

WW II vets gather tomorrow for reunion

Hundreds of people who were assigned to Lubbock and South Plains Army Air Fields during World War II will visit Reese tomorrow for a reunion.

The Honorable George H. Mahon, Congressman from the 19th Congressional District, will be the guest speaker at the 11 a.m. opening program in Simler Theater. Bob Nash, assistant station manager for KFYO-Radio, will introduce speakers and distinguished guests.

A barbeque at the base Picnic Grounds will follow the formal activities. The visitor will be given tours of the base throughout the afternoon. Stops will be the 54th Flying Training Squadron, Simulator Training Branch, Hangar 82 and the 64th Student Squadron.

More than 100 photographs of people, planes and places will depict life at the two fields during the war years. Yearbooks and 1945 base newspaper copies will also be available for viewing. The materials were furnished by Gertrude Graham, Gordon Treadaway, "The Lubbock Avalanche-Journal" and the Reese Information Division. Most of the photographic enlargements were produced by the base Photo Lab.

FROM THE TRAIL BOSS...

"It is not enough to just push them out the door in the morning so that they arrive at school on time."

Col. Edward Mendel
Wing Commander

Next week it's back-to-school time again, and with the return of our children to the classroom, we must consider a couple of very pertinent thoughts — their safety and the quality of education they receive.

With the advent of school, hundreds of our young people will be moving on foot and bicycle through Reese Village across 4th Street during the morning rush hour and at other times throughout the day. Volunteers will normally be present to halt traffic and escort the children across the highway. However, it will be increasingly important for each of us to obey speed limit signs, watch for traffic directions, and expect unprogrammed actions by our children.

Naturally, your attention should not be confined to the area around the school but also to all areas where children may be present. The responsibility for safety falls in two areas. One of these is upon the driver, who must be ever-watchful for the unexpected. The other falls upon the parents, who must keep reminding their children about the need for safety and teach them safety practices. Do not neglect your responsibilities — the lives of our youngsters are at stake!

We all share in the responsibility for seeing that our children are provided the type education that will prepare them to make their way in this competitive world. It is not enough to just push them out the door in the morning so that they arrive at school on time. We must be interested in what occurs at school. We also must be prepared to take an active part with school authorities to improve the learning environment to obtain that high-quality education for our children.

We must be vocal in communicating our thoughts to the school staff and steadfast in our requests for responsive action from them. While holding firm on the issue of high standards, we must also do our part by making sure the deportment of our children is above reproach — that we are welcomed members of the school community. Each parent shares in this task and should be prepared to be an active participant in these efforts.

Mixing drugs with alcohol fatal mistake

Bob woke up with the sniffles Friday morning, and killed himself and two other people Friday night.

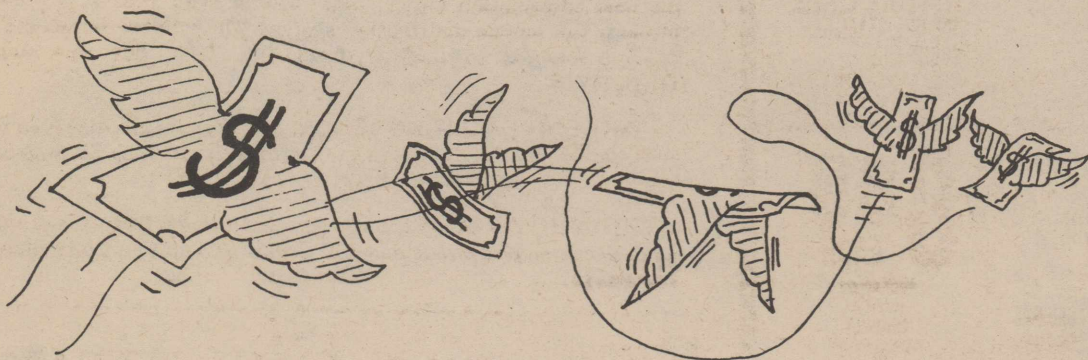

The only things that tied these two events together were a couple of cold tablets, a few cocktails at a party, and the drive home that came to an abrupt end.

Bob and the two strangers he collided with at a combined speed of 120 miles per hour were the victims of the "synergistic" effect of drugs combined with alcohol. This means the joint action of drugs which, when taken together, increase each others' potency.

It is what made a normally conscientious driver like Bob, who never drank to excess, exhibit all the behavioral characteristics of the town drunk, and kill with a lethal weapon — his car.

It can happen to anyone who takes frequent doses of so-called harmless drugs, usually for valid reasons and frequently under a doctor's care. A person taking several types of medication for different ailments is even more of a risk. Add only a small amount of alcohol and the results can be tragic.

Such mind-affecting drugs as diet pills, tranquilizers, antihistamines, barbiturates, and bromides can impair a driver's ability to function properly on the highway. Add even a moderate amount of alcohol, and the driver's perception of time and space is altered and his driving equilibrium is thrown off. Reflexes are slowed, speech is slurred, vision is impaired, and walking is affected.

Willpower, budgeting key to successful saving plan

By David R. Barr
Scott AFB, III.

If a person really wants to save money, he must first understand himself. Sound like a form of "passing the buck?" Not really.

Some people are "wasters" and don't even know it. This is the man who doesn't get the last "Fzzzz" from the shaving cream can or the woman who tosses out shoes because she is "tired of them." How about the people who have the habit of eating that sandwich before bed (hungry or not), who make a separate trip to the base exchange rather than when they go to other places nearby, who buy that extra round of drinks because "Charlie always buys the last one," or who watch TV at night only to be ritually awakened by the "off the air" hum that follows the station's signoff? These are the wasters — and their number includes almost everyone in one way or another.

Some people just fail to obey the law of supply and demand. If you earn $400 a month, that is supply. If you spend $400 a month, that is demand — all of it. If you want to save money, you just can't do it if you plan to spend all that you earn. You must establish priorities and stick by them. Decide what comes first. If you are to save $50 a month, set aside the first $50 of your $400, then force yourself to live on the remaining $350.

At this point you probably say, "I can't live on that amount." If you are determined to save money, you can.

Establish a budget. Some people do this with a book, each page containing the amount of money to be used for specified things.

Set aside money in the amounts actually needed (and "needed" is the key) in three priorities: prime needs, important needs, and wants.

Prime needs include food, clothing, and shelter as well as the supporting items such as gas, electricity, water, etc. For families, medical and dental care of dependents and education for children should also be included.

Important needs are such things as transportation, laundry, debt payment, etc.

Wants should include entertainment, hobbies, cigarettes, or any other "goodies" which are not day-to-day survival necessities.

Unfortunately, after this is done, you will probably think of things you forgot. Put them in the correct category — then stick to that budget without exception.

Reese people receive commander's thanks

By Col. Richard A. Ingram
Commander 64th Air Base Group

I would like to take this opportunity to generally answer several Care Line inquiries concerning the labor strike which affected the use of the gates at Reese recently.

First, the restricting of usage for the golf course gate to the base was deemed necessary so that the construction worker's strike would not adversely effect the mission of the Wing. For example, if the strike picket line had been allowed to stand at both gates, then the truck lines delivering milk and other commodities to the commissary would not have been able to cross the picket line. Likewise, the same would have been true for merchandise for the Exchange and JP-4 fuel for the jet aircraft.

With the use of one gate the affected workers and suppliers of the construction companies, the picket line was then controlled.

The second point that should be addressed is that when a gate was to be designated for the exclusive use of the strike, then, under recent Supreme Court rulings, and those of the National Labor Relations Board, that gate must be restricted to the use of that group only. Therefore, none other than employees of the firms affected by the strike can use the gate, including military personnel.

The carrying on of a peaceful strike by this Union is a right that free people have and is one which the Armed Forces of the United States is entrusted to protect. In conjunction with that charter, the Air Force at Reese did not and will not interfere with the relationship that the contracting agency, the Corps of Engineers, has with their contractor or employees.

In this regard, I would like to thank each and every member of the Reese team for their understanding and outstanding cooperation during this period. I realize that the traffic lines have been long at times, but the adjustment that has been made bespeaks of the outstanding personnel of the Wing. Again, thanks to one and all!

If you ask around, people — particularly salesmen — will tell you that the three-hundred-dollar range in stereo gear will get you something okay, so-so, not-so-bad, or maybe pretty-good-for-the-money. But we are here to tell you that for $299 you can put together a stereo system that sounds, and is, really stupendous.

The system hinges on the Frazier Super Midget speakers, which not only sound wonderful in and of themselves, for a lot less than other speakers, but need less expensive equipment than other speakers to do it. The Super Midgets are a proven product of people who have more than twenty years background in making better and better speakers for less and less money. These speakers manage to sound very close in every way to the best you can do at any price. And they also look great with real walnut cabinetry instead of the usual low-cost imitation wood-grain enclosure.

To get the kind of sound the Super Midgets have to offer at such low cost, we've picked the Sansui 221 AM-FM stereo receiver. It is a really clean-sounding piece of equipment that can stir the Super Midgets up to lease-breaking levels (if wanted or needed) and bring in all the radio stations (AM and FM) you want to hear.

To play records, we've chosen the Garrard 42M automatic turntable—smooth, dependable, and kind to your records — with the Pickering V15/ATE4 magnetic cartridge and diamond stylids.

Pilots earn top rating in check rides

Each instructor pilot on Reese is required to take at least two evaluations each year with the local Standardization/Evaluation Division.

The purpose of these evaluations is to insure both flying and instructing proficiency.

First Lt. Rick Chabot, attached to the 54th Flying Training Squadron (FTS), flying the Northrup T-38 Talon, completed an outstanding evaluation for July.

Capt. John Browning, and First Lieutenants Marty Amelung and Eric Root, 35th FTS, flying the Cessna T-37 Tweety Bird, both also received an outstanding evaluation for July.

Bradshaw praises Lieutenant LeVan for varied abilities

First Lt. Steven D. LeVan has been selected as the 35th Flying Training Squadron's Instructor Pilot of the Month for July.

As the Squadron Cost Center manager, Lieutenant LeVan is directly responsible for the Squadron's equipment and supply accounts. He has performed nearly every additional duty in "A" Flight and, because of his "extensive experience," is presently the flight senior instructor pilot (IP), "Buddy IP" and the flight associate Stan/Eval officer. Also he is one of the Squadron's best senior Runway Supervisory Unit controllers, according to FTS Commander Lt. Col. Robert G. Bradshaw Jr. He always shows his "flexibility, outstanding judgement and ability to perform under stress," Colonel Bradshaw noted.

Besides his many flight duties, Lieutenant LeVan is also active in the community. He is vice president of the South Plains Sighthound Club, which is involved in showing and racing dogs. A great deal of his time is also spent developing strong community relations and working with the Methodist Youth Fellowship Council.

Colonel Bradshaw said "Few other instructors in this squadron have had such a positive effect on the teaching of students, new instructors, and the continuing improvement of the quality of training as Lieutenant LeVan. He is justly deserving of the Instructor Pilot of the Month award."

Civil Service proposal seeks flexible work schedules test

WASHINGTON (AFNS) - The Civil Service Commission has submitted a legislative proposal to permit controlled experiments with flexible and compressed work schedules in Federal agencies. The proposal would not reduce the present 40-hour work week for Federal employees.

The proposal would provide for a three-year test period. Alternatives to traditional work scheduling will determine what impact these schedules may have on such factors as efficiency of government operations, service to the public, mass transit facilities, and energy consumption.

Under the flexible work schedule concept, or "flexitime" as it is popularly called, a "core time" during which all employees must be on the job is established. An additional period of "flexible time" is also established during which the employee may choose the additional hours he or she wishes to work to complete the 40-hour week within the limits established by the employing organization.

The proposed bill would also provide for controlled experimentation with compressed work schedules, the most common form of which is the four-day 40-hour work week. In recognition of the fact that the longer day, which is characteristic of a four-day week, may be difficult for some employees such as older workers and those with child-care responsibilities, the bill contains a provision that would allow the employing agency to exempt any employee from participation in this type of experimentation, if it would result in personal hardship.

The Commission will have the responsibility for overall coordination among agencies involved in development of the criteria to be used for evaluation.

School bells ring in change for students

By Sgt. Jeff King

Some big changes are in store for students in the Frenship School District this year, according to Wyman Richey, assistant superintendent of schools.

This year, all four schools in the district will enter the "trimester" system. Reese Elementary, Casey Elementary, Frenship Junior High and Frenship High School will enter the new system when classes begin Wednesday.

Features

Richey pointed out some of the features of the trimester plan. "Our high school students will benefit the most. Rather than have study halls as often, they will have a chance to take more electives in the course of the school year. Students may change classes every 12 weeks instead of every 18 weeks and get report cards every six weeks instead of nine weeks."

He added that students in the lower grades would notice little change with the trimester plan.

Frenship schools, in the past, have had problems with teacher shortages. When asked if the problem arose this year, the assistant superintendent remarked, "No. As a matter of fact, we had about 250 applicants this year and only about 15 or 16 slots to fill. We were able to be pretty selective."

'Beefed-Up Sports'

The sports programs in Frenship schools this year will be "beefed up," according to Richey. Rather than the same coaches working with the junior high as well as the high school students, each school will have its own staff.

Registration for Frenship Schools begins Monday. Elementary and junior high school students will be taken care of Monday and high school students must complete registration Monday or Tuesday. Frenship school buses will be at Reese at 7:50 a.m., Monday to take students for registration. The buses will return before noon.

New or Transfer Students

Richey advises parents of new or transfer students to be sure to bring last year's report cards and grades as well as their shot and medical records. The schools will copy the shot record and it will be returned immediately.

At first glance, one may think the system needs to take a spelling lesson when trying to spell "Frenship." Richey explained the origin of the unique name. "Several years ago, all of these surrounding communities such as Hurlwood, Shallowater and others, got together to build a unified school district. Trying to decide on a name, we came up with 'Friendship.' Soon, we found out there was already a district by that name near Houston, and we wanted to keep the name, so we shortened it to 'Frenship.'"

So, the 2,100 students of the Frenship Schools will begin hitting the books Wednesday with some big changes in store. Richey concluded, "We think the trimester system will work very well for all. We're looking forward to a great school year."

Airmen needed for AC-130s at Korat

A need exists now at Korat Air Base, Thailand for enlisted members to serve on board Lockheed AC-130 Hercules aircraft. Airmen stationed in the continental U.S. (CONUS) who served before as enlisted fliers with the 16th Special Operations Squadron (SOS) in Thailand may apply. They may volunteer for return to flying duty and permanent change of station (PCS) assignment to Thailand. Reporting dates would be in the September-December 1975 time frame.

Airmen chosen for PCS assignment will be guaranteed flying status for their entire overseas tour. This is if they maintain prerequisites for flying and the Air Force still needs enlisted fliers. Those applying must have:

- Air Force Specialty Codes (AFSCs) 462X0, 431X1F or A113X0A.
  - served a prior tour with the 16th SOS in the above AFSCs as an illuminator operator, airborne weapons mechanic, or flight engineer.
  - grade of airman first class to senior master sergeant.
  - eligibility for PCS assignment.
- Base/CONUS residency waivers will be considered on an individual basis.

A small number of flying slots are

Breathing exercises help asthma sufferers

By SSgt. Charles V. Helvey
Physical Therapy

A program of special importance to parents whose children have asthma will be offered starting Sept. 24 at the Reese USAF Hospital.

These classes, which will be held from 5 to 6 p.m., are for children six to 14 years of age who have moderately severe or persistent asthma. These children, with instruction plus practice at home, can usually be taught to use their abdominal muscles to improve their breathing. They then learn to remain calm during asthma attacks and can often decrease the severity and length of the attacks.

The goals of this special program are:

- to teach the child the basic breathing exercises for the maximum use of respiratory muscles, especially the muscles of the diaphragm
- to show the child how to use these exercises to stop asthmatic episodes early
- to improve exercise tolerance and to correct postural defects and to help each child develop self-confidence.

Even though these breathing exercises will not cure asthma, they do provide a new and additional aid in the overall management program needed to prevent the recurrence of asthma in children.

Classes will be conducted by Sgt.

Coy Barfield and me and members of the Physical Therapy staff at the hospital. They will be conducted each Wednesday evening for 10 weeks.

Further information may be obtained from the Physical Therapy Clinic at 885-4571/4572, Ext. 222. Parents interested are asked to call because preregistration is required.

Women set welcome for newcomers

By Dot Kasik

The Reese Women of the Chapel, a group which combines both Protestant and Catholic women's concerns on base, will sponsor an Ice Cream Social to welcome newcomers at 1 p.m. Tuesday.

Homemade ice cream and assorted toppings highlight the menu. Hostesses for the event will be Mrs. Phyllis Ingram and Mrs. Kay Chase. Children are welcome to attend, and a free nursery will be provided for those children too young to attend.

A very special program is planned. The program, dubbed "Sounds of Music," will feature Chaplain (Maj.) James Millsap and his wife Sandy. It is being planned to go along with this year's Women of the Chapel theme, J(esus) — O(thers) — Y(ou)."

Please plan to be with us for the afternoon, especially if you are a newcomer. It will be a great time to meet some new people, get acquainted and perhaps get involved with some Chapel activities.

ATC bests AF energy saving goal

Thanks to the efforts of Reese personnel, Air Training Command has exceeded the Air Force energy conservation goals by using 10.8 per cent less aviation fuels, 21.2 per cent less utilities, and 15 per cent less non-utility related ground fuels for Fiscal Year 1975.

This is an "impressive accomplishment" and Reese personnel were commended by Wing Commander Col. Edward Mendel for their contributions. "However, our Fiscal Year 1976 efforts must be even greater," added Colonel Mendel. "We must continue seeking new and more effective measures to conserve energy," he concluded.

The base theater has shows at 8 p.m. Tuesday through Sunday. The Tuesday double feature will begin one hour earlier. The Saturday matinee will begin at 2 p.m.

Tonight

"Breakout" stars Charles Bronson, Robert Duvall and Jill Ireland. Robert Duvall is framed by his grandfather and sentenced to serve 28 years in a Mexican prison for a crime he never committed. His wife, Jill Ireland, enlists the aid of Bronson to help her husband escape. This film is rated PG, parental guidance suggested.

Commander's CARE Line

Village Garbage

I would like to report an unsanitary condition in the housing area. The trash out back has not been emptied for at least two weeks and the flies are bad. Stray dogs have gotten into the garbage and the odor is really bad right now. I thought it was the contractor's responsibility to get this taken away, regardless of the condition of his vehicles. I would sure appreciate somebody seeing to this within the next 12 to 24 hours, because this could be a health hazard.

I agree that unsanitary conditions like these should not be allowed to exist. Hoever, the problem in Reese Village was not brought to anyone's attention until June 27. Immediate action was then taken by Civil Engineering to remedy the situation and to notify the Procurement contract monitors. They tried to inform the contractor of the unsatisfactory service being provided but he could not be reached. In the meantime, the engineers made arrangements to provide limited interim garbage pickup service. Action is being taken against the contractor for failure to fulfill his contract. A new contract began July 1, but due to the backlog of refuse, it took several days for the new contractor to catch up. I regret that this condition grew to the point of becoming a health hazard due to contractor default. I have instructed Procurement and Civil Engineering to monitor the contract more closely so that this situation does not happen again. The new contractor is obliged to pick up trash in garbage cans, boxes or crates and has been picking up trash bags. Any other refuse outside these containers will not be picked up. Reese Village residents who want to dispose of other refuse may do so at the sanitary landfill from 8 a.m. to noon Mondays through Fridays.

Driver Course Unfair?

It is my understanding that the Driver Improvement Course is intended as an educational course, not as a punishment course. If it is an educational course, why are we required to attend from 4 to 6 p.m., one hour and 15 minutes past normal duty hours? I realize that there is no excuse for breaking the law; however, with the amount of traffic on the roads these days, it is considerably easier to make a traffic mistake. If an airman is given a traffic citation off base, he is fined by the civilian authorities, then he is again punished by the base. I believe that this is unfair. I think that if a citation is given while off base and not on duty the base should not take any action. The Driver Improvement Course should be set up to educate people who violate base driving laws.

Regardless of the time of day the course is conducted, many will be scheduled during off-duty time. As an example, Fire Department personnel work 24 hours on and 24 hours off. Organizational Maintenance Squadron has about one-third of their personnel on a shift other than 8 a.m. to 4:45 p.m. The time of day doesn't prevent it from being an educational program. As a matter of fact, most of the educational programs available on base are in the evening. The Air Force is interested in reducing accidents, fatalities and protecting its personnel. Since it does not do the driving for you, the Air Force can only attempt to insure that you, as a driver in our mobile society, have enough information to avoid accident potential situations. Furthermore, I think you fail to understand that you are a member of the Air Force 24 hours a day. The Air Force is concerned about your actions and well-being, both on and off duty. Should you be injured off duty and are unable to work, I expect it would be extremely unlikely that you would volunteer to pay for your medical expenses, and/or find a qualified volunteer to fill in at work during your absence. From our viewpoint, we would rather have you healthy at all times because we care about you as a person. If driver education will help, then so be it.

Retired pay inversion amendment: hold status

WASHINGTON (AFNS) - The Senate rejected Aug. 1, by a 48 to 42 margin, the Tower Amendment to the military procurement bill that provides legislative relief for the retired pay inversion problem. Previously, the U.S. House of Representatives had passed the bill by a 348 to 60 vote.

This means that the entire bill, including the retired pay inversion amendment, is in a hold status until the House and Senate conferees can reconvene to reconcile their differences.

The Tower Amendment provides that persons who retired after Jan. 1, 1971, but prior to enactment of the legislation, will have their retired pay recalculated. If appropriate, they will be entitled to an increase in retired pay on the effective date of the act.

Members who retire after enactment will be assured of retired pay which is at least equal to the same amount that they would receive had they retired at any point earlier in their career, subsequent to Jan. 1, 1971.

Captain Weimer earns medal

By 1st Lt. Wayne Hodges

Awards, special presentations, and even a medal highlight the activities in the 35th Flying Training Squadron this week.

Squadron Commander Lt. Col. Robert Bradshaw presented the Air Force Commendation Medal to Capt. Theron E. (Terry) Weimer in ceremonies during Commander's Call last week. Capt. Weimer was commended for his outstanding work in the 38th Tactical Airlift Squadron, 316th Tactical Airlift Wing, Langley AFB, Va. Congratulations are in order for Captain Weimer. We are certainly glad to have you in the Squadron.

First Lt. Steven D. LeVan has been selected as Instructor Pilot of the Month for the Month of July. Lieutenant LeVan is from "A" Flight, where he is currently the flight senior IP, associate Stan/Eval officer, Runway Supervisory Unit senior controller, and the Squadron Cost Center manager.

Colonel Bradshaw also announced that Sgt. George Kimble, "A" Flight, 64th Organizational Maintenance Squadron, had been selected "Crew Chief of the Month" for July. In addition, Colonel Bradshaw announced that Sgt. Ronald Boone had been selected "Link Instructor of the Quarter." Congratulations to you all!

Other Presentations

A number of other awards and presentations were also made at Commander's Call. Maj. Jerry Thies, a recent newcomer to the Squadron, received a special presentation made by Colonel Bradshaw from Lt. Col. Bob Hermanson, commander, 559th FTS at Randolph AFB, Tex. Major Thies was the outstanding graduate of Pilot Instructor Training Class 76-06. Major Thies comes to the Squadron following duty as a faculty member at the Air Force Academy.

Thank!

Plaques of appreciation to some departing members were also presented. First Lieutenants Ed Hayden and Ken Korsmo are now in the 64th Student Squadron as academic instructors. First Lt. John Taylor will be going to duties at Randolph AFB as an instructor at P.I.T. Capt. Dave Balsille will soon be leaving for duties in the Boeing KC-135 Stratotanker at Dyess AFB, Tex. And last, but not least, Capt. Ron Kuhl will be joining the "Harsh But Unfair" bunch across the street in Stan/Eval next week.

The next group of ROTC cadets should be here next week if current plans hold up. This is the last group scheduled for orientation flights at Reese this year. About 100 cadets from Mt. Home AFB, Idaho, will be here on Monday and Wednesday. With flying time at a premium it will be nice to get a few extra hours.

P-Qual Returns

T-37 "P-Qual" is returning to the Squadron. Although their office will remain in the Link trainer building, they will be under the administration of the 35th Capt. "Budge" Jessie is in charge, with instructors Capt. Gary Anderson and First Lieutenants Earl Smith and Andy LaFreniere. Glad to have ya'll back!

We overlooked one of our newcomers in last week's edition, so we certainly wanted to make sure we welcomed her to the Squadron this week. She is A1C Rosalind Davis, who will be working in Admin. She comes to us from the 64th Student Squadron. Welcome to the 35th! We're glad to have you.

Spider Bites It

Capt. Bill Zahn has been in "mourning" this past week. His tarantula died. Although it may have been due to the mention it received in last week's edition of THE ROUNDUP, it most probably succumbed to the repeated attacks it received from the giant grasshoppers, which were the mainstay of its diet. Captain Zahn commented at least he won't have to chase down its lunch every day now. After all, he did look a little silly chasing grasshoppers.

Would you believe it's now 1st Lt. Joe Dye. That's right, and he had a trip to the "welcome tank" to prove it. It's also rumored that it's about to be Capt. "Doc" Murdock, but we can't verify that. Maybe a trip to the tank would be alright for practice!

the rigors of Undergraduate Pilot Training to the tunes of John Phillip Sousa on the ramp. Then they received their aerospace wings from Maj. Gen. Winfield W. Scott in the base theater. We again wish them all the very best in their new assignments and welcome class 76-06 to "A" and "E" Flights to begin training in the WHITE ROCKET. At press time a few of the junior aviators had already taken to the blue and appeared eager to continue.

School of Typing and Coffee Bean Cultivation.

Hardship Tour

Maj. Ken Yeckley has been given a hardship assignment to Safety. We figure that after his exposure to the safe record of the 54th, he should do really well as the new head man in the Safety shop.

In order that Maj. Yeckley will have something to do, the 54th has seen fit to move Capt. Wayne Griffith to head the "Checkers." He replaces Capt. Kurt Anderson, who will be taking over Capt. James Nubers slot in the Operations complex.

That's about the whole ball of wax for this week. We would like to remind you that the Talon Staff welcomes comments, stories and news items and they can be submitted to the Talon Box in Bldg. 105 or by calling Ext. 2191.

Weakly Award

Coordination of the Week Award goes to an I.P. who wishes to remain unknown (as you read you will see why):

It seems this young officer was chosen to escort a colonel's wife to a parade. He arrived promptly in a staff car decked out in his "make an impression best" and drove her to the parade ground. There he smartly stepped from the car to open her door and was mortified and embarrassed to death to note that, as he left the driver's seat for the passenger door, the staff car departed over his foot. It is recommended that the car be put into park and brake secured prior to departing said vehicle to make an impression. Questions can be directed to Lt. ***** 4738th Tire Repair Unit, Restivezk, Artic Circle 26498.

Yours in news and gossip,
— Yossarian Minderbinder

These and other stories after this brief blank paragraph:

The stillness of the Squadron has been stopped and returned to normal as Maj. George "M.D." Wilson returned from the Reese "O" club to again bring order to the 54th.

Sports-Writing Effort

In the sports vein, we are proud to announce the arrival of a crack newsman to cover the sports beat for the Talon public. First Lt. Guy "Desenex Dispenser" Davis makes his debut with the following pulse-raising story:

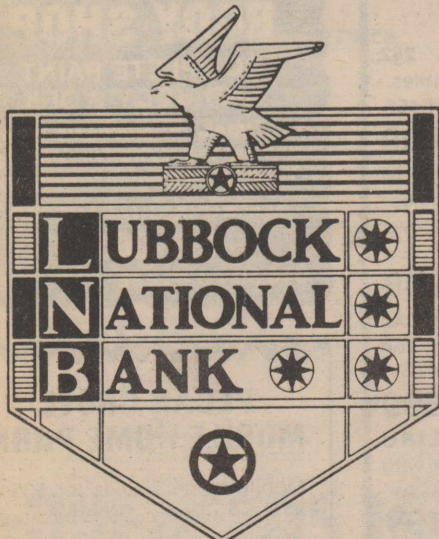

"DON ALFONNs — driVing katch wif the basses leded madethe 54thFIGHTERS win over ABGRP 3-1 in the basefast Pitch CHAMP ionship gane. Plthcher Dick Hall really baffl Ed the group ies with his curves and Faaast ball. A few days at the jim will take care of the curves Anyway . . . . . Don Luehm, Junoir Varsity Bastelaar, and Doug ALFSON led the TALON TAPPERS with the hits for this repeat win.

"Septober marks the start of Footballll ses youse guys get tuff and show up at practises which begin priddy soon. Contact Desenex DAVIS iffen you wants to play."

Nice try, Lieutenant Davis. We here at News Central are sure the articles will improve after your temporary duty to Juan Valdez's

LUXURY IS BUILT IN. NOT TACKED ON.

The luxury of a Volvo 164 isn't something you just see. It's something you feel.

You can smell the fine leather used to face the seats. And these seats are a luxury in themselves.

The fuel-injected engine is so smooth and quiet you may need the tachometer to tell you if you're in second or fourth gear. And there is no extra charge for the overdrive or automatic transmission, or the striking metallic finishes.

It's overall styling is, if anything, over understated. The Volvo 164 simply states, "sense."

Reese's Youth Center

Reese Youth Activities benefits from CFC drive

Reese Youth Activities is one of many recipients of contributions made to the Combined Federal Campaign (CFC).

For Fiscal Year 1976 Reese Youth Activities will receive $7,500 from the CFC. Youth Activities are based in the Youth Center. The Center offers young Reese people from age six through 18 chance to meet socially and to take part in many recreational, sports and social events.

Recreation includes games such as table tennis and billiards. Sports for base youth include Little League baseball, youth football and basketball and swimming. Social activities include dances.

Other youth activities include Boys Scouts, Girl Scouts, Cub and Brownie scouting and Chapel-sponsored activities.

The Reese CFC drive begins next month.

Boggs gets post as consultant

Capt. Marjorie A. Boggs, chief of the Processing Section in the Consolidated Base Personnel Office, has been appointed as the resident consultant for military women at Reese.

The function of the base resident consultant, formerly known as the base Woman in the Air Force Advisor, is to advise and consult with all base unit commanders and enlisted women as required.

The position is not that of a squadron commander. All-women squadrons are being phased out throughout the Air Force, with women being completely integrated into their duty squadrons. Reese has never had a women's squadron.

RN course
'refreshes'

A general nursing refresher course will be offered to nurses who have not practiced their nursing skills for a few years.

The course, sponsored by the local Nursing Administrative Council, is designed to provide classroom and clinical skills for registered nurses in many hospital settings. The course will last three weeks, starting Sept. 3.

Reese RNs may get more information on the refresher course from the Reese USAF Hospital's Chief of Nursing Services, Lt. Col. Joan E. Powers, Ext. 2235. "This is an excellent opportunity to get back into nursing," Colonel Powers noted.

Mrs. Sandy McCann
July's Top Family Services Volunteer

Family Services praises
Sandy McCann's efforts

Sandy McCann was named by her fellow Family Services volunteers as Volunteer of the Month for July.

Serving as assistant coordinator for Family Services, she and her husband 1st Lt. Ed McCann have been at Reese for more than three years. He is assigned to the 35th Flying Training Squadron as an instructor pilot.

Mrs. McCann has served with the Reese Family Services Center since February 1974, working a total of 212 volunteer hours. Some of her duties include arranging all the Center's coffees and helping to organize the biannual Personal Affairs Orientation.

'Jeepers' seek members

By Sgt. Dave Musgrave

There are a good deal of people in the Reese-Lubbock area who own four-wheel drive vehicles and have no place to take them "off-road" driving.

This need not be the case now that the Four-Wheel Drive Club of Lubbock has been formed.

The club meets twice monthly to plan activities and outings. In addition, the club has nearly 4,000 acres of choice "jeepin'" country, off the Caprock near Post, Tex., for use by members anytime they wish.

The club is family-oriented and meets at 8 p.m. the first Tuesday and third Thursday of each month at the South Plains Electric Coop building at the corner of Amarillo Highway and Municipal Drive. The next meeting is planned for Thursday and interested persons are invited.

TTU coach to teach golf here

Stan Navage, Reese Golf Club pro, has informed the ROUNDUP that the last golf lessons for this year will be offered by Danny Mason at the driving range from Monday through Aug. 22.

Mason is the golf coach at Texas Tech University. The lessons will be conducted from 6 to 7:30 p.m. nightly and will cost $12.50 for the series of five.

Classes will be limited to 10 students at most. Due to this, they are offered on a first-come basis.

higher scoring flights starting out earliest on Sunday. The shotgun start method will be used.

Qualifying rounds will be held on Saturday and golfers will be flighted according to their handicap. Seven flights are planned with trophies to be given to the winner and runner-up in each flight. The golfers recording the best low gross and low net scores will also receive trophies. The low net winner will be computed based on established handicap.

Entry fee is $10 plus greens fees. Included in the entry fee is dinner each night at the Golf Clubhouse.

Stan Navage, the Reese golf pro, reminds all golfers that the seven-stroke rule will be in effect for the tournament. This rule means that any golfer who improves his score on Sunday by seven strokes or more above his established handicap will be moved up to the next higher flight.

Arrangements for entering the tourney can be made by signing up at the Clubhouse or by calling Navage at Ext. 2819.
