Scout Council Makes Appeal To Citizens

Statement Says Quota of $350 Needed To Help Wipe Out Existing Deficit.

J. G. Martin, Lon M. Davis, J. C. Wester and Geo. A. Linder, members of the Boy Scout Council of Floydada, this week have given the press the following appeal for financial assistance in carrying on Boy Scout work in Floydada:

Rendering Good Service
"Believing that the Boy Scouts of America is an organization that is rendering a real worth while service to the country as a whole and our community in particular, as evidenced by the statement of activities participated in by the boys of the three troops of our own Floydada community, we the members of the Local Council of the Boy Scouts are making a direct appeal to you as a citizen of Floydada to assist in the raising of a quota of Three Hundred Fifty ($350) dollars towards the deficit of $2,500.00 now existing in the Central Plains Area of Boy Scouts of which we are a member."

"The Central Plains Area of Boy Scouts has only been organized two years and a marked improvement in service and interest has attended its efforts, there being now over 300 active Boy Scouts in the area of which Floydada furnishes 56."

Drive Netted $217
"We made an appeal to the Floydada citizenship last October and at that time $217.00 was raised and about $50.00 was raised since then from proceeds of the Plainview Little Theatre play presented here last month, but the Local Council has pledged itself to participate in the payment of the said $2,500.00 deficit of the current year and we take this means of giving you a chance to share in this community program by contributing such amount as you feel that you can give to help this community obligation."

"You will please make your contribution direct to any member of the Local Council or mail to J. C. Wester payable to Boy Scouts Fund, and in either case you will receive a receipt. However, if you prefer you can make your contribution direct to the paper publishing this item and they will be pleased to publish the list of donors making remittance to them."

"This matter is of immediate importance as the pledge of the Local Council is due March 13th."

Scout Activities Report
In connection with the appeal of the Council, a report of the activities of the Boy Scout Troops here give the following information:

There are three Scout Troops in Floydada. Of these Troop 44 has fifteen members. Their scoutmaster is W. A. Gound; Troop 43 has twenty-one members and E. F. Eastridge is their scoutmaster; Troop No. 20 has twenty members with A. D. Cummings as the scoutmaster. The last-named is the most recently organized troop in Floydada.

In the three troops there are sixteen tenderfoot scouts, nine second class scouts; fourteen first class scouts; nine star scouts; six eagle scouts and two life scouts. Since the first organization of the troops various scouts have passed a total of 854 tests required for advancement in scout ranks.

Reminiscence Of Early Days When Bones Are Found

Mental pictures of McKinsey's famous trail over the great plains of West Texas, Indian fights and the struggles of the frontiersmen were revived last week-end by pioneers of this section when a skeleton thought to be that of a human was uncovered at the Floydada Country Club.

These mental pictures faded into a dream bubble, however, when R. C. Scott, secretary of the club, announced that the bones were only those of a buffalo or a large cow.

Mr. Scott based his belief that the bones were those of a buffalo, on the fact that they were covered underneath fifteen or sixteen inches of dirt. The bones were discovered by employees who were planting trees over a new section of the club grounds. The bones were in a poor state of preservation, and crumbled like dirt, he said.

DUNAVANT'S ENJOY VISIT OF CHILDREN, RELATIVES

Dunavant, wife and daughter, Leona, of Panhandle, Texas; Mont Jones and wife of Borger, Texas; Phillip Dunavant family, Ernest Rhodes and family, Edwin Dunavant and family, of Floydada; Grady Dunavant, who is studying at Lippert's Business College, Plainview; and Floyd Dunavant of Burkburnett, Texas.

All the children of the family were at home except A. J. Dunavant of Burkburnett. Mr. Jones is a brother-in-law of R. G. Dunavant.

Rev. and Mrs. A. A. Collins, Rev. and Mrs. Burgett and family. Mrs. Pierce King, Misses Helen King, Irma Johnson, Robbye Archer, Mildred Teeple and Miss Smith of Plainview and Raymond King attended the Presbytery at Olton last week end.

Guimarin Resigns As Sec. Retail Merchants

Tony B. Maxey, Named As Successor, Says Organization Protection to Customers.

T. P. Guimarin, for the past four years secretary of the Retail Merchants' Association of Floyd County, resigned the latter part of last week, and Tony B. Maxey Saturday was named as his successor by the directors of the organization, moving the records of the office to his office in the Readhimer Building on West California Street.

Announcement of his resignation came from Mr. Guimarin when it became apparent that his increased duties as clerk of the district court of the county would cause him to have to neglect the work of the secretary, which has also shown an increase of work as its scope of service has increased.

The new secretary of the association this week declared his belief in the value of the organization as a protective organization for both retailer and the retailer's customers.

"The organization can be of invaluable service to society in protecting the merchant and his reliable customer from the undesirable who, unfortunately, at times, are found to be preying on every community. Not only that, but the organization, by recording the records, not only of the bad, but the good people of the community as well, forms a mighty bulwark of aid for that person, though in temporary reverses perhaps, has established a good name for himself."

"I find there is much work to do in getting the details of the organization's work in hand," Mr. Maxey said. "But I hope to be of service both to buyer and seller at time goes on, and to this end ask the aid of all who are interested in keeping this worth-while organization functioning at its best."

The new secretary moved to Floydada with his family last year, and is engaged in the practice of law in the courts of this county and district.

Dr. George Smith and J. C. Newman were left this morning for Amarillo to be gone several days on business.

The new Oaklands and Pontiacs are being shown in Floydada this week by the Boerner-Thagard Motor Company, the first shipment of the 1930 line expected last week, having been delayed on arrival.

"We are very enthusiastic about our new models because they represent outstanding values, and we feel like this is going to be a good year for us," Flynn Thagard, sales manager for the local representatives, said yesterday. "The new models represents so many advanced ideas in motor construction that they have reached appreciably near the perfection of the very higher priced lines in the medium-priced car class," he said.

Messrs. Boerner and Thagard Monday attended a conference of dealers of this section, held in Lubbock, when a representative of the Oklahoma City branch, was present and conferred with dealers perfecting plans for the sales campaign of the year.

March Brings Lower Temperatures Again

March weather in Floyd County today has shown a distinct reversal of the mild weather recorded during the month of February, which was one of the mildest on record in recent years, and seemed to be more so following on the heels of one of the severest Januarys of a decade or more.

Many days in February were recorded when the temperature was high enough that no ice formed on open water, in fact the temperature for nearly three weeks barely reached the freezing point, and the month went out that way.

Monday morning was the coldest of the first week of March the temperature being recorded at 18 degrees above zero. Sunday morning the temperature was 22 degrees above.

After this week Vocational Agriculture teacher O. T. Williams is cancelling the terracing program for farms of this section, which he has had under way for the past three weeks or more and will give all his time for the next thirty or forty days to intensive training for four teams he is putting on edge for forthcoming contests in Plant Production, Farm Shop, Poultry and Dairying.

He announced this week that his teams, sixteen boys in all, would enter the contests at Texas Technological College on March 24, his dairy team will go to the Panhandle-Plains Dairy Show at Plainview April 7, and all his teams will go to A. & M. Identify One As Man Who Fought Officers Alleged To Have Taken Merchandise Here Thanksgiving Night.

Two men are being held by officers at Eastland and Guthrie as suspects and have been charged with the burglary of the Martin Dry Goods Company store in Floydada on the night of Thanksgiving, November of 1929, P. G. Stegall, sheriff of this county, was informed last night by Chief of Detectives Britton of the Abilene police force.

Believed Same Men

Three Abilene officers, who engaged with one of the men in a running fist and gun fight at a camp ground near Abilene on Saturday night following the burglary here have positively identified one of the men as the man with whom they had the walk. His name is given as I. E. Walker. If other man, who gave his name Ernest Oglesby, is being held, Guthrie and charges have been filed against him.

Sheriff Stegall plans to leave today for Guthrie, Abilene and Eastland to aid in the investigation.

In the burglary of the Martin Dry Goods store here and the Harris Bros. Auto Wrecking Shop something like $800 worth of merchandise was taken from the goods store, entry being effected by prizing open one of the front doors. At the Harris Bros. establishment a heavy jack, log chain and things were taken by the men and a gasoline pump upon reports from Abilene that a car containing merchandise and other items listed as taken by the local men had been taken to a battle, Sheriff Stegall and J. G. Martin left Floydada following night. A part of goods in the car was identified by Mr. Martin and brought home. The circumstance of gun battle in which the men were identified to have taken, according to Detectives, as well as a license on the car, alleged to have been from a Crosby County car which the men are being held.

Belief that the men were brought to Floyd County the part of this month, was expressed by Sheriff Stegall this morning in conversations with the sheriff at Guthrie, who is credited making the arrests.

One In Ten . . .

Fifty per cent of the towns and cities in the United States are either stationary or are showing an actual population loss.

Seventy-five per cent of the towns and cities are falling below the normal rate of population increase.

Population isn't everything! A Community cannot be judged entirely by the number of its inhabitants. But—there is such a thing as Community "dry rot," and loss of population is the last stage in the decline or decay of a Community. The danger signals presaging this final stage, are:—lessened interest, decreased loyalty and the falling-off of business.

Every family less in a Community represents a yearly money loss of about $2,000.

Towns and cities today stand or fall on their merits—the margin of safety is small. There is no element of chance or luck—it is reduced to a definite science. And the Community that drops behind soon finds itself out of the race entirely.

Community Competition is not a myth. All members of the Community feel this new type of competition; therefore all local interests must stand or fall together.

A chain can be no stronger than its weakest link—a Community can be no stronger than the weakest factor in its Community Organization. A weakness or defect in the Community structure brings about a decline. The fall is more rapid than the rise.

Emergencies exist! Changing times—wider contacts—greater competition—have brought greater problems, but they have brought greater opportunities as well.

Shall we, as a city, reach out and grasp these limitless opportunities?

FORTUNE IS WAITING FOR "ONE IN TEN" COMMUNITIES!

Are We That One?

Expert investigation has pointed out the way—local planning based on national experience. Next week this page will take up the most essential factor in this program for

Lions Hear McMurray College Dean Speak

"By-products of Life" was the subject of a very interesting and instructive talk made to the members of the Floydada Lions Club by Floyd McKeown dean of McMurray College, at regular luncheon last Tuesday noon. Rev. C. C. Armstrong, Dean McKeown, of Abilene, and R. B. Wakefield, of this city, were guests of the club at the luncheon.

In his well-prepared talk, Dean McKeown stressed the fact that in modern day commerce, the by-product of many items have become more important than the original product. Applying the laws of modern commerce, he said that "Every man's life should consist of Business Plus." "Business is the original product," he explained, "but the word 'plus' is the by-product that is rapidly becoming more important than the original product. The four letters of the word 'plus' should mean Pleasure, Love, Utility of effort and Service," he said.

Dean McKeown's presence at the luncheon Tuesday came as a surprise to the members of the club, and his talk was enthusiastically received by the thirty-odd members present.

The name of Flynn Thagard was presented for membership in the club at the noon luncheon this week, and was received. Lion Boss J. C. Gilliam presided at the meet- ing.

Negro Woman Killed By Accidental Gun Shot

One negro woman, Agnes Appling 60, is dead, and another, Mrs. Titus Pope, 25, is paralyzed, as a result of the accidental discharge of a pistol in the hands of a daughter of Mrs. Appling, Mrs. J. B. Brown, at Lockney Sunday afternoon. All the evidence points to an accident, pure and simple, investigations made by Deputy Barlow Hill of Lockney, Sheriff Stegall, and County Attorney R. A. Sone, indicate.

Only one bullet was fired from the pistol. It passed through the body of the elder negro woman near the region of the heart and pierced the spine of the Pope negro. The former succumbed within an hour or two and the latter is completely paralyzed, Sheriff Stegall said.

THE SORGHUM MIDGE

The destructive sorghum midge is one pest that can not be controlled by an insecticide, since all of its stages, with the exception of the adult, are passed within the seed husks of the plant. However, losses of sorghum grains due to midges which come into the field from outside sources can be considerably reduced by the following recommendations of the Bureau of Entomology of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Locate the field as far as possible from outside sources of infestation, such as Johnson grass, old sorghum fields, broom-corn, and Sudan grass, and so that the prevailing wind blows away from it toward the most probable source of infestation. Destroy any near-by heads, such as those of volunteer sorghum or wild-grass host plants before the appearance of the sorghum heads. Plant the field at such a date that it will bloom either before or at about the same time as the field from which infestation is expected, or after emergence of midges has ceased in them.

"The Store With The Goods"

10:30...and the Boy from the Drug Store hadn't Arrived

Four people were in the living room playing bridge.

When 10:30 came and the boy from the drug store hadn't arrived with the ice cream, Mrs. Barnard began to get nervous.

The Randalls, recent neighbors, both murmured something polite about "having to go".

"Don't rush off, please," said Mrs. Barnard. "I'll call and see what's the matter." So she called Mr. Carter, the druggist, and the boy came over right away.

It was embarrassing though, to have to go into details from the telephone in the hall, when they could overhear every word she said.

Telephones around the house where you need them do help.

Had there been an "extension" in the back hall, say, Mrs. Barnard could have conversed in comparative privacy.

Few know that the extra cost of one or two "extensions" is somewhat less than that of the single telephone they now have.

By a wisely-placed "extension" or two, and perhaps a rearrangement of the equipment you already have, an expert telephone man can often double the convenience of the telephones in your home.

It was embarrassing, though...

Sunday School Lesson

PARABLE OF THE SOWER

The International Uniform Sunday School Lesson for March 9. Take Heed How Ye Hear. Matt. 13:1-9, 18-23.

Our lesson is based upon what is called the parable of the sower, and that parable has been rather more unfortunate in its title than in any other respect. The title almost inevitably fixes our attention upon the sower and the manner of sowing his seed, whereas the lesson of Jesus in the parable, as is made very plain in its close, relates not so much to the sower as to the ground or to the listener.

The parable is interesting owing to the fact that it is one of the parables which Jesus himself has expounded, and its conclusion, it should be remembered, is not "take heed how ye sow," that is "take heed how you scatter the seeds of truth," but "take heed how ye hear." Look well to it that the ground of your hearts and minds upon which seeds of truth may be scattered may be prepared and may receive those seeds with fruitfulness. So then, we ought to call the parable not the parable of the "sower," but the parable of the "hearer."

The Need for Lavishness

Possibly the parable has a teaching for the sower as well. There can be no particular value in the wasting of seed upon poor ground. But, on the other hand, if there is any lesson that nature teaches us and that may be equally applied in the world of grace, it is the lesson of the lavishness of sowing to insure a crop. It is the one field in which everything seems to go beyond the realm of calculation or narrow economic provision.

The fact that forms of life both in its lower and in its higher manifestations frequently become extinct despite this lavish provision for reproduction shows that nature after all may not be any too lavish in its economy. But none the less one of the most interesting facts is the power of life in the seed that is sown and in the higher forms to reproduce itself upon such a vast scale.

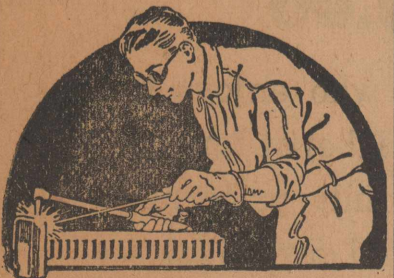

So in the realm of grace there has developed the tradition of scattering the seed far and wide, besides all waters, and even in the desert places, in the hope that somewhere it may take hold of even a particle of fertile soil and bring forth fruit.

The more one looks over the history of the progress of religion in the world both in general and in its remarkable redemptive achievements in individual lives, the more one realizes how much of the harvest would likely have been missed if man had been too economical or calculating in his sowing of the seeds of truth. In the most unlikely places, where there seemed to be no soil or where the soil had been covered up, seeds of the new life have taken hold and have found root and have been enabled to grow.

Hence, probably the teaching of Jesus would have been narrowing rather than enlarging, destructive rather than constructive, if this parable had been chiefly one for the sower leading him to undue caution and to the withholding of his hand. But as a parable for the hearer it lays all the emphasis upon making the words of truth more effective. In a world where the seeds of life are so manifold it would seem that the profoundest duty and privilege is to prepare the ground of our own hearts and minds and reap in our own experience the harvest that God intends.

Engagement of Mildred Carter And Quinby Kizziar Announced.

Announcement of the engagement and approaching marriage of Miss Mildred Carter and Mr. Quinby Kizziar, both of Abilene, was made last Saturday morning at a prettily planned breakfast held in the home of Mrs. S. Y. Carter on South Eighth Street in Abilene. At the same time that Mrs. Carter announced the engagement of her daughter, Mildred, to Mr. Kizziar, the engagement of Miss Flossie McCoy and Charles Payne, both of Abilene, was also announced by Miss McCoy's mother, Mrs. M. T. McCoy of Hawley, co-hostess with Mrs. Carter for the party. Both marriages are to be held in Abilene next Saturday.

Both Miss Carter and Mr. Kizziar are well known in Floydada, having resided here for a number of years. They are both graduates of the Floydada High School, and their romance began while attending school in this city. Mr. Kizziar is the son of Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Kizziar, now of Altus, Oklahoma and formerly of this city. He is also a brother of Mrs. Bill Dally, of this city. The bride-elect is the daughter of Mrs. S. Y. Carter, who formerly resided in Floydada.

Mr. Payne and Miss McCoy are close friends of the former Floydada couple.

Rainbow colors were used in details of the announcement party held Saturday. The rooms were beautifully decorated with snap dragons and carnations. Names of the couples and dates of the weddings were on slips concealed in walnuts, passed with a breakfast course. Pictures of the couples were on ring-shaped cards used as tallies in bridge and forty-two games.

Mrs. W. D. Fletcher and daughter, Miss Elizabeth Fletcher, are to entertain Wednesday to honor Miss Carter. Other affairs are slated for the week.

Thin, Pale, Weak

"I HAD been through a bad spell of sickness which left me very weak," says Mrs. Virginia Spruce, of Stapleton, Va. "I was pale and felt lifeless, and my strength did not return. I spent most of my time on the bed. I was very nervous, and the least thing upset me. I did not have strength enough to lift a broom. At times I would have bad headaches, which would hurt me until I could hardly see."

"Someone asked me why I did not try Cardui. I had read of it, so I thought I would see what it would do for me. It was really remarkable how I came out. My strength returned, and my health was better than it had been in years. I gained in weight about ten pounds. My color was good, and I ceased to suffer from headaches. I have told my friends about Cardui because I was benefited after taking it."

ANALYZE THE ALLOWANCE ON YOUR USED CAR

If a dealer pays you more than the true worth of the car he must make up the difference by extra charges on the new car or re-sell it to some one else at too high a price

PERMANENT value is always better than a temporary bargain in the purchase of an automobile. It pays to look ahead and consider reliability and ultimate up-keep costs, as well as comfort, safety, speed, and beauty of line and color.

Since most automobiles are bought for replacement, the value set on your used car is a factor in almost every purchase. Frequently it is given an importance beyond its true worth.

Used cars have a definite market value and you are justly entitled to an allowance based on that value. It is not fair that you receive less. It is not to your best interests to receive more.

IF a dealer pays you more than the true worth of the car he must either re-sell it to some one else at too high a price or make up the difference on the new car. This he cannot do unless he is allowed an excessive profit on the car or on financing, extra equipment and other charges. In either case, you pay the bill, for no way has yet been found to give something for nothing. The money must come from somewhere.

You may not get the largest used-car allowance from the Ford dealer, but that very fact should give you confidence that you are receiving full value in the new car. Ford charges are not marked up or increased to cover a high trade-in allowance on your old car.

Because there is no waste, extravagance or undue profit in manufacturing, distribution or selling, every dollar you pay for a Ford brings a full dollar in return. In lower first cost, in reliability and long life, in the low cost of operation, service and replacement parts, the Ford will save you much more than the seeming difference in trade allowance.

FURTHERMORE, at least $75 extra value is given to you in the new Ford in the Triplex shatter-proof glass windshield, the Rustless Steel, the five steel-spoke wheels, and the four Houdaille hydraulic double-acting shock absorbers. The unusually large number of ball and roller bearings, and the extensive use of fine steel forgings instead of castings or stampings, are other features that show the extra quality built into the Ford car.

Nature Lavish, Gives Texas The Palo Duro

Project Would Make Nature's Wonder Part of State System Of Parks.

Amarillo, Texas, March 3. (UP).—Plans are under way for the inclusion of Palo Duro canyon, in the Texas Panhandle, as one of the four units to begin the proposed State park system of Texas. Preliminary steps toward introduction of legislation have been taken by the State park board and several associations backing the various projects.

Palo Duro canyon is a huge gorge cut by nature nearly half way across the Llano Estacado or staked plains of west Texas and eastern New Mexico. It begins near Canyon and goes in a southeasterly direction through Randall, Armstrong, Briscoe, Hall and Donley counties, slashing the caprock at the edge of the plains.

The canyon proper is about 100 miles long. It varies in depth from several hundred feet at the head to 800 to 1,000 feet or more near the lower end. One either side of the canyon the plains are 3,400 feet above sea level. The floor of the canyon drops down from 3,200 feet to 2,800 feet above sea level within a mile or two of the head.

One of the natural features in the canyon is a rock formation known as "The Devil's Kitchen," a huge cleft that appears to be a gigantic fireplace capable of being used to prepare meals for a legion or two of spirits. Above it is the "devil's smokestack" to permit the smoke from the fire to escape.

Lighthouse rock, a huge rock rearing itself many feet up into the air, its surface marked with indications of being washed by the waters of a long forgotten sea, is another landmark.

Somewhere in the vast recesses is said to be a cave, so far explored only by a few who have declined to reveal its location. This cave is Plainview Farmer Had Almost Given Up Hopes When He Tried Orgatone (Argotane) Troubles Now Gone.

"Honestly, I've been trying for ten years to get the relief two bottles of this Orgatone has done me," declared E. F. Felty, a well known farmer residing on route 1 Plainview, Texas recently.

"Yes, ten years ago," he continued "I started having trouble with indigestion and from that time on I have certainly had my share of it. I kept taking medicine thinking I just would get over the trouble but I just kept on suffering. My appetite was no good and I had an awful burning and pains in and about my stomach. I got to where I was disgusted with medicine because nothing helped me I was blue and despondent had no ambition and was just getting clean down and out as far as health was concerned.

"I was so miserable I just felt like I must get some relief, some how and when I saw so much in the papers about Orgatone (Argotane) I decided to see if it would do me any good, and upon the recommendation of my friends who had used it I bought my first bottle. Well it's fine. My awful pain and distress went away before I had finished my bottle. My appetite is good now, I eat hearty and sleep like a log I may have gained some in weight too I don't know, but I do know I feel like a new man, and Orgatone (Argotane) is the cause of it. If any one will inquire I certainly will tell them what this medicine will do I'm satisfied there's nothing to equal it."

said to extend thru the rock down to the caprock.

Indians made use of the canyon as a hiding place. It was indeed a "happy hunting ground" for them, as buffalo were found there, especially when seeking shelter from storms. There were wild fruits and wild game and plenty of water and wood.

Hunters, trappers, buffalo hunters, gold seekers and scouts knew of the canyon, but not until in the latter part of 1876 did the place become the home of a white man. The late Col. Charles Goodnight, planning to start a ranch in the Panhandle, drove a herd of 1,500 cattle from Trinidad, Colo., into the country, arriving at what was known as Old Comanche Trail late in November of 1876.

Leaving the Dyer brothers, who accompanied him, to complete the establishment of ranch headquarters, the colonel took a Mexican guide and returned to Trinidad. He interested John Adair, a wealthy Englishman who had many investments in cattle in the southwest, in the project of starting a ranch. In the spring of 1877 the two men, with their wives, brought 400 more head of cattle and a large amount of supplies to the canyon. Thus began the first of the ranches.

Efforts have been started from time to time to make a State park of the canyon, but so far they have failed.

Last fall a new movement, the Palo Duro Park association, was formed, with Sam Braswell, Clarendon editor, as president. This group is now working in conjunction with the State park board and three other park groups to establish a four-park plan as a starter of the system.

Other parks to be included in the system are Caddo Lake, in eastern Texas, extending into Louisiana; Davis Mountain park, in southwest Texas near the Rio Grande, and Guadalupe mountains in western Texas, south of the Carlsbad caverns in New Mexico and east of El Paso.

Miss Adelaide Scott began work as bookkeeper with the Baker, Hanna Company last week.

W. M. Windsor made a business trip to Gorman and other points down-state last mid-week.

Gwilym Enoch student of Texas Tech at Lubbock spent the week end with his parents Mr. and Mrs. John A. Enoch. Mr. and Mrs. Enoch and daughter Blanche took him back to Lubbock Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. J. D. McBrien returned last Thursday from Snyder where she had been with her father, Rev. I. D. Hull. He was able to accompany her home and will visit here with her for some time.

'The Vagabond Lover' At Palace Next Week

First Feature Length Picture of Radio Idol Will Be Shown In Floydada.

Few persons but have heard of Rudy Vallee, orchestra leader, crooner of songs, radio idol of millions. Beginning Sunday and running through Monday and Tuesday, at the Palace Theatre, his Floyd County admirers will be afforded the opportunity of seeing him in an entirely different role—that of the actor.

He is featured in Radio Pictures' all-talking, singing, dancing comedy-drama "The Vagabond Lover," his first feature length screen play. Playing opposite him is Sally Blane.

In supporting character and comedy roles are Marie Dressler, Norman Peck, Danny O'Shea, Eddie Ugent, Alan Roscoe, Nella Walker, Malcolm Waite and Charles Sellon. Marshall Neilan directed. The Connecticut Yankees, Rudy Vallee's noted orchestra, appear in the picture and furnish the complete orchestration. Radio Pictures' famous dancing girls are featured in a number of lavish dance ensembles.

"The Vagabond Lover," written by James Creelman, Jr., parallels in theme the actual life story of Rudy Vallee, who has climbed by his musical ability from a country boy, son of a New England druggist, to the nation's radio, night club and talking picture idol.

BARLEY FOUND IN BURIED CITY

Samples of grain found during the Field Mesuem-Oxford University expedition to Mesopotamia in 1928, in the ruins of the buried city of Kish, "the first city founded after the Flood," have been declared by five experts of the United States Department of Agriculture to be barley. Three jars of grain were found in two ancient buildings that had been buried for thousands of years below the original surface of the mounds covering eastern Kish. One building was in a stratum just above the level where traces of a flood were discovered, which, according to archaeological evidence occurred about 3200 B. C. The grain is now practically pure charcoal.

INSECTS FLY LIKE PLANES

There is an interesting resemblance in the methods used by insects for flight and the principles used in present-day air-craft, says the United States Department of Agriculture. Entomologists who have been making a special study of insect flight say the rapidly whirling wings of certain insects present an interesting counterpart of the rotating propellers of airplanes.

MILD WINTERS KEEP FRUIT TREES FROM NEEDED REST

Severe winters in the North usually mean short crops, but with peaches in Georgia and apples southward from Virginia, the rule works just the other way. This is because temperate-zone fruit trees require a definite amount of cold weather during which certain changes are carried on which prepare them for growth in the spring. This period of "rest," which is so definitely required for many trees and plants, is really therefore a period of slight but important changes in the trees.

Dr. M. B. Waite, of the United States Department of Agriculture, observed many years ago, that our northern fruits, such as the peach, when cultivated too far south in Georgia, frequently exhibit symptoms of delayed growth in the spring, attributable to lack of sufficient resting period. Dr. Lee M. Hutchins, of the same department, has recently observed the same phenomena and points out that as a rule, in about one year in five, the mild winters of Georgia do not give peach trees the required amount of resting period and the result is what peach growers call "prolonged dormancy." When this happens, peach trees in the lower portion of the State fail to bloom at their regular time. Finally they bloom, from a week to several weeks late.

This disturbance may interfere with the setting of the fruit, and the ripening of the fruit may also be thrown off schedule and come in with the crop in other parts of the State farther north, which tends to make an overcrowded market. Albany is given by Doctor Hutchins as about the southern limit for the commercial production of our standard varieties of peaches. South of this limit the trees during most winters do not get enough cold weather for maximum production. The same principle applies to apples in a zone farther north.

Funeral Held Sunday For Mrs. Harry Miller

Mrs. Harry Miller, resident of the Harmony Community, died at a local sanitarium at 2 p. m. last Saturday afternoon, following the birth of an infant daughter Friday night. Mrs. Miller was 33 years of age, and last year was a teacher in the Harmony school. She had been married about a year. She was a resident of Harmony Community at the time of her death.

Reports from the Miller home Wednesday afternoon of this week were that the baby was doing nicely.

Funeral services for the deceased were held Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the Carr's Chapel church. Rev. Price, of Petersburg pastor of the Harmony church, conducted the funeral services.

Surviving Mrs. Miller are her husband and infant daughter, both parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Piller, of Zephyr; two brothers, Clarence Piller of Zephyr and E. A. Piller, of Abilene; four sisters, Mrs. Floy Bailey, of Winters, Mrs. Ima Harkey, of San Saba, and Theima and Ethel Moore Piller, who reside with their parents.

FARMERS LEADING IN USE OF PLANES

Farmers of America are leading the residents of the more populous sections in the use of airplanes for business purposes and are rapidly finding the craft peculiarly fitted to their needs, a survey by The Country Home has disclosed.

Planes, according to the magazine, have appealed for more readily to the people of the Middle West and Far West than they have to New Yorkers, for example. "The restless, daring spirit of the West unquestionably has much to do with this lead in aviation," says the article. "California has more pilots than planes, New York State has more planes than pilots.

"Air-mindedness is keener in sections of the United States where terrain and weather are most favorable for flying. In rocky, foggy New England aviation has lagged as it has in the Allegheny region. As one goes westward the interest in flying picks up. Flat-breasted Ohio home of the Wrights, has pioneered in aviation. From Central Ohio to the Rocky Mountains one can fly safely over any route, knowing that aside from a few rough spots a landing can be made anywhere. Professional pilots prefer even the Rockies to the Alleghenies because the valleys are wider, not so heavily wooded and the air is clearer. Fogs, curse of the East, are infrequent.

"Distances are greater in the West and there is a greater need for rapid travel. Cattle ranchers are learning the advantages of owning planes." The article cites numerous instances of time and money saving through planes. In one case thousands of acres of rice land was made productive after a crop failure by being replanted in a few days by airplane. With old methods the replanting could not have been accomplished in time for the crop to mature.

POULTRY "DOPES" IN FEED OR WATER WON'T KILL VERMIN

As a matter of economy the United States Department of Agriculture suggests that before investing money in "vermin eradicators" to be fed to poultry, the poultry keeper might better invest a penny for a postal card, address it to the Office of Information, United States Department of Agriculture, and request a copy of Technical Bulletin 80-T, Ineffectiveness of Internal Medication of Poultry for the Control of External Parasites.

The chances are, the Department of Agriculture believes, that after reading this pamphlet the poultryman will not want to spend any money for louse medicines, flea and mite medicines, or tick medicines to be given internally. In a long series of experiments with a long list of such medicines and with about 50 such proprietary preparations in powder, liquid, and tablet forms, the investigators of the Food, Drug, and Insecticide Administration were unable to discover any conclusive evidence that these advertised "vermin eradicators" were of any use whatever. On the contrary, some of the chemicals injured the health of the fowls and, consequently, made them even more open to attack by parasites.

As a result of the experiences reported in this bulletin, the Food, Drug, and Insecticide Administration forced a number of manufacturers to withdraw these nostrums from the market. Some are still sold locally, however, and others are recommended by rule-of-thumb advisers as effective. The prevailing idea is that these substances given internally are taken up by the blood and then excreted to the surface, either to poison the parasites or to drive them from the fowl. Unfortunately for the theory, the results are not as predicted.

Poultry require careful and effective treatment for control of vermin, and there are many excellent powders, disinfectants, sprays, and dips that are of great value. Use the approved methods for controlling external parasites, says the department, but do not try to achieve the same results by dosing the poultry with medicine. Internal medication for external parasites is a waste of time and money at best, and at worst it may lead to serious injury to the health and well-being of the poultry.

COMPARATIVE FERTILITY

America's foreign settlers, accustomed to tiny rocky patches at home, regard a Vermont hillside much as a Vermont regards three hundred acres of Iowa corn land. The Country Home.

IS CORN 'HUSKED' OR IS IT 'SHUCKED'?

By Tom Bodine in the Paris, (Missouri) Mercury.

We again, as is our habit, arise to dissent. They may "husk" corn in Kansas, Iowa and Illinois, but in the sovereign state of Missouri we "shuck" it.

We came through Cumberland Gap, and the Plymouth idiom has no place in our speech. "Shuck" is both phonetically and descriptively the better word of the two. Its rough sibilancy more clearly conveys the sound resulting when the outer covering is stripped or torn from an ear of Indian maize. It tears upward through the larynx like sound English speech ought to do.

For this reason we are astounded that the national corn-shucking contest at Platte City, Missouri, once the home of Virginia and Kentucky grandees, should be advertised over a nation-wide radio hookup, as "a corn-husking contest." That's New England talk, and we are of the Tidewater and the Blue Grass.

In the idiom the tall, long-lank-ed men from those delectable regions brought across the river with them, a husk was the hard outer shell of grain, and was separated in the milling process—it is called bolting—into bran. Corn bran, a comparatively recent by-product, sells higher today than wheat bran.

Referring to that final authority on standard English the King James translation of the Holy Bible, we find that the prodigal son had been living on "husks." That is, he had been eating the hard outer shell of the grain which the hogs had cracked off with their teeth and had left on the feeding ground as "chaff." The learned translators did not say he had lived on chucks, because he hadn't done any such thing. There were no husks in "that country," wherever it was, and he could have not eaten them if there had been.

ROADS, LIKE STORES, GET MORE "FLOORS" AS BUSINESS GROWS

Just as some small business concerns build their stores by stages, and some congregations build their churches by degrees—that is, one story or section at a time as needed—so are certain sections of the Federal highway system constructed, according to the Bureau of Public Roads of the United States Department of Agriculture.

In the beginning these sections of the highway system are first improved to care for a limited flow of traffic; and are usually of low-type construction. Sometimes the existing earth road is merely graded and drained. As traffic increases an inexpensive surface is applied, and with further, traffic increase a pavement of higher type is laid over the low-type surface.

This method of road building is called stage construction. It is the method by which Federal and State engineers are year by year improving the Federal-aid highway system.

When the Federal-aid system was laid out there were certain sections of the country, where traffic was light, in which but little progress had been made in road improvement. It was in the States of these sections that the first effort was made to improve the roads as quickly as possible, at least by adequate grading and drainage. As traffic increases and funds become available these roads are further improved.

In sections of heavier traffic, where improvement of roads was in progress for some time before the Federal system was laid out, a comparatively large per centage of the mileage had already been improved to some extent. Initial improvement with Federal aid in such sections are usually of a comparatively high type, and there is little need to raise their standard by stage construction.

The largest amount of stage-construction work is now being done in the West North Central States. Of the total of 9,390 miles of Federal-aid roads improved with Federal funds last year, 1,988 miles were of advanced-stage construction.

THE UNCERTAIN EXIT

J. B. BARTLEY TO JLAINVIEW WITH GULF REFINING CO.

J. B. Bartley, who for the past several years has been employed with the wholesale Gulf Refining distribution plant in this city, has this week moved to Plainview where he will be employed with the Gulf station in that city. He will have charge of the office work at the Plainview office.

Mr. and Mrs. Bartley and little daughter left Wednesday to make their home in Plainview.

Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Stewart and children of Wichita Falls spent the week end here as guests of her parents Mr. and Mrs. W. I. Cannaday. Mrs. L. J. Welborn her sister returned home with her for a two weeks visit.

Soaking any kind of fresh meat in water before cooking it is a mistake. It draws out the juices which give the characteristic flavor and add to its food value. Before cooking simply wipe meat off with a damp cloth or trim it.

Remember that the table is a place for good comradeship with one's children and not for discipline or nagging. Take it for granted that the child will eat happily everything served to him, and be sure that he becomes acquainted with a variety of foods.

If the dairyman buys all his feed, hires all his labor, and disposes of the milk at current wholesale prices he will make little if any money. If he buys all his feed and does all his own work he may make day wages. To make the greatest profit raise most or all the feed and market it through the dairy cow at a price at least equal to what the same feed would cost on the market.

FEEDS "SANDWICHES" TO INSECTS

A liking for "sandwiches" is proving disastrous for a group of insects held captive in the laboratory of Dr. F. L. Campbell, an entomologist in the United States Department of Agriculture. The sandwiches are made of two tender juicy bits of leaves, but the trouble is, from the insects' point of view, that the filler consists of poison.

Doctor Campbell is trying to determine the exact quantity of various poisons required to kill different insects. The reason for using the sandwich bait is that a very exact method for measuring the quantity of poison on a circular bit of leaf has been worked out. The top layer of the sandwich is put on to prevent the insect from crawling over the poison and removing part of it. The insects used for the first experiments were silkworms, and naturally the sandwich was made of mulberry leaves.

The insects are allowed to feed on the sandwiches until observers think they have eaten about enough to prove fatal. By carefully measuring the surface of the remaining part of the sandwich it is possible to calculate the amount of poison eaten by each insect. The insects are given 48 hours to die or recover. Doctor Campbell expects to continue his experiments, using as many insects and poisons as the nature of the work will permit.

EROSION TAKES HUGE TOLL

Recent estimates of specialists of the United States Department of Agriculture indicate that a total of 126,000,000 pounds of plant food is washed out of the fields of the United States every year. This is 21 times as much as the amount of plant food used by crops.

Attractive Six-Room Stucco House Has Convenient Floor Plan

The Irvington Makes Use Of Space In Economical Manner

Living, Dining Rooms Completely Separated

Irvington Designed To Be Built On The Ordinary Lot.

The family who prefer the living room and dining room completely separated, will be pleased with the Irvington, which is illustrated on The Hesperian's Home Builders' page this week. A small reception hall lies between the two rooms in this design.

Economically Designed
There are certain obvious advantages in this separation. The chance for who waits in the living room and the family has finished the dining meal is not embarrassed to remain in a room some distance away from the dining room.

The Irvington is a six room house with bath and breakfast nook. It is a two story residence of stucco, thirty-two feet by twenty-seven feet six inches in dimensions, designed to be built on the ordinary size lot.

The cost of building this home is not excessive and it can be constructed by the family with the average income.

Charming Exterior
The sharply pitched roof of composition shingles, the broad window openings with their several units of glass, the studied use of face brick contrasting with the grey-white of the stucco, all work toward making the architectural design of the Irvington a most charming composition.

Special interest is the face stucco with its ornamental iron and the broad front door with leaded and heavy plate glass.

A curving concrete walk leads the way from the street to the door.

For The New Home—Or The One You Already Occupy—

...ings of Beauty and Life will add greatly to the appearance of the home and the pleasure of the occupant.

this entrance. Dwarf pines at either side of the stoop aid in creating a charming air of hominess. Within the door is a small vestibule with tiled floor. An inner door prevents the entrance of a rush of cold air during winter months and aids in maintaining the interior of the house at an even heat.

Well Planned First Floor
The first floor of the Irvington is well-planned. To the left of the reception hall is the living room, well lighted and spacious. A breakfast nook and kitchen complete the rooms on this floor.

The large size of the living room will appeal to the home lover. It contains windows on three sides, thus assuring the owner ample light and plenty of fresh air.

The broad fireplace at the side of this room has a hearth of bricks. The breast is also of brick, the mantle being ample to contain a pair of vases or other ornaments. Wall brackets on either side have been selected to harmonize with the interior design of the room.

Since the living room is thirteen feet by twenty-two feet in dimensions, use of a number of wall lights in addition to the center ceiling chandelier was necessary. Four electrical outlets allow the use of a number of floor lamps in various parts of the room.

Convenient Dining Room
The dining room is roughly eleven by thirteen feet in size, ample enough to contain the table, chairs and buffet. Three windows at the front and two at the side allow cross ventilation and plenty of sunshine.

A plaster arch separates the dining room from the passage leading to the kitchen. The passage is really an interior hall as off it is the staircase leading to the floor above. To the right is the breakfast nook, away from the kitchen odors, yet convenient for quick serving.

A small closet off this hall is convenient for the storage of brooms, mops, and other household necessities.

Carefully Arranged Kitchen
The housewife will be delighted with the kitchen for it has been arranged to save steps. At the right is the kitchen dresser, a most convenient array of cupboards and shelves, with four drawers also for the storage of kitchen knives and small utensils. At one side is space for the electric refrigerator.

The kitchen sink is located under the window at the rear wall. Across on one side is the gas range. Two hanging lights and a number of electrical outlets add to the convenience of the room.

A door at the left of the room leads to the service entry which has a stairs to the basement and a door to the service porch at the rear.

Basement is Large
Down in the basement if basement is wanted, which has a concrete floor over its entire area, are located the laundry, the drying room, the furnace and fuel rooms. A small room for fire wood and another for fruit are also located here.

These rooms are separated from each other, either by walls of concrete blocks or of wood. Thus the clothes in the drying room will never be dirtied by flying coal or ash dust. The rooms in the basement are all lighted by steel basement windows. The coal chute is steel.

Three Chambers
Three chambers and a bath on the second floor with reference to the upper hall are well arranged. The chamber over the living room contains two closets each lighted by electricity. The other chambers are smaller but contain windows on two sides of the room, giving cross ventilation.

The bath is small, compactly arranged to take advantage of every inch of space. It contains side wall lights near the medicine closet.

While this plan, like some of the others presented in this series, may represent a greater outlay than you wish to put into your home, you will find it most interesting as a study of features that cost little and add much to the comfort and livability of the home you are planning, whether large or small. To persons of both small and large incomes homes are coming to be more than just four walls to hide behind, the study of home-building adding greatly to the sum total of human happiness.

Yet the proper kind of tree for the front yard is something that must be decided by an expert. It is far better to call in the local nurseryman and get his advice as to what to select. Not only can he aid you in the selection of your trees, but he can also help you in choosing the shrubs, flowers and other plants.

'Modern Homes' Demand Distinctive Awnings
With the approach of summer awnings are being placed over windows to guard the interior from the glare of the hot summer sun. Of recent years the use of awnings as a decorative scheme has increased in importance. They are gaining a definite place in the exterior decorative design.

Years ago when awnings were first introduced, they are distinctly a convenience, placed over the windows for protection only. The idea of using the awning for decoration did not occur to the awning makers and consequently the common awning was striped in conventional white and blue or red. Its utilitarian values were great perhaps, but often it was a blemish to the house.

Nurserymen Have Their Part In Home Designing
Just as the exterior design of the new building should be in keeping with the environment—whether the lot is shaded or open, so should it be designed keeping in mind the future growth of trees and shrubbery.

The building of a new home is not complete until the lot has been graded and trees are set out and started to grow.

We can live happily and contentedly in homes that are not planted with trees and shrubbery but our happiness is decidedly increased when the lot is improved by the addition of proper landscaping.

The average man is a novice at landscaping. He knows in general that the lot should be graded to afford good drainage, that trees should be properly placed to afford future shade, that fruit trees are not suitable for the most formal front yard.

comes homes are coming to be more than just four walls to hide behind, the study of home-building adding greatly to the sum total of human happiness.

Yet the proper kind of tree for the front yard is something that must be decided by an expert. It is far better to call in the local nurseryman and get his advice as to what to select. Not only can he aid you in the selection of your trees, but he can also help you in choosing the shrubs, flowers and other plants.

Paint House Color To Match Environments
The selection of the color of the house must be a compromise between the desires of the owner for certain colors and the physical limitations of the house itself. It must be remembered always that the house, its location, its environment and shape have a definite influence upon the color of the dwelling.

The fact that a certain color looks pleasing on a certain building is no criterion that the same color combination will be satisfactory on another residence.

This does not mean that no certain color combination is ideal for a certain house. As a matter of fact there are usually several alternate arrangements of color that are in good taste and at the same time allow for the satisfaction of personal likes.

The best plan for the home builder to do is to get in touch with a competent painter and let him make color suggestions that are suitable for the building and its location. This is a better plan than to arbitrarily select a color combination and order the painter to execute it. The painter is a master of his craft. He is trained to know color combinations. The wise home builder will make use of his special knowledge.

Lighting Fixtures

In keeping with the finish and fitments of the interior plans add much to the beauty and appreciation you will have for your home.

We have many suggestions to offer to those who are planning new homes or changes in their present interior lighting effects.

Radio Electric Company
Floydada, Texas, Floyd Co. Natl. Bank Bldg.

Dining Room Lights Should Flood Table

The dining room is used but three hours a day during the twenty-four. It is the room where the family eats its meals and broadly speaking this is its only function.

The dining table therefore is the center of interest and should be covered by a flood of soft light.

The rest of the room must be pleasingly lighted, of course, but not so brightly as the top of the table.

When selecting the fixture to be placed over the table, care must be taken to see that the fixture itself performs its important function—throwing light where it is most needed. Yet the glare of the bulbs must not be seen by the people seated around the table. The fixture over the table needs from 100 to 200 watts.

Bracket fixtures on the side walls add charming touches of light to the dining-room provided they are well shaded. They are distinctly a decorative factor and the bulbs need not be over 25 watt. The candleabra on the buffet is in the same class as the wall brackets, being a decorative fixture and in use solely for the color effects it produces.

INSECTS HAVE ANCIENT ANCESTRY

Insects are among the oldest of all animals that have living representatives on the earth to-day, says the United States Department of Agriculture. Their fossil remains have been found in the rocks of the geologic period commonly known as the Carboniferous, which, according to present methods of calculating past time, may have been laid down as long ago as 300,000,000 years.

Dougherty News

(By Mrs. W. D. Newell)

March 4.—March, month of many weathers, wildly comes in hail and snow and rain and threatening hums, and floods;—while often at his cottage door the shepherd stands to hear the distant roar loosed from the rushing mills and riverlocks with thundering sounds, and overpowering shocks. From bank to bank along the meadow lea, the river spreads, and shines, a little sea; while in the pale sunlight, a watery brood of swooping white birds flock above the flood.

March was the first month of the year for the Ancient Romans. It was the first month of the year for several countries, until a comparatively recent time. The legal year in England began on March 25th until 1752. The reason March was considered the first month was because it came after the dead season of the year when nature began showing the earliest signs of a renewal of growth.

This important month was dedicated to Mars, the War God, by the Romans. They called the month Martius.

In England, among the Saxon fathers it was known as Lent-Monat, or length-month, in reference to the lengthening of the days. The origin also of the term Lent. March is now the third month of the calendar. The Gem for the month is the bloodstone and the flower is the violet. Important dates for the month are St. Patrick's Day March 17th and Vernal Equinox March 21st.

Poultrymen always used to cool the eggs hatching in an incubator by taking them out for a short time each day. It has been found that this practice is unnecessary, says the U. S. Department of Agriculture, except when the temperature of the incubator has been running too high. To decide whether to cool eggs or not, notice the size of the cell, which should gradually increase in size. If the development is too rapid, cool the eggs until they feel slightly cool to the touch.

A poultry house for sitting hens should be secluded, slightly darkened, and separated from the houses for layers and breeders. Place the nests so that the hens won't have to fly or jump into them.

"Let's get up a Newspaper Ad"

This is No. 5 of a series of ads depicting the various branches of advertising production. In ad No. 4 we discussed the engraving. Watch for No. 6 in next week's issue.

"our story must be put into WORDS"

We must tell the story of "Roseanne" dresses convincingly—our copy must create a desire to own a "Roseanne" dress. It must appeal to women of all ages and instill in their minds the idea that a visit to the "Roseanne" Dress Shoppe will be both profitable and enjoyable. This "copy" must be concise and to the point as it will later appear in cold type.

For the benefit of Hesperian advertisers we offer the use of the Meyer-Both General Newspaper Feature Service which contains scores of "copy" suggestions prepared by experienced advertising writers who thoroughly understand the manifold merchandising problems confronting the merchant. Our representative will gladly explain this service in detail.

England Frees Doctor Once Doomed To Die For Wife's Murder In Africa

Dr. Benjamin Knowles, who had been sentenced to be hanged for the murder of his wife, left, and had the sentence computed to life imprisonment, are shown above.

That truth is stranger than fiction has just been proved again in the case of Dr. Benjamin Knowles, who had been sentenced to be hanged for the murder of his wife. First, his sentence was commuted to life imprisonment, and now he has been freed by the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council, the highest court in the British Empire.

Knowles' case is unique in England because it is one of the few instances in which a condemned man has been freed. British law is usually swift and inexorable.

In October, 1928, Dr. Knowles was employed as a medical officer in charge of the Bekwai district in Africa by the Ashanti government. His wife was formerly Midge Clifton, an actress.

Knowles' case is unique in England because it is one of the few instances in which a condemned man has been freed. British law is usually swift and inexorable.

Before her death Mrs. Knowles said the wound had been accidentally self-inflicted. Her husband always kept a loaded, cocked revolver in their bedroom. She examined it and placed it on a chair. Later, when a servant brought in tea, she thoughtlessly sat on the chair. The revolver became entangled in the lace of her dress and was discharged.

Dr. Knowles was arrested for the murder of his wife and tried by an Ashanti judge without a jury. The prosecution threw doubts upon the truth of the dead wife's last statement. The judge sentenced Knowles to death. This was commuted to life imprisonment by the Ashanti government. Dr. Knowles was allowed to return to London in custody to make his appeal to the final court of jurisdiction. After a spirited argument by the defense the attorney general for the crown made this statement to the jury:

"If there is any reasonable doubt, I would like you not to regard yourselves as too strictly bound by legal consideration. I feel strongly that it would be very wrong if a man were allowed to spend all his

Constipation Troubles

"I HAVE used Black-Draught as a family medicine for a good many years," says Mrs. Sallie Laughrun, of Humлда, N. C. "I have found it an excellent remedy for constipation and the troubles that follow it. I have suffered frequently from gas pains, and when I am bothered that way I begin at once to take Black-Draught. Relief follows quickly.

"I give Black-Draught to the children when they are constipated, and it is not long until they are running around again."

Thousands of others have reported good results from the use of this purely vegetable medicine. Insist on the genuine Theoford's

Katie Lee-Joe tried to kiss me last night.
Jessie Mae—What in the world did you do?
K. L.—I was up in arms in a minute.

Howard—I understand that Mac Tigh has betrayed the Scotch.
Starks—How's that?
Howard—He prespires freely.

Christine—I'm through with Roy.
Bessie—How come, dearie?
C.—I heard him telling Wayne that he tried our Ethyl in his Buick last night.

Alsie—Asked. Lois refused. Alsie begged. Lois blushed. Alsie argued. Lois hesitated. Alsie insisted. Lois resisted. Alsie tried. Lois surrendered. So Alsie carried Lois's books home from school.

Roy Hale—Dad and I are great stockholders on a cattle ranch.
Warren—That so?
Roy—Yeah, I hold the stock while dad milks them.

Miss Rea—In what book do we find the account of the folks prophets?
Jess—In Pa's income tax book.

Mr. Jones—I'm bringing the boss, Mr. Patty home to dinner. Be sure to have something nice, won't you?
Mrs. Jones. Yes, indeed. I'll run right down and get that velvet gown I've been wanting.

Sherwood—Your sweetie sure uses plenty of make up.
Aron W.—She's my powdered sugar.

Melvin—What is the difference between gulf and golf?
Lloyd—Gulf is a waste of water—golf is a waste of time.

Mrs. Stephens—When you come home last night you said you had been to the Ground with Mr. Jones. Now you say it was the Tracers. Why did you lie?
Mr. S.—When I came home I couldn't say Trocoders.

Bill Cummings—I'm going to sell kisses at the Charity Bazaar, do you think $1 is too much.
Duncan—No. People expect to be robbed at bazzaars anyhow.

Mr. Patty—My wife throws a fit every time I come home late.
Mr. Davis—Well, that's a lot softer than a skillet.

FRIEND WRITES TRIBUTE TO MRS. EDITH MILLER

The passing of Mrs. Edith Miller on March 1, brought a pang of sorrow to the heart of every member of the Harmony community. Her going means the loss of a kind and faithful wife, and ideal Sunday school teacher and church worker, a loyal member to the Missionary Society and Home Demonstration Club, a wonderful friend and neighbor and a citizen who was always ready to do her part in the up-building of the community in any way.

She was a real friend to everyone who knew her. Her good life inspired the children as well as the grown-ups to higher ideals. Even a friendly visit made those with whom she talked feel better.

She lived a beautiful life and died in a living faith in God. She has gone to meet her Savior in that land so bright and fair, where there's joy and peace forever, in that city over There.

We expect some day to meet her, where no pain nor sorrow comes;

And we all shall live forever in that happy heavenly home. One who loved her, Mrs. D. T. Scott

Lee C. Burns, of this city, is in Dallas this week for physical examination at one of the clinics of that city, on instruction from the War Department. He is one of the ex-service men who are being examined regularly by government physicians. Rev. A. A. Collins accompanied Mr. Burns on the trip Tuesday evening. They are expected home the latter part of last week.

Could Have Avoided Years of Suffering

MRS. G. W. HUPP

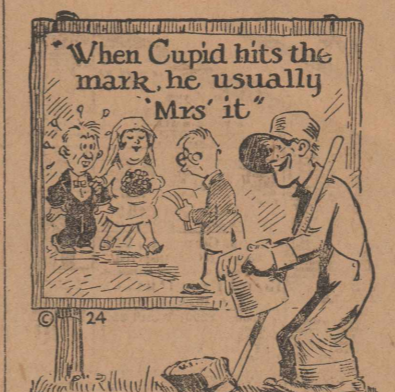

"If this wonderful, new Sargon had only been on the market earlier I could have avoided years of suffering. For seven years I suffered almost constantly with a dull, aching pain in my side and finally these troubles broke down my whole nervous system.

"Thanks to Sargon and Sargon Soft Mass Pills—all my troubles have disappeared, and I haven't had a headache since taking the treatment."—Mrs. G. W. Hupp, 3508 South 20th St., Omaha, Nebr.

Thousands upon thousands of cases like the above can be cited where Sargon has triumphed after all other medicines had failed.
