wonderful gift of world peace.

A world in peace is something that is more than likely never to happen. Although the whole entire world can't be awarded the gift of peace, maybe you can start in your homes, and your families can enjoy peace in your homes and realize that when your car breaks down or you drop your wallet in a puddle of water, there is and will always be people in this world who have it worse than me and you. So, this holiday be thankful and be courteous it will always help you live in heavenly peace.

The Gift I Would Like To Give

By Joshua Hammons
English III, FHS

(A broken heart can tear you apart.) This is why the one special gift I would most like to give to all of my really close friends, would be true love. I personally think that everybody needs somebody special in there life. True love I cannot give them but I would do best so that they might find it.

True love is really hard to find. Some people might search all of their life and never find it. This is one of the reasons I would love to give them this special feeling. True love has no cost or value, I consider it priceless. Some young teenagers and some adults for this matter might think that they found their soul mate for the rest of their lives. Well they might wrong or they might be right, only time will tell.

I recently had thought that I myself had fallen in love. But I soon realized after making a fool of myself, that I could never win the key to her heart. I must admit that at first I was completely devastated. At the time I thought that I had found true love all on my own. If only I would have had someone just give me one glance, or even one hint of what true love is, I might not have had my heart broken the way it was. Now in today's new world, many teenagers are committing suicide just because they have had their heart broken. I personally think that suicide is not the answer for anyone's problems in life. Some people can only think about the negative things in their life instead of the positive. Some people think that when you have you're heart broken after falling in love that this is the answer for them. Well life does go on and it's not the end of the world.

I picked only my close friends because I have strong morals and values. When you're one of my close friends, I care and respect with all of my heart. When you're this close to me you have earned the right to fall in love at a young age, I would take all of the pain and misery, and rejection out of falling in love with someone special. Then I would hand over what I would hope to be the greatest gift of you're life.

While I might be young, I still have a determined heart and a strong mind. A teenager's thought's never gets heard. I am still going to take a one chance to show that teenagers do have feelings and emotions, just like adults. I hope that more than just one person in the world will send my one special gift. After all (when you believe in yourself anything is possible.)

The best gas leak detector is you.

You were born with the best equipment for detecting a natural gas pipeline emergency—your eyes, ears and nose.

Your Nose

Unusual aromas around your property resembling rotten eggs, skunk or sulfur could indicate a natural gas leak.

Your Ears

Don't ignore a shrill hissing, blowing or roaring noise on your property. All of these could be signals of a high-pressure natural gas emergency.

Your Eyes

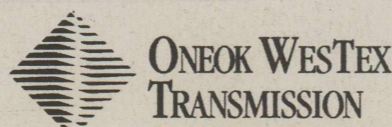

Visible warning signs of a gas emergency include water or dirt blowing in the air, discoloration of vegetation or continuous bubbling from standing water.

Take the Time to Call.

If you discover any or all of these warning signs, leave the area immediately. Do not operate motor vehicles or equipment nearby, and forego any activity that could generate a spark. You should immediately contact your local emergency authorities and ONEOK WestTex Transmission at 1-800-562-5879, or the operator of the pipeline.

By using your built-in detection devices, you can prevent any disasters associated with random natural gas pipeline leaks.

CHRISTMAS POEM

An atheist complained to a friend,

"Christians have their special holidays, such as Christmas and Easter.

"And Jews celebrate their holidays, such as Passover and Yom Kippur.

"Muslims have their holidays, too.

"Every religion has holidays to celebrate.

"But we atheists," he said,

"Have no recognized national holiday. It's an unfair discrimination"

His friend replied...

"Well, why don't you celebrate April 1st?"

Dear Santa,

Hi, this are you? I hope you've had a good year! I have been really good...well except for the biting stage which I have mostly grown out of. Please bring my brothers electric scooters, they fill the need for speed, and if you could bring my sister a guitar, cause my mom says she won't buy her one. Now for me, I would like a book with pictures in it. We will leave you some cookies and coke and come cheese!

Merry Christmas
