

'76 CFC begins today with luncheon, tour

The 1976 Combined Federal Campaign (CFC) kickoff begins today with a tour of United Way agencies beginning at the Lubbock YMCA at 8:30 a.m. and ending with a luncheon at the Reese NCO Open Mess at noon.

Goal for the 1976 CFC at Reese has been set at $59,000 according to Col. Edward Mendel, wing commander and chairman of the Campaign.

Maj. Sargent G. Jones, chairman of the Joint Work Group of Federal and Voluntary Agencies, is project officer for the Reese drive.

The CFC is held annually and replaces the many separate charity drives formerly made official at Reese.

"This is an eyeball-to-eyeball campaign. It's worthwhile, it takes a lot of effort, and it does a lot of good," said Major Jones.

Beneficiaries of the drive are the 30 agencies of the Lubbock United Way, 14 national health agencies and six international service agencies. (See page 11)

"United Way people downtown are professionals. It's amazing to see how much they do with just a few dollars. More dollars are needed," Maj. Jones noted.

Dollar goals will be established for each organization. "There is a fair share guide which tells how much each person should contribute to the CFC according to his income," Maj. Jones added. (See page 12)

Perhaps the easiest, safest, and most convenient way to contribute to the CFC is through the payroll deduction plan. You simply designate the dollar amount you wish to contribute for each pay period, and that amount will automatically be deducted from your paycheck throughout the year. Cash donations will also be accepted.

"Reese has had quite a reputation in Lubbock as being good citizens willing to help their local community. Let's keep that reputation intact," Major Jones concluded. Contributing to the CFC can be a form of self-help, since Reese people are eligible to use the agencies funded by the drive. Additionally, Reese Youth Activities will receive $7,500 to help support various youth programs on base from the drive.

Please give your fair share when contacted by your unit CFC project officer. If you have any questions concerning the drive, call CFC Headquarters at Ext. 2518.

The drive is scheduled to end Oct. 31.

Raise undecided

WASHINGTON (AFNS) - The President has proposed a five per cent ceiling on the pay increase for Federal and military employees.

In restricting the October raise to five per cent, the President rejected an 8.66 per cent increase recommended by his advisory committee on Federal pay. This impartial, nongovernment panel based its recommendation on a study by the Bureau of Labor Statistics of salaries paid for comparable work in the private sector.

Officials explain the Congress has 30 days in which to reject the President's proposal. If a majority of either House votes to disapprove the President's pay plan, then the 8.66 per cent increase automatically goes into effect Oct. 1.

NATIONAL HISPANIC HERITAGE WEEK SEPT 14-20

National Hispanic Heritage Week will be observed throughout the Nation Sunday through Sept. 20 "to honor a people who have, by their actions and deeds, enriched the quality of American life."

The observance, authorized by an act of Congress in 1968, calls upon the President to set aside a week each year to dramatize the hopes and aspirations of people of Spanish-speaking origin.

National Hispanic Heritage Week carries special significance for the more than 12,000 members of the Air Force whose ties are oriented to the Hispanic experience.

Working to identify and strengthen their community and cultural interests, members of the force of Spanish-speaking origin support more than 50 clubs at bases in the United States and abroad. Membership includes almost 3,000 military and civilians. Club programs stress actions to improve opportunities for better education, self-improvement, community work and pride in Hispanic heritage.

But, as one club president pointed out, "Don't pay tribute to Hispanic heritage only during a specified week. Use the week as a kickoff for a continued policy of recognition of the contributions and achievements of all people of a multicultural, multiethnic society."

Through formal training in human relations, the Air Force is making a concerted effort to dispel fear and mistrust where it exists among members of different racial and ethnic groups. Progress has been, and is being, made.

For many years, the Air Force has systematically worked toward the total elimination of segregation and discrimination. Economic pressure against unfair business and housing practitioners has been applied in the interest of all Air Force members. Equal opportunity officers and/or noncommissioned officers are now required on a full-time basis at every Air Force installation having a population of 500 or more. At bases with smaller populations, they are assigned on an additional duty basis.

Theater group needs support from everyone

Actors and actresses are needed for the newly-forming Reese Little Theater group.

The group, being formed by Joe Perron, Mathis Recreation Center director, and Vince Redmond of the base Fire Department, will hold its first meeting at Mathis at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday. Anyone interested in joining the group should plan to attend this session.

"By 'anyone' we mean just that," Redmond noted. "We need the support of everyone here on Reese to get started."

"We want longhairs, shorthairs, tall people, short people, fat people, skinny people, blue-eyed people, brown-eyed people, big-headed people, small-eared people . . . in other words, we want you!" Perron added.

For more information about the Reese Little Theater Group, contact Joe Perron at Ext. 2787 or Vince Redmond at Ext. 2495 after 7 p.m.

THE ROUNDUP is an unofficial newspaper published in the interest of personnel at Reese AFB under contract with Barron Publications, Inc., mailing address: P. O. Box 2415, Lubbock, Texas.

"Everything advertised in this publication must be made available for purchase, use or patronage without regard to the race, creed, color, national origin or sex of the purchaser, user or patron. A confirmed violation or rejection of this policy of equal opportunity by an advertiser will result in the refusal to print advertising from that source."

News for THE ROUNDUP should be delivered to the Information Division, Bldg. 800, no later than noon Monday prior to the Friday publication date. # FROM THE TRAIL BOSS...

"This great nation of ours was built on the basic principle of 'people helping people.'"

Col. Edward Mendel
Wing Commander

When was the last time you needed to use the American Cancer Society, American Heart Association, CARE, a Day Care Center, a Children's Clinic, or a Children's School for the mentally retarded? If you can answer "never" to the above, then consider yourself fortunate because thousands of Americans are having to use them everyday all across our nation and the world. Who knows? Someday you may become personally involved with their services.

Having said "No" to the use of the above organizations, have you ever used such organizations as the Community Planning Council, Goodwill Industries, Legal Aid Society, YMCA, YWCA or the USO? Although these organizations are quite different from Day Care Centers and the like, all of them are supported entirely or to some degree by the United Way of Lubbock.

Each year, all federal activities in the Lubbock area band together to help support the local United Way, National Health Agencies and International Services Agencies through the Combined Federal Campaign (CFC). This year, the CFC at Reese AFB has a $59,000 goal which will go to support 30 local agencies, 14 national health agencies and six international agencies. Particular importance to Reese is the $7,500 set aside to support the Reese dependent Youth Activities. This will provide supervised activities in recreational, educational and cultural fields for preteen and teenage dependents at Reese.

This great nation of ours was built on the basic principle of "people helping people." If it had not been for this principle, our nation probably would not have survived the early years of growth. Many of the conflicts in which our nation has had to fight have been due to other people not being able to help themselves. Let us face it, the American Way says "I want to help" — thus we have the CFC. Although you cannot always give your time to help people in need, you can help through your donations to the CFC.

Today marks the kickoff of the CFC at Reese. In the coming weeks, selected people in your organization will be contacting you to fill out a pledge card. I have found the payroll deduction plan makes giving easier for me and allows me to spread my pledge over the year.

I urge you to evaluate the material given you concerning the many organizations the United Way supports and give generously in this once-a-year campaign.

"Thanks to you, it's working!"

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) This week should be rather quiet for you. If you're traveling, be sure to take a rest stop when you're tired.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) The New Moon means possible new excitement. Don't let your fun bother your driving.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) A pleasant time for you. Be especially careful driving back from parties.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) The actions of others will have great influence on you this week. If you drive a motorcycle, watch for sudden stops by the car in front of you.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) This week may bring unexpected delays. Check how your tires are wearing.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) The New Moon on the 15th can bring changes. Watch for the unexpected, such as other people running red lights.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) When someone else makes a wrong move in traffic and honks at you for it, turn the other cheek.

CANCER (June 22 to July 21) Your naturally sensitive nature will be strained this week. If someone tries to pass you, let him.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) A time for possible natural hazards. If streets become slippery, take special care.

AF celebrates 28th Birthday

This Thursday the Air Force celebrates its 28th year as a separate department and military Service.

Air Force heritage, however, did not exactly begin with the National Security Act of 1947. Our roots go back much further and we owe much to our sister Services.

From the time of the Civil War, military men have ventured into the air in balloons. A mere lifetime ago, heavier-than-air flight occurred on Dec. 17, 1903, when Orville Wright lifted a frail 12-horsepower stick-and-wire flyer off the sands of Kill Devil Hills near Kitty Hawk.

Under Signal Officer

In 1907 the War Department created the aeronautical division of the office of the chief signal officer of the Army. Command was given to Capt. Charles deForrest Chandler, with orders to take charge of "all matters pertaining to military ballooning, air machines, and all kindred subjects." He was given a staff of two enlisted men and a civilian clerk. In 1910, the Air Force had grown to 14 men, including three flying officers, one of whom would become the first general of the Air Force, Lt. Henry "Hap" Arnold.

In spite of dynamic personalities and leadership, however, America's love affair at this time was with the automobile, not the airplane. Military aviation moved forward slowly in the early years. The Nation which gave birth to the airplane was to enter World War I with a twelfth-rate aviation arm.

First Aerial Force

The first aerial force sent to France consisted of 55 trainers, with 35 officers to fly them. The trainers were useless in combat, so they took castoff French Nieuports to begin the first chapter of America's aerial combat record.

It was a year before they shot down their first sky opponent. But by the time the war ended, the score showed the kind of eagle the American pilot really was.

During a six-month period of fighting, the gallant men who were to inspire generations to come shot down 781 planes while losing only 289. They did the job with second-rate equipment.

Out of World War I came men like Eddie Rickenbacker, the American "Ace of Aces," and leaders like Gen. Billy Mitchell, whose vigorous championship of strategic bombing and personal demonstration of its effectiveness laid the groundwork for the future development of the Air Force mission.

'Airplane Fever'

Americans caught the airplane fever and by the time Adolph Hitler danced a jig after hearing that Paris had fallen, airpower was no longer a question mark in military planning. If there were any doubts, the Japanese quickly erased them with their air attack on Pearl Harbor which drew America into World War II.

Out of the early days of the war came the Doolittle B-25 raid on the Japanese homeland which gave the Japanese an idea of the consequences they were to reap for Pearl Harbor.

In Europe, under the leadership of such men as Jimmy Doolittle, Carl Spaatz, Ira Eaker, Hoyt Vandenberg, Nathan Twining and Curtis LeMay, American airpower took control of the skies over Europe. The once formidable German Luftwaffe was grounded.

Pacific Concentration

Airpower could then concentrate

SEPT. 12, 1918 — Lt. Frank Luke, 27th Aero Squadron, shot down his first balloon. When he was killed 17 days later, he had shot down 18 balloons and airplanes. For his exploits, he was posthumously awarded the Congressional Medal of Honor, the first aviator to receive the medal.

its strength in the Pacific. Industrial and military targets throughout Japan were primary targets. General LeMay's Twentieth, in particular, hammered aircraft production and oil supply centers. With Japan reeling from these attacks, American B-29s delivered the knockout blow, the atomic bomb. The results are now history.

After victory in World War II, it was clear that the jet age had arrived and that future defense would depend on how well we maintained our technological superiority.

Time was near when the dream of a separate Air Force would become a reality. On Sept. 18, 1947, America's airpower started to operate as a separate military Service, called the United States Air Force.

A year after its birth, this new Air Force team saw its first action when Berlin was cut off from the outside world. The Soviets stopped all ground traffic in and out of the city. General LeMay, now commander of U.S. Air Forces in Europe, started an airlift to supply Berlin's daily needs known as "Operation Vittles." During the 13-month blockade and for the four months that followed, more than two million tons were airlifted into the blockaded city.

Humanitarian Effort

The attempt by the Communists to starve the people of West Berlin failed because of American airpower. But more than this, the operation has been recorded in history as one of the most dramatic humanitarian accomplishments of our time. Since then, Air Force flood and disaster relief missions have contributed to the welfare of people in many lands. We were in Spain during the floods of 1962; we were in the Congo with air evacuation that saved many threatened lives; we brought lifesaving aid to earthquake-stricken Chile, Yugoslavia, Iran and Peru... and we were in Mississippi after Hurricane Camille left her path of death in 1969. The Air Force has been involved in world and domestic humanitarian actions whenever the need has arisen.

Since the end of World War II, the Air Force has formed a major part of the shield of safety under which the United States has been able to pursue the goals of peace and better life at home and abroad.

The absence of any direct attack against the United States testifies to the effectiveness of our country's retaliatory force.

Aerospace power in the future will continue to be the decisive factor of life or death for free-world nations.

New Weapons

To partly meet the challenge of the future, the Air Force has developed its F-15 "air superiority" fighter. In our strategic arsenal, we are now developing the B-1 bomber. We consider it our most-needed aircraft for maintaining America's strategic deterrence. It will allow us to reduce the number of aircraft in our present bomber force.

Six decades of history, rich in tradition and accomplishment, lend confidence and faith that the future of the Air Force will be as distinguished as the past.

THE ROUNDUP is an unofficial newspaper published weekly in the interest of personnel at Reese Air Force Base of Air Training Command. People most important asset

To me, "People are our most important resource" is not just a slogan. It is a credo. I believe it and apply it implicitly.

The "people" I am referring to are the proud, superbly-trained Air Force men and women who derive personal satisfaction from doing their jobs well. On them — and them alone — depends the continuance of an efficient, top flight Air Force.

With the current emphasis on personnel reductions, our Air Training Command mission — teaching vital skills — becomes more important, more demanding than ever.

In a very real sense ATC is the lifeblood of the Air Force. The graduates we turn out — carpenters to pilots to data processors, from aircraft mechanics to electronics experts to navigators — gradually flow into every unit, every office, every job in the Air Force, permeating the entire service.

My awareness of the importance of the ATC mission comes from firsthand knowledge. From the beginning as a student to the two and one-half years as an instructor pilot, to three years in ATC headquarters, I gained a knowledge of Air Force people that has since served me well.

My past assignments, many involving policies and operating procedures concerned with training and education, or insuring that skilled people were available to meet operational requirements worldwide, were constant reminders that the training which made these men and women experts had largely been provided by ATC.

But the past is prologue, as mentioned before. A shrinking Air Force roster leaves absolutely no room for mediocrity. More bluntly, today more than ever we cannot settle for second best, be they recruits or careerists.

I am honored and privileged to be your new commander and view the assignment as an exciting challenge. I do not promise that the proper discharge of our vital training responsibility will be easy. There will be many hurdles that we must surmount.

I can only assure you that as we pursue our course, the same high standards that I will expect you to meet will be imposed equally on my staff and myself.

Familiar as I am with the cornerstones on which we are building — your demonstrated abilities, loyalty and dedication — I am confident that we shall succeed in our endeavors.

Reese wins Merit Award for safety

Reese has been chosen to receive the National Safety Council Award of Merit for "outstanding ground safety performance."

This award is given for recognition of a significant reduction in ground accidents in 1974 as compared to the previous two years.

"While it is always a pleasure to receive awards for our past performance, we must not allow ourselves to become complacent and rest on our laurels," stated Col. Edward Mendel, wing commander. "The fact is, we have not been able to continue our previously excellent record into 1975. This year has shown a considerable increase in ground accidents, most of which could and should have been prevented," Col. Mendel continued.

"Safety is more than awards on a wall. It is more than a weekly safety meeting. It is a state of being which comes about from personal involvement, positive motivation and a sincere desire to accomplish the mission in the most efficient and economical manner possible. The Award of Merit proves that we here at Reese have the ability to achieve that state.

"With your support, and that of your subordinates, we will be able to reverse our present trend and once again prove ourselves worthy of merit," Col. Mendel concluded.

Stucker wins airman honors

A1C Bobby G. Stucker, 64th Field Maintenance Squadron (FMS), has been selected as the Wing Airman of the Month for July.

"Since Airman Stucker's assignment to the Nondestructive Inspection (NDI) Laboratory, he has shown the ability to adjust to a new environment. He applies himself in such a way as to far exceed the job requirements," stated Maj. James E. Cason, commander of the 64th FMS. "His excellent attitude towards his work enables him to work efficiently with all his fellow workers and also promotes his desire to increase his job knowledge in all systems," Major Cason continued.

"He cheerfully performs special work requests in a mature and responsible manner. He has the ability to lead, encourage and carry more than his share of the workload of the section," Major Cason added.

Airman Stucker completed his On-The-Job Training in a minimum length of time for his five level, completing the final test in the top nineties. His personal appearance is always above average; he has never been told to get a haircut or correct for a uniform violation. His manner and respect for his supervisors and fellow workers is "above reproach," his commander noted.

Airman Stucker is currently enrolled in the college program here and has completed six hours toward a degree, in addition to taking a home study course in electronics.

"Men of Airman Stucker's caliber and dedication are the key to the success of the Air Force today," Major Cason concluded.

"Lieutenant Granquist has distinguished himself as an instructor pilot, senior Runway Supervisor Unit controller, Sponsor IP, Flight Senior IP and Flight Standardization/Evaluation officer," commented Lt. Col. Robert G. Bradshaw, commander of the 35th FTS. "He has shown continued success as an instructor and has been called upon repeatedly to share his teaching techniques with other instructors. In all his duties, Lieutenant Granquist has maintained the highest military standards of professionalism."

"During non-duty hours, he is active in base Chapel activities and is a constant supporter of all squadron activities. Lieutenant Granquist is an excellent example of a career-motivated Air Force officer and is a valuable asset to this squadron," Colonel Bradshaw concluded.

Reese club sponsors special celebration of independence

A program will celebrate the day Mexico won its independence from Spain from 2 to 5 p.m. Tuesday in the Mathis Recreation Center.

That date is celebrated annually throughout the United States, especially in the southwestern states, to honor Mexico's fight for independence. On the morning of Sept. 16, 1810, Father Miguel Hidalgo assembled his parishioners and proclaimed his famous El Grito (The Cry) "Long live Our Lady of Guadalupe! Long live Independence!" Within a week thousands of others joined his revolution against the Spanish rulers and eventually brought to an end 350 years of Spanish rule of Mexico.

The Mathis program, to be sponsored by the Reese Mexican American Club, will feature a Mexican food buffet to be catered by a local Mexican restaurant. The buffet will be from 2 to 4 p.m. and cost is $2 per person.

Also featured will be dancers from Guadalupe Park Community Center performing various traditional Mexican folk dances from 2 to 3 p.m.

A special event during the afternoon will be the presentation of La Adelita or the heroine of independence. The honor, bestowed on one of several contestants in a local annual contest, will go to one of eight young women to be introduced at the Mathis event. Leti Anaya, the 1974 Adelita, will be at the events to be held at Mathis.

Between 3 and 5 p.m., the "Group Trio" will play and dance to Mexican folk songs. As an added attraction, Domingo Zamora, an eight-year-old from nearby Levelland, Tex., will sing. Norberto Anaya, a 12-year-old from neighboring Shallowater, Tex., will also sing English and Mexican tunes.

Decorations for the Mathis events during the day will be provided by La Bodega Imports from Mexico.

Second job has some restrictions

WASHINGTON (AFNS) Commanders and supervisors authorized to approve off-duty employment requests of Air Force personnel must determine if the employment is authorized, say Air Force legal officials.

Off-duty employment is not authorized if it: (a) interferes with official duties; (b) conflicts with, or creates an appearance of conflict with, the public interest; (c) in the case of enlisted members, interferes with the customary or regular employment of local civilians in their art, trade, or profession; (d) may reasonably be expected to reflect discredit on the Government or the Department of Defense; or (e) involves acceptance of employment by an organization involved in a strike (after commencement and during a strike).

Officials emphasize that personnel authorized to engage in off-duty employment must avoid actions that create the appearance of using public office for private gain. Air Force military personnel are specifically prohibited from personal commercial solicitation and sale to military personnel junior in rank or grade at any time, on or off duty, in or out of uniform. All Air Force civilian and military personnel on active duty are prohibited from using their titles or position in connection with commercial enterprises.

Officials also explained that Government facilities, property, and manpower may not be used in connection with outside employment or activity. This includes stenographic and typing assistance, mimeograph, phone, and transportation services, and periphery such as office supplies.

Advertisement Public Invited To Film Showing

David Wilkerson's explosive new film, "Return to Sodom," will be shown at 6:00 P.M. Sunday, Sept. 28th, at the Bethel Temple Assembly of God located at 36th and Avenue K, in Lubbock. This full color, fifty minute film is a documentary of the phenomenal outbreak of witchcraft, homosexuality, cult religions, and the decline of moral standards here in the United States.

"Return to Sodom" took a full year to film. The realism is startling. The viewer is taken to Mardi Gras in New Orleans, to Central Park in New York City where the largest gathering of homosexuals in history was held. Witchcraft, Kari Krishna meetings, and communion in a homosexual church are unveiled.

The purpose of this unusual film is to make the prophecy of Christ, "As it was in the days of Lot, so shall it also be in the days of the coming of Christ," come to life.

THE LUXURY CAR THAT SHOWS YOU HAVE MORE THAN MONEY.

A luxury car has long been the symbol of having arrived.

The Volvo 164 shows you used your brains to get there. For one thing, it shows you're too intelligent to buy a luxury car, and then pay extra to add the luxuries.

The Volvo 164 comes with air conditioning, automatic transmission, power-assisted steering, 4-wheel power disc brakes, power front windows and leather-faced upholstery... all at no-extra cost. The Volvo 164 also comes with other things an intelligent person can respond to. Like a responsive

three-litre engine with

injection.

Even Volvo's front bucket seats show a deep-seated commitment to intelligent design. They're infinitely adjustable. And when it gets cold, the driver's seat heats up. Automatically.

These are just a few of the things that make a Volvo 164 what it is. Come in and let us show you the others.

Squadron takes second in picnic athletic events

Last week THE ROUNDUP staff could not manage to fit 35th FTS Crosswinds into the paper, but we (as well as other unmentionable pilot news) are back in force this week. To bring you up to date:

Everyone in the Squadron appeared to have recovered nicely from the three-day Labor Day weekend and Family Picnic. For the most part it was back to work as usual. Only a few moans and groans were heard. Speaking of moans and groans, the 35th Flying Training Squadron placed second overall in athletic competition at the Picnic. The USAF Hospital teams just squeezed by to take first.

Checklist to aid in fire prevention

Here are some valuable questions you can ask yourself to see if you are doing all you can to prevent fires:

- Are cleaning equipment and materials stored in fire-resistive areas or metal cabinets?
  - Are metal waste baskets (not wire mesh) provided in offices?
  - Are containers of flammable liquids kept covered?
  - Are bulk storage areas for such liquids clean and orderly?
  - Are safety cans used for handling flammable liquids?
  - Is all other waste disposed of safely?
  - Are trash and rubbish rooms maintained to prevent the spread of fire?
  - Are grease and oil spillage cleaned up promptly?
  - Is "no smoking" observed while flammables are used?
  - Where smoking is permitted, are proper ashtrays provided and used?
  - Are loose papers kept away from ashtrays?
  - Is all wiring for office machines free from defect and fraying?
  - Are passageways and aisles clear of obstructions?
  - Is the size of fuses on circuits proper for size of building wire?
  - Are fuse and switch boxes kept closed?
  - Are electric lightbulbs located where the heat will not cause fire?
  - Do you turn off all electrical equipment before leaving?
  - Do you know to whom fire hazards should be reported?
  - Do you know how to sound a fire alarm?
  - Do you know the location of all exits from your area or floor?
  - Are fire exits unobstructed and emergency stairs in good repair?
  - Are fire doors unobstructed and not wedged open?
  - Do you know the location of the nearest fire extinguisher and how to use it?
- Remember, fire prevention is everybody's business. To report a fire, call the Fire Protection Branch at Ext. 117 on base and 885-2222 off base.

Check Section made out pretty well recently, as two of their members made Regular Air Force. Congrats are in order for Captains Bill Zahn and Gary Wood. At the same time we learned the Squadron Operations Officer, Lt. Col. William Keller, was promoted to permanent lieutenant colonel.

The Squadron really takes a hit this week as some of our "ol' timers" leave. "C" Flight will be most affected, as they lose both their flight commander and assistant. Capt. Steve Joseph is leaving for a tour in Operations at Randolph AFB, Tex. Capt. Dave Chestnut departs for a squadron commander slot at Sheppard Technical Training Center, Sheppard AFB, Tex. Capt. Don Lamontagne will take over as "Charlie's" commander and Capt. John Wesley will take over from Captain Chestnut as assistant. Capt. Phil Bentley takes over as "B" flight assistant commander.

First Lt. Tom Salmi of "A" Flight stepped across the street last week to become an academic instructor.

Capt. Jack Gilbert is going to Squadron Officer School enroute to a tour at Minot AFB, N.D. Lt. Col. Robert Bradshaw's able administrative assistant, 1st Lt. Gary Gunther, will soon be an aide to Brig. Gen. Thomas E. Lacy at Kirtland AFB, N.M. Good luck to all you guys!

Thanx, Guys!

We would like to recognize two hard workers this week and mention the special awards they won. "F" Flight's 1st Lt. Gary Granquist won honors for his prowess as an instructor pilot. He was named the 35th Flying Training Squadron IP of the Month. Sgt. Roger Gill of 64th Organizational Maintenance Squadron's "C" Flight was named by 35th FTS members as their choice for Crew Chief of the Month. Thanks, Sergeant Gill, for "keepin' 'em flyin'!"

Most of us around the Squadron have seen the class patch proclaiming "First Time For '09." Now it seems there will be a first time for a "10" and "11" as Classes 76-10 and 76-11 prepare to enter training. The change comes after a realignment of the fiscal year. Class 76-10 processed in recently with 22 members — total! "B" and "D" Flights are slated to get the new students.

Speaking of patches, Class 76-08 could be seen sporting their patches the last two weeks. The hot pink panther proclaims "No pinks!" Well, we don't know about that, but it sure is an eye-catching patch! I don't think I have ever seen anything quite that pink.

Some Got It . . .

Long hair seemed to be the order of the day as the 35th FTS welcomed civilian controllers from Lubbock Approach and Departure Control. They are taking orientation rides to check out our new flying procedures, which will go into effect Oct. 1.

We do not want our Squadron members to think that last Talon Talk cartoon went unnoticed. All the cartoons we looked at for retaliation were too nasty to put in the paper. In the meantime, if you have any ideas, let us know about them. We are still working on it.

(Editor's Note: THE ROUNDUP will publish Commander's CARE Line calls which are of base-wide interest. Names of callers will not be published, but they should leave their name and duty extension in case their problem needs clarification. All calls are reviewed by Wing Commander Col. Edward Mendel. Please provide your name and duty section when calling.)

Main Gate Maze

I was wondering. For off-base driving accidents that we are having so many problems with, why couldn't we have an obstacle course at the main gate to prevent some of these people who drink from going off base and getting in accidents? In Germany, we had an obstacle course that you had to drive through made out of that rubber pyramid type things and I know it has kept quite a few people from drinking so much on base and off base. I think it would work here too. There is one guy I know that was in an accident and I think he was DWI and I don't think he would have made it through a pyramid and the APs could have stopped him. He wouldn't have been able to make it off base and instead he lost his vehicle and his life. You might look into it and if it doesn't work, well, it doesn't work except it might save a lot of money and time. Thank You.

At first thought your idea has considerable appeal. However, many people already feel that the present lane channelization outside of the main gate is a pretty good maze. I am reluctant to try to maintain an obstacle for exiting traffic, partly because of the size of the intersection and the need for making a lane decision some distance from the exit area. However, we will keep the idea in mind, as we do contemplate some changes at the main gate in the future. Your point about drinking excessively on base is well taken. It serves well to remind all those attending the clubs of their responsibility to take appropriate action to preclude someone from driving when they obviously appear to be in no condition to do so. Thank you for your interest and support in safety.

Thanks For Help

I would like to thank three individuals on the base for assisting me in my processing of my humanitarian request for separation. The names are as follows: Sgt. Johnson, CBPO Assignments; Amn. Barron, CBPO Assignments Branch and Amn. Garner from the Transportation Squadron Outgoing household and hold baggage. I would like to express my thanks to those three people for assisting me in processing by assignments and my personal belongings. I know at times that I probably got a little irritated with them but I would like to thank them anyway.

It is always a pleasure to receive information of this nature, since many personnel are mentioned only when they have done something wrong. We all have something to say when we are not treated as we feel we should have been; however, many do not take those extra few seconds to express their appreciation for a job well done. I gladly welcome this type of correspondence and hope the spirit of customer service continues throughout the base.

12 Reserve officers join ranks of Regular AF

Twelve Reese Reserve officers have been selected to enter the regular Air Force in an Aug. 29 announcement.

The officers were selected at their three-year active service point by a board. The board considered all rated Air Force Reserve officers in the three-year group. They selected 20 per cent of all eligible Air Force officers, while the Reese selection rate was 23 per cent.

New face welcome addition to Squadron admin office

By Yossarian Minderbinder

The void has been filled in the administrative office of the 54th Flying Training Squadron this week and we at New Central feel it has been filled very well.

Those of you who have ventured into the office have found the new and smiling face of Mrs. Lucy Bennet among the always cheerful faces of SSgt. Tom Trombley and Amn. Steven Bishop. Their smiles are justified on many points, as not only is Mrs. Bennet a nice person but she is also very capable at handling the varied tasks that pass through the 54th "head shed."

Mrs. Bennet comes to the 54th from the 64th Organization Maintenance Squadrons where she has been for the past five months. Mrs. Bennet is the wife of Sgt. Ray Bennet of our own Scheduling and Dispatch Section. They are the parents of four children aged 12, 13, 14 and 15. While not managing the operation of the 54th or the Bennet clan, Mrs. Bennet likes to fill her spare time with sewing and brief moments of peace and quiet. Not only did the 54th get a capable, smiling and charming new member but, we believe, the first husband-and-wife team in Building 105.

One of the first items Mrs. Bennet was able to deal with was the posting and notification of the new promotions to captain. Congratulations to Timothy Carter, Arthur Costain III, Garry Dudley, Jerry Hoverson, and Russel Tompkins as they pin on the old rails and take their place as real officers on the aerospace team.

The second item the administrative shed had to deal with was the listing of those selected for Regular Air Force commissions. The following were on the latest regular list. Captains Arthur Costain III, Garry Dudley, Jerry Fallis, Edward Garcia, Chuck Gregg, Jim Morre, Michael Notley, W.J. Pritchett and Richard Judson and 1st Lt. Terry Bagwell. Congratulations to you all.

This was overheard while preparing for a cross-country mission. "Are you going to wear your anti-G suit on a cross-country flight????!!!" "Yes sir....How else will the people know I fly jets?"

"Leadership of the month"....goes to the IP from Academics who, while night flying, remembered to follow the yellow lines to taxi. The crux of the problem comes when you discover that the yellow line you are following puts you behind taxi way construction, with no room to turn around.

Defense office proposes no tax on PCS money

WASHINGTON (AFNS) - The office of the Secretary of Defense has submitted to Congress a legislative item whose main provision would make permanent a moratorium on the Department of Defense's withholding and reporting of moving expense reimbursements to military members. The moratorium has been in effect since 1970 but expires after tax year 1975.

Without the moratorium, there would be added administrative costs and no savings to the Government from additional taxes.

The revenue would not be generated because nearly all reimbursements reported would be deductible by individual military members from their gross income.

The proposal would also:

- Eliminate the so-called "39-week" and "50-mile" rules as prerequisites to deduction of moving expenses by military personnel.

- Allow deduction of moving expenses of dependents to a designated place in connection with an accompanied tour.

- Permit deduction of meal and lodging expenses while occupying temporary quarters prior departure from a duty station.
