

UPT students receive wings

Undergraduate Pilot Training Class 81-05 will participate in graduation ceremonies this morning at Simler Theater where the members will receive the wings of an Air Force pilot.

Forty-four graduating classmembers will attend the 10 a.m. ceremony, which will feature two special guests.

Expected to be on hand to present wings to the Norwegian students of 81-05 is Lt. Gen. Kjell Bjorge-Hansen, defense air attache from Norway stationed in Washington, D.C.

Guest speaker for the event will be a former 64th Flying Training Wing commander, Brig. Gen. Charles E. Bishop. General Bishop is currently commander of the 23rd North American Air Defense Command Region, the 23rd Aerospace Defense Command Region and 23rd Air Division. He served at Reese from May 1977 to March 1979.

Class commanders during 81-05's training were Capt. Timothy D. Sims and Capt. Dana A. Longino.

Following this morning's graduation, there will be a reception at the officers' club. Guests attending the graduation will be offered a special red carpet tour of Reese later in the day. Tonight a dinner-dance honoring the fledgling aviators will be held at the officers' club. The affair begins at 6:30 p.m.

Graduates names and assignments may be found inside.

July pay raise chance dims

(ATCNS) — Prospects for a 5.3 percent July military pay raise appear dim in the wake of recent recommendations by the House of Representatives' Subcommittee on Military Personnel and Compensation.

The subcommittee reported out its version of the Armed Forces Pay Act of 1981 to the full House Armed Services Committee May 1. While the bill does feature a 14.3 percent across-the-board pay increase for all uniformed services personnel effective Oct. 1, there is no provision for a July pay raise.

Said subcommittee chairman Rep. Bill Nichols, D-Ala., "Clearly, an increase earlier in the year would be more desirable from the point of view of some service members, but the specification of this larger increase in October will set a number of minds at ease."

The Department of Defense had recommended earlier to Congress that service members be granted a 5.3 percent raise in July, followed by a 9.1 percent increase in October.

According to the subcommittee, it faced parliamentary obstacles in terms of a pay increase effective before Oct. 1, and felt progress on such a bill could be delayed, and possibly prevented, as a result of those obstacles.

While subcommittee action on the pay bill is now complete, it still must be considered by the full committee and passed by the House before it is referred to the Senate Armed Services Committee. Any differences between the House and Senate versions will have to be resolved in conference.

Hospital commander explains services

by Col. Lloyd A. McLaughlin hospital commander

The week of May 10 through 16 is National Hospital Week.

The theme this year is "Looking Well Into The Future". Your hospital is providing medical services to all its beneficiaries today with a view toward tomorrow's health care needs. But how are we providing this quality health care for our beneficiaries?

First the medical service of the Air Force is divided into five corps. The Medical Corps (physicians), Dental Corps (dentists), Nurse Corps (nurses), Medical Service Corps (health care administrators), and Biomedical Science Corps (this includes other professional personnel such as physician assistants, pharmacy officer, laboratory officer, clinical psychologist, social worker, veterinarian, and bioenvironmental engineer, etc.). These corps consist of all the medical officer personnel.

Each corp has a compliment of enlisted personnel supporting the officers. For example; the physicians and nurses are complimented with medical service technicians and the dentist with dental technicians. All these medical professionals combine to form a health care team that provides the best quality health care available to all flying students, flying personnel, nonrated personnel, and eligible dependents. The retirees and their dependents are afforded health care to the extent resources permit.

The hospital's mission does not stop with just providing medical care. Our physiological training unit provides excellent support to the wing flying mission with its altitude chamber, parasailing and other training for the physiological effects of flight.

The veterinary section ensures that all food products purchased from the commissary meet Air Force standards and that all dining facilities on base are operating in a healthful environment in preparing the best quality food for consumption.

The environmental health section is ensuring that the working environment meets standards for health and safety. This summer environmental health personnel will ensure base swimming pools are environmentally safe for summer enjoyment.

In order to look into our hospital's future, we must look at what has happened at the Reese AFB hospital in the most recent past. An obstetrics and gynecology test program was initiated at this hospital in January 1980. This OB/GYN program is conducted by the OB/GYN Department of Texas Tech University School of Medicine as a satellite to their resident training program. The test program is financed through the Civilian Health and Medical Program of the uniformed services under a contractual agreement.

The OB/GYN Clinic, pre and post natal care services, and the majority of deliveries are accomplished at this medical facility. A total of 6,121 GYN examinations; 2,447 OB examinations; and 175 births were recorded during calendar year 1980. This test program is one of the major factors contributing to our increase in inpatient workload which has enabled your hospital to be designated a 20-bed facility as of Jan. 1, 1981.

Next week we will begin the Family Empanment System for active duty personnel and their dependents within our primary care clinic. This program will provide a family health care team for all our active duty personnel and their dependents.

Your hospital is working hard to build a healthy future for you and your family. Each of us has a part in providing that future by learning what we can do to keep ourselves "health wise". Remember, predicting the future is risky; but planning for it makes sense.

JAG offers accident options

by Maj. James N. Potuk
staff judge advocate

Sgt. Crunch works on the flight line and lives in Lubbock. Each day he travels home from work along a route which takes him by the intersection of 4th Street and Loop 289.

One day while the sergeant was proceeding through that intersection with the signal when Mr. Cook, a short-order hamburger maker from one of the nearby restaurants, ran the red light (on the loop's access road) and slammed broadside into Sergeant Crunch's new Datsun 280ZX. The policeman on the scene cited Mr. Cook as being wrong.

The following week, Sergeant Crunch paid a $3,500.00 bill to have his car repaired and visited Mr. Cook at work. After presenting the repair bill to Mr. Cook, the Sergeant demanded payment by the close of the week. The reply was, "Good luck, Sarge; I've got no insurance and you'll be waiting until retirement to get money from me."

Without hiring an attorney and going to court with a lawsuit, does the good Sergeant have any remedy at all?

Yes.

As common sense might suggest, Sergeant Crunch should seek assistance through the Texas Department of Public Safety. Under Texas law, the department can take action which should have the effect of pressuring Mr. Cook into being more cooperative. The DPS has the authority to suspend the driver's license of uninsured motorists where: (a) the accident occurs on a public road, (b) an on-the-scene investigation is conducted by a police officer with a report being filed, (c) the liability for the accident is clear and falls upon the uninsured motorist, and (d) the damages sustained exceed $250.00.

In a case such as this, where these criteria have been met, a complaint from Sergeant Crunch will result in the uninsured motorist being notified of an intended suspension of his drivers license by DPS.

Of course Mr. Cook will be afforded an opportunity to present matters on his behalf at a hearing if he desires; but, inaction or a finding by the hearing officer against Mr. Cook will result in the license being taken by the state.

Mr. Cook can avoid losing his drivers license only by doing one of the following which will be of benefit to Sergeant Crunch: (1) provide the state with a written release from Sergeant Crunch for the $3,500.00, (2) make satisfactory arrangements to repay the loss in installments, or (3) post a bond for the amount of the damage with the DPS.

Should Mr. Cook fail to cooperate, Sergeant Crunch can take pleasure in watching the hamburger maker walk or take the bus to work (and everywhere else). Further, recovery can be had by Sergeant Crunch through his own insurance company unless he exercised the option to refuse in writing uninsured motorist coverage, or had no collision coverage.

Leaders offer Armed Forces greetings

Air Force men and women should be especially proud as the nation honors you on Armed Forces Day 1981. Your devotion to duty around the world preserves for American people a valued heritage and way of life attained at great cost. Throughout the United States, there is a renewed appreciation for your service and an understanding of your sacrifices. I'm proud of each of you and most grateful for your loyalty and dedication. On Armed Forces Day, take great pride in your profession and draw strength from the clear resolve of American people to accept with you the future challenges.

Gen. Lew Allen Jr.
Air Force Chief of Staff

May 16, 1981, marks the 32nd annual observance of Armed Forces Day. This is the day set aside to honor you, the men and women of the Army, Navy, Air Force, Marine Corps and Coast Guard, for your substantial and numerous contributions to the well-being of America. Because of your dedication, loyalty and reliability, our country continues to enjoy the freedom we so deeply cherish. Military service is public service of the highest order, and I thank every man and woman in uniform for having devoted their lives, and their professional skills and talents, to the service of their country.

Care Line

The CARE Line is prepared by Col. Monte Montgomery, 64th FTW commander. All information provided to the CARE Line will be held in strict confidence. Callers are urged to give their name and duty number so that a personnel reply may be made, however, neither are mandatory. Callers are urged to use their chain of command to air complaints or comments if possible. If not, call the CARE Line at Ext. 3273.

*WHAT AN Open House!!
 Cpts. Doug Knutsen and Jim McDonald and their crews did a super job of putting together a schedule of events at very short notice. I want to personally thank everyone who worked on the open house. Although we had some problems, it went well and the crowd, an estimated 25,000 people, were with us. A great job. Thanks.

*MANY organizations on base spent a lot of time and effort in setting up special functions and presentations for all of us. However, too frequently, participation at these events is very low. Whether it's a special night at one of the clubs, reduced rates for a trip offered by the rec center, or a briefing for dependents, all these events are put together with you in mind. Not long ago I asked that a special presentation be given for spouses on the assignment process, promotions, OERs and APRs. People from the CBPO and a few other organizations spoke and did an excellent job of telling those who attended what went on in their areas. But, the sad thing is that few people attended. Sad, because a wealth of good and important information was made available. Those who did attend were extremely enthusiastic and said repeatedly that it was one of the best programs they had ever seen. It's very important that wives and husbands become more aware of what goes on in the Air Force; it can make a big difference in how they feel, and in turn, can affect how the active duty members feel about his or her role in today's Air Force. We will offer this program again this summer. You'll be hearing more about it. I encourage everyone to attend.

*GO BY the South Plains Mall today or tomorrow and see our Armed Forces Week exhibits. In addition to exhibits from Reese, we have items from the Navy, Army and Marines as well. We also have an Interservice Briefing Team composed of members from each of our armed services which will be giving presentations in the Mall and surrounding communities. If you know a club or civic organization that would like to have a presentation on "Armed Forces — Strong and Ready," put them in contact with the Public Affairs Division at Ext. 3169. They'll be glad to schedule them.

*CONGRATULATIONS to our below-the-zone major selectees. The selectees, Cpts. Dennis J. Eflein and Michael N. Farage, reflect the type of officer the below-the-zone system is designed to single out. By the way, we have a new colonel on base. Chap. (Col.) Arnold G. Johnson put on this eagles May 1. Other major selectees were Cpts. Robert L. Brooks, Dennis W. Garland, Gary D. Laxx, Richard A. McDonald, Edward J. Poor II and Earl C. Simpson Jr.

*A CARE Line caller wanted to know how civilians could be given eight hours leave for giving blood without them taking administrative leave. The caller stated he thought the blood program was justified, but should be conducted on a volunteer basis. I'd like to clear up two points. First, the program was voluntary. Only 21 civilians actually donated blood. The remaining 350 were military donors. Secondly, all 21 civilians will be charged administrative leave. Existing regulations authorize up to four hours of excused or administrative leave for civilian blood donors. This also provides an option for the wing commander to grant additional leave in situations involving civic activities which the Air Force is interested in promoting within the community and for emergency conditions. This donor program was designed to increase community relations while providing the South Plains Blood Service a needed blood supply. The blood that Reese personnel donated can be used by more than thirty hospitals servicing more than 100 Texas and New Mexico towns covering more than 35,000 square miles. As an item of interest, Reese personnel have received letters of congratulations and appreciation from Verne Orr, Secretary of the Air Force (see below); Gen. Allen, USAF chief of staff; Gen. Davis, ATC commander; and Maj. General Cleveland, ATC Vice Commander for their generosity and compassion in this effort. Once again I want to pass on my appreciation to the men and women of maintenance. A job well done.

*ANOTHER caller was concerned about all the kids who go to the base theater unattended and what would happen in case of a fire or other similar emergency. He also wanted to know if the theater could play the national anthem during matinees as they do at evening shows. To assure the safety of theater patrons, an emergency evacuation plan has been developed and approved by the fire department. Exit doors are well identified and theater personnel are thoroughly briefed in emergency procedures. To prevent accidents, the theater staff is constantly on the lookout for hazardous conditions and take action to correct any that are found at once. It is hoped that such a catastrophe such as a fire never takes place in our theater or any public assembly area on base, but if it does, our personnel on duty are familiar and trained in evacuation procedures and will get all children to safety. Such an evacuation would be handled the same in schools. As for the national anthem, the playing of this song during children's matinees is left to the discretion of the commander. Past commanders have authorized the national anthem not to be used during the Saturday children's matinee because the children did not respond to the anthem.

I am in full agreement with the caller regarding the benefits of exposing our young children to the playing of the national anthem. I have decided to reinstate the playing of the anthem at all matinees. It is incumbent on all parents to help us teach our children how to display proper respect. I solicit your support.

THE SECRETARY OF THE AIR FORCE
 WASHINGTON, D. C.

May 4, 1981

Colonel Monte D. Montgomery
 Commander
 64th Flying Training Wing
 Reese AFB, Texas 79489

Dear Colonel Montgomery:

I am pleased to forward the attached letters from Mr. John Richmond, Executive Director, South Plains Blood Service, and Secretary of Defense Weinberger. The community spirit exhibited by the people of Reese Air Force Base is a fine example of your civic involvement in a most worthwhile cause. They are to be commended for their outstanding support of the blood drive.

Please pass to each individual my most heartfelt thanks.

Sincerely,

Verne Orr

DEERS reduces misuse of military's health care

The Defense Enrollment Eligibility Reporting System is scheduled to get underway at Reese in mid-June. Beginning with an initial enrollment period, DEERS is designed to reduce the misuse of the health care system.

According to Department of Defense officials, abuse of the system, as much as $60 million per year, occurs when persons who were once eligible for medical care fail to return their identification cards to military officials when their eligibility is terminated.

These individuals continue to receive medical services and other benefits to which they are not entitled. Fraud occurs when someone else uses an identification card that has been altered or obtained illegally.

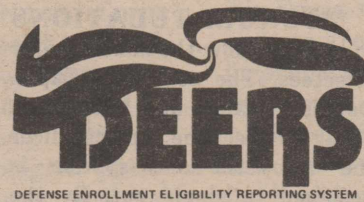

When military people or dependents seek medical services in the future from a military health facility under the DEERS system, their eligibility may be checked through a telephone/terminal computer link in the same fashion that credit card companies validate accounts.

Civilian Health and Medical Program of the Uniformed Services will also be able to use the system and confirm an individual's entitlement to reimbursement for services rendered by non-military health and medical care facilities.

Initially, if the computer does not indicate that a person is qualified for treatment, the individual will be treated anyway. However, an investigation will be conducted to determine the person's eligibility. If it is later found that a person is ineligible for treatment, the person may be billed for the services they received.

Active duty and retired members entitled to retirement pay will be automatically enrolled from information in their service records. Family members' enrollment will be the responsibility of active duty and retired sponsors. Retired sponsors, and survivors of deceased military persons should receive letters from the Department of Defense explaining how to enroll. However, not all of these persons will receive information. It is those individuals that must be informed of the registration through the public media. These individuals should contact the Reese Consolidated Base Personnel Office, Customer Service Unit at 885-3276 for more information.

More information on the Reese enrollment will be announced in weeks to come. However, base personnel should begin getting the required documentation together that will be needed to register dependents. These include copies of birth certificates, marriage certificates, adoption papers, death certificates, etc.

If you are unable to locate the needed documents, they may be obtained from the Offices of Vital Statistics. The Public Affairs Division, Ext. 3169, and CBPO, Ext. 3276, have the addresses of these offices and the cost of obtaining copies of the needed documents. Any questions concerning DEERS can be answered at the Customer Service Unit of CBPO.

Family Services reaches 24

Alone, no household goods in sight, in a new location with no idea where to go? Don't worry, family services, celebrating its 24th anniversary, is here to help you make it through your first arrival blues.

Wednesday all base personnel are invited to family services open house which will include a tour and refreshments from noon to 2 p.m. at building 6100 located across from the main gate.

"Family services is open to all Air Force personnel in need of household items to help them until their personal belongings arrive," said Linda Leonard, coordinator of family services.

Since the early 1920s, when the first Air Force officers wives' club was organized, greater emphasis was placed on welfare projects.

Along with the noncommissioned wives club and moral, welfare and recreation, times have changed and assistance to Air Force families has improved.

Today at Reese there are 26 volunteers working hard to welcome and assist newcomers to base housing and the Lubbock area. According to Linda Leonard many items offered by family services include beds, kitchen needs and baby items.

Also family services offers Project Stork for E-3 and under to help with items needed for first time parents. Items given in the package are crib sheet, undershirts, diapers, blanket and gown, hand crochet blanket, cap, booties and a layette. The hand crochet items are made by the volunteers.

For airmen needing information about a future PCS move family services has a collection of brochures of many bases in the United States and overseas. If there is no information on a particular base the volunteers will gladly write for the brochure.

Anyone interested in volunteer work, which would be a self scheduled job, can contact Linda Leonard, Ext. 3305 or 3306, Monday through Friday between 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Volunteers are needed and will be trained.

Reese honors new NCOs

Fourteen bluesuiters joined the ranks of noncommissioned officers here last week during recognition ceremonies at the Windmill Enlisted Open Mess. According to TSgt. Kenneth J. Zielinski, base career advisor, certificates appointing the 14 airmen to NCO status were presented the honorees by their respective first sergeants. Guest speaker for the luncheon was CMSgt. Norman D. Hall, 64th Supply Squadron.

Among those receiving NCO status were: Sgts. Trond G. Alfredsen, 54th Flying Training Squadron; Thomas D. O'Connell and Paul M. Watson, 64th Field Maintenance Squadron; and Harry R. Shillingburg Jr., 64th Supply Squadron.

The rest of the awardees are Sgts. Michael W. Barnett, John A. Cabler, Ricky L. Freihage, Dennis E. Grambling, Gregorio Lopezguerrero, David H.J. Smith, James W.R. Steward Jr., Eugene M. Tieppo Jr., Kenneth N. Warlick and Lynn D. Winker, 64th Organizational Maintenance Squadron.

For career information about the Air Force contact Sergeant Zielinski at Ext. 3168.

NEW DCR heads command moves

Reese's incoming deputy commander for resources will touch off a chain reaction of personnel moves when he vacates his current position as commander of the 3504th Recruiting Group at Lackland AFB, Texas.

Replacing Col. George B. Lapham in the recruiting slot will be Col. Maurice G. Gardner, currently at Randolph AFB, Texas serving as chief of the sales and management training division at Headquarters, U.S. Air Force Recruiting Service.

These moves were among several announced recently by Gen. B.L. Davis, commander, Air Training Command. In other senior officer actions:

Col. Kenneth Fisher, deputy commander for operations of the 82nd Flying Training Wing at Williams AFB, Ariz., will become commander of Williams' 82nd Air Base Group.

Fisher succeeds Col. Charles H. Davis IV, who will be moving this summer to Fort Meade, Md., to become deputy chief for special systems at the National Security Agency.

The new commander of the 14th Air Base Group at Columbus AFB, Miss., will be Col. Remo J. Nicoli. He is now completing a tour as director of operations at the Air Command and Staff College at Maxwell AFB, Ala.

Col. Paul L. Roberson, deputy commander of the 3345th Air Base Group at Chanute AFB, Ill., will soon assume command of that unit. He will succeed Col. Lee R. Cook, who will move to Kelly AFB, Texas, to become deputy chief of staff for personnel at Headquarters, Electronic Security Command.

Intramural softball squads begin quest for loop title

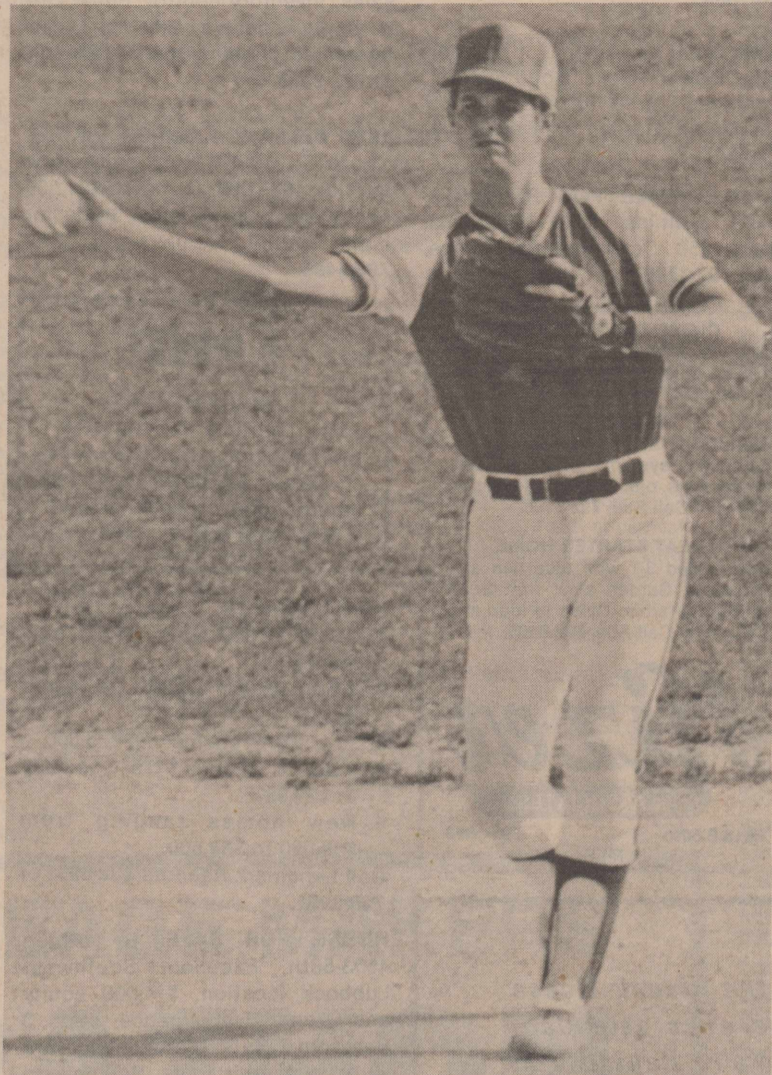

If the rest of the intramural softball season is as action packed as opening night, it should be a wild race for the title.

All 12 of the league's teams squared off Monday night with the 1958th Communications Squadron, Organizational Maintenance Squadron, Sturon, Field Maintenance Squadron, Supply and the Civil Engineers posting the first wins of the season.

The top game of the night was FMS' 5-4 seventh-inning win over Resource Management. With two out in the bottom of the seventh and the score tied 4-4, Tim Sanderson drew a walk. He moved to third on Donald Locke's single and came home on Antonio Sanchez' line-drive RBI single to right.

Shoes became the most important piece of equipment in Supply's match against the Hospital. With Supply up 3-1 in the top of the fourth, officials discovered that one of the Hospital players was wearing metal spikes. League bylaws prohibit the use of metal spikes. After talking it over with the Hospital coach the officials called the game in favor of Supply.

Rounding out opening night play, Comm beat the Security Police, 9-2; OMS stopped the 54th, 13-5; Sturon raced to a 10-0 lead in the first and held on for a 14-8 win over the 35th FTS and CE beat Air Base Group, 12-7.

Double play Weldon Shofner, Air Base Group shortstop, tries to turn a double play during Group's league opener against CE Monday night. The double play try failed as did Group. CE won, 12-7. (Courtesy photo by Judi Vermillion)
