Floyd County Commissioners voted unanimously to raise taxes at the August 22nd meeting. The new county tax rate will be

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor,

While in the area for my mother's funeral, my wife and I drove over to Floydada where I grew up. Our car died on the square Saturday evening about 7:00 p.m. We were stuck, with no auto repair available until Mon-

A City employee was kind enough to stop by to see if we needed assistance. He had a fine gentleman to come by (so sorry I lost his card and name), but we were still unable to start the car. The gentleman's father-in-law, Leroy Burns, then came to our further rescue. While the first gentleman towed our car to place it inside for security, Mr. Burns personally loaded our bags into his vehicle and remained with us until we secured a room at the Floydada Inn.

The gracious manager (Mr. Patel?) saw us walking (we are older people and the temperature was over 100), and kindly drove us to a Jiffy Store for food to get through the night (all restaurants had closed). He waited patiently while we purchased our food, and returned us to the motel.

The next morning, Mr. Burns went the extra five miles. Knowing we were afoot, he came by to drive us to breakfast

West Texas is unique in the USA in having the most gracious people I have ever known. May Leroy Burns and his family, as well as Mr. Patel, have the great rewards their services have earned them; Floydada's kindness warmed our hearts. Thank you!

Sincerely, Lou (Rie) & Velda Johnson Dear Editor,

This letter is both a thank you for volunteers and a plea for vol-

We are asking all you "busy" people to volunteer five hours this next year. The American Cancer Society needs an infusion of new blood, and the enthusiasm of young adults, as do many of our volunteer organizations. We invite you to become a member

Not that it matters to anyone, except those who value water, and those who value leadership, and those who value patriotism, but to those who do, some recent comments by Governor Rick Perry were welcome indeed.

Mr. Perry said, in effect, that if Mexico does not start living up to its word, its written agreements, then he, Perry, will recommend that the American government "cut off the tap" on water currently flowing to Mexico from Texas, until the Mexicans start to honor their word. That word, given many years ago in agreements between Mexico and the United States, simply says that certain waters will be divided in certain ways. Mexico has consistently violated that agreement, keeping water that should have legitimately been released for farmers in South Texas. In the meantime, of course, Mexico has greatly expanded its farming operations in north-central Mexico, and irrigated those acres with water that should have gone to Texans years ago

We applaud the Governor's position, and his comments. Both are long, very long, overdue. But lottsa luck, Mr. Perry. Agreements between the United States and foreign powers are enforced, or, are not enforced, by the federal government. States can do little about enforcing those agreements. About all the states can do is suffer when the federal government fails to enforce laws on the books. Or, in this case, make recommendations to the federal government which may, or may not, be followed...depending on the demands of domestic poli-

Anyone with an ounce of brains can see what is going on. The Mexican government, starting way back when John F. Kennedy was President, and continuing through Lyndon Johnson and every President since, has jerked around the U.S. government. If we want to go back into recent history, we could start with the Chamizal matter in the early 1960's, involving where the border should be near El Paso, after the Rio Grande changed course ever so slightly. Up until then, international agreements between Mexico and the United States, said simply that the border followed the river. If the river went on a rampage and sliced off a few acres of the United States, so be it. If it sliced off a few acres of Mexico, so be it. The laws followed the river. It was a lot easier than arguing over every acre of land that got cut off when the river changed course. But then, things changed. The United States elected a new President, who decided that his first foreign venture would be a visit to Mexico, where, by virtue of religion and proximity, everything would go swimmingly. The Mexican government had other things in mind. They obviously figured to use the Chamizal matter as a club with which to intimidate the new President, and they

I personally was told (during Senate debate on the issue), by a State Department type who was along on the trip, that the Mexican government flatly told Kennedy in Mexico City that unless he agreed with the Mexican position, there would be no "Joint Communiqué" issued at the end of the meeting. That would have been disastrous, diplomatically. The Administration could not stand that, so they agreed with the Mexican position.

One of the only, if not the only, Senator in America who voted against that ridiculous agreement (when it finally had to be ratified by the full Senate) was John Tower, then a new Republican Senator from Texas. In voting the way he did, Tower had to oppose Lyndon Johnson, then Vice President and the lackey of Kennedy, plus the leadership of his own Party, then relegated to a mere 30+ votes in the Senate. One of the United States (Texas) ended up with less land and the U.S. ended up with less money, but Mexico got its agreement and Kennedy got his praise.

Then there was the Foot and Mouth thing. Mexico had an outbreak of Foot and Mouth disease that obviously threatened the livestock industry in the United States. It had to be stopped, if possible. Mexico, sensing an opportunity, essentially refused to do anything, except to tell the United States that if they wanted to do anything about it, they could, as long, of course, as they paid through the nose. So, the American government sent people into Mexico to do the job the Mexican government refused to do. We ended up paying the Mexican ranchers and farmers for killing sick cows, and then had to pay the Americans who had to do the killing, a fact made necessary because the Mexican government did not want to be seen as killing Mexican cattle with Mexican labor. It would be much better if the cattle killing could be blamed on "gringos."

Then there was the "blow fly" thing, which will require no great

a way had been found to sterilize the male blow fly, hopefully rendering future generations moot. Huge (by my standards) factories were built for the production and sterilization of flies that were then dropped in little boxes on both sides of the Mexico-U.S. border. Great benefit resulted for both countries, but you may guess who paid the bill.

The list goes on, but perhaps the most egregious example of contrariness on the part of Mexico, aside from its complete unwillingness to do anything about the illegal transit of Mexican citizens into the United States, is the refusal to abide by agreements entered into on the sharing of waters that originate in the headwaters of streams feeding the Rio Grande. Mexico, to be completely honest about it, is flat stealing the water and using that water to irrigate vast new acreages. George W. Bush could do nothing about it when he was Governor, and he is doing nothing about it now that he is President and charged with enforcing the laws of the land.

Mr. Perry is not President, he is Governor. Mr. Bush is not (now) Governor. He is President. He, theoretically, controls the Department of State and all other positions of the Executive Branch. We hope he will someday find time to look after such mundane things as illegal immigration...and the theft, by Mexico, of water that is legally due the citizens of the United States. In the meantime, Texans can be happy they have a Goverexplanation for those familiar nor who is not afraid to call a

The flags are rotated every four months because of wear and tear from 24 hour a day use. City Auto was the first local business to donate a flag. Properly store fresh fruits and vegetables

By Melissa Long

Store Them, Don't Ignore Them. September has been designated as National Food Safety Education Month SM and National 5-A-Day month. The purpose of these annual observances is to promote the importance of food safety and fruit and vegetable consumption.

The theme for National 5-A-Day Month is "Get Healthy America!" The theme for National Food Safety Education Month promoted by the National Restaurant Association Educational Foundation as well as other entities is "Store it. Don't ignore it." These efforts are supported by many organizations and establishments.

Educators are working to increase public understanding of food borne illness, also known as food poisoning, and how it can be prevented. Each year, it is estimated that 1 in 4 Americans will become sick from a food borne illness, 1 in 1,000 will be hospitalized, and more than 5,000 will die. Food borne illness is caused by eating foods contaminated with harmful microorganisms such as bacteria. Bacteria cannot be seen, smelled or tasted.

Fruits and vegetables are an important part of a healthy diet. Research shows that eating at least 5 servings of fruits and vegetables each day can reduce the risk for diabetes, heart disease, cancer, and other chronic diseases. However, fruits and vegetables can become contaminated with microorganisms during the Fresh Fruit and Vegetables: time between harvest and when they are eaten. If contaminated, a fresh fruit or vegetable could cause food borne illness.

> Simple steps can be taken to prevent food borne illness from fresh fruits and vegetables during storage. These include:

> Separate raw meat from fresh fruits and vegetables in the refrigerator. This helps eliminate crosscontamination, which is the transfer of harmful bacteria from one food to another. An example of cross-contamination would be if juice from raw meat dripped onto fresh produce in the refrig-

To delay spoilage and mold growth, do not wash fresh fruits and vegetables before storing them. Instead, wash them right before eating or preparing.

Refrigerate cut fresh fruits and vegetables at 40 degrees F or below within two hours of purchase or preparation. Store these as well as whole fresh fruits and vegetables that require refrigeration in the crisper or produce drawer.

Discard any pre-cut or prepackaged fresh fruits and vegetables with a expired 'use-by' date. Also, discard any items that are moldy or spoiled. Keep refrigerators clean. Wipe up spills.

Make sure that room temperature storage areas are cool, dry, dark, and pest-free. Separate fresh fruits and vegetables from household chemicals.

I must apologize for omitting the date last week of the Texas Plains Heritage Trail official kickoff meeting on Monday, September 15 at 1:30 p.m. at the Senior Citizens Activity Center, 619 Southeast Second, in Tulia. The Honorable Warren Chisum, State Representative from Pampa, will be a featured speaker. Representatives from the Texas Historical Commission will be present for this historic event. The Trail will be governed by a 25-member board that was selected from the 52 county area.

It would be great if Floyd County could be represented by a large number of people from Floydada, Lockney and the rural areas. Floyd County has a lot to offer tourists. We take a lot for granted when we see the same scenery day in and day out.

Visitors from the metropolitan areas love our wide open spaces, the beautiful sunrises and sunsets. They love being able to see the stars at night. We have the beautiful caprock in the Eastern part of the county and the fruitful irrigated farmland in the Western part (2003 has not been the best year for crops in this area). The greatest asset that Floyd County has to offer is the people. Visitors repeatedly tell the Museum staff that they have met the most friendly and courteous people here in Floyd County.

Monday we had visitors from Kentucky and only this morning we had visitors from Michigan. This is in addition to locals who stop to visit or need information about a particular family or event. Again, a wealth of information is available here at the Museum.

Plans are being made for "Punkin Day" which will be held on the second Saturday in October. The Museum will be open 9:00 a.m. until 5:00 p.m. Be sure and mark your calendars and plan to attend this special event. Many people do lots of work to make the day a success and visitors come from all across the State of Texas to take part in the festivities. Volunteers are very welcome at the Museum on "Punkin Day" or any other time. They may welcome guests, help with registration, research or explain displays. Please call the Museum, if you would like to help on this special

Bill Gray's 2003 Football forecast

Several pre-season publica- ity and breakaway speed. tions have suggested that Floydada and Lockney football fans need to circle "October 24" on their calenders. Whirlwind and Longhorn faithful certainly don't need outside assistance to be made aware of the annual battle for the bragging rights of Floyd County. Yes, the "Floyd County Championship" game is an important date on each of the schools' schedules. The series is one of the oldest and longest rivalries in the storied traditions of Texas Schoolboy Football.

In recent years the contest has been an important District 5-2A meeting. Last year's 30-16 Lockney victory decided the number one playoff seeding as the two teams shared the district title with identical 4-1 records in 5-2A action. At any rate there is a lot of football to be played between tomorrow night's season openers and October 24, and a lot of what happens during these next eight weeks will certainly have an influence on the outcome of that late October clash at Floydada's Wester Field.

The following is a brief review of District 5-2A teams. In past years, this column has predicted finishes within the district. Due to the parity of the district (like previous years' powers such as Abernathy and Hale Center falling on hard times a year ago), and with the emergence of teams like Olton and Friona, it would be pretty hard to pick a clear-cut favorite in the district this year. After a very successful year in 2002, plus key returnees, it would appear that Lockney should have the inside track to the title...but don't tell that to the Whirlwinds, Antelopes, Chieftains or Mustangs - or even the Owls!

Abernathy

Abernathy hopes to improve upon last year's disappointing season, which saw the Antelopes fall to 2-8 and winless in district action. Tony Truelove replaces longtime coach Dewayne Sexton, coming to Abernathy from Big Spring, and inherits a team which returns 16 starters.

The Antelopes were bitten by the injury bug a year ago, with none bigger than the leg injury to Jered Brock - who was leading the South Plains in rushing when he went down in week 8. Truelove has installed the Pro-I offense, hoping to capitalize on Brock's outstanding running abil-

Brock will be joined in the offense by returning senior fullback Jace Harkey and veteran receivers Roman Ramirez and Chris Shorter. Truelove will more than likely replace graduated 1000vard passer Ryan Bufe with junior Derrick Brown at quarterback, although senior Stephen Lara could get the call to direct the offense. Defensively, the Antelopes return only three starters or four if Brown doesn't play quarterback.

The Antelopes open play tomorrow night at Springlake-Earth and will tangle with three other 2002 playoff teams (Littlefield, Petersburg and Shallowater) before hosting the district opener against Lockney on October 10. If some of the underclassmen come through at key positions, Truelove's first edition of the Antelopes could very well find themselves in playoff contention by the mid-point of district ac-

Friona

The Friona Chieftains reached the playoffs as the district's third place team a year ago. Coming off a 7-4 season, second-year coach Bob Ferguson has a lot of people to replace. However, All-District quarterback Brock Field returns to lead the "Broken Bone" option offense. Other than Field, the Chieftains lack varsity experience virtually through-out the offensive troops.

Friona will be larger physically on both sides of the line of out of the playoffs for the past scrimmage. Defensively, the Chieftains will be led by returning lineman Edward Godog. Junior David Mendez will anchor the linebacking corps, while Jason Gutierrez brings experience into the defensive secondary. Hoping to return to the glory days when James Morton was running the show at Friona, the Chieftains have scheduled a pretty stout list of non-district opponents. They are pitted against Post, Muleshoe and Dalhart in the weeks prior to their district opener on October 10 at Floydada. Picked by several football writers as the district's number two team behind Lockney, the Cheiftains will host longtime rival Dimmitt in tomorrow's season opener.

Hale Center

Hale Center coach Paul Chandler is hoping his move from the Wing-T offense to an I formation will utilize the speed of returning running back Terrance Johnson. Senior quarterback Andrew West returns to guide the offense, which returns 7 starters off last season's 2-8 squad. Chandler commented, "Last year was a rebuilding year, and I have already seen a bunch of good things from our kids this year. Our strength will be in the offensive line, where three of the returning offensive regulars are linemen.

The coach added, "Jared Bernel (6-2, 205) has looked outstanding in practice and in our scrimmages. He will be a force on the line of scrimmage on both sides of the ball, and brings experience as well as leadership." The Owls' top returning pass receiver is tight end Marc Puente. "Marc has looked good in our scrimmages," said Coach Chandler. "We've got some good skill position people who should really help us out."

Hale Cener returns 7 starters on defense and will use an eightman front to put "stopping the running game" as a top priority. Chandler said, "In Texas you better be able to stop the run, and in our district there are a couple of the better ones in this part of the country (Lockney's Mark Ford and Abernathy's Jared Brock). Shutting down the district's top runners will be among our top objectives...that will be what Bernal and the others on the stopper unit will be focusing upon."

The Owls have been shut two years, and will have a hard time getting past Lockney, Floydada and Friona for a possible post-season spot. Hale Center opens the season at Anton on Friday night. The Anton Bulldogs reached the Class A State Semi-Finals last year.

Olton

The Olton Mustangs haven't reached post-season play in a decade, but third-year coach Bryan Allcorn's squad returns a number of skill-position players who could vault the Mustangs into playoff contention. They lost on a tie-breaker for the district's third playoff spot after a surprising 1447 upset over Lockney in the final night of the regular season in 2002. That victory should give the Mustangs a positive momentum-builder as the 2003 campaign gets under-

Fourteen seniors lost via graduation will hurt Olton in some areas. According to Coach Bryan Allcorn, "We lost some key people, but we have had some kids to step up and have looked better than what we thought they would." Junior quarterback Dustin Synatschk returns to direct the offense. Veteran senior fullback Mike Villanueva and tailback Eric Johnson bring experience to the I" attack, as do seniors Andrew Jimenez (split end) and tight end

Justin Bunce. Villanueva will be counted on to anchor the linebacking corps. Johnson will be joined in the defensive secondary by returnees Kolby Deberry and Jimenez. Hoping to improve on last year's 5-4 overall record, the Mustangs host the Sudan Hornets to kick off the 2003 season tormorrow night. Olton will open District 5-2A action at home against Hale Center on October

Lockney

Most pre-season writers are predicting that the Longhorns will ride the momentum of last year's fine 9-3, co-championship season all the way back to the 5-2A Throne Room. Talented Mark Ford, the district's co-most valuable offensive player a year ago, returns for his junior campaign after leading all Class 2A scorers on the South Plains with 132 points. He rushed for almost 1400 yards during the 10-game regular season last year.

After receiving many postseason honors in 2002, Ford has been named to the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal's "2003 Pre-Season Super Team.

Coach Joe Robertson commented to Tim Fox of the Plainview Daily Herald, "Ford should shine in the Wing-T offense...he is a hard runner and knows how to hit the holes. With a new quarterback coming in, we are going to need him (Ford) for leadership in our backfield." Lockney's multi-set offensive attack will be guided by junior signal-caller Cagan Cummings, but the offensive line will be young with only two starters returning - Tod Duncan at center and Justin Wright (5-11, 215-lb.) at guard. Senior Jeran Butler and junior Rance Schumacher will bring experience to the receiver early point of the season, the Longhorns will rely heavily on their defense, where eight starters return. According to Robertson, "Our defense has looked outstanding so far in practice, and our kids are more adjusted to our 4-3 alignment which we installed last year." Ford is a returning linebacker and will be joined by veterans Jeran Butler and Michael Rodriguez.

Two defensive stalwarts from last year, Landon Schumacher and Todd Cotham are gone due to graduation, but the defensive line should be anchord by Tod Duncan and junior Rance Schumacher. The defensive secondary will be young, but Robertson said, "We have some good, quality players in the secondary, and we should be twodeep after we decide the starters." Cagan Cummings and Hagan Johnson will more than likely be the starting corners

With eight returning starters on both sides of the ball, there is good reason to believe that the 'Horns will take up where they left off in 2002. Three of their five non-district opponents were playoff squads a year ago, which should prepare them for District 5-2A foes.

Coach Robertson knows this is a very competitive Class 2A district. He said, "Floydada and Friona are always tough, and Olton is supposed to be much improved this year...plus, Abernathy is never easy, even though they might have a new coach." He added, "We have too many good coaches in this district for it not to be competitive. It kind of makes you wonder who will step up and win district this year." A 14-7 upset loss to Olton, on the final night of the regular season in 2002, prevented the Longhorns from securing the outright district championship.

Entering his third year at the Longhorn helm, Coach Robertson went on to say that one of the things he enjoys most about coaching in Lockney is the community support.

He said, "They support our football team, but they also support all the programs that our young people are involved in. They truly have a love for football.

The Longhorns open the 2003 season by hosting Class 3A Slaton. The Tigers are hoping that their new head coach, Eddie Kilmer, will turn around their football fortunes. Slaton is currently on a 31-game losing streak, and have not won a district championship in nine years. The Tigers are picked sixth in pre-season polls in District 2-3A, which features perennial playoff contender Littlefield, along with Muleshoe, Lubbock Cooper, Brownfield and Dimmitt.

Kickoff is scheduled at 7:30 P.M. tomorrow night at Lockney's Mitchell-Zimmerman Field.

Floydada

In his third year at the Floydada helm in 2002, Coach Lee Hurt was able to bring the Whirlwinds back to football respectability with a fine 8-3 playoff team that grabbed a share of the district title with Lockney. However, a lot of holes will have to be filled, especially on offense, if the Whirlwinds are to successfully defend a co-championship and punch another post-season

And, speaking of Helms - that is one of the links missing from last year's squad.

Ouarterback-punter-kickerdefender and last season's district co-most valuable offensive player Tyler Helms has moved on to play basketball at Clarendon Junior College. Also missing, due to graduation, is Tyler's favorite target and State Champion runner Brady Rainwater. Gone, too, is versatile and talented runningback-linebacker Dustin Covington. Also gone is linemanlinebacker deluxe Bryce Bowley - the last of this foresome who played together since seventh grade. But, there will be "life after the fab four." People come, play, guaduate and are remembered, but the team goes on.

2, 170) takes controls at quarterback to direct Floydada's optionorientated offense. Miller will be competently joined in the backfield by twin-threats Chris Wickware and Gerald Henderson, a pair of 175-pound seniors. Wickware gained almost 500 yards from his fullback slot in 2002, while Henderson was averaging almost 6 yardsper-carry in 70 attempts. All three are veterans and will be counted on heavily for team leadership. Junior Ty Heflin will also contribute to Floydada's offensive threat. (Could there be another "fab four" developing Juniors Angelo Williams and Lionel Williams will also see a lot of playing time in the backfield. Senior Ross Bennett brings a lot of experience to the offense as well as the defensive secondary. The offensive line has a lot of talent, although several are younger people who will have to step up to fill some key spots. No names were mentioned, but Coach Hurt said, "The offensive and defensive lines' performances have been the strength of the practices and the two scrimmages." Senior Taylor Sue has been "rock solid" at offensive center, and will bring experience to the defensive unit. Sophomore T.J. Collins (6-1, 260) will bring size and strength to both sides of the ball at tackle. Juniors Cody Ware and Paul Irlas and senior Chance Crossland will be counted on heavily in defensive coordinator David Kennedy's schemes.

Senior D.J. Summers is the only returning starter on the offensive front, and will be holding down one of the defenisve end spots. Junior Justin Martinez is back at the other defensive end. The linebacking corps, stripped short by the graduation of Bowley and Covington, will be anchored by Heflin and senior Luis Lopez. Luke Miller and Gerald Henderson, both stalwarts in last year's defense, will be joined in the secondary by Lanky junior Luke Miller (6- Bennett. Lionel Williams is also expected to see action at line-

> Coaching in this district for over twenty years, Lee Hurt knows the caliber of play to expect. He said, "All of the coaches and the players in our district are talented...you really can't count anybody out. It is going to be a tough game every week." If a strong non-district portion of the schedule is designed to get the team ready for district play, then Floydada's opponent in tomorrow night's season opener should fit the bill quite well.

In the next five weeks, the Whirlwinds will face three playoff teams from a year ago. None, however, are more formidable or explosive than the Idalou Wildcats. The 10-7 loss to Idalou at last year's Wester Field opener was the closest game for the Wildcats until they reached the third round of the Class 2A play-

Quarterback Shae Reagan (6-4-240) is on a lot of Division 1 colleges' short lists for quarterback prospects. He is one of the best athletes to come out of West Texas' small schools since another Idalou product of about 10 years ago...Tracy Saul. Floydada's young defense will be put to the test "right out of the box" at Idalou tomorrow night. Unless the Whirlwinds are able to control Reagan, they'll start the season with a loss by more than last year's 36-yard field goal. Following an open date on October 3, the Whirlwinds will open District 5-2A play at home against Friona on October 10. BILL'S NOTES

Floydada city manager submits trimmed 2003-04 budget to council

By Darwin Robinson

The Floydada City Council met in Special Session Tuesday, August 19, and conducted a workshop for the 2003-2004 Operating Budget.

City Manager Gary Brown told the council, "I am submitting a 2003-2004 balanced budget to you for your review. It is possibly the best budget we have seen in a few years. I have tried to remove everything we can think of to possibly remove."

A few highlights of Brown's proposed budget and some of the things removed are: (1) reworked the charges for sewer service.

"Some people's rates will go down a little, while others may go up a little;" (2) the tax rate left the same as last year's at $.36 cents per $100 property valuation; (3) the water rate left the same as last year's; (4) no raises in the budget; (5) no plans to hire additional employees; (6) the $500 per month to EMS has been removed; (7) PAC is to pay their full utility bill; (8) EMS is to pay their full utility bill; (9) no money for new vehicles; (10) no planned capital improvements; and (11) the seal coat program for this next year has be removed.

The council approved a Public Hearing date of Tuesday, August 26, 7:30 P.M., for the city's 2003-2004 Operating Budget and the 2003 Tax Rate.

In other matters, the council approved to waive landfill charges of $275 for roofing materials as requested by the Spanish Assembly of God Church in Floydada. Brown said, "This church has reroofed their building and they would like for the city not to charge for the landfill costs. Due to some other churches asking about some special help, I want to put this if front of the council."

Concerning the council's discussion on the West Texas Municipal Power Agency (WTMPA), both Mayor Bobby Gilliland and City Manager Brown brought the council up-todate about the settlement of the dispute between the City of Lubbock and the WTMPA.

Brown said, "The City of Lubbock has developed a proposed plan, but it has not yet been presented to the board of directors of WTMPA. We will continue to keep the council informed of further developments."

The meeting was adjourned.

After several days of higher trading, cotton futures prices on the New York Cotton Exchange and speculative buying. However, the momentum did not continue the following day despite an unexpectedly strong export sales report from USDA.

According to the department, net upland sales of U.S. cotton in the week ended Aug. 14 totaled 140,000 bales, more than double the previous week's figure. The three major buyers were South Korea, Mexico and Indonesia. were reported for the 2004-05 marketing year.

Export shipments of U.S. cotton totaled 240,000 bales during the same week. Although the figure was a 19 percent decrease from a week earlier and 25 percent lower than the four-week av- as 30 percent was rated good to erage, it was much better than the excellent. "The high shipments were obviously based on actual demand for delivery of cotton sold rather than on reliance of a large Step 2 payment since the certificate available on last week's shipments was less than 20 percent of the previous week's," one analyst commented.

Harbin named chairman of Texas Electric Cooperatives vice president and general man- Bailey County Electric Cooperaager of Lighthouse Electric, Inc., in Floydada, has been elected chairman of the board of directors of Texas Electric Cooperatives, Inc., (TEC). The statewide organization serves 75 electric cooperatives in Texas. The election was held August 7 at TEC's 63rd annual membership meeting, in Austin.

"I am honored that my peers have asked me to be chairman of the TEC board," Harbin said. "I will make every effort to help TEC maintain its good working relationship with its member cooperatives. The goal of both Lighthouse Electric Cooperative and TEC is to serve our members to the best of our ability.'

Prior to joining Lighthouse, Harbin was engineering services manager at Lamb County Electric Cooperative, Inc., for almost 14 years. He is a second generation co-op employee. His father, Joe Harbin, was a director and

Billy C. Harbin, executive later a longtime employee of Harbin grew up on a dairy farm in Bailey County and attended Muleshoe High School. He has a degree in agricultural engineering from Texas Tech University.

Active in the community, he is a member and past president of the Floydada Lions Club. He has also served as president of the local Economic Development Foundation and is chairman of the Municipal Airport Board. Harbin is also chairman of the Board of Directors of Golden Spread Electric Cooperative, and serves as board chairman of G&L Utilities, the joint venture of Lighthouse and Greenbelt Elec-• tric Cooperatives operating as GreenLight Gas.

He and his wife, Linda, have are been married for 36 years. They have one son, one daughter, and three grandsons.

Lighthouse Electric Cooperative owns 4,000 miles of line and serves approximately 8,000 meters in the Panhandle and South Plains. The counties served Briscoe, Childress. Collingsworth, Cottle, Crosby, Dickens, Donley, Floyd, Hale, Hall, Motley, and Swisher.

City designated "Storm Ready"

200 damaging wind and hail events have occurred in the same period resulting in nearly $3 million in property damage and more than $20 million in estimated crop damage.

"We realize that severe weather is one of the biggest threats to our community," said Carroll Sims, Emergency Management Coordinator for the City of Floydada. "We have a strong working relationship with the National Weather Service Office in Lubbock and work to constantly improve our ability to handle weather disasters in our community."

The City of Floydada has developed a 24-hour warning point and emergency operations center that is staffed with key personnel whenever severe weather threatens the county. They have several means to receive warnings directly from the NWS as well as the local media and state agencies. They also have multiple ways to relay warning information to their citizens. NOAA Weather Radios have been placed in a number of key locations across the city, including all city offices and the school superintendent's office. Most of these radios were donated to the city by one of its citizens.

Floydada is the 24th StormReady designated community in Texas and only the second community in the South Plains to be recognized. The City of Lubbock earned StormReady recognition last March.

StormReady is a voluntary program developed by the National Weather Service in partnership with the emergency management community to help emergency managers strengthen their local hazardous weather operations. The guidelines are intended to ensure the community has the tools necessary to receive and disseminate life saving National Weather Service warnings throughout the community.

Severe weather educational activities within the community are, also an important aspect of the program to ensure citizens are prepared for a quick response once they receive the warning information.

"Something the StormReady program emphasizes most is redundancy," said Larry Vannozzi, Meteorologist-in-Charge of the Lubbock NWS Office. "It is important for communities to have multiple systems in place so if one system fails, others can be relied upon to both receive and disseminate National Weather Service information throughout the community."

According to the program's guidelines, StormReady communities must have multiple ways to receive severe weather warnings and to alert the public to the threat; they must have established a 24-hour warning point and EOC from which emergency response efforts can be coordinated; they must promote the importance of public readiness through education and training; and they must have a formal hazardous weather operations plan that is utilized during disasters. Because of their hard work to plan for and prepare for disasters such as tornadoes and floods, StormReady communities are also better prepared to handle all disasters, both natural and

The Passing of a Saint

Stanford Norman Goen Jr., left this world of chaos and sin on Tuesday morning, August 12, 2003.

His soul was escorted to Heaven by our Lord Jesus to await the day when the bodies and souls of all believers will be reunited and a glorious life in Heaven will begin.

It was an awesome experience to have been privileged to witness this man 36 years ago when he accepted Jesus as his Sav-

He wanted to be a missionary, and for 36 years he has been. Oh, not in the regular sense of "going overseas", but in his everyday life he has talked about Jesus to everyone who got within earshot. His classroom was his special missionary field.

Those who knew Norman would certainly not call him a perfect man, but he knew those sins were all forgiven on a cross 2000 years ago, so because of that he was a saint, though yet a sinner. He matured to be an extraordinary man.

In thankful response to the glorious gift of faith he had been given, Norman diligently told of the sure hope of life eternal in heaven waiting for him and all believers.

His life of 58 years ended abruptly in a few seconds from an aneurysm which brought his heart to a grinding halt. His message was one of urgency--accept Jesus NOW because you do not know what the next day will bring. So we say farewell to a precious father, grandfather, brother, and husband as this child of God has gone home.
