Whirlwinds To Meet Plainview Eleven In Post Season Battle

Game Will Be Played Friday On Wayland Field At 3 O'Clock.

Floydada High School's Whirlwinds, champions of the north half of District 2, Class B, and one of the strongest teams in this section will meet the Plainview High School Bulldogs at Wayland Field at Plainview Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock in a post season game, local school officials announced Wednesday.

Practically all the proceeds of the game will go to welfare associations of Plainview.

The two teams battled to a 0-0 tie on the same field at the very opening of the season and fans will be interested in the fray because it will afford them an opportunity, they say, of determining really which has the stronger eleven.

Plainview in Class A has found the sledding rather rough this year in contests with the heavy aggregations from Pampa, Amarillo and Lubbock but has a scrapping little team and the game tomorrow promises plenty of thrills.

First Santa Letters To Hesperian Today

Not long now, until Christmas time. In fact, it is only twenty-one days. So the boys and girls are beginning to put the wants on paper and getting them off to Santa Claus. The first of these to send their letters to The Hesperian are Topsy and Charles Dudley, a brother and sister who live at Hillcrest, and already know what they want on Christmas Eve night.

Here are their letters, the first from Topsy, who says:

"Dear Santa: I am a little girl seven years old and I go to school at Hillcrest. I am in the second grade. Mrs. Austin is my teacher. "I want you to bring me a doll buggy some doll dresses for the doll you brought me last Christmas and some dishes. Please don't forget mother and daddy. I think they would like to have some fruit and other good things to eat. "Yours for a Merry Christmas, Topsy Dudley."

The second letter from Topsy's five-year-old brother, Charles, says: "Dear Santa:

"I am a little boy five years old. I will go to school next year and want you to bring me a white pony so I can ride him to school. I would like to have a fountain pen and some blocks, too, if you have room in your sleigh for them. I want a lantern and stove to use in the tent when Topsy and I camp out in the yard. "Your little friend, Chas. Dudley."

Other boys and girls who want to write Santa through The Hesperian are welcome to do so. However, we suggest you don't wait and wait, but get busy like Topsy and Charles have done and get the job done so that Santa won't have a lot of last-minute things to attend to.

Blassingame Boy Recovers From Burns

Melvin Blassingame, 14-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Lon Blassingame, who reside one mile west of town, is convalescing from serious burns on his left leg which he received Tuesday night, November 17, when gasoline which he was emptying from a can became ignited.

He has not been able to sit up but is showing gradual signs of improvement, Mrs. Blassingame said this morning.

Melvin, who is a freshman in Floydada High School this year, had been studying and had gone out to a well house to get some gasoline for an iron to do some pressing. Unable to see the amount he had poured, he struck a match and the gas he had spilled accidentally on his trousers became ignited.

Displaying rare presence of mind, he stripped off his clothes, put out the fire and went to a coal oil can and poured the fluid on his burns before going in the house to tell his mother of the accident.

He was severely burned from the knee to his ankle. His hands were slightly burned and his eyebrows and eyelashes singed.

United Charities Meeting Called For Monday Night, 7:15, at C. of C.

A get-together meeting of representatives of all the civic agencies of the community, as well as the welfare organizations and churches, has been called for Monday night of next week at the Chamber of Commerce office, when a central committee is expected to be named and plans tentatively made for the operation of the United Charities during the winter.

Evidence that such an organization will need to function in Floydada this winter has become apparent, and the Pastor's Alliance, through its secretary, Rev. Claude Wingo, has called the meeting.

At this meeting are wanted representatives of the Floyd County Chapter American Red Cross, the Chamber of Commerce, the Rotary Club, the High School, Andrews Ward School, East Ward School, the East Ward P. T. A., the Andrews Ward P. T. A., the 1929 Study Club, the 1922 Study Club, McDermott Post American Legion, the American Legion Auxiliary, Mayor W. C. Hanna of the City of Floydada, a representative from each church in the city, the Volunteer Fire Department, and the hold-over members of the United Charities central committee. W. Edd Brown, E. P. Nelson, and R. E. Fry, according to the call made by the alliance.

"We want to make a survey and study of the situation at this meeting Monday night," Mr. Wingo said. "It is certain we will have to have clothing, food and fuel to take care of some of the people and it is possible we shall have to make a drive for funds, as well," he declared. "All of this, however, will be determined definitely and decisions made Monday night, when it is our idea that a central committee should be named and the work organized so as to get the maximum results with the minimum of outlay."

United Charities, which functioned two years ago, was not used last year, when the American Red Cross stepped in in the emergency and took a tremendous load off the

Ed Holmes Announces One-Day Rural Drama School, December 15

Communities Invited to Send Four Representatives; Fee Is Only $1.

Sponsored by the County Recreation Association through Mrs. S. M. Lester of Roseland community, county recreational chairman, a one-day Rural Drama School will be held in the Andrews Ward gymnasium from 10 o'clock Saturday morning, December 15, until 4:30 o'clock in the afternoon, it was announced Wednesday. Mr. and Mrs. Ed Holmes of Sand Hill community will direct the school. All communities are invited to "enroll."

Plays Main Study
The program will include community singing, discussion on the value of community drama, how to produce a play, laws of acting, suggestions to get people to participate, 15 stock roles of acting, how to organize a community to get ready to produce plays and how to trade plays.

Mr. and Mrs. Holmes have announced a plan to help Floyd County communities organize for home entertainment. They propose to assist in every way possible in promoting a school that will aid the people in the rural communities in preparing their own programs of fun.

Mr. Holmes has suggested that four individuals attend from each community, including a member of the home demonstration club, preferably the recreation director for 1932; a school teacher, preferably a man; one young man and one young woman. "This is no set rule but just a suggestion that we believe will help in selecting four who will be in a position to do most for the community," Mr. Holmes said.

For Home Folks
A small fee of $1 per community will be charged to defray the incidental expenses of the school. "We want our home folks to get this school and we are putting it on you might say without cost because we feel it is a fine thing and we know how much pleasure it will bring them for we have seen it proven in our own community," he pointed out.

Mr. and Mrs. Holmes have received state-wide publicity on their work in connection with the highly successful Sand Hill P. T. C. Society and have been putting on the schools in other counties.

Explanation will be made of how the Sand Hill P. T. C. Society operates. "We will tell how we have made $1,000 in five years of operation and what the society has brought to the community and try to show those who attend the school how they can do the same for their communities," Mr. Holmes said.

"We stress community plays for that it what we believe in most of all. We stress the P. T. C. Society of Sand Hill for it seems to be

Wimberly Car Stolen from in Front of Home

Search was being continued this Thursday morning for a Chevrolet coupe owned by Fred Wimberly taken from in front of his home on South Main Street about 7 o'clock Wednesday night.

Members of the sheriff's department stated this morning that no clues had been obtained but notices of the theft had been sent to all surrounding towns.

Mr. Wimberly had driven home from town and had gone in the house for supper and left the keys in his car. When he started to town about forty minutes later he discovered that the car was missing and notified peace officers who instituted an immediate search.

The car is a 30-model Chevrolet coupe, license number D6-5919, and has a heavy angle iron trailer hitch on the rear, the sheriff's department announced.

Deputy Sheriff T. T. Hamilton, returning to town after supper last night was about half a block behind Mr. Wimberly's car when it was driven off but he did not notice particularly who was driving, recognizing the auto and thinking Mr. Wimberly was at the wheel. The car was driven north and turned east at the First Baptist Church and that was the last time it was seen.

'Auto License Plates Here; Other Supplies Lacking'—Meredith

Everything is in readiness to write receipts for 1932 automobile license in Floyd County, except the receipt-registration forms, County Collector C. M. Meredith said this week. The car plates have been received and all other supplies, but the receipt forms will not be here for a few days, the collector was informed out of Austin this week.

A new provision of the registration law applying to commercial vehicles, which will be of general interest, is a requirement that all commercial motor vehicles must be weighed over public scales and the weigher's certificate of weight presented along with the light tester's certificate before the collector may be permitted to issue plates and receipt for payment of the license for 1932.

"Another thing that automobile owners and truck owners will be interested in is the preparation apparently being made by the State Highway Department for the strict enforcement of the law this coming year regarding the operation of motor cars on the highways in 1932 without paying the license fees," Mr. Meredith said. "A person who plans not to register his car or truck should be careful not to operate it during the month of January. The penalty for operating in January without license, unless payment is made by January 31, will be the collection of the whole year's license fee plus a penalty of twenty per cent," Mr. Meredith said. He has received forms of affidavit which late payers will be required to sign in which the sworn statement of the owner of the motor car will be required that he has not operated his vehicle during 1932.

Mustard Greens—One Stalk Makes A Family Meal

When mustard grows rank enough that one stalk makes enough for a meal for an ordinary family, it is growing rank. And that is exactly what a "stalk" of mustard brought into The Hesperian office yesterday by W. A. Cates, did, and it was nice, tender mustard, too.

The mustard grew on Buren Cates' farm, and he objected to its going on display, declaring he didn't want the "advertising." However, Mr. Cates, Senior, thought it very unusual, and so do we, and so will you. The larger outside leaves were nearly a yard in length and measured across in the widest parts all of two feet.

The mustard has grown rank during the past twenty or thirty days of alternate cloudy, rainy, snowy and dewy weather, this type of weather seeming to suit mustard exactly.

Farmers say it is remarkable how little effect cold and snow has made on growing stuff of all kinds.

Suit Filed By City Saturday Asks For $48,700 From T.U.Co.

Petition Says Amount Sought Is Penalty For Failure To Make Reports To City.

A suit filed Saturday in 110th Judicial District Court for Floyd County against the Texas Utilities Company in which the City of Floydada is named as plaintiff, seeks a total of $48,700 as penalty from the utilities company for failure to make reports to the governing body of the city.

The report required by the city and for the failure to make which it is sought to recover the heavy penalty, according to the petition, is provided for in Chapter 10, Title 28, Article 1121 of the Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925. This provision of the law, the petition points out, requires an annual report on or before the first day of March of each year, duly sworn to by its manager, secretary or president, showing the following facts:

- 1. The amount of lien or mortgage upon the properties composing such plant;
2. All indebtedness pertaining to such enterprise and the consideration therefor;
3. The actual cost of the visible physical properties, dates when installed and the present value thereof;
4. The annual cost of operating such plant, showing separate items for salaries, labor, fixed charges, interest, taxes and insurance, fuel, extensions, repairs, also amounts paid out for damages, abandonment of machinery and obsolescence;
5. Gross earnings from any such plant, including revenues from every source.

"To the end that cities and especially the plaintiff herein and its officers and council and governing body, might know how to fix rates and charges for services fair to the defendant and fair to the city and its inhabitants that were patrons of the defendant," the petition recites, the above information is provided for and is sought by the city.

The penalty for failure to make the reports is $100 per day for each and every day that the defendant has failed to make the reports, and according to the figures made up, the Texas Utilities Company is due $100 per day for 487 days. The suit specifically sets up that the company failed to make a report on March 1, 1930, "and never has done so during all the time since then" and failed also to make a report for March 1, 1931, "and never did file said report or any report attempting to comply with said requirements until September 1, 1931, when said defendant filed a report."

By reason of these failures to make reports the company became liable to the city for $100 per day for "each and every day of April, May, June, July, August, September, October, November, and December, 1930, and January and February, 1931," making in all 335 days. In the year of 1931, it is alleged in the petition, the liability is for each and every day of April, May, June, July and August, 1931, or 153 days, the total number of days in the two years being 487 days.

The petition was signed by Rebt. A. Sone, city attorney, and H. D. Payne, as counsel for the city.

The report filed on September 1 of this year, Mayor Hanna said, is the same report as made to the secretary of state for Texas by the company.

Judge I. R. Kelso, president of the company, when he was here in the fall to discuss his company's affairs with the city council, told its members that to make a report setting up all the facts as required by the statutes would be a physical impossibility for his company. The report filed as of September 1, gives the figures for all the company's properties in the state, but does not cover the City of Floydada specifically.

Citation in the city's petition was served on S. M. Cole, manager here, Saturday afternoon.

Cloudy Weather With Light Showers Prevail

The weather man has dished out cloudy, cold weather for Floyd County people during the past week, mixing in two dashes of snow for good measure. Although the thermometer has recorded no low readings the cold has been rather severe seemingly. At Floydada the low was 29 degrees and the high 45 degrees.

The low was this morning at 6 o'clock and the high last Friday. This morning was the second coldest of the winter.

The heavy snow that fell throughout southwest Texas Monday night put a blanket two to three inches in the south and southeast part of the county, five inches being reported from Ralls in Crosby County, a good snow at Dougherty and quite a bit as close to Floydada as Lakeview and Starkey. At Floydada the heaviest snow was on Wednesday night of last week, this snow covering all the county and affording considerable moisture. Tuesday night of this week a sprinkle of snow was recorded here, growing heavier westward. In New Mexico the fall varied from five to ten inches, according to reports.

Total precipitation here since Tuesday of last week has been sixty-seven hundredths of an inch.

Harvesting of all kinds in the county has been at almost a complete standstill for the past fifteen days, wet fields making feed gathering and cotton pulling practically impossible.

Truett Hopkins Dead; Funeral Held Tuesday

Truett Hopkins, 28, son of Dr. and Mrs. E. A. Hopkins, of Miami, Texas, and former resident of Floydada, died at the home of his parents late Monday afternoon after an illness of more than two years, and the remains were buried in the Miami Cemetery following funeral services held from the First Baptist Church in that city Tuesday. Rev. J. I. Gregory, pastor of that church, was assisted in the funeral by Rev. C. B. Meador, newly appointed pastor of the First Methodist Church of Miami, and a long-time friend of the Hopkins family.

Mrs. W. B. Henry, of this city, is a sister of the deceased. She, in company with Maury Hopkins, of Plainview, a brother, left Monday afternoon for Miami reaching that city, however, after the death of their brother. Mr. Henry left Tuesday morning for Miami to attend the funeral services.

"On Ye Lakeview"

Come on Eagles! Let's have a basket ball team this year that Lakeview will be equally as proud of as she was of the one she had last year. The girls are practicing daily, and we know that regular and patient work is what develops a team. Sure we want the "Purple and Gold" to win! The junior team, is to be complimented on the interest that is being manifested.

What Would Happen If Evelyn Roy didn't have a smile for everyone?

Mrs. Ross were not so patient? Marie Smith's hair were not curly? Lena Mae Nelson were not overly enthusiastic in recitation? Miss Woolsey had blonde hair?

Who's It?

She is rather tall and has brown curly hair. Here's a little hint—she is rather fond of a person who is not in school at Lake view this year. A junior girl.

He is not very tall, and has blond hair and blue eyes. His favorite saying is "Oh Boy"—a Senior Boy.

She has blue eyes, and her greatest hobby is "striving to please her teacher"—a Freshman girl.

The description of hte other students will appear in the Eaglet next week. Guess who they are.

The names of this week's "Who's it" will appear next week.

Jokes

Mrs. Ross told her primer class to draw a hen with five little chicks. One of the pupils, Junior Conway, drew only the hen and one chick.

"Junior, I asked that you draw five chicks, you have only one. Where are the other four?" Mrs. Ross asked.

"Why that's easy, they're under the hen," came Junior's reply.

Long and Short

Miss Woolsey—"Now children call out some long words to me."
Pupil—"Peculiarities"
Miss W.—"Good another."
Pupil—"Indiosyncrasies."
Miss W.—"Yes another."
Pupil—"Rubber."
Miss W.—"That's not long enough."
Pupil—"No but you can stretch it."

Mable—I have an appetite like a Canary.
Florrie—So I noticed you eat a peck at the time.

Whirlwinds Lose Title Game, 6-0 To Lamesa Tornadoes Turkey Day

Floydada Is Unable To Overcome Early Score

Freak Field Is Jinx to Power Drives of F. H. S.; Treadway Is Star of Game.

With one Captain Treadway leading the attack, Lamesa's Golden Tornadoes roared across their freak gridiron Thanksgiving Day to register a heart-breaking 6-0 victory over Floydada's powerful Whirlwind team for the football championship of District 2, Class B.

It was a valiant fight that the lads in Green and White staged to overcome that elusive six-point margin rolled up high and dry from a mud puddle by Treadway early in the first quarter after Boswell and Koger, linemen, had smothered Quarterback Murray's attempted punt on Floydada's 10-yard line.

2,500 Fans Attend
A crowd estimated at 2,500 people saw the Turkey Day clash between the two elevens that had fought through a heavy schedule for the right to meet in the championship game. Floydada held the title to the north half of the district and Lamesa had won the south half.

The sandy field, high at the north end, rolled southward and terminated at the southwest corner in a mud puddle ten foot square. Apparently dry at the opening of the battle, constant playing soon turned the entire field into a muddy mass that furnished less than no footing for the Whirlwinds' power drives. Rain had fallen the night before and had done little damage apparently to the grid but only a few plays were necessary to tear off the soft dry surface and then mud was the order of the day. Overcast skies had cleared and the sun was shining when the opening whistle sounded.

Floydada kicked off to Lamesa and the ball rolled to the east side of the field where Lamesa received and fumbled and Floydada recovered but Reed, headlinesman, ruled that the Lamesa lad had stepped out of bounds as he received and it was thus Lamesa's ball on their own 45-yard line.

Lamesa Gets Breaks
Taking advantage of the first of their avalanche of breaks, the Tornadoes struggled to no avail to make downs and punted. Floydada repeated and then Cox punted on the first down over Heald at safety and the ball rolled into the mud puddle at the southeast corner of the alleged football field and stopped nine yards short of the goal line.

Little Murray dropped back nearly to his own goal line and as he received from Dorrell at Center, fumbled, recovered and attempted to punt but the kick was smothered and Lamesa recovered on Floydada's ten yard line. The ball was then taken out of the mud and moved to the east side of the field to a dry zone and Treadway swept around left end without being tackled and raced across the line standing up to register the only score of the game.

deCordova blocked the try for extra point from placement. With their teeth clinched the Whirlwinds launched an attack that gained in ferocity every minute of play and made thrust after thrust into enemy territory but Treadway and Marr cut down every man threatening the goal line.

F. H. S. Threatens to Score
Three times the Green and White warriors tore out into an open field and charged down the field to cross a white line that was a myth and three times Treadway and Marr saved the day for their team.

Little Marion Heald took the hearts of the frenzied fans for plenty of flutters as he squirmed under the arms of three Lamesa players with a beautiful pass from Bridges for 10 yards and then with an open field before him shot straight down the grid for 40 yards before he was overtaken by Treadway who brought him down on the 8-yard line.

On a second occasion, Bridges broke away and was brought down by Marr, quarterback for the Tornadoes. Welch, one of the best ground gainers of the day for F. H. S. who slashed and ripped his way for yardage, was loose for a precious moment but was thrown by Treadway.

It was a machine that Coach L. T. Barksdale sent on the field. No individual stars shone for all the boys were working hard. Welch, Bridges, Heald, and Murray as the powerhouse fought behind a determined forward wall in which McLaughlin, Johnston, and Murray led the way.

Open Aerial Circus

In the fourth quarter the Whirlwinds roared through the air and swirled down the field, making threat after threat to soar over the Lamesa goal but too much Treadway sent the handful of loyal Floydada fans who had driven 15,000 miles through ice and snow and mud to support their team back 30,000 more miles with everything but happiness in their hearts.

Lamesa's pep squad in Black and Gold performed at the half. The girls marched on the field, formed the letter "L" and sang pep songs. The Lamesa band was on hand too and to add to the general spirit of having a good time.

Floydada's Green Peppers, with only about one-third of their squad present, kept up a spirited cheering throughout the game along with the fans who braved the elements and fought with their team.

It was a battle for Lamesa but it all seemed more like a nightmare to the Whirlwinds and their supporters. Favorites to win by at least two touchdowns, the Whirlwinds could not rally strength and fight enough to overcome eleven golden-clad demons, Old Man Jinx and his son, Breaks, no matter what the dope bucket had in it.

Bridges did fine work with his punts, getting almost even terms with Cox of Lamesa. But it was the heady act of Marr in the first quarter who called Cox back for a quick punt on the first down and the ball sailed far over Heald's head at safety that contributed in no small way to the Tornadoes victory.

When the aerial circus started by the Whirlwinds in the fourth quarter, the fans went wild. The Green and White made the most serious threat to score when Heald took a pass from Bridges and ran to the eight yard line before he was brought down. Welch hit right tackle for no gain. Bridges made 3 yards through the line, Heald failed at right tackle, and on the fourth play, a lateral pass to Welch who slipped in the fatal mud puddle in the corner and ended the threat. Lamesa kicked out of danger.

Twice the Whirlwinds were inside the 10-yard line and twice they failed to get through the Tornado defense. Long passes to Welch, deCordova, and Heald were feature plays of the game and were beautifully executed.

For Lamesa it was the diminutive Treadway who was the comet and the outstanding man of the day. Cox and Marr were his satellites in the backfield and Jordan was the line demon that ruined play after play for Floydada.

Floydada's valiant Whirlwinds played a clean battle and won the admiration of hundreds of fans by their sportsmanlike conduct. They fought and lost but did it like gentlemen.

Old Man Jinx must have taken a mighty big chuckle after the affair but the old feller is part of the game and must have his day when he so desired it.

A long overland trip through mud, with everything going wrong, delay and worry took the pep out of the F. H. S. lads but it did not take the fight from them as they proved at Lamesa.

The Whirlwind team left Floydada at 10 o'clock Wednesday of last week and did not arrive at Lamesa until 7:30 the same night. Mud and flat tires conspired to delay them three hours between Ralls and Lubbock. They did not get to work out and stiffness was very much in evidence as the boys started the game.

The struggle was played in twelve and one half minute quarters. Summary of the game shows that the Whirlwinds were fighting every inch of the way, rolling up eight first downs to four for Lamesa keeping the Tornadoes on the defensive the entire game after the first quarter.

Game summary:
Yards gained from scrimmage: Floydada 169, Lamesa 132 yards;
Passes: Floydada completed three, attempted nine, three intercepted, and three incomplete, all in fourth quarter; Lamesa attempted none.

First downs: Floydada 8, Lamesa 4.

Penalties: Floydada three for total of 25 yards; Lamesa three times for total of 35 yards.

Sommer On Committee That Puts Short Line Problems Up To Pres.

Recommendations Asked to be Laid Before Congress for Relief of Rail Carriers.

Chas. H. Sommer, President of the Quannah, Acme & Pacific Railway Company, was on a committee selected by the American Short Line Railroad Association to meet with President Hoover on last Wednesday, November 25, so as to lay before him the problems of the short line railroads, the nature of which was naturally in the interest of the entire rail transportation of the country.

Mr. Sommer stated that the President was asked to make recommendations to Congress to give the rail carriers relief in a program that dealt with four problems, and that there was a rather free discussion of the ill affecting the railroads between the members and the President, and the President seemed to be most sympathetic with the needs of the rail lines.

The President received the delegation in the Cabinet Room of the executive mansion. The four problems discussed and laid before the President were:

First: A recommendation that Section 15-A of the Interstate Commerce Commission Act, which required rail carriers receiving a net income in excess of six per cent to pay over to the Interstate Commerce Commission one half of such excess, be repealed and that the legislation further provide for the return of any funds that have been collected under this Act.

Second: That Congress adopt appropriate legislation to place all motor transportation companies or individuals engaged in interstate commerce under the jurisdiction and control of the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Third: That the Inland Waterways Corporation and all other common carriers engaged in interstate water transportation be placed under the jurisdiction and control of the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Fourth: That Congress, as an emergency measure, adopt and en-

Selection Now of Breeding Stock of Turkeys for Next Year Important to Raisers act a law along the same lines as the provision of Section 210 of the Transportation Act of 1920.

The recapture clause, according to Mr. Sommer's advice, came in for a rather free discussion with the President, and he seemed to have an unusually clear understanding of the matter as well as of the motor or truck competition, which formed an important part of the discussion.

Few people realize, perhaps, the important part that short lines play in serving the needs of the country, and Mr. Sommer has pointed out that there are 542 carriers coming within the category of short lines, and their combined revenue is equal to more than 20 per cent of the total income of all railroads operating in the United States and therefore indispensable not only to the localities which they directly serve, but also as feeders to the trunk line carriers.

While the short line as well as the trunk line carriers have been seriously affected by the depression, there is no question, in the mind of Mr. Sommer, but that the restoring and strengthening of the railroad system of the United States can be greatly helped by sane and sound legislation governing all motor transportation agencies which have been allowed to run wild and have now got beyond control. It is not to be denied that the motor bus or the motor truck can serve a useful purpose in their proper places; on the other hand, it must be admitted that the rail carriers should not be required to submit to a competitive transportation agency that is unregulated and permitted to operate in such a fashion as to place the rail carriers at such a disadvantage that will not only ultimately spell ruin to the rail lines, but equally prove disastrous to the communities served by the rail lines, he declared.

Mr. Sommer viewed with a great deal of satisfaction the laws recently adopted by Texas legislation, which he considers as a most constructive measure to control unregulated and unfair trucking, and if Congress could be interested in regulating the interstate motor transportation in the same fashion that it now regulates steam rail carriers, it would unquestionably go a long way toward solving one of the many problems that the rail lines now have to contend with.

O. T. Williams Suggests Best Plan To Assure High Quality Birds For Market.

Selection of the proper breeding stock for the turkey flock is most important at this time of the year suggests O. T. Williams, vocational agriculture teacher in Floydada High School.

He gives the following "table" as the best for results from the proper age and weight:

- Adult cock, 2 year-old, 36 pounds.
- Cock one year or under two years, 33 pounds.
- Cockerel less than 1 year old, 25 pounds.
- Hens 1 year old or over, 20 pounds.
- Pullet less than 1 year old, 16 pounds.

This table is applicable to the Bronze breed, the leading type used on the farms in this section, Mr. Williams said.

"Some people save the birds that are too light for market for the foundation flock. This is a mistake for they will be building up a flock of slow-maturing birds," cautions Mr. Williams.

"Turkeys are raised for meat and not for egg production. The breeders should possess bodies well adapted for meat production.

"This means that they should have good, large frames. The back should be broad, especially at the shoulders, and the breast should be carried well back toward the tail.

"The body should be deep, with a full, well-rounded breast. Other important points to consider in selecting the breeding stock include a full, bright eye, a broad head, stout legs set well apart and not too long.

Select Vigorous Birds
"Above all be sure to select vigorous birds. Select and build up a flock of pure bred turkeys—they will not cost any more and will bring more on the market.

"Crooked breast may not be called a disease, but is inherited. If you select a tom with a crooked breast to head your flock, a large per cent of your turkeys will likely have crooked breasts.

"Select only turkeys for breeders that are up to the standard in every respect and are free from crooked breast," Mr. Williams said.

This Christmas Night Play at Sand Hill the best yet.

If it were not for bad weather a farmer would never get his work done. This is when he gets his fences repaired and little odd jobs done.

This week we have just finished canning a fat calf. He pressed 130 pounds. After canning 134 No. 2 cans of roast, steak, chili, hamburger meat, soup stock, liver paste, etc. we still have 30 pounds of meat left to eat while it is fresh. There are many calves going the tin can route in this community. This is the finest thing for a variety of meats in the winter with no trouble to get it on table.

J. E. Riley has been the owner of what you might call a freak Jersey bull calf. The calf was just as white as snow although it was a pure bred Jersey. Its eyes were pure white with just a little spot of very bright pink coloring for the pupil. After about two months it began to go blind and would keep his eyes almost closed. He acted like his eyes were weak and just couldn't stand the light. In a lot that he was used to being in he could get around fine, but otherwise he would stumble over things as he could just avoid big objects.

He went the tin can route this week and his very fine robe will be tanned with the white hair left on it and made into two fine leather jackets for Mr. Riley and his grandson, John Riley Chatham of Plainview, Texas.

Last Saturday I was shown through the Hesperian printing room. It was a real treat for me as I had no idea what kind of machinery did the work. The Cow Hand Scribe went to a lot of trouble and explained and showed me how some of it worked. You would be surprised. If you think all they have is a typewriter go in and see. There is enough of some kind of hard substance back there that looks like lead, if I had it made up into shells that would fit my 22 rifle, I could kill a million rabbits.

Alma, of late has been making American Home Made Cheese. The recipe of course came through the Home Demonstration Club (where it seems all good and perfect gifts have come from of late) She moulds it in half gallon syrup buckets. At Christmas time she intends to wrap them in attractive packages and give them to some of our town friends for Christmas presents.

This will keep a little butterfat off the regular market and will show what our Home Dem Agent is doing for us.

Here is some farm relief for every young lady to begin. One teaspoon of fresh cream used instead of Cold Cream every night. This will cost any city lady less than any make of Cold Cream and will cost the country dame less than nothing. Here is why. This would relieve the over production of butter fat and we would get more money for what we had left.

This sweet cream will keep your hands and face just as soft and just as white as any Cold Cream you ever tried. Come on and give it a trial and help these poor farmers.

On a common feed grinder we grind and sift rolled oats and wheat for breakfast cereals that is just as good as the best you can buy. We grind wheat for flour that makes the finest whole wheat muffins in the world if you will use half cream and half water instead of sour milk.

We grind any and every kind of feed that will make a balanced ration for hogs or dairy cows, or laying hens. I am thoroughly converted to the idea of grinding home grown feeds.

For sport and for profit and to balance the ration for our hens and hogs I have bought a dandy 22 rifle and believe me I enjoy shooting these Jack Rabbits. I hunt them in my car and when I see them sitting or if they stop less than 100 yards from the car it is generally too bad. When I cripple them I have a German Police pup (Miss DoDo) that finishes that job and brings them to the car. Who wouldn't enjoy it? To date I have killed 425 jack rabbits since the first of January. This saves the feed that the rabbits eat and makes the feed for the pigs. Believe it or not the last two times I have gone hunting I killed six rabbits with six shots one time and seven rabbits with seven shots the other time. Well I will sign off with that this week.

IN MEMORY OF MRS. W. T. HOPPER
The death angel came to Mrs. Hopper on Thursday, November 26 and carried her spirit home to the God she loved so well. We will miss her very much and our hearts are made sad by her going but she had suffered so long and now she is at rest. Our loss is heaven's gain.

Miss Nora was one of the sweetest characters I ever knew, she was so kind and good, always had a smile for everyone even in her last hours on this earth she wore a smile. She was so patient in all her sufferings.

I first knew Mrs. Hopper, when she was Miss Nora Bardin at Arlington. I was a small child and she being my first school teacher. I learned to love her dearly then and have loved her ever since for to know her was to love her. She was such a sweet christian character was ever ready to help in every way she could. When you went to her for advice, in time of trouble, she never turned you down.

She was one of the leaders in her community was always up and doing when her health would permit. Her life was an open book to be read by all who came in contact with her. She loved God and his cause and her highest ambition was to do all the good she could while traveling along life's way.

Mrs. Hopper leaves a broken hearted companion, several brothers and sisters besides a host of friends and neighbors to mourn her going.

"A dear face from us is gone
A voice we loved is still
A place is vacant in the home
Which never can be filled."
One who loved her,
—Mrs. Lurline Bagwell.

A Critical Time In Every Woman's Life.

"During a critical time in my life I took Cardui for several months. I had hot flashes, I would suddenly get dizzy and seem blind. I would get faint and have no strength. My nerves were on edge. I would not sleep at night. Cardui did wonders for me. I recommend it to all women who are passing through the critical period of change. I have found it a fine medicine."—Mrs. Hettie Murphy, Poplar Bluff, Mo.

A Farmer's Life

"As He Lives It"
BY ED HOLMES

Here we are. Plenty of rain, muddy lots, etc. All farmers are feeding up their bundles that they raised last summer when we couldn't get any rain. I have not heard even one farmer grumble about the rain, however. They are too tickled to see this rain. We know that when it does quit raining that we will have a better under-ground season and some fine wheat pasture to graze stock when our feed does run out. A farmer just naturally lives in the future. We keep looking for times to get better and expecting them to but it seems we wait for someone else to guide the future. A farmer has more faith in humanity than any class of people but judging from conditions, this is one trait that he would be better off without.

The free-for-all Thanksgiving program at Sand Hill last Friday night was an eye-opener for me. You stand around on the streets in any town and you will hear hard-time stories that will make you want to commit suicide. In the country communities it is different. Not one hard word of these stories will you hear.

The parents, according to the reports of the teachers had helped them wonderfully in getting the program put over. They had bought the costumes for the kids for the various plays, drills, etc. You remember how bad the night was, well there was at least 400 people there for the program.

When the High School girls came out for several special songs, it was just a Country Style Show. You couldn't tell that there is hard time anywhere close. These kids have been gathering this cotton at the regular price offered and have helped some Dry Goods merchants somewhere.

Little Dorothy Ann Dooley sure did give a cute reading and a snappy encore.

Kenneth Joe Chapman and Othella Ritchie representing two poor children just before a much needed Thanksgiving dinner, sure did play their parts to perfection.

The program was closed by reorganizing the P. T. C. Officers for the coming year are Ed. Holmes, president; J. W. Chapman, vice-president; Miss Ola Hanna, secretary-treasurer; and W. R. Dooley, S. A. Eight plays will be presented as usual but the new prices for season tickets are 50 cents and $1 with regular admission prices set at 10 and 20 cents.

More interest was taken in the election of officers and discussing plans for the coming year, than has ever been shown before. I believe this new year with changing conditions will be the best we have ever had. Our first play will be given as usual on Christmas night, "Sound Your Horn" is the title of the new play and is typical of the publicity that the P. T. C. of Sand Hill has been getting. We will try to make of all years....

Ed Holmes Re-Elected President Of P. T. C.

'Sound Your Horn' Title of Play Selected for Annual Xmas Performance.

Ed Holmes was re-elected president of the Sand Hill P. T. C. Society at the re-organization meeting for the coming season held Friday night in connection with a general community program featuring the Thanksgiving idea.

Other officers elected included J. W. Chapman, vice-president; Miss Ola Hanna, secretary-treasurer, and W. R. Dooley, sergeant-at-arms. "Sound Your Horn," a three-act comedy, was announced as the title of the annual play selected to be given Christmas night by the Society at the Sand Hill School. Miss Bonnie Mickey will take the comedy lead.

"The Christmas play Friday night, December 25, is a straight comedy and is one of the best we have ever selected. It is really good and has one of the best leads for a woman I ever saw," Mr. Holmes said.

Admission has been reduced this year to 10 cents and 20 cents and the season tickets have been reduced to 50 cents for children and $1 for adults, entitling the holder to see eight plays sponsored by the Society anywhere presented. The season tickets last year were 75 cents and $1.25.

Practically a full house greeted the participants in the program Friday night and good crowds are anticipated throughout the season, Mr. Holmes said.

Sunday School Lesson

ROME AND BEYOND

International Sunday School lesson for Sunday, December 6. Rome and Beyond.

Golden text.—I have fought a good fight, I have finished my course, I have kept the faith. II Tim. 4:7.

Lesson text.—Rom. 15:22-29 II Tim. 4:6-18; Titus 1:5-16; 3:11-14. Here printed is II Tim. 4:6-18.

For I am now ready to be offered, and the time of my departure is at hand.

7 I have fought a good fight, I have finished my course, I have kept the faith:

8 Henceforth there is laid up for me a crown of righteousness, which the Lord the righteous judge, shall give me at that day: and not to me only, but unto all them also that love his appearing.

9 Do thy diligence to come shortly unto me:

10 For Demas hath forsaken me, having loved this present world, and is departed unto Thessalonica; Crescens to Galatia, Tius unto Dalmatia.

11 Only Luke is with me. Take Mark, and bring him with thee: for he is profitable to me for the ministry.

12 And Tychicus have I sent to Ephesus.

13 The cloak that I left at Troas with Carpus, when thou comest, bring with thee, and the books, but especially the parchments.

14 Alexander the coppersmith did me much evil: the Lord reward him according to his works:

15 Of whom be thou ware also; for he hath greatly withstood our words.

16 At my first answer no man stood with me, but all men forsook me: I pray God that it may not be laid to their charge.

11 Notwithstanding the Lord stood with me, and strengthened me; that by me the preaching might be fully known, and that all the Gentiles might hear: and I was delivered out of the mouth of the lion.

18 And the Lord shall deliver me from every evil work, and will preserve me unto his heavenly kingdom: to whom be glory for ever and ever. Amen.

Time.—Paul's second imprisonment and martyrdom, A. D. 66, or 67.

Place.—Rome, from which place the Second Epistle to Timothy was written.

The Lesson Applied

After two years of imprisonment in Rome, Paul was brought to trial and, while he was acquitted, he was ordered to leave the city. He left Rome and, accompanied by his much loved physician, Luke, and the young man Timothy, he took ship for Ephesus.

After a somewhat lengthy stay in that city, Paul left Timothy to minister to the church, and he went on, accompanied by Luke, to Macedonia, where he visited different churches; on to Colosse, thence to Laodicea, where he probably wrote his first letter to Timothy.

Shortly after Paul's release from his Roman imprisonment, Rome was burned. You remember the appalling disaster, which the half-mad and wholly wicked Nero was accused of starting, and calmly played his fiddle while the city went up in flames. But Nero placed the blame on the Christians and instantly the most horrible and brutal persecutions broke out. The country was scourged for them, and men, women and young people were fed to lions and other wild beasts, others, after being dipped in tar, were lifted to poles to become living torches, while Nero watched them in their agony, singing snatches of songs or tragedy while.

In order to gain favor with this cruel Nero, the provincial governors sent all Christians on whom they could lay hands, to Rome. Such a notable as Paul could not be overlooked, so the great apostle to the Gentiles was once more arrested and sent as a prisoner to Rome. It was while here in confinement, that he wrote his second Epistle to Timothy, from which our present lesson is taken.

You must know that at this time Paul was an old man. For some years his health had been poor and his physician, Luke, had been almost constantly with him. But however frail his body had become, his spirit had never grown old or feeble. He was just as true to his God, just as firm in his faith, just as willing and ready to die for the cause of Christ as he had ever been. Moreover, Paul knew that during this time of persecution, he himself, would be offered up. But in the first verse of our lesson, he says that he is ready. His life for years and years had been one long fight, one long hardship. But he had fought bravely and well, and reached the end, and had kept faith with God and man. He is taking advantage of these last days of his life to write to Timothy, warning him of dangers; encouraging him in faith and good works, his love and confidence in Timothy shining through the entire letter. There is a sadness in the letter, too; the sadness of a lonely old age. Some of his friends Paul had sent away, but Demas, he says, had forsaken him, having loved this present world. Demas, was perhaps much like we are, he liked living much better than dying, and was not willing to suffer death for his Lord.

In his loneliness, Paul was asking Timothy to come to him and to bring with him John Mark, for he would be useful in Christian work, which even through bitter persecution, went on and on.

Shortly after this letter was written to Timothy, Paul was condemned to death by Nero; was carried outside the city, as was his Lord, and on the great stone highway running from Rome down to the Mediterranean, the great man was beheaded.

Mrs. W. C. Grigsby had as her guests for the Thanksgiving season her daughter, Virginia, and her sister, Mrs. Olive B. Connell and daughter, Beth, all of Fort Worth. They were accompanied here by Miss Wilmina Salisbury, who is attending T. W. C. at Fort Worth and came home for the holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Salisbury. They returned Sunday and were accompanied as far as Wichita Falls by Chester deCordova, who returned to school in Oklahoma after spending the holidays with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gus deCordova. He is enrolled at Cameron A. & M. at Lawton.

In Memory Of Mrs. W. T. Hopper

(Contributed)
"There is no death.
What seems so is transition.
This life of mortal breath
Is but a suburb of the Fields Elysian
Whose portal we call death."

The Death Angel visited the Lakeview community on Thanksgiving Day and robbed us of one of our best beloved friends—in the passing of Mrs. W. T. Hopper.

Mrs. Hopper had lived in this community for the past fifteen years and her friends were numbered by her acquaintances.

She possessed many beautiful traits of character, having been a teacher, she was ever a lover of young people and was never too ill to be interested in their welfare.

Every worthwhile undertaking in community affairs she was ready to help and until failing health rendered her unable, could always be counted on as a tireless worker.

Loyal to her home, her church and her friends—how we will miss her—but through her death we see more clearly the truth in these words:

"One by one, earth's ties are broken
As we see our love decay
And the hopes so fondly cherished,
Brighten but to pass away."

"One our hopes grow brighter,
As we near the shining shore
For we know across the river
Waits the loved ones gone before."

Her body was shipped to Arlington, Texas, where it was interred in a cemetery near by.

The remains were accompanied by her husband, who has been so patient and kind and who did everything possible to help her regain her health, Mrs. W. A. Redford of Fort Worth and Miss Nettie Bardin, sister of the deceased.

Charles Brown, Denzil Probasco, and Warren Poole, students at Tech, spent the Thanksgiving holidays with relatives and friends here.

Geo. M. and Wm. Finkner spent the Thanksgiving holidays at Adams, Nebraska, with their mother, Mrs. M. Finkner. They left Tuesday of last week, with the expectation of being absent from home a week or ten days.

PAINTING OF WASHINGTON TO BE HUNG ON WALLS OF FLOYD CITY MASONIC LODGE

A large picture of George Washington, colonial leader and Father of His Country, will grace the walls of the local lodge of Ancient, Free and Accepted Masons at an early date.

The copy of the painting of Washington, believed to be the most authentic in existence, was received recently by N. W. Williams, secretary of the lodge and is being framed this week. It was received through Marvin Jones, Congressman of the Eighteenth District, and is one of many being distributed as a public document from the government printing office during this year in anticipation of the George Washington Bicentennial.

Washington was one of the charter members of an early-day Masonic Lodge of Virginia.

Misses Bama Jean Smalley and Eulalia Burrus, students at W. T. S. T. C., were at home over the Thanksgiving holidays visiting relatives and friends.

CHURCHES

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

Dick O'Brien, Pastor
Well we conquered the mud for another increase in attendance at all services at our church last Sunday. There were 278 in the Sunday School and 136 in the Training service. Both preaching services were well attended, and a fine spirit pervaded the program throughout the day. We are especially proud of the sustained attendance at the Men's down town Bible class. We have reached the 18th chapter in the book of Revelation, and interest seems to be growing in the study. We expect to finish the 18th chapter next Sunday. We are just coming now to the climax of the book, and those who are just coming in with us will be in time for the best part of the study. All men and boys not now enlisted in Sunday school are invited to meet with us each Sunday morning from 9:45 to 10:50, at the Palace theatre.
As far as we know now all regular services will be held at the church throughout the day next Sunday. Visitors and strangers always welcome at our church.

Letters From Readers

THE BICENTENNIAL OF WASHINGTON'S BIRTH

The occasion will be nation-wide, beginning February 22, 1932, and continuing until Thanksgiving Day, of the same year. It is sponsored by the Federal Government, and promoted by a congressional commission charged with formulating appropriate plans for the event.

The president of the United States is chairman, and associated with him are the vice-president, the speaker of the House of Representatives, and several senators and representatives, and aiding them are eighty presidential commissioners. Director Sol Bloom, congressman from New York, and his associates, contemplate the participation of every man, woman and child in some form of suitable tribute to Washington, his service and his glory. The celebration will extend to every village and hamlet in the country—the most far-flung and all-inclusive observance ever undertaken in America.

The United States Commission urges mayors of every city and town in the country to appoint George Washington Bicentennial Committees, and with reference to Texas, Texas Commission urges on the people of the state immediate attention to those indispensable instrumentalities for appropriate celebration of the great occasion. All organizations and institutions of whatever character—civic, business, labor, educational, religious, fraternal, literary, social and otherwise—having their life and activity in Texas, are urged by the Texas Commission to plan for a George Washington year in 1932.

The Federal and Texas Commissions solicit the earnest co-operation of the people of every community within the state.

The first day of the celebration will be February 22, 1932, and last day of the celebration of the year will be Thanksgiving day, 1932. Washington, by request of both houses of Congress, issued a Thanksgiving Proclamation and prayer on November 26, 1789. This proclamation should be read on Thanksgiving Day, 1932, as part of the celebration and thanksgiving service.

FAIRMOUNT-EDGIN CANNING CLUB HAS BUSY MEETING

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Cobb, near Fairmount, was the scene of a busy meeting of the Fairmount-Edgin Canning Club on Tuesday, November 24, from 9 a. m. until 4:30 p. m. A beef was butchered the preceding day, dressing 200 pounds, and was ready for cutting up when our Home Demonstration Agent, Miss Martha Faulkner, arrived. She brought with her Mr. Ross, of Floydada, who knew exactly how the cutting should be done to the best advantage and he proceeded to do this at once.

The ladies canned the following: eight No. 3 cans Swiss steak; six No. 3 cans plain steak; fifteen No. 3 cans chuck roast; seven No. 3 cans roll roast; eleven No. 3 cans stew; one No. 3 can hash; twenty-five No. 2 cans chili; sixteen No. 2 cans meat loaf.

At noon a sumptuous spread was enjoyed by all present. The business session was held in the afternoon with Mrs. Webb Taylor in the chair, and Mrs. Leonard Merrill secretary. After the minutes were read and approved and the roll called, Miss Faulkner gave a very interesting talk on poultry, gardening and dairying, and other subjects. She also explained to our club, which is in its infancy, about the yearbook for 1932, which will be issued soon. Before the meeting closed Mrs. Taylor called for suggestions for the yearbook. Three subjects, sewing, table service and interior decoration were offered, after which the meeting adjourned. There were twenty ladies present, including a visitor, Mrs. Harper of South Plains, and also a few gentlemen.

Everyone seemed to enjoy the day very much.

LIVE PRAIRIE CHAPEL TO HOLD NEXT MEET DEC. 8

The Prairie Chapel Home Demonstration Club is still a live number, although we have not had any club reports in the papers for several months on account of the reporter having a long siege of rheumatism.

Since our last report meetings have been held at the homes of Mmes. Paul Cooper, G. E. Tannehill, Frank Whitfill, Therman Huffman, William Wood, Carl McPherson, Walter Lovell and Douglas Watson.

Mrs. Lovell was our 1931 Pantry demonstrator, and the club met at her home November 10. She has a well-filled pantry to provide for her family during the winter months. Mrs. Lovell lives in the Lone Star Community and has joined the club recently organized in that community. We shall miss her in our club, but Lone Star will find her a loyal, hard working, cheerful member.

Several Lone Star members visited with us at the meeting held at the Lovell home. Miss Faulkner discussed plans for club work in 1932.

Our Poultry Demonstrator, Mrs. Wood, desires to say that her hens did more advertising than laying as The Hesperian article gave them credit for 283 eggs each but their record only gave them credit for 186 eggs each delivered in the nest. Average number of hens kept was 361 instead of 251. Egg production fell below the standard August, September and October. All other months were well above the standard.

We met with Mrs. Douglas Watson November 24 and elected new officers for 1932. Those elected were president, Mrs. William Wood; vice-president, Mrs. Carl McPherson; secretary Mrs. Paul Cooper; reporter, Mrs. Douglas Watson. The retiring officers are president, Mrs.

Douglas Watson; vice-president, Mrs. Frank Whitfill; secretary, Mrs. Emmett Tierce; reporter, Mrs. William Wood.

Tuesday, December 8, we will have an all-day meeting at the home of Mrs. John Buth. Each lady will bring a dish for the noon lunch. Each will bring two colors of light prints to piece the blocks for the quilt to be presented to Miss Strange, and the day will be spent in visiting and working on the quilt. As this is to be mostly a social meeting husbands will be welcome and will not be required to piece quilts.

SOUTH PLAINS H. D. CLUB

The South Plains Home Demonstration Club met last Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Lucy Harper. Miss Faulkner was present and outlined the 4-H Pantry work for us.

Reports were given by the special demonstrator for the year 1931. New demonstrators to sign for the 1932 year work were Mrs. J. C. Simpson and Mrs. T. Bradshaw, poultry, Mrs. Geo. West, 4-H Pantry, with Miss Anna Sims co-operator.

After the business meeting Mrs.

Jack McCown (nee Bessie Wood) was honored with a miscellaneous shower.

Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess to the twenty ladies present.

J. H. SHURBET EXHIBITS PRIZE LEMON FROM FARM AT LA SARA IN S. TEXAS

Lemons may come and lemons may go but J. H. Shurbet claims he has the prize, fresh from his farm at La Sara, seven miles west of Raymondville. He brought the "sample" to The Hesperian office to permit all hands a look-see and same was quite a whopper.

The big specimen weighed one and three-quarters pounds and measured 15 inches in circumference. The grandpa lemon should have contained enough juice to have made several good lemonades.

"Just wanted you folks to see how big a lemon can really grow," Mr. Shurbet commented as he left—lemon and all.

DURING these times it is imperative that you keep your Fire Insurance protection. In order to do this you must pay your premiums for it is a well known fact that your Insurance Agent is not financially able to carry your insurance for you and unless premiums are paid he is forced to cancel your policies to protect himself. This is not a Dun, but it is a warning that unless you take care of your fire insurance you are liable to find yourself without protection when most needed. Look after your insurance today.

ASSEMBLY ROOM WHISPERING

By Opal McNeill
The large number of the students who whisper, while in assembly room, do it without thinking how much it bothers others who are trying to study. They probably are not wanting to study, but planning a party, picnic, or some kind of entertainment. Then they forget to tell Susie or Mary what John or Fred had told them, and feel like they just can't wait until the end of the period.

Whispering affects the worth and reputation of a school. Most of the time the pupils do not know when they are going to have a visitor. If one should walk in, and find the larger part of the assembly room whispering, this disorder would give our school a bad reputation. If everyone were allowed to whisper while in assembly, it would be useless to have a study period. Many times students think it will not bother anyone, but it is almost as annoying as talking aloud.

The only way whispering in assembly can be prohibited is for each student to feel his responsibility to keep order while there. If everyone could realize how much it affects students, who want to study and get something out of school, I am sure there would be much less disturbance.

Tornadoes Down Whirlwinds 6-0

Turkey Day and a muddy field proved to be disastrous to the Whirlwinds in the championship game held at Lamesa.

A very hard game was fought by both teams with, neither of them showing superior strength. The lone touchdown of the game came in the second quarter when Lamesa caught the Whirlwinds off balance and ran a trick play off left tackle which scored the victory.

At the beginning of the game the Whirlwinds were doped to win, but a muddy field and a cold day are likely to prove disastrous to any team.

In the last quarter the Whirlwinds started a drive that put them in the shadow of the goal posts twice but were unable to cross the Tornadoes uncrossed goal line.

THAT'S MY WEAKNESS NOW

Returning home one night my faithful car halted in the shed, and the motor stopped with a chug. I aighted, closed the garage door, entered the house. I went to my bedroom and looked at the clock. It was three-thirty. I quickly dressed, got in bed, and after assuring myself that I had courted the sweetest little girl in town that night, I fell into a peaceful slumber.

Arising the next morning very early, I went to eat breakfast. I felt as though I were a complete wreck and, adding to my misery, sister spilt some scalding coffee on my left arm. The bacon which mother had prepared was cooked too done, and I made the mistake of putting pepper in my breakfast food.

After completing my undelicious breakfast, I went upstairs to dress for school. Of course everything went wrong; not one clean handkerchief could I find. The suit, which I wore to school had fallen from the rack in the closet and was by no means suitable for wear, so I had to substitute my best suit. When I got ready to smooth my hair I could not find my comb high nor low, so I had to use sister's. Next I found that my hair tonic had frozen and of course it could not be applied as a solid; finally after several minutes of thawing, I had my hair fixed and was ready to go. Just as I stepped outside the door, mother called. I retraced my steps into the house, hoping that mother intended to give me my week's pleasure money, but to my utter disgust, she wanted me to repair the latch on the screen door. I finally found the screw, which the latch needed, but a screw driver was not on the place. After breaking my knife blade, I gave the task up, and went to the garage. I got in my car, which had served me so faithfully the previous night and stepped on the starter, but it was to no avail. I immediately discovered the trouble. I had forgotten to turn the lights off and my batteries had run down. The only thing for me to do now was to make use of the crank. This I did, and after about fifteen minutes of cranking, the motor turned over and then I started for school thinking I would soon be there after driving two blocks my car stopped because I discovered that I was out of gas. The nearest filling station was six blocks, but I soon covered that distance twice and was ready to go. When about one block from school, one of the tires blew out. I jumped out of the car and without noticing which tire blew out I left my car in the road and proceeded on my way to school. I arrived late and made my way into the principal's office for an excuse. He, who was as hard boiled as an egg that morning, would not accept my excuses and insisted that I get five demerits. This was very discouraging to me as I lacked only four demerits of being in detention. I then went to my first period class, only to find that the teacher had one of those long, drawout, nerve wrecking tests, about which I knew practically nothing. After leaving this class knowing that I made zero minus, I met Claude Brown who asked me to pay him the five dollar bet which he won from me the day before. I settled for this and strolled down the hall wondering what would happen next. I glanced down the hall and whom should I see coming, but the little damsel I had so proudly escorted the night before. After a strenuous effort, I managed to plant a dim smile on my face, but this was all for naught. The beautiful little miss whom I thought I had wooed, upon seeing me, turned her head aside, pretending to cough, and paced proudly down the hall.

Without hesitation, I declared this the climax, went home, got in bed where I remained for several days and nights.

Green and White Fight, Fight!

The green peppers met Tuesday night and had a pep rally announcing the game with Lamesa Thursday. The girls had lots of pep but were disappointed to find that no more of the boosters were at the rally. It seems that the citizens of Floydada did not know about the rally or more of them would have attended. Nevertheless the girls built a large bonfire by the Day and Night Garage and yelled very hard. Their purpose in having the rally at this time was because the football boys were leaving Wednesday and of course they wanted to give it before the team left. The boys played very hard Thanksgiving and every one is proud of the team because they did some very good playing. Many of the girls were unable to attend the game, but others went on through the mud and saw as much of the game as possible. A very small pep squad made a great big noise and the leaders appreciated the assistance of other Whirlwind boosters who helped them to yell. The girls went to Lamesa with the victory spirit but when the score turned out to be 6-0 in favor of Lamesa, the girls said, "If you win or lose the game, we're right behind you just the same." So they're still yelling for the Whirlwind team and hope to win the game Friday with those Plainview Bulldogs.

Latinus Nuntias

Popularity of Latin Compared with other subjects.
Taking into consideration the fact that Latin is dead but won't lay down, it seems rather popular in high school.

In 1890, 100,144 students were taking Latin, 28,032 French; figures for Spanish do not appear until 1910, and Germany, 34,208.

Then in 1900, Latin had 314,856 supporters, French, 65,684, and German, 94,873.

In 1910, 405,502 took Latin; 95,671 studied French; Spanish had 5,283 followers and 192,932 studied German.

During the world war German students decreased greatly. The figures for the year 1928 are; 777,081 students Latin; 480,120 French; 296,009 Spanish; and 62,174, German.

Latin will always have a large following because it is so necessary in many professions.

Basketball Meeting

School Reopens

We are rejoicing because our school has begun again with a large number in attendance. At our opening chapel exercise, Monday, November 16, one of the trustees, J. T. McLain made a very interesting and inspiring talk on the benefits derived from school life.

The Sand Hill School had been dismissed ever since October 6 to enable the students to help gather the crops.

P. T. C. to be Reorganized

All of the parents, teachers and community were called together on November 26, to reorganize the P. T. C. Society, which has been one of the leading organizations in the community since 1925.

The people have enjoyed the plays that have been given every year, and they have also enjoyed being associated with each other. Since quite a large number of tickets were sold in the neighboring towns, a friendly feeling was thus created between the town and country.

Two hundred dollars have been realized every year from the sales of the tickets. Some of the things invested in for the community are: a piano, Delco lights, four drop curtains for the stage, and seats for the new auditorium.

The community has greatly appreciated the work of the P. T. C.

The First Thanksgiving Day

When the first white people came to America, they had much trouble. They did not know when to plant the crops, and as a consequence they did not make much. Also the Indians were very troublesome and molested the settlers so much that they had to live on supplies sent from England and small game.

Radiator Alcohol Kills Five at Borger

In the hand of Officer Charles Payton, center, is the can which contained the radiator alcohol drunk by George Thomas, 42; Arthur Whitaker, 39; Albert Ward, 45; John Mackey, 51; and Sylvan Badgley, 48, resulting in their deaths at Borger, Texas, last week. Justice J. D. Miller, left, conducted the inquest; Dr. R. E. Minter, right, diagnosed the cause of the deaths. The photo was taken in front of the apartment home of four of the five men.

However, the longer they stayed the more experience they gained. As the years went by they did much better and made better crops.

Finally they made a good crop and Governor Winthrop issued a proclamation setting aside the Thursday after the fourth Sunday in November as a day to give thanks to God for the bountiful crops.

This was called the first Thanksgiving Day. As the years went on, the custom grew until Thanksgiving Day is almost a world-wide holiday.

Absence From School

At this time of the year most of the students have to stop out of the rural schools. They have to stay out generally on account of gathering crops. The most of the students prefer going to school but it is not a matter of choice, because the average farmer, under the present price conditions, is not able to hire his crops harvested. Parents would much rather their children would be in school but they consider a living first.

Missing school makes it very difficult for the students. It also discourages the students that have to stay out because they get behind and lose interest in their lessons, and it also discourages the ones that keep going because they have to go back over all they have gone over. Stopping out makes it hard for them to cover all that they are required to cover, and rushing over the lessons makes it hard for the pupils to make his or her grade. The teacher of a rural school also has much to contend with under these conditions and has to be a very courageous character to keep older boys and girls interested. We seldom find they fail.

I think every pupil should be in school every day that is possible. During vacation, study and try not to get so far behind and when he starts back to school, study and do ranged. Every room in the building is spotlessly clean and is kept so by the girls themselves.

The senior boys have a home exactly like the girls.

There are homes for the junior boys and junior girls and one for the very small children. Each of the children from the least to the largest has some certain task to do, but all make or assist in making their own beds each morning.

One of the most inspiring scenes of all we saw was when we visited the nursery at noon. There sat on the floor about twenty little children waiting for the 11:30 bell to sound, when they would be given their lunch. When the bell sounded all the children marched into the dining room singing, and none of them began eating until thanks were given.

It was almost beyond our comprehension to see the things that were cooked for the larger children. That day they cooked about thirty gallons of lima beans besides the other things. Their kitchen is equipped with two 60 gallon iron pots, electric stoves, a dishwasher and a huge potato peeler. They also had a steamer to keep things warm while they are being served.

Despite the fact that they own and operate their own laundry, dairy and bakery it takes about $500 a day to support the home. They have their own school and church right there on the ground.

My heart was moved with compassion as I looked on the scene of 750 orphans, left alone to place the frowns of the world, yet being shielded until they finish high school and have some home to go to. What stony heart could refrain from giving to such an institution as Buckner's Orphans' Home.

The Tree

By Eddie Hammit Strickland
A tree grew in the garden fair;
Its bending boughs, o'er laid
With rustling leaves and bloom
rare,
In beauty all arrayed.

Soon the howling winds came hurling
The little leaves all down;
One, two, three—they all went swirling
And curling around and around.

At last, the tree was old and bare;
Its leaves from limbs were torn
Away from fragrant blossoms fair,
And left it now forlorn.

For long lost leaves mourn not, O tree
"For Spring" the maker said,
"Will bring back lovely leaves to thee
In place of those that sped."

Our family tree once was laden
With clattering children small,
But now we've all left the oden
As the restless leaves did fall.

So bare and lonely is the home,
The parents lone and sad,
For all but one have gone to roam
From mother, home, and Dad.

"For sons and daughters do not sigh,
For morn, the maker said,

"Will bring all to the home on high
—The living and the dead."

Blue Morning Glory

By Audrey Evelyn Barrett
I knew the sky stooped down last night,
Dipped the morning glories with blue
And while the sparkling stars shown bright
Slyly sipped up the honey-dew.

I rose this morning and with my eyes
I saw them standing quite sedate
All dressed in blue to my surprise
And each was smiling at his mate.

False Alarm

By Alice Fields
Hark! Do you hear that?
The old man asked aloud,
While in the dark he sat,
Then looked to see a cloud.

It was thunder or a mistake—his own
For he wished for the rain,
So he said in a soft tone,
"My looking was all vain."

Ed Holmes Announces One-Day Rural Drama School, December 15

an ideal organization for a lively community and the same plan will get money for undertakings in other communities.

"All that those taking the course need bring is a notebook and pencil, be there on time and ready to do some work and have a good time, and take back some valuable information and put it into practice.

"We will tell those attending of games and stunts for recreational purposes but in our school we will have only enough games to keep the day from being too dull and to get the ones taking the course acquainted with each other and get them to enjoy a big laugh and be ready again to take more notes.

"When the four have been selected from the community, I would like for the community to mail a card to me (Ed Holmes, Floydada, Texas) so we will know how many to expect at the one-day school and can make our plans accordingly.

"We are planning to have the school at this time due to the fact that Mr. Knapp, of the National Recreation Association, will be in Floyd County March 8 to March 11 to give an advanced course in dramatics and the communities sending representatives to the school this month will have had the foundation work and will be in a position to continue the advanced work under this nationally known leader.

"We all should feel very fortunate that Mr. Knapp is going to bring his wonderful work here and we certainly would like to see as many of the communities as possible in Floyd County ready to take advantage of the great opportunity that they will have next spring. It will mean a great deal later to the communities to have their four representatives at the school this month.

"For training for this school we attended a four nights school at Plainview in November, 1930, under the direction of Mr. Jackson, of the National Recreation Association; we attended a four days and nights school in Canyon last March conducted by Mr. Knapp, and also have been associated with the P. T. C. Society of Sand Hill for several years and have had some good experience.

"Miss Martha Faulkner, county home demonstration agent, and Price Scott, county superintendent, have given their approval of a Rural Drama featuring the production of plays for Floyd County communities," Mr. Holmes related.

"We have something worthwhile and feel that our home folks are entitled to everything we can do to contribute to their happiness and we want to assure them all that this is not a money-making scheme but a sincere effort on our part to do something for our county," he pointed out.

"We are charging a very small fee just to help put on this school so that all the folks can learn about this plan for home entertainment and exchange of plays. We are hoping that every community responds with a prompt reply so we can all plan on a big time together December 15."

Price Scott Is Named State Group President

The Amarillo meeting was excellent, those present for the sessions said. Terry plays an end position and Welborn is a backfield man.

$750 BOND SET IN ASSAULT TO MURDER CHARGES FILED

Examining trial on a complaint charging Wallace Sparks with assault to murder was held in Justice J. S. Solomon's court in Floydada Saturday morning last and a bond of $750 was set by the Justice of the Peace, binding the defendant over to the Floyd County grand jury which convenes in the earlier part of next year.

Floydada Whirlwind Fans Make 'Paul Revere' Ride To See Turkey Day Fight

Paul Revere had nothing on the wild ride taken by Floydada football fans who went or attempted to go to support their team Thanksgiving Day at Lamesa. Leaving early Thursday morning, the fans took every available road and all were impassable. Some went via Plainview, some via Ralls and Post, others via Lorenzo and Slaton, and still others by Lubbock and Tahoka.

When the game started, only a handful of Floydada boosters were present but as the battle progressed others began to arrive. All during the game they came, some driving up just as the last whistle blew and a few never making it at all.

Words cannot describe those terrible roads. Snow and ice, mud and slush all the way and the fans braved it all to go to their team.
