4-H Foods Show at Olney February 26th

Plans are underway for the Annual Young County 4-H Foods Show. It will be held at Olney in the American Legion Building on February 26.

Any 4-H'er who is in a 4-H foods group with an adult leader or junior leader may enter the show. The exhibits will be set up from 1:00 p.m. - 1:30 p.m. Saturday. The winners of the Foods Show will compete in the District Foods Show on March 26 in Wichita Falls. Two winners will be chosen from the senior division, ages 14-19. Also two winners will be chosen in the Jr. division which is from ages 9-13.

Mrs. Ellen Harrison, CH-DA, encourages all girls to start preparing for the Foods Show. If information is needed, contact your adult leader or Mrs. Harrison at the County Agents office.

The public is invited to attend the Foods Show following the judging. Ribbons will be presented and a tea will be served by the H-D Clubs of Young County. This will be an excellent opportunity to see what the 4-Hers are doing. Your support will be appreciated.

Well qualified judges are being obtained. Final plans will be announced as soon as possible.

The public is invited to the 4-H Foods Show, Saturday, February 26, at the American Legion Building in Olney.

WATER, WATER, EVERYWHERE???

Remember the grim and dreary poem of the Ancient Mariner, with "water, everywhere, and not a drop to drink"? Remember how you used to have to memorize it, or even—horrors!—recite it?

Two thirds of the earth's surface is covered with water, and yet right now the 19th century poetic fantasy is facing us as a menacing truth. There is a growing shortage of fresh water in many areas, including such populous metropolitan centers as New York, where you have to ask for a drink in a restaurant.

Worse, much of our water is poor in color, clarity, taste or odor, and some of it actually contains chemical wastes, filth and bacterial growth. Among the most serious of water pollutants are the growing amounts of detergents in use in home and industry.

Water in Our Bodies

The human body is composed of about two-thirds water, by weight. This high water content of the body has been called "the sea within you." It is, literally, salt water plus other essential substances in solution.

One of Six Nutrients

Water is included among the six essential nutrients, the other five being proteins, carbohydrates, fats, minerals and vitamins. All foods contain a percentage of water, and some valuable ones, like whole milk (87 percent) and tomatoes (93 percent) contain a great deal.

Water is essential to all chemical processes in the body, which must take place in solution. The water used in our bodies daily must be replaced as the used water is excreted. The interchange represents several pints a day by kidneys, bowels, perspiration and exhaled breath. Variations occur depending on activity, temperature, salt balance, illness, and drugs which may cause increased loss through bowels, kidneys or skin.

Mineral Elements

Most drinking water contains traces of mineral elements from the soil through which it passed on its way to your kitchen. Some of these, like iodine which prevents simple goiter or fluoride which lessens dental decay, are important nutrients which must be supplied in the total diet if they are not naturally present in proper quantities.

City Supplies Protected

City water supplies, as a rule, are now adequately protected against contamination; rural supplies must be protected by the owner's own initiative. It is important not to waste water, which is no longer cheap and plentiful. Dripping faucets and unmetered supplies waste millions of gallons annually.

You are lucky if you have a reliable stream of cold, clean, fresh and safe water when you turn your kitchen faucet.

Chevrolet-built cars win

Four Performance Awards

Chevrolet-built cars out-performed their competition in four of eight classes at the recent Pure Oil Performance Trials at Daytona, Florida. Ellis J. Premo (above), Chevrolet's chief engineer, accepted the four trophies at an awards ceremony. While Chevrolet scored the most wins, other General Motors cars swept the rest of the classes. Sixty-two cars representing all U.S. auto manufacturers competed in the NASCAR-supervised trials. Class winners were determined by scores in fuel economy, acceleration and braking. All competing cars were selected at random and driven by professional drivers.

WYNNE CHESTER SAYS:

Choose Light Clothes for Heavy Weather

With Old Man Winter fast approaching, I've been getting an increasing number of requests for advice on cold weather clothing for women shooters. (I'm not surprised—after all, there are over a million of us now!)

Well, the secret in choosing good cold weather hunting clothes is knowing how to get warmth plus freedom of movement. Several layers of thin clothing are far better than heavy, bulky clothes that limit your ability to move around and handle your gun freely. The best underclothing today is thermal underwear, either the knitted or quilted type. Over it, wear a loose-fitting jacket and slacks, of very closely woven or slick material that will both retain body heat and act as a wind break. These days you can also buy thermal socks. Worn inside insulated boots, they guarantee that your feet will stay warm and cozy. Shooting mittens and a warm hat that covers your ears complete the picture.

For those of you who intend to hunt in really rough weather, there are now special, one-piece, tip-toe weatherproof sportsmen's suits, for both men and women, in very becoming colors. Take a look—they're really quite flattering!

Chevrolet Impala Sport Sedan with Body by Fisher

JET-SMOOTHER THE CHEVROLET WAY

Soft contoured new Strato-bucket front seats come standard in Super Sports for relaxing comfort on every trip.

We added new bushings and softened body-to-frame mounts to smooth Chevrolet's ride. We put in soft-acting shock absorbers and soft-working coil springs at every wheel. By soft, though, we don't mean mushy. Chevrolet's Way makes for a smooth, solid ride. Very steady on curves. A bump jumps from the Wide-Stance wheels to the supple springs and shocks—and pffff! It all but disappears.

The powerfully smooth new Turbo-Jet V8 is available in all '66 Caprice, Impala SS, Impala, Bel Air and Blisayne models.

Eight features now standard for your added safety—including seat belts front and back (always buckle up!) and an outside rear-view mirror (always check in back before passing).

DON'T JUDGE A MATTRESS BY ITS COVER

Can you remember back when old-fashioned blue and white mattress ticking was "discovered" by interior decorators? Ticking ended up on practically everything — chairs, sofas, windows, even walls.

So, with their long-time favorite material kidnapped by decorators, mattress manufacturers simply reversed the situation and substituted "decorator fabric" tickings. Manufacturers had discovered how to "dress up" their otherwise unglamorous product.

Naturally, all this ticking beauty disappears when the bed is made. These shiny satens and dashing tickings can be greatly appealing, but don't ever judge a mattress by its cover. In fact, ticking serves as the outside cover whose purpose is to hold together inside filling and insulation materials, plus most important of all, tension-packed coils of steel.

Hour-glass shaped steel coils — or "springs" as they often are called — are made of high quality spring wire which, according to Jones & Laughlin Steel Corporation, must be properly designed for true resilience.

This means that coils — or "springs" — must be flexible. In use, each coil actually performs independently of the other and has to react instantly to weights in order to give proper support to the body.

Most materials used for filling materials and insulation are fairly standard, readily available in any grade or quality. But it is the final selection of the steel coil that determines the true quality of a mattress.

Sometimes to disguise skimpy interior construction, a manufacturer may fall back on very attractive ticking. Thus, on the floor of the furniture store, often a really superb quality steel innerspring mattress shown alongside an ordinary cheap one unfortunately appears as a dashing "look alike."

But, don't be fooled. Ask questions. It's what's inside that counts.

Ticking can be tricky.
