Remembered Christmas

I once thought that Christmas meant sleigh bells and snows,
And gifts gaily tied in bright ribbons and bows,
Til one day an old man with a much wiser head
Who spoke not religion but lived it instead,
Knowing that on Christmas the gifts would be few,
Succeeded in changing my whole point of view;
For pulling a chair alongside me one day
He talked as he whittled an old board away.

"Christmas," he told me, "is a way of livin',

Not ours for the takin', but ours for the givin'.

The best gifts are not tied with ribbons and bows,

Things like faith and love and cheery 'hello,'

And whether a Christmas is bounteous or lean

It's the birthday of Christ. Do you get what I mean?"

The bell that he rang was as clear as could be,

And Christmas took on a new meaning for me.

Our snowman that year, the best of them all,

Wore his stovepipe hat more stately and tall,

The popcorn popped to the very last grain,

And somehow we managed one big candy cane.

The carols that year rang out so much sweeter,

Two little tin soldiers played follow the leader!

Though sparse were the gifts, the tree held much splendor,

For that year it glowed with thoughts of the sender.

Remembered Christmas! Could I ever forget

Those words of wisdom that abide with me yet?

Christmas that year was the best we ever had,

For that wise old man (guess you know) was my dad

Today, because of him, the snow falls whiter,

And I know the Star of the East shines brighter.

And whether a Christmas is bounteous or lean,

It's the birthday of Christ, do you get what I mean?

Commanders extend Christmas greetings

"... we can't rest on our laurels, we must look forward."

"As we approach the holiday season, with its joys and memories, with its promise of a new year, we should take the opportunity to look back at 1975—to review our problems, our accomplishments, our plans for the future.

The men and women of this command continue to prove their professionalism by successfully educating and training the top quality people who make our Air Force the best in the world, despite increasing austerity in every aspect of our operations, and you can be proud that all of our training for war helped to assure the peace that we now enjoy as a nation.

"But we can't rest on our laurels. We must look forward. We must be flexible. We must make do with less. For the strength of our nation rests on the people, and that includes all of us in ATC. WE have to do our part — no one else will do it for us.

This bicentennial year can be best we've ever had. Two hundred years of independence is quite an accomplishment — Due in large part to the collective contributions of millions of Americans just like you. 1976 will be a year of challenge for all of us. Whether or not we meet that challenge depends on your personal commitment to our nation, our Air Force, and to yourself. We have big things to do next year — hard things to do — like reducing costs while maintaining quality; like making equal opportunity a reality, not a catch-word; like making ATC the best command in the Air Force — and we need your help. Why not sit down right now and look at what you've done in 1975, and what you plan to do in 1976. You should like what you see. If you don't there's no better time than right now to do something about it.

Mrs. Roberts and I wish you and your loved ones a joyous holiday, filled with the peace and understanding that Christmas represents, and a new year full of hope and happiness."

"History will record with favor our. . . pursuit of the vision of peace on earth."

This year, the spirit of our nation's Bicentennial Christmas season will have a special meaning for proud Americans everywhere, but especially for those in uniform.

REESE

Born out of conflict, the United States has grown to maturity slow to anger and dedicated to peace, but willing to resist those who would challenge our deepest values. Although some would magnify our nation's faults and disparce its virtues, I believe history will record with favor our first 200 years in pursuit of the vision of peace on earth. I can think of no greater contribution to this ideal than the dedicated service by you, the men and women of the Air Force — active and reserve, military and civilian — whose vigilance and sacrifice will help maintain the peace into our nation's third century.

To those who are separated from your homes and families this holiday season, I send special greetings and wishes for an early and happy reunion. Also, I join the rest of the Air Force and the nation in prayers for the families whose separation and loneliness are compounded by uncertainty—the loved ones of the brave airmen who are still missing in action.

To the entire Air Force family, Mrs. Jones and I wish you a joyous and fulfilling holiday season and a New Year in which the original "Spirit of '76" may enrich all our lives.

Dear Editor

If you who are Civil Service employees have wondered which of the civilian employees (General Schedule or Wage Grade) is paid more, then I think this article will be very enlightening to you.

The answer is that the Wage Grade (WG) employees are paid more on an average ($5.92 per hour average-WG, $5.36 per hour average - GS) than their General Schedule (GS) counterparts. At least, that is the situation here at Reese AFB.

I sent the following figures that were extracted from various civilian pay reports, to Congressman George Mahon, Chairman of Committee on Appropriations: In the 1974 calendar year, WG employees received a pay increase in May, and another increase in August. Both of these increases averaged to a 10.3 per cent increase. This is in contrast to the one pay increase in October '74 for GS employees of an average 5.7 per cent. This past fall, again pay increases were levied. WG employees received an average 8.5 per cent, and the GS employees received an average 5.6 per cent increase. As of this past November, of the 630 civilian employees at Reese, 51 per cent were WG. So you see, we're talking about a big chunk of money variance.

The reasoning behind the difference in pay scales is simple; GS and military employees receive increases which are under Presidential and Congressional control, whereas, WG pay increases are controlled by local labor union standards.

The average rate of pay for employees in this area is determined through a Locality Wage Survey which will allow WG employees a competitive pay scale.

Congressman Mahon agreed that this difference in pay scales is unjust, and that he was turning my letter over to officials who handle civilian pay matters. He also indicated that my letter was the first of its kind to point out the lopsided pay scale. However, I felt that this had to be brought to light. I personally could not accept the fact that a WG employee who is employed simply to cut grass receives a salary that is favorable to mine! I also felt and still maintain that since we all are striving to complete the same mission, and we all must tolerate the same cost of living, then we should have pay scales which will pay a comparable salary in accordance to the positions. If you share my viewpoint on this problem, then I think it is time to also share your concern with your Congressman.

I would like to use this avenue of communication to express my sincere appreciation to the medical specialist and technicians in our hospital. The concern and technical competence displayed, especially by SMSgt. Alfred W. Chock, MSgt. Carl A. Anderson and SSgt. William A. Bendell, enabled my wife to receive the treatment necessary to effect recovery in the minimum time. In her words, "All the medics were just outstanding." Thanks a lot to you guys.

I'm glad to hear the words of praise for our men and women in white. My compliments to the entire hospital crew.

Wing pick November's best

Airman of the Month

A1C James D. Newcomb has been honored by the 64th Flying Training Wing by being selected as the Wing Airman of the Month for November.

The following words of praise are from Airman Newcomb's supervisor, SSgt. William S. Mabrey, NCO in charge, Environmental Health Service.

"Airman Newcomb arrived at Reese in April 1975 with the distinguished award of honor graduate of his 90730 Environmental Health Specialist Course at Brooks AFB, San Antonio, Tex. His performance has been exceptional since his arrival."

"During the past month Airman Newcomb has implemented a system to screen medical records of those individuals that require Occupational Health and Hazardous Noise Examinations. The screening process will insure that all people are receiving appropriate examinations for the working environment they are exposed to on a daily basis. The significance of this screening is the medical reliability it insures to protect all Air Force members and enhance their future performance. His interest and initiative in developing the screening process indicates a true concern not only for what is required but also how it is conducted."

"Recently Airman Newcomb volunteered to provide assistance in the solicting of funds for the Combined Federal Campaign. He spent many hours over the month long donation period explaining the merits of the campaign to those who were not aware of how beneficial the funds would be to those in need. He has also volunteered for other squadron activities including the Reese Honor Guard and Hospital alternate to the Airman Advisory Council."

"Since his arrival at this base, Airman Newcomb has completed his CDC five level course in less than the minimum time, attended South Plains College during his off duty time and has accumulated 24 college credit hours through CLEP examinations. This airman is a six year enlistee who is planning an Air Force career and is applying his education efforts not only for individual development and improvement, but also has submitted his application for an AFROTC scholarship to obtain his goal of a commission as a Bio-Environmental Engineer."

Airman Newcomb is also active in community affairs through his participation in local church activities. He is the athletic director of the Lubbock church he attends.

Airmen commended for efforts

Sgt. William Ashness and A1C Robert Cutcliff have been honored by the 64th Organizational Maintenance Squadron for their individual achievements.

Lt. Col. John D. Herbert, commander 64th Organizational Maintenance Squadron, commended both airmen for their superior efforts.

Sergeant Ashness was selected as the T-37 Crew Chief of the Month for November. "He received this distinction due to his outstanding contribution to the T-37's Post Dock and his exceptional working relations with the instructor and student pilots," said Colonel Herbert.

Airman Cutcliff received dual honors when he was named the T-38 Crew Chief of the Month and Squadron Airman of the Month for November. "He is an outstanding airman whose unique talents and professional skills have gained him the admiration of all flying personnel as well as that of his supervisors. His military bearing and behavior are exemplary and he is an excellent representative of this squadron and the United States Air Force," Colonel Herbert concluded.

Bicentennial group seeks ideas

An eight member Bicentennial Coordinating Committee headed by Mai. Marty Fricks is solicting ideas on how to raise funds in support of the celebration as well as suggestions on activities and events that could be done here.

Reese military and civilian members are urged to get involved in celebrating the 200th anniversary of our country. Anyone wishing to participate or anyone who has any suggestions on how to make the celebration at Reese a success is asked to contact any of the following committee members: Major Fricks/2841, Capt. Don Lamontagne/2857, MSgt. Willie Jones/2640, Capt. Gary R.

Taylor/2377, Lt. Karen E. Raquer/2341, MSgt. Homero J. Rodriguez/2410. Connie Meadows/885-4880 or Bill Tynan/2236. Prior to establishing the committee at Reese, Bill Tynan, Information Division, served as coordinator between the city of Lubbock and the base. It was through his efforts that the first Bicentennial flag was obtained for Reese. Bill Tynan and Major Fricks will continue to coordinate activities with the Lubbock committee.

The city of Lubbock was one of the first eight cities in the nation to be recognized as a Bicentennial City. It was through the support given by Reese that Lubbock was recognized as a Bicentennial City. Reese has been supporting the Bicentennial Celebration through several events. One event was the Lubbock Army Air Field, South Plains Army Air Field reunion that took place here this past August. Additionally, Reese has been instrumental in arranging visits by the Armed Forces Bicentennial Vans.

97% OF AMERICA'S ADULT POPULATION WILL FIT COMFORTABLY IN THE FRONT SEAT OF A VOLVO.

If you've ever had the feeling that the driver's seat of your car was designed to fit anyone but you, come and sit in a Volvo.

Volvo's front bucket seats were designed to fit almost every adult human being in America.

You can adjust them up, down, forward, backward to conform to your particular form. You can tilt the backrest forward if your arms are short, or backward if your arms are long. You can adjust the angle of the seat bottom to allow for the length and proportions of your legs. And to keep you comfortable even on long drives, there's a lumbar support at the small of your back that adjusts from soft to firm.

Adult human beings have also been known to sit in the backseats of cars. So at Volvo, the backseat is not an afterthought. Swing the center armrest up, and there's room for three six-footers.

But even with all this room inside, Volvo doesn't take up much room outside. It's about two feet shorter than the average full-sized domestic sedan. And it can turn in a smaller circle than a Volkswagen Rabbit.

Which means we've not only built a car that can easily handle almost any person. We've built a car that almost any person can easily handle.

TURN IT OFF !

Hello

Time for more ideas on how you can help conserve energy. Some of these ideas may require self-sacrifice or minor changes in your accustomed life style, but I am sure we all want to be responsible citizens and make America's energy policies work. Take the initiative. Share any energy saving ideas you may have with others by sending them to OI/Stop 9, or by calling the Information Division at Ext. 2843. This week's tips deal with purchases and energy saving. Remember, be conservation conscious!

 When selection is possible, help save energy by purchasing goods made of recycled material. In general, products made of recycled materials require less energy to manufacture than do those made of new materials.

• When shopping for an unusual item, call ahead to see if the store has it in stock. You may save time — and gasoline — if it isn't available.

• If you are thinking about installing central air conditioning, consider the advantages of a heat pump. This device can save energy the year 'round by providing efficient cooling in summer and heating in winter.

• If you're in the market for a gas clothes dryer, consider buying a model with an electric ignition system. By not requiring a pilot light, they save energy and can cut operating costs in half.

By Yossarian Minderbinder 54th Flying Training Squadron

A big congratulations to Lt. Cols. James C. Gibler and Richard "Tony" Pierson on their selection as "Colonels" on the last appointment list. The 54th team did well when attached personnel promotions are added to our own in-house people. A special well done to Capt. (major selectee) Jack Cusano for being appointed a major, and a regular commencing with convulsive contatas of Christmas carols and convivial chuckles from cracks of contageous wit." The dinner and company were very good. Chicken cordon bleu was featured. We hope the spirit will stay with you all over this holiday season and we will be welcoming all of our friends back in the New Year.

Today is the day to bleed a little for a friend. Don't forget the blood donation drive in the 35th Squadron today. We hope that you will take a few minutes to save a life. It is unfortunate, but someone will probably need a "drop of life" over this holiday season. Give a most precious gift today.

For those of you already in the giving spirit we want to give a hearty thanks for the effort put forth for the Chapel Christmas party last Sunday. We are sure that the children involved really appreciated your time and effort. We are equally sure that your Christmas spirit will be that much stronger due to

It is our sincerest hope that all of you in Talon Land have a very merry Christmas season. May all your friends and family find you in good health and spirit. Drive carefully and we will welcome you all back safe and sound in the Bicentennial year.

ACADEMICALLY SPEAKING...

By Capt. Ed Hayden 64th Student Squadron

Big news erupted within the squadron recently, as the troops received word of their commander's promotion to full colonel. Lt. Col. William V. Finn, 64th Student Squadron commander, is now eagle bound with a pin-on date scheduled for some time early next year. Colonel Finn has served as squadron commander for the past 18 months, having been assigned to Reese following a tour at the Air Force Academy. He is a command pilot with 4,400 hours of flying time accumulated in such aircraft as the Cessna T-37, Northrop T-38, Lockheed T-33, North American F-86, Convair F-102, Republic F-105, and McDonnell Douglas F-4. All the personnel in the 64th Student Squadron wish to congratulate Colonel Finn on his promotion and continued success.

Before we depart for the holidays, Colonel Finn would like to convey the following message: "As we conclude another year of training professional Air Force pilots, I'd like to offer my sincere praise to the personnel of the 64th Student Squadron for a job well done. I wish you all a safe and happy holiday season with continued success in the new year."

About now, you're probably asking yourself, "What beastly bagful of banal buffooneries have the students been up to?" Well, read on, as our UPT classes offer another tacky tubful of tattered tomfooleries for your reading enjoyment...

CLASS 76-05

Hawgs triumphed over Dogs in the race to finish first with the T-38 phase. The stakes were doubled last week by Capt. Jim Crumley who this week will graciously award two kegs of beer to the swines up the hall. Tough luck mutts!

Civilians receive awards

Civilian length of service awards will be presented at ceremonies scheduled during December by the deputy commander for Resources, the deputy commander for Maintenance, Air Base Group and Communications Squadron, according to Tom Ireland, civilian personnel officer.

Thirty year award winners include Edgar H. Beyer, James R. Findley, Raymond W. James, and Carl Sanders Jr. of the Field Maintenance Squadron; Dorothy H. Phillips and Elizabeth L. Montgomery, Comptroller Division; and James R. Hensley, Transportation Division.

Twenty year length of service awards will go to Donald R. Doshier, Orville A. Ford, and Lester Stroud, Comptroller Division; Evelyn G. Bures, Arthur E. Mayhew, and Lindsey L. Doss, Air Base Group; Linda L. Edwards, 2053rd Communications Squadron; and Daniel A. McIntire, Maintenance.

Ten year awards go to Sharon K. Springer, Shirley A. Vancleave, John B. Apodaca, Oliver B. Dial, Eddie W. Goodgion, and Harlen L. Mayberry, Air Base Group; Shirley W. Wassom and Joyce A. Widell, Comptroller Division; and George M. Saunders and Allen R. Terrell, Field Maintenance Squadron.

primarily being devoted to the construction of plastic models of our aircraft assignments. 2nd Lt. Jack "The Dancing Aggie" Wylie has his work cut out for him as he tackles the task of building a "Bongo Five-Two" powered by eight bottle rockets — "Everybody grab a throttle, we're going around!"

CLASS 76-06

Formation checks, dream sheets, and yearbooks act as a constant reminder to section one that graduation is not far away. 1st Lt. Bob Schwartz has a unique outlook on the program as he reminds us there's only three early weeks to go.

Capt. Chet Martindale and 2nd Lts. Mike Boulanger, Joe Logisz, and Merrick Harter will enjoy the upcoming holidays all the more knowing that their formation checks are over. Vermont, Michigan, Arkansas, and Alabama to name a few, will find their native sons home for Christmas.

The "Best Under Pressure" boys of section two have sent the first pair down to check section for their formation check. The cannon-fodder — Capt. Wally Keethler and 2nd Lt. Dusty Range, put the standing at Christians 2, Lions 0. Despite the low areas being in effect, the captain stayed "kind of" area oriented, a feat which eluded him during his contact check when he flew the entire ACRO profile in the "Cannon Annex", west of Morton area.

2nd Lt. "Talk Wastes Air" Brandt has engineered a creation which now occupies an entire table in the flight room. Said object is believed to be a T-38 canopy disguised as a 76-06 class patch. Lieutenant Brandt claims it's a paperweight.

Class 76-06 wishes all a Merry Christmas and Happy New Year.

CLASS 76-07

Leave statements and section leaders' tantrums are two indications that Christmas is upon us. Even a glance at our recent gradesheets is evidence that the "Santa Claus" spirit has reached our IPs. By the way, a special Merry Christmas to 2nd Lt. Mark Rabinowitz from his IP, 1st Lt. Guy Davis.

And for those of you contemplating some SIE action after your first out-n-back, cheer up. After all, your IP made it through UPT didn't he?

Class 76-07 wishes Capt. Michael Carruth and 1st Lt. John Hennigan, our section leaders, special holiday greeting and a well-deserved break. For two weeks, no more last minute phone calls for schedule changes, attendance taking, babysitting, or the like. We're sure these two will have a Merry Christmas.

Class 76-10

Section one started off last week with Capt. Doug Malloy and 2nd Lt. Robert Craig receiving outstanding check rides. 2nd Lts. Russell Newland and Bruce Edstrom also passed their instrument checks with good rides. Our bet with the IPs is beginning to look pretty good for a party as the rest of the class should finish their check rides this week.

The rest of the week was typical as 2nd Lt. Karl Gabrys broke three airplanes in a row; Lieutenant Craig used the wrong call sign solo, and Lieutenant Newland rolled up to No. 1 and called "Taxi".

Meanwhile, Captain Malloy is still keeping count on our insubordinations (such as throwing him into the pool).

So, as we recover from our flu shots, we wish all a Merry Christmas.

CLASS 77-01

Section one has gotten off to a good start in Basic Academics and preflight links.

The 64th Student Squadron basketball team remains No. 1 at 7-0 thanks to the efforts of seven roundballers in this section. Our own 2nd Lt. Carl "The Pelt" Van Pelt won a one-on-one hoop shooting contest with Capt/Major Jack Cusano, which proves once again that beauty triumphs over age.

Section two has been eating a few lately. Ask 2nd Lt. Don Taylor how it feels to bounce from the sky and Lieutenant Van Pelt if a $14.50 donation was really necessary for entering the casual bar with head covered. Otherwise, we're on a normal six-day-a-week schedule and loving it! Merry Christmas and Happy New Year to all.

 YC-15 — The Air Force-McDonnell Douglas YC-15 prototype advanced medium short takeoff and landing transport (AMST) made its first flight Aug. 26. The goal of the AMST program is to develop the technology for a transport to haul larger and heavier payloads at jet speeds and to operate from shorter fields. The McDonnell-Douglas Company and the Boeing Company were awarded contracts to develop and build two aircraft each under the prototype Air Force program. The Boeing YC-14 entry is now being built. (U.S. Air Force Photo)

Group seeks ways for improving AF

WASHINGTON (AFNS) — The Air Force is seeking ways to improve base-level management and save money.

A 40-man study group, headed by Maj. Gen. Robert C. Thompson, director of engineering and services at Headquarters U.S. Air Force, is now meeting at Bolling AFB, D.C. The base management action group (BMAG) is looking for ways to allow the Air Force to continue operating effectively within a reduced budget. The group is made up of members from various agencies throughout the Air Force, Additionally there will be representatives from the major commands.

General Thompson said, "We hope to find ways to improve the quality of Air Force life and mission support within our projected budgets. We are going to have less resources in terms of men, money, and materials to do the job. However, this does not mean the quality of life of Air Force people has to be reduced. We think there are probably better ways to do our business. It is the job of our group to find the better ways."

General Thompson said there are great ideas at every level of the Air Force. "We don't have a monopoly on good ideas in Washington," he explained. "We know there are officers, noncommissioned officers, airmen, and civilian employees with ideas and suggestions of how we can do our job more efficiently. We need their help."

The general encouraged everyone in the Air Force to submit their ideas to his group. He explained, "It will not be possible to answer every single suggestion, but I assure you each idea will be promptly reviewed and considered."

He emphasized that ideas could be submitted in any format. They should be sent to AF/BMAG, Bldg. 626, Bolling AFB, D.C. 20332.

CHAMPUS deadline approaches

WASHINGTON (AFNS) — CHAMPUS officials warn that Dec. 31, 1975, is the last day for filing CHAMPUS claims for medical care services and supplies received during 1974. CHAMPUS is the Civilian Health and Medical Program of the Un formed Services.

Air Force members who have not submitted 1974 claims should get them into the mail immediately. If a civilian source of medical services or supplies has agreed to submit an Air Force member's 1974 claims directly to CHAMPUS, it is up to the Air Force member to make sure the claim is submitted by the deadline.

CHAMPUS officials emphasize that 1974 claims that are not filed by the deadline will not be paid. Claims should be made to local CHAMPUS offices.

Information on filing is available in AFM 168-13, CHAMPUS, or by contacting the nearest uniformed services medical facility.

The excitement of the holidays is stirring in the 35th. The dreams of a "white" Christmas are all but gone. thank goodness. The time line looks better if we don't have to look at it through snow flurries.

New IPs

The squadron has two new completely checked out IPs. Both 2nd Lt. Steven Higgs and 2nd Lt. Larry Bauer are in "D" Flight. Second Lt. Marion Timberlake Jr. has returned from fun-in-the-sun San Antonio (PIT) to reorient himself to the wind and the dust. Welcome back!

The squadron has a new captain, almost. First Lt. Tim House was promoted to captain last week but he couldn't bear to part with his one silver bar. His wife managed to sew captains bars on his flight suit but his flying jackets are still one bar short on each shoulder. Congratulations lieutenant, er -

Capt. Buddy Weimer has also returned from PIT and will be joining "F" Flight.

Double Honors

Airman Victor Brooks, who mans our dispatch desk, has made news twice this past week. His first accomplishment was to score 100 per cent on his OJT training course, a feat that is accomplished by very few. Airman Brooks also receives his first stripe today. congratulations!

Lt. Col. Phillip Raign has become the new Section II commander. Congratulations Colonel Raign and officially "welcome" out of check section and into the squadron.

Santa's Arrival

The 35th FTS dependents welcomed Santa Claus into town this past Saturday at approximately 2 p.m. Santa was sighted on radar in the vicinity at about 1 p.m and he landed in a 7,000 pound white sleigh that made more noise than any gathering of eight reindeer ever

The dependents of the 35th enjoyed a party in the squadron briefing room immediately after Santa arrived.

From all the 35th - merry Christmas to all and to all a good night - until next year.

Bad shocks may cause accidents

DALLAS (AFNS) - If a car has more than 24,000 miles on its present shock absorbers, it may be a safety hazard, advises the Army and Air Force Exchange Service (AAFES).

Most shock absorbers lose effectiveness after 24,000 miles and should be checked routinely when the car is on the hoist for an oil change, lube job or wheel alignment.

A popular misconception is that shock absorbers function solely to offer comfort to passengers. That is just one of the functions, however, because they are necessary to hold a car on the road at sudden stops, when cornering, or when moving at accelerated speeds along the Signs of worn shock absorbers include a bobbing of the car after a stop, rough riding characteristics, and instability on corners.

Christmas customs vary from country to country

By Sgt Ron Pack Information Division

Christmas envisions a season of joy, a time for family reunions, a pine tree beautifully decorated, tantalizing foods, a time for gift giving and a wish for peace on earth.

Customs may differ from country to country but Christmas is celebrated worldwide.

In Austria, Christmas is the most important holiday, celebrated on Dec. 25 and 26. From Austria comes the song that is most representative of Christmas, "Silent Night! Holy Night". Santa Claus appears on Dec. 6 in the form of Saint Nicholas, the patron saint of children. Accompanied by the devil, children must give them both information about their good deeds and bad deeds. When the devil prepares to strike the children, Saint Nicholas chases him away. When the children promise to be good they are rewarded by gifts of fruit, nuts and

The Austrain Christmas tree is decorated with candles, cookies and other ornaments with the presents spread around it. However, the manger scene is the center of attraction consisting of as many as one hundred units carefully preserved from year to year. On Dec. 25 and 26 families and friends visit with one another and enjoy roast goose, ham and special Christmas

Scandinavian Countries

In the Scandinavian countries, Denmark, Norway and Sweden, Christmas is so cherished and celebrated that the Christmas season is said to last a whole month. It begins on Dec. 13, Saint Lucia's Day and continues until Jan. 13, Saint Knut's Day. Following Saint Lucia's Day, presents are bought or home-made ones provided and by Dec. 24 all have been temptingly wrapped and the tree is shimmering with ornaments, colorful gifts and live candles.

Even the birds are not forgotton on this holiday. Feed is put out for them on poles or beneath trees. Santa Claus is known as Jultomten in Sweden. While the first two days of Christmas are largely family affairs, Dec. 26 marks the season of hospitality. On dark afternoons and evenings, Scandinavian youngsters dress up in outlandish costumes and go from door to door in small groups asking for handouts of goodies, very much as American children do on Halloween.

Mexico

In Mexico the home must be decorated and ready to receive guest by Dec. 16, the beginning of the Mexican posadas. The word means resting place, lodging or inn and is applied to the Mexican custom of commemorating the trials and hardships experienced by Mary and Joseph in their attempt to find shelter in Bethlehem. The houses are decorated with festoons of Spanish moss, evergreen branches and colored paper laterns.

altar in a separate room. Santa Claus and Christmas trees are rare. The children receive their presents on Epiphany, Jan. 6, having put their shoes in the window the night

Puerto Rico

Christmas continues to have a distinctly religious tone in Puerto Rico. The major part of the more festive aspect centers around Jan. 6, the Three Kings' Day. The Three Kings go from house to house, dressed in eloborate costumes bringing presents. The children are taught to expect gifts not from Santa Claus but from the Three

They gather grass at the river banks and place it under their beds or on the roofs as food for the Kings' camels, expecting in return, the boxes to be filled with toys and gifts.

Open house is held Jan. 6-8. Men go from house to house playing their guitars. When guests arrive, the hostess is expected to greet each with an impromptu song composed to apply to each individual.

Italy

Three weeks constitute the Christmas season in Italy. Eight days before Christmas the beginning of novena begins. During this time the children go from house to house and recite Christmas selections expecting coins in return with which to buy special delicacies of the season.

Families that can afford a presepio, a miniature representation of the Holy Family and the manger, center their Christmas around that. Guests kneel in front of it, musicians sing before it and on Christmas Eve candles are lighted, and the family recites poems before it.

A rigid fast is observed the 24 hours before Christmas but is followed by an eloborate banquet. Gifts are brought by the Christchild. The actual season for a largescale exchange of gifts is not Christmas but the day of Epiphany.

"Smoke Gets In Your Eyes" is the name of a popular tune, but there is nothing beautiful about the effects of tobacco smoke in your eyes.

Recent health care, research has shown that because of the harmful gases present in cigarette smoke, excessive smoking might affect your ability to see. Smoking introduces foreign materials into the body. For example, nicotine and carbon monoxide, two of the most harmful ingredients in cigarette smoke, reduces smoker's vision at night.

In some, nicotine may cause blood vessels in the eyes to become smaller and reduce the oxygen supply to the retina. This lack of oxygen can interfere with the eyes' adaptation to light.

In addition to limiting night vision, smoking can cause tobacco ambiyopia, a disorder which leads to a loss of visual sharpness and color perception.

Smoking also has been linked with conditions that reduce the size of the total visual field. These disorders cause a reduction in the size of the image which the eye sees and sends to the brain.

Of particular importance to drivers, smoking also can impair peripheral or side vision. The lack of oxygen seems to diminish the eyes' normally excellent sensitivity to side movements, such as the movements of autos approaching from the

Finally, smoking irritates the eye tissues and eyelids. The way a smoker can avoid these potential hazards is to quit smoking!

By quitting, you can help to insure good health for your eyes, improve your night vision and restore the proper oxygen level need for delicate eye tissues.

"Smoke Gets In Your Eyes" should be only a song title, not a way of life.

O. I am a disabled military retiree. I know that in order to get VA compensation, I must waive a portion of my retired pay. If I qualify for the $150 VA clothing allowance because by prosthetic device wears out my clothing, will I also have to waive $150 of my retired pay?

A. No. It is not necessary for a veteran in receipt of retirement pay to waive any portion of his retirement pay in order to receive the clothing allowance. However, if he is in receipt of retirement pay and has not elected to receive compensation, a claim will be required each year to establish eligibility for the clothing allowance.

O. How can I get the money VA owes me for my husband while I was in school on the GI Bill and how much time do I have to complete the necessary paperwork?

A. Contact the nearest VA regional office about filing a claim for the money. Claims will be accepted until July 1, 1976.

Members honored for individual achievements

The 64th Field Maintenance Squadron (FMS) has honored three of its members for their individual achievements.

A1C George C. Cook has been honored by being named as the 64th FMS Airman of the Month for November. "Airman Cook is truly an exceptional airman in every respect. He has been assigned to the Structural Repair Shop for 18 months and is especially adept in accomplishing equipment repairs," said Maj. James E. Cason, commander, 64th FMS.

"On numerous occasions, he has devised minor alterations to established procedures that resulted in elimination of extra workhours expended, with no loss in quality. He has gained the gratification and admiration of his fellow workers due to his generosity and outstanding character. Men of his calibre are a great asset to the Air Force," said

MSgt. Phillip R. Shippee was recently honored by Air Training Command (ATC) by being awarded the ATC Quarterly Safety Award for July 1 to Sept. 30 "Sergeant Shippee is safety conscious and insists his subordinated practice sound safety procedures on each job," said Major Cason. His efforts have resulted in his being awarded this honor.

Instructors needed at ATC

Randolph AFB, Tex. (ATCPS) — Air Training Command (ATC) has a continuing requirement for technical instructors, military training instructors and student training advisors at Chanute AFB, Ill.; Keesler AFB, Miss.; Lackland AFB, Tex.; Lowry AFB, Colo; and Sheppard AFB, Tex. ATC also needs qualified corrections specialist NCOs.

The instructor requirements at each of the training centers will vary with only Lackland AFB having a need for military training instructors.

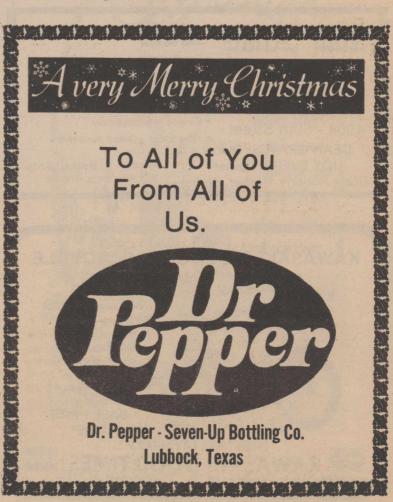

Although student training advisors are needed at each of the five ATC training centers, there is a particular need for career female NCOs to fill positions as student training advisors and military training instructors.

Numerous vacancies are also expected in the next 12 months for Field Training instructors. Staff sergeants in the avionics and aircraft maintenance specialties who possess the "7" skill level are encouraged to apply. Additional information can be obtained by contacting the commander of your local Field Training Detachment.

Application procedures for these specialties are contained in AFR 39-11, Chapter 8. Requests for a waiver of overseas duty selection date (ODSD) and short tour return date (STRD) may be submitted. Applicants must be within the height and weight standards outlined in AFR 50-49 and possess outstanding military appearance. Applications should be forwarded to the respective technical training center for which the applicant is applying. Interested personnel should contact the Reese Consolidated Base Personnel Office (CBPO) Customer Service Center for assistance in preparing an application.

ND there were in the same country, shepherds abiding in the field, keeping watch over their flock by night. And, lo, the angel of the Lord came upon them and the glory of the Lord shone round about them: and they were sore afraid.

And the angel said unto them, Fear not: for, behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy, which shall be to all people. For unto you is born this day in the city of David a Saviour, which is Christ the Lord. And this shall be a sign unto you; Ye shall find the babe wrapped in swaddling clothes, lying in a manger.

And suddenly there was with the angel a multitude of heavenly host praising God and saying, Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good will toward men.

And it came to pass, as the angels were gone away from them into heaven, the shepherds said one to another, Let us now go even unto Bethlehem, and see this thing which is come to pass, which the Lord

And they came with haste, and found Mary, and Joseph, and the babe lying in the manger.

Distribute.

But the two big things that everyone who drives the Rabbit really mained are: one, the amount of head and leg room (as much as some mic iised cars); and two, its incredible pickup, (0 to 50 in 8.2 seconds.) Which is pretty amozing for a car that rates an EPA-estimated 39 mgg on the high way—and 25 in the city, with standard transmission. (Actual mileage may arry depending on type of driving, driving habits, car's condition and control actual mich and the control actual mich and the control actual mich and the control actual meet.)
