

Colonel Montgomery

Bagley joins Security Service; Montgomery heads 64th ABGp

Col. Monte D. Montgomery will replace Col. Bobby R. Bagley as the 64th Air Base Group commander here July 14.

Change of Command ceremonies will be held in the wing conference room at 9 a.m.

Colonel Montgomery comes to Reese from Lackland AFB, Tex., where he commanded the 3504th Recruiting Group (RG). Colonel Bagley, who assumed command of Air Base Group in March, will be assigned with Headquarters, USAF Security Service at Kelly AFB, Tex.

New base commander

Colonel Montgomery earned his Air force commission in 1956 as a graduate of the Reserve Officer Training Corps at Rutgers University. He attended pilot training at Vance AFB, Okla., receiving his wings in 1957.

The Oklahoma City native spent the next six years in Maine and then flew C-123 Provider and T-33 Shooting Star aircraft at Stewart AFB, N.Y., until 1966. After a tour of duty flying the AC-47 skytrain in Vietnam he returned to the United States and served as a T-37 instructor pilot at Williams AFB, Ariz.

In 1969, he became the assistant director of Operations for the 3525th Pilot Training Wing at Williams. From 1971

39 grads pin on wings today

Thirty-nine fledgling pilots will be winging their way to new assignments following graduation ceremonies for Undergraduate Pilot Training Class 78-06 here today.

The guest speaker for the 10 a.m. graduation will be Maj. Gen. Evan W. Rosencrans, Air Training Command vice-commander, General Rosencrans was graduated from West Point in 1948 and received his pilot training at Randolph AFB, Tex., and at Williams AFB, Ariz.

The general flew 133 combat missions during the Korean conflict. While flying the F-80 Shooting Star over North Korea he was credited with shooting down a MIG-15. General Rosencrans added 132 combat missions in Southeast Asia during the late 1960s. He piloted the F-100 Super Sabre there.

The command pilot became the ATC vice-commander in August, 1977.

Preceding the graduation in the base theater, there will be a coffee in the Officer's Open Mess. That is slated to start at 9 a.m. Following the graduation will be a luncheon at the Officer's Club at 11 a.m. with a Red Carpet tour on tap for graduation visitors at 12:30 p.m. A dinner-dance honoring the graduates will be held at the Officer's Club tonight, starting at 6:30.

In addition to the several awards that will be presented to the new pilots during this morning's graduation (ATC Commander's Trophy, Academic Award, Flying Award etc.) there will be awards presented at the dinner-dance by members of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce and the local chapter of the Air Force Association.

The graduating class includes 27 men from the Air Force Academy, six Reserve Officer Training Corps graduates, five members of the Air National Guard and one student commissioned through Officer Training School.

The class began training last July with 34 members. Five students were added to the class during training.

Starts at noon

Reese picnic set Sunday

Reese's annual Independence Day picnic and carnival gets underway at noon Sunday with a variety of entertainment and things to eat.

Morale, Welfare and Recreation officials have added something new to this year's picnic festivities. A special customized van and hot rod show is planned with auto owners from throughout the South Plains competing for trophies in several categories. The Mathis Recreation Center is sponsoring that portion of the picnic fun. Details on entries are available at the Center.

Reese's motorcycle Club has an afternoon of activity planned. The Club will demonstrate several types of riding techniques and there will be some special stunt demonstrations. A "slow race" is open to all cycle riders. There will also be displays of the latest in motorcycle equipment and safety gear.

The "American Peddlers" and the "Bill Shipley Disco Show" will provide all day music for the annual event. Both are regular favorites at Reese Clubs.

Many on-base organizations will sponsor booths in the carnival. Some of the games planned include: Dunk Your Favorite Big Shot, Skill Putting, Balloon Dodge, Softball Toss and the OMS Express. The Express is a unique train ride which will carry picnic goers on an open air tour of the base.

Other groups will sponsor food booths. Things to eat such as nachos, hamburgers, watermelon, burritos, cold sandwiches, pizza, hot dogs and beverages will be available at the various stands.

It's all going to be at the base picnic grounds Sunday.

Beating the heat

Capt. James Stefanic finds one of the few shady spots on the flightline while going over his checklist. Scorching 100-plus degree weather the past two weeks has heated things up here.

Enjoy a safe holiday weekend

Each of you in your own way will be celebrating a birthday this Tuesday, the birthday of a great nation which was built on the foundation of freedom and independence. Through the years many have given their lives in the defense of this freedom. Their deaths, as tragic as they were, were not in vain. It was those sacrifices which have preserved our freedom and made our way of life possible.

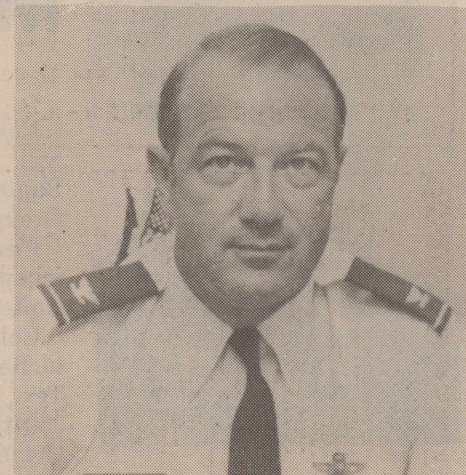

In celebrating this holiday, many will give their lives. The tragedy is that these deaths are needless. They serve no noble cause. They harm rather than help. These needless deaths are from accidents at home, on the road, and at play. In just a moment of carelessness or a few seconds of indifference, lives can be destroyed. The prediction is that nearly 600 individuals nation wide and between 40 and 50 people in Texas will commit this act of carelessness over the Fourth of July weekend.

Even though we experienced the safest Memorial Day weekend in five years, most of the summer is ahead of us along with the potential hazards associated with vacation travel and recreation activities. For the Fourth, as well as the rest of the summer, I ask each of you to use good judgment and common sense in your activities.

Have an enjoyable holiday, but make it a safe one.

Bishop

Safety group increases efforts

Safety editorial
by AIC Joseph K. Spies

The Consumer Product Safety Commission (CPSC), is stepping up efforts to halt the spiralling rise in injuries and deaths in and around the home.

The agency, which is geared to protect the consumer from hazardous products, has turned its attention to citizen band (C.B.) radios. The CPSC's concern with C.B. radios has been spurred on by the deaths of eight people in April because of electrical shocks received while installing C.B. antennas. Last year, there were 123 C.B. related deaths in the United States.

The commission will try to ease the problem by requiring labels on the radios, warning consumers about the potential hazards involved with C.B. radio and antenna installation. In addition, the commission suggests that inexperienced radio operators check with a local C.B. organization before attempting to install the radio or antenna.

The CPSC is also eyeing the 47 per cent increase in chain saw accidents since 1975. There were more than 40,000 people injured by chain saws last year, most getting caught in the "kickback" (sudden movement of blade toward body). Chain saw mishaps have claimed the lives of 30 people during the past three years, 80 per cent of those deaths were a result of partial decapitation.

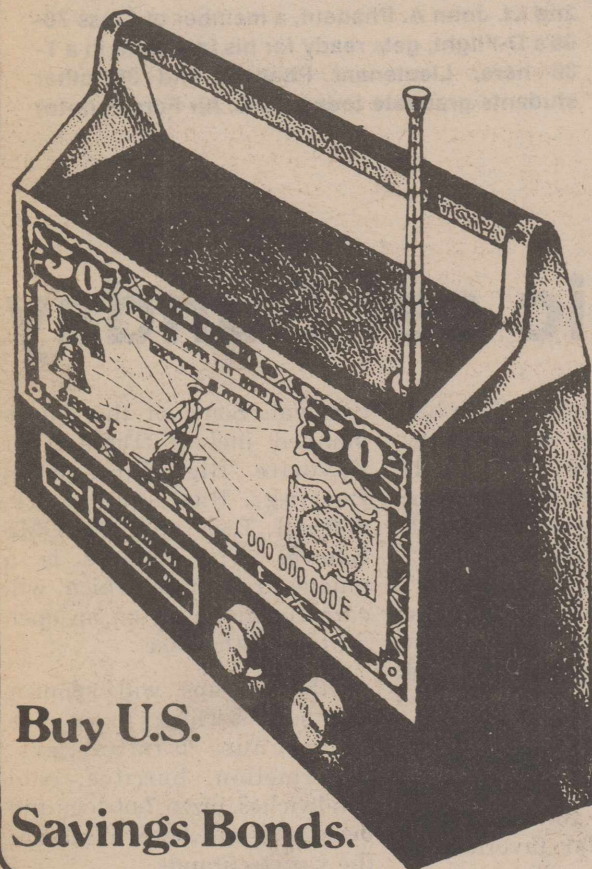

Another target of the CPSC is children's toys.

Recently, the agency has tested or ordered tests on 150,000 toys designed for children under eight-years-old. Toys identified as having sharp edges or other hazards will be banned from the market. Of particular concern to the commission are baby rattles. After Aug. 20, no rattles small enough to be swallowed by an infant will be manufactured.

More than 44,000 children were treated for injuries caused by sharp or swallowed toys last year.

The CPSC has important information for the American consumer. Either call the toll free hot line (800-638-2666) or write to: U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission, Washington D.C., 20207.

Roads become battlegrounds

by L. C. Walls
ATC Safety Office

If you're into driving during holiday periods, you're operating a mechanized killer used in modern-day car wars that punched out 574 Americans during the Fourth of July weekend last year.

On highway battlegrounds, this same machine kills almost as many Americans every year as did the entire Vietnam conflict.

If you plan to do mechanized battle again this holiday period, just remember you're at war with drug and booze abusers and similar irresponsible people who make mighty formidable enemies at closing speeds in excess of 100 miles per hour.

Car wars have been going on since the turn of the century and, surely, there's no end in sight. We can only hope to win one battle at a time and there's a big one coming up.

Last year during the July 4 weekend ATC squeaked by without a traffic fatality.

Let's all win again this year—obey traffic laws and watch out for that other guy!

Chaplain's comment

by Chaplain (Lt. Col.) Arnold G. Johnson

There's a quaint little Danish folk tale about a simple little spider that I would like to share with you.

It tells about how one day he slid down a new beautiful silvery strand from high up in the rafters of an old barn and began to build a new web at a lower level.

He busied himself for hours, for days, as he stretch his new web from the rafters on one side of the barn to the beams on the other, spinning a new home, catching flies who happened to get trapped in his new lair, and becoming quite prosperous in his new location.

Life was really enjoyable — except for one thing. He kept bumping into that one strand in the middle of his new world. As he looked at it one day he saw only that it stretched high up into the darkness of the loft and disappeared from sight. So he snapped it — his web collapsed immediately without the support of that forgotten strand . . . and he fell to the floor of the barn to be trampled beneath the feet of the animals.

That simple little story is revealed all around us in the lives of people who are trampled down by a load of worries, fears, and frustrations until their whole world collapses.

How about you? How do you feel? Have you forgotten about your God and cut Him out of your life . . . He is the Creator and Sustainer of all things.

Call upon Him in your time of trouble — reopen that avenue that might have been carelessly allowed to die out . . . Don't be too busy for Him . . . He has the time for you . . . "Come unto me all ye who labor and are heavy laden and I will give you rest." That's too good for me to pass up . . . How about you?

Be ready to vote

(An AFNS Editorial)

Every American citizen has the duty to vote. Thousands have fought and died for the privilege. It is our responsibility in this election year to use that right.

The Federal Post Card Application (FPCA) for absentee ballot makes voting away from home simple and easy. The FPCA may be used anywhere by Air Force members and their spouses and dependents and by U.S. civilians residing outside the territorial limits of the United States.

The FPCA must be filled out completely and accurately or it may be declared invalid. If election officials cannot read the information submitted on the FPCA, or part of it is left incomplete, an absentee ballot will not be mailed to the voter.

Your state of legal residence must be written on the FPCA form along with your legal residence address. The address to which you would like the ballot mailed must also be included.

Make sure to complete both sides of the form and sign the application.

Your voting officer has complete information on FPCAs and will assist you with proper addresses where the forms should be sent. Fill out your FPCA now and apply for your voting ballot.

The photos, displayed as a part of Reese's observance of ATC's 35th anniversary, contrast the early days of training in the Army Air Force Training Command with ATC's present basic, technical, and flying, training phases. The display may be seen in the lobby of bldg. 800 through July 7, and will then be located for one week each in the Base Exchange, the Officer's Club and the NCO Club lobbies through July.

Palace Flick-152 tells DOPMA story

With the proposed Defense Officer Personnel Management Act (DOPMA) again being considered by Congress, Air Force officers are reminded that Palace Flicks film report No. 152 covers the subject in depth.

The film is available now in the Customer Service Section of the Consolidated Base Personnel Office bldg. 1. No appointments are required to view the DOPMA film.

Last year the bill was passed by the House but Congress adjourned before the Senate took up the bill. In February of this year the House passed the bill by a vote of 351 to 7.

Senate staffers are expected to take up DOPMA early enough to permit House-Senate discussion in July.

DOPMA will affect officers in various ways depending upon their status at the time the Air Force transitions from the current officer management concepts to those contained in the act.

The 28-minute Palace Flick film discusses the single-grade promotion system, promotion opportunity, phase points, tenure, selective continuation, all-regular career force and how the passage of DOPMA will affect each individual officer.

Base veterinarian plans rabies clinic on July 8

A rabies vaccination clinic for all cats and dogs belonging to military personnel and their dependents will be held here July 8.

According to Capt. (Dr.) Richard C. Postlewaite, Chief of Veterinary Services, the clinic will be held from 8:30 to 11:30 a.m. in the Veterinary Services facility, bldg. 631.

The captain noted that all dogs and cats four-months-old or older in Reese Village are required to have a current rabies vaccination. He explained that a current vaccination is one given within the past year.

All animals must be carried or restrained by a leash. Only rabies and distemper vaccinations will be given during the clinic.

Annually, more than 500,000 animal bite cases are reported to medical authorities in the United States. Approximately 30,000 victims receive the painful series of anti-rabies vaccine injections used in the prevention of rabies.

Capt. (Dr.) Lee Booker, staff veterinarian at Wilford Hall USAF Medical Center, Tex., says that the vast majority of animal bite victims are young children. He notes that not only may the children be subjected to the 14-21 day shot treatment, but; that bites may leave children with emotional as well as physical scars.

Dogs and cats (the most common pets) are the most likely animals to transmit rabies to humans should they contract the disease from other domestic pets or wildlife. By minimizing the potential for rabies in pets, explains Captain Booker, the threat of humans getting the disease is reduced. He adds that it is essential that rabies vaccinations are kept current.

Montgomery heads 64th ABGp

through '75 Colonel Montgomery was assigned to the Directorate of Programs, Aircraft Allocation Division at Headquarters USAF. Before assuming command of the 3504th Recruiting Group at Lackland he attended the U.S. Army War College.

Colonel Montgomery holds a bachelor of arts degree in American Studies from Rutgers and a Master of arts degree in Management from Central Michigan University.

He is married to the former Jane Penny of Cedarhurst N.Y., and has four sons: Monte, Jr., 21; David 17; Peter 15 and Christopher, 7.

Popular speaker leaves

One of the biggest voids to be filled when Colonel Bagley leaves will be in the Reese Speakers Bureau. The former Prisoner of War in Southeast Asia has been one of the most sought after speakers on the South Plains since his arrival here in April last year.

The Cumming, Ga., native became the deputy commander for Operations upon arrival at Reese and later became the base commander. He is a command pilot with more than 3,000 flying hours to his credit, including 49 combat missions in Southeast Asia. Colonel Bagley's unarmed RF-101 Voodoo was shot down over North Vietnam in September, 1967. He was captured and held prisoner until March, 1973.

Health care changes tomorrow

Beginning tomorrow, the Department of Defense will implement a New Health Care System which will affect most beneficiaries now receiving care under the Uniformed Services Health Benefits Program.

Currently, the system consists of two parts, Direct Care, through the Military Treatment Facility and CHAMPUS. Tomorrow, a new addition, called the Cooperative Care Program will be implemented.

The Cooperative Care Program will actually be a phasing together of the two existing programs in order to provide the most benefits at the lowest possible cost. Under the present system, if a patient is released to CHAMPUS, the Military Treatment Facility disengages completely for care for that particular problem.

Under Cooperative Care, the Military Treatment Facility Providers may, under certain circumstances, send otherwise CHAMPUS Eligible individuals to a civilian facility for diagnostic tests which will be paid for out of Hospital Supplemental Funds. This will be governed by strict guidelines, and the patient will be followed in the Military Treatment Facility by a Military Health Care Provider.

In other cases, where patients need special therapy, not available in the Military Facility, patients may be sent to a civilian facility just for the required therapy which will be cost shared by the patient with CHAMPUS. Again, this procedure will operate under strict guidelines.

In the third case, the Military Health Care Provider may determine that none of the required care is available within the Military Treatment Facility and release the patient for care under CHAMPUS. When referring to care under CHAMPUS we are referring only to that type of care which is now covered under current CHAMPUS Guidelines. Any costs not shared by CHAMPUS are the direct liability of the patient.

Active duty military personnel are not eligible for CHAMPUS under any circumstances. Except for bonafide emergencies, active duty military must seek care from the Military Treatment Facility.

Initial guidance on the Cooperative Care Program indicates that Military Supplemental Funds may be used to pay certain diagnostic tests for which CHAMPUS refused payment or the patient payed for themselves, retroactive to June 1, 1977. These claims will be reviewed on a case basis using the applicable guidelines. For further guidance and information, contact the local Health Benefits Advisor in the Registrar Section of the Reese Hospital or call ext. 3521 or 3522.

'Cool it' in the sunshine!

For the unusually hot weather Reese people have been experiencing and which can be expected to occur in the next couple of months, extra protection against the sun and ways to combat the heat are needed.

Salt tablets, according to Maj. (Dr.) Morton Rayfield, base Hospital, should only be used by those personnel who will be exposed to the sun for an extended period of time. Anyone on a salt restricted diet should consult their physician before using salt tablets.

Other tips for the summer months are to avoid the sun during the heat of the day, usually from 10 a.m. till 3 p.m. Wear loose clothing and remember, light colors reflect and dark colors absorb heat. For those areas not protected by clothing, use some form of oil or tanning lotion for protection.

Supervisors confused about abuse programs

"A common misconception about rehabilitative drug and alcohol abuse programs, says Reese's chief of civilian personnel, "is that the programs exempt their enrollment from other corrective action. But, that just isn't the way it works."

Tom Ireland, who heads up the civilian personnel division here, tried to clear up some of that confusion last week in a locally prepared information brief. The focal point of which, was that many supervisors are unsure whether or not they can use performance warning letters or take other disciplinary actions on civilians who have been offered or are in one of the Social Actions rehabilitation programs.

"If the programs provided exemption," noted Ireland, "then all an employee confronted with a proposed disciplinary action would have to do to 'get off the hook' is to admit to drug and alcohol abuse and be protected by the program. However, it doesn't work that way. There are no sanctuaries for misconduct, careless, unsafe or unsatisfactory work."

Edward Sanchez, employee relations and development specialist, added that employees become snared in the drug and alcohol abuse web for many reasons and that supervisors must use whatever personnel management tools are available to them to maintain the mission and aid the individual.

"The bottom line is that both Social Actions services and the disciplinary system are meant to be rehabilitative in nature," concludes Ireland. They complement rather than contradict each other and they may be used together."

For more information about the civilian drug and alcohol abuse program call Sanchez at ext. 3801 or talk to the people in Social Actions at ext. 3640.

AFCS hits 17th birthday

by SMSgt. Stan H. Stahl
1958th Comm. Sq.

Tomorrow, one of the relatively youngest Air Force commands celebrates its 17th anniversary.

Although the Air Force

Communications Service (AFCS) is new in years, it is a command with traditions and a history which extend all the way back to the early days of aviation.

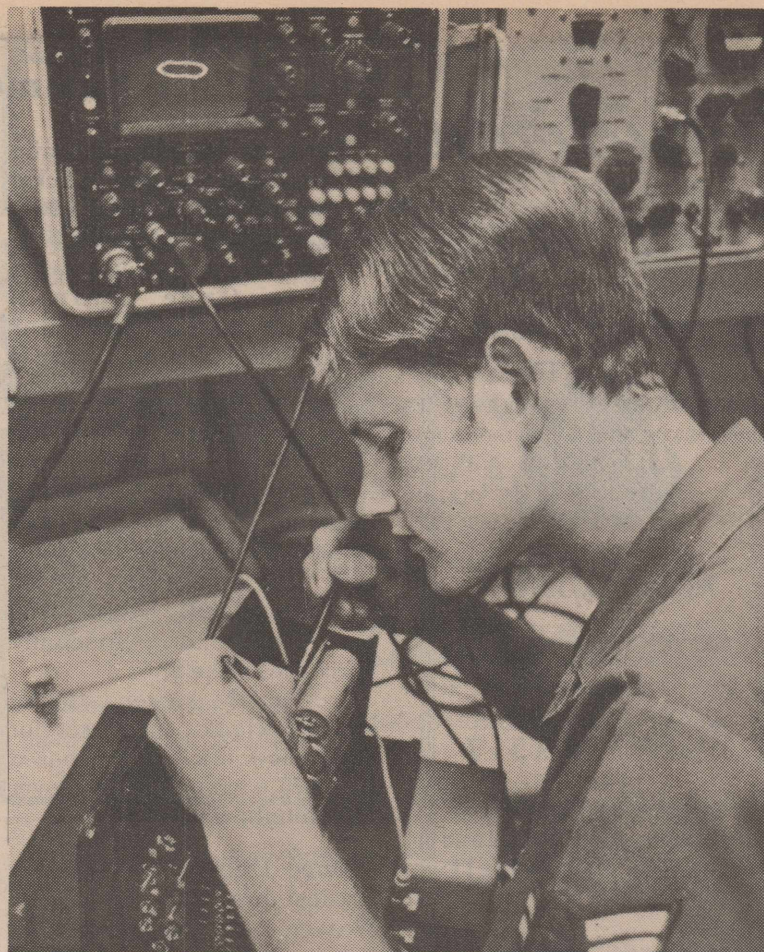

AFCS is the single manager of Air Force communications and operates at approximately 500 locations around the world with more than 48,000 members.

Technically skilled people, diverse tasks, a myriad of equipment and worldwide commitments are distinctive characteristics of AFCS. AFCS people plan, program, engineer, install, operate and maintain a variety of communications—electronics—meteorological (C-E-M) systems and equipment and provide air traffic control services and facilities for Air Force commanders and other customers.

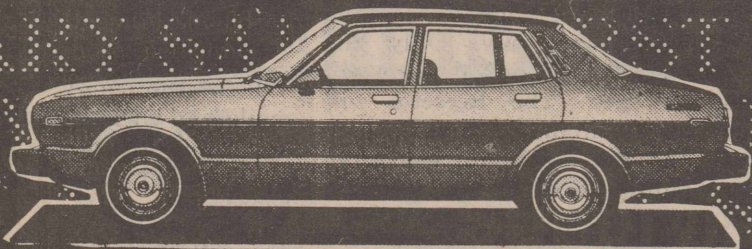

This wide variety of activities and services means that AFCS people are some of the most technically skilled in the Air Force. To illustrate this, approximately one-fifth of AFCS' people attend formal training annually.

At Reese, the 1958th Communications Squadron, commanded by Capt. Robert A. Allen Jr., has the responsibility for "Providing the Reins of Command" (AFCS motto) in support of the local flying mission.

Checks power

A1C Richard Weaver checks out a power supply unit. At left, SSgt. Gary Huber works on some weather equipment. Both men are in the 1958th Communications Squadron here.

Recruiters seek OTS applicants

Air Force Recruiting Service officials and personnel offices throughout the Air Force are seeking qualified, degree-holding enlisted members to help fill Officer Training School (OTS) requirements for fiscal year 1979.

Officials noted that historically a large percentage of personnel initially selected for OTS are enlisted members. This year 48 percent of the OTS selectees were enlisted personnel. Recently, seven Reese airmen were tabbed for OTS.

The Air Force is seeking enlisted college graduates to meet the FY 79 recruiting service OTS entry objective of 3,250 officers. More than 1,000 persons with mathematical, engineering, physics, meteorology and computer science baccalaureate degrees will be needed for OTS entry this year. About 500 women with non-technical degrees also are being sought for OTS.

To help scan and compile officer selection folders for the annual requirement, Air Force Military Personnel Center officials have notified base personnel offices of the various program requirements and application procedures.

Additional information may be obtained from the Reese CPO at ext. 3714 and talk to SrA. Larry Barron or Sgt. Angela Marshall.

Five bases get IFS system

Reese will be among five Air Training Command undergraduate pilot training bases slated for a new computer generated image visual training system by mid-1979.

McDonnell Douglas Electronics Company has been awarded a contract for more than $6 million to equip 40 jet trainer simulator cockpits with advanced VITAL (virtual image take off and landing) visual simulation systems.

The system will be installed on T-37 and T-38 trainers in the undergraduate pilot training (UPT) instrument flight simulators (IFS) program. The UPT-IFS simulator replaced 40 hours of flying in T-37 and T-38 aircraft used by ATC.

VITAL systems provide a realistic image in the front windows of the simulators for night visual and weather training. ATC is obtaining the system primarily for weather training. More than 8,000 simultaneous lightpoints are combined with more than 300 surfaces in the VITAL system to produce the realistic illusion necessary for effective training.

Other ATC bases scheduled to receive UPT-IFS computer generated image units are Williams AFB, Ariz.; Vance AFB, Okla.; Laughlin Air Force Base, Tex.; and Columbus AFB, Miss.

The Aeronautical Systems Division, Simulator System Program Office, Wright-Patterson AFB, Ohio, awarded the VITAL system contract.

Pirates get hot in extra innings

The Reese Little League Pirates seem to get better as the game gets older.

Last week the Pirates carried two league contests into extra innings, upsetting the previously unbeaten Red Six, 9-8, and tacking the Braves with a 9-7 loss.

The hottest team on the circuit heading into the mid-season break, the Pirates broke six-all ties after six innings in both games with three-run explosions. August Chavin's two run double broke things open in the seventh against the Red Sox while Mark Packowicz' ground rule double triggered the win the Braves.

James Boyter picked up both wins in relief.

In the loop's only other game last week, the Braves rebounded to smash the Tigers, 18-9.

Most of the damage came in the second inning when the Braves pushed 13 runs across the plate on nine walks, four hits and two wild pitches. Key hits by Delwin Jones, Byron Gross and David Molina sparked the Braves' barrage. Molina went the distance for the win.

Hard swing Braves player Gentry Dozier grimaces while taking a mean cut at a pitch during a Little League game here last week.

Scribe picks Jets to capture regional

by R.D. Monson

The Reese Rattlers invade the stronghold of the nationally ranked Williams Jets next week as they make their bid for the Air Training Command Western Regional title and a berth in the command championships.

The hosting Jets, among the top ranked slow-pitch softball teams in the nation, are the heavy favorites to walk away with the regional title and then to snare the command crown as well. The Mather Sky Knights, Lowry Lobos and Reese Rattlers will all be trying to play the spoiler at the three-day tournament which begins Thursday.

The local squad was hit with a rash of injuries the past few weeks and will carry only 12 players into the regionals. The team will be without Steve Coleman, the number-two home run hitter throughout the season, and will miss outfielder Bernie Williamson because of an ankle injury. A temporary duty assignment will keep utility infielder Tom Ritorto out of the regional lineup too.

The one glimmer of good news for the Rattlers is that Larry Scheppe, the team's top home run producer, has recovered from a mid-season injury and will probably start at third base in the tourney.

Co-coaches Al Chock and Vince Micucci will more than likely start Dan Collins at first base, Micucci at second, Rick Wilson at shortstop, Don Depew on the mound and John Busby behind the plate. Patrolling the outfield will be Dav Davis in left, Phil Carr or Bruce Bradway in right, Terry Cox in center field and Randy Zoll will be the starting rover.

Reserves will include Carr as catcher and Jon Zink as a utility outfielder.

The Rattlers tuned up for the tournament last week by downing Southwestern Bell, 11-7. The base team ripped Southwestern for five runs the first inning on three homers. Micucci and Collins each slammed shots out of the McKenzie Park field while Zoll opened the explosive first-inning show with an inside-the-park home run.

Southwestern Bell drew to within two runs (6-4) after three innings but the Rattlers regained the upperhand with three runs in the fifth and then coasted in for their 10th city league win against two losses.

Supply-1, OMS continue duel for IM league lead

Organizational Maintenance and Supply-1 continued their "down the back stretch" duel for the intramural regular season title last week with both squads picking up three wins.

League leading Supply-1 (16-2) slowed the squaring 54th Flying Training Squadron, 7-2, bombed the 35th FTS, 17-5, and drew a forfeit from Sturon-1 to stay one and one-half games ahead of challenging OMS.

OMS, who have resumed the second place role after briefly topping the circuit standings two weeks ago, had three easy wins. The team blitzed Supply-2, 13-2, buried Sturon-1, 14-3 and matched Supply-1's "freebee" win with a forfeit from the 1958th Communications Squadron.

Field Maintenance-1 and the Medics moved into a tie for third with 11-4 season marks, just three and one-half games off the pace. FMS-1 beat Group-2, 16-5, and the Civil Engineers, 10-7. The Medics handed CE its second setback of the week, 9-2, and then beat the Youth Center (Y.C.), 11-5.

Rounding out last week's action, the 35th FTS edged FMS-2, 8-6, the 54th FTS beat Sturon-1, 12-2, Supply-2 pounded the Y.C., 25-3, Group-2 romped past Sturon-2, 16-5, and the 35th FTS doubled the score on Supply-2, 16-8. The final two

Sports in brief

Women's league tightens

The Blue Diamonds, fresh off a third place finish in the Reese Invitational Slow-pitch Softball Tournament, upset the league leading Red Hots Sunday to title scramble into a two-team race.

Spotting the Red Hots a 3-0 lead through four innings, the Blue Diamonds pushed across five runs in the final innings to raise their season mark to 6-3, just one game behind the Red Hots (7-2).

Earlier in the day the Red Hots picked up a forfeit win from the Dusty Devils (2-7) and the Better Halves (3-6) beat the Devils, 13-3.

DON'T WASTE ENERGY!

Solar Tea. For those who enjoy tea, particularly iced tea in the summer, use solar heat to make a tea concentrate. Place two tea bags in a quart jar of water and let it sit outside in the sun all day. Use concentrate as desired. Has an excellent natural flavor.
