Spring Pig Crop In US Largest Since 1951

By F. W. Martin, County Agent

According to the June Pig Crop Report released by the Agricultural Marketing Service, the 1959 spring pig crop totaled 58,494,000 head. This is 12 per cent more than was produced in the spring of 1958 and is the largest spring pig crop since 1951. This means that we are going to have more hogs on the market in the fall of 1959.

The 1959 spring pig crop was larger than a year earlier in all regions of the U. S. According to the June Pig Crop Report increases were as follows: North Atlantic, 10 per cent; East North Central, 9; West North Central, 10; South Atlantic, 19; South Central (Texas included), 24; and West 16 per cent.

Breeding intentions indicate that a total of 6,394,000 sows will farrow in the fall of 1959. If hog producers carry out their intentions this would be an increase of 8 per cent over the number of sows that farrowed in the fall of 1958.

If fall farrowing intentions materialize and the number of pigs saved per litter equals the average, with an allowance for upward trend, the 1959 fall pig crop will be about 46,000,000 head. This would be the second largest fall pig crop on record, exceeded only by the 47,584,000 pigs in 1943.

The indicated number of sows for 1959 fall farrow for nine of the Corn Belt states is 7 per cent more than a year earlier. These nine states accounted for 67 per cent of the 1958 United States pig crop.

Breeding intentions for fall farrowing in 1959 shows an increase of 14 per cent in the South Central States (Texas included).

In view of prospective supplies, prices of hogs in the winter of 1959 and early 1960 can be expected to be lower than a year earlier. Production started cyclically upward last year, and may continue upward this fall and well into 1960. There

Guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Monse Friday night, July 10 in honor of Mr. Monse's birthday were Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Vahlenkamp and family of Abilene, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Monse and Diane, Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Helm and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Schaake, Mr. and Mrs. B. Kupatt, Emil and Hilda Stremmel, Robert Monse, Tom Thane and Henry Hagemeister.

Mr. and Mrs. Ewell Ulmer and family of Hobbs, N. M., visited with Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Ulmer Wednesday and Thursday last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Ulmer moved to their new home, the former Henry Laughlin home, Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Lambert returned home July 3 from Idalou where they spent two weeks with Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Lambert Sr. They also visited in Lubbock with Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Lambert Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Lambert.

In Idalou they visited with Mr. and Mrs. Dick Gibson, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Kelley and Mr. and Mrs. Havins. Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Lambert Jr., brought them home.

Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Lambert Sr., and Jeanette of Idalou spent last weekend here with the G. A. Lamberts. Charles Bitgood of Lubbock also visited here Sunday.

is little reason for optimism for hog price in 1960. On June 15, 1958 the farmers of Texas received an average price of $20.70 per hundred pounds compared to $15.30 on June 15, 1959. Prices are expected to remain considerably below last year.

Because indications point to higher production, the outlook for hog prices is not bright and it would seem advisable for all hog producers to consider their management plans for next year carefully. There is still money to be made in the hog enterprise for the efficient producer.

The above outlook information does not warrant the dispersing of commercial breeding herds as has been done in the past by many Texas producers facing similar price situations. But, it does mean that Texas hog producers should re-examine their individual hog production program for the possibility of reducing production costs.

Producers should consider these things:

1. Make sure that he can either produce or obtain the needed grain at reasonable prices, in view of the price outlook.

2. Sell market hogs at lighter weights. (Around 200 lbs. as soon as they reach market top.)

3. Cull down to the most productive sows and gilts. But, retain sufficient numbers to make most efficient use of equipment and labor.

4. Consider selling heavy sows and keep young gilts.

5. The hog producer should examine his feeding program to be certain:

(a) That he is raising the largest number of pigs per litter.

(b) That he is making the most efficient gains in the feed lot.

If cheap grain is available there might be a possibility that the least cost feed ration would contain 1 or 2 per cent less crude protein than is normally expected most efficient which would enable using more low cost grain and less high cost supplement.

In view of the price outlook it is inevitable that the inefficient producer will have to improve the efficiency of his operation to realize any profit.

Mexico Says Bracero Report Being Studied

According to the Associated Press, a Foreign Ministry spokesman at Mexico City said Tuesday that a complete report on discrimination against braceros in Texas is being forwarded to the State Department in Washington.

"Information on specific cases and causes of blacklisting must come from Washington," said Miguel G. Calderon, director general of the Office of Migratory Labor Affairs of the Foreign Ministry.

"Actually, the situation has improved a great deal," Calderon said. "In the not too far distant future I think the picture will be quite different."

"Many sections are doing their best to correct the unfortunate situation."

He would not give details on the Alpine, Texas, case. Officials there say they do not know why the town was blacklisted.

county blacklisted know full well the details," Calderon said emphatically. "Our Consuls always discuss it with local authorities."

Luis G. Zorilla, assistant director general of the same office, suggested that Texas officials contact the U. S. State Department for information. He said Mexico was not supposed to publicize the cases.

A U. S. Embassy source said he believed the release of the blacklist by J. R. Ortiz, Mexican Consul in Dallas, was a mistake.

"Under the U. S. - Mexican agreement worked out in Washington, both nations agreed not to make public these lists. It only causes trouble and makes it harder to negotiate settlements."

And, he added, it was hard enough to work out agreements as "it is an emotional issue with Mexicans, understandably." He said the last official blacklist received here was dated May 7, 1958, and that it did not include any new cities. Since then, he said, the Lubbock case had arisen. Lubbock was blacklisted when a beauty parlor operator refused to serve two Mexican women.

"We are trying our best to clean up the blacklist, giving priority to countywide cases," he said.

Farm Families Advised To Study OASI Program

According to a recent study made jointly by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station and USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service, farmers in general do not know enough about the Old Age and Survivors Insurance program to make wise decisions regarding their possible alternatives in the program.

A bulletin written by Dr. R. L. Skrabanek of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station and Dr. Louis J. Ducoff, Agricultural Marketing Service, USDA, gives the results of a study made to find out if farmers are well informed on OASI. Report is based on a study made by the two men in Wharton and Cherokee counties in 1956.

The farmers interviewed relied upon publications, particularly newspapers and magazines, for most of their OASI information. However, Social Security representatives were the most effective sources used.

Most of the farmers interviewed planned to continue living on their farm and engage in farming after they reach 65 years of age. Only about 30 per cent of the farmers over 65 stated that they expected to receive OASI benefits at any time in future years.

In general, farmers approved of the OASI program, with more approval coming from those farmers who were younger, operated smaller farms, had a lower net worth and had nonfarm jobs in addition to carrying on their farming operations. Tenants expressed the most approval, followed by part owners, with full owners approving it the least.

A majority, 60 per cent, stated that the main thing they liked about OASI was the system of receiving payments in old age. Their comments indicated that this particular aspect was welcomed by a number of farmers. Only a relatively small proportion mentioned the benefits provided to survivors. This difference may mean either that operators were not aware of the benefits provided to survivors, or that they considered the retirement benefits to be more important.

For complete results of the study write the Agricultural Information Office for a copy of B-928.

Preserve Cotton Fiber Quality, Says Specialist

A moisture meter can be used in the gin, on the gin yard and in the field as an aid to preservation of fiber quality during the cotton harvesting and ginning season, reports Fred C. Elliott, extension cotton work specialist.

Use of the moisture meter on lint slide samples in the gin will give the information needed to adjust drying, he says. The goal should be to gin cotton at five to seven percent lint moisture for best quality preservation. Numerous tests in the USDA Ginning Laboratories show that drying to this moisture level gives a smooth sample and allows proper cleaning. Overdrying should be avoided, Elliott cautions.

At a number of gins in Texas last year, the growers made money by cooperating with the ginner in a seed cotton group program. Elliott says a moisture meter was used to determine the moisture content of the seed cotton in the trailers. Then, the trailers were grouped on the gin lot according to moisture and trash content or method of harvesting. This plan enables the ginner to take the time lag out of adjusting drying equipment for groups of bales and the grower receives more benefit from improvements in gin machinery, he adds.

A moisture meter can also be used in the field to avoid harvesting cotton too damp. This practice, says the specialist, will be helpful this year with the anticipated increase in machine harvesting. Last year there were 1831 spindle pickers in 78 counties in Texas and 26,692 stripper harvesters in 133 counties, saving the growers $50,000,000. All indications point to a big increase in machine harvesting in 1959. Machine harvesting has brought many benefits to the cotton industry, but has also presented problems in quality preservation. However, Elliott adds, these problems can be overcome by proper care or adjustment of machines and not operating too early or late in the day in damp or wet cotton. For further information, obtain a copy of bulletin 297, "Keep Cotton Dry, Loose and Clean" from your county agent.

Cattle numbers in the United States increased by 3,500,000 head from January 1958 to January 1959 and total for the nation on last January 1 stood at 98,851 head, said John G. McHaney, extension economist. Most of the inventory increase, he added, was in young beef stock.

bers in the county can win handsome gold-filled medals for doing an extra good job in either "beautification of home grounds" or "home improvement" programs, the Extension Service reports.

In addition to an estimated 10,000 county medal winners throughout the 48 states, individual state winners will be selected and 16 national winners will be named.

To be eligible for the top awards members must be over 14 years of age and have satisfactorily completed three years of 4-H Club activities.

While the 4-H program is conducted by the Cooperative Extension Service, U. S. Department of Agriculture, funds for awards are provided by private citizens, business, industry and educational foundations through arrangements made by the National Committee on boys and girls club work.

Awards in home grounds beautification have been given for the past 22 years by Mrs. Charles R. Walgreen, Chicago, noted horticulturist and 4-H benefactor.

4-H's Awarded for Best Home Projects

Besides medals, she provides engraved wristwatches and trips to the National 4-H Club Congress held right after Thanksgiving at the Conrad Hilton Hotel in Chicago.

Home improvement awards are made possible by the Sears-Roebuck Foundation. They consist of medals, congress trips, and $400 college scholarships for national winners.

County Clerk Is No Amateur As Orchardist

In addition to his qualifications as an efficient public official, County Clerk Horace Oneal is a horticulturist of no mean ability.

Indisputable evidence of that fact was given the other day, when the genial county official left a generous sample of the products from one of his young peach trees at The Free Press office.

Oneal says the tree from which they were taken has been bearing only a few years, but is heavily loaded with fruit. The peaches, a freestone, white-meat variety, are large in size and perfect in color and texture.

Oneal secured the trees from Stark Nursery, and thinks they are ideally adapted to this section. This particular variety will survive without harm, temperatures as low as 5 degrees below zero after the tree has bloomed, Oneal was told.

*Agricultural Marketing Service study of selected bakeries showed net profit after taxes at less than one-half cent per pound.

Increased operational costs in the bakery and flour mill are responsible for the higher price of bread, according to the United States Department of Agriculture.

A USDA bulletin, "Marketing Margins for White Bread," points out that bread prices have increased 39 per cent in the past 10 years. The study disclosed that the cost of bread ingredients has remained fairly constant during the past decade. The cost of wheat to the miller in 1948 averaged 2.8 cents per pound loaf of bread, and the same in 1958. The cost of flour to the baker rose from 3.5 cents in 1948 to 3.6 cents last year.

The survey shows that the farmer's share of the consumer bread dollar for all agricultural products used in bread has declined from 24 per cent in 1948 to 16 per cent last year.

"The increase in bread prices resulted from the higher costs of labor, transportation and other non-ingredient expenses," the bulletin stated. "Hourly earnings in bread-baking and similar establishments are 33 per cent more than they were 10 years ago. Fringe benefits have increased ninefold."

The baker received 16.2 cents for a pound loaf of bread last year, as an average. The retail margin, according to USDA, was 3.1 cents. The baker retained nine-tenths of a cent as a profit before taxes, less than one half cent per loaf after taxes.

A separate study made by the Department's Agricultural Marketing Service showed that the profits of six leading baking companies have declined 42 per cent on the basis of sales during the 10 year period. Profits decreased from 4 per cent of sales in 1944 to 2.3% last year.

The report stated that "Even if the farmer had donated his wheat, white bread would still have cost consumers about 11 cents per loaf (retail) in 1958."

Fertilizer Has Carryover Value, Chemist Says

Fertilizer applied in one year can result in additional profits at the end of the following year's crop. In fact, increased yields from carryover fertilizer can often pay for the original cost of the fertilizer, said W. F. Bennett, extension soil chemist.

Two demonstrations conducted by county Agent Bill Taylor in Hockley County in 1958 demonstrated these points, stated Bennett. In both cases, the fertilizer was applied prior to planting in 1957 and yields were taken in both 1957 and 1958.

On the Wayland Fred farm near Pettit, only two out of the six treatments applied failed to return enough of an increase to pay for the fertilizer costs, said the chemist. One rate, a 70-70, returned a profit of $21.85 in 1958 over and above the 1957 fertilizer costs. There were no yield increases from these fertilizer applications in 1957 due to a poor season.

In the demonstration conducted on the Morgan Rust farm near Levelland, all fertilizer treatments in the demonstration have a highly profitable increase in yield in 1957. Looking at 1958 yields, all treatments gave sufficient yield increases to more than pay for the cost of the fertilizer, the chemist said. One treatment in the demonstration, a 30-60-30, gave a profit above 1957 fertilizer costs of $29.35. Considering the increased profits for both 1957 and 1958, the 30-60-30 treatment returned $121.75 for an investment of $12.30.

These two demonstrations emphasized the value of carryover fertilizer. If good results are not obtained in one year such as in 1957, the carryover effect will still help to pay for the fertilizer, Bennett added.

Thomas Jefferson is remembered most as the author of the Declaration of Independence. However, The World Book Encyclopedia notes that he was also the foremost American architect of his time, a translator of Greek plays, a violinist and the inventor of the dumbwaiter and the swivel chair.

TWU To Accept More Nursing Students

DENTON—More than 300 civic, business and educational leaders attended the groundbreaking ceremony for the new residential-instructional building to be erected in the Texas Medical Center, Houston, for the Texas Woman's University College of Nursing.

The $1,750,000 building will enable TWU greatly to increase its output of degree nurses, and will help relieve critical shortages in professional nursing services, according to Dr. John A. Guinn, president.

The TWU College of Nursing, headed by Miss Faye Pannell, dean, already is the largest in the state. The facilities of the Dallas County Hospital System are now used for clinical training and the new building at the Medical Center in Houston will serve to augment the clinical resources of the TWU College of Nursing.

The first students to be assigned to Houston for their clinical training will be enrolled at TWU this fall, Dr. Guinn said. They will start their clinical work in September, 1960, when the new building in the Medical Center is scheduled for completion.

Girls planning nursing careers should write Francis W. Emerson, TWU Dean of Admissions, for information and application for admission.

The TWU Building will be a separate unit in the Texas Medical Center and will provide residence space and classroom and laboratory areas for a maximum of 249 students.

It is being erected at no cost to the state, being financed by grants from the M. D. Anderson Foundation and by Houston Endowment, Inc.

Similar facilities at Parkland Memorial Hospital, Dallas, where TWU students now do their clinical training, have a capacity enrollment, Dr. Guinn explained. The Dallas program will continue after the Houston facility opens.

Audrey Hepburn Featured In "Green Mansions"

Audrey Hepburn and Anthony Perkins form the romantic team of "Green Mansions," MGM's film version of W. H. Hudson's classic novel of an idyllic love taking place amid adventure in the South American jungles.

The film starts Sunday at the Texas Theatre.

Some of the most remarkable photography of exotic jungle flora and fauna ever shown on the screen were obtained for the picture on a 25,000-mile location trek penetrating Venezuela, Colombia and British Guiana and discovering the almost inaccessible areas of one of the world's fewest remaining fog forests. Picked up were indigenous sounds of wilderness, some never heard in civilization.

These exterior scenes gives complete authenticity to the unusual backgrounds described in Hudson's story of Abel, young Venezuelan who meets with adventures in the jungle country south of the Orinoco during his quest for gold, and finds the girl, Rima, who has made the forest her home and its animal inhabitants her friends.

The superstitious Indians of the region believe Rima to be a malignant spirit. It is when they attempt to harm her that the girl of the wilderness, together with Abel and Nuflo, Rima's supposed grandfather who has raised her in the jungle, becomes involved in a series of perilous situations which reach a tensely dramatic climax. The story ends on a final note in which the yearning of a human soul for the attainment of a perfect love and beauty in life is realized.

A highlight of the picture is the Maraka Indian ritual of courage by torture of biting ants. The ceremonial dance for this scene was created by the noted choreographer and dancer, Katherine Dunham.

Other outstanding scenes include an episode in which an Indian is dragged underwater by a giant amphibious snake; the sequence in which Abel is attacked by a jaguar; the escape of the principals over a swinging suspension bridge; the fight to the death with knives between Kua-Ko, and Abel; and the climatic episode in which Rima is trapped in a burning tree.

NEWS FROM THE CONGRESS

By Congressman Frank Icard
The Administration has requested that Congress remove the ceiling on the interest that can be paid on Government securities. The present ceiling on long term Government bonds is 4 1/2%. For any Government securities which are issued for less than five years there is at this time no ceiling on the interest that can be paid. It has been suggested that unless the ceiling is removed on the issues running for a period of more than five years, that a greater portion of the debt will be forced into short term securities. If this should occur, then the Government would be competing in its refinancing with the short term money that would normally go into the commercial channels for building and financing business and personal activities. This undoubtedly would be highly inflationary and would force individual interest rates up considerably. While it would seem that the situation that now exists has to a great degree been created by the so-called "tight" money policy that has been in vogue for the last few years, there seems to be no responsible alternative at the present time other than to provide some means whereby the interest ceiling on the long term Government issues can be removed. Doing this should not necessarily mean that the overall interest paid by the Government should increase, and it certainly would be less inflationary than forcing the Government into short term financing.

A great furor has been caused by Paul Butler's recent statements concerning the activities of the Congress. It would seem that if Mr. Butler wanted to make Congressional policy, he should get himself elected to either the House or the Senate. If he were successful in this, he would better understand the responsibilities of the Congress and perhaps would learn that the first responsibility of a Member of Congress is to do what he feels is best for the country rather than serve his political party.

Visitors from home this week were Mr. Dave Robinson of Denton, Mr. Ray Davenport formerly of Wichita Falls and Mrs. Davenport, and Mrs. Henry Anderson and daughter, Terry, of Wichita Falls.

New Booklet On Time And Energy

Time and energy are two of your most valuable resources. The way that you use them depends on what is most important to you. To help the homemaker with her daily jobs, extension specialists in home management of Texas A&M College have written a publication entitled, "Manage Your Time and Energy." Suggestions given in this new booklet are based on research and on practical observation and work with homemakers. To get more of the things you want to do in your daily schedule, you may need to change the management of your time and energy, says the specialists. Next question, then, is how to begin improvement? This involves being willing to change habits and attitudes, if necessary. The specialists list five steps in this process: First, observe and study the way you now use your time and energy; consider other possible ways that may be better for you; decide on changes or new methods to be tried; make the changes or try out the new methods; and, accept the outcome and check results before

Sureties Withdraw From Bond Of Man Charged With Morals Offense

Robert L. Dodson, 38, former Knox City preacher who faces a Grand Jury indictment here on a morals offense, was returned to Haskell County jail Friday from Fort Worth, where he had been re-arrested at the request of local officers. Constable Ace Davis and Deputy Sheriff Leroy Medford went to Fort Worth and returned the accused man to Haskell. Dodson had been at liberty under a $10,000 bond since a 19th District Court Grand Jury indicted him on a fondling charge. The accused man was again placed in custody after sureties had withdrawn from his bond, officers said. Alleged offense with which Dodson is charged occurred Nov. 29 last year, officers said. The complaining witness was the 13-year-old daughter of the accused man. At the time of the alleged incident, Dodson and his wife and daughter were living in Knox City, where he was pastor of the First Baptist Church. Since his indictment and subsequent release under bond, the former preacher has been living in Fort Worth where in recent months he has been working as a vacuum cleaner salesman, local officers were told. Trial of the case was scheduled here early this year, but was continued when officers were unable to serve a summons on a State witness. Defense attorneys may seek a hearing for the accused within the next week or ten days, it was learned.

News from The Congress

By Congressman Frank Icard
The shift in population in this country is one of the things that most directly affects the National economy. It is well known that there is a strong present trend toward the more metropolitan areas. This week we acquired figures from the Library of Congress that project this trend in the 13th Congressional District. Since next year is the year the census will be taken, these figures may be disproved when the actual count is made. They show the county-by-county population in our district to be as follows: Archer County population of Jan. 1, 1959 estimate is 6,100; Baylor County 6,875 and January of this year estimate 5,900; Clay County in 1950 was 9,896. The Jan. 1959 estimate is 7,500. Cooke County 1950 was 22,146 and Jan. 1959 is 24,100. The City of Gainesville in 1950 was 11,246. This year's estimate is 14,300. Denton County 1950 census was 41,365. Estimates of this year are 30,000. Foard County was 4,216 in 1950. It is estimated to be 3,200 in January of this year. Figures on Hardeman County were not available. Haskell County in 1950 was 13,736; January estimates 11,200. Jaca County 1950 was 7,755. Jan. 1959 estimate 5,900. In the 1950 census Bent County had 2,249; January estimate 1,400. King County 1950 census 870; Jan. 1959 estimate 800. Knox County had a population by the 1950 census of 10,082. In January estimates it is 7,600. Montague County had 17,070 by the 1950 census, and 14,000 January estimates. Stonewall County population of 3,679 in 1950 and 3,500 in the January estimates. Throckmorton County had 3,618 in 1950 and 3,000 in Jan. 1959. Wichita County in 1950 had a population of 98,493, and for Jan. 1959 estimate of 132,500. The City of Wichita Falls had grown from 68,042 in 1950 to 97,300 according to the January estimates. Wilbarger County in 1950 had 20,552; in Jan. of 1959 estimates 18,500. In 1950 Wise County 16,141; the 1959 estimates 13,800. Young County 16,810 in the 1950 census and in the January estimates 14,300. Besides the economic effect of this shift in population to the urban areas, it carries with it also many social and political problems. Historically, the rural population of this county has been the political balance wheel, and its influence has been a most healthy one. Long range, it would be most unfortunate if this very evident population trend continues to develop.

Public Told Of Traffic Hazards On Road Project

A conference to promote traffic safety on a highway construction project now underway in this area was held at Stamford Thursday afternoon. Attending the meeting called by Resident Engineer Nelson Shave of Hamlin were representatives of the contractor, Department of Public Safety, maintenance foreman of the county and engineering personnel. The new highway construction project on U. S. Highway 389 begins at the intersection of U. S. Highway 277 1 1/2 miles north of Stamford and extends to the Stonewall County line, a distance of 13.8 miles and will consist of grading, widening structures, flexible base and two course surface treatment. Contract for the construction of the project was awarded to Centex Paving Co. of San Antonio and work began in May. Completion is expected in early 1960. Traffic is routed through construction on the subgrade, shoulder, slopes, ditches and specially constructed detour paralleling the existing highway. Adequate barricades and warning signals are prominently displayed but motorists should be extremely cautious in passing through the area as it is heavily traveled by large highway construction equipment. The construction area is zoned for a maximum speed of 9 miles per hour for the protection of motorist and workmen alike. Cooperation of the public is requested in obeying all traffic signals, warning signs and speed zones.
