Amarillo Airman Wins ATC Symbol Contest

A slashing sword wielded by a symbolic hand and slicing through the letters of the word "cost" that looms high in a circular shield was selected as the winning entry in the Air Training Command Cost Reduction Program symbol contest.

The winning design was created by A3C Bradford B. Bennett, 3320th Technical School, Amarillo AFB, who has received a check for $100 from ATC as first place winner in the contest.

Airman Bennett said the hand holding the sword in his design represents manpower, or the human resources element of the United States Air Force, cutting through the mounting cost of spending for defense.

The Amarillo airman's winning entry will serve as the official ATC Cost Reduction Program symbol, and will be forwarded to USAF headquarters as one of the command's representatives in world-wide competition to select an official USAF symbol.

Second place award of $50 went to MSgt. Robert E. Ammerman, 751A Mobile Training Detachment, Moody AFB, Ga., and third prize of $25 was awarded to SSgt. Joseph L. Barton, Hq. 3503rd USAF Recruiting Group, Robins AFB, Ga. Their entries will also be forwarded for AF competition.

The second place winner in ATC competition presents a large dollar sign with arrows, running around either side. One arrow begins at the bottom of the figure, continues out and upward and terminates in the form of the nose and wings of a jet airplane pointing skyward. The arrow is labeled "United States Air Force." The second arrow, tagged "Cost Reduction Program," wraps around the top of the dollar sign and continues downward.

Sergeant Ammerman explains that the symbol is designed to indicate "the close relationship between maximum efficiency and cost: 'to keep air power up, cost must be kept down.' The figure is in black and white, 'for maximum contrast,' he said.

The third place winner in the command contest features the figure of a "woodsman" made of dollar bills with a coin for a head. The figure wears a green beret and carries a large blue ax. He is in the center of a gold border labeled "DOD Cost Reduction Program."

Designer of the third place winner, Sergeant Barton, calls the woodsman "Bill McDollar." He said, the beret worn by Bill McDollar is a symbol of thriftiness and saving, the blue ax is for a true and sincere cost cutting program, and the gold seal around the woodsman is to "show how valuable the program is."

CRP SYMBOL CONTEST WINNERS—Three winning entries in the Air Training Command Cost Reduction Program symbol contest will represent the command in Air Force-wide competition. First place winner in the ATC contest (top center) was created by A3C Bradford B. Bennett, Amarillo AFB, MSgt. Robert E. Ammerman, Moody AFB, Ga., designed the second place winner (left) and the entry by SSgt. Joseph L. Barton, Robins AFB, Ga., (right) was selected for third place award in the ATC contest. (ATCPS)

Commander Made Honorary Member Of Reese Aero Club

Colonel Dudley E. Faver, Commander, 3500 Pilot Training Wing, became an honorary member of the Reese Aero Club Tuesday night. The presentation of the membership card was made by Col. Roscoe B. Woodruff, Jr., Aero Club president.

The ceremony took place during the regular monthly meeting of the club in the 3501 Pilot Training Squadron briefing room.

Colonel Faver has indicated that he has a personal as well as an official interest in the Aero Club since he plans to utilize actively its facilities. He has already inspected the Aero Club facilities and flown a cross country flight in one of the Aero Club's Cessna 172's accompanied by Colonel Woodruff.

Upon receiving his honorary membership, Colonel Faver took the opportunity to address the members of the Aero Club. He indicated the necessity for the Aero Club to emphasize flying safety and to insure operation of its aircraft in accordance with local rules and regulations, as well as those of higher headquarters. Many clubs throughout the USAF have failed due to financial insolvency, and Colonel Faver stressed the necessity for club members and officials alike to insure that the club was operated in a business-like manner to preclude difficulties of this type.

Reese's Flying Hazard, Old Goat, Back In Home Lot

The old nanny goat which for more than a week was a flying hazard at Reese is back home after more than three months of wandering freely.

The goat lived in a culvert at Reese and spent "too much time" on and around runways where jet aircraft landed and took off. It finally was cornered and captured, with subsequent wide publicity.

Several people thought it might be theirs but could not identify it. Tuesday J. C. Danford, who farms two miles west of New Deal, made positive identification through scars and the goat's habit of stomping its left front foot. So he obtained custody from TSgt. D. E. Collins, the man who made the actual capture.

Danford said about the middle of November three goats broke out from their pen on his farm. Two later met death as they wandered over the South Plains.

Reese's nanny moved far afield, but its movements now are restrained to its pen.

USAF enlistees with high school education reached 82.4 per cent in 1963.

Reese Assists ATC To Write Safety Record

Aided by Reese's flying safety accomplishments, Air Training Command's 1963 flying safety record set the lowest rate of major aircraft accidents in the command's 20-year history.

ATC won the coveted Daedalian award in 1962 for recording a command rate of only 3.5 major accidents per 100,000 flying hours—30 per cent below the previous year. Last year the command's flying safety program resulted in bringing that mark to a new all-time low of 2.8 major accidents per 100,000 flying hours.

"ATC safety accomplishments contribute significantly to greater safety in all Air Force flying programs, since the quality and measure of training recovered by ATC students will be an important and influencing factor in future Air Force safety performance," said Lt. Gen. Robert W. Burns, ATC commander.

General Burns said the progress made during 1963 toward the goal of "preparing the man" safely is attributed to vigorous command emphasis on safety at all levels of command, combined with increased professionalism by flight and ground crews, and conscientious performance by support personnel.

Two additional undergraduate pilot training (UPT) bases, one of them Reese, converted to T-38 Talon jet trainers during 1963.

Flying time in this high performance trainer increased 161 per cent over the preceding year, while the major aircraft accident rate decreased 36 per cent.

The T-33 T-Bird accident rate has been reduced 53 per cent during the last two years in ATC, and the command's helicopter program, which involved 15,000 training hours per year, experienced only one training accident in more than 220,000 takeoffs and landings last year.

The most significant improvements in the command's flying safety program during 1963 occurred in the UPT program, said

Entries Sought In Reese Talent Show Categories

A call for talent to "help Reese win $300" went out this week to base personnel.

Air Training Command is holding its annual talent contest and is offering $300 to the base scoring first in competition. Second place gets $200, third place $100, fourth place $75 and fifth place $50. Winners in each category will become members of "Command Performance 1964," which will tour ATC bases as a variety show.

The tentative date of April 23 has been set for the base level contests, with 12 categories which may be entered, ranging from vocal group and vocal solo to master of ceremonies, 1st Lt. Vernon Hogden, project officer, pointed out.

"A great deal of talent exists on Reese and the best of this should go forward to the ATC Conference Talent Contest at Lackland AFB, May 4 to 8," the lieutenant said.

Interested officers and airman may call Lieutenant Hogden at Extension 446.

Crusade Ends In Five 100% Giving Units

One hundred per cent units in the Federal Service Joint Crusade campaign at Reese moved to five this week as everyone in the Field Training Detachment, Rescue Detachment and Student Squadron contributed. They joined the 3501st and 3500th Pilot Training Squadrons in the 100 per cent participation bracket.

With payday early next week, Maj. Joseph V. Sullivan, drive chairman, said he is hopeful other units will complete their drives quickly.

"These five units," he commented, "secured complete cooperation of everyone in contributing to the crusade which is helping sufferers of many bad diseases and also is assisting in our national efforts to expand friendship and freedom thinking overseas."

"Our major goal is 100 per cent participation. It is the hope of all key workers in the units that contributions this payday and next payday will enable us to complete the crusade before the deadline March 15."

"The Federal Service Joint Crusade has the complete backing of national leaders and our wing and base commanders are anxious that Reese extend its record of never having failed in any campaign to assist our neighbors."

Each contributor may designate the organization to which his contribution will be sent.

Commander Pays FTD Staff Visit

Colonel Hugh Mahoney, commander of the 3320th Technical School at Amarillo, will pay a staff visit this weekend to the 429A Field Training Detachment at Reese.

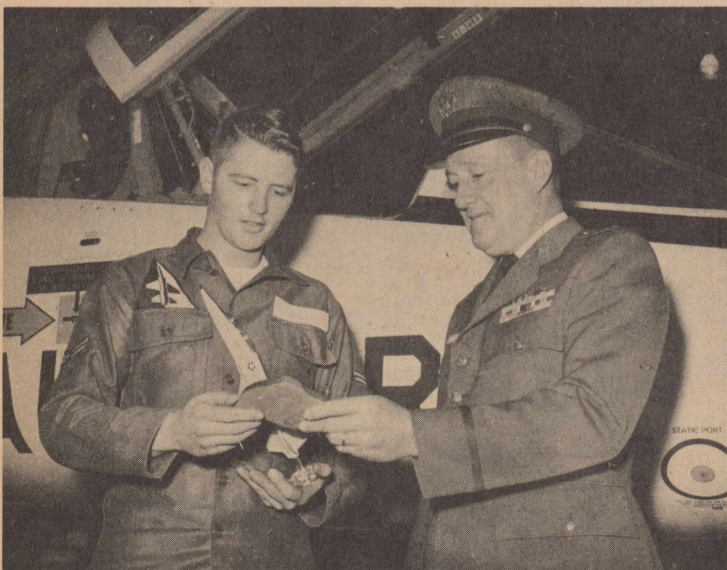

The colonel, accompanied by four other officers and three airman, are scheduled to arrive late today and will leave at mid-afternoon-Friday.

They will study activities and progress of the detachment, a unit of the technical school, and will visit activities in the Reese aircraft maintenance area which the detachment supports.

SMSgt. Charles Andrus is commander of the detachment.

OFFICERS QUALIFY

Two Reese officers, Capt. Richard A. Henry and 2nd Lt. Raymond M. White Jr., student officer, have qualified as experts in small arms marksmanship and have been awarded the Small Arms Expert Marksmanship Ribbon.

BEST ON T-38—A2C Ben Wells, left, is pleased on receiving a plaque naming him Maintenance Man of the Month for T-38 aircraft. Presentation is by CWO William O'Rourke, maintenance control officer.

TOPS—A2C Richard Amelse, left, receives a plaque from Maj. Glenn O. Hickey, chief of maintenance, designating him as Maintenance Man of the Month in T-37 aircraft.

Commander's Comments . . .

By COL. DUDLEY E. FAVER
Wing Commander

Some time ago this wing received the following letter from General Curtis E. LeMay, Air Force Chief of Staff. I would like to quote it at this time:

"Major General J. B. Montgomery, USAF Reserve, the new President of the Air Force Association, has requested members of the Air Force to support the current nation-wide drive to strengthen AFA membership and organizational activity.

"As you know, the Air Force Association is a private, non-profit and unofficial organization with these objectives: To assist in obtaining and maintaining adequate aerospace power for the security of the nation and the free world. To keep its members and the public abreast of developments in aerospace. To preserve and foster the spirit of fellowship among former, present and future members of the United States Air Force. These are fine objectives, worthy of our support.

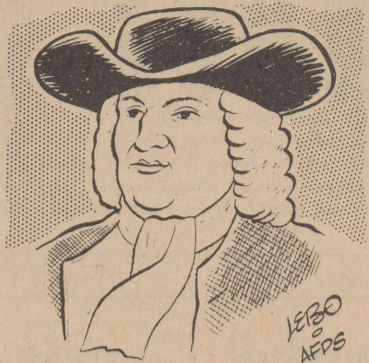

"General Montgomery has called attention to the fact that, under its new membership rules, AFA now can grant full membership privileges to all non-military people who support AFA objectives. As a result, AFA is conducting a membership drive among civilian personnel of the Air Force and civic leaders interested in the Air Force.

"Within the Air Force, AFA is seeking more members among military personnel. As you know, these Service Members in AFA do not have voting or office-holding privileges, and this is as it should be. Nevertheless many of us value our membership in AFA. Such affiliation must, of course, be a voluntary matter.

"Please inform members of your organization of General Montgomery's current program. The effectiveness of AFA is sometimes not fully understood or appreciated by Air Force personnel. In the hope that this situation can be corrected, I strongly encourage your support of AFA."

Efforts are being made to organize an active Air Force Association Squadron in Lubbock and I heartily recommend the participation of anyone who is interested. If you desire to join Lubbock's Air Force Association squadron — and I hope you do — you should contact the Base Information Officer for further specifics and directions.

Scientists See Perfect Man, But 'Only On Paper'

By Chaplain Wayne L. Stork
A science writer recently sat down with some Air Force medical scientists to describe the perfect man for the space age.

This perfect man would have two hearts. His bones and muscles would be ten times stronger than normal. He would have infrared and ultraviolet vision. His resistance to heat and cold would be much greater than ours. And he would have a tail so that he could maneuver in zero gravity. He would be perfect for space conquest. The problem is obvious. This man, ideal as he may be, exists only on paper.

It was another scientist, the French physicist Lecomte du Nouy who said, "The perfect man is not a myth; he has existed in the person of Jesus Christ."

And centuries before the dawning of the scientific age the writer of the letter to the Ephesian church referred to the Son of God as a perfect man. Yet, a man he was, not a hazy legend or a fuzzy myth, but a man — a flesh and blood man, who ate, drank, slept, laughed, and wept even as we do.

How much better off we would be, if during this Lenten Season each of us were able to recognize what He has done for the world.

Sodality Luncheon Planned March 5

The regular luncheon meeting of the Sodality of Our Lady will be March 6, immediately following the 12:15 p.m. Mass in the Chapel. A formal reception into the Sodality will be held in the Chapel after the Mass.

Free nursery service is available for Mass and the luncheon. Reservations may be made with Dot Hannibal, 885-4948, by 2 m., Thursday, March 5. Reservations are necessary for the luncheon and nursery.

Promotions Come To ATC Officers

Two Air Training Command officers have been nominated for advanced general officer promotions and one for the rank of brigadier general. Lt. Gen. Robert W. Burns, ATC commander, has announced.

Brig. Gen. Neil D. Van Sickle, deputy chief of staff, flying training, ATC, has been selected for promotion to major general; Maj. Gen. Dwight O. Monteith, commander, Amarillo AFB, was nominated to receive permanent major general rank, and Col. Edward H. Nigro, commander, Randolph AFB, has been nominated for promotion to brigadier general.

Voting Is A Privilege

Reese personnel this year have an outstanding privilege and responsibility in helping select those men and women who serve in public office from President to most insignificant local posts.

The vote is fundamental to the way of life in the United States. The nation was founded on the right of everyone to speak through voting and this nation was the first to make the vote work satisfactorily. Everyone should be proud to vote and to have a voice in what he or she wants the government to be.

Each voter says in effect, "I agree (or disagree) with what you are doing" to the government. It is highly important for Air Force people to express a vital interest in government affairs and the persons who hold office.

It takes effort to be an informed voter, but it takes little effort to vote. Each voter should be informed to best express his opinion, but informed or not, he may cast his free vote on election day. Each voter should know procedures in the state of his legal residence and should be registered in most states to be eligible. At Reese, it is easy to learn eligibility, for unit voting officers have complete information on every state and are ready to assist.

All Reese personnel should assure themselves of eligibility without delay to be ready to voice their choices on election days.

OWC Schedules Luncheon, Show

Management Area Technicians Frozen

WASHINGTON (AFNS) — The Air Force has ordered a temporary freeze on reassignment of management engineering technicians to provide the stabilization necessary to train a core of highly qualified airmen to staff its manpower validation program.

An all major air command message issued by the Military Personnel Center at Randolph AFB directed that transfers of management engineering personnel be held to an absolute minimum until July 1965.

BOWLING

Couples League
Several bowlers took the spotlight in the Reese Couples bowling league last week. Jack Parker and Henry Schmitt rolled 191 games; Schmitt hit a 532 series; and Mary Goldfein rolled a 189 high game for women. Joan Whitsett marked up a 503 series for women, and the Whitsett-Parker team hit a 750 game and 2083 series. Whitsett-Parker is in first place with 45 wins, 23 losses, while Miller-Harmon holds second place with 42½ wins, 25½ losses. In third place is Kumpf-Gray, 38½-29½, while Moody-Goldfein has 36-32, Wachtel-Stork 25½-42½ and Schmitt-Senne 15½-52½.

Renegade League
Three women — Glenda Parker, Evelyn Couch and Nancy West — rolled 178 games to tie for high in the Reese Renegade bowling league last week. Glenda Parker hit a 497 series. Eight teams are competing in the league composed of wives of officers and NCO's. Bowling is at 9:30 a.m. Wednesday. Standings include:

Team	Won	Lost
Team 7	5	3
Team 8	5	3
Team 4	4	4
Team 2	4	4
Team 1	4	4
Team 3	4	4

Moonlight Doubles
TSgt. and Mrs. John West captured first place in the Moonlight Doubles last Friday night on the Reese alleys, hitting 1184 pins in competition in which each contestant rolled three games.

Thirteen couples competed, with two teams — SSgt. and Mrs. James Harmon and TSgt. and Mrs. Bill Letsinger — tying for second place with 1076 pins each. Fourth place went to SSgt. Dick McGowan and Jean Hoover, one pin behind at 1075.

Ragtime Doubles
A Ragtime Doubles tournament

in progress at the Reese bowling alley will end Saturday night. The high score of 1242 is shared by John West and E. C. Doran, with 1238 rolled by both Donald Crowl and Kenneth Rowe for third place. Entries still are being taken. A "Scotch No-Tap" is being featured, starting March 1. Couples may enter the tournament — men, women or man and woman. In the tourney three games are rolled, with contestants rolling every other ball. Tonight's bowling activities feature a special scratch elimination tournament scored on the Peterson point system. Everyone is invited.

Intramural League
Although the 3500th PTS team kept up its winning ways by downing the Organizational Maintenance team three out of four games, last week's results were sparked by two major upsets. A1C Dennis Moore of the seventh place ABG1 team, had two 200-plus games and a 593 series to help his team take 3 of 4 games from second place Field Maintenance. AFCS, which was tied with the Hospital for third place, dropped three of four games to a sharpshooting 3501st Student Team. The Hospital, who had a forfeit last week, moved into undisputed second place, with Field Maintenance falling into third, and AFCS into fourth.

The high series last week went to Airman Moore with 593, while A1C Jim Green of the Fire Department took high game with 214.

The big match this week pits the first place 3500th PTS against the second place Hospital.

The standings, with 11 weeks left in the league, are:

Team	Won	Lost
3500th PTS	74	10
Hospital	57	27

AFCS	54	30

Safety ...

Col. James W. Bradford, ATC's chief of safety. He said the UPT rate of 2.5 accidents per 100,000 hours is 11 per cent below the ATC rate and 43 per cent below the USAF rate.

The Reese 2.3 rate contributed to the UPT safety picture. "Such drastic improvement in the UPT program attests to the quality of supervision and professionalism of instructor pilots, flight commanders and supervisors of all activities supporting the UPT mission," said Colonel Bradford.

He also cited maintenance as a contributing factor to success of the program. "A significant maintenance contribution to this outstanding safety accomplishment involved identifying a major engine fuel system deficiency," he said. "Command-initiated action resulted in a modification of the J-69 engine fuel control which, when completed, reduced in-flight flameouts by 40 per cent."

Pointing to the success of flying safety programs in UPT, Lt. Col. William S. Neighbors, ATC Flight Safety Chief, paid particular tribute to Vance AFB, Okla. He said Vance aircraft flew some 170,000 hours in 21 months without a major aircraft accident. Vance was one of the UPT bases which converted to use of the T-38 last year.

The command's navigator training program contributed to the record-breaking safety mark by completing another year without an accident involving scheduled navigation training. More than 951,000 hours have been flown in this program during the past six years without a major aircraft accident.

Cub Scouts Celebrate 54th Birthday

The importance of preparing for the years ahead, and the importance of Cub Scouting as a step in that preparation, were main points brought out by Col. Dudley E. Faver, wing commander, in an address to Reese Cub Scouts at their Blue and Gold Banquet Sunday celebrating the 54th birthday of Scouting.

The annual affair, held at the NCO Club, featured a program by the Cubs of Den 3, under the supervision of Mrs. Laura Ferguson, Den Mother. Assisting Den 3 in the presentation were guest performers Jack Slaughter and Reese Boy Scouts from Troop 548, Mark Collins, Jimmy Praytor, Barry Reese, Dean Roberts, Roger LeClerc, Teddy Guy, Tres Longwell, and Lucian Ferguson. The Den 3 Cubs starred in the show were Ricky Maycumber, Mike Guy, David Friday, Mike Steele, Alan Boddie, and Scott Barber.

Five new Cubs were inducted into Pack 548 as Bobcat Cub Scouts. They were: Dwight Jackson, Steven Lents, Lawrence Grady, Alan Boddie, and Ricky Maycumber. Advanced to the rank of Wolf Cub were: Stephen Hill, Todd Mold and Mike Corbett. Tony Blue was advanced to Bear Cub, and Mike Nelson to Lion Cub.

Arrow Point awards were given to Scott Barber (Wolf Gold Arrow Point), Billy Prefach (Wolf Silver Arrow Point), Calvin Howard (Bear Silver Arrow Point), and Mike Nelson (Lion Gold and Silver Arrow Points). Mike Nelson was also awarded a One-Year Service Star. Perry Hamilton and David Hamilton were presented with Denner and Assistant Denner Stripes, respectively.

Den 2, supervised by Mrs. Rose Blue, den mother, gave the pledge of allegiance to the flag; Den. 1, supervised by Mrs. Carol Scales, den mother, had the opening ceremony, and Dens 2, 4 and 5 conducted the closing ceremony. Mrs. H. F. Kight is den mother of Den 4 and Mrs. Nancy Kumpf is den mother of Den 5. Mrs. Kumpf and her den were in charge of decorations and SSgt. Curtis E. Blue was chairman of the banquet committee.

The invocation and benediction were given by Chaplain Robert White, who, with Mrs. White, were guests of the pack. Other guests were Colonel Faver; Col. Richard A. Steele, base commander, and Mrs. Steele; and Leonard J. Maranto, pack institutional representative, and Mrs. Maranto.

Captain Floyd L. Longwell is Cubmaster and Lt. Col. David T. Mold is pack committee chairman.

March News Film Highlights People

WASHINGTON (AFNS) — People are highlighted in Air Force News Review No. 99, scheduled for all circuits in March. Four of the seven filmed segments concern individuals and their contributions to the Air Force, past and present.

The camera watches as Maj. Gen. Benjamin D. Foulois is inducted into the Aviation Hall of Fame at Wright-Patterson AFB, Ohio. The octogenarian air pioneer was the first chief of the Army Air Corps and received his flight training from the Wright Brothers.

At Bunker Hill AFB, Ind., top crew chiefs and armament, electronics, and munitions maintenance men are honored for their outstanding work on the Convair B-58 Hustler.

Switching to the Air Force Academy Prep School at Colorado Springs, potential Air Force leaders of tomorrow are shown undergoing intensive training to qualify for appointment to the Academy.

And near El Centro, Calif., a group of Air Force and Army paratroopers, led by a TAC air commando, Capt. John J. Garrity Jr., jump from 43,500 feet to break a free-fall record held by the Soviet Union since 1961.

In other segments, Air Force Secretary Eugene M. Zuckert inspects new hospital facilities at Sheppard AFB, Tex.; the Mobile Air Materiel Area tests packaging materials to find ways of reducing costs and improving protection; and at the Sikorsky plant near Stratford, Conn.
