Mrs. A. J. Folley Named for Drive in County's Rural Communities

Plans for the annual Red Cross membership drive for Floyd County which will be held from November 11 to 24 have been made for the rural communities according to an announcement by Mrs. Geo. A. Lister of this city who has been named as County Chairman of the drive. The county has been divided into half, the north part of the county having been assigned to the Lockney branch of which A. P. Barker of Lockney is chairman. Mrs. A. J. Folley of Floydada has been named as chairman of the rural community committees and will have the following communities under her supervision: Antelope, Dougherty, Campbell, Fairview, Pleasant Hill, Baker, Center, Liberty, Blanco, Lakeview, Starkey, McCoy, Allmon, Sand Hill and Harmony.

Containers Total 250,000 In Floyd Canning Program

As insurance against hunger during the coming winter Floyd County folks have put up a total of 250,000 containers of food, according to figures compiled this week by S. W. Ross, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, and Miss Martha Faulkner, county home demonstration agent. An increase of 33 1/3 per cent was indicated over last year's figures.

Amarillo Yannigans Bring 32 Men Friday For Whirlwind Game

Revamping his squad to work out an efficient machine to face the Amarillo High School Yannigans at the High School Field Friday afternoon has kept Coach R. P. Terrell busy this week. The game is scheduled to start at 3:30 o'clock.

Review Made Of H. D. Work In Trip Today

Review will be made today of some of the outstanding achievements in recent months by the Home Demonstration Clubs of Floyd County by a group of interested citizens, club women, and business men of Floydada, Lockney and several communities. The group left this morning via auto caravan and went north to Liberty community where the first stop was made at the home of Mrs. S. M. Lester to see her rug work.

The trippers will take lunch at Sand Hill and will return this afternoon about 5 o'clock.

Included in the review will be yard improvement, rug work, pantries, canning methods, a modern country home, and other details of the home demonstration work.

Miss Martha Faulkner, county home demonstration agent, arranged plans for the trip and is directing the caravan which will cover about seventy-five miles today in the county.

Stops will be made at Liberty, Lone Star, Pleasant Valley, Sand Hill, Harmony and Blanco.

Scheduled for Tuesday, the tour was postponed because of heavy rains following rains and snow Monday night. Frost Monday night did slight damage to flowers in the yards to be visited but it is thought the full program can be completed.

Vaudeville Numbers To Feature Midnite Show Sat. At Palace

Featured on the stage in a one night performance Saturday mid-night will be a three-act vaudeville featuring Wingo and Guesnard and the Sunshine Sisters at the Palace Theatre in a big double bill including the feature picture entitled "A Successful Calamity," starring Geo. Arliss. It has been announced by Manager Jack Deakins.

Medallion Sale Under Way; Support for Demo Campaign

Sale of medallions, likenesses in bronze of Franklin D. Roosevelt of New York and John N. Garner of Texas Democratic candidates for the presidency and vice presidency of the United States, got under way in Floydada last week-end.

Engineers Expect To Finish East Survey Plans By Saturday

Crew Now Out 3 Miles West of Lockney; Hope to Get Floyd Contract In November.

Completion of the plans on the survey of Highway No. 28 for the 18.5 miles from Floydada to the Motley County line is expected by Saturday of this week, it was indicated Wednesday by T. B. Ingram, project engineer.

"We hope to get the plans to Austin in time for the November letting of contracts," Mr. Ingram said. All right-of-way must first be secured, he points out.

The plans will be sent to the division office at Lubbock and after approval there will be sent back to Floydada to be inked and then forwarded to the State Highway Commission, if all right-of-way details have been worked out.

Contracts being let under emergency appropriations call for all work to be done by teams and men as far as efficient results can be obtained, it was pointed out.

The survey north had reached a point 12 miles from Floydada or three miles west of Lockney Wednesday. Cross sections have been run to the east side of Lockney. Work on the plans of the north survey will start just as quickly as the present set is completed.

Gins At Floydada Turn Out Only 1075 Bales Since Season Opening

Gins of Floydada, on account of inclement weather, have turned out only 1,075 bales of cotton since the season opened back in September, three gins reporting this morning indicating the runs will be light also the remainder of this week. There were two bales of cotton on the gin yards to be handled at 8 o'clock.

Few, if any, hands are expected to be in the fields before tomorrow afternoon and picking will not be general again until around Saturday noon, even with bright, pretty weather.

Few Absentee Ballots Are Sought By Voters

If lack of interest or demand for absentee ballots for voting in the general election is an indication of the probable vote in Floyd County in the general election on November 8, there will be an extremely light vote. Yesterday afternoon late Tom W. Deen had requests for only one vote to be voted in Precinct No. 1 and had mailed out only three others on request.

SOMETIMES IT'S MIGHTY DIFFICULT

Turning the dark clouds inside out is Herculean task sometimes but when it comes to business you'll find that The Hesperian Want Ads are mighty effective in getting things to brighten up. They're widely read every week, and you can depend on that. They get results, too.

Fire in an outhouse at 319 West Missouri Street Saturday afternoon shortly before 4 o'clock did about $250 in damage before it was extinguished by the fire department.

Two-Inch Snow Falls As Temperature Drops

Cotton Harvest Halted Over County Until Tomorrow Afternoon, Farmers Say.

Except that it put a complete stop to the harvesting of the cotton crop in Floyd County, a rain amounting to an inch or more practically in every direction from Floydada Monday night, was hailed as a good omen for next year's harvest.

The top of the ground was frozen and in many cotton fields all the foliage that had been left from the first frost of the season, was killed. It was followed by crystal clear skies Wednesday, last night and this morning, and cotton raisers expect to be back in their fields tomorrow afternoon or Saturday.

Funeral Held Sunday For Ollie M. Conway At Lakeview Church

Prominent Floyd County Farmer Succumbs to Stroke of Apoplexy After Sudden Illness.

Remains of Ollie M. Conway, 43, prominent Lakeview farmer, who died suddenly Saturday morning at 7:45 o'clock at the Smith & Smith Sanitarium following a stroke of apoplexy, were laid to rest Sunday afternoon following services at 3 o'clock at the Lakeview Baptist church Interment was made in the Lakeview cemetery, directed by Lee Mayhew of the F. O. Harmon Undertaking Company.

Hundreds of friends came from Floydada, Lockney and practically every community in the county to pay final tribute with their presence and with floral offerings. So immense was the crowd that many who were unable to get in the church waited outside or in their cars.

Services were conducted by Rev. J. M. Harder, of Ralls, pastor, assisted by Rev. H. L. Garner, of Crosbyton, and Rev. F. O. Reed, of Floydada.

Mr. Conway was apparently in good health and had worked in the field Friday, the day preceding his demise. He served on a jury in Floydada last week. Death came suddenly Saturday morning after he had been brought to the sanitarium by his wife and his father, R. H. Conway, suffering from an attack of acute indigestion. He became ill about 4 o'clock Saturday morning and was brought to town and given treatment at the sanitarium. It was thought that he was resting well but succumbed to a sudden stroke of apoplexy, according to attending physicians.

He was born in Hope, Arkansas, November 9, 1889. He came to Texas with his parents to Kaufman County near Elmo in 1894, where he resided 22 years. He was married September 14, 1913, to Miss Blanch Price at Dallas.

He moved to Floyd County in January, 1917, and made their home in the Lakeview community where they have since resided.

Ollie became a christian early in life. He joined the Baptist Church 12 years ago.

Surviving relatives include his wife and their three children, Mitchell Price, 17; Florrie Jewel, 12, and Joe Henry, 11; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Conway, of Lakeview; two brothers, John, of Lakeview, and Henry, of Tyler; and two half sisters, Mrs. G. S. Thebo, of Paris, Texas, and Mrs. A. T. Isbell, of Lynchburg, Virginia. All members of the immediate family were here for the funeral with the exception of the half sisters, who were unable to attend.

Other relatives here Sunday included Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Stuart, of Plainview, and Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Stuart and daughter, Ann, of Willis Point, and Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Price and sons, H. L. Jr., and Alonzo Sterling, of Fort Worth. The Messrs. Stuart are cousins of the deceased and Mr. Price is a brother-in-law.

SPEED UP YOUR MIND

Announcement in the public prints this week that American Airways next spring will add a mile a minute to the cruising speed of the ships they will have in service for American travel ought to knock into a cocked hat that idea which seems to pervade some minds of the iron-age type that things are going to continue bad and that we shall gradually drift back into this, that and the other that once was. We are gradually not going to do that, but the very reverse and one can look aloft to find the answer to such talk. Present cruising ranges of the Airways planes is 110 to 135 miles an hour. Next spring the speed averages will be 180 miles.

The will to have things as we want them rather than as the foggy-minded ones would have them for something, is too strongly built into the warp and woof of the American people. All these things that are in the way, including debts and what-not, are going to be gotten out of the way. The path is forward and not backward. Towns and cities and farms and railroads and property of all kinds will "come back" and there'll be wealth and happiness and prosperity once more. Don't listen to those who tell you differently!

IS THIS THE INQUISITION?

Newspaper reports have it that the "young" democrats of Texas, whoever that is, that has jumped into the saddle in Texas Democracy, is going to crack the whip of regularity over the backs, not only of district and state candidates for office on the democratic ticket, but also of county and precinct candidates. They are pointing a questionnaire at all the boys and girls who expect to get their feet under the pie counter January 1.

The State Democratic Executive Committee has not found out yet that they are not running the Democratic Party. The legislature took that job over several years ago and the smart young men, including Mr. Maury Hughes, will find out that if they carry in the wood and water, according to rote, they will have done all they can do. The executive committees, from state to precinct, are figureheads in Texas and nothing else, until the people take their party matters into their own hands.

THE BITTER ENDERS

Various and sundry ones have their own ideas of who it was that put Mrs. Ferguson's name into the democratic column as nominee of the democratic party for governor of Texas. Most everybody, though, Ferguson, anti-Ferguson, Sterling and anti-Sterling alike, have awakened to the fact that the men responsible for the fact are those "bitter enders" who were determined to play the game but not play it according to the rules.

Some 25,000, possibly the figure may be higher, went to the polls on primary election day, scratched their tickets the way they wanted them, and then ran a heavy line under the pledge. As the law is understood generally, the presiding officers had no alternative other than to throw out such ballots, and the "bitter enders" kept Mr. Sterling from getting a majority of 15,000 to 40,000 in the majority primary in August. Many of these think of themselves as "the best people" but being better citizens or more intelligent than our neighbors does not qualify us to attempt to violate the rules in a political battle any more than in a football game.

THE STRONGEST INDICTMENT

The strongest indictment against Mr. Hoover, and the one which will be his undoing politically, if he misses in the present campaign for the presidency, is that one that he has not taken the great American people into his confidence but rather has chosen to speak down to them with reassuring pats on the head, the while himself and those other great ones give us to understand that there are many things of which we are not worthy, and that they have or will give attention, and now don't bother papa.

Mr. Hoover, one of the strongest, nastiest men ever to occupy the White House, is not fitted temperamentally nor from training for the job he holds. He is fundamentally out of tune with American ideals of government and does not fit. Many an American, less brilliant, republican and democrat alike, but with a different concept of his duties, would make a better president. It is hoped that he is not returned in general election in November.

BUY A MEDALLION

Texas Democrats rarely back up the national ticket with any great amount of funds in general election years. This year it appears will not be any exception. A quota of $100,000 sought from this state's democrats, although the state is overwhelmingly of democratic persuasion, seems now not probable of being reached. While publicly speaking optimistically of getting the quota assigned, privately those charged with financing the party's coffers in this state are admitting the extreme apathy of the average citizen is discouraging.

Texas democrats have a way of doing much talking, politically, and little putting up, in contrast to Texas republicans who pay more than they talk.

Floyd County democrats who wish to help may do so through the purchase of medallions from the local Democratic organization, which will take responsibility for getting the money to headquarters. The medallions are being sold at $1 each. If you would like to help finance a campaign that will get Mr. Hoover out of office and a man in his place apparently better fitted for it, send or bring in your dollar to The Hesperian office, or see one of the authorized solicitors on the streets. Two of these are Charles Mathews and Burl Bedford. The time is short and the need for finances it serious.

SILK STOCKING SOLDIERS

It is rather vexing to note the digs that are being taken at the American Legion by silk stocking soldiers for the organization's stand on the bonus question. The Hesperian, along with a lot of other people who are not well enough versed in economics, especially in its national aspect, has been more or less silent on the question.

But we are beginning to like the cash bonus payment idea, sound or unsound as a business proposition, for the enemies it is making. For instance the silk stocking soldiers are withdrawing from the Legion and a lot of them are joining a "National Economy League" which appears to have as one of its principal objects the prevention of the payment of the bonus. Admiral Sims, who bitingly "resigned" from the American Legion because of its stand on the bonus matter, from his youth has drawn a fat salary and still is on the payroll of the government. He has never been hungry, and a few hundred dollars wouldn't mean anything to him. General Perishing, whose retirement pension is enough to support two or three dozen Floyd County families is against the bonus cash payment, and although he has never done anything but soldier, qualifies as an expert and says the thing is unsound.

Thus we have scores and scores of admirals, generals and whatnot, beneficiaries of subsidies, flaying the Legion, which is made up of rank and file boys largely who think of a few hundred dollars in cash now for themselves and their families as a Godsend.

If charged with the responsibility of voting for or against the cash payment of the adjusted compensation certificates, we have no idea what would be the wise thing to do. But we wouldn't seek the advice of the silk stocking soldiers. How appropriately they could be silent!

FLOYD COUNTY 14 YEARS AGO

News items taken from files of the Floyd County Hesperian published in Floydada fourteen years ago.

ISSUE OCTOBER 24, 1918

W. U. White, prescription clerk at the Triplet Pharmacy, was among those last week who were ill from la grippe or influenza.

Dr. L. V. Smith has had the tables turned on himself the past several days. Instead of dosing out medicine he has been the dose or words to that effect. He has been laid up with influenza since the latter part of last week.

At the opening of the ginning season local ginners placed the estimate of the number of bales of cotton to be ginned at Floydada at 1,500 bales, and Tuesday of this week A. V. Haynes, manager of the West Texas Gin Company, said he had no reason to revise his figures. The Food Administration price on seed to the farmer is $61 and the lint has been selling for 29¢ above thirty the last few days after a period of higher prices earlier in the season.

Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Marshall returned home last Thursday from Burk Burnett both sick from influenza, but at this time are recovering.

S. E. Duncan has been among the "flu" victims this week. He has been confined to his room since Sunday. He is convalescing at present.

Mrs. A. P. McKinnon returned Tuesday from a visit of several weeks at Bastrop and Austin. At Bastrop she visited with her sister and at Austin with her two sons.

Making plans for better business will not bring a revival of trade unless somebody follows the program.

Scores last week—

Matador 59, Lockney 0.

Smoke from the gins in Floydada these days makes it appear that we are right in the big middle of an industrial section. Cotton prices are awfully low but business has received a real stimulus since the harvest of this year's crop got under way. E. C. Nelson down at the First National Bank says that he has always contended that the cotton crop is the "money crop" and he's in a position to know.

Employment for the people at this time of the year in gathering the staple is the big item that counts most. It just goes to show how much good just a little money can do. Doggonit, if we could just get some fair prices for the farm products we would all be able to take a deep breath once more.

I was walking down the street Saturday and one of my acquaintances hollered and asked me if I had jumped through a barbed wire fence. I didn't tell him that the condition of the seat of my pants was no affair of his but I thought it. I got so many patches on that pair that you might think I was trying to start a new style or trying to duplicate Jacob's coat.

My cousin was up from Chillicothe last week and he says his town has a real football club this year. They beat Seymour 45 to 0 and Archer City 38 to 0. Olney beat Burk Burnett 2 to 0 last week and plays Chillicothe this week. Olney has defeated Crowell and Megargel and Burke beat Seymour only 9 to 0. On paper it looks like Chillicothe will be the winner in Class B of District 5. Olney was the "big shot" down there last year but it's going to be a matter of time between Burke and Chillicothe.

And now while we're on the subject of football we might glance over the grid picture. Shamrock is looming up as a real threat to the north in District 1. The Irish north played the Clarendon Broncs last week and hammered out a 14-13 victory over last year's bi-district champions. Clarendon was rated to repeat this year with an even stronger club than last season so I reckon as how Shamrock must be loaded with dynamite.

Down in the south three elevens are looming up. Post flopped the Crosbyton Chiefs 18 to 0 Friday and served notice that they planned to do things, starting right out in their first conference game.

Snyder beat Slaton 13 to 6 the other day and Saturday held Lamesa to a 0-0 tie. Last year's district champions made 14 first downs to 3 by Snyder and were on the Snyder four-yard line when the game ended. So it looks like Post, Snyder and Lamesa in the south.

It will probably be Post and Lamesa in the finals in the south half. Litterfield or somebody over in the west end may shoot out a dark horse but right at present the front stage is occupied by Lamesa, favored to win again in the south end. Lamesa plays Brownfield Friday and Slaton November 11 and by that time the scene will be much clearer and the Thanksgiving Day attraction pretty well determined.

Canyon High Eagles, coached by L. T. Barksdale, former Whirlwind mentor, downed Claude High School 6-0 last week to win their second conference battle. They play Happy this week.

Floydada's Whirlwinds face the Amarillo Yammigans this week and from all indications they are going to have their hands full and then some. The Yans downed Dalhart 19 to 12 last week and played Friona to a scoreless tie after beating Groom 31 to 0. The Yammigans have a light, fast club, reports indicate. Insofar as the conference race is concerned the Matador Bullfighters slated for November 4 loom as the only dark cloud on the Whirlwind horizon in this section of the district.

Matador fought Electra to a 0-0 tie early in the season but outside of that game they have encountered very little opposition, running rough shod over Lockney last week 59 to 0 in their first conference game. The Whirlwinds have defeated Plainview, Quitaque, Ralls and Paducah with a record of four victories in as many starts.

You can just put it down in your little book that the game at Matador next week is going to be a real football battle. The Bullfighters have been pointing all season for the game with the Whirlwinds hoping to avenge last year's defeat and the winner is going to have a good shot at the district title.

I reckon we'll admit that F. H. S. is favored to win next week but anything might happen but I have confidence in Coach R. P. Terrell and his crew and I'm willing to bet they deliver the goods.

We have added 15,000 head to our herd at the ranch. Up until last week one female hound was the sum total of our livestock but things are on the hop around the bunk house now. Arrival of one cat brought our total up to two and the other 14,998 of our big additional herd came in the form of a swarm of fleas on that cat. Never did see so many on one little cat and such a big assortment of sizes.

I am going to try and make a contract with these fellers that make a study of the different kind of insects to fill their orders for all types of fleas from the stick-tight little Austin models to the big 12-cylinder 2-ton soup hound specials.

This flea menace is the biggest draw back to being a cat as I see it. One feature to our new cat, however, is that she is wearing very appropriate fur right seasonable, being the new black and yellow combination so popular during Halloween.

Old Tack up at Amarillo is always going on about his pets and predicting by their actions what the weather is going to be so I reckon I better take up his plan and become popular. I calculate I'll notice which way the fleas jump around on our cat and be able to tell exactly each week how many flannels we poor mortals will have to wear in order to be in keeping with the weather.

Watch this column for information.

If the Democrats win the president's race it is whispered around that the Republicans who have all the money cornered will make it hard on everybody. If the Republicans win I guess we'll keep on getting the same medicine we been taking so it looks like we're in for a hard row no matter which horse we take.

Some smart feller said over the radio the other day that history was made up of "ages." We have the Stone Age, the Iron Age, the Reformation, etc., he said. He described us as being now in the "Commercial Age." He's wrong. This is the "Tax Age." I would say the most commonly used American word today is "tax."

If a newspaper man should have a banquet on his net profit for the past three years he would enjoy a menu something like this: 1 glass of red ink, 2 broiled mortgages garnished with one sixteenth of one percent of credit, one bowl of notes, eight warrants with deckle edges, generous serving of statements spiced with a variety of hitherto-unheard-of descriptive words, a stack of unpaid bills buttered with lots of cute little figures, a dessert of frozen assets with a side dish of unpreferred stock. Ye editor would be seated at a private table with four bankers and the sheriff and the delightful waiters for the repast would be a hungry mob of creditors with traveling salesmen to watch the doors and windows.

Contemporary Thought

ADMIRALS, GENERALS OBJECT

Houston Post Dispatch: The resignation of Admiral Sims, U. S. N., retired, as an honorary member of the American Legion, has been followed by the resignation of Major General George B. Duncan, U. S. A., retired from the Legion, both officers having based their withdrawal on their objection to the Legion's action in demanding immediate payment of the bonus.

The reply of Legion officials to the resignation announcement of Admiral Sims is that the admiral never was a member of the organization. They are at a loss to understand how a man can resign from an organization to which he never belonged. Admiral Sims seems to have been laboring under an illusion as to his Legion status. This isn't the first time, however, the admiral has been the victim of illusions.

It is to be noted that both Admiral Sims and General Duncan are members of a class of former service men who are still drawing fat benefits from the government. As retired officers of the navy and army, respectively, they are receiving the pay that is provided for retired officers. For men of their rank, it is sufficient to relieve of all financial worries.

It is to be noted that the majority of those in the Legion and out who are opposed to the bonus are men who are well provided for financially, either by the government, or through personal wealth. Highly paid retired officers, "silk stocking" veterans who fought in the ranks—these are the men for the most part who are criticizing the Legion for demanding the payment of the bonus.

The hundreds of thousands of war veterans who are out of jobs or who are working for less than decent living wages, quite naturally see the bonus question in quite a different light. They envision a few hundred dollars apiece as the way out of their difficulties, and believing that the government owes them the money, they feel that they should be enabled to collect it. Regardless of whether the bonus payment now is wise or not, surely it comes with poor grace from highly pensioned retired officers to be manifesting their indignation because the poor

The Proposed Amendments

How They Will Be Stated On The Ballot

Hereunder are presented the nine amendments proposed to the state constitution of Texas, stated for and against as they will appear at the bottom of the general election ballot on November 8. They are offered, without comment, for your study prior to the election date. Our opinion is that some of them should be and some of them should not be adopted. Study them, discuss them with your neighbors. Don't vote against them because you are "against amending the constitution," or for them just for the sake of being progressive. Think about them and vote as intelligently as you can.

There is a broad in the land a hysteria of cussing the constituted authorities. They have to do as the sovereign voters have them do, largely. In this instance do not "pass the buck" and follow it up by howling. Use your head and do your duty as you see it.

ONLY AN EQUAL VOICE

West Texas Today: West Texas, composed of 130 Texas counties, with thirty-three per cent of the state's population, should have one-third of the total representation from Texas in the National Congress.

In actuality, West Texas has five congressmen out of a total of twenty-one in Texas. It should have two more. East Texas, with forty-five per cent of the state's population, has thirteen congressmen—forty-five per cent of the population, but sixty-two per cent of the congressional representation. East Texas is not wholly to blame. Three of the congressmen were recently elected at large—but they all live in East Texas. Normally, East Texas would be entitled to nine congressmen. It has ten districts, one more than what it is entitled to.

Whirlwinds Win Conference Opener Friday With 27 to 0 Victory Over Paducah High

Head and F. Murray Lead Parade As F. H. S. Eleven Marches Over Fighting Dragons.

Down out of the west swept a powerful Whirlwind eleven that tore through the Dragons' lair at Paducah, crossed the threshold of the sanctum sanctorum four times and came home with a 27-0 victory Friday in the first conference game for Coach R. P. Terrell's aggregation.

It was the fourth straight victory of the season for the Floydada High School gridders, the Green and White warriors having won over Plainview 3 to 0, Quitaque 19 to 7, and Ralls 8 to 6, rolling up a total score so far of 92 points to 13 by their opponents.

Again it was Marion Heald, the skyrocket fullback, who shot through the enemy defense to lead the Whirlwind attack. Captain Floyd Murray, directing his team at quarter, was a cyclone all by himself and with his running mate captured stellar honors of the day.

Getting off to a sluggish start in the first quarter and fought to a virtual standstill in the second frame by a determined Orange and White eleven, the Whirlwinds began to gather momentum with the passing of each succeeding minute and at the close of the fray were roaring along like a championship machine.

As the F. H. S. power increased the Paducah opposition began to waver and eventually collapsed, speeded on no doubt by frequent injuries that called out Coach H. A. McDaniel's entire reserve strength. The victors scored in each of the last three periods, making a serious threat to put across a counter in the first frame.

It was a beautiful day with the sun shining and the air just a shade too warm for good football weather. Floydada with a rooting section of over 300 fans who went to the foreign field via a special train over the Q. A. & P. was very much in evidence in Paducah Friday. They swarmed the down-town business section and everywhere one looked could be seen the green and white hatbands and armbands reading "F. H. S. Whirlwinds."

Out at the field there were more Floydada supporters than there were for the home team. The Green Peppers did a real job of yelling for their team. During the first half, the girls were extended the courtesy of the grandstand section by the Paducah pep squad. The stand, similar to the one at the Whirlwind field at the high school here, was taken back to the west side of the field at the half for the Paducah pep squad of girls led by Elsie Brown, and Audrey Boley, who were attractively attired in their orange jerseys and white skirts.

Girls Do Stunts
As the first half ended, the Paducah girls marched on the field, led by little Jacqueline Martin, acting mascot in the absence of Betty Jo Criswell, and Rogene Farmer as drummer. They formed the letter "F" and followed by forming the letter "P", representing "Floydada" and "Paducah". They drew hearty applause from the sidelines. Before marching off the field, they released tiny white balloons that were promptly gathered up by the kids.

Floydada visitors were shown many courtesies by the people of the host city during their short visit there and all in all a general good time was reported.

Captain Murray won the toss and chose to receive at the north goal. He took the kickoff on his own 20 and brought it back 10 yards to start the see-saw affair of the first quarter. Murray, Bridges and Heald alternated in the ball toting act but the first few minutes found both lines fighting tooth and toe while Murray and Crump staged a punting duel. Heald broke loose just before the frame closed with a beautiful 30-yard run, stiff-arming off four tacklers and Murray made a 30-yard return of a pun to the 12-yard line but the Dragons stiffened and momentarily held off the invaders in the two outstanding plays of the quarter. First quarter, score: Floydada, 0, Paducah 0.

The Whirlwind parade in the second quarter headed north and here a brief resume of how the first touchdown was scored early in the quarter: Heald skirted left end for 10 yards and a first down Murray hit right tackle but Floydada was penalized 5 yards for backfield in motion. Heald made 6 yards at right tackle, four at right end and picked up three more at left tackle.

Bridges Makes Center
It was then Floydada's ball on Paducah's 13-yard line. Heald made a first down at right guard. He made another yard at right tackle and failed to gain at right end. Bridges picked up four yards at right end and then on a sweeping play around left end, a perfect lateral pass, Murray to Heald to Bridges found an opening in the Dragon forward wall and Bridges ploughed across with the first Whirlwind counter.

Heald stepped back and coolly dropped a perfect kick between the bars for the extra point.

7 to 0 at Half
The first half ended just as Murray made a first down on Paducah's 35-yard line. Score: Floydada 7, Paducah 0.

After an exchange of punts in the third quarter, Floydada took the ball on their own 51 yard line. Heald made 6 yards at right tackle and three more at the same spot. He then tore around left end for 20 yards. Murray took over the work and made 3 at center, 6 at left tackle and three more at the same place and a first down. Heald got back in the saddle and measured off eight yards at right tackle and on the next play found a nice fat hole at left tackle and raced through without being touched for another touchdown. His attempt for extra point with a drop kick was no good. Score: Floydada 13, Paducah 0.

The third touchdown came when Floydada recovered a fumbled punt on the Paducah 35. Heald made 10 yards at right tackle and Murray made another first down at left end. That left the ball on Paducah's 15-yard stripe. Heald made a yard at right tackle. Bridges lost a yard at right end. Murray made 5 at the right side of the line. A pass, Heald to Jenkins was good for a first down on the 4-yard line. Murray hit right tackle for the touchdown. A pass, Heald to deCordova was good for the extra point. Score, Floydada 20, Paducah 0.

Floydada's final score resulted from the prettiest and most spectacular play of the game staged in the form of a one-man circus by Captain Murray. He hit right tackle and slipped through the secondary defense and then ran off and left the Dragons as he showed his heels for 40 yards and a touchdown. But the officials had to have finger in the pie, so they ruled that Floydada was holding and called the play back slap on a 15-yard penalty. Well sir, that made Murray purty mad and what did he do but call the same play again and repeated the trick, outrunning all the Dragons the second time and reeling of a 55-yard run that time, being brought down short of the goal line by one little yard. Bridges ploughed the ball over at right tackle. A pass Heald to Jenkins was good for the point. Score: Floydada 27, Paducah 0.

Make 50 on Pass
The only serious threat Paducah made to score at all was in the last few seconds of play when Swint garbed a 20 yard pass and ran 30 yards before he was brought down by Powell. F. Murray stopped the show when he intercepted a pass on his own 10 yard line. He made 9 yards at left guard. Baxter made a first down at right tackle and Murray picked up 3 more at left end just as the day's activities came to a halt. It was Floydada's ball on their own 45-yard line as the game ended.

Outstanding in the line for Floydada were Smith, deCordova and Johnston, the latter paying such close attention to the Paducah shifts that in the last quarter he was able to call out to his teammates just what the Dragons planned to do.

Crump, Cabiness and Freeman were the shining stars who fought valiantly for the Dragons in the backfield and Thompson and Craig stood out in the line.

Murray and Crump had quite a big day with their punts, both men getting off good spirals that went out of bounds regularly. Cabiness called a good game for Paducah but he was facing too much power and his was a hopeless cause.

F. H. S. Looks Good
The Whirlwinds looked more impressive in the victory than at any time this year for they demonstrated the same hidden power that grows stronger as the game progresses and which made them the wonder team of last season when they turned almost certain defeats into clean-cut victories.

Preparing To Make Under-Sea Report

At Sea—Over the NBC network a nationwide radio audience listened to an exchange of comments between Dr. William Beebe, noted undersea explorer and head of the current expedition of the New York Zoological Society, and his assistant at the surface, Miss Gloria Hollister, who recorded the terse sentences of the scientist as he descended to a depth of 2,200 feet—practically half a mile, in his specially constructed bathysphere, to make a new record. He told of the falling light, and the phosphorescent animal life that at times studied the black depths with points of light like stars in a clear sky. This picture shows the preparations being made. John Bond, NBC announcer, is carrying on a test conversation with Dr. Beebe, as John TeeVan, who handled all the deck apparatus, looks things over, and Miss Gloria Hollister prepares to make her notes.

317 Fans Ride Special Train Over Q. A. & P. to Paducah For Whirlwind-Dragon Battle

Robt. Medlen and John L. Echols Railway Officials Go; Peppers March to Field.

Floydada sent a full force of representatives to support their winning Whirlwind football team in the game with the Paducah Dragons, Friday, a total of 317 riding the special train over the Q. A. & P. a number of others making the trip in their cars. Several fans went from Dougherty and Roaring Springs, stops being made at each point.

The train carried four passenger coaches and a baggage car and was handled efficiently by the railway officials. The fans were in a holiday spirit and they enjoyed themselves thoroughly. Robt. Medlen, local agent, was on the special with John L. Echols, traveling freight and passenger agent, to insure comfort and accommodations for the passengers and assist in details of handling the train.

Superintendent A. D. Cummings and other members of the teaching staff were on the train. No classes were missed at school which dismissed at noon on the present schedule.

Girls Sell Food
Coach R. P. Terrell and his 24 huskies rode the special and the Green Peppers went right along with their team and worked like trojans as "news butches," selling everything from peanuts to soda pop en route to Paducah and the return trip.

T. M. Estes was conductor on the special, C. E. Norman, brakeman, F. Murphy, engineer, and R. N. Hardy, fireman.

First class equipment furnished by the Q. A. & P. made the ride enjoyable for the "rooters" and they certainly made a day of it. The train left at 12:40, arrived at Paducah at 2:40. The fans and the girls' pep squad "unloaded" and the majority of the folks marched up town with the Peppers. The girls gave their yells and songs while marching through the business district and then walked to the high school in the west part of town.

Many Greet Train
Leaving Paducah at 6:40, the train reached Floydada at 9:40 o'clock Friday night, almost as many people being at the depot to welcome the victorious Whirlwinds and their supporters as there were on the special.

Among those making the trip on the special were the following: Lavton Dorrell, Elroy Norman, G. V. McCaskill, Ross Hanna, M. E. Black, J. C. ROTARIANS HEAR ABOUT WORK OF H. D. CLUB WOMEN

O. T. Williams, who had charge of Wednesday's noon-day luncheon program for Floydada Rotary Club, presented a vocational program featuring Mrs. W. E. Miller in a story of how her family accomplished the immense task of canning three thousand No. 3 cans of field peas with a port, and also Miss Alta Lloyd in a short talk on her Bedroom Improvement work.

Mrs. Miller's address gave an insight into the home industries feature of the Home Demonstration Club program, while the talk of Miss Lloyd featured the possibilities of home improvements which club girls throughout the state are making. Miss Lloyd was winner of fourth place in a state-wide contest this year and was honored with a trip to A. & M. College. Mrs. Miller had a commercial contract with the authorities at A. & M. to supply the peas which her family prepared.

Miss Martha Faulkner, home demonstration agent, told the club members she had been asked to remain in the county for the present by A. & M. Extension officials in the continuation of the rural women's program, so many features of this year's work having approached the climax that the service officials felt the need for continuing the work until the emergency is over. County funds, she explained, have been withdrawn from the service in this county but state and federal funds have not.

Features which she said would be given prominence in next year's program of home demonstration work for counties having the service will be sub-irrigated gardens, home industries, wardrobe and meat canning. The first two named will be stressed because of their immediate value as new ideas that are being introduced with tremendous value to the communities where they are introduced.

Dr. N. E. Greer, A. P. Barker, J. H. Hohlhaus and Floyd Huff, of Lockney, were visitors at the meeting.

CARD OF THANKS
To our many friends: We wish to thank you from the depth of our hearts for the many kindnesses and tender sympathy you rendered during the illness and death of our dear mother.

Breezes Lost First Game 6-0 To Lubbock Juniors Here Monday

It took everything the Lubbock Junior High School lads could muster to handle Coach Dick Stovall's Little Breezes from Andrews Ward Monday afternoon on the Whirlwind field and the visitors were hard pushed to get a 6-0 verdict. It was the first defeat of the season for the Breezes.

Playing without the services of Malcolm Linder, stellar field general who was ill, the Little Breezes fought their heavier opponents to a standstill and made a more impressive showing. A penalty for roughing cost the Breezes a chance to tie the score when a touchdown went for nil and a 15 yard penalty was presented.

Twice the Breezes got within the 20-yard line of the Lubbock lads and only once did the visitors get in scoring distance but that one time was enough to win the game. An 18-yard pass from Murry to May at left end and a 6-yard run left the ball on the 1-yard line. An offside cost Lubbock 5 yards but the next play Murry carried it across. His attempt for extra point from placement was blocked.

Hollingsworth and Connelley were outstanding for the Breezes, both ripping off sensational gains. Murry was the star of the day as far as Lubbock was concerned.

The Breezes will play a return game at Lubbock November 3. "Mule" Davis is coach at Lubbock.

Following were the starting line-ups: Floydada—Johnston, left end; Montgomery, left tackle; Jones, left guard; Eudy, center; Baker, right guard; Howard, right tackle; Smith, right end; Rutledge, quarter; Hollingsworth, right half; Harmon, left half; Connelley, fullback; Lubbock—May, left end; Vermillion, left tackle; Herscher, left guard; Durham, center; Jones, right tackle; Venable, right end; Murry, quarter; White, right half; Bull, left half; Upton, fullback.

Floydada substitutions: Dorsey for Johnston, Allen for Jones, Bishop for Harmon.

Officials: Wester, referee; E. Carter, umpire; F. Murray, headlinesman.

Game summaries—First downs, Lubbock 7, Floydada 7.

Penalties: Floydada 45 yards, Lubbock 25 yards.

Punts: Floydada 4 times for average of 24 yards; Lubbock 4 times for average of 23 yards.

Passes: Floydada 5 attempts, 3 complete for 6 yards; Lubbock 1 for 24 yards.

Yards lost: Floydada 13 from scrimmage; Lubbock 6 yards.

Yards gained from scrimmage: Floydada 158; Lubbock 95.

Touchdowns: Murry, Lubbock.

Industry Spreads Trade Increases

When Ample Lighting and Energy For Power Are Used.

Industry can operate as cheaply and efficiently in Floydada as it can in the larger cities, the opportunity for Mercantile Lighting effects are just as good, and the opportunity for the small-town factory or merchant is given infinite possibilities by such service as our company has made an actuality right here at home.

Our hundreds of miles of transmission line net-work have brought about this miracle, and it is nothing short of a miracle. Our progressive city can build and continue to build by taking advantage of the opportunity thus afforded.

And, today, your increased service for more lighting for your mercantile establishment or greater power for your manufacturing plant is billed on a surprisingly low rate . . . adding only a small amount to your total bill . . . surprisingly small compared to the increased service you receive.

Special Workers Meet In Floydada Sunday

All-Day Session on Fifth Sunday to Feature Church's Every Member Canvass

An all-day session of a special workers' meeting of the Floyd County Baptist Association will be held with the First Baptist Church in Floydada Sunday, a program featuring the Every Member Canvass campaign of southern Baptists having been arranged.

Rev. S. R. McClung, recently called as pastor of the church here, and Rev. R. C. Campbell, pastor of a Baptist church in Lubbock, will be among the featured speakers at the meeting.

Rev. H. W. Burnham, of Whiteflat, moderator of the association, will preside at the sessions. The program has been outlined formally as follows:

10:30 a. m. The W. M. U. and Every Member Canvass—Mrs. Arthur Jordan of Matador;

11: The Layman and the Every Member Canvass—Joe Breed of Floydada;

11:30 Address—Rev. S. R. McClung, of Lawton, Oklahoma; 12 o'clock lunch.

1 p. m.: The B. T. S. and the Every Member Canvass—Rev. Arthur Jordan of Matador;

1:30 The Sunday School and the Every Member Canvass—Rev. I. E. Harrison, of Ralls;

2: The necessary steps in putting on the budget in the church—Rev. W. M. Draper of Quitaque;

2:30 Round table discussion, led by Rev. W. M. Rice of Silverton;

3: Address—Dr. R. C. Campbell, of Lubbock;

3:45: What are we going to do next?—Rev. J. Matt Harder of Ralls. The session will adjourn at 4 o'clock.

PREACHING NOTICE

Elders Lewis Barrow of Mena, Arkansas, and V. L. Lowrance of Roaring Springs, will preach at the City Park Church of Christ in Floydada Saturday night at 8 o'clock. On Sunday they will preach at 11 a. m., and 8 p. m., at the county court room.

Elder J. H. Fisher, of Newcastle, Texas, will be here and if we see fit will continue services for a few days. Brethren and friends, please give these brothers a hearing. J. W. Huey.

CITY PARK CHURCH OF CHRIST

Bro. Sanders asked the question Sunday night, "Who are we?" "What are we doing?" and "What do we amount to?"

Bro. Sanders built his theme around these questions and with scripture from God's book showing that we should be a child of God and that we should be working for him that we might amount to something. (Be laying up treasures in Heaven.)

Bible study at 10 a. m. each Lord's Day, preaching at 11 a. m. followed by communion. Young peoples meeting at 6:30 p. m. and evening services at 7:30.

REV. J. F. MATTHEWS TO PREACH HERE SUNDAY

Rev. J. F. Matthews, of Lubbock will preach at the First Christian Church Sunday morning at the 11 o'clock hour.

Rev. Matthews is a former pastor of the church and all his friends are urged to hear him. The public is also cordially invited to worship at this service.

CO-OPERATIVE MISSIONARY PROGRAM

The Woman's Missionary Society of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church will be hosts to the Co-operative Society at the church Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The program arranged is as follows:

Devotional—Mrs. Price Scott. Reading—Buddy Norman. Reading—Lajuana Leibfried.

The History of the Jews—Mrs. J. B. Jenkins.

Fulfillment of the Prophecy Pertaining to the Jews—Mrs. J. S. Rhinehart.

Why evangelize the Jews?—Mrs. J. H. Myers.

Special song—Mrs. N. E. Tyler. Benediction.

A social hour will follow the program.

WOMAN'S COUNCIL

The meeting of the Woman's Council of the First Christian Church was opened with a song, "Yield not to Temptation," followed by repeating the Lord's prayer in unison and a short business session, at the church Monday afternoon.

Mrs. E. C. Nelson was in charge of the Bible study with Mrs. Walters giving the scripture. Mrs. Fred Brown discussed the aims and introduction of the lesson; Mrs. M. L. Probasco gave the explanation of the scripture and Mrs. Morman the outline of the study. Mrs. Edd Brown talked on the Christian as a good citizen and Mrs. L. H. Dorrell lead a round table discussion. Mrs. E. C. Nelson dismissed the meeting with a prayer.

The Council will meet with the Co-operative Society October 31 at the Presbyterian church.

Refueling Liner For Planes

Berlin, Germany. — The North German Lloyd Company announced recently it had designated the Liner Westfalen (pictured above) as a floating Aid Station in mid-Atlantic to facilitate the establishment of regular air mail between South America and Europe. The Liner will be permanently stationed between Bathurst, British Gambia, or a nearby point on the African Coast.

for transatlantic planes; that is those carrying mail. This will include an alighting platform, stores of tools and spare parts, radio equipment and weather forecasting paraphernalia. The Liner will be permanently stationed between Bathurst, British Gambia, or a nearby point on the African Coast.

When unshelled peanuts are used they should be roasted with the shells on and cooled. Then shelled and rubbed to remove red skins. Do not use rubber gasket lids to pack the product in as the oil in the butter dissolves the rubber. Use paper or some other compound not affected by the oil.

CROP REPORT BOARD WELL GUARDED IN NEW QUARTERS

The chance for a leak in putting out crop reports has been reduced to a minimum by special arrangements in the crop reporting board's new quarters in Washington.

All contact between the outside world and the board is cut off during the sessions on the second floor of the new building of the United States Department of Agriculture. The door at each end of the corridor is locked, with an armed guard outside. The windows in all the rooms used by the board members and their aides are kept tightly shuttered by a simple device worked out in the mechanical shops of the Bureau of Agriculture Economics.

This device consists of a narrow strip of wood fitted into a metal slot at the top of the inside shutter and brought down flat against the wooden slats that form the shutter to the bottom, where it is fastened by an ordinary hook having a small hole in the end. As soon as the hook has been placed in its eye a wire is run through the hole and the two ends are sealed together. When the report is released the wire is cut.

Seasonal reports on farm crops by the Federal Department of Agriculture are based on reports from the States. The State reports are sent in under seal to the Secretary of Agriculture, who has them locked up in a metal box with two separate locks, one of which can be opened only by himself or his assistant and one by the chairman of the crop reporting board. On the day set for the report the chairman of the board, accompanied by an armed guard, collects the State reports from the strong box and carries them back to the board room, where the members—crop specialists and statisticians—have assembled. The corridor is at once barred and the windows are sealed. The board and its statistical staff then begin compiling the data.

As soon as the report for the country as a whole is ready, it is signed by the Secretary of Agriculture and brought out, under guard, to a room equipped with complete communication facilities. Here interested reporters await the signal to seize a copy of the report and send it out, by wire, telephone, or messenger, to the press.

Tommy: "Please, mister, give me another box of those pills which I got for mother yesterday."
Druggist: "I sure will. Did your mother say that she liked them?"
Tommy: "No, sir, but they just fit my air gun."

COTTON GINNINGS REPORT

The government report on cotton ginnings for the present season, issued Tuesday through the Census Bureau, gave the ginnings to October 16 at 7,311,208 bales, a drop of more than two million bales from the figures of last year at the same period.

RECIPES AND MENUS

Excellent and timely recipes issued through the Extension Service of A. & M. College will prove of value at this particular season of the year for using vegetables in the preparation of winter foods. The recipes including those for crackers and peanut butter have been tested by Floyd County club women and are recommended to be excellent.

SANDWICH FILLINGS AND CRACKERS

Timely School Lunch Suggestions Ready Vegetable Sandwich Fillings for Children

"Different vegetables such as cabbage, celery, cucumber, onion, carrots, or beets, may be combined, seasoned, and canned, ready for using in sandwich fillings. All of these except the beets may be raw. Cooking the beets gives them a better color. Both beets and carrots are most desirable when grated, but the other's may be chopped fine.

In addition to salt, pepper, sugar, and the vinegar in which the vegetables are canned any of the following seasonings may be selected according to taste:

Peppers (green and red)
Tarragon
Horse Radish
Parsley
Mustard
White mustard seed
Cloves
Cinnamon
Allspice

When ready to make the sandwiches, creamed butter will be found to serve as a good binder for the mixture. It is appetizing and will save the trouble of having to butter the bread. Boiled (cooked salad) dressing also acts as a satisfactory binder.

The following recipe has been found to be well liked.

Vegetable Relish
1 cup sweet red pepper, chopped fine.
1 cup small white onions, chopped fine.
1 cup cucumber, chopped fine.
2 cups cabbage, chopped fine.

- 1/2 cup celery, chopped fine.
 - 1/4 cup sugar.
 - 2 tablespoons salt.
 - 2 cups vinegar.
- Cut open the peppers, remove the seeds and white sections, and chop. After chopping the other vegetables, combine all of them with the seasonings and mix well. Then place rubbers on one pint sterilized glass topped jars and pack the mixture into them rather loosely, filling within an inch of the top. Seal the vinegar, and pouring it over the relish fill the jars. Put lids on without clamping.

Have enough hot water in wash boiler sterilizer so that it will reach at least one inch above the tops of the jars. Place the hot jar in hot water. Heat the water to boiling and boil 10 minutes. Then seal the jar and remove from the water.

Other mixtures such as the following may also be used:

- 1 cup green peppers, chopped fine.
- 1/2 cup sweet red peppers, chopped fine.
- 2 cups cabbage, chopped fine.
- 1/2 cup onion, chopped fine.
- 1 cup celery, chopped fine.
- 1/2 cup sugar.
- 1/2 teaspoon mustard.
- 2 1/2 tablespoons salt.
- 2 cups vinegar.

- 3/4 cup green peppers, chopped fine.
- 2 cups green tomatoes, chopped fine.
- 2 cups cucumbers, chopped fine.
- 1/2 cup celery, chopped fine.
- 1 cup white onions, chopped fine.
- 1 cup brown sugar.
- 1/2 tsp. white mustard seed.
- 1/8 teaspoon ground cloves.
- 3 1/2 tablespoons salt.
- 2 cups vinegar.
- 1/2 tsp. mustard.

- 1/2 cup green pepper, chopped fine.
- 1/4 cups cucumbers, chopped fine.
- 1/4 cup white onion, chopped fine.
- 1 cup carrots, grated.
- 1 cup brown sugar.
- 1/2 teaspoon mustard.
- 2 tablespoons salt.
- 2 cups vinegar.

Whole Wheat Crackers
2 cups finely ground whole wheat.
3 tablespoons solid fat.
1 teaspoon salt.
6-7 tablespoons water.

Mix the dry ingredients and cut in the fat with a biscuit cutter. Add sufficient water to make a stiff dough. Roll the dough into a thin sheet. Cut into squares (3 in. by 3 in.) and bake at 450 degrees F.

Makes about 20 crackers. White flour may be substituted for one half the ground whole wheat, if desired.

Whole Wheat Cracker
2 cups finely ground whole whole wheat.
1 teaspoon salt.
3 tablespoons solid fat.
6 tablespoons water.
3 tablespoons sugar.
1/2 teaspoon soda.

2 tablespoons molasses.
Mix the dry ingredients and cut in the fat with a biscuit cutter. Mix the molasses and water and stir in to the dry ingredients. Spread the mixture on to a baking sheet. Cut into squares (3 in. by 3 in.) and bake at 425 degrees F.

Peanut Butter Recipe
6 qts. Peanuts
2 oz. Salt.

Roast the peanuts uniformly brown. Cool, remove the red skins and tiny hearts or germs (if these are not removed a bitter flavor may result.) Grind, add the salt and

A Farmer's Life

"As He Lives It"

BY ED HOLMES

(Station C. E. H. Farm)

It is a funny thing to me. I always get a cussing (sometimes good natured, sometimes otherwise) for what I do. It is never for what I don't do. After all this is the way I would want it to be.

Alma is like Will Rogers in one respect, all she knows is what she reads in the papers. I didn't tell her about that rabbit hunting, I just clear light forgot it. I haven't been able to explain it to her satisfaction yet, so I certainly will not try to explain it to you. In the first place I may be too busy, but I don't suppose they will go with Mr. Manning. All I will say is, I like to go rabbit hunting.

I have been hearing what the C. E. H. Farm stands for. It came to me after circulating over the community. Here is the new title: Chicken Eating Hog Farm! I want to say this right here and I want it understood for the exact truth. I have been dealing with Registered Red hogs for ten years and some type or color hogs ever since I can remember. Probably the first music I ever heard was a pig squealing, and this is the exact truth. I have never seen the chickens eat a hog in all that time. Our hogs are just not built that way. This should settle it.

What the C. E. H. really stands for is Chicken, Eggs, Hogs. It also happens to stand for my initials. They just accidentally named me Charles Eddie because I was so sissy or something and of course my last name is Holmes. There could be no argument. So in the beginning you see the three letters had a double meaning and already somebody has added the third. Maybe you would like to add another. I don't care what you call this farm if it will help your feelings or tie a can to this depression.

How did you like the snow Monday night? We had about three-fourths inch rain then the snow. No damage seems to be done. This is getting to be the funniest world I ever lived in. It can frost, rain or snow with practically no warning and no harm seems to be done only catching the farmers asleep and giving the uncovered cotton a good soaking.

The morning after the night before always makes you wish you had a system of ditches that would get the water out of your lots without leaving mud holes. This can easily be figured out as can another million of the farmers problems but getting them done is the question.

To be a successful farmer you should know at least 1000 trades, have about an 80 H. P. capacity, light on your feet, and have your subconscious mind (in the four hours time that you are supposed to be sleeping) plan your work ahead for the next twenty hours.

We had a distinguished visitor from Houston the other day. I had never seen him but have seen his signature several times. It seems that someone in this community owes him some money that cannot be paid at the present. He doesn't seem to be worried so bad as some other parties in on the same deal.

You see I don't have to tell you everything, as you can read between the lines and guess the rest. We will sure celebrate out here Monday night at the Halloween carnival. As is the custom with all carnivals, we will have many interesting side shows. We have a wrestling mat and boxing arena with local talent promising to take all comers. We have the promise of a dandy referee from Plainview and the matches will be carried on right and to your satisfaction. If you have a wicked punch, come out to Sand Hill. Somebody will choose you. If you are entitled to be a successful farmer you should win the money as we don't have that class out here. Be glad to see you Monday night.

WORD OF APPRECIATION

We wish to express from the bottom of our hearts the appreciation we so deeply feel for the loving care and deeds of kindness by our friends and dear neighbors who came to us in our hours of sorrow to comfort us following the death of our husband, father, son and brother, Ollie M. Conway.

We want to thank those who sent the beautiful floral offerings and to thank Dr. Geo. Smith and Lee Mayhew for their thoughtful, efficient, and considerate services.

Our prayers of gratitude are for all of you. May you all have such friends in your hour of sorrow.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Conway, Mr. and Mrs. John Conway and children, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Conway, Mrs. G. S. Thebo, Mrs. A. T. Isbell.

Henry Conway left Tuesday for his home in Tyler. He was called to Lakeview Saturday to attend the funeral Sunday of his brother, Ollie M. Conway, who died suddenly of apoplexy Saturday morning.

Guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. N. McPeak Sunday included Jonah McPeak and family and Mr. and Mrs. Finis Holcomb and family of Plainview, and Mrs. Betty Cash of Pampa.

Little C. E. Watson, Jr., of Abilene is spending this week with his cousin, Jack Porter Martin. His mother, Mrs. C. E. Watson, sister of Mrs. C. M. Martin will arrive the last of the week to accompany him home.

The Enemy of Life

What is it that a child learns last and finds most difficult to learn? What is it that some grown-up people have never learned? What is it that makes the difference between the highest type of man whom we can trust always, and other people of whom we cannot be so sure? It is self control. In creatures other than man, there is almost no self-control. The greatest thing in us is the power to say "no" the power not to yield to this or that, or the other.

The mark of a savage is the lack of self-control. He acts quickly and impulsively. This shows that the highest part of his brain is not well developed as it is in us. Alcohol can be said to be the enemy of life for it affects the brain first and sometimes completely destroys it. Lack of self-control is the most certain mark of defective-minded people of all kinds. Individuals who keep their tempers without alcohol, lose them when under its influence; they start laughing or crying at things when any one puts the idea into their heads, they lose their caution and judgement; they say things that they would not usually say. Alcohol affects all muscles in time. It causes persons to see double, lose control of the thumb (as writing shows) and walk jerkily.

The Whirlwinds could not be a winning team if the members were subject of alcohol. What would all their fans have thought if on the field at Paducah they had shown the lack of self-control by staggering about and paying no attention to the fight? On the other hand, what did the boys think of their fans? Certainly there were some individuals there who were under the influence of alcoholic drinks.

D. D. E. Club

The D. D. E. club met October 25 in its first session, and our president, Virgil Crawford discussed some of the problems of the club. The club also is to decide what requirements each member will have to reach.

A debating tournament was discussed, which will be held in the early spring.

Mr. Cummings will sponsor the D. D. E. club for this school year. The president appointed Mabel Tubbs and Clara Belle Golightly as program committee.

Rhe Cloud visited in Plainview Monday afternoon.

Wallace Simpson of Crosbyton visited in Floydada Sunday evening.

Maxine Fry went to Plainview Wednesday afternoon.

Pauline and Tom Edd Rogers formerly of Floydada High visited in Floydada Sunday.

Marlynn Fry visited in Plainview Sunday.

Verne Eastridge visited in Muncy over the week end.

Fair Sex Analyzed

A senior in F. H. S. has finally, through informative sources and experiences, analyzed the "fair sex." The student, who is a boy, says he has spent approximately one half his time studying the fairer sex since he entered high school; therefore he affirms that the foregoing analysis is based upon substantial facts. Here the analysis is: Symbol—W. F. A member of the human family. Occurrence—can be found wherever man exists. Physical properties—all colors and sizes; always appears in disguised condition. Surface of face seldom unprotected by coating of paint or film of powder. Boils at nothing, and may freeze at any moment; however, melts when properly treated. Very bitter if not used correctly. Chemical properties extremely active. Possesses great affinity for gold, silver, platinum and precious stones of all kinds. Violent reaction when left alone by men. Ability to absorb all kinds of expensive food; turns green when placed next to a better appearing sample. Ages very rapidly. Fresh variety has great magnetic attractions. (Note: Highly explosive and likely to be dangerous in inexperienced hands) Now, will some girl analyze the "Rougher Sex?"

Beating a Conductor

A passenger going west from Dallas by rail, had a pass to Abilene. When the conductor took it, he asked several questions to satisfy himself that the pass had not been transferred, and the holder of the passbook did not take it as good naturedly as some men would. He was determined on revenge. As soon as the conductor left the car, the man changed seats, removed his linen duster, took off his hat and looked like a different person altogether. After the train left the next station, the conductor came along with an eye for new passengers, and presently reached out of the holder of the pass.

"I haven't got a ticket," was the answer.

"Then you must pay your fare."

"I won't do it."

"See here," said the conductor, as he began to wake up "you must either pay your fare or produce a ticket. If not I'll drop you on the road."

The train was not stopped, but after a run of ten minutes it reached a station, and arrangements were made for bouncing the man. When all was completed he showed his pass.

"Why didn't you tell me you had a pass?" roared the conductor.

"Why didn't you ask me?" shouted the traveler.

"Well I don't like such fooling."

He returned half an hour later, and he expected another trap. He looked carefully over the car and was going slowly along in search of new faces, when a man with his coat off, and under the influence of liquor called out.

"Shay, captain, I hain't got any ticket."

"Ah, you can't beat me again. I knew you as soon as I entered the car," chuckled the official, and he walked on with a broad grin on his face.

It was not until he saw the shirt-sleeved man get off at the next station that he knew he had been mistaken again and had let a drunkard travel for nothing, while the man with the pass was in the smoking car.

Happenings in Class

Mrs. Smith: What is the purpose of all stories?

Ralph: To translate your mind.

Teacher: Why did Benjamin Franklin like Pilgrim's Progress?

Pupil: He gave us the first motor vehicle.

Teacher to students: It's true, according to science that mosquitoes often weep.

Student: That's nothing, I've seen a moth bawl.

And Mozelle Fields says that her dad can't lose his job because he has fire insurance.

Mr. Cummings to class: When the Judgment Day comes, what is on the books is what will count.

Leo Jackson: Why, Mr. Cummings I thought that there would surely be no books in heaven.

Hesperian Cross-Word Puzzle Number 67

shalt have praise of the same:

4 For he is the minister of God to thee for good. But if thou do that which is evil, be afraid; for he beareth not the sword in vain: for he is the minister of God, a revenger to execute wrath upon him that doeth evil.

5 Wherefore ye must needs be subject, not only for wrath, but also for conscience sake.

6 For for this cause pay ye tribute also: for they are God's ministers, attending continually upon this very thing.

7 Render therefore to all their dues: tribute to whom tribute is due; custom to whom custom; fear to whom fear; honour to whom honour. Gal. 6:1-10.

Brethren, if a man be overtaken in a fault, ye which are spiritual, restore such an one in the spirit of meekness; considering thyself, lest thou also be tempted.

2 Bear ye one another's burdens, and so fulfil the law of Christ.

3 For if a man think himself to be something, when he is nothing, he deceiveth himself.

4 But let every man prove his own work, and then shall he have rejoicing in himself alone, and not in another.

5 For every man shall bear his own burden.

6 Let him that is taught in the word communicate unto him that teacheth in all good things.

7 Be not deceived; God is not mocked: for whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap.

8 For he that soweth to his flesh shall of the flesh reap corruption; but he that soweth to the Spirit shall of the Spirit reap life everlasting.

9 And let us not be weary in well doing: for in due season we shall reap, if we faint not.

10 As we have therefore opportunity, let us do good unto all men, especially unto them who are of the household of faith.

Time and Place.—Paul's letter to the Romans was written at Corinth, A. D. 57. His letter to the Galatians was written about the same time and probably also from Corinth.

The Lesson Comment

Paul tells us that we must be subject to higher powers, and they who resist the power, or law, resist God. He also says that rulers are not a terror to good works, but to evil.

VOLUNTEER BARLEY HEADING IN FLOYD COUNTY FIELDS

Volunteer barley is heading in Floyd County fields where the crop grew up from shattered fields on the stubble or following the first plowing. A bunch of the barley on which this second or volunteer crop had grown up was being shown from a field of O. P. Rutledge yesterday and similar reports from over the county indicate many similar situations.

In many hundreds of Floyd County fields live stock are in as near a heaven as a dumb brute could ever hope for, one field seen the first of the week having cut over kaffir, a field of headed maize, a field of volunteer barley just heading and possibly something else all enclosed by the same fence.

The volunteer barley is not expected to be of commercial value, of course, except for pasturage.

How Old?

He doesn't look a day over fifty. And feels like forty. At the age of 62.

That's the happy state of health and pep a man enjoys when he gives his vital organs a little stimulant!

When your system is stagnant and you feel sluggish, headachy, half-alive—don't waste money on "tonics" or "regulators" or similar patent medicines. Stimulate the liver and bowels. Use a famous physician's prescription every drug store keeps. Just ask them for Dr. Caldwell's syrup pepsin.

This appetizing syrup is made of fresh laxative herbs, active pepsin, and pure pepsin. One dose clears up almost any biliousness.

But if you want to keep in fine shape, feel fit the year 'round, take a spoonful of Dr. Caldwell's syrup pepsin every few days. You'll eat better, sleep better and feel better. You will never need another laxative.

Give the children a little of this delicious syrup two or three times a week. A gentle, natural stimulant that makes them eat and keeps the bowels from clogging. And saves them from so many sick spells and colds.

Have a sound stomach, active liver and strong bowel muscles that expel every bit of waste and poison every day! Just keep a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's syrup pepsin on hand; take a stimulating spoonful when you feel bilious. See if you can't get it in your own way.

Hester West Tells Of Visit To Japan, Arrival In China

Another interesting letter received recently from Hester West, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jno. L. West, of this city, who left this summer for China where she will study and do missionary work, tells of her visit to Japan en route and some of the most noteworthy details of her first glimpse of China.

The letter was dated August 26, and reads in part as follows:

"We have seen Japan and because it was such an exciting adventure we are going to share it with you. We waked up on Wednesday morning and looked out of the porthole. We were in a forest of sailboats. The dock at Yokohama was not far off and the fishing boats with their raised sails were on all sides of us. The harbor looked inviting. As we drew nearer we could see the people on the pier. There were men with kimonos on, carrying fans and umbrellas; there were men in western dress although their skin was yellow and their eyes were slanting. Then there were the men in kimonos wearing western straw hats. There were several little buggies with men in between the shaves. We were looking at our first rickshas!

All Ride Bicycles
"We went down town and speaking of bicycles, we thought we had discovered a nest of them. Everybody in Japan rides a bicycle. The streets were paved and were wide. There were many taxis and they all wanted us to ride with them. There were two men in every one of them. One man does the driving and the other takes the fare, opens the doors and handles the luggage.

"Another interesting thing was that the steering wheels were all on the wrong side of the car and the driver always keeps to the left. There were busses also but the second person in them was always a girl. She dresses in a khaki suit, shirt, coat and knickers, but wears a western hat. She points out the scenic points and cares for the passengers.

"We were to go to Gotomba third class. I was impressed with the cleanliness of everything there as well as elsewhere. The third class train coach was very much like our day coaches except that the back of the seat was not padded. The trains, busses and taxis are all very prompt and do not wait for anybody.

Men Wear Kimonos
"On the train we saw the men take off their kimonos, fold them up and lay them up in order to keep cooler. They then took off their shoes and socks and made themselves comfortable. Leaving Yokohama we passed street cars on one side and ox carts on the other. The ox carts were taking off the night soil for fertilizer.

"We saw a number of graveyards but no graves. The bodies are cremated and just the memorial stones are in the cemeteries.

"The country houses look just like they do in books, thatched roofs, sliding walls, bamboo groves. Men, women, and children were working in the tiny fields. We were impressed by the sandals everyone wore. Many people did not wear hose. The throng to the sandal was slipped between the big toe and the one next.

"We got to Gotomba and they sat us down to a cold lunch and guess what we had! Fried peas, greens very much like chard, fish steak, lotus roots, grapes, peaches and bananas with brown and light bread from the bakers. Lotus roots are like chard. The peaches were larger than the ones in the States and very juicy and good.

"Right after supper Miss Charlie took us over to her cottage close by for a Japanese bath. First we bathed and rinsed in a small wooden tub and then got in a large tub waist high filled with scalding hot water to soak. All the family is supposed to use the same water in which to soak.

"This morning at 5 we pulled anchor and are headed toward China. We feel that we really saw Japan and it was a delightful experience. The people were all very clean, very courteous and very industrious. The fault of their nation could not be the common people. They are ruled by a strict monarchy and the people have no say so. The Emperor and the ruling party rule.

Visits Chapai
"At last we are here (McTeire School, Shanghai, China). We are just back from a day's tour of the city. Saw the area in Chapai that the Japanese destroyed. It was a fearful sight even now and those who have seen it at its worst, said it was very rapidly being rebuilt. Saw quite a bit of the native city. It doesn't look like this section at all. The streets are much narrower, the houses are very close together, the people nor the place is clean. Saw a number of old women with bound feet. I had not thought of seeing them until further in the interior. Saw 3 Chinese funerals. They were not Christian funerals at all, had the paid mourners only we did not see them in action, had the spirit screens and the bands playing lively music.

"I can easily see why China needs nurses. The people on the street look like they need to go to bed and stay there awhile. Many of the little babies are ever so dirty and filthy. Makes me want a scrub bucket and a rag.

"Dad, I wish you could see how resourceful the Chinese people are. Out in the warton district they are living in little huts made of straw, or in the buildings that were now completely destroyed but some of them took the brick from the burned houses, piled it up to make the walls, took the pieces of sheet iron and tin, made it into the roof and now they are living there and have their little shops."

R. C. A. Ball Team
The school of R. C. A. Ward has fire ball teams organized. There are three teams of the boys and two teams of the girls. Mrs. Green has a real good team of boys, while Miss Norton has a first and second team of boys. Mr. Myers has the first team of girls while Miss Belsher has the second team of girls.

Miss Norton's first and second team of boys have been playing the first and second teams of girls. The boys have been beating most of the time, but the girls will show them how to play yet.

Both girls and boys teams have very good players. They have several good pitchers, catchers, batters and catchers in field on bases and shorts.

Nadayne Moore, 7B English class.

The Cafeteria of R. C. A.
The cafeteria of R. C. A. opened at the starting of school. They have a very good menu every day. Mondays they have soup, plate lunches, sandwiches, fruits, milk, and some times cookies. You can get anything for five cents. Thursdays and Friday they have the same menu except they have ice cream and home-made candy. Each pupil serves himself and takes his tray to his home room to eat.

All the foods and drinks are wholesome and are prepared well.

We think Mrs. Blessingame is a good cook and we enjoy her meals. All the mothers would enjoy visiting and eating at our cafeteria.

Billy Staniforth, Grade 7B.

Number Work in the Second Grade
The second grade of Andrews Ward are becoming very accurate in their numbers. Day by day they practice addition forty five numbers in two minutes. It is surprising how fast they are progressing in this.

It is also very amazing and interesting to see the work of those small artists who have drawn pictures of Columbus' ships, cattle, squirrels, and leaves. The second grade room shows by the decorations that October's bright colorful days are here.

Virginia McKinney, 7B English class

Fire Prevention
We all know this is Fire Prevention Week. We should stop and think about it.

A good citizen always prevents fires in every way possible. Here are 10 good ways to prevent fires. Do not use gasoline or naphtha for cleaning indoors.

Destroy oily rags after using or else keep them in a closed metal container.

Provide a good screen for all fire-places, and see that the screen is in place, when you have a fire.

2,200 Red Cross Chapters Battling Against Distress parents as well as good training for the children.

Our Writing Class
We have a very interesting writing class with Miss Norton as our teacher. We have the Minnie B Graves writing book, which we use for practice. Many of the class are improving greatly in writing and if they keep it up, they will be excellent writers before long.

We should improve our writing because later in life we will be signing checks and writing letters to friends and business letters.

And if we are a good writer we will be more apt to get a job, than we would if we just knew how to scribble off our writing and it is easier for the teacher to read. The teacher can grade our papers without guessing at words.

Writing is one of the most important subjects we can take, because we do so much of it.

Junior Crow, 7B English.

Chapel
The R. C. A. School has chapel every Monday at one o'clock.

The school has new song books now. There are not many books. So three people have to use one book. The children keep the books at their seats. If they ruin one they have to pay for it. All of the children are trying to keep the books nice.

Mr. Myers put on a program last week. He told a story the name of which was "A boy traded for a Horse." There were some good poems read. Every one enjoyed the program. Miss Belsher has charge of the chapel next week.

Jennie Mae Sisson, English 7B.

English
The seventh grade of the Andrews Ward School has been trying to tell short stories in class using only two "ands" one "so" and one "then" to connect sentences.

It is very interesting to hear the boys and girls tell the stories because it is hard to use only two "ands" in a story after being used to using the word "and" so much.

But it is a very good practice and if one will try on it hard and long enough it will soon get to where it isn't a very hard thing to do. It will also help you to omit using so many "ands" in your every day speech.

The Quakers
In History we are studying the thirteen colonies. Mr. Davis is making it very interesting to us. One of the things, I think the most interesting is the beliefs of the Quakers. They believe that everyone is just alike and they won't take off their hat to anyone, not even the president or a king. In their every-day speech they always use words in addressing someone as thou, ye, and thee. One main thing that make them objectionable to the government is that they would not fight are go to war. In the New Testament they read, "Love your enemies," so they would not fight. However, the Quakers are very good people and are very honest. William Penn was a Quaker who founded Pennsylvania for the persecuted Quakers of England.

The Most Beautiful Park I Ever Visited
At the end of Marsalis Avenue in the outskirts of Dallas, you find Marsalis park. This park is one of the oldest and most beautiful parks in Dallas.

A rock gateway, built of different and peculiar rocks, guards the entrance. A short distance from this gate the land slopes downward to a tiny stream, which winds its way in and out all through the park. Natural bridges of rock span the little stream in several places.

As you walk over rustic bridges, you can see the winding walks and steps which lead to the animal div-

Dougherty News

(By Mrs. W. D. Newell)

Cotton picking and field work will probably be held up several days as a result of the rain and sleet that fell Monday night about one o'clock. Our water gauge was blown away by the high wind that accompanied the rain and no official report has been learned from the amount of rainfall however all the bar ditches are full and sleet was found packed on the north side of buildings that remained as long as nine hours after it had fallen. A considerable drop in the temperature preceded the rain.

The Dougherty business circle would do well to have a few signs placed on the highway north of town, thus advertising their produce and letting the tourists know what we have in our little town.

Speaking of signs, we are much in need of a "danger signal" a mile north west of town, warning people coming from the west. The road itself is alright but the high embankment of the dump, standing directly in the middle of this road should have a sign placed on it.

Again speaking of roads, now is a good time to investigate prospects for aid from the State Highway Department on a lateral road leading north to the new highway that is to be started soon.

Church News
Rev. R. L. Shannon from Plainview will preach at the Baptist church here next Sunday morning and evening. The membership and visitors are urged to be present.

Rev. F. O. Garner will preach by regular appointment here next Sunday morning and evening at the Methodist church.

Members of the "Willing Workers" class of the Methodist church and the "Young people's class" of the Baptist church are invited to attend the Halloween party given at the North Plains Lumber yard office, Friday evening beginning at 7:30 o'clock.

The Sunday school attendance continues to improve at both churches. Services start at 10 o'clock. Be on time.

There was no preaching service Sunday morning but Eliza Lloyd who returned home recently from Simmons College conducted services Sunday evening. His text was, "Follow me and I will make you fishers of men," using for his scripture lesson: Romans 6:8-22 and Matthew 4:19.

Child's Hand Caught in Wringer
Ruth Webb, 6, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Webb, suffered a very painful accident Monday morning when she accidentally caught her hand in a washing machine wringer.

The wringer propelled by a small motor, ran to the child's elbow where she was held fast for several minutes; until her mother, who was hanging clothes on the line, heard her.

She was carried to Floydada where a medical examination showed no bones broken. The arm was badly bruised with several lacerations near the thumb and fingers.

Kane Verdict Guilty Of Murder With Malice

the judge to send them back to their deliberations to determine whether the penalty assessed by them was for murder with malice or murder without malice.

The quiet drama of the tense moments while the jury was out for their second period of deliberation, probably taking five minutes, was broken by the restrained sobbing of the defendant's mother who sat with her daughter at the trial. The defendant, with swollen eyes from weeping during the afternoon of the trial when prosecuting attorneys arraigned her before the jury, received the verdict quietly. At the time she broke down and gave first vent to her emotions in the late afternoon her daughter, Edith McComas, fainted and was carried from the court room.

Eighteen witnesses had been summoned from Motley County by the state and seventeen by the defense. Only seven witnesses were used by the state and none by the defense.

Jury in the case of the State of Texas against Mrs. Kane was completed at 5:28 Monday afternoon, and the court was adjourned immediately until 9 o'clock Tuesday when testimony was begun.

Morg Hamilton selected as the twelfth juror on the eighty-third man on a panel of ninety-five. He is a grocer at Lockney. Other members of the jury were Robt. McGuire, assistant manager of the Jones Dry Goods of this city, W. H. Brock McCoy, farmer, W. Edd Brown retired merchant and wheat grower, S. H. Phillips gin worker, O. G. Glassmeyer farmer of Floydada, Clayton Cox McCoy farmer, William Wood Prairie Chapel farmer, C. H. Rose, Lockney farmer, O. E. Wicker Roseland farmer, E. E. Dyer, Lockney hardware dealer, and J. B. Houston manager of Baker, Hanna & Company department store city.

The defendant is at present a resident of Graham, and she was accompanied to Floydada for the trial by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Stephens who were in the court room with their daughter. Representing the defendant in the trial were C. C. McDonald of Wichita Falls, Fred Arnold of Graham, Judge G. E. Hamilton of Matador, and Judge L. G. Mathews of Floydada. They were opposed for the state by District Attorney A. J. Folley and County Attorney Tony B. Maxey.

The case was brought to Floyd County from Motley on a change of venue. The defendant was indicted in that county for the murder of J. A. Cunningham, a Motley County ranchman who lived ten miles east of Matador. Cunningham who was 72 years old, was struck several times in the head with an axe in his ranch home on April 23 of this year.

He had employed Mrs. Kane (then Mrs. McComas) as a housekeeper a few weeks previous. She came to Texas from New Mexico in answer to an advertisement.

Charges first were filed against Mrs. Kane's daughter Edith, 15 year old, were later dismissed. The child claimed she killed the man in self-defense when he attempted to attack her. Later Mrs. Kane was charged with murder and a defense of herself and her child was set up.

When the case was called in Motley County District Court it was continued on account of the illness of the defendant who was then in a hospital, and the case was transferred to this county on a change of venue.

The state introduced only seven witnesses before resting after slightly more than a half day of evidence was given the jury. Also was introduced a will made by the slain man on April 15 before his death on April 23. In this will Mrs. Ruth McComas (Kane) was made the beneficiary and was to be sole executrix of the will without bond, according to its terms and was required to make no further probate than to file the will, and make inventory and appraisal. It was subject to two conditions, the first being that the defendant should faithfully do the duties of a housekeeper and take care of him in case of sickness or injury, the other being that should he come to his death by foul play, directly or indirectly at her hands, the will should be voided. A daughter, resident of Los ANGELES, Mrs. Nettie Weatherholt, was given $10 by the terms of the will.

Sterling Price, sheriff of Motley County, was used as a witness to establish the identity and the location of the killing. He with Judge G. E. Hamilton, an attorney for the defendant in the present trial, went to the scene. The killing occurred in the kitchen of a two-room house with a lean-to on one side, and Cunningham's body lay in mid-floor with blood all about him and the bloody axe nearby. He had been hit ten times with the axe, Dr. A. C. Traweck testified. Each of three of the wounds would have been fatal in itself and the others were severe, he said. The axe introduced into testimony was an old axe with a bright new handle.

Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Evans, tenants on the stockfarm, resident 100 yards from the house, testified. Evans said that Mrs. Kane asked him to crank the Cunningham car for her the morning of the killing telling him that the daughter had killed Cunningham while she was out of the house. Mrs. Evans testified to a conversation she had with the defendant shortly before the killing in which defendant declared the deceased had made improper advances to her daughter and she felt she would be justified in killing him.

E. N. Jones, a Paducah cattle buyer, testified to a two-hour conversation he had with the defendant a few days prior to the killing in which she said that Cunningham had proposed marriage to her and had suggested improper relations with the daughter.

Mrs. B. H. Robertson, a niece of the slain man, testified that he was seventy-four years of age and that he was a very feeble man.

The change in the name of the defendant, after the indictment was filed, came about through a natural error. After obtaining a divorce from McComas the defendant was married to a man named Kane, who after a few days or weeks abandoned her, telling her he was a married man without a divorce and that their marriage was not legal, according to the story that has crept locally. When she told attorneys of this marriage, she was informed that the mere statement by Kane that she was not legally married gave the statement no legal status and that to all intents she was his lawful wife.

After both state and defense had announced completion of the evidence, the defense springing a surprise by not placing any witnesses on the stand, permission was granted by the court Wednesday morning for the case to be re-opened for defense proof in support of their application for a suspended sentence.

From Tuesday afternoon when the judge began preparation of the charge until 1 o'clock Wednesday was spent on it by the judge and contending attorneys. It was given to the jury at 1 o'clock and the argument of attorneys began. State and defense were given one hour and forty minutes each. The principal argument for the defense was made by C. C. McDonald of Wichita Falls, and for the state by District Attorney A. J. Folley.

District Attorney Folley was aided in the prosecution by County Attorney Tony B. Maxey and the attorneys assisting in the defense were Judge G. E. Hamilton of Matador, Fred Arnold of Graham and Judge L. G. Mathews of this city.

The charge to the jury covered murder with malice, murder without malice, the law of principals, the law governing alibis, the law governing circumstantial evidence, and the law governing the right of a parent to defend a child against attack. The jury, when it received the case late yesterday afternoon, had the whole range of the penalties set by the state for felonies on which to reach a verdict if they could agree. They could acquit the defendant, give her a suspended sentence or any number of years to 99 without suspended sentence, or they could inflict the death penalty under the charge of Judge Bain.

'Smile Day,' October 30, Will Open Legion Relief Program

Cooperating in a state-wide program for the relief of distressed citizens during the coming winter, McDermott Post members have made plans to carry forward the work in Floydada and are urging everyone to participate.

Roy Snodgrass is chairman of the committee in charge of local activities and other committeemen are John Maxwell and Jess Covington.

Sunday, October 30, has been designated by Carl Nesbitt, Commander of the American Legion, Department of Texas as "Smile Day" and is the first phase of the state-wide program that has been outlined by the new Commander of the organization for the new year of the Legion.

In cooperation with the program of the American Legion, Governor Ross S. Sterling has issued a proclamation in which he calls upon the people of Texas to cooperate with the local posts of the American Legion and the American Legion Auxiliary in this movement for the relief of distressed citizens during the coming winter.

The object of "Smile Day" as outlined by Mr. Nesbitt, is to put on a city-wide campaign in every city that has a post of the American Legion for the purpose of collecting surplus clothing which may later be distributed to the needy of the community and thus insure these people warm clothing for the winter months. The plan is designed for each community to take care of its own situation in this regard as adequately as possible.

Surplus clothing that is collected on "Smile Day" will be assembled at the Legion Hall where it will be renovated, repaired, buttons replaced and sorted by sizes.

The Legion will cooperate with the Auxiliary in the work and will assist other organizations in the distribution of the needed clothing.

"The clothes may be left at the hall or if they will phone any member to call," Mr. Snodgrass said.

"Smile Day" was initiated in Texas last winter by the American Legion and was one of the most successful phases of the year's program, bringing relief in every community where it was observed.

MAYOR HANNA GROWS FIGS SUCCESSFULLY ON FARM

That figs may be grown successfully in Floyd County and that they make an excellent fruit here, both for fresh fruit and for preserving is the experience of W. C. Hanna, mayor of Floydada, who says that his luck has been good with this fruit for a number of years.

This year, from two or three bunches of fig stalks, he has had figs to eat since August and has put up several gallons of the fruit for winter use. The variety which he is using is the common Texas fig, which thrive and do well, but must be protected in severe cold spells to insure a crop the following fall. When the figs are not bitten back to the ground in the winter they begin putting on fruit early and continually ripen new fruit until frost. They do not put on a crop all at once but continue to put on new fruit while the old is ripening, he said. If the stalks are bitten down, as is sometimes the case, the stalk will get a late start putting on fruit, generally with the result that none will ripen in time the following fall to escape the frost.

The fig stalks grow in clusters of twenty to thirty in a "hill" and grow from four to seven feet tall, he said. When he transplants to start a new fig cluster he cuts up a stalk with a piece of the root, which is bulbous similar to the canna, he said. It is not difficult to get them started, is his experience on the farm at Harmony. "I grow them because they are mighty good and good for you, both as fresh fruit and preserved," Mr. Hanna said.

Just now he is experimenting with a different type of fig, planted on his place in town. This fig grows in California in a climate and at temperature similar to the climate in this area. The plants were forwarded by his son, Gordie, who lives at Berkeley. If they thrive and do as well as he expects he may supplant the Texas type of figs with them entirely, he said. Most any family may have figs if they want them, by giving them a little care and attention, the mayor said. While many people do not care for them, others find the flavor of figs most delicious.

'COMBINE MAIZE' VARIATION OF FORAGE FEED TRIED BY BERT BATTEY OF LAKEVIEW

Bert Battey expects to harvest after a killing frost a small field of "combine maize" on his farm just west of Lakeview school house that gives promise of being a good variety of forage feed for the man to plant who is equipped with wheat farming machinery.

The seed of the crop has the appearance of maize, but the heads stand up like kafir or feterita and has a stalk that looks like feterita except that it is stockier and stronger. The crop grew to a uniform height throughout the field this year and has an excellent head. It was planted after the June hails.

Samples being shown in Floydada Saturday appeared to be about the right height for gathering with a combine harvester.

"If it is as good as it looks it is going to be just the thing for the man who is equipped to farm wheat and doesn't want to buy some more row crop tools," Mr. Battey said. The crop was planted with a wheat drill, after the land was worked with a one-way plow. It is going to produce heavily.

ED BISHOP HERE

Ed Bishop, secretary of the Dalhart Chamber of Commerce, spent last Friday night here as the guest of his mother, Mrs. Jennie Bishop. He was enroute to Austin on highway business together with a committee of Dalhart business men.

Mrs. Bishop and their little son accompanied him here and visited in Floydada and Matador until the earlier part of this week.

J. W. Chapman spent last weekend at Mangum and Madill, Oklahoma, on business.

Yannigans

twin brother, Floyd, who will bark the signals at quarter, will do some plain and fancy performing.

Smith will fill up Murray's shoes at the guard post and from the performance at Paducah he's going to do some right capable fighting.

The Green and White will have plenty to do tomorrow if they continue their string of victories, for the Yannigans, composed mostly of ineligible first string players of Amarillo High School, boast a powerful eleven. Last week they defeated Dalhart 19 to 12 and previously held Friona to a 0-0 tie. They beat Groom 31 to 0.

With deCordova out with an injured ear, Johnston likely will be shifted back from tackle to end. Coach Terrell indicated yesterday afternoon.

Jenkins will start at the other wing. Hoffman and Jackson will be at the tackles, and Henry and Smith at guards. Ginn will be at the pivot. Baxter, lineman, possibly will not start.

Garth Powell, tackle, suffered a broken bone in his left arm late Wednesday afternoon in scrimmage and Old Man Jim added another victim to his list from Coach Terrell's crew. Powell will likely be out the rest of the season.

The Amarillo team is reported to average 160 pounds with a line averaging 162 and a backfield weighing 158. Captain Lane and Boynton, who do most of the punting for the Yans, get about 30 yards on an average. Beal, Boynton and Dees do the passing. Lane is the fastest back with a speed of 100 yards in 11 seconds. Boynton, is a triple threat man. No letter men are on the team.

The probable starting line-ups Friday will be about like this:

Amarillo	Jenkins	LE	Taylor
Hoffman	LT	Ledbetter
Henry	LG	Brown
Ginn	C	Peterson
Smith	RG	Wilson
Jackson	RT	Brandenburg
Johnston	RE	Sullivan
Bridges	LH	Beale
L. Murray	RH	Dees
F. Murray	Q	Lane
Heald	FB	Boynton

Matador will furnish the opposition in the next conference game to be played this Friday, November 4. The Bullfighters held Electra, a class A team, to a 0-0 tie at the first of the season. They defeated Crosbyton 75 to 0, Dickens 21 to 0 and Lockney 59 to 0. They met Quitaque at Matador Friday while the Whirlwinds are entertaining the Amarillo lads.

BELA WILKINSON IN RECENT WRECK ON DALLAS STREETS

Bela Wilkinson, who was a weekend visitor in Floydada from his home in Dallas, is practically recovered from the effects of injuries sustained about five weeks ago when a car he was driving struck the rear of a tent pole truck of the Barnum & Bailey circus, parked down-town. He had a narrow and very fortunate escape from serious injuries when the protruding poles struck the windshield and top of his car. He was injured by flying glass and two fingers of one hand were crushed.

Numerous Out-Of-Town Friends And Relatives Here For Goen Funeral

Remains of Floyd County Pioneer Laid to Rest in Floydada Cemetery.

Funeral services and burial rites for Mrs. Cornelia Ray Goen, held Thursday afternoon of last week, were attended by numerous friends and relatives from out of town as well as by friends of the family resident in the city.

Mrs. Goen succumbed at her home, 608 South Main Street, Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock. Elder Chas. W. Watkins, of Petersburg himself a pioneer of this section, preached the funeral at the Wall Street Church of Christ, and pioneer friends of the family acted as pallbearers. They were W. U. White, S. E. Duncan, Glad Snodgrass, Jno. W. Maxwell, Roe McCleskey, and R. C. Henry.

Two living sisters, Mrs. Monroe Honea, of Portales, New Mexico, and Mrs. J. M. Carthel of Lockney, were among those present for the last rites. Other relatives present included Mrs. Fay Boone of Tulsa, Cecil Honea of Amarillo, Frank Curry of Lubbock, Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Reeves, Mr. and Mrs. John Belt and family, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Carthel and family, Mr. and Mrs. Franca Carthel and family, R. B. Carthel and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Milford Carthel and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ross Carthel and family, and John Carthel, all of Lockney.

Three sons, surviving the deceased, have been prominent in business in this county a number of years. They are A. C. Goen and W. S. Goen of this city, and L. P. Goen of near Lockney. These with their families were present for the last rites for their mother.

Arrangements were in charge of Lee Mayhew of the F. C. Harmon undertaking service.

'THINGS ARE DEMOCRATIC IN MASSA-HUSETTS,' SAYS FRANK HARPER, NEWSPAPER MAN

"Things are very Democratic" up in Massachusetts is the way Frank Harper, publisher of the West Bridgewater Herald at West Bridgewater, Massachusetts, answered the question "How's conditions up your way?" While he was in Floydada last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Harper were en route to California for a visit and stopped in Floydada a few minutes. He was quoted in the Plainview Herald as having predicted that Roosevelt would carry New York state for certain and that without it Hoover could not possibly win the presidential election.

TOM MIX FIRST TALKING PICTURE THIS WEEK-END

A show which everyone is sure to enjoy is coming to the Palace Theatre this week-end, the management announcing their plan to present Tom Mix in his first talking picture, "Destry Rides Again."

Tom was "out of production" for a few months and when he got back in recently produced a dandy picture that is sure to please. Just the other day the newspapers carried a story to the effect that Mr. Mix was injured in one of the thrilling episodes scheduled for picturization on the screen.

Tom Mix has been a favorite for a long time with local show-goers, his western thrillers making his name a household word and his pictures sure-fire hits.

SIMPSON WILL BE HERE FOR CONFERENCES NEXT MONDAY

F. H. Simpson, of Plainview, field representative of the Federal Seed Loans, will be in Floydada Monday to confer with farmers on collections and any problems they may have in connection with his department, it was announced this week. Mr. Simpson will be at the Chamber of Commerce office.

MATADOR STAR DECLARED INELIGIBLE SATURDAY BY LEAGUE GROUP AT LUBBOCK

Football stock at Matador experienced a downward plunge last week when Houston Wedeman, one of the strongest prospects of the season, was declared ineligible by the district committee in session Saturday at Lubbock. He played at the position of left half and weighs 130 pounds. He played with Turkey last year and had not met all league requirements in attendance, it was said before he transferred to Matador.

The new league transfer rule provides that in transferring from an affiliated school to another of equal rank a player is not eligible to participate in athletics for one year from the time he enters school. He had enrolled at Matador in September. He would have been eligible September, 1933. He is a senior, however.

Coach R. P. Terrell and Superintendent A. D. Cummings went to the meeting of officials in Lubbock.

ERNEST FOWLER ASSISTANT MANAGER SOUTH PLAINS LBR.

Ernest Fowler has accepted a position as assistant manager of the local yard of the South Plains Lumber Company, it was stated this week by H. G. McChesney, manager. Mr. Fowler was formerly connected with the yard at Lockney.

T. W. Whigham, formerly at the Radio Electric Company, has assumed his duties as bookkeeper with the South Plains Company yard. Mrs. Whigham is handling the office work at the Radio Electric Company.

MISS STEPHENS BETTER

Miss Bonnera Stephens, who has been in Lubbock for the past two weeks taking treatment at the sanitarium, spent Saturday night visiting here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. Stephens.
