Reese was the scene Monday evening for a visit by distinguished clergymen of the area during Confirmation ceremonies at the Chapel Center.

On hand to conduct the important religious ceremonies were Bishop of the Amarillo

Diocese Lawrence De Falco and five Catholic priests from Lubbock.

Confirmed during the event at the Chapel were 49 Reese people. They had prepared for the ceremonies by attending four weeks of classes to teach them the meaning of being confirmed into spiritual adulthood. The classes were taught by Chaplain (Col.) William W. Campbell, senior installation chaplain.

Bishop De Falco has been Bishop of the 44,500 square mile Amarillo Diocese for 12 years and Monday was the first time he has come to Reese. Reese is located in the Amarillo Diocese.

Following the ceremony, 150 Reese people attended a "pot luck" dinner at the Chapel Center.

Car pool revamping task begins at Reese

A recent change to the base car pool program has been announced by the office of the 64th Air Base Group Executive, new office in charge of the program.

Four parking lots will be the only places which will have reserved parking for car pools. These are Lot #33 east of Hangar 70, Lot #71 south of Bldg. 800, Lot #51 south of the Commissary and Lot #20 south of the softball field.

The marking of car pool parking in these designated areas will begin soon.

Beginning March 17 other lots which now have spaces reserved for car pools and some other reserved parking areas will be changed to visitor, open or other types of parking.

A reevaluation is being made now to gather data to determine policy on the parking situation at Reese.

Maj. Gen. John P. Flynn, Lackland Military Training Center commander, was the guest speaker at the 64th Student Squadron Dining-In in the Officers' Open Mess March 7.

The purpose of the dining-in was to introduce new Air Force officers to the customs and traditions of the force. General Flynn keyed on these traditions and their values during his speech.

Another purpose of this dining-in, which is held twice yearly, is to foster esprit de corps among the members of the Air Force.

Three-Part Speech

General Flynn's speech was in three major portions. Detailing his own "Code of Conduct" in each of its 10 points, he stressed the importance of knowing and understanding American heritage. He said, "Our American heritage stands for the freedom of the individual."

While touching on the need for an adequate defense force in the United States, General Flynn commented, "The Armed Forces of America play a vital role in maintaining freedom of individuals around the world."

Next, the general detailed his ordeal as a prisoner of war. He said he remembered watching the shadows grow and shrink as the sun passed in the sky over his cell. He envisioned the path of the sun around the world and how many countries over which it passed that had the American flag proudly presented. He cited the need for always remembering the flag and everything it stands for.

Integrity

The third segment of General Flynn's speech dealt with integrity. He told of his learning process while serving at Air Command and Staff School. Interviewing several officers, he found that most people felt that the way to get ahead was not by cheating and lying. He stressed that commanders look for honest people to put into the most responsible jobs. He added that most commanders like an individual who can "tell it like it is."

SHARPEST OF MANY — 64th Field Maintenance Squadron worker Sgt. Thomas Booher was recently commended for his sharp appearance. Personnel Division Chief, Lt. Col. Carroll W. McCoy, said "During Feb., 21 and 28, of the 185 Reese people observed, Sergeant Booher presented the sharpest military appearance." A tip of THE ROUNDUP's hat to Sergeant Booher. "... we guarantee the patient will receive the care, treatment, consultation or referral required."

Dr. (Col.) Clarence K. Whiteside
USAF Hospital Commander

Our medical facility is a 10-bed hospital staffed by outstanding people.

They provide care to eligible patients in the Lubbock area. Our Flight Surgeons, Pediatricians, Internist, Surgeon, Optometrist, Pediatric and OB-GYN Nurse Practitioners, and specially trained technicians provide outstanding care or, in a small percentage of cases, refer patients to the proper specialists. Patient care is the reason for our being.

Although not officially affiliated with the Texas Technological University School of Medicine, we have the Chairman of the Department of Dermatology providing one-half day a week consultations. Also, the Assistant Chairman of the Department of Obstetrics-Gynecology provides two half-days of consultations (although not for routine obstetrics).

As in any unit which provides services, a first point of contact is needed. On Monday, Tuesday and Thursday afternoons an Urgent or Acute Care Clinic is available. We do not guarantee that the patient will see a physician, but guarantee the patient will receive the care, treatment, consultation or referral required. Appointments for the Urgent Care Clinic are made the day of the Clinic only and you will be seen that day.

Appointments are strongly encouraged as that allows for an orderly flow of patients. Walk-ins and emergency room visits will of course be seen but non-emergency patients will be seen after patients with appointments.

Thank you for your cooperation so that we may help you better.

Commander's CARE Line

(Editor's note: THE ROUNDUP will continue to publish Commander's CARE Line inquiries as long as they are of base-wide interest. All inquiries will be reviewed by the Wing Commander, Col. Schuyler Bissell. Personnel are encouraged to first use their chain of command or the office of primary responsibility to air their complaints, if possible. If these methods do not work, call the CARE Line by dialing C-A-R-E. Personnel are encouraged to give their name, rank and duty section when calling.)

Sir:
As a lower-ranking individual, I have very few occasions to visit the Wing Commander's offices on official business. However, on two occasions I have visited the offices and the secretary was rude to the point of embarrassment. This has also occurred on two separate occasions with another individual in our squadron. It is our feeling that courtesy should prevail in all offices on this base. Thank you. No Name

I would like to give a direct answer to your comments but you have not given me the specifics. My secretary deals with numerous inquiries and requests each day. It is her duty to order and arrange paperwork coming into my office, as well as the flow of appointments. This is needed to make some order out of demands on the office, which are both chaotic and of widely-varying priority. I suspect what you have mistaken for rudeness may have been no more than a direct, concise question or response to your business. I assure you that no one in my office wishes to be rude and we certainly agree that courtesy should prevail in every office.

Sir:
I would like to know why today is Sunday and is posted in the Chow Hall as a regular duty day and we go to the Chow Hall at 10:30 a.m. to eat and it is not open until 12:30 p.m. We have been outside, it's cold and it's snowing. Thank you.

Amn. Pinion
64th OMS

Sir:
I was over at the Chow Hall for the past three days and it had signs up all over saying this weekend was going to be a normal duty weekend and that the Chow Hall would be open those hours. I was over at the Chow Hall this morning at 8 a.m. eating breakfast and the signs were still up. Therefore, when I left my duty section at 11:30 a.m. to go to the Chow Hall for lunch, I walked over there and it was closed. I called up over there and they said the Chow Hall is going to be open weekend hours because the duty weekend had been cancelled. I think it is only fair that if the Chow Hall is going to change its hours, they should notify the people before that time because of the simple fact that people are taking off from work to go to lunch at the normal time and the Chow Hall is not open.

Amn. Goodman
Base Weather

Gentlemen:

Yes, we recognize there is a problem in this area of getting out the word on time. The decision to fly or not to fly, and thus normal vs. weekend messing, is usually made 18 to 24 hours in advance and is based on weather forecasts. As you know, West Texas weather is often unpredictable. Thus, the timeliness of information flow that we want to give you and others concerned is lost. However, if you call Ext. 2293 before you leave for the Wing Dining Hall, they will give you the latest hours of operation.

'Chicken Little' story relates to Air Force

By Sgt. Cynthia Hall
(An AFNS Editorial)

ELMENDORF AFB, Alaska (AFNS) - "The sky is falling!" said Amn. Chicken Little.

He hurried over to his supervisor, SSgt. Harold Gander, crying "The sky is falling. A piece of it just fell on my head!" But Sergeant Gander was too busy and waved the frightened airman away with a "don't bother me" look.

So Airman Little went to his commander, Capt. Alfred Eagle. But the captain only flapped his great wings in disgust after hearing the airman's story and sent him back to duty.

Actually, Airman Little had things a bit backwards. The sky was still intact but his own world was falling apart. He was working in a job he disliked and had been denied cross-training. He had been put on the weight control program for failure to lose five pounds. His car broke down and the buses weren't on time. All this hit him and he thought the sky was falling.

Does the story ring a bell? Which were you, Chicken Little, Harold Gander or Alfred Eagle? Chicken reacted the way many first-term airmen would. He had the forethought to warn his supervisor of the pending disaster but was shrugged away.

Even Captain Eagle, his hero, would not take time for Chicken. Typically again, Airman Little had nowhere to turn but inside himself. He put his world back together as best he could, kept his nose clean and was honorably discharged at the end of his enlistment.

Where is he now? Well, he's working in a gas station and telling his customers how bad his "hitch" was every time he gets the opportunity. Of course, he blames the Air Force for his misfortunes.

Whether the blame is warranted or not, the story could have a happier ending if two people had taken a few minutes to care. The time to care can be the best spent in many situations.

What you do not know just might hurt, after all

By Maj. Fred Wagner

HQ MAC Drug/Alcohol Abuse Control Officer

SCOTT AFB, Ill. (AFNS)—Were that I could count the times I have heard, "My son/daughter doesn't even smoke cigarettes. He/she would never smoke marijuana."

In a recent study of students in medical schools, some interesting results were noted. At one, 44 per cent of the students stated they use marijuana, but only 12 per cent said they use tobacco. At another, 42 per cent use marijuana while only 18 per cent use tobacco.

What about high school kids? Well, at a 500-student west coast high school, marijuana use ran from 39.9 per cent of the freshmen to 71.8 per cent of the seniors. Tobacco was used by 37.6 per cent of the freshmen and 33.8 per cent of the seniors.

I am not belittling parents whose offspring don't use tobacco. All concerned are pleased that those children aren't poisoning their systems with tar, nicotine, and carbon monoxide. However, I am cautioning against complacency based on one positive indicator of substance abuse. The fact is significant numbers of marijuana users do not use tobacco.

Use of alcohol doesn't predict much either. In a study involving 517 students in Champaign County, Ill., only 1.2 per cent of fourth graders had used marijuana, with increases each year to 32.2 per cent for high school seniors. At the same time, 44.4 per cent of the fourth graders has used alcohol while the percentage rose to 87.2 for high school freshmen.

Scary? YOU BET!

NCOs join Discharge Review Board March 4

WASHINGTON (AFNS) - Former Air Force enlisted personnel seeking an appearance before the Air Force Discharge Review Board to have their discharges upgraded may now have a senior noncommissioned officer (NCO) on the board hearing their cases.

Five NCOs assigned to Headquarters U.S. Air Force were sworn in as official members of the Discharge Review Board March 4.

The new members of the board are: CMSgt. of the Air Force Thomas N. Barnes, CMSgt. Wayne E. Ford, CMSgt. Daniel R. Coates, SMSgt. William T. Dougherty, and SMSgt. Mary F. Austin. The ceremony was conducted by Maj. Gen. Jeanne M. Holm, director of the Air Force Personnel Council.

General Holm said this was a project that had been on her mind for a long time. "I am convinced that it is important that we offer the option of having NCO members on the review board. I hope many applicants will take advantage of this new feature." General Holm said this was a step forward in the Discharge Review Board procedures.

The board functions as a part of the Secretary of the Air Force Personnel Council.

The NCOs will not sit together as a body. Each will serve as a member of an applicant for a review. Officials say they believe the NCOs will add a new dimension of experience to the board, which historically has been comprised of five senior Air Force officers.

An applicant who does not request an NCO on the board hearing his case will appear before the regular board of senior officers.

Follow-on moves could be beneficial

By MSgt. D.E. Shirley

How long has it been since you have filled out a new AF Form 392, "Airman Assignment Preference Statement?" Have you considered you may not be giving yourself a "fair shake?"

Career airmen in the continental United States (CONUS) may volunteer for an overseas short tour (including world-wide short) with a guaranteed follow-on assignment to an overseas long tour country or a CONUS base of their choice. Volunteers for this program may enter only short tour overseas preferences on the Form 392. You will be chosen for one of the short tours you ask for only when the desired follow-on can be provided.

Overseas long tour volunteers who are nearing high year of tenure (under TOPCAP) will not be allowed to extend or reenlist beyond that high year of tenure to get retainability for permanent change of station movement. Shipment of dependents and household goods to an overseas area may not be done unless the member has or can get retainability to serve the accompanied-by-dependent tour length.

For instance, a tech sergeant with 21 years of service who opted for Germany long tour two or three years ago has now been selected for Germany as a volunteer. Because his high year of tenure is 23 years, he cannot extend or reup to acquire retainability for a 36-month accompanied by dependent tour. Since his dependents would not be allowed to go, he would probably not want the tour. Then he would be sent involuntarily to Germany for 24 months and would be retired at the port upon his return to the CONUS.

Anyone may submit a new Form 392 anytime he desires. More information can be obtained by seeing MSgt. D.E. Shirley in the Career Control Section in the Consolidated Base Personnel Office, Bldg. T-1. You may also call Ext. 2402, 2482 or 2643.

Airman Wehrle earns honor

'I' Flight worker has 'outstanding initiative and positive attitude'

"One of the outstanding airmen in the 64th Organizational Maintenance Squadron (OMS) has been named Wing Airman of the Month for February.

A1C John G. Wehrle works in "I" Flight of the T-38 Section of the Squadron. Lt. Col. John D. Herbert, 64th OMS commander, said Airman Wehrle was chosen for his "... outstanding performance, integrity and military bearing."

He works night shift from midnight until 7:30 a.m. He has worked overtime to complete inspections he must perform in order for the planes to be ready to fly for morning missions. Colonel Herbert commented, "He has displayed outstanding initiative in completing his assigned inspections and maintenance. He continually displays a positive attitude and his cheerful manner is received favorably by all personnel with whom he works."

His work, as with all others, is inspected by the Wing Quality Control Section. He has never received an unsatisfactory report.

In the area of self-improvement, he completed his job training for a five-skill level in minimum time with excellent scores. He was also cited for maintaining excellent appearance.

Colonel Herbert ended the nomination letter stating that Airman Wehrle should be honored for "... contributing immeasurably to the overall maintenance mission of providing top-notch aircraft to the undergraduate pilot training program."

A salute is always appropriate outside as a military greeting to an officer of higher rank, but a return salute should not always be made. For example, bicycle riders need not render or return a salute because of the safety factor. But for courtesy, some type of acknowledgement, such as a nod and greeting, should be made. (Artwork by T. Reserves ready for 'birthday'

WASHINGTON (AFNS) - Air Force reservists throughout the United States have accepted the challenge to help clean-up America in preparation for the Nation's 200th birthday.

Assistant Secretary of Interior Johy Kyl presented Maj. Gen. Homer I. Lewis, chief of Air Force Reserve, with a "Johnny Horizon" litterbag. General Lewis pledged nationwide Reserve support to "help prevent litter, minimize pollution, clean-up the air, water and land, and use natural resources wisely."

The litterbag was developed to improve the appearance of the U.S. for the 1976 Bicentennial celebration.

Mr. Kyl said Air Force Reserve participation in the "Johnny Horizon '76" program represents a major, nationwide effort which will have far-reaching effects on improving the environment.

Reservists will participate in projects ranging from painting buildings and cleaning-up land to teaching inner-city youth about the environment and ecology.

"Reservists generally live in the area where they are assigned," General Lewis said, "and by working independently or as a unit, they will make major contributions to their own community and, in turn, for the nation."

Air Force Reserve units have used their equipment and skills to improve local and national landmarks in the United States in the past.

For example, a Reserve civil engineering flight from Homestead AFB, Fla., spent two weeks in Everglades National Park, clearing and improving selected areas for park visitors.

The same unit also made significant improvements to historic Ft. Jefferson on the Dry Tortugas Islands, off the coast of Florida. The installation is the largest of the 19th century American coastal forts.

Dear Colonel Bissell

I want to say again how much I appreciated your courtesy and thoughtfulness during the visit of the SAC Orientation Briefing Team to your Flying Training Wing this week.

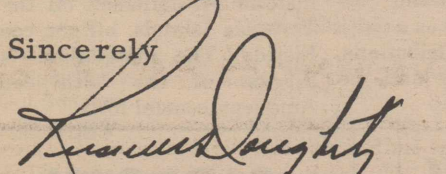

Your personal comments and the opportunity to observe the flying operations at Reese were useful, informative and very much appreciated, as was the tour of your fine facilities. Also, I enjoyed meeting and visiting with various members of your staff at the pleasant luncheon in that outstanding new club facility. I hope you will relay my thanks to all your staff and will tell them how much I enjoyed my day with the 64th FTW.

Additionally, I want to ask you to pass my thanks to: Major Cason for his tour through the T-38 docks; Captain Mogilewicz and SMSgt Harb for their explanation of your Tower operation; and Lt Colonel Gibler for allowing me the chance to visit informally with his instructors and students of the 54th FTS.

I thought the officers specifically involved with our visit were professional, thorough and courteous throughout our stay. Major Hart, your executive officer, and Captain Ashton, the project officer, did a fine job for us, and their efforts were sincerely appreciated.

Thank you for your hospitality and your sincere welcome to Reese ... best wishes for continuing success to you and all the men and women of the 64th FTW.

Children go through a period when its great fun to them to call a stranger and say, "This is the Electric Company, we are checking on a power loss. Is your refrigerator running?" When you answered "Yes," you receive, "Well you better catch it; it's running out the back door."

Likewise, teenage girls are known to randomly dial and, if a woman answers, pretend to be having an affair with the woman's husband.

These are nuisance calls which are harmless. The best advice for this type call is to simply hang up. Nothing should be said to invite a return call. The prankster will soon get tired of a person who does not want to play along and the calls will stop.

Obscene calls represent abnormal behavior that could be dangerous. People who make obscene calls find gratification from the response of the recipient, so the best response is to hang up directly. The obscene call is designed to infuriate or scare the victim. If the caller enjoys the victim's reaction, he will keep calling. Citizens may change their phone number and never list "Mrs." or "Miss" in the telephone directory.

Despite its seriousness, one obscene call is usually not enough to warrant a thorough police investigation, other than taking the report. If the obscene calls persist, a thorough police investigation will be started. An important step is for the citizen to note the times the calls are received and persons present at the time. This will show a pattern and make the call easier to trace. Precise times are required for use as evidence against the apprehended suspects.

As stated earlier, upon receiving a prank or obscene call, immediately hang up. It's the best deterrent.

You can get a lot out of the Air Force even if you're getting out of the Air Force.

All the benefits and advantages of Air Force life don't have to end when you leave active duty. Because many of them continue when you join the Air Force Reserve.

Benefits like a handy second income to supplement your civilian earnings. The chance to learn new skills or keep old ones in working order. And the opportunity to earn raises and promotions. And where else have you heard of a part-time job with retirement benefits? We're looking for Reservists in many areas. Like Aero-medical Technicians... Civil Engineers... Loadmasters ... and Cooks, just to mention a few.

One weekend a month and two weeks active duty each year make it possible for you to keep those Air Force benefits going on and on. For more information contact the Career Counselor at your CBPO, or just send in the coupon.

AF needs to lower officer level further

WASHINGTON (AFNS) - The President's budget for fiscal year 1976 includes a reduction of approximately 4,500 Air Force officers below the end strength for fiscal year 1975. Projections of normal losses and planned voluntary programs do not provide a capability to reach the required fiscal year 1976 end strength.

At current budgetary levels, the projected fiscal year 1976 reduction-in-force (RIF) could be as large as 1,200 to 2,200 depending upon the results of other loss-inducing programs. As a result, Air Force has found it necessary to identify 512 Reserve officers for involuntary separation July 31, 1975. Any additional involuntary separations needed to reach the fiscal year 1976 end strength objective will occur later in the fiscal year.

The 512 officers were identified by the same November 1974 screening board that identified 621 officers for involuntary separation by June 27, 1975, to meet the fiscal year 1975 strength reduction.

Officers to be separated in July include Reserve officers with active military service dates between Aug. 1, 1957, and June 30, 1972. Affected officers were notified Feb. 24.

NCOA to aid Special Olympics

The Mark T. Kuykendall Chapter of the NCO Association will take part in the NCOA Run for the Special Olympics.

Nearly 3,000 members of the NCOA will run relay with torch in hand over a route laid out from Washington D.C. to Houston and from Long Beach, Calif., to Houston.

The marathon run was conceived by the NCOA in coordination with the Joseph P. Kennedy Foundation to attract the country's attention to the Special Olympics program for mentally retarded children. It will also raise funds to expand the program to include thousands more youngsters now standing on the sidelines.

NCOA members who want to take part in the Run are requested to contact TSgt. Kenneth Charles, Ext. 2353 or Lloyd Edwards, resident counselor, at 799-1252.

REESE RIDERS REPRESENTATIVE — Debbie De Rosa represents the Reese Riders equestrian club in the ABC Rodeo Queen contest. Debbie is the 15-year-old daughter of MSgt. (retired) Michael J. De Rosa and has been on and around horses since the age of three. The Rodeo is scheduled for Wednesday through March 22 in Lubbock. (U.S. Air Force Photo by Sgt. Buddy Lerch)

Overpayment not really big hazard

By Capt. Wayne C. Brunton
Accounting and Finance Officer

It is not really a hazard to be on Uncle Sam's payroll even if you find some day you are overpaid.

Don't let stories that it may take five or six months to have the whole mess straightened out worry you. The Military Pay Section of Accounting and Finance will do their best to see you never are overpaid. However, if you are, come see them right away. They can, in most cases, find a way to keep one overpayment from becoming a continuous problem.

If you want more information or are just skeptical, call Military Pay at Ext. 2192.

(This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U.S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.)

Q. The union I belong to just went on strike. I'm receiving unemployment payments now from a fund to which I contributed. Are these payments taxable?

A. Unemployment benefit payments you receive from a fund to which you voluntarily contribute, whether union established or established as a private, nonunion fund, are income only to the extent that they exceed your payments to the fund.

Q. My sister and I just started a joint savings account. Who pays the tax on the interest on our savings?

A. If two or more persons hold a savings account, bonds or other interest-producing property as joint tenants, tenants by the entirety, or tenants in common, the interest is considered received by each person to the extent that person is entitled under local law to a share of such interest. Each owner will report his or her share of such interest under the same method, whether cash or accrual, that he or she uses to report income.

Q. Can I exclude the first $100 of dividends I received as a result of shares I bought in a real estate investment trust?

A. No. Ordinary dividends received by shareholders of a real estate investment trust are nonqualifying dividends. They are included in the dividends reported on line 10a of Form 1040 or 1040A, U.S. Individual Income Tax Return. However, they do not qualify for the $100 dividend exclusion claimed on line 10b.

Q. What does an IRS service center do?

A. The functions of IRS service centers are to process tax returns and related documents and to maintain accountability records for Internal Revenue taxes collected within their respective regions. Typical activities include the processing, analysis, and accounting control of income tax returns, estimated tax returns, wage and excise tax returns, corporation tax returns, income information documents, and mailing of income tax forms to individual taxpayers. Service centers also plan, direct, and administer assigned audit functions. (An AFNS Feature)

WORLD-WIDE TRAVEL AGENCY

NEW LOOK — The Assignments Section of the Consolidated Base Personnel Office recently took on the look of a commercial travel agency when workers there brought posters to liven the place up. Signs were put up in the various parts of the office, designating "agents" for different types of assignments. (U.S. Air Force Photo by Sgt. Buddy Lerch)

'CAREERS' is path for reenlisting first-termers

RANDOLPH AFB, Tex. (AFNS) — Officials at the Air Force Military Personnel Center (AFMPC) say first-term airmen who want to reenlist, but haven't requested a job reservation under the career airman reenlistment reservation system (CAREERS), should act now.

"The Air Force doesn't intend to return to a free-flow reenlistment system," say officials. CAREERS is now the only way to enter the career force.

In the last three months of 1974, 8,300 airmen applied for career job reservations (CJR). More than 4,000 were approved and another 4,000 were placed on the waiting list.

Each of the airmen on the waiting list would have been surplus to the requirements of his career field if reenlisted under the previous system. Officials cite this as one indication of the effectiveness of the CAREERS program.

The airmen on the waiting list weren't surplus to Air Force's total requirements. There were 1,500 CJRs unfilled during the quarter that the waiting airmen could have filled through retraining.

By retraining to gain a skill for which there is a requirement, including some career fields in which a selective reenlistment bonus (SRB) is paid, an airman can make sure of staying in the Air Force, if he is other wise eligible.

About 19,300 first-term reenlistees are needed each year. Airmen who find the quota has been filled in their Air Force specialty code (AFSC) can apply for retraining in more than one shortage skill.

Retraining vacancies in all skills can be determined by referring to the U.S. Air Force Retraining Advisory. The advisory is continually updated to provide a current listing of specialties that are experiencing shortages.

Aerial team needs good enlisted men

The USAF Thunderbirds Air Demonstration Squadron needs highly qualified airmen to fill some challenging jobs.

Sergeants and staff sergeants in Air Force Specialty Codes (AFSCs) 231X2, 328X1, 421X2, 432X0 and 534X0 are needed to help out the Thunderbird mission. Also needed are sergeants, staff sergeants and technical sergeants in AFSCs 702X0 and 791X0.

All eligible and interested airmen are invited to apply now for the slots. For further information, contact the "travel agents" in the Airman Assignments Section of the Consolidated Base Personnel Office, Bldg. T-1. They may be reached at Ext. 2643.

RANDOLPH AFB, Tex. (AFNS) — With more than 1,000 jobs in 111 career fields required to perform its varied missions, the U.S. Air Force is one of the world's most diversified organizations.

KIDDIE MATINEE

'WILLIE WONKA' + 'CHARLOTTE'S WEB'

George C. Scott, who directed and starred with his wife Trish Van Devere in THE SAVAGE IS LOOSE which Scott produced on a jungle location near Puerto Vallarta, Mexico, confesses that working so closely with his wife had its difficult moments.

"Of course we differed from time to time," Scott says. "Trish is an independent creature — an artist, a thinker and completely creative. But we couldn't stay mad at one another for too long. There was no place to go except deeper into the jungle."

THE SAVAGE IS LOOSE marks the third time actress Trish Van Devere has appeared on screen with her husband George C. Scott — who also produced and directed the unusual three character drama filmed on location in Western Mexico. Though the honey haired actress eschews all talk of a permanent teaming with her gifted spouse, she allows that there are certain roles she'd jump at the chance to play with Scott if the opportunity ever arose. High on the list? A stage production of OTHELLO — with Scott as the jealous Moor opposite Trish's fair Desdemona.

A modern version of the classic horror film "Phantom of the Opera" kicks off this week's features at Simler Theater tonight.

The base theater shows movies at 7 p.m. Tuesday through Sunday. The special Saturday matinee begins weekly at 2 p.m. The ticket sales office opens 30 minutes before each showtime.

Tonight

Paul Williams and William Finley star in "Phantom of the Paradise." An aspiring rock composer has prepared a major new canata, only to have it stolen by the evil head of Death Records. The composer is imprisoned on a trumped-up drug charge and the record company head puts on the heavy canata, "The Paradise." Then the composer breaks prison to "haunt" the performance in the combination horror-comedy, rated PG.

Tomorrow Matinee and Evening

"Dark Star," starring Dan O'Bannon and Brian Narelle, tells of a 21st Century scoutship which travels far in advance of space colonists, destroying unstable planets in their path. The crew must stay in space until they use up all of their thermostellar bombs on the planets in the G-rated adventure.

Sunday

Two martial arts experts, one a man and a woman, join forces against Oriental Gangsters in "Sting of the Dragon Masters." Angela Mao is unbeatable and unbreakable as she and her male counterpart destroy their opponents with the type fighting that the Reese Karate Club uses, Tae Kwon Do. The violent film is rated R.

Tuesday

Jim Kelley of "Enter the Dragon" fame stars in the title role as "Black Belt Jones," a man who battles the Mafia to save a school of self-defense in L.A.'s Watts district. He and Gloria Hendry, a woman as skilled as he, unite to take on the gangsters in a sanitation department lot in the exciting R-rated film.

Wednesday

Robert Redford stars as the mysterious millionaire "The Great Gatsby" in the Roaring Twenties. He gives lavish parties which he seldom attends while rumors abound about his wealth. A long-time romance with Mia Farrow highlights the drama in the PG-rated show.

Thursday

Roger Moore is back as Agent James Bond in "The Man With the Golden Gun." The show is action packed and as gimmick-filled as any previous 007 feature, including a car which converts to an airplane, a solar gun and a fun-game room where the villain and Bond have a climactic duel. The spy film is rated PG.

at Open Messes

Dancing to the music of "The Roy Rogers Group" from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. and the New York steak for $4.45 start this week's schedule at the Officers' Open Mess. The group will play again tomorrow night, with the Prime Rib Dinner being served for $4.95.

Sunday the Pancake Hangar will be served from 10:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m.

Monday the all-you-can-eat Fried Chicken Buffet will be served with all the trimmings for $1.95. Tuesday features Chinese Night with chop suey served with steamed rice and crispy noodles for $1.95. Duplicate bridge will be held in the reception room at 7 p.m. that night.

Wednesday is Steak Night, offering a 12-ounce club steak with all the trimmings for $3.95. Thursday will have the Fish Fry Buffet — all-you-can-eat fish and extras for $1.95.

A new service for Officers' Mess members is the sale of 10-pound bags of ice for 50 cents. That service will begin soon.

Members are reminded that the Serendipity Singers will appear for two shows April 5 with no cover charge. The two shows are set for 9:45 and 11:45 p.m. Reservation for the Prime Rib Dinner are now being taken. Dinner will be served from 6 to 9 p.m. and the cost is $6.45 per person. Only 400 reservations are available and "Magenta" will provide dancing music.

The Seafood Platter for $3.25 and dancing afterwards to the music of "The Branded Four" begin this week's entertainment at the NCO Open Mess tonight.

Tomorrow night the Mexican Platter for $2.75 will be followed by Pete Morales and his dance band. Sunday and Thursday nights have Discotheque scheduled. Every Monday night the club features the all-you-can-eat Chicken Special for $2. Also every Monday night the Pinochle Tournament starts at 7 p.m.

Each Tuesday night during March the NCO Mess will offer Boss & Buddy Night, with two-for-one steak for $4.50.

TOUR PROGRAM — The Reese tour program caters to a wide audience. Capt. Jack Cusano, above right, explains the need for pressurized oxygen to a member of the South Plains Area Radio Kontrol Society (SPARKS), Herman Van Der Mark. Van Der Mark is an exchange student at Texas Tech University from Denmark and was one of 20 who toured the Aerospace Physiology Training Unit Monday. Below, SSgt. Allen R. Henneman, rescue truck crew chief, explains the Reese Fire Department mission to children of the Lubbock Parkway Neighborhood Center. Reese's Information Division has conducted 20 base tours this year, which included 118 adults and 307 children. (U.S. Air Force Photos by Sergeants Jeff King and Terry Crooks)

Black Culture Club elects new officers at meeting

Elections for the Black Culture Club were held Feb. 25. The new officers then presented short talks on "Unity" as well as their plans for the Reese organization.

Elected as president was MSgt. Arnold Mathews. The new vice-president is A1C Patricia Holley. Named secretary was SSgt. Zack Davis and the new sergeant-at-arms is Sgt. Victor Bradley.

The theme of the meeting that day was "Rebirth in Soul." Sergeant Mathews and Airman Holley talked about "Unity" as well as education in military standards for young members to help them adapt more quickly. Sergeants Mathews also stressed the need for education in black history at Reese and in the Lubbock community.

Airman Holley added, "We sometimes use the expression, 'I take care of myself first and then it is possible for me to help others, so we will strive to make ourselves stronger here at Reese. After we fortify ourselves, we can be stronger in the community.'"

In order to carry out the goal of the Black Culture Club, they need the support of everyone at Reese. Interested people may join at any time. Meetings are held on the first and third Tuesdays of each month.

Many things have been said about the Black Culture Club. But the purpose of the club was expressed by Airman Holley, "We are here to obtain more unity among our brothers and sisters."

News Briefs

Reese Officers' Wives Club officials recently announced events planned for their MIA (missing in action) Awareness Week. Tickets will go on sale in front of the main exchange Sunday for the MIA dinner which is set for 6:30 p.m., April 3. Cost for the dinner will be $4.55 per person. Tickets will be sold through March 22. Other plans include a letter-writing assistance booth at the South Plains Mall April 4 and 5 and the planting of a "Freedom Tree" in front of wing headquarters April 4.

The first of three prototype airborne and warning control system (AWACS) aircraft made its first flight recently. AWACS is being developed by the Air Force to provide airborne surveillance for command and control of military forces. The remaining two prototype AWACS aircraft will begin flying later this year or early in 1976.

Cub Scout Pack 548 will hold its monthly meeting at 3 p.m., Sunday in the cafeteria of the Reese Elementary School. An Easter Egg Hunt will be the highlight of the meeting. It will be followed by a pot luck supper. Den leaders will be asking parents to bring certain dishes. In addition, parents should bring five decorated eggs for each Cub Scout in the family. As usual, new Cubs may be registered following the meeting.

President Gerald R. Ford extended the clemency program for draft evaders and deserters until March 31. This is the second time the President has ordered an extension to this program. Individuals desiring more information should call or write the Presidential Clemency Board, The White House, Washington, D.C.

A demonstration of office machines will be held at 1:30 p.m., today in the conference room of Bldg. T-1. All interested persons are invited, especially those who have new items or are planning to receive new equipment soon.

The Secretary of Defense announced that two unified commands will be reorganized. Both Alaskan Air Command (ALCOM) and the Continental Air Defense Command (CONAD) will be closed. The ALCOM and CONAD duties will be picked up by the Alaskan Air Command and the North American Air Defense Command. The changes are part of the Defense Department effort to streamline and consolidate air defense activities.

There will be an open house of the recently completed Caprock Girl Scout Service Center from 10 a.m. until 4 p.m. tomorrow and from 1 until 4 p.m., Sunday. The $150,000 complex is located at 2567 74th Street in Lubbock, near Time D.C. Everyone at Reese is invited.

Military "dog tags", as they have been known to millions of American servicemen, are becoming part of military history for most new members of the Air Force. Tags will now only be issued to those people who are assigned duty as aircrew members or those participating in actual or simulated combat. The change is a result of an idea submitted in the military suggestion program.

The Library Lunch Bunch at 12:15 p.m., Tuesday, will be treated with humorous anecdotes from Mrs. Maomi Moore on the subject of old age. She will present excerpts from a book she is writing on the subject. Admission is free and the meeting will be held at the George and Helen Mahon Library at 1306 Ninth Street in Lubbock.

An open forum on the doctrines and beliefs of the Orthodox Presbyterian Church will be held at 7:30 tonight at the Plains National Bank building located at 5010 University in Lubbock. Speakers include Presbyterian ministers from across the United States. There is no admission charge and everyone at Reese is invited. Those attending are asked to use the tower entrance.

Women are now taking their place alongside pilots, engineers, radar operators and other electronics experts in the Lockheed EC-121 Warning Star flown at Homestead AFB, Fla. TSgt. Doreen Burgess was recently certified by the Aerospace Defense Command as a fully qualified search radar operator after successfully completing a checkride aboard an EC-121. She now wears the silver wings of an Air Force crewmember. (AFNS)

CAP squadron car wash offers clean car for $1

Does your car show signs of last week's dust storms? The Lubbock Ranger Squadron of the Civil Air Patrol might be able to help you out.

The CAP Squadron will sponsor a car wash at the Automotive Hobby Shop from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. tomorrow. A minimum of $1 will be charged for each car washed. All other donations will be gratefully accepted, according to CAP Squadron Commander SSgt. (CAP 1st Lt.) Gregory J. Basting of the T-37 Link Trainer Section.

The Squadron hopes to earn enough through the car wash to help supply their van with first aid and radio equipment for search and rescue.

The Ranger Squadron is now involved in a recruiting drive to enlarge the group. Everyone (especially those from age 13 to 18) who are interested are invited to go by the Link Trainer Section, Bldg. 955, and talk to Sergeant Basting. He has information about CAP for both cadets and senior members. His duty extension is 2281.

Gym relates items of athletic interests

The base Gym has announced some items of interest to Reese athletes.

The Gym will be closed March 19-23 for painting of the floor.

The varsity slow pitch softball team is getting started, and is holding practices at 5 p.m. Mondays and Wednesdays on the diamond just off War Highway behind the USAF Hospital. All are invited to try out for the team. Meanwhile, varsity fast pitch signups will begin today at the Gym.

Women's exercise classes begin at 9 a.m. on Mondays and Wednesdays. For more information on this program, call the Gym at Ext. 2207 or 2783.

Jeff Britton, 54th Flying Training Squadron (FTS) and Raul Martinez, 64th Air Base Group (ABGp), will represent Reese at the Air Training

Command Paddleball Tournament at Mather AFB, Calif. this weekend. They will compete in singles play and as a team in doubles competition. Britton beat Martinez for the base Championship locally. Good luck to these athletes!

The Joggers' Club is "running" along well. If you are interested in getting some of that flab off, call the Gym and ask them about the club.

Carles Coleman and Dan Alfson of the 54th FTS triumphed over Raul Martinez and Rod Wilson of ABGp March 6 in the Reese Doubles Paddleball Tournament. The winners went undefeated through the whole tourney against 25 teams. They upset Wilson-Martinez duo in 21-9 and 21-14 contests. The winners will also compete at Mather, leaving the base today.

Crew chief mission often misunderstood

By Capt. Mike Mahan

The crew chief is one of the most least understood people in the 64th Flying Training Wing.

The mission of the United States Air Force is "To Fly and Fight." The crew chief's mission is sometimes misleading. He, too, is the fighter — he fights the weather and time to produce the best aircraft to meet the mission. He is not limited strictly to the flightline, but can also be found in the Periodic Inspection Section.

The purpose of this article is to define his mission and describe the person who belongs to the 64th Organizational Maintenance Squadron.

Doctors have the Hippocratic Oath; mechanics have a Creed. Both deal with the lives of PEOPLE.

THE MECHANIC CREED

"On my honor I swear that I shall hold in sacred trust the rights and privileges conferred upon me as a qualified mechanic, knowing full well that the safety and lives of others are dependent upon my skill and judgement. I shall never knowingly subject others to risks which I would not be willing to assume for myself or for those dear to me. In discharging this trust, I pledge myself never to undertake work or approve work which I feel to be beyond the limits of my knowledge; nor shall I allow any non-qualified superior to persuade me to approve aircraft or equipment as airworthy against my better judgement; nor shall I permit my judgement to be influenced by money or other personal gain; nor shall I pass as airworthy aircraft or equipment about which I am in doubt, either as a result of direct inspection or uncertainty regarding the ability of others who have worked on it to accomplish their work satisfactorily. I realize the grave responsibility which is mine as a professional maintenance technician, to exercise my judgement on the airworthiness of aircraft and equipment. I, therefore, pledge unyielding adherence to these precepts for the advancement of aviation and for the dignity of my vocation."

The crew is trusted with two lives each time "his" aircraft takes off, the student's and the instructor's. He is also trusted with more than $800,000 worth of airplane for the Northrop T-38 Talon and $200,000 worth for the Cessna T-37 Tweety Bird. These lives and machines dictate his mission but do not describe the person.

Telling about the crew chief is hard because he is so complex. He is highly-educated. He has a deep-seeded passive approach to the so-called "establishment." He does not believe in false values. He will not allow his ideas to be suppressed. He believes in acceptance but not necessarily approval. He wants the people he works for to be warm, sensitive, understanding and honest. He believes that NCOs should have more authority, as they did in the "Brown Shoe Days." He believes the Air Force should be disciplined, but that discipline should be universal and analytical. In other words, he believes punishment should fit the crime.

The crew chief believes in laws which are just and is willing to suffer for going against unjust ones. He believes in himself — his skills and talents. He wants an open, honest answer to his questions and then decides whether to accept them before he commits himself.

He sometimes seems to be a radical but that is only because he questions values and customs which already existed.

That is his mission and that is the crew chief.

Klozik leads AF women entries in base Rolloff

By Sonny Serutan

The base team Rolloff has started and the bowlers are doing really well.

Terri Klozik led the Air Force women entries; she shot the 12-game course with a 1,986 total pinfall, averaging a fine 165.

The men, 24 strong, were led by Mel Wright 2,240 (186 average) and Howard Creek, 2,225-185. There are still 16 entries left in the Men's Division, with 24 games left to bowl at this writing. Bowling resumes at 3 p.m. Thursday and Friday.

Rather than listing the leagues that did not report scores, here are a few we did receive:

March 5 the Renegades watched as Nancy Anderson stole the whole show with a 172 game, 449 series. One of our new bowlers, Janie Perry, had a 168 game. How about that?

Here is a late arrival: the Reesette League March 3 had Betty Payne with a 203 game - 538 series and Marie Buck had a 215 game - 523 series.

The Late Show on the night of March 6 had Skip McGarrigle (bless him) with a 199-573 and Craig

Abbott (better known as Patricia's dad) had a 171-461.

Carole Stano (Bill the Hat's wife) had a 168-431. Karen Moerbe had a 173-422.

In the Cotton Pickers Mixed Doubles the night of March 7 had Betty Payne bowling a 204 with a 512 series. For the men, Fred Sadler bowled a 224 while Dennis Cook scored a 579 series.

In the American Junior Bowling Congress, the Junior-Senior League had some really good bowling. Randy Turner had a 226-589, Steve McCarter had a 198-417 and Ken Mele had a 190.

The young ladies came roaring back. Cindy Cook had a 158 and 410 series, Patty Johnson, 154-399 and Cha Cha Johnson, 140-345.

You guessed it — we just missed again. We almost had a really great act but the Fates went against us again. We had a human cannonball all set to appear — you know, a guy who gets shot out of a cannon. Well, some wise guy put too much gun powder in the breech and . . . well, when last seen he was at 25,000 feet heading for Houston.

Sonny Says: "Be sure you identify your own faults before you identify those of others."

Whites win over Green in cage play

By Phil Smith

David Perry, Jason Sterling and Steve Davis sparked the Whites to a second-half rally and 11-7 victory over the Big Green Saturday in Youth Basketball League action Saturday.

Perry scored five points, Sterling four and Davis put in two for the winners' first victory.

The Big Green played the second half without their star center, Randall Wilson (three points), who was injured going for a loose ball. Eddie Farnington took scoring honors for the Green, netting four points.

Then the Blues overcame a tight defense for three quarters to defeat the Red machine 32-14. Brooks Benford led the winners with nine points. With the score 14-9 at the end of the third quarter, Coach Richard James let his warriors loose and they responded with 18 points and their third straight victory.

Thomas Pendleton paced the Red scoring with four points.

SPIKE! — Bill Bendele prepares to land only a split-second after sending the volleyball rocketing toward the floor on the other side of the net during a practice game Monday night. The game was between the base volleyball team and the squad from the 54th Flying Training Squadron. Volleyball action officially got under way with two intramural games Monday. Fraud men never take vacations

(Editor's note: The following article was provided by the Attorney General of Texas through the Reese Judge Advocate's Office. It is one of a series of articles to alert Reese consumers so that they may have their full buying power.)

Although the federal mail fraud statute — one of our oldest consumer protection laws — has been on the books for 99 years, the fertile minds of confidence men keep producing schemes that lead to consumer disappointments and law enforcement actions.

One of the most famous of mail frauds was the simplest. The promoter advertised in newspapers and magazines: "Last Chance. Send $1." His postoffice box number followed.

By the time government officials put a halt to that, the fellow had gathered in $200,000 worth of dollars which had been rushed by mail by people who did not want to miss out on that "last chance." No charges were filed, however, since the advertiser had not misrepresented anything, and had not promised anything he did not deliver.

Most of the frauds which are started cost the victims much more — not only in money, but in terms of time and effort.

Among the most vicious, I believe, are the fake job promises.

'Job Opportunities'

The Attorney General's Consumer Protection Division has received complaints from persons who followed through on advertisements about employment guidance, only to have their hopes dashed. Typically, the advertiser offers information about "job opportunities" to the person who will send $3 or $4 to learn more.

In some cases, the mailing of the money is the last episode, but the average consumer just chalks the loss off to experience.

Other schemes are more complicated, and more lucrative. They may involve a notice that the sender of the original fee has been "accepted," and for a couple of dollars more, he or she is urged to return an "application" to rush along the referral process.

Real Disappointment

If the consumer does not hear any more after that, real disappointment sets in. By then enough time and effort and hope has been invested that the person really feels cheated, and turns to an agency such as our Consumer Protection Division, or a county or district attorney, or the U.S. Postal Inspector.

While enforcement of the federal mail fraud statute is a function of the postal service, deceptive advertising is illegal under the Texas Deceptive Practices-Consumer Protection Act as well, and our state and county prosecutors can take action.

Many Twists

Another advertised practice to beware of is the "learn-at-home" or

"work-at-home" plan which promises you fabulous financial rewards if you will send in some money to learn how to self salve, raise minks, write advertising copy — there are many twists to this.

Usually, you are required to buy some "materials" for the study or manufacture described.

Remember that there is no easy way to learn at home or to earn at home. The money and time you spend will be your own, and there is no guarantee that your efforts will sell.

We know that some reputable schools and "cottage" manufacturing industries do provide real educational services and parttime employment on a mail-order basis. The fraud operator is banking on your confidence in the honest ventures when he advertises his.

Worst Kind

Deceptive consumer practices always have seemed to me to be the worst sort of fraud.

But at a time when inflation, economic distress and unemployment are major problems, cruel misrepresentations of learning and earning plans are especially outrageous.

If you have any doubts, or complaints, do notify the Attorney General's Consumer Protection Division office in Austin, Houston, El Paso, Lubbock, San Antonio or Dallas, or your Better Business Bureau, or county or district attorney.

AAFES accepting coupons

DALLAS (AFNS) - Inflation being what it is today, few shoppers can afford to pass up savings beyond those normally realized through purchases at base exchanges.

The Army and Air Force Exchange Service (AAFES) reminds patrons it will redeem those popular cents-off merchandise coupons offered through the mail, media or in merchandise packages.

Budget-wise shoppers can use the coupons just like money and enjoy substantial savings for nationally known brand name items. The coupons should be presented at the time of purchase as is the practice at commercial outlets.

Although AAFES has honored cents-off coupons since 1972 when the coupons-saving started, the program never has really caught on at the exchange because the military shopper seems to equate coupon redemption with outlets or special promotions in the commercial sector.

The Volvo 244

THE EVOLUTIONARY NEW VOLVO FOR 1975.

Between smaller big cars, bigger small cars and smaller small cars, car makers have introduced a lot of "revolutionary" new cars this year.

But before you rush out to finance a revolution, consider the 1975 Volvo 240.

Years of careful evolution have created a car totally thought-out, from energy-absorbing bumper to energy-absorbing bumper.

Consider the Volvo windshield wiper. On most cars, wiper blades are shiny. And the shine can end up in your eyes. To avoid this glaring fault, Volvo paints them matte black.

All cars have head rests. Volvo's head rests have openings so you can see behind you better.

So you can see beside you better, Volvo has another thought. Side window defoggers.

Not even the gas cap has gone unnoticed. It's red, so it's hard to lose. So it's less likely to be misplaced, we provide a place to put it: a holder behind the door.

When you add all these thoughtful little touches to Volvo's thoughtful big touches—fuel injection, rack and pinion steering,

- Top Trade-in allowances
- LNB Financing available
- Complete inventory
- Lease plan available

4-wheel power disc brakes, spring-strut front suspension, 12 outlet heating and ventilation, infinitely adjustable bucket seats with lumbar supports, child-proof rear door locks, steel belted radials, rear window defroster—you have a car which some people might consider revolutionary.

Left to right: the Volvo 144 (1966); the Volvo 122 (1961); the Volvo 544 (1958).

But to us it's simply a Volvo. A car which has evolved through years of careful improvement into what it is today.

And what that is, is perhaps the world's most carefully thought-out car.

It's not surprising that a car like this would appeal to thoughtful people.

And the people who buy Volvos are thoughtful, indeed.

87% of them have been to college. The other 13% are just plain smart.

Carol Gladden, Reese OER monitor, looks over an officer effectiveness report with Lt. Col. C.W. McCoy, Personnel chief. She recently received the "ATC CBPO Action Award — 1974" for her outstanding record accurate and timely reports. Carol said, "I want to thank all the supervisors and secretaries on the base; they are the ones who really deserve the award." (U.S. Air Force Photo by Sgt. Terry Crooks)

THE BEHIND MAN THE MISSION

A1C Brian McCauley has been a procurement specialist with the Reese Procurement Division for more than two years. Several times he has had to assume duties as Chief of the Division's Control Section, according to his supervisor, MSgt. Mel Wright, and showed "strong managerial abilities in working with Procurement customers and vendors alike." Airman McCauley enjoys playing guitar and furthering his education by attending South Plains College. (U.S. Air Force Photo by Sgt. Buddy Lerch)

Pilots prepare for SOS trip

By 1st Lt. Tom Salmi

The squadron will be well represented at Squadron Officer School (SOS) at Maxwell AFB, Ala.

Heading for SOS soon are Captains Mike Lacey, Eddie Myers, Dennis "Ox" Oxelgren and Jerry Prather.

Two members of the 35th Flying Training Squadron have been instrumental in organizing one of Lubbock's newest clubs. First Lt. Steve LeVan and 1st Lt. Larry Lahm can often be found working for the South Plains Sighthound Club in their spare time. The club promotes sighthound lure coursing and actual hunting for rabbits and

'Well done' goes to 'G' Flight

By 1st Lt. Phil Baker

Hi, sports fans!

A well-done award to "G" Flight and the efforts put forth at the Squadron party March 7.

There was something for everyone of all ages to do and everyone enjoyed themselves (a lot like "good time was had by all"). Only one complaint was heard. That was from 1st Lt. Phil Schoewe. It seems Phil thinks $2,100 will not buy what it used to.

"F" Flight had a surprise visit last week by the Air Force BLXQPRE, Gen. I.E. Shescreamed. The general made presentations at "F's" weekly "Turkey of the Week" award ceremony. Noteworthy was the presentation of two Distinguished Silver Hams to 2nd Lieutenants "Running" Fox (no relation to the Flight), and "Baby" Hughey for their "meritorious achievement while on a cross-country." Water is scarce in the desert, but does it cost $40 to take a shower?

Congratulations to 1st Lt. (captain selectee) Rick Sullivan on his move to Standardization/Evaluation. When interviewed on his new job, Sully said that they tricked him (they are good at that) right off the bat.

Speaking of Stan/Eval, did everyone hear about Capt. Mel Ropelands X-C last weekend? If not, be sure and ask him for the details! — P.B.

coyotes with other dogs.

Steve serves as vice-president and huntmaster for the club. Larry is the treasurer and lure operator. The club's membership has been increasing and the club hopes to sponsor many more events.

Ann. Terran Harrison was presented the Crew Chief of the Month award at our March Commander's Call. She is assigned to "A" Flight. Good work!

Maj. Jerome Thies has come to the Squadron from the Air Force Academy where he was a math instructor. He is currently in the pre-instructor pilot training program.

Congratulations this week to Capt. John Wesley and his wife, Elsie, on the birth of their daughter.

NEIGHBOR-SAVERS... Save a Lot of People!

It's what your money DOES, in a Bank of the West NEIGHBOR-SAVER savings account, that makes you a Neighbor-Saver. Suppose, a neighbor needs to buy a car and comes to Bank of the West to set up the financing.

Well, he's going to make some car dealer real happy. And he's going to make the people who work there happy, too. When they sell cars, they don't lay people off. And then those people can go out and spend the same money again. It was YOUR money that did all this good - some of it to YOURSELF! And all the time, you're being PAID to be a NEIGHBOR-SAVER - even $85 a month can grow to $11,078.20* in just 8½ years! And that's not a bad reward for helping Lubbock and America to stay strong.
