Teachers from all the rural schools in the county and from the Floydada and Lockney city schools will meet here Saturday afternoon at 1 o'clock at the High School Building to hear an address by Dean J. All the teachers of the county are expected to attend the meeting Saturday afternoon.

"Not only are the teachers urged to be present but also any friends of education who are interested are invited to be present. Dean Gordon is a very interesting speaker and it will be well worth anyone's time to hear him," Mr. Scott said.

Most Firms To Close For Armistice Day, Indicated By Reports

Practically all of the business houses of Floydada will be closed to give their employees an opportunity to enjoy Armistice Day as a holiday, it is indicated this week.

The day will be given over to various kinds of amusement, the Floydada-Lockney High School football game being in the plans of most.

Tony B. Maxey, secretary of the Retail Merchants Association, said this morning that in a hurried canvass made this morning, forty-two firms had signed up to be closed on Armistice, indicating a practically unanimous plan for closing. Drug store owners, he said, had not made up their minds definitely on the matter.

Homer Crabtree Killed Wednesday Near LeFors

Homer Crabtree, 41, who in his youth was a resident of Fairview in Floyd County, a son of J. L. Crabtree, pioneer of the plains and a nephew of W. B. Crabtree, of this county, was killed Wednesday afternoon about 3 o'clock in a pasture some three-fourths of a mile from LeFors. His badly bruised body was found covered with blood and physicians said the evidence indicated he had been beaten to death.

Two men, Emmett Thompson, 38, of Amarillo, and Carl Hefner, 41, of Gray County, were arrested charged with the murder of Crabtree and preliminary hearing was announced for this morning. Hefner had not made a statement last night according to reports, but Thompson denied any connection with the affair. He said, in his statement that Hefner knocked Crabtree unconscious with his fist. Thompson and Crabtree have been partners in a herd of beef cattle.

Crabtree is survived by his widow, and a daughter, Mrs. Buck Ozier, of Panhandle, also by his mother, a resident of Amarillo, and five sisters.

Funeral arrangements had not been made last night.

Remarkable Ability To Pay Shown By Members Farm Loan Association

Members of the Floydada National Farm Loan Association, whose semi-annual interest and amortization payments have come due within the past two weeks, have shown a remarkable ability to pay, according to Jas. K. Green, secretary of the association, who pointed out that payments have been almost normal. Total interest and amortization payments due on November 1 were about $23,500.

"This association, and for that matter, no association in West Texas, has had no foreclosure since the organization was begun immediately following the establishment of the Federal Land Bank system, a fact in which all members take great pride, and every member is doing his very best to keep up on his personal business point of view but also as a matter of pride for this section," Mr. Green said this week.

"The members of this association along with their neighbors, have taken a lot of punishment in the past three years in particular, but without exception are still in there fighting, sure that the breaks are going to come our way sooner or later."

Plan Local Red Cross Drive To Open Monday

Local solicitation for memberships in the Red Cross in connection with the annual national campaign which will be held this year from November 11 to 27, inclusive, will be conducted Monday in an effort to reach as near the 700 quota set for Floyd County as possible, it was announced this morning by Lon M. Davis, chairman of the County Council of the Red Cross.

Present plans call for a meeting of the council this afternoon to arrange for the appointment of four or five teams to make the local drive and complete it Monday. But-tons will be given those buying memberships costing $1 and business firms will be given stickers for their windows or cars. Fifty per cent of the funds taken in will remain here for taking care of local needs and the other 50 per cent will go to the national fund for carrying on the relief work and aid by the Red Cross.

Texas Utilities Makes Power Rate Reduction

A substantial reduction in electrical rates for power use is announced this week by the Texas Utilities Company in a letter received by S. M. Cole, local manager, from Judge I. R. Kelso, president of the company. The reduction is equal to approximately fifteen per cent of the former rate, according to Mr. Cole. The letter from Judge Kelso states that the new schedule of rates are effective as to power bills covering October service.

The letter from Judge Kelso, setting out the new schedule of electrical and power rates, is given on another page of The Hesperian.

Mr. Cole stated Monday that the new schedule of rates is the sixth reduction in rates made by the Texas Utilities Company within three years. Mr. Cole has been manager of the local office for the past three years. The six reductions include two on power rates, two on lighting and two on heating and refrigeration.

Less Than 1,000 Votes Cast In Floyd County In Election Tuesday

Two Out of Nine Boxes Officially Reported Give Talbot Majority Over Sterling.

Less than 1,000 votes were cast in Floyd County in the general election held Tuesday of this week, it appears from the tabulations made Wednesday night from official reports to the county clerk from nine out of nineteen boxes, including South Floydada and both Lockney boxes. The total registered in these nine boxes was slightly more than 500 votes. Including the vote of North Floydada, unofficially obtained, the vote was still under the 600 mark.

The returns in the county clerk's office last night indicated there were no upsets in any of the local or district races, all Democratic nominees getting practically the solid strength in the respective boxes. In the state races, however, there developed a marked dissatisfaction for the Democratic nominee for governor in at least two boxes, where Col. Talbot, the Republican nominee, got a majority over Ross S. Sterling. These two boxes were East Lockney and Cedar. At East Lockney the vote for Sterling was 25, and for Talbot 43. At Cedar the vote was Sterling 4, Talbot 11.

Tabulations made on the governor's race in the county as a whole, counting the nine boxes officially in and the North Floydada box unofficially reported, show a total of 444 for Sterling and 149 for Talbot. Talbot ran far ahead of the rest of the Republican ballot.

All Amendments Lead While it is problematical whether all the proposed amendments to the constitution carried in the county, it seems safe to say that three of them did carry in the county. However, heavy majorities, relatively speaking, were registered against them in the rural boxes reporting up to Wednesday and it seems safe to assume that about the same ratios will prevail in the other ten boxes to report. If the ratios hold good in the other boxes, it will mean that the Supreme Court amendment has carried, along with the University Lands Tax amendment, and the University Investment amendment. The amendments affecting the legislative salaries and the legislative term have lost probably, in the county.

The vote of the ten boxes officially and unofficially reported, give the following totals on the amendments: Supreme Court: For 329, against 115; University Lands Tax: For 323, against 119; Legislative salaries: For 237, against 134; Legislative term: For 250, against 150; University Funds investment: For 277, against 145.

'We Have Changed All That' Is New Serial

The prologue and opening chapter of The Hesperian's new serial, following "The Crippled Lady of Peribonka" which ends this week, will appear next Thursday, opening up an adventurous and intense drama of the Russian Revolution, the overthrow of the old Czaristic regime and the beginning of the rule of the Bolsheviks. Its title is "We Have Changed All That," and Herbert Quick, collaborating with a Russian woman, Elena Stepanoff MacMahan, is the author.

The story originally appeared as a Bobbs-Merrill Company book and is a copyright. It is a romance, a love story that transcribes conditions during the reign of terror in Russia and transcribes actual conditions as seen by a Russian in the midst of it and presented in the best manner of one of America's most-liked novelists.

Turkey Dressing Plant To Be Operated Again In Floydada This Fall

Dealers Expect Normal Crop of National Bird in This Area This Season.

Floydada and Floyd County people will have the benefit of the labor that will be needed to dress out a large per cent of the turkey crop of this section during the Thanksgiving and Christmas marketing season. An announcement made this week by J. V. Jones of the Floydada Poultry & Egg Company said that plans are now being made to dress out all the turkeys that come into their plant, and that home labor will be used in the work.

This employment will distribute some $1500 to $2,500 in labor for people in this area, it is estimated, depending on the percentage of the crop of the area that is handled through the plant.

That the crop, in numbers, is about normal, although not as big as last year in this county, is the estimate of dealers and growers here. Last year's crop was a bigger one than usual. Taking the state as a whole, it is the belief that the crop will be about ten per cent less than last year.

One thing turkey growers must watch closely this season, is the matter of grades. The trade is becoming more exacting in this respect—dealers and turkey growers who are in the know, declare. These point out that it will pay to feed mash or other fattening feed during the few remaining days before the Thanksgiving market opens and to see that their turkeys get the necessary weight on them to be classed as Number Ones. The cool days and frosty nights of the past few days are a tremendous aid in the fattening process, if growers will put the fattening feed to their birds, J. D. Christian said the first of the week.

Ample facilities are going to be available to dress turkeys here, and the plant this year will be able to care for all offerings, J. V. Jones feels sure. Several local dealers will be in the market for turkeys and assurance of a market in line with the rest of the panhandle area has been given.

Every car of turkeys dressed and cooled in Floydada, represents something like $300 in labor and supplies remaining here that would otherwise go out of the country, Mr. Jones said.

The opening prices for the Thanksgiving market appear in the market quotations of The Hesperian this week.

Master Farmers Honor Floydada School Boy

Wayne Finley Presented Future Farmer Certificate of Merit For Work in A. & M. Contest.

Wayne Finley, a student in the Floydada High School, has been awarded a Future Farmer Certificate of Merit for work done last year in the Farm Shop division of the Vocational Agriculture Department. He represented the local high school in the Annual Vocational Agriculture Judging Contests held at A. & M. College last spring, and because of the good work that he did during the Farm Shop state-wide contest, the certificate has been presented by the Extension Service of the College.

In the contest last Spring, 171 boys took part, and only seven were awarded certificates from the Farm Shop division. The award was made when the Future Farmers of Texas met on October 25, in their annual meeting during the State Fair at Dallas. The certificate was presented at a special chapel program at the high school this week.

O. T. Williams is instructor of Vocational Agriculture in the Floydada High School.

Fletcher Curry, in a recent letter from McCamey, orders The Hesperian sent to him there. He has been manager of the Bender Hotel in McCamey since the first of the year.

Floydada and Lockney Gridsters Clash on Armistice; Turkey Today

Local Grid Fans Have Full Menu With Games Today and Nov. 11.

Two big football games within five days, one a conference game with Floydada's ancient rivals, the Lockney Longhorns, and the other with the dark horse of the district, the Turkey Turks, looms up on the menu to be served local fans of the gridiron during the next week. Floydada High School's Whirlwinds will see action, and plenty of it; first at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon when they meet the Turks on the local grid, and again at the same hour on next Tuesday at Lockney when they meet the Longhorns in their annual Armistice Day battle.

Turkey Has Strong Crew Of the two games on the well-filled schedule, the Lockney encounter promises to be the biggest thriller. In fact, it is predicted to be one of the snappiest games the Whirlwinds will play this season. But today's game with the Turkey Turks also promises to be anything but a sluggish affair. The little city of Turkey has surprised grid dopsters of the South Plains, and their gridsters, instead of being the under-dogs, have become the dark horse in their division, although they have already been eliminated from the championship race.

"Heavy, heavy, hangs over the Whirlwinds' heads," for the Turks will be the heaviest team that the local laddies have been stacked up against this season. Their monstrous line-up includes a 185 pound full back, a 185 guard and a 200 pound tackle. If the Windies succeed in breaking through such a line, they will do so through brainwork and trick plays, and not through brutal strength.

A demonstration of what the Turks have done to other teams this season has been carried out by only two defeats. They were badly beaten by the Clarendon eleven, but the Turks surprised the grid world when they held the strong Memphis crew to a 25 to 27 score. Such opposition against the Whirlwinds today may have them believing that they have had too much "Turkey Meat" before the day has ended.

Conference Game With Lockney For three solid weeks, the Floydada Whirlwinds and the Lockney Longhorns have been whetting their teeth in preparation for the Armistice Day game. The rivalry has waxed hotter each day during the past week, until it is believed that the annual grid battle this year will be stronger in rivalry than in a number of years.

The Armistice Day game will decide the winner in this division of District Two, with the victors en-

Turkey Markets Opens In Section At 12 Cents

The turkey market for Thanksgiving opened this morning at 12 cents for Number One turkeys, according to local dealers, who posted the price, although not expecting a heavy movement of the birds at this time.

While some turkeys are expected to move at this price, the fact that quite a large percent of the birds are yet to be finished and the low price together are sure to make the early sales light, it is thought. Dealers were hopeful of a 15 cent market for the opening.

W. E. BRITTAIN WORKS WHERE GOODYEAR'S NEW AIRSHIP IS BEING BUILT

The largest building in the world having no interior supports, columns or posts of any kind, is that of the Goodyear Rubber Company's Zep-pelin dock at Akron, Ohio, where the largest airship in the world's history is under construction for the U. S. Navy.

The huge airship is being constructed in the building at this time, and a former Floydada boy is in the midst of the activity. He is W. E. Brittain, a son of Rev. and Mrs. G. I. Brittain, of Plainview. He is superintendent of the large building, construction of which was recently completed.

Recently he sent pictures of the famous building to his parents, and gives an idea of the immensity of the project the Goodyear Company is working out in conjunction with the U. S. Navy. The building itself, he says, covers eight and one-half acres. It is 1200 feet long, 325 feet wide and 219 feet high.

Credit Corporation At Lockney Giving Credit To Farmers

Artie Baker, Organizer, Says New Company Meets Demands of Intermediate Credit Bank.

The First National Company at Lockney, recently completed into a corporation, meeting the requirements of the Intermediate Credit Bank is receiving applications and making loans under the plan of the government for such banks already, according to Artie Baker, president of the company, who organized the bank with an authorized capital last spring of $25,000, of which amount $12,500 has been paid in.

The corporation formed is, so far as known, the first in this section ready to take care of the loans of farmers under the plan devised by the Intermediate Credit Bank, caring for loans on a basis of six per cent. One-half of the capital stock of the company is required to be invested in government bonds and left with the Intermediate Credit Bank as security on loans made.

A statement relative to the plans and mode of operation of the new financial institution, which is one making loans together, not being authorized to receive deposits, was given out in Floydada Tuesday afternoon by Mr. Baker on the occasion of a visit here. In it he said in part:

"In pursuing the plan, expressed in a recent statement for the improvement of the economic condition of our territory, I found that in order to organize an Agricultural Credit Corporation that it would necessitate a good deal of time and effort, of the citizens to raise the funds, for the capital for the operation of such a company, can and will be successful, we, the owners of the First National Company, a corporation organized this summer, by the First National Bank, have decided to use the present charter of the First National Company, and operate said company as an agricultural corporation, in accordance with the re-licensing privilege offered by the Intermediate Credit Bank. We have accordingly prepared ourselves to handle and assist this trade area as an agricultural corporation, and we are now making agricultural loans, and in doing so, we will need to increase our capital paid in from $12,500 to $25,000. We are therefore, using the capital now paid in as a basis of set up corporation, and will permit the use of said capital as such, and will assist further in the operation of the said company, by paying in the balance of said capital necessary when needed, and in doing this we believe that we are going a good way to get in operation such a needed corporation, for this trade territory.

"In our efforts to place quickly into operation the much needed credit for this community, we feel that by so placing this company to be now able to do business, that we are therefore able to handle the worthy secured needs of the community, without placing our banks on an extended basis, by fixing the company so that it may handle the needs of the community.

"The First National Company was chartered for a $25,000.00 capital with $12,500.00 paid, all of which has been paid in and invested in loans secured by real estate, and all of which are bearing 8% to 10% interest. All loans made for agricultural production will be made at 6% interest, and in turn rediscouted to the Intermediate bank at 4%, making a profit of 2% on each loan, for the expense of this company, in handling farm production credit, I am expecting the borrower in borrowing his money to pay the company a reasonable fee, for making the loan, preparing the mortgage, and all recording and county clerk fees, for abstract of mortgage record, and a reasonable fee for inspection, in this way, the expenses of the operating and making the loan, will be paid by the borrower. The company with the $25,000.00 stock paid in will have a borrowing capacity with the Intermediate Bank of the sum of 6 to 7 times the capital, and in no instance more than ten times the said capital, in this way, we will be and should be able to be very helpful to this community."

The new institution has made loans already in excess of forty thousand dollars. Loans made by it bear maturity dates of six to twelve months.

The Crippled Lady of Peribonka

By James Oliver Curwood

WNU Service
(©, 1929, Doubleday
Doran & Co., Inc.)

SYNOPSIS

CHAPTER I.—Introducing some of the people of the pretty little French-Canadian village of Peribonka, particularly the Crippled Lady, idol of the simple inhabitants, and heroine of an epic destined to live long in the village annals.

CHAPTER II.—How the romance of Molly Bryant, sister of the great Indian chief, Joseph Bryant, and Sir William Johnson, in pre-Revolutionary days, comes down to today with the birth of a son, Paul, to Molly Kirke, wife of a powerful New York financier, and her death when Paul is thirteen years old. Molly Kirke was a descendant of Molly Bryant, and her boy has many of the Indian characteristics. At thirty-two Paul marries Claire Durand, daughter of his father's business partner. He is in charge of an immense engineering work on the Mistassini river, near Peribonka, which his millionaire father has undertaken, but his Indian blood deplores the destruction of the wilderness, and his thoughts are more of Carla Haldan—not then the Crippled Lady—than of his work.

CHAPTER III.—Paul's wife is in Europe, she having no inclination to live in "those horrible woods." He comes to see in Carla, daughter of a central European immigrant, with her devotion to her invalid mother and her work of educating the village children, his ideal of womanhood.

CHAPTER IV.—Paul writes to his wife, urging her to join him, though Carla is the inspiration of the letter. Later that evening, passing the Haldan, long a hopeless invalid, is ing. He enters the cottage. Mrs. Haldan, long a hopeless invalid, is dead, Paul's efforts to comfort Carla, he feels, bring them closer together.

CHAPTER V.—Claire announces her intention of joining Paul on the Mistassini in a short time. She also writes to Carlan, of whom she has heard from Paul, a letter of kindly sympathy, on the death of her mother.

CHAPTER VI.—Paul goes to Quebec to meet Claire, and brings her to his temporary home. Though she is apparently glad to be with him, and evinces warm friendship for Carla and Paul's other friends, he feels she is only there because she feels it her duty. She is not really happy. He becomes aware of a gulf between him and his wife.

CHAPTER VII.—Paul, Claire, Carla, and two friends make a luncheon party to visit the "Big Gorge" of the Mistassini, an appallingly swift current which disappears in a mountain side. Current belief is that anything dropped into it is never seen again. In sport they cast into the stream pieces of wood, and other objects, watching them disappear. Finally they carry a large log to the edge of the rushing water. As they toss it over it upends, striking Paul and throwing him into the stream. The two women with whom Paul's life is entwined see him go to what they are sure is certain death. One asks the other if she is going with him. Receiving no answer, she announces, "Then—I am!" and springs into the water.

CHAPTER VIII.—Paul sees the action, and believes the woman is Claire. Clinging to a rock, which temporarily checks his rush to death he recognizes Carla as the water brings her nearer. He clutches her, but the two are carried onward. Then, a miracle! Paul's feet touch solid earth. He drags himself, with the girl, into a subterranean cave.

CHAPTER IX.—Fully satisfied there is no chance of escape, and that for their few remaining hours they are in a world of their own, Paul and Carla reach a perfect understanding as to their mutual love.

CHAPTER X.—A frantic search for the bodies of the two begins, no one believing they could have escaped death. Paul, with matches he has in a waterproof box, builds a fire of driftwood, beside which he leaves Carla. Devising a torch to light his way, he begins what he feels is a hopeless exploration of the cave.

CHAPTER XI.—Continuing his search, on the second day of their imprisonment, Paul climbs a wall of rock, groping toward a tiny shaft of light he has seen. Almost unbelievably, he finds there is a possibility of escape. He returns to Carla and tells her. The pair, their joy in the thought of returning to the world tempered by the knowledge that it means their separation, make their way to the spot. Leaving Carla, Paul climbs toward the light. The girl, anxious to share danger with him, essays to follow him.

CHAPTER XII.—Paul above, hears the crash of falling rocks. Descending, he finds Carla buried in debris, but alive. Almost insane, he tears her from the mass and with her in his arms makes his way to a party of searchers. Carla is found to be paralyzed from the waist down, but will live. Claire, who has left for New York, is notified. She sends expressions of happiness to both Paul and Carla, and asks Paul to come to her. Carla insists he go at once. He leaves torn with conflicting emotions, loving Carla and bound to Claire.

CHAPTER XIII.—Claire's reception puzzles Paul, until she confesses that in her heart she has never really loved him but had no thought of separation until she had seen Carla and understood the love existing between the girl and Paul. To Claire's direct question, Paul admits he loves Carla. Claire gives him a letter, asking him to leave her for a time and read the missive when he is alone. He does so. In it Claire tells him the truth, which she has been unable to speak. She has long loved Jimmy Ennerdale, famous sculptor, and knows he returns her affection. The situation which has arisen between Carla and Paul has made it possible to tell her husband the truth. He admits to his wife that he welcomes the freedom offered him, but when he goes to see her he finds a note saying she has gone to Carla. "Only a woman can make another woman—like Carla—understand."

CHAPTER XIV

And here we find ourselves where we began, with the lovely Crippled Lady on her porch at Peribonka.

There have been changes since the Crippled Lady was borne from the hospital to the place, near her mother, where she wants to live. The pit is no longer a pit, but a might force driving its energy in unending streams through high-tension wires. The Mistassini may rumble and roar and growl, but it is a slave, securely shackled, and will probably go on laboring for its human masters for all time. This change—or development—was expected, anticipated by experts almost to the day and hour. But others were not. The world, for instance, accepting a very small corner of it as the whole, could not understand why a man like Paul Kirke should deliberately sever himself from the huge prestige and wealth built by his father's success, and, as the story went, bear away with him all his personal possessions in a trunk and a handbag. It could understand, quite easily, how a husband and wife might end their material relationship, but it was puzzled and shocked that a woman like Claire Kirke should throw herself away, soon afterwards, on a stoop-shouldered, prematurely ageing man who was possessed of nothing on earth but an admirable passion for shaping things out of marble.

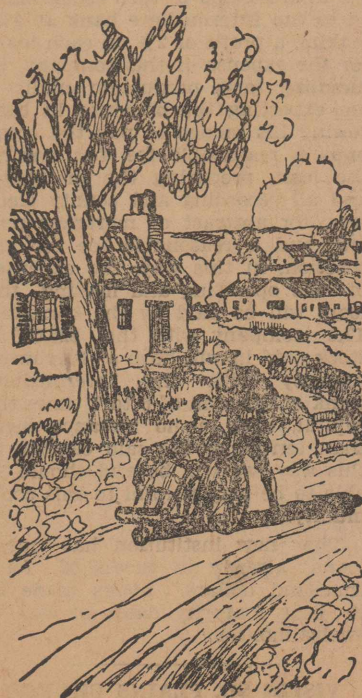

Carla always sits on her porch so that she is looking up the river toward the north. Paul is there, working out a part of the dream which absorbs them both. Thirty miles beyond the green and blue-black edge of wilderness which she can see Paul has a timber concession, and fifteen men working with him, where a little while before he might have had fifteen thousand. But these fifteen men, and what they are planning to do with the concession, mean more to Paul and Carla than all the millions in the world.

"It is not necessary to slaughter Nature, or even harm her, in order to possess for ourselves some of her products," Paul says in a paper he is writing for a pulp-wood journal. "There is such a thing as harvesting lumber and having a better forest each year instead of a diminished one. Nature wants to fraternize with us, and woe ill, when we cease to sack and plunder her like vandals."

Next year the fifteen men will be increased to fifty, but now camps are being built and just enough timber harvested to cover the expense of the work. Paul labors with his ax, along with the others, from morning until night.

Every Friday he comes down the river to Carla. Carla knows that she is going to get strong and well. This mental attitude, her sureness and optimism, together with her great happiness, has overcome the doubt of physicians. She is beginning to stand a little, with Paul's arm about her, and their two precious days a week together are filled with wonderful plans of what she is going to do in another year. Wherever Paul is, there she will also be. That is the point from which they always start in building their castles.

No shadow is cast over their happiness because Carla cannot walk. Paul wheels her about the village in the big chair, and not a cottage is missed in their visits. They go as far as the little picturesque old cheese factory and down the hill to the still older wharf where the boat comes in from across the lake. Doctor Derwent, who is at Mistassini, has allowed Carla to go twice

No Shadow is Cast Over Their Happiness Because Carla Cannot Walk. She goes to the monastery, in Paul's launch, and if October is fine she will make her first trip to his concession during that month. Paul takes her over the soft, sandy roads to the edge of the blueberry plains in a buggy, and then carries her in his arms to a place where she can help him pick fruit for their Sunday dinner. He will never give up carrying her like that, he says, even when she is strong again.

Peribonka has grown happier with them. Even Maria Chapdelaine is younger, and Samuel has forgotten his financial losses.

So Carla wrote to Claire: "It is glorious here. I love September."

[THE END.]

Floydada Boys Making Oklahoma Grid Stars

Howard Welborn and Dave Luttrall, two Floydada boys who are attending Cameron A. & M. College at Lawton, Okla., are making reputations as football stars according to reports reaching here. Both played in a recent game between the Aggies and the Eastern Oklahoma Junior College which was won by the Cameron team 49 to 6. Welborn went into the game just before the second quarter ended and played the last half. Luttrall was sent in during the last quarter.

In a newspaper account of the game the following comment was made: "Welborn goes in for Hatch and immediately rips off 15 yards around left end. He then races 12

"GREASING" VS. GREASING SERVICE

There is more to a proper Greasing Service than just a car "Greasing" for your automobile; more than just putting the pressure to the Alemite Cups.

HOW to grease; THE KIND of grease to use on different bearings; and the AMOUNT of grease count. There are bearings on your car where TOO MUCH GREASE will do as much damage as NOT ENOUGH. YOU may not know these facts, but WE do. The answer to these questions can be found in our work shop where our men know. Let us tell you about them the next time you bring your car down-town, and save yourself money and possible grievous experience.

Both boys are making good grades in their studies. They are taking pre-medical work.

J. G. Wood left the first of the week for Norman, Oklahoma, where he will take charge of an insurance agency, recently acquired by him.

Pale and Weak

"I THINK Cardui is a wonderful medicine, for I improved greatly after taking it," says Mrs. A. W. English, of R. F. D. 4, Roanoke, Va. "When I was just a girl of 13, my mother gave this medicine to me, and it did me a great deal of good. I was weak and run-down. After I had taken Cardui awhile, I felt much better.

"In 1924, my health was poor. I felt miserable, and hadn't enough strength to do my housework. It took all my willpower to keep up. I was pale and weak.

"I got Cardui again and took it. My improvement was wonderful. I can recommend Cardui to others, for my health was so much better after I had taken a course of the Cardui Home Treatment."

CHURCHES

FIRST METHODIST CHURCH

G. T. Palmer, Pastor
The attendance at all the services of the church last Sunday was very gratifying. Also the attendance of the two Missionary Societies on Monday was very encouraging. In fact we come to the close of the conference year with all the departments of the church better organized and doing better work than ever before. And again we would express our very great gratitude for the achievements of the past twelve months, and because of a fine spirit of loyalty and co-operation the pastor of the church will be permitted to carry up to the meeting of the Annual Conference a report which indicates progress in all the departments of the church. With a united earnest effort we should be able to meet all the obligations of the church, and to report everything paid in full for the year.

Our program for the coming Sunday will be as follows:
Sunday School 9:45 a. m.
Preaching by the pastor at 11:00 a. m. and 7:15 p. m.
Three Epworth Leagues meet 6:30 p. m.
You are cordially invited to worship at the Methodist Church.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

Dick O'Brien, Pastor
For some unaccountable reason our Sunday school attendance was off last Sunday. We fell a little below the 400 mark for the first time in several Sundays. We hope this will not occur again. However our B. Y. P. U. attendance was good, and the house was full for both preaching services.

We are beginning a series of Sunday night sermons on the life of Christ. We hope to make this series both interesting and helpful to those who attend our Sunday night services. We will follow the book of Mark mainly in these studies. We would be glad to have you come with us regularly, and let us see how much good we can derive from such a program.

This week a number of classes from the B. Y. P. U.'s are taking special courses. The class which we are teaching is studying, "The Meaning of Church Membership." Other classes are studying the manuals for the different ages.

Our services will follow the usual schedule next Sunday if present plans carry. You are welcome always to worship with us at the Baptist church.

FLOYDADA METHODIST CIRCUIT Dougherty Church.

The last services for this conference year will be held at Dougherty, Sunday November 9. Our Annual Conference will meet at Sweetwater, November 12, at which time the pastor will make a report of the Year's work. In spite of the very short crop and even shorter prices for farm products I hope every Loin lamb chops cut double thickness—1½ to 2 inches thick—are particularly juicy and delicious when carefully cooked by searing on the outside and finishing under a reduced flame. They may be boned and rolled in strips of bacon before broiling under direct flame, over coals, or in a sizzling hot skillet.

ENCOURAGE THE PULLEY

The pullets in the poultry can be "egged" on to increase production in the winter by good housing conditions and regular feeding. Artificial lights may also be used, but the limit should usually be a 12-hour working day, and the length of day should be very gradually worked up to this point. Green feed in the ration tends to increase their appetites and to make them eat more mash. Remember that a good ration for laying stock should include scratch grains and a mash, meat food, green food, mineral food, grit, and drink. It is a good plan to give layers a daily supply of sprouted oats in the winter. The morning feed should be a light one so that the hens will be kept scratching most of the morning; and the evening feed of scratch grain should be sufficient to have the birds go to roost with full crops. The best material for the floor litter is wheat or oat straw, about 4 inches deep. Renew the litter when it gets damp and dirty; damp and dirty litter is not conducive to good egg production.

The parent's job in training children in good food habits is only half done when it is well begun. There is always the possibility of the influence of playmates who are allowed to pick and choose what they will eat, or to spend money for sweets and other foods between meals. Good food habits, supervised carefully throughout childhood, make for good nutrition, which is the basis of sound physical development.

Dougherty News

(By Mrs. W. D. Newell)

Where November Got Its Name
November is not a month to rouse the poets' enthusiasm. A time of gloom, of clouds and chilly winds, of bare trees and bleak landscapes, it is often spoken of as the season of death.

The name comes from the Latin, "novem," meaning nine, for November was originally the ninth month of the year. Later when two extra months were added to the year, November became what it is today, the eleventh month, but its name was not changed.—(Consulting Bureau of New Education.)

Holidays for November are: Armistice Day, November 11; Thanksgiving Day, The last Thursday.

Hallow'en Entertainment Big Success.

Practically all the patrons and students of the Dougherty School, met at the school house Friday night, for the purpose of a Hallow'en party and social. Sure! The spooks were there, to the dread and fear of some of the little tots, as well as older ones.

The little "spooks" put on a real entertainment program, which was much appreciated by all present.

After the program the crowd was allowed to visit the various places of the spooks resorts. The "Mystery Room" where the Imps were riding the skeleton of departed people, caused shivers to creep up ones spine.

Then a visit to "Hades" where we passed thru a dimly lighted tunnel which was littered with bones of departed animals. At one place in this tunnel we were allowed to feel, and even eat, the remains of unfortunate victims of Hades. True, some of us visitors could not keep from having a creeping feeling along the line of progress, but decided we had as well get our share of "eye balls" before our own were eaten. (Some thought they were peeled grapes) but when you thought otherwise very few partook of the dainty edible.

The "dissected cat," a warning to all stray cats in Dougherty, was on exhibition. The lovers of cats were allowed to pet and caress the different parts of poor old Tabby.

The committees were very fortunate in securing two gypsy fortune tellers for the occasion and now practically all the young people in and around town, know just what "fate" has planned for them.

In connection with the other "dens" were a booth for "men only" and a "swimming Match between two girls."

Last on the program the guests were invited to the reception room, which was beautifully decorated with flowers, crepe paper, jack o' lanterns and wiches, where they were served hot coffee, hot chocolate and cake. There were near 250 present for this gala affair.

Professor Blankenship and the lady teachers wish to thank all the patrons who responded so heartily to the enjoyment of this occasion. The cooperation was even better than expected.

Chasing Wolf With Bare Hands Latest Style In Floyd Co.

If chasing wolves is one of your pastimes and you want to keep abreast with the times, you'll want to take your next coyote with bare hands.

This kind of a precedent was set Tuesday morning of this week by Fred Taylor, of the Taylor Hatchery, who says it was done easily, although the coyote taken was full-grown.

It was early in the morning, as he travelled south across Blanco Canyon at the Joe Day Crossing, when Mr. Wolf loomed up in the road in front of his car. Mr. Taylor gave his car the gas and gave the wolf an uphill chase, overtaking him in some 200 yards. The car wheel struck the animal and stunned him. As the wolf rested against a hog-proof wire fence along the right-of-way he was taken in tow.

"I forgot about the danger of snapping vice-like jaws as I tackled the coyote," Fred said in telling of his little adventure Tuesday night. "And jumped right on him. He was not unconscious but apparently out of breath from the impact of the car wheel."

He had the wolf in captivity Tuesday night and the animal was not injured apparently. Now, the thing that is bothering Mr. Taylor is what to do with his prize except just to take him out and slay him.

CITY BOARD EQUALIZATION MAKES FEW VALUE CHANGES

Few changes were made in the valuations of city property by the Board of Equalization, which sat during the past week, and set the dates for hearings on what changes were made for November 15.

In several instances reductions were made in the valuations for city taxes, and in others, in order to make equalizations, the renditions values are being raised.

Members of the board estimated that on account of the number of buildings in the city limits constructed after the first of last year, the total valuations in the city would be about the same as for last year.

Real Stocks of Merchandise Greet Shoppers in Floydada

With downward trend in the markets for some months which have necessitated the mark-down of merchandise in the Floydada retail stores and shops, followed by untoward conditions over the whole country this fall, no more pronounced in Floyd County than in a wide scope of country throughout the Mississippi Valley area, of course, but calculated to slow down business, Floydada merchants have been giving particular attention to moving merchandise during the past month.

Real Stocks Offered

While the efforts of Floydada merchants are not more pronounced in this respect than are those of merchants all over the state, one respect in which the stocks here do offer a pronounced interest to people of Floyd and adjoining counties is that of the completeness of the stocks and their freshness. People who come to Floydada to attend the sales which are being offered at this time will find stocks that are the equal of the type of the advertising put out, real stocks, to back the statements being made. All over town this is true and the shopper who wishes to obtain bargains after a drive of some miles and hopes not to be disappointed in finding an ample array of materials or goods from which to choose will not be disappointed here.

These facts are contributing to make Floydada one of the biggest and best retail centers in the south plains area, and shoppers will find the fall plans of the merchants of Floydada are to care for them with the usual big stocks and wide variety of selections from which to choose.

Planning For Holidays

Right now, of course, Floydada merchants are stressing purchases of necessities for the fall and winter season, a most reasonable suggestion with the frosts and the first northers of the year. But they are also preparing for the holiday season in a big way. Perhaps there has not been a holiday season for several years past for which Floydada retailers have made more thorough advance preparation than the one just around the corner. Both the Thanksgiving and the Christmas seasons are going to find Floydada stores brimming over with useful and novel suggestions. The movement of merchandise at this time is partially in preparation for these selling events of the near future.

If you plan to do any buying this fall or winter, now is a good time to do your early purchases in Floydada, we suggest. In all good faith, we believe the values you will find here are bargains, every store vying to make offerings attractive enough to interest the shoppers of this area. Certainly, the values represent a heavy reduction in costs as compared with the same time last year and a reduction of almost fifty per cent under the price levels of two years ago.

Try the value of your dollars now, and in Floydada. Preparation here for the wide-spread, national campaign for increased retail activities has been made by mercantile es-

ANDREWS WARD BREEZES LOSE PLAINVIEW GAME

The Andrews Ward Breezes ran into competition that was a little too stiff for them when they took on the Junior Highs at Plainview last Thursday, and as a result took a 35 to 0 trimming.

The lads from the local school put up a good scrappy game but were too heavily outweighed to do any scoring, it was said.

Two Premium Lists Planned For Poultry Showings At Slaton

Slaton, Nov. 4.—An outstanding feature of the first annual Texas Panhandle-Plains Poultry Show, to be held in Slaton December 10, 11 and 12, will be that separate lists of premiums will be offered on breed types and production birds, it is announced by Taylor White, of Tahoka, president of the poultry association, and L. A. Wilson, Slaton, manager of the show. Tom Hopper of the Center community and Olin S. Miller, also of Center, are members of the board of directors and will attend.

"This arrangement will appeal both to the poultry fancier and to the grower who pays more attention to production than to fine fowls," President White said.

One premium list will apply strictly to breed types, in which awards will be made according to standard rules of the American Poultry Association, while a second premium list will apply to the other group. Entries in the production classes will consist of flocks, eight females and one male constituting a flock.

Detailed plans for the show are being completed rapidly. Mr. White announced. He said much interest in the exhibition is being shown by poultrymen and farmers of the Panhandle-Plains section, which includes the same 54 counties that are included in the annual dairy show at Plainview. The regional poultry organization was formed last August. Slaton is the permanent home of the show.

Distribution of the show catalog and premium lists will begin within a few days, it was announced by L. A. Wilson, show manager. Many inquiries for catalogs are being received. Competitive exhibits will not be accepted from outside the 54 counties.

The trouble with many arguments is that they are never carried to a conclusion.—The American Magazine.

Whirlwinds Upset Dope Bucket With 25 To 6 Win Over Canyon Gridsters

Murray Runs 90 Yards For Touchdown Friday

Eagles Surprised by Spectacular Plays of Local Lads Here Last Week.

For at least two hours last Friday afternoon, Floydada football fans had visions of a district crown snapped out of a clear blue sky by Coach Barksdale's Whirlwind eleven when they upset all dope and even surprised themselves with a 25 to 6 victory over the Canyon Eagles. An encounter that was looked upon as "a tough battle" turned out to be an exhibition of spectacular plays by every one of Floydada's gridsters, with the Eagles far in the background. And local fans were privileged to see such a game on their own gridiron—and what a game!

Murray Is Hero Of Day

Football history was made Friday when "Little" Floyd Murray who received a kick-off on his own 10 yard line and raced down the grid for ninety yards for a touchdown. A play that is made only once in many seasons by a grid team, and one that probably will not be equalled this season in all of District One made "Little" Murray the hero of the day, not only in the eyes of local grid fans, but also in the eyes of all who shall read of this spectacular run.

All the adjectives in the English language cannot describe the enthusiasm and wonder that swept the side-lines as Murray trotted down the field, counting off the chalk lines for ninety yards. For thirty yards he had perfect interference; for thirty yards he switched and swayed through a broken field, stiff-arming his way goalward; and for thirty yards he laughed over his shoulder at the lads left in the wake of his run. The side-lines moved like a wall to mid-field as he neared the goal line.

Murray's run even surpassed such a play made by "Steve" Marshall, who is now "setting the world afire" on the Simmons University squad, who in 1927 raced away for 85 yards for a touchdown on a kick-off. Local fans do not remember such a play since the days of "ancient" football when anything could happen at anytime.

Although Murray's play was the high-spot of the game, it was only one of the five touchdowns of the day. Floydada's first counter came in the first quarter as the result of a perfect 20 yard pass from Goltly to Stephenson, who trotted for the chalk line. The second touchdown was also netted by a beautiful 25 yard pass from Murray to Heald. Heald also tallied the first counter in the first of the fourth period after a series of long runs, passes and almost perfect blocking by Welch and Murray beat perfect interference and A-1 work. Followed close on the heels of this counter, came Murray's epoch-making run for ninety yards for a touchdown. Canyon's first attempt at the kick-off was "rizzled" the pigskin hardly passing the fifty yard line. After considerable argument, the ball was placed on Canyon's 40 yard line for the second try for the kick-off. Murray's run netted the last touchdown of the day in the last period. Only one try for extra point was successful, and that "after the first touchdown."

Good Playing Throughout

Canyon's lone score was made in the last quarter, when the Eagles broke through with a bombardment of passes, completing three out of six attempted during the quarter, and a last-minute rally of line plays and end runs. Their passing machinery took action between Strain, quarter, and Middleton, end. Two such passes of almost twenty yards each placed the ball to within three yards of the goal line and Wooten full, toted the ball across. Their try for extra point was unsuccessful.

To compare the two squads was an easy matter, for the Whirlwind buddies had the boys from the Palisades badly out-classed. Floydada stacked up fourteen first downs against six by the Eagles. Floydada punted only three times for a total of 129 yards or an average of 43 yards, while Canyon punted six times for a total of 203 yards, or an average of approximately 34 yards. The Whirlwinds completed five out of eight passes attempted and the Eagles completed three out of eight attempted. Canyon drew a total of fifteen yards in penalties, while the local lads drew a total of 35 yards in penalties, including one 15 yard and one 10 yard penalty.

Too often the action of the lines is unobserved and unpraised by the side-lines, but not so with last week's encounter here. Chester deCordova, captain of the Whirlwinds, is declared to have played his best game Friday. Chester got more tackles than any other man on the Whirlwind line-up and not once did he allow his man at guard get through. Beginning on the right end, Lloyd Murray, Tom Deen and Stovall need praise for their work, and with deCordova on the left, and McLaughlin and Stephenson on the right, the center, Goltly showed in a better light last week than in the past and Welch measured up to his past records and possibly surpassed them. Floyd Murray and Heald, of course, were the "big shots" in the backfield, and to them goes credit for the spectacular plays.

Eagles are Good
Floydada may look upon last Friday's game with just pride, since the crew was by no means a combination of "weaklings." Their squad was light but exceptionally fast. Tucker, half, Strain, quarter and Wooten, full, were mighty good on the offensive, while Hardin and Slack, ends, Henson, guard, got some mighty pretty tackles and showed well through the entire encounter. Canyon's entire crew was good, but they were not in the class with the type of playing displayed by the Whirlwinds last week.

An unlimited amount of credit is due Coach Barksdale for the wonderful improvement the Whirlwinds have shown during the past three weeks. Since their encounter with Tulia three weeks ago, they have shown 200 per cent improvement, and Barksdale is still drilling his boys with every notch of care. Their scorching punch is still weak, although it was better than in their game with Paducah. A number of times last Friday they penetrated Canyon's twenty yard zone, but failed to tear through for a touchdown. When the final whistle blew Floydada held the ball on Canyon's eight yard line and with one down and a touchdown to go. One minute more and another six count would have been added to Floydada's score.

Reduction in Electric Power Rates!

A LETTER FROM JUDGE I. R. KELSO:

St. Louis, Mo.,

October 25, 1930.

To the Managers of Texas Utilities Company:-

WITH REFERENCE TO THE FOLLOWING SCHEDULE:
(1) SCHEDULE CP-1 COMMERCIAL POWER (SECONDARY VOLTAGE) 1 METER (NO LIGHTING); (2) SCHEDULE CLP-1 COMMERCIAL LIGHTING AND POWER (SECONDARY VOLTAGE) 1 OR 2 METERS AS REQUIRED (CONTRACT), AND (3) SCHEDULE ILP-1 INDUSTRIAL LIGHT AND POWER (PRIMARY VOLTAGE) 1 METER (CONTRACT).

The purpose of this letter is to call to your attention the facts hereinafter set out in respect to the new or revised schedules above referred to:

That the above mentioned schedules, applicable to the classes of service therein referred to, are effective as to power bills covering October service.

That under Schedule CP-1, the demand charge of $1.00 per month per K. W. connected (figured from manufacturers' name plate rating of all motors installed), entitles the customer to 10 Kilowatt Hours use of energy per month per each K. W. connected.

That under Schedule CLP-1 the demand charge of $2.50 per month for each K. W. of demand, as measured by demand meter, entitles the customer to the use of 25 Kilowatt Hours of energy per month per K. W. of demand.

That under Schedule ILP-1, the demand charge of $2.50 per month for each K. W. of demand, as measured by demand meter, entitles the customer to the use of 35 Kilowatt Hours of energy per month per K. W. of demand.

That Schedule CP-1 being a lower rate applicable to the class of service covered by Schedule OCP-1, automatically cancels said Schedule OCP-1 and entitles customers heretofore billed on Schedule OCP-1 to hereafter be billed on Schedule CP-1.

That the effect of the readjustment of rates in the above mentioned schedules is a material reduction to all consumers now being supplied power service covered by said schedules.

Yours truly,

(Signed) I. R. KELSO,

President, Texas Utilities Company.

Fire Waste
 Amy McRoberts
 The annual loss of fire in the United States represents a closely-built up street, a thousand miles long, with every structure in it ravaged by the destructive element, fire. Picture yourself driving down this terrible street. At every thousand feet you pass the ruins of a building from which an injured person was rescued. Every three-quarters of a mile there is a blackened wreck of a house in which someone was burned to death.

Few persons realize that they are unsafe citizens and dangerous neighbors for not removing fire hazards and safeguarding their homes and places of business against fire.

Few persons also realize that our burning rate has been about nine hundred and fifty dollars per minute; that in recent times the annual fire waste in the United States has equalled one-sixteenth of all the money in circulation.

Over sixty percent of the fires start in the home, which means that a home burns every four minutes. Each day of the year on the average, five schools, five churches, fifteen hotels, one hospital, four warehouses, ninety-six farms, six department stores, two theatres, eight public garages, three printing plants and three dry goods stores are burning.

If all the gold and silver mined in the United States, were dumped into the sea, the loss would be only one half as great as that caused by fire every year.

Few people realize that America's fire loss per capita is five times greater than that of Continental Europe. And why? Because for many years the European countries have been fighting fires before they start.

All the chief causes of fire may be summed up in one word, "carelessness." Fire, by carelessness, destroys some of the most beautiful forests and buildings. "Fire waste" is the most serious result of the destructive element and the purpose of "Fire Prevention Week" is to remind us to be more careful.

Local

Many football fans from Floydada attended the Lubbock-Amarillo game Saturday. Among those students who went were: Gwendolyn Snodgrass, Virginia Welch, Billie Joe Welch, Doc Massie, and David Rutledge. Also Mr. and Mrs. Teague and Mr. and Mrs. Stovall attended the game.

Club Reports

Pep Squad
 The pep squad was at the game Friday. During the half they formed the letters "F" for Floydada and "C" for Canyon. The pep squad kept the boys encouraged by peppy yells. Floydada football fans all agree that the pep squad certainly did their part toward winning the game.

The pep squad is trying to pay for their bleachers. They sold sandwiches at noon Friday at school, and candy and sandwiches at the ball park Friday afternoon during the game. They intend to raise enough money to pay for the bleachers soon.

Current Events Club

The Seventh Period History class had their Current Events Program Friday afternoon at the usual place. Christine Swepston gave an interesting talk on "What Ex-Kings Say." Laverne Jordan gave a talk on "Has the Dead Sea Come to Life?" N. B. Mooney gave some funny jokes; and Annie Laura Martin gave a talk on "Oklahoma City's Field." The Canadian River is in fire on account of the oil burning at the river. The gusher is said to be the largest ever known in the United States.

Girl Reserves

The Senior group of the Girl Reserve met Monday, November 3. The minutes of the last meeting were read, and after the business was finished several songs were sung.

The International Relation Club
 The International Relation Club met October 31 and elected the following officers: Billie Joe Welch—president; Madge Dorsey—Vice-president.

Selma Linder—Secretary-treasurer; Sam Rutledge, Reporter; Marion Head—Sergeant-at-arms. The following committees were appointed: Program committee—Joe Boothe, Lurlyne Clonts and J. D. Moore. A committee to draw up a constitution and by-laws—Selma Linder, Madge Dorsey and Alpha Boothe.

The program Friday was as follows:

"Fortnightly Summary of International Events"—Billie Joe Welch.
 "Dwight Morrow's Successor"—Sam Rutledge.

"Detroit's Employment Plan"—Guy Garrison.

"World Court in Geneva"—Selma Linder.

"Danger Days in Europe"—George Henry.

The club is comprised of the second period 10A History Class. The study of the club this year will be of foreign nations. This is the first time that a club of this kind has been organized in a high school. It is hoped that it will be started permanently for all high schools.

Eagles Blown Away by Force of Hard-Blowing Whirlwinds

The Canyon Eagles were crushed under the mighty offense of the Floydada Whirlwinds last Friday by a score of 25 to 6. The Whirlwinds displayed a wonderful brand of football in this game. The first touchdown came early in the first quarter when Murray tossed Stephenson a beautiful forty yard pass for a touchdown. The last touchdown came in the final quarter when Murray returned the Eagles' kick-off 90 yards for a touchdown.

The Whirlwinds are now in intensive training for the Lockney game to be played on Armistice Day. Comparative scores dope Lockney to beat Floydada two or three touchdowns, but S. M. U. was doped to beat Texas U. two or three touchdowns, too, but they were beat. This dope doesn't have a thing to do with the game. There will be eleven Floydada men on the field Armistice that will put fear into Lockney. We've got to beat Lockney; then we'll go on into the district. Boy, Howdy, we'll all be in Lockney Armistice and we'll be there fighting. I'll predict there'll be 1,000 fans from Floydada there, plus 25 football players.

First Annual Speech Tournament of Panhandle High Schools

At Amarillo, December 12 and 13, the First Annual Speech Tournament of the Panhandle High Schools will be held. There will be debating, oratory, extempore speaking, declamation, dramatic readings, and plays. For prizes there will be school trophies and individual awards. The judges will be members of the faculties of W. T. S. T. C. and Amarillo Junior college. The contestants will be entertained in homes of Amarillo.

We've got a good coach. He is behind his team, and he is fair. He knows football, and he'll be right there in Lockney helping our boys to win.

You Lockney Longhorns had better get set, because we are to dehorn you, ride you and brand you with defeat on Armistice.

Mr. Patty: Mr. Cummings, are the rats bothering you much this year?
 Mr. Cummings: I'll say they are. I got two cats and the rats killed them both.
 Mr. Patty: What did you do then?
 Mr. Cummings: I got a shot-gun.
 Mr. Patty: Did you kill any rats with it?

Mr. Cummings: No, but a rat jumped out of the stove last night and started for the kitchen door.
 Mr. Patty: Why didn't you shoot him?
 Mr. Cummings: He was out of my range.

Mr. Davis: What do you call a man who keeps on talking when people are no longer interested?
 Doc: A teacher.

Mr. Barksdale: Why the rope around your finger?
 Mr. Cummings: My wife put it there so I wouldn't forget to mail a letter.

Mr. B.: And did you mail it?
 Mr. C.: No, she forgot to give it to me.

 Mrs. Snodgrass: No, not if you keep on walking. When I was young, I often went walking in the park at night.

Gwen: And did you keep on walking?
 Mrs. Snodgrass: Hush, girlie—it's time for you to go to bed.

HI-Y DISCUSSES SUNDAY DIVERSIONS AT MEETING

"What Should We Do On Sunday" was the main topic of discussion Tuesday night at the meeting of the Hi-Y at the high school building. Joe Pennington first discussed the subject in a short talk. Carl Marshall opened the meeting with a Scripture reading. "Origin of Hi-Y" was discussed by David Rutledge; "Value of Prayer" was the subject of an address by Buster Smalley.

The meeting was dismissed by a prayer by Superintendent W. E. Patty.

Improvement In Our School

One of the most important improvements that we need in the school is play ground equipment. At noon and recesses you often see girls, mostly large girls, unoccupied. They could use tennis and miniature golf courses while the smaller children need swings.

Another improvement would be a picture show camera for the school room. Our history and geography lessons could be shown and we would remember them so much better.

In our basketball, volley ball, and physical education we need suits. Our library would be much better if we had more books. I am sure the people of the town would be glad to give us a book shower.

Our school is so well equipped I do not think of anything else it needs.

Jokes

John: Why don't you like girls?
 J. R.: They're too biased.
 John: Biased?
 J. R.: Yes, bias this and bias that until I am broke.

Mr. Stovall: And so we find heat expands things, and cold contracts them. Can anyone give an example of this?
 Lon Jr.: Yes sir, the days are longer in the summer.

Miss Belsher: Wilbert, give a sentence using the word 'deceit'.
 Wilbert: I wear pants with patches on de seat.

Melvin: Are you fond of moving pictures, Nell?
 Nell (hopefully): Aye, Melvin.
 Melvin: Then maybe you will help me get half a dozen down out of the attic.

Wilson: H. A., to what class of the animal kingdom do I belong?
 H. A., I don't know, Wilson. Ruth Key says you're an old hen and Emma Louise says you're an old cat.

Junior: I am always ill the night before a journey.
 Jack: Then why don't you go a day earlier?

Sunday School Lesson

THE HONEST DOUBTER

The International Uniform Sunday School Lesson for Nov. 9. Thomas, the Honest Doubter. John 11:14-16; 14:5-8; 20:24-29; 21:1,2.

The topic given for this lesson for the study of young people and adults is "The Value and Peril of Doubt."

That doubt has both its value and its peril is amply illustrated in the life experiences of those who doubt. It is hardly too much to say that there are certain people who should not doubt, not because doubt in itself can always be avoided or because it is necessarily dangerous, but because by disposition or habit they are unwilling to deal with their doubts honestly.

It is one thing to have honest doubts and quite another thing to deal with one's doubts honestly. Honest doubt is never captious or contentious. When the doubter becomes captious or contentious, he ceases to be a doubter and begins to express what are in reality adverse prejudices or convictions. The doubter has essentially an open mind.

The doubter is still open to be convinced. What quite frequently passes, especially much of the revolt against religion today, is not doubt at all, but is rather questioning or negation. The attitude of the doubter is that of the seeker. He questions only that he may know, not that he may make a display of his negations.

The Honest Doubter

Thomas was a type of the honest doubter. Here was a man whose disposition was to believe, whose heart and mind were attuned to truth, who desired to be in the company of the faithful, and all of whose life trends were positive. But Thomas wanted to be sure that he was in the right way, and there was every justification in his desires to be sure of that. It was this that made him so open to conviction once the evidence was clear. He was not the sort of man to hold back in the traces and refuse to move stubbornly because he could see nothing ahead.

On the other hand, he desired his faith to be intelligent and well-founded; and that ought to be the right and privilege of every man. Where faith is not well founded and reasonable its reality may well be questioned. What passes for faith under such circumstances is in reality habit of superstition or convention. It is where conviction is founded upon real belief and evidence that faith is actually displayed.

Credulity is not in any sense a virtue any more than incredulity is a virtue. There are many people who have interpreted the words of Jesus to Thomas, "Blessed are they that have not seen and yet have believed," as a rebuke of Thomas. These words, however, were not in any sense a rebuke of Thomas' doubt concerning the outward evidence of the resurrection. They were rather a reference to those moral and spiritual truths that were not affected by the resurrection and that did not depend on outward evidence.

What had happened to Jesus after his death did not alter in any way the beauty and reality of his moral example and teaching as Thomas had known them during the time of association with Jesus before the crucifixion.

When Jesus said "Blessed are they that have not seen and yet have believed," he was approving of that inward response to love and righteousness which is fundamentally the right attitude on the part of all who would know the truth.

SAYS WAR MADE WORLD SAFER FOR MONARCHIES

Contrary to predictions in America during the Great War that "everything will be different with no more king," European Royalty today stands in higher world regard than ever before, according to Frederick L. Collins, travel writer, who has just returned from an extended tour. The world is safer for monarchs and their heirs than before the conflict, he declares.

Moreover, the recent removal of rigid specifications as to what kind of girl the Prince of Wales must marry, has even awakened hope of a royal alliance among the first families of the United States, Collins adds in an article in Woman's Home Companion.

"Royalty has been proven a going concern by all the war and peace making," Collins continues. "It has had a chance to show what kind of a concern it is. The younger generation of ruling families have done this. It was a popular supposition that kings in general had been wiped out by the war. Then one day the world woke up to the fact that there are still kings; that royalty withstood the shock of the World War quite as well as most other institutions and much better than some. Now, with the Prince of Wales free to marry 'even an American,' a royal matrimonial alliance would hardly be regarded as a calamity by many American mothers and debutantes."

"Democracy has made the most magnificent gesture in history, but only a gesture," Collins concludes.

Miss Florence Green, who has been visiting recently with her sister, Mrs. J. L. Hinson at Vernon, was at home for a short time this week. She left for Frederick, Oklahoma, where she will be superintendent of the Frederick Hospital.

Mrs. Bill Morehead of Cisco arrived Friday of last week for a visit here with her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Gullion. She was accompanied as far as Quanah by her husband.

ARMISTICE DAY AGAIN

It is nearing the date of the twelfth anniversary of the Armistice and Americans, along with the people of the rest of the civilized world, are going to celebrate it fittingly. The close of the world's greatest social catastrophe on November 11, 1918, undoubtedly saved the lives of hundreds of thousands of American boys, and American people in particular have every reason to celebrate an event so nationwide in its effect.

Of course, since the let-down following the war, and particularly the almost tragic course of events of the past twelve months, there has grown up a somewhat cynical attitude toward things material that it is hard to throw off and get back in to the spirit of celebrating the event in the way we did even six years ago.

A REMARKABLE RECORD

Mr. Jas. K. Green, secretary of the Floydada National Farm Loan Association, which has several hundred thousands of dollars loaned on farm lands through the Federal Land Bank plan, is quoted in another place in this newspaper as being surprised and pleased with the remarkable manner in which borrower-stockholders in the association, have "come up to the lick log" with their interest and amortization payments.

WHO CONTROLS U. S.?

Arthur Brisbane or somebody a few weeks ago started the pens of the newspapermen and the tongues of the nation to wagging when he declared that some fifty-nine men control the United States. Perhaps, if Mr. Brisbane had said that fifty-nine men in the United States have more influence than any others his statements would have gone unchallenged.

NO CANCER "CURE"

That there is no "cure" for cancer in the accepted sense of the word, was one of the things brought out plainly at the recent meeting of the American Medical Society. One of the great doctors who has made a study all his life of cancer, and who along with thousands of other research workers, is giving his time to an effort to find the cause and cure of the disease, said that the surgeon's knife and radium, so far, are the only means found to be successful.

TURKEY MONEY SOON

Floyd County people are going to have some turkey money soon. A normal crop of these birds will be marketed during November and December, although hardly as big a crop as last year.

That turkeys are money makers on the farms of Floyd County has been demonstrated time and again. Many farmers have in their arrangements definite plans for about the number of turkeys their farm will support, and while it is admitted that turkeys are a little bad about roving, this can be met by doing light feeding in the mornings during the growing months, it is said. Certainly one can put up with a lot of roving if the dinero rolls in in the fall time. While figures are not available at this time, the gross income from Floyd County farms from turkeys are only about fifth down the line. Cotton, wheat and livestock come first, second and third, in the average year, with cream fourth and turkeys fifth. Turkey prices this fall, while somewhat disappointing, like the prices of everything else that anybody has to sell, are on a par, even slightly above, other prices. Turkeys, as a good fall money crop, might well be considered as a worthwhile enterprise for those farmers of the county, who may be featuring other things not so profitable.

The Round-up

A Sidewalk Review Mostly About People And Personalities In Floyd County.

By The Cowhand Scribe

Experiments are still going forward with the new breakfast food and nothing definite can be announced until they have been completed. It might be said here that so far the results have not been overwhelmingly satisfactory. But we shall see; we shall see.

O. T. Williams has the lead in the Little Theatre production "What Became of Jones?" and he is a veteran. He handles his part like a veteran and if you want a good laugh you can surely want to see that three act comedy. There are some others in the cast that will push him for honors but you can be the judge about that.

Key Green tells a good one that is the actual truth. A man came in to the Floyd County National Bank the other day and handed Mr. Green an envelope and pointed to the return address and said: "Do you know who this fellow is?" Mr. Green looked at the name, shook his head and handed it over to T. S. Stevenson, president of the institution. Well, Mr. Stevenson had to admit that the name didn't "register" on him either. Mr. Green took another peek at the envelope and remarked: "He very likely lives up close to Lockney. This return is Route 2, Lockney, Texas."

"Well, this is Lockney ain't it?" And all the boys at the bank just fell over at that crack. "No, this is Floydada." Key shot back when he had recovered his speech facilities.

"Then where in the h— is Lockney?" inquired the information seeker. "and he refused to be convinced that he was in the wrong town until he had been shown a map and the town in question located thereon." "Well I'll be d—!" he exclaimed, and walked out. All of which goes to prove something or other.

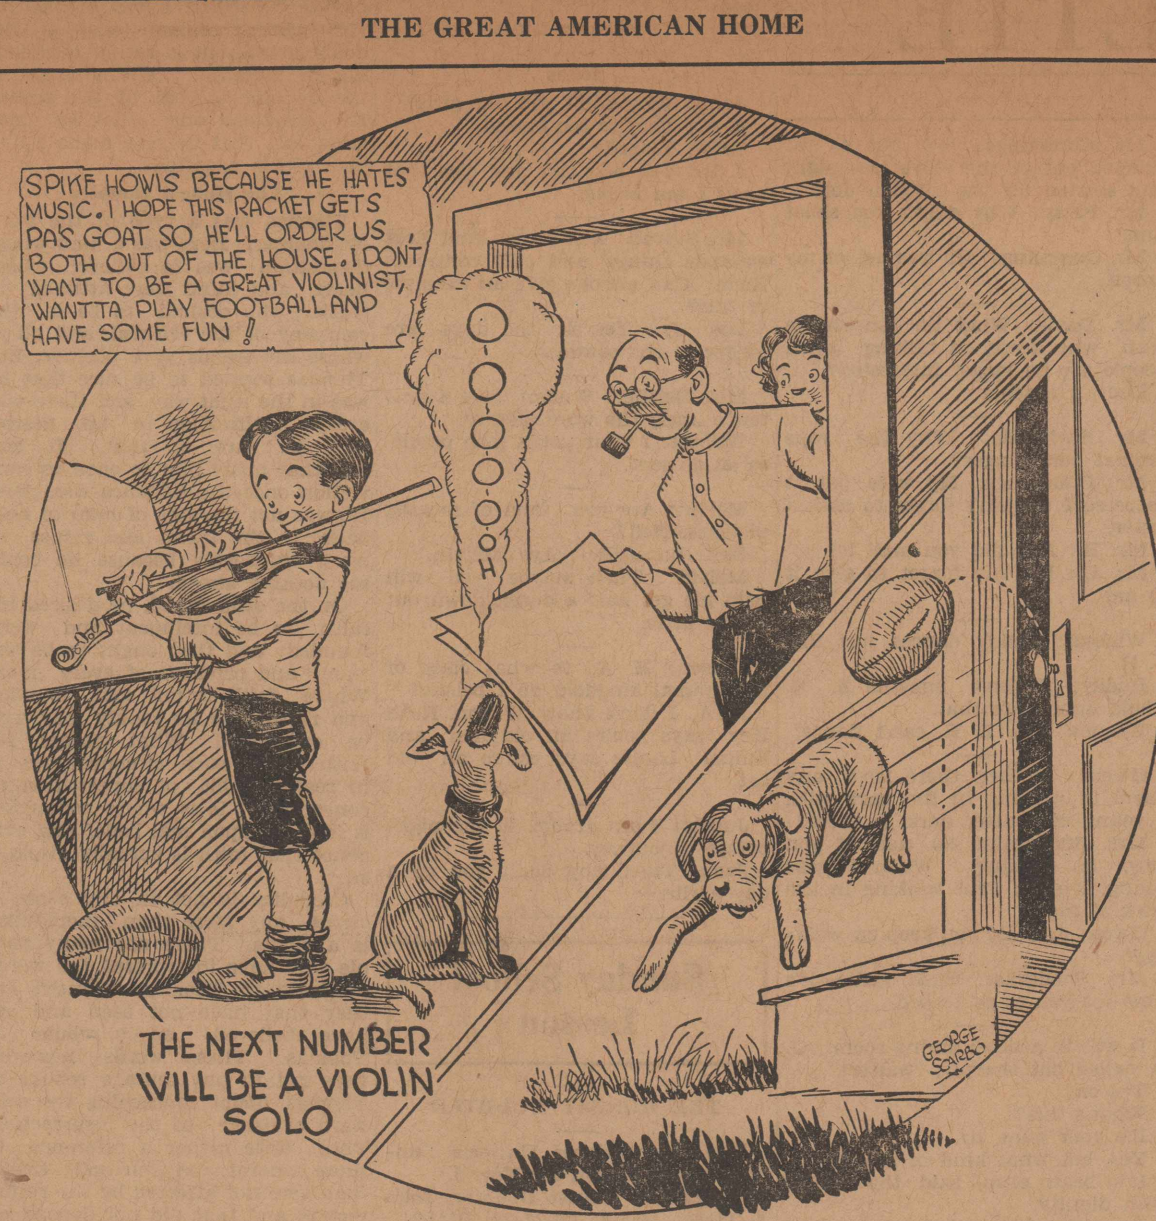

Perhaps you haven't thought of it but the high school boys have a Florida needs a club room or some place of entertainment for the younger set. And this is not the only town that has suddenly realized that it has a problem on its hands. Over at Clarendon a three-column editorial appeared last week in the school section of the paper deploring the need for a central recreation center for the young people of high school age, or perhaps a little older. Something else worth thinking about anyway.

Spare time drags heavily on young hands. Perhaps you will be the one to suggest a solution for the problem. You can shut your eyes to everything and declare that the waters run smooth but you will be doing like the foolish ostrich that sticks its head in the sand and believes that it is hidden from danger.

Of all the foolish things in the world is a motorist who insists on driving at night on the public highways without lights on his car. He is not only throwing caution to the winds so far as his own neck is concerned but he is also putting in jeopardy the life of every person with him and every person he passes in another vehicle. But there are plenty of fools that do it. In the process of one hour on a state highway the other night a local motorist said that he passed three cars without any sign of a light and his own alertness prevented a smash-up in one instance, he said.

And he mentioned another danger that is just pure cussed carelessness on the part of the drivers, usually. He said that during that same hour he passed six cars without tail lights. A careful driver always checks over his lighting system at night to be sure that the tail light is giving its warning. Do you do that? It is a good little habit to form—just look at the tail light before you leave home if you plan to drive at night.

Looked at a pair of boots down at Jones Shoe Shop last week and they jest fit to a "T" but just could not get up courage enough to buy 'em. They were plenty fine, and would help lots in handling the stick horse but I guess I'll have to get a little tougher afore I can dare go down the street in public with 'em on—providin' of course, that

THE NEXT NUMBER WILL BE A VIOLIN SOLO

Mr. Jones will sell 'em on the credit in the first place.

When it comes to boosting, then look out for Edd Holmes out at Sand Hill. Whenever his community plans something worth while and of interest to the general public he always sees to it that The Hesperian gets the news in advance so that all the folks may know about the entertainment. And Edd is always on the look-out for something to do to help his neighbors and their neighbors get more out of life by having a good time. He is a community builder and worthy of assistance at all times. But Edd is not the only "live wire" at Sand Hill—there are many others, and so it is all over the county—in every community you will find a group of energetic leaders. That's the secret for the reputation that Floyd County is making for a state leader. Yep, that's it.

The Big Boss took short vacation recently and everybody in the office enjoyed that vacation very much. We're gonna wish him a Merry Christmas and lotsa those little rest periods—especially when the work gets pretty heavy on us again and we need another sista.

Contemporary Thought

LIVE AND DEAD TOWNS

Muleshoe Journal: Here are two questions often asked by residents of towns like Muleshoe: "What is the difference between a live and a dead town?" and "How does one community earn the reputation of being enterprising while another is called stagnant?"

Both towns may look the same, and both have the same natural advantages—yet the one has the reputation of being dead and the other alive. As we see it the difference lies in the attitude of the citizens themselves.

A live town is one in which there are plenty of men and women ready to take hold and put over any worthy community enterprise, and a dead town is one in which every man is selfishly engrossed in his

'Round The Square

With Old Battleaxe (Himself)

I guess that it sounds silly, but Old Battleaxe's greatest ambition is to be so financially fixed some day that I will be able to walk into a barber shop and tell the boys to "shoot the works." Everything from a shampoo to a shoe shine. Man, what luxuries!

That guy on California Street says that some people stir their coffee as if they were mixing a cake.

Old Battleaxe is getting to be quite a psychologist, whatever that is. I just get a whale of a kick out of studying people and their ways of doing and thinking. During the past week, I have been studying two men in particular, whose natures are just the opposite. One is truly a successful business man. He puts his business before his pleasures. He works day and night to provide for his family, with the result that he has a beautiful home, and a happy and well provided for family. His theory is that a man should first make himself financially independent. Through the dollars thus accumulated, he will have the respect of the people, he will be able to enjoy the finer things in life and will be able to enjoy one of the greatest satisfactions that a man can have, that of financial independence which broods a happiness that nothing else can give.

The other man's nature is just the opposite. His idea is that his business should come secondary to the pleasures of himself and his family. He intends to enjoy living, despite the fact that he is not financially independent, and very likely will never be. He never works at night and often takes a day off for golf or football. He lives in a rented home and his car is three years old. He is not noticed by "the people" because his business is not successful and he is a man of little means. But he, too, is happy, because he is enjoying life.

After all it takes the natures of both of these men to make up this old world that we are living in. There are both "just human men," and they are both happy. But the funny part about it all is—they are brothers.

Last Friday night after Halitosis and I made that Hallow'en Dance, she wanted to know where in the heck I learned to dance. I told her that I learned through a correspondence school, and she said she had an idea that a post office had something to do with it, since I waltzed just like a post.

Speaking about dancing reminds me of an article that appeared in one of our neighboring towns last week. In the school section of the paper, a full sized letter was reproduced on the subject of "school dances." The editor says in the letter that it is not a question of "whether or not school students shall dance, but a question of where we shall dance." Their contention is that dancing as a school social is perfectly all right.

Old Battleaxe is not taking a stand on this touchy subject, I'm just a telling you folks what is being said and done in other towns near Floydada.

While eating a pork chop over at Dutch Brewer's Del Rue Cafe recently, I found a big hunk of steel in the meat. When I asked Dutch about it, he acted plumb calm abut it and said "Shore, It came from a razor back hawg."

You know, there's just one kind of bird that gets my goat worse than the Saliva Slingers and Chronic Grippers, and that is this so-called, measly excuse for a man who always has a hard luck story and a belly full of self-sympathy that he dishes out with the greatest of delight to any and everybody who will waste good time long enough to listen to him. This bird will nose his way into a perfectly good conversation and before you know what it is all about, he will be unrolling a yarn a half an hour long about his wife being operated on for appendicitis, losing his job and the banker, grocer and dry goodsman having it in for him and not selling him anything on credit. He always manages to have plenty of sympathy for himself, but none at all for his neighbor. To heck with this bird! He ain't no exception. All of us have had hard luck some time or other, but none of us ever know just when another attack is coming on, but there is one thing certain; the world has no use for the man that is forever and eternally parading his misfortunes before the public eye or mind. If you want to keep the respect of your friends, for gosh sakes folks, don't go around weeping on their shoulders over your own misfortunes.

The best joke going 'round the square this week: How many kinds of milk are there?

Sweet milk, butter milk and condensed milk. Why? Well, I'm drawing a picture of a cow and just wanted to know how many nozzles to put on.

Falling right in line with what I have had to say recently about the Chronic Grippers in Floyd County, I have picked the following poem at random out of our exchanges, with which Old Battleaxe says:

"Good Night" If you do not like the home town, Or the speed at which it goes; If you do not like its scenery, Or its climate, or its shows; If you do not like the people, That your home town fascinates, There are cars and trains now leaving For forty-seven states. If you cannot boost your home town, Where men rise and fall each day; If you cannot use the bright sunshine To make glad somebody's way; If you cannot join in boosting, Then you must have knocking traits And they're selling tickets daily For some forty-seven states.

PESSIMISM AND FEAR

Tulia Herald: The man who complains about business but fails to make any effort to improve his business is the only one who is times exceedingly hard. The man who is hustling, comes out pretty well when the financial statement is compiled.

A friend observes that there is plenty of business right now according to his experience, but it is a little harder to get it, that's all. A little more hard work—a little more hard planning—and a little more optimism will soon drive this depression out of American life.

Poultry Authorities Point Out Big Value Of Late Turkey Sale

Poultry authorities pointed out the immense importance to Texas turkey raisers of producing birds for the late markets, January and February in preference to November and December, in the grading school held at San Angelo last month for county agents, home demonstration agents, and poultry buyers and graders. The school was attended by K. A. Osburn, representing the local branch of the Titman Egg Corporation, and Miss Marie Strange, home demonstration agent of Floyd County.

The big idea of the grading school as outlined to local representatives was to lay the foundation for buying and selling Texas turkeys on uniform grades recognized the nation over; to improve the quality of Texas turkeys; to avoid the discrimination often held against Texas turkeys; and to create stronger local markets for the turkey crop. Of a total attendance of 135 at the school, there were 93 dealers and Cooperative Association representatives working for federal grading licenses from 52 Texas cities.

The school was held under the joint auspices of the A. & M. College Extension Service and the Texas Department of Agriculture, with instructors furnished by the Bureau of Agricultural Economics of the United States Department of Agriculture.

Those attending the school were given thorough schooling in the proper methods for feeding, handling, picking, dressing and packing turkeys to comply with U. S. standards. It was the first school of its kind to be held in the Southwest and the second to be held in the United States.

Christmas Market Best
Seven out of 10 years the Christmas turkey market, the representatives were told by T. W. Heitz of the Bureau of Agricultural Economics, and five out of ten years the January market is equal to or better than the Christmas market. This is of immense importance to Texas turkey raisers, he said, because it is very difficult to produce a prime grade turkey in Texas by Thanksgiving time due to the fact that a turkey waits until real cold weather to put on fat and free itself of pin feathers. This fact alone accounts for much of the discrimination against Texas turkeys in the terminal markets, and Texans should awake to the opportunity that awaits them most years in the later markets when Texas turkeys can be made to grade high and command premiums, Mr. Heitz pointed out.

In addition to immaturity, lack of fat, and excessive pin feathers, turkeys are graded down because of careless handling and poor bleeding. The turkey students were shown. Tying wings or feet, loading in shallow crowded coops, or any kind of rough handling from farm to market, or in the dressing plant will produce bruises which materially reduce the grade. Feed left in the crop quickly sour, and unless the crop is carefully removed at the dressing plant, the grade may be lowered as much as two or three cents per pound. Even if removed, such a turkey cannot make the prime grade which is highest. Other grades are choice, medium, and common, all four grades being further qualified by age and sex.

Plan Turkey School
As a follow up of the turkey grading school, many County and Home Demonstration Agents are planning one-day turkey schools in cooperation with local dealers to acquaint farmers with the grade requirements, the kind of turkey to keep at home for further feeding, and how to meet the increasing demand for quality. O. B. Martin, Director of the Texas A. & M. College Extension Service announced at the conclusion of the San Angelo session.

An apportionment of $1.50 per capita to all school children in Floyd County, was received Thursday of last week through the depository of the county, The Floyd County National Bank, and through them disbursed to the various school districts, County Superintendent Price Scott said Saturday.

This is the first funds received this school year from the State Department of Education.

15 Pound Potato Is Pride Of Man From Hopkins Co.

A fifteen pound sweet potato, a sample of "What the boys down in Hopkins County can raise" was displayed in Floydada recently by G. A. Maddox, of Sulphur Springs, father of J. D. Maddox, who has moved to Floydada. Mr. Maddox said that the 'tater weighing 15 pounds when fresh but only weighed about 12½ pounds at present. It is a specimen of the Porto Rica variety.

The 'tater was sent "out to the plains" by J. S. Bagwell, editor of the Hopkins County Echo at Sulphur Springs, who wanted to "show what a real country can produce." Mr. Maddox will not take credit for these words because he says that he really likes the plains mighty well, and wouldn't want to try to show us up.

At any rate, to prove to the Doubting Thomases, Mr. Maddox left the fifteen pound 'tater on display at the Perry Bros. Variety store, of which his son is manager and invited his plains friends to look it over.

S. T. HARRIS BRINGS IN INTERESTING NEWSPAPER

Unique in every sense of the word is a copy of "The Coosa River News" published at Centre, Ala., October 10, and brought to the Hesperian office by S. T. Harris. Centre is his old home town and he was interested in displaying a copy of "the old home town paper."

The paper is unique in that it combines ideas and practices of early-day with modern day journalism in a most unusual manner. The four pages, each eight columns in width, are filled with local community news and are written in a natural style that smacks of yesteryears.

Outstanding among the many features carried by the paper was one that—news bits from files of "The Cherokee Advertiser" of 1868. The feature was headed "10, 20, 30, 40, 48, 62 Years Ago."

TURKEY MARKET

The Turkey Market will soon open about November 7th. We will be glad to have you phone us any time on or before that date for quotations, prices and grades.

For the information of those who desire it we advise that you look your flock over very carefully, make three grades of them. FIRST—select your best largest, best developed for your Breeding Stock for another year; SECOND—pick out the balance of your good, well developed birds that are mature and put them on the Thanksgiving market.

Catch up the bird, push the feathers back from under wings and from breast; see if you find numerous pin feathers—that bird is not mature if you do, the bird is not fully fleshed, nor fully fatted and when dressed must be put down in the lower grades and sold at from 7 to 10 cents less on the dressed market. So you see there the dealer has a loss—all these little things help hold the price up.

I have just returned from San Angelo where I attended a six-day U. S. Turkey Grading School. The Government Standard Grades are: Prime, Choice, Medium, and Common, making four grades.

THE PRIME TURKEY is a young fine grained, soft meated bird with broad, full-fleshed breast and with back, hips, and bones fully covered with fat; must be well bled, well dressed and practically free from pin feathers with crop empty—no flesh bruises allowed, and only very slight skin abrasions, bruises or discolorations permitted, none of which shall be on the BREAST.

THE CHOICE GRADE has practically the same requirements as that of the Prime Grade, except our Choice Grade allows one broken wing, provided the bone does not protrude through the flesh and is without bruise or blood clot, and may have a very few pin feathers, none of which shall be on the breast.

So you see turkeys that are not mature and developed and covered with pin feathers we are forced to put them down in the lower grades and sell for less money. So you see we naturally must buy the light weight turkey at a cheaper price as they are sold that way.

ABOVE ALL THINGS KEEP YOUR BEST STOCK FOR YOUR BREEDING FLOCK for another year and improve your turkeys. We learned a great many things about the diseases of turkeys which we will pass on to you a little later at the proper time.

New School Building At Center Accepted; File Appeal On Case

Center community's new $6,750 brick veneer school building has been completed and accepted by the board of trustees. Work on the structure was finished Monday and the board in session at the building Tuesday night with L. B. Maxey of the contractors of L. B. Maxey & Son made the final payment and voted acceptance of the beautiful new school home after a thorough inspection had been made by the trustees and Price Scott, county superintendent.

The center school is the second brick veneer school in the county, the other being the one at Muncy. Notice has been received by Mr. Scott of the filing by attorney's for plaintiffs of an appeal on writ of error with the Supreme Court at Austin on the decision of the Civil Court of Appeals at Amarillo on an injunction to stop construction, based on the claim that the school was not located near enough to the geographical center of the district. The decision of the Amarillo court was for the defendants.

The new building is a single unit type, with four rooms and two are partitioned with folding doors making it possible to convert them into an auditorium. The structure was completed in six weeks, actual construction days.

School has been dismissed for the past two weeks to permit the pupils to assist with the cotton picking in the community and no date has been set for its re-opening, depending upon the weather, Mr. Scott said. Equipment has been installed and everything is in readiness for classes which have been held in the teacherage and in a frame shack.

This summer the $1,600 stucco teacher's home was completed, also.

Members of the board of trustees present Tuesday night at the meeting were T. J. Gill, W. B. Jordan, and A. A. Tubbs, and L. B. Maxey, contractor, and Mr. Scott, county superintendent.

either Floydada or Lockney will be one of the "Big Four."

For nine years, with only one exception, the Whirlwinds have bested the Longhorns in their annual fight for grid honors. But this season, the Steers are making a stronger bid than ever, striking at the Whirlwinds with a record of only one defeat this year. Their list of victories includes a 46 to 0 win last Friday over the Paducah eleven, whom the Whirlwinds defeated by a score of only 12 and 0. Viewing the "dope" from this angle, the Longhorns have strong odds against the local gridsters.

"Dope" Stacks Even
But on the other hand, Lockney beat Hereford by a score of only 6 to 0, and Canyon beat Hereford by a score of 6 to 0, while last week the Whirlwinds smothered the Canyon crew under a 25 to 6 score. Viewed from this angle, the dope switches to the Whirlwind territory. Comparisons by means of victories over the Tulla team also fails to clear up the "dope," since both the Floydada and Lockney gridsters nosed out the Tulla lads by 6 to 0 scores.

Lockney is reported this year to have the strongest back-field combination that they have ever had. Spence, the hefty Longhorn full-back, who last year dealt the Whirlwinds a disastrous blow, is supported on each flank by a heavy pair, while "Wild Bill" Duncan and Floyner still hold their positions at end. These three lads, with the assistance of Brotherton and Cook, were largely responsible for Lockney's overwhelming victory of 34 to 0 over the Whirlwinds last season. Last year's victory by the Longhorns was the first in a nine year period and the most top-heavy score since football relations between the two schools.

Barksdale is Pleased
With the realization that they are facing one of the most critical games of the season, Coach Barksdale is drilling his Whirlwinds with every precision of care. With the improvement that the Green and White warriors have shown in the past two weeks and the strenuous work-outs that they have been going through during the past week, the local lads are expected to be in top-notch condition for Tuesday's encounter. Every man will be in the pink of condition, including Bridges, that wide-stepping full-back, who has been laid out for the past week with a sprained shoulder. Barksdale is well pleased with the action and appearance of his squad but his only comment is, as usual, that "it is going to be a hard game—a mighty hard game."

Spurred on by the years of fight between the two Floyd County towns, the ancient rivalry in the Armistice Day game is expected to furnish a delicious side-dish on the menu for local football fans next Tuesday. Preparations are being made to accommodate three thousand football fans at the Lockney grid. Both schools will be represented by pep squads and student "rooters." All in all, it's going to be a beautiful game.

Reduced Freight Rate Extension November 30

Extension of 30 days has been granted on reduced freight rates for Floyd County by the Federal Drouth Relief Committee at Washington, according to advices received by S. W. Ross, designated official for issuing shipping permits for the county. The notice of extension was sent out by C. W. Warburton of the Federal committee. The expiration date as now set will be November 30, the previous date having been October 31.

Recent permits include 8 cars of grain, 19 cars of hay, 45 cars of livestock, and 17 cars of feedstuff. The estimated saving to farmers in Floyd County on the shipments under the reduced freight rate arrangements total approximately $2,530 according to figures compiled by Mr. Ross.

Since Mr. Ross sent his report of the permits for freight shipment under the drouth relief rates he had issued up to October 15 he has filed applications for 19 carloads, making a grand total to date of 81 carloads and 30 certificates. The recent permits issued were as follows: one car corn, two cars of corn and one car of prairie hay to Joe Boothe Elevator, two cars of prairie hay to N. A. Armstrong, one car of cattle shipped by J. W. Howell of Lockney, one car of cattle shipped by Tom Hart of Lockney, and one car of cattle shipped from Dougherty by Dr. W. H.
