

3,000 AT BARBECUE
OPENING OF OIL MILL

Rail And Utilities Officials, Citizens From Many Counties See Big Plant.

Three thousand people from Floyd and adjoining counties joined in the celebration last Friday incident to the opening of the Lockney Cotton Oil Company's plant at Lockney, declared to be one of the most modern institutions of its kind in the southwestern states; and these with several prominent rail and utilities officials and business men of the state were guests of the management of the mill in a big barbecue served in one of the huge warehouses of the mill.

Formalities Are Few

Little formalities marked the opening exercises, visitors to the huge plant finding all departments in operation and being given the freedom of the building to see the machinery in operation. At noon A. B. Brown, president of the Lockney Chamber of Commerce, in a brief talk expressed the pleasure of the citizens of Lockney at having so large a number of visitors, and gave hearty welcome to those from out of the county present. J. Ross Richardson, of Houston, president of the Lockney Cotton Oil Company extended the greetings of the mill owners to those present and gave them cordial welcome to the plant and the barbecue that had been spread.

Rev. J. B. McReynolds, pastor of the First Methodist Church at Lockney, said the invocation.

The barbecue, served cafeteria style, was one of the most excellent ever held in the county. Calves and mutton were barbecued for the occasion by J. H. Shurber of this city. Buns, coffee, pickles and potato chips were served with it. The big feed was served by the owners of the mill complimentary to the people of the territory, the arrangements being made and the barbecue served under the direction of the Lockney Chamber of Commerce. Arthur P. Barker, Dr. C. D. Henry, Melvin Stokes, Dr. H. H. Ball, Artie Baker, Fay Guthrie and R. E. Patterson were members of the committee from the Chamber of Commerce named to serve in connection with the entertainment of the visitors in Lockney.

Lower Domestic Light Rates For Plains Towns

Inauguration Of New Rates Only Await Completion Of Last Lap In 453-Mile Belt.

Every town on the 453 miles of the high voltage transmission lines of the Texas Utilities Company will enjoy a lower domestic rate for lights, effective January 1, Judge I. R. Kelso, president of Texas Utilities Company, announced at dinners given Thursday night last week at Lubbock and Tuesday night this week in Plainview.

More than a hundred citizens and officials from thirty-five cities and towns of the panhandle-plains were present at one or the other of the meetings.

Inauguration of the new rates for domestic consumption only await the completion of the last lap of a high voltage belt that will tie up every plant of the company with every town or city served with it. The lap now under construction is between Kress and Happy. It will make possible serving all towns from any one of the four huge plants the company has, one each at Lubbock, Plainview, Clovis and Canyon. The new rates and the reasons for them were outlined by Judge Kelso in a forty-minute talk in which he pointed out the tremendous development of the territory and the towns served, and in which he declared that although the company had not taken a dollar out of Texas either in interest charges or dividends as yet, the lowered rates were expected to aid materially in the development of the country.

The new domestic rate to apply beginning the first of the year will start at a gross of 14 cents per kilowatt for the first 20 kilowatts, the next 20 kilowatts at 13 cents, and excess of 40 kilowatts at 7 cents. The present gross rate starts at 16 cents, the reduction being approximately 12 1/2 per cent.

"Every time you knock your town by declaring your churches, your schools, or your utilities companies are not what they should be you are helping to shut the door of the prospector's mind against your community," the judge told his hearers.

The meetings resolved themselves into lovefeasts every town's representative present praising the forward-looking "enlightened selfishness" of the judge and his associates who are interested in the Texas Utilities Company's enterprise.

High School Grid Fans Of West Texas
Watching Whirlwind-Tiger Fight Today

Floydada Whirlwinds vs. Slaton Tigers!
Magic words.

They have turned the entire population of two democratic South Plains Towns into eager subjects of King Football!

Floydada slept football Wednesday night, talks and eats football today, and at 3:00 p. m. in the Tiger's lair at Slaton more than 1000 fans and fans will see football to their heart's content.

Boarding a special train over the Santa Fe rails two hundred local fans will leave this city at 9 a. m. this morning and will ride, via Plainview and Lubbock, to the Tiger City where they will witness the one game toward which they have been looking forward for twelve long months.

THINGS TO REMEMBER

Game called at Slaton 3 o'clock. Admission: adults $1.00, students 35c and children 15c.

Special train leaves Floydada at 9 a. m. arriving at Slaton 11:40 a. m. Leaves Slaton 7 p. m. arriving Floydada 9:40 p. m.

Trains will stop at Slaton depot and booster will march, enmass, four and one-half blocks to town, where they will entertain with band concert and yells.

Boosters will disband and meet again at same place at 2 o'clock.

Floydada fans will occupy west side of football field.

Meals may be secured at the Harvey House upon arrival and before leaving Slaton.

Undoubtedly, today's game will be the most exciting and biggest thriller of the season, regardless as to who wins the encounter. One of two wonderful football machines will go down in defeat today—but the leather-lunged supporters of each squad cry, emphatically, "NO, it is THEY who will lose, not us!"

Special trains—exciting pep meetings—ear splitting yells—and one thousand people will be surging into Slaton today with but one thought—"Win that football game!"

And the cause of all this, bustle and excitement—the Whirlwinds and Tigers, will be behind locked doors, safe from all noise, talk and trouble, making preparations to go into their greatest classic of the season.

"WIN IN THE FIRST HALF,"
B. M. TELL WHIRLWINDS

"Win that football game against Slaton in the first half," was the slogan of nearly a score of business men of Floydada who called on the Floydada High School Wednesday morning and with the student body staged an impromptu fifteen-minute "pep" program in the auditorium. "Sew up the game in the first quarter and remember we are going to be behind you!"

Dixie White, captain of the Whirlwinds, responded to short talks and fifteen rahs by the business men, declaring the boys and the whole school would be in there trying every mirate of the game. Miss Ollie Belle Collins led the school in yells for the business men and the Whirlwinds, and Superintendent Paty declared the visit would add much stimulus to the interest in the athletics and school activities generally.

Among the business men who talked were Roy L. Snodgrass, C. H. Davis, Glad Snodgrass, Aubrey Bishop and G. C. Tubbs.

FRY TO HAVE TURKEY FOR DINNER ON THANKSGIVING

R. E. Fry and family are enjoying a turkey dinner today, the turkey being supplied by T. W. Vardell, president of the Southwestern Life Insurance Company, as a reward for effort well and successfully made.

Two weeks ago Mr. Vardell offered each and every Southwestern agent in the state a turkey gobbler if the agent would write a policy of life insurance a day for the six straight days of last week. Mr. Fry was one of the successful agents. He wrote seven policies, and for each day and one to spare.

Arrange Variety Show
Of Poultry In December

Practically every variety of poultry, including chickens, turkeys, ducks and other birds, will be shown their year in Floydada during the annual Floyd County Poultry Show, December 15, 16 and 17, it was learned this week following the announcement of the dates of the event. From the inquiries coming to the office of the secretary, the interest is greater than has ever been shown in previous years and officials are greatly pleased with the response of the people. It is their opinion that, with the co-operation of the poultry raisers in this county, this show will be one of the best and largest on the South Plains.

An American Poultry Association judge will be secured if possible, according to A. B. Muncy, president of the organization. A man capable of judging will be hard to get due to the fact that so many shows will be in progress during December it was stated.

SERVICES AT LAKEVIEW

Announcement has been made that the Nazarene church will have services at the Lakeview School auditorium the fourth Sunday of the month, November 27 at 11 o'clock. Everyone is cordially invited to attend.

Teams Meet Fourth Consecutive Year To Fight For District 2 Title.

Today witnesses the supreme football classic of the 1927 season!

Today the eyes of West Texas high school fans turn toward Slaton where the Floydada High School Whirlwinds and the Slaton Tigers clash for the fourth consecutive year for the Class B championship of District Two. Floydada will be striving to maintain her last season's record of undisputed champs and the Tigers will be fighting for sweet revenge. Today's clash is the one final game for which the two elevens have been training all season. Which will be the kings of footballdom? Today, the victor will be determined!

Many Visitors Expected.

From out of their section where, for the present at least, they reign supreme in football, comes the challenge of the much heralded Slaton Tigers. In the Tiger's lair will be matched the Tiger's line ripping claws and the twisting mass of Whirlwinds. Hundreds of spectators from each town and surrounding towns are expected to witness the game.

Both teams have an undefeated record to guard in the annual Thanksgiving Day game. Dope selects the Whirlwinds as favorites, with their goal line uncrossed by a Class B team this season; however in the past few games the Tigers have transformed themselves from a mere group of inexperienced high school boys into a great team of husky men.

The Whirlwinds have had a decisive win over challenger this season and eight teams have gone down in defeat before their stiff breeze. They haven't stacked up 229 points against their opponents while the Tigers have had narrow escapes this season and have emerged with a total of 144 points against their enemies 19 points.

However, as explained by a Slaton newspaper, the fact that Lamesa beat Spur 7-0, while Floydada beat Spur 18-0, and considering Slaton's victory over Lamesa at 13-0 would indicate an advantage over the Whirlwinds in favor of the Tigers. To say the least of it, it will be a good game when Floydada comes to Slaton."

Failure of the Spur team to remit eligibility blanks caused the Tiger's game with the Bulldogs last Friday to be cancelled. The Slaton team did not play last Friday.

Coach Mitchell Optimistic

"It is my belief that my team can beat Floydada if they play against the Whirlwinds as they did against Lamesa," is the statement issued by Odus Mitchell, Tiger coach, who was here last Friday afternoon scouting the Floydada-Lockney game. Football of the brand seldom witnessed in high school games featured the Tiger-La-

HOLDS SUCCESSFUL MEETING

Elder J. J. Day returned late Thursday of last week from Roswell, N. M., where he conducted a successful meeting, lasting some ten days. WILL MAKE TEST OF TEXAS NEW BUS LAW

Fight For Right To Operate Floydada-Vernon Line To Appeals Court.

Test of the Bus Law passed by the last legislature will be made by attorneys representing S. H. Sparks, J. C. Parker and their associates, when the constitutionality of the criminal section of the law will be attacked before the Court of Criminal Appeals this week, the test going up on a habeas corpus from Cottle County, where H. S. Sparks was arrested last Thursday charged with the operation of a bus against the orders of the State Railroad Commission.

Attacks Constitutional

The test of the law grows out of a fight for certificate to operate a bus line from Floydada to Vernon, based on the law of the last legislature, which placed bus lines of the state under the control and supervision of the Texas Railroad Commission, and the first hearing on which was held six weeks ago at Vernon. At that time H. S. Sparks, J. C. Parker and associates were asking for the right to operate the line, and a similar fight was being made by W. F. Daniels, J. D. McKnight and C. A. Briscoe. Several witnesses were subpoenaed to appear from Floydada and two or three other bus line operators on competitive lines intervened asking that neither be given right to operate the line. Following the issuance of the decision of the Railroad Commission Sparks, Parker and associates were ordered to desist from operating their line in a period not to exceed thirty days.

Alleging the statute to be unconstitutional in that it delegated power to enforce a criminal statute to the Railroad Commission, the operation of the line was continued on the advice of attorneys. Arrests at Vernon were made ten days ago, J. C. Parker and Red Clay.

500 Membership Goal In Poultry Ass'n Drive

A membership drive with a goal of 500 has been started by the Floyd County Poultry Association. An effort will be made to secure members in every portion of the County and the climax to the drive will be the annual poultry show which will be held in Floydada December 15, 16, 17.

At the annual meeting held in the county court room Tuesday evening the association was re-organized, the old officers retained and final preparations for the show made. J. T. Hatch, manager of the Plains Producers Poultry Ass'n, was present and extended an invitation to all poultry raisers in the county to become members of the organization pointing out the advantages to be derived from co-operative marketing of eggs. Mr. Hatch referred to the California market that at the present time is almost double the Texas market.

According to A. B. Muncy, president of the poultry association, there will be between 600 and 1,000 birds on exhibition at the annual show this year. Mr. Muncy has already ordered enough coops to accommodate that number of fowls and arrangements are being made to secure the use of the Geo. Finkner building on West California Street.

RURAL SCHOOL BASKETBALL PLAYERS SHOULD READ THIS

H. H. Nicholas, of Lockney, County Director of Athletics of the Floyd County Interscholastic League, has issued the following request addressed to and for the benefit of rural schools of the county:

Teachers and rural basketball coaches should give the request immediate attention in order to facilitate arrangement of the schedule for rural basketball among the schools.

WILD GEESE LARGE AND FAT.
FLOYD COUNTY HUNTERS SAY

Hunting wild geese is so much more of a sporting proposition than hunting ducks that the gamblers of Floyd County have about ceased bragging about their bags of ducks if they can bring down any geese. The geese are large and fat, too, weighing eight to twelve pounds, the hunters declare.

One of the most recent parties to have good luck was composed of W. C. Bills, Charley Clark, A. E. Tinnin, O. B. Tinnin, a Mr. Harrison and a Mr. White. They bagged nine geese Monday afternoon and Tuesday morning downed four more, two of which they brought in.

One day the latter part of last week Dr. L. V. Smith and Rev. W. R. Hill returned to town with three geese after a few hour's hunt.

W. O. MURRAY HURT

Although still using a cane to get around, having sustained severely strained tendons in his leg and a badly sprained ankle, W. O. Murray is recovering from the effects of injuries sustained several days ago when a frame office building being moved from the Davis Gin lot toppled off the blocks and caught him under its weight.

He was helping Walter Byars when the accident occurred.

Thanksgiving Holiday Being Observed In Various Ways Over Floyd County

Local Cemetery Society Re-Organizes For Year

Will Employ Full Time Sexton Through Annual Membership Drive This Month.

Re-organization of the Floydada Cemetery Society was completed last week and plans made for the employment of a sexton to take complete charge of the care and up-keep of the cemetery throughout the entire year. Plans were perfected for a mammoth annual membership drive to be made during the month of November of each year and the funds raised in this drive will be used to pay the expenses of the association for the entire year, it was pointed out.

Efforts to charter the society and to raise funds other than by means of donations and membership fees were made by law firms of this city but found impossible to carry out. The society has been at work on this plan for some time and a decision was made at a recent meeting to re-organize the association and lay plans for one large annual membership drive each year.

"In this way, we will eliminate minor drives and pleas for donation each year" it was pointed out by Mrs. Jennie Bishop, president of the society. "Our drive is being made in November in order to put a 'full time' sexton at work by the first of the year and we are going to raise enough money in this one drive to keep him at work until next year. This plan will also eliminate the necessity of a 'clean-up' day each spring, as the sexton will keep the cemetery in first class condition at all times she stated.

The membership drive in the business part of town is being made this week-end and citizens of this city are asked to co-operate in placing the society on a business basis. The leaders of the society are especially urging the co-operation of those people who live in the country and have relatives buried in the Floydada cemetery. Those who wish membership or wish to make donations are asked to send the fees by mail to Mrs. Jennie Bishop.

'TIS THANKSGIVING AGAIN

"There was in England, however, another class of men who were so restless and dissatisfied with their position that they were ready to emigrate. These were the extreme Puritans. As the reign of James progressed, the laws requiring conformity to the established church were forced to attend services which seemed to the Puritan to partake of idolatry. . . . If Puritan laymen refused to attend church, or organized congregations, or held services of their own, they were fined and put in prison.

"A group of men of these views, most of them living in Lincolnshire and Nottinghamshire, became 'Separatists,'—that is, they separated themselves from the established church altogether, and since they were not allowed to form a separate organization in England, left that country and went to live in Holland, where religious freedom was allowed and where many Englishmen were already living for purposes of trade. They lived for a while in Amsterdam and then settled in Leyden, where they had a congregation of their own under a minister named Robinson. After residing in Holland for more than twelve years, many of them became dissatisfied and wished to establish themselves where their course of life should be under their own control. They applied to James for permission to settle in America. He was loath to give any privileges to Separatists, but finally assented, and they borrowed the necessary money from a company in London. In 1602 the 'Speedwell' brought the 'Pilgrim Fathers,' as they have always since been known, from Holland to England and the 'Mayflower' took them from Plymouth in Old England to the new Plymouth in New England, which was to be their future home."

And thus English history tells us of how the Pilgrim Fathers came to make their home in America—a home free from religious persecution in a land of great opportunity.

Determined men and women they were—those Puritans, who faced stormy seas, dangers of hostile foes in a strange world and untold hardships that they might live and worship as their convictions directed.

The occasion when the Puritans gathered their harvest in the Fall of 1621 and gave thanks to their Great Leader has become a period in the life of Americans today for a great national thanksgiving throughout the nation. Undimmed by the passage of years the beauty of the memory of that first Thanksgiving shines on and on, down through the ages.

In 1927, on Thursday November 27, another annual day of Thanksgiving will be observed—just how fittingly depends on the individuals of the nation. Business is good and "prosperity" is emblazoned across the country. It is indeed a year of many blessings.

Look back through three centuries; catch the spirit of that wonderful long ago and carry on!

BEHIND THE SCREEN

Intensely interesting and particularly prophetic things are taking place now on the screen that records the daily events of public life. Results from a recent development are interesting because they have a bearing upon the subject being studied closely by local people, and prophetic in nature for they indicate the trend of modern business and government.

It all has to do with hard surfaced highways and the city of Dallas has wound up the projecting machine and started it off; just how long the thing will run and just where the closing scenes will be developed remains for disclosures in future episodes of the continued affair.

County Judge Alexander of Dallas made a proposal before the Highway Commission of Texas in session the first of last week at Austin that the State pay forty per cent and his county sixty per cent of the cost of constructing a hard surfaced highway from Rhome to Dallas. Such a road as proposed by the Dallas judge would be 53 miles in length, cut through one corner of Tarrant County and provide a straight route of pavement from Vernon to Dallas. The road would cost $2,333,000; Dallas' portion $1,245,000 and that of the State $1,088,000, it is estimated.

Judge Alexander made his proposal on Monday and the Saturday following found the city of Fort Worth launching a campaign "to offset any additional traffic routed over the proposed cut-off."

In retaliation to a statement quoted as coming from the Dallas judge to the effect that, "We want to make it possible for West Texans to trade in Dallas and to remove the difficulty of having to drive through the congested traffic of Fort Worth to reach Dallas," Fort Worth is preparing to make a counter proposal to the Highway Commission. They have taken steps for an aggressive campaign to obtain state favor for the proposed Grapevine-McKinney highway and have pointed out that, "The road from Fort Worth to Grapevine already is paved but that it would be necessary to construct about thirty miles additional hardsurfaced road on to McKinney;" and that, "this road would give West Texans a direct route into Northeastern Oklahoma and save approximately thirty miles and consequent traffic delays now met in passing through Dallas."

It was brought out at the hearing before the Commission that the Rhome-Dallas road would be twenty miles longer from points west than the road via Fort Worth, which is at present hard surfaced and in excellent condition.

Looking around for a peep behind the screen, the public will not need "specs" to see that Dallas is striving to route West Texas trade around their competitive sister city. And it is very plain, too, that Fort Worth is striking back into the Dallas trade territory by proposing a road "to help give West Texans a direct route into Northeastern Oklahoma."

Pretty interesting show isn't it, but it is dangerous dallying with instruments of government formed by the people for the serving of their own interests as a whole and not for the increasing of business interests of any particular metropolis.

The Dallas delegation were instructed "to go home, vote the bonds and then return for aid." The Fort Worth group will be told the same thing, if precedent means anything. But later, perhaps, both counties will vote the bonds and then, perhaps, state aid will be given.

Do you think these cities are taking such steps "to aid West Texas motorists?" The answer need not necessarily be written for it is very evident, that it is, "Yes, to aid West Texas motorists to bring their trade into these respective cities."

Both Fort Worth and Dallas may be interested in paved roads for West Texas but has anyone heard of proposals coming from either of these cities to assist in putting across the biggest movement that has been started in this section since it was carved out of state domains—the paving of highways to the north, south, east and west in the Panhandle as one continuous chain?

The affair continues interesting, and it is prophetic in that it indicates the trend toward centralization of business in the larger centers. Big business corporations are broadening and drawing smaller concerns to them like planets attracting their satellites.

Nevertheless, business will improve and remain good in the small towns. People will continue to patronize their home town merchants and it should ever be made an outstanding fact uppermost in the minds of all big business men in the larger cities that the people want and need a state highway system for all the towns and hamlets and not lateral roads constructed merely to help the larger cities.

West Texans believe that highways should be fairly designated and improved in conformance with the plan for an all-state system that will serve the greatest number. West Texans believe in good roads and they are going to have a connected system regardless of how much traffic they have to pass through, in, over and under while traversing them.

'Round The Square

Today is the day! For twelve long months pigskin fans have been looking forward to Thanksgiving Day when the Tigers and the Whirlwinds have their annual clash. And—Today is the day.

"Watch those passes" is the warning issued to the Whirlwinds this week by local fans. Passes will probably determine the champions, unless one of the teams receives the breaks of the game, it is believed. "Fight 'em, Windies—and watch those passes."

"Somebody said" column in the Slaton Slatonie says: "Since the Slaton Tigers defeated the Lamesa Tornadoes 13 to 0, and must play the Floydada Whirlwinds here on Thanksgiving Day, it seems certain that if the Tigers could tear a bunch of tornadoes to pieces they should have little difficulty in dealing with a few small whirlwinds."

But look out, Tigers! "A few small whirlwinds" may be so much more powerful than a tornado that they will be able to pull out a few cat whiskers.

The fellow that invented football sure ruined this column. But it won't be long now, for Old Father Time will soon put Fatty Football out of the game. And then maybe we can get back to business again.

Duck hunters have been at a loss as to why a certain local hunter brings in so many ducks. He reveals his secret thus: "All that I do is lay down in the field and make a noise like a head of maul and they will come right to you." Now you go kill one.

Pavement round the square is one subject that the editor of this column was getting plumb down hearted about. Here we've hollered, "pave, pave, pave" —until that was all we could think of—and what is the result? Not a single comment by anybody, anywhere nor anytime! That's gratitude for you.

But wait—last week we thought we heard one man whisper to another that he believed that it was the county's duty to pave its part of the square! Now what do you think of that? At least—we've got one fellow talking it, anyway. Come on, Floydada. You talk it, we'll talk it and before long we will have everybody talking it. And who knows? Maybe someday we will have the officials talking it. Let's Pave.

What did you say? Floydada 36, Slaton 0? Aw, don't try to kid us!

14 YEARS AGO IN FLOYD COUNTY

News items taken from the Floyd County Hesperian files published in Floydada fourteen years ago.

ISSUE OF DECEMBER 4, 1913.

Amarillo remains a dry town for two more years at least. This was determined in the local option election held there Saturday in which the dry contingent won by a majority of 161 votes. This is the most decisive vote by which the dry's have ever carried, their majority two years ago being only 27 votes.

At the outset of the big rain last Friday, the lightning was remarkably heavy for winter months. About dark the Roedel cafe property of McClesley Brothers was struck and set afire. The flames were soon extinguished. Some ten or fifteen patrons were in the cafe at the time. The current traveled down the stove pipe to the heater in the dining room. Two or three guests sitting near the stove were shocked and shaken up by the stroke, but were not seriously injured.

Local Poultry Fancier Gives Pointers On 'Why Winter Chicks Are Profitable'

Timely suggestions on poultry raising in winter months have been given by a local chicken fancier. His article is presented in the hope that it may prove valuable and profitable to those interested.—Editor's note.

Now is the time to begin planning the hatching and care of baby chicks for another season. It seems that we have hardly put away our brooders, feeders and drinking fountains, until it is time to get them out again, and prepare them for the coming chicks. Your brooder should be cleaned thoroughly. See that all pipes are open and clear of rust, and a new wick installed. Fire it up and see if it works as nicely as it did the past season, for during the long cold nights to come the chicks must have the proper heat. Drinking fountains and feeders should be scalded and disinfected. Cleanliness is half the battle in raising baby chicks.

In the past it has been the custom on most farms to only hatch chicks during the warm spring months, as it was thought to be unprofitable and a waste of time to try to raise them in the winter months, on account of the extreme cold weather making them so hard to care for. Then, too, incubators were hard to keep regulated, and the hens would not set. But now, since custom hatcheries have sprung up all over the country, careful poultry raisers have found that chicks hatched during December, January and February are the most profitable to raise. Brooders have been installed and much of the spring work eliminated.

ONE IN TEN

Neglecting a little wound, cut or abrasion of the flesh may in nine cases out of ten cause no great suffering or inconvenience, but it is the one case in ten that causes blood poisoning, lockjaw or a chronic festering sore. The cheapest, safest and best course is to disinfect the wound with liquid Borozone and apply the Borozone Powder to complete the healing process. Price (liquid) 30c, 60c and $1.20. Powder 30c and 60c. Sold by

Arwine Drug Company

Winter Eggs Better

There are several reasons why winter chicks are so much easier raised than late spring hatches. During the summer and early fall months the hens are molting and getting ready for winter laying. When they begin to lay in the early winter, they lay eggs that are strong in vitality, eggs that germinate easily and produce strong healthy chicks. Later in the spring the hens' vitality has been weakened by continuous laying, and her eggs are naturally not as strong as they were earlier, and consequently chicks with weak vitality are produced. The germ is weaker. Therefore, spring chicks are more susceptible to disease, and succumb easily, to the ravages of insects and parasites. Lice and mites do not thrive in cold weather, as they do in the warm spring weather, and the early chicks miss these pests. The ground in warmer weather becomes infested with disease germs, which do not thrive in cold weather. During the cooler weather the chicks are not so likely to suffer from overcrowding, as they can stand more crowding and not become too warm, as they will do in warmer weather.

Not many of us raise poultry entirely for the love of it, but we must look to the financial end of the game, as anything we undertake this day and time that does not bring us in financial returns, soon becomes an expense or a luxury. So, winter hatched chicks must be more profitable than late spring hatched chicks, for us to go to the trouble of taking care of them during the extreme cold weather.

As an illustration to show that winter hatched chicks are more profitable than spring hatched chicks, we will say that you hatch 500 chicks the 1st of January. At the very worst of luck you should raise 400 of them, of which 200 will be pullets and 200 cockerels or friers. For these 200 friers, by having them ready for market the 1st of March when prices are at the top, we will say you get 30 cents per pound. At two pounds each they will bring you 60 cents each or $120 for the 100.

Earlier Chicks Profitable

Now, we will say that you hatch 500 chicks in April or May, when the weather is warmer and disease germs more rampant, and the chicks lower in vitality, and from disease, spring rains, and parasites, you only raise 300 chicks, 150 pullets and 150 friers. On account of the market being glutted at this time of year, the price will be lower, and we say you only get 20 cents per pound or 40c each for the 150, which would only bring you $60 for the bunch. The earlier lot brought you $60 more money, and you have 50 more pullets, which we believe you can see will more than repay you for the cost of your brooder and extra attention given the chicks.

Now, this is only a part of the advantages. You have 50 more pullets, out of the earlier bunch, and the whole 200 pullets are worth more than 300 later pullets, for they will develop more quickly, be healthier specimens when grown, and will begin laying by July, and though eggs are cheap at that time, you will realize considerable money from their eggs, before they go into the molt. The later hatched pullets will not lay before fall, and about the time they begin to lay, will go into molt, and you will not realize anything from their eggs until beginning of winter.

Then there is the breeding flock to think of for the coming season. Your winter hatched pullets will be grown hens, with large mature bodies, ready to produce you good strong eggs to set for another season. The later hatched pullets will be too young and undeveloped in most instances to do you much good as breeders until late spring, and should you want early hatched chicks, a whole season will be practically lost, before they will be old enough to produce you the strong offsprings you should have to keep your flock up to standard. When you hatch the winter pullets, you are not going to lose any time in making them repay you with profits, and your flock will produce you good strong chicks from year to year.

We know that poultry is profitable on our farms. Many farmers would not be in position to "stand back" during some of our droughts if it were not for the egg and cream check. So why not give these things some thought, and if we are going to raise poultry for profit, hatch them early, and give them the proper attention, so that we may derive the utmost from our efforts.

If you haven't a brooder, you can secure one that will accommodate 1,000 chicks for $18.50 and cheaper. Most any kind of house will do for brooder house, if it is good and tight, and ventilated properly. During the winter months you are not so busy with your farm work, and you can easily devote some of your time to looking after the chicks. Then when spring comes and you have to get in the fields, your chicks are frying size and you do not have to worry about raising them. Think it over.

Dull Headache and Sluggish Feeling

"We are a healthy family and haven't had to use much medicine," says Mr. J. H. Adams, of Bishop, Ga. "But I have found it necessary to take some medicine."

"I had headaches. My head felt dull, and like I couldn't hold it up."

"I had a bad taste in my mouth; felt sluggish and tired. I brought home some Black-Draught and took a few doses, and I got good results. I felt so much better. My head cleared up. I was hungry and wanted to get out and work."

"Black-Draught has proved satisfactory and we have used it ever since."

Thousands of other families have had equally satisfactory experiences.

Questions On Health With The Answers

(By State Department of Health)

1. I have two little girls, and they both have bad teeth, but have very good health. Are there any certain foods that I can give them that will be an aid in making their teeth better? (Mother, Brownfield)
2. Is it necessary to have a child's first set of teeth filled when decayed, or is it better to have the decayed ones pulled? (Mother, Brownfield)
3. I have heard that leafy vegetables are especially good for children. Is this true? (Mrs. A. D. L. Lockhart)
4. Is candy injurious to a child? (J. M. S., Robert Lee)
5. Is lack of exercise responsible for many of the human ailments of the present day? (Athlete, Navasota)
6. Does one's manner of walking have any ill effects upon their health? (Athlete, Navasota)

ANSWERS

1. Aside from their value as energy producers and body builders, milk, eggs, vegetables and whole grain cereals and breads, should be included in the children's diet in the interest of good teeth. These foods contain calcium, phosphorus and Vitamin D, which are all important elements in tooth building. Cod liver oil is also splendid for this purpose, and the children should be allowed to play in direct sunshine as much each day as possible.
2. A child's first set of teeth should be given as much care as his permanent teeth. At the first signs of decayed or bad teeth, a child should be taken to a dentist for examination and treatment. It is well to take him to a dentist twice each year even when his teeth appear to be good, as small cavities are often unnoticed by parents, and are allowed to go until the tooth begins to ache. It is very necessary that everything possible be done to prevent bad teeth in children.
3. One of the foods which is often not introduced early enough in the child's diet is the leafy vegetable. Spinach is especially good for small children, and they should be taught to like this, as well as other vegetables of the leafy variety.
4. Eating of lollipops and other favorite sweets indiscriminately between meals is likely to cause unpleasant results among children. An especially bad result of this indiscriminate eating of candy, is that the child's appetite for essential foods is lost, with the result that he does not eat the foods that his body really needs. A box of candy at home from which a piece may be taken after meals, a piece in the lunch box, or better still, a few dates or figs, will be sufficient to appease a child's natural taste for sweets.
5. Exercise of the muscles is necessary for the development of a healthy, active, human machine, and also for keeping the body in good condition after it has reached its maturity. Babies and young children exercise by instinct. Adults, in this age of easy transportation, too often neglect their muscles. This results in round shoulders, excess fat, and flabby tissues, which are generally accompanied by indigestion, constipation, and other evidences of "poor health."
6. One's manner of walking produces either good or ill effects. It is proper to walk with one's toes straight ahead and at a brisk pace. When walking for exercise, one should walk several miles each day at a brisk pace. When beginning this exercise, if muscles are flabby, walk only a short distance the first day, and gradually increase this distance, but always walk at a brisk pace.

Mrs. R. E. Fry was hostess to the 1922 Study Club at its meeting Thursday afternoon, November 17. Splendid reports of the Texas Federation of Women's clubs which was held in El Paso November 7-12 given by Mrs. Geo. A. Luder and Mrs. Lon V. Smith, who were in attendance, featured the meeting.

A very enjoyable part of the program was a violin solo by Miss Martha Cox, of Lockney accompanied by Miss Lauream Christian also of Lockney.

The subject of the regular program was "Missions" led by Mrs. J. U. Borum. Topics on the subject discussed were "Story of the Alamo," Mrs. W. I. Cagnaday; "Other Missions," Mrs. A. N. Bratton; and "Home of the Alamo," Mrs. I. W. Hicks.

During the business session plans were discussed for sponsoring a municipal Christmas tree, that is if the plans meet with the approval of the various churches," Mrs. Luder, president, said. Such a plan carried out would mean a large tree would be erected somewhere on the square, beautifully decorated by all the churches and kept lighted at night for several days before Christmas. Christmas carols would be sung by a large assembly of children as a part of a program which would be arranged. "This way every child would have the opportunity of seeing a Christmas tree without being embarrassed by seeing other children receive a number of gifts, which is not in keeping with the Christmas spirit," Mrs. Luder announced.

On Tuesday afternoon, December 1, the club will give their Christmas program at the home of Mrs. J. M. Willson.

Progressive Music Club Is Delightfully Entertained.

Friday, November 18, the Progressive Music Club was entertained at the hospitable home of Mrs. E. B. Massie. Mrs. Massie was assisted by Mrs. Wilson Kimble and Mrs. W. H. Hilton. The decoration and games carried out the Thanksgiving idea. On entering each guest was requested to register. The outside cover of the register was a large turkey wing, all spread and strutting so proudly, that the glad spirit he manifested proved contagious for every one present was soon strutting as gayly as Mr. Turkey and having the time of their lives.

A halt was called and the hostess presented each one present with a pencil and paper. Suddenly the lights went out and each one was asked to sketch a true likeness of the gallant friend, Mr.

Turkey. Despite the fact that it was rather a difficult job to try to sketch a turkey on paper in utter darkness, there was one little artist, Eula May Gullion, whose sketch resembled the model so closely she was awarded first prize, a beautiful stuffed turkey.

The attention was then directed to the artistic manner in which the dining room table was decorated, to represent the home of a Puritan in midwinter. The ground was covered with sparkling snow and the little log cabin in the distance was surrounded by everything necessary to complete a quiet little country home. Just to one side was a beautiful lake where the cows, chickens, turkeys and swine had quenched their thirst and were loitering around over the snow in search of something to eat. There was a variety of feed stored away and bright golden pumpkins for the Thanksgiving dinner. These were enclosed by a high rail fence, made of striped sticks of candy.

The proud owner of this sacred little spot could be seen looking over his possessions and one could imagine his whistling "Be it Ever So Humble There is no Place I'd Home." After all of the guests had passed around the table, they were again seated with pencil and paper and requested to write the names of as many articles as they could remember in the scene. Mrs. Ed Brown proved the lucky one in this contest and was rewarded with a fat hog.

Following a short business session the following pupils entertained with a delightful piano program: Margaret Louise Anderson, Gladys Ruth Brown, Evelyn Maddox, Mary Ann Kimble, Edith Blanche King, Ruth Rutledge, Laura Blanche Hilton, Samuel Rutledge, Eula May Gullion, Hazel Borum, Ruth Baker. Little Jessie Bell Massie favored the guests with a very cute little song, "My First Music Lesson." Bert Ione Smith read a helpful and interesting paper on "Why I Study Music."

After discussion on various mottoes submitted for the club, it was decided by a unanimous vote to adopt the following "Aim High and Consider Yourself Capable of Great Things."

Delicious refreshments consisting of angel food cake, jello with whipped cream and punch were served. Favors were hand painted turkeys. There were thirty-seven present.

The next meeting will be with Mrs. G. R. May Friday evening, December 30. The program for this meeting will be given by the mothers. Group No. 5 will entertain. The fathers will be given a special invitation to attend and pass on the program rendered by the mothers.

What's Doing In West Texas Today

LUEBERS—“Lilas Lodge” picturesque river home of Col. R. L. Penick, vice-president of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, was scene of an official meeting of the new Poultry and Dairy Bureau of the WTCC November 22. A year's program of work was outlined at the gathering after which inspection of the home and farm plant was made.

LUBBOCK—Culminating a three-days comprehensive tour of the West, Loring A. Schuler, editor of The Country Gentleman, left this city last week a full-fledged member of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, “sold” on the advantages and possibilities of the entire section which he viewed and observed on his trip originating at Stamford and ending on the South Plains. Schuler and his party of more than half score members visited West Texas to survey mechanical processes of gathering cotton used in the region and to see the cattle industry and general conditions here. He was honor guest of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce during his stay.

CLAUDE—Home canning interests are being advanced here through demonstration work in that field. A canning demonstration supervised by an expert was held here the week of November 14 and attracted wide attention from Claude women.

SWEETWATER—Westerners from all parts of Central Texas will convene here November 30 to see and hear Governor “Dan” take part in a district West Texas Chamber of Commerce gathering. Moody's attendance will mark his first appearance at a sectional convention of the West Texas regional organization and the entire occasion is planned as a gala event for the West.

VERNON—Friendship and good feelings of trade territory towns of this section have been cemented by a unique plan inaugurated by the Vernon Chamber of Commerce under direction of Grady S. Shipp, secretary. The plan involves holding banquets at various points, the Vernon Chamber members paying for their tickets and for tickets for guests invited in the town where the event is staged. Programs with Vernon and local town talent are held at each place. A series of similarly planned rural acquaintance trips are scheduled for school communities of the county during the winter months.

BRECKENRIDGE—A million pound crop of choice nuts and over 147,000 native trees give Stephens County, Texas second place in pecan production of the Lone Star State. Many trees of the section are unusually prolific, producing from 500 to 850 pounds of excellent nuts to the tree. The capitol of this banner pecan county is Breckenridge, with a population of 17,000, an ideal home city, and manufacturing, wholesale and jobbing center. A $500,000 courthouse is under construction here, planned to be one of the most excellent in the State.

ABILENE—Two Heart of Texas West Texas Chamber of Commerce towns “did themselves proud” during the week of November 7. Both San Saba and Brady put themselves on the map, editorially speaking, through staging events of which much larger towns might well be proud. San Saba, San Saba County capitol, instituted most successfully, the nation's first “National Pecan Show,” and Brady, capitol of Mc-

Cullough County, held its annual, Turkey Trot celebration, climaxed by crowning Miss Carmen Anderson as Turkey Trot Queen.

THOUSAND CHARIOTS IN BATTLE SCENE OF MOON OF ISRAEL

There have been few greater pictures than “Moon of Israel” which is to be shown at the Royal Theatre here Monday and Tuesday, November 28-29. In all of history there has never been a more thrilling episode than the exodus of the Jews from Egypt. There is something tremendously thrilling in those scenes, where tolling Israelites push blindly against their slowly moving wagons, casting sacred looks backwards for the pursuit they know will follow.

There is still something awesome in the sight of Pharaoh's thundering chariots speeding after the defenseless fugitives.

In “Moon of Israel” over a thousand chariots are used in this pursuit scene. On one side of a hill appears the slowly winding train of the Israelites, and behind on the plain they have just left come the charging hosts of Pharaoh. Some remarkable shots are taken of these charging chariots. Line after line they come charging off the screen. Squadron after squadron, with plunging horses and eager chariotcers! It is one of the most thrilling scenes in screen history, and as the pillar of fire springs up between them and the fleeing Israelites the watcher is given a taste of the thrills that are to follow.

Michael Curtiz is the director, and he is to be congratulated on the accuracy and reality of the terrific scenes included in the picture. Marie Corda, Arlette Marchal, and Adelqui Millar, have the stellar roles.

GRADUATES OF AGRICULTURAL SCHOOLS PRACTICE WORK

Approximately 75 per cent of all graduates of State agricultural schools in New York are known to be engaged in farming or related occupations, according to a recent survey, results of which have been summarized by the State department of education. This is exclusive of short-term and special students who attend school for less than the three-year curriculum. Ten and five-tenths per cent of the graduates are known to be engaged in nonagricultural pursuits, and a number have died. It is estimated that, if information were available concerning those whose occupation is not known, it would be found that of the nearly 2,000 graduates of State agricultural schools about 83 per cent are at present following agricultural pursuits.—School Life.

UNIVERSITY COLLEGE FOR NORTHERN ENGLAND

Hull University College, England, will probably be opened to students in October, 1929. The organization board hope that residential accommodations and ample provision for recreation for 500 students will be ready by that time. The college grounds will comprise 45 acres, and it is announced that the buildings will be of moderate size but sufficient for the probable needs of the next 50 years.

A donation by Right Hon. T. R. Ferens of £250,000 ($1,216,625) will provide for the beginning of the institution, but the organization board announce that large additional funds must be procured to assure the success of the undertaking. The college will probably specialize in subjects related to the fishing industry of Hull and Grimsby.

The city of Hull now possesses eight secondary schools, a technical college, a school of art, a nautical school, and a training college, the plants of which are valued at about $10,000,000. The new university college will supplement these institutions. Its attendance will be drawn largely from Hull, the East Riding, and the northern part of Lincolnshire.—A. E. Carleton, American Consul, Hull.

FAMOUS BIBLE STORY TOLD IN PICTURE COMING TO ROYAL

There have been few more thrilling films than FOB's “Moon of Israel,” which is soon to appear at the Royal Theatre. It is a production which deals with the Exodus of the Children of Israel from Egypt, and the romance of Marapi, an Israelite maiden, and Seti, Prince of Egypt. From beginning to end the picture is crammed with marvelous scenes and startling effects such as the changing of Moses' rod into a snake, the dividing of the Red Sea to allow the Israelites to pass, and the roaring flames that sprang up in the path of the charging Egyptian chariots. This scene in particular is one of the most majestic that has ever been screened. Two thousand chariots wildly shouting drivers and rearing excited horses charged across the plain to where the cameras are grinding. Then from a trench in the ground springs a curtain of crimson flame. Instantly there is a chaotic upheaval of frightened horses and drivers, a scene that impresses the watcher as few others have done.

Michael Curtiz, who directed the picture, has done one of the best pieces of work this year, and the cast as a whole is exceptionally fine. Maria Corda, Arlette Marchal and Adelqui Millar are splendid in their roles and Henry Mar as Moses deserves great praise.

CHILDREN'S SCHOOLS FOLLOW BRITISH TROOPS

Schools for British soldiers' children are found all over India and in all the colonies garrisoned by Imperial troops, including Egypt, Gibraltar, Malta, Aden, Hong Kong, Singapore, and Jamaica. The personnel of the army educational corps are well trained, and courses of study are so arranged that children moving with the army can carry on their studies with little interruption. Wherever possible schools are centralized, and the larger corps of teachers makes specialized teaching possible. In India, where moves are frequent, the schoolmistress accompanies the troops from place to place.

Because of the wide experience gained by the travelling army children, their acquaintance with foreign peoples, and their possession frequently of some knowledge of different languages, numbers of soldiers' children are successful in winning scholarships in competition with other English school children, and are often able, if an army career is chosen, to attain higher rank than their fathers in the service of the Empire.—School Life.

T. C. U. PLANS CELEBRATION

Ft. Worth, Nov. 22.—A parade through the downtown district, luncheon in the Texas Christian University Cafeteria, a get-together hour for alumni and ex-students, the T. C. U.-S. M. U. football game, and a reception for visitors in the Mary Counts Burnett Library are the high points planned for Texas Christian University's first Thanksgiving Homecoming.

CHICAGO RESEARCH CENTER

Compilation of the first critical text of the Canterbury Tales has been undertaken by the University of Chicago. About five years will be required for completion of the work. The chairman of the department of English, Prof. John Matthews Manly, is in charge of the Chaucerian research project. He has just returned after six months' work in London, where a number of old records connected with the history of the poet were unearthed and incidents of his life and work established. Of the 83 manuscripts of the “Santerbury Tales” known to be in existence photostatic copies of 77 have been obtained by the university and arrangements have been made to procure others. A permanent staff of four research workers will be maintained in London for several years to study records there, and four other trained research workers will assist Professor Manly in Chicago. Results of this work, it is expected will make the University of Chicago the greatest center of Chaucerian material in the world.

Floydada Should Start Paving Now—Willson

Surplus Funds Best Used In 50 to 60 Block Program, Point Made At Luncheon Club.

"Floydada is at the exact stage when she should start and carry out a paving program of some fifty or sixty blocks in order to keep pace with the era of expansion that is coming to this city and has already made itself evident in Canyon, Plainview and other neighboring towns," was the summary statement of J. M. Willson in a ten minute address Monday before the Luncheon Club at their regular bi-monthly meeting at the Petite Dining Room.

"I would be disappointed if we do not have 5,000 residents here within two years," Mr. Willson continued. The announcement of the Q. A. & P. extension here and the promise of a new development means a great deal in the way of development.

"The people of Floydada are entitled to have an extensive paving program carried out in the residence section, provided they are ready for it. I believe that under the present rate there will be a surplus of at least ten per cent in the city treasury from the $1.45 rate that could be applied on paving better than on anything else. There would only have to be a slight tax increase to pave fifty or sixty blocks."

Mr. Willson pointed out that the builders having liens on property were willing in most instances, to subrogate these liens in favor of the paving projects. He expressed the hope that while the paving was being done that the people include in their program the remaining sections around the square.

Chairman F. L. Davis in commenting on Mr. Willson's statement repeated his plea "to take Floyd County's poverty sign down." He said in part, "Every person who passes through here is sure to see the unpaved portion of the square which is a permanent indication, as they take it, that this county is bankrupt and they pass on in a hurry because no person wants to make his home in a section without funds. Let's take this sign down for it costs us more in adverse publicity each year than it would require to pave the street."

T. S. Stevenson on the club's paving committee announced that he would have a report ready at the next meeting on the results of their progress. Glad Snodgrass stated that he would represent the committee on house numbering at the next meeting of the city council.

Rev. J. Pat Horton, pastor of the Baptist church of Plainview was among the guests present at the luncheon. He insisted that he had joined the anti-oratory fraternity and was again speech making." He expressed his delight in being present.

Rev. G. B. Patterson, supply for the Floydada Circuit of the Methodist Church, succeeding A. D. Moore, was introduced and he made a short talk in which he expressed pleasure at being present and identified himself as "always ready for the harness." "I am to be always ready to help in any way in any worthwhile undertaking, and I am for community building. I am a booster and not a knocker."

Coach Ike Jay of the Floydada High School Whirlwind eleven expressed appreciation to the business men for the support they had given the team in the past.

The meeting of the club was enlivened by the usual flash of wit and one of the visitors said things got "too funny" when they fined him upon the occasion of his first visit simply because he had broken one of the rules through pure ignorance. Following a motion made by O. P. Rutledge, an adjournment was made exactly at 1:30 o'clock, the time limit set for dismissal.

Although commonly thought to be an island, Gibraltar is really a peninsula some two and three-quarter miles long and three-quarters of a mile wide at its broadest point, connected with the mainland of Spain by a narrow, sandy isthmus. Since the signing of the peace of Utrecht in 1713 this fortress has been British territory, several unsuccessful attempts to regain it having been made by Spain.

Whirlwinds In Easy Win Over Lockney Longhorns

Score 28-0 Victory To Bring Total Of Season To 229 Points; Goal Still Uncrossed.

"A goal line uncrossed by a Class B team" is the record sustained by the Floydada High Whirlwind team last Friday afternoon when they held their old enemies, the Lockney Longhorns, scoreless and added 28 points more to the rapidly growing total against their opponents. The game last Friday probably closed the 1927 football season on the local gridiron and was witnessed by large crowds of fans from both Floydada and Lockney. Coach Ike Jay's men have scored a total of 229 points against their opponents this season, without a single loss. The Longhorns were the eighth victims to go down before the powerful Whirlwind eleven.

Longhorns Make Record
The Longhorns approached nearer to the Floydada goal line than any team has this season. At one time, the visitors held the ball on Floydada's 21 yard line, but never really threatened to score. Both teams played a wonderful game of ball, but the visiting squad were completely outclassed by the Whirlwinds. Coach Jay kept a steady stream of second string men going into the game Friday while Coach Grady Burson, of Lockney, only made substitutions when his men were injured. Floydada's subs played the same brand of football that has made the Whirlwind first string men famous. The winning fight was in the local squad until the last minute of play.

Handicapped by the loss of their stellar backfield man, Steve Marshall, who was out of play with an attack of appendicitis, the local squad proved that they were not a "one man team" and held the ball in Lockney territory the greater part of the game and tallied four touchdowns. Bud Goen proved himself one of the greatest passers in this section with his often completed throws to White. His best passes, two twenty yard shots to White, were successfully completed and White raced ten yards for the second and third touchdowns. Jim Stiles was playing what is believed to be his best game this season, last week, when he suffered a wrenched ankle in the first half. Dave Luttrell made several good plays. Welbourn's sensational end runs thrilled many, while the most sensational play of the evening was made by Sid Carter when he raced around left end for thirty yards for the first touchdown in less than three minutes after the game started. Edwards played his usual good game, while the plunging line on the local squad deserves credit for their great improvement shown in the past few games.

Following Sid Carter's early touchdown, came Goen's pass to White for the second count in the second quarter. Goen's second long pass to White netted the third touchdown in the third quarter and Welbourn carried the ball over the chalk line for the last count. On the visiting squad, Captain Teaff, heavy left end, was undoubtedly the star player. Fowler, right end; Riley, Seal and Webb also did good playing. Seal threw many of the Floydada tacklers off balance with his whirling plays. Fowler, Cooper and Riley each suffered minor injuries during the encounter.

Make Triple Pass
The Longhorns played a defensive brand of ball, usually punting on second or third down. A sensational triple pass in the first quarter netted their longest gain of 15 yards. One twelve yard pass, Seal to Teaff, was completed.

Floydada made seventeen first downs and the Longhorns four. Lockney completed three of five attempted passes and Floydada five out of ten attempted. The Whirlwinds drew twenty yards in penalties and Lockney ten yards. Many beautiful, long punts were made by both teams.

Uniformed pep squads from each school entertained between halves with marches and formations that were very interesting and greatly appreciated by the side lines. The yells of each squad split the air during the encounter.

Cover Up Plays
Only straight football was used in the game Friday. Off tackle plunges with end runs for variety constituted the main style of play of the victors. The passing machine was unleashed when scoring distance was reached. All in all, the Green and White played a muffled game; they displayed nothing to the scouting eyes of the Slaton Tigers. Coach Odus Mitchell who was here to study the Whirlwind plays went home with a handfull of notes about line plunges and positions but not one single secret or fake play was uncovered by the clever Jaymen.

This is one of the many children whose eyes we have straightened, as the result of proper correcting glasses and systematic exercises known as 'Ocular Gymnastics.'

Our methods excel for skill, science, accuracy and optical technique.

BELIEVES COMMISSION WILL GRANT HIGHWAY IN 1928

County Judge Wm. McGehee Monday expressed the belief that the State Highway Commission would grant the north and south state highway from Post to Silverton, across Garza, Crosby, Floyd and Briscoe Counties. However, the highway designation is not likely to be given during the current year. Following a hearing to be held sometime in the earlier part of 1928 the route will be designated, he was told by members of the commission in a conference he held with them during his visit to Austin last week.

The delay in granting the highway, which the commission said was needed, is based on need of further study of the routing for it through Garza and Crosby Counties, he was informed.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Grigsby left Sunday for Temple, where Mrs. Grigsby will undergo treatment in the Scott & White Sanitarium. Mrs. Grigsby became ill Friday night and her condition was considered quite serious when they left, however, a message from Mr. Grigsby stated that she stood the trip well.

Pleasant Hill

Pleasant Hill, Nov. 21.—Several of our young people attended singing at Lakeview Friday night, and we hope a goodly number of Lakeview people will meet with us on Saturday night of this week. Mrs. J. R. Evers and children, Mrs. A. E. Shelton's family, the R. M. Morgan family, P. J. Wilkes family, Miss Mayes, the Misses Woolsey, Miss Laura Donathan, her brother, Richard and sisters and several other young folk enjoyed the party and candy breaking at Mrs. G. W. Blankenship's Saturday night. The married folk played "42" while the youngsters had a good time playing all kinds of games. Mr. Wilkes and Mrs. R. M. Battey won high score at "42."

Miss Dora Elsie Lloyd spent Saturday night with Miss Lucille Evers and attended the picture show.

Miss Laura Mae Mayes, Miss Juanita Hart, and Mrs. R. M. Morgan and children motored to town last Tuesday afternoon to see "The Scarlet Letter" at the Royal Theatre.

Our trustees have decided to dismiss school for a week or two.

Miss Laura Mae Mayes is returning to her home at Lorenzo today.

Everyone come out to singing Saturday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Ham Smith and children and Bob Smith spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Charley Smith, of Harmony. Mr. and Mrs. Hal Lattimore, of Lubbock, and Mrs. Ethel Jones and children, of Lorenzo, were also guests of Mr. and Mrs. Smith.

High School Grid Fans Watching Battle Today

mesa game, fans who saw the clash stated, and Coach Mitchell is greatly pleased with the showing of his squad. Mitchell, a four year W. T. S. T. C. man, has whipped his team from nothing to strong championship contenders. He reports that with two week's rest, his team is in excellent shape for the Turkey Day game.

Steve Marshall, stellar backfield man on the Whirlwinds squad, was out of last week's game with an attack of appendicitis, but Coach Ike Jay states that Marshall will probably be in shape to play today. Except for the minor injuries evident at this time of the season every other man, both first string and subs, are in the best of form.

A battle of the backfield, will be today's clash. Each squad has built a strong reputation for their backfield and end men, but both are equally sure of their plunging line. The Tigers, like the Whirlwinds, have featured passes, end plays and off tackle plays this season. The Jaymen will be forced to use their weakest line of defense today—that of breaking passes. Still, Captain Dixie White is fully confident that his squad will be able to hold the felines, and advance for a second championship victory.

The two teams, both superiors in their section, are all pepped up over the game and are "raring to go." This season, the game should be more thrilling than any of the two teams have ever played because of the ever increasing desire and determination to win over the other squad.

Although no official material is issued on the game, the two elevens will probably line up as follows:

Floydada	Post	Slaton
Jim Carter	L.E.	Nichols
Borum	L.T.	Cooper
Webb	I.G.	Wilsmyer
Palmer	R.G.	Shelby
Newsome	R.T.	Hamilton, C
White	R.E.	Arms
S. Carter	L.H.	Owens
Welbourn	R.H.	Bennett
Porterfield	Q.B.	Bybee
Marshall	F.B.	Wooliver

Proposed Spring Dairy Show Subject Of Meet

Definite negotiations were launched for an annual Spring Dairy Show for the Panhandle Plains at a meeting of 40 breeders, county agents, chamber of commerce officials and others held last Saturday at Tulia. Preliminary plans were made and an organization formed to carry out the policies. Organization meetings to perfect arrangements are to be held to decide upon the date for the show and the place it is to be held.

Floyd County was represented at the meeting at Tulia last week by Ed Bishop, secretary of the local chamber of commerce.

Eaton Elected President
D. F. Eaton, Lubbock, was elected president, H. A. Ferguson Amarillo, vice-president and Bob Anglin, Tulia secretary of the organization which was formed to promote the show.

W. L. Stangel, head of the animal husbandry department at the Texas Technological College was appointed chairman of an organization committee that will meet at Lubbock December 8 to form plans for the organization of the show and to outline policies that will be followed. Representatives from all counties in attendance at the meeting were appointed on this committee and the secretary was instructed to invite other counties on the Plains to select a representative to attend the organization meeting at Lubbock December 8. Counties represented at Tulia were as follows: Lubbock, Floyd, Hale, Potter, Randall, Gaines, Garza, Crosby, Lynn, Dawson, Yoakum, Terry, Dickens, Hooker, Cochran, Bailey, Lamb, Briscoe, Hall, Motley, Deaf Smith, Castro, and other counties are expected to be represented at Lubbock in addition to the ones represented at the Tulia meeting.

The organization committee will outline a plan for the organization that will promote the show. It will suggest premiums, rules of the show, entry lists and classifications and other details.

Meet Again December 16
A second general meeting will be held at Tulia, December 16. At this meeting, as many representatives of breeders, and others from each county who desire to attend will be present to receive the recommendations of the organization committee and to pass on them. The location of the first show, the date of the event, and other matters will be taken at this time.

Entries in the show for the present will be restricted to the Panhandle Plains section. The show will have two purposes, first to advertise the quality of Plains dairy stock to outside buyers and second to encourage local breeders to improve the quality of their herds and to increase the number of dairy cattle on the Plains.

Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Hart of Friona and Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Fawver spent Friday with Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Fawver. Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Hart are old timers of Baker community.

THAT HARD TO FIND GIFT FOR A MAN.

The most expert woman shopper sometimes hesitates when buying a gift for a man. She tries to find something a man would buy for himself.

The truth is that few men are satisfied with the things they buy for themselves. They want something better but they hate to jar loose.

Nothing is more appropriate than rightly chosen, correctly worn haberdashery.

We are showing EVERYTHING a man can use 365 days a year.
