Mrs. Chesmer Is Sorority Girl Of The Year

Mrs. Paul Chesmer

The highest honor a member of Beta Sigma Phi can receive, "Girl of the Year", went to Mrs. Paul (Hattie) Chesmer, a member of Nu Beta Chapter of Stratford. The winner was revealed at the annual Founder's Day banquet held at the Country Club in Dumas April 27.

Mrs. Chesmer was presented a full jeweled sorority pin at the banquet by Mrs. Albert Zimmer, last year's winner, in recognition of her outstanding service in the organization. Mrs. Chesmer has served her chapter on the following committees: social, membership, publicity chairman and was in charge of advanced publicity for the Northwest Texas Area Convention held in Dalhart last October. She is the secretary of her chapter this year and has been re-elected to that office for the next year.

Hattie and Paul Chesmer came to Stratford seven years ago from Sweetwater, Texas, and have spent those years establishing a business, the Stratford Butane Co., and raising their family. They have three children, Mary Martha, Bitsey and Noel.

Mrs. Chesmer is a member of St. Joseph's Altar Society and the Tri-Corner Art Association as well as being an associate member of the Prospectus Study Club. She is an amateur artist of note and has exhibited several examples of her work in this area.

Her sorority sisters chose her to receive this honor in view of her outstanding interest and willingness to work and cooperate with other members to assure the success of the chapter's various undertakings in improving the community.

Cemetery Ass'n. Needs Annual Donations

May is the month when annual donations are paid to the Stratford Cemetery Association for the upkeep and beautification of the cemetery.

Donations should be mailed to Mrs. C. W. Moon, secretary-treasurer of the association. The donations are an income tax deduction, Mrs. Moon said.

Mrs. Engelbrecht Given Pledge Of The Year Award

Mrs. Alvin Engelbrecht

Mrs. Alvin (Doreen) Engelbrecht was given the pledge of the year award April 27 at the Beta Sigma Phi Founder's Day banquet held at the Country Club in Dumas.

The award is the highest honor a chapter can bestow on a pledge. Doreen was one of a pledge class numbering ten in Nu Beta this year and distinguished herself by her exceptional willingness to give of both her time and efforts toward the accomplishments undertaken by her sorority.

Mrs. Albert Zimmer presented Mrs. Engelbrecht with an engraved trophy in recognition of her service.

Mrs. Engelbrecht is a member of the Catholic Church, St. Joseph's Altar Society of which she is the new president; and the Prospectus Study Club.

She became a member of Nu Beta one year ago and during the year she served on the float and program committees.

Laurina Riggs And Shelia Donelson Tie For Senior Salutatorian Honors

Laurina Riggs

Shelia Donelson

Laurina Riggs and Shelia Donelson have completed four years of high school studies with scholastic averages of 94.66 to tie for the honor of salutatorians of the senior class of 1962. So far as is known from information which is available, this is the first time in the history of the school that two students have tied with identical averages of their grades established over a four year period of school.

Laurina Mae Riggs is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Everett E. Riggs. She has a four-year scholastic average of 94.66. During her high school years, Laurina Riggs has been a member of the F.H.A. for two years, has played in the high school band for three years, and has served on the annual staff for two years. She is the business manager of the annual staff. In each of her high school years she has participated in the Interscholastic League contests.

This year the senior class has chosen Laurina Riggs for the titles of "Most Likely To Succeed", "Most Intellectual", and "Most Bashful".

In athletics, Laurina Riggs worked in the pep squad for one year, and has played basketball and volley ball. She was a member of the senior play cast and has been named to "Who's Who".

Laurina Riggs plans to attend West Texas State College next year to continue her studies in preparation for becoming a teacher.

Shelia Donelson is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Shuler Donelson and has completed her four years of high school work with a scholastic average of 94.66, and has many achievements to add to her scholastic ability.

As a senior, Shelia Donelson has been chosen the "Best All-Around" by the teachers. She played two years on the "A" basketball team, and was selected on the all-district team this year. She has also played tennis and volleyball for four years.

Shelia Donelson was a member of the Interscholastic League shorthand team, and a member of the Elk Band during her sophomore and junior years. As a senior she served as a cheer leader.

Shelia Donelson was the salutatorian of her eighth grade class, the same honor she has won as a member of the senior class.

Her outside activities include eight years of 4-H club work. In 1961 she won the Texas Vogue Pattern Sewing Contest. This fall she plans to enter Hardin-Simmons University or Texas Woman's University.

Dr. Lee J. Ashworth, plant pathologist with the Texas Experiment Station, and Dr. Harlan E. Smith, plant pathologist with the Extension Service of Texas, were in Sherman County Monday on an inspection tour of wheat in the Texas Panhandle. They found some Streak Mosaic virus disease in some of the fields. In some fields root rot (Helminthosporium sativum) was present. Some freeze damage and wheat mite damage was observed but very few bugs were noticed in the wheat at the present time.

The damage to wheat plants by these diseases and insects is more pronounced under drouth conditions such as are being experienced at the present time in this county, particularly in dryland wheat. The wheat plant is weakened by attacks of disease and insects and then dry weather throws the plant into a condition of severe stress.

Many irrigated fields of wheat observed were in excellent condition and most of the dryland wheat is showing stress conditions from dry weather but these fields were not found to be infected with disease or insect damage. However the disease damage seemed to be on the increase in the county. This diseased condition has been under observation by these scientists the past three years in the Panhandle. They found the bulb mite (Aceria tulipae) living on native grasses in the Panhandle.

It was in irrigated fields and in some dryland fields where yellow spots of wheat scattered throughout the fields was observed that this disease was found in the wheat. In some of these brown spots root rot was found. Also brown mite damage and some freeze damage was found in the fields.

The diseases and insects can be controlled. Farmers have successfully controlled green bugs in the county by spraying. The brown wheat mite has been more difficult to handle and the control measure by spraying has been less satisfactory.

The root rot (Helminthosporium) has been controlled satisfactorily in Sherman County by crop rotation. The land where wheat is infected with root rot has been controlled by the planting of sorghum crops and summer fallowing for a period of 2 or 3 years before seeding back to wheat.

Streak Mosaic in wheat may be controlled by treating seed with pantogen or cerasan, plowing under volunteer wheat and grasses in the vicinity where the wheat is to be seeded 2 or 3 weeks before the crop is planted and by seeding wheat late during the normal seeding season. In this county this late seeding date would be between September 25 and October 10.

This late seeding date conflicts with early seeding practices in this county, which have been adopted for the purpose of taking advantage of any moisture available in the fall to get wheat up and produce cover for wind erosion protection and wheat pasture. This also creates a management decision about planting early to produce wheat pasture or reducing the risk of this disease by planting late and foregoing any benefits from wheat pasture.

Streak Mosaic is spread by the bulb mite (Aceria Tulipae), from native grass. The mite is so small it takes 20 to 40 power magnifying glass to see it. He is a light green color, about 1/5 the size of the brown mite, when this mite is in the stage com-

Two Patriots

"I only regret that I have but one life to lose for my country." — Nathaniel Hale

THESE words were spoken when it was fashionable to be a patriot.

Today, men seem hesitant to speak of love of country. This is regretful; it costs far less to be a patriot in 1962 than in 1776. Hale paid with his life, was refused a Bible, and denied the services of a minister.

We should be thankful that our latest national hero, Astronaut John Glenn, is a patriot and does not hesitate to declare himself.

We should also be grateful that he is a man of faith, with courage to thank God for his deeds and accomplishments.

In these times we need patriotism — and belief in God — more than ever.

Cliches Of Socialism

"If we had no social security, many people would go hungry". Of some forty-five professors attending the dinner meeting at which I spoke, the two or three who might have agreed with the free exchange, private property, limited government philosophy kept discreetly silent. All of the questioning, particularly by one professor of economics, was deliberately antagonistic — not at all in the spirit of inquiry. Following this meaning, I went to an auditorium to address the Student Forum. Some of the professors also attended. Upon the conclusion of my address, one student said, "As I understand the extent to which you would limit government, there would be no place for social security". Then he asked, "Wouldn't that bring a great hardship to many people?" "Let me answer your question", I replied, "by going back to October 1948", and I told him the following story: Just a month before the Truman-Dewey election, I asked a chance acquaintance if he thought the rapid trend toward socialism would abate, should the Republicans win. "Rapid trend toward socialism? What do you mean by rapid trend toward socialism?" I named a dozen items, including compulsory social security. "Do you mean that you do not favor social security? What would you do, let 'em starve?" "You are as old as I, are you not, Mr. G.?" Being considerably older, he replied in the affirmative. "Then you were around when

- ... the King-Anderson bill for medical care of the aged under Social Security should be defeated because:
 - It calls for a "double increase on payroll taxes— an increase in the per cent of tax take, plus an increase in tax base. Employees and employers each would be paying 17 per cent more tax than they pay today.
 - It would compel wage-earners to pay for medical care for millions of the aged who don't need help... but the proposal does nothing for millions not covered by social security—the group most in need.
 - It is a compulsory, Federal government-controlled plan which would place a third party — Washington bureaucrats — between the patient and the physician. It would place politics at the bedside of the ill.
 - It would limit the patient's free choice of hospital and physician.
 - It would eliminate the privacy of the patient-physician relationship... making it possible for government clerks to examine the most intimate personal health records — records that are now a private matter between patient and physician.
 - It would definitely lower the quality of medical care.
 - It would be the first step toward socialist medicine in this country... a system that has resulted in the deterioration of medical care wherever it has been tried.
- If you agree that these statements are true, write to Congressman Walter Rogers, Senator Ralph Yarborough and Senator John Tower... reminding them to vote against the bill now being considered.

Junior Penrod Nominated For Handicap Award

Junior Lee Penrod, 7-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Penrod, has been nominated for the award to be presented annually by Wheatridge Hospital to the one making the greatest effort to overcome handicaps in gaining use of their bodies.

In December the boy underwent an operation on the deformed muscles of his legs. Normally a patient undergoing the operation would not be able to walk until braces have been adjusted to his legs.

The Penrod boy has amazed doctors and nurses by mastering the art of walking before the braces were secured and adjusted to his legs.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Penrod spent the week end in Wheatridge, Colorado visiting their son in the hospital.

Miss Galloway Is Honored With Shower

Darla Jean Galloway

Miss Darla Jean Galloway, bride-elect of Bob Harbison, was honored with a prenuptial shower Friday in the home of Mrs. Emmett A. McBryde. Miss Galloway is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Galloway of Stratford. Mr. Harbison is the son of Mr. and Mrs. I. L. Harbison of Grandfalls, Texas.

The honoree was assisted by her mother in opening her gift packages, the bows of which were placed in a huge heart-shaped container fashioned of white net and orchid ribbon, Miss Galloway's chosen colors. Miss Molly Davis recorded the gifts as they were opened. The serving table, laid with a white net embroidered nylon cloth over white satin and centered with an arrangement of white stock and cascades of spirea was unusually attractive. Appointments for the table were of silver and crystal. Mrs. L. J. Davis presided at the punch bowl; Mrs. Kenneth Kendrick at the coffee service. Individual cakes decorated in white and orchid were a part of the refreshments. Other flower arrangements of white and orchid were used in the entertaining rooms.

Mrs. William L. Riffe registered the guests as they arrived to compliment the honoree. The guest book rested on a small podium over which miniature angels of white felt floated under a white net cloud. Out of town callers included Mesdames Ivan Jones of Hartley, L. L. McBrayer, David Johnson and Jim Hall of Dalhart.

Co-hostesses for the occasion were Mesdames L. J. Davis, Kenneth Kendrick, W. D. Green, L. S. DeBord, J. S. Johnson, M. P. Bateman, Joe Brown, Arlyn Halle and Jim Greenwood.

This Bank And Your Success

Many men have started in business with a capital only of ability, hard work, honesty and a good reputation. It is no uncommon thing for men thus handicapped to win out and make a success in their undertakings. You probably know of several such instances.

An important factor to the success, in almost every instance, you will find, was their bank account. Their bank deposits may not have been large, but their connection with the bank, coupled with their energy, honesty and character, was the basis of the credit they were able to establish, and through credit, success was possible.

If you are starting out for yourself without capital, by all means open an account with this bank. It will help you in many ways.

Fire Department Battles Major Field Fire

Stratford Volunteer Firemen fought a three and one-half hour battle to bring an 840-acre field and grass fire under control Saturday afternoon. Stratford answered the call at 3:30 p. m.

The blaze was started in the 640-acre Jim Clark field by lightning. A lazy north wind fanned the fire which started near the center of the field. Firemen almost had the blaze under control several times only to be frustrated by a sudden change of wind currents. At one time the wind was blowing from one direction on the south side of the section and from another direction on the north side of the field.

The blaze crossed the 200-acre Sam Wohlford pasture and blowing chaff ignited a fire in the Homer Foreman field, just across the county road from the Clark field.

Firemen directed by Deputy Sheriff E. L. Sanders by short-wave radio, soon brought this fire under control.

Both fields had been planted to sorghum alum in compliance with soil bank requirements. In places the foliage burned slowly and in others it looked as though the flames were being fed by oil.

The major part of the fire was about 15 miles southeast of Stratford.

stand up in the field... stand out in yield!

The combination of standability and yields rates high with sorghum producers. Strong stalks, healthy roots, and bred-in resistance to lodging have earned P-A-G sorghums the reputation for being "up" when harvest time arrives. The large semi-compact heads dry quickly in the field for easy combining. High yields of plump grain will bring you top sorghum profits. I have a good supply of adapted seed and would appreciate the opportunity to serve you. Plant P-A-G hybrid sorghum.

We can supply P-A-G corn, alfalfa and clover, too!

Mrs. Mullins Entertains Inter Se Club

Mrs. F. B. Mullins entertained the Inter Se Club Friday afternoon. A pleasant time was spent playing "42". Mrs. Fred Pronger, Mrs. Nellie Blanck and Mrs. Sam Wohlford tied for high score.

At the close of the games delicious refreshments were served to: Mesdames Fred Pronger, Nellie Blanck, Sam Wohlford, J. R. Pendleton, S. J. Calvird, C. W. Moon, I. D. Divine and A. L. King.

lege, and Jack Snider of the University of Nebraska. The sight-reading judge was Sidney Brantley of Phillips University in Enid. The judges for the Saturday morning parade were the same as for the marching contest on Wednesday.

The Outstanding Band awards are traveling plaques which must be won three consecutive years before any school can claim permanent possession. Stratford won the concert award in 1960 but this will not count toward permanent possession since the two awards are not consecutive. Stratford won the marching award in 1961, so two of the necessary three consecutive awards have now been won.

Boys Ranch To Dedicate Fire Station

A seven-year drive by the Panhandle Fireman's Association to get fire protection for the nearly 300 boys at Cal Farley's nationally famous Boys Ranch comes to a climax Saturday, when the new fire station will be dedicated during the Association's semi-annual meeting at the ranch.

Stratford Volunteer Firemen have joined hands with approximately 1,200 others of the Panhandle and South Plains to present the Ranch with a 500-gallon pumper truck and a 300-gallon booster fire truck.

To raise funds, the firemen sold candy, chewing gum, fire extinguishers and other products for the $12,650 that was needed.

While at Boys Ranch the firemen and their families will have lunch with the boys and tour the Ranch area. Dedication ceremonies will be held at the new fire station at about 1:00 p. m.

 by and watched a human being starve to death?"
 The professor, of course, had never witnessed a human being starve to death, and the students were well aware of the fact. Even a gangster, who would murder a competitor, could not stand by and watch a kitten, let alone a human being, starve to death. — Leonard E. Read, in the Foundation for Economic Education.

Sherman County Statistics Are Revealed

Sherman County had 922 housing units when the 1960 census was taken, according to a report released this week by

THE popularity of fishing is growing by leaps and bounds. In the year 1955, some 20.8 million anglers spent $1.9 billion on the sport. Five years later, some 25 million persons were fly casting small streams and trolling shimmering lakes, spending some $2.6 billion on their fishing pleasures.

This rapid rate of growth is continuing and those who keep up with such things wonder where it is to end. People with a different kind of problem wonder if they will be up to the task of replenishing and expanding our fish populations.

Among those concerned with these problems is the National Hunting and Fishing Association, whose chairman, G. E. Morrow, recently made this statement:

"Fortunately, significant progress by conservationists, biologists and other scientists to improve the nation's fishing resources is continually being made. Garrison Dam in North Dakota, only one of many new man-made 'fishing holes,' is an example of the progress. It's one of the best producers in the nation for Northern pike, besides furnishing anglers with runs of walleyes and sauger. Each year 1,000 to 1,500 new ponds are added to Southeast agricultural lands, giving fishermen many new 'hot spots' where they can land big catches."

The battle to guarantee continued fish populations is never-ending. Herbicides are used by biologists to control undesirable vegetation and make possible adequate food plants of the type fish need to survive. Plants which limit fish populations are eradicated with aquatic herbicides, specific chemicals are used to curb algae, leeches and parasite-carrying snails, all harmful to fish.

the U. S. Department of Commerce.

Of the 922 units, 715 were supplied with complete plumbing facilities. 813 of the units were occupied. 528 of the houses were occupied by home owners.

$8,600 was the median value of owner-occupied places. 275 units were occupied by renters. 904 units had hot and cold running water. 891 units had flush toilets and 896 had bathtub and shower accommodations. 182 units had basements. 8 were trailer houses.

126 households had air conditioning. 694 units had television, 793 had radios and 468 had telephones.

630 homes had washing machines, 164 had clothes dryers, and 294 had 1 or more home food freezers.

458 homes had 1 automobile, 272 had 2 automobiles, and 43 had 3 or more automobiles.

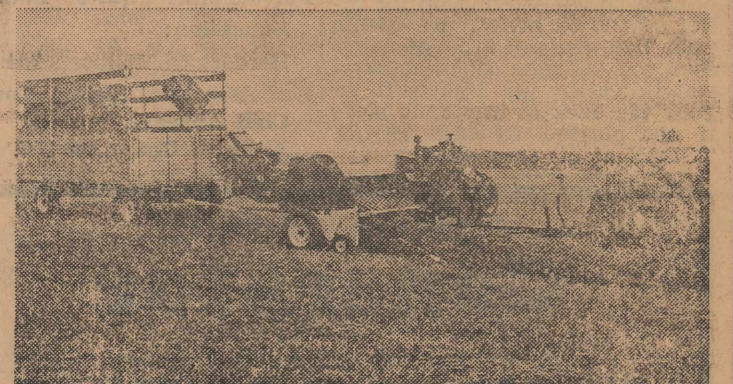

Pathologists

monly referred to as the red spider. This bulb mite in the process of feeding on the wheat plant transmits the Streak Mosaic disease. The smaller the plant when infected by the disease the more serious the apparent damage. This is why it is important to plow under the volunteer wheat and grasses in the fall and plant in the latter part of the seeding season, in order to give the plant as much protection as possible from the mite while it is small.

A farmer can observe this disease at the present time by inspecting his wheat fields where they have these yellow spots and wheat dying. The characteristic of the disease is narrow, yellow and green streaks in the wheat leaf. They also may observe the bulb mite by examining the wheat leaf carefully where it joins on the stalk under the magnifying glass.

Larger feed openings and adjustable feeder backs are two of the reasons 1962 balers like this one have a greater capacity. New curved feeder tines distribute hay evenly throughout the bale chamber and assure uniform bale density under a wide variety of crop conditions.
