Thanksgiving Comes Early For Bobcats; Gobble Turkey 13-6

First Thanksgiving Remembered By Pilgrim

Thanksgiving came almost a week early for the Newcastle Bobcats and their fans as they devoured Turkey 13-6 on the gridiron Friday night. The game played in Turkey saw the Cats explosive offense score on two long yardage plays while tough defensive play allowed the Turks inside the Cat 20 only twice.

Turkey, playing before a homecoming crowd, appeared to have the game sacked up as they marched 38 yards in seven plays the first time they had the ball. The Turks got the ball when Mike Mitchell, kicking into a strong wind, had the ball go off the side of his foot and out of bounds on the 38. Turk halfback John King picked up 25 yards in four carries going over for the score from the five yard line.

The extra point try by quarterback Alton Setliff for two points failed but the Turks were ahead 6-0 with 7:27 left in the first quarter.

Newcastle took the ball on their own 23 following the kickoff. John Bullock picked up seven through the middle and Mitchell got a first down out to the 34 on a four yard scamper. Preston Pitts slammed off right tackle and went 66 yards for a score. Pitts kicked the extra point and the Bobcats led 7-6 with 5:43 left in the first period.

Late in the first period and early in the second quarter the Bobcats mounted an 80 yard drive starting on their own four yard line. Pitts attempted a 32 yard field goal which fell short of the mark. The remainder of the half was played in the Turk end of the field.

Turkey took the second half kickoff on their own 13 and moved down the field all the way to the Cat eight where King was hit hard and fumbled with Newcastle recovering. After an exchange of kicks with neither team being able to move the ball, Newcastle got the ball at their own three yard line.

From that point Bullock picked up two and Pitts gained four moving the ball out to the nine yard line. Bullock then passed to end Jim Bur-

Assembly Of God Plans Revival

The Assembly of God Church will be starting a revival Nov. 27 with Rev. and Mrs. W. C. Hudson of Arlington, Texas.

This talented couple will be ministering in song each night before Rev. Hudson brings his message, which will surely be challenging to one and all.

The pastor of the Church, Rev. Moore, extends an invitation to the public to attend this meeting. Services will begin each night at 7:00 p.m.

Well, it might not be too much of a feast by old country standards, but to us, it looks like a feast.

And Almighty God knows, we should be thankful for anything, after last winter. I feel in my bones that we're lucky any of us to be alive.

I don't guess any of us here in Plymouth Bay will forget that first winter. Perhaps we were weak, and ill, anyway, after the long voyage, but it seemed that the cold in this new land was colder than any I had ever felt in England, or in Holland either.

The whole winter, now, seems, a long, dark nightmare. Our supplies ran short almost immediately, and the cold came on so soon. The men tried hard, but none of them had built a house before, and it took much longer than we had anticipated.

And then, when we were living in our cabins, with drafts of icy wind blowing through chinks between the logs and not enough to eat, the spectre of disease knocked at our door.

Of those of us who came to Plymouth Bay to begin a new life, half died. It's hard to realize what that means - - - "half dead." But everywhere I walk out to little Bessie's grave, and think on her golden hair and bright blue eyes, the words take on a meaning almost too real to bear.

But the spring did come, and the Good Book says there is a time for sowing and living, as well as a time for reaping and dying.

And the red people came to our houses. Heavens! I've never smelled anything, quite like those savages smelled. But the Good Lord must have sent them, because they brought that yellow grain with them, and showed us how to plant it and grind it and use it and store it for the winter.

Even so, the summer was

Churches Plan Thanksgiving Services

Community Thanksgiving Services, sponsored by the Ministerial Alliance, will be held tonight (Wednesday) at 7 in the sanctuary of the Assembly of God Church on West Main.

Rev. Lynn Wilson, pastor of the Southside Baptist Church, will deliver the Thanksgiving message at the annual event. Special music will be provided by the Olney Grade School Girls' Choir under the direction of Mrs. Edwin Key.

Others participating on the program include Rev. Glenn C. Bowman, pastor of the First Methodist Church, Rev. J. A. Allard, pastor of the Assembly of God Church, Rev. Paul Powell, pastor of the First Baptist Church, Rev. B. E. Coker, pastor of the Church of God, and Clifford Leath, of the First Christian Church.

Mrs. A. D. Myers will serve as organist.

The Alliance urged all persons in Olney to attend the special Thanksgiving observance.

Thanksgiving Theme Held By Jean Ladies

The Jean Methodist Church Ladies met for their monthly social on Thursday, Nov. 10, in the Fellowship Room of the Church.

The president, Myrtle Williams, called the meeting to order. The meeting was opened with the group singing "Count Your Blessings," and "Praise Him," with Mrs. Fannie Robinson and Mrs. Lena McGee at the piano.

The opening prayer was given by Gladys Elmore.

Roll call was answered by each member saying why she is thankful.

Minutes of the October meeting were read by the secretary, Mary Faye Orr.

A business session was held, with discussions.

Ileta and Lena McGee were appointed to buy the Christmas gift for Beverly Jackson, the young girl in the Methodist Home in Waco.

Plans for the Christmas party on December 15 were made and discussed.

Sunshine friends will exchange gifts and their names will be revealed, and new names will be drawn for 1967.

A devotional on Thanksgiving, and the reading of the Psalms 117 and 95 was brought by Carria Rushing, who also read a poem, "I Am Thankful, God."

Mary Faye Orr will bring the devotional for the December meeting.

It was announced that the ladies would quilt two quilts on Wednesday, Nov. 16, at the church. One of the quilts was for Mr. and Mrs. Andy Lunsford of the Farmer Commu-

Episcopal Women Plan Best Bazaar Ever

"The best Bazaar ever!" is the aim of the women of St. Paul's Episcopal Church, as they complete plans of their twelfth annual Christmas event.

The Christmas Bazaar, which was begun in 1954, was one of the major topics of discussion when the members of St. Anne's Guild met Friday, Nov. 11 in the Parish Hall of the Church.

Members discussed the numerous baked and canned items they plan to contribute to the event, and each member will bring a "speciality item," for which she is well know.

The Friday meeting began with members reciting together the Guild Collect. During the business session, members heard reports from the secretary, the treasurer, and from Mrs. D. R. Criswell, director of the Olney Duplicate Bridge Club.

In a discussion on the church year, the president, Mrs. Rick P. Fisher, pointed out the coming of the Advent Season, which includes the four weeks before Christmas.

"Advent is a time when we prepare ourselves, spiritually, for the miracle of the birth of Christ," she said. She also quoted from the handbook, "The Altar," by Henry Smart, and explained some of the Church symbols.

She pointed out that in many churches, the lecturn, upon which the Bible rests, is made up of an eagle in flight. The eagle is the highest flying bird she said and is symbolic of the flight of the message of the Bible across the world.

The Rev. Ralph E. Bible, vicar, spoke to the group on the program. He read from the article, "Laity Are the Church, Let Them Be Ordained."

In the talk, the Rev. Mr. Bible pointed out that in today's Church, too often the of work spreading the message of the Gospel is left up to the Clergy.

"Our laity are our Church," Bible stated. "Without them, the Church has no purpose and cannot grow. They are, indeed, the fourth order of the Church, the others begin Bishops, Clergy, and Deacons."

Following the program, the dismissal prayer was given by Mrs. D. R. Criswell.

Present at the meeting were: Mrs. Criswell, Mrs. Barlo Bryan, Mrs. Fisher, Mrs. Jim Ayers, Mrs. C. C. McNutt and the Rev. Mr. Bible.

Thank Fans

The students of NHS would like to express their thanks to all of the fans who supported the Bobcats at Turkey Friday night. We know it took a great effort to go this far and it was really appreciated, so thanks a million.

Mr. and Mrs. Pic Lyons and children are leaving Wednesday for Jeanerette, La., to visit Pic's mother Mrs. Felix Lyons for the Thanksgiving holidays.

Visiting in the J. C. Bullock home, over the weekend were their daughter Joan, also her former TCU roommate, Miss Jeanie Lyle and Tony Pollard who now attend the University of Southern Mississippi in Hattisburg.

Mrs. Pete Steele is a medical patient in the Olney Hamilton Hospital.

Mrs. Fannie Routon visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Hozeska and attended the Community Thanksgiving Dinner Saturday night in the Throckmorton Community Center.

West Texas Task Force Committees Named

Sub-committee chairmen and members were named Friday during the organization meeting of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce Task Force held in Olney.

C. L. Cooke, of Fort Worth and chairman of the Task Force, was in charge of the meeting held at the Olney Federal Savings and Loan Association Community Room and in the banquet room of the No-D-Lay Restaurant.

The meeting was conducted on writing a community analysis questionnaire to be sent to each town and community in the West Texas Chamber area. Each member of the Task Force was assigned one town in his area as a pilot for the questionnaire before it is sent to the remainder of the towns.

Tentative dates for the committee to meet with state and federal agencies were announced as November 28 in Austin and December 12 in Washington, D. C.

Location for the six regional hearings planned for January and February were announced but dates of the meetings will be told later. Locations include Tulia, Lamesa, Iraan, Stamford, Junction and Glen Rose. The final meeting will be held in Fort Worth with the results of the study being released March 15.

Committee chairmen and members named Friday include:

- State Agency Contacts — Bill Clayton of Springlake.
- Industrial Development —

W. G. Marquardt of Fort Worth chairman and Lee Newman of Breckenridge.

State and Federal Government — Luther May of Olney, chairman, and Jack M. Allen of Perryton, W. B. Tilson of Plainview.

Federal Agency Contacts — C. W. Brown of McCamey.

Metropolitan Influence on Small Towns — Welden Mayes, Jr., of Midland chairman, and W. Edmund Notestine of Amarillo, Bill Collins of Lubbock, E. H. Danner of San Angelo.

City - County Government — Mrs. Fred McCleskey of Stephenville chairman, and H. C. Green of San Angelo, Royce Lee of Bronte, James L. Powell of Eldorado.

Education, Recreation and Tourism — D. N. L. McNeill of Alpine chairman, and Dick Morrow of Fort Stockton, James Murphy of Abilene.

Role of Community Leaders — Bob Miller of Hamilton chairman, Roger Pettit of Crane, Jimmy Y. Bounds of Chico, Lonnie Hayter of Waco.

Attending Friday's meeting was John Ben Sheppard, president of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

Olney Industrial Foundation Calls Annual Meeting

The Olney Industrial Foundation will hold its annual stockholders meeting, Thursday evening, Dec. 1, at 7:30 p.m. in the Olney Community Center.

Don McClatchy, president of the Foundation, and Rick Fisher, secretary, announced the upcoming meeting.

Election of new officers will head the agenda for the evening, and the activities of the past year will be reviewed. Financial reports will be given.

All stockholders are urged to attend this very important meeting.

Weekend visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Rosce Jordan were Mr. and Mrs. V. P. Jordan and Joey of Olney, Durur Jordan and family, and Bloyce Jordan and children of Paducah.

Mr. and Mrs. Allan Thetford of Denton were weekend visitors in the home of his parents Mr. and Mrs. Ray Thetford.

Locals To Attend State Historical Society Meet

Fort Worth — Young County will be represented at the 1966 Annual Meeting of the Texas State Historical Survey Committee, and its private affiliate, Texas Historical Foundation, Dec. 1, 2, 3 at Fort Worth at the Green Oaks Inn.

Mrs. J. W. Bullock of Newcastle, Tex., said these members of the Young County Historical Survey Committee will attend the meeting.

Dr. Kenneth F. Neighbours Olney Texas, Young County will also attend.

TSHSC President John Ben Sheppard of Odessa has announced that keynote speaker for the meeting will be Stewart L. Udall, secretary of the U. S. Department of the Interior. Udall will give an address on Dec. 2 at the annual RAMPS Banquet.

Mrs. Bullock said that during the meeting awards will be presented to outstanding county historical survey committees throughout Texas, new committees oriented, 1966's work reviewed, and plans discussed for 1967's work programs.

Workshops will be conducted on the Development of History as a Tourist Attraction, Historical Markers; History Appreciation; Preservation; Archivism; Written and Living History; Historic Buildings and Sites; Beautification, Methods to Acquaint the Texas Public with Texas Heritage; and Cooperation with Commissioners Courts, Chambers of Commerce and civic organizations.

Other events will include a preview program of the proposed Texas State Parkway Project by the Park Administration Department of Texas program about San Antonio's HemisFair plans; a barbeque catered by Walter Jetton, President Johnson's favorite caterer; and historic and scenic tours through Fort Worth, Weatherford and Fort Richardson at Jacksboro.

Isabelle Gray Rites Held Tuesday

Isabelle Gray, 76, of Newcastle passed away Monday Nov. 21 in the Olney Hamilton Hospital. Funeral services will be held Tuesday afternoon at 3 p.m. in the Murry Baptist Church with burial at the Profit Cemetery.

Survivors include: one brother Jim House of Newcastle; and a stepson Hebert Gray of Murry.

Cotton Deadline Approaches Here

Farm operators in Young County were reminded today that application for the transfer of cotton allotments for the 1967 crop should be filed no later than January 3, 1967.

L. B. Creel, chairman, Young ASC County Committee, explains that notices of the cotton allotment and the projected yield for individual farms have already been mailed to county farmers, so farm operators now are in position to make their production plans for next season.

In Young County, growers voting in a special referendum earlier this year, failed to approve transfer of acreage allotments - - by sale or lease - - out of the county, so the transfer of allotments locally may be made from one farm to another only within Young County. In no case may allotments be transferred to another farm outside the State.

Transfer of allotments from one farm to another within the county and the transfer of allotments between farms (within the State) which are owned or controlled by the same owner are both authorized by law and not subject to approval in a referendum. However, it is necessary that such transfers of allotments be filed with the ASCS county office before the January deadline.

The January 3, 1967, deadline, therefore, applies to all transfers of 1967 cotton allotments for Young County farms - - whether by sale, lease, or the owner.

Mrs. Fannie Routon will leave for Waco where she will spend Thanksgiving in the home of her daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Austin Crownover.

Youth With Problems Is Amity Club Theme

"Youth With Problems" was the theme of the day when the Amity Club met Thursday, Nov. 17, in the home of Mrs. D. R. Criswell.

Mrs. John Gay, teacher at the Retarded Children's Center in Wichita Falls, was guest speaker for the day, with the topic, "Working With the Mentally Retarded."

The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. Fisher Palmer, and members answered roll call and presented food items for the club's Thanksgiving Basket. The Basket will be donated to a needy Olney family.

Members were reminded of the Christmas Gift collection for the patients in Wichita Falls State Hospital and were asked to bring the gifts at their next meeting.

Mrs. Hayden Farmer, program leader for the day introduced Mrs. Gay, a former resident. She pointed out that Mrs. Gay is a teacher at the school for retarded children, an amateur painter, and has, in her small amount of free time, studied towards and received her college degree.

Mrs. Gay has also been accepted on a scholarship basis for graduate work at Duquesne University in Pittsburg, Pa.

She outlined her work at the Children's Center in Wichita Falls, showing slides of her students and enumerating the problems and accomplishments of each.

She emphasized that a number of her students have progressed enough to be placed in the school's workshop, or to go into special classes in the Wichita Falls public school system.

"Despite multiple handicaps" Mrs. Gay stated, "these children can be helped. And we have discovered in our work with them, that our helpers get even more than they give."

Following the meeting, a refreshment plate of tea sandwiches, raw apple cake and coffee were served to the members Mrs. Tom Bass, Mrs. William F. Bockhoff, Mrs. William A. Cooper, Mrs. Farmer, Mrs.

Rick Fisher, Mrs. Reese Hayes, Mrs. W. M. Hayter, Mrs. O. L. Hunt.

Also: Mrs. A. B. Larimore, Mrs. R. E. Lovett, Mrs. C. C. McNutt, Mrs. Luther May Mrs. Charles Mitchell, Mrs. Al Myers and Mrs. Palmer.

The club will meet again, Dec. 1, in the home of Mrs. Bockhoff.

Rieves Named To Blood Club

By Blood Program Reporter
Olney's Blood Program Chairman, Lynn Rieves, believes in setting an example of what he very firmly believes in. This is the reason that every time the Red River Red Cross Bloodmobile is in Olney, and he is able to, he gives a pint of blood.

When the bloodmobile was in Olney November 10, Rieves gave his eighth pint of A positive blood. He is a member of the Lions Club, American Legion and a past president of the Olney Chamber of Commerce.

Lynn and his wife, Blanch, are members of the First Baptist Church and have two children, Lynda - a student at Texas Tech, Lubbock and Charles a member of his staff of Western Auto, and three grandchildren.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Byers attended a quarterly meeting of the Red River Association of American Red Cross Chapters last week at Wyatts Cafeteria in Wichita Falls, Texas. The program was on blood and had Dr. Walter Brooks of Quanah was the main speaker. He compared the "Walking Blood Program" to the Red River Red Cross Regional blood program and thinks the latter far superior. Several representatives present were from counties that are not members of the Red Cross Blood Program, which now includes 19 counties.

Firemen To Start Toy Fund Drive

Members of the Olney Volunteer Fire Department will begin their toy fund drive on December 1. The annual toy fund will provide Christmas gifts for approximately 150 area youngsters, who otherwise would not receive a gift.

The department spends between $250 and $300 annually in providing the gifts for the youngsters with the funds coming from contributions. The funds purchase new toys for giving.

A contribution box will be set up in the lobby of First National Bank or persons wishing to contribute can send their gift to the Olney Volunteer Fire Department.

Hall Completes Medical Course

FT. SAM HOUSTON, TEX. (AHTNC) — First Lieutenant Frank F. Hall, 26, son of Mrs. Florence S. Hall, Megargel, completed an eight-week medical service officer course Nov. 10 at Brooke Army Medical Center, Ft. Sam Houston, Tex.

He was trained in legal affairs and received instruction in all aspects of the Army medical service.

Former Olneyite Presumed Drowned

John Robertson, a former resident of Olney, is assumed to have drowned in a boating accident at Lake Texhoma, Friday, Nov. 18.

Robertson's body has not been recovered, but the boat found, motor still running, empty.

J. H. Brown, Jr., and Ted Brown, of Olney, travelled to Gainesville Monday, Nov. 21, to be with Robertson's family. He had worked for the Browns as a painter.

Robertson lived in Olney for about 15 years, but has resided in Gainesville for the past several years.

Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Smith of Lubbock, Mrs. Van Baker and son of El Paso visited here Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Woolery.

You've heard the expression "See a falling star and make a wish." You could have had a pocketful of wishes last Thursday morning when the sky was filled with small meteorites streaking across the sky in every direction. Some saw this for the first time and the last time for it only happens every 33 years. The most brilliant meteor shower took place in Nov., 1833.

Homes that are looking nice are the ones belonging to J. C. Routon and Alvin Anderson.

As we sit down to enjoy our Thanksgiving dinner, let us pause and think of the true meaning of Thanksgiving. The privilege to be an American and enjoy our freedom. To worship as we choose, and to live without fear. There are so many everyday things that we all take for granted, like our homes, families, plenty to eat, friends, neighbors, and it's pretty wonderful also to know you have plenty of water to drink after a long drought. Let us give thanks to our Heavenly Father for making all these things, and to be ever mindful of those who are less fortunate than we are and have yet to learn the true meaning of peace and freedom . . .

Where else but in a small town could you find such good social and companionship.

The Churches of the city joined in unity for their Thanksgiving Services Sunday night, at the First Methodist Church. Rev. Ted Cooley, pastor of the First Christian Church, offered the Thanksgiving message.

A nice crowd came to the Thanksgiving Community Supper, Monday night. Everyone brought a covered dish and we really had lots of good food, visiting with friends, and a sing - song afterwards. Special numbers were sung by John R. Bullock, David Penn and the Bishop - Rue Trio (they're usually a quartet, but one was missing) Shirley Morgan was pianist. Everyone had an enjoyable time.

n't easy. The work is never done, even though one gets up at daylight and work till long after the sun sets. But the corn broke the ground and grew tall and began to bear ears.

And some of the seeds we brought from home grew during the warm months, and the children found hives of wild honey, and our men began to learn the ways of the wild game, and how to hunt it.

And we discovered that the rivers are full of fish, and wild berries grow on bushes in the forests.

Our ricks are full of corn, and the smoke house we built on top of the hill is hung to the rafters with roasts from deer and turkey. The wild geese we caught have laid and hatched eggs, and surely enough is laid up to last the cold months.

Emilie even found a bush that grows small waxy berries, and I have been experimenting and I believe the berries can be melted down to make candles . . . candles to light the dark, long months of cold in this new country.

So, here it is fall. The immense trees around our little home are touched with leaves of flame and gold and crimson. The winter is surely coming, but how different this winter will be!

So the other women and I have been cooking for three days now, to prepare a great feast. The children have turned huge roasts and wild turkeys on the spit, and we have prepared cornbread with nuts, and succotash and tarts made of wild berries, sweetened with honey.

We have made journey cake, baked on the hearth stones, and have prepared long tables outside for the feast.

The men have brought geese and ducks and fish, and we have invited the red men and their wives, and they will bring venison and turkeys.

(I am anxious to see the red women. My Jonathan was in the red people's town last month and he tells me the infant children are tied up on boards and hung on pegs.)

Fall flowers and huge bouquets of leaves will be set up on the tables. Madame Bradford thinks it frivolous, but God made them, as well as us, and surely it isn't sinful to delight in their joyful colors.

And it is, indeed, proper and good to give thanks for the blessings of the summer. This new land has been bountiful for us, and the Great God above us is holding us in His hand.

Perhaps we may celebrate a Thanksgiving Day every year of our life, and our children too, in a land of peace, prosperity and plenty, with freedom for every man of human kind.

As we sit down to enjoy our Thanksgiving dinner, let us pause and think of the true meaning of Thanksgiving. The privilege to be an American and enjoy our freedom. To worship as we choose, and to live without fear. There are so many everyday things that we all take for granted, like our homes, families, plenty to eat, friends, neighbors, and it's pretty wonderful also to know you have plenty of water to drink after a long drought. Let us give thanks to our Heavenly Father for making all these things and to be ever mindful of those who are less fortunate than we are and have yet to learn the true meaning of peace and freedom . . .

Where else but in a small town could you find such good social and companionship.

Lometa Daniels Garage Sale turned into an open house or a weekly meeting of the "quilting Bee." One was afraid to pull her coat off or put her purse down for fear it would be sold. Anyway it was a profitable venture with the proceeds going to the Church. This year in the Methodist Church there is a program called the "Lord's acre" where by you can not donate but must work for your money. It was work getting ready for the garage sale but it turned into a genuine pleasure.

The Churches of the city joined in unity for their Thanksgiving Services Sunday night, at the First Methodist Church. Rev. Ted Cooley, pastor of the First Christian Church, offered the Thanksgiving message.

A nice crowd came to the Thanksgiving Community Supper, Monday night. Everyone brought a covered dish and we really had lots of good food, visiting with friends, and a sing-song afterwards. Special numbers were sung by John R. Bullock, David Penn and the Bishop-Rue Trio (they're usually a quartet, but one was missing) Shirley Morgan was pianist. Everyone had an enjoyable time.

On Thanksgiving Day, just be thankful that you have almost a month to find a place to park while you do your Christmas Shopping.

kett who took the ball in for the score on a 91-yard pass-run play. The extra point was no good, but the Turkey had already been stuffed with 8:26 left in the game, Newcastle was ahead by the final score of 13-6.

Newcastle picked up 118 yards passing and 178 rushing for a total offense of 294 and 11 first downs while the Turks gained 11 yards passing, 244 rushing for a total of 255 yards on offense and 17 first downs.

Luncheon Honors
Arvie Dan Hale

Arvie Dan Hale of Megargel was honored Sunday with a going away luncheon given by his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Riggins. Dan will be leaving for the Marines on December 14. Those present at the Luncheon were his aunts and uncles, Mr. and Mrs. Estell Helton of Newcastle, Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Riggins of Graham, Mr. and Mrs. Bryant Riggins of Rule, Mr. and Mrs. Al Henry of Paris, Mr. and Mrs. Quince King of Newcastle, and Mrs. Marylan McCommack and children of Graham, his sister Mrs. Charles Snyder and son Charles Jr., of Seymour and his mother Mrs. H. A. Hale, Rev. Michal K. Olmsted pastor of the First Baptist Church of Megargel and Dempsy P. Dixon of Clovis New Mexico.

Mrs. H. A. Hale was unable to attend because of illness.

Weekend visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Preston Burton were Mrs. Burton's brother, Mr. and Mrs. Perry Cagle, Mrs. Magie Mitchell, Debra and Bradley of Lewisville, and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Stephens, Steeve and Alan of Olney.

posed lake site were submitted by Mr. E. L. Andrews, Engineer from Wichita Falls.

These were approved by the Council. Progress is more rapid now and with most of the "red tape" behind them, the Council feels the actual construction of a new lake is in the very near future.

n't easy. The work is never done, even though one gets up at daylight and work till long after the sun sets. But the corn broke the ground and grew tall and began to bear ears.

And some of the seeds we brought from home grew during the warm months, and the children found hives of wild honey, and our men began to learn the ways of the wild game, and how to hunt it.

And we discovered that the rivers are full of fish, and wild berries grow on bushes in the forests.

Our ricks are full of corn, and the smoke house we built on top of the hill is hung to the rafters with roasts from deer and turkey. The wild geese we caught have laid and hatched eggs, and surely enough is laid up to last the cold months.

Emilie even found a bush that grows small waxy berries, and I have been experimenting and I believe the berries can be melted down to make candles . . . candles to light the dark, long months of cold in this new country.

So, here it is fall. The immense trees around our little home are touched with leaves of flame and gold and crimson. The winter is surely coming, but how different this winter will be!

So the other women and I have been cooking for three days now, to prepare a great feast. The children have turned huge roasts and wild turkeys on the spit, and we have prepared cornbread with nuts, and succotash and tarts made of wild berries, sweetened with honey.

We have made journey cake, baked on the hearth stones, and have prepared long tables outside for the feast.

The men have brought geese and ducks and fish, and we have invited the red men and their wives, and they will bring venison and turkeys.

(I am anxious to see the red women. My Jonathan was in the red people's town last month and he tells me the infant children are tied up on boards and hung on pegs.)

Fall flowers and huge bouquets of leaves will be set upon the tables. Madame Bradford thinks it frivolous, but God made them, as well as us, and surely it isn't sinful to delight in their joyful colors.

And it is, indeed, proper and good to give thanks for the blessings of the summer. This new land has been bountiful for us, and the Great God above us is holding us in His hand.

Perhaps we may celebrate a Thanksgiving Day every year of our life, and our children too, in a land of peace, prosperity and plenty, with freedom for every man of human kind.
