MWR slates family picnic, country music

Country music and wrist wrestling competition top the schedule of entertainment for this weekend's family picnic.

The annual Memorial Weekend Picnic, sponsored by Morale Welfare and Recreation, begins at 4 p.m. Saturday and is scheduled to run through 2 a.m. Sunday.

Kicking off the picnic activities will be the first official wrist wrestling tournament to be held at Reese. Co-sponsored by MWR and a local merchant, competition will be held in six weight divisions. The tourney is open to men and women. Those wishing to compete must register at the Mathis Recreation Center by 5 p.m. today. For more information about the tournament contact Bob McFall at Ext. 5787.

"The Golden Years of Country Music" will start its show at 8:30 p.m. The group hails from South Plains College in Levelland, Texas. At 11 p.m., the country group "Brush Fire" will start its three-hour show.

Salute our fallen comrades

by Col. Richard Hearne
Air Base Group commander

Memorial Day was originally set aside in 1868 to honor the American who died during the Civil War.

We still reserve this occasion to remember and honor all of our fellow Americans who have died in battles and wars. The Americans died for this country and for their belief in the principles for which it stands. We should all be proud of those Americans, because through their sacrifice we are able to enjoy a very important element of our lives — freedom.

Occasions such as Memorial Day give us the opportunity to reflect back on the many contributions that our Americans serving their country have made to achieve and preserve world peace. It meant a great deal to most of them and they were willing to give their lives because of it. They gave their lives for a reason, a cause, a way of life. Let's not forget it — and then deepen our convictions about serving our country today.

Be proud, be honored, be willing — to do what others before us have done — serve our country no matter the cost and be able to say that we made "a difference" in our Air Force.

Historically, Memorial Day weekends have ended in more tragic deaths than our previous wars. Numerous service personnel have met untimely deaths on our highways and in sporting accidents. Don't add to the statistics this weekend. It would be a great loss to us.

It is enough to ask your families to share in your service to your country — don't force them to share in our grief if you become a statistic this weekend. Please, have a safe holiday. Don't drink and drive, observe the speed limits and return safely to Lubbock. We have a more important cause for which you are needed. It's called America!

For those of you who are staying in town, we look forward to seeing you at the picnic grounds on Saturday for a fun filled day.

Colonel Hearne

Washers and dryers

I am an occupant of Dormitory 420. I am calling to complain about the washers and dryers in this dorm.

Ever since I have been here it seems like one of the dryers has worked every once in a while and the rest of the time nothing works. I have called the department over there to get them to take care of it and the last time it took them three weeks to get over here.

It is unsanitary. Whenever they come through to inspect our rooms we have dirty clothes in piles waiting to be put in the washer and dryer and none of them work. I just want something done about it.

Dear In-A-Spin

Central Dormitory Management is doing everything possible to eliminate problems with the machines.

Effective immediately, there will be a walk-through each dormitory daily before 4:45 p.m. to check the condition of the washers and dryers.

According to our log, no machine has been down longer than 24 hours. However, the machines are down often due to overloading.

You and other occupants may help us in correcting the problem by calling in the equipment when it's broken. Please do not assume someone else has called.

If you have any problems in the future, call Central Dorm Management at Ext. 3262 or 3408.

Parking on lawns

There is a Security Police car parked on the lawn just outside Hangar 82. Just a few days ago a man in our shop received a ticket from the Security Police because a tire was touching the grass. If the Security Police are going to set examples for us, then it appears they should not park completely over the lawn after writing up a man a few days earlier.

Dear Parker

Our Security Police are no more exempt from adherence to Base Regulations and requirements than other base patrons. Sometimes during periods of urgent response to incident/accidents when parking is some distance from the incident or not immediately available, common sense dictates that the patrol use any available space. I doubt if this was the case at Hangar 82 at the time of the violation.

Not only is parking on the grass a deterrent to good grass maintenance and orderly parking management, but it can be hazardous. Most American cars are equipped with catalytic converters, which reach very high temperatures. If the grass is sufficiently dry, it may result in a fire. Our patrol officers are advised that they are liable to the same restrictions and must obey the traffic code and Air Force regulations just as every other vehicle operator on Reese Air Force Base.

I only wish you had identified the officer involved so that the matter could have been taken up with him directly.

Traffic mishaps kill more than wars

Safety editorial

Memorial Day began almost 112 years ago. Its birthplace was in Columbus, Miss., where a tribute was paid to the Civil War warriors who died in battle. We now have a national holiday set aside in memory of all those who have died in defense of our country.

Perhaps we should set aside another day each year in memory of those who have died needlessly in U.S. highway crashes. And why not? More people have been slaughtered on our highways than in all U.S. wars combined and this includes over half a million who died in the Civil War alone.

Scores of people are killed and thousands crippled in car wrecks every day. It's commonplace.

These tragic events are seldom publicized outside the immediate area where they occur.

Major wars, on the other hand, occur in cycles of 10 to 20 years and make big headlines around the world — sensationalized — sells papers! We never see front page headlines reading, "CARS KILL 150 AMERICANS TODAY" or "5,000 AMERICANS CRIPPLED ON HIGHWAYS TODAY". Although these headlines would be true and accurate on almost any given day in the year, they're never printed. But rest assured, if that many people died in a single train or plane crash, the entire world would know about it within a few hours.

The solution to highway carnage will neither be found in Congress nor in Detroit — it rests with the individual. We should keep this in mind during the forthcoming Memorial holiday and the ensuing summer months; a fun-filled period of vacations, outdoor recreational activities and extended driving. Although a lot of fun, it's also the most deadly time of the year. Vehicle mishaps usually lead the death toll with drownings running a close second.

In a nut shell, here's what to do; Buckle those equator hoops (safety belts), obey the double nickels (55 mph), use the buddy system during water activities and practice temperance. Have fun, but take time-out to reflect on the reason you have time off on Memorial Day and give some thought to the "Never Printed Headlines".

President Carter sets national day of prayer

President Jimmy Carter has designated Memorial Day as a day of prayer for permanent peace. He designated the hour beginning at 11 o'clock in the morning of May 26 as a time to unite in prayer.

The presidential proclamation reads: "It has been a national tradition since the end of the Civil War to remember on Memorial Day the men and women of America who fought and died on the battlefield.

"We owe them a debt that can never be annulled. Their sacrifice endowed us with liberty and made our country a leader among nations.

"But on this day of mourning and of homage to the heroes of the past, let us also remember the duty we owe to coming generations to be firm in the cause of liberty.

"This past year we have had abundant proof that American courage still lives -- eight Americans gave up their lives and others were seriously injured in the attempt to free their fellow Americans held hostage in Iran. We can take pride in our concern for national honor and in the firmness and restraint with which Americans face crisis." (AFNS)

GROWING WITH THE GREAT SOUTHWEST

Why is it military people are ready to write to their congressional representatives at the drop of a hat, but are reluctant to exercise their voting rights?

We, as members of the Air Force, stand guard against the threat of arms, intimidation and coercion. But what about the silent threat -- apathy?

Elections are not decided by the silent majority, but by those who take an active part in the voting process.

America's more than 200 years of democracy testifies to the basic soundness of our system.

Too often, we forget the system depends on people at every level of government. Since only a limited number can serve in public office at any given moment, that means other ways must be used for the rest of us to make our voices heard.

Time and again, elections have been won and legislation has been passed by only a few votes.

Cast your vote for your sake, for America's sake!

Custodial contract describes services

Section F of the custodial contract describes the type of service and area to be serviced for those facilities which receive contract custodial care.

According to Larry Ballard, quality assurance evaluator, facility managers are responsible for checking contract custodial services to see that the work performed is up to the standards described in the contract.

Frequency of the services described in the contract is set forth on the back of the Reese bulletin during the last week of each month. This schedule will tell facility managers what days their building is due for service and what service to expect on which day.

Ballard urged all facility managers to keep close check on the services provided and to report any discrepancies to him by calling the recording device at Ext. 3586.

'Years of danger, crisis' warns Secretary Mark

"It does not require an astute prophet to predict that the 1980's will be years of danger, years of crisis. That word 'crisis' is the central issue, I think, because it expresses an attitude toward events as well as reflecting the events themselves," said Secretary of the Air Force Hans Mark.

Dr. Mark described the crisis this nation will face during this decade and what the Air Force will do to face this crisis during a community dining-out at Tinker AFB, Okla.

"The most serious danger we face right now is our dependence on foreign oil." A second danger, he pointed out, is a clear change in the overall military balance between the United States and the Soviet Union.

"A third danger to us — and this is one that is most vexing right now — is the problem of dealing with terrorist activities and of protecting our citizens overseas from injury by terrorists," said Dr. Mark.

To face these crises, the secretary said, "First and foremost, we must realize that we are a great world power, with correspondingly great world-wide responsibilities.

"Second, we must bend every effort to become, once again, roughly independent of foreign supplies of oil.

"The third thing we must do is to modernize our military forces so that they are capable of meeting the military threat that the Russians and their allies will continue to present in the 1980's.

To do this, Dr. Mark believes the Air Force has three priorities.

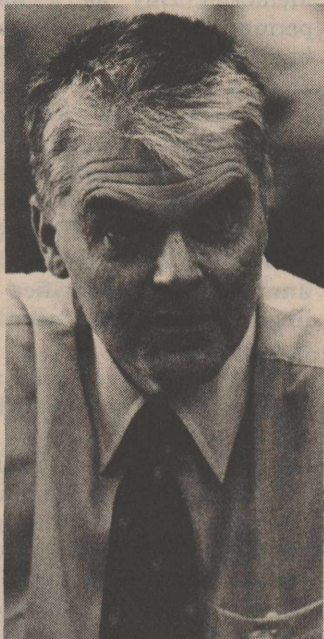

"First, we must make certain that we can maintain strategic equivalence in our nuclear deterrent forces.

"The second thing we must do is to make certain that we have the mobility to establish our presence anywhere in the world whenever it needs to be done.

"Finally we need to exploit what we can do in space.

"These, then, are the military steps that I believe the Air Force needs to take in order to create a situation where the United States will once again grow and match the military potential of the Russians.

"I am sure that we will muster the courage and the resources to prevail. If we do not, we will be relegated to the dustbin of history, and this is surely not a fate we can accept for this nation," (AFNS)

Air Force supports Cuban relief effort

The Cuban relief effort has received increased support from Air Force people.

Some 10,000 Cuban refugees have arrived at the Fort Walton Beach, Fla. fairground since the effort began.

To aid the effort, Air Force people identified by the Air Force Manpower and Personnel Center, Randolph AFB, Texas, are being airlifted to Eglin AFB, Fla. Many were selected because they speak Spanish and can double as interpreters.

Air Training Command people are responding to the call for help.

Keesler AFB, Miss., sent two base trucks loaded with 80,000 pounds of food from the base commissary to the Florida panhandle base. In addition, the base contracted with local trucking companies to move food and bedding. One company took 1,875 mattresses and 2,120 beds while another transported 20,700 pounds of perishable food.

Twenty-three members of the 3482nd School Squadron, Corry Station, Fla., volunteered to help establish the processing and relocation center at Elgin. They acted as interpreters, worked in construction, issued clothing, and helped medical personnel during 12-hour shifts from May 6 to May 12.

ATC's five training centers, Chanute AFB, Ill., Keesler, Lackland and Sheppard AFB's, Texas, and Lowry AFB, Colo., have been asked to provide Security Police augmentation to Eglin. Each base has been asked to provide two people.

The Military Airlift Command is airlifting Air Force people and equipment into Florida. It is also providing security and law enforcement assistance, along with the Tactical Air Command, Strategic Air Command, Air Force Systems Command ATC.

Tactical Air Command is also providing a field hospital and kitchens.

Medical personnel from Brooks AFB, Texas, and Wilford Hall Medical Center, Lackland AFB, Texas, have been flown in to help.

Members of the Air Force Commissary Service are providing hot meals for the refugees, and a unit of the Air Force Communications Command is providing communications equipment.

The Engineering and Services Center, Tyndall AFB, Fla., planned requirements for engineering and support and selected the base of operations.

Reese airman hit by pickup

An 18-year-old Reese airman was killed May 17 while reportedly hitchhiking back to Reese.

According to Office of Special Investigation reports, a westbound pickup truck struck AB Donale B. Livermore on Fourth Street at approximately 2:20 a.m.

The driver of the pickup, a Levelland man, has been charged with involuntary manslaughter.

Airman Livermore, a native of Schuylerville, N.Y. has been stationed at Reese only 43 days.

Airman Livermore was assigned to the 64th Civil Engineering Squadron as an apprentice carpenter specialist.

It is the second time in a year that an airman has been killed walking along Fourth Street. On May 27, 1979, AIC Louis Wagner was hit and killed at the intersection of Fourth Street and FM-179. Airman Wagner was walking to a service station for gasoline.

The only better time than today to buy a home was yesterday. Yes, interest rates are higher than in our recent history. But as inflation continues, the mortgage payment you commit to today will be paid for with cheaper and cheaper dollars. Remember that inflation pushes up the value of the home you own; it also pushes up the cost of the home you postpone owning. Thus waiting for lower interest rates usually results in higher down payments and higher monthly payments. Postponing buying also delays the tax shelter of interest you can claim for ownership. Should you buy now and interest rates subside substantially you can refinance, or depending on your lender's policies, negotiate for interest adjustment. Explanations about procedures or consultations about marketing the home you now own may be obtained from any of our professional staff of realtors. We welcome your inquiries and say "thanks" for past opportunities to meet your buying and selling needs.

Swimming classes will be offered through the youth center and will be held from 11 a.m. - noon daily. Contact the center at Ext. 3820 for further information.

Supply Squadron gets patch

Reese's Supply squadron personnel are sporting a new addition to their uniforms. a subdued squadron per patch.

The Air Force has officially approved the patch design of former airman Cheryl Wente.

The patch on a blue background shows a tornado in the upper right depicting readiness for all contingencies, a lightning bolt for rapid response and gothic columns signifying the support nature of the supply mission.

A wooden replica of the new patch will be added to the Wing Conference room display and also to the Air Training Command NCO Academy display at Lackland AFB, Tex.

THE AIR FORCE OFFERS A GREAT WAY OF LIFE!

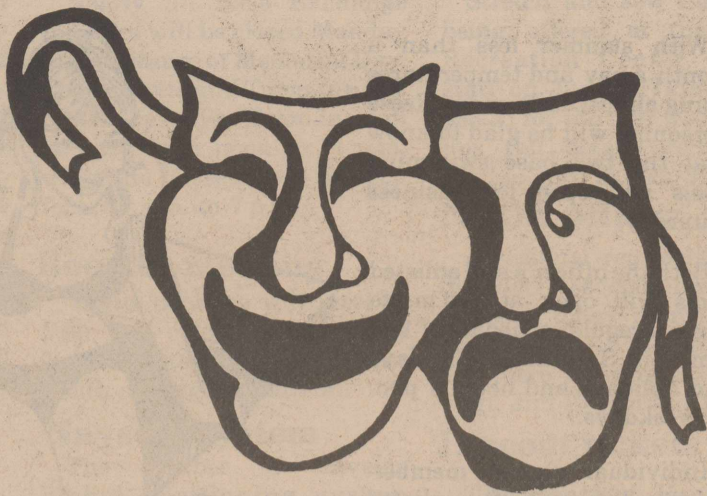

Recreation center presents first dinner-theater in June

The Marriage Go Round," a dinner theater production, will be featured at the Mathis Recreation Center next month.

Bob McFall, Mathis program director, announced earlier this week that the center will hold its first dinner theater production on June 10.

Sixty-four teams are scheduled to battle their way through 54 holes this weekend during the Reese Invitational Partnership Tournament.

Dick Davis, Reese golf course manager, says that this year's field is one of the strongest assembled for the three-day tournament. At least eight teams are given a solid shot at winning the championship.

Among the pretourney favorites are the teams of Charles Tanner and Karl Mollet (the 1979 Reese champs), Jack Kearney and Mark Garret, Ford Robertson and Randy Robertson, Dick Alexander and Rich Alexander, Mike Farrage and Don Neff and the duo of Bill West and Randle Reiger. Others include Moses Stublefield and Tom Williams and Steve Locke and Rex Robertson.

The team of Kearney and Garrett should be the team to beat. Kearney normally destroys the Reese course and Garrett was the 1979 Lubbock City Champion. In 1978 Kearney and former Air Force Academy teammate Kevin Heise trounced the field by carding a record 35-under-par win. That effort smashed the previous tourney mark set by Steve Long and Jegg Mitchell (third in the Colonial a week ago) by 17 strokes.

And for the first half of last year's tourney Kearney dominated again, posting a 12 under par 94 through 21 holes on his own. But high winds shot his team score to a 75 the last day and he finished a disheartening fifth.

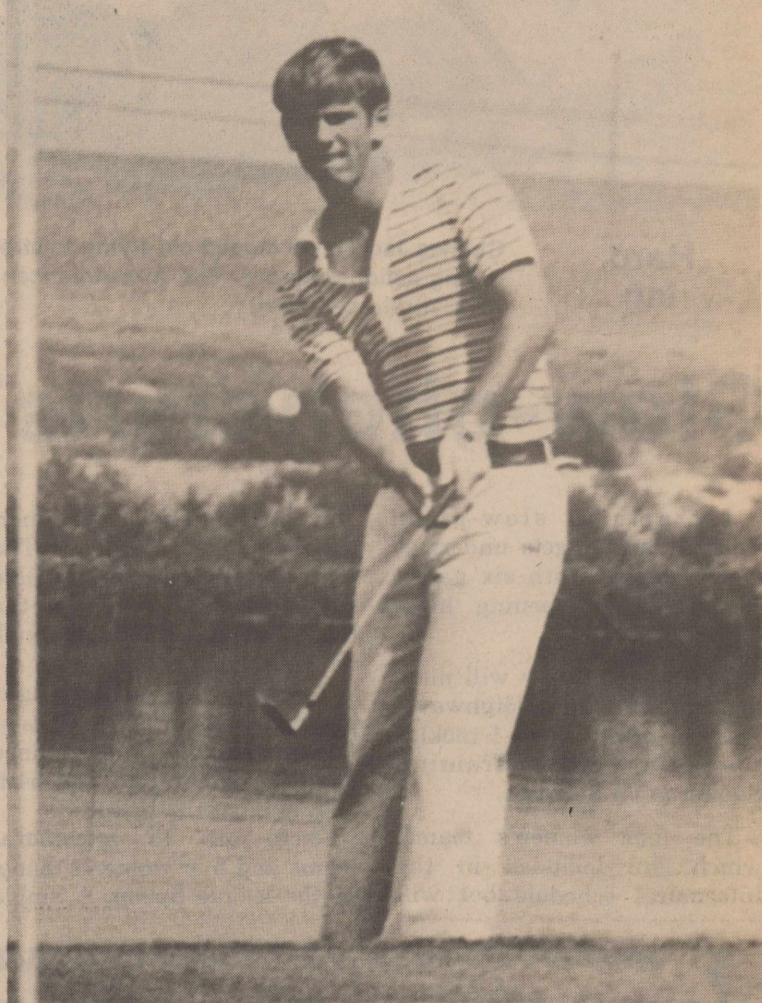

"I'm really looking forward to this year," said Kearney during a practice round last week. "We let it slip away last year, but, with Mark playing with me this year I think we have a real good shot at the title."

West and Reiger should also be among the leaders when the teams head out for the final round on the 6,332 yard par 72 course. The duo has already won the Littlefield Partnership this spring and finished second at Muleshoe.

Mollett and Tanner, who responded with a final round 66 to snatch victory last year, will be hard to knock from the throne, says Davis.

The tourney starts at 8:30 p.m. Saturday, Sunday and Monday. The teams will be divided into four flights after the completion of Saturday's opening round.

Sports in brief

Eye protection

A recent report by the National Society to Prevent Blindness Sports Council states that close to 10,000 eye injuries related to racquet games were reported last year. Dr. Paul Vinger, chairman of the council, suggests wearing glasses with plastic, not glass, lenses for tennis or badminton, and for squash and racquetball, where the racquet itself is a hazard, he recommends eye protection with polycarbonate plastic made to industrial specifications.

Reese bowlers

After 32 weeks of play in "The Bullshooters League," Reese's Hatchetmen came out on top of the eight team league in finals competition held last week. Members of the first place team are Bill Owen, Dan Flynn, Bob Hotaling, Bob Gregorio and Bruce Braswell.

Rod, Gun Club

The Rod and Gun Club will hold its summer meeting at 7 p.m. June 5 at the clubhouse. A cookout follows at 8 p.m.

The skeet range is open on Saturday and Sunday from 1 to 4 p.m. Call Art Christie at Ext. 3841 for more information.

Rattlers win again

Reese's varsity soccer team won its second exhibition game last weekend, beating a team from the Lubbock Soccer Association, 2-1.

Player-coach Craig Ford downplayed the win noting that it was just an exhibition game. However, he did comment on the "fine" play of Reese's new goalie Sean O'Rouke.

"Sean played very well for us Sunday," said Ford. He had about 15 good saves in goal and kept us in the game until our offense got going in the second half.

Reese starts its regular season play on June 8.

Fast-pitch team

The Rattler varsity fast-pitch softball team will be in action Wednesday night against J.L. Motors. The game will be played on Stubbs Field at 8 p.m.

T-Ball starts

T-Ball action starts Saturday at the Youth Center field. There is still time for children five to seven-years old to register. Contact the Youth Center staff at Ext. 3820 for complete details.

Soccer exhibition

A Soccer exhibition will be held here Monday pitting the Lubbock Squirts against an all star team from the Lubbock Soccer Association.

The Squirts, who won the eight-and under division of the Haggar Invitational, the world's single site largest soccer tournament, last year, are the top youth squad in the area.

The exhibition game is set for 1 p.m. on the base soccer field. Sponsors of the match say it is being held to generate interest in youth soccer at Reese.

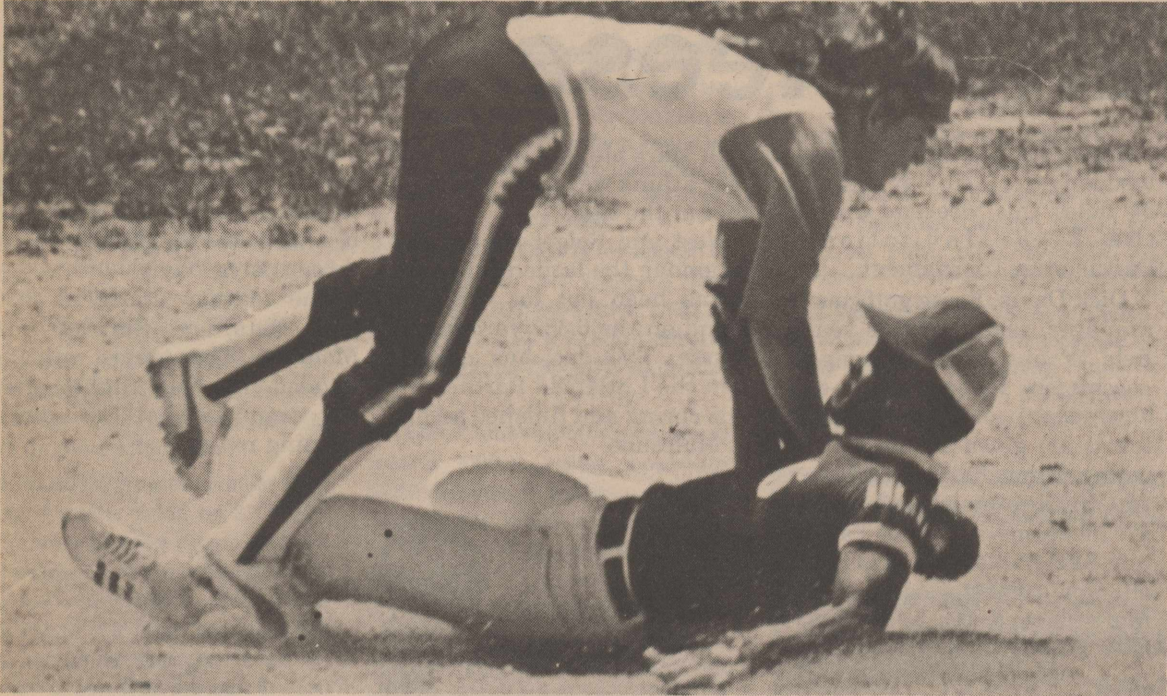

Super stars

Reese's first "Superstar" competition is set to start June 7. Entry blanks are available at the base gym.

Competitors must enter four events (basketball free throws, chin ups, one and one-half mile run and standing long jump). There are eight more events: softball throw, football throw, kneeling basketball throw, swimming, bowling, putting, sit ups and push ups. Entrants must compete in four of the eight optional events.

For more information call the base gym at Ext. 3207.

Cobras claim tournament crown

Hard tag

Paced by the home run power of Robert White and Darrell Lippy, the Shallowaterbed Cobras rolled to the championship of the Afro-American Club Invitational Softball Tournament here last weekend.

Adding the Reese crown to the New Mexico tourney title garnered earlier this year, the Cobras won the double elimination tourney with a spotless 5-0 mark. The slugging Lippy and White each tallied four homers in the weekend tourney. The Cobras beat K&P Motors in the championship game, 8-2.

Reese's Afro-American Club finished sixth in the 16 team field.

This weekend the club is sponsoring a women's slow-pitch tourney. Thirteen teams have signed up for the two day event. Action is scheduled to begin Saturday at 9 a.m.

Intramural slow-pitch softball action gets underway here Tuesday with six games scheduled for opening night play.

At 5 p.m., Supply will meet Sturon-4 on War Highway's field-one while Sturon-1 tackles the 35th Flying Training Squadron on field-two.

The four women's teams, which are included in the intramural schedule but will only play against each other, are all in action at 6:10 p.m. The Better Halves face the Blue Diamonds on field-one while the Red Hots battle the Dusty Devil on field-two.

Rounding out opening night play will be the 7:20 pairings of Organizational Maintenance against OMS-2 and the 54th FTS against the Hospital.

There are 15 intramural teams and four women's teams in the league lineup. A single
