Mountain and Florida Scenes Reproduced in Letter From F. L. Hargis

Letter from F. L. Hargis, former of the Floydada community who owns property near the city and left about two years ago to "see the world," has been received in the Hesperian from Florida and is reproduced for the benefit of the friends of Mr. Hargis.

Panama City, Florida
February 22, 1926.
Floyd County Hesperian,

Florida, Texas,

Friends:

It is to say we are still enjoying the Hesperian, even if we are away from Florida. I am still interested in that part of the world and its people. We still have our home farm in Floydada—and, we hope, still have our friends there.

At nearly two years in the Bentinville, Ark., and while I had all the main health reasons we saw many beautiful mountains and valleys. And I have seen as many different things as is raised in that part. In the Ozarks last August by way through Missouri to St. Louis to Sparta, Ill., where we were; then on to Bowling Green where we visited other places there also visited Mammoth Cave, where we were killed. Went from there to Lee, where we visited other places of other kin and my old home where I was born. A little boy; also the one where I first started to work. Pretty hot and dry in the spring, but very dry. Have seen many things and they are very different in winter.

Went into Alabama to see my wife's relatives and old home. She remembers they were along on the train. We visited in Florida. Saw many things and monuments.

Through the mountains we saw very fine things beginning to come down to the lowlands. The big things were seen. The mountains were seen. The mountains were seen.

The main thing to be seen was the life. The place was out. The mountains were seen.

Towns on the coast and in the interior. We came on to this part and found some good located rooms in a nice home, so we have enjoyed the winter so far. Haven't seen any snow and just a little ice one time in a spell after Xmas. Have been fishing several times and caught some fine trout. We are enjoying plenty of fish and oysters. Everything is like spring here now.

We expect to return to the Ozarks next month, so when you get this you may just forward our paper to Bentonville, Ark., as we have friends that will take care of them until we get there, as we aim to be on the road for some time seeing the sights. You will find a check for which renew my subscription to The Hesperian. This is my seventeenth year I have been taking it.

With best wishes for the future, I remain your friend,
F. L. HARGIS.

Married at Baker Sunday

Miss Cledia Greggs, of Floydada, and Mr. H. I. Neely, of Abernathy, were married Sunday morning at 10:30 at the Baker School House. Elder E. B. Mullins officiated at the wedding. The groom resides at Abernathy. He is a son of S. T. Neely, former resident of this county.

350 Guests at Twilight Display of Spring Finery

Baker, Hanna Company's Spring Style Show Tuesday Evening Attracts Interest of Many.

More than 350 guests attended Baker-Hanna Company's twilight display of spring modes in ready-to-wear and millinery at their store on South Side Tuesday evening from 7 to 9, guests of the store for the evening numbering many Floydada, Lockney, Matador and Paducah women.

Spring style trends were depicted by models in two groups, the little misses and the misses and women. Mesdames Jese West, of the local store, and Etta Covington, head of the ladies' ready-to-wear department of the Paducah store, were hostesses for the evening. Mrs. S. N. Tawwater had charge of the music and Miss Frances Edwards and Mrs. W. H. Sharp served punch.

Dresses, coats, suits and millinery of the spring modes were displayed on live models, the store being arranged so the guests could inspect the garments shown as the models passed through the aisles.

Little misses who served as models during the display were Virginia Belle Gamble, Marilyn Fry, Carrabelle Carter, Bert Ione Smith, Wana Tawwater; models for the ladies' garments were Misses Ursula Angell, Evelyn Kizziar, Ila Mae Steen, Mrs. Fred Jones, of Floydada; Misses Charlie Blount, Inez Walker, Evelyn Doolin and Mrs. Waldo Renfro, of Paducah.

S. N. Tawwater, manager of the store, Wednesday morning expressed gratification at the response of the women to the announcement of the twilight display, which served as a novel and interesting manner of presenting the style trends of the season.

Miss Annie Franklin-Charley Taylor Wedding Solemnized Sunday Night

Miss Annie Franklin and Mr. Charley Taylor (colored) were united in marriage at the Mount Zion Baptist Church last Sunday evening at 8 o'clock by the Reverend C. M. Bell of Lubbock before a large group of intimate friends and a somewhat smaller assemblage of curious "white folks."

Mrs. Taylor is principal of the Lon M. Davis or North Floydada Ward School, and resided at Brenham before assuming her duties as professor at the local institution of learning. Mr. Taylor is culinary chef at the City Hotel, in which capacity he has served for approximately nine months.

The blissful twain will continue, indefinitely, their abode in the metropolis of Floyd County.

'Peppy' Meeting Held By Floydada C. of C. Friday

Unanimous Vote Backs Floyd County Fair Idea.—Floydada's Needs Are Discussed.

One of the "peppiest" meetings of the Floydada Chamber of Commerce, was held last Friday evening at the County Court room. A good program was carried out although a few of the members on the program were absent on account of sickness.

"Pete" Nelson, who won second place at Littlefield in the "My Town" contest gave his talk to the members and received their thanks and congratulations. Students who enter the contest to be held at Amarillo the 21, 22 and 23 of June, will be asked from time to time to give their talks at the regular meeting of the Chamber of Commerce.

The possibility of a Floyd County Fair was brought up by J. I. Hammonds and a general discussion followed with the result that a unanimous vote was taken to have a fair, dates and other arrangements to be worked out later.

No action was taken on the Floyd County Park proposition, as the delegation from Lockney was not present. The idea was put before the members by J. G. Wood.

F. J. Boesch gave a fine talk on the observations of a new comer. Mr. Boesch is a member of the Floydada Insurance Agency, and a new member of the Chamber of Commerce, having joined shortly after his arrival here.

A great amount of good was derived from the visit of Col. R. J. Lee and party, said O. P. Rutledge, president of the Chamber, who said Mr. Lee is working for the interest of West Texas and we were glad indeed to have him.

Among the things that Floydada needs most as brought to the Chamber of Commerce by Glad Snodgrass and F. P. Henry, were better seating facilities for the south ward school, an oil mill, improvements on the highways and streets such as signs on the highways and better streets leading into town from these highways, street and residence numbers, cash basis for city, a curfew law, and more co-operation, more pushing and less holding.

A vote of thanks was extended to Woody Drug Co. for cigars.

New Features Included In 1926 Texas Almanac

More Than 250 Pages of New Matter in Volume, which is Compendium of Information About Texas

Many new features are included in the 1926 volume of The Texas Almanac and State Industrial Guide, published by The Dallas Morning News, which has just come from the press. It is a more compact volume than the edition of 1925. The more basic information is condensed and brought up to date and there is in addition more than 250 pages of entirely new matter.

One of the features of The Texas Almanac this year is the full text of the Texas Constitution with all amended sections indicated by blackface type, and with footnotes giving dates of all amendments and explaining all changes that have been made since the adoption of the present Constitution. Due to the fact that amendments to the State Constitution are made in the body of the text instead of being amended, as in the case of the United States Constitution, the Texas Constitution is generally published in such a way that amendments are not distinguishable. The new Almanac also carries the full text of the United States Constitution.

Another feature of the Almanac is a section devoted to brief articles on the 576 principal cities and towns of Texas and including all places listed by the last United States Census or having as many as forty listed business houses in the 1925 lists of the chief commercial rating concerns. Chapters on agriculture, minerals, live stock, education, highways, banking, insurance, State finances, etc., are fully revised and brought up to date. There is a complete list of all State officials, boards and commissions, giving names of office holders, salaries, lengths of terms, manner of selection for office and date of founding of office. There are also lists of all county officials and the Mayors of more than 400 of the principal cities and towns of the State.

Other interesting features include a list of principal Texas organizations, with names and addresses of presidents and secretaries, 1926 political calendar, principal radio stations, origins of names of Texas cities and towns, sport records, State game laws, Texas vital statistics, foreign trade, utilities, the results of the new agricultural census, complete calendar with supplementary matter for the year 1926, recommendations of the Educational Survey Commission, revised Postoffice Guide, weather statistics and numerous other matters. A revised map of Texas in colors is folded under the back cover.

Mrs. Keith Gamble and Grigsby Meharg of Plainview, niece and nephew of W. C. Grigsby, spent the past weekend with the Houston and Grigsby families.

AND THE FURNACE SMOKES

A man seeing the notice "Iron Sinks" in a hardware store, window went inside and said that he was perfectly aware of the fact that iron sinks.

Alive to the occasion the dealer retaliated, "Yes, I know, and time flies, sulphur springs, jam rolls, grass slopes, music stands, moonlight walks, rubber tires and the organ stops."

"Haven't you forgotten one thing?" asked the visitor.

"What's that?" inquired the shopkeeper cautiously.

"Marble busts," was the reply.

Home Demonstration Club News

WOMEN FROM ALL PARTS OF COUNTY AT LOCKNEY RALLY

Lockney Beacon: The greatest rally ever held by the Floyd County Home Demonstration Clubs was held at the First Baptist church in Lockney today. Ladies from all parts of the county, and visitors from nearby counties were present. Miss Blanche Bass, county home demonstration agent, had charge of the program and introduced the speakers.

Mrs. Kate Collier, president of the Lockney Home Demonstration club, made the address of welcome, and thanked the Lockney Chamber of Commerce for the assistance rendered to the club.

E. S. Shoaf spoke briefly, eulogizing the work of the various clubs, and pledged the support of the local Chamber in assisting the club in making Lockney a beautiful city.

Mrs. Lon Smith of Floydada made an address on demonstration work, taking her address from Proverbs in the Bible and applying it to the present woman. Mrs. Smith's subject was worth while, and was delivered in an admirable manner.

Mrs. W. E. Miller of Sand Hill, winner of last year's kitchen contest over the entire state, told the audience how it was accomplished.

Eddie Bishop, secretary of Floydada Chamber of Commerce, spoke on Home Life in Floyd County. His address bristled with eloquence.

Mrs. G. M. Tate of Aiken told of the value of Home Demonstration work. A review of the work of the County Federated clubs was given by Mrs. Carl McAdams.

The Lockney Ladies' quartette, composed of Mesdames L. H. Gruver, Carl McAdams, W. D. Biggers and Esma Penninger, rendered several numbers, which were well received.

At noon a bountiful luncheon was served by the ladies, in the basement, and everyone had an enjoyable time.

Mrs. Mable Wilson, (nee Faulkner), of Hereford, former demonstration agent in this county, was present, and made a talk on the work.

Miss Bass then gave a brief report of Club work in Floyd County, and also some suggestions for improving the work. She emphasized the point that if the members of each Club put their homes on a basis that is economically sound, mechanically convenient, physically healthful and artistically satisfying, then the Club work must be made a business.

LONE STAR GIRLS' CLUB

(Too late for last week's paper.) The Lone Star Girl's 4H Home Demonstration Club met Tuesday, February 23, in the auditorium of the Lone Star school building. We hope to have our Club room prepared by the next meeting, and also desire to have a better meeting. There were nine members present and two absent at the meeting. New members are doing well in their Club work.

Miss Bass gave us full instructions for hemstitching, as the girls were not prepared for instructions on the cap and apron work. Each Club girl is going to make a pair of pillow cases and hemstitch them as their home improvement work.

The instructions will be given on the cap and apron work at the next meeting. Some of the girls are taking poultry as their productive project and already have some little chickens; others have their pens fixed.

WHAT '4H' MEANS

Head, hands, heart and health—that's the meaning of the "4H" appearing frequently in the columns of the girls' home demonstration club news, lest readers be unaware of the fact. And it's a part of the pledge which each girl takes on becoming a member of a Girls' 4H Club which goes something like this: "My head to greater thinking, My hands to greater service, My heart to truer loyalty and finer sympathy, My health to efficient living, Service to our home, our country and our God."

COUNTY CLUBS ARE ENTERING STATE-WIDE GARDEN CONTEST

One of the most interesting projects taken up in the Women's Clubs this year is the "State-Wide Garden Contest." The object of the contest is to encourage continuous production of a variety of fresh vegetables of good quality, to encourage a wide utilization of these in both a raw and cooked form in the daily diet of the family, and to demonstrate the effect of proper cultivation and fertilization.

Each woman's Club has a special demonstrator, who is chosen by the club members themselves, and, in selecting these contestants, we have tried to choose those living in the center of the community, where the club members may observe the work done.

Rules of the contest say that the contestant must have a demonstration plot of one-fourth acre, divided into two sections. Both sections shall be prepared, planted, and cultivated in the same manner with the addition of 50 pounds of nitrate of soda to be added to one section. This fertilizer is to be supplied free of charge to the Club, with instructions for its use by the Educational Bureau Nitrate of soda. The time for the contest will be any eight months period between January 15 and December 1, 1926. Two Club meetings will be held on the demonstration plot during the year, one in the spring and one in the fall. Then each Club entering the contest must have two Fresh Vegetable Shows, one from the fall garden and one from the spring garden; these exhibits to be held in connection with the regular Club meetings, at which time all other people of the community may be invited.

The Hastings Company, Atlanta, Georgia, is offering seven prizes to winners in the State, but no more than two prizes shall go to any one county.

Prize for the Club winning first in the State is $35; to the Club winning second in the state, $25; third place prize, $15; fourth $10; fifth $7; sixth prize $5; and seventh prize to the State winner is $3.

Contestants chosen in various Clubs over the county are:

- Mrs. Clark Smith—Harmony.
- Mrs. George Riggsby—Aiken.
- Mrs. T. E. Assiter—Starkey.
- Mrs. Albert King—Lone Star.
- Mrs. L. E. McCulloch—Providence.
- Mrs. W. E. Miller—Sand Hill.
- Mrs. D. M. Badgett—Blanco.
- Mrs. A. J. Burnett—Campbell.

AIKEN GIRLS' CLUB

The Aiken Girls' Home Demonstration Club met Tuesday, February 23. Our regular day is every first and third Thursday, but we met Tuesday on account of the County Home Demonstration Clubs all-day meeting at Lockney Thursday.

The house was called to order by the president, the minutes of last meeting read by the secretary, then the roll called; each member told what she had done in regard to Club work since the last meeting.

Miss Bass distributed the tags to be used on the Club work and gave instructions as to how the members should put them on. She examined all the girls' work and explained what she desired done by next meeting.

All are looking forward to the next meeting with eagerness, for we like the work and think Miss Bass could not be beat.

PROVIDENCE 4H GIRLS' CLUB

Providence 4H Home Demonstration Club met Tuesday, February 23, in the girl's Club room. The meeting was called to order by the president, Miss Olamae Gamble, and the minutes of last meeting read by Miss Bass, home demonstrator, and approved by all, as our secretary was not able to be present.

There were seven girls present and five absent. Some of them are on the sick list and were unable to attend, but we hope all of them can attend next time.

Each girl had her hot dish holder and cup towel finished. Most all of them had their emblems worked and ready to put on. Miss Bass gave instructions on hemstitching. As to home improvement work, we are making a dresser scarf, which will be made of Indian Head linen and will be hemstitched all around. Some of the girls have them finished, and they are very pretty.

Miss Bass said for the girls to have the goods cut out for the aprons and caps, so that each could begin at once on these things.

Some of the girls have their hen set, so as to have early chickens, while others haven't. Miss Bass told the Club members to write Mr. E. S. Shoaf for some eggs to set, which some have done. The girls should set their hens right away or when the fair is held this fall they won't have any chickens to show what has been done during the year. This should be a prosperous year, so girls don't wait until the last minute then say, "I didn't have time," "Miss Bass gave us too much work," or something like that.

Below is a poem which the reporter has composed and which she believes all should follow until next fall:

Young girls take warning
From this on and ever;
Don't say you can't raise chickens at all
You may not accomplish much this summer,

But wait till the Fair next fall.
The Club girls believe their Club room is the most beautiful place in Floyd County, and any one doubting it is asked to come see for themselves. We not only speak well of our Club room, but of our demonstration agent, Miss Blanche Bass, for we are well pleased with both.

The next meeting will be held on March 9. Everybody welcome.

LAKEVIEW 4H CLUB

The Lakeview Girl's Home Demonstration Club met Friday morning at 10:30, February 23. Miss Bass was present, but quite a few members were absent on account of sickness.

All learned the Club pledge and motto. The girls have finished their the Club work. The Club will meet on March 12. Every girl is to be present and work on their aprons.

THE LOW COST OF Using Long Distance

Long Distance saves so much time, effort and money that some people just naturally assume that the rates for the service are high. But, are they?

One of our subscribers recently sent his voice to eleven different people in eleven different towns from 8 to 225 miles away at the cost averaging 76 cents a call. He covered nearly 1,000 miles and he transacted business with all of these people in 33 minutes.

How else could you accomplish such remarkable results in such little time at such cost?

MARCH 22, 1923

1,000,000

DECEMBER 16, 1925

1,500,000

On March 22, 1923, Buick celebrated the building of the millionth Buick. Approximately eighteen years were consumed in the accomplishment.

On December 16, 1925, Buick reached the million and a half mark. A million Buicks in eighteen years—the next half million in two years and nine months.

At the present time, public demand calls for more than 20,000 Buicks every month. This means the next half million in the hands of Buick owners, within two years.

These bare figures tell a graphic story of Buick's continuous advance in public regard. The great acceleration of demand, at the present time, speaks strongly of the increased value and desirability in the Better Buick.

Leadership belongs to Buick because a nation familiar with many motor cars has given it to Buick.

The American public wants "finer transportation at lower cost", and Buick provides it!

DO YOU WANT AN

with possible returns many times in excess of ordinary investments, in the Amarillo Oil Field?

Is it not better to invest wisely in a company operating sanely in proven territory, where there is no "promotion" in the stock than to hazard money in a wildcat company organized solely for the purpose of selling stock?

One of the companies organized in Amarillo to operate in the Amarillo field is the Spring Creek Oil Company, organized by Frank Wolflin, Lindsay Nunn and E. F. Granberry.

This company went into the field and purchased several leases, one of the tracts being 40 acres out of Section 5 Block Y for a cash consideration of $50,000.00 and a 1-8 over-riding royalty, and it is on this tract that the first well is now being drilled. In addition to this 40 acres there is another 40 in Section 7 Block Y, about 5-8 mile South of the Phillips producers and approximately a mile South of the Twin Six, this purchase at a cost of $24,000.00. There is an additional 230 acres in the Northwest corner of Carson County in what is known as the "Four Corners" field close to the Warwick producer just over the line in Potter County, this last acreage being purchased at a cost of $10,000.00. All of this acreage, amounting to $84,000.00, together with $41,000.00 in cash for drilling purposes, comprises the capital stock of $125,000.00. Only a small amount of the stock is placed on the market, the majority of it being carried by the organizers of the company, which are also the officers and directors, namely, Frank Wolflin, President; E. F. Granberry, Vice-President; and Lindsay Nunn, Secretary-Treasurer.

The first well, which is now being drilled in Section 5 tract is about 1300 feet from the McIlroy-Herring and less than one-half mile from the McIlroy One and Two, all of which are rated as 500 and 1000 barrel producers.

Any well posted oil man in Amarillo will say that the acreage secured by the Spring Creek is beyond the "speculative," inasmuch as the location of the well now drilling is in the very heart of the pool. The tract in Section 7 is proven to the North, South, West, with wells now drilling on the East. The acreage in the "Four Corners" field is close to production but this acreage is not at present as completely proven as the two forty acre tracts. The acreage alone could be sold today for a profit of many thousand dollars.

If you are interested in investing from one hundred to one thousand dollars, in a company that is really getting after oil, honestly managed, not over-capitalized and with ownership of six-eighths of the oil in already proven territory, you can make such investment now at par, or a few hundred dollars per share.

There will positively not be sold more than twenty five thousand dollars on this basis, and this by the original organizers who put up all the money to purchase the lease and drill the well.

We can truthfully say to any prospective investor that there is positively no promotion in this stock and you pay exactly the same for our shares of stock as any other shareholder.

If you desire to invest you may send a cash check either to J. L. Nunn, Nunn Bldg., Amarillo, Texas, and stock will be mailed to you, or you may make remittance in care of Amarillo National Bank, requesting money be paid us when stock is delivered.

CHAPTER XII

It was not a complicated plant. Dick's knowledge of sending and receiving wireless messages had been picked up at an early age when, as an amateur, he had experimented with various instruments. Later he had added to this on his father's yacht, taking the operator's place at times to send messages ashore to friends.

His satisfaction was complete. He smiled at Blake, and said: "I don't mind if you listen in, Blake. So I won't stuff your ears with cotton. The message I'm going to send isn't secret."

He turned on the current, tapped the sender, and then opening the switch wide sent broadcast across the seas:

"Send help to Valhalla island! Murder—murder. Help needed at once. Don't delay. Relay to shore if necessary."

Signing the name of Steve Cutler to his S. O. S. message, he waited for a response. None coming, he repeated the message. Again and again he agitated the air with his wave vibrations.

There was no response, and Dick frowned at the failure of his experiment. For half an hour he kept it up, and then closed the circuit and rose to his feet.

"That will have to do for the present," he observed. "I'll try again later. Meanwhile, I'm due up at the house to interview Doctor Alster."

Everything was quiet about the big house when he approached, boldly and without any attempt at concealment. It was still very early, and it was a question whether the rest of the household were out of bed yet.

He was a little gratified when the front door opened for him, and Alice Cutler let him in. Her face was white, with dark circles under her eyes. "Has anything happened?" she asked anxiously.

"Yes, everything—two of our worst enemies are prisoners in a cave."

"You mean Mr. Blake?"

"Yes, and his particular friend from the sea—Mr. McGee."

The smile that irradiated her face was sufficient reward for Dick. As he looked into the blue depths of her eyes he had a queer sensation of gid-

"Follow me," she replied, leading the way.

There was no necessity of rousing the man from his slumbers, for on the upper landing they almost ran into him as he was emerging from the sick chamber. He gave Dick a scowl and started to retreat to his own room.

"How's the patient this morning, doctor?" Dick greeted him casually.

"No better, sir," was the sour retort. "Have you given him his morning medicine yet?"

"That's none of your business, sir," the other said angrily. "I won't be interrogated by you. I ask you, Miss Cutler, to protect me in my professional—"

"Professional fiddlesticks!" interrupted Dick. "Get it out of your head that there's any professional etiquette down here, doctor. I'm going to see Mr. Cutler."

"Not with my permission, sir."

Planting his bulky figure against the door, Doctor Alster faced them defiantly. Dick smiled at his words and attitude.

"I won't beat about the bush any longer, doctor. I'll be brutally frank with you. The game is up, and a confession from you now may ease matters a trifle for you when you face a court. Your two friends, Mr. Blake and that sailorman, McGee, have withdrawn. They have no further interest in the plot. In fact, they're detained against their will, and can't come to your assistance. The last I saw of them they were trussed up and gagged in a cave. I think they'll stay there until help comes."

SUPERINTENDENT'S NOTES

It was announced last week that the declamation semi-finals would be held this week, but due to the absence of a large number of contestants, it has been postponed until a later date, which will be announced in next week's notes.

Our track squad is greatly weakened by the inability of Aubrey Stiles, a star performer, to take part in the contest, and the remaining members must put forth extra energy to make up for his absence.

The junior class play, "Job Thirteen," a four-act comedy, will be given next Thursday night at the High School auditorium. Admission will be twenty-five and thirty-five cents, with no reserved seats; entire proceeds go to the Sweater Fund. The cast was printed last week. One week from next Thursday the play will be given at Lockney, and the week following that at Sand Hill. A mistake was made in the writing of the play last week, in saying that it was a three-act comedy, and also a mistake in the cast.

Practice track meet will be held at Sand Hill next Friday, and all the teams in the vicinity have been invited to send their track teams. A team from Sand Hill is expected. This meet will decide nothing but it will give interested men a chance to get used to the track and to competing in a contest.

SENIOR CLASS PROGRAM

The senior class program given in chapel last Monday morning was one of the most original and entertaining ones given by any class this year. It was based on Texas Independence Day, and was well presented. It was made up of songs, readings and speeches. Songs were sung in honor of various persons such as "Show Me the Way We Live," requested by Mrs. Wester; "The Star Spangled Banner," requested by Mrs. Wester; "Rock All the Way to Sleep," requested by Mrs. Wester; "The Scroggins' Benefit," and "The Scroggins' Benefit." The imitation of a newspaper meeting and the banjo pick-up by Audrey Felton were especially enjoyed.

The High School P. T. A. was hostess last Thursday afternoon to the ward school P. T. A., the faculty, and the 1922 Study Club.

A patriotic program rendered by the eighth grade pupils gave happy diversion until late in the afternoon, when a company was invited into the "dining room" of the Home Economics department, where tables had been prepared for the refreshment service of cream and cake. Small green whistles served as favors. This social will long be remembered with a peculiar sense of pleasure by all privileged to attend.

VOLLEY BALL SQUAD

The volley ball club has been organized and the captains, Vivian Bosley and Jessie Foster urge all members or students interested in this to come out at noon and practice. We are going to have some match games soon, and hope to get the cup from Lockney at the county meet.

PRINCIPAL'S NOTES

In the faculty meeting Monday afternoon, it was decided that the semi-finals in declamations will be held Thursday, March 9 at the high school auditorium. There is better interest in the contest this year than last. The number of entries is more than double what it was last year.

The juniors are too few in High School. This will probably be offset by entries from the Ward School.

The seniors put on another one of their enjoyable musical programs last Monday. Congratulations to the seniors and their sponsors.

WHO'S WHO IN THE FACULTY

Miss Annie Bond
Miss Annie Bond was born and reared in Runnels County, Texas, near Crews. She attended a rural school until she reached the tenth grade, and then finished her high school work at Simmons University, Abilene. She also took four years of college work at Simmons, receiving her degree in 1924, then came here in the fall of 1925 as head of the Junior History and English Department, teaching these two subjects and commercial geography in the 8th and 9th grades.

Mrs. E. C. Nelson, Jr.
Mrs. E. C. Nelson, Jr., teacher of eighth and ninth grade English, prior to her marriage in 1923 was Miss Frances Sanderson. Born near Waco, Texas, she removed with her parents, at five years of age, to Yoakum County. After three years residence in Yoakum County, the family moved to Plainview. Mrs. Nelson is a graduate of Plainview High School, and has spent three years in Peabody Normal and Vanderbilt University, in Nashville, Tennessee. While in school in Tennessee, in addition to regular literary work, she studied piano and voice. This, her first year in Floydada High School, is the fourth year of her teaching experience.

WARD SCHOOL NOTES

The Primary P. T. A. will meet at the Ward School Friday afternoon. Fathers are specially invited to attend this meeting. Each room is competing for the picture "Old Ironsides." The winning point is the most "Daddies and Mothers" to a room. A special program for Texas Independence Day will be given by the pupils. We urge that you attend.

gram for Texas Independence Day will be given by the pupils. We urge that you attend.

Mrs. Eskridge and Miss Stovall have been substituting at Ward School during the absence of Mesdames Bob Green and Elmer Caudle.

Plans are being made for a May Day Fete. Work on the program will begin soon after the school fair. Other announcements will be made later.

The following pupils made 90 and above during February:

First Grade: Jack Stansell, Kathleen Hodge, Fleeta Manning and Cleo Birch.
High Second: Lon M. Davis, Jr., J. C. Moores, Norris Spence, Mildred Houston, Mary Jo Scott, Ruth Key Green, Virginia Stovall, Jane Margaret Huffhines and Clyde Embry.

High Fifth: Lois Brunson, Melvin Patterson, Samuel Rutledge, Nola Murray and Mary Alice Summerville.

Low Sixth: Billy Joe Welch and Wilamina Salisbury.

ANNOUNCEMENT

As the senior class is not going to put out an annual this year it has been decided to run a series made up of the high school records of the various members of the senior class, to appear in this section. As a conclusion, there will be an article on the class as a whole, and a picture of the entire group. This series will start next week.

ELLIS BEATS ACKERMAN FAMOUS AS ONE OF WORLD'S STOUT MEN

John Ellis bested Al Ackerman, the stout man, in their wrestling bout here last Friday night at Curley's Cafe Arena, taking the first fall in the principal event with a step-over toehold after 25 minutes and the second with a body scissor in five minutes. Ackerman displayed much skill at the game but the younger man, also a veteran, however, was evidently superior.

Preliminary events included wrestling between Henry Bosley and John McPeak, which Bosley won; and Hamrick was thrown by a 180-pound Memphis boy, hurting Hamrick's shoulder. George French and Marion Bosley gave the third preliminary exhibition, French winning the one-fall go.

Curley says he has several good wrestlers "lined up" to come to Floydada to meet on his mat. Among these are Gus Pappas and Texas Blundy, both well-known wrestlers. The presumption is that they will take on either Ellis or Couch, if the latter's injuries heal soon.

However, these bouts are in the future. "Too much sickness right now" to get any crowd, Curley declares, is responsible for the postponements that are being made. Jack Route, who was to have "strutted his stuff" here last Monday night against John Ellis, will be here at a later date, and any other matches that were being planned will await the clearing up of the epidemic of influenza.

"We have Never Lowered the Quality to Reduce the Price"

Since 1903, when the Ford Motor Company was formed, Ford cars have been constantly improved in quality, comfort, convenience and appearance. Recent improvements include new and attractive body lines—a lower center of gravity—closed cars in color, and all-steel bodies.

The basic features of Ford design have been retained. Three point motor suspension, planetary transmission, dual ignition system, torque tube drive, multiple disc-in-oil clutch, splash lubrication, thermo-syphon cooling system—all have been features of the Ford car for eighteen years. On the whole these features cost far more to manufacture than conventional design but are used because of their superiority.

The Ford Motor Company has carried out a program of price reduction that has consistently kept Ford value supreme in the automotive industry. This has been made possible by the enormity of Ford production. With lesser resources, Ford quality would not be possible at anywhere near Ford prices.

The tremendous demand for Ford closed cars has again made possible substantial price reductions.

PORTLAND CEMENT

A Super-Grade Cement — It Even Looks Different

Take a handful of LONE STAR Cement out of a sack—feel it—look at it. It even looks different than ordinary cement.

20 years' experience in cement making, combined with years of painstaking research, has resulted in the perfection of the International Wet-Blending Process, now used in the manufacture of LONE STAR Cement.

Cement manufacture, as carried on in the mills of the Texas Portland Cement Company at Dallas and Houston, is an exact science.

With the International Wet-Blending Process of manufacture, the chief chemist and mill superintendent can always come within 1/10 of 1% of the quality at which they aim. Guesswork has been eliminated.

The International Wet-Blending Process, regarded as the last word in cement production efficiency, results in a quality considerably above the requirements of the U. S. Standard Specifications.

Yet this super-grade cement costs no more. It has our unqualified endorsement.

"But how far do you suppose that wireless in the cave will carry?" Dick asked, enjoying the other's confusion. "I broadcast an S O S message a short time ago. Some ship ought to pick it up and hurry to our assistance. I said there was murder, mutiny and riot on the island."

Alister suddenly lost all his bravado, and began wiping his brow with a trembling hand. "What wireless?" he murmured weakly. "What're you talking about?"

Dick laughed in his face. "I told you the game was up, doctor," he went on gleefully. "But the worst is still to come. I've had a confession that implicates you. That's what I'm getting at."

He took a chair and straddled it, facing the doctor, who remained motionless against the opposite wall, a picture of despair and terror.

"I don't know," Dick continued, "whether you really intended to murder Mr. Cutler, or simply to keep him unconscious until—"

"No, no," interrupted Alister, "I didn't intend to kill him. It isn't a dangerous drug. The effect will pass away in time."

"That may save you from the electric chair then, doctor," coolly remarked his tormentor. "If he dies under the effect of it I don't think anything in the world can keep you from the current. Now, if I were you, and there was any antidote for the poison, I'd get busy administering it. What do you think?"

The man nodded and gulped. "I will try it," he stammered.

"Don't waste time, then, for I expect a ship will be here any hour to take us off."

"You'll let me, I'll give him the antidote now—right away!" replied Alister eagerly.

"Right. I'm not hindering you. Now, how impressively. Remember, I have two witnesses, a confession, and if Mr. Cutler can't be held responsible. Under the circumstances, I wouldn't play try to double-cross me. If I had it I'd shoot you like a dog with less compunction. Now get with your medicines."

"I advanced furtively at him. "If life," he began meekly, "you don't inform on me?"

"I'm making no promises," replied Alister sharply. "I'm giving you the antidote to save yourself from the electric chair."

All the morning Dick watched with others by the bedside of their patient. The strain of the situation began to tell on Alice, and toward noon he led her into an alcove beyond the hearing of the other two.

"You must go out and get fresh air, Miss Cutler," he said gently. "I'm losing the roses in your hands. I'll watch."

"Do you think I'd quit when you— you— Oh," she exclaimed impulsively, "how can I ever thank you! You've saved uncle's life, and protected me from something worse!"

Dick took the two hands extended to him and held them an instant. "I'm ready rewarded," he replied, boing his head. "Your gratefulness is enough."

And to think," she added, smiling through tears, "I took you at first for the cause of all our trouble."

"What did you think I was?" he asked, his eyes twinkling.

Her face flushed under his gaze. "Why, I thought you were in some sort of a plot to rob us. You see, Mr. Blake had sent the servants down ahead of us, and when we found them

AUXILIARIES WORKING HARD TO BUILD UP ORGANIZATION

Floydada's Auxiliary, "sister" organization of the American Legion, is doing great things under the presidency of Mrs. J. C. Gilliam—this one hears from a number of persons associated with the two organizations.

Meetings are held every first and third Monday nights, in connections with regular meetings of the Legion members, and a membership drive has just been closed which resulted in bringing the total number of paid-up members to thirty. "We are trying to get every eligible lady in the city and are anxious to work up a real good auxiliary," stated Mrs. Gilliam.

Other officers of the Auxiliary are as follows:

Mrs. Homer Baker, first vice president; Mrs. E. C. Nelson, Jr., second vice president; Mrs. W. H. Sharp, secretary and treasurer; Mrs. T. R. Webb, chaplain; Mrs. L. G. Mathews, reporter and Mrs. C. M. Thacker, sergeant-at-arms.

New members who have recently been added to the Auxiliary are Mrs. C. M. Thacker, Mrs. Thurmon Bishop, Mrs. Nora Cox, Mrs. Bob Garrett, Mrs. Fannie Andrews, Mrs. T. R. Webb, Mrs. J. C. Westler, Mrs. Dave Standerfer, Mrs. E. C. Nelson, Jr., Mrs. Calvin Steen, Mrs. B. Nichols, Mrs. C. M. Martin, Mrs. C. H. Davis, Mrs. Jim Willson, Mrs. T. P. Collins and Miss Vera Fry.

Mrs. Lee Howard returned to the city Tuesday night after a week's visit with her mother, Mrs. J. E. Bishop, in Memphis.

gone we were puzzled and alarmed. Then your appearance on the island looked suspicious.

"You never suspected Blake?"

"No, why should I? He had been uncle's secretary for years. Uncle trusted him, and turned over most of his private papers into his keeping. I used to think at times that Mr. Blake had more influence over uncle than I, and it piqued me. But I never dreamed of his doing anything."

She stopped, and asked quickly, "What was the plot? What did he intend to do? I'm all mystified yet. I simply know that—that—"

"—he made love to you, and when you refused him he threatened you," Dick finished for her.

"How did you know that?" she asked, flushing a rich, rosy red.

"I've been an eavesdropper ever since we sailed," he laughed. "I seem to have lost all sense of decency in that respect."

"Eavesdropping in a good cause is nothing to be ashamed of," she replied, giving him a smile that made him dizzy.

"Recovering from the momentary confusion caused by her smile, he asked: "What excuse did Mr. Blake give for sending the yacht away that first night?"

"To get more servants."

"And you believed him?"

"Yes, but I rebuked him for doing it without consulting me first. I told him we should turn right around and go back home."

"I see," mused Dick thoughtfully. "Perhaps he thought you'd want to do something like that, and he forestalled it by sending the yacht away at once. He didn't want to take a chance keeping it here. Of course, he was very sorry, and all that—very contrite, wasn't he?"

"You seem to read him pretty well, Mr.—Mr.—"

He smiled when she stopped for him to enlighten her. "Dick's the only name I have down here," he said. Then changing the subject quickly, he added, "You say Mr. Blake, as your uncle's private secretary, was trusted by him in many important matters? Do you happen to know whether he had the combination to his private safe and deposit vaults?"

"Yes, I think he did."

"Then that will explain many matters," was the quiet remark.

She watched him curiously, waiting for him to explain, but he had grown suddenly dumb. Walking to the window in the alcove he glanced through it. A wonderful panorama of the sea was spread before him. She followed, and together they watched the heaving bosom of the ocean, fascinated by the shimmering path of gold that the sun made on the waves.

Suddenly her eyes opened wide, and, with finger pointing, she exclaimed exultantly, "A ship! Rescue's coming!"

Dick gave one hasty glance, and then caught her hand and jerked it down. "Be quiet!" he whispered. "It's the Pelican!"

WESLEY CLASS ENTERTAINED

The Wesley Girls' Class of the Methodist Church, taught by Mrs. G. F. Klebold was entertained last Thursday evening from 7:30 to 9:30 by Mrs. Travis Collins, assisted by Mrs. Tom Shaw. Although the class is a large one the attendance was considered somewhat small, due to the prevalence of sickness among several of the member's families.

Refreshments of sandwiches, olives, cakes and punch were served to the following guests, who reported an unusually pleasant evening: Mrs. Elder Morris, Mrs. George Smith, Mrs. R. E. Fry, Mrs. E. B. Massie, Mrs. B. P. Woody, Mrs. Homer McDonald, Mrs. Sam Thurmon and Mrs. Homer Sanders.

DINNER PARTY GIVEN FRIDAY BY MR. AND MRS. L. E. WILLIAMS

Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Williams gave a delightful dinner party at their home fourteen miles west of the city last Friday evening for their daughter, Mrs. Albert Clubb, and eight special guests.

Prior to the dinner some of the guests went "bronc" riding; then came the bountiful feast, consisting of chicken, dressing, gravy, boiled ham, sweet and Irish spuds, fruit and potato salads, custard pie and cake which was highly enjoyed by the following persons: Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Jed Martin, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Martin, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Clubb, Mr. and Mrs. Joubert Clements, and Miss Mary Porter.

CELEBRATES FIFTY-NINTH BIRTHDAY WITH DINNER PARTY

Celebration of the fifty-ninth birthday of E. C. Nelson furnished a very pleasant evening for the Nelson family and immediate relatives and friends Wednesday evening, when a dinner was enjoyed at the Nelson home on West California Street. Fifty-nine candles could not be placed on the cake, so the numerals were substituted.

Following the bountiful repast the guests enjoyed "84" for the remainder of the evening. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Standifer and family, Judge and Mrs. E. C. Nelson, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Nelson, and Mrs. E. L. Angus.

I. O. G. G. Meeting Postponed

PROVIDENCE NEWS

Providence, March 1.—Mrs. A. A. Brock has been very sick the past week with flu. Mrs. Bennett and Gamble have been teaching for her. She was some better Friday evening.

Will Kramer was unable to attend the program here Friday night, on account of having the flu.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Boedeker were in Plainview Wednesday with their baby to see a doctor.

The pupils that have been absent from school on account of flu and chicken pox are back again.

Mrs. Cowart and Mrs. McCullough attended the county club meeting at Lockney Thursday last week, and report a fine time there.

Mr. Ballard of Floydada visited in the community last week.

Mrs. Kennedy and daughters spent Saturday night in Plainview, the guests of Mrs. W. H. Harrison.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Seals of Plainview were pleasant callers at the Pullen home last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Dieter were in Plainview Saturday shopping.

Mr. and Mrs. K. Sammons were in Plainview Saturday evening shopping.

Lockney C. of C. Gives Program

The program given Friday night by the Lockney Chamber of Commerce was well attended. The Corn Huskers Ukulele Band was fine and also the talk by Mr. Shoaf; he stated that Lockney could boast of a young Paderevski, and the young gentleman gave us two selections. But pshaw! Providence can say we have a little three-year old, Pauline Lucca, who can sing several songs and can carry the tune to perfection. Without the help of any one she can also play pieces of her own liking on a Victrola without the least bit of trouble in picking them, as she can tell the ones she likes by looking at them.

What we need here and need bad is a good music teacher, as we have, in the writer's opinion, the finest bunch of young musicians and comedians that are to be found anywhere. They gave a play Friday night with only one week's practice and id themselves honor.

Sheriff Floyd County, Texas, Floydada, Texas, March 3rd, 1926.
