

Creamery Opens With Hundreds of Visitors To Make Event Historic

Many See Butter in Process of Manufacture at Plant.

Hundreds of persons, considerably in excess of a thousand, from various communities in Floyd County Saturday visited the plant of the Floydada Creamery on Inspection Day, Saturday of last week, and saw the operations that go to make up the manufacture of butter from butterfat.

Day Eventful One

Whether the day proves to be an eventful one for the county as a whole remains to be seen, but there was no doubting the general interest and the manifest pleasure of the management got from the visits of hundreds of people who poured through the plant from mid-forenoon until a late hour in the afternoon, watched the cream as it entered the front door and went through the process of pasteurizing, churning, packing and to the refrigerator.

E. L. Angus, the manager, and Oscar Penland, buttermaker, were all smiles when the day was through although mighty tired from a strenuous job of handling the large number of visitors while also giving their regular duties attention. During the afternoon they were assisted in handling the crowds by Walter Fuller and Robt. L. Brock Lawton, Oklahoma creamery operators, who are interested in the enterprise.

Two of the interested visitors at the plant were Mrs. Walter Fuller and daughter, Mildred, of Lawton, who were here for their first trip to the plains. The Fullers were guests of Mrs. and Mrs. J. V. Daniel during their stay here.

During the day ice cream and macaroons were served the visitors.

More than 1000 cocoanut cookies and thirty gallons of ice cream were served to the 1500 visitors at the formal opening of the Creamery Saturday. Misses Robbie Archer and Mildred Strickland and Mrs. Oscar Penland acted as hostesses to the visitors.

Outstanding Credit Record For West Texas

Conference of Secretaries and Loan Officials Held With Land Bank Head.

W. A. Cates, president, W. C. Hanna, vice president, J. R. Readhimer, G. M. Bullard, directors, and J. K. Green, secretary-treasurer of the Floydada National Farm Loan Association, attended a farm loan conference at Lubbock Thursday of last week, along with other secretary-treasurers and officials of the south plains district, and executive officers of the Federal Land Bank of Houston.

An outstanding credit record held by West Texas since the establishment of the Farm Loan Banks now twelve years ago was disclosed at the conference. In an address, Judge Gossett, president of the Federal Land Bank of Houston, announced that in its twelve years of operations the Houston Bank had made loans of $185,000,000 to over 63,000 Texas farmers and ranchmen. Of this number of loans the bank has had fifty-four foreclosures and not one of them in the West Texas Division of the Tenth Federal Land Bank District. This record of farmers and ranchmen of the "Great American Desert" is not equalled by any other section of the United States, it is said.

At present the bank has outstanding over $40,000,000 in loans in the West Texas District.

Baker-Campbell Co. Will Remodel Store

More than $2500 will be spent during the next two weeks on remodeling and extending the length of the Surringer-Farris building at the corner of California and Main, occupied by the Baker-Campbell Company. The building is being extended some nine feet to include a space between it and the building immediately west. The show windows will be completely remodeled and a tile front put on the building. The plans also call for a skylight near the center of the store.

In making the announcements of the change this week, managers of the Baker-Campbell Company stated that an elevated department would be placed in the rear for the ready-to-wear department. The entire stock and fixtures will be rearranged and remodeled. B. L. Blacklock stated this week.

Work began on the building Tuesday of this week.

Miss Captola Hardgrove, who has been attending Baylor College at Belton, returned home Sunday to spend the summer.

Slight Increase Made In Taxable Valuations

New Zones Created Over County by Commissioners' Court Board of Equalization.

With the exception of late improvements there will only be a slight increase in the total taxable valuations of Floyd County when the Commissioners' Court, acting as an Equalization Board, completes its work. With the assistance of Henson W. Davis, who was employed by the Court, the Commissioners expect to complete their work this week.

Re-districting the entire County into zones has permitted the Board to increase some of the valuations while some have been decreased. The highest valuations in the County will be that property immediately surrounding Floydada and Lockney and this will not exceed $2400 per quarter section. The majority of the County will be valued at between $2,000 and $2300 per quarter section, according to County Judge Wm. McGehee.

"Some increase in certain sections of the County occasioned by the additional shipping facilities furnished those sections have been made but the average value of other sections will not be materially changed," Judge McGehee said.

Mr. Davis has been employed to remain with the Board after the equalization has been completed and the date set for the hearings. No definite date for the hearings has been set.

"The school is for the benefit of students who failed in some of their work during the regular term or those who are doing additional or new work to round out their credits," Mr. Patty said.

She will also attend the summer session.

Miss Collins is one of forty Texas students who will receive her degree at this time, leading twenty-four out-of-state groups in number.

Tom P. Steen, for twenty years a pioneer resident of Floyd County, died at the home of his son, Dr. Carl T. Steen at Norman, Okla., following a stroke of apoplexy on Saturday of last week. Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at the home of his son Homer Steen, here in Floydada, and interment was made in the Floydada Cemetery.

Many close friends of the family and early settlers in this section were present at the funeral services Wednesday afternoon. Rev. G. T. 'Highways Through Co. Are Not Permanent'

State Highway Department Says That Markers Are Not Indications of Permanency

State and federal highway markers through Floyd County on State highway No. 28 and Federal highway No. 70 are not to be considered in any way as an indication that the present location of the road is permanent a letter from the State Highway Department to County Judge McGehee states.

The markers were placed by the Department last week on the highway as it is now maintained and the letter to the Judge serves as a warning to those having or planning locations on the highway.

None of the markers are to be considered permanent and until the highway is paved changes may be made in the routing, the letter states.

From the information received by the Judge it appears that the route of the highway will never be settled in the County until it is paved or at least preparations are made for the paving.

Pioneers Jubilant Is Typical Picnic

Marion Day Arrested

Not content to leave anything undone that would remind them of early days in Floyd County a number of the "younger" settlers attending the celebration held here Tuesday "arrested" Marion Day of Lockney and charged him with giving away intoxicating liquor thirty-nine years ago. In making the "arrest" "Sheriff" S. B. McCleskey experienced some difficulty in handling the culprit and not until R. B. Smith came to his assistance was Mr. Day led to "jail."

But the jail proved no stronger to-day than in the days gone by and in a few minutes, Mr. Day appeared back on the scene and secured Pink L. Parrish to defend him. Artie Baker immediately took the side of the prosecution and the case was tried before "Judge" F. P. Henry and the entire group of pioneers witnessed the trial.

The first witness called was Jim McLain who testified that it was "darn good liquor and I believe that he should be acquitted." Other witnesses were called but none of them would testify for the State and the defendant was released on the promise that he would tell where the remainder of the liquor was.

The arrest was made during the speech of one of the old timers and in typical fashion it broke the meeting up for a short time. According to the pioneers a similar event occurred at every picnic held in the County for a number of years.

Monday Is Trades Day With Local Merchants

Floydada's third First Monday Trades Day has been set by retail merchants of this city for Monday, June 3. The trades day event is arranged by local merchants, working together with the firm of Seale and McDonald, auctioneers, to provide a big, free monthly auction market for the benefit of the farmers of the county who want to buy or sell at auction.

Response to previous auction offers and special Trades Day bargains, that it was generally agreed to follow this feature this month. Crowds at the sales have been holding up fine and the farmers of the section indicate that they are anxious for the Floydada firms to continue the practice, it was stated by Jno. McDonald, member of the auctioneer firm.

The auction sale opens at 10 o'clock in the forenoon and continues through the afternoon until all property for sale is sold. Grounds for the auction are east of the square. Special hitching racks near the auction grounds make it an easy matter to sell live stock, it has been pointed out by the auctioneers.

Farmers throughout this section are invited by both the local firms and the co-operating auctioneers to bring their material in and attend the sales.

Lions And Rotarians To Cross Bats Again

Demanding that they be given another opportunity of meeting the Lions Club baseball team to even the score of last Tuesday's game, the Rotary baseball nine last Tuesday challenged the Lions to another battle on the diamond. The two clubs will cross bats again this Thursday afternoon, at the Floydada Baseball Park, it was agreed.

Practically the same line-up of players will be used in the game this afternoon that was used last week, the managers stated, although they plan to use some new material also. Several surprises have been promised by the Rotarians in the new baseball "finds."

Cotton Planting Nears Completion In County

Dry Weather Needed to Finish Planting This Week, Farmers Declare.

Sixty to seventy percent of the cotton acreage in Floyd County has been planted up to Wednesday and if weather conditions permit the entire acreage will be planted this week, according to the opinion of several farmers and gin men of Floydada and South Floyd County. Ideal conditions offered by the warm clear weather of this week following the heavy rains of this month started the planting in earnest and the growers are optimistic over the prospects for an unusually good crop.

Opinion varies as to the total acreage of the County. In the South portion it is believed that the increase will not amount to a great deal and in some instances a slight decrease in acreage is reported. While none of the farmers from the North part of the County were interviewed it is thought that a slight increase in the acreage has been made there.

G. T. Assiter, who has a large acreage in cotton in the South part of the County and who is interested in a gin at McCoy states that dry weather is the greatest need at the present time. "The cotton will be slightly later than usual due to late planting but I have never seen a poor crop here after we had received a good underground season," Mr. Assiter, stated.

"There is a slight increase in acreage around my neighborhood and there is also an increase in the number of farmers planting standard seed," G. L. Fawver, of the Baker community, reported. A light shower to bring the cotton up that has been planted shallow is needed at this time, Mr. Fawver believes.

"From indications I would believe that there has been a slight decrease in acreage over the County but I feel sure that the amount of standard seed being planted has increased," W. F. Weatherbee, former manager of the Farmers Gin and for a number of years a Floyd County farmer, stated.

Professional Parred Country Club Course

Pat O'Brien, former Western Amateur Golf Champion, Gave Exhibition Sunday.

Pat O'Brien, of Stamford, professional golfer, gave an exhibition match at the Floydada Country Club last Sunday afternoon before a crowd estimated at between fifty and seventy members of the club. O'Brien parred the eighteen holes, making the first round in 37, one above par, and the second round in 35, one below par. He made several birdies but failed to make an eagle during the exhibition.

O'Brien teamed with E. S. Randeron, who made the course in 44 and 40, defeating Andrews and Shirley of Spur. Andrews made the course in 43 and 39, and Shirley in 43 and 39.

O'Brien was high in his praise of the Country Club course, stating that it was one of the best nine hole links that he had ever played on. In 1927 O'Brien was the Western Champion Amateur. He defeated Bill Melhorn, famous professional, in the championship match, winning a $3500 purse.

J. A. ARWINE ILL

J. A. Arwine, owner of Arwine Drug, is ill in the local sanitarium following an operation for appendicitis which he underwent Sunday.

Mr. Arwine became very ill and was carried to the sanitarium Sunday where it was found he was in a serious condition. He is thought to be recovering satisfactorily.

Miss Mary Arwine of Bridgeport is here during her brother's illness.

Mrs. C. W. Mitchell returned to Floydada Thursday from Jack County, where she spent three weeks looking after property, for a visit here with her daughter, Mrs. Sam Thurmon. She came by Childress and was accompanied from there by her little granddaughter, Ellouise Owens. Mrs. Mitchell left again today for Jack County, where she probably will spend several months.

Floyd County Pioneers Association Formed Here Tuesday

Selecting "Uncle" Joe Day as their president and naming May 28, 1930 as their next meeting date some two hundred and fifty old time residents of Floyd County brought to a close one of the happiest and most enthusiastic meetings ever held in Floydada Tuesday afternoon with a square dance. The dance was the last part of a program that started with a basket lunch at noon and included several talks by early settlers of the Plains. The event was in commemoration of the thirty-ninth birthday of Floyd County. The County was organized May 28, 1890.

Senator Parrish Speaks

R. E. L. Muncy was named the vice-president of the Floyd County Old Pioneers Association and Tom W. Deen was selected to serve the organization as secretary. Directors of the Association are Glad Snodgrass, H. C. Randolph, G. L. Fawver, Mrs. Wm. McGehee, and Mrs. E. C. Henry. The organization was completed at the request of many of the pioneers who hoped to make an annual event of the birthday of the County. This year the meeting was held under the direction of the Floydada Chamber of Commerce with the assistance Mrs. Wm. McGehee.

"Within two years I promise you that a monument to the old pioneers of the Plains will stand within the very shadow of the City of Floydada," said Senator Pink L. Parrish, who was one of the speakers of the occasion. Senator Parrish stated that the present legislature would have passed an appropriation for a monument at the Old Hank Smith Park had it remained in session three days long. The speaker paid a glowing tribute to the first settlers of the Plains and his speech was enthusiastically received by his audience.

Miss Laura V. Hamner, superintendent of the schools of Potter County, spoke to the pioneers and used for her subject "Five Decades." Miss Hamner has made a close study of the early life of the first settlers in the Panhandle and her connection with some of the old pioneers enabled her to tell several interesting stories of the past.

Tom W. Deen, who had charge of the program, took occasion to call out several of the oldest pioneers present and they in response to urgent requests from those present gave some interesting incidents of their first years on the Plains. Among those who responded were Mrs. May Fullingim, "Uncle" Frank Ford, J. C. Fortenberry, R. C. Bennett, G. L. Fawver, J. B. Jenkins, R. B. Smith, M. M. Day, R. E. L. Muncy, and "Grandma" Carr of Petersburg, J. C. Cooper, of Plainview, and W. M. Massie were called on during the latter part of the program.

The "Cornhuskers" orchestra, composed of John McDonald, J. B. McPeak, C. H. O'Bannon, Clyde Jackson, J. R. McDonald, R. C. Dunavant, and Dan Rehjen, furnished music during the afternoon and at the request of several of the pioneers remained to play for square dance which was held on the pavement on the north side the square.

NO BASEBALL TEAM

Peculiar to live in a town where the baseball bug is not well enough developed that the youngsters and oldsters would not organize and support a strictly amateur baseball team. Time was when the lads made all kinds of maneuvers to get expenses taken care of so they could play just for the fun of it. Now to get a drug store cowboy to don a baseball uniform would cost as much as a bricklayer's daily wages.
However, times move along and it doesn't do any good for one generation to try to measure another generation's peculiarities and mannerism and bent of mind by a state of mind that has been abandoned.

But it does seem funny not to be able to write an amateur story about an amateur ball game any more.

ASH TREES LOOK GOOD

Plains people have been experimenting with various kinds of shade and fruit trees for a number of years, and right now the most popular one for new plantings is the Chinese elm, which shows remarkable stamina and rapid growth.
Perhaps it is to be the tree that will transform the plains area more or less into a country of trees. It must be noted, on the otherhand, that the ash trees of the past few years planting look especially good this spring, in spite of a hard spring for all kinds of trees and flowers.
Another thing that is going to make the ash trees continue popular in this area is the fact that this variety will continue to seed itself.
It given an opportunity. When the ash trees bloom, about every two or three years, one of the species will scatter enough seed to plant a forest of ash. And they show up the next spring at all kinds of places that, come to think of it, we not had locations for trees.
Some of the best examples of continued resistance to droughty conditions that come and go on the plains are occasional ash seen here and there that look good after years of inattention.

none of the conveniences of modern aircraft, a trick that was unexpected, on sheer grit.

The TOWN DOCTOR

(The Doctor of Towns)
SAYS

ANYTHING LESS THAN THE BEST IS SOLD AT A DISCOUNT
There is an old and very true saying that "What the eye doesn't see, the heart doesn't fancy," but it is also true that the eye sees many things that blind the heart to that which it otherwise would fancy.

How often have you seen a blemish on the face of an otherwise beautiful woman, so noticeable that whenever you looked at her, you could not keep your eye off the blemish? She might be wonderfully groomed, marvelously groomed and exquisitely coiffed, but try as you might, you could see only the mar.

The appearance of anything either repels or invites ownership. Eighty-per cent of those things sold today are purchased through, or the purchaser is influenced by, the eye. What a thing looks like, therefore, is extremely important in creating a desire in the minds of others for it.

The appearance of a town is just as important as the appearance of a package, the appearance of a show window, clothing, or anything that is purchased in the store or on the market.

Why do they put colored picture wrappers on cans of beans, corn and tomatoes—it doesn't make the contents of the can any better. Why do automobile manufacturers spend so much time, care and money on the exterior appearance of the motor car—it doesn't make the motor run any smoother or last any longer, or make the car ride any easier.

Any package, even though the contents be unharmed, depreciates in value if the cover is soiled, torn, or the least bit mutilated. Furniture with the least scratch; a suit, though never worn, that has faded; a book with a broken cover; a shirt with a torn collar, are less than the best, and so sold at a discount. A perfect animal with a skin blemish never takes the prize.

Look around you and see all those things that are made to look attractive, in order that you may be attracted thereby—then, think of your town.

The picture of many communities would serve well for a puzzle picture of "What's Wrong Here?" Stand back and take a good look at the picture of your own front yard, your store, your office building, your factory.
Does it look GOOD or are you half way ashamed of it? Are you proud of it, or do you apologize for the looks of it when company calls or people start talking about it?

Selling a town—and to keep pace with modern times, it must be sold—is like selling anything else. Therefore, how your town LOOKS is of vital importance. There are few towns that are not very much like the "otherwise beautiful woman"—their beauty is so marred by blemishes that they cannot see the attractiveness for looking at the scars.

Part—set an example by eliminating the scars, the blemishes of her and others will do likewise. It's POOR BUSINESS to allow your community to be discounted by a poor appearance.

AND THE CHERRIES, TOO

While on the subject of trees, about the most certain fruit in this section, to be mentioned, at least, along with plums and grapes, is the cherry. Some of the finest cherries you ever saw are being canned and eaten and put up in various forms in many a farm and town home this week.

While this writer has had not one opportunity to eat of the cherry tree's fruit this spring, "still and all" we have sighted many a fine looking tree loaded with cherries during the past few days, that we are satisfied are luscious enough to give their owners much pleasure in the eating.

When you people read this column, you expect to read hot air.
Many people who disagree with O.
B. on many of his subjects, say that "that-air Old Battleaxe is full-a rotten gas" and we know that the only trouble with them is that they are "air tight." We are in hopes that the City Dads are "up in the air" over this idea of voting a tax to build a Municipal Auditorium, and we are sure that Floydada ought to be air-minded enough to build an airport because in the near future, everything is going to depend on airways and airplanes.

So there you air! That air; hot air; air tight; up in the air; air-minded; air port; airplane—and more hot air. Yes sir that's what we've got for our weekly menu today. Nothing but air—and more air.

Let's imagine Floydada is a giant airplane, with it's nose to the west and the tail to the east. Considering it thus, had you ever thought of the impression the general appearance of the plane leaves?

She is a well lighted plane except for the cabin. If it were not so big, you would never know that it had a cabin at night time, and then when you see it at daytime, you are disappointed that such a beautiful plane would have such a poorly painted and dilapidated looking cabin. Our court house is the cabin of the Floydada plane, and there are no lights on it's dome, so you seldom know that it exists at night-time. And gosh, what a bucket of paint and a little work wouldn't do to that court house.
Tis plumb pitiful.

On the left wing of every plane is supposed to be the emblem, or beauty spot. The left wing of our plane is beautifully decorated with flowers and trees, but the emblem that shows it's real worth is nothing but an old wooden tabernacle.
A large, beautiful municipal auditorium would just be the hot stuff out at the City Park to make that wing beautiful.

The right wing is simply O. K.
with the exception of the steps that lead to the cabin. The street from Missouri Street out to the highway north is the roughest stretch in seven states—bar none.

The guy-wires of "Miss Floydada" look beautiful from a distance. But when you get up close and examine our paved streets (our guy-wires) you find them caked three or four inches deep with dirt, and the gutters filled with rocks, sticks and other rubbish. A street sweeper will remedy that little defect.

And the worst thing about the Floydada Airplane, as a whole, is that it is anchored in a field of mud.
No paved roads leading in or out—thanks to many of those who claim that "them-air City Slickers are trying to break us."

But on the whole, "Miss Floydada," or better termed "The Spirit of Floydada" is a wonderful little plane, isn't she? She'll see better days.

Now, since we have been up in the air over this air question for the past few paragraphs, let's come back to earth—to fishes to be exact.
Mrs. Maude Hollums, who buy-the-way, has one of the prettiest green houses in the state of Texas, told Old Battleaxe last week that she would furnish the gold fishes free of charge to stock the Q. A. & P.
Depot Lake. Now wouldn't that be keen? Even if it only rains three or four inches a year, we will have enough water on the pavement in front of the depot to stock several thousand fishes throughout the year. Since little effort is being made to get rid of this lake, why not make it worth something. Some of our Saliva Slingers could go down there and fish, and maybe that would take their minds off of cussing the country. Maybe.

You know, some of these Non-pavers ought to be air-minded.
They go up in the air over nothing.

"And that's the end of my tale," said the airplane as it looped-the-loop into the court house.

ISSUE OF JUNE 3, 1915

In spite of the norther and clouds
Thursday afternoon, quite a num-met at Mrs. Cannaday's home where Mesdames Triplett, Featherston and Mrs. Hughes met with us with their lightful afternoon playing Progressive Rook, Mrs. Hughes winning high score.

Mrs. E. C. Nelson left this morning for Austin, where she will spend Commencement week at the Univer-

MARKETS FOUND FOR HOME MADE AND GROWN PRODUCTS

El Paso—Supplying a chain of El Paso grocery stores with yeast roll dough for sale to city housewives who have outside employment is an activity of Mrs. Venson of Holly-hook Farm in El Paso county as a part of the general program of home demonstration clubs in home industries and marketing. This enterprise is making money for Mrs.
Venson and enables the busy city housewife to mold the dough into rolls, let it rise for a short time and at a minimum of time and expense serve her family excellent biscuits.

Rose conserve made from the petals of fragrant American Beauty roses is manufactured by another home demonstration club woman here, Mrs. Graves, and the sixounce jars sold for $1.00. Other home marketing activities reported to the Extension Service by Miss Irma Sealy, home agent, are commercial flower growing, sales of home made candies, and the merchandising of home canned fruits and vegetables.

Hornless Beef Best
Horns and choice-beef carcasses do not go together. Badly bruised carcasses are often found in shipments of horned cattle, and bring from 25 to 75 cents a hundred-weight less than dehorned cattle of similar quality. The development of horns can be prevented by the use of caustic soda or caustic potash when the calves are from 4 to 10 days old. Care should be taken to rub the caustic only over the horn buttons, and rubbing should be discontinued before the spots bleed. Pine tar applied after the removal of horns helps to keep away flies and to check bleeding.

Made Presentation Speech When Class of '29 Presented Portrait to College.

Horace Grady Moore, local graduate of Texas Technological College Class of 1929, made the presentation speech last Saturday evening, when the graduating class presented the college with a life-size portrait of Dr. Paul W. Horn, president of the institution.

Dressed in caps and gowns, the seniors marched from the Home Economics building to the main building of the institution, accompanied by the members of the Junior Class. Moore was assisted in the presentation by Ben F. Condray, Jr., also a member of the class. The portrait is the product of Peter Plotkin, Abilene Artist, and is the first gift to be presented the college by a graduating class. It is to hang in the library of the college.

Moore receives his Bachelor of Arts degree in liberal arts at the commencement exercises this week. He has been attending Tech for the past four years and has been making some outstanding records. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Moore of this city.

Following the commencement exercises, Grady Moore and Weldon Moore, who is also attending Tech will return home for the summer. Miss May Moore, who has been attending Wayland College, returned home Wednesday and the Moore family will be re-united for a short time.

Sunday School Lesson

P. D. O'Brien.

Date—June 2, 1929.
Theme: Later Experiences of Jeremiah.

Scriptures—Jeremiah 38:4-13.
Golden Text—Blessed are ye when men shall reproach you, and persecute you, and say all manner evil against you falsely, for my sake.—Matt. 5:11.

If space could be spared it would be interesting and profitable to write briefly the life of the great prophet Jeremiah. He is one of the greatest prophets that ever lifted his voice against sin. He is commonly called the weeping prophet because of the tears that he shed for his sinning nation. Clearly did he see that the sins of the people would bring them under the curse of Jehovah, and boldly and tenderly did he exhort the people to turn from their sinful ways and seek the favor of God. When they failed to hear him, persecuted him, and went heedlessly on in their mad career of ungodliness, the prophet exclaimed, "Oh that my head were waters, and mine eyes a fountain of tears, that I might weep day and night for the slain of the daughter of my people, etc." (See Jer. 9:1-4).

An Unpopular Prophet
Jeremiah was one of the most unpopular of all the prophets, simply because he told the people the truth, instead of preaching soft words to them to tickle their fancies, and save himself from criticism and persecution. That same thing holds true to this day. The man who points out the sins of the people and tells them what the consequences of their sins will ultimately be, he will be called a fogy, a joy-killer, and a pessimist. One of the excuses given for the loose moral living of modern young people is that they are no worse than the young people of other generations. Granting that this is true, still we should remember, and cause them to know, that sin has always brought its reward, and that "the wages of sin is death," and that "sin when it is full grown brings death," and that now as always, "the way of the transgressor is hard." The Northern Kingdom, because of their extreme wickedness, was taken away into captivity, and the prophet was only trying to save the Southern kingdom from the same fate, by telling them the plain truth. They hated him because he told the truth, than a patient who goes to his doctor and is told that he has some dreadful disease. The doctor is not responsible for his having the disease, he only tries to help him find a remedy for it. The prophet is not responsible for the sins of the people, but he is ordained to call attention to the sins of the people that they may be able to take themselves to the remedy for sin, and save themselves from the wages and penalty of sin.

A Faithful Ministry
Jeremiah prophesied during the reign of five kings, over a period of about fifty years. His messages were rejected far more often than they were accepted. Few people were converted under his preaching and yet he stayed faithful to the very end. After many years of bitter persecution, suffering and privation, he was banished to Egypt where he preached to the very end of life. In the lesson for today we note a typical case of the persecution which he underwent. He was accused of being unpatriotic. His enemies claimed that he was hurting the morale of the army by his preaching. They asked the weak-kneed king for the privilege of disposing of him. Their request was granted, and they took the most cowardly method of disposing of him. Under almost every house was a deep cistern, in which water was stored for the purpose of sustenance during the siege. They lowered Jeremiah into one of these cisterns which had no water but was thick with slime and mud. Here without food or water they left him to die. Today's lesson shows how he was rescued from the pit, and continued his aggressive ministry. God takes care of his own.

The Bright Lining
Weeping Jeremiah was not a pessimist. Although he thundered the judgements of Jehovah against the sins and sinners of his day, yet he prophesied a day would come when the people would come out of the fire of the refiner, and with the dross burned out of the gold, would return to the true worship of God. This day came in the days of Nehemiah and his contemporaries, when the walls of the city and temple were rebuilt, and the songs of praise to Jehovah was heard again in the land of Judah. To be sure this occurred many years after the old prophet had perished in the flesh, but God is not slack concerning His promises.

The Golden Text
"Blessed are ye when men shall reproach you and persecute you, and say all manner of evil against you falsely, for my sake." These are the words of the Master Himself on the question of persecution. This verse furnishes a fine study in words. Notice that he says the reproaches, persecutions, and all evil savings against us must be FALSELY. If we are guilty and the world tells the truth on us, then we are not persecuted. But if we are accused of sins of which we are not guilty, then they who take up the reproach against us become our persecutors. And we are truly persecuted. Then notice those other words, "for my sake." Some men seek opposition for the sake of the publicity it affords them. They pose as martyrs, and play up the attacks made upon them in order to win sympathy, or in an appeal to the pity of the people. This is probably the worst form of personal ambition, and is always the program of little men. It is not a compliment to any man to be always in trouble with his fellowman. "As much as lieth in us we are to live at peace with all men." If a man is a disturber and thereby excites opposition to his program, then he is not a persecuted man, and does not merit the "Blessedness" mentioned in the text. He merely reaps the fruits of his own doings. But if a man strives to live at peace with the world and is still opposed and persecuted, then God has promised special blessings of protection and reward for his faithfulness under persecution. Jeremiah is a splendid example, and Jesus, who gave the golden text, is the perfect illustration of the truth which it sets forth.

CHURCHES

FIRST METHODIST CHURCH

We had two interesting and helpful services last Sunday. Rev. J. W. Hunt, President of McMurry College, was with us at the morning hour and brought to our hearts a wonderful message. Dr. Hunt is engaged in a great work and should have the backing of the entire church. The pageant presented by the Porterfield Missionary Society went over in a great way. The offering amounting to $75.00 will go to the endowment fund for the superannuate preachers.

The pastor will preach the coming Sunday at 11:00 a. m. and 8:15 p. m.

The three Epworth Leagues will meet at 7:15 p. m. At the League Institute held at Lockney ten credits were issued to Leaguers from our church. We feel sure that those who attended the institute were greatly benefitted. Our Leaguers are doing fine work and should have the help of the adults of the church.

Some of our people were out of Sunday School, and we missed you. Make every effort to be in your place the coming Sunday.

Many new people are moving in to our town and to all of these we extend an earnest invitation to come to the services of the Methodist Church. If you are a Methodist give us your name and we shall be glad to write for your church certificate.

Dougherty Ball Club To Play Here Sunday

South Plains and Dougherty baseball clubs will meet at the Floydada Baseball park next Sunday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock to determine the winner of a three game series between the two clubs. Both teams are reported to have excellent material and the final game Sunday is expected to be of unusual interest. S. A. Thornton, manager of the South Plains nine, was in Floydada

Monday making preparations for the meet on mutual grounds. Dougherty won the first game of the series two weeks ago when they shut out the South Plains Club, 5 to 0. The second game last Sunday went to twelve innings, with South Plains barely nosing out with a 3 to 4 score. Sunday's game will determine the winner of the series.

FORT WORTH ENDURANCE FLYER HAS RELATIVE HERE

Reg L. Robbins, Fort Worth aviator, who together with James Kelly broke all previous airplane endurance records last week at Fort Worth, is a cousin of Mrs. B. L. Breed, of near Floydada, it was learned Monday. Robbins is also a nephew of D. H. Widner, of this city, and is a personal friend of several Floyd County people. The endurance airplane, "Fort Worth" landed at 4:05 p. m. Sunday, after remaining in the air 172 hours, 32 minutes and 2 seconds. The "Fort Worth" is a single motored, re-built plane. It broke the record of "The Question Mark," trimotored army plane, by more than twenty hours.

U. S. HAS MANY BARRIERS AGAINST FOOT-AND-MOUTH

"It shall not pass" is the watchword of the United States Department of Agriculture with respect to foot-and-mouth disease, one of the world's most dreaded livestock diseases from which the United States fortunately is free. In a signed article issued May 1 to public officials and to the veterinary and livestock press, Dr. John R. Mohler, Chief of the Bureau of Animal Industry, discusses the present situation with special reference to the safeguards now in effect and to the possibility of future outbreaks.

The first line of defense, Doctor Mohler says, lies in the veterinary inspection and quarantine service. The precautionary measures to bar out the contagion extend not only to live animals but also to a great diversity of products of animal origin as well as to hay, straw, bags, bagging and other articles commonly used on premises where livestock are kept. Depending on the country of origin and other factors influencing the degree of danger, some of these commodities are barred entirely, others are admitted subject to disinfection, and all are subject to inspection and regulations aimed to exclude the disease without interfering unduly with foreign trade. The various restrictions, yet this elusive disease has obtained a temporary foothold in the United States on nine occasions since 1870.

The second line of defense is a well-trained force of veterinarians experienced in detecting and eradicating the malady. "In view of the country's extensive foreign commerce and the prevalence of foot-and-mouth disease throughout the world," Doctor Mohler states in conclusion, "it is evident there always will be danger of occasional appearance of the disease, especially at or near seacoast ports. But we are using every reasonable precaution and are prepared to deal promptly with any outbreaks that may occur. An occasional visitation should not be the cause for undue alarm, but rather for energetic, cooperative action to repulse again the thrust of this disease against our cherished livestock industry."

"Inside" Information

For boiling down fruit juice and sugar in jelly making, use a large, flat-bottomed pan, to hasten rapid evaporation.

Stains made by water containing iron can be taken off a porcelain bath tub or basin with oxalic acid solution. Oxalic acid is a poison and should be carefully washed off after using. Keep it out of reach of children.

Make a rhubarb betty for dessert, with fruit and buttered crumbs, alternately, just as you would make apple betty. You can use either stewed or uncooked rhubarb and sweeten to taste. If you use the uncooked rhubarb, cover the baking dish for the first part of the cooking, then remove the lid and brown the top crumbs. Sift a little cinnamon or nutmeg over the top.

Fruit whips can be made of any fruit pulp of pronounced flavor and color. Heat the pulp to dissolve the added sugar, and combine while hot with the stiffly beaten egg whites so as to cook the eggs partially and give body to the mixture. For one cup of apricot or prune pulp allow one half cup of sugar and the whites of three eggs. Whipped cream is a delicious addition to cold fruit whips.

Mothers who want their children to have sun baths on a beach or in a park play ground sometimes have to take them in a street car or automobile to the place where they are to play. An attractive sun ensemble can be made, consisting of the sun suit itself, with the lower part of a soft printed cotton material and the upper section of cable net, and a matching dress which is slipped on or off as occasion requires. The little sun suit is made from an ordinary romper pattern, cut away around the arm holes and neck, with very abbreviated legs.

Preaches To Friends The Good Sargon Did

"Since taking Sargon I have felt in better health than in the last five years. "My stomach was in such an upset condition that most everything I ate soured instead of digesting properly. I would have such bloating pains after each meal that I hated to eat. About twelve years ago I had a fall, injuring my hip and knee, and I have been troubled with rheumatism in my joints ever since.

MRS. LULA E. PETERSON

"An inactive liver caused me to be constipated and I was continually taking laxatives. I had many a restless night from all this suffering and would be as tired in the mornings as though I had never gone to bed. Nothing I took helped me.

"Sargon made me feel like a different woman. My appetite has come back and I enjoy my meals. My stomach is soothed and my digestion improved so I don't suffer bad effects after eating. The rheumatism disappeared and I rest much better at night. I get up in the morning feeling refreshed and full of life and energy.

"Sargon Soft Mass Pills toned up my liver and rid me of constipation in a natural manner. My whole system is reconditioned and filled with new health.

"Sargon had helped me so remarkably that I am preaching to all my friends about its benefits and will continue to praise this wonderful medicine every chance I get." The above statement was made recently by Mrs. Lula E. Peterson, highly respected resident of 7814 Sherman St., Houston, Mrs. Peterson is a member of the Royal Neighbors society and also belongs to the Baptist church.

Sargon may be obtained in Floydada at Floydada Drug and in Lockney at Stewart Drug Co.

U. S. WILL MAKE 4,000,000 BALES COTTON THIS YEAR

Austin, Texas, May 25.—On May 1 indicated supply of cotton in the United States totaled 4,846,000 bales compared to 5,593,000 bales on May 1 1928, according to Brevard Nichols, editor of the Texas Business Review, issued monthly by the Bureau of Business Research at the University of Texas.

"Supplies are the smallest since 1925 and cotton is disappearing at a rapid rate," Mr. Nichols said. "In April, 632,000 bales were consumed in the United States and 454,000 bales were exported, making a total disappearance of 1,086,000 bales. If the same ratio between disappearance and carry-over is preserved as last year, the carryover on August 1 will be reduced to about 1,875,000 bales. Moreover this estimate is conservative, since consumption and exports are on a larger scale this year than last."

PAINS In Side and Back

"I HAD BEEN miserable for a long time. My health was poor, and I suffered a lot from weakness. At times, my strength was so little that I could not stand on my feet. I would have to give up and go to bed. My sides and back hurt dreadfully.

"I grew discouraged, for I could do so little. I worried about myself, and almost gave up hope of ever being strong and well. I could scarcely lift a bucket of water. My household work went undone, for I was not strong enough to do it.

"After I had taken Cardui for a little while, I began to feel better. I grew stronger, soon found that I could do my work with less effort, and the pains in my back and sides left me. I think Cardui is a wonderful medicine. My health has been excellent since then."—Mrs. D. L. Beckner, W. Main St., Salem, Va.

Cater to the Canary

In addition to their regular menu of seeds, canaries appreciate bits of lettuce or apple. Meals may also be varied by feeding chickweed, dandelion heads, thistle and plantain seeds, and the fruiting heads and tender leaves of senecio and shepherd's purse. Watercress, wild oats, knot grass, and other grasses are especially relished by canaries in spring and summer. Bread moistened in scalded milk, given cold, is good for them, but soft foods should not be made too wet. Oatmeal should always be provided for the birds.

Years of service in MODEL T FORDS

THE Model T was so strongly and sturdily built that it is still rendering reliable, economical service to motorists in every section of the country. Millions of these cars can be put in shape for two, three and five more years of use at very small cost.

So that you may have this work done economically and satisfactorily, the Ford Motor Company is still devoting a considerable section of its plants to the manufacture of Model T parts. It will continue to do so as long as they are needed by Model T owners. The following list gives the approximate labor charges for reconditioning the Model T Ford:—

Engine
Tune motor (including replacement of commutator case, brush and vibrator points if necessary)	$1.00
Grind valves and clean carbon	$3.75 to 4.00
Overhaul carburetor	1.50
Reline detachable car transmission bands	1.50
Install new pistons or connecting rods	6.00
Tighten all main bearings	6.00
Overhaul motor and transmission	$20.00 to 25.00
Rear System
Replace rear axle assembly	2.50
Install universal joint	3.00
Reline brake shoes	1.50
Replace rear axle shaft, drive shaft pinion, or drive gear	5.00
Overhaul complete rear axle assembly	$5.75 to 7.00
Rebush spring and perches	1.75
Oil and grease springs	3.00
Front System
Overhaul front axle	$4.00 to 5.00
Rebush spindle bodies and arms (both sides)	2.50
Replace or straighten spindle connecting rod	.75
Tighten radius rod or steering ball cap	.60
Tighten all sockets and joints of front end	1.50
Replace front spring tie bolt or new leaf	2.50
Straighten front axle	3.00
Chassis
Replace rear fender	1.75
Overhaul steering gear	3.50
Repair muffler	1.00
Overhaul radiator	7.50
Repaint Coupe	25.00
Repaint Sedan	25.00
Repaint Touring Car	20.00
Reupholster Runabout	8.00
Reupholster Touring Car	15.00
Replace top deck (Coupe or Sedan)	4.00
Overhaul starting motor	3.00
Overhaul generator	2.60

These prices are approximate and are for labor only, because the need and number of new parts depend on the condition of each car. The charge for these parts is low, however, because of the established Ford policy of manufacturing and selling at a small margin of profit.

FORD MOTOR COMPANY

"HURRY WITH THE SERVICE CAR. THE OIL BROKE DOWN. DON'T LET THIS HAPPEN TO YOU"

STRANDED five miles from nowhere because the oil wouldn't do its job! Has that happened to you? If it has, the chances are that you were not particular the last time you had the crankcase drained—or perhaps you ran too long without changing the oil. This will be a slack summer for service cars if motorists will remember two things: first, to change oil regularly, and secondly, to use only a brand of oil which they know from their own experience or the experience of others will stand up under the most trying conditions of motor operation.

You can depend upon any oil which has the backing of the Continental Oil Company. These are the brands which have been tried and tested—in the laboratory and on the road. They lubricate thoroughly, protect every moving part and stand up under intense heat.

Ask for these brands at leading service stations and garages.

The Price Question

In the present commercial war price is the battlefield. Leaders and loss leaders are used to draw customers. Prices of other articles are so raised to compensate for the loss. Chain stores claim a better buying power and a more economical system of distribution. The proof of the pudding is in the eating. Our motto is to serve as well or better than anyone. This means, we furnish merchandise as cheap as anyone, quality and service rendered considered. We make this statement after we have carefully studied mail order prices and prices of competitors. We sell:

- Furniture and floor covering
- Shelf hardware and sporting goods
- Well supplies
- Plumbing Supplies
- Washing machines, milkers, cream separators
- Oil, ice and electric refrigerators.

Miss Bass Becomes Bride of Mr. A. J. Folley Tuesday

The marriage of Miss Blanche Bass, county demonstration agent of Floyd County during the past three years, to Mr. A. J. Folley, District Attorney, was solemnized Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the First Methodist Church, Rev. P. D. O'Brien, pastor of the First Baptist church officiating, using the ring ceremony.

The church was transformed into a bower of greenery and colorful flowers, decorations carrying out the pastel colors used in the gowns of the bride's attendants. The aisle down which the wedding party passed was marked with bouquets of snapdragons, larkspur and bridal wreath tied with white mauline bows. The altar was banked with smilax and fern with palms on either side and tall white candles in groups of three completed a beautiful setting before which the impressive ceremony was said.

Proceeding the entrance of the wedding party, Mrs. E. C. Thomas played, "The Rosary," followed by a vocal solo "At Dawning," sung by Mrs. E. L. Angus and accompanied by Mrs. Thomas, who also played the bridal chorus from "Lohengrin," as the bridal party entered. "Souvenir" was played very softly during the ceremony. Mrs. Angus wore a green lace dress over a gold satin slip with a corsage of pink sweet peas and hat of harmonizing color. Mrs. Thomas wore a rose beige georgette gown with hat and corsage to match.

Bride's Attendants Enter
Mrs. J. Horace Bass, of Haskell, matron of honor, and sister-in-law of the bride was the first of the bride's attendants to enter. She was gowned in taffeta orchid trimmed in fuchsia with picture hat to match and carried an arm bouquet of pink and orchid gladiola and snapdragons. Her gown was made basque effect, full ruffled skirt and uneven hem line. Her slippers were of ivory color.

Miss Gladys Covington, of Olney, bridesmaid, came next and was met at the altar by Frank Bass, of Quitaque, an attendant of the bridegroom, and brother of the bride. She wore a green taffeta basque gown with a ruffle tiered skirt of uneven hem line and apricot trimmings, with handpainted picture hat of pink and orchid. She carried an arm bouquet of snapdragons tied with pink tulle.

Miss Eula Crawford, of Weatherford, also a bridesmaid, followed Miss Covington. Her gown was of sunburst taffeta in the same style as the other attendants and was trimmed in a deeper shade. She carried an arm bouquet of snapdragons tied with yellow tulle. Her large picture hat was of harmonizing color. Miss Covington and Miss Crawford both wore ivory slippers.

Miss Crawford was followed by the ring bearer, Master Randolph Rutledge, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. P. Rutledge, who wore a black velvet suit and white blouse and carried the ring in a liiy.

The little flower girl, Patsy Hannah, of Munday, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leland Hannah, preceded the bride and scattered pink and white rose petals from a basket tied with pink maline, in the path of the bride. She wore a frock of blue georgette.

The bride entered with her brother, J. Horace Bass, of Haskell, by whom she was given in marriage, the bridegroom and his best man, Mr. Roy Baker, of Rochester, entered from the pastor's study and awaited them at the altar.

Bride Enters With Brother
The bride wore an oyster white georgette basque model with circular ruffled skirt trimmed in bias folds of maline. Her hat was of white transparent braid faced underneath with maline and silver trimmings. She wore slippers of silver with rhinestone heels and carried a shower bouquet of orchids and valley lilies.

Mrs. Grace Bass, mother of the bride, wore a navy blue georgette with a corsage of shaded pansies.

Charles Mathews and N. B. Stansell acted as ushers.

The bride came to Floydada three years ago from Munday with her mother and was Home Demonstration Agent of Floyd County until her resignation three months ago. She has been very successful in her work and is highly esteemed by the club women of the county as is evidenced by the many courtesies extended her by them. She has received state recognition for her excellent work. She has assisted and supervised a number of community affairs in Floydada. Mrs. Folley is a former student of College of Industrial Arts, Denton.

Mr. Folley is a graduate of both the Academic and the law school of Baylor University, the degrees of A. B. and L. L. B. having been conferred on him by that institution. He came to Floydada four years ago and began the practice of law as a partner of L. G. Mathews. When the new 110th judicial district was created in March Mr. Folley was appointed district attorney by Governor Dan M. Moody. He is the son of Mrs. G. W. Folley of Mart.

Out-of-town guests attending the wedding were: Mrs. Leland Hannah and daughter, Patsy, of Munday; Mrs. M. H. Reeves and daughter, Betsy, of Munday; Miss Jennie Osburne, of Spur; Judge and Mrs. O. R. Tipps, of Silverton; Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Hamilton, of Quitaque; Mrs. Homer Sanders, and daughter, Aurelia, and son, Homer, Jr., of Quitaque, Miss Opal Wood, of Plainview

The color scheme was carried out in pink and green. The table at which the bride and bridegroom elect were seated was arranged with a miniature wedding party for the centerpiece. On each side of the altar were small vases of valley lilies and the arch before which the bride and bridegroom stood was covered with bridal wreath. Tall pink tapers in pink and green holders, alternated, completed the appointments.

Miss Ruth Rutledge and Miss Ruth Jenkins, daughters of the hostesses, served the five course dinner very graciously. They both wore white frocks and pink and orchid pinafores.

The first course was fruit cocktail followed by the main course of fried chicken, carrot boats filled with cream peas, pickled apricots, glazed potatoes, hot rolls, tomato relish, celery, baby beets and ice tea. On each plate was a sprig of mock orange blossoms given as favors. The salad course consisted of rose apple salad on shredded lettuce served with saratoga chips. First Census of Crosby County

(J. T. Buck in the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal)

Editor's note: Following is an excerpt of an article by Mr. Buck, formerly editor of the Crosbyton Review, in which article he recounted first some of the difficulties facing enumerators of the United States in the earlier days, then gave the following account of the Crosby County first census:

Now getting down to local history and the first census of Crosby county. The county was created by an act of the Texas legislature in 1876, and four years later the first census of the county was taken, and a total of 82 inhabitants were reported for the entire county, and not all of these resided within the bounds of the county. Lew P. Kruse, who gave his occupation as that of a carpenter and his place of residence as being in Blanco canyon, was the enumerator, and he entered upon his labor on June 1, 1880, as the census records show, commencing at Mount Blanco and heading the list with H. C. Smith (Uncle Hank), following with his wife Mrs. Elizabeth Smith, who was the postmaster at Mount Blanco and their two children, George W. and Lela. Charles W. Hart, a buffalo hunter, next appears, and then Charles Hawes, a ranch hand. The next day Mr. Kruse enumerated George W. Palmer and William Y. Farham, cowboy; Thomas L. McEvers, mail carrier, and John DeBrant, a house painter. On June 3 he was in the western part of the county and enumerated Paris Cox and family, and two sons, Charles A. and Oscar L. Cox, and George Garkadema, a farm laborer employed by the Cox family. No others then lived in that part of the county, but it was where the Quaker colony was soon afterward started and the first settlement was called Marietta, after the wife of Paris Cox. However, for some reason the name of the settlement was soon changed to Estacado, probably when the post office was established there. In the course of a few years a flourishing town sprung up under the administration of the Quakers and a Quaker college was established, which was the first college on the Plains, and which flourished for a decade or more. Estacado became the first site of justice of Crosby county, and remained so until 1892 when the new town of Emma was established nearer the center of the county and it was voted to move there, where it remained until 1910 when the site of justice was voted to move to the new railroad town of Crosbyton, where it is now doubtless permanently located for all time to come.

First List Made

On June 13 Mr. Kruse was on Catfish creek in the eastern part of the county where he listed Dan C. Kyle, a cattleman, with John McWillis and Coleman Harris as cowboys, and the next day he was at Camp Roberts in Blanco Canyon and enumerated a company of State Rangers, as follows: Capt. George W. Arrington, commanding; William C. Bradley, first sergeant; Sam S. Lunnboard, sergeant; William B. Stinebraker, Charles P. Rush and James Gibson, corporals; and the following privates: John W. Phillips, James T. Parks, Samuel J. Callahan, Richard Jones, William R. Warner, William R. Jenkins, Let Jenkins, William Jenkins, Edward Springer, Rufus Jenkins, John S. McEleney, Henry E. McMurry, Arnold H. Mullins, William E. Smith, Sam B. Beskin, Frank H. Hammer, T. Sam Bell, Frank S. Freeman, Thomas Phillips, Charles C. Wallace, Jacob S. Seay, John Dunn and George D. Forbes. On June 22 Enumerator Kruse was at Dockum's Ranch (postoffice) and enumerated Henry K. McEvers, as assistant postmaster and Kate McEvers as housekeeper, John L. and Willie McEvers as cowboys and Reece K. and Andy McEvers as children. June 23 he was on White river and recorded George L. and Charles D. Edwards and Marci L. Slaughter as cattlemen, and James L. Council and John S. McEvers as cowboys. Next day he was on Duck creek and got J. Gamel and John Ally, cattlemen, and Joseph B. Atkins and John A. Armstrong, cowboys. On June 25 he was on the head of the Salt Fork of the Brazos river below the Cap Rock where he located Charles Hensley and R. Mat Crutchfield, cattlemen, and Tolbert Cooley, a cowboy. June 25 Mr. Kruse was on Willow creek and enumerated William B. Slaughter and wife Annie C. and two sons, C. C. and John B. Slaughter, C. Brooks, G. Davis, and John P. Cameron. On the 28th and 29th the enumerator was back in Blanco canyon and "rounded up" Mat H. and George W. Shanklin, George H. Gassaway, and Nat W. McQuiston, cattlemen, and George Palmer and William H. Andrews, cowboys, and himself as a carpenter, and the enumeration was finished on June 30, 1880, on Duck creek with Charles L. Groff and George S. Weare as cattlemen and Frank H. Weare, cowboy, and Edward Gordon, as a ranch cook.

Progress Remarkable

It is wonderful to think of the great progress our nation has made since the days of 1790 when the first census was taken. The United States was then in its infancy and our government was going through the experimental stage. George Washington had but recently emerged from the fields of battle a great conqueror and was at the head of the new republic as its first president, and many of the common place things of today had not even been dreamed of then. Telegraphy was unknown, as was also the telephone, steamboat, railroad, automobile, airplane, radio and many other things that we now enjoy and indeed the period of 1790 "the age of the ox cart." Our great public school system had not been thought of, for few institutions of learning in existence. There were less than half a dozen newspapers published then, while now the press numbers thousands of papers, magazines and periodicals of different kinds, and our free school system is the best that the wisdom of man has yet devised and our colleges and universities are numerous throughout the nation.

The progress of Crosby county has been equally as great since the June days nearly 50 years ago when Lew P. Kruse went over the county taking a record of her few inhabitants. He found 82 souls who claimed citizenship in the county, and most of them were only temporary sojourners. There were but a few houses in the county then, and wild horses, half wild cattle and antelope roamed unmolested over our broad plains. Mt. Blanco was the only postoffice in the county and its patrons extended for nearly 100 miles in each direction, while we now have a population of several thousand happy people and hundreds of prosperous homes; and three substantial towns, Crosbyton, Ralls and Lorenzo, each with a number of rural routes. Then not a foot of our virgin soil had been turned by the plow, while now we have several hundred well tilled farms and have produced as high as 72000 bales of cotton in a single year. The wild horses and range cattle have been supplanted by the tractor, and Jersey cattle and sheep have taken the place of the longhorn and the antelope.

ELECTRICITY PAYS OWN WAY ON FARMS SAY INVESTIGATORS

The interesting conclusion, based on actual experiments that electricity properly employed on the farm costs "exactly nothing" was advanced before the Minnesota Rural Electric Service Conference by Professor E. A. Stewart, formerly Project Director for the University of Minnesota on the Red Wing experimental farm line. In other words, it is an investment promiseful of actual returns as a money-maker.

Backed by hundreds of pages of definite data pertaining to the first four years during which electricity was used on the Red Wing farms, Professor Stewart showed that on the five farms for which continuous records are available the gross income the fourth year was 42.9 per cent greater than that of the first year and that, in spite of the use of electric current for numerous farm purposes, operating expenses had increased only 1 per cent—this due, he said, to a material increase in taxes.

Net earnings of the farms showed an average increase of 81 per cent. Conceding that visits from agricultural college men and their helpful suggestions may have had something to do with the results and that the keeping by the farmers of accurate records helped to make them better business men, Professor Stewart offered data to show that in the main, at least, the improved financial condition shown by all five of the farms started when they first began using electricity in their farm operations and has continued steadily since.

Following Professor Stewart came Professor R. A. Patty of South Dakota State College, S. D., experimental line. Replying to the question if electricity had paid its own way on the Renner line, he replied: "I have not made an economic study such as Professor Stewart made at Red Wing, but I feel—in fact, I absolutely know—that electricity has not cost these farmers a cent. In making this statement I have information of my own to go by and, in addition, quite a number of farmers have volunteered just such a statement to me. They know it themselves."

One of the most interesting talks was that of a diet farmer himself, H. A. Schimmelpfenig, whose poultry farm is near Chaska, Minn., and whose electrical service cost him much more than the average because of the fact that it required a two-mile line to serve his farm alone. His story gave the details of his farm operations—how he had used it to increase the average of eggs from 100 to 130 to the hen; how he had used it for incubation with two 16,000-egg incubators which gave him, at the same cost of oil burners, a 9 per cent increase in the hatch because of the better heat control; its use for brooding and the sale of two-week-old chicks instead of day-old at a considerable profit to him; of an electric milking machine, of electric motor for pumping water and various other power purposes about the place. "I doubt very much whether my farm would be on the profit side of the ledger if it were not for electricity," he said.

Sheep and lambs will produce more wool and mutton when free from stomach worms and other worm parasites. Begin to treat your sheep and lambs now for parasites, and keep up the treatments every three weeks until freezing weather, advises the U. S. Department of Agriculture. On heavily stocked, short, dense southern pastures it may be necessary to treat the animals two weeks. Sheep probably suffer more from parasites than do any other kind of livestock. A copper-sulphate solution is good treatment to rid the sheep of stomach worms. If hookworms and tape worms are present, a copper-sulphate and tobacco solution should be given. Farmers' Bulletin 1330-F on Parasites and Parasitic Diseases of Sheep, contains more information on this subject and can be obtained free from the Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.

PAINFUL INDIGESTION

"I SUFFERED a good while before I found something that would help me," writes Mr. E. W. Berry, of Neosho, Mo. "My trouble was indigestion, pains in my chest and a tight, bloated feeling that would make me feel smothered."

"Speaking of this to a friend of mine, he told me that Black-Draught was good for this trouble. I bought a package. It certainly did help me, so I continued to use it."

"I am in the transfer business, and sometimes when I would be hungry and ready to eat, I would have a call and would have to eat later. Then I would eat too much or too hurriedly. This would cause indigestion. After I started using Black-Draught, I found it did me a world of good."

Stove Demonstration Saturday

To Our Trade:-

You have by this time, on your visits to our city, seen the natural gas stoves in operation in the homes of your friends. And how you have wished that you had natural gas in your home!

In keeping with our policy of being constantly on the lookout for the most modern and up-to-date merchandise, and in as much as we feel obligated to our friends and customers to do so, we have taken on the line of Nesco Saftematic Gasoline Cook Stoves, and, to our mind, it is the nearest to a natural gas stove we have ever seen.

We do not have space enough in this advertisement to tell you about the stove, so, therefore, we are going to have a cooking demonstration at our store Saturday, June 1st, so that our friends can come in and see the stove actually cooking and have it explained to you by a factory representative.

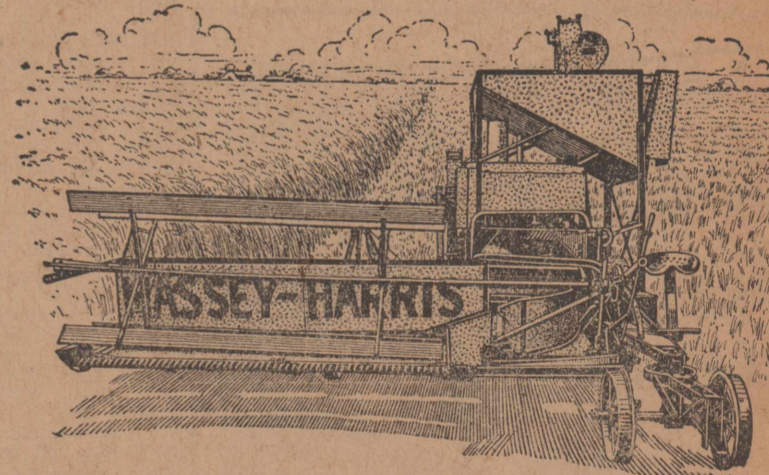

Although you may not need a stove this season, we will be glad for you to come in and see this stove, because it is a wonder.

We will appreciate it if you will tell your friends and neighbors.

South Circle W. M. S.

Bost was elected as co-leader to help Mrs. Clifford Tubbs. Mrs. Edwin Heald was elected secretary-treasurer.

It was decided to take up the study of the book, "Glimpses of Missionary Life." Ice cream and pies were sold by the Circle at Mrs. Swain's auction sale held last Thursday.

The next meeting will be at the church Monday afternoon, June 3, in connection with the other Circles of the Society, at which time a business and social program will be had.

Miss Bass Honor Guest at Harmony Club Meeting.

The M. D. Ramsey home was a scene of felicity on Thursday afternoon, May 23, when members of the Harmony Home Demonstration club met with Miss Blanche Bass, former demonstration agent, as honor guest. Rooms were beautifully decorated with white and pink roses.

After greetings had been exchanged the group enjoyed playing competitive games for a short time. Mrs. Harry Miller held highest place for speed and accuracy in the contest.

Following the games Miss Blanche Ramsey, in her usual charming manner sang "Dawn" by Guy D'Hardelot. Mrs. Chas. B. Smith with her typical enthusiasm and forcefulness, expressed an appreciation to Miss Bass for her faithful and loyal devotion to the betterment of Harmony community.

At the close of her remarks, little Miss Dell Oran Heard and Master David Battey Jr., dressed as miniature bride and groom, entered the room drawing a little wagon. On it and in a mass of flowers were arranged a seven piece iced tea set and sherbet dishes of the Tiffin brown glass, a wedding gift from the club to Miss Bass, the bride-to-be of Mr. Jack Folley. The tiny bride likewise presented Miss Bass with a bouquet of orange blossoms and rose buds.

Mrs. L. A. Williams presented Miss Bass with a book of "good wishes," in which each member present had written her individual good wish for the bride-to-be. Miss Bass graciously responded with a familiar heart-to-heart talk characterized by her customary personal interest and devotion to her work and to her friends.

Refreshments of ice cream and angel food cake with favors of miniature brides and grooms, were served to the following: Mesdames David S. Battey, R. B. Gary, Charles Trowbridge, D. T. Scott, Hardy Heard, J. S. Hale, G. L. Snodgrass, L. A. Williams, Chas. B. Smith, L. E. Williams, H. M. Miller, M. D. Ramsey, all of Harmony; Mrs.

Grace Bass, and Mrs. P. M. Smith of Floydada; Dell Oran Heard and David Battey Jr., Misses Blanche Ramsey, Christine Trowbridge, Blanche Scott, Blanche Gary, Lucile Snodgrass and the honoree, Miss Bass.

It is with a tinge of regret that Harmony releases Miss Bass as a regular worker, but the good seeds of home improvement which she has sown will undoubtedly bring forth an abundant harvest throughout the future. Mrs. Smith expressed the sentiment of the club and the community in general when she said in part:

"Miss Bass has worked unceasingly to help us to establish and maintain the highest standards of rural living. She has taught us that there is no better business than housekeeping, that there is joy and satisfaction in the livable home. And she has taught us to look for beauty in common things.

"But the greatest thing she has done for us is the cooperation which she has promoted among the women of the various demonstration clubs. She encouraged us to look beyond our own community. She has inspired us to broaden our interests and helped us to get a vision for a large scope of work and happiness. Thus has she stimulated the development of an unselfish spirit which is an indication of a higher type of character."

What We Should Remember On Memorial Day

That belligerent dogmas and war-time biases have grown dim in the deathless radiance of the bigger memory. On Memorial Day let us remember the bravery of those who fought for whatever principle. He who fights for his beliefs is a hero—and let us honor the memory of those of North, South, of '76 and of '19 with a gratitude and loyalty that passeth ordinary understanding.

So, Today, let us shake hands over our Dead, and Honor them with the handclasp of a Memory that thrills and inspires.

Eddie Hammitt Leading Wayland Honor Student

Miss Hammitt in connection with her school work was quite popular in church work, social affairs and school activities. She belonged to the Dramatic Club, Girls Glee Club and Debating Council.

Minter Uzzell is the son of Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Uzzell of Slaton and is recognized as one of the most widely read students in the college. He is talented along the field of journalism and served the college as editor of the college paper. The Jack Rabbit, the past term.

NEW ESSEX SPEEDSTER

The most recent addition to the 1929 line of the Hudson Motor Car Company is this flashy, ultra-stylish, special "eighty" speedster mounted on an Essex the Challenger chassis. The body, custom built by Biddle and Sharp, is low and suggestive of the fastest of race cars. It is equipped with a folding windshield and there is a surprising large rumble seat in the rear deck. A top and side curtains are included as part of the standard equipment.

The car comes in a variety of colors, and all bright work is chromium plated as on all Greater Hudson and Essex the Challenger models.

On account of the extreme lightness of this type of body, and the low center of gravity found in this model, Hudson engineers have found it practicable to incorporate an overdrive, which makes it possible to combine safety with the tremendous speed which this car attains.

By means of special construction which makes it possible to lower the back of the seat to the floor, it is possible to convert the entire rear of the car into a very comfortable bed.

'Better Homes Tour' Made By Club Women

Club Members Visit Homes to Accomplish of Other Women Observe.

"Better homes tour," which was made Wednesday afternoon by 31 club women and girls with their demonstration agent, Miss Strange, to the homes of club members who had made outstanding home improvements, proved very interesting and instructive.

Making the first visit to the G. C. Collins home in Sand Hill community, the women observed the dirt cellar which was built three years ago when Mrs. Collins won the state prize in canning. She canned 2755 cans of fruit vegetables and meat which had been produced on her own farm. This was stored in the cellar and a good supply of it has not been consumed, and has kept perfectly.

Walls of the cellar are lined with card board from boxes obtained when the cans were bought. This keeps the dirt walls from crumbling and prevents cans from being covered with dust. Substantial shelves are built around the walls and in the center and they are labeled according to the variety of product that is placed there.

Being under ground, the cellar stays at a more regular temperature and the canned products are more easily kept from spoiling. Just a few steps from the kitchen, this storage place is very convenient, saving time, labor and money for the owner. Of very simple construction it could be easily copied.

Mrs. Collins' kitchen was also noted with interest. Her built-in cabinets, with plenty of shelving space, are painted a soft light yellow. Work tables and a stool facilitate the daily cooking routine.

The other place visited was the master farm home of Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Fry in the Pleasant Valley community. A general impression of a home with beauty, convenience and comfort combined to make a modern farm home, is made on one approaching the farm. The white bungalow is surrounded by trees and a lawn and flowers. Having a west front, the house is protected from the afternoon sun by trees and vines.

Interior furnishings of the house are attractive and comfortable. Equipped with an electric light and power plant, natural gas, and an unlimited supply of water piped into the house, the home is a model for modern convenience. Electricity does the washing and ironing, separates the milk, sweeps the floors, and in other ways saves time and labor.

Mrs. Fry also has modern equipment to care for her poultry. She raises chickens for home consumption and for market.

Musical instruments, books and magazines furnish entertainment and instruction for the family.

Following the inspection, the visitors were entertained with music. Later punch was served.

Pleasant Hill club was represented by six members, the largest number present from one club. Other clubs represented were: Lakeview, Cedar Hill, Pleasant Hill, Blanco, Harmony, Pleasant Valley, Sand Hill and Irick. Visitors from Floydada and Lockney were also present.

Fred Sanders, of Calipatri, California, arrived Monday for a visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. T. Sanders. He was accompanied by a cousin, who is also here visiting.

Mr. and Mrs. B. R. Young, music supervisors, of St. Louis, Mo., are visiting and working with Mrs. Ohmer W. Kirk this week.

Venitta Borum returned Sunday from a visit with Dorothy Hall, of Plainview.

Dr. E. O. Nichols, of Plainview, who with his family, is attending an International clinic at Paris France, and is making a tour of Europe, is having a very enjoyable trip according to a message received here this week by his sister, Mrs. Wm. McGehee.
