Purrose of the United Fund organization will be to consolidate all major fund-raising campaigns conducted in Haskell, as a means of enlisting substantial support for worthwhile causes, and to coordinate all fund-raising activities to avoid duplication of efforts and consequent loss of time for the large number of volunteer workers taking part in the numerous drives and campaigns held annually.

The actual organization the local United Fund resulted after an intensive study of the proposal, during which all civ-ic organization and groups were contacted for their opinions and views regarding the plan. Pledges of cooperation and endorsement of the United Fund plan was given by every group contacted, it was reported.

Under the United Fund plan, a budget will be worked out to include the normal quotas of all fund-raising drives held each year in Haskell - Red Cross, March of Dimes, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Heart Fund, Salvation Army, etc.—and a combined total will be the goal for a single United Fund camcent state convention in Fort paign.

Rainfall of 2.40 Inches Registered Here This Week

A severe electrical storm, accompanied by high winds and a hard downpour, struck this area late Sunday, bringing .60 inch of rain and causing slight property damage.

Monday night, another electrical and rainstorm brought 1.80 inch of rain within the space of a little more than an hour, flooding streets and roads temporarily, but causing little damage. Heaviest downpour came shortly before midnight Monday. In Sunday night's windstorm, a near-tornado in the Goree area blew down five highline transmission poles of West Texas Utilities Company, disrupting service in that area. At about the same time, lightning burned out switching units in the local WTU substation, leaving the town without lights and power. The hard rainstorm hampered work of repairmen, with service being out for about three hours.

United Fund Plan A Step In Right Direction

Plans to organize a United Fund in Haskell, for the purpose of incorporating all fund-raising campaigns into a single concerted effort, is a step in the right direction in our opinion.

We believe the plan will meet with the approval of a majority of our citizens, who will welcome an opportunity to combine their gifts into a single contribution each year instead of being called upon every few weeks or months for donations to some worthwhile cause.

We understand that some organizations prefer to handle their own campaigns rather than to share in the proceeds from a united drive. However, we feel that in a small community, the burden of conducting the numerous campaigns always falls on local citizens with a resultant loss of time from their own business or interests. By conducting a single, united campaign, we believe these workers can easily raise the combined quotas of all worthwhile organizations, and do it in much less time than is required under present methods.

With the United Fund plan as we understand it, each cooperating organization or agency would be assured the equivalent of its quota based on an individual drive, if this quota is approved in the general budget of the United Fund. In other words, no cooperating agency would suffer a reduction in its quota through participating in the United Fund plan.

We believe the plan deserves and will receive the support of the citizenship of Haskell.

Congratulations!

We take pleasure in extending congratulations to a fellow citizen, Robert R. (Bob) King, newly elected governor of District 579, Rotary International.

Selection of the Haskell school administrator for this high office in Rotary International is not only an honor to him as an individual, but reflects recognition and honor to our cummunity

The district he will head as Rotary International Governor after July 1 is one of the largest in Texas, and includes Rotary Clubs in some 37 towns, some of the larger ones being Fort Worth, Wichita Falls, and Abilene.

In addition to his work in Rotary, School Supt. King is active in church, school and community aff

Costly Legislative Delay

At it again, for the third time this year, Legislators go into the second special session wearier, but wiser. And the taxpayer, already weary of legislative bungling, sees every day of delay adding $200,000 to the cost of state government.

In addressing the new session, Gov. Price Daniel reminded lawmakers of the "up against it" state of things. "Every function of state government depends on enactment of an appropriation bill before Sept. 1 with a tax bill to support it," said the

The state's fiscal year and present appropriations run out August 31. Unless a new appropriation bill can go into effect the next day, the whole state operation-including hospitals, schools, employe salaries and pensions-will stop. This is unthinkable, of course. No lawmaker could return home and face the voters with things in such a state.

But there's another pinching factor which the governor a week's vacation in South emphasized. Cost of deficit financing plus loss of potential tax rexas. They are visiting in the Rio Grande Valley and Old $200,000. Despite this the House took a four-day weekend and the Senate three and one-half days.

Governor Daniel said the delay and cost of a third special session could be prevented by "Prompt expressions by the people of Texas in support of what they think the Legislature should The governor added that "people have no business fussing and fuming about the Legislature unless they have written, wired or talked with their senators and representatives."

Gov. Daniel is correct in that statement. We believe further, that if only one of every 10 voters in Texas would contact his senator and representative, legislative action would be forthcoming immediately.

One of our leading bait sellers, Ross Hemphill, has regu-"helpy-selfy" basis. partial When customers come for bait and Ross is not on hand, a sign advises them to help themselves and leave the money in a conveniently-placed box.

Ross declares that the majority o ffishermen are honest. If he's lost any money-or minnows on the help-yourself plan, the loss is negligible, he will tell you.

Another major operator in the bait selling business is J. M. Littlefield, who specializes in African Night Crawlers and sells literally thousands of the wigglers daily.

Demand for this popular form of bait is such that Littlefield is kept busy on a full-time basis, and hires several boys at times to help pack the Night Crawlers in convenient containers. In addition to the local de ago, didn't pan out as well as the backers anticipated, old timers tell us. A small group of men conceived the idea of selling "mineral water" from wells in the south part of town, where the water was extremely "gyppy" with a high mineral content. Analysis of the water, old timers say, showed that it had medicinal properties similar to the famed "Crazy Water" of Mineral Wells. Local promoters put down a well about a half mile south of the courthouse, beautified the surrounding premises and built a small pavillion at the well, on the order of an open air Community Center.

The pavillion became a popuar gathering place on spring and summer evenings, with band concerts and impromptu programs staged occasionally. "Mineral Water" was sold at 5 cents per glass, and also in

As the country settled, a movement was launched to move the county seat to As-permont, and the proposal carried in an election. However, the move was not accomplished completely for several years, with considerable wrangling, court litigation, and near bloodshed in the meantime.

Haskell County people had authorized bonds to build a new jail to replace the old bastile which was located at the site now occupied by Queens Roofing Company west of the square.

The Commissioners Court, as site for the new jail, purchased the lots at the southeast corner of the square.

Several owners of property, nearby protested that the jail would be hurtful and depreciate the value of their property, particularly their homes within a block or two of the proposed jail building.

Several court injunctions were sought, but in each instance after hearings, the property owners lost out.

They were still determined that the jail would not be built so near their homes and businesses without a fight.

One morning, first persons coming downtown were surprised to see the site of the proposed jail surronded by a hastily strung two-wire fence. Inside the fence was a tent, and sitting in front on a low stool was one of the protesting property-owners, a Winchester across his lap.

A highly-respected citizen, he was known as a man who was fearless in defence of any principle he thought right. No one any doubt about the man's objection to the jail being built there.

After about a week, however, the man's friends (talking from outside the wire barrier) pre vailed upon him that he was fighting for a lost cause, and he reluctantly gave in to their arguments. The jail was finally built in 1910 and was used until 1954 when it was abandoned and a new one built southwest of the square. The artist had set up his easel and was painting a rural

Beckham-Bolles Here Sunday

The annual Beckham and Bolles reunion was held at the American Legion Building in Haskell Sunday June 21, 1959. A bountiful feast was spread at the noon hour. Grace was said by Rev. Hubert Sego. Cleaning up tables, exchanging food to take home, then came time to take pictures of the groups. Rev. Hubert Sego made a fine talk. He said he wouldn't preach a sermon. We had a moment of silence in memory of those deceased since our last reunion: Leon Sego, A. C. Sego and Mrs. Ada Beckham.

We are to meet the first Sunday in July, 1960 at the same place as before. Jack Beckham of McCamey was elected president for the coming year; Eula Crow was re elected secretarytreasurer.

Families came from Mc-Camey, Hale Center, Burkbur-nett, Rule, Rochester, O'Brien, Nocona, Abilene, Haskell and Snyder. Mrs. Joe Evans is completing the Family Tree, to bring to our next reunion. We are also collecting pictures and data of our ancestors.-Re-

308 Fined For Fishing Without License

Fishing violations topped the list of arrests made by game wardens during the month of May, according to the report of the director of lay enforce ment of the Game and Fish Commission, at Austin.

There were nearly 400 fishing arrests made by the wardens with 308 of them for failure to have a license. The Texas license costs $2.15 and is good for both fresh and salt water and for residents and non-residents alike.

Although all legal game hunt ing has been closed for several months, there were several eral violations for killing quail, doves, ducks and even killing deer in the closed season. The 448 persons arrested in May paid fines of $7,596.45 plus court costs of $852.

Eight persons served time in jail for their violations.
"We do everything we can to publicize license require-ments for the fishermen," the director said. "Despite the warnings, however, people still Fresh plums top the July list of plentiful foods in the Southwest, as California's new crop is estimated at 64 per cent more than last year.

Peaches, lemons and limes are other fruits on the list. Eggs will continue plentiful, as will ice cream and small-sized turkeys. Summer vegetables will show up in wide array throughout the area.

Peanut butter and vegetable fats and oils complete the July list of plentifuls, as announced by the USDA's Southwest Food Distribution Division, Dallas. Each item is expected to be in heavier than normal supply and menu planners usually will find it economical to rely heavily on these foods.

Anything to stop baking, drying effect of the hot summer sun, slow down and break up the packing effect of the many large rain drops, and to keep the hot West Texas winds from carry ing away soil and moisture. Some farmers transport a litter to prevent this; such as cotton hulls. Any kind of surface litter will do, but the handiest is the crop residue.

Stubble mulching is a year round way of managing plant residues on cropland. Harvesting, seedbed preparation, plantso as to leave residues of the previous crop on top of the soil until after the next crop is seeded.

According to Herring, seed-ing in stubble mulch is not difficult. You need a clean fur row, cut down to moisture, in which to drop the seed and at the same time leave plenty of stubble on the surface to prewent erosion. Drills of the deep furrow shoe or hoe type are most effective for working through heavy residues. Semideep or deep furrow disk-type drills will also handle large amounts of stubble.

Approximately 2,400 acres of properly managed crop residues have been reported within Haskell County this year. Several farms on which stubble mulching has been practiced is the Joe Davis farm at Mattson, Jake Wheeler farm near Rochester, J. W. Cloud farm, near Rule, and many others too numerous to name. Attending Butane Dealers Meeting

J. E. Walling Jr., of Walling Butane Appliance Company is in Dallas, where he is attending the Texas Butane Dealers Association's 14th Annual Convention and Southwestern LP-Gas Market. The convention opened Wednesday and will run through

The convention and market which is sponsored each year by the association will be held simultaneously and will use the facilities of both the Adolphus and Baker Hotels. More than 600 dealers from all over the Southwest are expected to attend. It is the largest meeting of the LP-Gas Industry on state and regional levels in the na-

A highlight of this year's convention will be the discussion of 'Industry Up-grading' legislation which was passed by the recent regular session of the Texas Legislature. The legislation was sponsored by the association in order to give the Texas Railroad Commission the authority to require higher standards of service by the dealer to his customers.

The local firm has participated in the Texas Butane Dealers Association's activities for several years, and Walling is a past president of the statewide organization.

During Walling's absence,
Harold Hodge is in charge of Walling Butane Appliance Co.
