Groups Urge Injunction In School Hassle Here

In view of Lubbock school officials' past record of allowing unconstitutional religious practices, they cannot be expected to cease those activities without the force of an injunction, according to appeal briefs filed in the case. Both the Lubbock Civil Liberties Union, which filed suit in 1979 opposing prayer in the public schools, and the American Jewish Congress have filed briefs in the case that now is before the Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals in New Orleans, La.

The AJ Congress, a New York Citybased organization founded to protect the constitutional rights of American Jews, was granted friend-of-the-court status after asking to support the LCLU. A friend of the court is an outside party who is allowed to participate in a lawsuit, usually by filing arguments in the form of a brief. The briefs have started the appeals process in the case which was tried in U.S. District Court here in November. The litigation was a partial victory for both the school district and the LCLU. but the civil libertarian organization chose to appeal parts of federal Judge Halbert O. Woodward's ruling.

The return flight will depart from Denver at 7:45 p.m. MDT and arrive in Lubbock at 10:03 p.m. CDT. The flight will leave Lubbock for Austin at 10:28 p.m. and arrive at $1:31 p.m. Arrival in Houston will be at 12:37 a.m.

The new service will be in addition to Continental's two present westbound flights each day.

Continental plans to add additional flights to make eastbound connections from both Denver and Houston if the new flights beginning in June are successful, Bradford said.

Chamber president Lee Stafford said Lubbock, with the beefed-up Continental service and the addition of American Airlines service in Lubbock this June, will probably have the best airline service of worker on the space shuttle Columbia died today and five other employees were overcome when they entered a compartment that had been purged of oxygen after a successful dress rehearsal of pre-launch activities, space center spokesmen said.

The worker, who was not identified, died en route to a hospital in Titusville, officials said.

Another of the Rockwell International Corp. employees was flown by helicopter to Shands Teaching Hospital in Gainesville, Fla. He was said to be in critical condition.

Identities of the others were withheld pending notification of relatives.

Officials said a third man was hospitalized, but didn't appear to be in serious condition. The other three were released after treatment, officials said.

The employees of Rockwell International, private contractor for the shuttle project, were checking the engines after the pre-launch rehearsal when they "flat walked into" an area of pure nitrogen, said Kennedy Space Center spokesman

Educator Says Stress Burdens School Students

By PATRICIA McCOR FACK United Press International Writer Stress is a monkey on the back of lots of school kids.

Down in kindergarten, for example, a child scheduled to talk about the family butterfly collection gets wobbly knees at show-and-tell time. In the sixth grade, for another example, a kid sweats out a test - literally.

Parents, by the way, usually are the first to detect clues of stress.

"Countless parents have talked about their kindergarten child who, after first being enrolled in school, exhibits either stuttering, bedwetting, nail biting, increased thumb sucking, nightmares, loss of appetite or even physical complaints such as headaches and stomach aches,' Dr. Youngs says.

Among adolescents, stress may show up as shyness or boldness, periods of depression, fear of being unpopular, cheating on assignments, or hostility to authorities, says Dr. Youngs.

She suggests educators and parents team up to help students overcome stress. The key - providing children with a balanced perspective.

For the past several years, most steel stocks responded to such news in just the fashion one would expect.

United States Steel, for example, fell from close to 60 in 1976 to a low of 163 last year. Bethlehem Steel, No. 2 in the industry behind U.S. Steel, retreated over the same period from 48 to 19.

Recently, however, many steel issues have staged a sprightly recovery.

U.S. Steel crossed 31, for a gain of more than six points since the start of the year. Bethlehem was up to 29. Inland Steel, which recently was added to the recommended list at the brokerage firm of Kidder, Peabody & Co., stood at around 34, up from 277 at New Year's.

That burden was former President Carter, a man who used and abused the party to satisfy his own political requirements but did virtually nothing to enhance its status or to advance the careers of fellow Democrats.

Just as the Soviet Union seeks to obliterate the memory of disgraced and discredited former leaders by pretending they never existed, Mr. Carter was seldom mentioned, either in formal speeches or informal conversa-

BUT THE FORMER President's legacy to the Democrats was readily apparent, especially in the audited financial statement encompassing the four years of his White House tenure that was presented to those who must rebuild the party.

Because it agreed to assume the outstanding post-campaign debts of various contenders for the party's presidential nomination in 1968 and 1972, the DNC has not been solvent for more than a decade.

The party's total liabilities amounted to $9.3 million in the late 1960s but gradually

CONGRESS

JOSEPH SOBRAN:

Tax Collecting No Mean Feat

WASHINGTON-Beloved taxpayer:

As you are no doubt aware, April 15 is just around the corner. Then you are ours! (Just a little joke. To put you at ease.)

Maybe it's indiscreet, but we're so proud of this little system of ours that we're going to tell you a little about how it works, in an informal way. It's quite ingenious, actually, as we're sure you'll

Tax collecting isn't easy. The art took a lot of perfecting and polishing. Did you know, for instance, that the first federal budget 200 years ago came to $4 million? And nobody knew where the money was going to come from!

Well, we've certainly licked that problem, if we may say so. Today the budget is heading for the trillion-dollar level, and it wouldn't have been possible without advanced modern collection tech-

THE FIRST GREAT breakthrough came in 1913, when the Sixteenth Amendment established the federal income tax. But marvelous though it was, we had a close shave.

Some Congressmen and legislators wanted to establish a ceiling of 10 percent on any income.

Ten percent! What can you do with that kind of money? We had to act fast.

We did. We mocked the very idea that government would even think of demanding so much. But we also suggested that such a limit would invite the maximum taxation: the nice round number would give government ideas. Taxes would stay lower if no maximum was mentioned.

It would. The Sixteenth gave us carte blanche. But how to use it? The next great breakthrough came during the New Deal, when we established the withholding tax. This made employers tax collectors and intercepted the money before the marks (no offenseanother of our little jokes) could get their hands on it. Meanwhile, we established graduated tax rates, so most people would feel they were getting special consideration.

YOU SEE THE beauty of it? We didn't have to force the taxpayers to cough up a big lump all at once on April 15. That way it hurt them less. They even felt grateful (or even clever) if they managed to get a refund!

But our real bonanza came in the 1960s, with the Great Society spending money on every worthy cause it could think up. Just a little for each program, at first-e.g. $5 million for public broadcasting in 1965.

In time all these programs swelled. But people were making more money, and thanks to inflation they felt they were doing even better than they really were.

Also thanks to inflation-though it took them a long time to catch on-they were gradually moving into higher and higher tax brackets. So we got more money without even having to take the unpopular step of increasing tax rates! Inflation did it for us-automatically!

VERBAL TACT WAS also indispensable to our purposes. We seldom mentioned the obvious sanctions behind our taxes: fines, interest charges, liens, jail sentences. It was all understood: why emphasize it?

Instead, we invented a whole new vocabulary Our politicians talked about "the nation's needs, "the poor," "social goals," and "compassion." Some of the fools even believed it themselves!

You'd have thought they had forsaken careers in private charity to work in government. Of course, few of them cared about anything except buying votes and saving their own skins, but that didn't

The main thing was to make people ashamed to ask where their tax money was going.

Beyond that, we tried to make them forget it was theirs. Besides the withholding device, we came up with the wonderful phrase "tax expenditures" to mean the money we let them keep through deductions. This helped confirm the notion that all the money belongs primarily to us,

WE EVEN soft-pedaled the word "taxpayer." Instead, our politicians talked about "haves" and "have-nots" and "this complex society" and "creating jobs." We particularly avoided the word

Anyone who did use it, we accused of "rightwing extremism" or being "simplistic." When some Californians staged a tax revolt, one of our senators (now, alas, retired) called it "an orgy of greed and selfishness.

Now with a system like that, how are you going to beat us? Be a good little boy on April 15. Love. Big Brother.

Laser Sheds 'Light' On Shuttle

WASHINGTON-The outcome of next month's space shuttle flight will go a long way in determining whether the U.S. will be able to leap-frog the Russians in strategic military weapons during the

A successful test will be a clear indication that the U.S. has the capability to regain the lost military superiority over the Russians by taking advantage of our great scientific and technological lead in space.

The reusable shuttle, scheduled to be launched into space from Cape Canaveral, Fla., early in April, is considered the ideal vehicle for defense against Soviet missiles and for world-wide mili

One of Columbia's (the first space shuttle's name) early missions will be to test an aiming device for a space-based laser weapon designed to destroy Soviet nuclear missiles before they reach

UNDER A PROJECT code-named Talon Gold, the shuttle will test a "pointing and tracking system" that scientists say is vital in the development of a laser weapon in space.

The laser test is but one example of the military role to be played by the shuttle.

It reflects the Defense Department's decision to spend up research and development on space lasers after concluding that the Soviet Union was striving to perfect such weapons.

Such a weapon appeals to President Reagan and his military advisers because it will provide a line of defense against a Soviet first strike years ahead of any other known systems.

AN EFFECTIVE "POINTING and tracking system" is vital, for example, because the space sed laser must be able hundreds or thousands of miles away with a highly concentrated beam of light.

Unimpeded by the earth's atmosphere, the laser's ray would in theory bore a hole into a missile's hull, causing the missile to disintegrate in flight over sparsely populated regions.

In addition to this anti-missile mission, the space shuttle will provide the U.S with a reconnaissance capability unmatched in the world

In a matter of minutes, shuttles with the most sensitive cameras could be dispatched to anyplace in the world to photograph military build-ups or missile activities both on the ground or in space.

Capt. Robert L. Crippen, of the Navy who will be making his first flight into space, notes that the shuttle in time will "absolutely revolutionize the way we do business on earth both in the military and civilian fields."

Veteran Astronaut John W. Young, commander of Columbia, stresses that "the U.S. will be able to do in five to 10 years what would take us 20 to 30 years to do otherwise

What A 30% Tax Cut Would Mean To You

NEW YORK—How much would your federal income taxes go down if Congress actually were to approve President Reagan's call for a series of cuts to trim individual tax rates by 30 percent, starting this July and concluding in 1984?

What, in sum, does all this massive mumbo-jumbe about tax reduction telegraph to you? Here's a rundown of facts not headlined:

Q. Will your taxes really go down if the administration's tax-reduction program is enacted into

A. Not necessarily. Your total federal income tax bill would decline if your earnings remained unchanged in the next few years; then your 1984 tax debt would be about 30 percent smaller than your '80 bill

BUT IF YOUR paycheck rises, your tax bill would rise, too, for the simple reason that you then would join the tax creep-and your higher paycheck would put you into a higher tax bracket which automatically would pull more tax money out of your earnings.

For instance, say you're unmarried, working as an admissions officer at a private secondary school, earning $15,000 a year and paying about $2,000 in taxes If, over the next two years, your salary stayed the same, the Reagan plan would cut your federal taxes by $316. At the same time, increased Social Security taxes would take a big chunk out of this extra left for you.

But say you move to a higher-paying job and start earning $20,000 a year. Your 1982 federal taxes are estimated by Matthew Bender experts at roughly $2,600.

EVEN UNDER THE Reagan tax cuts, you personally would owe $600 more to the federal gov-

The realistic appraisal, therefore: If you obtain yearly pay increases to offset annual hikes in your living costs, your pay will be hit by higher tax

You will pay more in taxes-but not as much more as you would have paid had there been no Q. Who really benefits the most from the tax cut proposals? The rich? Or the poor? Or the millions from nearly poor to lower middle to higher middle in between? A. The arguments about this grow more abusive and bewildering by the hour. A first fact is that potentially, everyone would benefit-but in different ways and to sharply different degrees. IN TOTAL DOLLARS, a senior partner at a leading Cleveland law firm earning $100,000 a year (with a wife and two children) would pay nearly $7,000 less in taxes in 1984 than he now pays, tax accountants told my associate, Brooke Shearer.

A computer programmer earning $25,000 a year and with the same type of family would have his taxes reduced about $800. A $50,000-a-year, fourperson family would be about $2,500 better off in the tax computations

It's far, far too early to begin befuddling all de bates by accusing one income category or another of grabbing the giant share of the cake. The tax-writing experts in Congress will come up with the precise percentages long before any bill is near a vote. The percentages are what mat-

Q. Will investors get an addition tax break? What kind?

A. A key premise of the Reagan program is that investment income (money made by having money) should be taxed at the same rate as money earned by working (wages, salaries)

Today, the maximum rate on earned income is 50 percent: maximum rates on unearned income run up to 70 percent.

Should the top tax on both types of income be set at 50 percent, the tax rate on long-term capital gains would automatically fall from today's 28 percent to 20 percent.

This tax change unquestionably would favor investment-major goal of the cuts.

Q. WHEN MIGHT CONGRESS act on the Reagan tax proposals? A. Probably not until fall-and the shape of the package is simply beyond even guessing now. (Don't let anyone kid you on this!) Congress is not likely to endorse a three-year tax cut schedule in 1981 and risk having voters forget its generosity by the next election. More probable is a little individual tax relief in 1981, a bit more in 1982-and all depending on the overall health of the U.S. economy, the inflationunemployment rate, your attitudes.

Judge Rules Enquirer Not Protected By Law

ing that the National Enquirer is a magazine, not a newspaper, means the publication is not eligible for statutory protection against a $10 million libel claim by comedian Carol Burnett, attorneys say.

If Superior Court Judge Peter Smith had found that the Enquirer was a newspaper, its liability in the case could have been reduced to as little as $250, assuming it was found to have libeled Miss Burnett, her attorneys said.

State law excuses newspapers, but not magazines, from punitive or general damages in libel cases if the newspaper prints a retraction of the material within 21 days of a demand for such action.

"I have looked at the qualifications for a newspaper under the statute,' Smith said Wednesday. "I'm sorry. I don't think it's even close.'

Miss Burnett is suing the Enquirer over a 1976 article saying she got into an argument in a Washington restaurant with then-Secretary of State Henry Kissinger. She contends the article was untrue and implied that she was drunk. The Enquirer later printed a retraction. Earlier. Smith dismissed two jurors who told him they had seen the "Tonight Show" Tuesday night, when host Johnny Carson blasted the Enquirer for a story in the current issue that reported his third marriage was headed for divorce. 'I'm going to call the National Enquirer and the people who wrote this liars," Carson said. "This is absolutely, completely, 100 percent falehoods.

Smith's ruling came after he heard testimony from two journalism profes-sors. Albert Pickerell of the University of California at Berkeley said the Enquirer was not a newspaper because it "does not have as its primary purpose the conveying of current and timely news."

Ben Cunningham of California State University at Long Beach compared the format of the Enquirer to the New York Daily News and said, "I believe the National Enquirer is a tabloid newspaper."

Smith said, however: "I have no problem distinguishing the New York Daily News from the National Enquirer. Sure, they're both tabloids. But that goes to form, not substance."

Cabinet Task Force Expected To Urge Import Restrictions

cision is likely on a Cabinet-level task force's anticipated recommendation to President Reagan that some form of essary to help the ailing U.S. auto indus-

One possibility would be informal overtures to Japanese government officials to take steps to limit the number of vehicles that country's automakers ship to the United States.

The task force was delivering its re-port to Reagan today, but an aide said no decision on the import question is expected immediately.

"I know a decision won't be made this week," said White House press secretary James S. Brady.

Lending support to the idea of an un-official U.S. approach was Brady's reaction Wednesday to a statement by Japan's minister of international trade that his government would use "administrative guidance" to urge automakers to restrict the number of vehicles they send to the United States.

Brady said the statement by Rokusuke Tanaka was "certainly moving in the right direction.

WASHINGTON (AP) - Air travelers in scores of cities may soon be paying special airport fees, probably about a dollar per flight, if President Reagan succeeds in eliminating federal money to the nation's largest airports.

The Reagan administration has proposed dropping about 70 of the largest airports from money given out of the federal airport trust fund, arguing they are capable of generating their own revenue for operations and capital improvements.

Airport operators from about 60 cities began a lobbying effort Wednesday on Capitol Hill to persuade members of eliminated, they should be allowed to impose a "passenger facility charge" to make up the lost revenue.

Federal law now prohibits such charges, but a bill introduced by Sen. Nancy Kassebaum, R-Kan., chairman of the Commerce aviation subcommittee, would lift the prohibition. An administration bill is expected to include a similar

Thomas A. Rafferty, president of the Airport Operators Council International, said the organization is pushing for continuation of federal money for all airports but, if that fight is unsuccessful, will lobby for authority to impose the airport passenger fees.

Industry sources said the airport operators privately believe eliminating federal money for large airports is almost certain to be approved and have concentrated on the passenger fee issue.

Congress prohibited the imposition of airport passenger charges in the early 1970s after strong criticism of a $2 airport fee in Philadelphia, with the money going into the city's treasury. The prac-

Robert Davidson, deputy general nager of the Los Angeles Depar of Airports, said there's "quite a groundswell" for imposing such fees. He said Los Angeles will need the money to offset a loss of $10 million a year under the Reagan proposal.

He said if the congressional prohibition is lifted, his department would probably impose a 75-cent fee per passenger. Other airport operators indicated fees of $1 to $1.25 per person with periodic increases to reflect inflation.

Bill Willoughby, director of aviation in Philadelphia, said he would expect all airports which face cuts in federal money to impose the passenger fees. Other airports might join in, too, he said.

Industry officials said details of how the fees would be imposed have not been worked out and each airport might take a different approach. Most airports probably would impose a flat charge on passengers boarding flights, with the fee added to the price of the ticket, they said.

FBI Director Says Easing Of Guidelines Not Needed

WASHINGTON (UPI) - Combating international terrorism is a big challenge, but not so big that the FBI and CIA need broader powers for domestic spying, says

Webster told a Senate Appropriations subcommittee Wednesday that a draft executive order that would loosen restraints on the FBI and CIA is a proposal the FBI doesn't need

'My sense of our activities is that we've been effective under existing guidelines," he said. "I have not found us restrained by guidelines on domestic security activities

Webster's comments came during questioning by subcommittee Chairman Lowell Weicker, R-Conn., who has been highly critical of any plan to alter such restrictions on domestic surveillance. The draft order, leaked to news organizations last week, includes a grant of broader domestic authority for intelligence-gathering and a downgraded role for the attorney general in scrutinizing such activity

Weicker raised the issue Tuesday during testimony by Attorney General William French Smith. Smith said the proposal was an early draft still subject to revision

"I am aware of some of the concepts that have been advanced on a Christmas tree basis to combat international terrorism, but these have been largely drafts. Webster told Weicker.

Edwin Meese, counselor to President Reagan, was quoted Wednesday as saying the White House is "absolutely opposed" to any change in intelligence regulations that would let the CIA conduct domestic spying.

Webster went before the subcommittee to submit the FBI's fiscal 1982 budget an 8.3 percent increase over 1981.

Homemade Bird Sign Of Spring's Return

By SHARI LEWIS

I can't believe it. Saturday is the first day of spring again and birds are on the wing again and all that stuff. If the birds haven't yet made their way to your house, create your own to tide you over until the real thing appears. You'll need two pom-pons - a big one for the bird's body, a small one for the

Cut out two doughnut-shaped pieces of cardboard. Make the two rings exactly the same size. (The smaller the ring, the smaller your finished pom-pon.)

Cut a six-foot-long piece of yarn. Hold your two rings together, and tie the yarn onto the rings. Wrap the yarn around these two pieces of cardboard. Work the yarn in the center hole, and then out and around, covering the entire doughnut with wool. Continue with other lengths of the yarn, tying each new piece onto the one that came before, until you have a thickness of about six layers of

Now, slip one blade of a pair of scissors under the yarn on the outside rim of the wool-covered doughnut (see picture). Cut through the yarn, and continue cutting all around the circle. The outside edge of the circle of wool will now be cut, but the yarn on the inside of the hole will still be uncut. Slip a separate length of yarn (about 15 inches long) between the two doughnuts of cardboard. Tie a knot and then pull the cardboard away from the wool. Fluff the yarn to make a completely round ball.

Sew your pom-pons together and glue a triangle of paper in place as a beak. Add buttons for eyes and either sew your birds onto a sturdy twig or fasten 'em onto a cardboard base cut into the shape of big claws.

Police Receiving Unwanted Help

say their investigation of 20 child slayings is spawning more financial help than they know what to do with and some citizen action they don't want.

Residents of a public housing project have vowed to start armed comm self-defense patrols on Friday, despite a warning earlier this week from Public Safety Commissioner Lee Brown that patrols "will not be tolerated."

We intend to do one thing - protect our kids," community activist Chimurenga Jenga said Wednesday, adding those participating would be armed with baseball bats and perhaps guns. "We don't want anyone shot. If the killer is caught, we want him to be put in jail and go through the normal process."

Deputy Police Chief Eldrin Bell met with Jenga and other leaders of the Techwood Homes tenants' association after their news conference in an effort to convince them to leave their weapons at home during such patrols.

'We want to keep the lines of communications open," Bell said afterward. The patrols were prompted by the slayings of 20 children and the disappearances of two others in the past 20 months. The police investigation has been costing an estimated $250,000 a

Last week. President Reagan announced a $1.5 million grant for the city, which is expected to cover the cost of the investigation for some time, said city community affairs director Leon Hall.

That leaves the problem of what to do with money collected for the investigation from other sources, including some $200,000 raised last week at a benefit concert by Sammy Davis Jr. and Frank Sinatra and another $200,000 donated by the Hundreds of other donations have come in from around the country, and a group in Philadelphia this week announced plans to raise a $1 million reward fund for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the child killer or killers. TMI Faces Financial Problems

MIDDLETOWN, Pa. (UPI) - The operator of the accident-stricken Three Mile Island nuclear power plant could go bankrupt at tax time next month, a senior plant official says.

Robert Arnold, chief operating officer of General Public Utilities Corp. Nuclear Group, warned Wednesday that the plant's financial condition was "as serious as it has been since the (nuclear) accident" two years ago.

The firm facing possible bankruptcy is GPU's subsidiary, Metropolitan Edison Co., which operates Three Mile Is-

The cost of the 1979 nuclear accident has been estimated at $3 billion, with $1 billion to go for decontaminating the highly radioactive facility and $2 billion to pay for replacement electricity.

Arnold said Wednesday that Met-Ed needed $22 million from its banks to pay Pennsylvania taxes on April 15. He said the banks may not go along if the state Public Utility Commission fails to act favorably on a $76 million rate increase request by Met-Ed.

"If we fail to make that payment by April 15, then we are in default," Arnold said. "That is legally bankrupt."

The impact of bankruptcy would depend on the reaction of Met-Ed's creditors, Arnold said. "How it would work

Prominent Names Listed As Patrons Of Prostitutes

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) - Judges and other prominent area residents are among 891 people listed as customers of a prostitution ring in a "little red book" seized during a recent raid, police say.

The book is locked up in a police safe and authorities will not release the names because such action could "wreck a person's life," according to Lt. Marc Rucker of the Jefferson County police. Patronizing a prostitute is not a crime in Kentucky.

The notebook, which was started six or seven years ago, lists men "from all walks of life," including politicians and "out-of-town" policernen, Rucker said Wednesday

At least 50 men named are wellknown to the public, he said.

The "little red book," a red spiral notebook, was found in January 1980 when police searched two apartments as part of a drug investigation, authorities said. In October, three people were charged in connection with the prostitution operation, which has probably had 25 to 30 women working for it over the years, police believe.

Hinson Resigns Seat In House

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Jon C. Hinson, R-Miss., accused of attempted sodomy, has resigned his seat in the House as expected, effective April 13.

A copy of Hinson's letter of resignation, sent earlier to Mississippi Gov. William Winter, was read to the House Tuesday. Hinson was not present and none of the members there made any comment. Hinson, a second-term congressman, was arrested Feb. 4 by Capitol police officers who were staking out a restroom in the Longworth House Office Building. The restroom was rumored to be a gathering place for homosexuals.

RAPID GROWTH RATE

Five millimeters per year is considered a rapid growth rate for the rock-bound lichen species that are abundant in Lapland. Their tenacity is so great that they can live for centuries and this makes them among the world's oldest living things. Pollution is their fatal weakness, and even in Lapland's pure air, many species have been contaminated by radioactive fallout from nuclear testing thousands of miles away.

In an age of anxiety, with gloom the staple of the network news, Pooh's Tuck-In Service will help you forget the most trying day. Pooh will bring you a teddy bear to cuddle, a cup of hot chocolate and a bedtime story, and then fluff the pillows before you sink into golden slumber.

"I'm sort of a romantic," says Mark Lockhart, founder of Pooh's. "I'm also Pooh"

A 23-year-old Marshall University student, Lockhart is at the forefront of a tiny tuck-in movement that is unfolding on some of the nation's college campuses. Students who once swallowed goldfish and squeezed by the dozens into phone booths now are seeking a little calm with the help of Pooh and other kindly bears.

For $5, students hire Pooh, and his sidekick Sasha Teddy Bear, to visit a friend. The pair arrive with a thermos of hot chocolate, a book of fairy tales and a simple talent for soothing.

"People think it's a great idea," Lock-

Sasha "is your standard yellow teddy bear," he says.

Sasha is also a lady. "Boys have girl bears and girls have boy bears," says Lockhart, an ROTC cadet and former football player who professes to be a master of bear lore.

Lockhart, who claims he's heard of tuck-in services at Penn State, Connecticut and Oklahoma State universities, says he suspects that his unusual bedtime service could become a national habit.

After Lockhart began to advertise Pooh's services on the Marshall campus, his first job was a tuck-in for a female student. When he and his bear arrived,

DR. LAMB

Get Help For Anxiety

By LAWRENCE LAMB, M.D. DEAR DR. LAMB - I am female.

18, and have a problem that really worries me. I would appreciate your advice. For the past three months my doctor has prescribed Valium for me. I do have emotional problems that I cannot handle directly myself. I'm 50 pounds overweight and the Valium does help control my emotional problems. I am afraid I am becoming totally dependent upon Valium. I don't want to run into more problems in the future. I am a very nervous and hyper

I also take nose drops every hour or my nose stuffs up. I can't breathe except through my mouth. For the past two years I have taken Excedrin every day. I wake up every morning with a headache. The headaches aren't bad, they are just there.

DEAR READER - So you are nervous and tend to have anxiety. It is true that tranquilizers such as Valium may give relief from these conditions. But you can't and don't want to go through life on tranquilizers. Your nose problems and your headaches may also be related to your anxiety. I would suggest tht you ask your doctor to refer you to a mental health clinic or a psychiatrist for some help.

If you can work through your emotional tensions, perhaps you won't need to rely on medications and may be well able to enjoy life a great deal

Valium is one of many tranquilizers that can lead to drug dependency.
I am sending you The Health Letter number 12-12, Sedatives, Hypnotics and Tranquilizers: The Pil Problem, which lists most of the medications that lead to problems. You should be particularly careful not to use alcohol with any of these medicines. Others who want this issue can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it to me, in care of The Lubbock Avalanche-Journal, P.O. Box 1551. Radio City Station, New York, N.Y. 10019.

You might try using nose drops in just one side of your nose for a while. That will enable the other side to recover from chemical reactions to nose drops. After one side has recovered so you will have one open normal side, you can stop using them entirely. That method helps many people who get hooked on nose drops.

DEAR DR. LAMB - I would like some information about autopsies. I thought an autopsy always showed the cause of death. Recently a friend of mine died suddenly. She was not sick and was not under a doctor's care. The death certificate read, "probable virus." This was based on the fact she had had a cold about a week before she died.

Now people tell me that it is not unusual for a young person to die suddenly and no cause is found.

DEAR READER - There are causes of death that cannot be seen by visual examination, even with the use of a microsope. To cite one example. if your heart suddenly stopped or beat in such an irregular fashion as to fail to pump blood, you would be dead in minutes. But the heart stoppage or irregularity isn't visible by a post mortem examination since all hearts are stopped with death (unless you want to use the definition of brain death for legal death).

By contrast, if you had a heart attack from an occluded artery to the heart, they would find the occluded artery and see the damaged heart muscle.

Incidentally, you may be able to see the effects of a virus infection. If it involves the heart, it is called viral myocarditis.

Role Of Fats In Heart Disease Probed

obesity, high blood pressure, cholesterol in the blood - most doctors agree these increase the risks of getting coronary heart disease.

But the role of diet - which some say is the most important factor of all - is sharply disputed by some of the most prominent figures in heart research.

Two of those doctors squared off this week before hundreds of physicians at-tending a conference of the American College of Cardiology here.

Dr. James Schoenberger, president of the American Heart Association, insisted that a diet low in saturated fats and cholesterol is the reason nations like Japan have heart disease death rates far lower than those in the United States.

But Dr. Robert E. Olson, agreeing diet plays some role, said he thinks the evidence isn't strong enough to make a war on saturated fats and cholesterol a centerpiece in the battle against coronary heart disease

Olson, who headed the Food and Nutrition Board for the National Academy of Sciences, said a variety of studies on a ble to prove a strong link between a saturated-fat diets and death from coronary

Schoenberger blamed that on technical flaws and difficulties in the individual studies, and said it is unfair to combine

VICKIE AND SISTER - Vickie Daniel, left, and sister Rita Stedham of Baytown come down the steps of the courthouse in Liberty as another day of the lurid testimony ended in the suit in which her sister-in-law seeks to take custody of the children born to Mrs. Daniel and her slain husband, Price Daniel Jr., former speaker of the Texas House of Representatives. Mrs. Daniel is charged with murder in the slaying. The sister-in-law, Jean Daniel Murph, claims Mrs. Daniel is unfit to keep the child-

Daniel Aide Recalls Accusations

LIBERTY (AP) - A former bookkeeper for Price Daniel Jr. testified today that Vickie Daniel, wife of the former Texas House Speaker, told her if Daniel was being unfaithful then she also could 'mess around.'

Betty White, testifying for the second day, said she received a phone call from Mrs. Daniel in late 1979 inquiring about Daniel's fidelity.

"She asked me if I thought Price was messing around with other women, Miss White said. "I told her no. I thought he was working too much. She said if he was messing around, then it was all right if she messed around.

Miss White testified Wednesday that Mrs. Daniel had accused her of having a personal relationship with Daniel, who was fatally shot Jan. 19 at his home north

Miss White denied she was having any kind of improper relationship with Dan-

Howard and Stephana Oldham, former friends and business associates of Price Daniel Jr., said Wednesday that their friendship cooled because of Vickie Daniel's suspicions that her husband was unfaithful

The three testified Wednesday at a child custody trial filed by Daniel's sister. Jean Daniel Murph, to gain custody of Franklin Baldwin Daniel, 3, and Marion Price Daniel IV, 1. the Daniels' youngest sons.

Mrs. Daniel is charged with murder in the shooting death of her husband. She has admitted firing the fatal shot but insists it was not intentional.

Mrs. Oldham said she became friends with Mrs. Daniel in 1978 when their husbands became business associates in the ownership of a trailer park. But two years later, she was ready to end the

"I wanted to back out of the friendship because I thought she was trying to cause trouble between me and my husband and between Price and my husband," Mrs. Oldham testified.

She also said Mrs. Daniel suspected her husband of having affairs with other women, and often accused him of abusing their children.

Howard Oldham, who operates a business supply store here, said he tired of the friendship because of the "continual paranoid feeling she (Mrs. Daniel) had about Price. It became the only thing you heard, and I wanted to walk away from it. The friendship drifted apart over a period of time.

Miss White, who said she worked for Daniel for three years, testified Mrs. Daniel called her on the phone and accused her of having the relationship.

"The gist of it was an insinuation that I might be having a personal relationship with him," Miss White testified. "I told

Mrs. Oldham said Mrs. Daniel frequently complained about her husband's infidelity and disregard for his family.

"She said he made her use money from her previous marriage to buy clothes for her children," Mrs. Oldham said. "She complained that he wouldn't buy her any clothes or give her any money to buy food.

However, Mrs. Oldham testified that she never saw the Daniel family lacking and refuted earlier claims by Mrs. Daniel that her husband beat hear.

There was ample food and she always had clothes," Mrs. Oldham said.

Despite Mrs. Daniel's repeated complaints of abuse, Mrs. Oldham said she never saw any bruises.

Former Lover Testifies In Volpato Trial

By BARRY CASEBOLT

A-J Correspondent CARLSBAD, N.M. — The former lover of accused murderer Johnny Volpato testified Wednesday she spoke by telephone with the defendant the day before and the evening of his wife's murder here more than a year ago.

Linda Harrison said the topic of both conversations was whether Volpato was coming to visit her in Albuquerque the Volpato, 43, Carlsbad Mayor Pro Tem and partner in the Corner Drugstore, was arrested last month and charged with the Feb. 5, 1980, murder of his wife, Elaine. Volpato maintains he was wounded and his wife killed by two bandits who took drugs and money during an after-hours robbery at the drugstore.

During a special evening session Wednesday in Volpato's preliminary hearing in Hobbs Magistrate Donald Hallam's court, Miss Harrison, Volpato's business partner and a local doctor were called to the stand. Miss Harrison testified Wednesday that she and Volpato became involved during the summer of 1977 and their intimate relationship continued until after Mrs. Volpato's death.

She said she fell in love with Volpato and, "I felt he was in love with me."

Testimony indicated Volpato and his wife had separated for a time and Miss Harrison said she was aware divorce proceedings between the Volpatos had started at one time

Miss Harrison said she left Carlsbad after Volpato moved back in with his wife but she continued to have telephone conversations with him. And, she added, Volpato stayed with her in Albuquerque when he attended a pharmaceutical meeting there in January of 1980

She said the two had a lengthy phone conversation the night before the murder and she also talked a short time with him by telephone the evening of the murder. The topic of the conversations, she said, was whether Volpato was coming to Albuquerque the next weekend.

Also Wednesday, Volpato's business partner, John Heaton, told the court he knew Miss Harrison and she was a good friend. He said she had expressed a desire to marry Volpato.

Heaton also testified that an inventory of the Corner Drugstore after the reported robbery showed approximately $1,800 in cash and narcotics and amphe tamines were missing. He said other money in the safe was not bothered and money at the cash register was not taken.

Dr. Clarence Peterson, who treated Volpato after the incident, testified that there were gunpowder burns on Volpato's left hand, but only the coat Volpato was wearing that night showed powder burns in the chest area. The gun was probably an inch or less from the druggist's hand when the shot was fired, he

The doctor showed X-rays of Volpato's wound and said Volpato probably was shot first in the left hand and then in the left side of the chest, about four inches lower than the first wound.

Under cross-examination by Dick Blenden, Volpato's attorney, Peterson said he had seen and treated a number of self-inflicted wounds and wounds in the chest area usually injure the chest cavity Volpato's wound did not, the doctor said.

Judy Murray, a friend of the Volpatos, testified she and her husband, the Volpatos and two other couples usually

CENTER

Mrs. Murray said she was aware the Volpatos had separated for a time and that they were later reunited. She said since the reconciliation, Volpato had been tense, nervous and ill at ease at these gatherings. Mrs. Murray said she believes Volpato "hated" his wife after that time, but then she quickly added, "he didn't like Elaine."

Carlsbad City Councilmen Wilson Bales and Jimmy Phillips and City Attorney George Watkins said they had heard Volpato say at one time he couldn't afford a divorce. All three said they believe the remark was not serious.

Blenden asked Bales if he had ever heard anyone else make the same remark. When Bales responded, "Yes," Blenden asked, "Who?"

'You," Bales told the attorney. Special Prosecutor Ernest Carroll, a Midland attorney hired when Fifth District Attorney Mike McCormick excused himself from the case because of his friendship with the defendant, has called 36 witnesses to testify in the hearing.

Magistrate Hallam said he hopes testimony in the hearing will conclude either late today or Friday morning.

Schools Ordered Closed To Prevent Skirmishes

CANEY, Okla. (AP) - In an effort to keep a lid on a dispute among school officials, an Atoka County judge has declared this community's school system a "public nuisance" and ordered it temporarily closed The latest squabble leading to the tween the School Board president and the ousted superintendent, officials said Wednesday

Caney, in southeastern Oklahoma, has a population of about 350. An official said the single combination elementary-high school had an enrollment of close to 400, with many of its students living in the surrounding farmland.

Assistant District Attorney Doug Gabbard sought a court order closing the Caney schools "as a threat to the health and safety of the community," saying residents feared violence could erupt if officials held a special School Board meeting

The meeting was canceled when District Judge Laverne Fishel signed a temporary restraining order. That order temporarily closed the schools and prohibited the board from conducting any busi-

Writer Calls Jamaica Scenic Gem Of Caribbean

TED J. SIMON

Jamaica - island of intriguing history, breath-taking scenery, and warm-hearted people has won this writer's

It is a land of blue mountains, verdant foliage, rushing streams, pristine beaches, and picturesque lagoons with azure waters. Adding spice to all of this are graceful people with voices that are soft and melodic Jamaica seems to be a perfect blend of the best features of the Car-ibbean and the West Indies.

Lying 500 miles south-southeast of Mi-ami, the independent Dominion within the British Commonwealth has a land area of 4,411 square miles. At its most distant points, the island is 150 miles long and 50 miles wide. However, because of its varied geography from bayside meadows to rugged peaks that reach over 7,400 feet into the clouds, and interesting flora and fauna, Jamaica's confined area is quickly forgotten by the average visitor.

Discovered by Chirstopher Columbus

in 1494 during his second voyage to the New World, the history of the island is too involved and colorful for this column.

At one time, however, the island was headquarters for the notorious pirate Morgan. Ironically, he was arrested on the island and later appointed its lieuten-

True to its early history as a haven for buccaneers, Jamaica continued to capture visitors - at least their hearts. It isn't unusual for a planned one time visit to culminate in the purchase of a residence for a home away from home. That was the case with Noel Coward, Ian Fleming, and Errol Flynn. Today a Jamaican residence is maintained by Johnny Cash.

Most persons, however, are interested in Jamaica as a vacation destination. And that brings to mind a question that deserves honest attention. What kind of welcome can the American tourist ex-

Montego Bay is Jamaica's chief resort and one of the finest in the world. The town lies on the northwest coast, where the water is warm year around, blue and incredibly clear. Needless to say the waters attract scuba and snorkel buffs. Speaking of water - public tap water is safe to drink everywhere on the island.

There are plenty of accommodations at Montego Bay ranging from posh re-sorts and moderately priced hotels to stayed at Casa Montego Hotel, convenient to shopping and sightseeing. Across the street is a crafts market consisting of open-air shops. But if you can't spare the time to visit the multitude of shops and stores, the merchandise will come to you as street peddlers hawk their wares.

Most hotels and resorts have swimming pools and convenient access to sandy beaches; some properties are built right on the beaches. At Casa Montego Hotel, a park across the street leads to the white sand and warm waters of Cornwall Beach. The tall trees with bright orange blossoms in the park are called Flame of the Forest.

An interesting place to dine in Monte-go Bay is the Front Porch Restaurant. The menu includes cow foot, ackee and codfish, and curried goat. Ackee and codfish will have the appearance of scrambled eggs, and the curried goat will be covered by a green colored sauce. (Good news for Dr. Seuss fans.)

I had the green goat dish and it was great! If your palate prefers something more familiar, order the chicken deep fried with honey; it's delicious.

Ocho Rios is 64 miles east of Montego Bay, a coastal drive that takes you past the haunted mansion who's mistress was the inspiration for the novel "The White Witch of Rose Hall." You also pass a unique phosphorescent lagoon, Discov-ery Bay where Columbus landed, a limestone cave which leads to an underground lake, and spectacular Dunn's Riv-

ZBA Approves Variances For Small Buildings

Avalanche-Journal Staff Some kind of directive concerning the erection of kiosks, those mini-buildings used for film drops, automatic tellers, snow cone dispensing and other uses, was requested by the Zoning Board of Adjustment at its regular meeting this

Before the board heard the first of four cases concerning that type of structure, member Paul Godwin asked the city staff to have the city Planning and Zoning Commission draw up a policy designating the number of kiosks that should be allowed on shopping centers, what determines compatibility with the shopping centers they are located on and what kind of materials the kiosks should be limited to.

'Are we going to have to allow a fence of these around a shopping center? he asked. "If we had requests like that this morning, we wouldn't have had any policy to follow."

The board approved three kiosk variances involving automatic tellers this morning, but continued a fourth which involved a portable snow-cone stand.

One automatic teller variance request was modified to require that it comply with set-back requirements at 71st Street and Quaker Avenue. The board required the kiosk to remain on the south side of the parking lot, because a Fox Photos kiosk will be located on the north side of the shopping center.

The board approved that part of the variance of an ordinance which requires kiosks be aligned with other buildings on a shopping center, but required that the structure meet the set-back require-

The kiosk will be built as a joint venture between First Federal Savings and Loan and Lubbock National Bank. The two institutions were also grant-ed a variance on a kiosk to be built at cutt pointed out the institutions would be constructing about six more kiosks at various locations around the city that complied with existing ordinances.

Alan White, representing First Federal and Lubbock National, said that these structures would become more prevalent as more banks and savings and loans began taking advantage of an amendment passed last year.

A variance for a kiosk to be built for State Savings and Loan at 6601 Indiana Ave. was also approved.

However, a set-back variance for a snow-cone stand proposed at Town and Country Shopping Center at University

Avenue and 4th Street was continued for one month because board members did not see that the variance was necessary

Robert Waltman, a Texas Tech University graduate student who said he would own and operate the business, told the board that the location he had selected was the only place which would comply with electrical ordinances governing verhead wiring.

However, Godwin said there were proved:

other places in the shopping center which complied with alignment and setback rules.

Board member Chuck Lanehart made a motion to continue the request for a month at which time Waltman would either be able to prove electrical hook ups were not possible or that he may be able to comply with present ordinances.

In other business, the board ap-

about 3 a.m. today by a hitchhiker he picked up at 19th Street and Avenue Q.

Roger Olen Settle, 25, of 4114 18th St. told police the man robbed him of his car wallet, containing $2. He estimated his loss to total $1,900.

Settle said that after picking up the man, he drove to the 2300-block of 19th Street where his passenger pulled a pis-tol, pressed it to the driver's stomach and demanded he stop the car.

The bandit, according to reports, told the victim to hand over his wallet. Settle said he told the man he only had $2 in it, but said the suspect wanted it anyway.

Police were told the man then ordered Settle out of the car, slid behind

A Lubbock man said he was robbed the steering wheel and drove off. The victim said robber made a U-turn in his 1976 silver Gran Torino, traveled east and made a turn north on Avenue Q.

Settle said he hitched a ride home where he called police. The suspect was described as a black man, about 24, a little over 6 feet tall, with a muscular build He was said to be wearing beige clothing. including a hooded coat.

In other activity, a 19-year-old woman said she was beaten by two men and forced to swallow several pills in a dark alley north of the 2700-block of East Second Place about 9:15 p.m. Wednesday.

The teen-ager said she was on foot when the men grabbed her from behind, pulled her into the alley and slapped her several times. She said they tilted her head back, dropped pills in her mouth and one said, "Don't scream...you'd better swallow them or we'll hurt you."

Reports state the men slapped and kicked her several more times before she broke free and ran to a nearby house. where she called for an ambulance and police. The victim, suffering multiple cuts and bruises, was treated at Methodist Hospital and later released

Police had not determined what kind of pills she was forced to take. The woman described her assailants as two "very tall" black men, between 18 and 25 years

A man was arrested about midnight after he allegedly beat his female com-

complex. Police found the man and woman in the parking lot. The victim was holding a towel to her face. She told officers the man had struck her several times. She said the assault began earlier at a club, where he allegedly threw her to the floor and kicked her. Police were told the woman attempted to drive from the club, but that the man climbed into her vehicle and passed out. The 18-year-old woman said the assault continued after the man awoke.

The suspect, 23, was booked into the county jail on suspicion of assault and public intoxication. Reports did not indicate the woman was hospitalized.

Authorities took into custody a 13year-old boy into custody about 10:45 p.m. Wednesday after he reportedly was found in possession of a makeshift weapon made of a bicycle chain with a taped handle. The boy, who ran from police, was later apprehended at his mother's house for alleged unlawful possession of

A Perryton man moving to Lubbock told police Wednesday his rented U-Haul trailer was taken from a motel parking lot where he was staying.

Don Paslay said the trailer was hooked to his 1972 Buick and parked on the west side of Motel 6 at 909 66th St. He valued the trailer and its contents, which included bedding, appliances, clothing and a stereo, at $10,000.

Walter Lee White of 2819 E. Seventh St. told police $2,505 in items were taken from his 3606 Ave. A business during a burglary sometime Tuesday.

The stolen items included a battery charger, Craftsman tools and tool box, eight cases of Coca-Cola, eight cases of empty bottles, two CB radios and an air impact wrench, White said.

Police said burglars entered the building by prying off a hasp on a door facing an alley. The items were taken from the shop and office areas, according to re-ports, and the door to the building was left open, allowing dust from Tuesday afternoon's storm to blow in and break several windows.

In other activity, a 21-year-old Lubbock woman told police she was assaulted Wednesday morning by her boyfriend at a southeast Lubbock street corner.

She said her boyfriend tried to force her into his 1976 Buick, slapping her several times. As the victim struggled to keep from getting into the car, she said she hit the vehicle's roof.

Cindy Watkins of 4602 50th St., Apt. 239, said two stereo speakers and some jewelry, valued at $1,015, were taken

Police said the front door of the apartment was broken and the residence appeared to be thoroughly searched.

The victim told police her keys were stolen about two days ago. The locks were changed, but the keys showed up at the apartment after the burglary, accord-

Services Pending For Bank Official

A city judge has ruled that longtime Lubbock banker Jim Ed Waller, whose body was found in his South Lubbock apartment Wednesday afternoon, died of a self-inflicted gunshot wound.

The ruling was made by Municipal Court Judge Robert Baber, who pronounced Waller, vice chairman of the board of directors of Plains National Bank, dead at the scene. The 48-year-old Waller's body was found about 4:40 p.m. at his 2310 70th St. apaprtment, according to police. A Lubbock man early today found himself a little too far out on a limb following a night of beer drinking with his girlfriend and another couple.

Police said the 25-year-old subject re-

Action on the measure was stalled Tuesday by an amendment, introduced by Sen. John Melcher, D-Mont., to restrict imports of the milk protein casein to about 70 million pounds, half of the average of the past five years.

Supporters of the amendment argue that imported casein displaces domestically produced skim milk and increases the government's cost for storing dairy

The administration contends the amendment would effectively kill the bill in the House, where, with only two weeks until April 1, it would be referred to the House Ways and Means Committee for hearings on the casein restriction.

"It's a left-handed way of killing the bill," said an informed source who asked not to be identified.

On a motion to kill the amendment Tuesday, the Republicans lost, 53-45. prompting Baker to recess the Senate until Thursday. Eight Republicans voted with the Democrats.

Moslem fundamentalists, led by Prime Minister Mohammad Ali Rajai, have been attacking Bani-Sadr since the president's supporters clashed with Moslem militants at a Tehran University rally March 5. The hardliners claim Bani-Sadr ordered his supporters to attack the militant hecklers, more than 50 of whom were injured.

"If we start saying our laws do not treat the president, the speaker of the Majlis (Parliament), the prime minister and even the imam (Khomeini) himself in the same way as that girl hit at the university or the boy who was stabbed, such logic cannot be considered Islamic," Ardabili was quoted as saving

'All remain equal before the law," he said, adding, "So far this has been declared verbally, but should there be a case in the Islamic Republic, we will translate it into action." The radio report did not elaborate

The statement by Ardabili, a supporter of the Moslem hardliners, appeared to hint the president would be tried if an investigation now under way finds grounds to charge him in connection with the March 5 clash

It also signaled the hardliner's anger over Khomeini's apparent siding with Bani-Sadr in the power struggle.

The 80-year-old revolutionary patriarch intervened in the lengthy squabble last Monday, calling in Bani-Sadr and his opponents - including Chief Justice Ayatollah Mohammed Beheshti, Parliament Speaker Ali Akbar Hashemi Rafhis home.

Khomeini ordered all of them to quit making speeches in public until the war with Iraq, now in its sixth month, is over. He also ordered the formation of a threeman commission to arbitrate the power struggle. The commission will include one representative of the president, one chosen by his opponents and one picked by Khomeini

Bani-Sadr praised Khomeini's ruling and said he would soon name his representative to the arbitration commission.

The Senate Nominations Subcommittee recommended confirmation of highway commissioners Robert Dedman. Dallas, and John Butler Jr., Houston, on a 4-0 vote. The subcommittee held up a vote on parole commissioners Glenn Heckmann Angleton, and Donn Woolery, Huntsville, after Chairman Peyton McKnight said he was tired of hearing rumors about pardons and paroles and wanted facts.

Sen. McKnight said, however, "This is no reflection on the job you're doing."

Heckmann is a former security boss for the state prison system, and Woolery is an ex-convict who served two years on an armed robbery conviction before being pardoned in 1973.

Rules Hamper Reagan's Reforms

By WALTER R. MEARS
WASHINGTON (AP) — In government, it takes a rule to undo a rule, and thereby hangs a paradox.

President Reagan's drive to cut down on federal regulations he deems unnecessary may run afoul of regulations engineered by people who share his goal.

An analysis published by the American Enterprise Institute holds that measures intended to limit the rule-making authority of the executive branch of government do not necessarily deter regula-

Scalia, a visiting professor at the Stanford Law School, advises regulatory reformers to remember that the game has changed now that Reagan and others committed to erasing some of the old rules are in power.

State Must File Bilingual Plan

TYLER (AP) - Texas Attorney General Mark White says he is "surprised" that the federal judge threatening to order a bilingual plan for Texas schools refuses to give legislators time to come up with their own proposal.

But the judge said he would not give the state time to look for a "political solution" to the Mexican-American educa-

U.S. District Judge William Wayne Justice denied the state's request that his March 9 deadline — which the state missed — be extended to June 15, two weeks after the Legislature adjourns. White said he had not had time to study the ruling, but said he was "surprised that we were not extended more

The judge, however, said the delay re quest was based on the "unsubstantiated hope" that a political solution could be found to the Mexican-American education problem.

Justice ruled in January that the state's current bilingual program is inadequate. He ordered both sides to work out proposals for him to study.

Three-Cent Increase In Postal Rates Goes Into Effect Sunday

By MARY ALICE ROBBINS

Avalanche-Journal Staff Mailing a letter will cost you 3 cents more beginning Sunday, when the U.S. Postal Service's first domestic rate hike in three years goes into effect.

Under the new rate schedules, the cost of mailing a first-class letter will go from the current 15 cents up to 18 cents. and increases will take place in other classes of mail.

But all the rate changes won't cost postal patrons more money, according to Don Jones, manager of retail sales for the Postal Service here. Jones noted that some fees - such as the rental charges on local post office boxes - actually will decrease in cost.

One of the most noticeable changes brought on by this rate increase will be the use of nondenominated postage stamps - known as "B" stamps - and other nondenominated postal items.

Jones explained that the "B" stamps are necessary because the Postal Service is on hold." Last year, the Board of Governors for the Postal Service filed with the Postal Rate Commission for a 20-cent first-class rate and a total rate package that would produce $3.75 billion in new revenue

Postal officials have estimated that the new rates will produce about $1 billion less in revenue than they originally had sought

The Board of Governors voted March 10 to allow the new postal rates to go into effect under protest and returned the case to the rate commission for reconsideration.

However, the Bureau of Engraving does not have time to make constant changes in stamps, Jones said. The nondenominated stamps were produced as a contingency, he said, noting that they will assure the nation an adequate stamp

Postal officials have emphasized that the nondenominated stamps, postal cards and stamped envelopes can be used only within the United States and are prohibited for use on international mail.

Nondenominated "A" stamps were issued under similar circumstances in May 1978, Johes said. The only difference in the two stamps, he said, is their color. The "A" stamp had an orange background, while the "B" stamp is pur-

The 15-cent first-class rate will be ood for all letters postmarked through Saturday, Jones said. After that date, he said that 15-cent stamps can be combined with stamps of lower denominations to

Jones also noted an increase in the rate for each additional ounce of a letter. For first-class, he said, the additional weight rate will go from 13 cents up to 17

The 15-cent stamps combined with lower denomination stamps can be used to cover the necessary postage for extra weight, he said.

However, there may be a few problems in obtaining some of the lower denomination stamps, Jones said. He explained that there are plenty of 3-cent and 5-cent stamps, but there may be an initial shortage of 1-cent and 2-cent

The new schedule of postal rates and fees may be a little confusing for customers at first. Jones admitted. "Some prices have gone down, while others have increased "he said.

One of the areas where Lubbock postal patrons will experience some savings, Jones said, is for post office box rentals.

In the past, the rental fee for the smallest post office box was $14 every six months. Jones said. He noted the sixmonth rental charge will decrease to $10. For a medium-size post office box, the rental fee will drop from $20 to $13. Jones said

"All of the box rents have gone down in Lubbock," the local postal official But he noted that charges in some other areas have been increased.

Postal patrons also will find some changes in the fee structure for money orders. Jones said that some fees have gone up, but others were decreased. For example, he said, the charge for a $10 money order will go from 55 cents up to 75 cents. But the charge to obtain a $25 money order will drop from 80 cents to 75 cents, he added. The new rate schedule will provide some ways that people can save money, according to Jones. He noted an increase in the discount provided large mailers that presort their first-class letters ac-

Current state law provides bilingual education, when student demand is sufficient, through Grade 3 and makes it optional through Grade 5. Plaintiffs want it extended through the 12th grade.

Wednesay, Justice warned that unless the state submitted a proposal immediately, "the court will be compelled to enter a final judgment without the benefit of their (the state's) plan."

White said the original ruling 'seemed a perfect opportunity to let the Legislature respond to the lawsuit and (Wednesday's) order will not frustrate their efforts.

White said he would have no further comment until he studied the ruling.

Justice wrote that the state was asking "the court to postpone relief for the tens of thousands of Mexican-American children suffering from unconstitutional discrimination while the state's political process wrestled with this pressing prob-

"It is readily apparent that the defendant's motion for delay is premised upon nothing more than unsubstantiated hope that a political solution to the plight of the state's Mexican-American school children will somehow be realized during

"Yet, the vague conjectural divinations of the defendant's counsel concerning future actions by the state legislative and executive branches fall far short of the evidentiary showing which would warrant such a delay," the ruling said.

The Legislature, Justice noted, "has squandered numerous opportunities to rectify the deficiencies of the state's educational program for Mexican-American children since this action was filed more than 11 years ago.

Justice also said that even if the Legislature passed a bill and the governor signed it into law, there is no guarantee the plan would "adequately address the constitutional and statutory violations set

Judge Says Jury Probing Wood's Slaying Intact

"You're talking to the wrong man," First Assistant U.S. Attorney Fred Rodriguez said when asked about the report that a "drastic change" had taken place in the Wood investigation.

Wood, known as "Maximum John" because of stiff sentences he imposed on narcotics traffickers, was shot once in the back from ambush outside his San Antonio apartment on May 29, 1979.

The Wood killing and a previous attempt to assassinate Assistant U.S. Attorney James Kerr on Nov. 21, 1978, touched off what has been dscribed as the most massive federal investigation since the assassination of President John F. Kennedy "This office has nothing to do with

In Washington, Justice Department spokesman John Russell said Wednesday, "I am just not going to say anything. We do not discuss grand jury matters.

"It's a secret proceeding. We don't even discuss the term. The sitting of a grand jury is a secret proceeding that is not discussed by the public or the press in order to protect the integrity of a criminal investigation and the individuals involved," Russell said.

The special grand jury was convened in June 1980 for a term up to 36 months, reportedly to provide continuity for the far-flung investigation.

The panel could dissolve itself by a majority vote or at the direction of a judge, or if it dropped below a required 16 members

In recent months the grand jury has focused its investigation on convicted hired killer Charles V. Harrelson, who has been held in the Harris County Jail at Houston without bond, and on Jamiel "Jimmy" Chagra, serving a federal prison term for narcotics violations.

Reportedly two associates of Harrelson and possibly other witnesses have been subpoenaed to San Antonio for next Wednesday, but federal officials would

Aviation Club Salutes Women

NEW YORK (AP) - For the first time, women outside aviation have been honored by the Wings Club, an organization of top aviation executives.

The club's president, John C. Emery Jr., chairman of Emery Air Freight, decided this year the organization should present awards "in keeping with the times, to a cross-section of women achievers in varying fields of endeavor." Thus honored were a dozen women who have "achieved" in fields other than aviation.

They included opera soprano Anna Moffo; TV personalities Jane Pauley and Betty Furness; Sylvia Porter, syndicated columnist; Joan Ganz Cooney, president of Children's Television Workshop: Carol Bellamy, New York City Council president; Muriel Siebert, New York State Superintendent of Banks; Lenore Hershey, editor of Ladies' Home Journal; Pamela Fiori, editor of Travel & Leisure; Charlotte Curtis, associate editor of the New York Times; Frances Koltun, travel writer and editor; and Hildy Parks, Broadway producer.

Farrah Resides In Contrast

NEW YORK (Special) - How does Farrah Fawcett, everyone's favorite dream girl, really live? Just the way you'd expect an all-American movie star to - with the merest trace of Hollywood glitter and lots of wholesome charm, reports the February issue of House Beautiful, which features Fawcett's house on

"I really put everything into this house - it's really home to me," says Farrah of her adobe, high on a hill over Los Angeles, which she worked on with designer Steve Chase. Each room's different from the next, but all have an easy, open-armed warmth. The living room, lined in sumptuous blue suede, has a "glamorous, night-time look." At one end, deep-blue and russet Indonesian batik sofas are grouped around a fireplace. At the other end, there's a big movie screen for showing movies - plus a bar, stereo and Betamax - all hidden behind carved pine panels.

The playroom, so dubbed because it's Farrah's spot for relaxing with her friends, is a sunny contrast to the dark luxurious look of the living room. It's ceiling, lined with unpeeled tree trunks,

DEAR ABBY: I have had this problem for as long as I can remember, and I am sick of it. All a person has to do is say "Hi" to me and I turn red. I don't consider myself extra shy, but for no reason at all, even when I'm with people I know well, I feel my face getting hot and I know I'm turning red. Chinese Celebrate Family-Style liday in the Chinese calendar, Mrs. Leong said. It is traditionally a family get together.

"Poor families in China work all year round to save enough money for their New Year's celebration," she said. "It takes days and nights of work and a lot of shopping. If you have a few generations, a lot of people, you prepare the food ahead and heat it up."

The meal they had prepared for media reporters and editors began with eight treasure bird's nest soup. It also included Peking duck, the aforementioned squab, Hunam lobster in red sauce and lemon pork.

Except for beer, the Canton is a BYOB restaurant.

For the banquet, our host had set up a bar with a choice of liquors, plus red and white wine - both French, cognac and, of course, beer. The question people inevitably ask about such meals is, "Which was your fa-of Corrections officials have asked to hire some outside legal guns to reinforce the assistant attorneys general trying to shoot holes in a federal judge's ruling that the state's prisons are unconstitutionally harsh.

But Attorney General Mark White, who must by law must approve the hiring of an outside lawyer by a state agency, said nothing doing.

The Texas Board of Corrections, in a letter hand delivered to White this week, asked him to authorize the hiring of outside counsel to represent the board, its individual members and the entire prison system in the Ruiz vs. Estelle case.

The state is expected to appeal a rulby U.S. Di William Wayne Justice that Texas prisons are unconstitutionally crowded, provide inadequate medical care and permit brutal treatment of inmates.

Justice is expected to issue an order requiring remedies that perhaps could cost hundreds of millions of dollars. White said Wednesday he did not re-

State Changes Position -On Past Discrimination

NEW ORLEANS (AP) - The State of Texas has changed its mind, does not admit historical discrimination against Mexican-Americans and wishes to withdraw from a school desegregation case, an assistant attorney general said. "I am about to make the most remarkable statement I have ever made, David H. Young told a three-judge panel of the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals. He said the state no longer supports "stipulations" made last year in U.S. District Court at Tyler admitting to past racial discrimination.

"Those are stipulations which we now say should not have been made," said

When an attorney makes a stipulation in a court case, it means he does not dis-pute the truth of the matter under dis-

The stipulations were originally filed at a November 1979 hearing in a separate 1971 bilingual education case being heard by the same federal judge, William Wayne Justice. The stipulations said segregation against Mexican-Americans was a historical fact in the state of Texas.

Usually such stipulations apply only to one particular case, but Justice decided they also applied to the Gregory-Portland Independent School District's desegregation case and Young claims the judge used them to fashion a discrimination concept that resulted in a forced busing order for the 3,100-student dis-

Texas and the Texas Education Agency went into appellate court with the U.S. Justice Department, standing as adversaries to the school district. However, Young's Wednesday repudiation of the state stipulations had the effect of removing Texas from the case.

Pollock, Mrs. Pollock said. The nursing home has about 60 resiYoung that since he had switched posi-tions it was best that he leave the rest of the argument to the Justice Department lawyer, Joseph Rich.

It was not known if Young's state-ment would affect the bilingual case. Inthat case, Justice ruled the state's bilingual education program indadequate and, in January, ordered the state to submit plans for an acceptable program. On Wednesday, in a hearing unrelated to the circuit court hearing, he refused to grant the state additional time to comply.

Rich told the appellate court there was historical evidence of segregation in the Gregory district, before consolidation with the Portland district in 1950.

Fair Skies Forecast For Lubbock Area

After a destructive dust and wind storm earlier this week, Lubbock was expected to have some well-deserved good weather today on the last full day of win-

A remnant of the 60-mph winds of Tuesday will remain in the form of 10 to 15 mph southerly winds today and a stronger south wind, 15 to 25 mph and gusty. Friday.

Fair skies are forecast for both days. Temperatures will be in the mid-60s today, near 40 tonight and in the low 70s Friday. Wind warnings are out for area lakes Friday, and the Friday forecast lists the possibility of some blowing dust. Fair and windy weather Saturday will become partly cloudy Sunday and Monday with somewhat cooler temperatures Sunday

"Winter will be ending on a windy note in the High Plains," a College Station weatherman said today.

"An upper-level disturbance will approach the High Plains today and will stir up strong, southerly breezes. "Dusty conditions can be expected in some moved into the state.

The system was expected to be stronger on the High Plains than on the South Plains and in the Lubbock area.

Thunderstorms pummelled the fireravaged South today, sending tornadoes roaring through central Florida, destroying homes, overturning cars and injuring at least nine people - two seriously.

The worst of the twisters ripped a five-mile path through Osceaola County, destorying one house and two trailer homes, overturning cars and causing a two-hour power outage.

Osceola County sheriff's deputies said two men were hospitalized for severe head injuries. Seven other people suffered lesser injuries.

Thunderstorms that pounded Georgia with hail and rain moved toward the coastlines of the Carolinas today, the National Weather Service said. Forecasts called for continued rainfall in Alabama, Louisiana and North Carolina.

Officials in the South said a heavy downpour was needed to douse hundreds of wildfires raging out of control over thousands of acres of timberland.

Snow stretched from the Rockies and the Great Lakes across the Appalachian Mountains Wednesday, dumping 6 inches of snow in Virginia and covering highways with a dangerous sheet of ice.

Killeen Policemen Capture Escapees

KILLEEN (AP) — Three escapees from the Bell County jail were captured today in an abandoned apartment complex in Killeen, 13 hours after they beat a jailer with a broomstick and sprayed three others with a fire extinguisher before escaping the jail in nearby Belton.

Terry Wayne Littrell, 18, of Killeen and David Nicholas, 26, of New York were taken into custody without a struggle about 8:30 a.m. The third escapee, Chester Brown, 20, of Killeen was captured in the same fire-gutted apartment

State Department Holding Items From Iran Embassy In Storage

WASHINGTON (AP) - The State Department says it isn't holding valuables from the Iranian Embassy "hostage, but their return to Iran could be complicated by the looting of the U.S. Embassy in Tehran more than 16 months ago.

State Department officials stripped the shuttered Iranian Embassy of "furnishings of particular value" two weeks ago when special protection for the building was ended.

The valuables were moved to a "secure storage facility" in the Washington

Former President Carter broke diplomatic relations with Iran last April during the height of the hostage crisis and ordered all Iranian diplomats to leave the country.

Because of the anger among Americans over the holding of the American hostages, the closed-down embassy was put under special "fixed post" protection

But with the hostages released, Secret Service spokesman Dick Hartwig said the special protection was terminated Feb. 28. Tuohey said the embassy's valuables were removed to prevent possible theft.

Tuohey said the United States has been having difficulty receiving an accounting of its property at the embassy in Tehran, which was setted by Iranian militants Nov. 4, 1979, along with 52 American hostages who were held captive for 444 days.

Tuohey said the United States, through the Swiss embassy in Tehran, is seeking return of its property, including cars, a paper shredder, communications equipment, furniture and the com-

Oil-Rich Alaska Faces Problems

WILLOW, Alaska (UPI) - The two raging arguments in Alaska these days are how to spend the state's oil wealth and whether to make this settlement the capital of the largest of the United

"If you want the train to stop here, you have to flag it down," said Leman 'Slim' Hazel, a huge 69-year-old homesteader who had just polished off a lunch of chicken, biscuits and gravy in the kitchen of his frame house within flagging distance of the track that runs from Anchorage to Fairbanks.

"Willow is a beautiful location for a capital," said Hazel, his fingers laced comfortably on the bib of the blue denim overalls covering his ample stomach.

On a clear day, looking northward down the track, you can see Mount McKinley — the highest peak in North America - from Willow, which is 70 miles by road from Anchorage.

Alaskans voted in 1976 to move the capital from Juneau to Willow, but two years later rejected another initiative which asked them to approve total costs of the move, estimated at $900 million.

So the capital still is in Juneau, which is inaccessible by road and two time zones away from Anchorage, Alaska's largest city with 200,000 people.

Forces favoring Juneau, a town of 22,-000 that became Alaska's territorial capital in 1906, have fought the move for 20

When we opened the post office here in 1947, there were nine people and 10 dogs," said Zoe, 74, who retired recently as postmistress in Willow.

Vic Stevenson, who is now the post-master, said, "I think Willow is as good a location for a capital as you can get. It would do a lot for the people around Willow, surrounded by birch forest and on the edge of Nancy Lake, has a hardware store, a grocery, a gasoline station and a saloon.

Only three or four dozen people live in Willow, but Postmaster Stevenson noted that the 115-mile star route run by Rose Defoe, who delivers the mail, serves about 600 persons all the way to Trapper Creek.

People around here are kind of between a rock and a hard place," said Stevenson, "They don't know what to do. Some would like to sell out, but if they did and the capital came in, they could lose a fortune."

Stevenson said people around Willow "do a little trapping, fish, cut wood." "If the capital came here, it would bring jobs for the young people," said

Juneau - or perhaps Willow some day - decides how the state's vast oil riches will be used. You need go no farther than the Hazels' kitchen to learn that many Alaskans do not hold lawmakers in high regard.

We have some of the best legislators money can buy," Hazel guffawed

The problems that came with Alas-ka's sudden wealth, however, are no laughing matter, although some Alaskans still chuckle over the proposal of a legis-lator that Alaska should bail out Chrysler - and Lockheed, Cleveland and New York City as well.

The other 49 states no doubt would welcome tackling the problems involved in spending billions of petrodollars.

The giant Prudhoe Bay oil field, which opened in 1977 on state-owned lands along Alaska's arctic North Slope, will produce almost $5 billion for the state treasury in the coming fiscal year. That is about $13 million a day.

Prudhoe is expected to generate $1 trillion in private profits and public taxes in the 30 years it will require to extract its oil and gas. Alaska's share is estimated at $327 billion, with the rest going to oil companies and the U.S. government.

As if that were not enough of an embarrassment of riches, Alaska is estimated to be sitting on as much as 60 percent of the undiscovered oil and gas in the United States

Republican Gov. Jay Hammond, a homesteader and former bush pilot, trapper and guide, leads the forces favoring putting the money away for a rainy day in the Permanent Fund, a nest-egg investment account approved by the voters in 1976 as a hedge against the time when oil revenues will decrease

There was $1.3 billion in the fund when the year began, with earnings of 13 percent on last year's investments. By law, at least 25 percent of the state's income from oil royalties must go into the fund for investment in a "prudent" financial portfolio.

The fund's earnings - but not the rinciplal - go into the state treasury for distribution in the budget.

Alaska abolished its income tax last year and approved a plan to mail out annual cash dividends from the Permanent Fund to every Alaskan over 17.

The amount of the dividends was based on length of residency in the state. sweeping economic theories. To them, A person living in Alaska since it became

Skepticism Greets Economic Forecasters

By JOHN CUNNIFF

17.

NEW YORK (AP) - Cynicism about economic forecasting these days was exemplified by a congressman's comment to Donald Regan recently that the administration's tax-cut goals sounded

While the remark may have been inappropriate, especially to the Treasury secretary during a congressional hearing, it gives an idea of how some critics view the new "supply side" economics.

Bluntly stated, the new Republican economics is held in about the same regard by Democrats as the old Keynesian economics is held by most Republicans. Each feels the other's views are woven of

Still, Republicans claim, they have the best of it. They say the old economics is threadbare after at least a decade of failure, and that Democrats should wear the weavery of dreams as sackcloth and

They concede that with credibility strained they may be unable to offer convincing evidence that the new Republican economics will work, but they add that neither can anybody disprove it in

That is the collapsed state in which economic forecasting finds itself today, a consequence of innumerable economic recipes failing to produce the results inand suspicions

The very first issue of the Chase Economic Observer, just begun by Chase Manhattan Bank, traces the crisis of confidence to the 1960s, when inflated claim were made about the wizardy of econo-

Chase doesn't say so, but some economists may have believed what they heard. They appeared in newspaper interviews, talk shows, forums. They became celebrities. Their egos swelled when they were asked to show the way to the promised land. They took the bait. And most failed

Explains Chase: "The greater interest in economic affairs exposed pronouncements of the economics profession to intense public scrutiny — at a time when the unprecedented volatility of business conditions was making economic advice tended. The field is pocked with fears and prediction increasingly hazardous."

The disenchantment, it says, hasn't been confined to outside critics. Within the discipline, it states, economists have undergone self-doubt, soul-searching, and critical examination of their basic assumptions.

Especially bothersome are breakdowns of once predictable relationships of economic variables - between tax cuts and deficits, deficits and prices, inflation and unemployment, monetary growth and interest rates.

When these old relationships change, the forecasters' roadmaps are less reliable and, as they have found out, might even lead the economy into areas never

"Taken together," says Chase, "the unanswered questions and the increasing uncertainty over the behavior of econom ic variables severely limits the ability of economists to forecast precisely.

Weird Ailments Reported In Medical Annal

BOSTON (AP) - In recent years, doctors have discovered and named such offbeat ailments as tog walker's elbow, sports car palsy and ponderous purse disease. Now there are two more: musher's knee and hooker's elbow

These aches and pains have one thing in common. All have been reported in the letters-to-the-editor section of the New England Journal of Medicine, a highly respected medical publication.

The latest were reported in today's issue by four doctors from PHS Hospital in Kotzebue. Alaska. In essence, musher's knee and hooker's elbow are Arctic versions of runner's knee and tennis elbow.

Musher's knee is a pain that occurs among people who drive dog teams.

"This is caused by the sharp backward kicking of the leg used by the team driver at the rear of the sled to spur the team to greater speed," they wrote.

The companion ailment afflicts ice fishers. It "was noted in two elderly women ... after they had been ice fishing hooking) for many days. Here, the fisher sits over a hole in the ice and repeatedly jerks upward on a fishing line attached to a wooden stick.

Among other unusual ailments that have been reported are:

- Ponderous purse disease. A neck pain caused by lugging around an overloaded shoulder bag. It's a relative of back pocket sciatica, a pain in the thigh caused by a fat wallet.

Sports car palsy. This is a nerve injury that results from resting the leg against the dashboard during long drives in small cars. Another version of this ail ment is arm wrestlers' palsy

- Dog walker's elbow. This one results from walking a frisky dog that tugs on the leash Dr William N. Mebane III. of Chestnut Hill Hospital in Philadelphia said he toyed with calling it Hogan's elbow, after his Labrador, but decided a more general name would have wider appeal.

- Urban cowboy rhabdomyolysis. This is usually minor muscle damage that results from bouncing up and down on mechanical bulls in taverns.

- Disco digit A sore finger that results from snapping the fingers while

Minimal Coffee Drinking Safe

NEW YORK (UPI) - Don't decaffemate yet A new study by scientists says coffee drinking in moderation is not harmful

The report released Wednesday was at odds with some linking even minimal coffee drinking with birth defects, cancer, heart attacks, diabetes, ulcers, and emotional disorders.

As recently as last week, scientists at the Harvard School of Public Health said in a "New England Journal of Medicine" article that coffee drinkers may be more susceptible to pancreatic cancer

There is little evidence to support such charges." said Wednesday's report from the American Council on Science and Health.

The ACSH acknowledged sensitivity to caffeine varies and that those who consume large amounts daily — more than 5 cups of coffee or 15 sodas — are likely to have health problems.

But the ACSH report said caffeine will not harm the health of most of the 182 million Americans who regularly ingest the central nervous system stimulant in some form.

"A review of more than 10,000 scientific articles on the relationship between caffeine and health has found no alleged disease associations based on valid human evidence," said Dr. John Todhunter, a Catholic University biochemistry professor and coordinator of the study.

Caffeine is a naturally occurring chemical found in more than 63 plant species. Coffee is the most common source in the American diet. Other sources are tea, cocoa, some soft drinks, many over-the-counter drugs - especially cold and headache remedies.

Special Interest Groups Fighting Budget Cuts

By DEAN REYNOLDS WASHINGTON (UPI) — In the heady

days of January and early February, President Reagan appeared ready and able to steamroll Congress into agreement with his austere economic pro-

Polls showed the public in favor of the Reagan economic renewal plan by a hefty majority.

Never mind that those same samples showed the public opposed many of the line-by-line budget cuts the new president was talking about.

Sure, cut the budget, but try not to trim back on railroads for commuters, hospital care for the elderly, special education, introductions to the arts, public television, dairy subsidies, Social Security, food stamps, etc., etc., etc. Yes, well now it's March, and Reagan is assailing the special interest groups who are fighting some of the $45 billion in spending cuts he has recommended for fiscal 1982.

Ever heard this sort of thing before? "This program now faces a political gauntlet of interest groups; and I'm finding it increasingly difficult not to call some of them 'selfish interest groups.'

That was Reagan talking to the National League of Cities recently. But you could almost insert any president's name after that quotation, because one of the things presidents do is rail against the faceless special interests that worry about their prized programs.

A White House spokesman said Reagan was not pointing the finger at the National League of Cities.

Congress is a better target. They have a saying up on Capitol Hill. it goes this way: "Don't cut you, don't cut me, cut the one behind the tree.

Now, as White House press secretary Jim Brady points out, there IS somebody behind the tree, and he's fighting back like his two friends.

Simply put, the talk on Capitol Hill suggests Reagan may have to be patient.

That is exactly what Sen. Bob Packwood of Oregon, a not-so-conservative Republican, told Reagan at the White House this week. The spending cuts will be passed, he said he told the president, But those tax cuts - the ones that critics say favor the rich over the poor - may have to wait.

Packwood says it's an intuition of his that Congress will probably haggle over the tax relief package until late summer or early fall, meaning the tax cuts might take effect Cct. 1.

But by Oct. 1, there might be new economic indicators suggesting a tax cut should be postponed until, say, next Jan. 1. That's a far cry from Reagan's campaign promise Reagan, said Packwood, "smiled and said he hoped my projection is wrong.

If Packwood is correct, he thinks the White House reaction will be to paint Congress as "laggard." But the Oregon Republican doesn't think the public will

History Of Orange Parallels Flow Of Civilization

By REBECCA R. KIRTLAND

National Geographic News Service WASHINGTON — Prices are higher since the Florida freeze, but oranges will never again be as dear as when they were the gifts of kings and ancient gods.

The orange is now thoroughly demo-cratic, with a history that closely parallels the flow of civilization. Early legends and lore have given it symbolic qualities that persist to this day.

The world's leading fruit crop, oranges circle the globe following a broad band of warm climates that spreads outward from the equator roughly 35 de-grees north and south latitude.

Despite crop-diminishing freezes, more than enough are produced each year to meet demand. But it was not until the 19th century that orances came within reach of the middle classes. Earlier they were the fruit of kings and aristocrats, prized as delicacies and exchanged as gifts.

Originating in China or the Malay Archipelago, oranges have been around for more than 20 million years, paleobotanists say. The first recorded reference to oranges was by the Chinese emperor Ta Yu in 2200 B.C., according to the definitive history, "The Citrus Industry," published by the University of California.

Oranges began their travels around the world with early Asian seamen. Later. Alexander the Great introduced oranges to the regions he conquered in the and superstitions grew up around them, 4th century B C trees with the expansion of the Arab Empire (A.D. 570-900), and the crusaders took sour oranges back to Northern Europe during the Middle Ages.

Columbus planted the New World's first orange trees in Haiti on his second voyage in 1493, and Pizarro gave the orange to Peru in the 1500s.

Oranges came to Florida, where they flourish, with the early Spanish explorers sometime between 1513 when Ponce de Leon arrived and 1565 when St. Augustine was founded.

After Florida became a U.S. possession in 1821, the orange boom was on. There now are 840,000 acres of orange groves in Florida, providing 20 percent of the world's supply, or roughly 36 billion oranges per year, the Florida Department of Citrus reports.

An orange tree had an average productive life of about 35 years and can bear 1,500 oranges or more at harvest.

The Franciscan fathers brought the orange to Arizona early in the 18th century, and to California where they planted groves at the 21 missions they founded along the coast from San Diego to San Rafael in the last half of the 18th century. With the gold rush of 1849, California's commercial citrus industry began and now provides 5 percent of the world's supply.

Wherever oranges spread, legends and they took on symbolic qualities.

In Greek and Roman mythology, they were the golden apples symbolizing puritv and eternal love and presented as wedding gifts by Paris to Aphrodite and Jupiter to Juno.

Orange blossoms also came to symbolize fruitfulness and the tradition of the bride tossing the wedding bouquet grew out of the belief that withered orange blossoms would bring her barren-

Oranges and their blossoms and branches wre important symbols in wall paintings and mosaics of Pompeii and in paintings of the Middle Ages and Renaissance portraying the Madonna and Child and the Holy Land.

In what is now Poland, 15th-century marksmen gathered for an orrang shoot in which they proved their skill, or lack threof, by shooting oranges off each other's heads.

Special powers were ascribed to the orange in renaissance England, Italy, and Sicily, when it was believed tht witches could bring certain death to an enemy by pinning the victim's name to an orange and leaving the orange in a chimney.

The Chinese and Japanese, however, believe oranges bring good fortune. In Kamakura, the Japanese still offer fresh oranges and chrysanthemums each day to their great bronze Buddha. After sweet oranges arrived in the colder parts of Europe in the 15th century, kings erected special structures to protect them. Louis XIV, the Sun King. loved the seent of orange trees and had them in each of his apartments in Versailles. His orangerie - an elaborate heated room designed specifically for cultivating oranges - was widely copied by other European royalty and aristocrats and became the ancestor of today's

One of Louis XIV's prized trees is said to have been planted from seed by the several transplants before arriving at its the age of 473.

March Will Protest U.S. Involvement

WASHINGTON (AP) - Organizers say they expect 100,000 people to march on the Pentagon May 3 to protest U.S. involvement in El Salvador.

Jack Calhoun and Jean Bowdish of the People's Anti-War Mobilization group told a news conference Tuesday the estimate was based on the experience of the Vietnam antiwar movement.

Calhoun said the Salvadoran antiwar movement alreav was far more advanced than its Vietnam counterpart was 15 years ago. No attempt will be made to break into the Pentagon, as happened during a large Vietnam antiwar march, and Miss Bowdish. But the Rev. Philip. Solons Keep Track Of Time Limit

By TOM RAUM WASHINGTON (AP) — Although some outside observers may believe Congress wastes a lot of time, a few committee chairmen are coming up with new ways to keep things moving along.

To keep congressmen from doing what many do naturally - talking endlessly - most committee chairmen enforce a "five-minute" rule to limit each member's questions and a few are coming up with new ways to measure it.

Most chairmen keep track of the time with a stopwatch or wristwatch.

But last week, Rep. Richard Ottinger, D-N.Y., brought a wind-up kitchen timer to the House Energy subcommittee he chairs, and its sharp "ding" punctuated the end of many questions

Sen. John Chafee, R-R.I., chairman of a Senate Environment subcommittee, opted for something less noisy.

Chafee proudly put his own timer on the rostrum - an elegant miniature hourglass contining five minutes of green

A problem quickly developed. Some senators didn't take the full five minutes. and Chafee was quickly caught with a waiting senator and two minutes of sand left in the glass.

As Chafee jiggled the hourglass to hurry the sand, he apologized: "It's awfully hard to set one of these things

And while all members are supposed to get an equal five mintues, for some the five minutes run longer than for oth-

Sen. Pete Domenici, R-N.M., for instance, can probably get as much time as he likes for his questions.

When he went beyond the allotted five minutes at a recent meeting of Chaffee's subcommittee. Chaffee told him to go right on.

The fact that Domenici was also chairman of the Senate Budget Committee - with great influence over whose pet projects will be trimmed in the current round of budget cutting - clearly wasn't lost on Chaffee.

We're going to give you great deal of deference because of the other hat you wear. We know that as we sow, so shall we reap." Chaffee told Domenici.

Don't be so sure," replied Domenici

Killer Milk

At a Senate Banking Committee session, the chairman of the White House Council of Economic Advisers, Murray Weidenbaum, was asked why President Reagan is cutting the dairy price support program.

Sen Jake Garn, R-Utah, the chairman, pressed Weidenbaum to explain why federal subsidies for tobacco, a known killer and "the one thing we know absolutely causes cancer" were not also included on the hit list.

Weidenbaum offered that the administration wanted to chop the biggest subsidy programs first.

Garn interrupted. "I understand the economics, but milk is healthful Not in excess." Weidenbaum re

Garn said sternly. "My baby drinks milk he doesn't smoke

New Constituents

In the darkened underground corridors of a House office building are pallets bearing papers and other belongings of ongressmen who quit or were defeated in the November elections

A senior member of the last Congress defeated former Rep Thomas Ludlow Ashley, D-Ohio, was seen recently personally scratching the address of his new Washington law firm on the boxes from his former House office

Ashley, who once headed a special House Energy Committee, said one of his first clients is General Public Utilities, the parent firm of the company which owns the Three Mile Island nuclear power plant near Harrisburg. Pa.

Cheap Lunch

House Speaker Thomas P O Neill Jr says House leaders have caught some of the budget-cutting epidemic that has infected Washington

Thus, he said, he is looking into ways o cut costs in the House restaurant that provides modestly priced meals for legis-

If the nation can strive for a balanced budget, so should the House restaurant, the speaker suggested.

West May Run Low On Water Supplies

WASHINGTON (AP) - Parts of the West may run short of water this summer because of one of the lightest snowpacks on record, according to a federal

The Soil Conservation Service and the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration said this week its annual -urvey showed streamflow will be much below normal unless summer rains are heavy. Melting snow provides about 75 percent of the water used in the West. and with 85 percent of the snow season already past, the report said. There is irtually no chance to replenish the snow

SMOKING

AMOY, China (AP) - China is considered the world's largest digarette market. The Chinese are estimated to smoke more than 700 billion cigarettes a year. compared with more than 600 billion a year in the U.S., says R.J. Reynolds Tobacco International.

Transportation Texas Facing Fire Dangers

By The Associated Press

While cool weather and rain reduced the danger of forest fires in Arkansas, Texas officials said the fire danger there was "extreme" and Louisiana authorities battling dozens of blazes predicted conditions could get worse.

After more than 200 forest fires in two days, Louisiana officials urged a halt to all outside burning. Jim Harris of the state Office of Forestry said there were at least 77 woods fires around the state on Wednesday and 154 on Tuesday. He said Tuesday's fires burned 4,699

"The largest was 1,500 acres in Bienville Parish. A man was burning debris and it got away from him," he said B.F. Griffin, the department's chief of fire control, said there appeared to be almost no chance of rain through the weekend and that the situation is expected to get worse.

From Jan. 1 through Wednesday state and private crews have fought nearly 5,000 fires that burned nearly 70,000 acres of forest and grassland. Forest Service officials in Texas said all outdoor burning in the eastern part of the state should be postponed because of 'extreme' fire danger.

"The last four days we have lost 4,400 acres of East Texas forests to forest fires, 2.128 acres yesterday alone," Bill Terry said Wednesday. "For the year so fa that makes 15,400 acres of forest lost to Terry said dry, windy weather this week is the major problem.

There were 71 East Texas forest fires on Tuesday, but a slight increase in humidity dropped the number of fires to about 30" on Wednesday, said Terry.

But the forest service is predicting 20 percent humidity and steady winds through Saturday so the potential is still here for a bad situation," he added.

cent thunderstorms may have provide relief from conditions that sparked scores

However, Cynthia Page, spokeswoman for the Alabama Forestry Commis sion, said foresters were reluctant to lift the fire alert that covers 54 of Alabama's 67 counties until they see if high winds will make the forests dry again.

Southern Alabama, hardest hit by the fires, got only a slight dampening

"If it keeps up, I'm afraid I'm going to have to tell people there's nothing left of Mobile and Baldwin counties," Mrs. Page said.

Officials at Bellingrath Gardens and Home in Mobile County said woods fires threatened the historic attraction Tuesday, but volunteer firemen used hoses to turn back the flames on the gardens' north and south sides. Workers recently finished restoring the home and gardens from the damage inflicted by Hurricane Frederic in 1979.

At last count Wednesday, there were 159 fires charring 11,209 acres around the

In Arkansas, fire danger was reduced by cooler weather and rain, but not enough rain fell across the state to eliminate the danger of fires, said Jim Grant, state Forestry Commission spokesman.

Four fires that charred 120 acres were extinguished Wednesday, a big drop from the 98 fires that burned about 10,000 acres Tuesday.

"The rain cooled things off but didn't help us completely because we didn't get enough of it to really soak things down, Grant said.

Most of Wednesday's fires caused by people, Grant said.

"People burn their pastures to green them up, or burn last fall's trash," he said. "Some people set them because they just like fire."

SANTA FE. N.M. (UPI) - The House has given its overwhelming approval to a memorial emphasizing opposition to partially housing the proposed MX missile system in New Mexico.

The measure, passed on a 43-8 vote Wednesday, culminates the efforts of two legislators calling themselves a "redneck" and a "progressive." It now goes to the Senate for consideration.

Reps. James Martin, a conservative Socorro Republican and Judith Pratt, a liberal Albuquerque Democrat, originally joined forces three weeks ago and in troduced a bill that would require the federal government to obtain the consent of the state Legislature before taking New Mexico land for an MX system But the measure was killed by the

Roundup Of Wild Burros From Canyon Successful

GRAND CANYON, Ariz. (AP) - This 277-mile-long, mile-deep ditch will no longer echo with the braying of wild burros. The last four known to live here have been roped by cowboys and airlifted by helicopters to the high ground their ancestors occupied before the gold rush. The last two were dubbed "Over" and

Wednesday's burro runs brought to an end a program begun last summer when the National Park Service threatened to shoot the 580 creatures in an effort to preserve the fragile ecology of the canyon, home to rare sheep and other native canyon-dwellers. "It's a wonderful feeling, after all the tension and strain of this, to have it end this way, successfully," said Cleveland Amory, president of the Fund for Animals, as he waited for the last roundup to begin. "But I think people hiking in the canyon are going to miss the bray of the burro.

Dozens of cameras clicked and whirred as a yellow and brown helicopter herded two donkeys over the crest of a nearby hill. Former champion broncobuster Dave Ericsson and cowboy Jimmy Green moved their horses in front of the donkeys and lassoed them expertly. Each burro was then wrestled to the ground, tied around the legs, and flipped into a hammock for the helicopter trip to higher ground.

Children's Television Group Denounces Boycott

NEW YORK (UPI) - The boycott battalions of the Moral Majority and the Coalition for Better Television lost what they may have considered at least a fellow traveler this week when Action for Children's Television handed them a dec-

It came at the convention of the National Association of Television Program Executives. Moral Majority chieftain Jerry Falwell was not there to receive it. He had been slated as a speaker, but canceled, pleading ill health.

Some of his queasiness may have stemmed from the presence on his panel of "Young Lives" producer Ken Livesay.

"Young Lives" is a proposed new soap opera which Post-Newsweek Productions is attempting to syndicate, and it's just the sort of show the Moral Majority loves to hate - sex and dope, ACT might not care much for it ei-ther, but that didn't keep President Peggy Charren from denouncing the Majority-Coalition threat to boycott sponsors of such "immoral" network programs.

"Never once in our history have we said, 'Take that program off the air, we don't like it," she told NATPE Delegates. "We have been opposed to any movement that threatened to limit television viewing options.

"It is clear to ACT that the Coalition for Better TV, in conjunction with the Moral Majority, is trying to do exactly that ... perhaps no one will miss the first program forced off the air in the name of morality, but the New Right's censorship crusade will not stop there.

ACT was founded in 1968 specifically to oppose violence in children's programming and to resist sneaky commercials designed to end-run parents on behalf of sugar breakfasts and other dubious products, but Mrs. Charren said her group operates by means of dialogue and persuasion, "not censorship."

The coalition, led by the Rev. Donald Wildmon, of Tupelo, Miss., already is in the process of monitoring prime time television with an eye toward drawing up a hit list of sponsors backing high-violence programs and "jiggle" shows.

In an earlier interview with UPI, he praised ACT, faulting the organization only on its failure to use the boycott as a means of making its point.

Broadway Actress Ready For Stardom

NEW YORK (UPI) - The word on Broadway is that Swoosie Kurtz will be nominated fo a Tony Award for her freeswinging role as the foul-mouthed, pillpopping Gwen in Lanford Wilson's hit comedy "Fifth of July.

A Tony could be all she needs to nudge her into stardom after 14 years of terrific press notices around the country "I'm ready for it," she says. "I want something to happen in a big way."

Since "Fifth of July" opened last
Nov. 5, Superman himself, Christopher Reeve, has had star billing. But Swoosie got the best reviews.

"Perfect in word and gesture," said one critic. "Swoosie is the real star of the show," said another.

People magazine trumpeted, "Swoosie Kurtz is currently stealing Broadway's Fifth of July' from Chris (Superman)

Reeve this week was replaced by Richard "John-Boy" Thomas, and Swoosie was looking forward to working with him. Even though she still won't get star billing.

"I recall crying many nights while watching the early years of 'The Waltons'," she said.

Swoosie is best known for brash, outspoken characters who might seem to suit her red hair, blue eyes and hyperenergetic 5-foot-3.

"I'm down to just 95 pounds now, I've been working so hard," she says. In January she bought a small, apartment-size trampoline.

She has been seen on TV ("As the World Turns" and the short-lived Mary Tyler Moore Variety Show), and movies ("Slap Shot"), as well as live theater on and off Broadway and in regional thea-

Survivors Resume Tournament Rigors

By The Associated Press

Upset City, alias the NCAA basketball tournament, resumes tonight with Virginia. North Carolina and Notre Dame putting their Top Ten rankings on the line, and Louisiana State, Indiana and Utah hoping to take advantage of friendly surround-

The East and West Regionals tip off tonight with the Mideast and Midwest coming up Friday night. The regional championships to determine the Final Four will be played Saturday and Sunday

The fifth-ranked Virginia Cavaliers will get things rolling against No.15 Tennessee in the opener of a double-header at the Omni in Atlanta. And All-American Ralph Sampson, their 7foot-4 star, put things in perspective for all the remaining games, as well as most of those already played. "It will be a battle," he said. "It will be a war.

The 48-team skirmish already has claimed 10 members of The Associated Press Top Twenty among its victims, including top-rated DePaul, runner-up Oregon State and third-ranked Ar-

In the Atlanta nightcap, seventh-ranked Notre Dame meets No.16 Brigham Young. Meanwhile, the University of Utah, ranked 14th, will be at home in Salt Lake City against sixthranked North Carolina. In the second game, No.19 Illinois faces

At the New Orleans Superdome, little more than an hour down the road from Baton Rouge, fourth-ranked LSU faces No.20 Arkansas after intrastate rivals Kansas and Wichita State meet for the first time in 25 years.

All four teams in the East have ailing players. Lee Raker, Virginia's third leading scorer, is not expected to start, although he will be available. And Tennessee's Steve Ray developed colitis last month and has been slow to recover.

Orlando Woolridge, one of Notre Dame's key performers, is still slowed by a muscle strain and hasn't practiced all week. And BYU's Danny Ainge, the regional's top scorer with a 25point average, has been bothered by a back ailment. Coach Frank Arnold says his star is 90-95 percent effective.

Utah will have the homecourt advantage against North Carolina. "We may be wearing our home uniforms against Utah, but I can tell you who will have whatever homecourt advantage there is to be had," says Carolina coach Dean Smith.

The game will match two imposing front lines. North Carolina goes with 6-6 Al Wood, 6-9 James Worthy and 6-9 Sam Perkins, while Utah counters with 6-7 Danny Vranes, 6-7 Karl Bankowski and 6-10 Tom Chambers.

Kansas State relies heavily on 6-6 guard Rolando Blackman. whose last-gasp shot eliminated Oregon State. Illinois' strength

NFL Owners Mull Infractions

MAUI, Hawaii (AP) - Owners of National Football League teams have decided not to modify the pass interference rule because they felt such action would lead to more infractions.

The rule gives possession to the offensive team at the point of infraction by a defensive player. Offensive pass interference calls for a 10-yard penalty from the line of scrimmage

Spokesman Tex Schramm, president of the Dallas Cowboys, said most of the owners were not in favor of changing.

The owners did pass several new

Boys Begin

Snook Bluejays and unbeaten Gladewater Sabine return to Austin today to open defense of the state schoolboy basketball crowns they won last year.

Talented 6-2 senior Hezekiah Carter, an all-tournament pick last year, led the Bluejays against Midland Greenwood in a Class A semifinal game earlier today. The winner plays Saturday against the survivor of today's Avinger-Henrietta-Midway clash.

In Class 4A, Beaumont Hebert, a state champ last year, opens play at 7 tonight against Waxahachie, a loser in the semifi-nals last year. Hebert is 33-2 on the year, losing twice to 5A semifinalist Port Arthur Lincoln. In today's other Class 4A semifinal. Canyon goes against San Antinio South San West at 8 30 p.m.

Sabine's Cardinals open their title defense at 9:30 a.m. Friday with a rematch of last year's final against Bartlett. The Cardinals are 32-0 on the year, and return four starters from last year's title team. They are joined by Greg Grissom, a 6-10 transfer

The other Class 2A semifinal Friday pits Archer City vs. Shallowater.

Class 3A action opens today with Perryton vs. Altair Rice at 2 p.m., and Van Vleck vs. Powderly North Lamar at 3:30.

In Class 5A, Dallas Roosevelt is led by the Wright brothers. Carl. a 6-4 junior pouring in 25 points a game, and Billy, a 6-8 senior. They are the brothers of Texas A&M basketball player Rynn Wright. Roosevelt opens against San Antonio Marshall Friday. Port Arthur Lincoln, a tournament newcomer, faces Fort Worth Dunbar Friday night in the other Class 5A semifinal contest

One of interest will prohibit the use of stickum on players' hands. Lester Hayes of the Oakland Raiders, who led the NFL in interceptions last season with 17 (including post-season play), smeared stickum on his hands and arms. Many other players also used stickum

Also, it will be against the rules to use any slippery substances to make a player more elusive.

Another rule passed concerned quarterbacks intentionally grounding the ball when about to be sacked. Instead of just a 10-yard penalty and loss of down, the defense will have the option of taking that or making the offense put the ball in play from the point of the infraction, plus the loss of down. So there will be no ad-Tournament the loss of down. So there will be no advantage in grounding if a quarterback is about to be hit 25 yards or so behind the line of scrimmage

In a move for more safety in the game, the owners approved a resolution against chop blocking by interior linemen, a rule already in effect for the ends. Coaches must agree not to coach that type of block where a player goes after the knee of one already engaged by an-

The owners refused to change the rule concerning onside kicks that go out of bounds. The rule says that the kicking team gets a five-yard penalty and must kick again. Proposed by the Competitions Committee was a change that would give the receiving team the option of taking possession at the point where the kickoff went out of bounds

Also kept on the books was the rule that the offensive line must hold its set for a second before the ball is snapped. Defeated proposals were for either nodelay or a delay of two seconds.

NFL attorney Patrick Lynch takes over the meeting today to explain facets of the suit between the league and the Los Angeles Coliseum Commission-Oakland Raiders.

Lynch was originally scheduled to talk on Wednesday but he flew to San Francisco Tuesday to file an appeal against a ruling by U.S. District Judge Harry Pregerson in Los Angeles that day that denied a request for a change of venoe in the anti-trust case against the NFL.

The trial was scheduled to start pext

Time, Victory Of Essence To Moegle

By CHUCK McDONALD Assistant Sports Editor

This country has seen six different presidents since 1960. Why, 21 years ago, America was slipping out of the Cold War. Since then we've stumbled in and out of Vietnam, exchanged unpleasantries with Iran and are in the process of dabbling in El Salvador.

Hairstyles have gone from crew in 1960 to long, longer, longest in the early seventies and now they say the short look is in again. The Beatles brought us rock 'n roll and since then we've had acid rock, country rock and punk rock

Rock Hudson gave way to Dustin Hoffman who passed the baton to John Travolta. And Travolta (although some of his friends still refer to him as Vinnie Babarino) introduced us to disco fever but has since changed his tune to coun-

But while the rest of the country has been involved in this endless shuffling of feet and style, at Monterey High School — at least out on the baseball field time has stood still. Oh, from time to time the uniforms change in appearance and the hair is a little longer now than it was when John Kennedy backed out of the Bay Of Pigs, but that's about it.

And in 21 years, the Monterey baseball team has rarely stopped winning. Last year, Coronado eliminated the Plainsmen in a one-game playoff to claim the District 4-5A title and it marked only the third time since Bobby Moegle became the MHS baseball coach that his Plainsmen have failed to win at least a district title.

JFK was still president when Moegle took his first team to the state tournament (1961) but it was Jimmy Carter who occupied the White House during Moegle's last journey to the state finals (1978).

Now in his 22nd season at Monterey, Moegle long ago became the all-time winningest baseball coach in Texas High School history. Now, he's just one step away from yet another milestone — his 600th career victory. Naturally, no one high school coach in Texas has ever seen 600 from the top side.

Moegle owned a 590-147 coaching record (all at Monterey) going into the current season and, after last weekend's second-place finish in the Midland Tournament, his Plainsmen are currently 9-2. That makes him 599-149.

Saturday, Monterey will host Odessa Permian in a 1 p.m. double-header at Lowrey Field. A win in either game will call for a celebration of history. And the end is not in sight.

"I don't know when it's going to stop," said Moegle in a recent interview. "I guess 600 is next. But what I see coming up is going to be tough.

"Because, to be truthful, you've got to have the kids," added Moegle. "It doesn't matter who the coach is. And we've been fortunate in that we've had some good kids at Monterey

Of course, it also helps to have a coach of Moegle's stature. His record over the last 21 years borders on incredible. Consider these figures:

• 18 district championships in 21 years and only once (in 1966) were the Plainsmen beaten outright. The other two times (1976 and '80) Monterey tied for the title and was defeated in the playoffs.

• 14 bi-district titles; seven regional crowns, five quarterfinal victories; seven state tournament appearances and two-state crowns, in 1972 and '74.

· Moegle was named the High School Baseball Coach of the Year in Texas and National High School Coach of the Year as selected by the American Association of College Baseball Coaches following the 1972 season. In '74 he again grabbed the Texas honors.

 No less than 52 of Moegle's Monterey players have earned college scholarships and 11 have signed pro contracts. And they just keep winning.

When I came here," recalls Moegle, "I inherited an excellent bunch of kids. They weren't used to work but they were willing to sacrifice. And I did

"They'd always had great talent here, but they'd never won. They didn't

Moegle wasn't afraid to show his Plainsmen that winning was a direct result of work. A 26-year-old bachelor fresh out of the St. Louis Cardinals minor league system when he took the MHS job, Moegle's early teams worked five or

Nowadays, practices are a more humane two-to three-hour workout. "Well, I don't work 'em like I used to," admits Moegle, "but I don't think it's because I've mellowed. It's just that with all the new devices like pitching

Phillies, Braves Discuss Trading Gary Matthews

CLEARWATER, Fla. (AP) - The Philadelphia Phillies have confirmed they are close to acquiring outfielder Gary Matthews from the Atlanta Braves but the price will be high — young pitcher Bob Walk

Paul Owens, the Phils' personnel director, admitted Wednesday that negotiations have been held with the Braves and the players involved are Matthews and Walk. But Owens denied reports the deal had been consumated.

A major stumbling block is that Matthews' contract expires at the end of this season, and he could become a free agent. "There's no deal until I talk to Matthews, I guarantee you that," Owens

Al Thornwell, executive vice president of the Braves, said a trade "could happen tonight, in the morning, or three days from now. Walk, a 24-year-old right-hander, had an 11-7 record and a 4.56 ERA in 27 games with the Phillies. Matthews, 30, who has completed four seasons with the Braves since being signed as a free agent from the San Francisco Giants, hit .278 with 19 home runs and 75 RBI in 1980. Another point which could help draw

Matthews to Philadelphia is that center fielder Garry Maddox is one of his best Phils' manager Dallas Green said the WARRIORS DISCIPLINE LUCAS OAKLAND, Calif. (UPI) - John Lucas of the Golden State Warriors was suspended for the rest of the season Wednesday night after he missed his sixth game without permission. players have been agreed upon by John W. Mullen, vice president and general manager at Atlanta, and Owens.

Matthews, quoted in the Atlanta Constitution, said he would be delighted to be traded to the world champion Phils.

"This is just great. It solves everybody's problems because the Braves wanted a pitcher." the outfielder said.

Should the Phillies obtain Matthews, it probably would open another deal in which they would unload unhappy outfielder Greg Luzinski, who has said he would welcome a trade. The Chicago White Sox reportedly have offered pitcher Ken Kravec for Luzinski

"Plus, I've got my baseball school now and we've had most of these kids since they were eight years old. By the time they get in high school, they've got a lot of background. I've had 'em since they were little toots."

Ah yes, The Bobby Moegle Baseball School. For 14 years, youngsters from all over West Texas have attended Moegle's month-long school during June. Although long since married and the father of two children, baseball is still the dominant force in Moegle's life.

Moegle came to Monterey on the recommendation of University of Texas assistant coach Buddy Gilstrap after a couple of years of minor league ball that followed two years in the service and four years at college

"The good thing about my playing pro ball was that I already had a college degree and I was ready to go somewhere and do something." Moegle explained. "We were playing over in Raleigh (North Carolina) when Buddy called me and said there were two jobs open in West Texas. One was at Monterey and the other was at Odessa Permian.

"He said I ought to try the Lubbock job first." Ironically, Moegle, originally from East Texas, stands a good chance to pick up win No. 600 against the very school he nearly took a job with. "I've never regretted any aspects of this job or my stay at Monterey," said Moegle. "I can't say I'll never leave here but it would take a very special situation for me to go. My wife's a Lubbock girl and this is home now.

"You know, a lot of places can run me off in a hurry, but in 22 years I've never had a bad experience here.

The interview nearly concluded, Moegle reflects fondly on his 22-year stay in 'You know, I met an old preacher — it's been several years now — and he told me the nice thing about Lubbock is that it gives a young man a chance to

Lawyer Concludes First Phase In Kush Hearing

MOEGLE'S METHOD - Monterey baseball coach Bobby Moegle flashes a sign during a recent game. Moegle stands on the brink of his 600th victory at MHS. (Staff Pho-

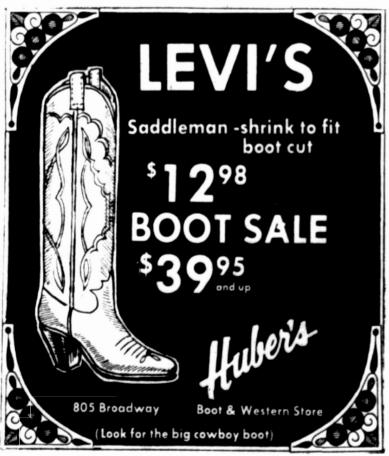

PHOENIX, Ariz. (UPI) - The career of former Arizona State football coach Frank Kush was ruined by the "nickel-dime" lawsuit filed by punter Kevin Rutledge. Kush's attorney has argued.

This is one of the world's greatest tragedies," said Warren Platt in his final arguments Wednesday after the first phase of the $2.2 million suit. "That man's Kush career is ruined

Rutledge is suing Kush and others, claiming Kush punched him during a 1978 football game and then harassed him into quitting the team and losing his scholar-

Jurors were expected to begin deliberations today before hearing testimony in the trial's second phase. In that phase, the jury will consider separately whether there was a breach of contract in connection with Rutledge's scholarship and whether university officials were negligent in their policing of Kush. Coach Kush never hit Kevin Rutledge." Platt said Wednesday

Kush was dismissed in October 1979 after allegations he tried to cover up the Rutledge incident. He now coaches in the Canadian Football League.

Chaps Secure Comfort In Triple-Header Sweep

"Great!"

By ERIC GALE

Avalanche-Journal Sports Staff It was too cold for comfort Wednesday at Chaparral Stadium, and it may have been a bit too close for comfort for the Lubbock Christian College baseball

The Chaparrals, though, survived icy winds and the William Jewell (Mo.) Cardinals for a sweep of a triple-header, 7-4, 7-5 and 11-9. LCC, after a horribly slow start, now has stretched its winning streak to nine games in addition to rais-

"But we're just now getting our confidence. We're coming. That doesn't mean we'll win three games tomorrow, but it does mean we'll be competitive tomorrow. You can start to look at this team and say 'Here's a strength, here's a strength, here's a weakness. Before last weekend, it was hard to tell them apart. We digressed, hit rock bottom. Now, we've started all over."

Jewell led 3-0 in the second game be-fore LCC tied it with three runs in the third. Jeff Craig's two-run double was the key hit. A four-run LCC fourth inning subdued the Cardinals.

David Bulls, LCC's third-game starter, might have provided the team with its third straight complete game but for rag-tag Chap defease that committed four er-rors. As a result, none of the nine runs

Ex-Ranger Zisk Likes New Scenery In Seattle

the Kingdome."

young Seattle Mariners is like being on Sesame Street but, whatever the shortcomings may be, it's a lot more pleasant than spending another year with the Texas Rangers.

'With the Rangers," says the long-ball hitting Zisk, "I felt a little stagnant and I was looking for a change."

Still, you would think Zisk would have preferred being traded to a contending team rather than one that very well might spend the entire 1981 season fighting growing pains.

"I had a no-trade clause in my contract with Texas," reminds Zisk, who in eight big league seasons has hit 158 homers and compiled a .288 batting average, "so I had to waive it in or-parks was "geared to an offensive player." "In that regard," he says, I'm very proud of what I did throughout my career. In Pittsburgh, the fences were a long-way away. Arlington was a tough park, too, with the wind al-ways blowing in, and, of course, Chicago was like trying to hit "Still, I managed to hit 30 homers in Chicago (in 1977). If I can make the same kind of bat-ball contact this year in the Kingdome, I'm going to open a lot of people's eyes. I'm not set-ting down on a piece of paper the numbers I'd like to achieve but there is no question in my mind I will improve on every one of my offensive statistics. If I don't, I'm going to be very disappointed. Very, very disappointed."

Zisk says there is no chance he will play in the field with Seattle unless there is a dire emergency.

"I think if the Mariners find me with a glove on, we are going to be in trouble," he says. "I imagine I might get in some playing time but I think my role on this club will be as the designated hitter. My legs aren't what they used to be and if you are going to play on an artificial surface, as they have in the Kingdome, you better be able to run. No question, on an artifi-clal surface speed is going to pay off defensively."

Zisk has been with the Mariners only since the start of spring training and he feels like a fish out of water.

"This is something new for me," he says of the young club.
"I've always been sort of middle of the road as far as age goes.
All of a sudden, I have the most major league service on the club. It's all new to me. I've been on teams which have been winners and I took a lot of things for granted. It's like a school around here, it's like Sesame Street, but I'm enjoying every

Red Sox' Bats Blaze Red Hot

By The Associated Press

New manager Ralph Houk has been saying all along that he thinks the Boston Red Sox have "enough offense to score runs," but even baseball's perennial optimist must have thought his rose-colored glasses were starting to fog up.

That was prior to Wednesday. After scoring a meager 32 runs while winning just two of their first eight exhibition games, the Red Sox erupted with a 20-hit explosion and buried the world champion Philadelphia Phillies 15-3.

Boston broke open a 3-2 game with five runs in the fourth inning, including a solo homer by rookie Dave Schmidt and a three-run shot by Jim Rice. Dwight Evans also homered for the

"They sure brought their bats along. I haven't seen that many hits in a long, long time," said Houk, who might have permitted himself a fond remembrance or two of his 1961 Roger Maris-Mickey Mantle New York Yankees

The Red Sox didn't pick on any sore-armed pitchers. They clobbered 17-game winner Dick Ruthven for 11 hits and eight runs in the first four innings, tacked on Evans' homer against Nino Espinosa, raked rookie hotshot Mark Davis for four runs in two innings, and finished up with three hits and two runs off Sparky Lyle in the ninth

"Hey, you know we're going to score runs," said second baseman Jerry Remy, who had three hits. "It's just a matter of putting things together."

The Red Sox didn't even miss Fred Lynn, who drove in four runs on three hits, including a home run, as the California Angels pounded Milwaukee 12-4 despite two homers by the Brewers' Robin Yount and one by Paul Molitor. Jim Slaton, coming back from a shoulder ailment, was battered for 13 hits and nine runs in four innings after two impressive outings previously.

The pitchers stole the show in the Oakland-San Francisco contest, Mike Rowland, Randy Moffitt and Fred Breining combined on a one-hitter in hurling the Giants to a 1-0 victory over the A's, the run coming on Johnnie LeMaster's bases-loaded single with two out in the bottom of the ninth. The Oakland hit was a third-inning single off Rowland's glove by pitcher Matt

Forty-year-old Luis Tiant, trying to hook on with Pittsburgh, pitched two scoreless innings and Rusty Torres, Tony Pena and Dale Berra homered as the Pirates trounced the St. Louis Cardinals 11-3. But another group of Cardinals defeated the Toronto Blue Jays 6-2, the big blow a pinch three-run homer by pitcher Bob Forsch.

Forsch's brother Ken worked four shutout innings but his Houston Astros lost to the Minnesota Twins 3-2 on Pete Mackanin's RBI-single in the eighth inning.

Seattle outfielder Tom Paciorek, who says he wants to be traded, rapped out three hits to raise his spring batting average to .591 and drove in three runs in the Mariners' 10-3 rout of the Chicago Cubs

"I thought I made the club last season," said Paciorek, who hit .273 with 15 homers and 59 RBIs in 1980. "A veteran player, it seems, should make the club on what he did last season. He shouldn't have to come to camp and prove himself." Paciorek said manager Maury Wills told him he was "going to be used as a pinch hitter and only occasionally against left-handed pitchers. Johnny Bench, tired of catching, homered for Cincinnati but the Reds bowed to the Kansas City Royals 7-6 on Dave Chalk's RBI-single in the bottom of the 11th inning. Larry Parrish hit a pair of two-run homers and Tommy Hutton slammed a three-run shot to power the Montreal Expos over the Atlanta Braves 12-8. Drungo Hazewood walked with the bases loaded in the 11th inning, forcing home the run that gave the Baltimore Orioles a 5-4 victory over the Texas Rangers.

Steve Kemp had three hits and scored the go-ahead run on Al Cowens' sacrifice fly as the Detroit Tigers downed the Los Angeles Dodgers 6-3, Gene Richards drove in four runs with a pair of triples and a single and scored three times as the San Diego Padres whipped the Cleveland Indians 11-2.

Richard Dotson and Mike Proly pitched the Chicago White

Sox to a 3-1 triumph over the New York Mets.

EHS, LHS Split Double-Header

Lubbock High pounded out 12 hits and took advantage of seven errors to dump Estacado 13-3 Wednesday to gain a split in their double-header and hand the Mats their first loss of the season.

The Westerner rout came on the heels of a 10-2 Matador trouncing in the first game of the re-scheduled twinbill at the Estacado field. The Mats are now 6-1 for the season while the Westerners improved to 2-4

The two games had been rained out Saturday and Wednesday's action marked the first games for the Westerners in a week.

LHS was sluggish in the opener, falling behind 6-0 after three innings while managing only a pair of hits off Estacado pitcher Wayne Dotson.

But the Westerner hitters exploded in the second inning of the night cap, scoring four runs for a 4-2 advantage and a lead they never relinquished.

Carlos Hernandez singled to open the inning for Lubbock High and went to second on the first of three consecutive Mat errors. Bobby Balch was safe when the first baseman dropped a throw and when Tino was safe on another error, Hernandez scored. David Garcia then had a two-RBI double and the Westerners were on 'a dream come true." The 40-year-old said he can cope with the pressure of building the Nets, who lead only the expansion Dallas Mavericks in the NBA.

"I was suffering at Denver," said Brown, who left UCLA this week to take the Nets' job. "Yet, I think I'm fairly stable, and I don't think UCLA would have called me if I were a raving maniac," he said.

"I was disenchanted with my situation in Denver, but now, after two years away from it, I'm ready to step forward," Brown said.

Nets' president Joe Taub said, "I don't want any pressure on the coach. I'd be very pleased just to have a playoff contender next year, but I'd certainly be disappointed if we only won 25 games.

Brown will be at the Rutgers Athletic Center to watch the Nets during Friday's contest against Atlanta. He will officially assume his duties at the end of the season, but he has already been consulted for key decisions, particularly last week's acquisition of veteran Bob McAdoo,

Fisk, ChiSox Reach Terms

SARASOTA, Fla. (AP) - Ending 10 days of intense negotiations and formalizing an agreement announced last week, free-agent Carlton Fisk has signed a fiveyear contract with the Chicago White Sox, general manager Roland Hemond

Financial terms of the contract signed Wednesday were not disclosed, but published reports have set the figure as high as $3.5 million for the five years.

The Boston Globe had reported earlier that the pact also involved a personal services contract for a broadcast career after the veteran catcher finishes playing. Both the Chicago Tribune and the Chicago Sun-Times said today Fisk's contract was for around $3 million.

"I've been looking forward to this moment and I'm ready to play," said Fisk, then adding, "Well, not ready to play, but ready to get into uniform."

The 33-year-old All-Star veteran was to be in a White Sox uniform for the first time today, when his former teammates, the Boston Red Sox, visit Sarasota for an exhibition game. But he said he would not be ready to play in a game until "probably toward the end of month."

Although Fisk and the White Sox apparently had reached a tentative agreement 10 days earlier, his agent, Jerry Kapstein, said, "We didn't have an agreement until the contract was actually signed. We did not have a meeting of the minds until this morning.

Fisk described the negotiations as "an around-the-clock thing. I went bonkers sitting in my room." Fisk and his family have been staying in a hotel in the area since last Thursday while final details were being hammered out. He told reporters that in addition to the five-year term, the contract included an agreement for two option years which could be sought by either party

Fisk also told the White Sox he was 'prepared to catch 130 games a year,' and talked about playing eight more sea-

EX-BEAR CHARGED

SCHAUMBURG, Ill. (AP) - Jack Concannon, a former quarterback of the Chicago Bears, has been charged with delivery of a controlled substance in connection with the alleged sale of 2.2 pounds of high-grade cocaine to undercover agents, police said. Concannon was arrested Wednesday at an apartment complex where he had agreed to sell the cocaine, with an estimated street value of $400,000, for $67,000 and the arrest culminated a two-month investigation into cocaine trafficking in the northwest suburbs of Chicago.

Zimmer Names Darwin's Role

VERO BEACH, Fla. (AP) - Righthander Danny Darwin is going to be a starter for the Texas Rangers throughout 1981, even if reliever Jim Kern is not able to overcome his neck and shoulder problem, Texas manager Don Zimmer

"He's going to start and that's it," Zimmer said.

Darwin struck out seven batters in four innings of the Rangers' 2-0 loss to Los Angeles Tuesday

Last season Darwin worked almost exclusively as a relief pitcher because of Kern's physical problems, and became the Rangers' only dependable bullpen performer, posting a 13-4 record with eight saves and a 2.63 earned run aver-

When spring training began this year, Zimmer said Darwin's status as a starter or reliever would be determined by Kern's comeback attempt, but Darwin's standout spring work changed his mind.

"I thought about it three days ago, Zimmer said Tuesday. "I decided he's going to start no matter what. If Kern can't do it, we'll find somebody else to pitch in the bullpen."

Block Shows Interest In Farm Lending Plan

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Agriculture Secretary John Block has declined to close the door on administration support for a proposal to create a new revolving fund to finance U.S. agricultural exports.

Major farm and commodity groups that have testified on a pending four-year farm bill before the Senate and House agriculture committees have been nearly unanimous in supporting creation of a

A new source of financing would help keep U.S. farm exports at record levels, which were $40.5 billion last fiscal year and are expected to be $47 billion next

Asked about the issue this week when he appeared before the Senate Appropriations agriculture subcommittee, Block conceded it would be "hard to sell a new lending program" at a time of budget cuts, especially in industrial export lending by the Export-Import Bank.

But he said, "We are interested in it. We might even like to see it happen.'

Sen. Thomas Eagleton, D-Mo., who was chairman of the subcommittee prior to the Republican takeover of the Senate, said he supported the concept in past years, but it may be difficult to establish a new fund "at this point in time, in this year, under these circumstances."

He said be may offer an amendment this year to set up a fund, but its implementation would be delayed until some future date.

"This time will come ... when it is proper to have such a fund," Eagleton told Block.

Last week, during an appearance be-fore the American Pork Congress, an an-nual meeting of U.S. pork producers, subcommittee Chairman Thad Cochran, R-Miss., said the concept is sound, but "I'm not optimistic that it can be done

Cochran made no further comments on the fund at this week's hearing, but it was he who asked Block about the issue.

In a joint appearance with Cochran before the pork producers, House Majority Whip Thomas Foley, D-Wash., former House Agriculture Committee chairman, predicted the administration would not support a new fund.

And he said revolving funds make congressional appropriations panels nervous because they take spending out of control of the budgetary process.

The Carter administration cut out appropriations for direct commerical export financing, as distinct from Food for Peace low-interest, long-term loans, and substituted a program of loan guarantees instead. Commodity groups say some importing nations still prefer direct loans which are no longer available.

In recent testimony before the Senate Agriculture Committee, Raymond Cooper of Dallas, president of the American Cotton Shippers Association, said adequate credit helped build major markets for American cotton in the Far East.

He charged that an end to direct loans at prevailing interest rates caused a 25 percent drop in purchase of U.S. cotton by Korea, one of three leading markets. Until last year, the United States supplied 95 percent of Korea's cotton requirements, he said.

Advisers Telling Reagan To Downplay El Salvador

By CLAY F. RICHARDS WASHINGTON (UPI) — Some of Ronald Reagan's closest advisers were caught off guard by the rapid developments in El Salvador and are now advising the president to play down the importance of the Central American nation.

Secretary of State Alexander Haig. seeking to establish an early beachhead in the battle for Reagan's heart and mind, scored a coup by bringing the relatively quiet crisis on to the nation's front

El Salvador dominated Reagan's second news conference last week as the president seemed anxious to make it clear the United States will no longer pursue a weak and vascilating policy when it comes to battling communis especially in the Western Hemisphere.

Top Reagan domestic advisers were shocked and caught off guard by the rap-idity that El Salvador moved to the front, and are now trying to convince Reagan that it is distracting from his economic

"I think the whole thing has been overplayed," said one of Reagan's closest advisers.

"I talk with people around the country all the time and I've not gotten a single letter or a single phone call about it so it's not that big a thing outside Washington," he said.

Secondly, I think it is unfortunate it has come up now because it diverts from the president's economic program," he

"It gives the boys on the Hill (Congress) a chance to run off in the other direction. It takes the pressure off them," he said. "I think we'd be better low keying it (El Salvador) right now.

So, with less than two months on the job. Reagan is falling into the trap any number of his predecessors have been

The American economy is in general terms a boring topic, and as recent history has proved it is difficult for any president to do anything that will dramatically reshape inflation, unemployment and other economic woes.

But foreign policy is something else. This is where America flexes its muscles, topples or saves governments, and is a leading figure in shaping the political makeup of the globe.

ore Oil Price Boosts Expected

By PHILIP GREEN MYRON KANDEL

The $10 billion gaffe in the Reagan administration's spending projections isn't the only mistake the new team has or the most expensive. They missed the target even more on oil

As one of his first official acts, President Reagan decontrolled domestic ude oil prices eight months before they are scheduled to expire. The White predicted that prices at the gasoline pump would go up 5 or 6 cents a gal-lon but no more, because of the plentiful supplies of gasoline in the market. So far,

Two Teens Win Sports Cars

CEDAR RAPIDS, Iowa (UPI) - Two teen-agers, inseparable pals since their junior high school days, have managed to pull off a 50,000 to one longshot: Winning Porsche 924 sports cars in consecutive contest drawings.

Mark Von Behren, 17, and Bill Simmons, 18, attend the same high school. They work together at a small ski shop in Marion, Iowa. And both have propitiously attended the same Las Vegas trade show in the past two years.

Last March, Von Behren entered a drawing at the trade show and won a 1980 Porsche valued at $18,000. Last Saturday. Simmons was the lucky winner of the 1981 Porsche valued at $20 000

Ted Cropper, a representative for the ski binding firm that sponsored the drawing, said about 500 dealerships were represented in the lottery and estimated the chances of Simmons winning were 50,000

"Many of the large dealers had hundreds of cards in," he said, "and when you think of the odds of having two winners from one small shop in Iowa, without talking to Jimmy the Greek, it has to be astronomical

Simmons said he was still in a "state of shock." He said he does not know what he is going to do with a $20,000

Von Behren reluctantly sold his car several months after winning it, finding the cost of car insurance, licenses, taxes, and upkeep to be more than his fragile budget could take.

the price is up about 15 cents a gallon and it doesn't show any sign of slowing

How come a boner like that? Did the President really think the oil companies would hold back, once the government took the lid off? Not really, but he did think the marketplace — which he consi-ders the best regulator of price and sup-ply — would force the companies to hold prices down. After all, there's more crude oil and gasoline around than any-

The administration was right that far. Gasoline stocks are climbing up to record levels, storage tanks are bulging so much that some companies are even cutting back on shipments they're bound by contract to take. But observers of the oil business say there are also pressures on prices that should have been taken into account, but weren't. And they say that, while inventories could slow the rise in prices soon, that won't last long and isn't likely to do much good.

At the time of decontrol in January. the average price of gasoline - all grades, leaded and unleaded - was around $1.23 a gallon; now it's about $1.36. Larry Goldstein of the Petroleum Research Foundation says he expected prices to climb 15 cents a gallon, so there's still a little room left.

"The average price of a barrel of crude oil before decontrol was $31," Goldstein told us. "When decontrol was fully effective, that figured to add at least $6 to $7 a barrel, which comes out to 15 cents a gallon or so."

In addition to that, he says, the oil companies have had their own cost increases, thanks to inflation. "All told, it comes to about 20 cents a gallon," he says, "but we figured that some of it would have to be absorbed by the refiners and the retailers, because there's so much supply around."

There's a great reluctance by the oil companies to absorb any part of their own cost increases because according to Goldstein, "every cent they eat on gas works out to a billion dollars for the

Goldstein thinks prices have come close to their top for this run-up - "we though they'd do it quickly, trying to catch up with their costs while they could," he says - and should level off, if not drop a little, very soon. After that, though, he expects another round of in-begun cutting back on production. Standard Oil of Indiana — that's Amoco — is shutting down a refinery and just about everybody else has announced cutbacks in refinery runs. Overall, the oil industry is running now at about 60 percent of ca-

So, looking to the future, Goldstein lays it out this way: For the next month or two, retail prices should level out (which won't make the retailers very happy because they're getting markups of about 8 cents a gallon on average, when they feel they should get about 16 cents). How long that lasts depends a lot on the weather; if temperatures stay down, there tends to be less driving, but gasoline will heat up, too,

The upturn in demand should come around the middle of April, about the same time that the refining cutback begins to have an effect on storage supplies. The combination of increased demand and a tighter market should send prices upward again.

Goldstein doesn't find fault with the Reagan administration forecast (and he might not say say so publicly if he did). But he says the forecasters may have lost sight of influences in the worldwide market that have been threatening to push oil prices higher for months and, when they were set loose, they did so.

Civil War Threatens Guatemala

GUATEMALA CITY (UPI) - A bloody struggle between leftist guerrillas and government forces, fueled by President Reagan's election and strife in neighboring El Salvador, is pushing Guatemala toward all-out civil war.

The U.S. State Department is known to be worried that if the strife continues, Washington may soon have to send in U.S. military advisers and weapons as it already has done in El Salvador.

If so, the U.S. aid would be going to a hard-line military regime with a much uglier international image than the gov-ernment in El Salvador, an allegedly moderate alliance of military and Christian Democrats.

Political violence has been endemic to Guatemala, an Ohio-sized Central American nation of 7.2 million, since a CIA-sponsored coup ousted progressive President Jacobo Arbenz in 1954 and crippled the country's democratic proc-

Estimates on the number of political slavings in Guatemala vary according to the source. A State Department human rights report issued in January said political killings in 1980 "averaged about 75 to 100 each month.

In February, the Londonbased human rights group Amnesty International said. Some 3,000 people were found murdered after being seized in the first 10

Now the main players in the struggle have shifted the battle into a higher gear and are pushing Guatemala closer to civil

"Probably in one year we'll see a situation like the one in El Salvador," said one analyst who, like several other Guatemala City residents interviewed, asked not to be identified for fear of being

Guatemala's four leftist guerrilla groups, with growing support from Indians who make up half of the population, have grown increasingly stronger. They stepped up their attacks in December and January to deter Guatemala from sending military aid to El Salvador during a Salvadoran guerrilla offensive.

One of the groups, the Guerrilla Army of the Poor, later announced the rebels killed or wounded 195 soldiers and government "collaborators" in the twomonth campaign.

lan President Romeo Lucas Garcia, an army general, charge that Cuban President Fidel Castro is arming and training the rebels as part of a plan to bring Central America under communist rule.

Despite Cuba's alleged involvement, most analysts concur that Guatemala's leftist guerrilla groups are a home-grown phenomenon rooted in poverty, hunger and government repression.

'Two percent of the population is estimated to enjoy some 25 percent of the national income, while the lower 450 percent recieve only 10-to-15 percent," one diplomat said recently.

Adding to the already explosive situation was the Reagan election in November, which most analysts believe emboldened right-wing extremists.

"The right saw in Reagan the arrival of a conservative, unconditional ally, and did not differentiate between the conservatism of the United States and the state of siege mentality of Guatemalan conservatism," one analyst said.

port by the Reagan administration of indiscriminate repression."

Guatemala watchers cite 1981 elections as a third factor in the spiral of political violence. Scheduled for early March, the vote will select a president, vice-president, 61 congressmen and some 20 local officials.

Only two of Guatemala's half-dozen prominent political parties have named candidates for the presidency so far, but the quest for office already is underway

Dow Jones Average Falls Back

NEW YORK (AP) - Oils and other blue-chip issues sold off today as the stock market retreated from the 1,000 level in the Dow Jones indusrial average.

The widely recognized average of 30 blue chips, up more than 3 points in early trading, was off 4.78 at 989.28 by noontime.

Gainers outnumbered losers by about a 4-3 margin in the broad tally of New York Stock Exchangelisted issues.

The continuing tug of war in the stock market came against a background of falling interest

New York's Chemical Bank cut its prime lending rate from 1712 to 17 percent Wednesday, amid speculation that the Federal Reserve was relaxing its tight-money grip.

Rates on six-month Treasury bills fell below 12 percent for the first time in several months. And bond prices surged upward, pushing long-term interest rates lower.

Bache Group was delayed in opening. Prudential Insurance was expected to make a $32-a-share offer for the company, which is the parent of one of Wall Street's largest brokerage houses.

In the oil group, Texaco was down 114 at 35%; Exxon lost 114 to 6814: Mobil 144 to 6436, and Standard Oil of California 14 to

The NYSE's composite index lost .29 to 76.70. At the American Stock Exchange, the market value index was up .18 at 346.40.

Volume on the Big Board reached 30.06 million shares at noontime, up from 21.59 million at the same point Wednesday.

Wildcat Strikes Idle Coal Miners

Wildcat strikes idled 9,200 coal miners in six states today, but one group in Illinois returned to work after a one-day walkout to protest the collapse of contract talks.

Meanwhile, United Mine Workers President Sam Church was ready to resume bargaining with the Bituminous Coal Operators Association, a union source in Washington said.

But with a contract ratification process that takes 10 days to complete, it appeared inevitable that there would be a strike by the 160,-000-member union when the current pact expires at midnight March 26. The miners traditionally have not worked without a contract.

Nearly 9,600 miners staged wildcat strikes Wednesday in reaction to the breakdown of the talks on Tuesday.

"I guess they just jumped the gun a little bit," said Robert Carter, president of UMW District 30 in Kentucky. "They get a wild hair now

The strikes picked up steam in some areas overnight and faded in

Transit Workers Join In Show Of Solidarity

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) - Some 2,000 chanting and jovial strikers ringed Philadelphia City Hall today in a show of solidarity for their 5day-old transit strike.

Earlier today, rescue crews pulled a car and its dead driver from the Schuylkill River, two hours after the car plunged off an expressway bridge, snarling traffic at the peak of rush hour

In a rare move, police and city officials allowed the throng of strikers into City Council chambrs while their union president, Dominic DiClerico, told council members about union grievances. The strikers chanted, "We want Green," in reference to Mayor William Green.

Headaches for the region's 1 million commuters began as striking transit workers closed down a suburban bus line for two hours. A quick court injunction ended the shutdown, the third disruption of an alternate route since the strike began Sunday

A strike by the 4,900-member Transport Workers Union has closed down bus, subway and trolley lines for 400,000 daily riders. Conrail commuter trains and two suburban bus lines, owned by the Southeastern Pennnsylvania Transportation Authority, but not involved in the strike, have continued to operate.

Church Files Bankruptcy

HOUSTON (AP) - The largest black Baptist church in the South has declared bankruptcy in an effort to stave off bondholders who foreclosed on the church after it failed to pay off a $1.1 million construction loan, a Dallas newspaper reported today

The bankruptcy petition was filed in Houston Monday, the Dallas Morning News said

The action is the latest chapter in the financial troubles of the Pleasant Grove Missionary Baptist Church, led by the Rev. Charles L. Jackson, a Houston preacher who drives a Mercedes and frequently

The Associated Press was unable to reach Jackson by telephone for comment. His wife said he was not at home, and to questions about where he could be reached, she replied: "I can't tell you that."

Prime Continues To Fall

NEW YORK (AP) - The prime rate is falling at an accelerated pace as new signs emerge that the economy is weakening.

Chemical Bank, the nation's sixth-largest commercial bank, cut its prime rate Wednesday to 17 percent as interest rates in the nation's credit markets plunged.

No other major banks followed Chemical's lead, but analysts said the prime rate was likely to fall below 17 percent in coming weeks as the demand for credit declines. Most banks are quoting a prime rate

Three-month Treasury bills trading in the credit markets fell more than one-half percentage point Wednesday to about 12.3 percent, and six-month Treasury bills dropped below 12 percent for the first time in several months

A slowdown in the economy generally leads to lower interest rates because the demand for credit slackens and inflationary pressures

Morgan Stark, senior vice president in Chemical's treasury division, said the bank's rate reduction reflected a drop in its cost of acquiring funds and sluggish loan demand.

Southwest Eyes Expansion

DALLAS (UPI) — Southwest Airlines, seeking to increase its fleet to accommodate high customer demand, is interested in ordering at least 10 of Boeing Co.'s proposed 737-300 aircraft. Company officials Wednesday said the proposed 737-300 "promises economic benefits and reduced noise levels superior to any aircraft presently being built or proposed" for Southwest's short-haul routes Southwest informed Boeing it is interested in ordering 10 of the jets with an option for 10 more. Southwest also said it will try to negotiate options for 20 more. In 1980 dollars, the base purchase of one 737-300 was about $16.2 million, Southwest said Boeing has developed blueprints for the 737-300 but will not commit to producing it until sufficient orders are received. If Boeing proceeds with the jet. Southwest said deliveries would begin in 1984 The 737-300 is a longer version of the 737-200 that Southwest cur-

Executive Continues Recruiting Efforts

NEW YORK (UPI) - Chairman Edward Donley of Air Products & Chemicals, Inc., Allentown, Pa., may be the only chief executive for a major corporation who personally recruits on campus for executive trainees.

Donley now has time to visit only three or four colleges a year. He started recruiting in person some years ago when he became chief operating officer of Air Products. Then he visited many colleges each spring. He kept it up because of his growing conviction that business success depends a lot more on getting and keeping good people than on technology, financial skills or anything

Donley has been with Air Products since leaving Lawrence Tech in Detroit. The company was started as a small engineering firm putting together specific government contract projects. It has grown steadily for 40 years and had sales of nearly a $1.5 billion in 1980. It is the second largest air separation firm in the country and also is substantial in chemical intermediates, catalysts and plastics.

It pioneered much of today's air separation technology, including the building of air separation plants near the factories that would consume the oxygen and other gases taken from the air. It also did much of the important work on liquefying natural gas and more lately has gone heavily into producing liquefied hydrogen as a space age fuel.

To Donley's mind, these technological and commercial successes are only the result of the company's sustained preoc-cupation with getting and keeping good people. As a corollary to this, he says, about the worst thing that can happen to a company is to find itself unable to compete in recruiting good young people. Such a straitjacket can result, he said, either from government regulation or from the company's own economic mistakes. Once in such a bind, the company is doubly hurt, he says. It can't recruit good young people and if it does land a few it can't give them the opportunity to do what they want to do.

"And, make no mistake about it today's young people are not willing just to take orders," Donley warned. He says they have read and have seen for themselves that the level of competence in all that it should be; they think they can do better and insist on being given the

Far from resenting this youthful ebullience, which sometimes may be actual arrogance, Donley says it can be made to pay off big for the company that will go to the trouble to comprehend it and exploit it.
