

Santa Fe Not Resisting Interchange With 'Q'

Barton Says Objection to Missouri St. Connection Based on Good Railroad Practices.

The Santa Fe Railway Company is not resisting the idea of an interchange arrangement with the Quana, Acme & Pacific Railway Company's new lines into Floydada, but on the contrary have offered to make an arrangement with the new railway company for an interchange on ground between the two lines that appear to the operating and engineering department of the Santa Fe to be logical and in the interests of the two lines and the community in general.

"Is it the attitude of your company to resist the whole idea of a physical connection between the two lines at this point?" was the question propounded to Mr. Barton by telephone, to which he answered that not only was this not true but that his office had offered what appeared to them to be a logical interchange arrangement and had furnished information on which their proposed location was based.

On the plat, two 100 foot streets are shown intersecting at a square, the east and west thoroughfare platted as Texas Avenue and the north and south thoroughfare as Floyd Street.

The proposal of the Santa Fe is that the interchange tracks be laid from a point that intersects the Santa Fe lines in the vicinity of Kentucky Street and the Quana lines at Houston Street.

Hearing on the matter will be held in Floydada Monday, Examiner Rogers having been assigned the duty by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Good Fire Record Means Big Saving On Premiums

Following the recent announcement that Floydada had lost, effective March 1, its twelve per cent reduction in fire insurance premiums for a year, Aubrey Bishop of Fry & Bishop, local insurance agents, has compiled figures from a requested report from the State Fire Insurance Commission, indicating that this loss is material and means a rather considerable loss.

"Lots of people don't think what a good fire record means to a community," Mr. Bishop said Saturday.

During the year beginning March 1 this year and ending March 1 next year, if the same amount of fire insurance is written as in the same period of 1927-28, the loss in fire insurance premiums will be $3,166.54, the figures obtained from the commission show.

Dougherty Townsite Is Platted For Dedication

Austin Place Will be Attractive Civic Center in Completed Plan for Business District.

The townsite for Dougherty, now town on the Quana Route east of Floydada sixteen miles, has been staked out and the first plats of the town drawn this week by Engineer Geo. A. Linder, who is supervising the engineering work on the development, and the expectation is that the dedication deed will be filed next week.

Meanwhile, announcement is made this week that Stokes & Shields have been named as selling agents for the townsite company by Mr. Dougherty and associates, a tentative understanding having been reached for their operations until the company's organization is definitely perfected; the expectation being that the agents will be on the ground and showing the town to prospective purchasers by the latter part of this week.

On the plat, two 100 foot streets are shown intersecting at a square, the east and west thoroughfare platted as Texas Avenue and the north and south thoroughfare as Floyd Street.

Stokes & Shields, who are residents of Lockney, where they have a restricted addition now being developed, are said to be developers and builders of rather extensive experience.

Work of grading, gravelling and putting down curbs on the streets to be thus improved will be undertaken soon, as will the matter of arranging for a proper water system.

Formal Opening Planned For Motor Supply Sat.

Saturday Afternoon and Evening Will be Given Over to Visitors at New Chevrolet Sales Room.

The formal opening of Motor Supply Company's new Chevrolet Sales and Service plant, covering seventy-five by one hundred and fifty feet at the corner of Main and Mississippi and comprising one of the most modern institutions of its kind in this section, will be held Saturday afternoon and evening, Roy L. Snodgrass, proprietor, has announced.

The afternoon hours for the opening will be from 2 to 6 o'clock and in the evening from 8:30 to 11:45.

The new sales and service building was recently completed at a cost of $10,000 not including the site, and was occupied some ten days ago.

In addition to having all models of the new Chevrolet on display, Mr. Snodgrass said it was the plan to throw open the entire building to the public and special arrangements are being made to show off the new apparatus and machinery recently installed in the service and repair department.

At the same time the Motor Supply holds its opening, Frank Dunn, proprietor of the recently opened Motor Inn, service station in the same building, said this business would make its formal bow to the public, with special features of interest to motorists.

Lockney Denver Station Site Agreed Upon Wed.

Agreement Reached Between Denver Officials and City for Arrangement, to be Confirmed by Vote.

If the citizenship of Lockney approve of the arrangement, to be submitted to them for vote at as early a date as possible, an agreement has been reached for the location of the Denver station in Lockney that will amicably settle controversy on the matter.

The understanding was reached Wednesday afternoon at a meeting of Chamber of Commerce and city officials, citizens generally, and Judge W. D. McCoy, Land Commissioner of the Denver, and the order for the election to confirm the arrangement is being called this week by the city council of Lockney.

This new arrangement calls for the location approximately 200 feet southwest of Main Street, the site which had been promised the railway company by local committee; Main Street and three others will be left open and certain designated streets and alleys not now in general use will also be closed by order of the council, based on a favorable vote of the citizens.

The meeting was called at the instance of the Chamber of Commerce. Although North Main Street had been voted to be closed overwhelmingly some months ago, rather considerable dissatisfaction had been voiced over this arrangement by interested residents.

Big Crowd Is Expected For Legion's Minstrel

Complete Sell Out Hoped for When Curtain Goes Up for Jubilee Friday Night.

"All set" is the word that has gone out from the management of McDermott Post, American Legion, Negro Jubilee, the cast of forty characters having worked for days on the preparation of the show, which is expected to be the keenest thing of its kind staged here in recent years.

Tonight the dress rehearsal will be held at the auditorium to familiarize the cast with the stage settings and the proper handling of their parts, and when the curtain goes up tomorrow evening the expectation is that the Jubilee will be put on like a smooth running machine.

Present indications are, too, that the public has its appetite well whetted for the event, with indications that there will be a complete sell out of seats for the show. Already reserve seat tickets have been sold in large numbers and only a few of the reserve seats remained to be handed out last night.

The Jubilee is being staged as a Legion benefit, the net proceeds to be used by McDermott Post for making improvements and caring for their current needs at the Post hall.

J. L. Clark, of H. P. Watson & Co., is directing the show with a cast made up of a large number of legionnaires, members of the post auxiliary, and friends.

EXPECT SALES ORGANIZATION TO BE COMPLETED NEXT WEEK

Belief that the 40,000 hens in six counties, including Floyd, set as the goal to be signed up for the new egg marketing association planned for this section, will be contracted by the latter part of next week, was expressed Tuesday by J. D. Christian, one of the men who is aiding in putting the organization over.

Mr. Christian and several other Floyd County people have been working on the proposal in this county in their spare time and a large number of hens were signed up this week. Encouraging reports come from Lockney and that vicinity, he said, with indications that the entire county is going to be well-represented in the organization.

Mr. Christian says it is his hope that the organization will be functioning by April 1.

Santa Fe Plans 66-Mile Line To Hale Center

Olton on Proposed Extension from Parmerton Intersecting Amarillo-Sweetwater Line.

Olton and Hale Center in Lamb and Hale Counties respectively will be the principal points on a proposed new line of the Santa Fe Railway Company, which will be built from Parmerton, Parmer County, twenty-three miles northwest of Clovis to Hale Center, a distance of sixty-six miles.

Proposals for the construction of the line through Olton was made to citizens of that community Monday at a mass meeting largely attended, the railway company being represented by J. W. Stewart and J. T. Irvin of Chicago. A similar meeting was held at Hale Center Monday night, and at this time it is reported that the two cities have already raised their guarantees for right-of-way for the line.

The new line, if constructed will practically bisect the big triangle made by the Santa Fe's north and south line from Amarillo to Sweetwater, and its two lines from Lubbock to Clovis and Amarillo to Clovis. This is a large area of territory which would be greatly developed and aided by the construction of a new line.

W. G. Williams Died Monday At Age Of 72

Funeral For Hale Co. Pioneer Tuesday Afternoon Attended by Floyd County Friends.

W. G. Williams, 72, of Prairie View Community in Hale County, 11 miles northeast of Plainview, died at the place he had made his home for the past thirty years Monday morning at 4 o'clock, following a brief attack of heart trouble, which first bothered him on the Friday previous.

Funeral services for the deceased were held Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the family residence, conducted by Rev. G. I. Brittain, of Plainview, assisted by Rev. G. O. Dean, of Olton, and interment was made in Plainview Cemetery with a brief burial service the same afternoon. Hundreds of friends attended the services, among them being numerous Floyd County people who had known the family for many years.

Deceased was born in Upshur County, Texas, in 1856. He was married to Miss Lizzie Byars in Johnson County in 1879, and moved to the plains from Callahan County in 1896. He was converted in early manhood and had been an active worker in the Baptist church all his life.

Ten children survive Mr. Williams, five sons and five daughters, all grown. They are Jeff Williams of Hale Center; Clayton Williams of Dimmitt; Mrs. Earl Raper of Olton; Steve Williams of Canyon; Miss Beulah Williams, a teacher at Vernon; Miss Viola Williams, a student in Canyon School; Miss Josie Paul and Mark Williams reside at the family home at Prairie View, and one daughter, Miss Alice, is a teacher in a mission school in Florida.

Mr. Williams had just returned from a ten weeks tour of South Texas only last Thursday. He was in fine health and enjoyed the trip immensely, friends said. He became ill Friday and rapidly sank until the time of his death early Monday morning.

Railway Construction In County Continues

Railway construction on the two lines running into Floyd County continues, with the Denver now at Rhodes Junction northeast of Lockney, where the construction crew is said to be busy on the laying of some three miles of switch track before jumping off on the trackage, which runs in three directions from that point,—to Lockney, Petersburg and Lubbock, to Plainview, and to Silverton.

Meanwhile the Quana Line has ascended the caprock, having climbed the hill Monday afternoon, and construction is now being done on the track inside the Harry Campbell pasture, some two and a half miles east of Dougherty townsite.

BUILDING HOME

J. A. Summers has practically completed a modern little home on acreage property in southwest Floydada, which the family is to occupy as a residence.

Strenuous Efforts Made to Cure All Possible Subscriptions Before March 17.

Strenuous efforts are being made by all active candidates in The Hesperian Contest to secure every possible subscription before Saturday night of next week when the big bonus vote offer for totals of $30 in subscriptions will expire. Never again, after that date, can so many votes be obtained with subscriptions. On the last day of the contest it will not be possible to obtain much more than half as many votes with subscriptions as it is now.

There is no limit to the number times the 100,000 vote bonus may be won by the same contestant, for extra votes are awarded with every $30 in subscriptions provided are in the hands of the contestant by nine o'clock Saturday night, 17th, or are in the mails by him by that hour. Contestants permitted to hold in reserve the votes issued them during this period and no information will be given out as to the number of times any contestant wins this big extra vote offer. She may hold her bonus vote certificates in reserve right up until the last day of the contest, if she so desires. This is one protection contestants have in this contest against any who may hope to win the Whippet car by the use of personal funds for subscriptions on the last day of the contest.

Second Payments

Some contestants are doing so well in the contest that their friends have become eager to see them win and after giving them a subscription for a year at first have since asked if they could not increase the size of their subscription to two or more years and still have the contestant they voted for have the benefit of the entire number of votes she would have had if they had subscribed for the full period at first. This is true. If the original payment was a new subscription, the second payment is considered as a second payment on the new subscription and carries votes as such. In other words a two year new subscription carries 6,000 votes even though it come in two installments. Such second payments should also be written by contestants on yellow subscription blanks, and should be marked, in the upper right hand corner "Second Payment."

ABOUT ROBBING BANKS

Many of the misguided men these days are trying to make their living robbing banks and filling station boys do not have an organization through which to fight the bankers.

Every day every bank, even the most adequately protected ones, are in danger of robberies and in some of the worst-protected regions (where the conditions which breed bank robbers are most abundant) banks have become unable to obtain insurance against robbery through the ordinary channels.

There used to be a tale about the rich man going into the meat market and calling in a loud voice for porter house steaks and the poor man calling in a soft voice for a nickle worth of liver.

OUR SUBSCRIPTION CONTEST

You have read for two weeks on the front page of The Hesperian about our subscription contest. It is staged solely in the hope of getting a larger list of legitimate subscriptions.

It is our intention that the contest will leave no bad effects, no ill-feeling nor disgruntlement, that the "best man" shall win and further that we shall continue to have the regard and neighborly good will of our many readers multiplied by many others whom we have been wanting to read The Hesperian.

SANE BUILDING BOOM

With every passing day it becomes more apparent that Floydada is to have a very considerable building boom within the next six months.

Floydada can grow rather considerably yet and still not be ahead of its territory as it was, and with the developments that have brought very greatly increased railroad mileage into this section the growth can be "boomed" several-fold before the era of over-expansion could be reached.

THE COUNTY'S AFFAIRS

'Round The Square

"And as the hero says as he strangles the villain 'now, cur, you shall pay and pay and pay.'"

Well, that's just what's happened, dear readers. It looks as though this "collum" is doomed. This week the boss man said that he had reached the saturation point—that he is receiving entirely too many knocks and criticisms about what is said in this space and that he is getting right good and tired of taking the blame for it all.

Somebody round the square said that all the phonograph companies are calling in all of the "Blue Heaven" records.

More brick buildings nearing completion round the square this week. Say, this town is on a regular building boom.

Which reminds us that, if Floydada wants to keep up with it's own building, it should start a paving boom—and start it now. Floydada needs paving and lots of it.

The Smoothness and Snap That All America is Demanding

There's no longer any doubt about it. America is demanding more and more from its automobiles. More power... more style... more speed. And above all else... more smoothness and snap.

Smoothness that brings to driving new pleasures and new delights. Snap that responds to the traffic signal as a sprinter responds to the gun. Smoothness and snap that you know are the very essence of motoring satisfaction.

You find them there because of Oakland's big, impressive brute of an engine which starts so easily 'way below zero. Because of its famous GMR cylinder head... force feed fuel pump... 79-lb. crankshaft and other vital parts.

Because of its ruggedly constructed chassis... its bigger clutch and smoothly shifting gears... and the super-precision construction demanded in the All-American principle of design.

Once you've experienced its smoothness... once you've witnessed its snap... you'll know why the All-American Six is winning such tremendous success!

Mrs. Percy V. Pennybacker says the League of Nations is not a failure, it is succeeding. She attended the Geneva meeting.

It is a great thing that our city authorities have executive power to prohibit dirty carnivals or shows that foster criminal instincts from corrupting our future citizens—the children. All good shows are commended and thanks to the management when poor ones are not received and vicious shows are tabooed by them.

Letter From Elder Day Is Written From Pueblo

Mrs. Day Taking X-Ray Treatments And Is Showing Encouraging Signs of Improvement.

The Hesperian is in receipt of the following letter written last week from Pueblo, Colo., by Elder J. J. Day, who with Mrs. Day is spending an indefinite time in that city. They are at 1415 East Fifth Street. He says in the letter:

"This leaves the wife improving nicely. We went to the Pueblo Clinic for treatment, first to the bladder specialist; he didn't find anything wrong with the bladder. He then sent us to the nerve specialist. He made an examination and found her in fine shape physically and the trouble was with the nerves, so they advised x-ray treatment, so we went to the x-ray specialist and he gave her a treatment and said he could cure her if we gave him plenty of time.

"There is no pain to the treatment but you don't know just how long it will take, and she is coming along fine; eats like a pig and sleeps like a baby, so it seems like it is coming our way just a little bit.

"I was a little dear in one ear and I went to the ear specialist. He went to probing in my ears. I told him I was from Texas and if he hurt me I would show him where to head in. "Yes," he said, "I am from Missouri and you had better keep still." Well, I thought it would be better to take him at his word, if I was from Texas. My hearing has improved some. So we are here and do not know when we will be at home.

"Believe me, Pueblo is some city, population of 70,000. It is built right on the bank of the Arkansas River. I can see the water lines on the buildings 10 or 12 feet high, left from the flood of 1921.

"I have been preaching some since I have been here. I brought Paul with me and you know I can take Paul and show any man where to head in.

It snowed every day last week and is snowing this morning. I say give me a home where the buffalo used to roam and the sun is not clouded every day. We can see Pike's Peak's snow white top 45 miles away.

"We haven't seen but one Texas family since we have been here and that is Weaver Howard and family. They are doing their best to show us a good time while we are with them. They take The Hesperian and we are always glad when it comes because I want to keep up with you boys at Floydada.

"I am sure everything is looking fine in Floyd County, and the farmers are all busy. I do not want my renters to slip any joints but want them to come dangerous near it. I do not know what my bill is yet but feel myself slipping, and when the bill is presented I am afraid I will fall out of the loft."

Dr. H. Z. Pennington, recently with the Swisher County Hospital, at Tulia, spent the week-end with his family in Floydada.

THINK YOU HAVE "IT"? GO TO ROYAL; FIND OUT!

Clara Bow's initial starring production, "IT," is apt to start a storm of mental measuring. After seeing the picture, men and women may well wonder whether they possess "It," that marvelous power which Elinor Glyn claims can attract people against their better judgment.

If you imagine you have "It," ask yourself the following questions: Are you at all self-conscious? Have you a magnetic appeal? Are you a masterful lover? Are you confident of yourself? Have you faith in yourself? Can anything influence you? Are you fearless? Have you individuality? Are you true to yourself? Are you capable of a deep love? Upon answering these queries and battling one hundred per cent, be assured that you have "It."

Madame Glyn has imbued the character played by Miss Bow with a superfluous amount of "It." In fact, she—well, come on down to the Royal tonight or Friday and find out for yourself. Antonio Moreno plays opposite the star. Clarence Badger directed for Paramount.

LORD ASTOR MAKES A HIT

When Lady Astor made her maiden speech in this country before the League of Women Voters in Baltimore a few years ago, the theatre was not large enough to hold the crowd.

When she was told that an overflow meeting was being held across the street she graciously hurried over to repeat the speech. But before leaving the platform she leaned over the footlights and in her winning way confided to the audience that her husband, Lord Astor, was present and to get him to speak to them.

Lord Astor was introduced and he modestly came forward, looked over that sea of women, with only a sprinkling of men, and then began: "Ladies and fellow husbands." The crowd was with him at once.

MAY APPLY "TRUST METHODS" AS AID TO AGRICULTURE

Application of "trust" methods to agriculture to bring it abreast of other business and industry in America may be the solution of the national farm problem, according to a leading article in Farm & Fireside, which is expected to result in the widest discussion of the revolutionary project.

In its first article, Farm & Fireside presents arguments in favor of running farms on a big business basis. It contemplates the capitalization of blocks of farm lands containing ten or twenty thousand acres and their operation by experts and departments just as a large industry is operated. By this method it is believed that investments in farm machinery would result in greater returns in that they would be working the greatest possible number of days during the year instead of standing idle as does the machinery on a small farm. All products would be handled through a general sales manager and in many cases factories would be erected to work up raw materials before leaving the farm.

The writer of the article believes that if most of the land in the United States were so organized farming would take equal rank with the most profitable industries.

Answering the argument that the small farmer would lose his independence by the process, the article declares he would lose it only "insofar as that independence permits him to work without ample capital, without competent direction and without suitable equipment." This change, the article continues, has happened in every other industry with vast benefit to all concerned. The smaller farmer, it is added, would be the workman on the consolidated farms according to his ability, and his wages would be equal to those of the city dweller.

TEXAS HAS LONGEST PRESS WIRE IN WORLD

The longest press wire in the world is in Texas. It is a wire operated from Dallas by the Associated Press and serves 18 daily papers, including Texarkana on the northeast, Amarillo on the northwest, El Paso in the far west, and Brownsville in the south. Many other cities are on this wire. It is 2,714 miles long, longer than the distance from Chicago to San Francisco. Recent changes have added to its length.

These facts indicate "a little known service of the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company, says the Texas Public Service Information Bureau. The wires making up this long press communication, over which Texas cities receive news of the world, are leased from the telephone company. The press service is a by-product of the telephone business, since the same wires are used for long distance telephone messages at the same instant that the news of the press association is going over them.

One of the recent great services the telephone rendered the newspapers was in making possible rapid reports on Col. Charles Lindbergh's flight to Mexico City. Much of the news of his arrival in Mexico was brought to Dallas from Mexico City by telephone. The Associated Press and the United Press each held the long distance wires to Mexico City for several hours in order to receive instantaneous reports. The Associated Press held a wire three hours and 12 minutes, the longest telephone call ever recorded in the Southwest.

The cost for this period was about $480. The Associated Press now operates 154,000 miles of wire throughout the country and spends about $2,000,000 a year in wire costs. It operates 24 hours a day every day in the year except between 4 a. m. and 4 p. m. Sunday, and its wires deliver upwards of 100,000 words a day to the largest papers.

A. B. Tarwater To Run For Texas Legislature

Pioneer Farmer And Public Worker of Hale County Announces Candidacy For Office.

A. B. Tarwater, pioneer farmer living a few miles northwest of Plainview, has announced that he is a candidate for the office of representative of the 120th Legislature, subject to the action of the Democratic party in the July primary.

Mr. Tarwater has been a taxpayer in Hale county 22 years and at present holds the office of president of the Hale County Board of Education.

His written statement is as follows: "In asking the voters of this district, who do not know me, to consider me for the office, two questions probably will be uppermost in their minds. One will be whether I am educationally qualified, and the other is where I stand on important public questions."

"I am a graduate of the University of Tennessee. I am a farmer and have been actively engaged in farming in Hale county for about 12 years. The short space available at my disposal now will not permit me to state in any detail my position on vital public issues; but briefly stated, I stand for clean, efficient, economical government without showing undue fear or favor to any person or interests; and believe in genuine, helpful, unselfish service both in public and private life.

"I shall welcome every opportunity to discuss with the citizenship fully and freely all public questions, and shall deeply appreciate the favorable consideration and interested support of every voter."

McCoy News

The following news items from McCoy were received too late for publication last week:

A fair-sized crowd attended church Sunday and Sunday night.

Among those attending singing at Blanco Sunday were Misses Ima Nel' and Irma Jackson, Lou Berry, Mildred and Lucille Raley, Clara and Thelma Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Smith, and Mr. Carl Tardy.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Green, of Chilton, Falls County, are visiting with Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Brock.

Misses Minnie Nixon, Mildred and Lucille Raley, and Ella Mae Puckett were entertained with a theatre party by Mrs. Jim Gamblin last Wednesday night. A dandy time was reported, but that is not unusual when one has a wonderful hostess like Mrs. Gamblin.

The State School Inspector will be with us Friday and we are hoping to see a large attendance of patrons to show him what a lively and worthwhile community we have.

Miss Thelma Smith spent the week-end with Miss Inez Switzer of Floydada.

Misses Mildred and Lucille Raley were entertained in the home of Misses Opal and Vera Smith Monday night.

John Rankin visited at Lorenzo last week-end with his sister.

Just Tottering, So Weak

"I was in a bad state of health and was going through a critical time of my life," says Mrs. Ella Scarborough, R. F. D. 5, Dothan, Ala. "Several different things were recommended to me, but I did not get any real relief until I began to take Cardui.
 "I was just as weak as could be. My legs were shaky, and often I would just totter around the house. I finally got so bad that I was in bed several weeks.
 "It was then that I began to take Cardui. I kept it up for quite a while, and at last I regained my health. Cardui was certainly a friend to me in time of need.
 "My health is splendid now, and I seldom have to use medicine, but I gladly say a word about Cardui whenever I find a friend going through the same suffering which I endured."

First Entry Made In 'My Community' Contest

Speeches of Contestants at County School Fair, Deal With Entrants' Home Communities.

R. L. Golleher of the Sand Hill Community was the first to enter the "My Community" contest which is being sponsored by the Floydada Chamber of Commerce as a feature of the County Interscholastic League meet to be held this year at Lockney. The entry was received at the Floydada office last Friday evening and the assurance was made that Sand Hill would be again represented in the speaking contest.

Very similar to the "My Town" contest sponsored by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce the "My Community" contest deals with the development of the rural community of Floyd County and cannot be participated in by speakers from either Floydada or Lockney. One of the purposes of the contest is to better inform the citizens of Floydada and Lockney on the merits of the rural communities.

The rules that govern the contest are very simple, the only requirements being that the speech must not consume more than five minutes, that it shall deal with the community which the speaker represents, and shall be composed by the speaker with any assistance desired on the English. Poetry or prose quoted must be given only when the speaker names the person quoted.

Copy of the rules will be mailed to the various rural teachers over the county at an early date. The prize will be a loving cup or a watch, which shall become the property of the person winning or of the school represented.

BRIGHTER FUTURE FORECAST FOR COLLEGE AT PLAINVIEW

Plainview, Texas, March 5, 1928.—Wayland is not only adding to the college curriculum, courses to attract young men but a special feature for young women is being established this term. Cash donations of $406.74 have been received from various W. M. S.'s and also material for equipping the Domestic Science department which new course is being added during the present term. Domestic Art has been taught in the college for some time but lack of funds had prevented Domestic Science from being added to the curriculum. This new department is meeting with hearty support from the college girls.
Coach Frank Kimbrough, who is putting Wayland athletics on a winning basis, is already making preparations for a victorious football team. The gridiron is being sodded, new equipment is being added and many star athletes from high schools of the plains have expressed their desire to enter Wayland next fall. Wayland has a new vision of the future and every indication points toward a large enrollment next September.

Many Curious Ways That The World Prays Is Revealed In Prayer Books Of Western Church

Occasional revision of the prayer books of Western churches is a reminder to the geographer of curious prayer customs that prevail in certain other parts of the world, according to a bulletin from the Washington, D. C., headquarters of the National Geographic Society.
Central Asia and Tibet have been called the 'Land of Mechanical Prayers.' Wherever the natives congregate, there is a constant muttering 'Om Mani Padme Hum O Jewel in the Lotus' while numerous contrivances bearing the same prayer are in use, supplementing the vocal petitions.

Wind and Water Power
The prayer wheel has long been a favorite apparatus among Buddhists of these regions. In the villages and along the highways, the faithful carry the hand model of the wheel consisting of a revolving cylinder with a malletlike handle. As the holder walks or rides he spins the cylinder upon which the prayer is written hundreds of times. Each revolution of each prayer is an individual prayer. In this way thousands of prayers can be said in a minute.

The larger wheels, some of which are six feet high and from ten to twelve feet in circumference, are placed under shelter along trails to sacred places, and in the temples. When a pilgrim passes the wheel he gives it a vigorous spin.

There are lazy Buddhists as well as lazy members of other religious sects. Sometimes the owner of a plot of ground where there is a stream will set up a water-propelled prayer wheel. The pole to which the prayer wheel or cylinder is attached is stuck through a hole in a board which rests on the banks. Then a sort of mill wheel is attached to the bottom of the pole so that the water of the stream revolves the pole and cylinder, constantly grinding out prayers. Often the traveler sees a public wheel or two, bridging or beside a stream, which resembles, at first glance, a small rural grain mill of this country.

Prayers by the Piles
In the land of the Nashi near the Tibetan border the natives, in bright red cloaks, journey to their sacred places, pounding drums and ringing bells. The difficult trails are lined here and there with prayer pyramids or piles of rocks of various heights.

Prayer flags also play an important part in the religious life of the Nashi people. Nearly every village has a prayer flag pole which is seldom without a fluttering piece of cloth or hide. Each flag bears at least one prayer and each flutter is equivalent to a word of mouth petition of the villagers. The devout Buddhist often ties hundreds of these flags to a rope which he strings across an open space where the wind will strike them and shower merit upon him.

Use of Prayer Bricks
The Moslems are more conservative than their Buddhist neighbors. Prayer rugs, some of which are beautifully designed and colored, are important prayer accessories. Wherever the Moslem may be in the shop, or in the street, at prayer time he spreads out his carpet removes his shoes and facing Mecca, goes thru the formula of Moslem prayer postures. First he holds both hands before his face with palms upward, then bending at the hips he places his hands on his thighs. His next move is to kneel without moving his hands and from this kneeling posture he leans forward, touching the palms of his hands and his forehead to the ground.

Some sects of the Moslems use prayer bricks as a part of their prayer paraphernalia. They are cakes of baked clay from Mecca, Medina or some other sacred place. They are placed so that the head of the praying Moslem will touch them instead of the ground. If he loses his prayer bricks, a piece of green paper or leaves of any plant that does not grow fruit will answer the purpose.

Siamese Pray by Rockets
The prayer rocket of the natives of northern Siam bears a crude resemblance to our 'Fourth of July' rocket. When the barrel is filled with powder, the rocket is placed upon a lofty platform and fired during religious rites. The natives are brave people but they dread the spirits of their dead. The rocket is used to scare off the evil ones.

When Kei islanders go off to war, the women of the tribe place baskets of stone and fruit on a board while they pray that the bullets of the enemies will rebound from this husbands and brothers as rain drops would rebound from their offerings, if the latter were smeared with oil. Natives of the Celebes kill a rooster and a pig and, placing them side by side, pray 'O gods above and gods below, if you have pity on us and will that we eat, give us rain.' In Malay the rice growers must take a pint of rice to the mosque when prayers are to be said for the success of the rice crop.

Some of the Nebraska Indians used prayer pipes. Instead of repeating the Indian prayer, the tribesmen sought a quiet place where they smoked their prayer pipes which accorded them equal merit to spoken words. Some tribes would put soft clay on their faces before seeking a place to pray.

USES AUTO TO ILLUSTRATE POWER IN HANDS OF YOUTH

Using an automobile as an example of the unlimited power that has been put into the hands of the youth of today, Dr. Aurelia H. Reinhardt, president of the Mills College for girls in California, declares that it is not for parents to criticize the use of new power by young people but to teach them how to use it.

"We are only beginning to uncover the dynamics of the earth and few of us are wise enough to become masters," says Dr. Reinhardt on the subject in the Woman's Home Companion. "Therefore it behooves us as parents and educators, to teach the young people the fundamental facts and objects of human life that they may use their increasing knowledge wisely.
"Take for instance the matter of mechanical power. When my mother was a girl probably the only machine she ever handled was her own sewing machine. If she tried to use it before she knew how, she risked harming no one but herself. Today her granddaughter might have a six-cylinder automobile. If she does not know how to use the power under her hand, ready at a touch to spring into inevitable action, she is a public menace. She may kill and maim not only herself, but others. My mother could not have done that. But the girl of today can. However, her automobile may become an asset for efficiency and happiness as she desires to make it.

"The elements for the first time belong with all their potentiality to man. The girl and boy of today inherit all this sudden change and this tremendous power. They may become rulers of the earth and heaven and sea. Naturally their viewpoint is different from the one with which their parents looked at an almost static world. The question is, how are we going to teach them to use these powers so generously and continually thrust upon them?"

WEAR COLLAR BUT ONCE; CHEAT RAGMAN, SAY EXPERTS

"Wear a collar but one day at a time and keep the ragman away," is the advice of American linen manufacturers who have just finished a series of laboratory tests in New York.

On the other hand, they have discovered, the man who tries to squeeze an extra day's wear from a collar will find that it must be thrown away three times sooner than the one that is allowed to become but slightly soiled. Women's Home Companion experts, who participated in tests upon household linens, declare that the same proportion of wear obtains in towels, napkins and other articles.

"Laboratory tests have shown that it is not ordinary washing and ironing that wears out fabrics," says the magazine commenting upon the experiments. "It is the special scrubbing required to get out excessive dirt. A collar simply washed and ironed after only slight soiling could be worn fifteen times whereas as a collar subjected to extra soiling wore out after five trips to the tub. It is false economy to wear a soiled garment once more or to use the linen a little longer before sending it to the wash. Cleanliness, in addition to having other advantages, is true economy."

The pest and parasites which menace livestock and threaten the welfare of farm families are exposed in their sinister roles in the new United States Department of Agriculture educational motion picture. The Barnyard Underworld. The new film, one reel in length tells the story of a slipshod farmer and his insanitary barnyard. His livestock fall victim to the attacks of disease-breeding worms, mites and lice which infest the sanctuary his carelessness has provided for them. A veterinarian orders a thorough raid upon the haunts of these creatures of the "barnyard underworld" which threaten disaster to the farmer. A general clean-up, disinfecting and rebuilding campaign follows and in the end the farmer reaps the rewards of his vigilance. There is also a thread of romance in the story which has a happy ending.

Urge Counties Confer With Highway Dept.

Commission in Statement Asks Counties to Submit Election and Road Plans Before Voting.

In a recent meeting the State Highway Commission sent out a circular letter to all highway authorities in the state quoting the following as an authorized statement to be made by the State Highway Engineer in regard to County Bond Issues and county participation in the construction of state highways the statement being signed by Gib Gilchrist, State Highway Engineer: "The State Highway Commission has many times been confronted with and still frequently meets the problem of counties voting bond issues with all or a portion of same to apply on state highways and in the bond order for such issues the location or route of the highway or highways is often determined. In many cases the counties' funds are insufficient for their equitable share of the cost of the improvement of such highways; also in many cases such bonds are carried for highways of minor importance to the State Highway System.

"It is the purpose of the State Highway Commission to use the construction funds at its disposal on such highways and in such manner and on such locations as will result in the maximum benefit to the greatest number of people of Texas. Such a purpose requires and demands attention to a cardinal or a preferred system of connected state highways and the application of a considerable portion of the construction funds on such a system.

"It is also extremely necessary that the highways of Texas be on a proper location and with a proper width of right of way. By this is not meant that the local viewpoint should be ignored but rather that a location be selected that will serve the best interests of the State at large with due regard to engineering economy and safety.

"The Commission earnestly suggests that the counties contemplating bond issues embracing construction of State highways, before issuing the election order, shall first submit their election plans to the State Highway Department in advance of financing. In view of the great number of bond issues already voted and the relation of available State funds to desirable projects, the Commission desires at this time to discourage the voting of bond issues involving State highways unless and until the above suggested procedure has been carried out."

"It is to be hoped that the fullest publicity will be given this statement as it will undoubtedly result in better cooperation between those engaged in building and maintaining highways in Texas and will benefit the State Highway System."

Poultry Lessons Brought Out In Play At Blanco

"Solving the Home Problem" Features Interesting Program That is Well Attended.

Seeking to enlist the interest of the people of that community in production of more and better poultry and the proper marketing of poultry products, the members of the Blanco Home Demonstration Club gave a program Friday evening that proved both unique and interesting to the well-filled auditorium of the Blanco school. Mrs. W. C. Cates was chairman of the program, which was carried out without loss of time.

"Solving the Home Problem," a two-act playlet was the feature of the evening's entertainment. Characters of the play were Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Badgett and Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Wheeler who represented the groceryman, farmer, the hen and the egg. That standard bred poultry producing standard eggs and sold to the groceryman with a reputation gained from the sale of only those eggs which are guaranteed by the members of the Blanco egg circle, are much more desired, will bring a more desirable price than those marketed at the present time which cannot be considered standard eggs, was the lesson forcibly brought out by the play.

Other parts of the program that were especially enjoyed by the audience were the songs sung by the club ladies each dealing with the raising and care of poultry, readings given by local talent on "Poultry that Pays," "Cluck no more My Biddie" and "You have got to scratch." J. D. Christian, a member of the board of directors of the Panhandle Egg Circle, explained the purpose of the association and invited membership into it.

Short talks were made by O. T. Williams, vocational agricultural teacher of the Floydada Public Schools, Price Scott county superintendent and Ed Bishop, secretary of the Floydada Chamber of Commerce.

Zone 4 Meeting Of W. M. S. Well Attended

District M. E. Organization of Women Spends Great Day With Society At Cone Thursday.

On March 1 an all-day meeting of Zone 4 of the Woman's Missionary Society, Plainview District, was held at Cone, with Mrs. Jake Griffith, newly appointed leader, presiding. The session was opened with singing, "What a friend we have in Jesus." The devotional was led by Mrs. Will Snell who used Heb. 11:1-16, as the lesson of "faith, could well be applied to both present and past work in the W. M. Society. Mrs. Ben Hardy led in prayer. Mrs. Boyd, president of the society of Cone, made us all feel welcome.

Mrs. Cox of Lockney gave the response and our faithful district secretary, Mrs. H. N. Porterfield, was present, and, as usual, spoke many helpful and encouraging words to all. The societies in this zone having representation were Floydada, Lockney, Carr's Chapel, McCoy, Petersburg and Cone.

Mrs. J. L. West of Floydada gave the pioneer history of their society, which showed much time and thought had been given to its preparation. The Floydada Society was started thirty-four years ago with seven members and has never died but has had a steady growth during all these years. It has been a means of grace to pastor's home, church and community. One birth, one death and one marriage have taken place in the parsonage in these many years.

Next, our district secretary called for the pioneer women of the Society to come forward. Mrs. Daff Griffith of Lockney and "Mother" Carr of Carr's Chapel, came forward. A hand clasp of thankfulness to them for their faithful work was given each. One of the sweetest faces I have seen in a long time was that of "Mother" Carr who is now past 84 years of age, when with tears coursing down her faded cheeks she stood and told us she still loved the work and "wanted" to come to the district meeting.

A discussion of "How we raise our money" was led by Mrs. Jim Willson of Floydada. A round table discussion was held and many ways of raising money were heard. Mrs. Willson hit the keynote when she said "If we would only pay our tithe into the Lord's Treasury there would be plenty of funds to carry on His work and we would have more time for spiritual things."

Rev. A. J. Brown dismissed us with prayer for dinner.

Lovely Dinner Served

A lovely dinner was served at noon by the ladies of Cone, which was enjoyed by all present. Our capable leader soon called us to order for the business session of the afternoon. We stood and sang, "I love Thy Kingdom, Lord." The devotional was led by Mrs. Ward of the First Christian Church of Lockney on "Love." She very beautifully pictured how if we all knew and loved each other, the days would be happier for many lonely hearts.

After prayer by Mrs. Jake Griffith and the singing of "Love Divine," Mrs. Ben Hardy, of Floydada, discussed "Our Obligations." She is always gladly heard on any subject, and made us understand very clearly where our pledges, dues, etc., were used. She made us all feel glad we could have a small part in helping carry forward the Master's command: "Go ye into all the world and preach the Gospel to every creature."

The grace of stewardship was discussed by Mrs. J. M. Willson, who used the parable of the Good Samaritan. Among other things she said: "We are stewards of Jesus and we owe Him our love, time and money."

The next meeting of the Zone Four organization will be held in Petersburg in August.

These zone meetings, because of the fellowship and helps we get from hearing the work discussed, mean much to all who attend. Bro. Harder, pastor of the Baptist Church, dismissed us with prayer.

Mrs. Will Snell, Secretary.

TO THE VOTERS OF PRECINCTS ONE AND FOUR

I wish to thank you for the splendid support and co-operation given me in the past five years I have served as public weigher.

Although I have had quite a few friends to encourage me to make the race for a fourth term, I feel that there are others who could and would make you as good or better weigher than I. The office is a gift of the voters and I feel that I would best be proving my appreciation to you for past favors by stepping aside and allowing you to name someone else for the place.

With this idea in mind, I respectfully wish to announce that I will not be a candidate this year for the weigher's office.

Respectfully yours,
G. Scott King.

50 Years of Service to the Dairy Industry

IN 1878 Dr. De Laval invented the first continuous discharge centrifugal cream separator. Since then more than four million De Laval Separators have been made, and they are now being used in every country of the world where cows are kept.

Fifty years ago dairying was undeveloped and of little importance. Today the dairy industry is the largest and most profitable branch of agriculture. The products of the dairy cow bring the farmers of this country more than three billion dollars a year in a steady cash income.

De Laval Separators revolutionized dairying, and authorities everywhere say they have done more than any other factor to develop dairying to its present size and profitable condition.

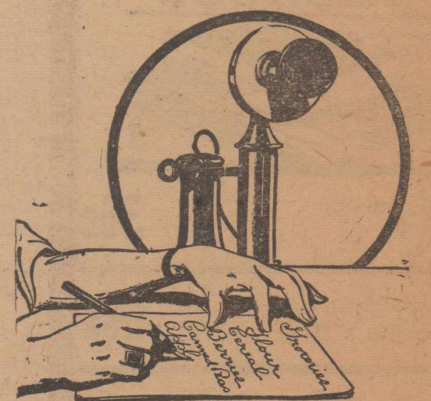

First in the beginning, De Laval Separators have kept the lead ever since. Now the 1928 "Golden Series" which we have on display mark another step forward. They are the most complete, efficient and beautiful cream separators ever made.

The best way to judge a new "Golden Anniversary Series" De Laval is to see and try one. We shall be glad to show you the many new features and refinements.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Boerner left Sunday in their car, for Marlin, where they will take hot baths for the benefit of their health.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Thurmon and children motored to South Plains Sunday to take Mrs. Thurmon's mother, Mrs. C. W. Mitchell, who took the bus from there for Childress to visit her son, Horace Owen. From Childress she will go to Paris, to visit another son, Charles Owen and family. She plans to be gone several months.
