Singer To Buy Mansion

NEW YORK (AP) — It doesn't take singer Kenny Rogers long to make up his mind.

ROGERS

Less than a week after he first saw it, Rogers has agreed to buy the 35-room Beverly Hills mansion of movie producer Dino DeLaurentis.

He'll pay $14.5 million, reportedly a record price for the sale of a private estate, a realty company announced Sunday.

Rogers made the offer after several days of negotiations, according to Sotheby's International Realty Corp., a subsidiary of the London art auction firm which helped arrange the sale.

Ranch Withdrawn From Market

SCOTTSDALE, Ariz. (AP) — The ranch where Ronald Reagan appeared in TV's "Death Valley Days" and where the late Richard Boone slung a gun in "Have Gun Will Travel" hasn't attracted a high enough offer to make it worth selling, its owner says.

Sue Schilleman, a Phoenix real-estate broker and investor who has owned ApacheLand since 1977, said the high bid of $400,000 at an auction Saturday was well below her minimum asking price of $750,000.

"I'm not going to accept the offer," she said. "It would cost a million dollars to rebuild, not to mention all the antiques and history that go with it."

Frost Marries Sellers' Widow

LONDON (AP) — Jet-setting journalist David Frost, who dated such glamorous women as Diahann Carroll and Carol Lynley, has tied the knot for the first time at the age of 41.

Frost married British actress Lynne Frederick in a secret ceremony Saturday at a parish church in Theberton, 70 miles northeast of London.

Miss Frederick, 26, who dated Frost six years ago, is the widow of actor Peter Sellers. Sellers died of a heart attack in July, and her remarriage drew bitter words from Sellers' children.

Man Repays Newspaper

ST. LOUIS (AP) — A man who snatched sports pages from the St. Louis Globe-Democrat for four years has repaid.

The Lighter Side Of The News

He sent the newspaper $72 in repayment.

"The enclosed money order is payment of the newspapers stolen between September 1965 and June 1968," Bob Urban said in a letter to the paper. "I feel led by the Lord to repay this money."

Urban, who lived at the St. Joseph's Home for Boys, said he stole the papers from open boxes while walking to school.

"I never could get a paper of my own, so that's the only way I could," Urban said. "I was really interested in sports, and I had free access to a paper."

The 27-year-old Urban, who now lives in Baltimore, figured four weeks to a month, nine school months to a year, four years of taking the paper and 10 cents per copy.

"With the economy being the way it is, I could use the money," he said. "But the Lord made a way."

Truce Declared In Cola War

LITTLE ROCK (UPI) — The Great Cola War — a variation of the gas pricing wars held before the energy crisis — lasted about two months and dropped the price of Pepsi and Coke to about a dime a liter locally.

But both manufacturers took it on the chin — and in the pocketbook — during the soft drink slugfest, and the only real winner might have been the consumer.

Coke and Pepsi slashed prices almost simultaneously in late November on six-packs of liter bottles. The six-packs sold for about $2.25 before prices began to slip. In a matter of days, they plummeted to a low of 69 cents — a little more than 10 cents a liter.

Giddy shoppers grabbed up armloads of cola at the near giveaway price. Regular two-liter bottles of Coke and Pepsi languished on the shelves at $1.25 each. Sales of in-house brands collapsed.

But bottlers were still paying full price for production. For eight weeks the local Pepsi and Coke suppliers became heavy casualties in a war for a bigger market share.

"We were, if you'll pardon the expression, losing our rear end," one manufacturer said.

Coke pushed its prices back up to more than $2 a six-pack last week. Pepsi officials said they planned to do the same today.

Jim Robbins, president of the Coca-

Cola Bottling Co. of Arkansas, and Richard J. Blajczak, vice president and general manager of Pepsi-Cola Bottling Co. of Little Rock, point fingers at each other for starting the price war. Exactly who touched off the battle still is not clear.

Neither will say how much the companies lost in the skirmish.

Pepsi, which trails Coke in Arkansas, had the most to gain, Blajczak said. "Coca-Cola, before the pricing competition, did outsell Pepsi. No one really knows by how much. They do outsell us, but not by a tremendous amount," he said.

Carters Join New Church Formed After Controversy

PLAINS, Ga. (AP) — Former President Jimmy Carter is the newest member of a Baptist church formed after a controversy over the admission of blacks as members of Plains Baptist Church.

Carter, his wife and his daughter joined the Maranatha Baptist Church on Sunday, moving their membership from the First Baptist Church of Washington, D.C.

Before Carter's election as president, he and his family were members of the Plains Baptist Church. The former president said Sunday he decided to join the new church rather than return to the old because "these are my people."

The controversy began during Carter's 1976 presidential campaign when the Rev. Clennon King, a black minister from nearby Albany, tried to join all-white Plains Baptist.

Church deacons, citing a 1965 resolution prohibiting blacks from joining, barred King several times from entering the building. After Carter's election, the church rescinded the resolution, but King's petition for membership was turned down.

The pastor of Plains Baptist at the time, the Rev. Bruce Edwards, joined Carter in supporting the admission of blacks.

Another Donovan Hearing Set

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Labor Secretary-designate Raymond Donovan, previously considered a safe candidate, is having more trouble being confirmed than the 13 other Reagan Cabinet members, who were approved by the Senate last week.

While the president has expressed confidence in Donovan, the Senate Labor and Human Resources Committee has set another hearing for Tuesday to look into allegations Donovan was involved in a payoff to a Teamsters union local.

In earlier hearings, Donovan said he was unaware his firm had put a Teamster "ghost employee" on the payroll to buy labor peace.

The committee plans to hear testimony from the FBI, which has looked into the allegations against Donovan. A spokesman for Chairman Orrin Hatch, R-Utah, said the FBI inquiry had turned up no evidence of wrongdoing.

Set for confirmation when the Senate meets Tuesday are David Stockman, the conservative and aggressive Michigan congressman named budget director; U.N. Ambassador-designate Jeane Kirkpatrick, the only woman and only Democrat picked for a Cabinet-level post; and William Casey, the World War II intelligence agent picked to head the CIA.

Frank Carlucci, the CIA Deputy director picked for the No. 2 spot at Defense, is ready for confirmation, but it is being delayed by conservative Sen. Jesse Helms, R-N.C.

The House, straggling behind the Senate in organizing for the 97th Congress, hopes to approve its committee set up Tuesday, then begin work.

The nominations of other Cabinet members breezed through the Senate even though tough opposition was expected to the naming of Alexander Haig as secretary of state and Denver lawyer

James Watt as interior secretary. Haig was confirmed by a vote of 93-6 and Watt 83-12.

Confirmed 99-0 were former Sens. Richard Schweiker, 54, of Pennsylvania as secretary of Health and Human Services, and William Brock, 50, of Tennessee as U.S. trade representative with the title of ambassador.

Confirmed by 98-0 votes were Donald Regan, 61, president of the Wall Street giant Merrill Lynch, as treasury secretary;

John Block, 45, Illinois hog farmer and former state director of agriculture, as agriculture secretary; Drew Lewis, 49, Pennsylvania political organizer and management and financial consultant, as transportation secretary.

Cabinet Members Agree To Steps To Prevent Conflict Of Interest

WASHINGTON (AP) — Twelve of President Reagan's 17 Cabinet-level appointees are having to divest themselves of certain financial interests or make other arrangements to comply with conflict-of-interest laws.

At least three of the most wealthy — Attorney General William French Smith, Treasury Secretary Donald Regan and Trade Representative Bill Brock — plan to create blind trusts for their securities and other financial holdings.

All have to agree to disqualify themselves from taking part in public decisions from could conflict with their personal interests.

The ways the incoming administration officials are insulating themselves against past financial and business interests were outlined in letters J. Jackson Walter, director of the Office of Government Ethics, sent to Senate committees considering the Cabinet nominations. The letters were attached to the financial disclosure forms.

Some in the group, 10 of whom are millionaires, have agreed to sell lucrative holdings.

For example, Caspar Weinberger, the new defense secretary and former vice president of the Bechtel Group engineering and construction firm, agreed to divest himself of Bechtel stock from which he had received dividends of more than $500,000 last year. His net worth, according to the forms obtained last week, is in the range of $2.2 million to $3.5 million, or perhaps more.

The financial disclosure reports give only a broad range of money values, making it impossible to determine exactly how much each is worth or even the exact range in some cases. The government form has no upper limit on monetary values. The top category for income is above $100,000; the top category on valuation of assets and liabilities is "in excess" of $250,000.

The officials filled out the forms in different ways. Some included home mortgages and salaries; others did not. Some included the net worth of their immediate family members; others did not.

Secretary of State Alexander Haig said he would get rid of his stock options in United Technologies Corp., the major defense contractor he headed until returning to the government. His financial disclosure report shows the value of the stock options in excess of $250,000. Haig listed a net worth of $1.7 million to $2.1 million.

In becoming transportation secretary, Drew Lewis is giving up a job as a trustee of the Reading Co., a Pennsylvania railroad firm, which provided him with his largest single source of income in 1980 — $179,000. Lewis reported net worth ranges from $529,000 to at least $2.6 million.

Daniel's Widow Charged With Murder

LIBERTY (AP) — Vickie Daniel, wife of former Texas House Speaker Price Daniel Jr., is free on $50,000 bond after being charged with murder in the shooting death of her husband.

Accompanied by her attorney, Andrew Lannie, Mrs. Daniel, 33, surrendered to authorities Saturday evening after Liberty County Sheriff C.L. "Buck" Eckols earlier told Lannie he had a warrant for his client's arrest. She was arraigned on the murder charge before Peace Justice I.B. Carrell, then booked and fingerprinted at the Liberty County jail, Eckols said. Mrs. Daniel was released after a Liberty bonding company posted the bond. District Attorney Carroll E. Wilborn Jr. had said earlier he was not going to file charges in the case, but would refer it to a grand jury scheduled to meet Wednesday.

Neither he nor Eckols explained why authorities decided to file charges instead of waiting for the grand jury session. Eckols said although the warrant was issued Friday, he decided not to arrest Mrs. Daniel until Saturday. He declined to say why he decided to wait.

The attractive blonde, who had initiated divorce proceedings against Daniel prior to the shooting, was discharged from a Liberty hospital Friday.

She was taken there Monday night following the shooting for treatment of "emotional shock" and "hysteria."

Arlington Police Kill Sniper Suspect

ARLINGTON (UP) — Police said today a suspected sniper, who was shot to death by officers, apparently waited in ambush to gun down two youths on their way to a church meeting because the boys were riding motorcycles near his home.

Officers shot and killed Richard Wate Tiedemann, 33, of Arlington, an engineer for LTV Corp., after he opened fire from his home late Sunday on police who were attempting to retrieve the body of one of the shooting victims.

Ralph Bacher Shelton, 14, was killed and Kevin Curnaut, 13, was in critical condition at Arlington Community Hospital today with a gunshot wound to the head. Shelton was the son of former Arlington city councilman and Mrs. R.B. Shelton II.

Tiedemann, who had barricaded himself in his small frame home for more than three hours, was shot and killed by tactical officers after he fired on police.

A neighbor, Tom Cravens, said the boys were en route to an afternoon youth meeting at Rush Creek Christian Church. Arlington is a residential city between Fort Worth and Dallas.

Police Sgt. Dennis Rhoten said Tiedemann apparently waited in ambush outside a concrete outbuilding near his home and opened fire with a shotgun as the youths sped on their motorcycles down a dirt trail near his home.

"All I know is that he shot two little boys out having fun on Sunday afternoon," Rhoten said.

The boys and their minibikes were found outside a fence at Tiedemann's house.

Neighbors told investigators that Tiedemann in the past had complained about neighborhood motorists.

Police were summoned when reports of gunshots were received about 3:30 p.m. Rhoten said police evacuated residents from homes immediately adjacent to Tiedemann's house as tactical officers moved into place.

As officers attempted to talk with the man in the house and recover the younger Shelton's body about 7 p.m., gunfire erupted from the home, authorities said.

Officers returned the fire with conventional weapons and tear gas.

Officers said Tiedemann was shot on the front porch of his house and then turned and ran back inside.

Blue Cross Computer Problems Cause Financial Difficulties

DALLAS (UPI) — Policyholders and small hospitals have become the hardest-hit victims of computer problems at Blue Cross and Blue Shield of Texas.

The foul-ups, according to state insurance records, have caused extensive delays in payments, denials of hundreds of thousands of dollars in claims and put some small hospitals in financial jeopardy.

The Dallas Morning News reported Sunday that consumer complaints about the company to the State Insurance Board tripled in 1980, and financially strapped hospital officials say they have been forced to pressure patients to pay bills that Blue Cross policies should have covered.

Blue Cross, the largest health insurance company in Texas, began converting to a fully computerized claims-processing system in September 1979. Company officials admit the changeover brought a barrage of customer complaints.

Ed Pascasio, senior vice president of Blue Cross, said most of the complaints associated with computer snafus have been resolved. But he said the company has no way of knowing how many policyholders gave up trying to collect from the company and paid the claims themselves.

"Someone will have to call it to our attention," he said. "We won't know about it if they don't."

Hospitals were among the hardest hit by the computer problems. Many facilities found their claims payments from Blue Cross dropped by as much as 50 percent during the height of the problem in 1980.

Fur Trappers Gather For Convention

By GERRY BURTON
Avalanche-Journal Staff

JUSTICEBURG — From the Rocky Mountains to the Tennessee hills to the Rio Grande, fur trappers gathered for the first Panther Rock Rendezvous 15 miles west of here.

Buckskins and pelts began appearing in the caprock canyons Friday with the last black powder rifle blasting off late Sunday.

Marksmanship with rifle and tomahawk tried the eye while the "yellow skirt dance" to bagpipe and fiddle tested the agility of the feet during rounds of competition wound through some loud swapping sessions.

Hudson Bay blankets, Hawkins rifles and tomahawks were among the trade goods in Pierre's Hole, which also ran a little undercounter modern trade in Panther Rock T-shirts.

Colorado trappers came in the traditional buckskins and fur caps while their West Texas counterparts stuck to sombreros and returned to boots after one tortuous day in moccasins.

There were squirrel rifles, muskets and buffalo guns sending echoes bouncing off red canyon walls as competition began for marksman of the rendezvous, an honor won by John Ferrell of Brownfield, who took home a Kentucky rifle as prize.

Over at Pierre's a "gen-u-wine Hawkins greener" was going for "$200 or two bob-cat pelts" while a lively swap involving beadwork, red fox pelt and black powder pistol kept the crowd going both days.

The Hudson blankets, Pierre explained, originally had been marked with stripes to indicate how many beaver pelts would buy one, but today the two-stripe blanket is small and the four-stripe is a double.

Top swaps of the rendezvous included a bear claw necklace, a "spotted pony" (Appaloosa) and a Shetland-cross mule that carried a bundle of buffalo hides into camp.

Johnny Seay of Cleburne, holder of a gold record from former singing days, limbered up his guitar for campfire singing at night and Kid Marley of Tennessee highlighted the weekend with a Cowboys for Christ church service for mountain men and their families.

"Rocky Mountain Dave" Smith of Trinchera, Colo., received a Bob Moline drawing for coming the greatest distance.

And, as lingering black powder rifle enthusiasts spent their last rounds at the targets, one reluctant mountain man took his final look at the rendezvous grounds with several passes of his aircraft before heading home.

Plans for next year already were being made as camp was broken and mountain men of today headed back for civilization 15 miles away.

 Betty Morris, president of West Texas Hospital Auxiliary, has announced that organization's annual membership drive. The auxiliary is seeking men, women and young people with a few hours to spare a week who can do some of the work which means so much to doctors and patients at the hospital.

The same, of course, is true for other hospital auxiliaries, and if you have a sympathetic wife with people and a few hours to spare, your favorite hospital would welcome your help.

Our friends at the Lubbock Humane Society have announced the annual meeting at 7:30 Friday at the Lubbock Civic Center (Room 101). Speaker will be William R. Meade III, director of the Gulf States Region of the Humane Society of the U.S. There also will be election of board members. Can't speak highly enough of this group, or the work they do for the animals of Lubbock; they need our support...

 Our friend Eleanor Kline will present her "Conversations in Literature" at 10 a.m. Wednesday at the new Godeke Branch Library, 6601 Quaker (this meeting has previously been held at the Mahon Branch Library). Terry Kreiger, president of Friends of the Library, which sponsors the lectures, reminds Mrs. Kline's fans that they will want to circle this date on their calendars.

South Plains Association for Children with Learning Disabilities will meet Monday at 7 p.m. at Oakwood Methodist Church, 2215 58th St., Rhoda Cammins notes. Instead of having a speaker or program this time, the organization will devote the meeting to discussing plans for a summer camp for learning disabled youngsters, the ACLD Conference to be held in Lubbock next November, and the parent education workshop which members of several related local organizations are hoping to put together this spring.

Lubbock Christian Women's Club has announced that Gene and Bobbie Moore of Waco will be guests at the Feb. 3 meeting at the Hillcrest Country Club. Reservations must be made before next Monday by calling 795-3430. A prayer coffee will be held at 10 a.m. Thursday in the home of Mary Ruth Adams, 2519 57th St. As always, child care will be available at the meeting — call Jonnie at 746-5930 or Billie at 744-5789.

The Christian Fellowship of Nurses hopes to enrich the spiritual lives of nurses and instill Christian principles into the profession. They are having an open meeting Monday night at 7:30 at 5408 44th., in the home of Mrs. L. M. Carson, to hear Rhoda Hartman speak on the Hospice Concept of Nursing. Any R.N., L.V.N., nurses' aide, or other interested person, is welcome.

ONCE OVER LIGHTLY:

Recovery, Inc., the association of nervous and former mental patients, will meet Thursday at 8 p.m. at University Ministries, 2412 13th St. New people, visitors, family members, are most welcome to all meetings, at which the practice of self help toward better mental health is stressed. If you have a friend or family member you think might benefit from this group, you could do them a real favor by inviting them to go with you. Call Laura, 796-1409, for more information.

Mothers of Multiples will meet Wednesday from 10 a.m.-1 p.m. in the home of Kathleen Kimbley, 8421 Gary. Bring lunch for yourself and your kids.

Lunch Bunch will hear from Bob Traylor, on "Gold Casting" Tuesday at Mahon Library. Bring your lunch and come along!

Bridge

BY CHARLES H. GOREN AND OMAR SHARIF
 1981 by Chicago Tribune

Q.1—Both vulnerable, as South you hold:

♠KJ102 ♥764 ♦952 ♠AQ6
 Partner opens the bidding with one spade.

What do you respond?

A.—What at first looks like a reasonably good hand withers somewhat under close scrutiny. One major flaw is the 4-3-3-3 pattern, which means there is no ruffing value present. Then the concentration of spade honors could represent a slight duplication of values—if your partner has A-Q, the knave is a wasted card. All in all, a simple raise to two spades adequately describes your hand.

Q.2—As South, vulnerable, you hold:

♠A6 ♥108742 ♦AJ63 ♠KQ
 The bidding has proceeded:

North East South West
 1 ♠ Pass 2 ♥ Pass
 4 ♥ Pass ?

What action do you take?

A.—There must surely be a slam here and we vote for the value bid of six hearts. We don't think that there is room to find out whether partner has all the key cards we need to make a grand slam. However, we award full marks to any move beyond game provided you intend bidding a slam even if partner makes no further forward-going move.

Q.3—As South, vulnerable, you hold:

♠J83 ♥97 ♦84 ♠AK10762
 The bidding has proceeded:

North East South West
 1 ♠ Pass 2 ♥ Pass
 2 NT Pass ?

What action do you take?

A.—Even if your club suit produces five tricks, there is no guarantee that partner's hand is good enough to yield four more before the opponents have collected five. However, we wouldn't pass. We would bid three spades, and would be delighted if partner goes to game in either spades or no trump.

Q.4—Neither vulnerable, as South you hold:

♠K1072 ♥6 ♦AKJ632 ♠AK
 The bidding has proceeded:

South West North East
 1 ♠ Pass 1 ♥ Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A.—You have an enormous hand in support of spades. Since all your values are in prime cards, no spade raise will do your hand justice.

Make a jump shift to three clubs. That maneuver is perfectly safe, for if partner raises clubs, you can always return to his spades without increasing the level of the auction.

Q.5—Neither vulnerable, as South you hold:

♠K1072 ♥6 ♦AKJ632 ♠AK
 The bidding has proceeded:

South West North East
 1 ♠ Pass 1 ♥ Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A.—In terms of strength, your hand is worth a jump rebid of three diamonds. However, that bid is tactically incorrect—it could result in missing your best spot. Bid one spade. There is no reason to bypass a fair four-card major and, in view of the potential misfit, you are not strong enough to jump to two spades. If partner passes one spade, in all likelihood he also would have passed a jump to three diamonds. But at least you will have given yourself every chance to reach the right contract.

Q.6—Both vulnerable, as South you hold:

♠AK95 ♥982 ♦753 ♠AK4

The bidding has proceeded:

South West North East
 1 ♠ Dble. 3 ♠ Pass ?

What action do you take?

A.—Partner does not have a good hand. On the contrary, a jump raise over a double shows a weak distributional hand with little or no defensive value. If you realize that, then you must also see that the hand offers no prospect for game. Pass.

Rubber bridge clubs throughout the country use the four-deal format. Do they know something you don't? Local Woman Builds Business Around Life-Long Sewing Skill

By FRANCES LOWE
Family News Editor

A cottage industry is money-making work that one can do at home, with native skills. It is a natural for a woman who must be at home with small children.

Roxanna Carroll is a local woman who is trying to build a small business around the skill, possessed by many mothers of small children, of making children's clothes of the best quality, to sell at or below the cost of fine retail clothing for youngsters.

Roxanna, who has two children and is expecting another one soon, has sewn all her life. She has made clothing for herself, her husband, her children and her own family. She tried for a time to work as a seamstress for local families, but found that it paid very little and was inconvenient.

Then she tried making clothes to sell through a local consignment shop. But hers were the only new clothes in the shop, and in a neighborhood full of older families, with few small children, they did not sell very well.

She grew discouraged, she says, and for a while "I just packed everything away in boxes and forgot about it. I had a big investment in fabric, trimmings and thread. But I decided that there was no future in it."

Then she decided to try again. She reasoned that there were many young women like herself with a real talent for sewing, and she knew that the cost of clothes for children was prohibitive for many families. She decided to form a co-operative of women, and open a shop where they could sell the things they made.

She rented a small building on west 34th Street, near Coronado High School and Terrace Shopping Center, and advertised for members. The cost was $15 per month, which is intended to pay the cost of rent and utilities for the building. After joining, the woman can sell anything she makes in the shop that is primarily for children. Sellers set their own prices, although Roxanna advises them on the best price and the cost of other, similar items in the shop.

The store has attracted a small but steady clientele, and the things sell well enough so that Roxanna has added a line of soft sculpture, made by one of her women, some pillows, dolls, and other soft items for babies, a line of Barbie doll clothes, and some wood toys made by a local craftsman.

She is, however, always on the lookout for new inventory, and looking for women who are skillful with the needle to join the fledgling enterprise.

She judges the merchandise brought in on consignment, and hopes to provide only the best constructed and finely made items for sale to the public. She thinks that the enterprise not only can provide an outlet for women who are skillful with a needle, but a real service to the public in the form of fine children's clothes at a reasonable price.

Starting a business, as Roxanna Carroll has learned, is not an easy task. But she believes that she has something to offer that is unique to Lubbock, and that this is one "cottage industry" that can benefit both the home seamstress and the consumer.

Surviving Young Kids Made Easy

By JACQUE HUTCHINS
Family News Staff

The Continuing Education Department and the Department of Home and Family Life in Home Economics recently held a "Building Healthy Families Workshop." The workshop was designed to give a fuller understanding of children and of oneself in the family relationship.

Connie Steele of the Home Economics Department spoke on "Surviving Young Kids." She presented some rather "unknown" facts regarding infants, which are important in understanding the development of children. With the knowledge of these facts, she believes that rearing children can be made easier.

For example, she stresses the importance of parents understanding their own values in relationship to rearing their children. And in projecting these values, she feels it is essential for parents to use their five senses in communicating with their children.

"Caring for children is an important part of the human race if we are going to survive," said Steele. "You must observe children so you can learn about them." Caring about children must coincide with learning about children. She suggests that parents actually observe their children at play to comprehend growth patterns and to "be aware of how the child is feeling."

But you must touch them and love them, she explained, before they can be turned to other objects, such as play. "It is a feeling of trust that they get from the parent that allows them to turn to other objects," she said.

In the children's learning years, she stresses that it is important to know their capabilities. Until age 18 months, for example, children have no concept of gravity, she explained. Therefore parents must understand that children do not realize how easily a glass of milk turns over or that when they let go of their spoon it will drop. Understanding the child's capabilities in learning to eat can help parents "survive" this learning process.

She also believes survival is made easier when children are able to participate in the preparation of their meal. In researching her ideas, she observed children while eating. Several children would not eat carrots. But when they cleaned and cut up the carrots with a plastic knife the following day, they did indeed eat the vegetable without coercion.

Children as a whole progress at about the same rate. Two-year-olds should not be expected to learn to tie their shoes, because they haven't developed the capabilities as yet. Five-year-olds have not yet learned the concept of straight, as in drawing a straight line. Taking these facts into consideration can help parents teach their children more efficiently.

In surviving kids, she stressed to see, hear, feel, smell and taste what is happening. "Survival will make you and your child the fittest," she said.

At Wit's End...

By ERMA BOMBECK

Some people get very depressed about their age.

I cannot understand this. You are only as old as you feel. Everyone knows that.

Someone pointed out to me the other day that Shirley Temple became a grandmother. They are obviously talking about another Shirley Temple and not the same one I know. The one I remember who sang and danced to "On the Good Ship Lollipop" would only be about nine or ten years old now.

Then someone said they read in the paper where the government made a mistake and sent a draft notice to Mickey Mouse at Disneyland. A spokesman said they were going to notify the government of the error and that Mickey was 52 years old now and served in World War II. It should be obvious to everyone as it is to me that they are talking about two different Mickey Mouses (Meece's Mice?). The one I remember is a rodent and the government would have remembered if they had made a uniform for him during World War II.

People just don't stop to figure things out. My mother called the other day and said, "Quick! Look at Lucille Ball's daughter on television. She's in a new movie." I turned it on and there was this tall, beautiful woman mother thought belonged to "I Love." I told her not only was it a biological impossibility, but Lucy has red hair and this girl was a brunette.

There's a group of people out there who just can't stand it when you remain young at heart. There's always someone who will butt into a conversation and say, "Did you know Eddie Haskell, that rotten kid on 'Leave It to Beaver'? He's a policeman now."

Or someone in a beauty shop will try to frost your hair naturally with a smart remark like, "Sandra Dee is 39 years old now. I heard it from an unimpeachable source."

Don't get the wrong idea. I don't expect the world to stand perfectly still year after year. I know that your old theatres give way to parking lots and old boyfriends have faces that extend all the way back to their coat collars, but you have to keep it in perspective.

Last night my husband turned a page of the paper and said, "The Atlanta airport is finished."

"Which Atlanta?" I asked defensively.

"The one in Georgia."
"You're lying!" I said. "The Atlanta airport has been under construction for 35 years. It was all something we took for granted."

"Well, it's finished!"
People just can't stand to see me happy and well-adjusted. Next thing you know, someone will tell me Little Orphan Annie has grown eyes and sings on the New York stage!

DEAR ABBY:

Message Provides Hope

DEAR READERS: In a recent column, I shared an inspirational item sent by Herman Endler, who, at age 40, suffered a stroke that left him totally disabled. He wrote:

"I wasn't able to get out of bed, but by the grace of God and a surgeon's skill, I made it. At times, I was so despondent, I prayed it would all end. Then a friend gave me the enclosed inspirational piece, which I must have read 1,000 times. I had moments when my vision clouded, and I thought, 'This is it; this is the end.' Then I'd read that message again, and it pulled me through."

"Abby, some of the greatest men and women of our times have been saddled with disabilities and adversities but have managed to overcome them."

"Perhaps somewhere there is someone who is at the end of his or her rope and needs encouragement. Pass this along. It may save a life. It saved mine."

A portion of the inspirational piece: "Cripple him, and you have a Sir Walter Scott."

"Lock him in a prison cell, and you have a John Bunyan."
"Bury him in the snows of Valley Forge, and you have a George Washington."

"Raise him in abject poverty, and you have an Abraham Lincoln."
"Subject him to bitter religious prejudice, and you have a Disraeli."

The response to that column was overwhelming. A distinguished publisher, philanthropist and former U.S. ambassador to Great Britain wrote:

"Dear Abby: Your column, 'From Adversity, Many Find Strength,' is indeed a masterpiece. I am adding it to my personal collection of 'reminders.'"

"There are two great sources of inspiration in life, enthusiasm and tragedy, and I have been boxed in by both. But having been boxed in by both, I also recognize that perseverance is the key to escape and satisfaction. Sincerely, Walter Annenberg."

Hundreds of readers submitted additional names for the list of those who had succeeded against the odds. Some contributions follow:

Spit on him, humiliate him, then crucify him and he forgives you, and you have Jesus Christ.

Strike him down with infantile paralysis, and he becomes a Franklin D. Roosevelt, the only president of the U.S. to be elected to four terms.

When he is a lad of 8, burn him so severely in a schoolhouse fire that the doctors say he will never walk again, and you have a Glenn Cunningham, who set the world's record in 1934 for running a mile in 4 minutes and 6.7 seconds.

Deafen a genius composer who continues to compose some of the world's most beautiful music, and you have a Ludwig van Beethoven.

Drag him, more dead than alive out of a rice paddy in Vietnam, and you have a Rocky Bleier, that beautiful running back with the Pittsburgh Steelers.

Have him or her born black in a society filled with racial discrimination, and you have a Booker T. Washington, Harriet Tubman, Marion Anderson, George Washington Carver or Martin Luther King Jr.

Make him the first child to survive in a poor Italian family of 18 children, and you have an Enrico Caruso.

Amputate the arm and leg of an aspiring young actor, and you have a James Stacey.

Have him born of parents who survived a Nazi concentration camp, paralyze him from the waist down when he is 4, and you have the incomparable concert violinist, Itzhak Perlman.

Call a slow learner "retarded" and write him off as ineducable, and you have an Albert Einstein.

See tomorrow's column for others who have succeeded against the odds.

Betty Morris, president of West Texas Hospital Auxiliary, has announced that organization's annual membership drive. The auxiliary is seeking men, women and young people with a few hours to spare a week who can do some of the work which means so much to doctors and patients at the hospital.

The same, of course, is true for other hospital auxiliaries, and if you have a sympathetic way with people and a few hours to spare, your favorite hospital would welcome your help.

Our friend Eleanor Kline will present her "Conversations in Literature" at 10 a.m. Wednesday at the new Godeke Branch Library, 6601 Quaker (this meeting has previously been held at the Mahon Branch Library). Terry Kreiger, president of Friends of the Library, which sponsors the lectures, reminds Mrs. Kline's fans that they will want to circle this date on their calendars.

South Plains Association for Children with Learning Disabilities will meet Monday at 7 p.m. at Oakwood Methodist Church, 2215 58th St., Rhoda Cammins notes. Instead of having a speaker or program this time, the organization will devote the meeting to discussing plans for a summer camp for learning disabled youngsters, the ACLD Conference to be held in Lubbock next November, and the parent education workshop which members of several related local organizations are hoping to put together this spring.

Lubbock Christian Women's Club has announced that Gene and Bobbie Moore of Waco will be guests at the Feb. 3 meeting at the Hillcrest Country Club. Reservations must be made before next Monday by calling 795-3430. A prayer coffee will be held at 10 a.m. Thursday in the home of Mary Ruth Adams, 2519 57th St. As always, child care will be available at the meeting — call Jonnie at 746-5830 or Billie at 744-6789.

The Christian Fellowship of Nurses hopes to enrich the spiritual lives of nurses and instill Christian principles into the profession. They are having an open meeting Monday night at 7:30 at 5408 44th., in the home of Mrs. L. M. Carson, to hear Ronda Hartman speak on the Hospice Concept of Nursing. Any R.N., L.V.N., nurses' aide, or other interested person, is welcome.

ONCE OVER LIGHTLY:

Recovery, Inc., the association of nervous and former mental patients, will meet Thursday at 8 p.m. at University Ministries, 2412 13th St. New people, visitors, family members, are most welcome to all meetings, at which the practice of self help toward better mental health is stressed. If you have a friend or family member you think might benefit from this group, you could do them a real favor by inviting them to go with you. Call Laura, 796-1499, for more information.

Mothers of Multiples will meet Wednesday from 10 a.m.-1 p.m. in the home of Kathleen Kimbley, 8421 Gary. Bring lunch for yourself and your kids.

Lunch Bunch will hear from Bob Traylor, on "Gold Casting" Tuesday at Mahon Library. Bring your lunch and come along!

Q.1—Both vulnerable, as South you hold:

♠KJ102 ♥764 ♦952 ♠AQ6
Partner opens the bidding with one spade.

What do you respond?

A.—What at first looks like a reasonably good hand withers somewhat under close scrutiny. One major flaw is the 4-3-3-3 pattern, which means there is no ruffing value present. Then the concentration of spade honors could represent a slight duplication of values—if your partner has A-Q, the knave is a wasted card. All in all, a simple raise to two spades adequately describes your hand.

Q.2—As South, vulnerable, you hold:

♠A6 ♥108742 ♦AJ63 ♠KQ
The bidding has proceeded:

North East South West
1 ♠ Pass 2 ♥ Pass
4 ♥ Pass ?

What action do you take?

A.—There must surely be a slam here and we vote for the value bid of six hearts. We don't think that there is room to find out whether partner has all the key cards we need to make a grand slam. However, we award full marks to any move beyond game provided you intend bidding a slam even if partner makes no further forward-going move.

Q.3—As South, vulnerable, you hold:

♠J83 ♥97 ♦84 ♠AK10762
The bidding has proceeded:

North East South West
1 ♠ Pass 2 ♠ Pass
2 NT Pass ?

What action do you take?

A.—Even if your club suit produces five tricks, there is no guarantee that partner's hand is good enough to yield four more before the opponents have collected five. However, we wouldn't pass. We would bid three spades, and would be delighted if partner goes to game in either spades or no trump.

Q.4—Neither vulnerable, as South you hold:

♠K1072 ♥6 ♦AKJ632 ♠AK
The bidding has proceeded:

South West North East
1 ♠ Pass 1 ♥ Pass

What do you bid now?

A.—You have an enormous hand in support of spades. Since all your values are in prime cards, no spade raise will do your hand justice.

Make a jump shift to three clubs. That maneuver is perfectly safe, for if partner raises clubs, you can always return to his spades without increasing the level of the auction.

Q.5—Neither vulnerable, as South you hold:

♠K1072 ♥6 ♦AKJ632 ♠AK
The bidding has proceeded:

South West North East
1 ♠ Pass 1 ♥ Pass

What do you bid now?

A.—In terms of strength, your hand is worth a jump rebid of three diamonds. However, that bid is tactically incorrect—it could result in missing your best spot. Bid one spade. There is no reason to bypass a fair four-card major and, in view of the potential misfit, you are not strong enough to jump to two spades. If partner passes one spade, in all likelihood he also would have passed a jump to three diamonds. But at least you will have given yourself every chance to reach the right contract.

Q.6—Both vulnerable, as South you hold:

♠AK95 ♥982 ♦753 ♠AK4

The bidding has proceeded:

South West North East
1 ♠ Dble. 3 ♠ Pass

What action do you take?

A.—Partner does not have a good hand. On the contrary, a jump raise over a double shows a weak distributional hand with little or no defensive value. If you realize that, then you must also see that the hand offers no prospect for game. Pass.

Rubber bridge clubs throughout the country use the four-deal format. Do they know something you don't? Charles Goren's "Four Deal Bridge" will teach you the strategies and tactics for this fast-paced action game that provides the cure for unending rubbers. For a copy and a scorepad, send $1.60 to "Goren Four Deal," P.O. Box 259, Norwood, N.J. 07649. Make checks payable to NEWSPAPER BOOKS.

Gordon Mahon The Dry Cleaner Focuses Emphasis On Quality

"Doesn't today's 'investment clothing' deserve only the best of care?" Just as any thing of value calls for care, one's wardrobe certainly should not be overlooked. Especially with the emphasis today on good quality soft wools, silks and other fine garments, selection of a dry cleaner should not be by happenstance!

"A lot of you have discovered that Gordon Mahon The Dry Cleaner, opened last summer at Slide Road and 57th St., just north of South Plains Mall, puts the emphasis on quality cleaning.

"You who have patronized this modern establishment have found it seems to have left nothing undone in affording the finest in service and know-how and equipment, together with convenience and a lot of 'extras' at no added charge (such as itemized receipt on every order, letting you know just what you are paying, affording a clear record).

Odorless dry cleaning is the rule, with Valclene featured for safe care of even the most delicate of garments. Suedes, leathers, wedding gowns and all can be entrusted to this better dry cleaner.

A Specialized Approach
Gordon Mahon The Dry Cleaner has "caught on" in an exceptional manner, possibly by virtue of (1) its specialization in finest quality cleaning, (2) its location, (3) facilities, (4) proven know-how and customer consideration by its ownership, and (5) the recommendations of its customers who have found that quality reigns foremost there and they consequently have told their friends and neighbors.

For those who may not have realized or tested the advantages of Gordon Mahon The Dry Cleaner, the following is itemized as hint of what awaits there:

The firm is housed in a spacious

FOR APPAREL THAT DESERVES THE BEST

building specifically arranged for the dry cleaning operation.

Drive-up window service is provided.

Hours are 7:30 a.m. until 6:30 p.m., Mondays through Fridays, with earlier 3 p.m. closing on Saturdays.

Clothing brought in by 10 can be ready the same day, Mondays through Fridays, when requested, without added charge.

Laundry pick-up is provided.

Minor repairs are made.

No Staples

No staples are used in tagging, eliminating this danger of damage to fine clothes.

Restoration of body and sizing to garments is assured by the processed utilized by Gordon Mahon The Dry Cleaner.

Most any type garment can be handled.

Drapery cleaning is welcomed.

Pillow cleaning is a very important and specialized service, whether foam rubber or feather bed pillows.

"We invite you to learn of these and the other services at the quality Gordon Mahon The Dry Cleaner Shop, 57th & Slide, phone 797-9819, where all clothing is treated as 'investment clothing,' given the finest care possible."

Mrs. Camp's Includes Catering Among Firm's Multiple Benefits

For catering, for pastries, cookies, cakes and all... why consider other than Mrs. Camp's, 4005 34th St., phone 792-2343.

At Mrs. Camp's the delicious answer to every pastry need is present... for goodness any day and for the most elaborate of special occasions.

So, treat the children, family and friends to delights throughout the year from Mrs. Camp's where every operation is for finest preparation, display and service related to superior bakery products.

"We want to emphasize that Mrs. Camp's Pastry (long the solution to every pastry need) offers a really outstanding catering service."

Catering for all occasions including weddings, anniversaries, birthdays, graduations and other group events is readily available from Mrs. Camp's where the Catering Department gets full attention of a dedicated staff and ownership.

Imagine... everything for a complete wedding reception, including the most beautiful cakes ever, punch, nuts, finger sandwiches, mints, coffee, silver service, the complete bride's table, groom's table and guest book tables. Yes, complete to the glassware and silver, catering from Mrs. Camp's assures rightness in every detail.

David Yocum is the very capable manager of the department.

Charles and Frances Scarborough, owners of Mrs. Camp's, take special pride in the catering service they initiated several years ago and which has been received in a gratifying manner.

Yocum and the long-known Mrs. Camp's ownership and staff invite inquiries for every reception need.

"We think you'll appreciate this service: call 792-2343 for details, or come by the attractive, spotless facility at 4005 34th St. where a large display hints of the completeness of the catering department.

Specializing in custom orders, Mrs. Camp's does "one job better," concentrating all efforts at this one location and this one field.

The custom party cakes, wedding cakes, anniversary cakes and many other products are not only the most delicious to be found, but they are veritable works of art. The skilled decorators create designs or use the customers' design in cakes for special occasions, baking and preparing on as little as one-day notice.

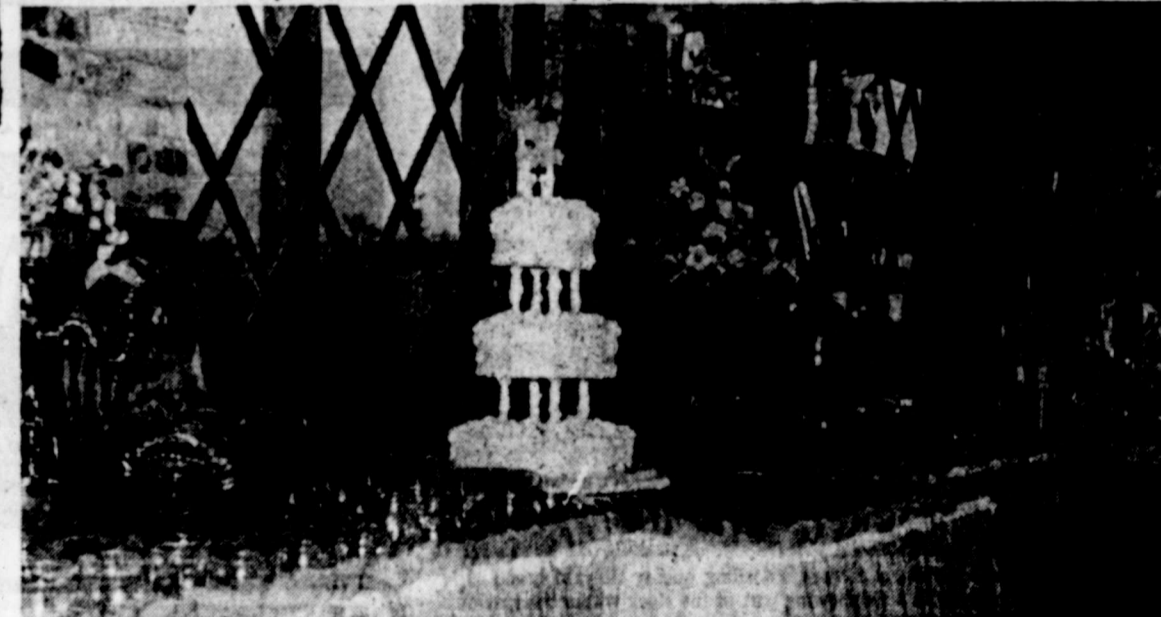

Mrs. Camp's uses only pure ingredients in its many products.

Select from doughnuts, Danish rolls, French pastries, several varieties of Danish coffee cakes; and peanut brittle and divinity candy. Twenty-five varieties of cookies are prepared, with only pecans as nut ingredients.

All Mrs. Camp's products are baked and prepared right in the spotless kitchens of the facility.

Cakes and other bakery goodies are stocked in the cases at all times, and many decorative creations are in stock, sometimes eliminating need of special orders for particular occasion.

Pies, cakes, tarts, etc., are the ultimate in goodness at Mrs. Camp's, open from 7:30 a.m. until 6:30 p.m. Mondays through Saturdays.

DS Agency Offers Local Sales, Service Exxon Office Systems

"Making it easier for you to do business" is the whole service and concern of the DS Agency, Inc., serving from Lubbock, Midland and Amarillo as agents for Exxon Office Systems throughout West Texas.
Located in Lubbock at 1304 Ave. O, phone (806) 762-8361, the firm's Midland number is (915) 684-8646.
Local sales and local service is thus assured.
Lease, sale and rental of the Exxon systems is enabled through the DS Agency headed by the brother team of Doug and Sam Ward and established in 1979.
Into the Exxon Office Systems products go the most advanced technologies in information processing, communications and storage. It is pointed out by the Lubbock firm that takes pride in providing these products from Exxon, the world's largest corporation.
Attention is directed here, in brief, to four Exxon products contributing measurably to more efficient ways for you to do business... easier and faster:

Qyx, "the intelligent typewriter," has electronic modules that let one add memory, display or communications, enabling Qyx to get smarter without getting bigger! In brief, it is a great electronic memory typewriter. Its cost efficiency is remarkable.
Qyde, "the most complete line of display word processing systems in the world; yes, in the entire world." Just introduced is the Vydec 4000 series, the first 19-inch two-full-page display word processor. The 4000 lets you work with up to 6,000 characters on the screen at one time!
Qwip Also vital among the Exxon Office Systems products are the Qwip facsimile machines that speed paperwork across town or cross-country in just two minutes! Because Qwip is used with your telephone, sending copies from "here" to "there" is as simple as dialing your destination.

Zilog
Zilog, Inc. makes highly flexible microcomputer systems that can use five high-level languages... so Zilog microcomputers have the versatility for a broad range of business and industrial applications at a very low cost.
All this is available from DS Agency, remember, right here at home, with local sales and local service emphasized.
"To learn more about our products and services, and how they can make it easier for you to do business, call now at 762-8361 in Lubbock, or 684-8646 in Midland. Shouldn't these breakthroughs in increased office productivity work for you, too?"

HUCO Products Providing Full Stock Housecleaning Supplies

HUCO, at 101 Sherman, just off the Clovis Hwy, near downtown Lubbock, supplies the best in janitorial equipment and related needs for the home... just as it does for business and industry.
"Housewives, isn't it great to have available all the needed cleaners, spot-ers, floor finishes, etc., just like the professional use, right here in a supermarket type display in Lubbock at HUCO Products Co?"
Furthermore, a knowledgeable sales staff, specialists in the cleaning supply category, is on hand to offer professional suggestions. They know their business and can be of exceptional assistance to you who want your home to look its best.
For carpet care products, cleaners, strippers, disinfectants, aerosols, waxes, polymers, dressings, seals, finishes, paint removers and more, one can select with ease from the supermarket type display in the big, attractive showroom at HUCO.

For attention to windows, carpet, floors, terrazzo, brick, hardwood, bath and shower fixtures, garage areas and all, HUCO Products Co. has a quality selection of products.
Do you need a de-greaser for the garage? HUCO has the finest!
Drain opening compounds are stocked, too; these are a "must" for any home.
Colored paints for garage floors are stocked; a great aid in maintaining neatness of the premises.
De-icing compound is stocked, too... don't go through winter without this protection.
When it is clean-up time in home, office, industry or whatnot, why settle for less than products from HUCO?
Record of Service
Robert Hughes is HUCO president; and George Hughes is the president of the parent Hughes Services, Inc. which has over a quarter-century service record.

Also on hand at HUCO are Ken Strangy, Don Edwards, Delton Fortenberry and Jack Boydston, sales; and David Mitchell and Eddy Williams in Midland, all experts on gym finishes, sanitation supplies and methods.
HUCO serves 56 counties... from the Oklahoma border to Midland and Odessa, from New Mexico to Wichita Falls, from its Lubbock home base.
Hughes Services, Inc. serves enviably in a 120-mile radius of Lubbock, with Hughes crews on the job around the clock.
(Products stocked by HUCO have been utilized in Hughes' own business cleaning and maintenance services, with only the finest, proven by trial, put on HUCO shelves.) The service, integrity and capacity for service of each firm is a matter of record.

FOR PROFESSIONALS, HOMEMAKERS ALIKE — HUCO-owned firm is a truck unloading quality Hillyard brand supplies. Products stocks equally for the housewife or largest industrial applies, with inset showing part of the stock within the spacious display room.

Rainbo Country Hearth Breads Introduced Today Regionally

In keeping with its devotion to "quality you can taste," Rainbo Baking Co., Lubbock, today is introducing an added line of variety breads throughout its region.
 "Country Hearth Breads" are being introduced today, available in four delightful varieties: (1) Old Fashion Buttermilk, (2) 100 per cent Stone Ground Wheat, (3) Seven Whole Grain, and (4) Bran 'n Honey bread.
 What is so great about Country Hearth Breads?
 They are whole grain products baked with the finest ingredients available, using (1) natural whole grains and (2) no artificial preservatives throughout the entire line!

In addition, to insure maximum flavor and quality, Country Hearth Breads from Rainbo are baked an average of 26 minutes per loaf, about 50 percent more than standard pan breads, and all varieties are baked in the wide pan.
 "Country Hearth Breads in most cases contain a much higher percentage of whole grains to flour weight. Example: many variety breads contain between eight and 12 per cent, while Country Hearth contains between 12 and 26 per cent whole grains to flour weight. Country Hearth Breads represent a softer whole grain bread than is generally available today, too."

Characteristics Pinpointed
 Check these specific characteristics of each Country Hearth variety:
 The Old Fashion Buttermilk Bread tastes like it was made in a country kitchen! By blending the flours of five different grains (wheat, rye, corn, soy and oatmeal) and adding buttermilk, makes this product a light, moist bread variety that is a real family favorite.
 The 100 per cent Stone Ground Whole Wheat bread involves stone grinding the wheat and adding it back in its whole form (wheat flour, wheat bran, wheat germ, wheat gluten) giving excellent nutritional values. In addition, by adding corn sugar, honey, molasses and raisin juice, this product has the old fashioned taste and flavor the consumer is looking for today.

 Bran 'N Honey Bread is an old fashioned recipe blending the natural fiber of wheat bran with the natural sweetness of honey. It makes a delicious bread with wholesome, sweet nut-like flavor and natural nutrition to be enjoyed by all ages.
 Seven Whole Grain Bread is the result of blending all of Mother Nature's natural grains in their whole state into one loaf of bread! The addition of honey, molasses and raisin juice provides the natural sweetness that makes the eating of this product a veritable delight. The seven natural whole grains are wheat, rye, barley, soy, corn, oatmeal and rice.
 "We invite you to discover, today, why Rainbo is so excited about the Country Hearth Breads we are introducing in your favorite grocery or supermarket," is the sincere word from Harry Hoopes, president of the Rainbo Baking Co. of Lubbock.

New Ownership, Miniatures Make News At Cactus Alley 'Little Shoppe'

With The Little Shoppe in Cactus Alley long recognized for its selection of miniatures by the thousands, for its sorority items, for its unique stock for the gifter, the hobbyist, for the amateur and avid miniature collector alike, one could hardly expect more!
 (1) The stock is the most extensive ever, appreciably increased even in the past few weeks;
 (2) Re-arrangement of the already-attractive shop makes for better display and greater customer convenience; and here's the big announcement:
 (3) Nancy Caswell has been announced as new owner!
 Nancy, a most, most knowledgeable miniature enthusiast and collector, actually has been in The Little Shoppe, working hand in hand with Norma Bartley, since September.
 Norma Bartley, who founded The Little Shoppe back some 15 years ago on 34th Street and pioneered the concept that has made the shop outstanding throughout all the Southwest, is most enthusiastic in introducing and recommending Nancy as new owner.

Record Of Growth
 "I have loved the associations the shop has afforded me through the years," Norma emphasizes, "having many customers that have remained throughout the years, from the first location to the Cactus Alley move about 12 years ago when I became first tenant here, and on through the growth that even last year saw the shop moving to a new location within the Alley to enable doubling of size. Through these years the shop evolved from primarily a consignment shop of hobbies, arts and crafts to the stature it now enjoys as headquarters for miniatures — the delightful furnishings, the doll houses, the shadow boxes, the kits, even a veritable lumber yard for the miniature enthusiast!
 "It has been a real pleasure serving and working with each of you," Norma adds, "and I still will assist Nancy and those who rely upon The Little Shoppe, in any way possible. It is without reservation that I recommend Nancy Caswell as the new owner who also has your interests at heart."

 Nancy is an area native, returning here after several years absence. Formerly living at O'Donnell, she is a graduate of O'Donnell High School and counts many friends throughout the area.
Invitation Voiced
 "Come in and meet Nancy or renew acquaintance with her, and learn of all afforded in The Little Shoppe, still significantly "different" in Cactus Alley, 2610 Salem Ave., just south off the Brownfield Highway in Lubbock. We know you'll like what you find... from miniatures never before seen or presented in this area to the help that only a qualified devotee can give. Nancy is glad to assist in any way possible, glad to work with folks who appreciate the unusual, the pretty and the intriguing.
 "The Little Shoppe comes through, stronger than ever."

THE CARPET STORE WHERE YOUR DOLLAR BUYS MORE

One-Of-A-Kind Tuftwick Sale Enables Special Opportunity

For final January Clearance, it is a "One-of-a-Kind" Sale underway at Tuftwick Carpet, Inc., Brownfield Highway at Slide Road in Lubbock.

During this event, one actually can save 30 per cent to even 60 per cent on many carpet patterns from leading manufacturers, the Tuftwick management reports.

Aside from the short rolls, remnants, discontinued patterns and some other carpet marked at this drastic price reduction, Tuftwick has further good news for the quality-conscious and cost-conscious customers of the region:

All in-stock carpet, other than sale items, is sold at the old price — without the increase that has come with new orders from the manufacturer.

Present Advantages Cited
 So, whether selecting from the special sale one-of-a-kind opportunities or from other stock carpet, the wide word surely is to "buy now, during the Clearance at Tuftwick, and continue to depend on the firm that takes pride in selling at $3 to $5 per square yard under suggested retail, no matter the selection, no matter if just arrived in stock, no matter if sale time or not!"

"Holding the price line" to the fullest extent possible in every transaction is a way of business at Tuftwick.

One is invited to bring room measurements on the very first visit, and the Tuftwick staff will gladly figure the carpet amount necessary.

"There's no need to have a 'let down' after the first of the year; it is a great time to ready the home for spring entertaining and family enjoyment . . . and Tuftwick aids even further with the low prices and increased selection."

There are special "bonus buys" in carpet from Milliken, Lees and others. Check within the store for these exceptional values.

Add to this that Tuftwick advertises easy terms, no money down, and up to 36 months to pay, and the idea comes through clearly and forcefully, that Tuftwick Carpet, Inc., wants your business! Visa, Master Charge and GE Major Purchase Cards are welcomed.

Likely more consideration is being given at this time to the advantages of home remodeling than in some years.

And in this vein, it is evident that new carpeting should be a major acquisition in making the home beautiful, livable and more energy efficient. Let Tuftwick assist in the related savings.

Whatever the selection in the very large stock, including full rolls, short rolls and remnants, one can save by purchasing from Tuftwick at this time.

One must surely see the new rolls arriving from such famous mills as Lees, Milliken, Philadelphia and Horizon. Seldom has there been such a variety of fabrics and colors and patterns. All the fab-

Storkie's Continues Sale

"Storkie's at 34th & H, the maternity and baby shop that Lubbock and area shoppers are talking about, continues its January Sale!"

There are good buys and many mark-downs in the maternity and baby departments, as the January event continues in order to make room for spring merchandise arriving daily.

In the maternity department, one will find sizes from 4 to 24 and a complete lingerie department including panties, slips, regular and support hose, girdles, nursing bras to 44F and washable nursing pads and nursing smock tops and nursing dresses.

"If you are a nursing mother, Storkie's invites your comparison of nursing bras. We have a fantastic bra with excellent support for $8.50. This bra really has been well received."

There always is a good selection of maternity apparel, a wonderful selection of pants and jeans and plenty of mark-downs in dresses and tops. It is a great time to take advantage of close-out fall merchandise.

Stock up for the little ones: girls 3-6X, boys 0-4T, with quality merchandise at truly affordable prices. Many items are marked down and reduced for the remainder of the month. A 10 percent discount on any regular price item not already marked down in the baby department is posted.

Layaways, Visa and Master Charge purchases are welcomed.

"We at Storkie's are grateful for our many new customers, not only in Lubbock but those coming from area towns as result of hearing from their friends about Storkie's, located in the Family Park Center, just next door to Anthony's."

"If you like a good selection and prices you can afford, Storkie's is for you. Owner Faye Spoth and staff are anxious to serve you and save for you, at 34th & H, phone 747-8331."

Fifth Wheels From Pharr Seen Solving RV Convenience, Quality, Cost Needs

"Pharr RV's, Inc., 1702 Clovis Road in Lubbock, can be quite a friend . . . whether you want to relax and see the sights close to home or prefer the rugged mountains, the seashore or backwoods adventures."

"For practicality, convenience, beauty and just plain fun, there's likely nothing else like the '81 Coachmen QuinStar/Caper XL Fifth Wheels!"

And Pharr has these Fifth Wheel Units in stock, in 28 to 35 ft. lengths, both new and used, to provide the best selection of these he has ever had.

If desiring a full-size recreational unit (RV), then the Fifth Wheel seems made to order, easily pulled by the pickups of one's preference.

"Don't fret about small units or small autos: solve the vacationing, travel needs with a Fifth Wheel; lots of other people are doing it!"

In outlining the good supply of '81 Coachmen units on the lot, "the No. 1 seller in America," Pharr points out some features of the Fifth Wheels, in particular: QuinStar features a one-piece seamless aluminum roof that is easy to maintain and it is watertight. Rugged tubular steel frames and the galvanized metal underbelly combine for strength, safety and further all-weather protection. "It is the perfect combination of convenience and luxury."

Pharr's not only has these units, but stocks many other quality RV units and provides quality service for the region.

New and used Class A motor homes are on the big lot.

Park Models
 And the park models (8x35 trailers) also by Coachmen.

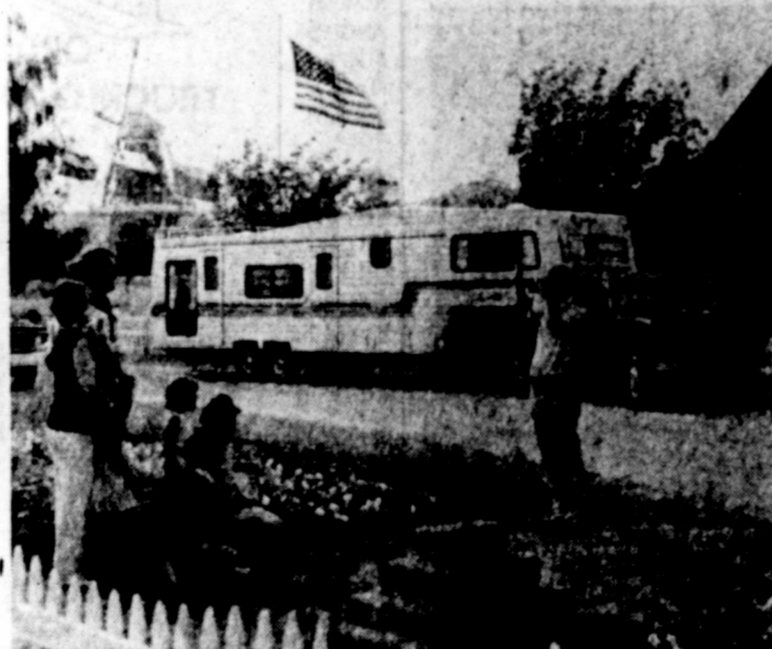

Rentals
 Rentals of motor homes and small travel trailers (even small enough to be towed by the small cars) is a big department of Pharr's RV's.

RV storage is one of the several services afforded.

Parts, accessories and service are all available.

A good selection of RV units always is maintained at Pharr's, at its clearly-marked and easily reached facility near downtown Lubbock, at the Amarillo Highway-Clovis Road "Y," 1702 Clovis Road.

"Pharr wants to help you enjoy travel and vacation opportunities in every season and for years to come. Why delay, discover upon your own visit and inspection how Pharr can make your weekends, vacations or retirement a whole new experience without exorbitant cost."

Edwards And Abernathie Real Estate Serving With Envid Staff Ability

"For your every real estate need, the invitation is extended to turn to Edwards and Abernathie Real Estate where Bernice Turquette heads an all-Realtor office and staff.

3217 34th St., phone 792-5166, recognizes that a properly merchandised home is a sold home, and they direct all efforts accordingly.

"If you are impressed by a million dollar sales figure, then you most certainly will be doubly impressed by the million dollar service afforded by each of the capable staff at Edwards and Abernathie!"

SIGN-UP TIME

B & I Pages Aid Buyer, Seller In Presentations

Sign-up deadline is near for participation in the Business and Industrial (B & I) pages of the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal during the spring and summer months ahead.

See an Avalanche-Journal retail advertising salesman, or call 762-8844 (Extensions 334, 306 or 313) and a representative of the advertising department will explain the program in full, helping plan a comprehensive schedule of presentations in stories and pictures, together with ads that week after week carry their impact.

"These pages have a record of proven benefit to advertiser and customer alike; and remember, your own story can be told effectively, prominently, professionally and correctly on these pages in the activity-packed season ahead. Don't be left out; get full details now!"

"So... let's get down to business: haven't you said, in your own situation, that next time I'm going to be on the B & I pages? My business associates have reported the effectiveness, and readers have expressed their enthusiasm for the informative stories and ads."

Now that time is here, together with its opportunities.

"Your business or service can be featured in pictures and stories in the unique B & I section, but only if action is taken at soonest possible time.

"These messages can be featured only if arrangements are made now; so don't find your firm or service omitted from the B & I pages."

"Those interested in being represented through these factual stories and pictures for the first time, or as a continuation of former rewarding schedules, should call 762-8844, Extension 334, 306 or 313, and a representative of the advertising department will assist to the fullest.

"We want to work with you in every way possible" is the sincere message from the owners at Insulating Windows, Inc.

"We want you to save every cost; we want you to keep out the cold of winter and the heat of summer... and we want you to be protected against the sandstorms sure to come!"

If the consideration is beauty, economy, quality, health, investment, design or service, then Insulating Windows, Inc., phone 745-5768, at 327 E. 74th St. should enter the picture.

Much could be said about advisability of purchasing a home at this time, of the numerous services offered by Edwards and Abernathie in such transaction, and regarding the particular qualifications of each hand-picked staff member. However, this week the firm just wants you to know of their interest; they want you to see their pictures, recognizing them as staff with your interests at heart, recognizing them as the representatives who sold that house across the street that you noted was on the market such a short time!

Edwards and Abernathie Real Estate excels in creative financing and descriptive advertising. They understand the terms of "value" and "price" with the salesperson assisting in a price and value brought to nearest possible equal in the eyes of the lender. They understand value factors such as cash equivalent value, insurable value, stabilized value and market value, knowing how the same figure sometimes could apply to each, in other situations varying greatly.

In any event, Bernice Turquette and staff go all out in working with buyer and seller making home sales and purchases easier and most desirable for all.

Whether the primary concern is saving in cash, in securing a home for immediate occupancy upon transfer here, for location elsewhere, for upgrading one's living accommodations, or whatever, Edwards and Abernathie at 3217 34th St., phone 792-5166, is on the job to meet the need... in a most commendable manner. Bernice and the staff are glad to offer apt suggestions to both purchaser and seller, all working toward a mutually rewarding transaction.

Fears About Crime Rate Fueled By Media Reports

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Violent crimes are not increasing significantly in the United States, but a government report says media reports tend to keep Americans worried about their personal safety.

"The overriding public concern is the threat to security posed by crime. The pervasiveness of criminal activity is generally perceived as one of our nation's gravest ills," the Commerce Department said in Social Indicators III, a massive statistical report prepared by the Census Bureau.

The recently released report is one in a series developed over the last decade to assess the quality of American life.

"The reported rate of many crimes is growing at a decelerated pace (and) victimization rates for most violent and household crimes have remained fairly constant during the mid-1970s," the study's Public Safety chapter states.

Although analysts see the slower growth of crime as a positive sign, the public generally does not, it added.

"The media is constantly feeding ... information about the latest murders, rapes and robberies," it said. "When people hear the grim details, it is very difficult to console them with the fact that the rate of murder per 100,000 population has not increased significantly in the last several years."

Atlanta Officials Checking Calls

ATLANTA (AP) — Authorities were checking with renewed interest today two telephone calls earlier this month from a man who claimed to be responsible for a string of child killings here.

The calls to the Rockdale County sheriff's office, which were tape-recorded, at first were dismissed as a hoax. However, the discovery last week of a 14th victim near a site the caller named was "too fantastic a coincidence," one law enforcement official said.

Rockdale County Sheriff Vic Davis on Sunday discounted any connection between the calls and Friday's discovery of the body of 15-year-old Terry Lorenzo Pue in suburban Conyers. The Atlanta boy had been missing since Wednesday.

"We're letting key people in our community listen to the tape and hopefully they'll be able to recognize the voice," Davis said. "But nothing the guy has said has really led us to believe he's the killer ... other than the fact" the body turned up beside a road the caller had mentioned.

In the first call Jan. 8, the caller said the body of one of three missing black children, Lubie "Chuck" Geter, could be found along Sigman Road in western Rockdale County — about 25 miles from the general area where other bodies were found.

The caller also said he would commit more crimes if he were not caught. Authorities said a second call from the same person a week later repeated the message, but there have been no calls since.

After the first call, more than 75 officers searched areas along Sigman road, but nothing was found and the call was dismissed as a hoax.

Pue's body was found beside Sigman Road, about three miles south of where police had searched. Pue, who was strangled to death like several other of the victims, was last seen two days before at an Atlanta bus stop.

Davis said the boy's body "was not discovered at the points indicated by the anonymous caller, so no connection between the two is believed at this time."

But other investigators have different theories.

"The person who called may have generated enough publicity to prompt the killer to move out to this area," said Conyers Police Chief Roland Vaughn.

Fulton County Police Chief Clinton Chafin said law enforcement pressure in the inner city may have driven the killer or killers out to the suburbs.

Police have said that more than one killer probably is responsible for the 14 slayings in the past 18 months. All the victims have been black and between the ages of 7 and 15. Three other black children still are missing.

About 500 volunteers, meanwhile, turned out Saturday for another in the series of weekend searches for clues in the cases. They were joined by about 75 police officers, but nothing believed related to the cases was turned up.

DR. LAMB

Changing Habits Helpful

DEAR DR. LAMB — I smoked cigarettes for nearly 10 years before I quit. I was up to more than a pack a day. The way I quit was cheap. Instead of reaching for a cigarette I would reach for a glass of ice water. I had a glass of ice water by whenever I sat down, or in the kitchen where I was cooking. After two weeks I did not want a cigarette anymore.
Five years later I was in the hospital and they fed me intravenously and gave me blood for about five days. When I got home I had the craving again. After about a week I smoked more than a pack at one sitting. To this day I have not wanted another cigarette. That was four years ago.
Not being able to smoke killed my great-grandmother. She was only 104. A country doctor told her children she was going to die if she did not quit smoking. She refused to eat or drink until they gave her her pipe. In less than a week they were putting flowers on her grave. She had smoked since she was 12.
DEAR DR. LAMB — Thanks for your suggestion about how to quit smoking. You used a good method — substituting a new habit for an old one. Drinking water, or whatever one chooses to do to satisfy the need to be doing something, will help for a variety of reasons. The good thing about your water habit is that it does not contain calories. A lot of people substitute eating for smoking and that adds to the problem of weight gain.
Many of the hazards of tobacco are discussed in The Health Letter number 2-6, Tobacco: Cigarettes, Cigars, Pipes, which I am sending you. Others who want this issue can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope to me, in care of The Lubbock Avalanche-Journal, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, N.Y. 10019. In general, a heavy smoker tends to shorten his life expectancy by about 14 years.

Teen Killed In Train Collision

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP) — The friend pounded frantically on a car blocking an escape route. On the railroad tracks, a 19-year-old woman sat in her compact car, apparently frozen at the wheel, and watched as the freight train closed in.
The friend continued to pound, but she said the driver of the car didn't move. The 100-car Florida East Coast Railway train, traveling at 35 mph, did. The next sound was grinding metal.
The driver who allegedly didn't move now faces vehicular manslaughter charges in death of Dawn Dulock of Fort Lauderdale.
"We're still trying to get over the shock of it all," Barbara Dulock, Dawn's mother, said Sunday from her Albany, Ga., home. "She had everything going for her."
Oakland Park Police Detective Rick Wright called the Dulocks' Georgia home in the middle of the night Saturday with the news.
"There wasn't much he could say," Mrs. Dulock said.
Miss Dulock and Rhonda Axtell, who met 18 months ago at Fort Lauderdale Art Institute, were heading home from the house of a friend when Miss Dulock drove onto the tracks.
Two cars waiting at a traffic signal blocked escape from the front, Miss Axtell said.
When Miss Dulock tried to back up, the car behind her wouldn't move, said Miss Axtell, who said she jumped out of the car and pounded on the windshield of the car to the rear.
"I yelled at her (Miss Dulock) to put it in reverse, but when she did we hit the car behind us," said Miss Axtell. "He had at least a car length and a half of room behind him to back up."
Then the train struck, shoving Miss Dulock's car sideways and into her desperate friend, Wright said.
"I think the train was so damn close she just sat there and looked at it," Miss Axtell said.
Miss Axtell, suffering from minor cuts, said she ran back to the car that had blocked escape, opened the door and punched the driver, Anthony James Puerta, in the mouth.

Authorities Seek Possible Target In Bungled Jail Escape Attempt

NEW YORK (AP) — Authorities were trying to determine today who was targeted for freedom in a daring but bungled attempt by a man and a woman to pluck an inmate from atop a Manhattan federal prison by using a hijacked helicopter.
The escape attempt fizzled in mid-morning Sunday when the hijackers gave up trying to cut through a grating over a rooftop recreation area at the Metropolitan Correction Center in downtown Manhattan's Foley Square near City Hall.
But for the next three hours, 20 prisoners held a guard hostage in the recreation area while police trained rifles on them from rooftops and hundreds of people watched from nearby apartment towers.
Warden Dale Thomas said a recently convicted narcotics dealer, Robert Wyler, was one of the inmates under investigation as a possible target of the incident. The FBI declined comment.
Wyler was accused of heading a three-state cocaine ring and was alleged by prosecutors to be a member of the Mafia.
The escape attempt ended without injury, and no shots were fired. After lounging in the sun and playing basketball in the shadows of whirring police helicopters, the inmates on the roof, including Wyler, negotiated a surrender at about 1 p.m., officials said.
The incident began at 7 a.m. when a dark-haired woman who wore a maroon jogging suit and said her last name was Sanchez rented a helicopter from Island Helicopters Corp. at New Jersey's Teterboro Airport, about seven miles from Manhattan.
The pilot, identified by police as Thomas Nietzsche, took the woman over the Hudson River and the island of Manhattan to a heliport on Manhattan's East Side, where they were met by another woman.
The second woman gave the first

Explosion Shakes Iranian Bank In San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A bomb blast ripped the Bank Mellé Iran early today with an explosion strong enough to shatter windows on buildings across the street, police said.
There were no injuries and no one claimed responsibility for the 12:35 a.m. PST blast at the bank, located on Montgomery Street in San Francisco's financial district, a police spokesman said.
The explosion blew out all of the windows in the Iranian bank, which had offices in the Wells Fargo Building, as well as the windows in the Union Bank office across the street, the spokesman said.
State agents were investigating and federal authorities were notified of the blast, officials said.
The blast came less than a day after 52 Americans, freed last week following 444 days in captivity in Iran, returned to the United States for reunions with their families.
Police said the bomb apparently had been placed on the outside of the bank building. A witness said the blast left a "bowling ball-sized hole" in the wall.
Police Inspector John Hennessey said the blast apparently caused "minor structural damage to the facing of the building" and seemed to damage the Union Bank "as much as the bank of Iran."
The Bank Mellé Iran, a commercial bank, is distinct from the Central Bank of Iran, Iran's primary bank.

Students Flee Louisiana Desegregation Order

ALEXANDRIA, La. (UPI) — The "Buckeye Three" took their fight against a federal judge's busing order to a new front today, joining 700 other students who fled the public school system to attend all-white private academies.

The girls, caught in the crux of a bitter jurisdictional battle between federal and state courts, enrolled last week at Hickory Grove Academy.

They did so despite U.S. District Judge Nauman Scott's threat to withhold credits they earned while attending all-white Buckeye High School unless they enrolled in the racially-mixed school assigned in his plan.

Ramona Carbo, Michelle Laborde and Lynda McNeal start the new semester at a private school formed last fall to help students avoid being bused 21 miles to Jones Street Junior High.

All 25 of Hickory Grove's students attended Buckeye last year, principal Jessie Welch said. Of the 109 Buckeye students affected by Scott's desegregation order, all but 22 enrolled in private schools.

About 700 students abandoned the public system following Scott's desegregation order last August, said Allen Nichols, Rapides Parish superintendent of schools.

Hickory Grove board president Arlene Nugent said the school, which holds classes in Holloway Baptist Church, received state accreditation last week.

Mrs. Nugent said the girls would be given placement tests to determine their level of achievement. Once that level is established, the girls could be given credit for their Buckeye work even though Scott seized their records, she said.

Officials Want Oil Decontrol

WASHINGTON (AP) — The decontrol of crude oil and gasoline, called for by President Reagan and his transition team on energy, apparently has been held up by the question of what impact it will have on inflation.

But Reagan budget director David Stockman and Energy Secretary James B. Edwards say the president should take early action to lift the controls, which are due to expire Oct. 1.

Under decontrol, gasoline prices could increase by 12 cents a gallon or more. But one consumer advocate says decontrol also could force up prices on products ranging from food shipped by truck to synthetics and plastics made with petroleum. It also could increase the cost of Social Security, which is tied to the Consumer Price Index.

But Dan Lundberg, owner of a firm that surveys gasoline prices nationwide, says market pressures are keeping gasoline prices below the maximum service stations could be charging under existing regulations. Thus, he said, decontrol would not necessarily mean higher prices.

CIRCUS' FIRST TOUR
Phineas Taylor Barnum and his circus began their first tour in 1835. Barnum gained fame in 1842 with his American Museum in New York which was publicized by extravagant advertising and exhibits such as a bearded lady. His famous circus, the Greatest Show on Earth, opened in 1871.

More Cracks Found In Grumman Buses

BETHPAGE, N.Y. (AP) — Grumman Corp.'s Flexible buses, already yanked from service in several cities because of cracks in undercarriages, have another "potential safety problem" that could make them difficult to control, the company says.

Spokesman Sandy Jones said 27 local and regional transit systems which operate the buses have been notified that metal fatigue had caused cracks in several buses in a part of the undercarriage called the "trunion."

The trunion controls the lateral movement of the rear wheels.

"If the trunion should break, the bus could be difficult to control," the company said in a statement.

Jones said the company had not heard of any accidents connected with the cracks. He said Grumman would repair any defective trunions.

Cracks in the A-frame portion of the undercarriage led New York, Los Angeles, Chicago and other cities to take some Flexibles out of service for repairs.

Outcast Raiders Cast Out Eagles

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — They are a roster of rejects, living in the halfway house of the National Football League. They are outcasts, playing for a franchise operated by an owner called "an outlaw."

Plunkett's MVP Effort Shines

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — On a day that America's heart was wrenched by the homecoming of its hostages from Iran, it was warmed by a timid, Indian-featured young man who wrote one of the most dramatic chapters in the annals of sport. If there's anything Americans relish as much as a happy ending to a period of travail — as in the case of the hostages — it is seeing some kid overcome almost every conceivable obstacle and rise to the top. That's the reason our dads went heavy for those 10-cent Horatio Alger throb-See PLUNKETT REMAINS, Page 2

A Victory For Old Pros

A COUPLE OF old pros, Jim Plunkett and Cliff Branch, set the youth cult back a notch or two Sunday as they led the Oakland Raiders to a 27-10 win over the Philadelphia Eagles in Super Bowl XV. It was a great victory for experience and poise, not to mention controversial Oakland boss Al Davis.

Before the kickoff, the experts were guessing that the score would be something like 14-10, or perhaps even 21-14 if things got really wild. Defense was expected to dominate on Super Sunday.

Many thought that a lowly field goal would be the difference, because of the tough tacklers on both sides of the line of scrimmage.

And, indeed, defense played a vital role in the contest. An early interception of a Ron Jaworski pass gave the Raiders their first scoring opportunity. Another interception in the final minutes destroyed any faint hopes of a miracle finish by the Philadelphians.

IN BETWEEN THOSE two big plays were all sorts of individual heroics. Oakland's great defensive back, Lester Hayes, covered the Eagle receivers as well as the job can be done under the present rules. And Raider linebacker Rod Martin came up with three big interceptions, including the two critical turnovers mentioned above. Not bad for a guy who once was cut by the San Francisco 49ers!

Still, Plunkett stole the show with his accurate passes to Branch, Bob Chandler and running back Kenny King, the chunky speedster from Clarendon by way of the University of Oklahoma. That 80-yard pass-and-run from Plunkett to King late in the first quarter may have been the biggest play of the tussle.

Plunkett was able to move the ball against the Eagles whenever he had to and that, in the final analysis, was the story.

THE PHILADELPHIANS BATTLED all the way, give them credit for that. The Eagles started the game with a pep rally on the sidelines and came out almost foaming at the mouth in their eagerness to get at the Raiders. But it backfired in a barrage of costly mistakes.

Some of the best coaches in the NFL long have asserted that too much emotion can be harmful to a team. Players have a lot of thinking to do in carrying out their assignments, and that is difficult under extreme stress or emotion.

Oakland coach Tom Flores was very restrained on the sideline, in contrast with Philadelphia's Dick Vermeil, and his Raiders had more poise on the field.

Vermeil brought the Eagles a long way with his cheerleading tactics, however, so it is not for others to criticize. The others were home watching the game on the little screen!

Whatever, the Eagles came up short Sunday.

AS SOON AS THE final whistle blows in the Big One, the winners start talking about a dynasty and the losers vow to be back next year. In this case, both the Raiders and the Eagles will have a difficult time in getting to SB XVI at the Silverdome in Pontiac, Mich., next January.

Oakland has a lot of players in the twilight zone, from the standpoint of age. Branch, Raymond Chester, Art Shell and Gene Upshaw probably are on their last lap as pro gridgers.

Fate seemed to favor the Raiders this season, too. They started as a mediocre football team, then lost their quarterback in the fifth game. But Plunkett, discarded by the 49ers as washed up, came off the bench and pitched the Raiders back into contention.

The Oakland bruisers also had a lot of luck in the playoffs. Cleveland had a good chance to beat them and lost on a foolish interception in the final seconds. Then someone forgot to cover the field at San Diego and the speedy Chargers lost on soggy grass, just like the Raiders have at home.

Such miracles do not happen every year, believe me.

PHILADELPHIA WILL BE the favorite in the NFC East next season, no doubt, but the Eagles have a rocky road ahead. They don't have many players on the over-the-hill list, but they were not all that much better than their competition in 1980.

The Eagles and the Cowboys will duel to the death again, as they have the last two years, with the outcome too close to call. Philadelphia had the edge in the just-completed season, with a solid defense built over a five-year period, but the Cowboys now have adjusted to a new quarterback and coach Tom Landry vows his defense will continue to improve.

Dallas was hurt by the loss of its top two draft choices last spring — choices that could have brought in a promising young linebacker and defensive back. This year, Landry goes into the draft with all of his top picks intact.

Both the Eagles and the Cowboys will have to worry about the Atlanta Falcons, however. The Georgia club was one of the best — and one of the youngest — in the NFC last season. With a little more experience, the Falcons may fly all the way to the Silverdome in '82.

They are a team torn between two cities, 45 men who play for each other and against the rest of the world.

Call the Oakland Raiders all those things today, but don't forget to call them champions. They are the world champions of professional football, convincing winners of Super Bowl XV with a 27-10 victory over the Philadelphia Eagles Sunday.

Led by Cinderella quarterback Jim Plunkett, who completed a storybook return from football's scrap heap with a record-shattering three-touchdown, 261-yard game, the Raiders stepped gingerly into the glass slipper and found the fit was perfect.

"World champions! That sure sounds nice," said guard Gene Upshaw, captain of this scrappy team which delights in confounding the establishment.

"We were against the world," Upshaw continued. "Everyone said we had no chance, but we knew we did. They kept reminding us we're not good enough. You know, if we played another game next week, we'd still be underdogs."

It is a role the renegade Raiders delight in filling.

"We have a strong feeling for each other and it makes us stronger and better as a team," said flanker Bob Chandler, one of the retreads, who caught four of Plunkett's passes for 77 yards.

The pass Chandler remembered best was the one he didn't catch — a busted play which developed into an 80-yard touchdown for running back Kenny King. It was in the final seconds of the first quarter with the Raiders on their own 20-yard line and leading 7-0.

"I wanted to go to Bobby, but I ran out of time," Plunkett explained. "I started to scramble."

That was a signal for King to start free-lancing. He had been running a simple short pattern, but when the quarterback leaves the protection of his pocket, all bets are off. The linebacker covering King moved in to try and trap Plunkett. Suddenly, the running back was alone and Plunkett saw him.

"The defensive back was in front of me and there was no one behind me," King said. "The ball went through his hands and dropped into mine. When I turned and started running I didn't see anybody. That's when I knew I was gone."

King caught the ball at the Oakland 39 and turned the play into the longest touchdown pass in Super Bowl history. And when he high-stepped his way into the end zone, there was Chandler, the original primary receiver, right behind him.

"I told him with 100 million people watching I didn't want to fall away from him too quickly," said Chandler who, at 31, isn't exactly the fleetest player in the league. "I was surprised to see him," King said admiringly. "That boy's fast."

That touchdown gave Oakland a 14-0 lead and all three players involved in that key play were resurrected, acquired and nurtured by owner Al Davis, who never let his war with the league interfere with his team's drive for the championship.

You wouldn't invite Davis and commissioner Pete Rozelle to the same cocktail party. They are bitter adversaries, locked in a court battle over the Raiders' proposed move to Los Angeles. Davis has linked Rozelle's name to ticket-scalping schemes and the commissioner has denied those charges and called the Oakland owner "an outlaw."

But both men were on their best behavior for the championship trophy presentation ceremony. Rozelle was cordial, paying tribute to this team, the first wild-card club ever to win the Super Bowl. And Davis accepted gracefully and advised his team to "take pride and be proud. Your commitment to excellence will endure forever."

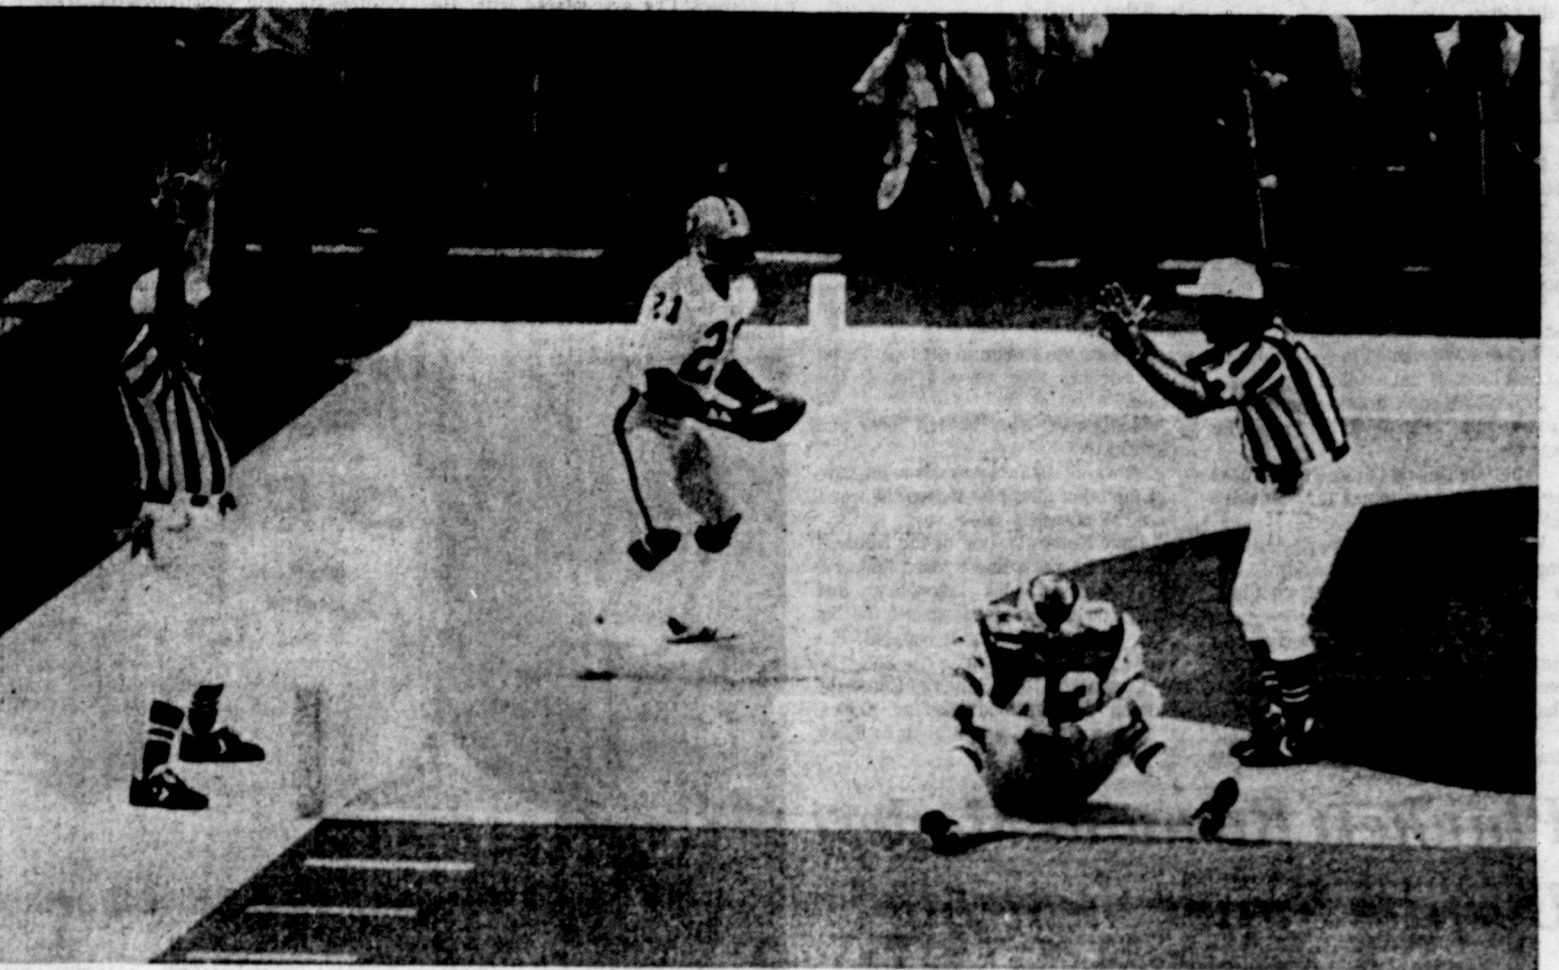

Davis acquired Chandler from Buffalo and King from Houston during the off-season. He saw qualities in both men which he thought could help his team. They were rejects, but they fit into the Raider blueprint. So did Plunkett, but only as a backup to Dan Pastorini, another, more glamorous off-season acquisition.

Chandler and King were minor projects compared to Plunkett. He was a washed-up quarterback, ready for retirement, when Davis signed him. He spent two seasons virtually unused and a disappointing career seemed at a dead-end for the 32-year-old quarterback.

"I was so far down that I wanted to throw in the towel and try something else," Plunkett said. "Fortunately, I had See DEDICATED RAIDERS, Page 2

Tech Awaits SMU In Coliseum

By CHUCK McDONALD
Assistant Sports Editor

In a league that has gone completely haywire, Saturday was just another day at the office for the Southwest Conference.

League-leading Baylor was knocked off by the Texas Longhorns, a team that had lost six of its last eight contests, and owned only a single SWC victory prior to defeating the Bears. In Dallas, SMU saw an 18-point halftime lead go up in smoke as the surprising Rice Owls outscored the Mustangs 20-0 over a six-minute stretch to turn a 55-40 SMU lead into a 60-55 deficit.

The Ponies lost that heartbreaker 60-59 as Rice jumped in behind the leaders with a 4-2 mark.

And now, tonight, Texas Tech, which has lost three in a row but was thankfully idle Saturday, will host those same SMU Mustangs. Tech, 3-3 in conference, and SMU, with a 2-5 slate, will tipoff at 7:30 p.m. in the Municipal Coliseum.

Tech ticket manager Carol Baker said that reserved seat tickets priced at $5.50 will go on sale 30 minutes prior to tipoff. Also, if anyone wishing to purchase a ticket at the gate is turned away, the individual will be given a free ticket to a future Tech home game.

While the Mustangs are coming off an obviously disappointing loss, the Raiders will be trying to rebound from a similar 69-67 defeat against North Texas last Thursday. A loss in which coach Gerald Myers says, "we just lost our poise at the end of the game."

First-year SMU coach Dave Bliss, a former assistant coach for the highly-successful Bobby Knight at West Point, inherited a major rebuilding task when he took over at SMU. The Ponies start three freshmen, a sophomore and a junior.

"We are so young," Bliss said following Saturday's heartbreaking loss to Rice. "We haven't got a tough, hard-nosed team. We got very emotional and enthusiastic in the first half (SMU led 38-22) and we got exhausted in the second half."

"It's an important game for us," counters Myers. "We're kinda' in a slump ourselves... we're coming off of three losses."

"It's a good time to come back home," added Myers. "We'd like to get ourselves turned around."

If the Raiders want to turn things around, the Coliseum would certainly appear to be the right place. The Raiders are 8-0 at home this year (3-0 in SWC play) which, with a 9-7 season record, doesn't leave much to the imagination about how they've played on the road.

Although SMU is 6-11 on the year, the Ponies are capable of playing good basketball. The Mustangs' triple-overtime victory over league-leading Houston stands as mute testimony.

"They're a young team," said Myers. "but we certainly have respect for them. They have beaten Houston and Texas, you know."

Leading the SMU attack is 6-3 sophomore guard Dave Piehler, sensational as a freshman a year ago, and leading the team in scoring with a 13.4 average. At the point guard spot is 6-0 freshman David Gadis, the team's second leading scorer with an 11.9 average. Center Johnnie James, a 6-7 junior, is the other Mustang averaging in double figures with a 10.8 average. James' is also among the conference leaders in rebounding with an 8.3 norm.

A pair of freshmen, 6-7 Kirk Lundblade and 6-4 David Eicher, start at the forward spots for SMU with senior Gordon Welch an early substitution off the bench.

"We know all about Piehler and Welch," says Myers. "They're good players. And Gadis is a good little guard — SMU has got a pretty solid backcourt."

"They'll be a well-disciplined team,"

Long Wait For Reunions Ends With Song, Tears

NEWBURGH, N.Y. (AP) — Tense, quiet, the last minute of the longest day. Then suddenly, over the terminal loudspeaker: "Freedom One has touched down."

Cheers and tears, whoops and cries. Spontaneously, the loved ones of the 52 Americans burst into the Star Spangled Banner.

And on the surrounding hillside that overlooked the airport, a collective cheer echoed across the Hudson Valley. Sirens wailed. Banners waved. Grown men, like Col. Donald Bernstein, in stiff uniforms with rows of ribbons, cried.

"Everyone was in his own personal trance," Bernstein said.

Slowly, oh so slowly, the sleek silver-and-white plane with "The United States of America" emblazoned across the side, taxied up to the yellow carpet that stretched over the tarmac to the terminal. Inside the plane, the freed Americans, who could have no idea of the depth of the welcome they were about to receive, pressed their faces against the windows and waved.

Suddenly, the roar of the engines ceased. The plane stopped. And the families, who had waited and dreamed and prayed for this moment for longer than they thought possible, surged through the terminal's open doors. They surrounded the plane, laughing, crying, standing on tiptoe for a first glimpse, a first word.

Gerald Naves, a U.S. customs agent was first to board the plane.

"I could feel the tension and vibrations as I opened the door," he said. "It was an incredible mixture of happiness and relief."

Another official said afterwards: "It was the most rapid customs inspection ever."

No bands played. No officials lined up to shake their hands. No network television cameras were allowed in. The families had requested and received privacy. But for those who watched, the afternoon was a series of poignant portraits.

One by one, America's newest heroes emerged from the plane.

The Marines exited first, smartly saluting before racing down the ramp to find their loved ones.

One Marine bent to kiss American soil. Who was he? What was his name?

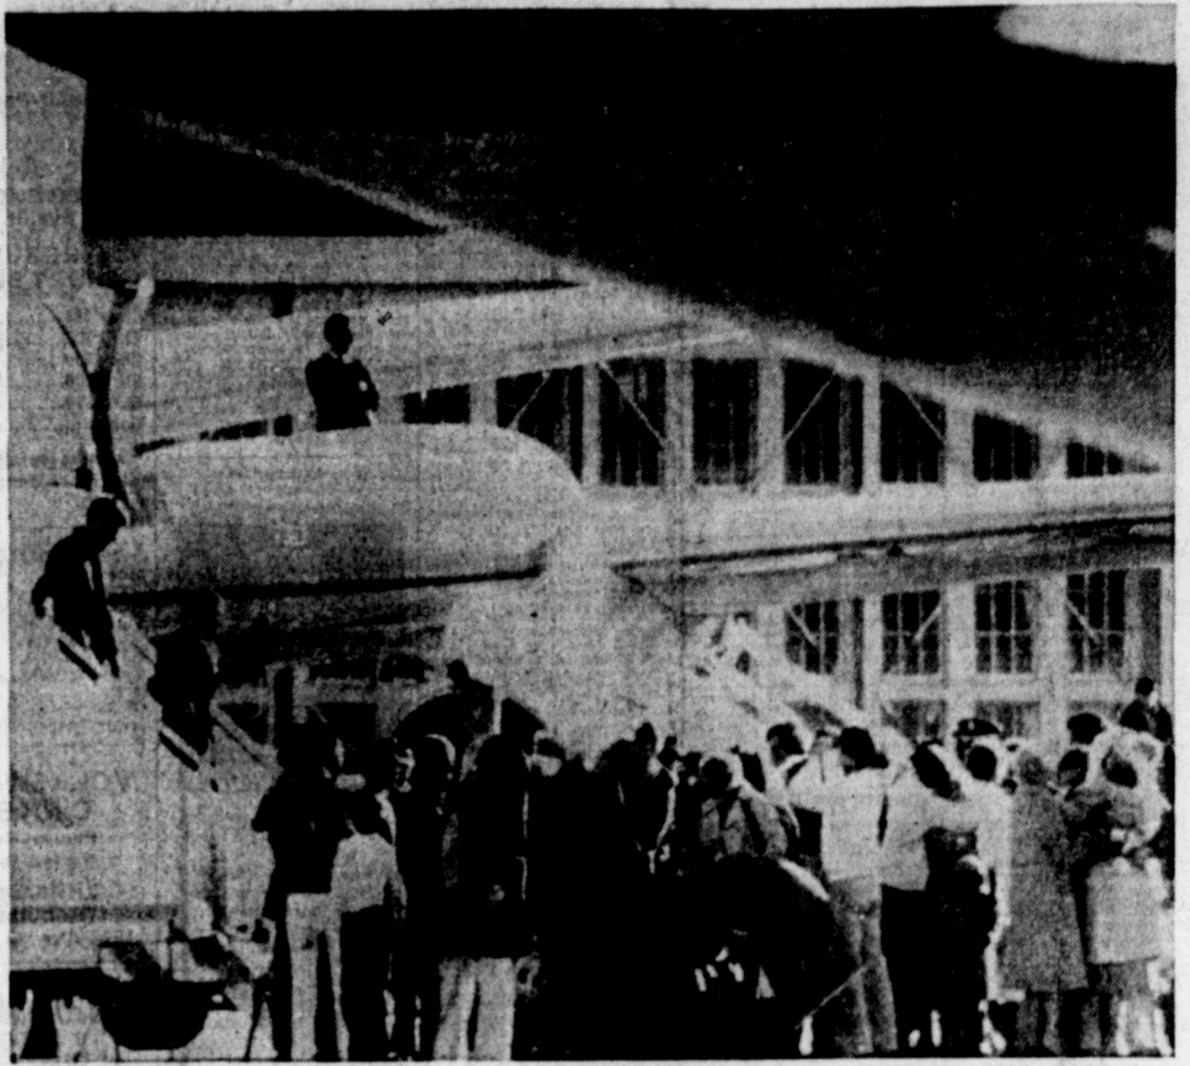

"I only know he was a Marine. I couldn't see his name tag for the tears in my eyes," said the official greeter, Frank S. Tarbell, general manager of the Metropolitan Airport Authority.

A small boy, whose memory of his father could only be from pictures, wrapped his arms around the man's legs.

Families posed with each other for souvenir pictures. Waiters in white coats served coffee and doughnuts.

About a hundred yards away, some 200 people who had sneaked through the tight security waved and cheered, their contagious enthusiasm restrained by armed military guards.

They were the vanguard of 200,000 flag-waving, ribbon-bedecked Americans who had stood for hours on a cold day for the simple honor of welcoming home their fellow countrymen who were, as the banners proclaimed, free at last.

Crowds Line Route To West Point

VAILS GATE, N.Y. (AP) — By the thousands they came, over the mountains to the Hudson River Valley, for hours of waiting and a few minutes of shouts and cheers.

The 52 Americans came home Sunday to be reunited in private with their families. But an estimated 200,000 of their fellow citizens wanted to join the welcome.

And join they did in the happy occasion, gathering along county roads in places like Cornwall and New Winston and just wide places in the road that the hostages and the families took from Stewart Airport to West Point.

For hours, many stood beside two-lane county roads in the chilly winter sun, fashioning signs, tying yellow ribbons around every twig and mounting flags on anything that would hold one. Grade school children wore yellow ribbons in their hair and around their necks as others sported yellow coats or sweaters.

Then with a wail of sirens, the six buses carrying the freed hostages and the families were there. The crowds cheered and waved and held up their hastily prepared signs:

"Welcome to Freedom." "We thank God you're home." "You brought us together." And time and time again, just: "Welcome home."

At Vails Gate, about midway between Stewart Airport and West Point, a baby decked out in a red-white-and-blue snowsuit sat in a stroller sporting a sign that summed up many people's feelings:

"We may be small but we're mighty proud of you." There were signs of other feelings: "Nuke Iran." "Kill the Ayatollah." "Buy Iraqi war bonds."

It wasn't quite a ticker-tape parade, but it did have all the elements of a good, old-fashioned American welcome — bands and flags and cheering and sirens and people everywhere one could see.

Time after time, the ex-hostages and their families acknowledged the welcome, returning the waves of the crowds.

At this village grown around a five-way highway intersection, thousands gathered and poured out onto the county road, until as far as one could see it was lane-to-lane people. They parted only to allow the buses and their police escort through.

They came, they said, because all Americans had shared in some way the 14½-month ordeal of the hostages.

"I've prayed, I've had a yellow ribbon and God has answered our prayers," said Jeannette Biggio of New Windsor as she and a friend stood with eight children at Vails Gate. "It's a wonderful day and a day that Americans can be proud of."

Hotel Staff Tries To Keep Guests Smiling

WEST POINT, N.Y. (AP) — "Everyone walked in with smiles on their faces," says the manager of the Hotel Thayer who greeted the ex-hostages and their families as they arrived for a two-day stay.

And keeping their guests smiling is the sole ambition of Steve Adams and an augmented staff of 240 at the 170-room brick-faced hotel, which sits on a snow-covered cliff above the ice-clogged Hudson River at the southern end of the U.S. Military Academy at West Point.

Adams said about 250 former hostages and relatives checked in Sunday afternoon after riding in buses from Stewart Airport where they had been reunited. All other guests at the government-owned hotel had departed Saturday to give the former hostages complete privacy.

"They were just so happy to get there," Adams said. "That grin ... was from ear to ear. Fantastic."

He said he greeted all the former hostages personally, and "everyone appeared to be in good health and no one had to be helped off the bus."

About 40 to 50 of the 250 guests chose to eat dinner in their rooms Sunday night, Adams said, but the rest sat down together in the 400-seat dining room to sample a menu that included lobsters, jumbo shrimp, steak, prime ribs of beef, chicken cordon bleu and veal scaloppine.

Patrick Hoy, 17, of West Point, helped serve dinner in the dining room which was decorated with an abundance of flowers and pictures drawn by elementary school students. Most, he said, ordered a steak and lobster combination.

"It was like being in heaven, seeing them all come in with their families and their faces all glowing," Hoy said. "We put them on a pedestal at first, which they should be, but toward the end of the evening it was still exciting, but we saw them as normal people."

Thomas Campbell, 19, another hotel food service employee, said some of the former hostages "just want to be back with their families."

"They feel there is too much fuss and the whole thing is being hyped too much," Campbell said.

Adams said the hotel set up a 24-hour-a-day hospitality room with open bar and three television sets. He said as many as 120 people used it at one time Sunday afternoon when the Super Bowl football game was on.

"It was just so damned nice that everyone was together," he said. "It was real and true. It was just fantastic."

For tonight, the hotel plans a traditional Thanksgiving meal — to make up for the two Thanksgivings the hostages spent in captivity.

The hotel will be closed to press and public until Tuesday morning, when any ex-hostages and relatives who want to will hold a news conference before the entourage departs for Washington.

Until then, any contact with the world outside the hotel will be strictly on the initiative of those inside.

The perimeter of the 54-year-old hotel is being patrolled by military police trucks in from Fort Dix, N.J., attack dogs and academy security forces.

Roads approaching the half-moon driveway have been blocked, with armed guards posted. The Thayer Gate entrance to the 16,000-acre military reservation, located a stone's throw from the hotel next to the Village of Highland Falls, is shut for the duration.

All 52 former hostages were invited to the hotel, but one of them, Army Master Sgt. Regis Ragan, flew directly home to Johnstown, Pa., to be with his 69-year-old mother, who was hospitalized in a coronary care unit for what doctors called a "stressful condition." She was reported stable.

Stay In Germany Helps Readjustment

WIESBADEN, West Germany (AP) — After four days in "Little America," the ex-hostages left Germany looking and feeling healthier and better prepared to face life at home again, those who worked and spoke with them say.

"From Day 1 to Day 4, there was definite progress in quite a few instances. There was definitely a change," said a military source who spent every day with the freed Americans during their stay at the U.S. Air Force Hospital in Wiesbaden.

Doctors and other officials at the hospital refused to speak with reporters after the 52 former captives flew to the United States Sunday. But other hospital personnel and others who saw them frequently — as well as some of the ex-hostages themselves — said the stay here was a valuable aid in the readjustment from being prisoners in Iran to heroes in America.

"They have a lot of catching up to do, and they were grateful for the treatment here," said medic Martin Bonneville.

"I haven't met anyone yet among the hostages who is champing at the bit to go home again," former hostage Malcolm Kalp of Fairfax, Va., told reporters on Saturday.

"It's a big emotional withdrawal when you leave there and come here, so this is a good idea to be here."

An Air Force officer who helped with their arrival last Wednesday said that on Sunday "they looked like different people."

52 yellow balloons. Thousands of other residents made noise any way they could, wailing sirens, blaring mill whistles pealing church bells and honking automobile horns.

In Gardiner, Maine, townspeople turned out Sunday night to watch a bonfire of old Christmas trees. The sponsoring Rotarians said they had hoped to get 444 trees — one for each day of the hostages' captivity — but they ended up with more than 600.

Mayor Glenn Knecht of Crawfordsville, Ind., announced a yellow ribbon burning for Monday night to mark the end of the 444-day ordeal. A dozen churches in Millinocket, Maine, scheduled a symbolic burning of yellow ribbons for Thursday.

New Windsor, N.Y., the town where victorious soldiers of the American Revolution were dismissed to go home to their families 200 years ago, fluttered with flags in tribute Sunday to the former hostages and their families.

Widows donated flags that once were draped over their husbands' caskets. New Windsor's tribute stretched to the route the released hostages and their families passed as they drove to West Point from their reunion at Stewart Airport in Newburgh, N.Y.

"I feel so patriotic. It just feels wonderful to be alive," said Thomas Donato, chairman of the town historic commission.

At the gates of the U.S. Military Academy at West Point, several thousand gathered to welcome the returning hostages and their families, with chants of "U.S.A.! U.S.A.!" and "Fifty-two, we love you."

For three minutes on Sunday, the air of Newark, N.J., rang with bells and howling sirens as all the city's firetrucks and firehouses pulled out all stops to mark the freed hostages' return.

More than 250 Newark firefighters paused in one minute of silence, remembering the eight American servicemen who were killed last April in an aborted mission to rescue the hostages.

Church bells pealed at noon on Sunday in Indianapolis and in Chalfonte, Pa., 52 residents — one for each former hostage — rang an antique fire bell.

Chalfonte's mayor, Andrew Stoler, rang the bell eight times — once to honor each of the men who died in the rescue mission.

Maine Gov. Joseph E. Brennan proclaimed Sunday a "day of welcome for the hostages." In South Paris, Maine, a women's club asked neighbors to string up Christmas lights again Sunday to light the freed hostages' return.

The national joy permeated even professional football's biggest game. The Superdome in New Orleans was decorated with a symbol that fans of either team could approve — a huge yellow bow. The National Football League gave away 80,000 yellow ribbons to fans at the Oakland Raiders and the Philadelphia Eagles contest.

Sunday was "Welcome Home to America Day," in Bucks County, Pa., and county commissioners authorized the flying of a giant yellow ribbon at noon from the flagpole at the courthouse in Doylestown.

The Missouri River city of Washington, Mo., proclaimed that Feb. 12 — Abraham Lincoln's birthday — would be "Welcome Home Day" for former hostage Rodney Sickmann of Krakow, Mo.

Freed Americans Toast Nation With Champagne

WEST POINT, N.Y. (AP) — "God Bless America."

The 52 freed hostages had entered American air space aboard Freedom One. Below them was Millinocket, Maine. They were home at last.

The radio message from the Boston flight center was the signal to break out the champagne and drink a toast, in small plastic cups, to America after 444 days in Iranian detention.

Some of the former hostages were moved to the point of tears. But they regained their composure. According to an official aboard the flight from Wiesbaden, West Germany, the mood most of the time was upbeat.

"The closer we got to home the more exhilarated they got," Jack Cannon, the deputy State Department spokesman, told a reporter later.

As the presidential jet had passed over Canada, it sent a message thanking "our magnificent neighbor" for spiriting six fellow Americans out of Iran a year ago through the guile of Canadian diplomats in Tehran.

The message was signed by Bruce Laingen, 57, of Bethesda, Md., the senior diplomat among the returning group and the first of the former hostages to alight at Stewart Airport.

As the plane had crossed the Atlantic, the sky was peppered with messages of welcome, congratulation and good cheer.

Letter-Writing Campaign Launched

BUFFALO, N.Y. (UPI) — The 52 former hostages will be asked to add their signatures to the 4,000 already accumulated on petitions urging speedy negotiations to free a Buffalo-area woman from an Iranian prison.

The petition is just one of many angles worked out by ordinary citizens and government officials to secure the release of Cynthia Dwyer, 49, the Amberst, N.Y., woman held since early May in Tehran's Evin Prison on suspicion of being a spy for the United States. She has yet to be formally charged.

The petition urging President Ronald Reagan to negotiate the release of Mrs. Dwyer had 4,000 signatures as of Sunday. The signatures have been received by the Buffalo Evening News and WKBW-TV, who have jointly sponsored the drive.

The former hostages were to receive the petition during their stay at West Point before traveling to Washington Tuesday. State Department officials said they would present the petition to the former hostages to sign at an appropriate time.

Rep. Arlen Erdahl, R-Minn., who is expected to be confirmed next week for a seat on the prestigious House Foreign Affairs Committee, said Americans should not slacken efforts to secure the release of the mother of three.

"Maybe it was a foolish thing to do (going to Iran)," he said, "but she is an American citizen and we should continue to press every political, international and economic sanction to see that she is returned to this country. We cannot tolerate a barbaric act whether it affects 52 Americans or just one."

WAVES GOODBYE — Robert Ode from Sun City West, Ariz., one of the former hostages held for 444 days in Tehran, waves goodbye to the crowd of spectators and journalists as he enters Freedom One at Rhein-Main Air Base in Frankfurt. The jet brought the hostages back to the United States and their families. (AP Laserphoto)
