

Stratford To Host 287 Caravan November 7

Stratford will welcome the U. S. Highway 287 Caravan Tuesday, Nov. 7, as breakfast hosts to the delegation. Dining rooms of the Handy Drive-Inn Cafe and Lola's Cafe will open to the visiting group and Stratford hosts at 8:10 a. m.

Highway boosters from Alberta, Canada, Montana, Wyoming, Colorado, Oklahoma and Texas are working vigorously and aggressively in selling the people along the 287 route on the importance of this highway. Local citizens are invited to attend the breakfast and the downtown meeting.

The caravan will be escorted downtown after the breakfast for the main program and ceremonies. This meeting will be held in the blocks on Main Street between North Second and Fourth Streets.

The National U. S. 287 Highway Association is rated as one of the most effective highway associations in the United States. 287 highway improvements from the Canadian border to the gulf have been tremendous.

Stratford has always shown a fine spirit of cooperation with the association. The 1961 strip maps show an all time high of civic and commercial membership listings for Stratford and the new 1962 strip maps will show an increased membership.

It would make the Stratford 287 Highway Caravan Committee very happy to see you at the breakfast Tuesday, November 7, at 8:10 a. m., Ray Doerfler said. Local highway boosters may join the caravan on their trip to the coast, Howard King, field representative, stated.

Overnight stops will be made at Quannah, Bowie, Palestine, and Lake Charles and New Iberia, Louisiana. Ray Doerfler, Van B. Boston, Ernest Palmer, M. L. Mitts and F. L. Yates compose the Stratford Highway 287 Caravan Committee.

Dillard and Kreigel were taken to Memorial Hospital in Dumas for observation and released Monday.

Bobby Dillard plead guilty to charges of driving while intoxicated in county court. He was fined $226.10, 10 days in jail, and his driver's license was suspended for six months.

Gibbs And Smith Add To Whittlers Cane

H. W. Gibbs and Leo Smith, members of the National Whittlers Association, have placed their carvings on the friendship cane of Allan Kack of Detroit, Michigan. The cane was mailed to Kack Tuesday morning.

Approximately 100 men compose the National Whittlers Association. The organization functions primarily to promote friendship and the creations of the members are traded to one another.

H. W. Gibbs, Leo Smith and Bill Miller of Engleside, are the Texas members of the organization.

The friendship cane being circulated by Allan Kack is his second. It is approximately four feet in length and has been in circulation since February of 1954. Approximately $25.00 has been spent in postage in sending the cane from one whittler to another.

The Kack cane will be one of those to be displayed at the next World's Fair to be held in Chicago.

Smith carved a cowboy on the cane and Gibbs whittled a steer's head on it. Other carvings include a gorilla head, a deep sea fish, an Indian head, a profile of Eisenhower, a farmer on a fence, a profile of Washington, a horse's head, a mina bird, a squirrel eating a nut, a mallard duck, an owl, September morn, a serpent, a horse's head, a quail, a dashhund, and a rattlesnake.

There is about enough more space on the cane for three or four more carvings.

They are to sail November 8, and arrive in Hawaii November 13, to join her husband, who is in the U. S. Air Force there.

Witherspoon Issues Sugar Beet Report

James W. Witherspoon of Hereford, an active member of the committee leading the fight to secure acreage for Texas farmers to produce sugar beets, issues the following statement:

The 87th Congress recessed for the year 1961 the latter part of September without any permanent sugar legislation as was promised, in spite of the agreement of the Senate and House conferees on the last day of March, 1961, the date of the fifteen months compromise extension of the present 1948 Act, to hold meetings and enact a permanent sugar law without delay. The hearings were held by the House Agricultural Committee for new areas interested in production on the 18th and 19th of May, 1961, and the matter was sidetracked the remainder part of the session, waiting on the Secretary of Agriculture to make recommendations. The Secretary has not made public his recommendations as of this date, but this report is expected with the reconvening of the Congress in January, 1962. The news accounts of the statements of the Secretary indicate that he will probably recommend an increase in domestic production of approximately one million tons, which would be ten new beet processing plants, and which would be equivalent of changing the ratio of domestic production, including Hawaii and Puerto Rico, of 55% of domestic consumption and foreign imports of 45% of domestic consumption to the ratio of 66 2/3% for domestic production and 33 1/3% for foreign imports.

Following the news accounts of the purported statements of the Secretary, the House Agricultural Committee, under the leadership of Harold D. Cooley as chairman, and W. R. Poage as vice chairman, obtained unanimous consent of the membership of the House Agricultural Committee by resolution suggesting to the Secretary that the growth factor of domestic consumption of approximately 120,000 tons per year be divided 25% to cane producers and 75% to beet producers, but definitely for new processing mills in new producing areas for beets. This would mean approximately 100,000 tons per year for new beet processing mills, or 40,000 additional acres per year, with an accumulation of a million tons in ten years, or ten mills over a ten-year period.

The House Agricultural Committee has let it be known in news releases that when Congress reconvenes in January, the sugar legislation will be taken up without further delays upon receipt of the Secretary's report and recommendations. The present 1948 Act as extended will again expire June 1, 1962. The old growing areas since 1948 have expanded their production considerably over the quotas awarded in the 1948 Act by virtue of the annual increase in consumption and the large deficits in both Hawaii and Puerto Rico production. These growers and the mills do not want to lose any of this growth and accumulation. It has been hard for them to see clearly how they can recommend legislation for new areas and new mills without the legislation at the same time, providing permanent protection for them which would maintain the present production and the increased acreage which they have enjoyed since 1948 to the present time through the population consumption factor and the deficits. Of course, Puerto Rico and Hawaii desire their status under the law as written in 1948 without losing the production and acreage which they have been unable to fill in the past. ### Elks Lose Hard Fought Game To Stinnett Stratford Elks lost a hard fought football game on the local field Friday night by a score of 36 to 14. Superior Stinnett weight in the backfield was the main factor in determining the winner of the game.

During the first quarter, the Elks held the Rattlers to a scoreless game. The first break in the game came when Mike Waters, 140 pound Rattler half-back managed to slip through the Elk line, and ran for a touchdown, for a 6-0 score at the end of the half.

In the third quarter the Rattlers began end runs to avoid bucking the centralized weight of the Elk team in the line. Running behind good interference Mike Waters scored the second touchdown of the game and Jerry Laster carried the ball for two extra points. Misjudging the bounce of a short kick, let Stinnett take possession of the ball on the kick-off on the Elk 38 yard line. Jerry Laster skirted the right end of the Elk line to go all the way for a touchdown, and made a line plunge for the two extra points to bring up a score of 22 for the Rattlers and 0 for the Elks.

The Elks made a fighting stand in the fourth quarter. Doug McBryde scored the first touchdown for the Elks and Gary Garoutte scored the two extra points. Jerry Laster, 190 pound Stinnett back, again skirted the Elk line behind good interference, and scored the 28 to 8 touchdown for the Rattlers. The kick for an extra point was good for a score of 29 to 8.

The Elks received and made a drive down the field for a second touchdown scored by Scott Whorton and a 14 to 29 score.

The Rattlers received the Elk kick and returned it to the 50 yard line to begin a drive down the field. It was 190 pound fleet footed Jerry Laster who again fought his way around the Elk line and through the backfield to cross the goal line for a 35 to 14 score. Mainess Gibson kicked the extra point for a 36-14 score.

The Elks received the kick on the 20 yard line and were forced to punt. Stinnett took the ball on the 50 yard line and fumbled on the 40 yard line. Dennis Plunk recovered the fumble which enabled the Elks to start their last drive of the game. They were threatening the Rattler goal line as the game ended.

During the game the Elks made 20 first downs while Stinnett made 19. The Elks gained 210 yards rushing and Stinnett gained 352. The Elks made four penetrations and the Rattlers made seven.

Den 3 Cub Scouts

Den Three met at the den house and had rolls and milk for refreshments.

We had a new den member today. His name is Eddie Tackett.

Premiums ranging from three to 24 cents per bushel for varying qualities of hard red spring, hard red winter and hard white wheat as measured by a baking quality (sedimentation) test have been announced by the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Under the 1962 wheat price-support program, premiums will be paid on hard wheats with baking quality values of 40 or above on the quality scale. Wheat with a value of 40 or higher are preferred for commercial bread baking. Hard wheats with no test or testing below 40 will be supported at the basic loan rate for the county under the 1962 program.

The quality premiums under the new schedule are substantially higher than those under the present price support program which is being replaced. Hard wheats with a baking quality value of 40-44 will draw a 3 cent premium; 45-49, 6 cents; 50-54, 10 cents; 55-59, 14 cents; 19 cents and those testing 65 or more will draw the 24 cents per bushel premium.

Ben Spears, agronomist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, said producers have no sure way to guarantee the level of wheat quality, but that by planting adapted varieties known to have strong gluten characteristics and by following recommended cultural and fertilizer practices, they can increase the probability of harvesting wheat of better quality.

The purpose of the quality premium in the support operation is to provide more of a price incentive to encourage producers to move forward with a wheat quality improvement program, Spears added.

In commenting on the sedimentation test, Spears said it is the feeling of USDA officials that the baking quality test more nearly reflects the true value of hard wheats for making flour for commercial bread baking under modern circumstances. The test reflects both the protein content of wheat and the quality of its gluten and is an index of bread making "strength." Facilities for providing such tests are being expanded to meet expected needs, Spears said.

C. T. Pounds Being Taken To Specialists

Mrs. C. T. Pounds said Wednesday morning that she plans to start on the trip to Tennessee with Mr. Pounds just as soon as the weather clears up. They will go by car and will be accompanied by a registered nurse. Mr. Pounds has been ill for sometime at his ranch home at Conlen as the result of a series of strokes. He suffered a second severe one last Saturday.

He is to be taken to a noted Memphis clinic. Family members living at other Tennessee points will join the couple in Memphis.

Don't worry, Mary, pop doesn't really give the bride away. If he did, none of the girls would ever get married.

General rains, falling in showers of varying amounts, fell over most of the territory Sunday, Monday and Tuesday nights. The weather forecast indicates continued rains may be expected.

The official recording in Stratford for the three nights of rain was 1.35 of an inch. Showers were gauged as .56 Sunday, .77 Monday and .02 Tuesday.

Sunday and Monday nights, the heaviest rainfall was reported in a semi-circle from the vicinity of Stevens through the Spurlock Community and into the Ruby Community. Showers in this area were reported to have varied from approximately 1 to 2 inches.

Totals of approximately 1 inch of rain were reported at Texhoma, Dumas, Dalhart and Boise City.

Cattlemen and wheat farmers looking forward to receiving wheat pasture money are jubilant over the rains. The root system of the wheat is expected to develop to such an extent that it will be ready for pasture within a short time. At present most of the fields of wheat have a good surface coverage but the root system would not prevent grazing cattle from pulling it up.

Irrigation maize farmers who have cut only small amounts of their acreage are worried over the current situation. Their loss at the present time is very small in comparison to the gains they will receive from the moisture. However in some fields the stalks are beginning to lean. The stalks would not support the heavy wet heads of grain in a high wind storm. Although modern equipment makes it possible to save much of the grain from sorghum crops which have blown down, the process is much slower and more expensive.

P-TA NEWS AND VIEWS

The following report is submitted by the Legislation chairman, Mrs. Jack Vincent. Legislation action of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers is determined at all times by previously adopted legislation policies. These policies define the fields of legislation that are within the scope of the parent-teacher program. Only those specific bills that conform to these policies can become a priority item on the legislation program.

control. Education beyond high school should be encouraged and adequate support provided. The United States Office of Education should be established as an independent agency of government under the general direction of a federal board of education. This board should be composed of laymen appointed to long, overlapping terms and should have authority to appoint, and be advisory to, the United States Commissioner of Education.

Federal Support For Education All funds appropriated by the federal government for the support of education within the states should go to publicly controlled, tax-supported schools only.

Federal funds should be appropriated for the purpose of increasing educational opportunity among the states, with provisions ensuring maximum local control and encouragement to the states to put forth their best efforts to equalize opportunities within their own boundaries.

Federal funds appropriated for education should be available for school libraries and for special programs for the education of handicapped children.

Federal funds appropriated for education should be used to provide, through the U.S. Office of Education, adequate programs of school health, health education, and physical fitness for children and youth.

Federal funds appropriated for education should be used for such programs of adult education as affect the welfare of children and youth.

All federal funds for vocational education should be channeled through the U.S. Office of Education to state departments of education, so that vocational and general education may be effectively integrated through state and local control.

Federal funds should be appropriated to give aid in the construction of public school buildings, after approved surveys have been made. These funds should be: (1) channeled from the U.S. Office of Education through state departments of education to the local units of administration; (2) allocated so as to encourage states to set forth principles for equalizing the distribution of state and federal funds, giving special consideration to school administrative units with relatively low financial resources and to areas especially affected by rapid and substantial increase in school-age population.

Federal funds should be used to augment state and local support for schools in federally impacted areas. The education of Indian children should be administered through state departments of education, with adequate federal appropriations that will help equalize educational opportunities with those of other American children.

The above is an introduction and four of the (policies) adopted as a legislation program for our National P-TA. The other 11 will follow at a later date.

Most of our states have approved and accepted Federal Aid to schools and are attempting to force legislation to insure local and state control of this aid. They may be able to do this—but?

Texas is one of the states not going along with federal aid although we are still eligible to accept such. It is the general opinion of most people accepting federal aid of any type that "we might as well get our share." These people have not figured how little they are getting in proportion to what they are spending. Thirty cents on the dollar is the general quota on monetary value. How much do you say it costs to give up your control of the type of school books your child studies? How do you evaluate the Bill of Rights?

If you don't like to see this type of legislation and policies passed by the P-TA don't gripe unless: You pay your P-TA dues and attend every meeting. This could be passed off as National, but remember if we are to change it, we as a local unit must be strong to make our state unit heard and respected.

Four hundred people were present at the evening session of District One Christian Churches, held last Sunday evening at the Stratford Christian Church. There were 130 youth at the banquet, with about 30 children. An overflow crowd was present at the adult banquet in the American Legion Hall. The Rev. Mr. Jeff Hassell, pastor at Dumas, presided over the sessions, both afternoon and evening. Dr. Elmer Henson, Dean of Brite College of the Bible, Fort Worth, Texas, spoke at the evening session on the theme, "Recruiting For the Ministry." The Rev. Mr. John Waddell, pastor at Spearman, gave the afternoon sermon.

This Sunday night, November 5, will be "Fill A Pew Night." Several members of the church will endeavor to "fill a pew," and an award will be given to the one having the most people sitting in his pew. The pastor,

MEDITORIAL: The introduction of insulin in 1921 and of antibiotics around 1940 has saved the diabetic patient from an early death, from coma and infections, and has increased his life expectancy three times above what it was.

Since most diabetics now live to a ripe old age, what problems or complications, if any, occur? What can diabetics do to ward off trouble as they grow older? Do severe diabetics have more complications than those with mild diabetes? The answers to these questions should be of great importance to people afflicted with this disease.

Within a few limitations, diabetics can live a full and active life. Their life expectancy is about the same as non-diabetics. Most moderate to severe diabetic patients require insulin by injection to maintain a normal level of sugar in their blood. This is especially true of the younger patients. Some who have developed diabetes late in life may control the ailment with diet alone or in conjunction with the newer diabetic pills.

The most frequent diabetic complication which now occurs in later life is a kidney ailment. It seems quite likely that this complication, as well as others, such as hardening of the arteries, neuritis, cataracts and skin infections, are no more common in severe diabetics than in mild cases.

Thus the patients who take great pains to keep their urine and blood sugar levels as normal as they can by careful dieting, adjustment of their insulin if needed, planning their exercise at the correct times and by having moderate habits, will benefit greatly in the long run.

Hudson And Elms Reign At Carnival

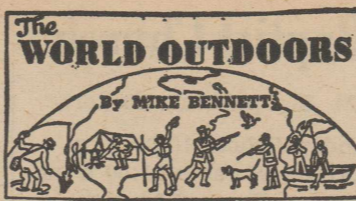

Joe Elms and Sue Hudson were crowned king and queen of the annual senior carnival in the school auditorium Saturday night. They are members of the senior class.

Charles Britten and Nancy Lollis, eighth grade candidates, were crowned Duke and Duchess of the carnival.

Gross receipts from the carnival were $2,267.68. R. W. Standefer Jr., superintendent, reported Wednesday morning.

Award Six Stunt Prizes In the grade school contest of class stunts, Miss Doris Ballinger's third grade won the $7.50 first prize, Miss Patricia Hill's fourth grade won the $5.00 second prize, and Mrs. Dicy Stephenson's third grade won the $3.00 third prize.

Junior high and high school classes competed in a separate division. The $7.50 first prize went to the junior class, the $5.00 second prize to the freshman class, and the $3.00 third prize was awarded to the seventh grade.

'NOW that hunting season is here, I don't fish anymore.' This is a remark heard often by this writer. Most of the time, the speaker goes on to say, 'Too cold to fish, anyhow.'

It may be—for some. This individual happens to know some fellows who don't start fishing until hunting season opens.

Down in the Southland, the big bass don't really do much during the hot summer months. A good fisherman will pick up a lunker bass now and then but, for the most part, the Summer is a time for "middlin'-size" bass.

But, comes October, November, and the big boys begin to get more active. They come up from the depths where they have spent the Summer enjoying the cooler water temperature and they will often go on a feeding spree.

This is the time real bass fishermen have their hey day. And, there's nothing like it.

Up North, of course, they fish through the ice and devotees of this hardy sport think there is nothing like it.

So, every man to his own. Let those fellows who so desire hide the tackle box and hang up the rod for several months. For many an angler, the fishing season is just beginning.

Make Food Inviting Spoon a spunky mixture of pickle relish, shredded sharp cheddar cheese and mustard mayonnaise into canned cling peach halves. Pop them into the broiler and serve with meat loaf for a glamor meal. Spice canned fruit cocktail with stick cinnamon and some cloves to serve as a relish with any meat course. This may also be used with cottage cheese for salad.

Helen's Favorite: Picalilly Hot Bread (Serves 8) 2 cups biscuit mix 1/2 cup milk 1 egg, slightly beaten 2 tablespoons instant minced onion 1 tablespoon oil 1/2 cup drained sweet pickle relish 1/4 cup grated Parmesan cheese Place biscuit mix in large bowl. Combine milk, egg, onion, oil and relish; add all at once to dry mixture. Stir until just moistened. Turn into greased 8-inch layer cake pan. Sprinkle with Parmesan cheese. Bake in a hot (400°F.) oven 17 to 20 minutes, until bread is done and cheese golden. Serve hot.

Grind any leftover meat, spice with soaked instant minced onion and mayonnaise and use as a spread. Equal parts of canned green beans and kidney beans with chopped pickle, tabasco sauce and mayonnaise make a good, hearty and colorful salad. Add mustard, worcestershire sauce and ripe olive wedges to macaroni and cheese for a "barbecued macaroni." Broil until cheese bubbles.

Farm Bureau
Offers New Solutions

Several resolutions were adopted at a recent meeting of the Sherman County Farm Bureau. Resolutions which have been forwarded to the state national policies committee are:

1. We recommend that the law governing the itinerant harrow be amended so that they may be permitted to haul for hire purchased at the same place as the traveling permit.

2. Whereas, the United Nations World Court of 15 judges, Russians may have 3 judges from the U.S. 1. Judges are elected by the U.N. Five may be final decisions. More than half of the member Nations of the U.N. have not accepted the court. Twenty-one nations have accepted with reservations. In 1946 the USA limited the World Court's jurisdiction to international affairs only by the Conally Amendment. Today effort is being made to nullify this amendment, thus offering domestic issues to World Court decisions.

Therefore be it resolved, that the Sherman County Farm Bureau recommends to state and national farm bureau that the United States withdraw completely from the World Court.

"The objective of our wheat program should be to create conditions which will make it possible for farmers to earn and obtain a high per family income in a manner which will preserve individual freedom and gradually eliminate government regulation of our farm operation. We think this can and should be done in 3 to 5 years.

Therefore be it resolved, that we recommend the following:

1. Encourage all wheat producers to plant only varieties of proven baking and milling qualities acceptable to the bakers.
2. All other undesirable varieties should have to be classed and sold as feed.

3. Insist that all wheat offered for sale for export for human consumption be only wheat having high baking and milling qualities and the least possible foreign matter included.

The Secretary of Agriculture should not have the power to dump wheat on the market to force the price down.

5. That a workable plan be devised to terminate wheat acreage allotments and marketing quotas, at the earliest possible date.
6. In the wheat referendum the farmers should be given a number of alternatives to vote for or against, including a plan that would gradually get the government out of wheat farming and put producers back in control of their own farms.

"We recommend that Congress rewrite the sugar act because:

1. It would open up new fields in sugar beet expansion.
2. It would cause expansion and need for new mills.
3. It would help reduce surpluses of other grains for these acres would be shifted to sugar beets.
4. It would increase the farm income.
5. It would make the U.S. self supporting on it sugar, and in event of war there would be no shortage."

"The Sherman County Farm Bureau commends and supports the A.F.B.F. position in opposition to the $1.25 wage rate and an 8 hour day on the farm."

"The Sherman County Farm Bureau goes on record as being opposed to any change in the use of our farm to market road funds."

"The Sherman County Farm Bureau is opposed to cities annexing property in adjoining areas without consent of a majority of the property owners."

"We recommend a state brand inspection law. Instead of county registration of brands we recommend that the state be divided into districts and brands be registered in districts. Brand inspectors shall be assigned to inspect the movement of all cattle including sales rings, terminals and shipping points."

"We recommend a program for the eradication of screw worms."

"We recommend that the state insurance commission be abolished and all types of insurance be put on a competitive basis."

"We recommend that the 'Right to Work' law be made a part of our state constitution."

"We recommend that our state supported colleges include the studies of hydrology."

"The Sherman County Farm Bureau commends and supports the American Farm Bureau Federation on Bracero Labor."

"Sherman County Farm Bureau opposes all forms of federal aid to education."

"Sherman County Farm Bureau commends and supports the American Farm Bureau Federation stand on the House Committee on Un-American Activities and the Senate Internal Security subcommittee and urge their continuation."

"We recommend to congress that the U. S. withdraw from the United Nations. It has become the 'Law of the Land' by a treaty and no where in our constitution is it found, nor has it ever been brought to a vote. Did you know the Korean War was not declared by Congress but on orders from the U.N.? Ninety percent of the U.N. force were Americans and yet not allowed to win the war. Thus by a U.N. order a Red Chinese victory and our cost was $20 billion dollars and 145,000 casualties.

Under U.N. charter and covenant of human rights it denies freedom of religion, freedom of press, freedom of speech, property rights, and our 'Bill of Rights.'

We have paid $65 million dollars for the U.N. building, $20 billion dollars for the Korean War and we pay 43.7% of its annual upkeep or $146,200,000 while Russia paid only 5.4% or $18,211,100. All of this money for one vote in the U.N."

Since the U.N. violates our constitution and farm philosophy of government we recommend that the United States get out of the United Nations."

"The Sherman County Farm Bureau commends and supports the American Farm Federation stand on the supreme court of the United States."

"The Sherman County Farm Bureau sees no need for the so-called Peace Corps, therefore we are opposed to the continuation of this program."

"The Sherman County Farm Bureau is in favor of having all livestock carry a health inspection certificate before entering the state from out of state."

"The Sherman County Farm Bureau opposes all forms of County Building Permit."

"Whereas, the free world, knows the ever present threat of Communist aggression, and as betrayal by Communism has stifled the voice of nation after nation, once free but totally subject to the senseless dictates of a pagan doctrine, and,

Whereas, sober men of wisdom from every sociological, religious and philosophical persuasion are met in common agreement that the very determination of whether human life shall continue upon this earth is no longer left solely to the decision of God alone, but might well rest with some one irrational human being, with the power to launch a nuclear war,

Therefore be it resolved, that both as private citizens, as well as members of the Farm Bureau, we do pledge ourselves to do these specific things:

1. To exercise careful judgment in any personal application of the labels "Communist," "Fellow Traveler," "Pink," "Socialist," "Nazi," or "Facist" to another individual or group, and that we exercise that caution in our use of such labels so that no innocent unit shall be penalized by the acts of the guilty.
2. That we will aggressively work to restore individual loyalty and respect to our priceless symbols, the American flag, the military uniform and religion.
3. That we make known to all elected and appointed holders of office our determination to preserve the government of the United States of America as the servant, not the master of our people, as defender and protector of our rights, not as provider of our need or competitor to our private businesses.
4. That we will accept politics as the science of government not as a contest for power and control, and aggressively promote political education without prejudice or favor in our Farm Bureau, our communities and private affairs."

Production Consumption

(By Lloyd Bergsma)

The difference between Texas fat beef production and the beef eaten at Texas dinner tables is growing smaller.

With more than a 100 per cent increase in total number of cattle fed during the past five years, Texas is well on the way to becoming the leading feeding state in the Southwest.

And yet Texas feeds only about 20 per cent of the feeder cattle produced in the state. Consumption of fed beef in Texas last year was an estimated 115 million pounds more than was produced in the state.

On July 17 the Crop and Livestock Reporting Service released the cattle and calves on feed report for July 1, 1961. The 180,000 head reported for Texas was the largest number of cattle on feed ever reported for a July 1 date. Numbers of cattle on feed are reported quarterly in Texas and you must go back to Jan. 1, 1958 to find a quarterly report which did not exceed the same date the previous year.

Such rapid growth of the cattle-feeding industry has been alarming to some associated with the industry. Admittedly, over expansion would not be beneficial for this developing industry; but, before we wave the red flag let's examine the situation more fully.

The resources which are necessary for a successful cattle-feeding operation are available in Texas on a scale which will allow for considerable expansion of the industry. Feed grains which are an extremely important raw resource in this beef-producing factory are produced in Texas far in excess of present feeding requirements. The 1961 production will likely be down from the record 1960 production of 9.3 million tons of feed grain; but, the reduction is not expected to reduce the total crop to levels below present or anticipated needs. Texas feeds only approximately 20 per cent of the feeder cattle produced in the state. If all feeder cattle produced were fed on Texas grain it would require only 30 per cent of the 1960 production.

Texas feeder cattle move to every major feeding state in the nation. Some of the concentrated feeding areas in the West depend almost entirely upon Texas feeder cattle to supply their feed lots. It is not unusual to find situations where both the grain and the feeder cattle supplying feed lots in other states have been transported from Texas.

An adequate supply of feed grains and feeder cattle coupled with a good climate for the feeding of cattle throughout most of the state provides Texas with a sound base for the development of an efficient cattle-feeding industry.

To this point we have discussed only the resources going into this beef factory, but as is true in any production plants, we must have an outlet for the production. Texas can score well in this category also.

In 1955 the consumption of fed beef in Texas exceeded production in the state by an estimated 208 million pounds. With the slaughter weights in Texas averaging approximately 900 pounds, this deficit represented 386,000 fed cattle. The increase in cattle feeding in Texas during the past six years has narrowed the deficit between consumption and production. However, an increasing Texas population with an improved appetite for beef has also increased the total consumption of fed beef.

During 1960, 9,600,000 Texans consumed an estimated 115,000,000 pounds more fed beef than was produced in Texas. In terms of average size slaughter cattle this represents 214,000 fed cattle. This analysis should be considered conservative as we have used national average beef consumption figures of which 50 per cent was assumed to be fed beef. For the Texas population these figures are very likely on the low side.

What does this deficit production of fed beef mean to the Texas agricultural economy? For the purpose of analysis, let us assume that the 214,000 fed cattle imported into Texas were originally Texas feeder cattle.

Lloyd Bergsma To Speak At Nov. 7 Meeting

Lloyd Bergsma, a director of the Cattle Feeders Division of the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association, will be the guest speaker at the monthly Stratford Young Farmers and Ranchers Association meeting to be held Tuesday, November 7. The meeting will be held in the County Exhibit Building beginning at 7:30 p. m. Johnny Summerour, president of the Young Farmers and Ranchers Association, extends an invitation to everyone in the area who is interested in the cattle industry.

Mr. Bergsma will be remembered by many, as one of the key personnel who developed the Doane Agricultural Survey for Sherman County. Soon after completing this survey, he was employed by the Texas Education Agency and served as a management specialist, assisting vocational agriculture teachers in their adult work. He has served in many other capacities, which has thoroughly prepared him for his present position.

The formation of the Cattle Feeders Division of the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association was a big step forward in the development of the cattle feeding industry in Texas. One of the main purposes of the Cattle Feeder division, is to provide a media through which individual cattle feeders can cooperate in solving the problems of the industry. Another service being rendered to Texas cattle feeders, is a weekly publication giving information regarding sales and purchases in feed lots throughout Texas and the Southwest. The new organization plans to do research in marketing, nutrition, management, disease control and other fields directly related to the industry.

Summerour pointed out, that he felt that Mr. Bergsma would have information that will be of interest to all cattlemen of the area, and urges everyone interested in the beef cattle industry to attend the meeting.

Cane refiners enjoy more profit through importation of the 96% pure cane sugar from foreign countries than do the beet processing mills, on account of the heavy population in the East and the rail freight over ocean freight from the West and Midwest where the beet processing plants are situated. The cane refineries which refine the 96% pure cane sugar imported located in the East in the more densely populated areas of the country, and the importers of the foreign sugar, along with the representatives of practically every foreign government, of course want a large share of the domestic market than they now have, and certainly do not willingly want to give up any part of the exceptionally good business they enjoy. The Congress is so constituted that the majority of votes is situated in the areas where the cane refineries are situated, and the foreign importers reside. Thus the problem in obtaining the necessary votes for legislation increasing domestic production.

However, it is our considered opinion that many Congressmen will vote for the recommendations of the House Agricultural Committee and its chairman and for the recommendations of the administration without considering these diversities of special and local interests, and that we can obtain the required number of votes in the Congress if we have the blessings of the House Agricultural Committee and the administration. The danger which we now face is that the administration may be influenced by the Department of State which will apparently, from all indications, favor the political philosophy of the Eastern cane refineries which refine the foreign imported sugar and the importers to whom the importation of sugar is a big business for their special interest. The Department of State does have a great deal of influence in the administration, and particularly with international affairs in the state we are now in. However, we believe that the President may realize that our position is the sounder of the two positions, first for the real benefit that increased production would be to the farm and national economy, and secondly that so far our aid to foreign countries by sugar purchases has not helped our international position as much as has been expected, and thirdly that although Russia is presently the largest exporter of sugar while we are the largest importer, that nevertheless Russia is continuing to build new processing mills and expanding their sugar beet production practically one-third more than at present.

In view of the above, it is readily understandable that we cannot fail to continue, the remaining days of this year and the first of next year, to personally write President Kennedy asking for his help so that he may know that many people in many areas are interested and looking to him for support. We believe that the administration may conclude that it would be good politically to favor legislation which would increase the domestic production considerably, at least by permitting an increase of one million tons or ten new mills which would still allow in excess of two hundred million tons of sugar to be imported without regard to the growth factor. If we are fortunate in obtaining legislation which would permit this increase, there would be sufficient mills for all the new areas to commence immediate expansion. If the growth factor only is enacted, then the new areas will have to wait year by year for their turn, and the first to commence construction would probably be the one favored by the Secretary with a quota.

Elks Play Friday At Sunray

Stratford Elks will play the Sunray Bobcats on the Bobcat field Friday night. At the opening of the season Stratford was rated third in the district and Sunray fourth.

The Elks and Bobcats are about evenly matched in weight. The Bobcats have five returning lettermen and the Elks have seven.

This would mean that only the value added to the cattle by feeding was a loss to the Texas agricultural gross income. A 300 to 400-pound gain during the feeding period is likely. If we consider this gain worth 25 cents per pound and add to this total a normal feeding margin, an average increase in the value of the animal through feeding of $100 would appear in order.

At this level the deficit fed-beef production in Texas during 1960 represented an economic loss to Texas agriculture of over $21,000,000.

One additional factor should be considered before being unduly concerned with over-expansion of the feeding industry. Processing facilities for beef animals require a relatively uniform volume of animals through their plants if they are to be successful. An increased supply of slaughter animals in Texas can improve the market by making feasible the establishment of additional processing facilities. This expansion of processing facilities is under way and as the number of cattle fed increases we can expect continued expansion of packing facilities. This again adds dollars to the Texas economy.

With the potential in both production resources and markets that exists for the Texas cattle-feeding industry, we can look forward to a continued development of the industry. This development will be important not only to cattle feeders and to agriculture, but will benefit the entire economy of the state and region. — The Cattleman.
