Improved Telephone Facilities

Haskell has now joined the ranks of a majority of Texas cities having the latest and most modern type of telephone service—automatic dialing.

In providing this service General Telephone Company of the Southwest has spent more than one million dollars in this area on a long-range modernization and building program. This has included a new building and a vast amount of new equipment here in Haskell.

Because of the time required to erect the building and to secure the necessary equipment, Haskell was the last of General's exchanges in this district to be converted to automatic dial.

More than 1,400 subscribers are served by the local exchange, necessitating the installation of the new type telephones for each subscriber.

According to E. H. Danner, president of GTC, the best telephone dial equipment available has been installed in the modern new Haskell exchange. "These facilities will enable us to give the people of Haskell telephone service which cannot be surpassed anywhere," he pointed out.

This is evidence of the company's faith in the community and area, and in its future growth, and is a forward step in progress.

Although the change to dial operation does away with the sizeable payroll for the operators formerly employed, telephone company officials point out that continued growth of the local exchange would have made manual operation virtually impossible within the space of a few years at most.

It's People Who Count

Nearly everyone knows about the new drugs that control pneumonia and tuberculosis and the Salk vaccine that prevents polio paralysis.

What most of us generally forget is that behind these medical triumphs are people. Without skilled people in the clinics, the hospitals and the research laboratories, the fight against disease could not go on.

Despite our recent advances in medical science, there is a growing shortage of these trained disease fighters. We need over 100,000 more nurses, physical and occupational therapists, medical social workers, doctors and experts all down the line from clinical practice to laboratory research.

To fill this gap in medical manpower, The National Foundation has just announced the most impressive plan for health scholarships in our history.

The National Foundation, originally known as the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, is the voluntary health organization that runs the March of Dimes, gave patient aid to some 325,000 polio victims, financed the Salk vaccine and educated 70 million Americans to use it as protection against polio paralysis. It is now expanding its scope to include, besides polio, America's No. 1 crippler—arthritis—and the nation's most unmet childhood problem—birth defects.

Over the next 10 years The National Foundation proposes to set aside $12 million in March of Dimes funds to help 505 students each year get college training in the health professions. Each scholarship will pay $500 a year for four years. The National Foundation's 3,100 chapters will select from each state five to 25 students a year, depending on population.

Through this scholarship plan, The National Foundation is putting the emphasis on winning the health back on people. And it's people who count.

Snow, wind, ice! That's the way it was Friday. It began snowing Thursday afternoon and by night the ground was white. As night came on it became colder and a fine, dry snow continued to fall during the night. Friday morning was very cold, with a stiff wind driving and drifting the snow into great drifts and piles.

Jemison appealed the case and it was reversed and rendered in his favor, the higher court giving him all the land.

PEOPLE, PLACES AND THINGS

By A. PATE

Pretty handy gadget, these dial telephones. Trouble is, we're going to have to start memorizing a lot of numbers, now that we know they will work. Those new directories sent out recently will be the best-read books in town, for a time, at least.

It would be a pretty safe wager to say that on Sunday, first day that the dial service was in operation, that some three to a dozen calls were made over each of the 1,400 telephones in Haskell.

Neighbors called neighbors to say, "Just checking; trying out dial service." And the verdict in almost every instance was "Seems to work Okay."

One thing for sure, when you make an error on the second or third digit, might as well start over. Wrong numbers are plentiful as ever—and there's no operator to blame when you miscue on "stabbing" at a number.

The change-over to dial, made at midnight Saturday, called for a lot of engineering "know-how" in doing the job without any noticeable interruption in service.

Ordinarily at that hour, we have an idea that telephone calls are at a minimum number.

As luck would have it Saturday night, however, a fire alarm was turned in shortly before midnight, resulting in a rash of calls from volunteer firemen.

But the men making the change on the switchboard were equal to the emergency, and were able to handle all calls speedily along with their other work.

Sponsors of the Christmas Parade staged Friday are justified in feeling proud of many attractive and colorful entries which made the event most successful ever presented here. Clubs and organizations, school groups and individual merchants are to be commended for the time and effort devoted to executing and decorating the numerous attractive and original floats.

So attractive and eye-catching were the entries that the parade announcer, Thos. B. Roberson, using a P. A. system furnished by Mrs. Baird's Bakery (advertising plug), was almost at loss for descriptive adjectives as he heralded the approach of each float.

Actually, Tom did a wonderful job in announcing the event, even though the task kept him at his wit's end in complimenting the beauty and excellence of each float or car as it passed in review.

A serious automobile accident Saturday night in which three Haskell youths were injured and their automobile demolished, had a freakish ending.

A blowout of a rear tire caused the car in which the trio was riding to leave the highway near the north city limits. Overturning several times, the vehicle "bounced" over a high fence surrounding the City Auto Salvage grounds, and came to rest upside down inside the wrecking lot!

To a casual passerby, it would look as if the badly damaged car had been purposely dumped at the spot.

A former oldtimer here, Albert Linam of Breckenridge, was visiting friends Friday.

Albert grew up here and as a youth worked for the late W. T. Hudson. An incident occurred around 1914 or '15, in which Albert had a star role, was the subject for one of George Dolan's "This Is West Texas" columns a short time ago.

geared lighting and disappearing in the darkness.
That feature of the sideshow was missing the rememberer of the carnival's stay, the Haskell oldtimer recalled.
A peculiar thing, he added, was that a new ticket taker who showed up the next night at the negro minstrel show was a fellow who evidently had just had a haircut, a nervous acting character who watched Bunk and Pink like a hawk when the two cowboys got anywhere near him.

Check Christmas Trees And Toys For Booby Traps They May Conceal

Chicago—Christmas suggestions for the house that has everything—a built-in brain to detect booby traps in Christmas trees and toys.

The tip comes from the National Safety Council, which says every household already has this wonder gadget, but most don't realize it. "It's the collective brainpower of the family," the Council said. And it operates on a few basic principles:

1. The Christmas tree is one of the most combustible objects known and once on fire it burns so fiercely, fed by natural pitch and resin, that it's almost impossible to douse the flames by ordinary means.

2. Children's toys must be bought not only with age, interest and physical capabilities of the child in mind, but also with the intention of teaching the child how to use the toys.

"Trees should be taken down when the needles start to fall, even if the holidays aren't over, and disposed of out-of-doors in fire-safe areas," the Council said. "Never dispose of the tree in a fireplace, furnace or stove where the fire might get too hot to control."

Other Christmas tree tips: Keep tree in a dry place until ready to set it up, then saw off diagonally about an inch of the trunk, put it in water-containing holder and keep the container filled.

Don't put the tree near a fireplace, radiator, television set, powerful electric light or other heat source. Don't run an electric train around its base.

Use electric lights which bear Underwriters' Laboratories label, check wires for defects and don't overload house wiring. Turn out tree lights when not in the room for a long time.

Make sure ends of metallic icicles and other ornaments don't dangle in light sockets. Don't use flammable decorations.

Use a step ladder when trimming the upper branches. "Toys should stir the imagination, encourage creative ability and train the child for better living," the Council said. "But many times parents order 'fun' toys which turn out to be dangerous."

In and Out The Tee-Pees

BY SUZANNE LANE

How! Last week I told you about the contest that the band was going to attend in Winters on Dec. 6. The result was just grand! The band received A-1 division in inspection and also in marching. Everyone was thrilled to death.

The Christmas parade Friday was a very outstanding event. There were so many pretty floats and such lovely girls that rode on them.

Four of the organizations in Haskell High School entered floats. Each organization did a splendid job on their float. The Quill and Scroll Society's float won first prize. It was very clever. The theme was Santa's workshop. The second place was given to the Owl Club float. The theme of this float was Dickens' Christmas Carol. This was unique in that it portrayed the true meaning that Dickens intended when he wrote it. It was complete with Morley's ghost wrapped in chains and head rag and Tiny Tim with his crutch saying, "Merry Christmas and God bless everyone."

The Homemaking float won third prize. The theme was Fashions for Christmas and some of the girls, who had made dresses for the holidays, rode the float.

The FFA boys also entered a float. It was a beautiful, impressive and very successful parade. Everyone enjoyed it so much. So long.

General Telephone Company Hosts Dinner Celebrating Change To Dial

Businessmen and civic leaders of Haskell joined with officials and employees of General Telephone Company of the Southwest Saturday night in celebrating the beginning of automatic dial telephone service in Haskell.

Company officials hosted a "Dial Dinner" of baked turkey and dressing at the elementary school luncheon which was attended by approximately 100 business and civic leaders and their wives.

Guests and hosts enjoyed a round of talks from humorous to informative vein, along with interesting historical facts concerning the local exchange and individuals responsible for its development.

Master of ceremonies for the evening was District Judge Ben Charlie Chapman. The Rev. M. D. Rexrode, pastor of the First Baptist Church gave the invocation, and F. A. Robinette of Seymour, General's district manager, welcomed the group.

Miss Roberts of Memphis, Texas, division manager, introduced company officials and employees present, including two longtime operators in the local exchange, Ilena Thomas and Mrs. Allie Ford, who were given special recognition.

Principal speaker was E. H. Danner, San Angelo, president of General Telephone Company of the Southwest. Despite the change to automatic dial, Danner told the audience: "Personal contact remains the most important phase of the telephone business. We have an obligation to our customers to give the best service possible and at the same time to keep in touch with these customers in order to learn the type of telephone service and equipment they will want in the future."

Concerning the new exchange in Haskell, Danner said: "The best telephone dial equipment available today has been installed in our new modern Haskell exchange. Facilities will enable us to give the people of Haskell the type telephone service to which they are entitled—telephone service which cannot be surpassed anywhere. We have invested large amounts of money in developing a fine exchange here as evidence of our faith in the people of this area and in the continued growth of the area. This conversion marks a major step forward for us as a company in our aim to provide better telephone service for our subscribers, and more efficient operations for those who have invested their savings with us."

The telephone industry in the U. S. is composed of two segments, Bell Telephone and Independent telephone groups, Danner explained.

General Telephone Company is one of the largest independent companies, serving 3 1/2 million customers in 30 states, and in Canada, the Philippines and the Dominican Republic, Danner explained. General also has manufacturing facilities in Antwerp, Belgium, Milan, Italy, and in Canada.

General Telephone Company of the Southwest operates in the five states of Texas, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Arkansas and Louisiana.

Danner outlined the growth of the Haskell exchange, stating that more than 1,400 subscribers were served locally today, compared to 379 in 1930. He explained that growth of telephone exchanges everywhere made the change to automatic operation necessary, pointing out that the point was rapidly being reached where manual operation would be impossible.

In closing his talk, he touched briefly on the excise tax of 10 per cent levied on the telephone industry. The telephone is the only utility paying a war-time excise tax, he explained, and declared it was unjust to the public.

"You people pay this tax, we only collect it," Danner said. "But we think it is unfair to you," he commented.

Judge Chapman in his introductory remarks, related several incidents in connection with early-day telephone service. "On a party line, when the telephone rang everybody got in the act," he said. "If anyone was sick, in trouble, or got married, the news got around," he recalled.

District Manager Robinette invited those present to visit the new building of the telephone company after the dinner and briefly described some of the equipment to be seen there.

Accident Victim Remains In Coma After 17 Days

Although she has never regained consciousness since the accident, relatives said Wednesday they believed the young woman had shown some improvement.

The young woman's mother, Mrs. Virgie Keyes, and sister, Mrs. Bettie Whitfield, both of Fort Worth, are at her bedside. They are staying in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ark Allred, uncle and aunt of Miss Allred.

BY MRS. GENE OVERTON

Last week a group of men held their annual quail hunt on the Cobb ranch. Hill Oates, Oscar Oates, Jason Smith, Alton Middleton, Ching Middleton, Clarence Burson, all of Haskell, Sam Cobb, Marvin Cobb and Van Cobb from here, Eldridge Roach from Eldorado, Lennis Jones of Rule, Buford Gordon, John Oates of Albany, Roy Sellers, Joe B. Cloud and Joe E. Cloud, all of Rule. They killed the birds and then Mr. Roach made biscuits in a big Dutch oven while the birds were cooking. Lennis Jones and Buford Long roomed together three years in A&M and then a year at the University and they enjoyed reminiscing together. Most of these men were boys together years ago in Haskell, and they all enjoyed spending the day together.

Mrs. W. Arthur Montgomery came home from Baylor Hospital in Dallas Saturday and is recuperating at her home. Her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Cathey and Elizabeth came with the Montgomerys and stayed until Sunday afternoon Mrs. Nora Dunn, Mrs. Montgomery's sister, of California, came early Sunday morning and will stay with her for several weeks.

Our girl's basketball team won the Gorie tournament Friday afternoon and Saturday. They defeated O'Brien Friday afternoon and Knox City Saturday and then beat Gorie in the finals Saturday night. The girls on our team this year are forwards, Selda Lowe, Linda Medford, Joan Griffith, Joyce Shanfelt; guards, Delores Pustejovsky, Sue Watson, Margaret Fischer and Mary Lou McLennan.

The boys lost both their games. One with Knox City and one with Mattson. The O'Brien boys won the tournament.

Martindale Coleman underwent surgery Saturday morning in Hendrick Memorial Hospital in Abilene to place some powdered bone in the finger that he broke last week. It seems that he had broken his finger before and didn't know it or have it set. A cyst grew on the place and that was why it broke so easily this time. This powdered bone will strengthen the bone as it heals. He returned home Monday.

Jimmy Griffith, Mike Overton and Robert Weaver were in Abilene Sunday afternoon to visit Martindale Coleman, and to visit Nina Griffith at the Hendrick Nursing Home where Nina is taking her nurse's training. They also visited Jimmy's maternal grandmother.

Rev. Marshall Rhew of Stamford, district superintendent of the Stamford Methodist District spoke at the Methodist Church Sunday evening bringing a devotional about the Christmas Story, according to Mark. He then showed slides of some of our Methodist work. Included were pictures of recent improvements on the district parsonage, pictures of Dr. and Mrs. Bray, our Methodist missionary in Japan who is supported by the Stamford District, and the new Methodist College being built in Alaska. We enjoyed Rev. Rhew very much.

The Cub Scouts of Pack 48 decorated the lunchatorium at their den meeting last Wednesday. Cedar wreaths and silver, green and red arrangements are all over the room. It is real Christmas.

Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Jones Sr. of Rule spent Sunday afternoon with their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Overton.

Jerry Jones from Ranger spent last weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Jones and daughters. Jerry is the manager of the ice house in Ranger. He had car trouble while he was here, and Roddy Kuenstler took him back to Ranger Sunday night.

G. W. Gunn spent last weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Mack Earles and Eddie Mack, and with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. French in Haskell. G. W. has quit school at Howard County Junior College in order that he may manage a new doughnut shop in San Angelo. He was working in a doughnut shop in Big Spring, and his boss wanted him to manage his new business for him.

Miss Ellen Hilliard and Miss Jean Ballard of Abilene spent last weekend with Ellen's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Hilliard, and her sister, Mrs. John Scheets and family.

Rev. Bud Moore was the speaker for the M-Night service at the East Side Baptist Church in Haskell last Tuesday evening.

Mrs. James Raughton, Mrs. L. H. Simpson and Mrs. Jerry Denson of Stamford were shopping in Abilene Monday.

The first, second and third grades with their teachers, Mrs. Mary Owens and Mrs. Irene Ballard and with Mack Earles driving the bus went on their annual trip to the L. W. Jones Ranch north of Rule to get Christmas trees for their school rooms, and cedar branches to use for decorations.

Mr. and Mrs. Lennis Hilliard and their three children from Hurst spent last weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Hilliard and Mr. and Mrs. John Scheets and family.

Eddie Mack Earles of Abilene spent Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Mack Earles.

Paint Creek is having mumps, mumps. The Junior High boys are all taking turns having them. Billy Patterson, Vern Howard, Butch Kohout, and Kenneth Marr have had them in the last three weeks, and now Roy Petrich, a senior, has them. Several of the children in the grade school have been having an intestinal virus and missing some school.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Giger of Abilene spent Thanksgiving holidays with her parents, Mr.

and Mrs. John Scheets. Mrs. Giger is the former Bonnie Scheets.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Carruth from Andrews spent Friday night with Mr. and Mrs. Mack Earles. Saturday they attended the Andrews-Breckenridge game at Breckenridge and then came back and spent Saturday night and Sunday with the Earles. Mr. and Mrs. Carruth's son is on the Andrews team, but he was unable to play in the quarter finals game because of a broken leg. Andrews lost the game.

Mrs. Bud Moore and Mrs. Glen Walton were in Abilene shopping Monday.

If the long distance operator who takes your call in Seymour has a slow soft drawl it is Wanda Morris. She and Mr. Morris moved to Seymour about two months ago and she has been training there. She won't be the long distance operator all the time, but sometimes. She can't visit with us though. They don't allow the operators to say anything but what is necessary to complete the call. That will be hard on her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bergstrom when they call. But at least we can recognize her voice and know Wanda is handling our call.

Mrs. Durward Livengood and children spent last weekend in Abilene with Mr. and Mrs. Jack Jones and family.

Coach James Raughton's Junior teams made a good showing at their first matched games Monday night. They played the Avoca teams, and the girls won and the boys lost 25-32. It makes us proud to beat Avoca because they have such good basketball teams there. I think when a baby is born in Avoca the first thing the anxious father asks the doctor is if its hands look like

It will be a guard or a forward. Those children play basketball from the time they can walk and their teams show it. They don't have football at all.

Mr. and Mrs. Hoyt Perry have returned from San Antonio where they visited their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Blacklock and children Pam and Lee Ann. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Shaw and Mike were called to Ft. Worth last Monday by the sudden death of Mrs. Shaw's father, W. O. Martin, 78. Funeral service was held in Fort Worth and then burial was in the Aspermont Cemetery.

Billy Patterson spent several days in the hospital last week. He had a relapse of the mumps.

Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Smith and Jeff spent the Thanksgiving holidays in Pleasanton with their daughter and Mrs. Carter and children.

Ever build a brush cover in your favorite fishing lake? Right now is just about the best time of year to do it.

If you like crappie or bream fishing, then a brush cover has a great deal to offer.

Biologists are agreed that a good brush cover offers a definite advantage in catching fish. And a good one can be built in a couple of hours. It is hard work, however, especially if you are a desk man.

Generally brush covers do not work too well in a running stream. They must be firmly anchored. In relatively still lakes they can be tied down with heavy rocks. However, if they can be built around an old tree trunk it is even better.

To build a brush shelter you will need a sharp axe, a pair of pliers, and plenty of bailing wire. A good tow rope will be helpful too. It is best to work with two boats, or a boat and some type of barge or raft.

The process of building the shelter is in itself simple. Cut armful of brush, such as willow, tie it together, and attach a stone so that it will sink to the bottom of the lake. Select a suitable spot where the shelter will not be a hazard to navigation, or get in the way of deep trollers.

It doesn't have to be too far from shore. At least a dozen large bundles of brush should be transported to the spot. Some of it should consist of fair-several hidden angles that could change your whole picture.

Mills Stretchout
Some textile mills are giving longer holidays and stretching out their cotton operations as much as possible. . . reason is they feel that the '59 crop is going to be available at prices more competitive with man-made fibers. . . seems reasonable for them to take steps to enter the '59 season with as low inventory as possible. . . this combination of a more competitive price and low inventories should lead to a healthier and freer market.

sized brush, such as mesquite trees.

In lowering the brush into the water, it is well that the brush be stacked, so that it will be in a pile at the bottom of the lake. A brush shelter a dozen feet around and some five or six feet through is ideal.

Some builders find it profitable also to anchor a bale of alfalfa hay in the center of the pile.

To be most effective the brush should not be matted together. Fish must be able to swim freely among the branches. At the same time, some shelter builders prefer a brush pile that big fish cannot get into—one that furnishes a refuge for smaller fish.

When big fish chase the little ones into the brush pile, they will hang around nearby. That is a pretty good time to lower a minnow in the vicinity. For that reason the perimeter should be well marked. Plenty of hooks can be lost fishing in brush shelters, if its bounds are not known.

Some fishermen use poultry netting to hold the brush together. In that event the entire project must be completed on land and then towed to its resting place.

We once heard of a fisherman who made an unusual, yet ideal, shelter in a lake that had just been lowered. He found a couple of old out-houses, filled them with heavy brush, then hauled them to a spot that would be just about the right depth when the lake was re-filled. There he anchored them down to stay. They were left flat on their sides, with the door open.

Needless to say, he had an ideal cover for fishing and caught more than his share of crappie and bream.

Another good plan is to build the shelter directly under the end of the boat dock or pier. In this instance it is necessary to use heavy wire to keep the brush from washing out, and to keep hooks from snagging.

Anyway, now is a good time to build your brush shelter. Just be careful where you cut your brush and where you put it. Do the job right and you'll have a good fishing spot.

What About a Man Overboard?
Ever so often a sudden and wholly unexpected need for a life preserver existed. This thought hits me whether I'm just plain fishing or pleasure-boating. And I'm not afraid of water either.

Fact of the matter is, my concern is over what I'd be able to do to help someone else. Chances are I'd be paralyzed with fear. Apparently that's why I always carry a surplus of buoyant cushions, in addition to the familiar old style round shaped life preservers with a long rope attached.

In my book you can't overdo the safety angle. The law requires one approved life preserver for every passenger in your boat. Don't forget it! Better yet, see to it that your guest wear life preservers. Insist that children do. The wise outdoor man will never take a chance, especially on or near rough waters.

Learning to Cast
To spin cast or bait cast with accuracy takes practice. An old-timer's method of mastering the trick is to place an empty beer can under the casting arm, then practice casting without dropping the can. This makes it necessary to use only the wrist for action which is the secret of successful casting.

And, by the way—if you have trouble dis-assembling your casting rod, at the end of a day of fishing, here's an idea. Next time you get ready to put your gear together, wipe the male ferrule against your nose a few times, rolling the ferrule over and over as you rub. That will put a base of oil from your skin onto the ferrule and make the connection easy to assemble, and most important of all, easy to dis-assemble.

Slick trick. And it works!

City Gains Five New Residents During Week

Haskell gained five new residents during the past week, a survey by the Chamber of Commerce and Progressive Study Club revealed.

A welcoming committee from the club will contact the newcomers at a date in the near future, possibly after the busy Christmas holidays, and present gift certificates from Haskell merchants.

New residents listed this week are:
C. D. Trussell, 202 South First St.
Hugh Selman, 507 North Ave. E.

Estelle Miller, 604 South 9th Street.
Billy Doyle Norman, 1103 North Ave. E.

L. J. Robinson, 906 North 4th Street.

Miss Gale Williams, senior at the University of Texas, spent the weekend with her parents.

RALPH BERNARD IMPROVING

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Bernard went to Lubbock Sunday to visit their son, Ralph Bernard, seriously ill in Methodist Hospital in that city. Ralph is improving steadily, and Mr. Bernard returned to Haskell Sunday night. Mrs. Bernard will remain in Lubbock for several days looking after her grandchildren, enabling Ralph's wife to spend more time with him at the hospital.

Alonzo Alvarez de Pineda, a Spanish explorer, and his followers are believed to have been the first white men to set foot on what is now Texas soil. Pineda and his group explored the area in 1519.

Medicine Mound, Texas, takes its name from four elevations in the vicinity. These were called medicine mounds and were camps and ceremonial sites of the Comanche Indians. Medicinal herbs not available elsewhere were found there.

HHS Indian Band Places First In Marching
BY SHERRY BURSON

The Haskell Indian Band won high honors at the Region II Interscholastic League marching contest held Saturday, Dec. 6, in Winters.

The band was rated "Superior," or Division I in inspection and marching.

Forty-seven bands marched in freezing temperatures and only 12 bands placed in Division I in marching, of which the Indian Band was included. The bands were inspected for cleanliness of instruments and neatness of uniforms and were required to execute stationary commands. The Indian Band received a "very, very superior rating" on this.

In marching, the bands were required to execute certain requirements, such as, column movements, flanks, halts, countermarches, etc.

The judges on marching were Carroll McMath of Denton, Vernon Hooker of Trinity University, Irving Dreibrud of S. M. U., and Dean P. Corey of Austin Public Schools.

Simulated Grid Game Presented At Lions Club

Members of the Lions Club heard an interesting and effective message on Christianity, presented in the form of recordings of a mock football contest, at the club's regular meeting and luncheon Tuesday at noon in the Texas Cafe.

A visitor, Elmer Shackelford of Welnert, invited Haskell Lions to attend a program of the Welnert Lions Club Thursday night, Dec. 11.

Announcement was made of the pending visit of Max Bentley of the Southwest Diabetic Foundation who will be here Dec. 28 in connection with the annual campaign for the support of Camp Sweeney rehabilitation center for diabetic children.

Lion Guy Harris gave a brief and enlightening talk on Lionism after which he brought recordings of "The Game of Life" which were played by Allen Reeves.

The simulated contest was between the forces of Christianity and the forces of Satan, with God as referee and several "veterans" of the game on hand, including Samuel, Peter, and Moses.

Players on the team for Christianity were identified as Prayer, Faithfulness, Witnessing, Love, Humility, Chastisement. On the opposing team were players Indifference, Selfishness, Jealousy, Good Intentions, Pride, among others.

The recordings presented an interesting and worthwhile message in an effective manner, to make the program one of the best in months.

Rotarians Given Brief Outline Of Dial Service

A demonstration of dial telephone operation was given members of the Rotary Club at their regular meeting and luncheon Thursday in the dining room of the Texas Cafe by F. A. Robinette, district manager of General Telephone Company of the Southwest.

The demonstration was one of a series given clubs and organizations here during the week, in connection with the change-over Dec. 7 from manual to dial operation in the Haskell exchange.

Using a special demonstration unit, Robinette gave an example of the electrical operations involved in the modern dial telephone. Using a large blackboard diagram, he also showed how dial service was connected with an inter-toll network covering the nation.

Under normal conditions a long distance call can be made between Haskell and New York City within 10 seconds, he stated.

Rotary president Tom Barfield announced directors had approved plans for a club bulletin to be published beginning Jan. 1. Jean Elliott gave a report on the Rotary Foundation. Mrs. Henry Withers was club pianist for the club sing-song led by Thos. B. Roberson.

Guests at the meeting were Theron Cahill of Haskell, T. J. McCarty, Abilene, and Harry Haynes of Stamford.

PAINTS "PRETTY-UP" THEY CAN ALSO FLAME

Paints and paint products are highly inflammable and can be mighty dangerous if not taken care of properly. Store in tight containers in a cool place.

Just as paints protect your home (led right), so too does fire insurance stop the blaze, but it will certainly after the fire!
