C. of C. Banquet Is For Every Citizen

An event in which every citizen interested in the growth and development of our community should participate is the annual membership meeting and banquet of the Chamber of Commerce on Feb. 6.

Rather than a formal social gathering, the annual C. of C. banquet-meeting is a get-together of civic-minded men and women who are interested in bettering all phases of community life of the town in which they live. It is a time for reviewing cent outbreak of several cases of smallpox in separate areas past progress, and of planning for the future. It provides an opof the county. portunity for an exchange of ideas and opinions on civic problems with our neighbors and friends from surrounding towns.

The fact that you are a citizen of Haskell means that you have a stake in the community and its progress. Whether we realize it or not, each of us is a shareholder in our community and each of us benefits when our town prospers and grows. month Conversely, when our community stands still, or retrogression sets in, every citizen is loser. Couch

Many of our citizens do not have time to participate as active members of the organization. But whether you are a member of the Chamber of Commerce or not, you are a shareterm holder in the community-so take time out and attend the banquet-meeting. It is an opportunity that comes only once a year to join with your neighbors in civic fellowship.

The Importance Of Newspapers

One of the most prominent members of the House of Representatives, who has also been a farmer most of his life, expresses the fear that the country may run short of food in the next decade or so. He bases this on the heavy exodus of people from the farms to the cities. And this has taken place at a time when the population as a whole has been soaring.

30 Years Ago-Jan. 31, 1929 There were 34.376 bales of If the grim prospect the congressman envisions is to be avoided, it will be necessary in the future to get maximum production from every acre of farm land-and, equally imporcotton ginned in Haskell Countant, to conserve its productive capabilities for coming genety from the 1928 crop, according to the latest reports rerations.

The City Marshal would then "summon" the delinquent taxpayer for one day's work on the streets and alleys, cutting tive weeds, etc.

Old timers say the plan worked, too. Sometimes as many as a dozen men would "working out" their street be tax in a group.

Chiselers will do almost anything these days to make a fast buck-and get by with a lot of their schemes.

However, a scheme to chise in on the March of Dimes last week backfired on the planner, although the idea worked to a certain extent.

This fellow improvised a col lection receptacle, lettered a March of Dimes sign for it, and sent his small children into the business section soliciting contributions.

Someone got suspicious, notified officers, and they checked up on the faker.

The result was plastering of fine and costs amounting to slightly more than $40 on the scheming panhandler.

Haskell County History

We have long been plagued with heavy over-production of certain farm crops and this, no doubt, has led many people to think that superabundance of foods is something to be taken for granted. But it isn't. In a comparatively brief span of years we could have serious shortages instead. The agricultural revolution must keep right on moving ahead.

A Food Shortage?

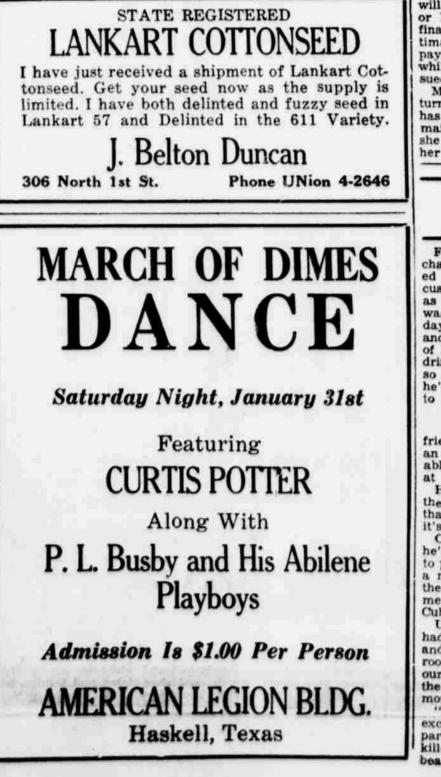

Last December a deliverers' strike forced New York City's newspapers to suspend publication. Nothing has done more to point up the importance of the press to the community.

As Editor & Publisher puts it, life in New York "did not grind to a halt." But almost everyone in the city was affected by the communications failure.

Thousands of non-strikers were thrown out of work. Some 10,000 of the city's 16,000 newsstands were closed. The city government went into low gear because of the difficulty of getting information to the public. Even education was hitas a majority of the students in the city's schools use newspapers in their curricula.

Businesses of many kinds-stores, amusement houses, automobile and real estate dealers and so on-slumped so badly that the city's Board of Trade said the strike produced "irre trievable" damage.

Editor & Publisher sums up: "The importance of news papers in the daily life of a community is rarely known or ap preciated until suddenly they fail to publish."

Recently a man wanted here was arrested at Fort Hancock. in Hudspeth County, on the line of Texas and Old Mexico. Sheriff Sarrells and Olen Dotson of this city left Saturady night for Fort Hancock, 452 miles away. They made the round trip and were back in Haskell with their prisoner late Sunday, driving the more than 900 miles in less than 24 hours. A Nash coupe belonging to W. B. particular receipt, aside from its age, was that it was for payment of a city poll tax!

Back in 1908 the City of Haskell levied an annual poll tax of $1 on all men between the ages of 21 and 60. Failure to pay the poll tax was a bar to voting in city elections. In those days, a person of voting age had to pay not only the State and county poll tax, but city poll tax as well, in order to qualify as a voter. The receipt found by Ken-

A sharp little fellow, and a friend of ours, is developing at an early age the trait of being able to say the proper thing at the right time. He gave a perfect example the other day of the truism that "It's not what you say, it's how you say it." Coming home from school, he'd gone into the back yard to play. Moving a box, he spied a mouse. Being a normal boy, the mouse got the same treat-ment as Batista's followers in Cuba.

Unaware that the minister had called in the meantime and was seated in the living room talking to his mother, our little friend rushed into the house, carrying the defunct mouse by the tail. "Look. mommy!" he cried excitedly as he ran toward the parlor. "Look at the mouse I killed. I clobbered him, I flat beat him to death, I . . "then
