Haskell County Land Still Booming.

The reporter of the FREE PRESS had a chance to find Mr. J. J. Stein, a member of the West Texas Development Company of Haskell, idle just a few minutes and got a few local items which are as follows:

Mr. Stein said that since getting the Germans started to Haskell he has met with the following successful sales to German farmers:

160 acres to Nick Woelfel,
80 acres to John Woelfel,
100 acres to Stephen Woelfel,
376 acres to Henry Rueffers,
320 acres to Max Peschal,
311 acres to Alfred Splittenberger,
311 acres to Chas. Friedrich,
738 acres to J. U. Nussbaum,
208 acres to Gus Friedrich.

The above makes a total of $2,513.50 of real estate sold to Germans only within the last few weeks.

Mr. Stein was known as one of the most successful real estate dealers while manager of the Bell County Land Agency at Holland, Texas, and has certainly proven to be a genius in this line since making Haskell his home. He became a member of the West Texas Development Company twelve months ago, and if he continues with as much success as he has had during the time he has been associated with that firm there is no doubt but that he will make a record breaker in the real estate business.

SERVANTS OF NECESSITY

are those whose incomes are never big enough to save from, whose every increase income is spent as soon as gained, who think their pockets the best place for money. The man who carries his money in his pockets, spends it just as sure as fate. But the man who carries a bank account in the Farmers National Bank will naturally have an ambition to stand well with the bank by accumulating a fair sized balance and in so doing he will benefit himself largely.

The minute a man pays his bills by check he begins to take notice of his expenses and to plan to make them smaller. Make use of this bank and you can be master of your own destiny to a marked extent. An account in this bank has helped many to a more independent position in life and it would help you also. Try it and be convinced.

"EVERYBODY SHOULD KNOW."

says C. G. Hayes, a prominent business man of Bluff, Mo., that Bucklin's Arnica Salve is the quickest and surest healing salve ever applied to a sore, burn or wound, or to a case of piles. It's used it and know what I'm talking about." Guaranteed at Terrell's Drug store, 25c.

Who Threw That Brick?

A gentleman residing a few miles out of town in whose advertising notice we made an error last week, wrote us calling attention to it and took occasion to remark that he thought if we people would let the prohibition question rest and attend to business that we would all get along more agreeable.

He also says that he saw it in the paper that if the county was carried by the antis that the people of Haskell would vote the city dry, and he asks, "what would become of the town should the antis of the surrounding country go elsewhere to do their trading and sell their produce?"

Now, it is evident that the gentleman is not well posted on the situation, and, as there may be others laboring under like impressions we hasten to inform him that we (the pros) did not throw that brick. We had prohibition and were letting the question REST and were getting along quite agreeable, except when some anti tried to sell liquor in the town in violation of the law and in contempt of the wishes of a majority of the people. This would rile us up a little, we confess, so much so that we caught some of them and the juries inflicted fines and jail sentences upon them. They and their friends, and a few others who want to sell whiskey, and some who want to drink the stuff, didn't like that, and, we suspect, really saw the mistake in the claim that "more whiskey is sold in local option towns than where they have the open saloons" and they proceeded to throw that brick, thus disturbing the agreeable quiet and refusing to let the prohibition question REST—that is, they got up the petition and got the election ordered to try to vote local option out.

Now as to the other proposition. We believe the town is as good or a better friend to the "antis of the surrounding country" than they are to the town, if they want to vote whiskey back on it.

In the first place the town needs and wants their trade and to buy such of their produce as it can handle. They also need the help of the town. Many of them, and pros also, and many times, have been helped over tight places by the business men of the town. It is a matter of mutual benefit and we do not believe there are many so loaded and blinded with prejudice that they will attempt to boycott their county town because of a disagreement on a matter of opinion. Then again, the people of the town—most of them—feel too friendly toward them to want to see them tank up on liquor when they come to town and make of themselves unsavory smelling, staggering objects of contempt and ridicule while they feel so rich that they spend all of their money in riotous living or let the back-room gamblers swipe it, thus in many instances depriving their families of comforts and even the necessities of decent living.

And again, where will they find a whiskey town? Bound the county all around and you find every county dry. In fact they are dry two or three counties deep in every direction.

Our correspondent deprecates the fact that we are not more broadminded than "to be printing a lot of prohibition trash in our little county papers which the people take in their homes more through friendship than the good they might get out of them." From this it would be fair to presume that this man would consider a paper that advocates the liquor traffic, the open saloon and all of the concomitant evils and vile influences which flow from them, a better paper to take into the homes of the country than the paper that opposes such things. If he denies this, then he must admit his own inconsistency in seeking to deny us the right to combat evil and defend the right.

May God strengthen us for the right and open this man's heart and mind, and those of others who feel and think as he does, to a higher view and a clearer conception of those things which go to make a better civilization.

SECOND CALL.

An Important Opportunity Being Neglected.

We stepped into the county exhibit room the other day, which is being maintained by the Haskell 10,000 club at an expense of $25.00 per month for the purpose of showing specimens of the products of the farms, gardens and orchards of Haskell county to prospectors and visitors to the town.

Two weeks ago the FREE PRESS called attention to the fact that the club had rented this room and invited farmers in all parts of the county to bring in specimens to put on exhibition in it, and when we walked into it the other day we were surprised at both the small quantity and little variety of stuff on exhibition.

Knowing that a great many farmers had their farms listed for sale and were thus interested in making a good showing for the county and also that others want their neighborhoods settled up as an aid to their schools and churches, we had expected to see a better showing and had not thought that it would be necessary to call attention a second time to this opportunity. Perhaps you, Mr. Farmer, will also be surprised when we tell you that all we saw was one watermelon, two beets, half a dozen onions, a few ears of corn, a few heads of maize and kaffir corn from different farms, some lima bean vines with beans on them and two tomato cant partly filled with wheat! These specimens are good, but there are not enough of them and there ought to be a much greater variety, and the specimens ought to be from all parts of the county.

Gentlemen, the 10,000 club is paying $25.00 per month for this room and you are as much interested as anybody and you ought to fill it full during the next ten days. It will benefit the whole county, as specimens will be labeled showing where and by whom grown.

Let us have a different story to write next time.

FAVOR COMPULSORY EDUCATION.

The Cotton Growers' Union in session at Abilene last week passed the following resolution: "Resolved, that the Cotton Growers' Union of the State of Texas go on record as favoring a system of compulsory education that will force the little white slaves of the South out of the sweat shops and cotton fields and into the free schools of this country."

Almost any system that will do what this resolution, adopted by one hundred and fifty farmers, calls for will be a Godsend and an uplift to the people of the South. But there isn't the slightest doubt in our mind that nine-tenths of the very farmers who voted for this resolution are guilty of overcropping on cotton and are therefore guilty of the thing they condemn—keeping their children at home to hoe and to pick the crop when they ought to be in school. For this reason as well as for economic reasons we have always thought that the system which crowds the cotton acreage up to and even beyond the capacity of the farm force to handle it properly and to the exclusion of other necessary crops was a great mistake. There is no sort of doubt but that such farming and the greed to make every lock of cotton possible is responsible for more illiteracy in the South than all other causes combined. The farmers themselves have the remedy easily within their reach. It is less costly—diversification with such crops as do not require a whole year to produce and market, more live stock and—send the children to school.

Prove your faith by your works. If you don't want the saloons back in Haskell go to the polls next Saturday and vote a ticket containing the words "For Prohibition."

Don't risk the other fellows to get in enough votes for local option, go yourself and put in one.

DROUTH IN TEXAS.

The Ft. Worth Telegram of the 20th gives some particulars of the drouth prevailing in Texas. It says: "Texas is suffering one of the worst drouths in its history, and crops of all kinds are being damaged and the loss to farmers will be heavy." It gives the following as the duration of the drouth in different sections of the state:

Days	Location
39	Fort Worth
60	Waco
38	Weatherford
59	El Paso
17	Colorado City
20	Brownwood
19	McKinney

It is said that in South Texas the situation is much better than in the sections noted above, but rain is needed there for the range, as it is in the larger portion of the extreme western and southwestern range country. As will be noted, the central west has had rain much more recently than the other section, being 17 days at Colorado City and 20 days at Brownwood. There was a good general rain in Haskell county about the date of the Colorado City rain and rains have fallen in portions of the county much more recently. No part of Haskell county has suffered for rain since the early spring up to this time, but it is now reported that cotton is needing rain in some portions of the county. Corn is practically matured past the need of rain and is the best crop the county has made in several years. In some portions of the county late feed crops would be benefited by a rain at this time.

Georgia has just passed a state prohibition law that drives the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors out of that state. The large prohibition element in the Alabama legislature say that if they had received the stimulus of Georgia's example earlier in their legislative session a prohibition law would have been enacted in Alabama. In Tennessee Speaker A. H. Carmichael of the house says such a law will be enacted by the next legislature in Tennessee. In Tennessee at this time only the cities of Nashville, Memphis, Chattanooga and the town of La Foyette license the sale of liquor, the rest of the state being dry. Several other states are in the same condition and are fast traveling toward state prohibition. These facts explain why the National Liquor Dealers' Association has become frightened at the menace to the liquor business and is getting behind every local option election with its money that comes up in the United States.

It is the only remedy I have found that gives immediate relief." 25c, 50c and $1.00 at Terrell's drug store.

Rev. W. L. Riley, L. L. D. I can give it unqualified recommendation. 25c, 50c and $1.00 at Terrell's drug store.

Employment Question. Absolutely Settled.

Any well informed man will admit the demand for honest, energetic young men and women, well trained with a thorough, practical and extensive course of bookkeeping, business training, shorthand, typewriting, telegraphy, station work, business arithmetic, rapid calculation, commercial grammar and business correspondence, business law, spelling and writing, is far greater than the supply. If this be true, what have we to do to place every graduate in a good position? First, we must give the course of training the business world demands. Second, we must convince the business public that we are giving such a course. Third, we must have a thoroughly organized Employment Bureau, thru which we can keep in touch with the demands of all the large business offices throughout our various towns and cities. We have all these requirements and can place the right man in the right place when his course is finished.

A young man 18 years of age, a few days ago finished his course, was immediately placed in a good position at $70 per month. He had not been earning $25 per month before taking his course. His brother, who is much older, also completed our course of bookkeeping and shorthand, and was placed thru our Employment Bureau in an $80 position. We could give hundreds of similar instances. A young lady who was clerking in her brother's store at $6 per week was told by her people that she would make a mistake to quit her position to take a course with us. She did not see it that way, her ambition was above $6 a week. She took our course, and in a few months was drawing $85 per month, working shorter hours, and at easier

Young man, young woman, if you are honest and industrious and will take a course with us, we can place you in a good position just as soon as your course is finished. There is no doubt about it. If you were here, where we could show you our employment files and records, we could convince you in less than a minute's time. Make your arrangements to enroll with us at once. If you have not seen our 162 page catalog, write for it. Address Tyler Commercial College, Tyler, Texas. This catalog is full of facts regarding the success of our graduates, our practical and unequalled department of telegraphy, the famous Byrne Simplified Shorthand and Practical Bookkeeping. Read the guarantee made on page two.

Haskell and Haskell county have prospered without saloons. They might not have done as well with them, for some good people will not settle in a saloon town.

VOTERS OF HASKELL COUNTY:

For something over two years we have not had retail dram adulterations in Haskell county. During that time we have had as light criminal docket as any county in Texas, considering the population of the county. During that time our prosperity has been unexampled and no community has ever witnessed more rapid growth than has been experienced by our towns during this period.

For about a year after the saloons closed, there was very little violation of the Local Option law. Then began to come into our midst a few men from outside points, who defy law, and, who for the sake of money have been flagrantly violating the local option law. The last grand jury found 15 or 20 indictments for local violations. At the July term of our county court three indictments on these indictments, some of them with more lightest penalty imposed, there being a jail sentence in each, and there was only one acquitted with about 12 cases disposed of. This check has given the Bootleggers and saloon keepers a chill and they will have to either get the saloons back or move to pastures new. We can spare them. They have allies have circulated the petitions and secured the order for present election. These people and those who expect to go to the saloon business in the county are the most active on the other side.

Why are you asked to vote for a continuation of prohibition? Because we want the unexampled prosperity of the last two years or more to continue.

Because, with all the counties around us for a hundred miles without saloons, we do not want our fair county to become the ping ground for the vicious and criminal of this territory, in here by the retail Dram Shop.

Because the people of the town of Haskell in three elections have said by a majority of their votes that they will not have saloons in their midst.

Because Haskell has spent and is spending $25,000.00 to build a high school building where they propose to have your boys and girls educated, and none of us should want a saloon near this educational center. Saloons and schools do not go well together. Other towns in the county are also making liberal provisions for their schools.

Because all the leading citizens and business men of Haskell do not want saloons forced on them and it is a certainty that if the county goes "wet" the people of the town of Haskell will turn around and secure an election immediately and vote the saloons out of Haskell Independent School District so that no saloon can be placed in two miles and a half of her school houses.

Because Stamford has said through her ballot box by a vote of two or three to one that she will not have saloons. She will be supplied with two or more joints like the "Lone Wolf" and "Sandy Sow" of unsavory memory, if we vote the saloons back in Haskell county.

Stamford too, is spending $100,000.00 to build and equip a first-class college and if you vote for the saloon you by that vote place a wayside "doggery" like the "Lone Wolf" in a mile of her boys' dormitory.

Is it right, is it fair, for you by your vote to impose saloons in towns that do not want them when you would not be willing for the towns by their vote to place such a thing at your door?

Why should the farmers and stock men of Haskell county impose the saloons on towns that do not want them when in every other county in Texas they are the enemies of the saloon while the towns usually favor them? We think they will not do it.

Your vote, if it brings the saloons back will put into Haskell county from three to a half dozen saloons at points where there will be no officers, and the result of what will flow from these joints, without the restraint of law and officers, is fearful to contemplate. These are only a few of the many reasons which impel us to ask your assistance against the saloons.

Come to the polls and help us with your vote. It is needed. Cast your vote on Saturday, Aug. 31, against the licensed saloon. If you are indifferent or think your vote will not be needed, you are much mistaken. Every vote is needed to win. Don't be lulled into security by the talk that prohibition will carry anyhow. This is not true, unless you go and vote. This is an idle time with most of you and we earnestly urge, we beg you, to go to the polls and vote for prohibition on Saturday, Aug. 31. By doing this you will have discharged the highest duty that is ever imposed upon any good citizen, that of helping to protect the schools, the homes and the society of the community in which your lot is cast by continuing to keep from our midst the retail Dram Shop.

Mr. J. M. Blakemore and a party of friends left yesterday on a fishing trip.

Mr. M. B. Morgan has sold his residence to Mr. E. L. Parish of Houston. Mr. Parish is a drummer and has selected Haskell as his permanent home.

Mr. Solon Smith of Fayette, Mo., is visiting in Haskell.

A GREAT LOT SALE.

Messrs. Pinkerton and Baker had a public sale of lots Saturday in their addition to the town of Haskell, known as the College Hill addition. Several hundred people attended the sale and scores of them purchased lots ranging in price from $170 to $41. The sale aggregated several thousand dollars, but we failed to get the exact amount. This addition is nearly a mile from the public square and no better evidence could be offered of the widespread faith in Haskell's future than was manifested by the size of the crowd attending this sale, the spirited bidding and the large number of the purchases. We are informed that several persons who purchased lots will build residences on them at an early date.

PROVED HIM AN IMPOSTOR.

Judge's Clever Ruse Uncovered Trickery of Plaintiff.

Joseph Choate, the famous lawyer, related at a dinner party at Lenox some interesting reminiscences of the bar and bench.

"A striking case," said Mr. Choate, "transpired in the '60's. It was a case of a workman who claimed to have lost the sight of his left eye in an explosion.

"There was no doubt about the explosion and there was no doubt that the workman's eye had been injured, but the physicians claimed that he could see out of it, while he stoutly declared that the sight was utterly destroyed.

"The judge heard all the evidence, pro and con. Then, sending the workman from the court room, he said: "Get a blackboard and write a sentence on it with green chalk. Also get a pair of spectacles with ordinary clear glass for the left eye and red glass for the right."

"This, in the course of an hour or so, was done. Then the workman was brought back and he was ordered to put the queer glasses on.

"He put them on and the judge said to him: "Turn the blackboard round and see if you can read what is written."

"The man read the sentence without hesitation, whereupon the judge said to him sternly: "Your case is dismissed. You are an impostor. You must have read that sentence with your left eye, for the red glass over the right one turned the green writing black and made it quite invisible on the blackboard."

The dispatches tell us that National Chairman Taggart and Committeeman Sullivan have had their heads together and have given it out that Mr. Bryan will not be allowed to remain a passive candidate for the democratic presidential nomination, but that he must declare his candidacy definitely and at once if he wants to be considered by the next convention. It occurs to us that these gentlemen talk larger than they are able to perform. There are several millions of democrats in this country who will have a voice in selecting and instructing delegates to the national convention and if we are not greatly mistaken they will send Bryan delegates.

Mr. Wm. Oglesby went out with a large fishing party Friday, whose names we failed to learn.

Mr. Will Whitman and Miss Bell Rupe took in the Stamford reunion and heard Senator Bailey speak.

W. H. Parsons is closing out a nice line of ladies' and gentlemen's gold watches and gold, silver and nickel spectacles at 50 per cent discount. Eyes tested free of charge. Office in Sherrill building.

Prof. and Mrs. L. T. Cunningham of Stamford spent several days with Haskell relatives this week.

The contract calls for the completion of the Haskell oil mill by the first of November. Mr. W. C. Wyche has the contract for the buildings.

Mr. R. L. Parnell and Miss Soula Merriman of Stamford arrived in Haskell Friday night and procuring a marriage license went to Collier-Andruss' drug store, where they were married by Rev. J. T. Nicholson. They are supposed to have been a runaway couple.

Evangelist James T. McKissick, of Nashville, Tenn., whose portrait appears above, is coming to Haskell. He is expected to arrive here on the evening of Sept. 3 and will lead in a great revival service with the Christian church. The services will be held at the skating rink, which will be seated with chairs.

Mr. McKissick will be remembered by the older citizens of Haskell, as he conducted a revival service here about four years ago. A cordial invitation is extended to all to come and have fellowship in the meeting. The music will be lead by the choir, which is organizing and drilling so as to render the best possible service.

Will Be To Your Interest

Mr. J. R. Newsom of Wild Horse prairie was in town yesterday and said that cotton was doing fine in his section.

Cotton Ginners, Attention.

The thirtieth legislature passed a law creating a bureau of cotton statistics in the department of agriculture. The object of this bureau is directly to benefit the cotton grower by furnishing accurate information in regard to the condition of the Texas cotton crop during the period when this crop is actually being marketed. The fact that Texas produces one-third of the entire cotton crop of the United States will at once show the need of such a Bureau and the importance of the information to be furnished by it. This information is to be based upon actual figures whose accuracy is sworn to. There is to be no guess work or estimating about any part of it.

The plan devised for the collection of these statistics is as follows: Before engaging in the business of public ginning, each ginner shall obtain from the county clerk of the county in which gin is located a certificate (free of cost) showing that he has taken the oath prescribed by this law. The oath provides that the ginner shall make correct reports to the commissioner of Agriculture. The county clerks are to send to the Commissioner of Agriculture the certificate number, name and postoffice address of each ginner that qualifies. The Commissioner of Agriculture shall send to each ginner blanks and envelopes for the official cotton report. The ginner shall make their reports between the 1st and 3rd of each month. On the eighth of each month the Commissioner of Agriculture shall open and compile these reports in the presence of three witnesses, appointed by the Governor for this particular purpose. The result shall be published at eleven o'clock a. m. on the ninth of each month. The law places a severe penalty upon all ginner who fail to comply with its provisions.

CHAMBERLAIN'S COLIC CHOLERA AND DIARRHOEA REMEDY BETTER THAN THREE DOCTORS.

"Three years ago we had three doctors with our little boy and everything that they could do seemed in vain. At last when all hope seemed to be gone we began using Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and in a few hours he began to improve. Today he is as healthy a child as parents could wish for."—Mrs. B. J. Johnson, Linton, Miss. For sale at Terrell's Drug Store.

A good many Haskell people attended the big reunion and barbecue at Stamford Thursday and Friday. The crowd Thursday was the largest however as many went down to hear Senator Bailey speak on that day. Quite a number went down in the evening thinking that Mr. Bailey would speak again at night, but they were disappointed, as he had to leave on the evening train in order to meet other appointments.

HERBINE

renders the bile more fluid and thus helps the bile to flow; it affords prompt relief from biliousness, indigestion, sick and nervous headaches, and over-indulgence in food and drink.

G. I. Caldwell, Agt. M. K. & T. R. R. Checotah, Ind. Ter., writes, "I was sick for over two years with enlargement of the liver and spleen. The doctors did me no good, and I had given up all hope of being cured, when my druggist advised me to use Herbine. It has made me sound and well." 50c at Terrell's.

Mr. J. D. Roberts of the Vontress neighborhood was in town yesterday and told our reporter that Mr. J. A. Price was putting up a fine gin plant and was having an iron bridge built over Miller creek and would present the bridge to the county. Mr. Roberts also stated that he had on his farm 134 acres of the best cotton he had ever grown.

Mr. T. A. Greer was in the city yesterday and paid our office a pleasant call. Mr. Greer settled about fifteen miles northwest of town a good many years ago and is one of those who, by his success in farming, has proven the agricultural worth of this country. Mr. Greer told us that he was just back from a trip to New Mexico, where he, saw Messrs. D. L. Smith and Fletcher Turner, who are in business at Artesia. They were residents of Haskell years ago and have friends here who will be pleased to hear of them.

HAD AN AWFUL TIME.

Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy Cured Him.

It is with pleasure that I give you this unsolicited testimonial. About a year ago when I had a severe case of measles, I got caught out in a hard rain and the measles settled in my stomach and bowels. I had an awful time and had it not been for the use of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy I could not have possibly lived but a few hours longer, but thanks to this remedy I am now strong and well. I have written the above through simple gratitude and I shall always speak a good word for this remedy.—Sam H. Gwyn, Concord, Ga. For sale at Terrell's Drug Store.

Mr. A. H. Day, who resides twelve miles east of town, told the FREE PRESS reporter yesterday that he had lost about 300 Plymouth Rock chickens in the past year from the depredations of coyote wolves. There ought to be some good sport out there for some one with a pack of hounds. Mr. Day resides in the most sparsely settled portion of the county and there is some rough, brushy country south of him on the creeks in which the wolves find shelter.

REMEDY FOR DIARRHOEA NEVER KNOWN TO FAIL.

"I want to say a few words for Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. I have used this preparation in my family for the past five years and have recommended it to a number of people in York county and have never known it to fail to effect a cure in any instance. I feel that I cannot say too much for the best remedy of the kind in the world."—S. Sameson, Spring Grove, York County, Pa. This remedy is for sale at Terrell's Drug Store.

A fishing party composed of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Hester, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Martin, Mrs. J. G. Walden and the following young folks; Harlan and Allah Hester, Claudis and Arthur Walden, Willie Bee and Jessie Martin, Fannie Lee Fitzgerald, Alline Couch, Fay Belle Bullock, Ruth Lewis and Allie Irby, went down on Paint creek fishing Tuesday and returned Thursday evening. They say that while they didn't have much success catching fish they enjoyed the trip and the camping experience.

Enlarging Your Business

If you are in business and you want to make more money you will read every word we have to say. Are you spending your money for advertising in haphazard fashion as if intended for charity, or do you advertise for direct results?

Did you ever stop to think how your advertising can be made a source of profit to you, and how its value can be measured in dollars and cents. If you have not, you are throwing money away.

Advertising is a modern business necessity, but must be conducted on business principles. If you are not satisfied with your advertising you should set aside a certain amount of money to be spent annually, and then carefully note the effect it has in increasing your volume of business; whether a 10, 20 or 30 per cent increase. If you watch this gain from year to year you will become intensely interested in your advertising and how you can make it enlarge your business.

If you try this method we believe you will not want to let a single issue of this paper go to press without something from your store.

We will be pleased to have you call on us, and we will take pleasure in explaining our annual contract for so many inches, and how it can be used in whatever amount that seems necessary to you.

If you can sell goods over the counter we can also show you why this paper will best serve your interests when you want to reach the people of this community.

DO YOU WANT IT?

Dispassionately Written for Dispassionate Consideration.

The antipathy to the liquor business is steadily and rapidly growing all over the United States. That this is a fact and not an empty assertion is recognized by the liquor interest itself. About ten days ago representatives of the National Liquor Dealers' Association held a meeting in one of the northern cities for the avowed purpose, as stated by its president, of effecting a more thorough organization of the liquor interests and adopting more active measures to oppose and meet the fast growing sentiment against their business. The associated press dispatches giving an account of the meeting are our authority for this statement.

This growing opposition to the liquor business and to liquor drinking is manifested in every line and phase of business and society from one end to the other of the country, except that one which desires to make money out of its manufacture and sale and in which the appetite for strong drink has been created by the open saloon.

This opposition to the liquor business and its damaging effects is shown not alone by the moral element of every community in every state and county throughout the United States, who are trying by persuasion and by all lawful means to do away with it, but all of the railroads have within the last few years condemned it by absolutely refusing to employ men to operate their trains who are known to take even an occasional drink, and on many of the roads for an employe to take a single drink means his discharge. And in like manner many of the large machine shops and manufacturing concerns where machinery is operated are refusing to employ men who drink liquor and, discharging those who are found to be drinking, and this movement is also extending to the large commercial and mercantile establishments. So it is seen that not only society for social and moral reasons, but the business world for business reasons, has put the ban upon the liquor business and the drink habit.

There are good reasons for this. Society recognizing the immoral influence and evil effects upon it by the saloon, together with the long catalogue of crimes and suffering produced by it— which no man of sense will be little himself by attempting to deny—acts from moral and humane impulses, while the railroads, the machine shops, manufacturers, etc., have recognized the fact that many of the most serious accidents involving great loss of life and property have been caused by men whose brains were dulled and nerves rendered unsteady by liquor and they want only men who are at their normal or best mental and physical condition at all times.

These being facts, and we know them to be facts, why should we want to bring the open saloon back to our community and lay the temptation to drink before those who can not or will not resist it?

Why should any father, any mother, any brother wish to place before their sons or brothers a temptation which they may not resist and, failing to resist, will unfit them for the highest and best places in society and business, if it does not make outcasts and criminals of them?

We have no denunciation for any save those who are so selfish and so lost to a sense of the common good of society and humanity that they care not for the results to society and to their fellow men if only they can make money out of the traffic, but we simply appeal to the sound sense and higher feelings of men who perhaps have not heretofore looked these facts squarely in the face and submitted them to their consciences.

When a man does this seriously, as a man should in such a matter, we do not believe that he will have the heart to vote for the saloon, for though he may personally like a drink occasionally, as the writer would, he will be willing to renounce his appetite for the common good.
