Bus routes uncertain because of low sales

Floundering in a sea of uncertainty, the proposed express bus service between Reese and Lubbock needs a powerful gust in ticket sales to get the program out of irons.

As of noon Wednesday, only a handful of people had purchased the $20 monthly passes for the express CITIBUS route. To stay afloat, the program must net 100 paid-in-advance riders before Thursday.

"This is a great opportunity for base people to save money and energy," said Capt. Gary Taylor, chairman of the express route working group. "It's up to the people here. Without base-wide support the busses will never roll."

Captain Taylor also pointed out that the express passes will be honored on all normal CITIBUS routes, making the tickets one of the better transportation bargains around.

If enough tickets are sold in time, two 40-plus passenger busses will circle Lubbock each morning and afternoon, each making five stops. Busses will leave in time to reach Reese by 7:50 a.m. and will return to Lubbock at 5 p.m. daily.

Stops remain the same for both morning and evening runs with the order of stops reversed at night.

Route-A will cut across the north side of Lubbock, running on Fourth Street. The bus will stop at the Civic Center, 7:15 a.m.; Town and Country Shopping Center, 7:25 a.m.; Christian Renewel Center, 7:30 a.m.; Redbud Shopping Center, 7:35 a.m.; and the Mini-Mart at Fourth and Elkhart, 7:40 a.m.

Route-B swings through the south part of Lubbock, cutting across 50th Street to the South Plains Mall and winding then back up to 19th Street. Stops on

Tornadoes strike

Reese aids storm victims

"People have been wonderful," said A1C Carol Charters as she prepared to take her last load from Reese to the KLLL tornado relief pick-up station. "It makes me feel good that people here really care."

Reese personnel responded generously when donations of food, clothing and money were requested to aid the survivors of tornado devastated Wichita Falls.

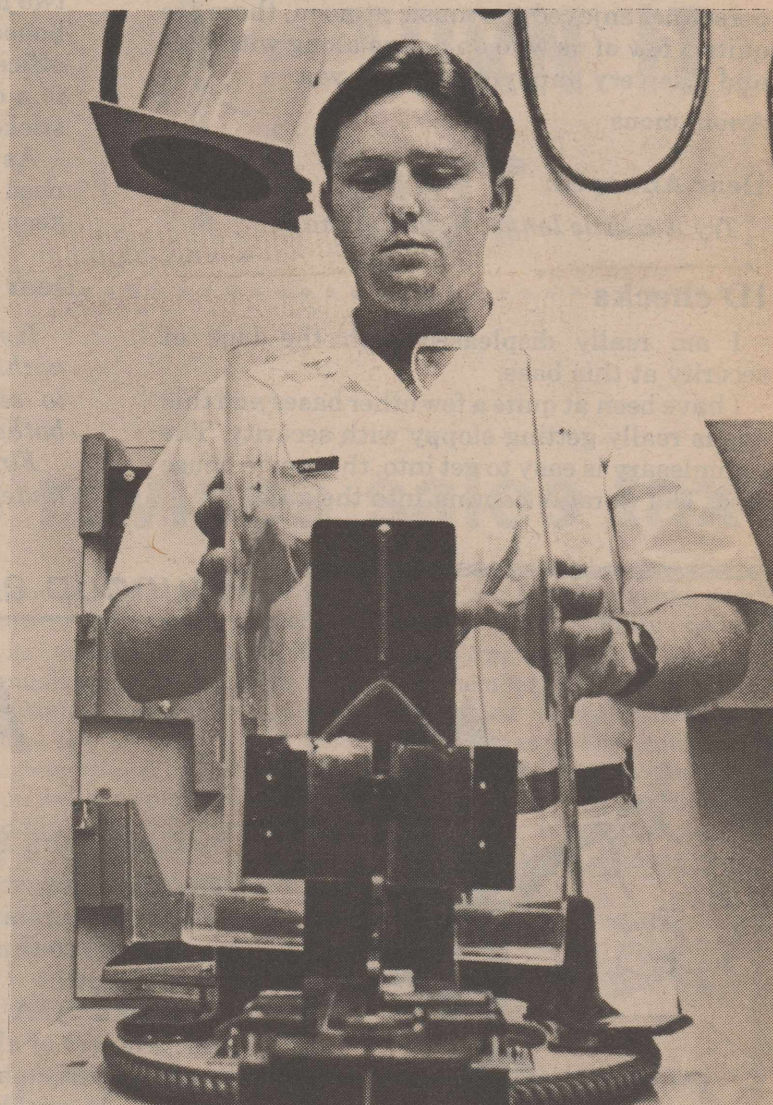

Airman Charters volunteered her office in the T-38 Check Section to serve as central gathering point of relief supplies for the base. She also volunteered her time and a strong arm to pick up donations from several points on base and carry them to Lubbock.

"It began when I was planning a garage sale," she said. "Then I heard about the disaster relief drive for Wichita Falls so I donated my garage sale." She then made herself responsible for coordinating the relief efforts at Reese.

Personnel in the 3500th Resources Management Squadron held a "disaster relief party" at the NCO Club. The admission was donations of clothing and canned goods. Donations of money totaling $102 were also collected. Fifty

Community groups set up child development program

Growing up: A Forum on the Child, will be held at the Reese Officers Club Wednesday.

The special orientation program is co-sponsored by the Interagency Action Council and the Community Planning Council as a means of bringing together the social welfare and human resource workers to discuss current related topics.

Jeanette Watson is slated as the feature speaker. She is the director of the Early Childhood Development Division of the Texas Department of Community Affairs. She is the author of "Handicapped Children are People Too," "Pierre the Texas Pelican-Parents Say Thanks," "How Wonderfully God Made Me," and "Still the Darker Side of Childhood."

Other speakers scheduled for Wednesday's forum include: Judy Atchinson, South Plains Health Services; Karen Meeks, Lubbock Independent School District; Dr. Jeanette Jenkins, Texas Tech University; Dr.

Jeanette Coufal, Texas Tech; Dr. Daniel H. Benson, Texas Tech; Mike Kelly, Lubbock Mental Health and Mental Retardation Center; and Chaplain (Lt. Col.) Arnold G. Johnson, Reese.

Starting at 8 a.m., the orientation runs through 2 p.m. Deadline for registration is today. Registration fees are $4.50, which includes lunch.

To register, stop by the United Way Office, 2201 19th Street or call 747-2711.

Hospital award winners

TSgt. Charles M. Carsten (top) adjusts the controls during a student ride in the base altitude chamber. A1C John P. McKeown (above) sets up some x-ray equipment at the base hospital. Both men are assigned to the Hospital and were named Wednesday morning as the 64th FTW's latest honorees. Airman McKeown is the Wing Airman of the Month while Sergeant Carsten is the Wing NCO of the Quarter.

Secretaries doing jobs!

by Col. Monte Montgomery

Sometimes a few moments of quiet reflection bring us to some obvious but all too often overlooked conclusions.

In the hustle of our everyday activity, many things happen: special projects are accomplished, decisions are made, instructions are given and so on. However, behind the scenes other things are taking place, frequently without our even being consciously aware of them.

Day-to-day tasks continue to be accomplished, schedules maintained, correspondence processed, suspenses met, along with many other activities to numerous to mention.

While the boss is usually in the forefront and is visible in his role, other tasks are being performed behind the scenes which are equally essential in getting our jobs done. We owe a special expression of thanks to these unsung heroes — our secretaries. Without their dedication, perseverance, loyalty and conscientious support we could not accomplish all of these tasks.

National Secretaries Week is Sunday through April 28 and Secretaries Day is April 25. While we should appreciate our secretaries every day, we should take this special occasion to express particular gratitude to our secretaries for their efforts and support in getting the job done and helping to make our base a better place.

My thanks and appreciation go out to the secretaries who help make our work easier while serving their country so well.

Col. Monte Montgomery

Noon music

In response to the Roundup's "Dear Up a Tree" about the feedback that the base personnel enjoyed the music at noon, there are quite a few of us who do not go along with that and it is very annoying. Thank you.

Anonymous

Dear Annoyed:

Try it a little longer — you'll like it.

ID checks

I am really displeased with the lack of security at this base.

I have been at quite a few other bases and this one is really getting sloppy with security. The commissary is easy to get into, the movie house also. The worst is coming into the gate.

March 23, on or about 2:25, I was coming on to the base. Since I had recently bought a car and it has no sticker as of yet, I pulled over to show my ID. There were 3 Security Police at the gate, two men and one woman, all sitting in the gate house. They did not want to see my ID. One officer waved me on the base before I even came to a complete stop. I told her that there was no sticker on this car - she said to go on in.

As I said before I have been to other bases. We need that security system not only for us but to keep things going right.

Dear Displeased:

It sounds like you had one of those days where nothing seems to go right. At any rate I will try to shed some light on the things that are bothering you.

First the incident at the gate. From what I understand there is another side to the story having to do with your attitude about being asked to show your ID card when you entered the base earlier in the day, but I will let that be our secret.

For your information, the policy at the front gate goes like this: From 6 a.m. to 6 p.m. we operate on an open base concept and randomly check ID cards. From 6 p.m. to 10 p.m. we gradually increase the number of ID checks and from 10 p.m. to 6 a.m. we perform a 100 percent ID check. The policy has been in effect for several years and is typical of most ATC bases.

As for ID checks at the Commissary and Theater, a 100 percent check is supposed to be made on everyone not in uniform. If you do not have your ID checked or observe someone else not getting their ID checked at any of the service facilities, please help me out and bring it to the attention of the service manager.

Have a nice day.

AFA — its for everyone

by Capt. John E. Thompson

The Air Force Association's annual membership drive is in full gear and will continue through the month of April.

Lubbock's AFA chapter needs more members of all ranks, but we are particularly short of enlisted members. It speaks for all blue suiters, not just for officers.

If you doubt whether the AFA works for you, consider the following achievements for 1978:

- A Survivors' Benefits Plan was enacted for Guardsmen and Reservists of all ranks.
- AFA was successful in pushing for full travel entitlements for junior enlisted personnel and dependents when stationed overseas.
- AFA helped defeat proposals that would have forced commissary baggers to become salaried employees. This would have eliminated the commissary subsidies, and would have raised the surcharge to commissary customers.

- It called for a return to a 90 percent reimbursement for CHAMPUS benefits instead of 70 percent. Congress compromised at 80 percent reimbursement.

- AFA's affiliate, the Aerospace Education Foundation, pioneered the development of the Community College of the Air Force which grants associate degrees to qualified Air Force people.

- AFA originated a proposal to create the position of Chief Master Sergeant of the Air Force.

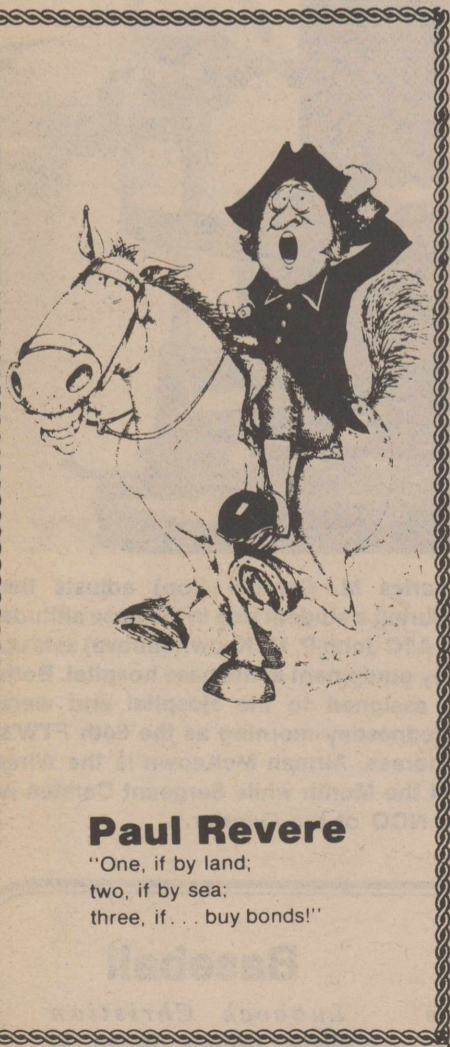

In short, AFA is involved in all our benefits from retirement to annual pay raises. These accomplishments benefit everyone! For AFA to better represent us, it needs everyone's support. Until the majority of Air Force personnel are members of AFA, it will be difficult for the AFA to truly say its opinion reflects the desires of the rank and file.

AFA continues to urge other changes that would benefit enlisted people such as: direct commissioning of qualified enlisted people, a fully funded Airman Education and Commissioning Program, enlisted per diem comparable to that paid officers, a variable housing allowance within the United States that would pay more for high cost living areas and dental care for dependents.

Do you still think the AFA is an officers' organization?

Take another look, and join during the April membership drive.

Chaplain's comment

by Chaplain (Lt. Col.)
Arnold G. Johnson

I write this column today in the aftermath of the Easter Sunday that was so beautiful for all of us . . . Not only a day of celebration of the resurrection of Jesus Christ, welcomed by many countless Christians in the world today, but a day for resting and relaxing in the company of friends and relatives.

I write this column from the perspective of a Christian man in the world today . . . as a christian pastor would speak to the people to whom he has been called to serve.

But, it could apply to anyone, regardless of their own personal religious creed. Why? Because it fits all of us in our own human condition, I believe.

How many of you remember the good intentions you had prior to the arrival of New Year? How many of you remember even one of the resolutions you made that day?

It's true that we do the same thing on special religious holidays. We silently pledge to do better in our attendance at worship services, or to act with patience, kindness and love toward our fellow man . . . But, we always somehow fail to do what we would want to do (just as Paul, the Apostle, said in his letter to one of the early churches) . . . "The good that I would do I do not, and that which I would not do, I do".

So, we feel hamstrung . . . we're failures at that which we would most like to do . . . it's like a religious "Catch-22". I would say to the Christian reader . . . don't let that discourage you. We're all that way. Just be certain that you understand God's promise that He won't let you be tempted beyond your ability to resist. When you fail, ask for His help to do that which you would want to do . . . ask for His forgiveness and guidance . . . ask for Him to come into your life . . .

He will do all those things . . . and more! That's what Easter is all about. May it be a blessing to you in your lives today!

Texas revises sales tax

by Capt. Richard A. McDonald legal office

Due to a recent revision of the Texas Motor Vehicle Sales and Use Tax Rule, service members who register their motor vehicles in Texas may be liable for a tax of up to 4 percent of the purchase price of the vehicle.

Basically, anyone who purchases a vehicle outside of Texas and subsequently registers it in Texas will have to pay a 4 percent tax, less any amount which was paid as a sales or use tax when the vehicle was bought. For example, if you bought a car for $6,000 in 1975 in State X and paid a 3 percent sales tax to State X and then register the car in Texas in 1979, you would be required to pay an additional $60 in taxes to Texas (4 percent of $6,000 less a credit of 3 percent of $6,000 previously paid to State X).

Therefore, if you are thinking of purchasing or have purchased a vehicle outside of Texas, you should consider your possible tax liability before registering the car in Texas.

Remember, as a member of the armed forces, when you register your motor vehicle, you must do so either in the state where you are presently stationed or in the state where you are a legal resident (your domicile).

If you have any questions about this matter, contact the legal office at Ext. 3505 for assistance.

dollars was added by the 64th Supply Squadron.

First Lt. Karen Hagauer, commander of the Resource Management Squadron, was particularly impressed with the response of the civilians at Reese. "They remember when it happened to Lubbock in 1970," she said.

When the citizens of Lorenzo asked for help in getting donations to the stricken areas, Reese responded by making two trucks available. The trucks were provided under the Expanded Participation in Communities program.

Maj. John Harvell, chief services division, arranged for the trucks then supervised the loading at Lorenzo.

SSgt. David Haltin and SrA Daniel Barajas, both of the 64th Supply Squadron, volunteered to drive the loaded trucks to Wichita Falls.

Reenlistees receive lump-sum payments

Lump-sum payments and changes to some variables are among the modifications to the Selective Reenlistment Bonus program that became effective recently.

Lump-sum payments have begun for all bonus skills. Reenlistees will receive bonuses in one payment at the time of reenlisting unless the individuals elect to receive the bonus in annual installments or the two-payment method.

People should consider income tax implications and income averaging when choosing the payment method.

Racquetball reservations

Reservation policies for base racquetball courts changed Monday, but gym officials say many people don't understand the new system.

So here it is again. Instead of having to try and make same-day reservations while the boss is trying to get you into an 8 a.m. meeting, players now reserve courts a day in advance by calling Ext. 3875 after 1 p.m. The new policy includes weekends and holidays.

In addition, a challenge doubles tournament runs through the lunch hours.

Doubles tournament

Gym officials have finalized plans for the 1979 Wing Open Racquetball Doubles Tournament, May 5-7.

According to Dav Davis, tournament coordinator, the event will be open to the first 32 teams that enter.

Commander's Trophy points will be awarded the top four finalist. If different units are represented on a placing team, the trophy points will be divided equally.

CHAMPUS raises claim figure

The figure used to determine the maximum allowable claim for CHAMPUS was raised from the 75th to 80th percentile April 1.

The 80th percentile is an amount high enough to cover usual charges reflected in four out of every five bills from physicians and other individual providers in a specific geographical area during the previous year for a specific service.

Four states hold elections

Absentee ballot application deadlines are near for primary elections that will be held in four Eastern states in May and June. Application deadlines are April 30 in Kentucky, May 7 in New Jersey and May 12 in Virginia. Pennsylvania voters must apply in time to be able to return ballots to election officials by May 11.

Good guys

Thirteen may be considered an unlucky number by some people but not by a lad who was hospitalized at St. Mary's last week.

The youngster needed a rare type of blood and the hospital called Reese looking for donors. CBPO officials whipped up a list of people with the blood needed and 13 of them rushed to donate.

The Roundup Good Guys of the Week are: Amn. Anthony Costanza, A1C Adam Flores, Sgt. Robert L. Henricues, Amn. Hector Hernandez, A1C Rob Hockaday, A1C Stephen Langley, Sgt. # Police sponsor May bike-a-thon

A "Wheels for Life" bike-athon, sponsored by Reese's Security Police unit, will be held April 29.

Base riders will navigate around a one-mile course to raise money for the St. Jude Children Research Hospital, a facility that specializes in leukemia and cancer research and treatment.

Danny Thomas heads a nation-wide movement to raise money for the hospital.

Here's how the bike-a-thon works. Riders find sponsors who pledge to give a certain amount of money for each mile the cyclist rides. Each rider may have several sponsors.

As an incentive for the cyclists, the national organization behind the bike-a-thon will provide special T-shirts to riders collecting more than $25 and back packs for those netting more than $75. In addition, the Security Police here will award trophies to the rider completing the most laps and to the entrant with most sponsors. Other prizes will also be given.

Interested personnel (the bike-a-thon is open to all Reese people) can pick up sponsor forms at Security Police headquarters, building 500. The bike-a-thon starts at 10 a.m. in the SP parking lot.

For more information contact SrA Henry Lopez, Ext. 3615.

Donough

Student gets rare second chance

There are many things in life that, once missed, offer no second chance. Until a few months ago, 1st Lt. Kenneth Donough thought that described his chances for pilot training.

He had passed his 28th birthday and had not been accepted into the program. The official cut-off age for Air Force pilot trainees is 27 and one-half years old.

But Lieutenant Donough pursued his dream and now, at age 30, he is a member of class 80-02 at Reese. He is the oldest in his class and probably the oldest trainee in the program here.

Lieutenant Donough first joined the Air Force as an enlisted man in 1968. He served as a T-37 crew chief at Laredo Air Force Base. In 1969, his father contracted leukemia and the young Donough was compelled to secure a hardship discharge.

A few years later he entered Air Force ROTC. He received his commission in 1974 and applied for pilot training. But with many pilots returning from the war in Vietnam, the Air Force had more than it needed. Many new applicants like Lieutenant Donough were put in a standby status for 18 months.

A little later, Congress cut the budget and the Air Force had to cut back on its training program. Lieutenant Donough, along with many others, was denied admittance. In July, 1976, he elected to enter maintenance school. For some time, he served as a maintenance officer at Zweibrucken Air Base in West Germany.

But he still wanted to fly. At age 29, he made another formal application for pilot school and was turned down because of his age.

Then the Air Force had a change of heart. Many Air Force pilots began finding lucrative positions with the commercial airlines. Suddenly, there was a shortage. As part of its program to remedy the problem, the Air Force decided that those ROTC cutbacks of the mid '70s were eligible again.

Lieutenant Donough made his third application and was accepted.

Talented Rattlers launch season

Last year the Rattler soccer team established itself as one of the top amateur clubs in the southwest. And when the 1979 campaign opens this weekend — it will be even stronger.

Player-coach Craig Ford returns the entire squad from last year's championship campaign. But it's the team's off-season additions that have him beaming.

"We are very fortunate to have two fine players like Greg Schultz and Tom Twohig with us this year," smiled Ford. Greg earned All American honors as a goalie at the Academy and Tom was an all-league fullback on the same team."

Surprisingly, the lightning quick Schultz may not be in the Rattler goal when the team opens at the St. John's College Invitational Soccer Tournament Saturday.

"Greg played some forward for us in practice and scored six goals in two scrimmage games," confided Ford. "He is a complete player and we may use him on offense if we need extra scoring punch."

But with or without Schultz on offense, scoring is one thing the Rattlers have. Bruce Schaffer, last season's leading scorer, will guide the Rattlers into the 10-team Santa Fe tournament. Although Cecilio Young is sidelined temporarily with a knee injury, Burt Romero, Jimmy Johnson and Brian O'Dell are all capable of pulling hat tricks.

Also returning are halfbacks Greg Lopez, Jeff Olinger and Nyron Noble. Fullbacks this year are Tom Prodonovich, Carl Olsen and Twohig. Craig Kemnitz, who had a sensational string of shutouts last year and Kevin Court allow Ford to play Schultz outside of the goal.

In IM playoffs

RM squad falls early

Resource Management became the first fatality of the intramural volleyball playoffs, getting bounced from the double elimination fray on opening night.

Field Maintenance was pressed to three games before handing RM a 15-11, 8-15 and 15-4 loss in Monday night's opening game. Later, third-seeded Sturon-1 ended RM's title ambitions, 15-13, 13-15 and 15-6.

Earning first round passes were the 54th Flying Training Squadron, the unbeaten regular season champ, and second ranked Sturon-2, 11-1 on the year. Both squads rolled through their second round games. The 54th topped FMS, 15-7 and 15-6. Sturon-1 advanced by dropping the 35th FTS, 15-13 and 15-5.

There was one major upset in Monday's five-game slate. The 35th, 8-4 in regular season play, surprised third-ranked Sturon-1, 16-14, 12-15 and 15-16.

Supply, Air Base Group, the 1958th Communications Squadron, Organizational Maintenance, the Medics and the Civil Engineers all failed to make the six-team tournament field.

Sports in brief

Both teams sport legitimate contenders for berths on the 1980 Olympic team. The fights will be held in hanger 82 and will start at 7 p.m.

Tickets are on sale at the Officers Club, NCO Club, Golf Course and Mathis Recreation Center. Adult ducats are $3 (military get a $1 discount) and children under 12 get in for $1.

The Roundup will offer an in-depth look at the two squads next week.

Dear People at Derma Culture:
 I am so thrilled over my complexion. My face, as you know, was an ugly sight, and had been for many years. As I told you, I tried everything and anything with the hope that something might help. Then one day my Mother suggested that I come see about DermaCulture. I really did not believe it would help, but with a problem like mine, I felt I must do something.

After a few visits, I was aware that my skin did look better, then after each visit I could surely see much improvement.

Now, my face is smooth and the blemishes are gone. I shall always be grateful to you for my pretty complexion. I wish everyone could know about you and could visit you. It has really changed my life; I am now engaged and feel pretty and Happy.

Sincerely,
 Vickie McCollun

LCC nine invite Reese to games

Reese personnel and their families will be admitted free of charge to all of this year's remaining Lubbock Christian College baseball games, according to Dub Manis, newly appointed director of the Chaparral's Booster Club.

Military and civilians from Reese need only to present their ID cards at the admission gate at Chaparral Field on the LCC campus.

10th in this week's rating and seem assured of a berth in the NAIA District VIII playoffs scheduled for May 11-13 in Arlington, Texas.

The Chaparrals overall record is 32-15 (a Wednesday doubleheader with Texas El Paso excluded) with fourteen games remaining on the regular season schedule. Six of those games, in the form of three doubleheaders will be played at home.

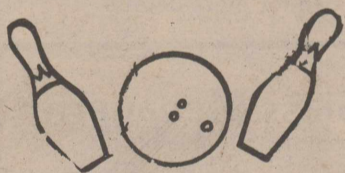

The remaining home schedule is: Tuesday against Hardin-Simmons and May 4-5 against Midwestern State. Each of the scheduled doubleheaders will begin at 1 p.m.

Keglers eye ATC title

Six base bowlers will try to capture top honors this weekend at the Air Training Command Bowling Championships at Chanute AFB, Ill.

Topping the list of high rolling keggers are Roy Rogers and Tom Cooper, both sporting healthy 186 averages. Just two weeks ago, Rogers rolled a near perfect 298.

Guy Chauvin and Don Chilson, a pair of 175 bowlers, complete the men's team.

Hassie Lormand and Cheryl Wente make up the women's squad. Both women average around 155.

Pursuit of team, doubles and singles titles begins this morning with championship competition closing on Sunday.
