Happy Day to you, Sherman County Old Timers and Readers this very gloomy Mon. a.m. - June 9, 1997. Our heart is far from merry or carefree when we wish readers a happy day this morning because our friends - the family of James Johnson are mourning the loss of James by death. When his mother, Luella spoke to us of his death spoke to us of his death she said that he was called to eternal life by congestive heart failure. That she is thankful there was no long period of terrible suffering for him. Bless you, friend for comforting us, as we tried to comfort you - due to the fact that we have experienced the death of a child. And so, we do wish our peers a happy day.

As for a calendar for the next week - we suggest that each person make his/her own.

Congratulations to Jimmie and Alfred Pronger on 50th Wedding Anniversary and to Opal Bryant, who is 95 years young.

Robert Meek, Odessa visited with Baskin Brown while buying meat for his mother. He said that Garnet suffers all the time from rheumatoid arthritis. Prayers and blessings Garnet, both personally and from Scotters.

Director Jack and Vicki Gore spent the weekend in Houston, where they attended the graduation exercises of son-in-law who received a Doctors degree. They also celebrated their wedding anniversary with their children while there.

Betty Lee and Patty, Jim Brown are in Amarillo today. Betty has a doctor's appointment concerning her back trouble.

Shirley Plunk was glad to be in church services Sunday. She is at home in Stratford while recovering from her car accident.

We enjoyed services at First Baptist Church in Stratford yesterday. Shut in members were given a glimpse of the successful Vacation Bible School held last week. We were informed again of the need of financial support to place the Jesus Video in each home in Sherman County.

Welcome to Stratford to little Stone Tarver who arrived Monday, June 2 to live with Carolyn, Lee and Deidre Tarver. This welcome is from your great great aunt by marriage Timmie Baskin Brown.

Hopefully the day will become brighter and Senior Citizens can be out of the house. Let us be sure to encourage our peers with shoulder pats and luv. We are all needy this week.

National HIV Testing Day

Planned Parenthood of Amarillo and the Texas Panhandle is participating in National HIV Testing Day, Friday, June 27th, by offering free HIV testing. National HIV Testing Day is sponsored by the Association of People with AIDS, and was established to encourage people to get tested so they may:

- *benefit from early detection if they test positive.
- *to begin or continue behavior modification to prevent infection if they test negative.

"If you have ever thought you may have been exposed to HIV, the virus which causes AIDS, this is a wonderful opportunity to put your mind at ease---no matter what the test result." States Michael Timcisko, HIV Specialist at Planned Parenthood. "A positive test result does not mean that you will necessarily develop AIDS. It does mean, you should seek medical advice for the protection of your immune system. There are numerous new drug treatments on the market today, which make the virus virtually undetectable in the bloodstream. There are many people living normal lives with HIV infection.

"While a negative test results is good news to most, that result will be short lived if you continue to practice risky behavior. Such as sex without a condom, multiple sex partners, or injection drug use. The only way to prevent HIV infection is to make the necessary lifestyle changes to protect yourself and your loved one. Regardless of the test result, you should follow safer sex guidelines."

Free testing will be available at most Planned Parenthood Clinics throughout the Panhandle. In the Amarillo area you may walk in and be tested at the Downtown Clinic, 1501 S. Taylor--372-8731, the West Amarillo Clinic, 2300 Bell St. Suite 15--358-8499, and the Canyon Clinic, 1410 4th Ave.--655-0342.

Other Panhandle residents may take advantage of the free HIV testing at other Planned Parenthood Clinics in Canadian, Childress, Dalhart, Dimmitt, Dumas, Hereford, Memphis, Pampa, and Wellington. For more information call the Planned Parenthood Clinic nearest you.

XIT Customer Steve Handley and his son Will

And One Great Deal For Father's Day!

At XIT Communications, we have lots of reasons for working so hard to make sure your cellular service is done right. Because we all live right here in the same town as you and we know there's a pretty good chance we'll run into you around town sometime. And you might just tell us a thing or two if it's not.

So we're doing things like expanding our coverage area (over 197,000 square miles!) and adding great new services like XInTouch - your personal 24-hour communications center that combines phone, cellular, pager, voice mail and more into one convenient, easy-to-use system.

And we just wouldn't feel right if we didn't offer a great deal for your dad on Father's Day. Because we might run into him sometime, too. And he's a lot bigger than you.

Cleaning & Storing Wedding Gown & Textile Heirlooms

Two Part Series (Part One)

Keepsakes from special occasions provide a sense of continuity and richness to our lives. Rites of passage, in particular, are often characterized by special clothing or textile items.

Wedding gowns or christening gowns, for example, may be worn by subsequent generations or members of the same generation. Proper care and storage of textile heirlooms can prolong their longevity in family traditions.

No special treatments or storage procedures guarantee against textile deterioration or damage. A few simple precautions can help limit deterioration and maintain the textile for future use. Whether the expected storage period is long or short term, consider the following recommendations. (Note: Examples refer to wedding or christening gowns; however, recommendations generally apply to other clothing and textile items.)

*Cleaning-After wearing for an event, the garment should be cleaned within several days or weeks at the most. The longer soil and stains remain, the more difficult they are to remove.

Many individuals quickly examine a garment and seeing no obvious stains, believe no soiling has occurred; therefore, cleaning is unnecessary.

Over time, colorless soil and stains can age and discolor, as well as damage fabric. Soil and grit cause abrasion and deteriorate textiles. Food stains can discolor fabrics and attract insects. Sugar stains, as might be found in soda or alcoholic beverages, dry clear but over time turn brown and are difficult to remove. Perspiration stains and body oils in fabric can oxidize, turn yellow, and cause permanent damage and deterioration.

*Drycleaning-Most wedding gowns and some christening gowns require dry cleaning, especially garments made from silk, acetate, rayon or wool. Dry-cleaning removes oil-based stains including greasy foods, body oils, make-up and general soil that might collect at the hem of wedding gowns.

Dry-cleaning solvents alone do not remove water-and sugar-based stains. Be certain to tell dry cleaners about these stains, both type and location, so they can be pre-treated with appropriate solvents.

Tell the dry-cleaner that you want a fresh or filtered solvent. Soil from dirty solvent can redeposit on garments, especially light-colored fabrics.

Some dry-cleaners offer special treatments to kill fungi or bacteria. These treatments are not only unnecessary and more expensive, but may not be safe for humans wearing the garments in the future. Standard dry-cleaning solvents generally kill fungi and most bacteria without harm to humans.

Occasionally, wedding gowns include recommendations to send the garment away for special cleaning. Before doing so, check with your local dry-cleaner. The procedure may be both expensive and unnecessary. Some dry-cleaners offer processing that does not involve tumbling the garment. This would be a consideration for historic garments. Always work with a reputable dry-cleaner to discuss the possible options.

*Wet Cleaning- Some newer garments can be hand or machine washed satisfactorily at home. Christening gowns or country-style wedding gowns in cotton, linen or synthetic blend fabrics can often be laundered. Check the care label on garments and ask the salesperson at time of purchase.

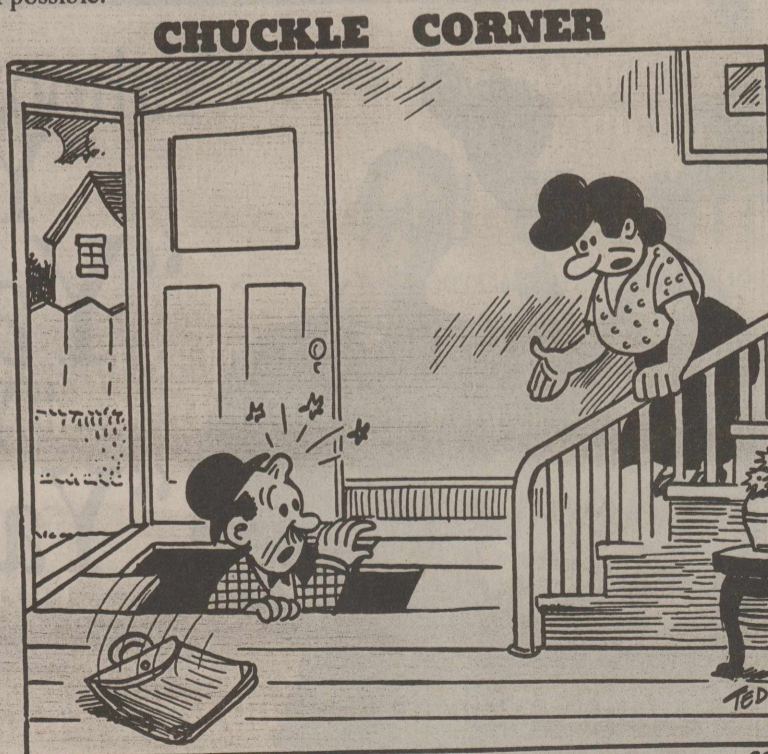

If garments are hand-sewn, fabrics should be pre-washed before cutting out the garment pieces. Laundering can remove water-soluble, sugar- and oil-based stains.

Some pre-treatment may be necessary for specific types of stains. Be certain to rinse fabrics thoroughly and do not starch if the item will be stored. Chlorine bleach should be avoided. It can damage fabrics and, if not thoroughly rinsed out, can cause continued deterioration over time. If bleaching is necessary, oxygen type bleaches are recommended, followed by thorough rinsing.

When handling older garments to use for a wedding or a christening, or to clean after use, do so with special care. Take them to a reputable dry-cleaner who has experience with historic textile fabrics.

Antique cotton or linen fabrics, such as christening gowns and some wedding gowns, can sometimes be hand-laundered at home. This can be done using special cleaning products for delicate fabrics and washing the garment (s) flat in the bathroom tub.

Delicate garments should be supported by a fiberglass screen underneath. Use it to lift the wet fabric from the tub. Fiberglass screens are available from hardware stores. Wash the screen first in soap and water to remove oils, then bind edges with muslin fabric. Excessive heat and pressure can damage older textiles. Avoid ironing these items, if possible.

"I SHOULD'A WARNED YOU, DEAR! I HAD THOSE SQUEAKY FLOOR BOARDS TAKEN OUT!"

Watermelons consist of about 93 percent water and can weigh up to one hundred pounds.

Reducing Your Risk Of Cancer

(NAPS)—Cancer is a preventable disease according to a recently released report from Harvard University's School of Public Health. The report notes that nearly two-thirds of cancer deaths in the United States can be attributed to tobacco use, diet, obesity and lack of exercise.

The Cancer Research Foundation of America (CRFA), a national organization dedicated to cancer prevention through scientific research and education, recommends the following lifestyle changes to help reduce your risk of developing cancer:

- Eat more fruits, vegetables, whole grain breads and cereals.
- Reduce dietary fat.
- Control weight.
- Exercise regularly.
- Wear a sunscreen of at least 15 SPF and avoid overexposure to the sun.
- Avoid all tobacco products.
- If you drink alcohol, limit consumption to a moderate level.

Taking these steps can have a positive impact on your health and reduce your cancer risk.

For more information about the Cancer Research Foundation of America, call 1-800-227-CRFA or visit the CRFA Web site at <http://www.preventcancer.org>.

Pointers For Parents

Learning To Read Can Be Child's Play

(NAPS)—With the right friends, learning to read can be child's play. What better friend is there to teach children that reading is fun than that lovable, snuggable bear, Winnie the Pooh.

For more than 70 years, charming Pooh has been a trusted companion to generations of children through books and television. In Disney's Ready to Read with Pooh, a Disney Interactive CD-ROM, one of literature's most cherished characters takes today's children on an interactive, educational reading adventure via the computer.

Set in the enchanting 100 Acre Wood, children, three to six years old, are guided by Pooh, Tigger, and the gang through nine fun activities. Children interact with Pooh and friends and explore the surroundings. As they do so, entertaining learning activities teach essential reading skills such as letter recognition, listening, comprehension and spelling. The CD-ROM features three levels of difficulty and a unique reward system that helps motivate children while allowing parents to monitor their child's progress.

Disney's Ready to Read with Pooh CD-ROM, the debut release in Disney's Learning Series, is available on Windows 3.1, Windows 95 and Macintosh formats for about $35 to $40.

The wryneck is also called the snakebird because, when threatened, it thrusts its head and neck out of its nest and hisses.

Cards of Thanks

Lee, Deidre Lee and I would like to Thank, with all of our hearts, this entire community for all you have done for us over the last hard 9 months. The words are hard to find this morning that truly express how we feel. Your prayers were felt the very most and are by far what we are grateful for the most. This miracle baby is an answered prayer that could have come from only God, and you all were a part to make it happen. I Thank you dearly for your calls, visits, cards, and food brought to us religiously, day after day, without fail. I am in awe at your endless giving for us and can only hope that we will be there for you if life deals you a rough hand. We love this community and are so glad to be able to call it home. Also a Special Thank You to my mother Katie and sister Kathy, for all the extra you've done for me and to my Dad & Bill for letting them, to Diane for pulling the extra load to keep the business open. Thanks for loving us.

The Lee Tarvers

We would like to say thanks to all the friends, neighbors & families that have helped us in any way in the past 3 weeks. The many phone calls, cards, visits, flowers, gifts & prayers all helped encourage Hank. We are thankful to say all the tests & biopsies came back negative. It will just take time to get back to normal strength.

May God Bless You All,
Love,
Hank & Mabel Rogers

Joe Weaver, librarian from Killgore Memorial Library, Dumas narrated the story "The Incredible Johnny Applesseed" to sixty-six children that were present for the Summer Reading Program at the County Library on Monday, June 2nd.

"Incredible Johnny Applesseed" Comes To The Library

Summer Reading Club's first meeting was held on June 2nd. Sixty-six children were present to hear "The Incredible Johnny Applesseed." Joe Weaver, librarian, from Killgore Memorial Library, Dumas, narrated the story for our young readers. He appeared in historic costume. In early days of our country, vinegar was often used as a cure-all. Apple cider vinegar played an important part in the lives of the early pioneers.

"The Incredible Horse and Rider" was the featured program for June 9th. Sheriff Jack Haile brought his horse, saddle, and other related items that helped the early day cowboy with his job. He demonstrated how the cowboy used his rope in catching an animal.

Children entering 2nd, 3rd, and 4th grades should be at the library by 1:30 p.m. Activities will last an hour.

Those entering kindergarten need to be at the library by 3:00 p.m. They will be there an hour, also.

We encourage our participants to read or be-read-to at least 15 minutes a day or spend at least 1 hour and 45 minutes a week reading.

First State Bank is providing swim passes for each time a child participates in one of the programs. The library is grateful for this gift to our young readers.

Come share in the fun and enjoy reading.

YOU KNOW YOU'RE IN A SMALL TOWN WHEN.....

- The runway of the airport is terraced.
- Third Street is on the edge of town.
- The polka is more popular than disco or the macarena.
- Every sport is played on dirt.
- The flock of chickens in the south part of town occupies most of the discussion time at a town council meeting.
- The editor and publisher of the newspaper carries a camera at all times.
- You don't use your turn signal because everyone knows which direction you are going.
- You were born on June 13 and your family received gifts from the local merchants because you were the first baby of the New Year.
- You speak to each dog you pass by name, and he wags at you.
- You dial the wrong number and talk for 15 minutes anyway.
- You're run off Main Street by a combine.
- You can't walk for exercise because every car that passes offers you a ride.
- You get married and the local paper devotes a quarter-page story.
- You drive into a ditch five miles out of town and word gets back before you do.
- The biggest business in town sells farm machinery.
- A 55-year-old farmer is still referred to as "Young Johnson".
- You write a check on the wrong bank and it covers it for you.
- Pickup trucks on Main Street outnumber cars 3 to 1.
- You miss a Sunday at church and receive get-well cards.
- Someone asks how you feel, then listens to what you have to say.

THANK GOD FOR SMALL TOWNS AND THE PEOPLE WHO LIVE IN THEM!!!!!!
