Elks And Rattlers Will Tangle Friday Night

Stratford Elks will meet the Stinnett Rattlers on the Elk field Friday night. Kickoff time has been announced for 7:30 p. m. The Stinnett lineup includes boys with an average weight of 163 pounds. They will be opposed by an Elk team with an average weight of 152 pounds.

At the opening of the season, Stratford was rated third in district 1-A and Stinnett was rated second, by the coaches of the teams.

Stinnett lost all but three of her lettermen by graduation in May. Replacements have played good games at times but often show the weakness of inexperience when under pressure.

The Elks with a lighter team, have seven returning lettermen, and the team has a record of using its head in six games although one butter-fingered performance has been charged up against them.

Fans who have witnessed the games played by both teams, have ventured the prediction that if both teams are turning in a peak performance, the Elks should win by four points.

Don Light is the head coach of the Rattlers. He is assisted by Don McDonald, Fred Scott, Jimmy Mitchell and Bob Owens.

Weldon Bates coaches the Elks with the aid of Ronald Mills and Jim Greenwood.

Winning the game would be a great prize for the Elks. In previous years they were hopelessly outclassed when they met the powerful Rattlers. Stinnett on the other hand, with a comparatively new team, is hoping for a victory over the Elks to help bolster their prestige in the district.

Calahan And Naugle Leave For Fort Polk

Gerald Calahan and Glen Ray Naugle left Wednesday morning for Fort Hood, Texas where they will be given transportation to Fort Polk, Louisiana.

Gerald Calahan has been employed as an engine operator for Phillips Petroleum Co. His previous military service included six months of training with the National Guard at Fort Chaffee, Arkansas. During this tour of duty he was assigned to duty with the armored infantry.

Calahan chose piloting a plane as a hobby. He had been attending night school and lacked only 20 hours of flying time to qualify for a commercial pilots license.

Glen Ray Naugle served two years in the U. S. Army and had been released on inactive duty. During most of his military service he was stationed at Fort Lewis, Washington.

Both Naugle and Calahan expected to be stationed at Fort Polk, Louisiana.

Mrs. Glen Ray Naugle plans to make her home at Kerrick with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alton Brewster, until her husband can secure suitable housing in Louisiana.

The world's lowest temperature, 125 degrees below zero, was recorded in Anartica in 1958.

Jacobs-Payne Wedding Vows Read In Pretty Church Service October 15

MR. AND MRS. JIMMY DEE PAYNE

Wedding vows were solemnized Sunday, October 15, in the sanctuary of the Lincoln Street Baptist Church in Dalhart, for Kay Jacobs, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Jacobs of Stratford, and Jimmy Dee Payne, son of Mrs. Walter Stepp of Amarillo and Sidney Payne of Dalhart.

Rev. Marvin Knox, pastor, read the double ring ceremony at 3:00 p. m. before an altar decorated with greenery and white and bronze mums.

Mrs. J. W. Laney, organist, played the traditional wedding march, and appropriate selections.

The bride was escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father. For her wedding the bride chose a ballerina length dress of white embroidered lace over white satin, with a fitted bodice which featured a high neckline and long sleeves tapering to a point over the hands. Her shoulder length veil of illusion was attached to a rhinestone covered tiara. She carried a white orchid atop a white Bible.

Mrs. John Smithson, attending the bride as matron of honor, was attired in a street length dress of brown self pleated nylon. Her corsage was of white mums.

Ray Payne served his cousin as best man. Ushers were Gary Jacobs, brother of the bride, Leo Payne, brother of the bridegroom, and Kenneth Payne, cousin of the bridegroom.

The mother of the bride wore a brown two-piece knit dress with brown and beige accessories and a corsage of white mums. The bridegroom's mother chose a navy blue crepe dress with black accessories and her corsage featured white mums.

A reception was held in Fellowship Hall following the ceremony.

Mrs. Payne is a graduate of Stratford High School and attended college in Gunnison, Colorado. She is presently employed at Coon Memorial Hospital in Dalhart.

Mr. Payne attended high school in Dalhart and is engaged in farming with his uncle at Dalhart.

Big Maize Harvest May Start Rolling Next Week

Harvesting of maize may start on a grand scale Monday if hopes of many producers are realized. The 30-degree weather Sunday night was sufficient to ripen irrigated maize, if the prediction of Horace Sneed, was right, after he viewed his crop.

Roy Davis at Conlen, believed that the freeze would do the job Monday morning but said he would not know for sure until after he looked at the crop in the heat of the sun Monday afternoon.

Rex Tillery, living to the east of Stratford, said the freeze was not of sufficient intensity to even kill his tomato vines.

Approximately half of the dry land maize and some irrigated fields have been harvested.

Art Ross delivered the first load of dry maize to Stratford on October 4. It had less than a 13% moisture content. A $50

Firemen Fought Grass Fire Sunday

Stratford Volunteer firemen fought a losing battle with a grass fire which spread along the Rock Island right-of-way Sunday afternoon fanned by a wind which gusted up to 50 miles an hour. Heat from the fire kept firemen back from the blaze to such a distance they were unable to use water in their trucks to any great advantage.

Gusts of wind carried the flames over attempted backfires. The fire was finally brought under control when it reached land where the vegetation had been burned off in a fire the previous week.

Firemen were called on a false alarm Tuesday morning to the Judd place southwest of Stratford. A passing motorist on the highway had mistaken a

KNOWLEDGE OF REAL AGE CRUCIAL IN RETIREMENT

AGE. It is perhaps the most important single fact to the man or woman growing close to retirement. It is a fact that too many people treat lightly.

Here are the people who are getting into trouble over their age... along about 60 or so:

1. The man who said he was two years older than he actually was when he went off to enlist in World War I—and got stuck with the error.

2. The woman who began falsifying her age after her 25th birthday and has kept at it, only better, ever since.

3. The man who had a chance to get a fine 38-year-old job when he was 44. He trimmed his eyebrows and got it and has been six years too young ever since.

4. The men and women who have never had anything but artificial evidence of their age—the word of Mama when they were 4 years old that this was their fourth birthday. They've been building on that for a lifetime. Maybe Mama was right. But in 50-odd years the remembrance might have gone astray.

5. The men and women who just don't know their age—because a doctor wasn't there at birth, because no vital statistics were kept then; because the courthouse burned down; for all sorts of reasons.

There are others who are now in a quandry about their age. But these five groups cover most of them. In the order given above, here are some factors for them to consider:

1. The man who is two years older than he is—your life insurance policies are fouled up; so are any annuity policies you have. (You've overpaid on both.) Your Social Security account is out of kilter. So is your pension account with the company. Furthermore, you'll be retired two years too soon.

2. The woman who is two, five, or maybe eight years younger than she is—You probably have nobody depending on your insurance or retirement income except yourself. Your crisis is whether you need to retire at your normal age or need to work until your falsified age comes up.

3. The man who is six years younger than he is—You are in fine shape on compulsory retirement if, like most men, you never want to retire. You're in a mess on everything else. You've underpaid on your insurance. You'll overpay on your pension. You'll lose six years of Social Security you could have.

4. The men and women who THINK they know how old they are—For all concerned you would be wise to prove what you think.

5. The men and women who just don't know how old they are—You should contact the County Clerk in the county where you were born to see if he has a record of your birth. If so he can give you a photostat of your birth certificate. If there is no official record of your birth, contact anybody who was present at your birth—a midwife, doctor, aunt, older brother or sister. Ask one of them to give you an affidavit on your birth.

What About The UNICEF

(By Harry T. Everingham)

Mrs. Frances G. writes: "Every year at Hallowe'en the UNICEF organization (which stands for 'United Nations' International Children's Emergency Fund) asks the churches to send our children from door to door, trick-or-treat, to collect money for UNICEF."

"Then this organization comes back again, between Hallowe'en and Christmas, and tries to sell us internationalist Christmas cards, which have no reference to Christ and no religious significance whatever. Please tell us, what is this UNICEF organization, so that we'll know what we are dealing with."

Dear Mrs. G: UNICEF is not an international children's emergency fund in the sense that it would like to have us believe, because UNICEF renders no direct service to children or to mothers. UNICEF does not get much international cooperation. It draws nearly 80 per cent of its money from the United States. Communist Russia pays only 1 per cent of the cost of UNICEF and all Communist countries require that their donations must be used in their own country. Nevertheless, 3 cents out of every 4 cents contributed to UNICEF by Americans is spent by UNICEF in Communist countries.

The first chairman of UNICEF was a Communist from Poland. At least one-fourth of the members of the U. S. Committee for UNICEF trick or treat drives, have records of affiliation with Communist front organizations.

I have not seen the UNICEF Christmas cards this year, but in previous years many of the artists who drew these cards were people who had Communist-front affiliations and records. This means that they are atheists, so why should they put any religious meaning into the Christmas cards they draw, much less make them symbolic of Christ, whose birthday we celebrate at Christmas? — Free Enterprise Press Service of Chicago.

The Problem

"Behold, how good and how pleasant it is for brethren to dwell together in unity!" — Psalm 133:1

WITH these words, David, King of Israel, rejoiced over the returned exiles. How pleasant, he says, to dwell together in unity.

As much as we dislike to, we must admit that except for the days when Christ was gathering his disciples about him, and immediately after his crucifixion, there has been little unity among Christians.

Disunity has become the great problem of Christianity.

We in our modern world know something has to be done about it if Christianity is to win its greatest contest. Materialism is already far ahead in the race of winning humanity.

Many efforts toward unity are being made on numerous fronts, but it will never be accomplished without unity in our own church right here in our own hometown.

(Next week: the result of disunity.)

Notes From The Principal's Office

(By H. T. Galloway)

Through error one name was left off of the first six weeks honor roll. Robert Meek's name should have been included in the newspaper, but it was a mistake and certainly is to be regretted. Sorry Robert.

My, how fast the time passes. Come this week end will be another Hallowe'en. The high school student council met October 18 with Mayor Odis Bryant, and City Councilmen E. R. Bell and Kenneth Eller to discuss the program. 100% co-operation from the school student body was assured the city council.

At this meeting the following committees were chosen:

Legion Hall Decorating
Mrs. E. R. Bell, chairman; Mrs. Sam R. Lasley, and Mrs. Kenneth Kendrick. Students on the committee are: Donna Boner, Karen Keener, Joe Elms, Lynn Allen, Louise Stone and Bill Kirkwood.

Santa Fe hauls 2.3 million bales of western cotton to markets

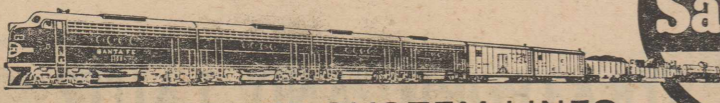

King Cotton has moved west.

In 1945, only 36% of the nation's cotton was grown in the West. Today over 62% of it comes from states served by Santa Fe.

This year Santa Fe will haul over 2,300,000 bales of cotton to markets in 34,000 box cars—enough box cars to make up a train 284 miles long.

Hauling cotton and other important crops, materials and products from where they are grown or made to where they are needed is another example of how Santa Fe is meeting the transportation needs of a growing America.

Last Sunday night was "Sunday School Night," and pictures were taken of the largest class present and of the class having the largest attendance percentage — wise. The Berean Class was the largest and the juniors had the largest percent present. This Sunday night the Stratford Christian Church is entertaining the Christian Churches of District One. About 22 churches are in the district and an attendance of 350 is expected. Registration will be at 3:00 p. m. and afternoon programs will be held for Primary-Junior, Youth and Adults. Banquets for Youth Adults will be held: The Youth in the church Fellowship Hall and the adult in the American Legion Hall. These will be at 5:15 p. m. The evening session starts at 6:30 p. m. and will be featured by worship, led by pastors of the district. An anthem, "Send Out Thy Light," will be presented by the church choir under the direction of Joe Mack Hill. Mrs. Gail McDaniel will lead the congregational singing. The sermon will be delivered by Dr. E. L. Henson, Dean of Britte College of the Bible, at Fort Worth. Mr. H. Cecil Bever, local pastor, will give the welcome. Clyde Nichols, pastor of the Berger Church, is the program chairman and Jeff Hassell, pastor at Dumas, is the district president. District conventions are held twice yearly by the churches.

Walker Taylor Hospitalized By Snake Bite

Walker Taylor was taken to the hospital at Boise City Sunday after being bitten on one thumb by a rattlesnake. He was reported to be getting along nicely although his arm was swollen.

Taylor was bitten while he was pulling a small rattlesnake from a hole with a short tire tool. The accident took place while several men were enjoying the sport of hunting rattle snakes on ranch land near Kerrick.

The conventional tool for capturing the snake is a light weight pipe four or five feet long through which a small steel cable has been doubled to allow a loop to extend at one end. The cable is pulled tight over the snakes head and the capture is completed.

For some reason Taylor decided the small snakes were too fast for the conventional tool, and adopted the use of the tire tool despite the warning of his friends.

Seventy-six snakes were captured during the hunt Sunday.

Morality In Sports Is Urged

BIRMINGHAM — Commissioner Bernie H. Moore of the Southeastern Conference called on college coaches Monday to "teach morality to their squads — standards that possibly the kids didn't get in their own homes."

Moore, concerned by the developing basketball gambling scandal, said "college coaches can do the best job" when it comes to ethics.

"Every SEC football coach talked to his squad this fall on the dangers of gambling and association with shady characters. I sent a telegram that was read to every team and in some cases the university presidents also talked to the squad. We will redouble our vigilance when basketball starts" he said.

Moore said an investigation of the athletics involved in the basketball scandal showed that most had "low mentality, poor high school backgrounds, and should not have been in college to begin with much less given a scholarship."

Deer Hunters Bagging Game At Lake City

Stratford deer hunters at Lake City, Colorado were doing quite well during the first days of their hunt, according to word received Sunday by Glen Webb. Paul Chesmer, R. M. Buckles, Roscoe Dyess, Kenneth Borth and Chris Ohlenbusch had all killed a deer and were hunting for an elk. Albert Zimmer and Cecil Borth were still looking for an opportunity to bag a deer at the time the report of the hunting party was made.

MEDITORIAL: Since that important year, 1922, when insulin was first isolated from the pancreas and successfully used to treat diabetes, the exact cause of this chronic disease has not been proven. It has long been thought that the pancreas, which makes and then secretes insulin into the blood stream, becomes underactive for one of several reasons, and produces an inadequate supply.

Insulin is actually a hormone whose function is to metabolize or change carbohydrates (sugars) in the blood into energy. Without insulin the blood sugar builds up and is finally spilled out through the kidneys.

Recently there has been some doubt placed on the theory that diabetes results from a pancreatic insufficiency. The new idea is that there may be a substance in the blood stream known as an insulin antagonist, which destroys part of the insulin after it has been produced by the pancreas. The tendency to have these antagonists in the body would probably be inherited.

Research has shown that the insulin antagonists are present in abnormally high amounts in the blood of patients whose diabetes has not shown up yet. With this high level of antagonists the pancreas is forced into producing more insulin to overcome adverse effects; it ultimately breaks down under the terrific strain, and diabetes results. The time in life of onset would depend on the degree of antagonism and on the fortitude of the pancreas.

The interesting fact of this new theory is the possibility of finding a new and better treatment for the millions of diabetic patients in the world.

Mrs. West Will Serve The Handicapped

Mrs. Thomas S. West

Mrs. Thomas S. West, San Antonio civic leader interested in the education and rehabilitation of the handicapped, was elected president of the Texas Society for Crippled Children and Adults at its annual meeting at McAllen.

Mrs. West has served the Society as vice-president, a member of the executive committee, director, and also a trustee to the national society.

She first became interested in the Easter Seal program in 1943. In accepting the presidency of the society, Mrs. West said she realizes, during her tenure of office, the great challenge she and the society face to increase and improve the many services of the Easter Seal affiliates to all the handicapped people of Texas, and she is looking to the thousands of volunteers throughout the great state to help her meet this challenge.

It isn't the fact that a man stares at your wife that makes you mad. It's the fact that she enjoys it.

Department Of Health Praises Water Operators

The water plant operator in your home town is the State Health Department's candidate for "Man of the Year."

Does his work sound to prosaic for such a distinction? Health Department engineers say he was a major hero during Hurricane Carla.

Without the commodity he handles, men and cities would slowly die. You use his handiwork with confidence, yet without thought, each time you turn the faucet to drink of the clean clear water.

Each time you fill the basin to wash your face or brush your teeth or shave you call on him.

Or on a hundred occasions during a single, fleeting day.

He and all men like him are subjects of prime concern to the State Health Department's sanitary engineering division. The interest stems from the fact that clean water is indispensable to good health.
