ar to Football Play-Off Used In Basketball This Year.

P. Terrell will bring his Whirlwind basketball team to their temporary winter hibernation for a battle this Thursday night with the Ralls Jackrabbits at Andrews Ward Gymnasium.

Ralls Won First games have been played since was dismissed. As the opening of the season the Whirlwinds played a game at Ralls by the score 35 to 13.

Each Terrell and his crew will go to Ralls to participate in a tournament Friday and Saturday.

On January 14 F. H. S. will meet in Ralls and again January 28 Floydada.

A two-game series with Lockney scheduled for January 17 and 18 to decide the county championship Class A.

This year the coaches have agreed on a sectional arrangement similar to that used in football.

There will be six teams at the sectional meet which will not make a winner have to play over three days during the two days.

Six Teams at Finals will be six teams at the sectional meet which will not make a winner have to play over three days during the two days.

The actual figures for the rolls show comparatively in dollars and cents assessed against property in the county, to be as follows: Total tax roll 1931, $245,407.68

Decrease 1932, $75,771.13 The decrease effected came about principally through the reduction of twenty-five per cent made in the valuations last summer by the Commissioners' Court in real estate valuations.

The response to the decrease in valuations made by the county to date has been more pronounced than the response to the reductions in valuations in Floydada Independent School District and in the City of Floydada.

Members of Floydada Volunteer Fire Department Tuesday night received the resignation of G. R. Strickland as their chief.

Neither Graham nor Rhoades had definite plans for the immediate future, they said this week, except that they will remain with the business temporarily.

J. H. Lloyd Funeral Will Be Held Today

Remains of J. H. Lloyd, 71, prominent Pleasant Hill farmer, and resident of the county for 16 years, will be interred this afternoon at the Lakeview cemetery following services at 1:30 o'clock at the Baptist Church there.

The Masonic Lodge of Floydada will conduct the burial rites after the services. He was an honorary member of the local lodge.

Mr. Lloyd died at 7:15 o'clock Wednesday morning from kidney trouble and complications. He had been ill for several months and his death was not unexpected.

He was born December 2, 1862, near Bryan, Texas. He had been a resident of the state his entire life with the exception of two years spent in Oklahoma.

Surviving Mr. Lloyd are his wife and nine children, all of whom were present at the time of his death, and three brothers and one sister.

Funeral arrangements and details were handled by F. C. Harmon Undertaking Company of this city.

County Tax Bill Last Year Reduced $75,000

Although the average citizen might be unwilling to admit his tax bill is lower this year than last, the nature of humans being such as it is, it is a fact that the state, county and school tax bill payable at the office of the county tax collector this year is a tremendous lot less than it was for the year of 1931.

Sharp Cut Made In City Salaries For Term Beginning This Spring

Mayor, Secretary And Marshal To Draw Less

Mayor and Secretary Salaries Reduced and Marshal Cut Off with $1 Per Year.

Sharp cuts in the salaries of the mayor, the secretary, assessor and collector and the city marshal are indicated in the order of the City Council of Floydada setting out salaries to be paid incumbents of these offices for the year beginning with the next administration, passed at a called session of the council Saturday morning.

These offices are the only elective ones in the city, except those of the councilmen, who will receive $1 per meeting after April, according to the order entered by the council.

Saturday's meeting was a hangover from the meeting Thursday afternoon when the budget for the year 1933 was under consideration. Although only one interested citizen made his appearance at the formal hearing, the council argued long among themselves concerning the city's financial affairs and the set-up for next year.

Secretary Duncan said there had been a "good many" applications for the place. In addition to the duties of city water, sanitary and sewer superintendent, Strickland had the responsibilities of fire chief, fire marshal and fire inspector.

Strickland had been on constant duty for a period of twelve years and had worked for the city a year prior to that time.

The budget, as prepared by Mayor W. C. Hanna and outlined in several schedules by Secretary S. E. Duncan, was not formally adopted following the budget hearing.

Workmen this week were preparing the two engines formerly used as a power plant at the Panhandle Sand & Gravel Company plant in northeast Floyd County.

The two large units were a part of a large and elaborate installation, costing several hundred thousand dollars, installed at a large deposit of sand and gravel on the Elmer Tibbets land.

Final plans for rebuilding the Aiken school building are pending the adjustment of an $8,500 insurance policy, according to information given out from the office of County Superintendent, Price Scott.

School, City Collections To Dec. 31 Disappointing

In contrast with the very definitely indicated effort to meet state and county tax levies for the year 1932, as indicated by payments to December 31, collections of both the City of Floydada and Floydada Independent School District were disappointing.

For the school district, with a current roll of $28,000 total collections of current (1932) taxes were only $6,097.78 during the months of October, November and December.

In the case of the city with a current (1932) roll of $25,308.09, including polls, the collections of current taxes was only $3,058.85, and delinquent collections of $1,025.50, brings the total for the three months of October, November and December to $4,084.35.

Both city and school district made quite substantial reductions in the current assessments and both have had under way most radical expense cutting programs.

Schools Open Monday With Almost 100 Per Cent In Attendance

F. H. S. Retains Membership In Southern Association; Second Term to Begin Jan. 23.

Floydada Schools opened Monday morning after having been dismissed two weeks for the Christmas holidays with almost a hundred per cent attendance in both the High School and Andrews Ward School.

A total of 776 students were in attendance at both the schools Monday which was short only sixteen of the total enrollment of the two schools, according to Mr. Cummings.

Pupils will have three weeks before final examinations for the first term instead of two weeks as has been the custom in the past.

The High School still retains its membership in the Southern Association of Universities, Colleges and Secondary Schools.

Rotary Ladies' Night Program Much Enjoyed

Annual ladies night of Floydada Rotary Club was held Tuesday of this week, the usual hour and a quarter of fun and seriousness being in charge of J. C. Wester as program chairman.

The featured talk was given by A. D. Cummings, who told of Rotary ideals, something of the background of its organization, and of its place in the life of the community.

New County Regime Elected Office Monday January 2

County Clerk

When the new officers of Floyd County were sworn in Monday morning of this week, A. B. Clark, above was one of the first to be put to work at a fast pace.

Re-elected officers in the county are J. W. Howard, county judge; Tony B. Maxey, county attorney; Roy O'Brien, district clerk; Roy McCleskey, assessor; Mrs. Maud Merriker, county treasurer; Geo. A. Linder, surveyor; J. S. Solomon, justice of the peace, precinct number one; D. C. Lowe, justice of the peace, precinct number two; J. M. Floyd, weigher precinct two; E. S. Ranson, elected sheriff in the November general election, took office in September following the resignation of J. M. Wright.

Price Scott, county superintendent of schools, has called a meeting for all of the teachers of the county including the teachers of Floyd and Lockney, which will be held Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the County court room.

Commissioners' Court Has Four New Members

Little Formality Observed as Old Officers Retire, New Ones Qualify.

The new official regime for Floyd County was inducted into office with very little formality on Monday of this week, the old officers retiring and the new taking their places and immediately plunging into their work during the morning hours.

The most pronounced change is in the personnel of the commissioners' court where an entirely new set of commissioners will sit in the place of four who retired.

The new commissioners are A. S. Cummings, precinct One; E. R. Harris, precinct Two; Walter Wood, precinct Three; and Henry Bloodworth, precinct Four.

Re-elected officers in the county are J. W. Howard, county judge; Tony B. Maxey, county attorney; Roy O'Brien, district clerk; Roy McCleskey, assessor; Mrs. Maud Merriker, county treasurer; Geo. A. Linder, surveyor; J. S. Solomon, justice of the peace, precinct number one; D. C. Lowe, justice of the peace, precinct number two; J. M. Floyd, weigher precinct two; E. S. Ranson, elected sheriff in the November general election, took office in September following the resignation of J. M. Wright.

Price Scott, county superintendent of schools, has called a meeting for all of the teachers of the county including the teachers of Floyd and Lockney, which will be held Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the County court room.

Council Remits Penalty, Interest For Thirty Days On Delinquent City Tax

For the period from January 1 to January 31—this entire month—delinquent taxpayers of the City of Floydada are presented the opportunity of paying only the amount of the tax assessed against them on the rolls for any year.

Decision to offer this inducement to delinquents on the city rolls was reached by the city council, while in a special session Saturday morning, December 31. No penalty, no interest, no costs are to be collected during the period. A heavy delinquency, it is hoped, will take advantage of the saving opportunity.

CART BEFORE THE HORSE

That, with the railways hobbled by every kind of restrictive law imaginable, the truck is the farmers' sole hope of cheap transportation, is a conclusion which has been reached by many students of farm problems.

Apparently the problem of transportation is being attacked from the wrong angle. There is no reason on earth why rail transportation could not be cheapened if the laws and regulations governing them were loosened. Red tape has a strangle hold on railroads of the country, whether or not the railway men will admit it. But instead of attacking the problem from this angle, the bureaus and commissions are attempting to right the wrong economic situation by making truck transportation high also. The people are responsible for strangling the railroads. They have demanded it.
There is the duty and responsibility of righting the wrongs they have done by insisting that the railway rates be lowered instead of the truck rates raised.

RESTRICTION NOT PRICE-PEGGING

One of the reasons why the oil industry apparently is heading toward better days in its entirety is that the powers that be finally have recognized the fact that the rule of "physical waste", applied for many years, plus price-pegging have been discarded and the old-time law of supply and demand is being allowed to have its way, not only on the statute books in Texas but in the operation of the industry. The legislature's last enactment on this subject, which revolved around the phrase "restriction to market demand" indicates that the legislators were faced with the clear-cut question of whether it would allow ruin to be brought to the oil industry.

Of course, the charge is being made freely that the enactment was selfishly inspired and that the restriction to "market demand" is not best for the public interest. Cotton farming is in equal economic chaos. Why not help the wheat industry? Why not help the wheat industry? The answer in these instances, is, principally, that it is a "one-time" crop, a natural source that must be administered for the whole public, although one industry has it in charge. When oil and gas are exhausted they are irreplaceable, and there is no substitute at present known. Then, as a matter of fact the state gets more than half its revenue from oil.

The way Texas is placed in the oil industry of the nation, the welfare of the whole citizenship is bound up in the welfare of the oil business.

THE WORLD OVER

Price-pegging and quota-setting are two-fold means of making a better where there is over-production and increasing the production where there is under-production. Being practiced the world over, most of the countries practicing is being made in the industry, such as, for in-hog-raising, their conditions are far differ-in America, and their governmental affairs different.

DISCARD THE POLL TAX

Thousands of "forgotten" Texans would like to see the poll tax discarded. Every year it is preventing thousands of the state's most conscientious citizens from going to the polls and exercising their "right" of franchise.

Registration, which could take the place of the poll tax with better results, could be effected without cost to the individual and little cost to government. Every man ought to be willing, through proper means, to establish his right of franchise, but it ought not to cost any man any money to have the right to cast a ballot.

THE SCHOOL SYSTEM

The more recent lean years have somewhat reduced the number of critics of the public free school system as a system. There are many who, perhaps rightly, have been and are criticizing the business management of the schools—in other words, the high cost of school administration. But this is not criticism of the public free school plan.
That is only a matter of business judgment. Those other critics charged the plan itself was unworkable.

The free school system, as practiced in America, is at once the envy and despair of many other nations.
It is one of the soundest, most workable things in American life today.
It is peculiarly American, for one thing. And is another one of the evidences that our people should not be running off after plans that are used in other nations for the betterment of American conditions without first adapting them to American ideas, American thought.

COTTON CONFERENCES AGAIN

Governors of southern states are beginning their plans for another cotton conference, set for an early date in the new year. The deplorable condition of the cotton raising industry is ample reason for study of the situation by the best minds.
Our governors do well to do much thinking about cotton.

First newspaper reports indicate a distinct leaning toward more laws governing production of cotton.
Doubtless the cue is taken from the oil industry, where economic recovery is apparently being brought through restricting production to the "market demand." However, conditions are very, very much different in the two industries. While less than five per cent of the people of the south are engaged in the oil business, more than eighty per cent of them are engaged in the cotton business. Furthermore, cotton is not a "one-time" crop.

But something needs to be done.
We need a Moses to lead the cotton production industry out of the wilderness. What wonderful wealth and happiness and full lives would come to the south with an assured ten cent price for the next ten years, and production not increased a bale over the 1932 crop!

This and That

What about 1933! Last year hit Floyd County folks another solar plexus blow, what with cheap prices and high cost of getting the stuff to market. Twenty-thousand bales of cotton, some of the land producing as high as a bale of cotton to the acre, brought in a lot more revenue than either of the other "surplus cash" crops of wheat and maize.
What if cotton had been ten cents!
There certainly would have been plenty for all and some to spare.

And that is the kind of thing that is causing the deep study of so many economists, sociologists and whatnots of all brands and stripes.
We all see the possibilities of wealth right near our grasp, but no practical way yet to put the thing into practice. Plenty of everything but money. Even plenty of debt for all the people all over the world. In the instance of eighty per cent of the Texas people, four cents more a pound for cotton would have solved the problem.

How to get at it though! Texans went hysterical two years ago for a cotton acreage reduction law. Then hysterical until the governor called the legislature together and undid the law. So probably a law wouldn't be the solution like it is in the oil business. It appears the people would not abide by a law even if it were on the statute books to limit the production of cotton. Then there is the voluntary allotment plan. It would work out probably as a really voluntary arrangement if there were some way other than through the government to enforce it. But the multitude of office holders would be multiplied three-and there would be more grandmothers and little sons with cotton in the fall, than you could imagine.

Hip, hip, hooray and here we go right down the line with a brand new year before us. It is with no regrets that we all bid goodbye to that old scalawag—1932. I only hope that he was the last of his line and that he doesn't even have any second cousins, much less any immediate descendants.

Everybody out for the big possum hunt! Right here on the ranch it's got to take place. B. F. Craig, who resides southwest of town on the P.
E. McCarty place caught one of the biggest possums I ever saw Saturday morning of last week. He had a steel trap set for rabbits and he got Mr. O'Possum. To be more exact he got boys, Russell, 9, and Norris, 8, did the capturing act and carried the animal to their home.

"Well, Mr. Craig had an idea that perhaps the folks here in town would like to see a possum for a change so he brought him down to The Hesperian. K. A. Osburn furnished a chicken coop and Mr. Possum went on display out on the sidewalk and he got plenty of lookers.

Sunday he was brought inside and then things started happening. The possum decided to look for some persimmons or something and he did somehow get himself from out his chicken coop and then he did the vanishing act in the office.

The big search is still continuing and it may be necessary to make a canvass of the county for Possum hunting dogs. Wonder how many hounds in this part of the woods ever saw a possum, much less caught one?

I've got to find that doggone varmint or the bunch here on the ranch threaten to tear me into confetti or something.

The best fertilizer in the world is available for Floyd County folks for their land, their gardens and their flower beds. Just plain old "pum-mies" or cotton burrs when permitted to decay certainly make rich soil.

Remember to take home the burrs from the gin and pile them out by the barn and throw a little dirt on them to keep them from blowing away and next summer or next year sprinkle lots of that fertilizer on your flowers or in your garden and it will get the job done for you.

A. and M. College experts recommend the "pummy" fertilizer, so you're not just taking my word for it.

We have used it around the ranch house for years and I know it's great. You'll find it mighty good stuff for your lawn, too.

My friend, Ray E. Stewart of Mc-Adoo was in to see me the other day and we had quite a long chat along big business lines. Ray is one of my few dyed-in-the-wool fans and I always get a big "kick" out of his visits.

I got a big plan to organize a Nutt Club and have a big annual picnic every summer. The membership will be limited to those who can qualify. So far the plans are just in the making but a few ideas have been advanced if you have some inspirations alone

what we can work up.
There will be charter members and new members. The old heads will be full fledged nuts and the pledges will be goobers. It will be open to both boys and gals, little old, big, and young. We'll have some more on this soon. Send in your suggestions.

This depression has been a great thing. If you can't pay your debts—just blame it on the depression.
If your pants are worn out—just blame it on the depression.
If your wife gets cross and burns the biscuits—just blame it on the depression.

People may come and people may go but the wells they dug will apparently stay there forever. Down on the Hank Smith place in Blanco Canyon, twenty miles southeast of Floydada is a hand-dug well that has been in service some 50 years and continues as a "producer." It is generally conceded by all that Hank Smith and Col. R. P. Smyth dug the canyons in the county but the question was raised a year or so ago as to who dug the first up-land water well on the Plains of Texas.
L. M. Faulkner, of Plainview, and Foster Alexander of Plainview were quoted in The Plainview Herald one time that in their recollection the first was dug by Chas. L. Carter, an uncle of E. M. T. B. and Ellis Carter, of Plainview. In the northeast corner of the Tulla town section in 1889. About the same time F. Faulkner, a brother of L.
M., dug a well in the northwest corner of the section. These wells were about 45 feet deep. Col. R. P. Smyth recalled that in his opinion the first well on the Plains was dug by the late Hank Smith for the Quakers at Estacado in 1882.

If I have been right in my collection of data the Estacado well was dug in 1883 or 1884 and was about 90 feet deep. Uncle Hank and a man by the name of Charley Hawes hauled water 20 miles while in the process of digging his well.
A man by the name of Bob Lynn is said to have dug a well on top of the Caprock about 15 miles from Floydada in the early eighties.

Who dug the first well on the Plains? Do you know?
Frank Luttrall, of Lorenzo, told me not long ago that he had found he could make a living out of selling cream. He quoted some figures to prove that by good management he could make cheap feed bring in profits by sending said feed into a herd of good cows.

A lady the other day said she had two ideal Christmas presents in mind for any home. She wanted a radio and The Hesperian. Here's hoping she got both for what could bring more genuine satisfaction.

Edd Brown pulled one on me this week about the Scotchman who died and willed everything he had to an orphan asylum. "Imagine," he said, "a Scotchman willing everything he had to an orphanage."

I bit. I wanted to know all about the man and got "all set" to write a story and then I asked, "What did he leave?"

"Eleven kids," was Mr. Brown's answer.

I ain't been the same since my proposal.

How's this one—

the kiss you miss the miss herself own bill this month.

Time at Floydada was automatically set back one hour yesterday, January first, when it went from Central to Mountain Time under the law passed by Congress last year.
The train leaves at the same time as before, though it appears one hour earlier on the schedule, i. e. six o'clock.

Continued bad weather is hurting the cattle interests in West Texas and New Mexico, more so perhaps than otherwise, because cattle are badly scattered on ranges in the north panhandle and New Mexico.

Marie Henry, Ruth Brown and Miss Wimberly, who have been attending C. I. A. at Denton have been at home during the holiday season. They returned to school this week.

Lieut. Jess Adams, who visited during the holidays with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. O. Adams, left Thursday last week for Dalhart where he will work as a civil engineer for the Rock Island. During his service in the army Mr. Adams was with the Engineers.

Rollie Lowry, who is in the Naval Service stationed at New York City, arrived in Floydada last week to spend a thirty-day furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Lowry.

GETTING A NEW START

The Quitaque Post: Around January 1, 1932, you heard the greeting of "Prosperous New Year." To some of us this prosperous New Year failed to materialize. This year the folks have gone back to the good old "Happy New Year." Down deep in their hearts they consider a happy new year will include the prosperous part of it. But if a year is happy, very little should be said about the prosperous end of the deal. We have found that we can live on very little cash, that red beans are nearly as good as strawberries, and that the low-down part of the hog is nearly as good as a center cut of ham. We have learned that the old car will take us there and bring us back. We have learned that a twobit pair of sox will do nearly as well as the four-bit pair, that we can shine our own shoes, that a safety razor will do in a pinch, that penny bars of candy will satisfy, that the home-made cigarettes don't do so bad, and that we need the exercise and walk to town instead of burning good gasoline. After studying it all out, 1932 has not been get rich a bad year—we did not get rich, but, O boy, didn't we learn things.

But 1932 is passing—we have another year to look after. All indications show better times for 1933.
Some blamed Hoover for our trouble—we got rid of him; some blamed Sterling for the mess—and Ma will take his place. If conditions do not improve at once, don't know what we will lay the trouble to.
But we should look to 1933 as the "come back year." We have a long way to "come back," so don't expect it to happen overnight. We must be prepared to stick it out a while longer.

THE OUTLOOK FOR 1933

Nolan County News: There is something about the beginning of a new year which tends to revive waning hopes. Both literally and figuratively we close our books on the last day of the old year, take account of stock and make our plans for the coming twelve-month period.

AND NOW "TECHNOCRACY"!

Fort Worth Star-Telegram: It has been some years since Professor Einstein's relativity came forth to set the world guessing. It was estimated some years ago that there were six persons who knew what relativity is. If there have been others added to the six there has been no record of it. Now comes forth another puzzler, by name "technocracy," whose pedigree traces chiefly to one Howard Scott, reputed "universal engineer," and body of associates, of them some several are known and others presumed. Its propounders claim to have been working on the theory embraced in the term for some 12 years. Mr.
Scott says he has 3,000 charts and expects to have 30,000 shortly, which makes it impossible to ignore technocracy. Anything supported by 30,000 charts is bound to be something, even if only a whole lot of nothing.

Technocracy is both a theory and a proposed new economic, political and social regime. As the term implies, it is a form of rule or government. Democracy means rule by the people, aristocracy by the select, autocracy by a power answerable only to itself, and so technocracy implies rule by technology. But what is government by technology? That is the big mystery.

The technocrats make use of what is termed technological unemployment, which is unemployment created as a byproduct and commerce. It is not a new idea; neither is there novelty in the technocrats' declaration that technology is about to destroy the existing economic and social system. Technocracy started out with the study of the increase of manpower through mechanical development. Mr. Scott, whose career before technocracy is shrouded in an intriguing degree of mystery, says that to exert by his own muscles one horsepower of energy a man would have to weigh 1,500 pounds and that up to the industrial revolution of 150 years ago the horsepower capacity of a man was one-tenth horsepower. For ancient Egypt, which built the pyramids, the technocrats have determined that productive capacity of its 5,000,000 people was 150,000 horsepower for one 8-hour day. In the last century, human power of production, through machines, has increased, says Mr. Scott, nine million times, and of this increase, 6,670,000 of the 9,000,000 has been created in the last 23 years, or since 1900. Population has grown ten-fold, and output capacity 353-fold in 100 years.

In fact, after 14 years of experimentation, a rayon plant has been put into continuous operation in New Jersey, displacing 9,000 men, and operating automatically, needing no workers whatever in the plant.

This plant may be said to symbolize technocracy, the machine ruling industry without the touch of the hand of man. The flax industry of Europe, said Mr. Scott, has been destroyed through invention of a flax-pulling machine, "which does the operation cheaper than Flanders could do it and give it away." He added that "the development of Ramie grass probably will destroy the cotton industry. The grass can be grown as far north as Canada, has 22-inch fibers, stronger when wet than when dry. It has the life and strength of linen." In a word, "the backlog of technocracy is so great that it makes the backlog of materials look like a grain of sand."

Technocracy is involved in the problem of what is to become of men as workers and earners. It has been stated for years that some great concerns have inventions stored away which they have not dared to use, for fear of dislocation that would be caused in industry. The technocrats think that these, and even more miraculous machines, should be brought forth to take over the entire job of the human workers in industry.

It is when the technocrats comes to the question of management of machines that their ideas become most bewildering. The system of price, money, and debt, they say, can not work. Scott terms it "an economic pathology of debt." At the present rate, debt, or the issue of securities against industry, "will reach astronomical proportions," he says, and no country can allow debt to "grow to infinity." The technocrats see a continent, America, "where there is technical control, no price system, no business, no foreign trade, no insurance, no philanthropy, no borrowing, no lending, and no wages, yet in which every person has security, must work or starve, and the standard of living 10 times as big has in 1929." This could be done, says Scott, "with no one working before the age of 25 and after 45, and with persons between those ages working only 660 hours a year, or 10 months at the rate of 4 days at 4 hours a day."

It is either the greatest example of the power of man to visualize and plan the future or the greatest hoax ever perpetrated on the world.
Hard-minded journalists, engaged by the furore created by Mr. Scott and his charts, have been inquiring into the career of this man who proposes to remake the world. One publication, noted for its frankness, plasters the title "Greenwich Village hanger-on" upon the "universal engineer," and suggests the whole thing is a hoax. If so, it has taken in some notable persons, economists of repute.

1932 State, County Collections Higher Than Same Period '31

Collections of $81,499.70 September 1 to December 31 Shown in Meredith's Tentative Report

With a few hundred dollars possible adjustments to be made on November and December figures for state and county tax collections, the tentative report of C. M. Meredith, retiring state and county tax collector, show that a total of $81,499.70 was collected by his office in the period from September 1 to December 31 of this year. This is $2,924.89 higher than for the same period of 1931, and apparently indicates an increased paying power on the part of taxpayers of the county.

Remittance for the last week in December, together with the final part of this officer, will not be made until January 25, according to Mr. Meredith, who said that this date is set by the statute for final mittance and final report for December and January.

December was the month of heavy payments in the period since 1932 rolls were completed with $926.95 paid in. Of this amount, however, approximately $25,000 was payment of delinquent taxes of the county and schools. In November the tax payments were $35,661, in October $4,614.23 and in September $2,988.86.

Last year December payments were $12,532.19, the November payments were $31,066.28, October $11,001 and September $3,300.23, a total of $58,774.81. This year's increase of $22,924.89 over last year received also, it must be noted, is a total roll that carried fully one-fourth less total tax charges in that of last year.

W. McCarty Captures First With Limerick

The Limerick Editor had more than his share of "tough sledding" during the day Monday trying to select the winner from a fine assortment of good limericks submitted to the weekly Want Ad page feature contest. After more than the usual number of fits, the Editor decided to award the first prize of two guest tickets to C. W. McCarty, Route 4, to see "Little Orphan Annie," showing Saturday midnight, Sunday and Monday.

And Daisy Aaron, Route 2, is to receive second place award of one free guest ticket to the Palace Theatre to see that good show, "Little Orphan Annie."

Mr. McCarty's limerick was as follows: I is for things of interest You'll find what you need Use Hesperian Ads for everything on lands, tools or planting seed."

Others submitting some dandy compositions were as follows: Loyce Turner, Route 3, G. A. Linder, city, Mrs. L. A. Marshall, city, F. J. Jeter, Katherine Gresham, city, Raymond King, Mrs. Bill Howard, Harvey L. Howard, city, Geo. Knierim, South Plains, Mrs. D. P. Carter, city, and Junior Rutledge, city.

Be sure and get your limericks to the Limerick Editor no later than Monday if your entry is to be considered. If you fail to win just keep on trying. You may hit the "spot" next time. See what you can do with one this week on the Want Ad page starting with "J."

LOCALS

Mrs. Calton Moore and little son, of Sweetwater, came Friday for a visit with her uncle, Jim Houston, and Mrs. Houston, and also with Mrs. Josie Moore and family. She was accompanied by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. I. C. Houston and sister, Mrs. Orson Rea, of Abernathy, who were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Houston Friday.

Miss Gwendolyn Snodgrass and Billy Joe Welch attended a formal dinner Tuesday evening, December 27, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Theo. Shepard, of Plainview. Mr. and Mrs. Shepard's daughter, Miss Rogene, was hostess to forty-eight guests for the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Grimes, of Sterley, returned Saturday night from Wichita Falls, Crowell and Vernon where they spent the past week. Mr. Grimes represented a client in Federal District Court at Wichita Falls while he was away. At Crowell they were guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Gray. They spent two days in Vernon with relatives. They were in Floydada Saturday en route home.

Mr. and Mrs. Gus deCordova and children, who have been making their home in Floydada during the past four years, have moved to their farm near Petersburg.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Fuqua and daughter, Bonnie Neil, spent Thursday night of last week with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Fuqua, of Dougherty.

Mrs. Harman Roberts and children, of Lorenzo, spent the holiday season as guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Dunn, and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Jones and children spent Sunday in Electra visiting Mr. Jones' father, S. N. Jones.

Robert Brock and Walter Fuller, of Lawton, Oklahoma, were in Floydada Monday and Tuesday on business.

Modrel Williams of Canyon, visited his grandfather, W. T. Brown and other relatives last week.

SOCIETY

Baptist W. M. Society Meets For Bible Study.

The Baptist Woman's Missionary Society met at the church Monday afternoon in a business and study meeting, the study period being led by Rev. S. R. McClung, pastor.

Monday afternoon of next week the society will meet in circles, the Rose Walker circle with Mrs. G. N. Shirey, the Bernice Neil circle with Mrs. E. L. Norman and the Blanche Groves circle with Mrs. R. C. Henry. The time for the circle meetings is 3 o'clock.

Carathers Family Held Reunions Saturday.

All the children and grandchildren of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Carathers, north of Floydada, together with a brother of Mr. Carathers and his family were guests Saturday in the Carathers home when a family reunion was held.

A very enjoyable dinner was one of the features of the day.

Present for the occasion Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Carathers and two daughters, Kathelene and Bessie of Dallas, Mr. Carathers being the visiting brother; Miss Minnie Lee Carathers, who is a student in Buckner Orphan's Home high school, Dallas; Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Carathers and little daughter, Mary Ann of Center; E. D. Carathers of Baker; Mrs. J. B. McPeak and daughter, Frankie Doris, of Baker; and Joseph Nall, a long-time friend of the family, from Lockney.

Mrs. Angus Hostess At Four Tables of Bridge.

Mrs. E. L. Angus was hostess at a party Thursday afternoon, December 29, with four tables of bridge at play. Bridge covers, tallies and refreshments carried out the New Year motif. Mrs. Carl Minor got high score.

Guests for the afternoon included: Mrs. Fred Brown, Mrs. Edd Johnson, Mrs. E. P. Nelson, Mrs. Glad Snodgrass, Mrs. V. Williams, Mrs. Rex Westerfield, Mrs. Jno. Hammonds, Mrs. S. W. Ross, Mrs. Carl Minor, Mrs. Walton Hale, Mrs. Louis Condra, Mrs. J. D. McBrien, Mrs. C. J. Hollingsworth, Mrs. A. J. Welch, Mrs. Tony E. Maxey and Mrs. R. E. Fry.

Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Cole and daughter, Marilyn, reached home last week from Streetman and Corsicana, where they spent the Christmas holidays with relatives. Mrs. Cole and Marilyn have been at Waco during the fall and winter while the daughter attended school there.

Cardinal Family Enjoys New Year Reunion.

Although all members of the family could not be present for the event, Mr. and Mrs. R. Cardinal, of Pleasant Hill, and those of their children and grandchildren who could be at their home on New Year's Day enjoyed a reunion that was featured by a big dinner at high noon.

Mr. and Mrs. Cardinal have long been residents of the county, and a few years since celebrated their golden wedding anniversary.

Children, grandchildren and their families present at the parental home for the day were Peter Cardinal a son, and family, of Hereford; Bert Cardinal, a grandson, and wife, of Hereford; Mrs. Jno. W. Maxwell, a daughter, and family, of Floydada; and three sons and their families, A. R., Z. N., and T. J., all of this vicinity.

Pla-Mor Club Met With Mr. and Mrs. Stovall.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Stovall were hosts to the Pla-Mor Contract Bridge Club Friday evening, December 30, at 7:45 o'clock. Mr. and Mrs. Bill Daily and Mr. and Mrs. J. D. McBrien were guests. Mr. and Mrs. McBrien received high score for the visitors.

Dougherty News

(By Mrs. W. D. Newell)

Another snow fell here Friday morning, beginning sometime before day and lasting till about one o'clock. Most of this time the air was so full of snow that it gave the appearance of a fog.

Most of the sick patients who had the flu are well again. No new cases have been reported lately. J. H. Lloyd died Wednesday morning.

The roads are about dry again, however they are very rough. Most all the muddy places are in good condition, having been dug the first of the week.

Miss Mildred Reese Given Surprise Party.

Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Ray entertained the young people with a party honoring Miss Mildred Reese on her fifteenth birthday, last Saturday evening from eight till twelve o'clock.

Forty-two furnished the entertainment for the first part of the evening. The guests were then served a refreshment course consisting of sandwiches and punch after which they enjoyed shooting fireworks.

Those present were Misses Ola and Ila Allmond, Ruby Owens, Bettie Newell, Lera Beth Newton, Jonnie Brownlow, Neva Hinsley and Daisy Shook from Ralls; Messrs. Bobbie Owens, R. J. Hinsley, Clarence Carmac, Milton Carmac, Reynolds Sanders, David and O. B. Sanders, Elbert Audrey, Ted Craig, Glenn White and Odell Newton; the honoree Miss Mildred Reese and the host and hostess Mr. and Mrs. Ray.

J. H. Lloyd Dead
The condition of J. H. Lloyd became worse the early part of last week and his death occurred Wednesday morning.

All of his children except one daughter had arrived Tuesday. Those from other places are Mrs. Fannie Adams, Ackerly Texas; Mrs. Pearl Scott, Dalhart, Texas; Mrs. Dora Hicks, Floydada; John and Arthur from Lakeview and Jess from San Antonio.

Mr. Lloyd has been in very poor health the past six months. He has suffered a kidney and bladder complication.

Honored With Birthday Dinner
Sunday, January 1, Mrs. S. M. Crawford honored her husband with a turkey dinner celebrating his fifty-third birthday. All their children and the two grandchildren were present. Those present for the delightful occasion were the honor guest, S. M. Crawford, Mr. and Mrs. Ewell Crawford and daughter Selma Louise; Mr. and Mrs. Geo. B. Restore Sight

Pasadena, Calif. — That there is new hope for the blind has been demonstrated by Dr. Russell E. Simpson, of Pasadena at a section Meeting of the California Optometric Research Institute. After being blind for twenty years, Miss Eleanor Prichard of Brooklyn, New York, received treatment for three months, in which "strictly optometrical" methods were used, and she has recovered virtually normal vision in both eyes.

Hesperian Cross-Word Puzzle Number 77

- 14 Now after that John was put in prison, Jesus came into Galilee, preaching the gospel of the kingdom of God.
- 15 And saying, The time is fulfilled, and the kingdom of God is at hand, repent ye, and believe the gospel.
- 16 Now as he walked by the sea of Galilee, he saw Simon and Andrew his brother casting a net into the sea; for they were fishers.
- 17 And Jesus said unto them, Come ye after me, and I will make you to become fishers of men.
- 18 And straightway they forsook their nets, and followed him.
- 19 And when he had gone a little farther thence, he saw James the son of Zebedee, and John his brother, who also were in the ship mending their nets.
- 20 And straightway he called them: and they left their father Zebedee in the ship with the hired servants, and went after him.
- Time.—The temptation of Jesus, January and February, A. D. 27. The four fishermen were called to follow Jesus, April or May, A. D. 28, a year and a half after his baptism.
- Place.—The temptation of Jesus was in the wilderness of Judea. The call of the four disciples was by the Sea of Galilee near Capernaum.
- The Lesson Comment
- Our Lord faced the most terrible suffering—suffering of mind and body such as no other has ever known. Through this great sacrifice and suffering, Satan would be overcome and fully conquered.
- Let us not imagine for a moment that the recorded temptation of Jesus was the only occasion on which he suffered temptation at the hands of Satan. We read that he was tempted in all points. Continuous temptation—temptation in every way, was the only way in which he could understand the difficulty of withstanding temptation, the severity of it.
- Jesus had a wonderful experience at the time of his baptism, and it was while the voice of his Father still rang in his ears, while the touch of the wings of the dove lingered upon him, that the tempter assailed him.
- Adam and Eve were tempted to doubt, so was Jesus. Tempted to doubt the word of God, to doubt the divinity of our Lord. "If you are the Son of God",... and finding the faith of the Lord unshaken, he grants that he may be God's Son, but if so why endure all the suffering, shame and death in the path which he had chosen? There was a so much easier way to gain practically the same end (ruling the world); why not take it? If Jesus would only fall down and worship Satan, the latter would break the yoke of Rome, set Israel free and make the Lord ruler of the then world. Thus he beckoned the Lord down a path of roses, where honor and a crown far brighter and above that of Caesar awaited. But because of the matchless love he bore all human beings, Jesus put temptation behind him and turned of his own accord to a life of such sorrow, as only he could know. Like Moses, he chose to suffer affliction with his loved people rather than enjoy the pleasures of sin for a season.
- Almost a year and a half intervened between the temptation of Jesus and the time of the calling of the four men by the Sea of Galilee. These four men were first associated with him at his baptism; were afterward with him when he performed his first miracle at the marriage in Cana, and in this lesson they are called to give up their business pursuits and follow the Master continuously, training for the great work which would fall on them after his death. But during the intervening time between these events which are here recorded, Jesus was about his Father's business. You may read of his activities in the first four chapters of John. But things to be remembered about this lesson are:

One may meet temptation with a quotation from God's Word. You will be tempted to doubt; you will be tempted to take the easiest way to an end.

RESIDENT OF ALASKA VISITS RELATIVES IN FLOYD COUNTY

Miss Dona Taylor, of June, Alaska, left Monday for her home after spending a week here visiting her grandfather, W. T. Brown, and Mrs. Brown, and her brother, Millage Taylor, and sister, Mrs. Bishop Wigginton, of Cedar community.

Side Quit Hurting, Got Stronger, Well; CARDUI Helped Her

Mrs. R. L. West, of Huntsville, Ala., writes: "I was weak and run-down. I had a pain in my side, and I kept losing weight. I grew nervous over my condition—this was unusual for me, for I am very cheerful when I am well and don't easily get nervous. I knew I ought to take something. My aunt told me I ought to try Cardui, which I did. I began to feel better. I kept it up until I had taken three or four bottles. My side quit hurting and I was soon feeling strong and well."

great deal of the importance we attach to New Year's Day is a survival from the olden times and a survival from the olden times. However, there is something new about the beginning of a new year that is to revive waning hopes. This is a page headed "1933" in the book of time. It is a clean page nothing to mar it and a page with no blot. A fair, clean page with a chance in the world to write it a worth while message and of accomplishment. But that is as easy as some to think now difficult to achieve as certain lists and failures would have been. It is up to each of us to do our part on this new page beautiful, more worth while than any earlier year. An individual must work not for his own good but for the good of others. In this way Floyd- High School and the town of Floydada, may have a successful year during 1933.

Back Again
 Well, we're all back again, con- tented to settle down to work. Every one enjoyed the holidays and is ready to make a new history for 1933. Come, on, let's not let the story of 1932 repeat itself in 1933!

The debaters will go to a tournament at Amarillo February 16. They will also attend the annual South Plains Debate tournament at Childress.

Jokes
 P. W. I want to borrow one of your pencils.
 Frosh: Hard lead or soft lead?
 P. W. Soft, I want to write a love letter.

Wanda: Your boy friend always seems to keep you waiting. I certainly wouldn't stand for it.
 Mozelle: Maybe not, but my idea is rather wait an hour than forever.
 Kinder: Say, what was your little brother crying about yesterday?
 Harold: He was crying because he dug a hole and couldn't take it in the house.
 Miss Miller: I want a pair of shoes; something to wear around my gymnasium.
 Clerk: Yes, madam, what size is your gymnasium.
 Old Lady: Which platform for the Lockney train?

 Old Lady: Don't be impertinent, my man.
 Porter: All right, then turn to your right and you'll be left.

Maxine: How many courses are you carrying?
 Bonnie: I'm carrying one and dragging three.

Coach: This is the third time you've looked on Hershel's paper.
 John: Yes sir, I'm seeing that I'm getting my answers copied correctly.
 Mrs. Stovall: A catalyst is something that aids in the completion of a reaction but takes no active part in it. Can you illustrate?
 Leroy: A glass egg.
 Irene: I am the greatest pianist in the world.
 Latane: You don't say.
 Irene: Yes, I do. Last spring I saved my life with my musical ability.
 Latane: Impossible.
 Irene: Not at all. Do you remember the big flood last spring?
 Latane: Uh-huh.
 Irene: Well, my father floated down the river on the chicken coop.
 Latane: What did you do?
 Irene: I accompanied him on the piano.

Reba: Did you pick your teeth.
 Christine: No they came by themselves.

Weekly Payroll of Federal Funds Totals $1,250; Aids Unemployment

Work Progresses Rapidly With Fair Weather; Approximately 100 Men Receive Work

Into the channels of trade Federal relief funds are sending a local weekly payroll that is totaling $1,250 and with continued pretty weather may reach as high as $1,500 weekly, according to S. W. Ross, secretary of the Federal Relief Work Committee.

The federal funds are being expended for labor on a caliche-paving project of street improvements near the High School and Andrews Ward School and are furnishing employment for about 100 men in Floydada.

Began Last Month Work which began Tuesday, December 6, has continued intermittently since that date several days having been necessary on account of snows and inclement weather.

Mayor W. C. Hanna is general supervisor of the improvements and with other city officials is co-operating in the plan inaugurated this fall to afford employment in emergency cases under an appropriation provided by an act of Congress.

The men are working in two crews, about forty men comprising each shift which works three days each week, thus distributing the work to as many as possible, it was pointed out. A layer of eight inches of caliche material obtained from a pit in southwest Floydada in a lake on the property of W. M. Massie is being placed on the streets.

Work at High School Rapid progress has been made this week and Wednesday afternoon work was completed on one block on West Jeffie Avenue running immediately in front of the High School and the crew is at work on Fifth Street running immediately along the front of the school property.

The surface will extend north of Fifth to West Marivene Avenue and to a point south of the gate to the Athletic Field.

South Main has been completed and the work on the streets near the High School will be finished this mid-week, it is thought, totaling approximately five blocks. A heavy tractor is being used to roll and pack the dirt.

About five blocks will be surfaced on streets at Andrews Ward School.

The total government funds appropriated to Floydada is $3,930.73 which is for a 12-month period.

OWEN REPORTED BETTER

Mrs. C. W. Mitchell and daughter, Mrs. Sam Thurmon, and granddaughter, Christine Owen, returned Saturday from Paris where they have been during the past week at the bedside of Mrs. Mitchell's son, Chas. H. Owen.

Mrs. Mitchell said her son was slowly improving when they left and that he would have to remain in the hospital at least two more weeks. Miss Christine is Mr. Owen's daughter and returned with her grandmother for the remainder of the school term.

H. T. Owen, of Childress, accompanied them on the trip to be at his brother's bedside but returned to his home earlier in the week.

C. OF C. MOVED

Removal was completed Monday of the Chamber of Commerce office to 211 South Main Street by S. W. Ross, secretary. The new quarters have been repainted.

Miss Ione West returned home Saturday after spending a week with her cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Webb, of Lubbock. While there she attended the program given by the famous Harry Lauder.

After Depression What? We must write off the past 18 years. We must rub our eyes, wake up after the carouse, take something for our headache, and resume normal life under normal conditions.—American Magazine.

Filipino Boys Are Joined-Together Twins

Godino Brothers Declared to Be Happiest Twins in World; Perform Many Feats.

The happiest boys in the world are Lucio and Simplicio Godino, the famous Filipino Siamese twins, the only male joined-together beings in the world, who were born on the Island of Samar in the Philippine Archipelago twenty-three years ago. Thanks to a benefactor who had them educated physically as well as mentally, they have complete control of their bodies, performing astounding feats swimming, diving, playing golf, riding motorcycles and driving motor cars—all of these activities they execute with almost the ease of a normal individual.

Hence there is little of sport and physical freedom denied to these youths, who also enjoy the cultural advantages of highly educated people. Lucio and Simplicio speak five languages, and they are superb musicians. It is doubtful if they would decide to be separated by a surgeon's knife, even if the operation were possible. Of course, with their good looks, their charming personalities, their intelligence and their wealth—they were adopted in babyhood by Theodore Yanco, a Manila millionaire—an affair of the heart may interfere with their content some day. However, Lucio and Simplicio have not given that possible eventuality a thought. Life is sweet to them as it is. They have their work before the public, and they have their sport in the great outdoors.

They are delighted to have come to the United States at last, for they feel that they will repeat their Far Eastern triumphs in this country. The Godino Siamese twins and their brides will come to the Palace Theatre Friday Matinee and night.

PORTERHOUSE

The "porterhouse" steak is said to have originally gotten its name from a small hotel in Sandusky, Ohio, the Porter House. In 1847 Charles Dickens visited the Porter House and was so pleased with a steak served to him there that he spread its fame through the United States, referring to it as the steak served in the Porter House in Ohio. Afterwards leading hotels and cafes began to call their best steaks "porterhouse."
