MACK BOSWELL TO CROWELL

Mack Boswell, for the past two years assistant secretary of the Plainview Chamber of Commerce, has gone to Crowell to accept the secretaryship of the commercial organization there.

He was elected by the Crowell Chamber last week and left immediately to take up his duties.

Boswell is considered capable and people of this territory are expecting him to make a very valuable man at Crowell.

'Round The Square

'Round the Square is a beautiful sight at night time now. The City Dads are to be congratulated on their judgment of lighting fixtures. Lighted like a real city gives Floydada a chance to "shine" in the world.

Charleston—a dance originated by a college boy, who absentmindedly stuck a lighted cigarette in his hip pocket.

Trying to run a business without advertising is like running a car without oil. It may start all right but it will begin to squeak before you finish the trip.

Below are the names of a few of his many satisfied patients in Texas who have been treated for one of the above named causes:

tion of our schools. Only last week we asked one of the high school students to work a little problem and they just laughed at us. Here is the problem:
If it takes a wood pecker with a rubber bill 2 years, 6 months, 4 days, 2 hours, 3 minutes, and 14 1/2 seconds to peck a hole in a log big enough to make 400 bundles of shingles with 144 shingles to a bundle sold at 30 cents per bundle, how long would it take a grasshopper to kick all the seeds out of a dill pickle?

Did you know that—Accurate statistics show that eighty per cent of the failures in the retail field are non-advertisers? Eighteen towns were picked at random. One advertising dealer was selected from each town and three non-advertisers. The gross business done by the 18 advertisers was twice that done by the 56 who did not advertise. These are accurate figures and tell the story of advertising.

According to the officials, Floydada will sure have gas by next winter. That may be more gas.

The young fellow with money to burn seldom sets the world afire. If that is true we know of several that have excellent chances to start a mighty big fire.

Cinder path boys at Floydada Hi have mighty good prospects. A crack relay team, good hurdlers, sprinters, and distance runners ought to make a good showing in district and at the state meet.

It seems rather funny on national holidays to see a large American flag in front of every business house in Floydada except the United States Post Office.

Every one seems to be worried over the defeat of the farm relief bill except the farmers themselves.

This is an old one that is always popular. Freddie was crying and Willie asked what was the matter.

"My dog's dead" sobbed Freddie.

"Aw, that's nothing", my grandmother's been dead a week and you don't hear me cryin'."

"Yes, but you didn't raise her from a pup."

SPELLING LISTS SUPPLY LOW

Austin, Texas, March 7.—Although 18,000 copies of the Interscholastic League spelling list were printed this year, the supply on hand is low, according to information from the University of Texas League Bureau. These bulletins are furnished Texas schools in far greater numbers than that of any other bulletin published by the University.

14 YEARS AGO IN FLOYD COUNTY

News items taken from the Floyd County Hesperian files published in Floydada fourteen years ago.

ISSUE OF MARCH 20, 1913

Floydada people will again have the opportunity to see moving pictures now that the season is becoming more advanced so that the weather will not prevent attendance.

Messrs. Biles and Wilson are the managers of the new show, and they declare their intention of giving three reels each Tuesday, Friday and Saturday nights. As will be remembered, the lights and power are electric thus giving the very best pictures and insuring few if any stops for poor lights and other troubles incidental to gas-lit reels.

Miss Edith Edwards visited in Floydada with her sister, Miss Stella, over Sunday from Plainview.

Last week (March 1913) A. J. Ryal's bought the ice business of the Floydada Ice Co., from G. A. Linder and will have charge of the same this summer.

Fashion note: All of women's hair is divided into three parts, one of which is called a switch, another puffs, and the third, in their own language, is called rolls. All these differ in shape position and purpose.

THE CHURCHES

BAPTIST CHURCH MEETINGS

Sunday, March 13th.
Warren R. Hill, Pastor
The Sunday School, for Bible study, assemble at 10:00. It is very important that every one be on time. Mr. Gilliam, the Superintendent, deserves the hearty cooperation of every member of a Baptist church who lives in this town, or who is visiting here. Nothing will guarantee the stability of the civilization of our nation except the righteousness that results from the knowing and living the principles of the Bible. In the Sunday School we are fortifying the future for the church and the nation. Who will refuse to help?

Morning worship begins at 11 o'clock. Every member present is the slogan for this service, for it is to be a meeting of service. This is conquest campaign Sunday. A vital matter to Baptists of Texas and the world will have consideration. Every Baptist in Floydada, and nearby, is urged to be loyal to Christ and His Causes this one time. Retire early Saturday night, and arise early Sunday morning and come to meeting this one time. Loyal Baptists! A paramount issue! Any defeat that may come will have to be charged to those who fail to do their duty! Any who are provisionally prevented from coming are requested to be at home from 2:30 to 5:30 in afternoon.

Junior B. Y. P. U. meeting at 4:30, Miss Belcher the Sponsor. Intermediate and Senior Unions meet at 6:30, Ted Borum, B. Y. P. U. Director. Evening worship at 7:30. The subject of the sermon will be, "The one Altogether Lovely."

Worshipful singing, "brief, bright, and brotherly" message, a good fellowship of christians, and hearty welcome to the unconverted, is our aim. Visitors are invited to worship with us, as they are in the other churches of Floydada. Come and welcome!

CHURCH OF CHRIST

There will be preaching at the City Park Church next Lord's day at 11:00 a. m., and 7:30 p. m. A special invitation is extended to all who will to come and study the word of God with us. The subject for the morning hour will be "God's Care For His Children" and at the evening hour, "Faith As a Grain of Mustard Seed."

Our Prayer meetings on Wednesday nights are very interesting. Bro. Scogins made a nice talk last week on "Abounding More and More." Young Bro. Borum will make us a talk next Wednesday night. All are requested to bring memory verses.

Ira L. Sanders, Minister.

FIRST CHRISTIAN CHURCH

F. L. Davis, Minister.
Last Lord's day we had several sorts of Bibles at the church. We had asked the folks to bring a bible and the oldest and newest and the largest and the smallest. The oldest one was printed in 1611 and the newest was printed some time in 1900. There were 7 different translations of various sorts, some of only the New Testament. The minister also had "The Lost Book of the Bible" which was interesting. It is a compilation of the writings of the Early Church Fathers in the fourth and fifth centuries. It is a mighty interesting book.

We also had our offering for Foreign Missions in the S. S. and there were 99 present and 78 of them made an offering to Foreign Missions. I think that is a mighty good record.

Services next Lord's day will be as usual. S. S. at 10 o'clock with Supt. Lon M. Davis in charge. The preaching services will begin at 11 and the message will be to the children. The subject will be: "The Pedometer." The Endeavor will meet at 6:30 and preaching at 7:30. The subject will be: "What is the matter with our Education." This is the fifth in the series of practical helpful sermons being delivered on Sunday nights. They are proving helpful to those who hear them.

The roads and weather permitting we will preach at Mayview Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. By request we will preach on the subject: "What is the matter with our youth today." All in that locality are invited to be present and enjoy the service.

The prayermeetings and training class on Wednesday night are very helpful and interesting. You are missing it by not attending.

The little church with a big welcome is ever ready to greet you cordially. Come and enjoy the services.

METHODIST CHURCH

Ben Hardy, Pastor

Our Sunday School was up last Sunday over the two preceding Sundays. Let us keep it climbing. Next Sunday night the sermon will be in story form. It will be the story of a wedding. We would like for all of our young people to hear it. It will interest the older ones also.

FLOYDADA CIRCUIT WEST

Preaching services at 11:00 o'clock a. m. and 7:30 p. m. You are cordially invited to attend the worship at these hours. The church needs you and you need the church.

Christian Endeavor meets promptly at 6:30 o'clock. Come spend a pleasant hour with the young people.

On Wednesday evening at 7:30 the regular weekly prayer service will be held. An interesting character of the Bible will be discussed.

MANY AMERICAN "GENTLEMEN" SERIOUS AMERICAN DRAWBACK

Mark Twain said one time of England that they had gentlemen but America had no such folks. He said a gentleman, he had learned in England, was a man person who lived without earning his living. In other language a dead beat. It is fine that he did not live in the present age. If he had he could not have said we have no such in America. The woods are full of such today. There are men who live off others and never make an effort to make an honest-to-God dollar. Not a few of this breed either. They beat their debts and swindle and anyway to keep out of work. Entirely without honor and yet too often these same birds are high up in the affairs of State and society.

We believe that the libel laws should be so amended that a newspaper would have the right to publish the names of such people and thereby save many an honest man being beat by them.

Cold checks, debt-breakers, just any way to put on a bold front, and you would think they owned more than half the country they live in.

Mark Twain would be wrong now. We have a lot of his kind of "gentlemen."

The announcement that users of Southwestern Bell telephones have talked from their homes and offices to offices and homes in England and France brings more forcibly to us the fact that the telephone has indeed eliminated the barrier of distance.

While you may not need to talk to Europe or other distant points, you have this service at your elbow at any time, and by using the telephone to neighboring cities in the same section, the same state or neighboring states you eliminate the distance between yourself and the person you wish to speak to by simply calling your local operator.

FIND FLOYDADA GIRL HANGING IN PARLOR OF HOME MONDAY

That a fatal step may end the most happy life has often been proven true. Even the most refined, the most cultured and best loved are no exception to such a fate. A father's devotion, a mother's fond care, or a brother's or sister's beloved companionship will not even shield them when a desire to take that step has been once yielded to.

This fact was vividly illustrated last Monday evening when one of the highest educated, most beautiful and vivacious girls of Floydada, who was surrounded by all the luxuries that go to make life happy, was found hanging in the home parlor of her parents. Late in the evening she had been missed. A careful search had failed to reveal her whereabouts. The telephone had been persistently used without any definite results. Friends and neighbors were called to assist in the search. Finally the almost heart-broken mother returned to the parlor, and there to her intense horror and surprise, found her beloved daughter hanging to her sweetheart's neck and begging him to subscribe for the County Hesperian, that she might be better informed as to the news of the community. RADIO WORKERS MAKE OWN WEATHER TO TAME STATIC

A hundred million radio fans in America would "give all the king's horses" if they could eliminate static and get perfect reception the year round regardless of the season, climate or weather change.

And that's why the big radio manufacturers are working their research laboratories in three shifts—testing out many new ideas and are now manufacturing artificial weather conditions to bag the bugaboo in his den.

The big radio makers have called in the air conditioning engineer who has installed "made to order" weather so that research workers may now conduct their tests under any conditions wanted whether they be a perfect June day or a blustry cold spell in November or February. In the laboratories they can shoot the temperature from zero to a hundred above or rush the humidity or moisture content from Arizona aridity to the precipitation point.

Does fog, rainfall, high wind, summer breeze affect radio reception? Instead of guessing about it, the radio investigator now tries it out under conditions of his own making and which he can control.

Why do high temperatures bring about radio interference? Is it because heat produces an electrical condition in the air that plays hob with the ether waves or doesn't mix well in the audio bulb? And does the humidity or moisture in the air have anything to do with it? Many radio fans and dealers declare that the best reception is experienced when the temperature outside is around the freezing point. Others say that they have good reception on certain days in the summer time. Why? Many explanations have been offered but few of them are based on scientifically tested fact. What is the best weather for good radio reception? What happens when the air is damp or foggy?

But there are many other points regarding the effect of atmospheric conditions which the big radio makers want to know definitely. And many of them have to do with air conditions within the manufacturing plant and laboratory which can be controlled. Does dry air in an apartment or house warp and crack and ruin radio sets like it does pianos, chairs and other furniture? If it does what is the best material to use in the sets to nullify the effect of this? Should the average householder be taught to have better air conditions within the home to preserve both their radios and their health? Would systematic ventilation help?

TOWN GRAVEDIGGERS ARE VERY COMMON SAYS EXCHANGE PAPER

In nearly every community may be found quite a number of persons who consider themselves leading citizens, but who in turn are helping to dig a grave for their town.

They do it through their failure to support the institutions which make the town what it is. They do it by sending away for merchandise which might be bought with equal advantage at home.

It is frequently through thoughtlessness that oftener through sheer disinterest that the welfare of the community are a part.

The act of buying at home is not solely in the interest of the merchant. It is advocated by every citizen of a town is to a certain extent dependent upon every citizen for his own prosperity.

Business men are sometimes as greatly hurt as anyone else in the matter of out-of-town trading.

If the shoe dealer sends away for his automobile tires, and the automobile man sends away for his furniture, and the furniture man sends away for his clothing, and so on, how can they expect to build local prosperity?

All the fine talk about civic pride that we may indulge in will never make a town, so long as the life blood of the community—the cold cash—is spent elsewhere.

Man may make boosting speeches until he is black in the face, but unless he spends his money where he makes it, he is a home town grave digger.—Exchange.

IT IS FINISHED

One of the most interesting statements ever uttered by anyone is the most statement of three words at the head of this article, "It is Finished." This was the statement of our Lord just before he died. We wonder if those who heard Him had any real understanding of His meaning. Do we really understand it?

Early in the morning of His wonderful life, when only a boy of twelve, we hear Him say "I must be about My Father's business." Three years later we hear Him say "It is finished." A wonderful life He gave the world. During these brief years he gave men an example of real service. He learned obedience through the things which He suffered, and from Him we can learn the true art of service. Paul says: "Be ye followers of me even as I also follow Christ." In the life of Christ we behold loyalty to His father. He never stepped aside from the path of duty. Never was He moved from His righteous course by the voice of public sentiment. It was not with Him what the people wanted but what they needed. He was faithful to His father in all things, and has left us a wonderful example.

The work of Christ was free from the spirit of personal gratification. It is so easy for leaders to allow selfishness to color their efforts. Too often they do not see beyond their own interests. Christ's life was absolutely free from every element of selfishness. He gave Himself for others. He taught us it is more blessed to give than to receive. Christ had a goal to reach. It was no little task to redeem the world from sin. It took a brave man to ask those about Him to fear God when there was no fear of God before their eyes. Yet amid all the trial and difficulties incident to his well-directed life we see him toiling on with determination. He was not a quitter. He never turned back. What a wonderful example.

As He approached the cross, He moved straight forward to His great trial with sayings "Not My will but Thine be done" on his lips. He did not even

AMERICAN LIBRARY FACILITIES SHOW EXPANSION

Expansion of library facilities in the United States has more than kept pace with the increase in population. This is clearly shown by a study of public, society, and school libraries in 1923 which has just been published as Bulletin, 1926, No. 9, by the Interior Department, Bureau of Education.

This report offers instructive comparisons in connection with the recent semi-centennial anniversary of the inauguration of the modern library movement in this country. In 1876 only 3,723 public, society, and school libraries reported possession of 300 or more volumes. The total number of books in these libraries was 12,376,473, an average of 3,324 volumes for each library. During that year the number of books issued to borrowers (784 libraries reporting) was 9,065,178. In 1923, 8,544 libraries, containing more than 1,000 volumes each, reported possession of 126,914,414 volumes, and 2,560 smaller libraries reported 1,437,559 volumes. This is an average of 11,549 volumes for each library reporting. During 1923 the number of books loaned for use outside the libraries (3,499 libraries of 3,000 or more volumes reporting) was 207,709,650.

In 1903 for each 100 of the population 68 books were available in public, society, and school libraries of the country. By 1913 the number of books per 100 of the population had increased to 89, and by 1923 to 115 books.

TOO MUCH SIMPLICITY

Ernest R. Groves in Children, the Magazine for Parents.

Some people have a niche for what I call the fallacy of simplicity; they insist on making some one thing responsible for everything that happens to human nature and always have a cure-all. Whether the magical quality be heredity, endocrine glands or childhood suggestions, it matters not; their exaggeration is always mischievous, for it muddles clear thinking in the problems involved in child training.

"The human being is too complicated ever to respond only to one influence. In dealing with the child a parent may well keep an eye on the power of environment, but when the parent wishes to understand or appraise the child he had better remember that there is such a thing as inheritance. Our recent knowledge shows us that environment and heredity are not two opposing forces, each pulling the child away from the other, but rather influences that operate in relation to one another. When we tell Johnny that his bad temper comes from his father we are more apt to start a suggestion than to state a fact. In any case, our pronouncement will not help Johnny to win self-control. He may be proud of being like his father in this as in other ways or he may say to himself, "I can't help it if I've got my father's temper. What do they think I'm going to do about it. I'd like to know?" "S no fault of mine."

A scientific expedition in South America has discovered a tunnel three miles long and several inches in diameter, made and used regularly by ants.

defend Himself at the trial. He gave Himself for our sins, and "took away the sin of the world." Not one time from the day He said, "I must be about My Father's business" until He said, "It is finished," did he turn aside from the path of duty and loyalty.

COLLEGE STUDENTS HAVE ACCESS TO ART COLLECTIONS

Art loan collections valued at $100,000 for use in teaching art will be sent by the Carnegie Corporation of New York to 20 colleges in the United States and Canada. The collections consist of 1,800 reproductions in photograph and color facsimiles of the greatest works in architecture, sculpture, and painting; 50 original prints representing different processes and schools from the sixteenth century to the present, a set of textile in 35 pieces illustrating materials and designs of different races and ages; and 200 books, many of which are rare volumes in French and German, as well as English, on the art of every period and people. Cabinets have been provided for the sets and a catalogue prepared giving a description of each piece in the collection. Seventeen colleges in the United States, representing 13 different States and 3 colleges in Canada, are the beneficiaries. All of them are smaller colleges without heavy endowments and located in places not easily accessible to metropolitan centers.

MORE TIME ALLOTTED TO MANUAL ARTS

An increase in the time allotted to manual-arts courses in public schools was reported by 221 out of 307 representative cities in the United States which responded to a questionnaire sent out by the Interior Department, Bureau of Education. Results of this survey, conducted by Maris M. Proffitt, specialist in industrial education, and covering the period 1915 to 1925, have been published in Industrial Education Circular No. 26. If replies from the cities participating in the survey, all of which have populations of 5,000 or more, are typical of the remaining cities of the same class, it may be assured that 72 per cent of the larger cities of the country, during this 10-year period, increased in their schools the time allotted to manual-arts work. The greatest increase in time allotment for this course, 64 per cent, occurred in cities having from 5,000 to 10,000 people. All cities of more than 20,000 population included in this study offer manual-arts courses, and no city of more than 50,000 population reported a decrease in the time allotted in public schools to manual arts.—School Life.

Prairie Chapel Sextett Win County Championship

Win Three Consecutive Games By Large Score—Floydada Loses First Game To Lockney 44 To 8.

Winning three consecutive games, each by a large score, the Prairie Chapel Girls basketball sextette won over four other competing teams for the girls basketball championship of Floyd County.

In the final game, the fast Prairie Chapel six nosed out the Lockney team, Class A champions, to the count of 18 to 15. This game was the fastest and closest of the tournament, and the winning team won through their accurate goal pitching and smooth playing, it is stated.

The Floydada Hi team was doped to win the tournament by large scores, but the tables were reversed and the local team was the first to be eliminated from the meet. They were defeated by their rivals, the Lockney Longhorn team, as the opening game of the series. The much faster and more accurate Lockney team easily carried the game away, with the score standing 44 to 8 at the time of the final whistle.

In the second game of the meet, the Sand Hill girls were eliminated from the race by the champion Prairie Chapel team. This game was the first of three straight games played by the champs, and was easily taken from the Sand Hill team.

Directly following the final game between the Lockney sextette and the Prairie Chapel girls, the McCoy team arrived to battle for the county title. Although the Prairie Chapel team was already accepted as county champions, they met the McCoy team and won an easy victory. The score was 9 to 36.

The Prairie Chapel girls established quite a record at the county meet and well deserve the title of County Champions, Supt. Wester stated.

Bilious dull feeling

"MY old stand-by is Theford's Black-Draught—I have used it off and on for about 20 years," says Mr. W. S. Reynolds, of R. F. D. 2, Arcadia, La.

"I get bilious and have a bad taste in my mouth. My head feels dull. I don't just feel like getting around and doing my work. I know it isn't laziness, but biliousness.

"So I take a few doses of Black-Draught and when it acts well, I get up feeling like new—full of pep' and ready for any kind of work.

"I can certainly recommend it." In case of biliousness and other disagreeable conditions due to an inactive liver, Black-Draught helps to drive the poisonous impurities out of the system and tends to leave the organs in a state of normal, healthy activity.

Black-Draught is made entirely of pure medicinal roots and herbs and contains no dangerous or harmful mineral drugs. It can be safely taken by everyone. Sold everywhere. Price 25c.

Public announcement
In January that Dodge Brothers, Inc., will enter the market this summer with a car in the higher priced field. Since that time Dodge Brothers Dealers everywhere have been beset with an incessant flood of inquiries regarding the new supplementary car.

Roy L. Snodgrass of the Motor Supply Co., local dealer, has just received an official announcement from Detroit emphasizing some of the statements previously made regarding the new car and containing information of interest to many prospective purchasers.

"We are pleased to advise Dodge Brothers' dealers that progress on the supplementary car is thoroughly up to schedule and it will be available for moderate retail delivery on or before July 1st, the date heretofore announced.

"We are naturally receiving many inquiries seeking a description of the car. Its specifications will not be released, however, until it is ready to be shown. "While the announcements concerning it, already made, have emphasized the fact that it will be a considerably higher priced car in no way conflicting with our present standard product, there are doubtless a number of buying prospects who have been led to believe that the difference in price between our standard car and the supplementary car will be small, and therefore, some of your prospects may be disposed to defer their spring purchase of present product until full announcement of the supplementary car.

"In order to dispel any such uncertainty that may exist we are therefore advising you authoritatively that the supplementary car will be sold at a price of $1650.00 f. o. b. Detroit, for the four door sedan.

"We also take this occasion to again assure you that production of the present Dodge Brothers power plant and the sale of our present standard line of cars will be continued; rumors inconsistent with this statement are false and misleading and should be promptly and vigorously denied."

LIVESTOCK OF UNITED STATES WELL GUARDED FROM FOREIGN PLEAGUES

No infection of foot-and-mouth disease gained entrance to the United States during the fiscal year ended June 30, 1926, a report just issued by the Bureau of Animal Industry, United States Department of Agriculture, shows. The field inspection division of the bureau, of which this protection to livestock is a major activity, is making it more difficult, year after year, for any foreign animal infection to enter the country.

Besides the various animal by-products, there is danger, also, from second-hand bags, feeding materials, and hay and straw packing materials, which are liable to carry infection from foreign countries. Under department regulations, all such materials from an infected country which have not been disinfected or otherwise treated or handled in an approved manner prior to shipment, must be disinfected or destroyed after arrival in the United States.

It is noteworthy that importers have increased their efforts to have their foreign agents either use hay and straw which have been disinfected and certified by an American consular officer, or use other materials, such as excelsior and paper-packing material against which there are no restrictions. Through co-operation of importers the volume of restricted hay and straw packing material has been reduced to less than 10 per cent of the total packing material used for import merchandise.

CHEVROLET MAKES NEW RECORD

Responding to an unprecedented and enthusiastic demand on the part of the public for "the most beautiful Chevrolet in Chevrolet history" with its numerous refinements at lowered prices, the Chevrolet Motor Company during February again smashed all previous monthly production records by producing 85,821 cars.

February production this year showed an increase of 34,518 cars or more than 87 per cent over the total of 51,303 Chevrolets built in February, 1926.

Despite greatly enlarged facilities provided under the $10,000,000 expansion program completed Dec. 1, 1926, the Chevrolet Motor Company was forced to extend its operations by working overtime, day and night, to meet the nation-wide demand for Chevrolet cars—a demand marking the rise of this company to its position as the largest manufacturer of gear-shift cars in the world.

DENVER GRADES BEING PUT UP FROM JUNCTION EASTWARD

First grading on the New Denver lines on top of the caprock was started last week, when a camp was pitched and a crew put to grading from the proposed junction of the Estelline-Plainview and the Silverton-Lockney-Lubbock lines about seven miles north-east of Lockney. The crew is working eastward on the Plainview-Estelline line toward the caprock.

While the big crews of workmen—several hundred men in number—are at work in the canyon on the Long land and immediately east of there, a crew is also at work making a big cut on top of the caprock east of the Silverton road. This cut will be several thousand feet long, according to reports, but will work out to the plains level a half mile or more east of the Silverton road.

More than a hundred cars of Plainview, Lockney and Floydada people spent Sunday afternoon on the scene of the work on top of and under the hill. Some of these reported the tunnel to be completed for some distance into the hill.

HOPE TO HAVE STATION, AND WANT GIN FOR 1927 COTTON

That there is a possibility of getting a station of the Fort Worth & Denver, the first on the plains, on the Homer Harper land just east of the Silverton Highway, seventeen and a half miles north of Floydada, was the belief expressed by S. F. Gilliland, of Sunset hear Monday. "We are hoping for this good luck to come our way, at any rate," Mr. Gilliland said, and pointed out that the big territory such a station could serve would make it an excellent trading point, if the station were established there.

The lines surveyed and now being graded, cuts off the southeast corner of Mr. Gilliland's quarter-section, taking the six acres which has his home improvements. It begins to look like Mr. Gilliland is going to have to move his improvements or build a new set across the tracks, so as to be on the same side of the railroad with his farm.

"While we are hoping for the station right up close to us, and when it gets there an elevator for the grain growers, right now we are interested in getting a gin to handle the 1927 crop," Mr. Gilliland said. "The first man that gets to us with a proposition to build the gin is the man who is going to get the encouragement, and the earlier he gets on the ground and goes to work the bigger the acreage is going to be this season."

HARDY-EUBANK

Orville Eubank and Miss Helen Hardy surprised their many friends here Wednesday evening when they announced their marriage on Thursday evening of last week in Crosbyton. The young couple, accompanied by other young people, motored to Crosbyton Thursday where they were united in marriage by Rev. Dick, pastor of the First Baptist Church of that city. They returned home the same evening, but did not publicly announce their marriage until Wednesday evening.

The bride is the daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Ben Hardy, Rev. Hardy is pastor of the First Methodist church of this city. The bride's home was in Quannah before coming to this city in the fall of last year. She is a member of the senior class of the Floydada High school.

The groom is the son of Mr. and J. E. Eubank, of this city. He was reared in Floydada and has attended school here for a number of years. He was star quarter back on the Floydada Hi Whirlwind team during the past season.

Mr. and Mrs. Eubank's plans for the future are indefinite at this time.

STATE AID INSPECTOR FAILS TO ARRIVE HERE WEDNESDAY

Lee Hensley, of the State Department of Education, who was to have begun inspection of twenty-one rural schools in Floyd County applying for state aid, failed to arrive yesterday afternoon, according to County Superintendent Price Scott. Because of his failure to arrive, the schedule planned for the inspection of the schools will necessarily have to be abandoned, Mr. Scott stated.

The inspector is expected to arrive this week-end or the first of next, however, and inspection will begin immediately upon his arrival, it was stated.

The child was nearly three years of age at the time of its death.

MAY USE AIRPLANES TO DUST AGAINST BLUEBERRY MAGGOT

Large-scale growers of blueberries in Maine are interested in the possibility of applying arsenical dusts by airplane for the control of the blueberry maggot. The blueberry pack in Washington County alone is said to be valued at more than a million dollars annually. The crop is the most important agricultural product of the county. When the blueberry maggot is abundant it is found in the blueberries after canning, rendering them unsuitable for food. Control of this pest has therefore become a serious problem which is under investigation by the Bureau of Entomology of the United States Department of Agriculture.

It has been the practice to burn a portion of the acreage every third year to destroy puparia of the insects in the soil, but results have been doubtful. There may be an indirect benefit from the burning over of large areas through reduction of the food supply of the insects during the following two seasons. Further study is needed on this point. Experiments are also being conducted with calcium arsenate and arsenate of lead dusted over the plants to poison the adult flies while feeding. This method of maggot control has proved of considerable value in orchards. If it is found that dusting plants with arsenicals during the period of emergence of the flies is a satisfactory remedy various practical details will require attention, since much of the blueberry barrens are lowlying lands, paying very small returns. For this reason the use of the airplanes is being considered.

There are 27,000,000 rates in the freight tariff of the United States.

NEW ICE-REPORTING SERVICE BY THE U. S. WEATHER BUREAU

The approaching completion of the great system of locks and dams in the Ohio River for the benefit of inland navigation and the establishment of barge lines on the Mississippi River has greatly stimulated river transportation, and it is increasing to such an extent that a general ice-reporting service by the Weather Bureau of the United States Department of Agriculture has become necessary.

Accordingly, beginning December 20, 1926, a daily ice service was inaugurated throughout the Ohio River Basin, including the larger tributaries, and also over the Missouri River east of Kansas City and the Mississippi River from the mouth of the Missouri to the mouth of the Ohio River. An interlocking system of reports will permit the collection of daily information at Pittsburgh, Parkersburg, Cincinnati, St. Louis, Evansville, Cairo, and Louisville, and later summarized transmission to Cincinnati from the other stations except St. Louis. The Cincinnati office will then prepare a resume of the general ice situation and telegraph it to the other five Ohio River stations, where it will be utilized for dissemination and, when necessary, for making forecasts of the ice movement. There is already a similar system of interchange of river-stage information.

The information received and the forecasts issued will be broadcast by radio, published in the river bulletins, weather maps, and newspapers, and telephoned to lock masters along the Ohio River. The services between St. Louis and Cairo will be more local, but of the same character. Special surveys and reports will be made of the formation and breaking of ice gorges, and it is expected that the new service will prove of great value to all affected by the rivers, whether they are inhabitants of the valleys or directly engaged in inland waterway service.

CANADA STUDIES PROBLEMS OF ALASKAN REINDEER HERDS

The reindeer industry in Alaska has been given considerable aid by the researches of the Biological Survey of the United States Department of Agriculture. Officials of Canada have now begun an investigation with a view to restocking northern Canada with reindeer from Alaska. Two representatives were sent to Alaska last year to get practical knowledge of reindeer herd management and of reindeer forage plants, under the guidance of Biological Survey experts. They are also seeking information on the best breeding and grazing grounds over which to make a drive of approximately 2,000 reindeer to the Mackenzie River delta region. It has been estimated that such a drive would take about three years and would cost about $100 for each animal. The purpose of the undertaking is to provide reindeer to enable the Eskimos of northern Canada to become self-supporting, and the Biological Survey is giving all cooperation possible.

GETTING NEW FACTS ON AN APPLE PEST

The codling moth is a troublesome pest enemy of apples, prevalent in the apple-growing regions. An appropriation for meeting the situation in Kansas was made available to the Bureau of Entomology July 1, 1926, in order to cover an entire season's work in cooperation with the Kansas Agricultural College during spring. Damage was especially heavy in Kansas and the Ozarks during the preceding season, and it is hoped that these studies will throw much light on the codling-moth problem throughout this region. Field experiments in control are under way at the Bentonville, Ark., laboratory, which include the testing of arsenicals applied in various dosages and at various times, and of ovicidal and larvicidal materials. Questions relating to the quantity of spray residue on fruit at harvest time are being studied at the Yakima, Wash., field station. Tests of a large series of baits for moths in the orchard and in packing sheds are also being made. An apple ferment has been found to be the best bait material of those tried, though a ferment of molasses and yeast is also good. None of the essential oils tested shows much promise.

At the Silgo, Md., laboratory the feeding habits of the codling-moth larvae are being studied, especially those just hatched. The development of insecticides other than arsenicals is being attempted.
