Building Programs Indicate Faith In Haskell's Future

Haskell's business section is taking on a new appearance Lessor-Collector; I. A. Leonas the result of modernization programs underway and near completion on several buildings.

These projects, together with new construction work on the Haskell National Bank Building and the colored school building, represent the investment of approximately $200,000 or more in building and modernization programs currently underway in

In addition to the above, the General Telephone Company is spending several hundred thousand dollars in final phases of their building program here, while an outlay of well over one million dollars is involved in the expansion of the Paint Creek plant of West Texas Utilities Company.

Other building and remodelling programs now in the planning stage will be underway before the year's end, according to present plans.

All of this adds up to a faith in the future of Haskell and Haskell County and its further growth and development.

No Need for Panic

We have heard much of the alleged plight of the nation's schools, ascribed to grossly inadequate pay for teachers, inadequate building of physical facilities, and other such neglects. The commonly proposed solution is Federal support of education.

Now, however, the Institute of Social Science Research has issued an exhaustive study which reaches very different conclusions. It is signed by Roger Freeman, an acknowledged authority in this field who, among other things, was consultant on school finance to the White House Conference on Education.

Here are some of the points Mr. Freeman makes and substantiates: In terms of cost, education is the largest public service in the country next to national defense. Between 1929-39 and 1955-56, personal consumption expenditures doubled whereas public school expenditures tripled. In 1956, we spent $103.94 per capita on education as against $34.17 in Russia. In late years, the number of certified teachers has increased materially more on a percentage basis, than the number of pupils. In these years, in addition, college majors in education have increased by 38 per cent where majors in other fields decreased by 28 percent. The classroom shortage has been greatly exaggerated and is

Finally, in 1957 teacher's pay, on the average, was 94 per cent above the 1929 level; earnings of all workers were 82 per cent above

The study certainly does not claim that everything is perfect in education, But it certainly does show that our educational problems have been magnified out of all reason. There's been manager of the Weinert no need to press any panic buttons.

Coming or Going?

"We were scanning the papers the other day, duly noting the crises that abound and mulling the words of famous people who keep getting themselves and their countrymen in hot water, when we came across the news that this month marks the 100th anniversary of Charles Darwin's theory of evolution.

"Further reading of the day's new led us to wish Mr. Darwin was still around so we could ask him just one question: Are we coming or going?"

> Back in 1943, a young Air Force cadet from Ohio, who received part of his training at the wartime flying school at Stamford, often wondered about the long, white streaks on the ground, plainly visible when flying over this section.

> "Later on, I learned the streaks were rows of cotton, ready for harvesting," Robert D. Mack, former cadet who is now an employee in the Washington, Onio, post office, said last week while in Haskell on

"I'd never seen any cotton had no idea what it looked like nor how it was grown and harvested," Mack said. The wartime schedule of training for the cadets kept them pretty well occupied and Mack was never able to fulfill a desire to see much of this section of West Texas country, except from the air.

Mack married a Seymour girl, the daughter of Mrs. W. J. Lowery, and the couple and their two sons Bobby and Billy, visit Seymour and this section once or twice a year. "West Texas is a beautiful country, entirely different from what I had it pictured until we started visiting here," the Ohioan commented.

News From The In Texas

Congress
By Cong. Frank Ikard

It now appears that Congress will probably adjourn sometime within the next ten days; therefore, this will be the last of these weekly reports until January when the new Congress convenes. Immediately after Congress adjourns, I expect to return home and to be there most of the time until the first of the year. During the recess, I will be in every county in the district and hope to have an opportunity to visit with as many people as possible. My address there will be 26 Federal Building, Wichita Falls. My phone number is 322-8379. As usual, the last week in Congress is a rather hectic one with the sponsors of literally hundreds of bills trying despeately to get them considered before adjournment. Since this is the second session of Congress, any bill that is not approved before we leave will die. This week the House will act on the argriculture bill, the authorization for the new Space Administration, matters pertaining to veterans, education, merchant marine, creating of new courts, new design for the Flag that was made necessary by the admission of Alaska to the Union, increase in the public debt limit, housing, and distressed area developments.

Many of these measures have already passed either the House or the Senate, and some have even passed both and have gone to the Conference Committees. If this log jam can be broken, it is possibe that adjournment may come this week end. If not, it will probably be delayed for another week.

It appears that the Mid-East situation has stabilized and that most of the American troops can be moved from that area within the next few weeks. The Summit Meeting, which now appears to be a reasonable certainty, could be very productive, and it is hoped that it will not be used as a propa-ganda forum by the Russians. Bahama Islands.

Special Milk Program Ready

The special milk program, recently revised and extended by Congress for three years, is ready to operate under the new regulations in Texas. Applications are already pouring in under the new setup. reports John J. Slaughter of Dallas, who is in charge of the program for the Agricultural Marketing Service in Texas and six other states.

During the last fiscal year more than 51½ million half pints of milk were served to Texas children under the special milk program. Consumption is expected to go even higher this year.

Any organization may parti-cipate if it sponsors non-profit activity for care and training of children and submits a positive plan to encourage increased consumption of milk by children in its care. The program includes children of high school age or under. The new setup makes participation simple for non-profit summer camps, nurseries and other youth activities, says Slaughter. Under the program, eligible groups may get up to four cents reimbursement on each half pint of milk consumed by children if the milk is priced as a separate item and the price to children is reduced proportionately.

If the milk is included in the meal price and not priced separately, payment from fed-eral funds will be two cents per half pint.

CARD OF THANKS

We desire to express our sincere thanks for the many kindnesses extended to us during the illness and death of our loved one. We are grateful for the many messages and words of comfort and sympathy, for the beautiful floral offerings, for food brought to our homes and for everything done in our behalf. May God bless each of you is our prayer.— Mrs. Jess Barton and family.

School Lunch Funds Hiked For Texas

First installment of $5,488,245 of federal funds for Texas schools in the national school lunch program will be released by the food distribution division, Agricultural Marketing Service, Dallas, around Sept. 1, of the Dallas AMS office. Texas public schools will get $5,166,017, an increase of $661,-449 over last year and private schools will get $322,228, an increase of $72,570, according to Slaughter.

reports John J. Slaughter, chief

Funds appropriated by Con gress for the program are released to the states according to the number of children between 5 and 17 years of age, inclusive, and the relation of the per capita income in the U. S. to the per capita in the state.

The public school allotment for Texas will be used by the Texas Education Agency to reimburse schools in part for the food bought from local Texas private schools secure their allotments directly from Slaughter's office. Last year about 3,000 public and 131 private schools operating under the school lunch program spent about $20,780, 925 with local merchants for food. Slaughter said. They served 90,860,139 meals, nearly all with a half pint of milk and the average cost was about 25.4 cents during November, the peak month of participation "With the use of USDA funds and foods, schools can keep the cost of lunches at the lowest possible level." Slaughter said. emphasizing that each school determines the cost of its lunches on a non-profit basis.

The program is designed to improve the diets of school children and to enlarge the market of farmers. At the same time, it creates local business Texas public schools which have not been in the program but wish to participate this next school year should contact Charles M .Hicks, Texas Education Agency, Capitol Station. Austin. Private schools should contact the Food Distribution Division, AMS, USDA, 500 S. Ervay St., Dallas, Texas.

Grain Storage Facilities Due Expansion

Lubbock — Expanding grain production in West Texas has created a problem that in turn promises to expand the storage business, two Texas Tech agriculture researchers report.

A wet winter and promising high grain yields, greater appli cation of fertilizer and improved seeds all have forced a need for greater storage facili-ties, Prof. Ira Williams and Asst. Prof. Ray Billingsley, say in the July issue of West Texas

"Twenty-eight towns have just completed forty grain storage units averaging 500,000 bushels, Lubbock leading with ten buildings and space for 6,- 114,000 bushels," they write. Pointing out that storage is the key to more profit for farmers with cash grain for sale. they state that storage now at a premium in West Texas must be provided either on the organized market is to exist for farm or commercially, if an Their statistics show that the value of grain crops produced in West Texas has jumped from just above $90 million in 1951 to in excess of $150 million in

With the shifting of population centers in the Southwest and the industrial Gulf Coast area, livestock and beef production is shifting, too. This puts the Texas grain farmer closer to these markets, thus making grain handling and storage even more important.

JOHN BROCK SAYS THANKS TO EVERYONE

Although I came out one vote short of the run-off, and 29 votes short of first place, I am thankful to you for each vote cast for me in my race for County Judge.

I hold no ill feeling toward any of you who voted for either of my honorable opponents, but point with pride to the fact that WE ALL ran a clean race.

Congratulations to the two highest candidates, and it is my hope that the winner will make the best County Judge this fine county has ever had.

May God bless each and every one of you.

> Sincerely yours, JOHN BROCK

SUPREME SALAD WAFER

One of the most thrilling sights I've ever seen on the water is the shrimp boats coming in. Recently at Port Aransas I watched these trawis, one after another, moving slowly but majestically through the pass to make their way in or between the bay waters and the gulf.

through the pass it was follow-ed by literally thousands of gulls. They have learned they can pick up the dead shrimp being knocked off the boats. They are an enthusiastic welcoming committee.

Hundreds of these boats work through Aransas Pass in season, and the season is when shrimping is good. Otherwise they are tied to moorings, or docked in the basin at Aransas Pass or some other Texas

You might wonder what this has to do with an outdoors column. It has plenty to do. because shrimping, in one form or another, has so much to do with our whole coastal fishing

Naturally shrimping is major commercial operation on the Texas coast, from Port Arthur to Brownsville. Shrimp, likewise, is one of the principal baits to be found on the coast.

Admittedly not too much is known for sure about the shrimp, except that they are getting in shorter supply every for this, and these reasons all affect the salt water fisherman. Take the shrimp out of our Texas bays and we no longer have trout, red fish and water. many olders that we now take on rod and reel.

Take the shrimp out and commercial netting is also shot. in the coastal waters, and millions will not have fish for their tables.

I know practically nothing about shrimping, but there are many others who have lived on the coast all their lives who'll also admit there is still a great in the shrimping business admany of the fundamental problems affecting the shrimp increment or its disappearance.

These men in the industry also are in violent disagreement can fish for trout with your over some aspects. A few of them would close shrimping in you can use either shrimp or baywaters for a year. Others think the bay waters should be the coast for the first time like closed from January to July.

One of the problems on the As each loaded boat moved of too many shrimp that are too small. The law provides that the count must not be more than 65 to the pound, yet there are thousands of pounds of smaller shrimp being taken. Packers are having to buy these small shrimp under protest. They say if they don't buy what the fisherman brings in, he'll go elsewhere with the desirable catch. As a result thousands of pounds of these small shrimp are being processed daily and canned for commercial market.

> It is generally agreed that the shrimp catch has gone up in the last few years because there are more fishing units. We are getting more shrimp from the Mexican waters. But it is also agreed that unless something can be done to protect our inshore waters from losing all the small shrimp, our inshore fish will be out of food. We'd all lose heavily under those circumstances. And speaking of fishing with shrimp, I recently had a wonderful trip to Port Aransas. year. There are many reasons The Boatman's Association there entertained a group of outdoor writers with a fishing trip. The weather was very bad so we didn't get into much

> We did our fishing with shrimp in the bay waters and several of the boys came away with a nice mess of speckled trout.

I can recommend speckled trout fishing for anyone. In the first place, it is a comparatively easy fishing trip. There ample accomodations along the Texas coast. You can fish in the bay waters either deal to be learned. Even men | wading, off the jetties or piers. or from boats. Many Texans mit they are in the dark about now are trailing their outboards to the coast and finding excellent sport fishing.

Fort Worth-Predictions made last week by observers at Fort Worth that the current break in cattle prices would carry over into this week, came about in the trade at major terminals of the nation Monday. Cornbelt and Western States feeders sent nearly 120,000 cat-tle and calves in the twelve major terminals, one of the largest of the year. Early estimates of 25,000 at Chicago Monday were surpassed before the day was over. Some 18,000 cattle appeared at Omaha. Most of the offerings were fed steers and heifers and prices reeled downward again at all markets. The heavy pressure on fed cattle bore the rest of the cattle and calves downward, despite the fact grassers were in small supply again at most points. Again the trade displayed the marked sensitivity of feeder cattle buyers and most points reported declines in feeder cattle almost as steep as in the finished beeves.

At Fort Worth shortfed steers and heifers predominated, and many of the cattle were shortor supplementally fed grassers. Declines of 50 cents to $1 per hundred were common through the list, Canner and cutter cows bore up a little better than some other classes and were not appreciably lower. Watch for Farm Machinery on Highways

This is the season of the year when both vacationing motorists and farmers are driving on the nation's highways; but if safety precautions are not followed, only one of them may drive off, warns the Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council. Tractors are slow-moving vehicles made to do heavy field work and in most cases are unstable at high speeds and not meant for highway travel. Most of the time when there is a collision between a farm tractor and an automobile, the tractor driver is killed. A little mutual consideration can help prevent many of these accidents, points out the council. Automobile drivers should be alert and watchful for equipment which may be on the highway and farmers can help by carrying warning flags in daytime and proper warning lights at night.

Lack of electrical equipment doesn't relieve the farmer of the responsibility of carrying warning lights. A lantern in conjunction with good reflectors can be a big help in warning approaching cars. Farmers should plan ahead to avoid unnecessary movement of farm equipment on heavily traveled roads, advises the council. Too, they should slow down for turns and leave the tractor in gear when going down hills. Only experienced operators should be given the responsibility of handling farm machinery on public roads.

Better entrances to driveways and fields plus courtesy on the part of both motorists and far-

Only change to be recommended for the Panhandle area places the white bass limit in Buffalo Lake to conform with black bass limits. There will be no change recommended in the Possum Kingdom area. In the Edwards Plateau area Bexar county has been transferred to the South-Central Texas district and there will be a slight revision recommended for fishing on the eastern tributaries of the Nueces River in Edwards

No other changes are con-templated in the S-C Texas

There is insufficient data available at the present time to recommend changes from the general laws in the Trinity-Brazos area, according to biologists. Research now underway may result in proposed changes next year.

In Northeast Texas an open season on deer will be recommended in Titus County, which previously had been closed. In Southeast Texas compliance with the general laws will be recommended for this year. No changes are contemplated in the Trans Pecos. Provisions Being Published for antierless deer seasons will be made in counties where early fall count shows that too many deer are present.

December Social Security Benefits Total $24,364

Social security benefits amounting to $24,364 were paid to some 556 persons in Haskell County for the month of December 1957, according to official figures just received by R. R. Tuley Jr., district manager for the Social Security Administration in Abilene.

This represents an increase of some 30-35% over comparable figures for December, 1956, he added.

These payments went to retired men and women past retirement age (62 for women, 65 for men), to severely disabled persons past 50, to wives and dependent husbands of retired persons, to children of retired or deceased parents (either under 18 or disabled since before 18), to widows, dependent widowers, and de-pendent parents (if no spouse or child eligible for payment). Tuley urges all persons past retirement age to contact a representative of the Abilene social security office as soon as possible, if they have had as much as two or three years of social security credits on their past and present earnings, to avoid possible loss of benefits through a misunderstanding of what is meant by "retirement." Too, upon the death of anyone holding a social security card, inquiry should be made regarding the possibility of survivor benefits due some members of the family, Delays in making inquiries can result in the loss of some bene- 4 New Residents

Twelve Rules for Raising Juvenile Delinquents

The following "Twelve Rules for Raising Juvenile Delinquents, seem to have originated in Houston. It is said the police department of Houston gave parents of each juvenile who ran afoul of the law these rules for them to follow which would guarantee the making of their son or daughter a delinquent. Here they are:

1. Begin with infancy to give the child everything he wants. In this way he will grow u thinking the world owes him a living.

2. When he picks up "bad" words or "dirty" words laugh at him. That will make him think he is "cute." He will run off and pick up some other words that will blow off the top of your head.

Never give him any spiritual training until he is 21 and then let him decide for himstlf. By the same logic never teach him the English language. Maybe when he is aid enough he may want to speak Bantu.

4. Praise him in his presence to all the neighbors; show how much smarter he is than the neighbor's children

5. Avoid the use of the word "Wrong." It may develop in the child a "guilty complex." This will prepare him to believe that when he is punished later on for stealing cars or assaulting women, society "against him" and that he is being "persecuted."

6. Pick up everyting after him; his shoes, his books, his clothes. Do everything for him, so that he will be experienced in throwing burdens on others. 7. Let him read anything he wants. Have no concern whatever for what goes in his mind. Provide him with lily cups for his lips, but let his brain drink out of any dirty container for words and ideas.

Quarrel frequently in the presence of your children. In this way they will be prepared for broken homes later on.

 Give him all the spending money he wants. Never let him earn his own. 10. Satisfy every craving of the child for drinks, food and everything that he has to do with the sense of taste and touch, gratifying every sensual it of the series of the series anything with him."

Pictures Wanted Mrs. W. A. Meadors Of All Former Bank Employees

Plans were announced this week for securing photographs of all former employees of the Haskell National Bank, to be arranged in a prominent display at the formal opening of She was the former Ethel Isbell of Munday. She lived here during World War II when the bank's new building, now under construction.

Charles Swinson, cashier, said he was anxious to secure pictures of all ex-employees, regardless of present residence or length of time since they were with the bank.

"Pictures or photos, preferably 4x5 inches in size, are wanted of every person who has been an employee of the bank since it was founded in 1890," Swinson said.

He has no idea as to the number of ex-employees, but estimates it could be several hundred, "We will appreciate the help of everyone in getting the word to all former employees of the bank," Swinson said, "in order that they may be given proper recognition in the opening of our new build-

Contracts Let For Fish Kill On P-K Lake

Austin - Contract for air spraying has been let for the scheduled August 6 rough fish kill on Possum Kingdom Lake, according to the director of Inland Fisheries of the Game and Fish Commission.

Application of the solution was awarded to the Red River Aero Dusting Company Texarkana, whose planes will make test runs over the lake several days before the spraying to familiarize pilots with the lake surface to be treated. Federal Aid funds for approximately $52,000 were approved for the project, but it will cost considerably less than this amount. Federal Aid funds are furnishing 75% of the pro-ject's cost while state funds provide the remaining 25%, according to the director.

All Federal Aid funds are provided by revenue from an excise tax on fishing equip-ment under provisions of the Dingell-Johnson Act.

"The Brazos River Authority is cooperating with the Commission, furnishing valuable information and maps which made fulfillment of the project possible," the director
