

THE ROUNDUP

The ROUNDUP is an unofficial newspaper published weekly in the interest of personnel at Reese Air Force Base of Air Training Command. It is published by Craftsman Printers, Inc., a private concern, which is in no way connected with the Department of the Air Force. Publisher's mailing address: P. O. Box 263, Lubbock, Texas. Opinions expressed by publishers and writers are their own and are not to be considered an official expression by the Department of the Air Force. The appearance of advertisements in this publication does not constitute an endorsement by the Department of the Air Force of the products or services advertised.

Volume XIV Lubbock, Texas, Friday, April 19, 1963 No. 16

OPEN TO REESEITES — The $2 million Texas Tech library, housing 500,000 books, is open for use by Reese people at any hour of operation. Books may be used within the building or may be taken on loan on obtaining a borrower's card for $5. The money will be returned when the card is no longer used. Here the 72-column front and an outside reading area of the library are shown.

'Successful' Fund Drive Ended Here

A "highly successful" Federal Joint Crusade and National Health Agencies fund drive for Reese, recently closed, was reported this week by Maj. Donald McCaffrey, campaign chairman.

The major advised Col. James A. Gunn III, wing commander, that 76 per cent of Reese personnel contributed to the health agencies campaign and the average contribution was 86 cents, both considered high. In the 1962 campaign only five of 17 Air Force installations in Texas had better records and the major said he was hopeful the 1963 record would be as good or better.

Four units on the base had 100 per cent participation in the 1963 drive.

They were the 3500th and 3501st Pilot Training Squadrons, Mobile Training Detachment and Manpower Validation team, Project officers were Maj. Raymond A. Sofaly, Capt. Delano D. Castle, and MSgt. Nels K. Hogberg.

Civilian personnel, with Tom Ireland as project officer, contributed the most money, $670.79, with 85 per cent participation.

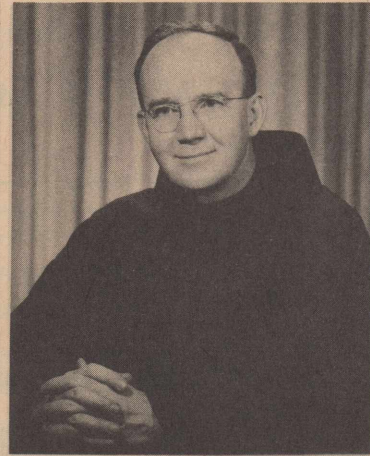

Other units, with project officers and percentages were: PTW headquarters, 2nd Lt. John W. Knapstein, 85; Civil Engineers, 2nd Lt. Richard C. Oyama, 83; Student Squadron, Capt. James E. Gilliland, 77; Hospital, Capt. Jesse R. Owen Jr., 68; M&S Group, 2nd Lt. Charles R. Galbach, 66; PTG headquarters, 1st Lt. Donald Gunn, 66; Air Base Group, 1st Lt. Douglas Slothower, 65; Communications, CWO Basil Parker, 59; and Weather, Capt. Edward Morris, 59.

"The unit project officers did a good job in giving everyone an opportunity to contribute, and I congratulate them," said Major McCaffrey. "Reese again has proven it has a big heart and is willing to aid those who need assistance."

He also thanked Bill Whorton of the Lubbock National Bank depository for aiding in auditing donations.

Cincinnati Priest Leader Of Catholic Mission Here

The annual Catholic Mission at Reese Air Force Base will start Sunday with Father Leonard Foley, OFM, a member of the Franciscan Order stationed in Cincinnati, Ohio, as missionary.

FATHER FOLEY

Services will conclude Thursday. Evening services are scheduled for 7 p.m., with Father Foley delivering sermons on the fundamental facts of Christianity and the spiritual life, Capt. Neil Daley, Reese Catholic chaplain, announces.

Father Foley, as a member of the Cincinnati Franciscan Mission Band, has been engaged in preaching parish missions in the Midwest and South. He also has given spiritual retreats for nuns, nurses, high school and parish groups, Cana Days for married couples and pre-Cana conferences for engaged couples.

The missionary, native of Lafayette, Ind., became a member of the Franciscan Order at St. Anthony Novitiate, Cincinnati, in 1931, and studied at Duns Scotus College, Detroit, and Holy Family Theological Seminary, Oldenburg, Ind. He was ordained to the priesthood in 1940.

Father Foley studied at Catholic University of America and the University of Cincinnati, where he received his master's degree in 1947. He taught at St. Francis Seminary, Mt. Healthy, Ohio, for 11 years and after several years as assistant pastor of the Shrine of the Little Flower, Royal Oak, Mich., he joined the Mission Board in 1952.

Father Daley has asked all Reese personnel and Lubbock citizens to attend Mission services.

ATC Team Assists In T-38 Activities

The Air Training Command T-38 plans and program control team visited Reese Tuesday to assist in phasing in the new Talons into the undergraduate pilot training program here.

First Reese Students are scheduled to start flying the T-38 in training on May 10 and the team studied maintenance plans here to see that everything was in readiness for the new program.

Honor Guard Aids Memorial Service

Eleven Reese airmen and a dependent served as honor guard last Sunday in memorial services held by the Lubbock Veterans of Foreign Wars for servicemen who went down in the submarine Thresher.

Participating were TSgt. Dale E. Collins of Air Police; SSgt. Lloyd A. Carver, A2C James E. Waters, A3C Albert M. Cannady Jr. and A2C Ronald F. Stowers of M&S Group; A1C Milton T. Ladner, Civil Engineers; A2C Larry G. Beal, A2C William K. Jogerst and A3C Kenneth R. Ochulein of wing; A3C John C. Nirof of Air Base Group; and Mike Hritz, son of a sergeant.

INSTRUCTOR ARRIVES

First Lt. Charles J. Siegel, formerly employed by Douglas Aircraft in California, has been assigned to Reese as instructor pilot. He is a graduate of California Institute of Technology.

Read To Enjoy Fifth Freedom Week's Theme

Reese Air Force Base will observe National Library Week next week with the rest of the nation, using the theme: "Reading; The Fifth Freedom — Enjoy it."

Libraries of Reese, Texas Tech and the City of Lubbock are slanting their co-operative observance on emphasizing what reading material is available to base people in the Lubbock area.

Special displays will be made and stress will on the thousands of volumes ready for use. The Reese library has upward of 10,000 books on its shelves, the Tech Library has 500,000 and the Lubbock library also more than 10,000 books for adults and children.

Complete support for observance of National Library Week at all military installations has been given by government leaders.

"Survival in our rapidly changing and ever more complex world demands that we be fully informed in constantly widening subject fields," said Gen. Curtis E. LeMay, Air Force chief of staff.

"To carry out this responsibility adequately, a carefully selected and properly organized library is essential."

"National Library Week serves to emphasize the vital role which the Air Force library service plays in providing sources of information for the entire Air Force family."

The Reese Library will hold open house from 9:30 to 10:30 a.m. Monday and Wednesday with coffee and rolls served to all visitors. Attending the Monday open house will be Col. James A. Gunn III, wing commander; Dr. Ray Janeway, Texas Tech librarian; and G. H. Sandy, Lubbock librarian. Color slides of the Tech library will be shown continuously during the open house periods.

Throughout all of next week visitors to the Reese library will be asked to register, with a book given to a selected visitor. One book also will be given at each open house.

Members of the fourth, fifth and sixth grades of Reese Elementary school are eligible to compete in an essay contest on the week's theme. A book prize will go to the boy winner and another to the girl winner.

Library Week activities are being carried out by Mrs. Helen K. Fuller, Reese librarian, under supervision of a committee headed by Lt. Col. Hanford R. Wright. Members are Capt. Richard W. Kimball, SMSgt. Basil Smith, 1st Lt. Wayne L. Stork and A3C Charles J. Wiegand.

The Lubbock city library has made itself available for use by Reese people who may visit the building and secure free library (See Library, Page 3)

HARMONIZE — A3C Joseph E. Brown and A3C Willie Nelson harmonize for some music they will offer in the Reese Talent Show.

Variety Show Set Thursday

Numerous acts of vocal and instrumental artists will feature the variety show of the base level Talent Contest at Reese at 7:30 p.m. next Thursday in the base theater.

The show will feature military personnel in novelty-specialty acts, vocal and instrumental solos, vocal and instrumental groups, dance acts, western music and as masters-of-ceremonies. The show is free, with the public invited.

First Lt. Kenneth Beerwinkle is project officer and will accompany winning acts to the next level of competition at Sheppard AFB.

The variety show will be followed by a Mathis Service Club dance, with the Swinging Sergeants of the Amarillo band providing music.

Base To Host Belgian Air Chief Of Staff

Reese will be visited next Tuesday by Maj. Gen. Albert Victor Henry, chief of staff of the Belgian Air Force, who is touring important U.S. Air Force installations.

The general, accompanied by members of his staff, will arrive at Reese at midafternoon on Tuesday and is to be a dinner guest of Col. James A. Gunn III, wing commander. He also will visit the Pilot Training Group for a briefing by Col. Roscoe B. Woodruff Jr., group commander, and the Maintenance and Supply Group for a briefing by Col. Joseph E. Payne, group commander. The general will tour the two groups and other areas of the base and will remain overnight.

His visit to the United States and Reese will mark a highlight in Air Force history. He will arrive in New York Sunday and will be met by Gen. Curtis E. LeMay, Air Force chief of staff, who will be his host during the visit.

Monday General Henry is to visit Cape Canaveral, and the next day come to Reese, which he wishes to visit as an outstanding pilot training base.

A strong admirer of the United States, the general is to fly to Norton AFB, Calif., on Wednesday to study the Los Angeles Air Defense sector and to tour an air division and the Lockheed Air Craft Corporation before the end of the week.

The following week he will tour the North American Defense Command, Air Defense Command, Air Defense Command headquarters and the Air Force Academy in Colorado Springs, the headquarters of Strategic Air Command at Offutt AFB, Neb., Andrews AFB near Washington, D.C., and the Pentagon building before returning to Belgium. In Washington he will be guest at several gala social functions attended by leaders in government and industrial circles.

Reese officials are highly pleased that the base is the only one in Air Training Command to be visited and that it was selected over 27 other ATC stations.

General Henry during World War II was a prisoner of war, but escaped to fly with the Royal Air Force from England for 2 years.

He held numerous important positions in the Belgian Air Force before becoming chief of staff. He holds many decorations, including the Chevalier Orde de Leopold with palma, Croix de Guerre with palma, Chevalier Orde Couronne, Officer Orde de Leopold and Commander Orde de la Couronne.

Accompanying him from the Belgian Air Force on his visit to Reese and his U.S. tour will be Col. Lucien G. DeMeye, deputy to vice chief of staff for Logistics; Col. Georges Terlinden, chief of operations of the Tactical Air Force; and Lt. Col. Albert Maurice Parot, chief, quality control, Ministry of National Defense. The general's aide, Capt. Walter D'Haese, also will be in the party, with Col. Woodrow T. Merrill representing the USAF chief of staff as escort officer.

CHIEF SPEAKS

Gen. Curtis LeMay, Air Force chief of staff, recently told Congress: "A deterrent force must have the ability in a portion of our forces to make swift and clearly recognizable moves to evidence U.S. resolve in the face of provocation. Manned systems provide this capability."

Commander's Comments . . .

By COL. JAMES A. GUNN III
Wing Commander

"Reading: The Fifth Freedom — Enjoy it" seems a most appropriate slogan for National Library Week which starts Monday. Books are the key to greater education and understanding — and vital in the life of a military man.

Never has it been so necessary for military personnel to stay well informed. Not only must we remain aware of developments within the community and in the Air Force, but also of world conditions and the forces at work throughout the globe. It has long been an established fact that a good reading program is essential for the military man. The importance of productive reading by every responsible individual cannot be stressed too highly.

Our library at Reese is well stocked with good books awaiting our use. No matter what your area of interest may be, you can find something regarding it in our library.

I urge everyone to visit the base library next week and view the attractive displays erected in observance of National Library Week. Also, why not check out a book and make your visit completely successful?

Area Businessmen Guests Of Reese

Businessmen in the South Plains area will have a chance to learn more about contracting with Reese when the base holds its second annual Vendor's Day program April 25.

Designed to stimulate interest in doing business with the Air Force and to explain how businessmen can go about it, the Vendor's Day program is open to all interested people and upward of 100 are expected here. Invitations have been sent to more than 300 contractors and merchants, with Maj. Joseph Sullivan, Reese procurement officer, to host the day.

Visitors will be briefed on Air Force procurement procedures, with Reese officers answering all questions. A tour of various parts of the base also will be held.

Reese spent upward of $1 million in the local area in purchasing numerous items last year.

Courage Needed In Everyday Life By All Mankind

Human life is no adventure for a coward; either cowardice must go or the humanity of man's life must go. Because men have rightly prized that by which they are men, their very humanity, courage has always been given recognition and honor from all men of all times.

It is of the brave man that it is constantly said: "There is a man." We find it easy to understand this because it is easy for us to understand the great love we have for our humanity. We cannot hate people because they, too, can love, can will, can understand, can fail; these are all distantly human things that serve as bonds tying us closely to all our fellow-men.

We may be jealous of a brave man, but we cannot hate his bravery; rather it is as entirely natural for us to give spontaneous expression to our respect for courage, so natural, indeed that often anything resembling true human courage has received the applause of men.

A real, authentic courage then, must be part and parcel of our everyday life.

Students Of Tech Study Production

About 25 industrial students of Texas Tech took a look at Civil Engineering production control during a visit Wednesday to Reese.

The students, led by Dr. Richard A. Dudek, industrial engineering professor, and Morris H. Schneider, assistant professor, saw how efficient control is maintained over real property, maintenance, buildings, roads, grounds and the airfields of Reese.

They were briefed by 2nd Lt. Willis Shanks, production control head, on how records are kept and the 150 men assigned to production in the Civil Engineering Group.

The visit was made, Dr. Dudek said, so students may see how the largest unit on the South Plains operates its workload.

Command Views On SKT's Asked

WASHINGTON (AFNS)—The Air Force is continuing efforts to make Specialty Knowledge Tests more effective by having them reflect certain major air command views when they are constructed.

A letter to the field lists tests scheduled for construction in late June and asks commands having primary or specific interest in a particular specialty, for their views in three areas.

Career field ladders in which SKT's will be constructed in June are aircraft mechanic, jet engine, reciprocating engine, air operations, aircraft control and warning, aircraft radio, manual central office equipment, medical administration, dental specialist, and dental lab specialist.

Beware!

Last week's sheltering exercise is history, but at the same time we were assured at least one more would be run before the end of May. Colonel James A. Gunn III, wing commander, indicated this and at the same time warned that actual lives could very well depend on how well versed everyone is in understanding the signals and with what they must do when the right whistle blows.

Why? A glimpse of what happened when severe weather hit Sheppard AFB last year is graphic illustration. When the violence subsided, four two-story dormitory buildings were found smashed into complete rubble. Luckily, nobody was living in them at the time. We have the same type buildings at Reese, and we are not too distant from Wichita Falls, where Sheppard is located.

When the people of Sheppard unburrowed themselves, they found themselves without telephones and electricity. Hot power lines were down and hazards abounded. But no injuries resulted. In large measure, this was due to the fast reflex action when the disaster control plan was put into play. Air police cordoned off danger areas, repair crews went immediately to work, damage assessment teams formed, emergency shelters were opened — all smoothly and well organized. Nearly everyone knew what to do, because they had practiced their sheltering and disaster procedures thoroughly.

Small wonder more exercises are scheduled for Reese. And exercises they will be; clearly identified as such and with adequate warning. When these exercises are sounded, we cannot afford to greet them with apathy. Families living on base must respond, regardless of inconvenience, keeping in mind that an inconvenience for practice is small price to pay in preparation for a real severe weather alert.

Needless to say, a shelter alert not identified as an exercise will be the real thing. As we enter into the time of year when we will receive repeated weather warnings, it would be well to keep this in mind.

"The scientific value is only part of our impelling motives for space exploration. A nation that could control the weather and communications could control the world. The support we give space explorations could well be the determining factor between defeat and victory."—Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson.

Faulkner, Kjosa Hitting Leaders

The 1963 edition of the Reese baseball team, winner of its opening game, is hopeful of meeting the Webb AFB team Sunday in Big Spring. Final plans were in the making today.

Reese opened its season last Sunday with a 7 to 1 victory over the Lubbock Bombers, a team composed of Texas Tech players. Airman Pat Scallon pitched the game most of the way, allowing two hits and no runs in his six inning stint. Relief pitchers, Airman Joe Lohrenz and Sam Wing, allowed three hits and the lone Bomber run.

Reese scored a run in the first inning on an error and double by Scallon. Three more runs came in the second on a walk to Guess, singles by Hans Faulkner, John Esponet, Dick Dixon and Ray Kjosa.

Another came in the fourth on an error and hits by Faulkner and Kjosa, and another in the sixth on an error, double by Faulkner and single by Dixon. The final run in the seventh resulted from a walk to Rudy Ruddell and double by Faulkner.

May 1 Rule Partly Lifted

Requirement for purchase of lightweight blue 1084 service uniforms by May 1 for some first term airmen was waived this week by Col. James A. Gunn III, wing commander.

A change to AFR 35-10 permitted wing commanders to waive in some instances requirements that all male airmen have the lightweight uniform by May 1.

Waived at Reese are the requirements for first-term airmen who have in their possession two serviceable blue uniforms and who have a term-of-service expiration date of July 1, 1965, or earlier.

The Tech Library, open days and evenings, also offers its facilities to Reese people who secure a resident borrower's card, which is issued on a $5 deposit at the Readers' Service desk in the basement. The deposit is returned when use of the card is completed.

The Tech library also may be used by Reese people without borrower's cards, Janeway said. Material may not be taken from the library without a card.

The Tech library, formally dedicated last October, is the largest building on the Tech 1,800 acre campus. The building is air-conditioned, fully lighted, and with stacks open to users. Study tables are near stacks, for easy use of books. The handy tables permit book use without necessity of checking out.

BOWLING

Battles for second and third place in the Officers Bowling League highlighted Wednesday night's activities.

The Dust Devils defeated the Studs, 3-1, to add to the lead and set a 46-14 season's mark in the final night.

The Rainedancers upset Flight 6 with 2.5-1.5 in the battle for second place and the flight dropped to fourth place as the Throttle Jocks took a 4-0 win from AFIT and climbed to the third spot. Tied with Flight 6 for fourth place with a 37.5-22.5 mark were the Wing Winners.

First Lt. Norm Campbell rolled a 655 series to set the season's high game, with 1st Lt. Joe Hertel hitting 594 and the night's high game of 233. Major Joe Sullivan hit a 229 game.

The Dust Devils rolled a 931 high game, 2,680 scratch series and 3,046 handicapped series, while the Brainwashers turned in a 1,072 handicapped game.

CLUBS

YOUTH CLUB

Five hundred parents and children attended the Reese annual Easter Egg hunt last Sunday. Five thousand candy eggs were found and six large fuzzy rabbits were given as special prizes.

The Monday Youth Club bake sale brought in $16.17. Mrs. Floyd Longwell was in charge, assisted by Jan and Tracy Longwell, Joanne Merrit, Nina Joyce, John Sofaly, David Strack, Claude Hill, Randy McFarland and Mike Hritz.

The Boy Scout court of honor will be at 7 p.m. in the Little League park.

Pre-Teens will have an outing today in MacKenzie State Park. The bus leaves the Youth Club at 7:15 p.m. and will return children to the club at 10 p.m. Refreshments will be served.

Junior and Senior Teens will have an outing in the park Saturday, with the bus operating on the same hours.

Reese youths will bowl against the Webb youngsters Saturday in the Reese alleys. Competition starts at 1 p.m.

WOMEN'S CLUB

The Reese Women's golf activity at 9 a.m. each Tuesday is drawing more interest and additional entries are being accepted.

Thirty-six women attended the April 16 tee-off coffee and plans call for competition with Amarillo women, play at Lubbock country clubs, a Reese spring tournament and a Scotch Foursome each Sunday afternoon.

This Sunday a ringer tournament starts.

RECORD SATISFACTORY

The On-The Job training program at Reese during the first two months of this calendar year was rated satisfactory by Air Training Command, Col. James A. Gunn III, wing commander, has been advised. Continued emphasis on OJT has been given here and will be continued.

Legal Aid Offered Here At Any Time

Legal assistance to Reese personnel is being given at any time during work hours under the program of Capt. Joseph Spencer, staff judge advocate.

Persons assigned here may visit the legal office at any time, or may secure an appointment, if desired. Previously, assistance was given only by appointment.

The motor vehicle operations section averages 21 bus trips a month for sports and recreation.

It costs the Air Force an average of $2,300 to furnish one set of quarters.
