

Restaurants Face Possible Guacamole Shortage

DALLAS (AP) — California farmers are seeing red over Texas' month-long embargo of California produce — but Lone Star restaurateurs are turning green over the prospect of 30 days without avocados for Texas guacamole — an avocado-based delicacy that is a staple of Mexican restaurants.

The avocado ban was imposed Sunday by state officials who feared infestations of the Mediterranean fruit fly in California would spread to this state. But some Texas customers think the ban is strictly for show.

Bill Prather, wholesale buyer for Avocado Sales, a Dallas produce broker, complained that the fruit flies don't even like avocados.

"They found them in two counties out there (in California) and they were a long way from the avocado groves," he said.

He said Texas officials are allowing produce into the state if it is fumigated, but that the fumigation must be done at 90 degrees — "which would burn them up."

"You can hold one for three or four weeks, but you've got to have it in a temperature of 40 degrees," he said.

Prather agreed that avocados from Florida and Texas' Rio Grande Valley don't measure up to California avocados, and added that the Florida harvest doesn't begin until June or July.

"Avocado out of Florida does not make good guacamole because it doesn't have the oil content. It's full of water," he said. "I don't see that we can bring anything in for a month."

Monterey House might consider going to another avocado source, said John Covington, the Mexican restaurant's production vice president in Houston.

"But over the years when there were shortages, we told customers it was unavailable rather than sell something below our standards," he said.

"Certain varieties that we use probbly have a shelf life of three weeks ... After that time, I just can't say what will happen," he said.

El Chico restaurants also would rather not sell guacamole than use sub-standard avocados, said purchasing agent Carmen Summers of Campbell-Taggart Inc., a service company.

"We stocked up to some extent," she said.

Solons Consider Higher Interest Rate Lid

AUSTIN (AP) — A 30 percent limit on loan interest rates is either a consumer protection act or legalized loan sharking, depending on which legislator is doing the talking.

Sen. Grant Jones, D-Abilene, sponsored the bill to create a floating ceiling pegged to the rate of six-month treasury bills, with an outside limit of 30 percent.

The measure is needed because federal law overriding Texas' usury limits expires April 1, 1983, and the ceiling will revert to 1967 levels, which are entirely too low, Jones said.

"The ceilings have absolutely no relation to reality," he said. "The availability of money in Texas will dry up if we keep these artificially low interest rate ceilings."

According to Robert Lane of First International Bancshares, a bankholding company, if the limits are imposed on lenders "the small borrower, the consumer borrower, will get squeezed out. Funds float to seek the highest rates available."

The Senate Economic Development Committee unanimously approved the bill and sent it on for full Senate debate, but not without misgivings on the part of one committee member.

"It's a joke to say this is going to get money back to the little guy," said Sen. John Wilson after the Monday hearing. "There's no way a consumer can borrow money at 21, 22 or 24 percent, do anything legal with it and make a profit."

"This isn't going to help car buyers or anyone like that," the LaGrange Democrat concluded.

"This is legalizing loan sharking in our state," said Bill Duncan, an automobile dealer in Lufkin. "This is the wrong approach to solving the problems."

Jim Hightower, president of the Texas Consumers Association, said the measure was like "putting earrings on a hog — they just can't hide the ugliness."

He called the bill a "textbook example of bad legislation since lenders don't need it, consumers can't afford it, and the economy can't stand it."

An $8,000 car loan with an interest charge of $58 a month will cost an extra $61 monthly if the bill is passed, he said.

The association submitted materials showing that under the proposed law, a $200, 3-month loan that would now incur a $9 finance charge could cost $34 under Jones' proposal.

House Panel Approves Nuclear Legislation

AUSTIN (AP) — Legislation authorizing state-owned disposal sites for low-level radioactive wastes has won House committee approval after a hearing in which Texas' only licensed nuclear waste disposal company announced it was quitting the business.

"It can be very serious," State Health Commissioner Robert Bernstein said of Nuclear Sources and Services Inc.'s withdrawal as a disposer of Texas' radioactive waste.

NSSI's president, Robert Gallagher, made the dramatic announcement about an hour before the House Environmental Affairs Committee approved a Senate-passed bill backed by Bernstein and the medical profession.

The bill goes next to the House floor, possibly as early as this week.

Key provisions of the bill enable the State Health Department to buy land for disposal sites and strictly regulate activities of firms it licenses to operate them. Operators would pay into a special fund to finance perpetual care of all sites after they have been filled and closed.

Radioactive waste disposal has been a growing problem for the past two years. Permanent disposal sites in other states have closed, and at least two Texas companies have lost licenses for temporary storage of materials.

Roy Ayres Jr. of the Texas Hospital Association said some hospitals have been reduced to storing barrels of low-level radioactive waste in their hallways.

Dr. John Burdine, chairman of nuclear medicine at St. Luke's Hospital in Houston, pleaded with the committee to approve the bill without delay.

"We are truly in a crisis in patient care. ... We need every minute of time we can get," Burdine said.

Gallagher asserted the bill was "simply not acceptable" and then declared his "irreversible" decision to pull out of the radioactive waste disposal business.

He said changing the bill to meet his objections would not cause him to reverse his decision. He rejected a suggestion by Rep. Jim Turner, D-Crockett, that he was putting the committee in a "Catch-22" situation.

"You haven't had the late night phone calls, houses burning and employees threatened," Gallagher said, referring to harassment he said his firm has received because of its plans to locate disposal sites in Leon County.

Numerous Leon County residents were at the hearing to support the bill.

Gallagher said NSSI would receive radioactive waste until April 1, then quit the business.

Texas Senators Welcome Soap Opera Character

AUSTIN (AP) — Texas Senators welcomed to their ranks a man who exists only in the imaginations of television scriptwriters — J.R. Ewing's little brother, Bobby.

When the newest real senator, Hector Uribe, D-Brownsville, was sworn in Monday after winning a special election in the lower Rio Grande Valley, Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby joked, "You and Bobby Ewing will have to flip a coin to see who has most seniority."

Bobby Ewing, a character in the nighttime soap opera "Dallas," was elected a Texas senator in last week's episode of the TV melodrama. Uribe won his election last Tuesday.

Near the end of the session, Sen. Oscar Mauzy, D-Dallas, gained the floor and said he had a message for the newly-elected TV senator.

"Whereas, many of us feel that we also arrived in the Texas Senate by virtue of a soap opera," Mauzy read. "But whereas, unlike you, an abundance of oil and gas has had nothing to do with our rise to power — nor influential bankers, ruthless developers, potent sons or voluptuous women."

"But whereas, the Senate of the great State of Texas is rich with diversity, we welcome you to our number for the added dimension you will bring to us who subscribe to the simpler abiding virtues of humility, thrift and kindness to our brethren."

Mauzy asked Hobby if it could be considered a Senate resolution.

"I would say that is a communication and I think that should be filed in the proper place," Hobby replied.

Mauzy later admitted that the Ewing ranch, South Fork, actually is in another senator's district.

Attorney Claims To Be Target Of Wood Probe

EL PASO (AP) — A local defense attorney whose home was the subject of a surprise, 13-hour search, says two FBI agents told him he is a "target" in the investigation of the murder of U.S. District Judge John Wood.

"There's no doubt in my mind I'm a target of the grand jury investigation of Judge Wood's assassination," lawyer Joe Chagra, brother of convicted drug trafficker Jimmy Chagra, said Monday night. "They told me I was now a target."

He said the agents were among about 70 federal officers who searched his home and that of four other Chagra relatives Friday, seizing a truckload of items including documents, jewelry and cash.

Afterward, federal sources here and in Washington said the agents were looking for evidence in the May 29, 1979 assassination of Wood. Both sources said a resolution to the 21-month-old investigation — the largest since the assassination of President John Kennedy — was near.

Wood, who had been assigned to preside over the narcotics trial of Jimmy Chagra, was shot in the back and killed by a sniper in San Antonio. Chagra was later tried by another judge and sentenced last year to 30 years in prison without parole for continuing criminal enterprise.

Joe Chagra, who helped defend his brother, denied any involvement or knowledge of the death of the federal judge. "I had nothing to do with Judge Wood's murder, before, during, after or anytime to the present time," he said. "In my own mind I know I haven't done anything wrong."

Officially, federal agencies have held to a strict "no comment" policy when asked about the Chagra searches, but in Washington a federal law enforcement source who asked that his name not be used said, "Execution of the search warrants indicated that progress is being made in the investigation of Judge Wood's murder."

He added he was "confident of a resolution to that case," but gave no prediction as to when. His information agreed with that of a federal source based in El Paso who said during the weekend "if we find what we're looking for it should lead to indictments" in the Wood case.

But Ronald Hoverson, the agent in charge of the FBI's El Paso bureau, said, "No comment on the case whatsoever. We're not making any comment on the search at all. That's our official policy. We are not going to deviate from that. I am under direct and strict instructions."

Youth Says Fortune Uncovered By Birds

WACO (AP) — One of the "Alice rich kids" has told a civil court jury a fourth story describing how he and a friend came to be driving through Waco with $490,000 in the trunk of a brand-new Thunderbird four years ago.

James Dean Bridges, 19, said he was led to dig up the money, wrapped in aluminum foil and stashed in an ice chest, because of birds scratching at the ground that covered it.

Bridges previously told three different stories to explain how he and friend Percy Garcia — both teen-agers at the time — came by the cache, confiscated by Waco police when the two were arrested Jan. 31, 1977 on a traffic violation.

A federal court now must decide what to do with the money and the interest it has drawn since it was confiscated and put in a bank at the time of the arrest.

The boys, the State of Texas, McClellan County, the City of Waco and the Internal Revenue Service all have laid claim to varying amounts of the stash.

Bridges and Garcia dug up the $500,000 on Bridge's father's ranch near Alice. When police stopped them a few days later, the remaining money was found in a Thunderbird the boys had bought in Dallas for $10,000.

On Monday, Bridges testified he found the cash in a pen where he kept some quails, turkeys and a peacock that uncovered the top of the ice chest.

"I guess they scratched around," Bridges told the six-member jury. "It was mine. I found it. I don't know how it got there," he said. "Nobody's claimed it to this day."

Later, when his father, James Hiron, slapped him in the face during an argument, he called Garcia and another friend to head for Hiron's ranch near Alice to dig up the money, he said.

"We started going crazy and digging. Everybody was going wild and everything," he said.

Bridges said he told different stories to police because of pressure from an all-night police interrogation after his arrest.

"They said so many things to me that night. They made me say them, too," he said. "I told them the truth at first but they wouldn't believe me."

He first told officers he and Garcia were "Mafia runners" from Chicago, then said they had found the money in Chicago, but detective Truman Simons said he did not buy either of those tales.

Then he came up with a third story — that he found the money when a flood uncovered the ice chest — which Simons said he believed.

Assistant Texas Attorney General David Bragg asked Bridges about an IRS form on which the teenager said the money was stolen.

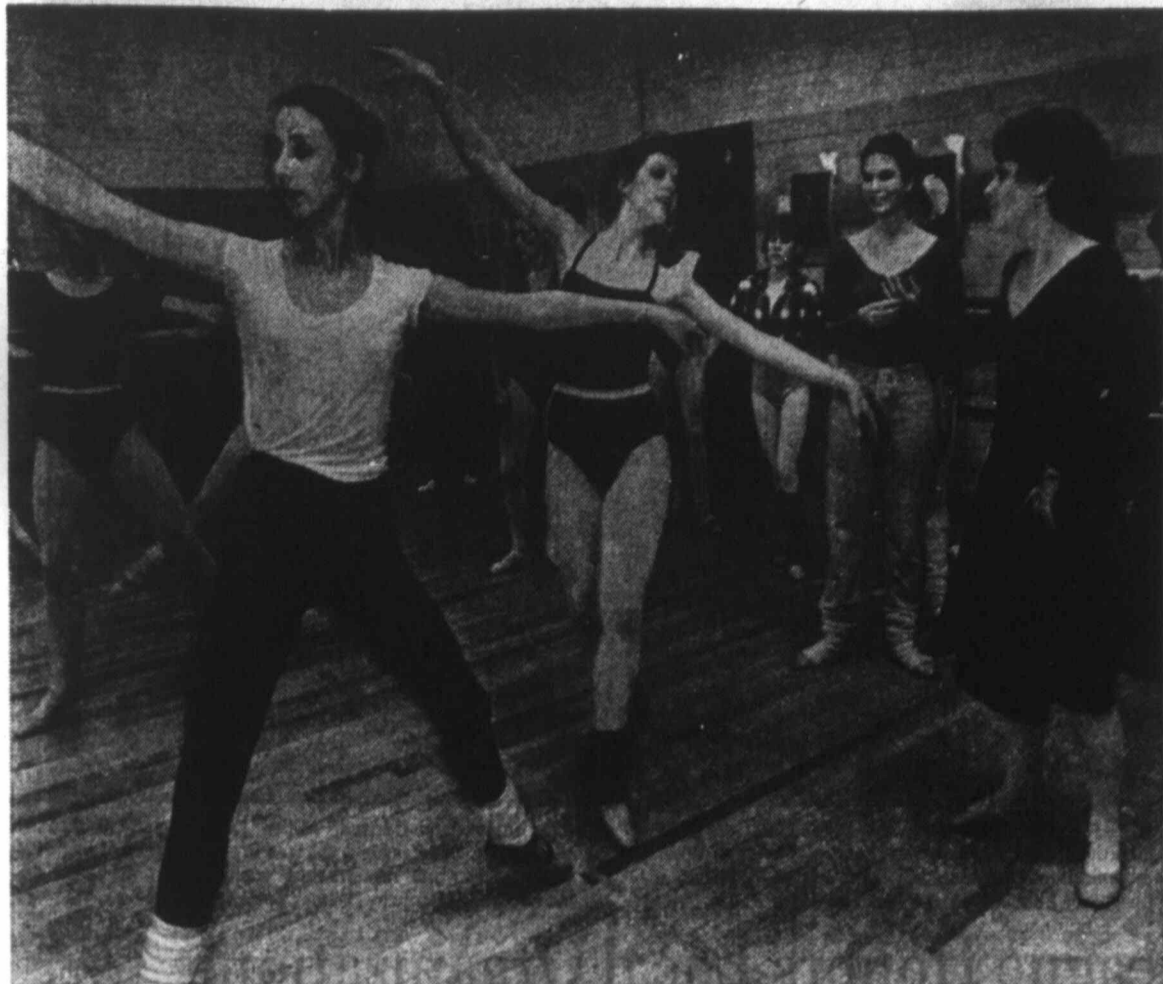

"I didn't steal it," Bridges said. "On my income tax they said I wouldn't have to pay as much if I said it was stolen."

Bragg asked Bridges if he lied on the IRS statement.

"I didn't tell no lie ... I just didn't tell the truth," Bridges said.

Braniff Not Anticipating Any Cutbacks In Lubbock Service

By LARRY SUTHERLAND
Avalanche-Journal Staff
Braniff International Airlines, although strapped by a financial slump, is not expected to cut back its service to Lubbock.
The airline briefly trimmed its Lubbock service from five daily flights to three in 1980 as an economy move, but no similar reductions are anticipated during Braniff's current problems, according to officials with the company.
One Braniff spokesman hinted that any scheduling changes may actually work to Lubbock's benefit.

The struggling airline reported a loss in 1980 of $128.5 million, one of the largest losses ever reported by an air carrier.
To help offset the losses, the airlines is asking its employees to take pay cuts of up to 10 percent, which will be possibly eliminated later because of the addition of a profit-sharing plan.
During the weekend the Teamsters Union, the largest union of the airline's employees, gave overwhelming approval to the profit sharing and pay cut plan.
Flight attendants and the small transport dispatchers union also approved the plan late Monday, Braniff spokesman Ray Chenaud said today.

The pilots union was expected to vote on the proposal by Wednesday and the machinists union by Friday, Chenaud said.
With Teamsters' approval won, Braniff officials were most concerned about persuading the International Association of Machinists and Aerospace Workers, which represents about 1,900 Braniff employees, to accept the proposal.
IAM district chairman Jerry Emmel is not recommending the plan.
Braniff resumed five daily Lubbock flights to Dallas-Fort Worth Airport on Oct. 26, 1980, after about a 3 1/2 month period in which it had only three flights daily at Lubbock International.
Chenaud has no firm indication of what future cutbacks may be in store in Texas, but said, "We are not planning to reduce flights anywhere in Texas at this time."
He said adjustments are planned for flights outside the state, such as suspending service to Colorado Springs and Detroit.
While not committing himself, Chenaud said there may be some schedule changes in June and they may benefit Lubbock rather than have any adverse effect.
Homer Chapman, manager of operations for Braniff in Lubbock, said 19 Braniff employees are stationed at Lubbock airport, all of whom except himself are Teamsters members.

Area Cotton Growers To Address Senate

By COTTON FANNING
Plains Cotton Grower, Inc.
Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., Lubbock has been allotted time Thursday to present views on a new cotton program before the Senate Agriculture Subcommittee on Production, Marketing and Stabilization of Prices.
With less than a week's notice, Sen. Jesse Helms, R-N.C., chairman of the Senate Agriculture Committee, began hearings on an omnibus farm bill Monday.
General farm organizations and certain members of Congress were heard on opening day, while the administration, presumably represented by Secretary of Agriculture John Block, is scheduled to testify on the final day on March 25.
The subcommittee hearings at which PCG will present its testimony were called by subcommittee chairman Thad Cochran, R-Miss.
"The short notice on these hearings no doubt will inconvenience a lot of people," comments PCG executive vice president Donald Johnson, "but the rush is fully justified, since both the House and Senate committees are trying to develop an omnibus farm bill in time to meet the May 15 Budget Committee deadline."

Failure to meet that deadline, Johnson says, could mean the administration would be forced to accept a one-year extension of the current program in lieu of a new, long-term bill this year.
House Agriculture Committee chairman Kika de la Garza, D-Tex., has said he expects House hearings on a 1981 farm bill to begin as early as the first week in March. But no precise dates have been announced.
PCG's testimony Thursday will reflect the legislative policy adopted by the organization's 50-man board of directors in January.
Guidelines for tone of the oral testimony, to be given by Johnson, were developed at a special meeting of the organization's executive committee.
Among the major objectives the PCG executive committee wants emphasized in the 25-county organization's testimony are:
— A continuation and improvement of the disaster payment program.
— Credit programs and other government actions to improve the climate for U.S. cotton exports.
— Relief from burdensome inheritance and other taxes.
— Continuation and improvement of the target price system.
— Minimum Commodity Credit Corp. loan at 85 percent of parity.
On the latter point, the executive committee instructed the staff to prepare PCG's statement so as to leave no doubt in legislators' minds that the policy was adopted because of a strong belief in the necessity for tying price supports to some index which will keep pace with runaway production costs.
PCG officials in Washington for the hearings also will make contact with legislators and appropriate U.S. Department of Agriculture personnel with regard to pending decisions on grade, staple and micronaire discounts that will be applicable to the 1981 loan schedule.

Lawsuit Filed In Accident

A young Lubbock man and his wife are suing a local seed oil mill for $6 million in damages as a result of an industrial accident which resulted in the loss of both the man's legs.
Christopher McDonald, 21, and his wife Teena filed suit in district court Monday alleging negligence on the part of Plains Co-Operative Oil Mill Inc. McDonald was employed by an independent contractor doing work for the oil mill Jan. 21 when one of his legs became caught in a screw conveyor, or auger.
McDonald's other leg was eventually pulled into the machinery. Both legs were amputated.
The suit claims that the young man's left arm was also severely injured in the incident and that it was left with substantially less operational ability.
McDonald's suit claims that the Plains Co-Op auger was maintained in a negligence was responsible for his injury. He claims $5 million in damages are due him and another $1 million is due his wife.

Perot Slates Lubbock Visit

Texas multimillionaire H. Ross Perot will make a brief stop in Lubbock Thursday during a whirlwind state campaign to publicize the Texas PTA War on Drugs.
Perot, appointed by Gov. Bill Clements to head up the anti-drug campaign, will appear with PTA state and local officials and city leaders at the Lubbock public school offices to announce plans for the project.
Mayor Bill McAlister, Police Chief J.T. Alley, Criminal District Attorney John T. Montford and school trustees have been invited to the news conference.
The goal of the project leaders is to "drug-free Texas's children and youth with a drug-free environment" by 1990, according to a PTA news release. Campaign leaders plan to give drug training to a minimum of two people in every school PTA unit in the state.

New Judge Named In Custody Battle

LIBERTY (AP) — A new judge was named today to hear the court fight between Vickie Daniel and her sister-in-law over custody of two children by the slain Price Daniel Jr.

State District Judge Sam S. Emison Jr. of Houston replaced Judge W.G. "Dub" Woods of Liberty because Woods had a full docket of cases.

Emison met in chambers today with lawyers for both sides.

Lawyers for Mrs. Daniel, charged in the slaying of her husband, a former Texas House speaker, wanted a continuance.

Richard "Racehorse" Haynes said he was not retained to handle the case until Feb. 13 and needs more time to prepare. Haynes was unsuccessful in seeking a venue change last week from the Texas Supreme Court, asking that the case be moved away from here, the Daniel home town, to Mrs. Daniel's residence in Tyler.

First place winners were Candace Knight, job interview; John Shropshire, business communication; Tracy Clanton, typing I; Cherie Bolton, typing II.
Second place winners were Lorry Shamblin, accounting; Cindy Allen, office procedures; Coby Condrey, business math; Becky Boyd and Dani Back, poster event.
Sponsors for the Monterey chapter are Bobbie Clanton and Phyllis Kinnison.

his Liberty County ranch home with a .22-caliber slug in the stomach.

Jean Daniel Murph, Daniel's sister, is seeking temporary custody of her two nephews, Franklin Baldwin, 3, and Marlon Price IV, 1.

During her first testimony since her husband's death, Mrs. Daniel invoked the Fifth Amendment when attorneys for Mrs. Murph asked her about the shooting and about the author of letters now in the protective custody of the court.

Mrs. Daniel, however, did state tearfully, "I am a good mother and I love them (the boys). I feel they would be in great danger emotionally if they should ever be around Jeanie because of what she told me boy."

Larry Moore, Mrs. Daniel's first husband, has filed suit for custody of their 12-year-old daughter, Kimberly, who was at the Daniel home at the time of the slaying.

Moore said he filed the suit only to protect the child from publicity and embarrassment and rejected the contention that Mrs. Daniel was an unfit mother.

Mrs. Daniel has pleaded innocent to the murder charge and is free under a $50,000 bond.

New Cookbook Product Of Computer Age

By JEANNE LESEM
UPI Family Editor

An Ohio couple has brought cookbooks into the computer age. Mathematician Keith Kendig used computer technology to develop nutritional profiles for vegetarian recipes created by his wife, Joan.

"In 19 minutes I had what would have taken a couple of years by hand," Kendig said of his achievement. "It was a joint effort between me and a physicist friend, Ted Wood."

Kendig is a professor and Wood, an associate professor, at Cleveland State University. Kendig said he uses some of the information to teach his math classes.

Mrs. Kendig said she wasn't always intending to imitate meat in their "Modern Vegetable Protein Cookery" (Aco $11.95), "but to represent it in protein and substance."

All but a few of the recipes are followed by data indicating the amount of balanced protein per serving and the percentage of daily protein needs one serving provides.

They neglected to provide such data for basic recipes, an oversight they said will be corrected if the book goes into a second printing.

Their book is remarkable in another way: it contains no dessert recipes.

In an interview, Mrs. Kendig said they eat a lot of fruit and she occasionally makes cookie substitutes for Christopher, their 6-year-old son who yearns for the white flour goodies his peers are eating.

"He's happy so far," the couple said, and they have reached the conclusion that children are influenced by the shape of foods. Instead of commercial frozen desserts on a stick, Mrs. Kendig freezes fruit juice in forms.

"We don't say he can never have a burger, fries and soft drink. He gets them for treats, for what we call 'a sometime thing,'" she said.

"We don't want him to grow up with a sense of deprivation," Christopher's father said.

In fact, the couple added, they are not totally vegetarian.

"We have fish occasionally in restaurants," Mrs. Kendig said, "but I don't bring it home. I don't really want to cook fish."

"We had turkey for Thanksgiving just this past November," Mrs. Kendig said, "because they had guests — a Polish immigrant friend and his wife — who would have been disappointed with a vegetarian meal because they associate meat and poultry with the good life America represents to them."

The Kendigs were not always vegetarians, he said. "I got into this partly because I run several miles a day" and wasn't satisfied with meals from other vegetarian cookbooks.

"Our modern food habits result in concentrated calories that shoot into the blood system too fast," he added. "It takes longer for the body to break down whole grain ingredients."

Their book is more American in spirit than most. Many tend to have more oriental food, which, Mrs. Kendig said, a lot of people don't want every day.

Although she uses soy sauce for seasoning, she tends to use less of it than many other vegetarian authors.

She said she'd like to cut down even more, but "I feel no salt would be unacceptable for most people."

"The idea is to get people to eat vegetable protein," they said, but conceded, "It takes some getting used to whole grain foods and complex carbohydrates."

"Most people don't know the difference between simple carbohydrates (such as sugar and honey) and complex carbohydrates (such as fruits, vegetables and grains) that release their energy slowly and are good for the body."

The following chart indicates total number of grams of balanced protein in each of the Kendigs' 22 basic recipes when used alone: (Divide gram figure by number of servings to get data for individuals. Most of the basic recipes average about 50 grams of usable protein per pound, which is about 118-142 percent of the average daily protein requirement. Larger or smaller figures usually reflect a larger or smaller basic recipe.)

- One pound of either soy granule burger mix or granule burger sausage balls or links, 51 grams
- Soy granule burger refrigerator convenience mix, 3 lbs. 204 grams
- Bulgur wheat granule burger, bulgar wheat granule burger sausage and chopped ham-style granule burger, 53 grams each recipe
- Chopped chicken-style granule burger, 52 grams
- Soy and grain sausage, 51 grams
- Basic sesame and sesame sausage, 42 grams each recipe
- Soy-nut meatballs, 61 grams
- Soft chicken-style soyloaf in cans, 56 grams
- Light chicken-style soyloaf, 26 grams
- Dark chicken-style soyloaf, 39 grams

Woman Creates Paintings For Miniature Doll Houses

WILMINGTON, Del. (AP) — For once in her life, Verna Patterson can take off her glasses in order to see to work. The miniature landscapes and still lifes she paints are the perfect objects for her nearsightedness.

And she's also found there's a lucrative market for her talents.

Mrs. Patterson first saw elaborate dollhouses on display during Dover Days in 1979. She said the houses were furnished with petite point rugs, hand-crafted furniture and crystal chandeliers — but only mirror or small framed prints hung on the walls.

The observation inspired Mrs. Patterson to create oil paintings in proportion to the rest of the house.

At first her endeavors were gifts. Their popularity spread and soon she was providing examples of her work for sale at The Little White House and more recently for the Shelburne Frame and Art Shop in Vermont.

With the price hovering around $50 for each framed and signed 2 1/4-by-1 1/4 painting, sales have been brisk. It is encouraging, because, she said, "up to now, I feel that what I have put into art instruction has never quite been recovered even though I have sold regular paintings, too."

And the demand has forced Mrs. Patterson to consider just how much she wants to produce.

Since her husband, Curtis, retired from the DuPont Co., they have maintained a fluid, flexible life, dividing their time between their home in nearby Hockessin and their home in Vermont. She reflects: "The nice part about being retired is to be able to leave and not worry about what one is involved in."

Mrs. Patterson has been drawing and painting since she was a child in Buffalo, N.Y. Formal training started in Bennett High School and Albright Gallery Art School in Buffalo.

In Wilmington, where she said she had found excellent teachers, she worked in oils and later in watercolors. Last summer she painted for "three weeks from morning to night" with Edgar A. Whitney of Kennebunk, Maine, for "the study and the discipline. Every teacher leaves a mark. You get something from every one in a way of expression, which you then modify into your own style."

"My painting has changed," she said. "I was inclined to be too tight. I like to draw and it was difficult to free my style, but the teachers broke me. For miniatures the tightness can serve me in good stead."

Her knowledge of basic design and her practice have helped in deciding on composition and scenes for her miniatures. She paints in acrylics with a tiny, sable, "frog hair" brush, so called because it has "practically no hair."

The actual painting takes about two hours if all goes well.

"I could do two in a day," she said. But she added that she would have to commit herself to work at least two days a week in order to keep up with demand. Framing and backing take additional time.

PLAID JACKETS — Bill Bliss likes his green linen plaid jackets freshened with yellow handkerchief linen shirts and white wool gabardine culottes. The short cropped double breasted jacket and the oversize square jacket are tucked at the shoulders.

Marriage To Cowboy Changes Life Of Middle Aged Woman

NEW YORK (Special) — From the groves in the East to the mountains and prairies of the West, Harriet Johnson moved to a completely new lifestyle. She also explored wholly different emotional territory by going from spinsterhood to marriage at mid-life.

"A Place in the Country," the American Woman feature in the February 17th issue of Woman's World, examines her life from the time when Harriet Clark, a college teacher, met Charlie Johnson back in 1955. They embarked on a pack trip and a life adventure by falling in love, marrying and starting a cattle ranch in Montana.

Harriet Johnson tells of the changes in her life in Woman's World. "I'm basically peasant, not intellectual, so it was really pretty stupid of me to be in college work. I'm strong. I like to do hard, physical work, and I thrive on the variety of jobs that ranch life provides."

She says that ranching helps her to relax, particularly chopping wood, which relieves her frustrations, while milking her cow helped cure her arthritis. Her husband Charlie has also taught her to build log cabins, barns and fences, and she has learned to work cattle from horseback.

For Harriet, owning land is one of life's most important responsibilities. "If you own land and improve it, it's the greatest thing you can do in life — it's the peak of joy to clear land and make it beautiful," she says.

Her marriage provides her with companionship as well as a purpose that she says she had not felt as a single woman. "I wasn't really surprised to fall in love with a cowboy, though I wouldn't have done anything as wild as this if I'd married young. I'd probably have married a businessman and not enjoyed life half as much."

Opening Lead: Jack of ♠.

At the bridge table, it is often a matter of: "There are none so blind as those who will not hear!" West demonstrated an advanced case of deafness on this deal and made an opening lead that proved expensive.

South's opening bid did nothing to improve North's hand, and it was not until hearts had been bid and rebid that North's values improved. His three trumps headed by two honors, singleton spade and two aces fully merited a raise to game.

West led the jack of clubs and declarer made short shrift of the hand. He won in dummy and led a spade to the king and ace. Belatedly, West shifted to a trump. Declarer won the eight in hand, ruffed a spade, returned to his hand with the king of clubs and ruffed another spade. After cashing the ace of diamonds, he ruffed a diamond and drew trumps. He still had to concede two spade tricks, but he made his contract.

While four hearts can be made double dummy (try it, if you like), in practice it could and should be defeated. All the information West needed was conveyed by the auction and his holding in spades. From the bidding, it was likely that North held a singleton spade and that, given time, declarer would be able to ruff losing spades in dummy.

West's defense, therefore, should have been designed to prevent declarer from ruffing his losers in dummy. So he should have selected a trump as his opening shot. When he got in with a spade, he could play another trump, thus limiting dummy to one spade ruff.

Unless he adopted a rather unusual line, declarer would have ended a trick short. West would simply sit back and wait for three more spade tricks to defeat the contract.

Rubber bridge clubs throughout the country use the four-deal format. Do they know something you don't? Charles Goren's "Four Deal Bridge" will teach you the strategies and tactics for this fast-paced action game that provides the cure for unending rubbers. Ex-Jaycee Officials Indicted ASHEBORO, N.C. (UPI) — Former North Carolina Jaycee president Maurice H. Wilson and two other men, including a former president of the national organization, were indicted on charges of diverting charity funds raised by the state Jaycees.

Among the funds listed in Monday's indictments was $22,500 intended for the Muscular Dystrophy Association that was allegedly spent to send 60 North Carolina Jaycees to Las Vegas.

Wilson, who has already pleaded innocent to nine counts of embezzling and misappropriating $66,449 in state Jaycee funds, was named in all 25 indictments returned Monday by a Randolph County grand jury.

He was accused of diverting charity money to pay for the Las Vegas trip and for dues for fictitious members in an attempt to bolster membership rolls.

Also named in the indictments were Robert Archie Rushton of Georgia, U.S. Jaycee president in 1977-78, and Thomas Anthony Alsop, president of the Charlotte Jaycees in 1979-80.

Rushton was accused of helping Wilson divert funds for the Las Vegas trip. Alsop was charged with helping Wilson divert $2,566 in charity funds to pay dues for bogus memberships.

State and federal investigations into the North Carolina chapter began last year after the state Jaycees admitted diverting more than $191,000 from the organization's charity account.

DR. LAMB

Understanding Epilepsy

By LAWRENCE LAMB, M.D.
DEAR DR. LAMB — I was recently put on Dilantin for what the doctors diagnosed as epilepsy. I am a 22-year-old female and had no problems before now. My doctor says I must have a blood test every three months and a test that has something to do with my liver. My doctor is foreign-born and I find it hard to understand him. Could you please tell me what the side effects of Dilantin are and what I have to look forward to?

DEAR READER — Dilantin is one of the most effective medicines used to control epileptic seizures. It has been used for a long time. There are other medicines that can also be used. If your seizures are not controlled at first, you should understand that it sometimes takes awhile to find the right combination of the right amount for some patients. It is often a trial and error procedure.

There are many side effects of Dilantin that can occur. Fortunately, they don't occur very often. One of the side effects is to cause liver damage, which is why you will be getting a liver test. Your doctors may want to know what level of Dilantin you have in your blood to be sure the right amount is being absorbed in your system. Occasionally, Dilantin affects the production of white blood cells and the small platelets that are related to blood clotting.

You need to know that Dilantin often causes an increased growth of the gingiva (gums) around the teeth. You'll need to make a greater effort and enlist the aid of your dentist to help you avoid dental hygiene problems. It is important that you never stop your medicine abruptly. Sudden withdrawal can cause severe seizures. If your dosage needs to be decreased or stopped, it should be done gradually, under your doctor's supervision.

Since you are having a problem understanding your physician, you may particularly need The Health Letter number 10-8, Epilepsy: You Can Have It Too, which I am sending you. Others who want this issue can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it to me, in care of The Lubbock Avalanche-Journal, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, N.Y. 10019. Because of automobile accidents alone there are many new cases of epilepsy each year.

You can have normal children and live a normal, useful life with epilepsy. Some of the great figures of history have had epilepsy.

DEAR DR. LAMB — My husband takes vitamin pills, not on the doctor's orders. He takes vitamin B-12, lecithin and rutin. Will these vitamins help or hurt him?

DEAR READER — In reasonable amounts these are unlikely to make much difference either way. Unless he has a deficiency of intrinsic factor from the stomach, which is necessary to absorb B-12, he should be getting enough from a balanced diet. But if he is deficient in intrinsic factor, the B-12 by mouth will not be absorbed.

Lecithin will be digested like all other fats. If he is deficient in choline, the choline in lecithin might be useful. But again if he is on a proper diet, he already gets enough choline. And the body can manufacture choline.

Rutin has been used in the past, with the thought that it might decrease the tendency of small vessels to break. It is present in many plants. For people who want to take a vitamin pill just be sure they are getting adequate vitamins, any of the all-purpose once a day preparations will do.

Singer's Life Portrayed In Film

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Sissy Spacek was widely acclaimed earlier this year for her portrayal of country music superstar Loretta Lynn in the autobiographical movie, "Coal Miner's Daughter."

Actress Annette O'Toole is hoping for the same reception when she plays another popular country singer, Tammy Wynette, in the CBS television movie, "Stand by Your Man," to be broadcast the evening of March 31, 8-10 p.m. CST on KLBK-TV, Channel 13.

Based on Miss Wynette's recent autobiography, the film chronicles the singer's life from age 17 to stardom in her early 30s, and focuses on her stormy relationship with third husband George Jones, also a top country performer.

Like Sissy Spacek, Miss O'Toole did all her own singing in the two-hour movie. To prepare for the part, she spent several weeks with Miss Wynette on tour.

Stephanie Austin, an associate producer of the movie, says the result of that effort was an incredible likeness of Miss Wynette, both vocally and visually.

"First of all, Annette resembles her very much," Miss Austin says. "And secondly, her mannerisms and everything are just like Tammy's."

To make sure the rest of the film was as realistic, the producers asked Miss Wynette to serve as technical adviser. She spent several days on the set during production in December and January.

"Stand by Your Man," originally the title of Miss Wynette's 1968 anthem to marital fidelity, contains 17 musical performances and was filmed primarily at locations around Los Angeles.

Jon Peters was executive producer and Jerry Jameson — "Airport '77" and "Raise the Titanic" — was director.

DHS, EHS Hope To Avoid Season-Ending Losses

By RAY GLASS
Avalanche-Journal Sports Staff
After only eight home games in its first 30 contests, Dunbar has the luxury of ending its basketball season tonight with its second consecutive home game. But there's a catch to the home-court advantage.

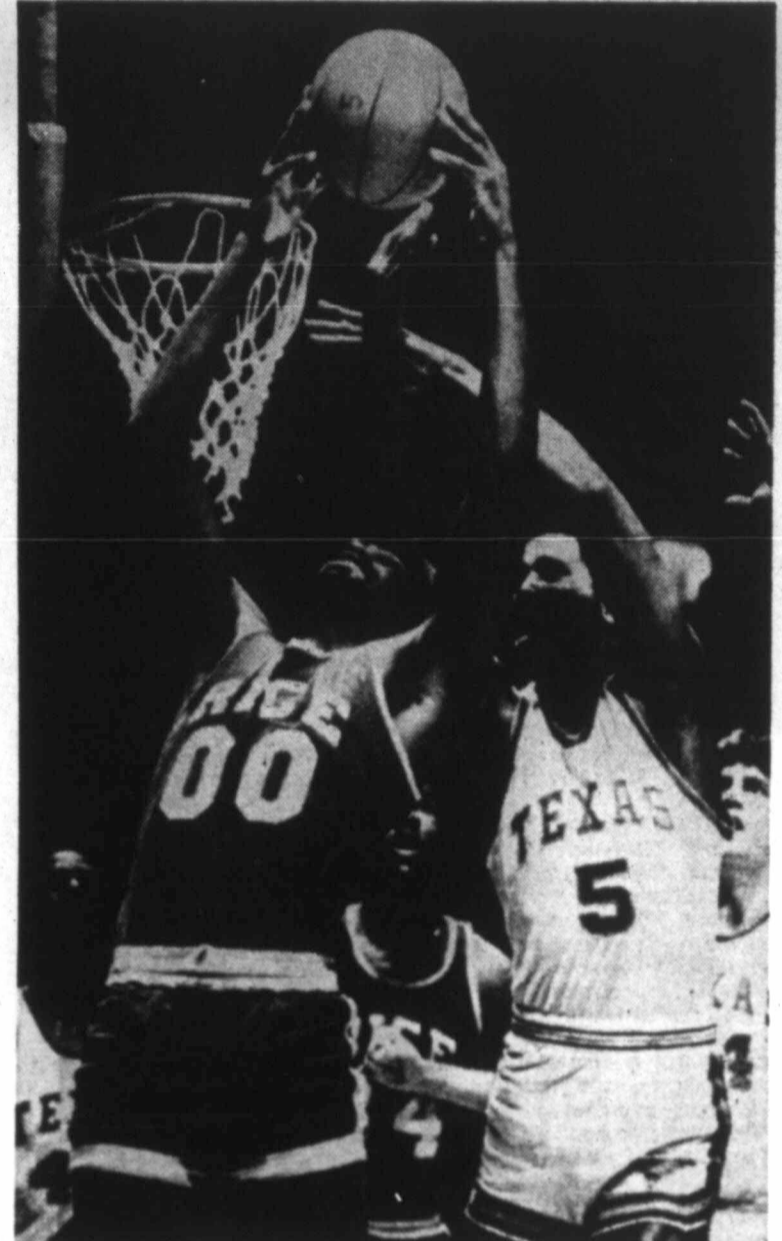

night by entertaining regular-season league champion Canyon at 7:15 p.m. In the only other high school game involving a local team, Estacado will try to finish the year at .500 when it travels to Dumas for a 7:15 p.m. contest. The other final 1-4A game has Brownfield at Borger at 7:30 p.m.

games," Panther coach Joe McWilliams said. McWilliams' Panthers, 0-5 in district and 6-24 overall, have struggled through a long season with an inexperienced squad and find themselves in the unenviable position of having the last chance to prevent a Canyon sweep of all league teams.

off berth opposite 2-4A titlist Snyder by beating Borger 77-73 Friday. If they beat Dunbar they will have gone a perfect 12-0 in district games this season. While the Panthers are looking for a pride-building win and upset of Canyon, Estacado will try to reach the .500 plateau one last time this season.

games from the break-even mark. "The overall season has been kind of a disappointment, no doubt," Estacado coach J.J. Wood said. "It's frustrating because we've played well enough to be right up there with the leaders. We've played good basketball this year but since Christmas, it hasn't panned out quite like we'd hoped."

the season and won the Caprock Tournament, Estacado has gone 5-9, splitting with Borger but losing a pair of close games to Canyon. They also lost twice to Levelland and split with Brownfield. The Cubs, 2-3 and 19-11, have a slim shot at finishing the season with 20 wins but will have to beat Borger in Borger, a feat accomplished only once this season. The Bulldogs are 4-1 and 28-4 overall.

City Teams Win Baseball Games

By RICHARD DAY
Avalanche-Journal Sports Staff
The Estacado Matadors resorted to their old winnings ways Monday, scoring six runs in the bottom of the sixth inning to take a 7-6 victory over Ector in the 1981 season-opener at the Estacado Field.

He allowed a single run in the second inning and two more in the bottom of the fifth. While Coleman handcuffed Big Spring on the mound, the Plainsmen took advantage of 10 hits, five Big Spring errors and nine bases on balls and buried Big Spring with a six-run fifth inning.

work." Coronado lost five starters off last year's squad, and they all played key positions. Gone is the entire outfield and first and second basemen.

Dudley has moved Donald Ewing, last year's regular shortstop, to center field. Also back are Allan Harp at catcher; Brian Brock, a pitcher and third baseman; Dean Jackson, another pitcher; and Russell Young, last year's designated hitter.

In another season opener involving a Lubbock squad Monday, Monterey defeated Big Spring 10-3 in five innings. "The kids just believed," first-year Matador coach Hodie Garcia said after his team's victory. "They just never gave up."

The Mats sent 11 hitters to the plate in the sixth inning to gain the win. Michael Sikes led off the sixth with a stand-up double to deep left field. Dodson followed that with a double of his own, a deep fly ball to left center. With runners at second and third, Hector Limon walked to load the bases.

"We've got some good offensive players back, in addition to several pitchers," Dudley said. "I really don't know where our strength will lie, but I know our pitching will have to improve."

One thing that has Dudley excited about this year's Mustang team is that he has more depth. "We had to play our very best to win last year," Dudley said. "We only had about 10 players who could really play. We had so little depth, it was tough."

Though the game ended on a positive note for EHS, it certainly looked like a season opener. After scoring a run on two hits in the first inning, the Mats were held hitless until the sixth. During that span, Ector came up with six runs on four hits, seven base on balls, two errors and a couple of mental mistakes.

Griffin, the clean-up batter, hit into a fielder's choice, but the Ector catcher failed to hold on to the ball on the force home. Two more runs scored when Estacado's second pitcher of the day, Joe Benividez, hit into another fielder's choice but the throw to the catcher went to the backstop. That made the score 6-4 with nobody out.

"Now we have a lot of players with equal ability. Our depth is much better this year," Dudley says. "I really don't know where our strength will lie, but I know our pitching will have to improve."

Dudley expects a tough game against Lee today, his team's first of three with the Rebels this season. "They're always well-coached and have some good people," Dudley said. "They have a lot of good people coming back from last year, too."

"Yeah, it looked like a season opener, but the weather had a lot to do with it," Garcia said. "It was so cold that it was hard to hit, and our pitchers were having a hard time, too."

Catcher Dwayne Slaughter hit a shot that was misplayed by the Ector left fielder to score Griffin and Benividez, tying the score at 6-6. Two outs later, the Ector center fielder dropped Dodson's high pop up right behind second base and Raymond Garza streaked to the plate to give Estacado the victory.

"We've never been in this situation before," Dudley added. "We'd like to really play well and win the district title again, but it's going to take a lot of work."

Lee today, his team's first of three with the Rebels this season. "They're always well-coached and have some good people," Dudley said. "They have a lot of good people coming back from last year, too."

Wayne Dodson was the starting pitcher for Estacado and enjoyed a one-two-three first inning while throwing only nine pitches.

The Matadors will travel to Lamesa for a 4 p.m. game today and Garcia expects to have Dodson and Benividez on the mound again.

"We had a lot of fun last year being a Cinderella team," Dudley said. "It was a good thing for the entire school. We sneaked up on a lot of teams last year, but I doubt we will be able to do that this season."

"We've never been in this situation before," Dudley added. "We'd like to really play well and win the district title again, but it's going to take a lot of work."

In the bottom of the first, Dodson scored the Mats' initial run of the year after blasting a double to left-center field and scoring on Danny Griffin's single to center.

In Big Spring, Steve Coleman drove in three runs with three hits, including a double, and scattered nine hits as Monterey pounded Big Spring.

"We've never been in this situation before," Dudley added. "We'd like to really play well and win the district title again, but it's going to take a lot of work."

Ector extended its lead to 4-1 in the third inning when it combined a hit, two walks and an error into a run. The Eagles, however, left the bases loaded. The Eagles added two more runs in the fifth to make the score 6-1. They combined a hit, two errors, a base on balls and a hit batsman in increasing their lead to five runs.

Oregon State Retains Lead In Cage Poll

By The Associated Press
Perfect may be the only word that can describe top-ranked Oregon State's season. Well, almost. Oregon State missed perfection by a single point Monday as Ralph Miller's cagers retained the No. 1 ranking in the Associated Press college basketball poll. The Beavers, 25-0 and the only major undefeated team in college basketball, collected 60 of 61 first-place votes and 1,219 points of a possible 1,220.

over Butler and Loyola of Chicago last week. LSU, which held the nation's longest winning streak at 26 before being surprised by Kentucky 73-71 on Sunday, picked up 1,044 points. Virginia, upset by Wake Forest last Wednesday, was six points further back in the No. 4 position.

Brown Intends To Keep LSU On Track

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP) — The No. 3-ranked Louisiana State basketball team returned to practice today with one message from coach Dale Brown: You can't afford to look ahead. On Sunday, fired-up Kentucky put an end to the Tigers' 26-game victory string — longest in the nation — with a 73-71 triumph in Lexington.

Georgia Tech's Morrison May Face Job Demise

ATLANTA (AP) — Georgia Tech athletic officials say it's not true that head basketball coach Dwane Morrison has been fired, but published reports quote university sources as saying he won't be returning next season. The Atlanta Journal and the Atlanta Constitution quoted sources as saying the decision was made at a board meeting Monday to fire the man who steered the Yellow Jackets to a dismal 4-22 record this season.

NCAA Invites TV Bidding War For Future Rights

CHICAGO (AP) — Bids ranging as high as $55 million were expected to be made by representatives of NBC and CBS today before a committee of the National Collegiate Athletic Association for future television rights to the NCAA basketball tournaments. The two networks were invited back for further talks following preliminary meetings in Miami last month when ABC was eliminated from the negotiations.

Arwine Buys New Career

bounded to a 15-16 mark and another first-half tie in 1976. Again, Hereford lost to Plainview for the first-half crown. In 1977, the Whitefachs had it all to themselves though. After sweeping to the district title, Arwine and crew wound up 22-12, losing to Pampa in bi-district. In 1978 Arwine guided Amarillo High to a 23-7 record and the District 3-5A championship and beat Monterey for the bi-district playoffs. They then lost to Fort Worth Dunbar in the first round of the regionals.

DePaul, Louisiana State and Virginia — three teams that also will have a say in the NCAA tournament which is less than two weeks away — played musical chairs with the next three positions. DePaul, which was ranked fourth last week, took over the No. 2 slot as Louisiana State and Virginia, Nos. 2 and 3, respectively, a week ago, slipped a notch after being upset.

NBA ANNOUNCES PAYOFF
NEW YORK (UPI) — A record sum of $1,400,000 will be divided by teams that make the National Basketball Association playoffs this season, it was disclosed Monday. This year's pool represents an increase of $75,000 from last year.

In 1979 Arwine headed south to Lubbock and took Coronado to the best record it would enjoy under his reign — 16-11. Last season the Ponies fell to 15-14 and this year they stand 13-18 with the district tournament coming up Thursday. "I don't think there is any question that I was a successful high school coach," said Arwine. "I was successful because I enjoyed doing what I was doing and because I made a contribution to basketball in the Panhandle of Texas."

Tomorrow's Horoscope

By Bernice Bede Osol

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Don't be hesitant tomorrow to ask assistance from persons you've been kind to in the past. They've been waiting for opportunities to even-up the tally.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) If you have recently had a misunderstanding with a friend, tomorrow is a good day to discuss your differences and iron them out. They can be resolved.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Your progress can be accelerated tomorrow if you are willing to experiment with new ideas or concepts. Don't be hesitant about making changes which could be for the better.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) You have the knack tomorrow to take the basic ideas of others and develop them along more rewarding lines. You may even come up with something to surprise all involved.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) You're very good at sorting out the problems of family members and relatives tomorrow. They'll sense this and come to you for aid and counsel.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) When we keep our minds open we can always learn something from others. Tomorrow from the mouths of babes you may gain wisdom.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Material gains may come to you tomorrow from two different directions. One might be something penny ante, but the other gains could be substantial. Be grateful for each.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Your key to dealing with others tomorrow is important. Your instincts and good manner will cause you to do this automatically.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) You're still in a stronger position than you may realize in finalizing issues of importance. You'd be wise, however, not to let them go beyond tomorrow.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Your thinking is along the right lines tomorrow, but you may lack a complete grasp of your subject. Talk things over with a friend whose judgment you admire.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Conditions are still more favorable than usual in financial and recognition realms. Bring your bright ideas to the boss's attention tomorrow.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Don't duck challenging situations tomorrow. You have the potential to cope with anything that comes up, be it large or small. When tested, you'll perform.

Shari Tells How To Make Bruppet

By SHARI LEWIS

Would you call a brush puppet a BRUPPET? You would? Then you're as nuts as I am, so here's how you can make your own personal bruppet for play or for plays. A bruppet is a stick puppet—that is, you'll hold it by the stick (the handle of the brush) and move your creature by bending and twisting your wrist, and by gently jiggling the bruppet's brushy head (the brush) in rhythm with the words as you speak.

Start with a bottle brush. Separate the fringes on one side of the brush so you can make more or less of a flat face area on that side. Then glue or sew on big button eyes, an even bigger (preferably round) button nose and a bit of felt for a mouth.

That's it! Too simple? Not at all! Why I'll betcha if I put this kind of bottle-brush puppet on the market, I could really clean up!

Monday's Brain Twister: Here's a brain twister most people say can't be done (but I know it can): From 19 take 1 and leave 20. Can you figure out the answer? Answer: From XIX take 1 and leave XX.

Today's Brain Twister: How many five-letter words can you name that do not contain an "A," "E," "I," "O" or "U"? (Look for the answer in Wednesday's Kids-Only Club column.)

Research Team Proposes Plastic Transplant Heart

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A University of Utah research team has asked the Food and Drug Administration to approve plans to replace the heart of an otherwise doomed patient with an artificial heart made largely of plastic.

The federal regulatory agency received the unprecedented application Friday, a spokeswoman said, and now has 30 days in which to act or allow the operation to proceed.

The request for what the FDA calls an "investigational device exemption" was submitted by Dr. William C. DeVries, head of cardiovascular surgery at the university.

The man-made heart is named after its designer and inventor, Dr. Robert Jarvik. DeVries heads a team that has implanted numerous copies in calves.

A university committee approved the proposal last month after reviewing all aspects of the experiment for seven months.

The proposal to the FDA said a patient selected for the artificial heart would be one for whom all standard life-saving measures had failed. He or she would be someone who underwent open heart surgery to bypass a clogged artery or to repair a valve.

During such an operation, the heart is stopped and circulation is maintained by a heart-lung machine.
