Haskell Woman Impressed With Sights, Places Seen on Colorado Trip

(Editor's Note: In the following article Mrs. Jesse Jones tells of the interesting places, picturesque scenery and other highlights of a recent trip to Colorado with her husband, Rev. Jesse Jones and their uncle, George Metcalfe, a former resident here.)

So many have asked me to tell them about my recent trip to Colorado, that I will try to briefly describe a few of the things I saw. To begin with this trip was a birthday gift from my husband. You have probably all seen the same things, but it was a wonderful new experience to me.

We left home at 2:30 a. m.
Oct. 11. We met our uncle, George Metcalfe, at seven o'- clock in Muleshoe, where we joined company with him for the hunting trip.

We traveled west and northwest most of the day, going through Clovis, Fort Sumner Vaughn, Encino, and "Cline's
Corner" where we ate lunch.
Then we went through Albuquerque, and soon started traveling through the Indian reservation. I think we drove almost 200 miles, and didn't see anything but Indians. (I noticed one Baptist Church
and one Presbyterian Church,
as we went through one of their towns.)

We saw quite a few families traveling in wagons. The chief would be sitting in the spring seat, driving his horses, and the squaw sitting on the floor of the wagon, behind the spring seat, maybe by herself, or sometimes with a group of children. The homes of the Indians were very interesting to me. They were built of mud (or adobe I believe they call it.) They are round in shape, and therefore would not have any corners to sweep! Then they have a summer house
built on to the mud, or adobe, house. It is just a frame made of logs, or sticks, covered with brush or vines.

We crossed the Continental Divide about 2 o'clock, then on to Aztec, N. M., where we spent the night, as we were very tired.

The next morning we went to see the "Aztec Ruins," a National Monument of New Mexico. Let me tell you a little about this as it is very interesting to see.

The Aztec Ruins National Monument preserves the ruins of one of the largest pre-Spanish villages in the Southwest.
The biggest room here was once a building of 500 rooms, three stories high. It has been excavated by the American Museum of Natural History, and furnishes an excellent example of classical pueblo construction.

The large ruin was constructed as one huge rectangular apartment building, surrounding a central plaza. The rooms were built in blocks, several at a time. Walls of the rooms were continuous within each section, adding strength to the structure, and giving the impression of a well planned building. The rooms were 10 by 12 feet, with ceilings nine feet high. It is thought that the buildings were built between the years 1106 A. D.
and 1121 A. D., according to history. It would take too long to tell of all the interesting things about this place. It is well worth a person's time to see it all. There's one thing, though, that would be interesting to know, and that is how many modern day Americans would hold out to build a structure like this with the same few tools and conveniences that those ancient people had to work with?

We started traveling again,
and soon began seeing many interesting things. We saw several saw mills, some coal mines in operation, and one match factory. Then there were thousands of acres in apple orchards, with the apples still ungathered. Many trees were almost breaking down
from their heavy crop of beautiful red apples.

We saw many fields of alfalfa, fresh baled and ready to haul in, feed in the shock,
acres and acres of pinto beans,
or where the beans had just been harvested. One town had a Pinto Bean Festival and selected their Queen!

Then there were many fat cattle and sheep, grazing on the hillside, and valleys, but on the whole trip of over 1,600 miles, I only saw two flocks of chickens.

By now, we had crossed the Rocky Mountains and had seen so many beautiful scenes, and I had looked so much that my eyes were about to go out!

We came to the place where we were to camp, late in the afternoon. I cannot describe the beauty of the forest where we camped in the San Juan National Forest, Colorado. I think we were about 9,000 feet altitude.

The trees were gorgeous in their autumn colors. There were the tall pines, with the aspens mingled among them.

many places, of white and purple daisies, and wild rose bushes. The soil is very rich from the pine needles and cones that have fallen and de-cayed, down through the ages.

It was in the midst of surroundings like this, that we camped. You don't have to ride a rocket to the moon "to get away from it all." You can just camp out, in a big forest, sit by a camp fire and listen to the moaning of the wind in the tree tops, or try to count the stars that the Master hung in the sky. It will make you realize how small a thing man is physically in comparison with the giant forces of nature.

After about a week of living
"Camped out" cooking biscuits in the "old Dutch oven" on coals from the fire on the ground, drinking mountain water, and just sitting and
"getting rested"—(everybody hunted but me)—we started for home, to a beautiful town called Haskell, the sweetest
and best place on earth.—
Mrs. Jesse Jones.

Most of the things we wait
for aren't worth the delay.

Rice is the staple food for more than one billion people.

In September, 1884, a Methodist preacher, Rev. J. B. Wood conducted the first preaching service held in Haskell. The service was held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Tucker. Haskell County's first election was held on Jan. 13, 1885, when the town of Haskell was designated the county seat and county officials were elected. A total of 57 votes was polled.

Paint Creek . . . Community News

BY MRS. GENE OVERTON

Braceros are spread out over the cotton fields in this community by the hundreds. The cotton pulling is over up about O'Brien and Rochester and the men are bringing their crews down to help us gather our crops. If the weather will only stay pretty most of the farmers will be pulled over by the end of the week. The braceros are anxious to finish the cotton and get back home to Mexico before the weather turns too cold. They like to come to Texas and help in the cotton harvest. I have heard it said that with the difference in the money exchange and in living standards they make enough in the three months they pull cotton here to live in comfort for the rest of the year in Mexico, and most of them have large families, too.

Paint Creek High School presented its football royalty at halftime at the Vera game last Thursday afternoon. Judy Caloway, a junior and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Garland Caloway, was presented as football sweetheart and Robert Weaver, a junior and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Weaver, was presented as football hero.

The pep squad formed a large heart in the center of the field, and cars came from each goal carrying the sweetheart, here and their escorts. Attending the couples were the runner-up in the choosing, John R. Watson, a sophomore and son of Mrs. Lucille Watson, and Kenneth Carlton, a junior and son of Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Carlton were second and third choice of the pep squad for the hero, and Margaret Fischer, a junior and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Fischer, and Sue Watson, a senior, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Watson were second and third choice of the football players for sweetheart. Robert presented Judy with a bouquet of red roses as the pep squad sang Let Me Call You Sweetheart. The girls were dressed in formal.

Mrs. W. A. Montgomery is a patient in the Stamford Sanitarium following surgery Saturday morning. She is getting along nicely. Her daughter and her family, Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Cathey and Elizabeth from Grand Prairie were here for the surgery, and Mrs. Cathey remained to be with her mother while she has to stay in the hospital.

Kenneth Lafferty, district Scout executive was a community visitor Monday afternoon. He was checking the Scout finance drive. Pat Morrison and Bill Tate are collecting for the Scout program, so give your contributions to one of them. Last year the finance drive did not bring in enough to allow for a full year's Scouting program. The aquatic camp, the bicycle trip and the wilderness camp had to be dispensed with because of not enough funds. We want our Scouts to have a full program of Scouting, and this must be paid for by voluntary contributions.

Paint Creek had every single school board member and all of the faculty in attendance at the Haskell County Texas State Teachers Association meeting last Monday night. It was a dinner meeting at the Elementary school lunch room in Haskell, and the speaker for the evening was Dr. Kiker from ACC. Attending from Paint Creek were the following faculty members and husbands or wives: Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Owens, Mrs. Irene Ballard, Mrs. Lilla Hefflin, Mrs. W. C. Taylor, Miss Shirley Thane, Miss Billie Boshier, Mrs. Manley Sikes, Willie Lee Medford, Mr. and Mrs. Pat Morrison and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Tate. The board members were Mr. and Mrs. Paul Fischer, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Medford, Mr. and Mrs. Ira Coleman, Mr. and Mrs. Sammy Griffith, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Overton, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Cook and Alec McLennan.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Fischer and daughters Margaret and Paulette were weekend visitors to the campus of the Texas Lutheran College at Seguin where they visited their daughter Clara Ann who is a freshman there.

Mr. and Mrs. Pat Morrison were in Graham Saturday where they visited Pat's parents, Rev. and Mrs. V. P. Morrison.

Judy and Sandy Earles who are student nurses at Hendrick Memorial Hospital in Abilene, spent the weekend with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. V. Earles and Bob.

Killing rattlesnakes is becoming rather commonplace in our community. Allen Overton killed a great long one near the Durward Livengood's place and he had killed two others up the highway in front of his place a week or two before that. There was a big one dead on the new farm to market road at the turn. The Rockdale people have killed several on their places, and some have been seen and gotten away. I guess the lake is driving them from their dens, or maybe with so much rain their dens are flooded. Anyway they haven't been seen in years in our part of the community until now. Ralph Rainey, who is almost a professional rattlesnake hunter, has always thought there were large numbers on the Griffith place in those caves in their pasture. In early spring when snakes first leave their dens and can't see very well, he catches them by the tow sack full. Well, maybe not full, but he came by home with six huge ones, and they almost filled the sack.

Manley Sikes, who travels for the Texas Department of Agriculture spent last weekend with his wife and daughter Mary Beth. Mrs. Sikes teaches our high school English and they have an apartment in Stamford but their home is in Bangs. The men had a domino party Friday night and Mr. Sikes came.

Mr. and Mrs. James Raughton attended the Baylor-A&M football game in Waco Oct. 25. They visited his brother, Rudy, who is a senior in Baylor. Jean Ann and Janie stayed with Mrs. Roy Overton, and Jimmie Dan stayed with his aunt and uncle Mr. and Mrs. Simpson and Danny.

John Kohout has returned from the General Hospital in Wichita Falls where he has been a patient for the past several weeks.

Paint Creek little folks were royalty at the Halloween Carnival at Oliver Street School in Stamford. Dwight Overton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Irwin Overton, was King of the first grade and Dianne Selby, daughter of Mrs. Veda Selby, was Queen in the 4th grade.

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Overton and son Mike, and Culver Carney of Stamford, spent last weekend visiting their twin sons. They spent Friday in Denton with William and Saturday in College Station with Waller, returning home Sunday. Waller sprained his right ankle while playing basketball with the A Infantry team Thursday and will be on crutches for a week or two. He has been Ordnance corporal of A Infantry, but last week was assigned assistant squad leader of the 2nd squad. All our Haskell County sophomores who are in the corps are acting corporals. James Norman is Guidon bearer of B. Artillery, and Dale Pennington is assistant squad leader and athletic corporal of C Armored. Our freshmen in the corps are getting along fine too. Dan Griffith is in the Veterinarian Company and Dub Sims is in the Armored.

Ray Sims, assistant county agent at Robert Lee spent last week at A&M attending the state meeting of the county agents and visiting his brother, Dub. He was offered a brand new job, and one that is one of the best jobs an assistant county agent can have. If he decides to take it, I'll tell you about it later.

Mrs. G. W. Roberts was quite ill last week but is up and much better this week. She was too ill to go to the clinic, and the doctor had to make the trip out here to see her. Her daughter Mrs. Wayne Phemister from Haskell was out here with her.

William Overton is a pledge of the Wesley Players, a dramatic group on the NTSC campus and has a part in their forthcoming production "The Lottery."

Glenda Walton daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Walton, and a junior at NTSC, has pledged a sorority at the college.

There have been several Stanley parties in the community lately. Mrs. Jack Daniels was hostess for one last Friday afternoon and Mrs. Paul Fischer was hostess for one Wednesday afternoon.

Rudy Raughton and Jerry McCombie from Baylor University in Waco spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. Doc Raughton.

Doniece Johnson and Sara Carlisle, students from H-SU spent Saturday night with her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Pat Morrison and daughters.

Paint Creek college students home for the weekend were Roddy Kuenstler from H-SU Abilene; Eddie Lee Thane and Leon Hokanson from Midwestern University, Wichita Falls, and Glenda Walton from N. T. S. C., Denton.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Gardner and children from Dallas were here last weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Cox. The Cox's also had their son's family, Mr. and Mrs. Othella Cox and children Mrs. Weibert here. Othella was able to give blood to his aunt, Mrs. Arthur Montgomery during her surgery.

James Moore from Lubbock was a guest of his brother's family Rev. and Mrs. Bud Moore.

Rev. Bud Moore is in San Antonio this week attending the Texas Baptist convention.

The 7th grade enjoyed a "Trick or Treat" party on Halloween night. They met at the school and went trick or treating and then their hostesses Mrs. Vern Howard, Mrs. Jesse Cook and Mrs. Leo McKeever took them to the Superdop for refreshments. Attending were Marjorie Earles, Margie Scheets, Rita Wood, Billie Cockrell, Eddie McKeever, Charlotte Cook, Vern Howard, Edwin Livengood, Butch Kohout and Ray Cook. The girls spent the night with Charlotte Cook.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our sincere appreciation to friends and neighbors for everything that was done for us during the illness and death of our loved one; to the doctors and nurses for their tender care and helpfulness; for the beautiful flowers, the food brought to our homes, and for the many comforting words and messages of sympathy. May God bless each of you for your prayers.—Mrs. Roy Boland and son, Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Duvall, El Dorado, Ark.

Esso Extra
Out-performs many gasolines selling for 1¢ more!

Esso Extra sells for premium—not super-premium—price, but it out-performs many gasolines selling for 1c to 2c more.

Out-performs them in clean-burning characteristics: it burns so clean that spark-plugs last up to 50% longer.

Out-performs them in anti-knock operation: its octane rating is high—higher, in fact, than the octane rating of many gasolines for which motorists pay a super-premium price.

Out-performs them in quick starting . . . in smooth, safe acceleration . . . in mileage.

Esso Extra is the No. 1 premium in Texas . . . first in premium sales . . . first in premium performance.

Golden Esso Extra
In a quality class by itself

This superior gasoline stands out as the best gasoline to use in any car in any price class. It is the only gasoline that will give you all the performance you paid for when you bought your modern car. It has highest octane rating; it eliminates engine "bucking" as you start, engine "rumble" as you drive, and engine knock as you accelerate. A must for cars with air-conditioning, power brakes and power steering. It's the gasoline for the 1959 models.

HUMBLE OIL & REFINING CO.

Use this great gasoline in your car. prefer its performance, you'll like its economy and most of all, you'll be pleased with its economy.

Fill up under the Humble sign in your neighborhood. Every time!

Dependable Quality at Regular Price

If your car performs well on regular gasoline, Humble Motor Fuel is your gasoline. Every gallon is made to exacting quality specifications.

You get three distinct advantages: (1) continuous improvement; (2) uniform quality wherever you fill up; and (3) a patented solvent oil that keeps engines clean. Among the regulars, Humble Motor Fuel is second to none.

Fort Worth Show Offers $195,000 In Prize Money

FORT WORTH (Sp.)—More than 5,000 live stock premium lists for the 1959 Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show are being mailed to livestock exhibitors, potential exhibitors and other interested persons throughout the nation.

The Fort Worth show will offer about $195,000 in prize money for entries in the livestock division, the horse show and rodeo. Premium lists for the horse show will be mailed at a later date.

The 1959 exposition will be held Jan. 30 through Feb. 8. Persons interested in obtaining a premium list or entry blanks may write the Stock Show at P. O. Box 150, Fort Worth 1, Texas.

Deadline for cattle, sheep and swine entries in the livestock judging is Dec. 15. Horses may be entered until January 1.

The annual Stock Show rodeo will feature TV and movie star Dale Robertson, who will present a musical show created especially for the Fort Worth show. Robertson, a native of Oklahoma, worked as a horse trainer on a ranch before becoming an actor. He now appears weekly as star of the "Tales of Wells Fargo" television series.

BY VERN SANFORD

Want to increase your catch of fish?

Here are a few facts gathered at random from fishermen who have been at it for a long time.

One angler says that he who fishes an hour or two immediately following dawn and just before dark likely will have better luck. Reason given: Fish just seem to bite a trifle better during early morning hours and late in the afternoon.

Another angler contends that fish strike better on cloudy days and just before a storm. Reason: Fish feed on insects and insects are more active then.

Fish where fish are more apt to be found, is the quite logical advice of fisherman number three.

He drops these hints: Crappie usually stay near the shore in the spring and move into deeper water, 13 to 15 feet in the summer.

Black bass stick close to shore at moderate depths, usually three or four feet down. Seldom are they found below 10 feet. They lurk about vegetation, rocks and stumps.

White bass ordinarily are found near the surface, often in the middle of a body of water. Sometimes, however, they are caught at depths of 30 or 40 feet. They feed almost exclusively on gizzard shad. Often their presence is indicated by schools of shad leaping from the water in an attempt to escape the hungry fish. (Try a spinning top-water lure or go deep with a spoon.)

Catfish bite well at night. They may be caught at almost any depth. Usually they are found in three to 10 feet of water.

A seasoned angler says, give the fish the kind of bait to which it is accustomed. For example, he uses a silver lure that resembles the gizzard shad, when fishing for white bass.

Another says, if you're fishing in an area where noise prevails, don't worry about the noise you make. But, if you're fishing in a secluded spot—better be quiet as possible.

This tip from an oldtimer: Four times as many fish will congregate in an area where food is distributed regularly, as compared with normal areas. So, if you want to improve your angling average, try feeding fish on a regular basis.

Some Timely Tips
Long ago we learned that everyone has at least one good, original idea. Also we discovered that no one individual knows all about everything. So, in our contacts with outdoors people, we are ever on the alert for tips to relay to our readers.

We'd like to include a few, right now, for your consideration. Chances are you heard about some of them so long ago that you had forgotten them. If so, this will serve to remind you. Anyway, here they are:

Sea Sickness—If you are afraid of becoming seasick, take along a bottle of Karo, syrup. As soon as you feel the least bit woozy take a couple of spoonfuls of the syrup. You will be in tip-top shape in just a few minutes.

Candy with dextrose ingredients serves the same purpose.

To Fight Fires—You'll find a heavy blanket, especially an old army blanket, mighty useful in that boat of yours. Not only will a blanket make a comfortable seat cushion, but there are times when it also provides much needed warmth. A blanket comes in mighty handy in case of cold winds, sudden rainstorms, or emergency camping out.

Perhaps most important is its availability to smother gasoline flames. A blanket soaked in water is a mighty potent weapon against a fire.

Motor Care—When you get ready to dock your boat for a few days, leave your outboard motors running while you disconnect the gas line. Your motors then will continue to run until the gas in the carburetor is burned up. Purpose is to drain the carburetor completely before putting it away.

This will help prevent gum inside the carburetor. Also it will keep the cylinders from sticking when you get ready to start up again.

Another good motor tip, especially in cold weather, but a good habit to develop, is to kick the motor over a few times after you tilt it up. This will remove all water from the cylinder heads and help prevent freezing.

Motor Oil—Many an outboard enthusiast learns too late how all-important oil is to the motor. Every outboard gas can says on it, in jumbo type, that you should add one-half pint of oil per gallon of gas. Unfortunately the same instructions also specify one quart of oil for the six gallon can. It doesn't take much of a mathematician to figure that at a half pint per gallon there should be three pints or a quart and a half of oil for every six gallons.

If you think that quart of oil is enough, just try it for six months. Then take your motor in and have it rebuilt. That's what has happened to a lot of good motors, including one belonging to yours truly.

Will Attend Patrol School Graduation Exercises

Mr. and Mrs. Billie Jack Ray, accompanied by Mrs. Tommy Ray Johnson will leave tonight for Austin, where they will attend the graduation exercises for Tommy Ray Johnson, who is graduating from the Texas Highway Patrol school in Austin Friday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray plan to spend the weekend in Austin, where the Haskell man is on the program to call for a square dance in Austin Saturday night. The event will be a part of the Mid-Texas Square Dance Association Convention being held in the City Coliseum in Austin.

The couple will return home Sunday.

Hale-Aikin Committee Recommends Sweeping Reforms In Public Schools

The final Hale-Aikin committee report, distributed last week to county education groups across the state, proposes some sweeping reforms in Texas public schools, reports The Texas Observer.

Principal recommendations include:

A 180 day school year, plus an additional five days for schools to orient teachers and formulate lesson plans. The school year thus would become nine and one-half months with an optional provision for a 10-month term in districts desiring it.

A revision of the compulsory attendance law to the full 180 day school year instead of the current unenforceable 120 day provision. All children of scholastic age, 6 to 17, would be covered in place of the present 7-16 age limits.

Pre-school orientation in basic English for non-English speaking children.

Increased teacher salaries based on a minimum of $3800 for nine and one-half months, $4000 for ten months; teachers with MA's to receive minimum of $3900 and $4200 for the same periods of service. Nine and one-half month maximum salaries would be $4750 for BA's, $5700 for MA's.

Tax Rolls Skip Property Worth Millions

Millions of dollars worth of personal property in Texas is escaping taxation because of difficulties in assessing it and collecting on it.

Without attempting to set up a figure, the Texas State Tax Study Commission in its latest study report says that great wealth represented by both tangible and intangible personal property is taxable but not taxed.

In practice, local assessors have found it almost impossible to locate and assess even a small percentage of either tangible or intangible personal property, the report said.

Tangible property includes such items as furniture, automobiles, airplanes, boats, jewelry, business inventories and fixtures.

Intangible property represents title to wealth such as money, stocks, bonds, mortgages.

The report cites automobiles as an example of varying practices between taxing agencies in their levying efforts. Some cities, such as Austin, and Dallas, consistently assess and collect on automobiles. Other taxing jurisdictions including San Antonio either exclude automobiles from their tax rolls or don't try to collect.

Of 834 assessors answering the research staff questionnaire, only 244 make any systematic effort to tax motor vehicles, the report by the Tax Study Group says.

The report is another in a series the commission is preparing in cooperation with the Texas Research League, a privately-financed agency making studies of various phases of government in Texas.

In and Out The Tee-Pees

By SUZANNE LANE

Heap big activity taking place this week! The speech and journalism students of Haskell High School are going to Abilene to a Speech and Journalism workshop Saturday, Nov. 8. Mrs. Weaver and Mrs. Diggs are the teachers who will sponsor the group. The conferences are to be held at Abilene Christian College from 9 a. m. to 3 p. m. The students are going on a school bus. There will be demonstrations of all the different phases of literature events that will be in the Interscholastic League contest.

Our school is honored to have been asked to give the demonstration in extemporaneous speaking. Jimmy Vaughter, HHS's extemporaneous speaker, will give the demonstration. We are very proud of the fine work Jimmy has done during his high school career. He won second place in the state Interscholastic League contest last spring. We're glad he's an Indian!

We are also very honored that our own Mrs. Diggs was asked to criticize the declamation demonstration. I think our speech and journalism department should be commended for their hard and wonderful work.

A word to the wise: Do your reports and memory work in your classes as well as possible because Mrs. Diggs is on the look-out for some students to declamation and poetry reading in the Interscholastic League contest this spring. She is also looking for a girl extemporaneous speaker.

Until next week—Peace!

SPENDS WEEKEND WITH PARENTS

Mrs. R. V. Furrh of Grand Prairie spent the weekend with her parents and brother, Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Montgomery and Bud, and friends.

Specialist Lists Current Jobs In Home Gardens

There are still a few jobs which the home gardener can do now. And doing them will help make the gardening job easier next spring and will add useful life to needed equipment says B. G. Hancock, extension horticulturist.

The garden site can be cleared of old plant growth including weeds and grass and if the plants were not diseased the material should go into the compost pile, says Hancock. The compost can be used next year for mulching and adding organic matter to the soil. The plant residue may also be plowed under as another method for clearing the garden area.

Dusters and sprayers should be given a thorough cleaning and stored for the winter. Sprayers should be washed to remove all spray residues and a weak vinegar solution will help. After the cleaning job, Hancock suggests coating the tank and other metal parts with a thin covering of oil.

The duster should be cleaned with a stiff brush. The outside metal parts may be oiled but oil inside of the duster will tend to cake the dust that will be used next season.

Most gardeners have left over chemicals which can be used next season if they are properly stored. Hancock advises storage in a dry place and in air-tight containers. All should be carefully labeled and placed out of reach of children.

Left-over seed of many varieties may also be stored for future use if they are placed in tight containers and kept dry. They should be labeled to avoid mistakes on varieties next spring.
