Sprayberry to be indicted again on dropped charge

By MARK LEWIS Staff Writer

An attempted-sexual-assault indictment against Justice of the Peace Charlie Sprayberry was dismissed on technical grounds Friday. but the 44-year-old Midland official was expected to be re-indicted on the same charge within a few weeks.

"I'm disappointed," said Sprayberry, who took an unpaid leave of absence from office after being indicted Nov. 21. "I want to go to trial."

But it was at the request of his own attorney that the most serious of the six indictments against him was quashed by visiting Judge James H. Clack of Andrews, sitting in for Judge Vann Culp in Midland's 238th District Court.

I don't intend to go to trial on a half-drawn indictment," said defense attorney John W. Smith of Odessa, who persuaded Clack that ment, which accused him of trying the indictment didn't follow state to force a 36-year-old Justice Court

"If the defendant wants to hide behind technicalities, we're not going to object" to rewriting the indictment, said special prosecutor Andy Shuval of Austin. "I intend to resubmit it" to the grand jury.

Sprayberry's trial had been set for Jan. 13, but "it's probably going to be the middle of February before we go to trial," said Smith.

The 238th District Court Grand Jury is scheduled to meet Wednesday, but Shuval indicated he wouldn't be able to present the case that day. It was not known if Sprayberry would appear before the grand jurors this time; he was on a hunting trip in New Mexico when they indicted him in November.

Sprayberry had entered a plea of not guilty to the quashed indict law because it didn't state that the clerk to perform a sex act with him woman Sprayberry allegedly tried to on April 26, 1984. The indictment also accused him of false imprisonment, and Smith claimed this charge was improperly included. U.S. ships head toward Libya, Pentagon says with the routine deployment of a carrier battle group into the Mediterranean Sea, has forces in place to launch a retaliatory strike against Libya, Pentagon sources said Friday.

But President Reagan has made no decision to proceed with any type of military response to the Dec. 27 terrorist attacks on the Rome and Vienna airports, and any such mission would be fraught with difficulty and danger, said Pentagon officials who spoke on condition they would not be identified.

Reagan, posing for pictures in Mexicali, Mexico, with Mexican President Miguel de la Madrid, was asked about reports of U.S. military movements in the Mediterranean.

Asked whether a buildup of U.S. forces was under way, Reagan said, You've got to stop listening to Kha-Moammar Khadafy, who has accused the United States of aggressive intentions.

The Pentagon sources said top officials, including Defense Secretary Caspar W. Weinberger, were asked to prepare for a possible "strategy meeting" at the White House on Saturday

And the sources also confirmed that earlier this week, at least six EA-6B Prowler radar-jamming aircraft were dispatched from their base in Washington state to the Sigonella Air Base in Italy. The planes are now on hand to assist attack jets from the Coral Sea should any strike be ordered against Libya, the sources

Meantime, the State Department, which for years has been telling I'm not aware that we're doing Americans to stay out of Libya, said its ability to aid those who ignored the warnings would be nearly "nonexistent" if the current tensions lead to anti-American action. Between 1,000 and 1,500 U.S. citizens, many of them dependents of Libyans or employed by Libyan or third country business, are in Libya.

"Our policy always is to do what we can for American citizens," said department spokesman Charles E. Redman. "We try to make it as clear as we can that when you go to places where we have no diplomatic representation that our ability to assist American citizens under such circumstances would be severely limited if not non-existent

The United States repeated its 4 year old warning against travel to Libya this week after accusing the Khadafy government of supporting the Palestinian group blamed for the airport raids.

At the Pentagon, one official, stressing the hazards of an American military operation, said of the Libyans: 'They're just sitting there say ing. Make my day. There would be no surprise. They're sitting there on

Britons eagerly await list of most popular first names for newborns

LONDON (AP) - In 1958 one rushed to The Times where it is ea-Thomas Bodkin wrote The Times of London to lament the seeming demise of his good name. Why, he wondered, did nobody christen his son Thomas any more?

But Thomas's time would come. By 1974 it had edged into the list of Britain's 10 most fashionable names, and a decade later it was in second place, preceded only by that hardy perennial, James.

One can only guess why Thomas should be coming back into vogue, or, for that matter, why Mary, Anne, Richard and Andrew should be on the decline. But counting names is a New Year's rite in this country, faithfully completed every Dec. 31 by schoolteacher Margaret Brown and published every Jan. 2 in the letters column of The Times.

Every day for 10 years, Mrs.

Brown has gone through the births announcements in The Times, writ-ing in a ledger the names given to each newborn. Her annual tally is gerly awaited by letters editor Leon Pilpel. It is, he says, "a very closely read feature.

There is no discernible pattern, said Mrs. Brown in a telephone interview after counting the 5,463 Timesrecorded births of 1985. William, which seemed the name to watch af-ter Prince Charles and Princess Di-ana chose it for their first son, has slid from fourth to sixth.

James is an enduring favorite, she believes, "because it is harmonious. It goes well with almost any middle name or surname." Could George be getting a boost from pop stars of that name? Mrs. Brown doubts many Boy George fans announce births in the august columns of The Times.

Candidate requests limits on donations

By STEVE LEVINE

Reporter-Telegram Austin Bureau

AUSTIN - Calling past contributions to Supreme Court candidates "grossly excessive," a high-court hopeful Friday asked Chief Justice John Hill to limit the donations lawyers can give 1986 judicial candidates.

Hill agreed that large contribu-tions from attorneys who practice before the court "contribute to some erosion of public confidence" in the judicial process, but he said the Legislature — not the court — should set the limits.

Justice Jim Brady, a member of the Austin Court of Appeals and a candidate in the Democratic primary for incumbent Supreme Court Justice Sears McGee's seat, said Hill should use the high court's rulemaking authority to place "strict limits" on contributions attorneys, law firms and their political action committees can give judicial candidates.

"In the last few elections, some attorneys have donated $20,000, $30,000 or $40,000 to members of the Supreme Court, and those are lawyers who practice before the Supreme Court," Brady said at a Capitol news conference. "It's a black mark on our judicial system when it is repeated, even in jest, that Texas has the best

Supreme Court money can buy."

The question of influence buying through campaign contributions has already elicited a flurry of allega-tions from two candidates in a different Supreme Court race. Trial lawyers, who represent persons su-ing doctors and businesses for damages, have contributed heavily to judicial races in the last decade. In response, a coalition of defense lawyers and businesses has pledged to donate up to $1 million to candidates of its choice in each of the four 1986

Supreme Court races. Former Odessa Rep. Jay Gibson said he entered the race against incumbent Justice Raul Gonzalez only after he read that the coalition planned to back Gonzalez' campaign.

Brady said Friday he would instruct his campaign workers to return any contribution that exceeds $1,000 from an individual attorney or $5,000 from a law firm or political action committee. He called on Hill to appoint a committee of lawyers, judges and laymen to study the issue and propose similar limits within the next 30 days. The court has the power to impose such limits, he said, be-cause it "has authority over the conduct of attorneys who practice before the court.'

Last January Hill called on the Legislature to adopt "a reasonable limit" on campaign contributions, but lawmakers took no action on his proposal. "Without celings on political contributions in judicial races... you do have the problem of presenting the appearance of impropriety," he said Friday.

"Normally election laws and any changes in them are considered the province of the Legislature," he added, rejecting Brady's suggestion for a special court-appointed committee. "My present plan is to just keep pressing ahead with the Legislature."

Dallas Sen. Oscar Mauzy, chairman of the Senate Jurisprudence Committee and an opponent of Brady's in the Supreme Court race, agrees with Hill that the Legislature is the proper forum to discuss campaign contributions but disagrees with both Hill and Brady on the need to limit donations in judicial races. "When you make that assertion, you're questioning the integrity of the candidate and the integrity of the lawyer who makes the contribution, you're making them second-class citizens," Mauzy said. "I've ac-cepted contributions of over $5,000 from many people in my 20 years in the Legislature, and it didn't buy them a thing." Mauzy also released a copy of the campaign contribution statement he filed with the secretary of state's office Friday afternoon. That statement shows he raised more than $510,000 from Aug. 8 to Dec. 31, with almost half of the money coming

Gibson, who entered a war of press releases with Gonzalez in November over limiting contributions from political action committees, said he would consider Brady's proposal. A spokesman for the Gonzalez campaign said the judge would not comment on the matter.

Closing wells impact overstated, study says

AUSTIN - White oil operators have overstated the possible impact a shutdown of their wells would have on the Panhandle economy, a Texas House Study Group report study concluded this week.

Instead, closing down the wells would contribute "to a decline already occurring for other reasons," the study says. The House Study Group is a non-partisan research organization financed by House of Representatives members that investigates state issues.

During legislative and court battles over the issue, lobbyists for the white oil operators estimated that "a worst-case reading" of a federal ruling could shut down 8,000 wells and cost the area 12,000 jobs. The Study Group Thursday disagreed with that

"Considering that white oil and illegally perforated wells represent Reporter-Telegram Austin Bureau production in the Panhandle region, estimates that put the economic effect of a shutdown in the hundreds of millions of dollars in the next few years seem excessive." the report concluded.

The study points out that the Panhandle economy has grown more slowly than the rest of the state over the decade 1973 to 1982. That sector of the area economy that includes the petroleum industry did not grow at all from 1978 to 1982. One researcher predicts that that sector will show "a steady decline" of more than 30 percent by 1990.

The white oil dispute pits independent Panhandle oil operators against the major petroleum companies that own most of the gas leases in the region.

The oil operators use condensation equipment to liquify natural gas produced from the oil wells. They have attempted to convince the courts and Texas Railroad Commission that only a fraction of all wells and all the condensate — known as white oil

- should be classified as oil.

The commission and courts have essentially ruled against the oilmen. saying white oil is actually natural gas. The commission has proceeded to retest 541 suspect wells and order closed those which produce more than 100,000 cubic feet of natural gas including white oil — per barrel

The commission has ordered 104 wells shut in and advised the operators of 322 wells that they could continue production. Tests on the remaining 115 wells were inconclusive.

In February, state Comptroller Bob Bullock estimated that "a largescale shutdown" of Panhandle white-oil wells could cost the state up to $18 million per year in lost oil and gas severance taxes. The Study Group report says Bullock's office has calculated the actual loss through December at $3 million to $5 candidates for a soon-to-becomeopen seat on the Railroad Commission have chided the commissioners' decisions in the white oil case. Most of the criticism has focused more on the length of time the commissioners took to resolve the issue than on the decision to retest and close the wells.

The issue has become a political one, as Democratic and Republican decision.

In a Dec. 6 "personal statement" to the Study Group, Commission Chairman Buddy Temple - who will retire at the end of next year and whose seat the critics are seeking said the commission made the only decision state law permits. Temple blamed any delays on "the operators who fought the enforcement of the applicable classification rules." Temple also lashed out at critics who accused the commission of "callously causing widespread economic disruption by its decision in the case." State law, he said, does not allow the commission to consider economic consequences when it makes its

Environmentalists protest proposed pipeline

By JIM WARREN

Reporter-Telegram Austin Bureau

AUSTIN - Goodyear took a good old-fashion country lickin' Friday from Hays County landowners and environmentalists protesting the company's proposed pipeline across the ecologically sensitive Edwards Aquifer.

Federal, state and local leaders met under a tent in a rural area south of Austin, where the aquifer runs, saying the pipeline could hurt the area's water supply. Elected officials and landowners threatened to boycott Goodyear's products if the All American Pipeline is not rerout-

Goodyear wants to run a heavy crude oil pipeline from California to Texas Gulf Coast refineries, but a segment of the proposed route crosses Central Texas' Edwards Aquifer. Landowners in the area fear the pipeline could contaminate the aquifer, which supplies drinking water to nearly 1 million people.

Retired pipeline company owner George Hinkle organized the rally on his Hays County ranch, and said he does not oppose the pipeline, just its planned route.

An oil spill could easily reach our aguifer and cause irreversible damage to our drinking water." Hinkle said. "Believe me, Goodyear isn't do-

Jim Hightower, state agriculture commissioner, said clean drinking water for people and livestock is ucts. more important than the pipeline.

There was a time when attempting to poison a farmer's well was a hanging offense," Hightower said. 'Maybe we can't hang All American for trying to poison our well, but the State of Texas damn sure can tell em exactly where they can put their pipeline.

Goodyear spokesmen said they could not comment.

Landowners in the area have set up The Clean Water for Texas Committee to fight the pipeline, and a cide Monday whether to stop the Texas Railroad Commission from granting the pipeline a permit.

The pipeline cannot be built — but not used - without Railroad Commission approval.

The committee contends the Legislature passed a law last spring authorizing the Railroad Commission to set water-quality standards for pipelines, and the commission has not acted. Goodyear argues that, because they are a common carrier, they have eminent domain power and can build the pipeline.

She detects "a slightly more traditional approach to name-giving," remembering the frivolous '60s "when people tended to make up names." In the mid-70s she noticed more girls' names drawn from the classics Chloe, Flavia, Gratia, Letitia, Phoebe and Xanthe.

Mrs. Brown has been counting the names for 10 years, having taken over "the legacy bequeathed to me" by the late John Leaver, a Times reader who pioneered the list in 1948 and continued it until his death.

In Leaver's first list 37 years ago John was top, with James a mere ninth. Michael, Anthony and Peter, high in the 1948 list, have fallen from the top 10. Anne led the girl's list in 1948. She too is out of the top 10. Other faded favorites are Susan, Margaret, Jennifer and Caroline. Rebecca showed up in 1973 but promptly retreated.

The modern age, however, seems positively humdrum compared with century ago, as another letter to The Times pointed out Friday.

In 1885, John Ticehurst wrote, the General Register Office included a list of common names and their correct spellings. Common names in those Victorian times included Adalbert, Godric, Pompey, Xerxes, Euphrosyne, Gundreda, Cleopatra, Sophronia and Tryphenia.

Head of NTSB blames old heaters for fatal crash of Nelson's plane

DE KALB (AP) — The head of an air transportation safety group Friday blamed antiquated heaters for the fatal crash of performer Rick Nelson's plane, but the federal agency investigating the accident again stressed it is too early to assign a cause for an onboard fire or for the crash. Wayne Williams, president of the National Transportation Safety Association based in Dania, Fla., said elimination of gasoline heaters on aircraft was one of several safety steps recommended by the Airline Pilot's Association more than 30

Williams said such heaters are still used on many DC-3s, and said that type of heater started the fire on an airplane carrying the 45-year-old Nelson and his band to a New Year's Eve concert in Dallas.

The plane crashed at De Kalb, Texas, near the Texas-Oklahoma-Arkansas border, killing Nelson and six others. Only the pilot and co-pilot

"It's damned interesting, and more than a little sad, that the head of ALPA said in 1947 that this had to be fixed, and in 1986 that's still with us," Williams said of the use of gasoline heaters.

"On older aircraft, it's an obvious threat. And we don't know the depth of this - how many still use it.'

cause for the fire or the crash has been determined.

There were gasoline-fired heaters on the accident craft. But it is far too early" to say they started the fire, said NTSB spokesman Brad Dunbar in Washington, D.C.

Memorial services for Neison will be at 3 p.m. Monday at Church of the Hills at Forest Lawn Memorial Park in the Hollywood Hills, Nelson's publicist Oscar Arshlanian said Friday.

A fire aboard the plane spread so quickly that smoke filled the craft's cockpit three minutes after the pilot

But a spokesman for the National radioed he had a small problem Transportation Safety Board said no about 5 p.m. Tuesday, officials said.

A heavy blaze broke out in the cab-in of the DC-3 but four of the five fire extinguishers aboard the craft were unused, Jim Burnett, National Transportation Safety Board chairman, said at a press conference in Texarkana, Texas, Thursday.

The seven victims died from smoke inhalation and burns and not necessarily from the crash impact, the Dallas County Medical Examiner's office said after the bodies were taken to Dallas on Thursday.

Chagra wants real estate to be used as collateral

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Lawyers for Elizabeth Chagra, facing retrial on charges she conspired to kill a judge, have asked a federal magistrate to approve the posting of real estate as collateral for her $250,000

But U.S. Magistrate Robert B. O'-Connor says he is not inclined to accept the offer of real estate, which includes Mrs. Chagra's parents' El Paso home.

"Unless they bring me case law showing you can waive the homestead exemption under Texas law, I nor said Thursday. "Why should we accept what a title company

HOUSTON (AP) - Texas Attorney General Jim Mattox is asking a federal court to recommend that windows be omitted from maximum security cells at a new state prison for security reasons and to prevent construction delays.

But an attorney for plaintiff inmates in a prison reform lawsuit says omitting the windows would violate a two-year-old court settlement regarding prison conditions.

In a motion filed in federal court in Houston, Mattox also said installation of windows in the new 2,250-bed unit to be built near Palestine would delay construction.

Texas Department of Corrections officials want to omit windows from 500 administrative segregation cells which would house the most violent inmates - and install narrow windows in other cells.

TDC Director Lane McCotter said in an affidavit that other states using windows in segregation prison cells had problems with maintenance and Mattox pointed out in his motion that existing TDC prison units have no windows in the cells.

William Bennett Turner, a San Francisco attorney representing plaintiff inmates in a 13-year-old prison reform suit, said he will contest Mattox's suggestion.

Turner said omitting the windows from segregation cells would violate a court agreement reached in 1983 as part of a settlement to the suit. According to that agreement, fixtures in maximum security cells must be the same as those in cells for other

The new prison must be completed by September 1987, according to the settlement.

Residents seek moratorium on wastewater into lake

AUSTIN (AP) - A group of residents in Tarrant and nearby counties asked the Texas Water Commission Friday to ban new wastewater discharges into Eagle Mountain Lake until a comprehensive study is make.

'A moratorium is needed because cleanup of existing discharges may not be enough," said a letter sent the commission by officials of Save Eagle Mountain Lake Inc.

'While the degradation of our lake is in part a result of those existing discharges which are out of compliance, proposed discharges threaten to double the quantity of pollutants going into the lake."

The statement from the nonprofit corporation said a moratorium also has been endorsed by the the city of Fort Worth, Tarrant County commissioners, House Speaker Gib Lewis, state Sens. Hugh Parker and Bob Glasgow, and Rep. Mike Millsap.

The group said it had signatures of more than 700 residents to support a moratorium.

Dove season late in '86

AUSTIN (AP) - Texas hunters can take advantage this year of late seasons for mourning dove in the south and central zones.

In the central zone, the late season is Jan. 413 and in the south zone it is Jan. 4-19.

There is no late season in the north zone.

Bag limits in the central and south zones are 12 birds, with two of them allowed to be white wings. The north and central zones are separated by Interstate 30. The central and south zones are separted by U.S. 90 in West Texas and Interstate 10 from San Antonio to Orange.

AUSTIN (AP) - Jerry R. Cummings, an administrator for the Dallas Independent School District, has been named assistant state commissioner for federal funding, the Texas Education Agency said Friday.

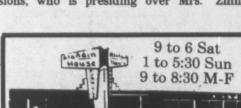

Commissioner of Education W.N. Kirby said Cummings would oversee the disbursement of more than $604 million in federal funds to Texas school districts.

Cummings formerly was research coordinator for the Louisiana State Board of Education.

State has many visitors

AUSTIN (AP) - A record 3,209,640 travelers visited the state's 12 tourist bureaus during 1985, Tom Taylor, director of the highway department's Travel and Information Division, Taylor said the visitors came from every state, every Canadian province and from scores of foreign counties. He said his department also dis-tributed nearly 3.3 million pieces of free Texas travel literature last year.

Ex-congressman indicted for bribery

NEW ORLEANS (AP) - Former Congressman Richard Tonry was indicted Friday on charges of bribing the chairman of the Chitamacha Indians to get a contract to run bingo games on their reservation.

The federal indictment charged

Tonry, who resigned from Congress in a voting scandal in 1977, with conspiracy and interstate travel in aid of racketeering.

Tonry was accused of paying $25,000 cash in August 1984 to the tribe chairman to get exclusive rights to run bingo games on the reservation at Charenton, in central

In addition, he was to pay the chairman $5,000 a month after the games began, the indictment said. The chairman was not named, but the indictment said the tribe was not told of the payment and did not receive money Neither Tonry nor the chairman could be reached for comment.

The person who answered the telephone at Tonry's office said he was out and could not be contacted.

At Chitamacha tribal headquarters a message was taken for a spokesman to return a call.

U.S. Attorney John Volz said he did not know how much money a bingo franchise would be worth.

"They obviously thought there was enough money involved to bribe someone to get the exclusive rights,'

Bingo is legal in Louisiana if operated for charity. But in recent month games have drawn criticism because of the large amounts of money taken by firms which run the operations for charities.

The indictment said Tonry made two trips to establish the operation one to San Francisco to get financing, the other to Washington to get contract approval from the Bureau of Indian Affairs.

The indictment referred to a conspiracy but named only Tonry. It said others were known to the grand

If convicted, Tonry could get a maximum penalty of 15 years in prison and $30,000 fine

Tonry resigned from the U.S. House after four months in office. He served six months in a prison for white collar criminals in 1977.

His conviction stemmed from the 1976 campaign in the 1st Congressional District. He won, but officials said some voters who allegedly cast ballots for him had been dead for years or had their names forged.

Tonry was never connected to the vote fraud, but was charged with obstruction of justice, receiving more than $54,000 in illegal camaign contributions, promising jobs for political purposes and conspiracy. In a plea bargain, Tonry admitted breaking the federal campaign law forbidding a candidate to promise jobs to campaign contributors or to accept contributions exceeding $1,000 per individual.

Man kills self after accidentally killing daughter

PACIFICA, Calif. (AP) — A man trying to prove that guns are safe accidentally killed his 15-year-old stepdaughter, then used the same pistol to take his own life after his wife refused to kill him, police said

"He was trying to show it was harmless," said police Lt. Ed Burton. "It's tragic. The most dangerous guns are those that are supposedly

The New Year's Day tragedy began as labor negotiator Gordon Shadwick, 46, was "playing with" his 9mm semi-automatic Smith & Wesson pistol in the living room of the family home in Pacifica, Burton said.

Virginia Ann Shadwick told offi cers that when she and her daugh-

"I can understand why Gordon (Shadwick) killed himself. He genuinely loved his stepdaughter and probably felt he could never face (Virginia) Ann (his wife) again." friend Lawrence lanni ter, Laila Uthman, entered the room, Shadwick renewed a discussion with his wife about the safety of firearms, Burton said. He said Shadwick was dry-firing the gun without incident to show "that a gun that's not loaded is not a danger.

But a final pull fired one round, and the slug struck the 15-year-old honor student in the head, killing her instantly

A distraught Shadwick then blocked (his wife), asking her to take the gun and kill him, then knelt down in front of her in the kitchen doorway and shot himself," Burton said. Mrs. Shadwick ran screaming from the house and found help at a neighbor's home.

'We're not positive how it happened," Burton said. "The gun won't fire at all without a clip in it, but it will dry-fire with a full clip unless you work the slide and manually put one (bullet) in the chamber. We're still investigating.

Shadwick was a representative of the California Faculty Association, a university labor union. His wife is the union president and a librarian at San Francisco State University.

They had no other children. "I can understand why Gordon killed himself," said San Francisco State Provost Lawrence Ianni, a friend of the couple's. "He genuinely loved his stepdaughter and probably felt he could never face (Virginia) Ann again.'

Waiter pleads innocent in woman's strangulation

WASHINGTON (AP) - A waiter was charged with first degree murder Friday in the strangulation of an 18-year-old woman whose body was found in a stairwell after the city's New Year's Eve gala at the Old Post Office Pavilion.

Alex Tyrone Simmons, 20, pleaded innocent to the charge at his arraignment in District of Columbia Superior Court. He was ordered held with-

Simmons, of Wheaton, Md., was arrested at 10 p.m. Thursday after questioning by homicide detectives at police headquarters, said police.

Simmons and Miss Vaughn apparently knew each other and signs of drinking and drug use were evident in the stairwell where the woman was found, said police Capt. Larry Soulsby, commanding officer of the homicide division.

The city medical examiner said Miss Vaughn had been strangled.

Woman tried to sell son

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP) - A woman has been arrested on charges of trying to sell her 4-year-old son for $5,000 to earn grocery money, police

Brenda Lee Getter, 25, was booked Thursday after trying to sell the child to an undercover officer, who had received an anonymous tip about the woman's efforts, said police spokesman Jeff Wesley.

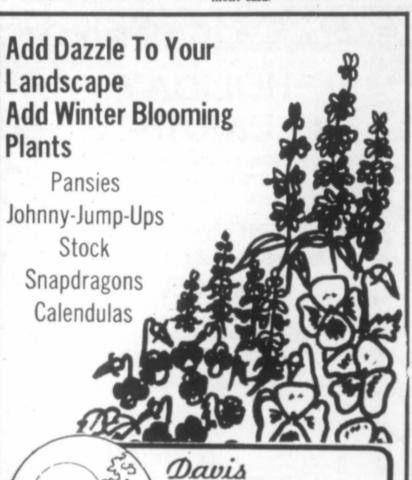

Ms. Getter, who is unemployed, told officers that she needed the money for groceries, Wesley said.

Cases of rabies increase

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) - The Pennsylvania Department of Health recorded 450 confirmed cases of rabies in animals last year, the most since 1946, the department reported Friday.

Dr. Ernest Witte, the state's director of epidemiology, said another large number of cases may occur in 1986, if infected wildlife move north from Maryland.

Through Dec. 14, Maryland had recorded 643 cases, the most in the nation, the department said. Pennsylvania was ranked fourth, behind Texas, which had 573 cases, and California, which had 543, the department said.

Protesters demand seizure of Union Carbide

NEW DELHI; India (AP) - More than 1,000 protesters shouted slogans Friday near Parliament, demanding seizure of the Union Carbide Corp.'s property in India and additional help for victims of the 1984 Bhopal gas disaster.

"Killer Carbide quit India!" yelled the demonstrators, who included more than 50 Bhopal survivors. 'Stop using us as guinea pigs!''
'Break the bloody claws of Carbide!''

More than 2,000 people died and an estimated 300,000 were affected when methyl isocyanate gas leaked from a Union Carbide pesticide plant in Bhopal on Dec. 3, 1984, in the world's deadliest industrial accident. The protesters, surrounded by riot police, assembled at historic Red Fort in Old Delhi Friday morning and walked through crowded market places before gathering near Parliament. At their head were a black-robed man depicting a skull and bones and another swinging a bag full of dollars, representing profits of the U.S.-based multinational corporation.

We don't want destruction in the name of development. We don't want our country to be a laboratory," D.K. Murthy, a social worker from Bhopal, told the crowd. The protesters sat on lawns near Parliament and watched a street play on the disaster, highlighting government apathy" and "criminal neglect by Carbide. Demonstration leaders arranged a meeting with Industry Minister Nar-ain Dutt Tiwari to present a list of demands with more than 100,000 signatures collected nationwide.

The demands included seizure of all 13 Union Carbide factories in India; compensation from the U.S.-

tims equivalent to its worldwide assets; a hospital in place of the Bhopal plant, and alternative employment for Bhopal factory workers.

India has been distributing free medicine to survivors, and officials say more than $37 million has been spent on relief efforts.

But social workers say the help is inadequate because thousands of survivors are still incapacitated and cannot work.

Doctor says threats cause her to quit

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) - A white doctor who won a court order restraining security police from assaulting political prisoners, quit her government job Friday, saving she had received many death

Security police announced Friday they had detained without charge another 117 anti-apartheid activists; three whites, and the rest black or mixed race. Police say that brings to 6,733 the number arrested without charge under a five-month-old state of emergency, and 394 are still in Police banned a memorial service planned today in Port Elizabeth for prominent white anti-apartheid activist Molly Blackburn, saying they feared violence. The order came a day after 20,000 blacks and hundreds of whites peacefully turned out at Mrs. Blackburn's funeral to hail her as a "warrior for justice." She died in a traffic crash Dec. 28.

Earlier, police reported four blacks killed in overnight violence around the country, and said a black wounded during an unspecified disturbance in Durban three days ago died Friday.

Most of the latest victims, according to police, were killed in attacks by other blacks, including a man slain in KwaNdebele

County forecasts

Midland, Ector, Crane, Upton, Reagan, Glass-cock, Martin, Howard, Borden and Dawson: Today, partly cloudy and cooler with highs lower 50s. Mostly north wind 10 to 20 mph and gusty. Lake wind advisories may be required. Tonight, clear and colder with lows mid 20s. Sunday, sunny and colder with highs mid 40s.

Basin can expect cooler temperatures

From Staff and Wire Reports

Colder temperatures are forecast today in the Permian Basin as the National Weather Service at Midland Regional Air Terminal predicts a high in the low 50s.

Forecasters say today will be part-ly cloudy with winds from the north at 10 to 20 mph and gusty. Tonight will be clear and much colder with the low in the mid 20s. Sunday will be sunny and cold with the high in the mid 40s.

Friday's high of 62 was eight degrees below the record set in 1977. The overnight low of 35 was 27 degrees above the record set in 1959.

STATE

High clouds spread across most of Texas Friday afternoon as tempera-tures remained in the 50s and 60s and the forecast called for similar weather over the weekend.

Some low clouds persisted in the deep south Friday evening as high pressure continued to weaken over north and south texas where winds were light and variable.

Meanwhile, the National Weather Service said an area of low pressure developing across the southern rockies produced strong southerly winds of 15 to 25 mph across the West Texas plains. A few 70-degree temperatures were recorded in the lower Rio Grande Valley. Statewide, extremes at 3 p.m. were 51 degrees at Dalhart and 73 at McAllen.

The forecast called for partly to mostly cloudy skies today with a chance of rain over southeastern sections of North Texas.

NATION

A snowstorm blustered into northern New England on Friday, dumping up to half a foot of snow on parts of New Hampshire and Vermont, while wind gusts up to 75 mph buffeted parts of Wyoming.

Rain fell in western Washington, over the upper Ohio Valley and from southern New England across the Virginia Coast.

The snowstorm moved into New England from the Great Lakes, where it left 6 inches in its wake. Half a foot of snow had fallen by midday in Vermont, but snow turned to freezing rain and sleet in

The storm system, accompanied by gusty winds, brought mixed rain and snow to parts of Massachusetts and New York. As much as an inch of snow fell in an hour near St. Johnsbury and Lebanon, N.H.

Super Bowl hopefuls face destiny today

Marino in way of Kosar

MIAMI (AP) — For two years, football experts compared Bernie Kosar and Dan Marino, two talented, young quarterbacks playing in the same town.

The comparisons began again this week as Kosar prepared to return to Miami with the Cleve-land Browns. The AFC Central champion Browns, 8-8, play the AFC Eastern champion Dolphins, 12-4, in a National Football League playoff game at 11:30 a.m. CST today in the Orange Bowl.

In 1983, Kosar led the University of Miami to the national championship as a freshman and Marino took the Miami Dolphins to the playoffs as a rookie.

They appeared together later that year on the cover of Sports Illustrated, with a story that suggested Marino might have been the second best quarterback in Miami. Such talk is sacrilege now.

Marino rewrote the NFL passing records in 1984, and rebounded from a slow start this season to complete 336 of 567 passes for 4,137 yards and 30 touchdowns.

Meanwhile, Kosar struggled through an up-and-down rookie season with the Browns. Playing about half of the year while alternating with oft-injured starter Gary Danielson, Kosar hit 124 of 248 passes for 1,578 yards and eight touchdowns.

Just as Marino had done in 1983, however, Kosar took over the team late in his rookie season and led it to the division championship. His performances - only three 200-plus yard games and a high of 18 completions — haven't been spectacular, but Kosar got the team into the playoffs.

"We didn't win the division despite Bernie," said Browns Coach Marty Schottenheimer. "We won it with him. He was an important

The Dolphins are just as worried about Kosar as they are about Cleveland's two standout running backs, Kevin Mack and Earnest Byner. Mack ran for 1,104 yards this year, and Byner got 1,002 to give the Browns only the third pair of 1,000-yard runners on the same team in NFL history. They have been consistent, how-ever, while Kosar remains unpredictable.

"We know he's going to be a great quarterback," said Dolphins defenisive end Doug Betters. "He's like a giant looming in the distance. You know he's ready to get hot. We just can't afford to let him get hot against us."

Kosar played one of the best games in one of his biggest at the 1964 Orange Bowl, leading the Hurricanes to a national championship-clinching 31-30 victory over Nebraska two years ago. He isn't predicting a repeat performance.

"The Miami defense is very consistent," he said. "They don't give up the big play, and that's what makes them so good.

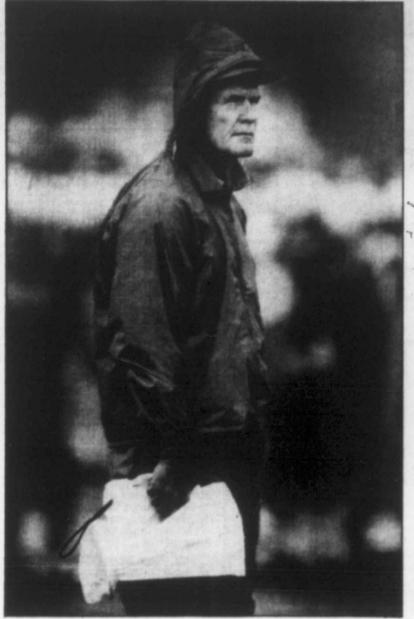

Kosar said he isn't nervous heading into his first NFL playoff start. "I think anxious is a better word for it," he said.

Marino and Kosar never had time to strike up a friendship while they were living in the same city. They talked only when they ended up at the same banquet or photo session

But Marino reminisced on his own rookie season this week and offered the passing acquaintence some friendly advice.

"He should just go out there and do his best and enjoy himself," Marino said. "I'm sure it's going to be a lot of fun for him. I just hope it's not going to be too much fun.'

Dallas head football coach Tom Landry already has his game face on as his Cowboys prepare for today's battle with the Los Angeles Rams.

It's Dallas vs. Rams again

ANAHEIM, Calif. (AP) - The Dallas Cowboys and Los Angeles Rams play it again today when they renew the National Football League's most oft-repeated postseason rivalry.

The meeting at Anaheim Stadium will be the ninth playoff contest between the Cowboys and Rams dating back to the 1970 Playoff Bowl, the NFL's now-defunct championship consolation

The postseason series is tied 4-4 heading into this year's playoff opener for both teams, and they appear well matched this time. The Cowboys, champions of the National Conference East, have a 10-6 record, and the Rams, champions of the NFC West, are 11-5. Both teams had similar 1985 campaigns, characterized by fine performances some weeks and dismal outings others. Each club features an outstanding running back - the Cowboys'

Tony Dorsett and the Rams' Eric Dickerson - and a solid defense. Dorsett gained 1,307 yards on 305 carries this season and caught 46 passes for 449 yards. Dickerson, who set the league single-season rushing mark in 1984 with 2,105 yards, gained 1,234 yards on 292 carries this season. He was a contract holdout the first two games, then was slowed by several minor ailments during the season.

Dickerson said the Rams need to play error-free football to beat the Cowboys.

The key is no turnovers and not making mistakes," he said. "Mistakes have been hurting us quite a bit - a lot of little things, missed assignments and so on.

"If the game is close in the fourth quarter, we feel we'll

of Dorsett's role: "He needs a good game, something in the 70to 80-yard range. If he gets over 100 yards, it would really be a good day for us."

Rams Coach John Robinson said: "We must stop their big play, the screen to Dorsett or the long pass to Tony Hill.'

The Cowboys would seem to have the edge at quarterback, where they have playoff-seasoned

The Rams, who figure to stick with their conservative, run-oriented offense, have an NFL rookie in Dieter Brock, a 34-year-old veteran of the Canadian Football

White, who missed the final regular-season game because of a bruised left shoulder, is expected to be 100 percent healthy for the game. He completed 267 of 450 throws for 3,157 yards this season, with 21 touchdowns and 17 interceptions. Brock connected on 218 of 365 passes for 2,658 yards, with 16 touchdowns and 13 interceptions.

Brock, who seems anxious to throw the ball more, said of the game: "We've got to go in there with the idea of winning and not sitting back and hoping the other team loses.

"Dallas has been together a while; they come up with the big plays. We just have to be ready to take advantage of some of the things they do on defense. If the game is close, the Rams' special teams could make the difference. The Rams have the NFL's top kickoff returner, Ron Brown, and the leading punt re-turner, Henry Ellard.

Los Angeles also has an outstanding punter in Dale Hatcher, who averaged 43 yards per kick this season and was deadly in pinning the opposition deep in its

Texas fires four assistant coaches

Only way Akers could keep head job

AUSTIN (AP) - Texas football coach Fred Akers later as an assistant. announced Friday he had fired four assistant coaches, and according to one of them, Akers said was the only way he could keep his job.

Ronnie Thompson, running back coach, said he asked Akers if he was "doing this because it was the only way he could stay. He told me yes, that he didn't have any choice.

Akers announced in a written statement that Thompson, offensive coordinator Ron Toman, tight end coach Ralph Harris and linebacker coach Scott Conley will not be retained after their contracts expire in the spring.

One of the vacancies was filled immediately with the hiring of Dwain Painter, assistant head coach and offensive coordinator at Georgia Tech. Thompson told the Port Arthur News that Akers lso said he had "retired" offensive line coach leon Manley, who followed Akers to Wyoming in 1975 then returned with him to Texas two years

Chaps beat Ricks advance to finals

MESA, Arizona-Midland College advanced to the finals of the Mesa Rotary Shootout, Friday night, beating Ricks Junior College of Idaho, 84-79 in overtime in the semifinals.

The Chaparrals, now 15-0 and ranked No. 4 in the nation, will face the winner of the Mesa JC-Shelby State (Miss.) game in the finals.

MC's Ricky Grace fired up a potential game-winning 15-footer at the end of regulation play but it hit the rim and the backboard before spinning out to send the game to overtime. In the extra period, Grace and Mookie Blaylock each scored four points and Lincoln Minor added three while MC held Ricks to just six points in the five-minute overtime period In late Thursday night action, Ricks advanced to the semifinals with a buzzer-beating shot off a stolen in-bounds pass for a 93-92 win over Hutchinson, Kansas. In other games, Mesa beat defending national champions, Dixie College of Utah, in a double overtime thriller. Shelby beat New Mexico Military Institute to advance to its semifinal game.

ON FRIDAY, the Chaps opened quickly taking a 15-point lead midway through the first half. Ricks cut it to 10 at the half, with MC leading

In the second half, foul trouble turnovers and cold shooting plagued the Chaps, allowing Ricks to pull even at the end of regulation.

Chaps' Mookie Blaylock took scorseason-high for the freshman. Grace scored all of his 20 points from the field and Minor added 10 for Midland College.

The Chaparrals did a good job of holding hot-shooting Jeff Schafidd, who hit for 41 against Hutchinson, to two points in the first half. But Shafidd hit for 18 in the second half to finished with 20. Three other Ricks' players hit double figures - Joe Reddick 17, Robert Lerfiene 19 and Gordon Dean 14.

MC WILL remain on the road for a tournament next weekend at Howard College Friday and Saturday. The Chaps will return home for a Western Junior College Athletic Conference contest on Jan. 16 against Frank Phillips College. MC is all alone atop the WJCAC standings

Familiar faces slow out of blocks

By ERIC SCHURER Sports Writer

The gun has sounded and the playoff hopefuls are flying from the starting blocks, elbowing themselves into contention in the District 4-5A boys basketball race.

But after opening night, a pair of familiar playoff faces were left behind, still waiting for their first district wins. Both of last year's playoff reps, Midland Lee and Abilene High, wound up on the losing end in Thursday's openers.

The Rebels were 81-86 losers at home to San Angelo Central. The Eagles were the victims of an improved Odessa Permian team, 80-64, and some late additions from the Pan-ther football team. Midland High's Bulldogs were among those posting pening night victories, taking a 90-8 win on the road over Big Spring. Lee returns to action tonight looking for its first district win with a road game at Abilene Cooper, a 57-49 winner over Odessa High. Defending champion Abilene High, meanwhile, invades MHS for an 8 p.m. start at Chaparral Center, looking to even its

Coach Jack Stephenson of the fulldogs has his team on track with our straight wins after a having to orfeit the Tall City Tournament and dropping two of three in the San Antonio Optimist's tourney.

"OUR TEAM is playing very well right now. We're where I wanted us to be when district play began," Stephenson said after tripping the Steers. "Everybody on the team doesn't always have a great night, but the team always has someone to come through.

MHS boasts some balanced scoring as three players average well into double figures. Matt Sears leads the pack with a 20.9 average, even after falling off to just 12 points in the district opener. Post Eivin Mackey contributes 18.3 points per game as well as leading the team in rebounding. Senior Anthony Deande, after a season high 26 against Big Spring season-high 25 against Big Spring, chips in at a 13.5 clip

Even though the Eagles are 6-11, 0-1, this season, Stephenson knows the Buildogs, 11-6, 1-0 officially, cannot take AHS lightly.

"Abilene High is a different type team than they were last year. They are bigger, but aren't as quick up and down the court. They just try to matchup with you on defense," Stephenson said. The Rebels face a tough task in traveling to Cooper to challenge the 13-5, 1-0, Cougars. Lee would surely like to avoid falling two games off the pace this early in the district race, but a loss tonight would stick Coach Paul Stueckler and the Rebeis in that hole.

Lee dropped its opener to San Angelo despite strong scoring from its top three shooters, Lee Dixon (23) points), Anthony Dickens (16) and Eddie Riley (15). Stueckler was at a loss to explain his team's lackluster performance after impressive outings at tournaments in San Antonio and

The Rebs fell to 12-6, 0-1, and had a modest three-game win streak

MEANWHILE, A pattern has already developed in the girls District 45A race, as the Lee girls and AHS girls are off and running with 3-0 records. MHS is one game back at 2-1, then four teams are knotted at 1-2, and Abilene Cooper remains winle

This afternoon the Lee girls will host winless Abilene Cooper in a 3:30 p.m. start at Lee Gym. The Cougars are not only 0-3 in district play, but have gone 14 games without a win

The Rebs, on the other hand, are no strangers to fast starts, last season Lee opened district play with seven straight wins before faltering in the second half to finish tied with MHS for second place. Coach Shirley Ste-phenson would like to avoid such a second half decline this season.

But right now she will settle for a peat of last year's start. Thursday's 60-41 trouncing of San Angelo broke a two-game losing skid the Rebs be-gan over the holidays in the Slaton

Senior Regina Callicutt busted loose for 21 points, a season-high for a Rebel player this season. In fact, the Rebels don't even have a player averaging in double figures. Becky White leads Lee with a 7.3 per game

MIDLAND HIGH'S Jane Young put her Bulldogs back on the straight and narrow with a 50-46 decision over Big Spring Thursday. After trailing by five at the half, MHS exploded in the third quarter to outscore the Steers 17-10 and take the lead for good.

McEnroe, Wilander set exhibition at Chap, Feb. 6

By TED BATTLES Sports Editor

"The last time they met a few weeks ago, it went five sets. It should be a high quality match and with Mats, and the type game he plays, it won't be short," predicted Mark McEnroe, John's younger brother.

Mark, in Midland for the media announcement of the Feb. 6 exhibition between McEnroe and Mats Wilander at the Langford Chaparral Center, also pointed out that "I don't think an exhibition tour has ever matched the No. 2 and No. 3 players before. So it should be a real treat."

Of course, McEnroe's No. 2 ranking, after being No. 1 for so many years, is something John hopes to do something about.

"No, I don't think he got bored with being No. 1," says Mark, "It's just a case of his getting a little older (a ripe 26). He recognizes that he needs to work harder. In the past, his practice habits were to work out a couple of hours a few times a week when he wasn't playing.

McEnroe has become a more disciplined and dedicated practice player, now that Ivan Lendl has become No. 1 and the 21-year-old Wilander is breathing down his neck

McEnroe actually takes two or three weeks out of the year to tour for Tennis Challenge and this marks his second appearance in Midland in two years.

On his brother's on court antics, Mark notes that it has it's good and bad sides. "It's unfortunate in some respects, in that it detracts from his tennis. On the other hand, he fears if he tones down, it might bank the competitive fires that have made him No. 1." "But he's trying and I think has made forward strides in learning to control himself." McEnroe comes off suspension this week and returns to formal competition at Atlanta next week, the Masters and then the U.S. Pro tournament before embarking on the Tennis Challenge tour in Binghamton, N.Y., flying to Birmingham, Midland, Salt Lake City and then the west coast.

announced the exhibition at a press conference Friday morning. In association with the cosponsors are the Midland Reporter-Telegram, KNFM FM/KMND AM and KMID TV. This will be the 96th McEnroe Tennis Challenge exhibition staged over a five-year period.

McEnroe has won three Wimbledon, four U.S. Opens, four Davis Cup and more than 80 other major tournaments. McEnroe has won more singles titles and more total victories in Davis Cup play than any other American in history.

Wilander is still young, but has played in the top bracket so long that he is a seasoned veteran when it comes to experience. He has won two French Opens, the first at the age 17; two Australian Opens and over 30 major tournaments. He recently reached the finals of the 1985 Australian Open.

The matches will begin at 7 p.m. with a future stars match featuring two projected stars of tomorrow. Later, McEnroe's tennis racquet and Wilander's racquet, plus a pair of top of the line Advent loud-speakers will be auctioned with the proceeds going to meals on wheels (Midland and Odessa).

Tickets for the Texas American Bank/White's Lincoln Challenge go on sale at the Chaparral Center box office and Engles Horizon Records. Courtside boxes $200 (four seats per box), reserved $20 and $17.50 with $2.50 discount coupons for all reserved seats available at the Midland Reporter-Telegram, Texas American and White's Lincoln Mercury.

Bears ready to pounce like animals

CHICAGO (AP) - Chicago Bears defensive end Dan Hampton says his teammates are a bunch of animals as they prepare for Sunday's National Football League playoff game against the New York Giants.

'I think the team is like an animal before it pounces," Hampton said.
"It gathers itself up. We're getting geared up for Sunday, when we'll let it all hang out.'

The Bears have been chafing at the bit for two weeks, since their 15-1 record earned them a bye in the first round of the playoffs.

The Giants, 10-6 during the regular season, had an emotional 17-3 victory over the San Francisco 49ers in last weekend's National Football Conference wild-card game.

The winner of Sunday's game at Soldier Field will play either Dallas or the Los Angeles Rams for the NFC championship Jan. 12.

HAMPTON SAID the Bears, with the top-rated defense in the NFL, will play "basic, no nonsense, rockem, sock-em football.

"They're going to try and establish the rush right off," said Hampton, noting that the Bears have been No. 1 against the rush the past two seasons with their complicated "46"

"New York has not seen it (the defense) and I think they haven't had enough time to prepare for it,' Hampton said. The teams last met in

But the Giants, with the No. 2 defense in the NFL, say they won't be intimidated.

We're not going to let anybody walk on the field with a reputation and take it away from us," Giants' linebacker Carl Banks said.

The Giants and the Bears both were knocked out of the playoffs by San Francisco last season, and both are determined to prove they have. improved.

'You can't tell me we don't have a better team this time," New York defensive backfield coach Len Fontes said.

"I haven't accomplished what I want to accomplish," said Chicago running back Walter Payton, the NFL's career rushing leader, who never has played in a Super Bowl.

Payton, 31, rushed for 1,551 yards this season, raising his career total of Hampton said of Morris. "He uses his

The Giants' powerful defense, which features Pro Bowl selections Leonard Marshall, Lawrence Taylor and Harry Carson, is complemented on offense by running back Joe Morris and quarterback Phil Simms, both of whom also made the Pro Bowl team.

Morris, only 5-foot-7 but 195 pounds, ran for 1,336 yards and 21 touchdowns, while Simms threw for 3,829 yards and 22 touchdowns during the 1985 season.

Pats look to polish image

LOS ANGELES (AP) — For years, is debated, set up the Raiders' last-the New England Patriots were conminute winning touchdown in a 24 through last season, Ron Meyer, who replaced Ehrhardt and then was residered one of the National Football League's most talented teams and their roster for their second-round playoff game against the Los Angeles Raiders Sunday will contain 15 players taken in the first two rounds of the NFL draft.

So why was their 26-14 victory over the New York Jets last week their first playoff triumph since PERHAPS BECAUSE the "most talented" label was both a burden and an overstatement.

"Over the years, we've been over-rated sometimes," said linebacker Steve Nelson, who is in his 12th year with the Patriots.

"I think people always said we had the most talent in the NFL. I never believed that. I thought we had really good teams, but in order for us to win, we had to play our best

Still, New England always seems to have been a star-crossed franchise, in part because of bad luck; in part because of coaching instability; in part because of a reputation for penury in contract negotiations.

In 1976, for example, the Patriots tied for first in the American Conference East with an 11-3 record but lost their opening-round playoff game to the Raiders when Raymond Hamilton was called for roughing Ken Stabler on an incomplete pass on third and 18. The call, which still five payrolls in the NFL. Midway another Vince Lombardi

In 1978, word leaked out just before the 11-4 Patriots' final game at Miami that Chuck Fairbanks had resigned as coach to take the coaching job at Colorado. Co-coached by Ron Ehrhardt and Hank Bullough for that game, the Patriots lost 23-3, lost to Houston in the playoffs, then went 9-7 and 2-14 under Ehrhardt the next two years.

MOREOVER, FOR all the shrewd drafting done by a personnel department headed by Dick Steinberg, there have been contract problems that led to trades of such stars as Russ Francis, Leon Gray and Mike Haynes, and left All-Pro guard John Hannah discontented.

'When I came here, everybody asked me 'What's going on there?' said Haynes, the All-Pro cornerback who was one of five No. 1 choices in the New England secondary but was traded to the Raiders in 1983 after a half-season holdout.

'But when you're in a situation where you're trading two All-Pro players like Russ Francis and Leon Gray, people of that caliber, you start to doubt how dedicated management is to winning.

The contract disputes slackened after the 1983 appointment as general manager of Pat Sullivan, youngest of owner Billy Sullivan's sons, and New England now has one of the top placed as coach by Raymond Berry, the Hall of Fame receiver in another typical New England dispute - Meyer had tried to fire defensive coordinator Rod Rust.

This season, the Pats started 2-3. losing to the Raiders 35-20 in a game in which three of Los Angeles' touchdowns came on turnovers. Then they dropped a 24-20 decision to Cleveland in a game in which they blew a first down-and-goal situation at the 5-yard line late in the game.

BUT SINCE then, they've been 10-2, losing only on the road to the New York Jets in overtime and 30-27 at Miami, where they haven't won since 1965.

New England's comeback has been led by quarterbacks Steve Grogan and Tony Eason. The veteran Grogan replaced Eason when Eason was hurt midway through the Buffalo game the week after Cleveland. Grogan broke his leg against the Jets six games later, and Eason, who got his job back, has shown vast improvement since being on the bench watching Grogan.

But Billy Sullivan said the major reason for the improvement has been Berry, whose low-key style has won the admiration of his players.

This team has become a team, Sullivan said. "It was Raymond who openly said this team will not become the 'me generation.' It's the 'we generation.' I think he can be

Knicks fire DeBusschere

NEW YORK (AP) - Dave DeBusschere, a key member of two New York championship teams during the 1970s who saw the Knicks sink into the doldrums in the 1980s, was fired Friday as general manager of the team and replaced by Scotty Stirling.

Jack Krumpe, president of Madison Square Garden Corp., said he made the decision to replace DeBusschere three weeks ago and that his No. 1 choice for the job was Stirling, who quit his job as vice president in charge of operations for the National Basketball

"I decided that we needed fresh leadership at the operating level," Krumpe said. "The decision was made with a look to the future. Dave did yeoman work in his three years as general manager and I'm not looking to blame him. But a change was needed to bring freshness to the organization. The Knicks, who took the eventual-champion Boston Celtics to seven games in the Eastern Conference playoffs in 1984, fell to 24-58 and missed the playoffs last season, and are 11-22 in 1985-86. A record number of games missed because of injuries and illness, primarily to scoring champion Bernard King and center Bill Cartwright, have contributed to the downfall. DeBusschere has been criticized for not making any trades this season, for signing Cartwright to a six-year, $5 million contract after he missed all of last season and just before he was reinjured in training camp this season, for his handling of negotiations leading to the signing of Patrick Ewing and for inaccessibility to the was no specific event that brought about the decision," Krumpe said. "It was a combination of things. Injuries notwithstanding, this season has been a Krumpe said DeBusschere was "stunned" when he was informed of the firing Friday. DeBusschere was not available for comment.

"He is a very classy guy and that made it more diffi-cult to take this step," Krumpe said.

Krumpe said that Stirling, a former executive for the Golden State Warriors of the NBA, the Oakland Oaks of the American Basketball Association and the Oakland Rajders of the National Football League, would have 'full operating responsibility and will report directly to Stirling said his first step as general manager would be to evaluate all aspects of the Knicks' operation, including players and coaches.

But he ruled out a trade of the team's No. 1 draft choice in 1986 and said Coach Hubie Brown would at least finish the season. "I've known Hubie a long time and I've always admired him as a coach, but I will evaluate the coaching along with everything else," Stirling said. "The things I look for in a coach - how hard the team plays and how he stresses defense - Hubie has to a great degree. Stirling said he was uninterested in the three previous offers of general manager's jobs that he received in his three years with the NBA, including opportunities at Seattle and Indiana.

Switzer: A breed apart

NORMAN, Okla. (AP) - From his glitzy won-loss record to his pull-no-punches style of football, Barry Switzer is a breed apart.

No other college football coach has a better record by percentage than the 126-24-4 mark Switzer compiled in 13 seasons at Oklahoma. No other college football coach can boast three national titles. Switzer got his third New Year's night with a 25-10 victory over previously unbeaten Penn State in the Orange Bowl.

And no other college football coach has Switzer's style and reputation.

He's preceived as the free-wheeling cowboy - black hat, guns drawn - who lives life in the fast lane, barreling past everything that gets in his way.

LOOSEY-GOOSEY, that's Switzer. That's his team,

"That's a label we're always going to have," he said. "You get stuck with something and it never changes. That's just our personality, that's just the way our kids are. I don't see anything wrong with it.'

What people do not see is Switzer away from the football field - the Switzer who spends more time in film rooms and upgrading the academic standards of his players. Age and maturity have changed the man, but the label sticks. "I'm getting too damned old to have such a good time," said the 48-year-old coach the morning after his Orange Bowl victory in Miami. "I used to have a better time than I do now. I didn't make 'All-Hospitality Room' this year, I'll promise you.'

Football is Switzer's passion. He says he is driven to succeed by the memory of a difficult, poor childhood in rural Arkansas, where his mother committed suicide and his father, an occasional bootlegger, was killed in a car wreck.

"I think at times in my life I've worried about what people thought of me, but not any more," he said. There are only a few people who are close to you, and it's what they think that matters." He came to Oklahoma in 1966 after a stint as an Arkansas assistant, and was named offensive coordinator in 1967. Three years later he was assistant head coach under Chuck Fairbanks and in 1973 he stepped into the Switzer, cocky and brash, directed the Sooners to 28 straight victories and 39 games without a loss. After three seasons he had two national championship teams, in 1974 and 1975. It wasn't all fun, though. Oklahoma had been placed on probation during his first season and a cloud settled over Switzer's teams from the start. It has never really gone away "That first year was very, very trying," said Lucious Selmon, who played three years under Switzer and now is an assistant at Oklahoma. "I actually saw Coach Switzer cry when things didn't go well that first year." Meanwhile, he went through three straight four-loss seasons from 1981-83 that resulted in his rollover fiveyear contract being sliced to four years. Switzer and the program appeared to be reeling.

BUT JUST two years later, Switzer is sizzling again. He points to better talent and a return to his beloved wishbone as reasons for the turnaround.

Sooners blast Austin Peay

NORMAN, Okla. (AP) - Daryl Kennedy scored 27 points and had seven rebounds to pace the seventhranked Oklahoma Sooners to a 100-68 victory over Austin Peay in the Sooner Invitational Basketball Tournament Friday.

The Sooners never trailed, grabbing an early lead and building a 51-31 margin at the half.

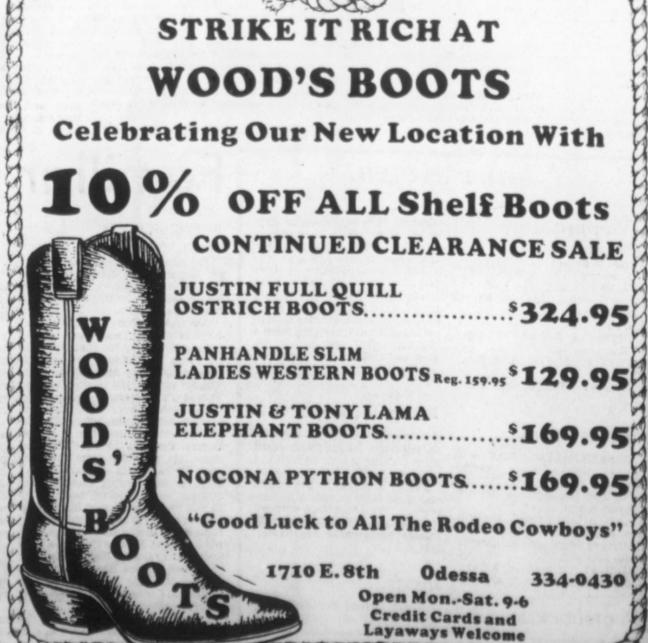

The victory for the 12-0 Sooners was their fourth time to reach the century mark this season and was the squad's 38th straight win at Darryl Bedford led the scoring for Austin Peay with 18 points.

Celtics' guards sink New Jersey

Associated Press

When the Boston Celtics' guards are shooting well, says Coach Dave Wohl of the New Jersey Nets, you can't win for losing.

"If you try to keep them from getting inside, they'll kill you with the outside shot," Wohl said Friday night after the Celtics rolled to their fourth consecutive victory in a 129-117 National Basketball Association decision over the Nets.

The statistics showed what Wohl meant. The Celtics' guards hit on 24 of 38 field goal attempts, even though veteran Danny Ainge missed his first start of the season because of a twisted ankle.

The Celtics had an early wakeup call in Indiana Friday morning after a blowout of the Pacers, but they played racehorse ball against the Nets. Then, suddenly near the end of the third period with a big lead, they showed signs of running out of gas, with Coach K.C. Jones calling a timeout to get weary Larry Bird off the floor for a rest.

"We had some dog-tired people and New Jersey knew it," Jones said. "They ran the ball at us. Deja-vu was very much on their minds. But the wind blew and the shots flew and we've got a day off." Jones and Wohl agreed that the Nets miss veteran Micheal Ray Richardson, suspended indefinitely to undergo treatment for drug abuse. "They hurt without Richardson," Jones said. "He's an all-star guard who hits the shots, drives to the basket, hits three-pointers, makes everyone

"We're obviously not as good a team without Sugar (Richardson), but the reality of the situation is that he's not here," said Wohl.

Bird scored 29 points, Dennis Johnson 24 and Kevin McHale 23 in leading Boston in the shootout. Veteran guard Jerry Sichting, given a rare start as a replacement for injured Danny Ainge. a season high 17 points in helping Boston improve its home record to 141.

Albert King and Mike Gminski led the Nets with 20 points, one more than Buck Williams. The Celtics had a pair of 40-point periods - the first and the third — and led by 18 points, 108-90, at the three-quarter mark. However, they went into a swoon and enabled

New Jersey to close to within 117-111 with 4:45 left, before Boston starters regained command. Bird and McHale scored 11 points apiece and Johnson 10 in the third period when the Celtics hit on 18 of 27 floor shots.

Bucks 107, Bullets 100 Terry Cummings, frustrated by a 4-for-25 shooting performance in his last Capital Centre appearance against Manute Bol, scored a season-high 31 points as Milwaukee defeated Washington.

Cummings, who was 14 for 23 from the floor this time, scored 18 of his points in the second half for the Bucks, who have won five in a row. The Central Division leaders, at 10-9, are one of five NBA teams with a winning road record.

Hawks 111, Pistons 101 Atlanta's Dominque Wilkins scored 32 points as the Hawks defeated Detroit to raise the season record to 16-15. Former Midland College star Spud Webb had nine points in the game.

Pooley fires 64

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (AP) - Don Pooley, who had the lowest scoring average on the PGA tour last year, surprised himself Friday with an 8-under-par 64 on the Pebble Beach course and took the lead after two rounds of the $200,000 Spalding Invitational tournament.

Tim Norris also carded a 64, two strokes over the course record at Pebble, and was in second place at the halfway point of the non-tour golf event. Pooley's 36-hole total was 132 and Norris was at Dan Forsman, U.S. Open champion Andy North and former Masters champ George Archer were among other players within range of the lead. "I was eight under par through 13 holes and not quite believing what was going on," Pooley said.

That's by far the best round I've ever had here.' He had nine birdies and one bogey on the course considered one of the best in the world. His longest putt was from 25 feet, and he missed one birdie opportunity from three feet.

Pooley, a 34-year-old from Arizona, averaged 70.36 strokes per round for the 1985 tour season to win the Vardon Trophy. He collected $162,000 in prize money but his best tournament finish was a Archer and Forsman, who had a share of the first-round Spalding lead, opened with 65s at Pebble Beach on Thursday.

"This is Pebble Beach! I don't know what's going on," Pooley said after his 64. "But the conditions are perfect. Playing the course without wind is a big help. It's playing about as easy as it's ever going to play - which isn't easy," he added. Forsman, with a 1-under 70 on the Carmel Valley Golf and Country Club course Friday, was third in the tournament with a 135 total. Archer, with a 71 on the same course, stood at 136 along with North and Dan Halldorson. North had a 1-under 71 on the Del Monte course Friday. He shared the first-round lead with Archer and Forsman

Jane Blalock and Patty Sheehan, two of the women pros competing with distance advantages off the tees, were at 137 along with England's How-

Mavs ink guard Harold Keeling

DALLAS (AP) - The Dallas Mavericks signed guard Harold Keeling to a 10-day contract Friday to fill the spot of Charlie Sitton, who was returned to the injured list.

The 6-foot-2 Keeling was the club's 1985 third-round draft choice. He was waived by the Mavericks on Oct. 18 after averaging 4.5 points in four preseason games.

Sitton began the season on the injured list after injuring his right thumb in the preseason. He was activated, then returned to the injured list without playing in any games.

Tour rookie Love has Bahamas fun

PARADISE ISLAND, Bahamas (AP) - Davis Love III, making his first start as a touring pro, one-putted the final two holes to salvage a 68 and a share of the second-round lead Friday in the $300,000 Bahamas

Love, 21, reached the tournament's halfway point with a 133 total, 11 shots under par for two trips over the Paradise Island Golf Club course.

"I wasn't quite as relaxed as I was the first day (when he had a 65)," Love said. "I was thinking about shooting another real low score, but I didn't putt very well."

He did hole a 30-footer for a birdie on the 13th and finished with a pair of 8-footers, for a birdie on the 17th and par on 18. That lifted him into a tie for the lead with Bob Tway, who missed only two greens and did not make a bogey in a round of 66, and first-round leader Bob Lohr, who birdied his final hole for a 69.

I BET YOU DIDN'T KNOW Brought To You By

Did you know an 8-year-old girl helped name the Super Bowl game? .When football leaders were deciding what to call their championship game, Sharron Hunt, 8-year-old daughter of Lamar Hunt, who owns the Kansas City Chiefs, had been playing with a black rubber ball called a "super ball"--and from that she got the idea to suggest to her Dad that pro football could name its title game the "Super Bowl"...Lamar Hunt made that recommendation, and so the famous Super Bowl game really owes its name to a little

Here's a fantastic football fact ... The Waco (Tex.) High School team of 1921 had such a great defense that they did not allow any team to get past their 35 yard line ALL SEASON!... Can you imagine a tougher defense than that?

Did you know that there was once a football game called the "Confusion Bowl" by sports writers?...It happened when Miami played Miamil...That was Miami of Florida meeting Miami of Ohi-They played against each other in both 1945 and 1946.

Astronauts prepare for '86 first launch

Seven astronauts whose flight on space shuttle Columbia was aborted two weeks ago just 14 seconds from liftoff flew here Friday for another try Monday.

"We're looking forward now to being the first flight of 1986 instead of the last flight of 1985, and we're ready to go," mission commander Robert Gibson told reporters as the crew arrived from its training base in Houston.

The countdown will start today, aiming for a liftoff at 7:05 a.m. EST Monday. Columbia, the flagship of the shuttle fleet, has undergone an extensive overhaul and has not flown in space for more than two

The crew of seven includes Rep. Bill Nelson, a Florida Democrat whose district includes Cape Canaveral and the Kennedy Space Center. He is chairman of the House subcommittee on space science and applications and will be the second congressional observer to make a shuttle trip. Sen. Jake Garn, R-Utah, chairman of a subcommittee that oversees NASA funding, flew last

The other crew members are Charles Bolden, Steve Hawley, George Nelson, Robert Cenker and Franklin Chang-Diaz, the first Hispanic-American astronaut. The astronauts boarded Columbia on Dec. 19 and were just 14 seconds from blastoff when a computer stopped the countdown after it detected what appeared to be a turbine spinning too fast. The turbine was in a hydraulic power unit that helps guide the steering nozzle on one of two solid fuel rocket boosters.

The problem was traced to a small electrical part less than an inch long in a package that relayed electronic signals to the power unit

NASA said the faulty part was a new type designed to military specifications. Those specifications made the part more sensitive than those previously used, causing it to pick up normal electronic noise and to falsely report the turbine was running too fast. Analysis showed the turbine was operating properly.

one of the older, less sensitive ones.

Space shuttle astronauts Bill Nelson, congressman from Florida, and mission specialist Franklin Chang-Diaz, arrived at Kennedy The bad device was replaced by Space Center Friday to prepare for the first launch of 1986.

Woman asks judge to step down from case

BEAUMONT, Texas (AP) - A Kentucky woman suing over the Spindletop oil field fortune is asking a federal judge to step down from the case because he allegedly has a "personal bias" against her.

Jewell Robbins filed papers in federal court Thursday saying U.S. District Judge Joe Fisher has a conflict of interest because he owns property involved in the litigation.

Ms. Robbins' lawsuit represents

Abigail L. Meaders of Dallas, the alleged daughter-in-law of James Meadors' only son.

The lawsuit contends Ms. Meaders should have been getting proceeds from Spindletop royalties since 1911, when Meadors - also spelled Meaders, Meadows or one of several other ways - allegedly bought an interest in the field.

Spindletop erupted near Beaumont in 1901, producing more than 17 million barrels of oil in 1902 and marking the beginning of Texas' petroleum industry.

For unknown reasons, the lawsuit says, the Meadors deed was not recorded in the deed records of Jefferson County until March 26, 1931. U.S. Magistrate Earl Hines in November 1985 recommended Ms. Robbins' case and a similar lawsuit be dismissed. Fisher will make the final ruling sometime in March.

Attorney Tim Hatton of Beattyville, Ky., who represents Ms. Robbins in the case, said Meadors' deed extended beyond the Spindletop oilfield and included a piece of land that either Fisher or his son now owns. Court records show Joe J. Fisher Jr. owns property in the area.

Hatton said the law requires Fisher to excuse himself from the case if a "reasonable" person believes there is a possibility he could be biased.

Fisher must decide whether to disqualify himself from the case. But Fisher said he doesn't own any property related to Ms. Robbins' lawsuit against several major oil companies. "If I have any interest in any property that is connected with the Spindletop oilfield, I'm not aware of it," Fisher said. "And I see no basis for disqualifying myself from this Should Fisher dismiss Ms. Robbins' case, Hatton said, the judge's refusal to disqualify himself could be grounds for appeal.

Reagan promises to help Mexico overcome its debt

MEXICALI, Mexico (AP) — President Reagan promised Mexican President Miguel de la Madrid at the close of their meeting Friday that the United States "remains ready and willing" to help Mexico overcome its pressing $96 billion foreign debt.

"Mexico's debt burden remains a serious challenge," Reagan told his host at the conclusion of their brief meeting in this Mexican bor-der town. "I'm impressed with the commitment you've made, Mr. President, to meet this challenge and to take the necessary steps to achieve a robust, growing Mexican economy.' U.S. officials have pointed out Mexico's failure to meet agreedupon guidelines for bringing its inflation and spending under control. But Reagan made no mention of that in public.

'The United States remains ready and willing to work with you," to overcome the debt crisis, he said.

In a luncheon toast to his guest, de la Madrid said he and Reagan had "again considered the importance of finding a peaceful and negotiated solution" to conflict in Central America, but neither he nor Reagan gave any indication they had narrowed their differences on the delicate issue.

"Mexico," de la Madrid pledged, "will persist without respite or faltering in its efforts to find an overall solution that respects the legitimate interests of all the countries involved and that affirms the principles of selfdetermination of peoples, nonintervention, the peaceful solution of conflicts and cooperation for development.' Reagan, returning the toast, told his host: "A commitment to democracy is the only true path to justice and economic progress. Mexico and the United States can and should stand shoulder to shoulder in support of democracy in this hemisphere." But they mentioned no new path they might follow in the elusive search for settlements to fighting in El Salvador or Nicaragua, where Mexico has opposed U.S. efforts to combat leftist revolutionaries.

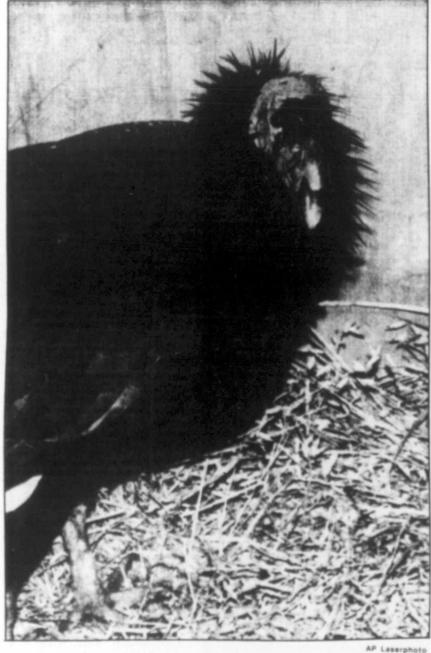

Both men also mentioned the need to continue their battle against drug traffickers, who U.S. officials warned present an increasingly dangerous problem for the Mexican government.

U.S. officials told reporters after the meetings that Mexico appeared willing to pursue economic reforms the Reagan administration regards as necessary to solve the debt problem.

"But we don't see them coming together yet," one source said, speaking on condition he not be

Biologists rounding up California condors

LOS ANGELES (AP) - Biologists Game, operates the research center hauled net-launching cannons and radio tracking gear into the hills Friday to begin rounding up the last six wild California condors, remnants of a once wide-ranging clan of the largest birds in North America.

As the trapping team set out, environmentalists in the group sought to limit the roundup to the ailing female that was the first target of the

The U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, alarmed by the deaths of six of the vultures in the wild since fall 1984, has decided to catch the six condors known to be free.

They would be added to 21 protected in two Southern California zoos, where the hope is they will breed and that some can be released back into the wild. The hunters set out in a plane about 9 a.m. to comb the condors' vast range, tracking signals from radio transmitters attached to each bird when they had been captured previously for monitoring. The carrion-eating birds, whose wingspan reaches 91/2 feet, drift over the foothills and mountains at the southern end of the San Joaquin Valley, which starts about 50 miles north of Los Angeles. Trappers from the Condor Research Center hoped to key in on one of the two females, which scientists believe may be sick because she has remained in one canyon for sev-

Audubon biologists may stop helping in the hunt after the female is trapped. The society opposes trapping more than three condors, Alexander Sprunt, Audubon vice president and national research director, said from his office in Tavernier,

'We will be cooperating at least to the point of trapping the bird that's sick," Sprunt said. "If she's really sick we'd want to trap her in any

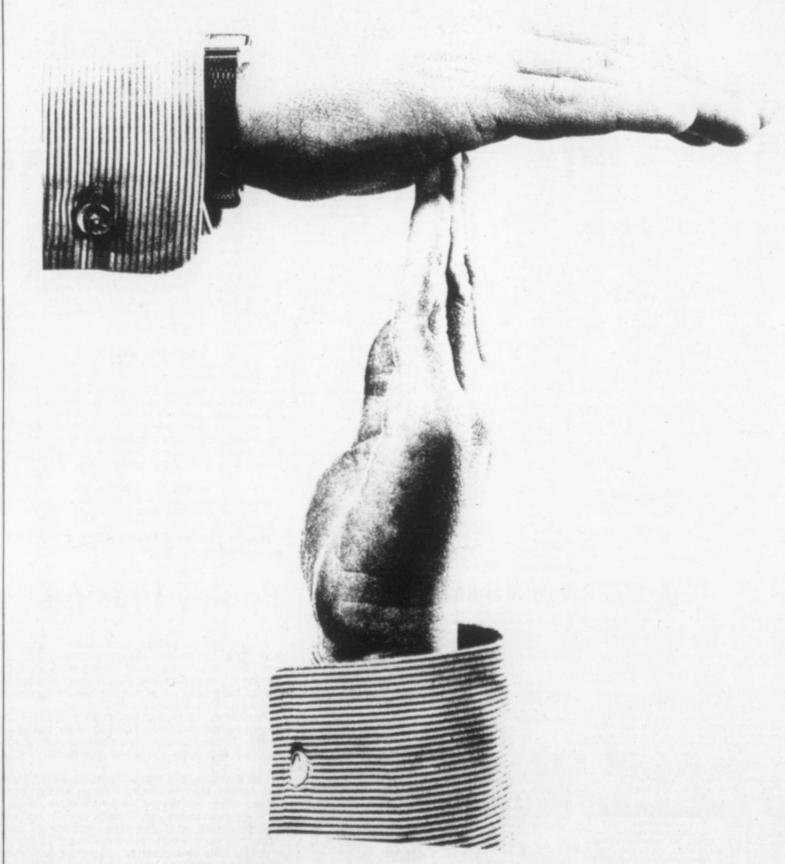

The society would not object to trapping two males whose genetic backgrounds would be valuable in the captive breeding program, if they were replaced immediately with some captive birds, he said.

Ground crews hoped to establish a trapping site near the sick female and put out a calf carcass to attract her, Grantham said. Once on the ground, she was to be snared in a 40by 50-foot net tossed by projectiles from four small pipe "cannons" set up near the carcass.

Skies were cloudy, and trappers worried that weather might hamper their hunt. The fact that condors eat only every few days may also be an

Federal and state officials have reluctantly concluded that all the birds must be brought in from the wild before they die. The six that died most recently are presumed to be victims of hunting, flying into power lines and lead poisoning from eating bullet-riddled animal carcasses.

If you've ever wondered just what "Buyer's Market" means, it's in the listings above.

Homebuying at prices you don't see very often. So look over the list; then call the real estate agent.

And, if you want to try for an even lower price, make us an offer; we'll negotiate.

What's more, down payments are lower than you'd expect on Fixed-Rate Mortgages or, if you prefer, you can choose Adjustable-Rate financing. Either way, you can get special Fannie Mae financing. But no matter which kind of financing you choose, you'd better act fast. At these prices, this Buyer's Market won't last long.

Huskers survive final air battle of season

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP) - A chartered jet carrying the University of Nebraska football team landed safely at Municipal Airport after one of its three engines failed.

Mike Moran, an air traffic controller with the Federal Aviation Administration, said the No. 2 engine on the Lockheed 1011 airplane failed Thursday while the plane was flying to Lincoln from Phoenix, Ariz. The plane has one engine on each wing and another in the back.

The Cornhuskers were returning home after losing to Michigan 27-23 in Wednesday's Sunkist Fiesta Bowl. As a precaution, fire equipment lined the airport runway when the plane landed.

Investigators from the Flights Standards District Office in Lincoln were trying to determine the cause of the engine failure, Moran said.

Lutherans will celebrate church's ground breaking

Following the first Sunday morning worship of this year, the officers sert, treasurer; Ken Greer, financial of Good Shepherd Evangelical Lutheran Church will be participating in a ground-breaking ceremony marking the beginning of the construction project of Good Shepherd's new chapel on its property at 3800 Bluebird Lane

Good Shepherd is a mission congregation of the Wisconsin Evangelical Lutheran Synod and was incorporated in the fall of 1980. It presently numbers 40 communicant members and 61 baptized members. Serving the congregation as officers for 1986 are Ben Lippe, president; Dong Manz, vice president; Art secretary and building committee chairman; E.E. "Buck" Wolter, elder; and the Rev. Loyal Schroeder, trustee.

A late-May completion date is envisioned for the chapel which has been designed as the first phase of a three-phase construction program. The congregation has as its pastor the Rev. David Krenke.

"It is Good Shepherd's desire to share with just as many souls as possible the gospel of salvation through faith in the Lord Jesus Christ," said Krenke. "In line with that wish, visitors are always warmly welcomed at Wuensche, secretary; Jim Meyer- any of Good Shepherd's services.

Noted evangelist to speak on spiritual growth, maturity

Derek Prince will speak on Spiritual Growth and Maturity as a Practical Experience for Everyone" at 7:30 p.m. Jan. 14 16 at the Holiday Inn County Villa Convention Center. 4300 W. Highway 80.

He will also Derek Prince speak at the noon Jan. 16 meeting of the Midland Ministerial Association at First Baptist Church. Prince was born in India of British parents. He was educated in England at Eton College and Cambridge University. At an early age, he became a professor of philosophy at Cambridge. 'He was called into the British Army in World War II and took along a Bible to study it as a 'work of philosophy," said a spokesman for the Derek Prince Conference. "One night, while alone in his barracks, he was confronted with the reality of Jesus Christ and his life's direction was totally changed."

Since then, he has studied, anathe "Word of God." Today, his radio 807 W. Missouri Ave.

program is heard daily on more than 60 stations in the United States as well as in China, India, Australia, New Zealand, East Africa, the Eastern Caribbean and Central and South America.

He has written more than 20 books, including "The Last Word on the Middle East," which examines current events in the light of Bible prophecy; and "Chords from David's Harp," which involves meditations on the Psalms.

"His hundreds of teaching messages on cassette are reaching into every continent," the spokesman said. "Through his personal ministry in churches and conferences, thou sands have been touched by the Lord.

Prince's first wife Lydia, whose story is told in "Appointment in Jer-usalem," died in 1975. He married his second wife Ruth three years later. They now conduct their worldwide ministry from Fort Lauderdale, Fla., and Jerusalem, Israel.

In addition to the other meetings. Prince will be speaking to members of Holy Trinity Episcopal Church at 10 a.m. Jan. 15.

RELIGION IN BRIEF

First Methodist forms group for single adults

The Singles Ministry of the First United Methodist Church is forming a new group, Singles in Action. which is a support, social, religious and fellowship group for all single

The purpose is to provide singles with positive fellowship and interaction with other singles within the context of the Christian faith," said a spokesman for the church. "The ultimate goal is to help singles feel whole and good about themselves as individuals.

Singles in Action will meet at 7 p.m. the first and third Tuesdays of each month. A guest speaker will discuss a topic of interest to singles. Bob Savage, talking about "Burn Out in America," and Linda George, speaking on the "Single Experience," will provide programs on Jan. 7 and 21 respectively.

The Singles Ministry offers opportunities for fellowship through its two Sunday School classes Sunday morning and Singles Forum Sunday evenings as well as special social events throughout the week

Singles in Action will meet in the Fellowship Hall of the First United Methodist Church, Main Street at Illinois Avenue. Refreshments and a get-acquainted time begin at 7 p.m. Child care is provided.

Women's Aglow to meet

ODESSA - The monthly fellowship meeting of Women's Aglow will be held at 10 a.m. Wednesday at the Roadway Inn, S. Grant and Inter-

Speaker for this month is Jaye Crump, formerly a missionary to Panama. Mrs. Crump and her husband Glenn have recently returned to Odessa from serving 14 months as independent missionaries to Panama. Mrs. Crump has ministered at Aglow meetings in Panama, Oklahoma and Texas. "She has a ministry in love for women and their special needs, as well as a ministry in song." said an Aglow spokesperson.

Nursery facilities are no longer available. Mothers are asked to make the necessary arrangements for their children.

For more information call Kathy Pena, 1-381-6578.

Kelview sponsors films

Leighton Ford's six-part film series "Good News is For Sharing" will be presented by Kelview Heights Baptist Church, 402 W. Scharbauer Drive. One 25-minute film will be shown weekly beginning at 5:45 p.m.

In this practical approach, Leighton Ford explains a natural approach to evangelism that works for ordinary people," says a church spokesman.

Topics include making disciples; facing fears, tapping the Gospel's power, discovering your church's role, how to naturally talk about your faith and how to answer specific questions non-Christians ask.

Besides working with the Billy Graham team, Ford is chairman of the Lausanne Committee for World Evangelization and a frequent radio speaker on "The Hour of Decision." The public is invited to attend the series. A nursery will be provided.

SBC retains Griffin Bell

ATLANTA (AP) - Former U.S. Attorney General Griffin B. Beil has been retained by the Southern Baptist Convention to defend it against a lawsuit challenging the legality of actions at the denomination's convention last June.

The suit, filed by a Birmingham. Ala., couple and a retired Navy officer of Windsor, Mo., claims parliamentary rulings by the denomination's president, the Rev. Charles Stanley, undercut the majority will of the convention.

A fundamentalist wing, which backed Stanley, has gained increasing control over the denomination in partisan struggle with moderates. The suit, seeking to throw out as illegal a presidentially appointed committee that picks trustees of denominational agencies, is against both Stanley and the denomination's executive committee, which upheld his actions.

Bell of Atlanta was attorney general during the presidency of fellow Georgian Jimmy Carter. Both are Southern Baptists.

Nicaraguan aid sought

WASHINGTON (AP) - Trying to counterbalance the U.S. government's aid to rebels fighting the Nicaraguan government, an interfaith group says it hopes to raise $27 million for "true" humanitarian aid in Nicaragua.

Roman Catholic, Protestant and Jewish groups backing the project, called "Quest for Peace," said it directly challenges the $27 million in non-military aid approved by Congress for the rebel contras.

Auxiliary Catholic Bishop Thomas Gumbleton of Detroit told a news conference the counterplan would bring "healing to the people" of Nicaragua who "suffer deeply from effects of our government's policy.

ARIES (March 21-April 19): This can be a red-letter day if everyone pulls together. Protect a close relationship by avoiding certain friends. You could have an unexpected but welcome visitor this evening.

Rangers' Charlie Hough.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): Wait and see what others want to do before offering suggestions. A newspaper article gives you a wonderful business idea; follow through and you could make a bundle!

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Focus your attention on the immediate future and what you hope to accomplish. Enlist family members' cooperation. Now is an excellent time to improve your relations with a relative or neighbor CANCER (June 21-July 22): Welcome an opportunity to re-establish discipline or harmony at home. A good-humored approach will accomplish more than stern lectures. New contacts could lead to a rewarding long-term alliance.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): Be careful not to scatter your energies too widely. You need to devote more attention to the domestic front. Encourage family members to speak their minds. Candid talks yield new insights.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): You could be tempted to begin an ill-advised flirtation. Watch your step! Avoid making promises you may not want to keep. Lend a sympathetic ear to someone with a special problem.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Ease up on loved ones and communication will improve. A friend offers to arrange a special introduction. An ideal day to work on a secret SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): The news from a distance is encouraging. You may decide to travel. Go over your wardrobe. Visit a friend who is always supportive. A new project could exceed your wildest expectations.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Drive defensively today or rely on public transportation. A new idea and a wonderful new relationship have you walking on air. Consider a personal matter from all angles before deciding what to do next.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Your personal relationships are very rewarding. Go along with mate's plans and you will enjoy yourself more than you thought possible. Contact a teenager away at college.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): An older person will help you if you seek his or her advice. You hear from someone you may have forgotten. An unexpected invitation could lead to romance. Write important letters.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): Your long-range plans are in the spotlight. Do not expect everyone to agree with you. Tact and diplomacy are your strongest allies. Acknowledge that you do not have all the answers.

Clavell sets $3 million bid on book

NEW YORK (AP) — James Clavell, author of "King Rat," "Taipan" and "Shogun," reportedly has set a $3 million minimum bid for the North American rights to his new book, "Whirlwind," when they're auctioned off Tuesday.

Clavell also has demanded that the book, set in and around Iran in 1979, be published without editorial changes, according to the offering letter sent with about 200 manuscript pages to potential

He also had sought to limit the rights to 15 years, compared with the usual copyright term of the author's life plus 50 years, said Harper & Row Publishers president Brooks Thomas. "The 15-year term was withdrawn this morning," Thomas said Thursday. The company would not bid on the book because of the conditions, he said. The letter did not mention the $3 million, which was reported in The New York Times and by syndicated columnist Liz Smith. Thomas and Peter Israel, president of Putnam's, said the price was not out of line, given Clavell's previous successes. Clavell got a $1 million advance for "Noble House," published in 1981 by Delacorte Press.

"Shogun," published by Atheneum in 1975 and later made into a television miniseries, was on the best-seller list 32 weeks in hard cover and sold 3.5 million copies in paperback.

Calls for comment to the company representing Clavell, Foreign Rights Inc., were not returned.

NEW YORK (AP) - Singer Billy Joel and model Christie Brinkley tried to trick the paparazzi by donning Groucho Marx noses and glasses before slipping out of the hospital with their newborn daughter, but the beaks fooled no one.

Nosy photographers snapped away Thursday evening to the chagrin of Miss Brinkley, who carried their daughter, Alexa Ray Joel, born Monday at New York Hospital.

Swaddled in a blanket, the infant apparently was not wearing one of the disguises which Joel told the New York Post were part of a gift he received at his wife's baby shower two weeks ago.

Joel was given a "Ladies Care Kit" to help him get through the birth. The kit contained aspirin, Alka-Seltzer, cigars, a pair of dice, a deck of cards and the plastic nose-andglasses, according to Geraldine McInerney, the family spokeswoman. Joel was so thrilled with the glasses he bought a pair for Miss Brinkley. And even though she was loath to be photographed in them, she apparently

While biographer Mollie Dickenson said Thursday she hopes the book helps the cause, she said her main goal in the book, tentatively titled "Thumbs Up - The Story of Jim Brady" is to capture a sense of the Centralia native's quick wit, spirit and courage. Brady, 45, earned a reputation for quips before he, President Reagan and two Secret Service officers were shot by John W. Hinckley Jr. on March 30, 1981.

When he returned to work after months of therapy, Brady called Hinckley "an awfully bad shot" and told the White House press corps "I missed most of

He said the actress entered St. John's Hospital on New Year's Day for tests for flu-like symptoms.

Typical Angela Channing, she refused to go into intensive care. She insisted in going back into her room," said Crutchfield, who spoke to Miss Wyman on Friday. "She said, Tve been up and walked around the room and believe you me I was glad to get back to this bed.

The actress' doctor, Donald Green, said through a spokesman that Miss Wyman was resting comfortably at St. John's and "doing fine" following the surgery Thursday afternoon.

There were no complications and no indication of any condition other than the adhesions," said Green. The actress is expected to be hospitalized for another week, then recuperate at her Santa Monica home for three to five weeks before returning to the "Falcon Crest" set.

Crutchfield said production, which was to resume next Monday following a holiday break, would be delayed for a week so shooting schedules can be organized around Miss Wyman's absence.

Miss Wyman, who recently celebrated her 50th year in show business, was married to Ronald Reagan from 1940 to 1948. She won a best-actress Oscar in 1948 for her part in "Johnny Belinda" and a Golden Globe in 1984 for her portrayal of Angela Channing.

From Staff Reports

ODESSA - Three men arrested early Friday morning in what police say is the biggest drug bust in the past seven or eight years in Odessa were released from the Ector County Jail late Friday afternoon after posting $50,000 bond each.

Odessa police and Ector County sheriff's narcotics officers, armed with a search warrant issued by Justice of the Peace Manuel Valles, raided a residence in the 9200 block of Hutson in far west Odessa about 1:30 a.m. Friday and seized three suitcases containing about 195 pounds of a substance believed to be marijuana. The substance had an estimated street value of $312,000.

ODESSA — Two Odessans were taken to Medical Center Hospital Friday evening with injuries they sustained in a two-vehicle accident at the south service road of U.S. Interstate 20 and Sargeant Street, a Texas Department of Public Safety spokeswoman said.

Injured were Maria V. Catano, 56, and Juan Catano, 65, both of Odessa. Ms. Catano was listed in stable condition with a broken hand and foot. Catano was listed head lacerations and chest According to reports, Ms. Cata-no was driving a 1973 Pontiac and was traveling east on the service road when she attempted to turn left onto Sargeant Street.

The accident occurred at 7:20 p.m. when Ms. Catano entered the path of a 1978 Ford driven by James N. Riggs of Odessa. Riggs was not injured in the crash, according to the report.
