

Nickell gets recognition as 64th FTW 'IP of Year'

Competition for Instructor Pilot of the Year was so close here that the wing selection board was forced to look beyond sheer job performance to pick the 1979 winner.

At least that's how Capt. Arthur Nickell, the 1979 IP of the Year, viewed his selection.

"There are at least 30 other instructor pilots here that could have won the award," insisted the 64th Student Squadron T-38 class commander. "The only edge I could have had was with additional duties."

And that's where Captain Nickell excelled. Last year the Middletown, Ohio, native repeatedly took on time-consuming wing projects.

His additional duties ranged for the structured revival of the wing retreat awards and retirement ceremony to the vast coordination of Armed Forces Week activities on base and in local communities. In addition, Captain Nickell organized Reese's Prisoner of War and Vietnam Veterans' Day observance. The event, which included a four-ship flyover

Reese tops AFAF goal

With two weeks left to go, the Air Force Assistance Fund drive here has already reached the base goal.

Capt. Roger L. Hollowell, AFAF project officer, announced Wednesday morning that donations had reached $9,643. That figure is 103 percent of the Reese target.

Helping Reese over the top were the eight units on base that have passed their individual goals. Heading the list is the 64th Student Squadron with donations totaling $2,752 for 134 percent of the squadron target.

Other units going over the top and their goal breaking percentages are: the 54th Flying Training Squadron, $1,520 — 140 percent; the 35th FTS, $1,282 — 120 percent; the Wing Staff, $108 — 116 percent; and Organizational Maintenance, $945.50 — 103 percent. More units are: the 3500th Resource Management Squadron, $439 — 175 percent; Supply Squadron, $525 — 152 percent; and the 1958th Communications Squadron, $378 — 188 percent. The 1958th was the first base unit to pass its goal, however; its donations do not count toward the base total.

Colonels, lieutenant colonels and chief master sergeants from Reese will take on a basketball squad from KLLL radio Thursday night. Admission to the game is $1 for adults and 50 cents for children under 12-years-old. The game starts at 7:30 p.m.

Exchange station shifts allocations

Moving to give shift workers a better chance of buying gas at the base service station, Base Exchange officials have rescheduled hours of operation for the gas pumps.

Dan Arias, Base Exchange manager, announced earlier this week that gasoline will not be sold on Wednesdays. Arias explained that the Wednesday allotment for gas will be added to that already tabbed for Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday.

"The extra gas should extend the operating hours on those four days until about 5 p.m.," predicted Arias. Right now we are running out of gas at about 2 p.m."

The exchange manager added that the sales store and repair shop will continue to be open on Wednesdays.

Our young people are great

by Col. John Rushfeldt
deputy commander for Maintenance

Many things go together to make a great Air Force. The number one ingredient, in my view, is people — especially young people!

During the 1970's the Air Force had eight consecutive years of cost saving reductions in personnel strength levels. During that time we were beginning to get well in hardware, but unfortunately we were not building the desired experienced manpower resources.

You can see the results right here at Reese. As we look at our work force, the lack of experienced middle and senior grade enlisted personnel and captains in the officer force is evident in every support and operational area.

In spite of these shortages of experience, Reese continues to do the job well.

The key, of course, is that our young people are doing an absolutely great job. They are building, instructing, fixing and supporting in a manner that is reminiscent of the Korean War (for those of us who go back that far).

All we have to do is give our young people a job and they will do the rest. Their greatest "heartburn" is being treated like novices. The quality of our young work force is first rate. Don't forget, they are the ones who are doing the job and making the accomplishment of our mission a reality.

Their efforts are deeply appreciated — let's tell them so!

'Putting women in their place'

by Mary Figg
FWP Manager

"Putting women in their place", — sound familiar?

The Federal Women's Program adopted this well-known phrase and turned the meaning around to promote its primary goals — improved employment and advancement opportunities for women in federal service.

However, the Federal Women's Program cannot do this alone. Women must be willing to prepare themselves to "find their place".

Two terms used frequently in career counseling are goal setting and career planning. The goal you set may be in terms of money, power, or a certain grade scale level, but in any case, it must be realistic and attainable.

If you are not sure of what you want to do with your career, personal and occupational interest tests can provide some insight in finding personal desires, needs, and abilities. On base, the Education Office offers one such test, "Kuder", to all base personnel.

The best resource available to help government personnel reach their goal is the Office of Personnel Management Handbook X-118. It contains the educational, experience, and skill requirements for all occupational series. This reference is available upon request at Civilian Personnel Office. Your supervisor should also be able to assist you in determining the skills needed to qualify for certain positions.

If accredited college hours are required, the Base Education Office offers numerous courses through South Plains and Wayland Baptist Colleges. If night courses are impossible, South Plains offers courses during the lunch hour. If needed, the Education Office can assist you in applying for tuition assistance and educational grants.

Another way to qualify for certain positions is through professional examinations, such as Professional Accountant or PACE, both of which are free. Civilian Personnel officials can best advise you about these.

In addition, volunteer work is now considered qualifiable experience and an excellent way to acquire valuable experience and skills. However, as you complete courses, receive test results, assume volunteer positions, your official personnel folder must be updated with a detailed Standard Form 172 and copies of supporting documents. In fact, recording your skills and experience is just as important as acquiring them because this is the only way Civilian Personnel can learn about your qualifications, update the automated system and consider you for positions you desire.

Just remember, the resources are available and the opportunities are your's for the asking.

The Air Force Assistance fund drive, currently underway, is the most satisfying one you'll ever respond to. You're guaranteed that your money'll go directly to help other blue suiters — active duty, Air Force Reserve and National Guard, retirees and dependents.

Maybe you'll help provide a low cost loan for a kid who wants desperately to go to college, but whose recently retired mother or dad can't afford it. Be nice to make that young man's or woman's dream come true, wouldn't it?

Or perhaps your gift might become part of an emergency cash loan for a young blue suit couple who are temporarily strapped because of a big CHAMPUS bill for their child, and need the money to pay for groceries.

If those are your wishes, you'll state that you want your gift to go to the Air Force Aid Society.

If you want to make sure that qualified surviving Air Force spouses, dependents and retirees are able to live in dignity, then you'll earmark your donation for the Air Force Enlisted Men's Widows and Dependents Home and/or Air Force Village.

Pick any one, any two, or all three. Whatever you decide, you'll know that your gift to the Air Force Assistance Fund will aid other members of the Air Force family directly. It's pure people to people.

You're darned right it's satisfying. Don't miss out on your chance to participate — the drive ends March 31.

and 21-gun salute, drew impressive coverage from local news media.

A 1972 graduate of Miami University, Captain Nickell also serves on the Reese Speakers' Bureau, often addressing local civic groups.

Of course, no one could have been in the running for the IP of the Year honors without having a sparkling record on the job.

At the start of 1979 the Southeast Asia veteran was an instructor pilot with the 54th Flying Training Squadron. Performing a variety of aquadron and flight duties such as Runway Supervisory Unit observer, student Gradebook Officer and Flight Safety Officer, Captain Nickell was an immediate choice when the wing sought a new class commander.

In the letter nominating Captain Nickell for the Air Training Command IP of the Year Award, Col. Richard A. Ingram, 64th FTW commander, cited the pilot for his "... ability to convey proven skills and techniques ..."

The letter also noted the recognition given Captain Nickell by the ATC Standardization and Evaluation Team.

Earlier this year, Captain Raymond Graves and Capt. Lee Pitts were named as the T-37 and T-38 Instructor Pilots of the year. The 32-year-old Captain Nickell is the overall wing instructor pilot of the year and will represent Reese at higher competition.

Travel entitlements top 1980 authorization bill

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is one in a series of updates on the status of legislative proposals dealing with Air Force quality of life issues.

By 2Lt Queenie Byars
ATC Office of Public Affairs

Overseas travel entitlements for junior enlisted members plus the number of military dependents abroad were related issues that began in both the Armed Services and Appropriations Committees and became part of the 1980 authorization bill.

When President Carter signed the fiscal 1980 Department of Defense Authorization Act into law Nov. 9, 1979, it established a command-sponsored ceiling of 325,000 which is to be allocated to the armed services by the Secretary of Defense. Whenever the ceiling is exceeded after Sept. 30, 1980, dependent travel will be prohibited.

The bill also provides each service secretary authority in administering travel entitlements in a manner which the secretary believes is fair and in the best interest of the government.

Last summer, the Senate voted to eliminate junior enlisted member travel entitlements and reduce the overseas population of dependents. But the House at that time had not voted on its version of the authorization bill. Yet the House Armed Services Committee had approved a bill to support travel benefits for junior enlisted members and have not placed restrictions on the number of military dependents abroad.

Prior to becoming law, differences between the two versions of the bill were worked out in a joint House/Senate Appropriations Conference Committee.

During the joint conference it was agreed that language prohibiting overseas nonsponsored dependents from using commissaries and base exchanges be deleted from the proposed FY80 defense appropriations bill.

Earlier, the defense subcommittee of the House Appropriations Committee had voted to end these privileges for noncommand-sponsored dependents who reported after Oct. 1, 1979.

The joint conference members also agreed to delete the provision which capped overseas military dependents at 375,000 including nonsponsored from the fiscal 1980 appropriations bill. (ATCNS)

Vice-chief of AF pins on fourth star

The Air Force's 19th vice chief of staff, Gen. Robert C. Mathis, donned his fourth star this weekend.

Formerly the vice commander of Tactical Air Command, General Mathis officially assumed his new post March 1. He replaces Gen. James A. Hill.

General Mathis comes to his new job with 36 years of military service. A 1948 West Point graduate, he is a veteran of both the Korean and Vietnam conflicts. In Vietnam he flew more than 200 combat missions, mostly in A-1 Skyraiders.

He holds both a master's degree and a doctorate in electrical engineering. Before coming to Tactical Air Command in March 1979, he held various posts in Air Force Systems Command as deputy chief of staff for systems, and later as vice commander.

He was the systems program director for the F-111 swing-wing fighter and also participated in development work on the F-15 Eagle. (AFNS)

Several changes set for women's uniforms

Sleeves will be longer, blouses will tuck and fatigues will stay pressed in several changes to uniform items recently approved for Air Force women.

Specifically, items that will be added to the women's clothing bag during 1980 include: a tuck-in, light blue, long-sleeved, cotton/polyester blouse, slated for October; a pantsuit uniform, slated for May; and a new, durable-press fatigue designed especially for women, slated for March.

Several other uniform clothing items for women have been approved by the Air Force for development and testing. These include a maternity overblouse to be worn with maternity service uniforms, and maternity fatigues.

Also included will be an improved sweater, a flight cap and an optional lightweight jacket. (AFNS)

Personnel management team schedules briefings at Reese

Reese officers and airmen will have an opportunity to discuss personnel policy with the policy makers when the Air Force's Personnel Management Team visits the base Wednesday through March 21.

The team is composed of approximately ten air staff and major command members and is led by Col. Robert Valentine.

The purpose of the team's visit is to "spread-the-word" to both officers and airmen on such subjects as: assignments and Force Management, selection board procedures and Benefits and Entitlements.

The team will meet with individuals and groups to discuss the responsiveness of the Air Force's personnel programs to the needs of its members. This will include seminars with different categories of personnel (Officers, NCOs, Air Force Spouses, etc.) and visits by the team members to the work centers and base facilities. Twenty-five persons will be identified for each of the discussion groups. The team members will be visiting work centers at all hours of the day and night to listen to our people.

Briefings for officers will be held at the base theater 1 p.m. on Thursday and at 8 a.m. on March 21. Enlisted briefings are scheduled for 1:30 p.m. on Thursday and at 8:30 p.m. on Friday. The enlisted briefings will be held at the Mathis Recreation Center. All briefings will run approximately two and one-half hours.

The team wants perceptions of all groups on personnel programs and policies. They also hope to receive innovative ideas or approaches concerning services, living conditions, and working conditions, said a personnel spokesman.

The perceptions recorded by the team command quite a bit of attention added the spokesman. Upon return to the Military Personnel Center, the team distributes their comments, observations, and recommendations to the Air Staff offices of primary responsibility, and a comprehensive trip report is forwarded to CSAF.

Air Force announces 0-5 promotion board

The calendar year '80 temporary lieutenant colonel promotion/regular appointment board is scheduled to convene July 21 at Randolph AFB, Texas.

The board, which will meet in the Manpower and Personnel Center, will consider eligible officers in nearly all promotion categories. Medical and dental corps officers are the only exceptions.

Basic eligibility criteria for consideration in the primary zone is a date of rank of Dec. 31, 1976, or before.

Secondary zone consideration by a June 2 board requires a date of rank of Jan. 1, 1977, through Dec. 31, 1978 (1966 and 1967 year groups and officers promoted with these year groups). In addition, officers must have an extended active duty service date of Jan. 21 or earlier and can not have been deferred for promotion to a permanent grade below 0-6.

Those reserve officers selected for promotion will be considered for regular appointment if they are otherwise eligible.

According to a base personnel spokesman, pre-selection briefs will be forwarded to all eligible officers in the next few days.

Anyone with questions about the board should contact a member of the promotions and testing unit, Ext. 3789.

Article 15 rate increases

Although Article 15 punishments were up more than 100 percent from the previous month, one bright spot in the February legal actions roster is that no court martial convictions were handed down.

Two airmen first class received a vacation of previously suspended sentences: one for disobeying a lawful order (Article 91) and the other for possession of marijuana (Article 134). The airman convicted of possession was reduced to E-2 and ordered to forfeit $90 for one month while the other had to forfeit $75 for two months.

In other cases, an airman first class charged with failure to obey under Article 92 received a suspended reduction to airman, 15 days extra duty and forfeiture of $50 for two months. $25 for two months was suspended.

Two airmen first class, both charged under Article 86 with failure to go, received Article 15s. One received a suspended reduction to airman, 15 days extra duty and forfeiture of $100 for one month. The other was reduced to airman and ordered to forfeit $75 for two months.

An airman charged with violations of two counts of Article 92 and one violation of Article 134 received a suspended reduction in grade, 14 days extra duty, forfeiture of $150 for two months and 14 days restriction to base. An airman first class charged with only one count of failure to obey got a suspended reduction to airman.

One senior airman and one airman basic were both charged with striking a person under Article 128. The senior airman received a suspended reduction to airman first class, three days extra duty and forfeited $150 for two months (all in excess of $50 for two months was suspended.) The airman basic was ordered to forfeit $150 for two months, $100 of which was suspended, and 21 days extra duty.

The heaviest penalty imposed during February was on a staff sergeant charged with three counts of violating a lawful general regulation (Article 92). He was reduced to sergeant, ordered to forfeit $300 for two months and received 45 days extra duty, 15 days of which was suspended.

Article 92 also figured in the punishment of an airman first class, who was further charged with failure to go, a violation of Article 86. His penalty included a suspended reduction to airman, forfeiture of $200 for 2 months and 30 days extra duty. He was also restricted to base for 15 days.

Another airman first class charged with failure to go received a suspended reduction in grade, 14 days extra duty and forfeiture of $50 for one month.

GROWING WITH THE GREAT SOUTHWEST

Leadership class graduates tonight

Ten noncommissioned officers are scheduled to graduate from NCO Leadership School during an awards banquet tonight at the Officers Club for Class 80-D.

The banquet is scheduled for 6:30 p.m. in the Daedalian Room. Guest speaker for the $5.25 per plate dinner will be Col. John W. Rushfeldt, deputy commander for Maintenance.

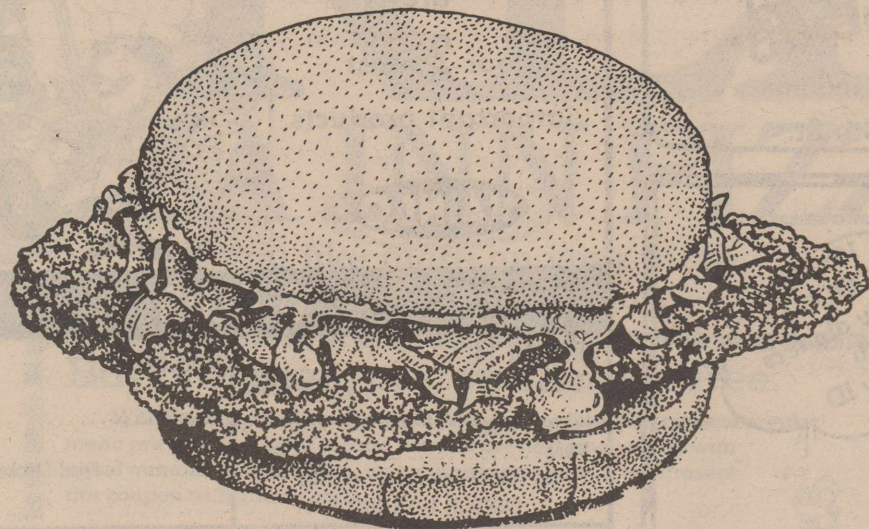

Scheduled to graduate tonight are: SSgt. Glenn Arola, 35th Flying Training Squadron; Sgt. Thomas G. Youts, SSgt. Joseph D.M. Miller, Sgt. Arles G. Hunt and Roberto Reyes Jr., Organizational Maintenance; Sgt. Nickie Forge, Field Maintenance; and Sgt. Paul M. Bunting, Supply. Rounding out the list of graduates are Sgt. William F. Williams, Hospital; SSgt. Nathan J. Jordan, 1958th Communications Squadron and Sgt. George R. Marshall, 54th Flying Training Squadron.

Class 80-D is the first NCOLS group to graduate since November. There are only four classes scheduled for 1980. The next class is slated to begin on May 12.

Sergeants or staff sergeants with more than four years in service that haven't been to NCOLS and want to get into the next class should contact their individual supervisor or squadron first sergeant as soon as possible.

Catch something new at Whataburger.

Guess what's making a big splash at Whataburger? Our new golden fried fish sandwich—the WhataCatch. We deep fry it when you get here, top it with fresh lettuce and a special tartar sauce and serve it on a hot toasted bun. (We'll even add a slice of mellow cheese if you like.) So come haul in a bigger, tastier fish sandwich. Because this is one catch you shouldn't let get away.

Special Olympics

Volunteers are still needed to help out at the Special Olympics on March 29.

The athletic competition for handicapped will be held at Estacado High School.

To volunteer, contact 2nd Lt. Charles Brady at Ext. 3446 or 885-4883.

A meeting for all Reese volunteers has been scheduled for 5:30 p.m., March 26, at the Mathis Recreation Center.

Effective writing

An improved Effective Writing Course is now available at Reese.

MSgt. George Lyons, NCOIC of Base Administration, explained Monday that the course is open to civilians and military personnel (E-4 and above).

Use a combination of films and exercises, the three hour course stresses clear organization and direct expression.

The first course will be held in late March. For more information contact Sergeant Lyons at Ext. 3437 or 3377.

Well done

A "tip of the hat" goes to George Hodges, assistant and commissary manager, who retired here Wednesday. Hodges, who has been at Reese since 1962, has 22 years of combined military and civil service.

WOC retreat

The Reese Women of the Chapel are sponsoring one-day retreat at the Christian Renewal Center on March 21.

Sister Margaret Carew of the Shalom Convent in San Antonio will be the guest speaker. She presently serves as the prison chaplain for the Bexar County Detention Center.

Anyone wanting to attend the retreat should call Mary Carsten at Ext. 3237.

Gate hours

Hours of operation for the housing area gates that intersect 4th Street are from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. at Wagner and George Street. The McGuire Street gate is open from 6 a.m. to 9 p.m. daily.

During periods of high winds and snow the gates are closed to prevent damage to the barriers and vehicles entering or departing Reese Village.

Reesette parking

Reesette parking has been designated as 15 minute parking for customers. Security Police will monitor the lot to insure compliance.

MAST sets hours

Hours of operation have been set for the free laundry open to all married Airman sharing all Married Airman Sharing Together members.

Located in MAST's new facility, building 39, the laundry is open from 8 a.m. to 4:45 p.m. on weekdays. It is also open from 2 to 5 p.m. each Sunday, starting this week the laundry will be open from 6 to 9 p.m. each Thursday night.

Skeet shoot set

Reese's Rod and gun club will hold a registered skeet shoot Saturday and Sunday. According to Art Christie, club president, the shooting begins at 10 a.m. both days.

For more information call Christie at Ext. 3841.

"PARDNER KEEP IT AT DOUBLE NICKEL"

Youth Center offers variety of programs

by Steven Holmes
Public Affairs specialist
Finding something for kids to do that is safe, entertaining and inexpensive is sometimes extremely difficult, especially in these times of double-digit inflation.

Reese's Youth Center offers a solution to this dilemma. Dependents of active military, retired military, DoD and non-appropriated fund civilians that are between the ages of six and 18 are eligible for membership in the center. The cost of membership is $.50 per month per individual or $5 per year. A family membership is available for $10 per year.

A sample of Youth center programs would include youth baseball teams for boys and girls ages five-15. All equipment except gloves and shoes is furnished.

Each Friday night is disco and dance time. Music starts at 6 p.m. and free snacks are served.

A variety of tournaments including shuffleboard, chess and checkers, cards pool and a wide selection of table games are also offered by the center.

Parents have an opportunity to participate in the activities of the club by donating time to act as coaches, counselors and chaperones. Those interested in helping out may contact the director at Ext. 3820.

Volleyball team wins; enters ATC tourney

Despite having had just four practices, the Reese varsity volleyball squad scored an impressive victory last weekend and appears ready for Air Training Command regional play this weekend.

Headed by player-coach Bob Gray, the varsity squad walked away with first-place honors at Dyess AFB, Texas last weekend. Reese beat a field that included Sheppard AFB, Lackland AFB, Laughlin AFB, Goodfellow AFB, Dyess and two civilian squads from Abilene.

Reese opened the tourney with a 15-3, 14-16 and 15-4 win over tournament host Dyess. The base squad followed that with a 15-6 and 15-7 rout of Abilene Citizens Electric and a 15-0 and 15-1 walloping of Abilene City.

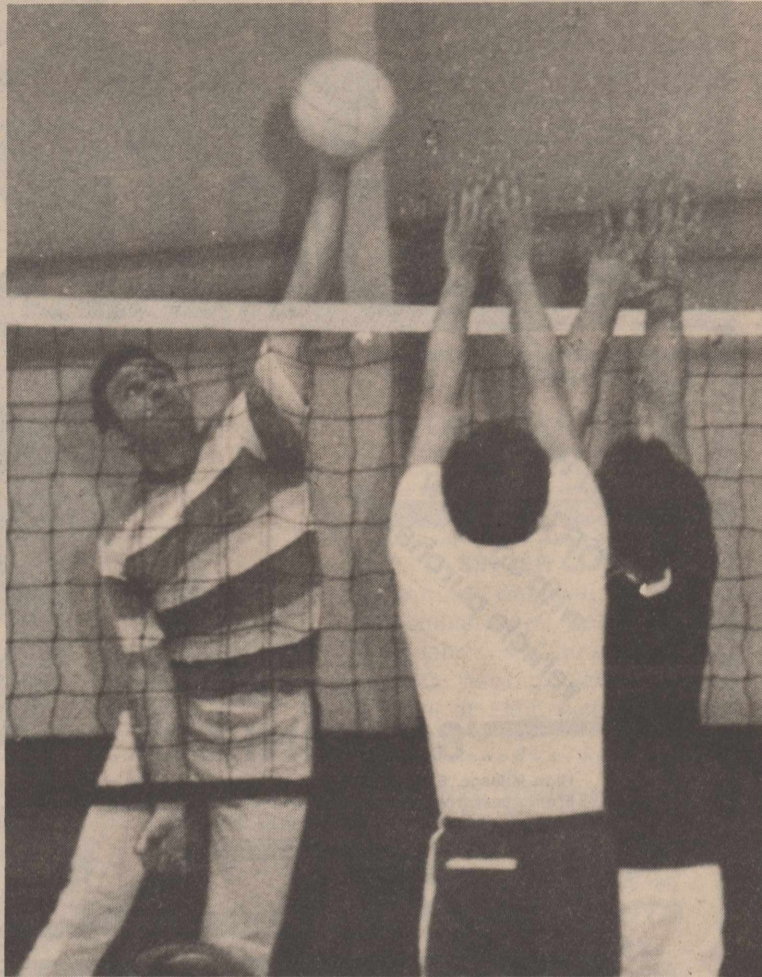

That win carried Reese into the finals against Abilene City. The local squad upset Reese in the first match of the double elimination championship, defeating the base players 0-15, 15-13 and 15-12.

Reese regrouped in the rubber match to win the tournament, 15-9 and 15-5.

This weekend both the men's and women's teams will be in command tournament action.

The men travel to Randolph AFB today for the Central Division regional against Randolph, Lackland and Laughlin. The women will be at Laughlin for their regional. The varsity women haven't played any other varsity squads, but; they have defeated two intramural teams.
