Co-op donating percentage of gas proceeds

Producers employees donating time to raise money for food

Producer's Co-op employees are participating in "Floyd County Feeds a Million" by donating their time to run the Fuel Station, Saturday, January 22, from 12 noon until 3:00 p.m.

During that time for every gallon of gasoline sold, the Co-op will donate five cents toward the "Floyd County Feeds a Million" Tsunami relief.

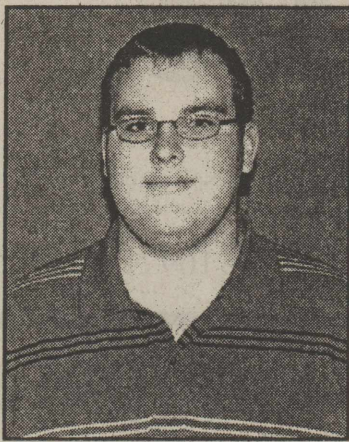

Producers will also be selling hot dogs for 50¢. All hot dog proceeds will also go to feed Tsunami victims.

"Every gallon of fuel will feed more than one meal," said Co-op Manager Ted Cox. "The meals (made by Breedlove Dehydrated Foods in Lubbock) cost only 4 cents each. Twenty-eight people can be fed for one dollar. Twenty gallons of gas could feed 28 people, and every hot dog purchased could feed 14 people."

The deadline to submit a photograph of your child, grandchild, or another favorite person, is Thursday, February 3. The cost of a small picture in a heart frame is $15.00. The cost of a larger heart frame is $20.00. Any photo with 4 or more people will have to be put inside a larger heart frame.

Local Eagle Scout project planned

BRIAN ODOM

Life Scout Brian Odom, of Floydada, is working on his Eagle Scout Project. Brian, along with other scouts and volunteers, will be building a "Welcome To Floydada" sign on the Ralls Highway.

The sign will be made of brick and granite. The cost of the project will be about $1500. If you would like to make a donation to this project, you may do so by mailing your donation to Brian Odom, 810 W. Georgia, Floydada, TX 79235.

Brian's project must be completed by February 6, 2005.

SWEEPSTAKES WINNER-- Spencer Schacht was awarded the Sweepstakes Award. With the traveling trophy, Schacht will also be given $500. The award is given to a graduating senior. Judging is based on scholarship, sportsmanship, leadership, and community involvement. Staff Photo

Lockney Police release crime stats to council

Lockney Police Chief Jerry Edwards has released crime statistics for the year 2004 to the Lockney City Council.

The statistics show during the year of 2004 the Lockney Police investigated 26 motor vehicle accidents, up from 21 the previous year.

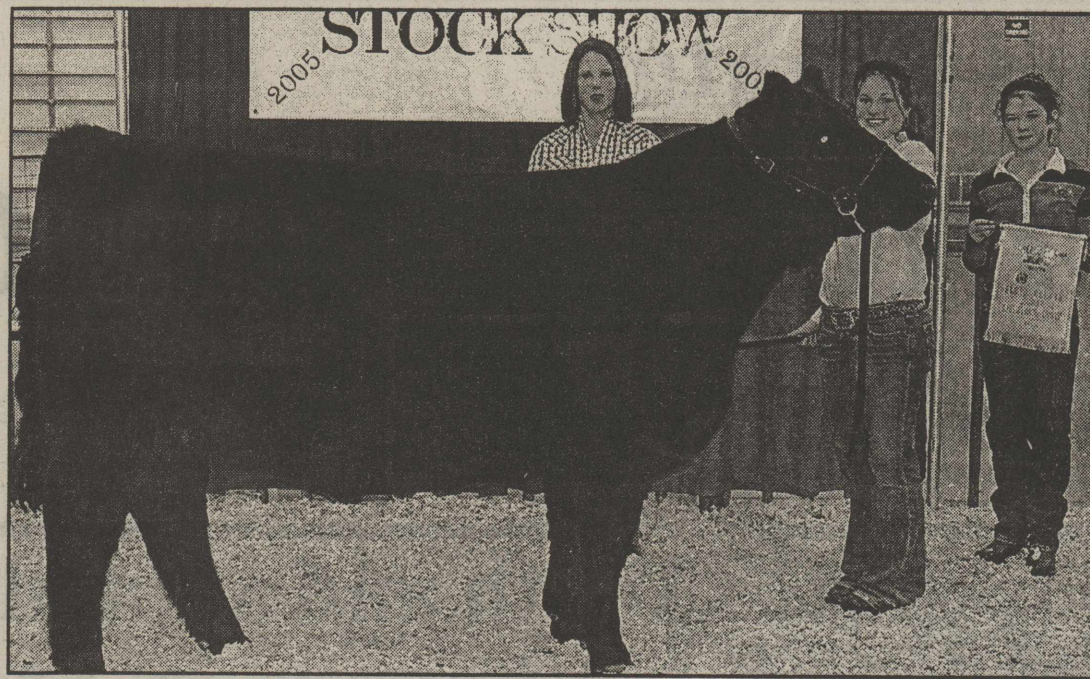

The Department investigated 141 criminal offenses that were either reported to the department or observed by officers. This is a decrease from the 167 offenses in 2003.

Incident reports were down to 79 compared to 114 in 2003.

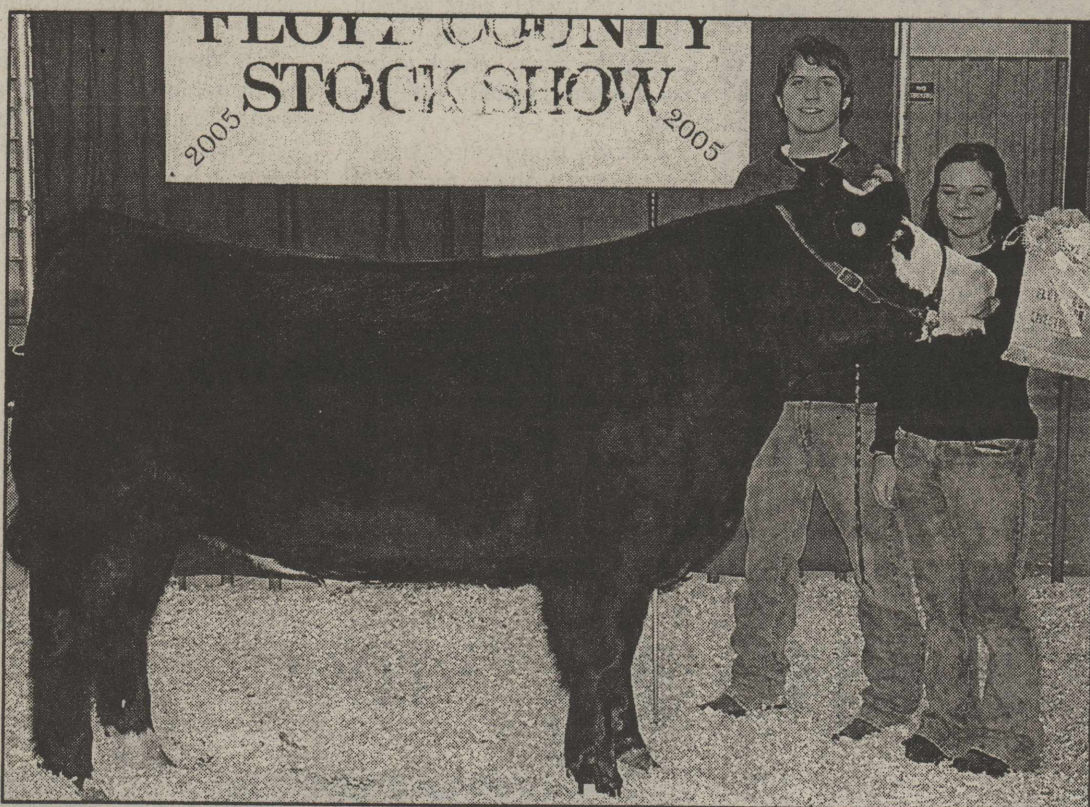

During 2004 the Lockney Police Department arrested 33 adults and placed them in jail. In 2003, 41 adults were arrested.

During 2004 the Lockney PD detained 9 juveniles and placed them in either the PAC or turned them over to the Juvenile Probation Office. In 2003 there were 23 juveniles detained.

"I firmly believe the lack of detention of juveniles is aided very heavy by the fact that we have the Lockney Youth Activity Center, which gives the youth something to do. Since the building of this facility there appears to be a steady reduction in youth problems."

Muse News

By Carolyn Hardy
The Floyd County Historical Museum Board of Directors and staff would like to thank all Floyd County and surrounding area residents for their support and contributions in 2004.

There were many visitors touring the Museum, viewing the Coronado artifacts, early Floyd County exhibits and researchers using the materials in the Mary Lou Bollman History and Genealogy Center.

Pat Anthony from Amarillo was at the Museum four days the first week of this month looking for information on her ancestors: William Henderson Brown and wife Mollie Margaret Stewart Brown; Luther Richard Brown and wife Zephra Beatrice Morrison Brow; and George Thomas Morrison and wife Sarah Elizabeth Ross Morrison. She left with a packet full of information.

Joyce Quarles from Farwell came in looking for information on her great grandparents James T. Fish and wife Lu Fish. Her grandfather Jack Fish, who married Henrietta Jones, was their only child. Jack Fish homesteaded in Quay County, New Mexico in the early 1900's. The James T. Fish family is in Floyd County on the 1900 census. James T. Fish died in 1911 and is buried in the Flomot Cemetery in Motley County.

Where were your ancestors in 1790 through 1930? The Federal Census is one of the best research tools available. The 1850 census is the first census to list complete households. Prior to 1850 only the head of the household was named and the rest of the family grouped together by ages. Almost all of the 1890 census was destroyed by fire. The 1930 census is the last that has been released because of the Privacy Act. If you would like to search the census records the staff and volunteers at the Museum will assist you.

The educational video about Coronado in Blanco Canyon is in the process of being edited. The video will be a great asset to the Museum for tours, programs, and special events.

The Buffalo Grass Chapter of the DAR met at the Museum Saturday, January 15. There was good attendance despite the cold weather. After their meeting, they enjoyed stew, cornbread and desserts brought by the members.

Recent memorials received were in memory of: Pearlle Moosberg, Willie Smith, Margaret Collier, Maggie Jones Perry, and Norma Seymour.

December 20, 2002-January 17, 2004

In a moments time our world was shattered. Time stood still and our hearts were broken. Though through our tears, our smiles never faded for we knew that your tiny little life became perfect.

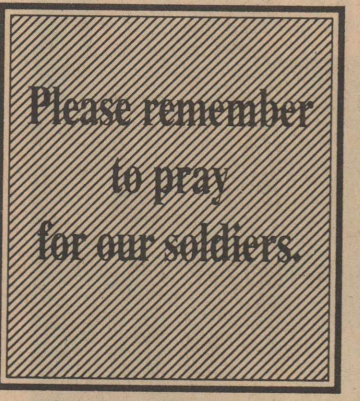

Though we cannot cradle your sweet hand or gaze into your smiling blue eyes, we are comforted that you are cradled every glorious day in the arms of Jesus. And though we cannot see you with our eyes, we see you with our hearts in every moment of every day.

We miss you dearly and who you would have been, but we are so proud of the ANGEL you have become. We are forever changed for having the gift that you are and blessed because you touched our lives...for only a brief time on Earth, but forever from the skies of Heaven.

Have fun with Jesus, sweet Rylee Roo and we wish you a Happy ANGEL Anniversary.

We love you BIGGER than the sky.

Lockney Senior Citizens News

By Vera Jo Bybee

W.L. Carthel, president of the Lockney Senior Citizen, called a meeting of the Senior Citizen board Monday night to hand in his resignation as president. Ham Gammage, Vice President, accepted the office of President. Walter Reves accepted the office of Vice President. All other officers remained the same. Thanks goes to W.L. for the good job he did as President. The Center is also looking forward to Ham being the President. I know these positions are thankless ones and the salary is good. Ha!!! Nothing. Zero. Nada. But just know that you are doing a great service for the community of Lockney Senior Citizens. Thanks goes to the whole Senior Citizen Board.

As Violet Cooper and I drove by the Unity Center at Muncy Saturday morning on our way to attend a DAR meeting at the Floyd Co. Museum we knew how grateful the stock show people were to have that nice warm barn for their stock show. I have spent many a cold year in those old cold barns at the Stock Shows.

Violet Cooper had her children, Teddy Bob and his family of Houston, Tim and family of Olton and Glenda and family of Lockney all here for the Holidays. It was a fun time for all except Teddy Bob's son got sick and had to spend Christmas in the Mangold Memorial Hospital.

Gleynn Earle Cummings was admitted to the Baptist St. Anthony's hospital in Amarillo Tuesday Jan. 11 and the time of this writing Monday, January 17 she is still there waiting to get the reports from all her test. I hope they are all good and she gets to come home soon.

Our thoughts and prayers are with the family of Lavern Potet McCarty who passed away Monday January 17. Her funeral services will be at the Baptist Church in Lockney Thurs Jan 20.

Our thoughts and prayers are also with the Childers family on the passing of Jo on Monday, January 17. The family will be at the Lockney Funeral home Wednesday night for visitation and graveside services will be Thursday at 11.00 at the Lockney Cemetery

The Senior Citizen Profile this week is on Margie Turner: Margie Jones was born March 21, 1918 to Sam and Odie Reynolds Jones at Flomot. Odie, Margie's mother, passed away in June 1918 when Margie was three months old. She was raised by her Aunt and Uncle, Lee and Molly Gunn. Margie attended school at Flomot.

Margie married John Turner on June 25, 1935 at Quitaque. John was born September 20, 1908 at Tupelo, Okla. to J.J. and Hattie Turner. The Turner family moved to Quitaque in about 1926. He attended school at Quitaque.

John, Margie and family farmed at Flomot and in the Rock Community before retiring and moving to Lockney in 1977.

John passed away on Sept 23, 1990. Margie started cleaning the Church of Christ Church on West College and 3rd in 1977 and after doing that job for twenty five years she has retired.

John and Margie are the parents of five sons, Don, Sam, Guinn, Douglas and John David. Margie has seventeen grandchildren and 19 greats.

Thank you Margie for being this week's Senior Citizen.

Longhorns win big in district game against Olton 63-39

By Bubba Edwards

The Lockney Longhorns got off on the right foot in the District 6-2A with a 63-39 victory over the Olton Mustangs.

Lockney caught on fire early hitting 7 of 12 three point shots in the first half forcing the Mustangs to play catch-up for the entire game. Mark Ford and Taylor Becker combined for 28 of Lockney's 41 first half points.

"I guess all of that shooting we do in practice is finally paying off," Coach Edwards said. "Our confidence is starting to show and that is the main ingredient to be productive on the offensive side."

The Longhorns defense was not too shabby either allowing only 15 first half points. Olton picked up their tempo the second half helping their offense to be less stagnant.

"We played outstanding defense all night long," Coach Edwards said. "We played good on ball and help defense. When we can keep the score low we are giving ourselves a better chance to win."

Olton outscored the Longhorns 24-22 in the second half with the help of Dustin Synatschk's eight point fourth quarter. Synatschk finished the game with 16 points. Rance Schumacher matched Synatschk by scoring 10 of his 12 points in the second half. Cagan Cummings managed to slow down Olton's other offensive threat, Elbardo Trevino, by allowing him to score only four points.

Ford lead the Longhorns with 18 and pulled down six rebounds. Taylor Becker added 14 points and five rebounds. Cummings lead the team with six assists and also chipped in five points.

In other district action, Dimmitt defeated Tulia 73-47 and Floydada beat Friona 73-56.

Lockney will travel to Friona for their third district game of the season. Game time will be at approximately 8:00 p.m.

Rallying world prices and an upsurge in the Adjusted World Price has many growers pondering whether or not to lock-in the LDP rate on cotton still in modules.

While there are no clear signs that the recent price surge will find the support necessary to translate into a steady increase in the AWP in the coming months, this week's (January 14-20) 2.16 cent decrease in the Loan Deficiency Payment (LDP) payment rate is certainly getting a lot of grower attention.

The Adjusted World Price in effect for the week of January 14-20 has been announced by the Secretary of Agriculture at 36.16 cents which translates into an LDP payment rate of 15.84 cents per pound. This is down 2.16 cents from last week's LDP rate of 18 cents per pound.

A continuation of this trend could prevent producers who don't have all their cotton ginned from gaining the level of LDP benefits they might have otherwise been able to receive under different circumstances.

A big 2004-crop, and an extended harvest and ginning season, has created the possibility that a steadily increasing AWP calculation could cause the current high Loan Deficiency Payment rates to disappear.

That is why the option to lock-in the higher LDP rate has attracted the interest of producers in recent days. The module lock-in process is fairly straightforward, but producers need to understand that they must stay on top of the process once the modules that were locked in start getting ginned.

Modules that are pledged as collateral for a recourse Seed Cotton Loan are eligible for the Module Lock-in option.

Using the Module Lock-in provision of the Marketing Loan Program is not a common practice for growers on the High Plains. If a decision is made to lock-in the current LDP rate on a set of modules there is one important concept that must be at that top of a growers list to avoid unnecessary complications later on. Beneficial interest must be maintained.

For purposes of the marketing loan program a producer is required to have title, control and risk of loss in order for the commodity to be eligible for benefits offered through the marketing loan program. By meeting all three of these requirements the producer is said to have "Beneficial Interest" in the commodity.

For the producer, and those who market cotton on their behalf, it is important that a close accounting of the amount of LDP benefits are kept and that beneficial interest is not transferred. Maintaining beneficial interest is the only way to insure that cotton released when the LDP payment limit is reached can further utilize remaining components of the marketing loan program.

Producers who market cotton before they determine if it has received LDP benefits run the risk of the cotton being ineligible for any marketing loan benefits because beneficial interest was transferred.

The extra care taken to keep track of the LDP status of bales resulting from locked-in modules will insure that loan benefits are not lost due to a loss of beneficial interest.

Once a producer hits the $75,000 payment limitation subsequent bales from locked-in modules become fully eligible for loan program participation other than the LDP program.

One complicating factor, which FSA has established a procedure to handle, is how to deal with crop share landowner LDP's payable as a result of the module lock-in request.

When the producer operator reaches the LDP pay limit maximum, subsequent bales will be divided according to the share information on file.

The crop share landowner will continue to receive LDP payments on their share of the bales based on the module lock-in rate until they reach their individual pay limit ceiling.

The take home message for anyone who decides on the module lock-in option is to stay on top of their LDP payment limit status and to be careful to market bales only after LDG benefits have been paid.

Getting too far ahead of the process could result in some bales being ineligible for loan benefits because beneficial interest was transferred too soon.

New SRA limits some services agents can perform on behalf of producers

New "Conflict of Interest" rules, included in the recently negotiated 2005 Standard Reinsurance Agreement between insurance providers and the USDA Risk Management Agency, will change the way many crop insurance agents and producers do business in 2005.

One of the most immediate impacts of the new rules involves reporting 2004 crop yields to the insurance company for purposes of updating APH yield records.

In the past, one of the standard services provided by the insurance agent was the collection and recording of yield data for the producer. Now agents are prohibited from seeking yield information on behalf of the producer and it is the producer's responsibility to submit necessary yield data.

To avoid problems, producers are encouraged to submit yield data, or give instructions to their gin to do so on their behalf, as soon as it becomes available on individual farms or insurance units and not wait until all their cotton is ginned.

This is especially important this year since some yield data might not become available until after the March 15 sales closing date for 2005 policies.

Cotton Market Weekly A service provided by Plains Cotton Cooperative Association

Cotton futures on the New York Board of Trade settled on firmer ground for the third consecutive session on Thursday in response to an improvement in the technical outlook for cotton earlier in the week.

The week's export sales report reflected a predictable drop in sales due to the Christmas and New Year's holidays, but the figures still were considered "healthy" by the market. USDA reported net export sales of U.S. cotton in the week ended Dec. 30 totaled 141,000 bales. The figure was 42 percent less than the previous week and the prior four-week average. Primary buyers included Turkey, China and South Korea.

U.S. export sales for the season have remained ahead of the pace set last year. For the 2004-05 season to date, export sales total 3.0 million bales while commitments total 8.0 million bales.

Export shipments of 243,400 bales were 64 percent more than the previous week and 37 percent better than the four-week average. Major destinations included China, Turkey, and Thailand.

Cotton prices were slightly higher this week, as spot cotton sales were active as more cotton became available for sale. Texas, Oklahoma and Kansas producers sold 132,149 bales online in the week ended January 6 compared to the previous week when 67,411 bales were traded. Prices received by producers selling their cotton online ranged from 34.69 to 36.33 cents per pound versus the previous week's range of 33.77 to 34.69 cents per pound.

Meanwhile, the International Cotton Advisory Committee (ICAC) now projects world cotton production to hit a record high of 114.2 million bales in 2004-05, a 20 percent increase from the previous season. The committee also expects consumption to rise to an alltime high of 103.5 million bales in the upcoming year.

As if to help bring to fruition the reports of higher world cotton production, sources in Pakistan now say the crop there will reach a record 13.7 million bales this year, 3.0 million bales more than USDA's estimate, due to timely rains, increased acreage and improved water supplies.

Closer to home, misty and foggy conditions, coupled with subfreezing temperatures and high humidity levels, halted harvest progress on the Texas High and Rolling Plains this week. Despite the adverse weather, the retrieval of modules from fields continued where possible, and ginning activities remained constant. Drier weather is expected over the upcoming weekend. Although the vast majority of the crop already is off the stalk, producers would welcome a prolonged period of dry weather to allow them to complete harvesting activities.

Regional observers report approximately 10 percent of the High Plains crop remains to be harvested, but if the weather cooperates, work should be completed by mid-month. Ginning and classing activities, however, remain well behind normal. Local analysts say approximately 55 percent of the region's crop has been ginned. Some gins may be finished by early February while many larger, higher capacity gins are unlikely to complete work before mid to late March.
