

Snow And Rain Gauge 1.25 Inches

Snow, sleet and rain are credited with leaving 1.25 inches of moisture in the vicinity of Stratford, according to the official readings of Horace Sneed, local weather observer. Snow, rain and sleet Tuesday deposited 1.03 inches of moisture, and .22 of an inch fell in the rain gauge Wednesday.

It is quite possible Stratford had between five and six inches of snow during the storm, Sneed said. A rain shower melted the snow down Tuesday before he took his official measurement. An additional two inches of snow fell Wednesday. The official measurement of the snow was 4 1/2 inches.

The weight of ice and snow collecting on leaves of the trees resulted in many large tree limbs falling to the ground Wednesday.

A stiff north wind blowing over the area Wednesday night is feared to have blown down most of the ice and snow covered maize heads in unharvested fields.

The exact acreage of unharvested maize in this area is unknown. Harvest started October 3. Most of the dryland maize has been harvested, and combining has been completed in many of the irrigated fields. Unharvested fields of maize are known to exist to the east and southeast of Stratford. Some of these stalks were beginning to give away to the weight of the grain Sunday afternoon, while other fields were in comparatively good condition.

The snow blanket extended from the northern part of Colorado to El Paso, Texas. New Mexico cities reported from 12 to 13 inches of snow. In the mountains west of Roswell up to 30 inches fell.

Sunshine and rising temperatures greeted the Panhandle Plains area Thursday morning.

Texas FB Has Record Membership

WACO — The Texas Farm Bureau ended its fiscal year October 31 with the highest membership in its history, the organization director has announced.

Millard Shivers said the 1961 membership totaled 82,362, an increase of 1,370 over last year's figure of 80,992. This is the ninth consecutive year for the state's largest farm organization to show a gain in membership, Shivers said.

The Texas Farm Bureau, by virtue of its gain this year, will retain its position as fourth largest in the nation, the organization director stated. The state organization has been the largest Farm Bureau in the South for the past two years.

The TFB's 1961 national quota in the American Farm Bureau Federation was 81,617. This quota was exceeded by 745, making the fifth year in a row for the Texas Farm Bureau to exceed its national quota, Shivers said.

Burkham Injured In Fall At Lautz Elevator

Bubbles Burkham was injured in a fall at the Stratford Grain Co. elevator at Lautz this morning about 10:00 o'clock. He was rushed to Moore County Memorial Hospital in Dumas by ambulance where an early examination showed he was suffering from two fractured ribs and multiple bruises.

Conrad Riffe and Bubbles Burkham drove to the elevator at Lautz. Riffe made about a 45-minute drive over the territory to see how much of the maize might have blown down. When he returned to the elevator he heard Burkham calling him by whistling.

Burkham was laying in the boot of the elevator. The soles of his shoes were wet and he had slipped as he was going down the ladder into the pit of the elevator. The full distance of the fall would have been approximately 20 feet. The exact distance Burkham fell is not known.

The U. S. Department of Interior has signed a $13.7 million a year contract with Phillips Petroleum Co. as the fourth and final contract in the $47.5 million Helium Conservation program.

Approval for two helium extraction plants, one near Dumas and another in Hansford County, were announced Tuesday in Washington by the department. The new contracts boosts total expenditures for the program to $47.5 million, maximum amount authorized the Bureau of Mines for helium purchase contracts.

The Dumas plant, with a daily processing capacity of 275 million cubic feet of natural gas, will be located four miles southwest of the city. Construction is expected to begin in December.

The Hansford County plant will be located approximately 12 miles south of Guymon, Oklahoma. It will have a capacity for processing approximately 200 million cubic feet of natural gas daily.

Officials expect completion of both Phillips plants within 14 months.

IDEAS FROM OTHER EDITORS

From The Cedar Springs Clipper, Cedar Springs, Mich: President Kennedy delivered a most profound and impressive speech before the United Nations and received expressions of praise and approval for the U.S. stand on international affairs from all except Communist nations.

Just what will happen when a showdown vote comes over the issues involved cannot be predicted with any degree of accuracy at this point. However, the position of the United States has been made emphatically clear and this is as it should be. It would be well if all other nations would do likewise.

In addition to the facts presented by the President, competent observers believe that the real purpose of his visit to the UN was to force a showdown that could radically switch United States foreign policy.

These observers say the new theme of our foreign policy will be that we should aid key neutral countries (such as India and Brazil) and "cooperative" smaller countries, and cut the other neutrals off our foreign aid list until they see the light.

The United Nations cannot fulfill its function if major disputes, such as the Berlin situation or the UN organizational dispute, are regarded by other "neutral" nations as being strictly contests between the U.S. and USSR. Neutrality is good in some areas, but being neutral for the mere sake of keeping out of an argument, or being neutral out of fear is absolutely valueless and, in my opinion, works contrary to the basic purpose for which the UN was established.

The first step in Kennedy's cut off plan is already in the works. Ghana had expected $200 million for a dam project. The money has been "delayed" and unless that country's extremely uncooperative Chief of State does an about face in international politics, Ghana can forget about the $200 million.

If this observation is correct, it appears that, after long last, our foreign aid program will be operated in a more practical and purposeful manner.

Colorado Land Sale November 30

The sale of 16,963 acres of government land is planned for November 30, it was announced today by Lowell M. Puckett, Colorado State Director of the Bureau of Land Management. One hundred fifty-eight parcels of land in Las Animas, Pueblo and Otero counties will be auctioned in Denver. The sale will be held at 9:00 a. m., 1947 Stout Street, across the street from the New Custom House.

Individual plots vary in size from 28 acres to 922 acres and the appraised prices at which bidding must start range from $3.125 to $12.50 per acre. The land is scattered throughout the three counties and is presently being utilized by stockmen for grazing of livestock. The lands are being sold in the public interest because it is not economical for the government to administer them, BLM officials said.

Bids will not be accepted for less than the appraised values and bids by mail must be received at the Colorado Land Office, 700 G & E Building, 910 - 15th Street, Denver 2, Colorado, prior to 3:00 p. m., on November 28, 1961. Oil and gas deposits are reserved to the United States. Dale R. Andrus, manager of the Colorado Land Office, will conduct the sale.

Further information and material, including plats showing location of the tracts is available upon request from the Land Office Manager, Bureau of Land Management, 700 G & E Building, 910 - 15th Street, Denver 2, Colorado, between the hours of 10:00 a. m. and 3:00 p. m., Monday through Friday. The G & E Building is located in downtown Denver at 15th and Champa Streets.

IT'S NO SECRET!

Once it's been told . . . it just isn't a secret anymore. And, nearly all of us like secrets. We like to feel that someone trusts us enough to tell us something that is "hush-hush."

Funny, tho, there always seems to be someone that we also trust enough to want them to be "in the know," too.

Actually, there's nothing wrong with telling a "secret" or two now and then, if we stick to the facts and don't apply a little spice of our own.

And further—some things just shouldn't be kept secret. Take for instance the savings that some folks realize every day by doing their buying and trading in the local community.

There, now, we let the cat out of the bag. Or—did you already know?

Trade at Home for Your own sake! and community progress fallout from a nuclear explosion. The people should be given every possible bit of information on the subject. Hence, I have tried to gather together a few facts to pass on to you concerning the problem.

It appears that radioactivity comes from two sources: the explosion of a nuclear bomb, or the explosion of a thermonuclear weapon or hydrogen bomb. Both create radioactive fragments. The most important, or perhaps the most dangerous, are Strontium 90, Cesium 137, and Iodine 131.

The themonuclear weapon adds another radioactive element, to-wit: Carbon 14. When such an explosion occurs at or near the earth the dust particles are of course made radioactive. If such a weapon is exploded high in the air, the radioactivity of ground dust is minimized.

Radioactivity can give you cancer, shorten your life, make your hair fall out, give you anemia, make you sterile, or affect heredity so that you or your offspring will produce malformed children. Such tragic results, however, depend entirely upon the dosage absorbed by the individual. Although the overall amount of radiation one gets from fallout is less than four percent of the natural radioactive dose absorbed day in and day out from cosmic rays, water, bricks, rocks in the ground, and so forth, this does not mean that there is no danger from fallout. It is here that the four elements, to-wit: Iodine 131, Strontium 90, Cesium 137, and Carbon 14 become important. Fallout radiation, although no greater than natural radioactivity, insofar as dosage is concerned, could contain more concentrated amounts of one or all of the elements referred to, which would increase the danger. In other words, Iodine 131 could be taken into the body by drinking contaminated milk. Although milk presently contains Iodine, it is the position of one group of scientists that the Iodine content would need to be increased approximately 1,000 times that which has been detected in the past before serious worry should be indulged. It has been suggested that since radioactive Iodine has an average life of about twelve days, the use of aged or powdered milk would measurably minimize any possible danger.

Strontium 90 caused bone cancer or leukemia. There is a

Milady's Memos

BY HELEN HALE

American Fashions
The new American fashions for Fall will look right either at home or abroad. They are simple clothes, without gimmicks, that hold as much fashion in reserve as they show off.

This is the year of "fit" with "flare" continuing. Skirts are neither wide nor narrow, but something in-between.

Waistlines wander. Belts worn with them go where waistlines go, sometimes up, sometimes down.

Necklines are big news. Sometimes they're plain to be dressed with jewelry or they may have big collars, neat turtle types or a strategic scarf to do the trick.

Helen's Favorite:

Fillet's Amandine (Serves 4)

- 1 pound fresh or frozen fish filets
- 4 tablespoons soft butter
- 3 tablespoons toasted chopped almonds
- 1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 teaspoon pepper

Defrost filets, separate and arrange in baking dish. Combine remaining ingredients and spread over filets. Bake uncovered in a moderately hot (375°F.) oven for 12 minutes. Serve with lemon wedges dipped in paprika.

It's a big year for controlled color, but always showing richness, like the navies, dark, reserved reds, camel plus gray and well-bred tweed.

Hats have more "hat" this year than before and are also more wearable for most women. Look, too, for the return of the beret type.

Long overblouses with many skirts make fashion news. Some are actually one piece dresses made to look like two.

The Answer

"Behold, how good and how pleasant it is for brethren to dwell together in unity!" — Psalm 133:1

THE answer to the problem of unity in the Christian faith can be found if individual Christians practice what they preach: charity.

The time may never come when all Christians will kneel in the same church, but if we as individuals practice Christian charity we can clear the air of past hatreds, understand each other's position, and all cooperate to defeat materialism.

If we practice this charity, the tensions between neighbors in this community who have different faiths will fade away; we will find ourselves united in heart and mind, if not in the same building.

Jesus said "with God all things are possible". In these words there is a lesson for modern Christians and the answer to unity. Believe Christian charity, live Christian charity, and there will be unity among Christians.

Why Can't 13-Year-Old Date?

By C. D. Smith

THE WEEK'S LETTER: "I have a problem. My mom and dad think I am too young to date. I am thirteen years old. But the girl down the street from me is 13 years old and she can date. I am 13 and my boyfriend is 16. Will you please give me your opinion?"

OUR REPLY: The girl down the street is too young to date—and so are you. Don't misunderstand. We don't mean to say that you are too young to go to birthday parties, to school functions and to properly supervised activities in the company of boys.

When we say you are too young to date, we mean that you are too young to be allowed to go to the movies with boys, to go riding in automobiles with boys, or just go wherever you please without adult supervision.

This does not mean that you cannot go to parties. You can. Most likely your parents will be happy to take you. Maybe they will even let you have your date—with them taking both you and the boyfriend to the party and coming by for you when the party is ended.

Like most teenagers, you don't like this idea—and you fail to realize that, as the saying goes, "half a loaf is better than none."

What you should realize, however, for your own benefit, is that we cannot always do everything "the girl down the street" does. The mere fact that she does something fails to make it the correct and proper thing to do.

We each must live our own life. You must respect and obey your parents. If they seem not quite so lenient as the parents of the girl down the street it may just be that they love all the more—and they want you to grow up to be a fine and admirable person.

Should they turn you loose and allow you to do as you please, you could be quite certain they did not love you very much.

If you have a teenage problem you want to discuss, or an observation to make, address your letter to FOR AND ABOUT TEENAGERS, NATIONAL WEEKLY NEWSPAPER SERVICE, FRANKFORT, KY.

Garden Club Studies Xmas Decorations

The Stratford Garden Club met in regular session November 9 at 9:30 a. m. in the County Exhibit Building, with Mrs. Odie Bryant presiding, in the absence of the president.

Thirteen members answered roll call by showing a Christmas decoration, or a package they had wrapped and decorated.

Mrs. Lee Grimes told how one could use hedge apples in a center piece by using glue and glitter on them a long with greenery.

Mrs. Chester Guthrie displayed a tall dry arrangement, telling of its use and inexpensiveness.

For a lesson, Mrs. Vern Reynolds, a genius in her own right, showed many ways to make Christmas decorations, some formed from tin cans cut in various designs, Christmas trees made of egg cartons, dowell sticks, styrofoam, spray net, glitter, beads and tinsel; and Ivy leaves she had dried which had retained their color, as well as other dried leaves like milkweed that could be used for greenery.

It was apparent, she heeds her own advice, "Start the day after Christmas to make your decorations for next year." She spoke briefly on the storage of decorations, how to protect them from dust, light and heat, being careful not to crowd them. She closed with the thought in mind, "Christmas is for children," and a farm poem with beautiful words of Christmas, its meaning and love.

A lesson on wrapping was presented by Mrs. Dick Woolsey, stating, first important step is to wrap a package firm and smooth. She showed how to make bows, roses, mums, carnations and poinsettias of ribbon. Various ways of placing ribbon on the package, showing effectiveness in choice of color and design were demonstrated, along with methods to distinguish wrappings for male or female, aged and youth.

Both lessons were well given and enjoyed by every one present.

Mrs. Newton Crabtree was a guest of the club.

Mrs. Earl Riffe brought the flower arrangement of lovely white and yellow chrysanthem-

For 1962...an all-new kind of Ford!

the car that's just right for just about everybody

You've never seen anything like it, because there's never been anything like it... until today. On the outside the new Ford Fairlane 500 measures a quick 197 inches from stem to stern. A good foot shorter than the cars from which it borrowed its name, it calls the snuggest parking places home. At the same time, on the inside the new Fairlane 500 is every inch as big as some of the biggest Fords ever built.

The new Fairlane 500 is priced way under previous Fairlanes, well under many compacts. But Fairlane economy doesn't stop with a pretty price tag. It runs to amazing gas savings—with the world's first economy V-8 or the nickel-nursing Fairlane Six. Routine service is reduced to a minimum—30,000 miles on many items, only twice a year or 6,000 miles on the rest. And it adjusts its own brakes.

FOR AND ABOUT TEENAGERS

More About Going Steady

By C. D. Smith

THE WEEK'S LETTER: "I am a teenage boy and have a problem that I believe is quite unusual. There are a few girls in my class that like me very much and I like them very much. But I am one year younger than they are. One of these girls asked me to go steady. Do you think I should say 'no' because of my age or if she should say 'no' because of my age?"

OUR REPLY: You should both say "no"—because of both ages—

yours and hers. What's so important about going steady? Teenagers, almost without exception, look forward to going steady almost as much as they anticipate becoming old enough to drive an automobile. Going steady is not the "big deal" it seems to be. It means giving up a lot of things. And, regardless of what anyone says or believes, the boy or girl who goes steady does not have as many friends—or as much fun—as other boys and girls. When you start going steady, the girlfriend will soon want to monopolize all of your time. She will flatly object if you so much as walk down the street with another girl. She will soon have something to say if you spend too much time with your buddies at the malt shop, drug store, playground or wherever.

Another thought: why should you go steady just because a girl asked you to go steady?

And yet another: If several girls like you, why don't you keep it that way, instead of going steady with just one of them?

This turns out, it seems, to be an "anti-steady" column, which it isn't meant to be; we only want to point out some of the disadvantages—and to express our viewpoint that boys and girls in their teens should not go steady.

The time to go steady comes later on, when one finds the "right" person to go steady with.

If you have a teenage problem you want to discuss, or an observation to make, address your letter to FOR AND ABOUT TEENAGERS, NATIONAL WEEKLY NEWSPAPER SERVICE, FRANKFORT, KY.

gram of Radium. The worry level has been set by the International Commission on Radiation Protection as between 200 and 2,000 micromicrocuries. We in this country as a whole are a long, long way from any worry level or likely worry level at the present time.

Carbon 14 affects the genes, the heredity-controlling units inside your germ cells. Linus Pauling, a Nobel Prize chemist, has estimated that there will be 100,000 genetic deaths throughout the world in the next few generations as a result of Carbon 14 from tests up to 1958. It was also estimated that Carbon 14 has a life expectancy of 8,000 years. It is not like Iodine 131. It doesn't go away.

Cesium 137 also produces genetic defects. But it would appear from the information I have that the possibility of damage from Cesium 137 is much more remote than the other elements above named.

I pass this information on as scientific data that has been produced by scientists and translated by able newspaper people. Personally, I am in somewhat the same position as the President of the Pampa Rotary Club in the early days of the Atomic Age. He had procured the services of a scientist to address a dinner meeting of the Rotary Club. The scientist warned us of the top level secrecy of atomic information, but proceeded to outline in such detail the intricacies of the science that only Einstein could have understood him. When he had concluded his long dissertation our President

State Capital Highlights

(By Vern Sanford)
With the filing deadline for state offices more than two months away, the State Capital already is taking on that political campaign atmosphere. Announcements for office, state-wide speaking tours, and fund raising dinner plans are setting the stage for the upcoming campaigns.

Only announced candidate for governor, thus far, has been Jack Cox of Breckenridge. Cox will be running in the Republi-

Thanksgiving Transition

The very first Thanksgiving Day was celebrated in Plymouth Colony for quite a simple reason. Colonists and friendly Indians shared that first feast in gratitude for a bountiful harvest after a winter of great hardship.

Now, three centuries and forty years later, we are thankful for the growth of our Nation. We are thankful for its great strength which stands as a fortress of protection for free people in a world filled with tyranny and oppression.

Let us, as good Americans, express these thanks and rededicate ourselves to preserve and maintain this spirit of freedom.

As yet, no formal announcement has been made by any Democrat. But the field of probable candidates is growing daily.
Formal announcements by three senators for the lieutenant governor's race assures warm competition for the place left open when Ben Ramsey moved to the Railroad Commission.
Sen. Jarrard Secrest of Temple, Sen. Bob Baker of Houston, and Sen. Preston Smith of Lubbock are the announced candidates. There is likely to be GOP opposition for this post as well as at least one other Democrat.
Only thing certain now is that there will be stiff competition for those primary votes on May 5.
New Laws
Atty. Gen. Will Wilson quickly plugged one possible loophole in the "Blue Law."
He advised Dist. Atty. Henry Wade of Dallas that a corporation owning two or more stores must close them the same day. One can't open Saturday and the other Sunday. Nor can a store accept orders by phone in advance to be delivered on Sunday.

Wilson also is busy interpreting other new laws, among them the one requiring holders of property for others, except banks, to report it to the state when the owner hasn't been around for seven years.
He advised Treasurer Jesse James that an oil company which holds royalties outside Texas on oil produced in Texas does not have to report it to the State of Texas except that amount held for persons whose last known address was in Texas.
The attorney general expects so much work out of this new law that he set up a special division to handle it.
In another opinion, Wilson held that wiretapping to record phone conversations is not illegal in Texas.
