To aid the ten blind students at Texas Tech, the Vocational Rehabilitation Counseling program has developed a "Braille" map of the campus. Brain-child of Wm. L. Dauterman, assistant professor of psychology, and Jerry Dunham, graduate student, the scale model of the campus (one inch equals 100 feet) gives a blind person a mental picture of the space relationships of buildings, walkways and streets at Tech. Both Dauterman and Dunham are blind.

String glued to the board outlines every sidewalk, subwalk and street on the campus.

"We are now in process of coding the buildings in Braille." Dr. Robert Anderson, vocational rerehabilitation director, said. He pointed out that while a blind student soon knows the area around the rehabilitation offices, Home Economics Building and Tech Book Store, he has no idea of the size or direction of buildings elsewhere on the campus.

However, most blind persons are University Women, will have a dinner meeting at the Drive In Cafe Monday night, March 31, at 6.:30 o'clock. Mrs. Lillian Brown makes the use of a cane and ac-curate information about their surroundings important.

Like a majority of states, Texas has a designed to give blind persons protection in traffic. While many Texans are unaware of the law, it's on the statute books that pedestrians and automobile drivers must take precautions to protect and give right-of-way to a blind person. Normally they carry an all-white cane or one that is red and white.

A fine of $200 may be assessed drivers failing to yield right-of-way to the blind, District Attorney George Wilkerson said.

> Building Brush Shelters We often hear someone talk about building brush shelters in fishing water, especially in known crapple waters. Some very intensive research work has been done used single action by a number of biologists to determine whether brush cover in water really is beneficial both to fish and fishermen. A test run on a Virginia lake revealed a definite increase in angler-success for black crappie. Overall fishing pressure in this particular lake increased 15 per cent between 1955-56. But the harvest of black crappies increased about 40 per cent in 1956 after installation of the shelters. Although only 22 per cent of the fishemen used the shelter areas, they harvested 57 per cent.

If you plan to build one of these shelters talk with your game warden, area biologists of the Game & Fish Commission, or your county agent. The can give you some good advice.

Proper Balance Important In Plant Nutrient

balance in the application of fertilizer is important in getting top profit from money invested in fertilizer, advised F. W. Martin, County Agent.

Too much nitrogen applied to a crop will often cause a plant to become vegetative and lessen the fruit set. Too much phosphorus or potassium in relation to nitrogen, he adds, will cause a plant to be small, mature early and fail to make its top potential yield.

To determine the proper murient balance for a soil, Martin suggests that a soil test be made. A test will determine the amount and kind of the various plant nutrients that should be applied to gave the proper nutrient balance Chris, and Mr. and Mrs. Allen for the crop that is to be grown. Isbell. Mr. Wright was the brothmost profitable rate of fertilizer A soil test will also eliminate unnecessary application of nutrients

If soil samples are taken, it is necessary to take a sample which will give a true representative picture of the fields being tested. A poorly taken sample, he points out, could result in a fertilizer recommendation which actually could be misleading and result in wrong recommendations. For information on how to take a soil sample, visit the county agricultural agent who has forms for listing information which accompany the soil sample.

Storm Cellar Is Good Insurance For Every Home

If you were to see the destructive, black funnel of a tornado rushing directly toward your home, where would you and your family go for protection and safe-

No. this question is not farfetched. In fact, many Texans have experienced this and other similar disasters from time to time. Many of them have never realized the value of a safe place just as we never miss the water until the well goes dry.

But, why not construct a storm cellar before a tornado strikes to remind you that you need one? It can be constructed easily without any special skills and only a few special tools, Since tornadoes generally move from southwest to northeast, the storm cellar should be located southwest of the house. Its entrance should be facing northeast. It should be located far enough from the house that a falling wall. large trees or other debris will not block the entrance. Too, select a well-drained site which can be landscaped to harmonize with the ome surroundings.

Storm cellars should be constructed strong enough to withstand the impact of falling debris. It should also be watertight, economical and relatively easy to

The size of the cellar depends on expected use. For an extended period of comfortable occupancy. allow about 10 square feet of floor space area per person. Short occupancy requires only about two square feet per person. Adequate ventilation should be provided.

Instructions on constructing a satisfactory storm cellar plus other information, such as other uses for the cellar, food storage, for example, is contained in a Texas Agricultural Service leaflet, L-388, "The Disaster Celler." It may be obtained from local county agents or from the Agricultural Information Office, College Station, Tex-

AMERICA'S FAVORITE FAMILY WAGON...PLYMOUTH

Plymouth carries more . . . does more . . . provides more family fun than any other wagon in the low-price 3 because it's BIGGEST IN THE LOW-PRICE 3. You can't buy bigger at any price!

Maybe you're a station wagon family right now. More Americans are each day! But do you know all the really astonishing facts about the Plymouth wagon . . . how much more it gives you than other wagons, at a low budget price?

Size alone is only part of it! The Plymouth wagon is big as wagons in the high-price field that cost $5500 and more . . . but, in addition to extra size, this glamorous beauty offers a wagonload of other features that are exclusively Plymouth in the low-price 3! You simply can't get 'em anywhere else in the field. And once you try them . . . learn how little the years-ahead Plymouth wagon costs . . . you'll never settle for less! Why should you? Your Plymouth dealer has the money-saving story, and he's waiting for your visit.

5 big reasons why your wagon should be a Plymouth:

BIGGEST OF THE LOW-PRICE THREE: Big as wagons costing thousands of dollars more. You can't buy bigger at any price! 122" wheelbase.

HOLDS SO MUCH MORE THAN THE "OTHER 2 TWO": Over 7 cu. ft. more passenger and cargo space. Extra "secret luggage" compartment in 6-passenger models.

REAR-FACING 3rd SEAT: Folds flush into the floor; you don't have to store it outside when it's not in use. Easy to enter.

DISAPPEARING REAR WINDOW: Rolls down into tailgate. Doesn't get in the way. Only Plymouth has it in the low-price field.

TORSION-AIRE RIDE - AT NO EXTRA COST: Only on Plymouth in the low-price 3. Big-car luxury. No sidesway on turns or nose-dive on stops.

They don't come any bigger ... Plymouth station wagons

No Recession in Cattle Business These Days

BY TED GOULDY

Fort Worth, March 24-Livestock producers in the Southwest undoubtedly are hearing a great deal of the "recession" talk and com-ment that is going the rounds these days. They are paying little attention to it, and their position seems to be quite well taken.

Hog prices in February, and also this month of March, are at levels which have been equalled at this season of the year only four times previously. Cattle prices are at the highest levels since 1952 and at Chicago fed steers in recent days have been within a short Eisenhower putt of the $40 level. Monday at Fort Worth three loads of choice steers from Geo. McClung of Cleburne sold at $30, weighed up without a shrink or a sort, to Texas Meat Packing Co. of Dallas.

One year ago milk fat lambs ducing lambs this year has been negligible, compared to high feeding bills incurred in getting the lambs to market last year. The profits this year, according to the sheepmen interviewed at Fort Worth Monday, are far, far in excess of a year ago.

Another thing, the marketing of lambs has been delayed by wet and cold weather, and as a result lambs have been slower in fattening than had been expected in view of the good range this win-ter. In fact, it has been something of a shock that so few of the milk fat lambs are really choice or prime.

Best thing the livestock folks have is two fold: (1) Range condition and moisture prospects have seldom been better. (2) Apparently the working people who buy meat are still financially able to take care of the supply, else the packers would not be out in the alleys at Fort Worth every day competing for the livestock to such an extent that prices have gotten higher and higher.

RETURNS FROM VISIT IN ALABAMA

Who gave her the party?

Some of

who helped

Her parents, of course. And they had the help of hundreds of other people - men and women that Mary's parents don't even know.

These people helped Mother bake the cake and cook the party food. They helped freeze the ice cream, sew Mary's dress, and wash and iron it. They helped heat, light and clean the house for the party,

These busy people are the men and women who supply electric service for Mary's house. It's hard to imagine life without the electricity they provide - for everyone depends on electricity for dozens of jobs all over the house.

If you stop to count all the ways you put electricity to work, you'll be surprised. Can you think of anything else that gives so much value, day in and day out, for so little cost?

Other matters brought up for dis-cussion included the need for some form of warning signals at the Wichita Valley railway crossing east of the square on Highway 24. Another problem brought before the Council concerned the burning of cotton burrs, which has resulted in complaints from residents in areas where the resultant smoke is a nuisance at times.

Whether an annual bowling alley tax of $50 as specified in the city tax ordinance should be collected from an establishment recently opened here, was discussed but no decision was reached.

Also bobbing up again was the problem of attempting to enforce an ordinance regulating the keeping of hogs inside the city limits. The matter has come before the Council at intervals over a period of several years.

Tuesday night's session was the last regular meeting of the Council for the current fiscal year, which ends March 31. All members of the city's governing body were present: Mayor Walling. City Secretary Arbuckle, Aldermen Myron Biard, Jim Byrd, Brooks Middleton, W. H. Pitman, Byron Frazier; and City Waterworks Su perintendent Roy Oliphant.

A Letter to The Public

Haskell Free Press

Haskell, Texas

Dear Sirs:

Please withdraw my name from your list of candidates for Justice of Peace, Precinct No. 1.

Due to ill health, I will not be able to contend for this office another term. However, I would like to thank the people of Haskell County who have been so kind and loyal during the past. It has been a great pleasure to hold office and work for these kind people. I would like also to express my thanks and appreciation to all the county officials and employees who have been so kind and helped me in so many ways.

It is with much regret that I resigned my position and with-draw from this race. However, since my health prevents me from devoting all my time to the duties of the office, I feel it is in the best interest of the people.

Sincerely yours, Eal Treadwell.
