This week has really been one for the books for us . . . we have been around almost a whole month now, and by golly, it is getting so we can call a few folks by the right name!

In addition to the interesting pastime of trying to get the right name with the right face, we've enjoyed the opportunity of meeting with so many of the various groups and organizations that make up Stratford and Sherman County.

As we have mentioned before, it isn't always possible for us to be in two places at once, so we will depend upon you to help us out and let us know the particulars on things along when one of our reporters or representatives cannot be there in person.

We were sorry to learn of the illness of our coffee-drinking buddy down the street, Bill Pendleton.

Knowing that Bill didn't get sick because of the outcome of the Buffalo-Red Raider ballgame (as did several others in town according to reports) we couldn't imagine just what did happen. Selma tells us that an old ailment picked last Saturday night to get on the rampage and she and the boys had to rush him to a doctor. Later he went over to the Methodist Hospital.

We hope Bill will be back on his feet within the next few days and we'll even go so far as to buy his coffee next week if he can make it downtown by then. Best wishes Bill!

This week most of the coffee-talk up and down Stratford's main drag has been on two subjects -- football and politics.

Last weekend the Elks beat down the Clayton Yellow Jackets and showed spurts of greatness as they played as a team with everyone doing his assigned job the correct manner.

We hope that they will repeat the winning habit this Friday night when they go down to Lefors to battle the Pirates down there. Coach Bateman says they are really going to have a job in getting past this bunch unless they do play ball.

Good luck Elks, we'll be hollaring for you!

On the political scene, things have been pretty rough for Mrs. Ed Hill, Sherman County Republican Committee Chairman.

Not only does some Democrat keep pulling off the Republican stickers which decorate her auto -- but someone adds insult to injury by putting John Connolly stickers on her windshield!

To top things off, we noticed that her "Republican" battery had run down on her last week we wonder if that was a democratic battery charger they used to get her car started?

Up in Washington this past week, two local men, Dickie Buckles and Paul Chesmer, were among those present to testify for the location of a Sugar Beet manufacturing company to be located in our area.

Talking to Dickie and Paul Wednesday they say it looks as if California will get the nod for the 64,000 additional tons of sugar this year, with Hereford pretty well in line for the allotment next year.

What will happen in 1965 of course is anyone's guess (as far as that goes, what will happen during the remaining months of 1962 is up for grabs) but we hope that that will be Stratford and Sherman County's year!

On other political scenes, the Farm Bill has passed Congress and upon talking to Ken Kendrick (Continued on page 3.)

USDA Remains Silent On Sugar Beet Question

R. M. Buckles and Paul Chesmer returned to Stratford early Wednesday morning from a trip to Washington, D.C. where they were among several other men from the Panhandle area who intended to testify on the question of obtaining sugar beet acreage for this area.

New Cars Hit City

This week will be "new car week" in Stratford, at least where Fords and Chevrolets are concerned.

The new Fords and Chevrolets will be on display at Stratford Motor Co., Inc., and Davis Motor Co., respectively.

In addition to an opportunity to look over the new models, "sightseers" will be given free coffee and donuts, prizes and favors for the ladies and youngsters and at the Ford house, a door prize will be given away to some lucky visitor.

Details of these shows can be found in advertisements in this issue of The Star.

AT COURT OF HONOR

Woolsey Receives Star Scout Award

Donnie Woolsey received the top Scouting award presented at the Court of Honor held Tuesday evening in the County Barn in Stratford.

Young Woolsey advanced from First Class Scout to Star Scout upon receiving his pin and certificate from Scoutmaster Wayne Crusoe at the Court.

Other Scouts who received awards included Phil Plunk, Lynn Reynolds, Tux Jeffcoat, Donnie Parrin and Lynn Gaylord.

In addition to the presentation ceremonies, patrols of Troop 38 performed stunts for their parents who attended. Scout mothers served refreshments to climax the evening.

Ten new members made applications to join Troop 38, sponsored by the Stratford Volunteer Fire Department. The names of these new members will be announced following processing of the applications.

The Court of Honor is held once per month.

Adult leaders present at the meeting, in addition to those mentioned above, included R. C. Buckles, Llano Estacado Council executive board member; Jim Close, neighborhood committee member; Bud Parvin, chairman, local scout committee; Bud Roberson, local scout committee member. Scouters assisting included Lynn Stephenson, junior assistant scoutmaster and Donnie Parvin, senior patrol leader.

on sugar beets for any area," said Buckles and Chesmer. "However, it does appear that the only area that will get a plant okayed this year will be in California."

The group from the North Plains area, including representatives from the Oklahoma and Texas Panhandles, called upon various Senators and Representatives of the committee that will hear the arguments for sugar beet acreage, or members of the Senate and House Agricultural Committees.

"We got the impression that the Hereford area is pretty well in line to get a plant located there, but still anything can happen," both men agreed.

The North Plains growers were to appear before the committee later on this week. When Chesmer and Buckles left Washington, the group from California was still actively presenting their cause.

The hearings opened Monday and the two Stratford men stayed until late Tuesday afternoon before having to return home on Wednesday.

Elks Take On Touted Pirates

Stratford's Elks will take on the highly regarded Lefors Pirates in a non-district tilt Friday night at Lefors. Kick-off time is set at 8 p.m.

Coach Pete Bateman has warned that "Lefors has a team that is head and shoulders above anything we've played so far this season!"

The Pirates have a line averaging 168 pounds and a fast and shifty backfield averaging 136 pounds per man.

The Pirates play an unorthodox 5-2-4 defense and have made a art of gang tackling, says the coach.

In addition, Lefors hits hard and plays smart football, Bateman says.

"We shall have to play heads-up ball all the way to win this one, we can't make the mistakes we've made all season and still pull a win out of the fire with this bunch," he says.

On top of everything else, this will be Lefors' Homecoming game.

The Elks will have all their players in shape for the game, providing no injuries occur in practice.

Congress jammed a Farm Bill through this past week and with the details of just how local farming practices will be effected still unknown, The Star interviewed Kenneth Kendrick, member of the President's Wheat Advisory Board and president of the Texas Association of Wheat Growers, as to just what this new bill may mean to Sherman County producers.

"We will get a full report on details of the new bill at our meeting in Washington next week," Kendrick stated, "However, we will have a meeting of the Texas Wheat Growers in Amarillo Friday to go over some of the details as to wheat and feed grains programs," he said.

(This meeting of the board of directors of the Texas Association of Wheat Growers will be held Friday at 10 a.m. in the Motel Vic Mon in Amarillo. A full report of this meeting will appear in next week's issue of The Star.)

Basically, the new Farm Bill provides for an extension of last year's volunteer program with a few changes, Kendrick says. Speaking first on feed grains, then wheat, Kendrick outlined the following:

The 1962 volunteer program will be extended for the 1963 crop year with corn to be supported at $1.02 per bushel and other feed grains to be supported in relation to the feed-grain value of corn.

However, if the feed-grain producer is a cooperator in the layout program he can receive an additional 18 cents per bushel which will bring him a total price of $1.20 per bushel paid for his feed grain.

In addition, he will be paid up to 50 percent of the value of the normal feed grain production of the 20 percent layout he had. (This value will vary with producers and areas).

In 1963 the support price of wheat will be $1.82 per bushel

(national average) and here too farmers who were cooperators in the layout program will get an additional 18 cents per bushel (making the total wheat price $2 per bushel) plus up to 50 percent of the normal average production of their layout land.

When asked what the 1964 and on program might be, Kendrick replied that "this program won't be in effect until farmers vote it into effect next year."

The new program that will be voted on is a combination bushel-acreage-allotment program which is designed to guarantee a reduction in the national wheat stockpile of 150,000,000

SETS TOWN A'BUZZ

Female Cyclist Passes Through

Miss Rowena Gurner, a cyclist from New York City, had the quietness of noontime this past Saturday buzzing with activity as she rode into Stratford about 1:20 p.m.

The young lady, burned to a deep brown by the summer's sun, left her home in New York City on July 22 on an English-style bicycle heading for San Francisco, Calif.

Asked why this mode of travel--she replied "This is the only way you can see the country, if you go in a car, train, or fly you miss it all."

She says she tries to travel about half the time, then visit along the way the other half of the time. She averages about 70 miles per day on her bike overall.

"I can make even better time out here on the Plains," Miss Gurner states, "But it is harder when the wind blows."

The young miss left Guyton, Okla., about 8 a.m. Saturday headed west. She got to Stratford about noon and came up to the Post Office to mail some cards to friends.

Looking up from her card-writing with a puzzled look on her face she asked a Star reporter, "How did you know about me being here?"

It was sort of hard to describe the "telegraph system" that most small-town newspapers rely on. After telling her of the phone calls that preceded her to the Post Office, she said "And I thought this was just a sleepy little town!"

Miss Gurner says she will "have to look for a job when she gets to California. She is experienced in electronic work, having attended City College of New York for several years studying in this field."

The young lady has her friends write ahead to Post Offices along her route. She asked us where the Post Office was located in Waterfield, Texas. She seemed astonished when she was told that Waterfield isn't too much of a town, and doesn't have a grocery store, much less a Post Office.

"Well, I guess I'll have to stop in Dalhart and see if they have my mail," she said.

Her next mail stop will be Albuquerque, N.M.

Best of luck, Miss Gurner, we hope you make it before the snow flies.

Elks Take Yellow Jackets

Stratford's Elks found their timing and pace last Friday night as they smothered the Clayton Yellow Jackets 28-7 in a non-conference tilt.

Scotty Whorton, fleet Elk halfback, was the evening's leading scorer as he accounted for two touchdowns, two extra points and added a safety when he dropped a Yellow Jacket back in his own end zone.

Other Elk TD's were scored by Fullback Doug McBryde and Quarterback Joe Minkley.

With McBryde slashing across guard and tackle slots, coupled with the fleet steps of the every-threatening Whorton the Elks rolled up an impressive 444 yards total offense during the game as compared with 131 for the Yellow Jackets.

First downs were equally as one-sided as the Elks had a total of 13 with Clayton only getting four during the game (none in the last half.)

Fumbles and penalties prevented the Elks from making the score board as one-sided as the statistics.

Both teams were unable to threaten during the first quarter as Whorton took the opening kickoff and returned it to his yard line.

McBryde and Whorton moved the ball, then Pat Donelson shook up the fans with a 22-yard carry to move the ball to the Clayton 43. On the next play, McBryde fumbled and the ball went over to Clayton.

Clayton was able to pick up only two yards during the next four downs and Dennis Plunk added insult to injury by nailing Jerry Kilburn for a six-yard loss as he was attempting to punt.

Taking over on the Clayton 29, Stratford moved to the 23 and again a fumble marred the offensive strength of the Elks and again Clayton recovered.

Clayton began moving the ball with Mike Jenkins to End Kenny Lovin combination allowing the Yellow Jackets to move to the Elk 47 before they were forced to punt.

Once again, the Elks began jamming their way toward the Yellow Jacket goal picking up two first downs before another fumble, again recovered by Clayton, stopped the march.

Clayton took over on the Stratford 47-yard-line and moved in the air to the Stratford 25. Here the first quarter ended with Clayton second down, seven on the Elk 22.

Kimbell shook loose for 13 yards and a first and goal on the Elk 5-yard line.

Here the Elk line held firm and on third down a jarring tackle shook a Clayton back loose from the pigskin and Jerry Brannan was on the spot to recover for the Elks.

Stratford found their timing and the right combination at this point. Taking over on their own half yard line, the Elks called on McBryde, Whorton and Donelson to move the ball down to the Clayton 24-yard line in eight plays. At this point the Elks drew a 15-yard penalty, moving them back out to the Clayton 40 with a first and 25 situation.

Scotty Whorton took the hand-off, dashed across the left flat, picked up a block from Minkley and zipped the remaining distance to the goal and the Elks went ahead 6-0 with 6:50 left in the first half.

Jerry Dyess' attempted kick for extra point went wide.

The two teams traded fumbles again following the Elk kickoff. With 2:44 left in the half the Elks took over following a booming 68-yard punt from the toe of Vernard Combs on their own 4-yard line. With gains of 15 by Donelson, McBryde 19 and Minkley 10, the team moved to the Clayton 44-yard line where the horn sounded for the half. At this point, the Elks had racked up 230 yards rushing, and 25 yards passing to Clayton's minus 2 yards rushing and 66 yards in the air.

In the second series of downs following the halftime kickoff, McBryde thrilled the fans by punting from his 44 yard line to the Clayton 1--a punt of 55 yards and set the stage for the 2-point safety two plays later.

On the first play following the punt, Clayton was dropped for a half yard loss. On the next play, Whorton red-dogged Kimbell for a six-yard loss and an extra two points on the scoreboard.

Clayton kicked off from their 20, with Joe Minkley taking the pigskin and returning it from the Elk 45 to the Clayton 41.

McBryde smashed over left tackle for 14 yards and a first down on the Clayton 26, Whor-

Letters To The Editor

Dear Mr. McReynolds and family,

I, as a recently returned citizen to Stratford, would like to commend you on your first edition of The Stratford Star.

I found that Stratford has grown during my absence and I was happy to learn that you and your family are a new addition to its growth.

One thing in particular that I found of high interest and I have heard many others say the same thing, is the fact that you are concerned with people and our present world situation, though some people of Stratford aren't concerned.

I must agree with your remark that you can't go along with many of Mr. Kennedy's Programs.

Being a member of "Uncle Sams" armed forces in Europe I came to realize through my many European friends that not only do we people here not agree with a lot of his programs, but I found that a lot of foreign people find his programs rather misleading and hard to understand. Being an American citizen and hearing a foreign person criticizing your president seems hard to swallow, but I seem to find it rather difficult not to agree with them on some issues.

When each of our American presidents is sworn into office, they swear to uphold our Constitution, (which is agreed by many known authors and just common American people that it is the greatest document of American history). Yet I read a few days ago that Mr. Kennedy wants to change the Constitution. Seems rather strange the one who swore to uphold the Constitution now wants to change it.

I think a more logical thing, since America has prospered as the greatest nation of the world, is for Mr. Kennedy to try to change some of our foreign policy laws, rather than our own Constitution.

In closing I would like to quote a few lines from Shakespeare;

"Cowards die many times before their death; the valiant never taste of death but once."

To me any man who stands up for what he believes and is accounted for, I will always respect.

Again I want to wish you and your family much success in growing with Stratford.

Sincerely,
Ben R. Bidy

Stratford, Texas

Dear Dave;

Old friends' names keep popping up in familiar places. Please accept my best wishes for every success in your new venture as editor and publisher of the Stratford Star.

You could have looked the world over and never have found a friendlier community. Seeing your name on the Star brought forth many memories. I was fresh out of college when I landed in Stratford for my first job as a veteran's agriculture teacher, and a short time later I got my first taste of working journalism on the Star. I have made a number of moves since then, but somehow Stratford always seems like

Among these he has held the office of president, Stratford Lions Club; post-commander, American Legion (he is currently serving that organization as secretary-treasurer); member of the Child Welfare Board; served as a trustee and member of the Board of Stratford Public Schools; was finance chairman of the Sherman County Red Cross for 20 years.

In addition to this news, Judge Frizzell asked if the men would be interested in securing a first aid course to be taught next winter.

Following a discussion of possible instructors, the Judge agreed to order the necessary training equipment.

Mrs. Pendleton says he will be able to return home probably this coming weekend.

ton added one yard on an attempted sweep. On the next play, McBryde crushed across right guard, picked up a beautiful block thrown by Dan Newman and put his long legs to work and covering the remaining yardage for a TD.

Whorton's try for extra point was good and the Elks led 15-0 with 6:00 remaining in the third quarter.

Clayton was unable to move the ball as they received following the Elk TD. They punted out to their 40 where the Elks received a penalty, moving it back to the Elk 41 where they began another march toward the Yellow Jacket goal.

Ten plays later, and at the end of the third quarter, the Elks owned the ball with first and 10 on the Yellow Jacket 22. Minkley faked Clayton tacklers on a keeper and moved to the Clayton 5. Terry Matthews added three yards and with second and goal, Minkley dived across on a quarterback sneak to add another six points to the scoreboard. Whorton's kick was good and the Elks led the ballgame 22-0 with 11:21 left in the final quarter.

Clayton's lone tally came shortly afterward when Clayton was forced to punt from the Elk 47 yard line.

Combs' booming punt rolled to the Elk 5-yard line and when deep man Judson picked it up, he was hit hard by a Yellow Jacket tackler who jarred him loose from the ball.

Recovering the ball, Clayton took over on the Elk half yard line and on a quarterback sneak Jenkins added the six points.

Combs' kick was good and the ballgame took on a 22-7 situation with 6:59 left.

Stratford rallied following the kickoff and taking off from their own 30, McBryde shook loose into the open and went 29 yards on the first play. He was caught from behind on the Clayton 41.

Minkley added 4, Whorton got 3, a penalty erased 5 yards and then Matthews got 4 and McBryde got 9 to move the ball to the Clayton 15-yard line.

Minkley faked to McBryde, who hit the middle of the line, handed off to Whorton on a cross-buck. Whorton twisted away from one tackler and outran the remaining opposition to add the final TD of the evening. The extra point try went wide and the ball game stood 28-7 with 3:43 left.

The Elks took over a pass interception by McBryde with 2:26 left but the effort was nullified by a fumble on the next play. Trying to keep possession of the ball, Clayton tried for a running play with fourth and 11 but Kimball was unable to hit the line of scrimmage and the Elks took over with 0:51 left. Two plays later they fumbled and Clayton recovered. They tried two pass plays unsuccessfully as the horn sounded. Final score remained, Elks 28, Clayton 7.

All farmers who cooperate in the feed-grain program can interchange their wheat and feed-grain acre according to their individual needs.

This program will provide an opportunity for the farmer to receive $2.00 per bushel for two-thirds of his wheat crop each year; the remaining one-third could be sold for the lower feed-grain price; or he could store it on his farm for the following year in case he suffered drought or hail. At any rate he would always be able to sell all his wheat each year if he so desired, Kendrick says.

Tomorrow-GO JET-SMOOTH CHEVROLET for '63
IT'S EXCITING!
 If it didn't say Chevrolet on the flanks of the superb automobile you see here, you'd have a hard time proving it's a low-priced car. It offers luxurious styling, extremely comfortable, spacious and silent interiors... plus a lot of invisible ways to keep it looking and running like new when a lot of others have started to sag and sigh: new flush and dry rocker panels under the doors to guard against rusting... self-adjusting brakes... Delco-tron generator for longer battery life. If you ever wondered why Chevrolet leads its field, a drive in this '63 should answer all your questions.

GO CHEVY II for '63-IT'S EXCITING!
 '63 CHEVY II NOVA SPORT COUPE
 Hard as it may be to believe, this year's Chevy II is better, better than last year's and better than anything in its class. It combines all the new easy-care features of the big Chevrolet with its own wonderful attributes of parkable size, four- or six-cylinder fuel economy and interiors that'd do justice to cars with twice its price and half its charm.

GO CORVAIR for '63-IT'S EXCITING!
 '63 CORVAIR MONZA CONVERTIBLE
 Change it? Calm yourself, nobody's going to mess with a winner like this one! We did add self-adjusting brakes and a more fully aluminized muffler; interiors and outside trim are refined a bit, but the rest is pure Corvaire with all the over-the-road goodness that implies. Oh yes, we changed the taillights so all those people you pass will know you're driving a '63.

ELECTRIC SERVICE An all-around value... all around the house
 Style's the thing when you buy a hat. But shopping for groceries or clothes or for home needs you look for Value with a capital V.
 One place you find it is in low-cost, dependable electric service. Electricity helps you clean house, prepare meals, do the laundry and dishes; provides radio and TV entertainment and plenty of clear, steady light to read, work and study by. Truly, electricity is the biggest bargain in your budget.
 It's true—my wages to serve all of my customers' homes averaged just 26 cents a day in 1961.
