Reese workers triumph over winter storm

By Sgt. Jeff King

While most of us were snug in our warm homes Saturday and Sunday, there were 40 men from Reese who gave up their shelter for a frozen, snowy flightline and some unpleasant duty.

There is a sign that has been posted at many Special Services activities on base. It reads, in part, "Mission Essential — What does this mean? It means that without you, our flightline personnel, it just wouldn't go . . . Thanks for a great job." This sums up the feeling of Col. Schuyler Bissell, wing commander, and all senior staff officers for the job these men and members of the 64th Civil Engineering Squadron (CES) did during the weekend.

Major Storm

A major winter storm rolled into the South Plains. Along with freezing rain and more than four inches of snow came the complete shutdown of the base. The regular cross country missions, having been launched Feb. 21, were unaffected by the severe weather which moved on to spawn tornadoes and floods not far from the Texas panhandle.

The men of the 64th Air Base Group went to work. Members of the Transportation Division and the 64th CES manned the grades, snowplows and sand spreaders to keep main roadways on base open. Battling 28-degree temperatures and winds of more than 40 miles per hour, the job began. TSgt. David Register of the Pavement and Grounds Section of the 64th CES commented, "It was pretty frustrating. As soon as we would blade off the snow, it would blow right back."

Meanwhile, the men of the Transportation Division were answering many calls for wrecker service to get cars unstuck around the base and in Reese Village. At the same time they were fighting the frost, trying to keep the roads open through the main gate to the Reese USAF Hospital and the commissary.

Night finally came and brought an end to the heavy storms. Still in the dark early Sunday morning, Amn. Donald L. Hatch and Amn. Calvin C. Beck of the 64th CES came on duty to begin the process all over again.

Another Problem

As the sun rose Sunday, so did another problem . . . What to do about the 30 Reese planes that were out on cross country missions? The field was still closed because of a solid sheet of nearly an inch of ice on the runway.

The problem had two major impacts. To strand the planes at the bases they had flown to, on the cross country missions would mean the pilots would have to be paid at least another day of per diem. There were 30 planes out. With two pilots per craft, the looming per diem figure was around $1,200. Secondly, the planes would not be available for use Monday when the weather for flying returned to clear skies and calm winds.

Something had to be done.

Racing against the clock, eight men of the 64th CES Pavements and Grounds Section began the almost impossible task of clearing the runways and main taxiways. Using graders, frontloaders, mechanical snow brooms and truck mounted snow plows, they worked from 8:30 a.m. until nearly 3 p.m. before the runways and taxiways were clear.

Meanwhile, flightline airmen were busy cleaning off the airplanes and making necessary preparations for the 30 Reese planes to return. While doing this, they also assisted Transient Alert with the recovery of three Marine airplanes and one Cessna T-37 from another base, also on cross country. The days were long and hard for the mechanics. Working with the wind chill factor around five degrees below zero, members of the 64th Organizational Maintenance Squadron (OMS) kept the planes clean in addition to their regular weekend duties.

Action was being taken all over the base to keep Reese from being paralyzed by the rough weather. B Flight of the Security Police Division had their hands full, handling many traffic situations and helping motorists get unstuck.

It was a joint effort, one that epitomizes what a team effort should be. Of the entire work force that labored during the frozen weekend, a large portion were volunteer workers. People left their warm homes, their families, their televisions to come to work on a miserable weekend because they knew there was a job to be done.

Special Thanks

THE ROUNDUP feels these men deserve

a special vote of thanks from everyone at Reese. They know the importance of the Reese mission. Perhaps we could all learn a lesson from these 40 men.

The people who gave their time in the 64th CES were: TSgt. David C. Register, SSgt. Phillip Willett, Sgt. Harold Smith and Airmen Jack S. Stamm, Robert Schlessler, Calvin C. Beck, Dennis D. Lutterschmidt and Donald L. Hatch. The people from the Transportation Division were: SSgt. Raymond Belanger, Sgt. Montie Johnson and Airmen First Class James Huff, Doug Stopher and Lennie Fowler.

The Security Police who worked to assist snowbound motorists are all in B Flight. They were SSgt. Jesse Brinson, Sergeants Randy J. Rodgers and Richard L. Harlan and Airmen First Class Michael S. Savage, Charley Mills and Mark J. Mimms.

The remaining workers who helped in the weekend effort are in the 64th OMS. SSgt. Henry Chambers of the Transient Alert was responsible for the launch of the Marine and other craft.

OMS during the weekend were NCOIC, TSgt. Jimmy DeGray, SSgt. Tommy Sherrill, SSgt. James Smith, and Sgt. Larry Meyers. Also, SSgt. Joe Berry and Airmen First Class Frederick Medsker, Roger Gill and James Mitchell.

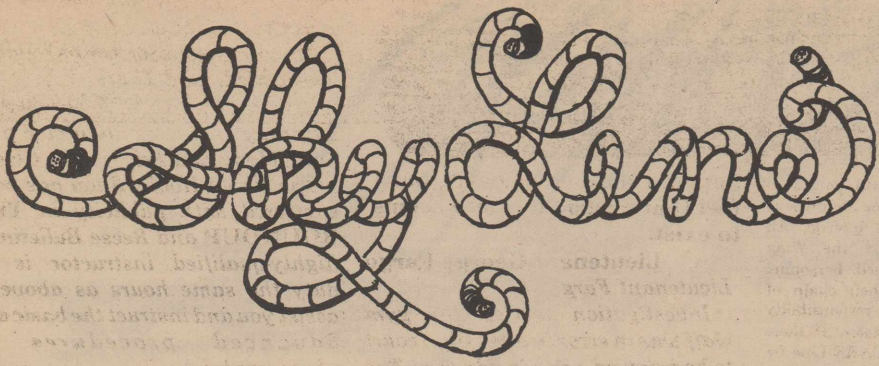

Members of the T-38 Branch were under the supervision of the NCOIC, MSgt. Wilmer Millward. They were SSgt. Lawrence Hadsell, SSgt. Michael Helmick, Sgt. Edwin Headen, Sgt. Roy Niederlander and Sgt. Joseph Rice. Also, Airmen First Class Donald Parry, Patrick Walker and Robert Wiley and Airmen Gerald Doherty and Kenneth Brown. (U.S. Air Force Photos by Sergeants Terry Crooks and Jeff King)

"An important part of our chain of command at Reese is the "Open Door" policy"

In last week's SKY LINE column, I discussed the chain of command. An important part of our chain of command at Reese is the "Open Door" policy. I believe that every commander and supervisor must always have his door "open" to his subordinates in order to best accomplish the mission.

If anyone in a unit has a problem which remains unsolved, his ability to do his best suffers. The problem may be with the job or it may be a personal problem or complaint. Too often we wait too long to discuss the problem and it becomes more serious.

All supervisors at Reese are willing to listen and help. In order for them to help you, they must know your problems as well as the unit's problems. Even in the best organizations, problems will occur which need the supervisor's attention. Usually, he can find the solution. But when he can't, he can help you talk to someone who can.

A supervisor's door is open to people with complaints and suggestions as well as problems. Every member of the Reese team should know that he or she can state a complaint to the commander and receive a fair and confidential hearing. The commander will try to correct the situation if he can.

You may not have a problem, but an idea for a better way to do things. See your commander or supervisor. Each year millions of dollars are saved by the good suggestions of Air Force people.

If you have a complaint, problem or suggestion, I hope you know that a series of doors is open to you. See your supervisor first. His door is open and he can probably help you. If he can't, he will direct you to someone who can.

In order for our chain of command to be strong, all supervisors' doors must remain open. We do not go straight to the top, but through the series of open doors starting in each organization. With open doors, we can communicate, solve our problems and achieve our goals for 1975.

AF concerned about 'force modernization'

High-level government officials are concerned about the Air Force's modernization. You should be, too.

Force modernization is a term tossed about lately, especially when reading articles and news reports concerning the latest weapon systems under development.

Before we can ever begin to understand the reasoning behind force modernization, we must understand first what the term implies. What is force modernization and how does it affect our day-to-day Air Force operations?

First of all, force modernization means that the Air Force must have the weapons that are equal to or better than the opposition. If we have this up-to-date force in operation, no enemy will dare attack. This assumption is based on historical fact. In all recorded wars, aggressors only began wars they believed they would win. There are no examples of the militarily weak attacking the militarily strong with the idea of winning. In short, you don't start a war you don't believe you can win.

By having an equal or superior force, war can be avoided. Our Air Force, by operating with modern weapon systems, deters aggression.

We must continue to be strong and vital. For without a modern force, the guarantee that peace will prevail is lost. (An AFNS Editorial)

Help yourself and others during AF AF campaign

By 2nd Lt. Mike Dale

Tomorrow marks the start of Reese's participation in the service-wide Air Force Assistance Fund (AF AF) Campaign Drive.

Contributions to the drive will support the efforts of the Air Force Village, the Air Force Aid Society, and the Air Force Enlisted Widowed Home Foundation.

What do these organizations do? The Air Force Village, although primarily for widows, is also "home" for retired Air Force officers and their wives. Although the cost of living is far less in the Village than in comparable complexes, it receives no government funds. The Air Force Village also provides general nursing care, not normally included in retirement benefits, to its residents.

There When Needed

A key objective of the Air Force Village is that no qualified applicant shall ever be refused admission because he or she cannot pay.

The Air Force Aid Society (AF AS) was created and to aid members of the Air Force in emergencies and to help their children attend college and vocational schools.

Most emergencies servicemen run into arise from unexpected expenses and the lack of funds to meet those expenses. AF AS can provide needed money in the form of a no-interest loan for situations such as emergency medical and hospital expenses, food and rent payments due to nonreceipt of pay and allowances, emergency transportation, and many others.

Through the Henry H. Arnold Education Fund, AF AS provides no-interest loans to help dependent children obtain their college or vocational education.

Project officer for the AF AF Campaign Drive here at Reese is Capt. Jeff Brann of the 54th Flying Training Squadron.

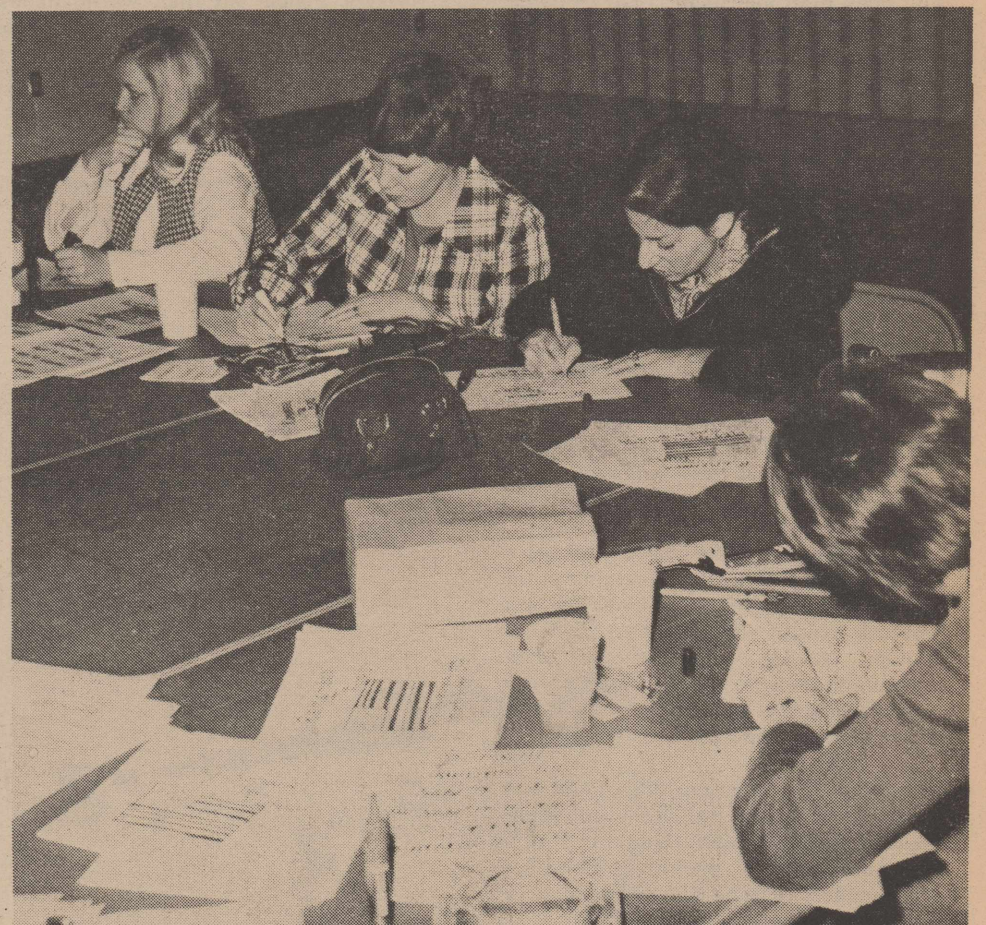

Contributors will designate which charitable organization or organizations they wish their donations to go to.

All contributions are tax-deductible, since the organizations are nonprofit and tax-exempt.

For further information, contact your unit project officer or Captain Brann at Ext. 2759. The campaign ends March 15.

OWC will not let MIAs be forgotten at Reese

The MIAs — these men missing in action — where are they? How many are alive?

These are questions that have been almost forgotten in these months after the release of the prisoners of war. Some have claimed that no one cares. That was stated in January after the present MIA project was begun in November. We have NOT forgotten!

Hanoi has responded by refusing to cooperate with our government by letting the Joint Casualty Resolution Center in to inspect and investigate crash site areas.

Hanoi has stated that it is not at war with the American people but with the American government. Hanoi will not do anything unless social pressure is again administered against it; it was this pressure that helped bring our POWs home.

No we have not forgotten. Nor do we forget. Just like we "Remember the Alamo," "Remember the Main" and "Remember Pearl Harbor," we "Remember the MIAs."

Commander's CARE Line

(Editor's note: THE ROUNDUP will continue to publish Commander's CARE Line inquiries as long as they are of base-wide interest. All inquiries will be reviewed by the Wing Commander, Col. Schuyler Bissell. Personnel are encouraged to first use their chain of command or the office of primary responsibility to air their complaints, if possible. If these methods do not work, call the CARE Line by dialing C-A-R-E. Personnel are encouraged to give their name, rank and duty section when calling.)

Sir:

On Feb. 5 I went to the Gym at opening time to sign up for a paddleball court. The time was 7:30 a.m. but the court was already in use. Sergeant Martinez said that the courts had been reserved the day before. The rules say that the courts cannot be reserved a day in advance. I am not sure if this happens on a daily basis, but I feel that a basic inequity seems to exist.

Lieutenant George Fargo
 Lieutenant Fargo:

Investigation reveals the gym staff was in error in allowing a court to be reserved a day in advance. The gym staff has been instructed not to permit court reservations prior to day of usage. The staff has also been instructed they will not use it during prime time except in challenges from other base personnel.

Sir:

I would like to know why can't Reese AFB have a photo lab?
AIC Moore

Airman More:

Reese personnel have been fortunate to have a Photo Hobby Shop since 1971. The Photo Hobby

Shop is located in Bldg. 340, the Arts and Crafts Center.

Hours of operation are as follows:
 Tues., Wed., and Thurs.

5:30-9:30 p.m.

Saturday 10 a.m.-6 p.m.
 Sun., Mon., and Fri. Closed

The Photo Hobby Shop has been showered with publicity in THE ROUNDUP and Reese Bulletin. A highly-qualified instructor is on duty the same hours as above to assist you and instruct the basic and advanced procedures of photography.

Sir:

I am concerned about bicycle safety. For the past few mornings I have observed two pilots riding through the main gate on bicycles that had neither headlights nor tail lights.

Wing Supplement 125-14, paragraph 35, page 20 states that bicycles must be equipped with these safety items. I feel that these riders are presenting a definite hazard. Someone could be seriously injured or killed.

No Name

Presently the Security Police and Ground Safety Divisions are coordinating a draft copy of a Reese AFB bicycle safety regulation. This regulation will include bicycle registration, operating privileges, traffic safety requirements, and operator responsibilities. When finalized, it will simplify the procedures for enforcement.

For the past six months, the Security Police bicycle accident/complaint rate has been zero. Therefore, bicycle operation enforcement has not been a primary concern. Emphasis on strict enforcement usually picks up during the most common usage, in spring and summer. This is not to say that we allow obvious violations to go unpunished. I know for a fact that patrolmen and gate guards have verbally warned or issued traffic citations to bicycle riders. This enforcement will continue. The new regulation on bicycle operations and registration will be ready for distribution in late March.

Masters' works set for OWC auction

Picasso, Chagall, Miro and Dali are just a few of the artists to be represented at the Reese Officers Wives Club (OWC) Art Auction to be held tomorrow at the Officers' Open Mess.

The auction will follow a combination Preview and Social Hour starting at 7 p.m. offering cocktails and free hors d'oeuvres. The auction will begin promptly at 8:30 p.m. Biddings will start at $20 and all purchases can be paid by cash, check or charge accounts (Master Charge and BankAmericard).

This is not a gathering of reproductions but a true representation of artists through their paintings, lithographs, etchings, serigraphs and watercolors. Each work has been signed, numbered and authenticated through the Art Show Galleries, Ltd. of Los Angeles and London, who arranged the auction.

The purpose of the auction is to raise money for the OWC, which donates a great deal of its earnings to charitable works.

Admission to the auction is free and is open to everyone at Reese as well as the general public throughout the Lubbock area.

You are encouraged by the OWC to come early to insure you view all the works and identify those items on which you may want to bid. You are also invited to sign up for the valuable door prize which will be given away by the Art Show Galleries.

A wise old eagle we know says we can make ourselves a few bucks while saving the base or even the Air Force time and money. Look around your work area and see if anything can be done a better way. If you see something that needs improving, grab yourself a Form 1000 from your orderly room and submit it. (Artwork by Sgt. T. Craig Smith)

OWC plans March fete

By Nancy Feibelman

A welcome to spring is the theme of the Reese Officers' Wives Club luncheon Thursday at the Officers' Open Mess.

The social hour will begin at noon with the luncheon being served at 12:30 p.m.

Program for this luncheon is a fashion show brought by Hemphill Wells. Models are Mmes. Schuyler Bissell, James Drickell, Ralph Dunbar, Allan Haynes, Michael McGuire, Robert Negley, John Nelson, James Nuber, George Swanson, Reinhard Westenrieder and Gary Wilshire.

The 64th Air Base Group's senior hostess is Mrs. Richard Ingram.

Serving as co-hostesses are Mmes. Haynes Baumgardner, Jay Feibelman, Blaine Nay, Robert Negley, Joe Nix, Simon Rudnick, Valerio Santos and William Wrench.

Mrs. Nix has supervised the women in the making of those fantastic decorated egg trees which will serve as decorations and door prizes.

The social hour will feature champagne and fruit punches. On the luncheon menu are chicken with wild rice cassarole, strawberry Jello, hot sesame seed rolls and lemon tarts served with coffee or tea.

For reservations call Mrs. Jack Gilbert, 797-2477 or Mrs. Michael Wotley, 792-2477, by noon Monday.

NCOWC relates events, lauds Member of Month

By Monika Bednarczyk
NCOWC Publicity Chairwoman

At our recent Business Meeting, we welcomed Mrs. Philip Grimmett, wife of the new base Chaplain, as our new honorary member.

We are pleased to have her with us and if first impressions are correct, we know she will be a bonus to our club. We also welcomed Mary Capps as a new member. At this same meeting, we were presented with very informative talks by Carol Joseph from Family Services and Carter Robinson from Youth Activities. Hostesses for the evening were Ursula Cooper and Alice Handren. They did a beautiful job of creating a Valentine theme. Nancy Schulz was the luck lady who won the door prize.

Our next meeting will be held March 11. This being the Easter season, we will gather early for dinner at the NCO Open Mess at 6:30 p.m. Following dinner, we will all display our latest creations of milinery wear, namely Crazy Hats. Prizes will be given to the craziest and the prettiest. So all you members, remember to get busy and put your ideas on your head. Following the meeting, which will begin at 7:30 p.m. we will be presented a film and talk by a representative from the South Plains Boys Ranch.

All wives of NCO Mess members are invited to join for this evening of fun and enlightenment. For more information, call Kathy Belanger at 885-2141.

The members of Reese NCO Wives Club have selected their new President, Nancy Schulz, as Member of the Month for February.

Mrs. Schulz is married to MSgt. Fred L. Schulz, who is assigned to the 64th Field Maintenance Squadron as a quality control inspector. Sergeant Schulz has been in the Air Force for 22 years and will retire soon. They have four children, Dawn, 17 years old; Bobby, 11; Rusty, 7½ and Eddie is 4½ yrs. old. Nancy is from Topeka, Kansas and Sergeant Schulz hails from Austin, Minn. They plan to retire in the Lubbock area.

Nancy has been a member of NCOWC for the past 5½ years and is serving her fifth term as club President. She has also been Vice-President, Secretary, Parliamentarian, and Chairwoman for Publicity, Entertainment and Ways & Means.

Mrs. Schulz baby-sits for several other children and enjoys bowling and sewing.

The sequel to "Billy Jack" starts off this week's schedule of features at Simler Theater.

The base theater shows films at 7 p.m. Tuesday through Sunday, as well as at 2 p.m. for the special Saturday matinee. The box office opens 30 minutes before showtime.

Tonight and Sunday Night

Tom Laughlin and Delores Taylor star in "The Trial of Billy Jack," which begins where "Billy Jack" left off. Billy is arrested for murder. He is released from prison and confronts both the law and the townspeople with Hapkido, the Korean form of karate. He seeks spiritual wisdom and is led to the "truth" in the PG-rated drama. Parental guidance is suggested.

Matinee Tomorrow

The epic story of an outlaw mustang stars Fess Parker, Diana Hyland and Katy Jurado in "Smoky." After he corrals a wild horse, a ranch hand is hired. He turns the mustang into a fine cowpony but his brother, another cowhand, almost wrecks everything in the family show.

Tomorrow Evening

A tribe of hostile Amazon women kill an aging demigod, and the rule of his civilization is handed on to his adopted son in "Super Stooges vs. Wonder Women." With the aid of a giant and a kung fu expert, the new leader tries to save the villagers from the militant women. The PG-rated story offers action and prehistoric parachutes, anthropoidal pogo sticks and feats of strength and stars Nick Jordan Marc Hannibal and Malisa Longo.

Tuesday

Isaac Hayes stars as "Truck Turner," modern-day bounty hunter who tracks down bail jumpers. Turner and his partner are forced to kill a pimp and his top girl vows revenge in the violent R-rated show.

Wednesday

Robert Redford stars as a man who drops out of society to find peace in the Rockies shortly after the Civil War in "Jeremiah Johnson." He learns as he goes about living off the land, dealing with Indians and, in a hilarious scene, how to hunt bears. When it is all over, he learns that he is more of a legend than human but he has become what he wanted to be — a mountain man. The adventure film is rated PG.

Thursday

"The Longest Yard" centers around the big game between inmates and guards in a Florida prison. An inmate who was a former pro quarterback is asked to throw the game to the guards and starts to, but his conscience finally takes hold. The skirmish turns into an avalanche of fun and fury as the two sides try to slaughter each other. Burt Reynolds and Eddie Albert costar in the R-rated comedy.

at Mathis

"The Raiders" start off this week's activities at the Mathis Recreation Center with a dance from 8 p.m. to midnight.

Logistics complex names January award winners

The 64th Organizational Maintenance Squadron (OMS) and 64th Field Supply Squadron Maintenance have announced several January awards won by members of those units.

A1C David Wisely was chosen 64th OMS Airman of the Month for his "outstanding duty performance, integrity and military bearing," said his commander, Maj. James E. Cason. Major Cason cited Airman Wisely's "outstanding initiative" and said that he always works well with his fellow workers.

Crew Chiefs of Month

Amn. Gary Beaman was elected Cessna T-37 Tweety Bird Branch Crew Chief of the Month for a "job well done on the T-37 flightline and his outstanding working relations with T-37 instructors and student pilots."

Named Northrop T-38 Talon Crew Chief of the Month was SSgt. Terry L. Pope. Major Cason said Sergeant Pope is "a completely outstanding NCO whose unique talents and professional skills have gained for him the respect and admiration of all flying personnel as well as that of his supervisors. He has maintained positive control over his men and supervised the launch, recovery and repair of his 18 assigned aircraft in a truly professional manner," the major concluded.

Flight of Month

"B" Flight was named T-37 Flight of the Month. MSgt. Charles E. Pinner is flight chief of "B" Flight.

T-38 Flight of the Month honors went to "I" Flight. Flight Chief is TSgt. Lewis Schulz.

Dock of Month

T-37 Dock of the Month was won by Dock 1, TSgt. Robert R. McClean, dock chief.

SSgt. Ronald H. Coomer is dock chief of Dock 1, which won T-38 Dock of the Month.

A1C Pamela L. Reusch was selected 64th Supply Squadron Airman of the Month for January. Airman Reusch was named for the honor on her "outstanding performance of her military duties, job knowledge, military bearing and aggressive attitude toward the mission," said Squadron Section commander 2nd Lt. William E. Potts.

Lieutenant Potts went on to say Airman Reusch "makes the best of all opportunities to improve herself, both in her appearance and military career."

Supply names best airman of 1974

A1C Steven M. McDermott, assigned to the 64th Flying Training Wing Materiel Control Branch, has been named first term 64th Supply Squadron Airman of the Year 1974.

Airman McDermott was selected for this award for his professionalism, his job knowledge, and his top performance while assigned duties as Due In From Maintenance monitor and local manufacture monitor.

Airman McDermott was nominated for the award by Lt. Col. Albert M. Mullen, chief of maintenance.

"Airman McDermott's extraordinary effort in controlling and monitoring local manufacture requests and routing a critical reparable assets has directly influenced our maintenance effort and capability to enhance supply support," said Colonel Mullen.

'Heavy Blue' makes Reese entertainment appearance

Members from "Tops in Blue" shows past will be at Reese for a big night club-type show beginning at 7:30 p.m. Sunday in the NCO Open Mess.

The group, dubbed "Heavy Blue," will entertain with rock-and-roll and soul sounds. Two 40-minute floor shows and dancing will highlight the evening. The members were all with one of the "Tops in Blue" shows which have toured in past years.

The show is sponsored by Air Training Command and is open to all Reese adults.

Women and men not qualified for flying may receive two and three year scholarships in AFROTC.

35th FTS crosswinds

Promotions top unit information

By 1st Lt. Tom Salmi

Five members of the 35th Flying Training Squadron have recently received promotions.

The new first lieutenants are instructors Ron Cone, Wayne Hodges, Edwin Churchill, and James Root. Sgt. Carla Bohlin, 35th FTS dispatcher, has put on her third stripe.

Wedding bells have been ringing at both ends of the hall lately. 2nd Lt. John Boggs, a "B" Flight instructor, was married recently. His bride, Marge is a USAF captain stationed at San Antonio, Texas. First Lt. Gary Wood, Check Section, and Lana were married recently. I have heard that Gary is enjoying married life but he is having trouble getting along with Lana's pet dog.

Sgt. Don Bacon has joined the Administrative Section of the Squadron. Sergeant Bacon comes to Reese from a tour in the Tactical Air Command at Sprangdah, Germany.

Capt. Mark Bittakis, "C" Flight commander, is leaving the Squadron next week for Wright-Patterson AFB, Ohio, where he will enroll in the Air Force Institute of Technology.

Capt. John Wesley has been reassigned from "A" Flight to "C" Flight.

Traditional Dining In brings Reese officers close together

Maj. Gen. John P. Flynn, commander of the Military Training Center at Lackland AFB, Tex., will be the guest speaker at the 64th Student Squadron Dining In to be held at 7:45 p.m. March 7 in the Officers' Open Mess.

Since entering into the aviation cadet program at Moore Field, Tex., General Flynn has flown six aircraft. He was a prisoner of war after being shot down by a SAM missile over Hanoi, North Vietnam on Oct. 29, 1967. He was released March 14, 1973.

General Flynn is a command pilot with more than 4,000 hours of flying time, most of which is in single engine jets.

An old tradition started in England, the Dining In is recognized as providing a time when formal ceremony, tradition and good fellowship play an important part in the life of a military organization.

All students presently in Undergraduate Pilot Training at Reese, their flight commanders and assistant flight commanders and many of their instructor pilots will be guests at the Dining In. More than 450 are expected to attend.

Thunderbirds recruit men

Randolph AFB, Tex. (ATCPS) - The U.S. Air Force Thunderbirds demonstration squadron is accepting applications from highly qualified officers wanting to join the team.

There are openings for demonstration pilot and narrator. Applicants must have less than ten years active service as of Dec. 31, 1975 and be on unconditional flying status. They must also have at least 1,000 hours rated jet fighter or jet trainer aircraft time. Deadline for applications is July 31, 1975.

There is also an opening for a material/logistics officer. Applicants must have 12 years of active commissioned service as of Dec. 31, 1975. They must be on unconditional flying status with at least 1,000 hours rated jet fighter or jet trainer time and have an Air Force Specialty Code F4024.

Procedures for submitting applications are covered in Air Force Regulation 36-20. For further information qualified officers may contact the Reese Consolidated Base Personnel Office Customer Service Center or 1st Lt. Matt Mattingly, Autovon 682-2277.

Steps you should take in case of animal bite

By Dr. (Capt.) G.M. Stay

The first thing to do if you or your child is bitten by an animal is to wash the wound at home with plenty of soap (any soap) and warm water.

If the biting animal is an owned pet, try to get a complete description of the animal. You need to know the species (dog or cat), color, sex, whether collar and tags were on the animal, owner's name, address, phone number, and where the bite occurred. If you can talk to the owner, tell him to keep the pet confined to the home or tied up for 10 days.

You also need the circumstances surrounding the bite. Was the animal provoked or unprovoked? If you can ask when the animal was last vaccinated and if it has been sick lately, it will help.

Next, go immediately to the Reese Hospital Emergency Room. There the emergency room attendant will ask for all the above information, which he will place on an Animal Bite Report. The attendant will then wash the wound again, give a tetanus booster and call the physician on duty (MOD). A determination will be made as to whether antibiotics treatment needs to be started. Unprovoked bites from stray animals would probably warrant this treatment.

The attendant will call the Security Police and the base Veterinarian. The Veterinarian will, in turn, contact the animal owner and instruct them to keep the animal under quarantine for 10 days.

The pet owner is also required to take the animal to the base Veterinarian for an exam at the start (within 24 hours of the bite) and end of the quarantine period. If the animal remains healthy all during the 10-day quarantine, then the animal does not and did not have rabies in his mouth at the time the bite occurred and the victim will not be required to take the painful 14 to 21 shot antibiotics series.

If the animal dies for any reason during the quarantine period, then the animal's brain tissue must be submitted to Austin, Tex. for rabies testing and the patient started on the antibiotics series.

Reserachers in the Federal Department of Health, Education, and Welfare Communicable Disease Center are trying to find a painless antibiotics vaccine that only requires one or two shots instead of a series of 14 to 21. Until this new vaccine is available, we must keep doing all we can to prevent this dreaded disease.

ALL CARS HAVE SAFETY FEATURES. VOLVO PUTS SAFETY FEATURES ON ITS SAFETY FEATURES.

When it comes to safety, no one demands more of Volvo than Volvo. For example, all cars are required by law to have two braking circuits, so if one circuit fails, you have another.

Volvo designed two triangular circuits, each controlling three wheels. So if half your brakes fail, you still have about 80% of your stopping power.

If a headlight or taillight burns out, Volvo thinks your car should be the first to tell you. A Volvo will, with a warning light on the dash.

All car seats have head rests to reduce the chances of whiplash. Volvo's head rests have openings to increase your chances of seeing what's coming up behind you.

Rear door locks are a standard safety item. Volvo goes beyond the standard and makes them child-proof.

When you consider these, and all of Volvo's other safety features—4-wheel power-assisted disc brakes, 3-point seat belts front and back, window defoggers front, rear and side, energy-absorbing front and rear ends, a passenger compartment surrounded by six steel pillars designed to support seven tons—you may decide that Volvo is the most secure place to invest your money.

That's easily understood. Safety always appeals to people who think.

 The $2,899 Tough Marina is now $2,499*.

It has to be the best car buy in America. Check these standard features:

The gas-saving MG engine for lively performance and over-20-miles-per-gallon economy. • Disc brakes, four speed stick, and responsive rack and pinion steering, like some of the world's most exciting sports cars. • Gas-saving and long-lasting radial-ply tires. • Contour bucket seats up front and a full rear seat with fold-down padded armrest. • 13 cubic feet of usable trunk space—nearly twice as much as a Toyota Corolla's. • Tastefully appointed interior with easy-to-read instrumentation. • Tinted glass all around. • All standard on the 1974 Marina. And, for only $2,499, it all adds up to the best buy in America today.

*Manufacturer's suggested retail price P.O.E. (1974 4-door sedan). Inland transportation, local taxes, preparation charges and options extra.

PTU COURSE - Twenty civilian private pilots went through the training offered by the Physiological Training Unit Saturday in a program started in cooperation with the Federal Aviation Administration regional office in Oklahoma City. The civilians, six of whom were women, were taught about such things as spatial disorientation and problems with oxygen and pressure at high altitudes. In the photo above, Capt. Jack Cusano, chief of Aerospace Physiology, shows Lubbock pilot James Acker what can happen if he moves his head too fast while flying. Below, some of the pilots take a "ride" in the unit's altitude chamber to study effects of high altitudes. (U.S. Air Force Photos by Sgt. Buddy Lerch)

Service hotel opens in 'paradise' islands

FORT SHAFTER, Hawaii (AFNS) - The U.S. Army Support Command has announced that beginning Oct. 15, 1975, active duty and retired military personnel will have their own resort hotel at Fort DeRussy on Waikiki Beach in Honolulu.

Reservations are now being accepted for the new Hale Koa (Hawaiian for "House of Warriors") hotel.

The hotel, 15 stories high with 416 rooms, will operate for all grades. Reservations are basically on a first-come, first-served basis, except that active duty enlisted personnel will be given priority in reserving accommodations.

A beach snack bar, coffee shop, showroom, formal dining room, formal and informal lounges, a post exchange, and other shops, banquet and convention rooms, and other services will be among guest conveniences.

Rates are still under study but it is anticipated that they will be below those of comparable resort hotels at Waikiki Beach.

Authorized personnel desiring reservations should write to the Hale Koa Hotel Reservations Office, 2055 Kalia Road, Honolulu, Hawaii 96815, and enclose a $20 deposit (check or money order payable to the Recreation Fund, Fort DeRussy), and specify the type of accommodations desired.

Four types of bedroom accommodations are available: studio, with two studio beds; twin, with two twin beds; double, with a queen-size bed; and deluxe, with two double beds.

Applicants can request alternate reservation dates. The entire deposit will be returned if the reservations office is unable to confirm reservations on the desired or alternate dates.

Reservations can be made for a maximum of 30 days but guests will be able to remain longer on a space-available basis.

Low attendance doesn't indicate lower tallies

By Sonny Serutan

The wind blew and the snow flew and a lot of bowlers stayed home this weekend.

However, the scores for the week were pretty good.

Feb. 17 the Reesette League came around with some pretty fine bowling. Rusty Grady had a 506 series, Gladys Mele had a 204 game and Jo Ann Clark had a 191 game.

Intramurals

The Intramural League sent in some recent scores. Topping the list was George Stepneck's 226-611 series, Les Craig's 200-592 and 219-578 and Rod Wilson's 202-588. Howard Creek had a 226-586 series, Bob Wocking rolled a 203-565 series, Dennis Cook had a 199-559, Earl Morris a 193-569, Ron Boone a 223-

562 and Dick Arbegast had a 220-547 series.

Bill Register had a 244 game again. We will be nice and not mention the series.

The Renegades were led by Pat Watson's 161-459. Chris Rodriguez had a 156 game to take second place honors. The Ball and Chain League came out shooting Feb. 20. Jim Turner had a 226 game and a 553-series. Dick Arbegast rolled a 194 game and wound up with a 545 series. For the women Rusty Grady had a 214-514 series and Judy Turner had a 200-499 series.

Late Show

The Late Show cometh. Paul Lewis rolled a 202-573 series and Skip McGarrigle had a 222 game and a 566 series (Nice, fella... he'll be in Heaven a half hour before the devil knows he is dead). Tex Westerburg had a 214 game.

For the ladies, Jan Wilson had a 181-448 series and Jo Ann Clark had a 463 series.

But with all the good bowling, all eyes were on Dangerous Dan Garza and his faithful sidekick Bill "The Hat" Stano. Dangerous Dan had a 190 game, 507 series and Bill "The Hat" had a... Well, Bill kept his attendance record intact, anyway.

AJBC

In the American Junior Bowling Congress our young people really showed the way. Randy Turner had a 190-541. George Stepneck Jr., had a 180-500. For the young ladies, Erin McGarrigle had a 139-345, Patty Johnson had a 133-326 and Cha Cha Johnson had a 133-325. Lanette Wright had a 328 and Cindy Cook had a 327.

Sonny's Place is still looking for live entertainment. We had a singing group all ready to perform. They had to cancel though. Besides, how much of a demand is there for Bolivian Folk songs?

Youth open season with close one

By George Davis

David Perry scored with 32 seconds left to play to allow the White Team to tie the Green Team 10-10 in the Reese Youth Basketball opener Saturday.

Randall Wilson of the Green led all scorers with 10 points, while the White were led by Steve Davis with six points, followed by Perry's four points.

In the second game of the season the same day, the Blue Team ambushed a surprised Red Team 49-11.

The winners had a well-balanced attack that saw Pat Gaston score 14 points. Brook Benford scored 11 and Nick Schmidt hit for 10 for the Blue squad. Robert Gregorio netted a high of nine for the losers.

The kids return to action tomorrow. The first game starts at 9:30 a.m.

1975 tags available at Mathis

The Lubbock County Tax Assessor's Office will again sell 1975 Texas license plates to Reese people from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. both Monday and Tuesday, in the Mathis Recreation Center.

Those who wish to register their vehicles must take their Texas Motor Vehicle Registration Renewal card with them when they go to the Center.

Personalized and initial Texas registration must be done at the Tax Assessor's Office in downtown Lubbock. Drivers have until April 1 to get their plates. Tickets will be given by police on April 2 if 1974 tags are still on the drivers' cars at that time.
