2018 TREE SALE

Time is here once again for Sherman County Soil and Water Conservation District's annual Spring Tree Sale. Order forms are ready and can be picked up at our office - 418 North 4th in Stratford.

While we try to list as many species that are available for this area, we cannot list them all. If you have any special wants or wishes as far as trees go this year, please call the office and we will be happy to try and find what you need.

The District can also fill requests for drip irrigation supplies. We keep some drip supplies in stock, and will help in the design of your system and order exactly what is needed for you if we do not have it. Delivery is usually within three working days. You can also help your investment with the installation of weed barrier. We have this available also. This is especially important in windbreaks because we do not want the newly planted seedlings to have to fight with weeds and grass for water. The barrier will help prevent the growth of weeds and grass and keep the moisture in the ground.

If you need a Tree Order Form, want to place an order for trees, irrigation supplies, weed barrier or have questions regarding the trees or planning for your particular needs, please do not hesitate to contact the District or the NRCS at 396-5517 ext. 3. or email us at shermswcd@xit.net.

Thank you for your continued support of conservation in Sherman County.

I would like to take this opportunity to express my sincere appreciation to the Sherman County Development committee, Kathy Allen and to the Republican Chairman Susie Spurlock for sponsoring the Candidate Forum last Thursday evening at the County Barn. I would also like to thank all of the residents of Sherman County that attended. Please remember that early voting begins on Tuesday February 20th -and runs through Friday, March 2nd. Election Day is Tuesday, March 6th. I urge all of you to please vote, as everyone's vote is important to the outcome of the election.

Please cast your vote and help re-elect me as your Justice of the Peace!

Sincerely Brenda, Acker, Incumbent Candidate Sherman County Justice of the Peace. A paid political Ad paid for by Brenda Acker, PO Box 543, Stratford, TX 79084

Elwood loved and served God, his family and his country. He cherished Jeanette, his wife of 56 years, and adored his daughters, Jayme and Sharon. He treated Jimmy and Lance like his very own sons. Elwood's five grandkids were deeply loved by their Grand and his five great grands had him wrapped about their little fingers.

His wonderful smile, sense of humor, loving heart, wisdom, and passion for life resulted in deep relationships with family and friends.

Elwood graduated from Stratford High School in 1952 and earned a Bachelor's degree in Business Administration from West Texas State University in 1956. He then completed his Master's degree in Business Administration from Colorado State University in 1990.

He served as Colorado State Representative from 1981 until 1990 and was chairman of The Joint Budget Committee. Later, Elwood served as Mayor of Lamar from 1994-1995. He served as a State Judicial Performance Commissioner.

He belonged to Colorado Oil Jobbers Association, Kamgrounds of America, National Federation of Independent Businesses, Colorado Community College and Occupational Education System, and Colorado Propane Gas Association.

Elwood was a self-employed businessman starting in 1963. He owned and operated Lamar Oil Company, Green Diamond Fertilizer, Westwood Leasing and Storage, Lamar KOA Kampground, Hillcrest Ranch and Elwood Gillis Appraiser, LLC.

He was transferred from Texas to Pueblo in 1959 by Diamond Shamrock and moved his young family to Lamar in 1963. He was proud of his Texas Heritage.

Interment followed in the Veteran's Section at Fairmount Cemetery in Lamar, located in what was previously, from 1836-1846, the Republic of Texas.

Spelling Bee Contest at Legacy

By Paula Nusz

Legacy Assisted Living in Dalhart, Texas, challenged the students of St. Anthony's Catholic School to a Spelling Bee on Tuesday, February 6, 2018. Scripps National Spelling Bee Study Words for the 2017-2018 school year were used. The study words for the 4th, 5th, and 6th grades were distributed in January. These words varied from easy ones such as oval (4th grade word) to claustrophobic (6th grade word).

Thirty-one students and three Legacy residents spent a tense 45 minutes anxiously anticipating their word. Legacy participants included: Helen Summerour, Frances Stipe, and Charles McClain. Ms. Finchum from the school was the word caller and mediator.

At last, three contestants were ready for the final round. Third place winner was Frances Stipe. She missed the word- committee. The Second place winner was Helen Summerour. She missed the word- callous. The winner was Mia Munoz! She correctly spelled the final word- grandiose. This was the second year for this contest between Legacy and the students. It was great fun and everyone's brain was working hard. The area Spelling Bee contest for the school children will be held in Amarillo in March. Congratulations to all participants!

Health Matters

Get Help Taking Your Medicine

(NAPS)—According to the American Medical Association (AMA), about one in four new prescriptions is never filled, and about half the time patients don't take the medications they do have.

The Problem

People give eight basic reasons for not complying, the AMA adds:

1. Fear. People may be frightened of potential side effects. They may have witnessed side effects experienced by someone else who was taking the same or a similar medication and believe the medication caused the problems.

2. Cost. People may ration what they have to extend their supply.

3. Misunderstanding. People may not understand the need for the medicine, the nature of the side effects or the time it will take to see results. This is particularly true for those with chronic illness, because taking a medication every day to reduce the risk of something bad happening can be confusing. Failure to see immediate improvement may lead to premature discontinuation.

4. Too many medications. The greater the number of different medicines prescribed and the higher the dosing frequency, the more likely someone is to not take some or any.

5. Lack of symptoms. People who don't feel any different when they start or stop their medicine might see no reason to take it.

6. Worry. Concerns about becoming dependent on a medication can also lead to nonadherence.

7. Depression. People suffering from depression are less likely to take their medications as prescribed.

8. Mistrust. Some people are suspicious of their doctor's motives for prescribing certain medications because of stories about pharmaceutical companies influencing physician prescribing patterns.

Doctor's Advice

"Fifty percent of patients struggle with understanding how and when to take their prescription medications, and for those with complex prescription regimens it can be even more challenging," said Troyen Brennan, M.D., M.P.H.

A Solution

Fortunately, you can now get special assistance when it comes to compliance. To help people understand the best time of day to take their prescribed medications for greater safety and efficacy, the new ScriptPath Prescription Schedule was created for CVS Pharmacy customers who manage multiple prescription medications. It features all of a patient's current CVS Pharmacy prescription information in one place—including which medications the patient takes, when he or she should take them, and how much of each medication should be taken in each dose. Using easy-to-understand icons, the new schedule was designed to improve understanding and enhance safety by simplifying how people take medications and how caregivers give them.

If you have a hard time keeping track of what meds you need to take when, your pharmacist can help.

What The Schedule Shows

Available in English and Spanish at all of CVS Pharmacy's more than 9,700 locations, the schedule is generated by a robust scientific system that automatically reviews all of a patient's current CVS Pharmacy prescription information and prescriber's instructions, and then, using clinical data, provides a schedule of the most effective times of day to take the medications. People who take more than five medications a day can also have a special consultation with the pharmacist to be sure they understand what to do.

Information highlighted on the new schedule includes:

- Personalized prescription information for each patient, including how much medication to take and when to take it
- Medications separated into sections for Routine, As Needed and Other
- Clear refill instructions
- A notes section for further personalization and to facilitate face-to-face pharmacist counseling.

Medical Device Professional Living With Diabetes Now Uses The Insulin Pump He Helped Get Approved In The U.S.

(NAPS)—Chip Zimliki, 47, had been living with type 1 diabetes for over 33 years and was managing his blood sugar levels with multiple daily injections (MDI). This meant Chip had to give himself a shot of long acting insulin once a day, as well as injections of rapid acting insulin at each mealtime. Having worked at the Food and Drug Administration (FDA) for eight years, Chip was very familiar with insulin pump therapy and the advancements made to increase automation and create what's called "hybrid closed loop technology."

"I hadn't seriously considered getting on an insulin pump. I was comfortable with MDI and felt in control of my sugar levels. Quite frankly, I wasn't excited about the thought of wearing a device all the time," said Chip.

The next phase in his career took him to Medtronic where he joined the regulatory team five years ago to help get the first hybrid closed loop system approved in the U.S.—the first and only system that constantly self-adjusts to automatically keep sugar levels within a healthy range more often throughout the day and night.

"The career move was a no brainer for me. It was the most groundbreaking technology to have been introduced in decades—so much so the FDA was willing to fast-track it to ensure patients had quick access to this first-of-its-kind system," said Chip.

Once at the company, he had early access to try the latest technologies—including the Guardian Sensor 3 continuous glucose monitor (CGM) that's part of the MiniMed™ 670G system. He was able to get real-time insights into his sugar levels including how they reacted when he ate a meal, how they trended when he woke up in the morning, exercised or experienced stress. "It was really eye opening to see how my body reacted to things throughout the

*Some user interaction required.

IMPORTANT SAFETY INFORMATION:

The Medtronic MiniMed™ 670G system requires a prescription and is intended for continuous delivery of basal insulin (at user selectable rates) and administration of insulin boluses (in user selectable amounts) for the management of Type 1 diabetes mellitus in persons, fourteen years of age and older, requiring insulin as well as for the continuous monitoring and trending of glucose levels in the fluid under the skin. The MiniMed™ 670G System includes SmartGuard™ technology, which can be programmed to automatically adjust delivery of basal insulin based on Continuous Glucose Monitor sensor glucose values, and can suspend delivery of insulin when the sensor glucose value falls below or is predicted to fall below predefined threshold values.

The Guardian Sensor 3 is not intended to be used directly for making therapy adjustments, but rather to provide an indication of when a finger stick may be required. All therapy adjustments should be based on measurements obtained using a home glucose monitor and not on values provided by the Guardian Sensor 3.

WARNING: Medtronic performed an evaluation of the MiniMed™ 670G system and determined that it may not be safe for use in children under the age of 7 because of the way that the system is designed and the daily insulin requirements. Therefore, this device should not be used in anyone under the age of 7 years old. This device should also not be used in patients who require less than a total daily insulin dose of 8 units per day because the device requires a minimum of 8 units per day to operate safely.

Chip Zimliki and his family found increased peace of mind after he started managing his diabetes with the latest insulin pump system.

day and it made me realize I wasn't in the best control of my sugar levels."

Then one day, Chip had a scare that motivated him to get in better control of his diabetes. He was driving himself in the car when his blood sugar suddenly dropped really low. He experienced what doctors call severe hypoglycemia. He felt dizzy and had to pull over to the side of the road so he wouldn't lose control of the car. That experience left him thinking about his wife Lindsay and two young children Lyla, 4, and Leo, 5. As a parent, he felt a tremendous responsibility to keep his children safe and that was enough for him to transition to insulin pump therapy. "It was the tipping point for me—there's nothing more important than keeping your family safe."

In October 2017, Chip started on the MiniMed™ 670G insulin pump system featuring SmartGuard™ technology, which was inspired by patients like Chip and mimics some of the functions of a healthy pancreas by taking action to adjust insulin delivery based on your sugar levels. He hasn't experienced a single significant low since. Now Chip can't imagine his life without a pump and sensor.

"The best feeling in the world is knowing I'm driving my two precious cargos in the back and I'm safe. I feel more comfortable getting in the car not worrying about experiencing a severe low."

Chip says what's incredible about the system is that he can just roll out of bed, see the blue shield on the screen indicating that SmartGuard™ technology is activated, and know it's allowing him more time in range. In other words, he knows that the system works all the time to make automatic insulin delivery adjustments that help keep him healthy and take on most of the diabetes management he would've had to do himself.

"It only took me 2 hours to learn the pump and get used to it. It was easy to understand and to manage the screens. I was surprised at how simple it was. The blue shield on the screen is such an easily identifiable visual that immediately lets me know the system is working to help keep me in control. I just look for the blue shield and I know I'm ok. I personally love it."

Chip is honored to have played an integral role in bringing this innovation to people living with diabetes.

"This is the reason why I devote my life to this stuff. It was completely rewarding to be part of this initiative. For me, it was a traumatic event to be diagnosed with diabetes. The first day I was diagnosed it took five nurses and my mother to hold me down for a shot. If something like this can ease someone else's diabetes challenges in life... I find that extremely rewarding."

Chip isn't done working on improving the technology. The next goal is to make the technology even better.

"It's very promising for someone with type 1 diabetes to know it's not just a one and done. We're going to continue to advance SmartGuard™ technology so that it's even more personalized and automated in the future—that's beyond exciting for someone like me living with this burdensome disease."
